THE DESCENDANTS OF HENRY ATHEY OF MARYLAND,
SOUTH CAROLINA, AND ALABAMA

FOREWORD

This history of our family had its beginnings on Christmas Day, 1969, when I resolved to commit to writing some of the traditions, stories, and family relationships of which my grandmother, Sallie Cook Athey, had often told me. She and I spent most of the day writing down as much as she could remember. A few months later, I was joined in this effort by my father's first cousin, Mary Jo Athey Evans. She is responsible for nearly all the census records which were so important in piecing together the early generations. We were able to make contact with some of the family in Texas by sending out form letters to all the Atheys in several Texas telephone books. Several replies resulted, and two of these proved to be in our family. These contacts led to others until finally after more than a year, the whole family was almost completed.

This history was really written by those whose names appear herein. Special credits should go, however, to my mother for the discovery of our earliest ancestor, Henry Athey, and for handling the printing of this pamphlet; to Gerald Wayne Athey and Clarence W. Athey, our first two contacts in Texas; to Viola Mae Wheeler for her records and personal knowledge of the family of her father, George Marion Athey; to Maggie Athey Wilson for her personal knowledge of the family of her father, Henry Warren Athey; to Lester Fuller for sharing the bible records of his grandfather, William Wesley Athey; to Mrs. Edward D. Athey, Era Mae Boucher, Fred D. Athey, George Ivey Athey, Elvie A. Pleasant, Meally Orman Clayton, Lillie Mae McMenemy, Ida Athey Lock, and May Belle Hart McGuire for contributing information on several families besides their own; and finally to my wife, Betty, who endured it all.

ORIGINS OF THE FAMILY

Family traditions hold that the ancestor of this branch of the Athey family moved with four sons from South Carolina to southern Montgomery County, Alabama, soon after Alabama became a state, and that he died during the first year after their arrival. There has never been any mention of his wife, and it is probable that she died before the family came to Alabama. The four sons were Wilson, William, Wiley, and Henry.

The name of our ancestor has not survived in the oral traditions of any branch of our family, and one of the major goals of this research was to find his name. The family traditions were certain on only one point concerning our ancestor — he was blind. There were also some suggestions that his name was unusual. Only one record has been found which shows our ancestor's name, but this one record seems quite conclusive. On December 7, 1822, his son Wilson was licensed to marry Mary Prescoat. Wilson was not yet 21 years of age so our ancestor had to give his permission. The court records of Montgomery County contain the following passage just preceding the record of Wilson's license: ". . . I give my consent to my son Wilson Athey to be married to Mary Prescoat both of the county and state aforesaid December 6, 1822, Henry Athey." This sentence is followed by the remark: "The assigned being blind acknowledged the above before me. W. E. Miller, J. P." Surprisingly, the "unusual name" was nothing more unusual than "Henry."

None of Wilson Athey's descendants have been found. His name appears in the Montgomery County land transfer records several times up to 1835 when he apparently sold his land and moved west. A Wilson Athey of the right age (born 1800-10) appears in the 1840 census of Hempstead County, Arkansas. His family consisted of his wife, several daughters, and only one son (aged less than 5 years). It is possible that Wilson had no male children who survived to adulthood, and that the Athey name was lost in his branch. The census taken ten years later does not show this family. A letter from Wilson to "my dear nephews and brothers" has been passed down in the family of William Athey. It is dated October 15, 1854, and indicated that Wilson had taken a job for the following year at a "plantation joining grand Eure(?)," but no other hint as to his location. This letter constitutes additional evidence that Wilson was William's brother (besides the traditions that William's father was blind). The letter refers to the plural "brothers" so there were other brothers beside Wilson and William.

The evidence that Wiley and Henry (Jr.) were brothers of Wilson and William is partly circumstantial; they definitely lived in the same places on adjoining land, and partly based on correspondence with granddaughters of Wiley and Henry. Mrs. Maggie Athey Wilson wrote that she knew that her father (Henry Warren Athey, son of Wiley) was a first cousin to John Wright Athey (son of William). Similarly, Mrs. Viola Mae Wheeler wrote that after her grandfather (Henry, Jr.)

died, her father (George Marion Athey) went to live with "his Uncle William and Aunt Jane (William Athey married Jane Buckalew).

This information connects the four brothers, Wilson, William, Wiley and Henry (Jr.). The various census and other records give the following birthdates for the four brothers: 1802-3, 1805, 1807, and 1808-9. These fit quite neatly into one family. The 1820 census of Edgefield Co., S. C., lists a "Henry Atha" (age over 45) with wife (also over 45) and four sons (two aged 10-16 and two aged 16-18). The exact date the census was taken isn't known (1820-1), but the similarity of the ages of the sons with that expected at the time of our four brothers, along with the rarity of the Athey-Atha name, makes the identification of this census entry with our family almost certain. In addition, the family of William's wife (Buckalew-Champion) also came to Alabama from Edgefield Co., and it is possible that they came together since they came at about the same time and settled on adjoining land in Alabama.

The census records show that William, Wiley, and Henry (Jr.) were born in South Carolina, so that the family must have been in S. C. in 1810. A search of the census of the entire state for 1800 disclosed no Atheys, and 1810 yielded only a couple of doubtful entries in Union Co. (doubtful because of legibility), plus one "Archer Athee" in Kershaw County. Could this Archer be our ancestor? It seems at least possible. Besides the surprise of finding that our ancestor was named nothing more unusual than Henry, there is another puzzling family tradition: William Athey told his children of a long journey when he was 12 years old (1817-8) when the family moved from Darlington District, S. C. The assumption has always been made that this story referred to the move to Alabama. However, the above discussion shows that the family was still in S. C. in 1820, but in Edgefield on the Georgia border rather than across the state in Darlington. Perhaps the move in 1817-8 was from the vicinity of Darlington Co. to Edgefield Co., and that the move to Alabama from there came a few years later in 1822. This would also be more consistent with the tradition that our ancestor died soon after he arrived in Alabama. We know that he lived until the end of 1822, five years after the move from Darlington. Now, Kershaw Co. borders Darlington so it seems possible that the family could have been in Kershaw in 1810 rather than Darlington. This census showed three sons under ten years and one 10-16, which could easily be our family. The South Carolina early censuses were often late, and this record could have been taken in 1811 or 1812 when Wilson would have been 10 years old. There were four other males and four other females in Archer's household, so if this is our family, we certainly don't have the full picture yet. Another fact supporting the identification of Henry with Archer is that Henry Jr. was named "Henry A. Athey" (his name appeared this way on some records pertaining to the settlement of his estate after his death about 1861). Could it be that both Henrys were named Henry A., and that the "A" stood for Archer (or Archibald)? Again, it seems possible, but it is still speculation at this time.

Another major goal of this research has been to connect our ancestor, Henry, to the older generations of Atheys who lived along the Potomac River in Maryland and Virginia. This has not been successful, but some possibilities have turned up. In the 1880 census of Montgomery Co., Ala., William Athey (then aged 75) gave the birthplace of both his parents as Maryland (his mother's birthplace was not clear, but appeared to be Maryland). The 1790 census of Prince Georges County, Maryland, does show a family headed by a Henry Athey. There were several other Atheys in the same county including Zepheniah Athey who was listed on the same page as Henry (suggesting they lived near each other). Zepheniah had married Lucy Duckett earlier that year. Zepheniah moved to Georgia in 1794-5, to the county which is just across the line from Edgefield, South Carolina. No Atheys were found in the 1800 census of Prince Georges County, Maryland, and it is known that some moved across the river into Virginia. Apparently, at least two, Henry and Zepheniah, came South (together?). Possibly, Henry and Zepheniah were brothers, but there is no definite proof.

Zepheniah's wife Lucy died about 1801-02, and he remarried to Mahala Courson in 1803. Mahala Atha appears as a widow in the 1820 census of Columbia Co., Georgia. In the same county there is a Warren Atha aged 26-44. This was Francis Warren Atha, a veteran of the 1812 War, and the ancestor of the Atha family in Walton Co., Georgia. It is not known whether Francis Warren Atha was the son of Henry or Zepheniah. Francis Warren was born in Maryland in either 1784-5 or 1794-5 (conflicting census records). There is a tradition of a brother "Warren" in Henry's family, and William Athey told of journeying to Georgia from Alabama to visit relatives. However, there is no definite evidence to connect Francis Warren to Henry's family.

The first Atheys to come to America were John and Capt. George Athey (probably brothers) who came from Galway, Ireland, in the 1660's. John apparently had no male offspring, but Capt. George is the ancestor of nearly all the Atheys in this country. He had at least two sons to live to adulthood by his first wife, Edward and John, and probably three by his second wife, Sarah Marsh, namely George (born 1700), Thomas (born 1701-2), and Walter (born 1703-4. No definite offspring have been found from Edward or Walter who both lived in Virginia. The descendants of John and George are mostly covered in the book "The Athey Family in America," by Dr. C. E. Athey (1936). The family of Thomas has only recently been pieced together, and there are some uncertainties remaining, but he apparently had several sons. The best evidence seems to show the following for his family: Thomas (b. 1730), Elijah (b. 1731), Henewrilla (daughter, b. 1732), Walter (b. 1733, Benjamin (b. 1735), Owen (b. 1736), Hezekiah (b. 1738), Sarah (b. 1742), Mary (b. 1744), and Elizabeth (b. 1746). Henry is almost certainly a son of one of these (from a process of elimination plus the fact that several of these lived in Prince Georges County, Maryland). The only possibilities (some of the families of the above are known) are: Walter (b.1733), Benjamin (b. 1735), Owen (b. 1736), and Hezekiah (b. 1738), and of these Benjamin or Owen seems to be the most likely candidate for Henry's father. Zepheniah's father, incidentally, was Owen. Therefore, we have the probably lineage: Capt. George (b. 1642), Thomas (b.1701-2), — — — (b. 1730's), Henry (b. 1760's).

The remainder of this pamphlet is concerned with the descendants of the three youngest sons of Henry, namely William, Wiley, and Henry. All three lived and died in Pike (now Crenshaw) and Montgomery Counties, Alabama. William had nine daughters and five sons. The oldest son was killed in the Civil War, and only John Wright Athey and William Champion Athey lived to marry. Wiley had several children including three sons. The middle son, Henry Warren Athey, lived most of his life in Chilton Co., Alabama, and the other two, Elijah James and William Wesley, moved to Texas in the 1770's. They lived several places in Texas before finally settling near Conroe and Lufkin, respectively. Henry, Jr., had eight sons. The oldest four were all killed in the Civil War (Only one had married and had one daughter). Of the others James Howard and Benjamin Franklin moved to Van Zandt and Collin Counties about 1869; Thomas Jefferson followed (to Conroe) about 1876, and George Marion (to Van Zandt) in 1882. All of this generation were mostly farmers except for John Wright, who was also a surveyor.

THE DESCENDANTS OF HENRY ATHEY

NOTE: The numbers assigned each person are simply a convenient device for identification and for tracing relationships from generation to generation. The number given to a person when he first appears as a child is repeated when that person later becomes a head of family. In a few cases, because of late additions or corrections, there are skips in the consecutive numbering, and also persons without an assigned number.

1. HENRY ATHEY was born in Maryland, probably in the 1760's; died at Grady (Montgomery Co.) Alabama, about 1833; he probably married in Maryland before 1790, but the name of his wife is unknown. He probably had more children than those listed below, but only the four youngest are definitely known; i probably born in South Carolina, ii-iv born in South Carolina:
  2. i. Wilson, b 1802-3
  3. ii. William, b 28 July 1805
  3. iii. Wiley, b about 1807
  5. iv. Henry A., b about 1809
- 2 WILSON ATHEY (son of Henry) was b probably in South Carolina in 1802-3; he was living as late as 1854; m in Montgomery Co., Ala., 7 Dec. 1822 (license date), Mary (Permelis?) PRES-COAT (nothing known except she was born about 1800.) The family listed below is based on the 1840 census of Hempstead Co., Ark. (sequence numbers 6 through 8 are not assigned):
  9. i. (dau), b 1824-8
  10. ii. (dau), b 1826-30
  11. iii. (dau), b 1829-33
  12. iv. (dau), b 1831-35
  13. v. (dau), b 1834-40
  14. vi. (son), b 1834-40
3. WILLIAM ATHEY (son of Henry) was b in S. C., 28 July 1805; d near Ramer, Alabama, 8 Jan. 1887; m in Pike Co., Ala., about 1829, Jane M. BUCKELEW, b in S.
