DEDICATION

THIS SMALL VOLUME IS DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF

SAMUEL HENRY, 1ST

AND

who by their simple, cheerful, rustic character, patience, wisdom and love inspired fourteen children to honesty, industry, sobriety, love for each other, for their fellow man, for their Country and their God.

FOREWORD

WE ARRIVED at the theatre early and were comfortably located. The house was practically empty and we sat and watched the people come in and find seats. Children in early, middle and late teens. Young people, middle-aged and old alike came in happy anticipation of amusing entertainment. They came walking lightly, talking like the chatter of many birds and laughing as if they had always been happy, hopeful and self-reliant.

In contrast to the light-hearted and care-free behavior of the many, in came one, in the middle teens with a blank expression, awkwardly ambling down the aisle desperately holding to the hand of the attendant. The child spoke incoherently in broken syllables, in a hollow inarticulate voice, unable to take in the meaning of the situation with calm and reliant intelligence. Mendel's law had played a cruel trick on the child, for the parents were good, average citizens and had accumulated considerable wealth.

The last scene turned my thoughts to myself and to thanksgiving that I and my children had escaped this thing; that we were born without handicap and with average intelligence. Realizing that one had two parents, four grandparents, eight great grandparents and so on for ten generations back, that he had the blood of 2048 persons flowing through his veins, indeed one was lucky.

For I, the Lord, thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generations. Our fathers have sinned and are not: and we have borne their iniquities. Then my reflection turned to wonder; shall one or more of each generation bear the iniquities of one or all of the 2048 personal forbears or of the 1024 fathers in the group?

It gives a mountain of comfort when you know from personal knowledge that your father and your grandfathers were sober, clean, honest, industrious and law abiding citizens, with no social diseases and no debilitating bad habits and by related stories we know the same of the great grandfather, Samuel Akers. We have made an effort to find the family line for as many generations back as possible, ante 1698. Though the family line is a small thread crossing the woof through the multitude it is interesting.

Beginning with the great grandfather three times removed we estimate that if he had four children (he had four sons and seven daughters), and each of them marry and have four children and so on for eight generations (to that of my grandchildren) or about two hundred years, he, William Akers who married Elizabeth Martye (Marte) would have 65,536 descendants in the eighth generation. It is impossible with limited time and means to work out this great number of individuals. We have followed the single thread for seven generations and attempted to list the descendants of our grandfather, Nathaniel S. Akers. The genealogical listings on the following pages contain many related families too. In the direct line there has been no one who accumulated great wealth. All down the line to my generation they have been land owners who farmed the land. We have set this out as straight-forward as possible, checking as many records as we could find.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I HEREBY ACKNOWLEDGE the assistance given in many ways by my brothers, David Curtis, Henry Franklin, Alvin Ashby, Gary Evans, Claud Bryan and Auborn Lee Akers, Everett and Sallie Akers, Annabelle Evans, Shelly V. Akers and others too numerous to mention. The many letters furnishing names and dates are greatly appreciated. The late J. Ernest Jamison, Roanoke, was helpful and inspirational in both the Akers and Boone families.

Mrs. Nellie Whedon, Wellington, Kansas, has, by letters and by granting permission to use material from her Boone Book, given great aid in getting a line on the early generation of the Boone family. In gathering the names and dates for the more recent generations, the efforts of Henry E. and I. Cline Boone have been very helpful. They spent much time and effort to put us in contact with members of their family and furnished much information.

For the Cannaday family the inspiration was given by Miss Georgia Cannaday, Roanoke. Mrs. Sue Jefferson Shelor, Floyd, Virginia, gave us permission to use the Cannaday material from her book, Pioneers and Their Coat of Arms of Floyd County, for which we are very appreciative. Charles H. and Herbert Hickman have helped materially in gathering information on the Hickman family.

Mrs. Bertha Pridgen Barnes and Joe D. Pridgen, Jr. have contributed much of the material used in the outline on the Pridgen family. The information on the early Pridgen generation, furnished by Wilton H. Pridgen, made this discussion possible.

EXPLANATIONS

Dates, with few exceptions, are written year-month-day, as follows 1802-8-2. Each name appears twice, once as head of the family and once as a descendant.

The numerals under the head of the family 1, 2, 3, etc., list the number of children in the order of birth when possible to be obtained.

The numbers in the margin indicate that the name opposite it is to be further discussed and listed as the head of the family under that name and number, if a dau. under the name of her husband and the marginal number.

In many cases where the above form could not be used, the letters in parenthesis thus (a) are grandchildren and the numerals (1), (2) are great grandchildren, double (aa) the fifth and (a-1) the sixth generation, thus;

FAMILY NO. 1

John Edward Family

- 2 1. John Edward, Jr.
 2. Susan Ann
 (a) Grandchild
 (1) Great grandchild
 (aa) Great great grandchild
 (a-1) Great great great grandchild

FAMILY NO. 2

John Edward Family, Jr.

 2.
 3.
 (1)
 (aa)
 (a-1) etc.

The letter S in the margin indicates that Dr. Shearer further discusses the name as head of a family.

THE AKERS FAMILY
OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, VIRGINIA

DR. JAMES W. SHEARER says "The surname 'Akers' is probably of English origin, though claimed by some to be of German and by others of Irish origin. The coat of arms and the crescent of the English family run well back to the Crusades. The name was originally 'Acre.' King Richard gave to one of his Courtiers named John the town of 'Acre' on the coast of Palestine. When he returned to England he was known as 'John De Acre' and for many years the name was 'De Acre.' After a while the 'De' was dropped and the name became 'Acres' until later changed to 'Akers.' "

Henry Braugham Guppy in his "Homes of Family Names in Great Britain" published by Harrison and Sons, 59 Pall Mall, London, says that the name "Akers" is Oxfordshire and classifies it as a peculiar name confined mostly to this country.

Henry Barber in his "British Family Names, Their Origin and Meaning" says that the "name Akers is from the Flemish Hakkars; a personal name."

"Some family historians say it is derived from the Anglo-Saxon word 'Aecer' meaning field or farm, taken because of the occupation of the first bearers as farmers."

This is most likely correct. In the Norwegian language 'Akers River,' in Onslow, 'Akershus Fylke' (County) and 'Akershus Castle,' built in the period 1299-1304 have their origin in 'Akr' which was the name of a farm. "There is a theory, however, that 'Akr' and the English 'Acre' is one and the same, originally meaning field"—Tor Myklebost. Both these languages spring from a common source, the Teutonic Group of the Aryan.

In the seventeenth century after many wars, rumors of wars and religious persecutions, they, as if to "beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks," came to America seeking peace and religious freedom. For many generations most of them lived near the soil by the sweat-of-the-brow farmers. "In peace there's nothing so becomes a man as modest living in humility."

This manuscript is intended as a supplement to the "Shearer-Akers Family" by Dr. James W. Shearer published 1915 by The Somerset Messenger, Somerville, N. J. We are, therefore, using the same method, in a modified form, of listing and extending as used by Dr. Shearer. We are, however, primarily concerned with the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh Akers generations on one line.

Dr. Shearer picked them up in America in the latter part of the seventeenth century with William Akers, 1st. We are using his lines in part, until we reach the heirs of Samuel Akers, 1st., the seventh generation in America on page 30 of his "The Shearer-Akers Family." Beginning at that point we are attempting to bring the line of Nathaniel S. Akers, who married Elizabeth Boone 4th, down to 1951.

We are further attempting to give brief outlines on three other Franklin County Virginia families, viz: Boone, Cannaday and Hickman and on the Pridgen family of Wilson County, North Carolina. These will follow the discussion of the Akers family in the order above named. We hope that we do not infringe on the rights of others and that the outline may be of service to someone at some time.

GENERATION VI

AKERS No. 5

WILLIAM AKERS, 4TH., d. 1833-34, son of William, 3rd. and Elizabeth (Martye or Marte) Akers. m. 1772 Polly Blackburn. He served in the Revolutionary War—a Sergt. in Captain Andrew Russell's Company of the Fifth Regiment, Virginia Continental Line. Commanded by Colonel Charles Scott—Supplementary List of Revolutionary Soldiers page 13 by the Virginia State Library, Richmond (5 V. R.) W. D. 114, 1.

We know of two persons who joined the D.A.R. on this record of service, both from Atlanta, descendants of his son John and Sarah (Brown) Akers. We have a copy of the application which admitted one of them.

He settled in that part of Bedford which in 1786 became Franklin County, Va., where on February 1, 1780 he patented 400 acres on Lazy Run of Blackwater River.

In the early history of the County he appears to have been an active citizen. In the record of the first Court of the County at the August term 1787 page 156 you will find some of the duties of the Court delegated to him and others, in "Willis vs Miller on a Replevy Miller vs Willis (action) ref'd to Daniel Spangler, William Akers, Robert Jones and Moses Rentfro and their award to be the judgment of this Court."

In 1789 he was appointed Road Supervisor by the Court, for Blackwater District and again in 1799. In the Order Book of the Franklin County Court for the years 1793-1799 on page 419 is found this order made 1799-9-2, that "William Akers and Moses Greer serve in Capt. Shores Price's Company."

The Court, consisting of Jonothan Richerson, Moses

Greer, Thomas Hale, Stephen Smith, Sr. and Samuel Hairston, ordered them to serve as processioners in Capt. Shores Price's Company of Militia. Though serving with a Company of State Militia, it appears that this was a civil and not a Military post. A processioner was (Local U. S.) an official land surveyor, one who marked the metes and bounds of land.

In addition to serving on juries, functioning as the Court and filling appointive positions, he also became entangled in the law. In Order Book for the years 1810-1823, page 15 it is found that Annie F. Irvine, Admx. for Walter Irvine, decd. sued William Akers and James Highly on bond for 95 pounds 10 shillings and 6 pence. She recovered, judgment being rendered 1810-7-19.

The records show that he bought and sold land making many transactions. The Franklin County Va. land tax records found in the Archives of the VSL show that he was a moderately extensive land holder, owning several tracts totalling at the peak more than 2600 acres.

In 1813, thirty-three years after he patented the 400 acres, he listed more than 1400 acres. This list was continued until 1826 when he listed 1053 acres. The same land by description and acreage was listed to him until 1833, while in 1834 it was listed to William Akers, decd. Land in a varying number of acres was listed to William Akers, decd. until 1862, 29 years after his death. After the 1862 listing is found this notation, "It appears that these lands have been conveyed many years ago and should be erased from the list." In 1855, 740 acres from a 900-acre tract, belonging to him, on Hatchet Run of Pigg River were listed to Peter Saunders. At the same time 100 acres on the waters of Nichols Creek were listed to William Akers, decd.—"Benjamin Simmons to pay."

He was also found on the personal property tax list until 1832 when no property value was extended, but opposite his name was found the following, "Levy free."

The 1830 United States census gives his age as 90-100 and that of his wife 80-90 years, which means that he was born about 1740 or earlier and not 1752 as given in the Compendium of American Genealogy by Frederick A. Virkus, Vol. 3 page 272.

The records further show that he was a member of the Pigg River Primitive Baptist Church which was organized in 1773. The minutes of this church from 1796 to 1953 are found in the hands of his great, great grandson S. Grover Akers, asst. clerk, Route 4, Rocky Mount, Va. On examination of Volume one, 1796-1896, we find that in 1800, 1803 and 1804 he was appointed a delegate to the Association.

"The church meeting held on the fourth Saturday in October 1825 ordered that John Jones and David Young go and labor with Brother William Akers for acting out of line of the Gospel in warranting Brother Woodson, member of Blackwater Church, and cite him to the church to give account for such conduct."

"At the November 1825, meeting Brother William Akers came forward to the church and acknowledged himself in error by warranting Brother Woodson, member of the Blackwater church, contrary to the direction of the Gospel and consented the matter in controversy be laid before the church of Pigg River and their verdict, by consent of Brother Woodson, should be a final settlement of the case."

"At a church meeting held on the fourth Saturday in July 1827 Brethren James Welsh and John Jones were directed to cite Brother William Akers to the September meeting to answer to a complaint for going to hear excommunicated Baptists and inviting them to his home to preach. At the September meeting Brother William Akers attended and gave the church satisfaction."

We believe that he built and lived in a large two story house which set on a hill about one hundred yards from Lazy Run on the north bank of the stream about one-half mile west from the point where Lazy Run flows into Blackwater River. His grandson, Samuel Akers 2nd, lived in the house until his death in 1913. The house has been razed since that date. We believe further that William Akers was buried in an unmarked grave in a cemetery on this farm about one-half mile north of the home site and on road number 742, where several of his descendants are buried. 12 ch.

SAMUEL AKERS, 1ST. (1781-5-7—1847-4-28), son of William 4th. and Polly (Blackburn) Akers m. Sarah Highly (1787-1881). Dr. Shearer says that "Samuel Akers 1st. m. Mary Brown." This is in error for the Franklin County Marriage Register shows Samuel Akers and Sarah Highly married 1802-8-2 by Samuel King with James Highly sur. The headstone at a grave beside his has the inscription on it, "Sarah H. Wife of Samuel Akers." We believe that this is conclusive.

He was an extensive farmer, lived on the North Fork of Blackwater River near Dillons Mill. In 1849 he owned nine slaves and listed 607 acres of land, see L&PPL Virginia State Library, Richmond, Va. He was buried on top of a high conical hill in an oak grove overlooking Blackwater River Valley on his land now owned by Harry Barnhart. His wife, Sarah H. was buried by his side. The markers are legible but one is broken off. The cemetery is overrun by cattle seeking shade as this is the only wooded spot in the pasture.

All of the descendants listed below, their wives and husbands severally signed a deed to John C. Carper dated 1858-1-10 conveying certain lands. See Franklin County Va. Registry Book 26 page 257.

The 1859 Franklin County land tax book found in the archives of the VSL, Richmond "partitioned off lands to his wife and several heirs by will" as follows :

Sarah, the wife, died in 1881 and in 1886-4-6 John C. Carper, Commissioner of the Court, deeded the 104 acres to George and Daniel F. Bowman, Book 37 page 516 Franklin County Registry. beth Boone 4th. b. 1817-12-11 d. 1903-12-27 dau. of Jacob and Rachel (Kesler) Boone. Farmer Franklin County, Va.
bought and sold land, owned slaves.

He owned in his latter years, among others, a high spirited iron gray horse named "Sas" and a beautiful bay mare named "Mary." In the fall of 1888 a Democratic rally was held in Franklin County, Va. at Rocky Mount. A good horse was requested for the Governor, General Fitzhugh Lee, who was stumping the State for Grover Cleveland, to ride in the parade. He, being a supporting Democrat, offered to furnish the horse and being sick and unable to attend sent the two horses to his son, Henry, that he might take them to the rally. This narrator remembers grooming and bedding them the night before the political meeting.

The Governor chose to ride the gray horse which resembled his famous Uncle's famous mount "Traveler." It was reported that "Sas" behaved magnificently in the parade, proudly carrying, as if consciously, the famous dignitary before the applauding throng. "Sas" was returned to his owner but "Mary" sickened and died of colic at Rocky Mount on that day.

He was a large man, active and forceful, yet kind and easy to know and like, a man going about doing good. He reared a remarkable family all of whom were generous, kind and attentive to him in his last long illness. He and his wife are buried in a private cemetery on top of a hill on the western slope of Grave Yard Knob overlooking Willis Branch valley on his own land, now owned by Bill Fisher, near Calloway, Va. 7 ch.

AKERS No. 19

SAMUEL HENRY AKERS, 1ST., b. 1855-2-15, son of Nathaniel S. and Elizabeth (Boone) Akers. m. Eliza Jane Hickman (1861-1937) dau. of Dr. D. P. and Caroline V. (Cannaday) Hickman. Farmer on Coles Creek, Franklin County, Va. Later moved to Roanoke County. He bought and sold land and owned his home. He was a large man, blue eyes, mustache and goatee. Not a church member but a faithful and devoted adherent to the Primitive Baptist Church and beloved by all his children. He was a Democrat and a meticulously law abiding citizen—game warden and Justice of the Peace. Buried on Lot 26, Section 5, Division 5, Fairview Cemetery, Roanoke, Va. His will is found in Will Book 4, page 570 in the Roanoke County Registry, Salem, Va.

Eliza Jane, his wife, and mother of his fifteen children was a magnificently great woman, honest, industrious, patient, kind, generous and tactful. "She had the ability to make each of her fourteen surviving children, her seven sons-in-law and her seven daughters-in-law, think he or she was her favorite." She was so free from suspicion, envy and guile and malice that the statement stands out as substantially correct and true. Their home was spiritually lovely. 15 ch.

In his the "Shearer-Akers Family" published in 1915 Dr. Shearer said, "In closing, I am glad to state that none were found convicted of crime or in prison (except military prison) or paupers depending on public charity; and none were known as drunkards and but few who drank habitually or to excess."

It is clear that the tradition set out in the above paragraph is exemplified in the eighth, ninth, and tenth generations.

In this study we have found many farmers, agriculturalists, artisans, soldiers, sailors, airmen, railroad men in various operational capacities, teachers, preachers, educators, doctors, scientists, engineers, merchants, manufacturers, accountants and other lines of industrial endeavor.

"A painful work it is and more than difficult, wherein what toil hath been taken, as no man thinketh, so no man believeth but he that made the trial."—Anthony A. Wood

THE BOONE FAMILY
OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, VIRGINIA

A good name is better than precious ointments.

—BIBLE.

THE NAME Bohns, Bohn, Bohun, Bone, Boon and Boone is said by some to be derived from the Norman "de Bohun" while others claim it was first used as a nickname taken from "le bon" meaning "the good."

Henry Barber in his "British Family Names, Their Origin and Meaning" says that the name "Boone is from Dutch Boon; or German Bohn or Danish or Flemish Bon; a personal name."

The name in the various spellings above has become more generally used in America as Boone. It is possible that the name Johann Diel Bohne may have originated in the Norman by way of Germany, but it is more probable that it is an entirely separate group from the English line.

Mrs. Nellie (Woods) Whedon in her "The German Bohne-Bohn-Boon-Boone Family" book says that, "The seat of the German Boone Family is said to have been in the Palatinate, Province of Pfalz (Old German Empire) near the village of Obermoschel, 20 or 25 miles southwest of the town Mainz, and on the banks of a small stream which empties into the Rhine due North."

She has proven conclusively, I think, by photostatic copy of the ships passenger list showing Johann Diel Bohne to be No. 47 among the 72 passengers: by a photostatic copy of the oath of allegiance of the "Marlborough's" Passengers, 1741-9-23. The original document is found on file with the Pennsylvania Historical Society at Harrisburg. That the following is correct is further evidenced by tax lists, deeds and wills of records in Frederick and Carrol Counties in Maryland and in Bedford, Franklin and Montgomery Counties in Virginia.

The following outline to "Boone No. 4," Jacob Boone (1779-1853) is taken, in part, from the German Bohne-Bohn-Boon-Boone Family of Maryland by permission of the Author, Mrs. Nellie (Woods) Whedon, 4205 G. Street, Wellington, Kansas. In this manuscript the name is spelled "Boone" except in the title of the book above mentioned and in the name Johann Diel Bohne who arrived in Philadelphia on the ship Marlborough in 1741.

JOHANN DIEI BOHNE (1711-1764) came from Germany 1741 on the Marlborough. "Record: At the Court House in Philadelphia, September 23, 1741; Present The Honorable George Thomas, Esq., Lieutenant Governor and Samuel Hassell, Esq., Mayor of Philadelphia."

"The Palatines whose name's underneath imported in the ship "Marlborough": Thomas Bell Master from Rotterdam but last from Cowes did on this day take the oath to the Government." Johann Diel Bohne was No. 44 on this list.

THE CANNADAY FAMILY
OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, VIRGINIA

A man dies his name remains.—TURK.

MATERIAL for the following outline was gathered from two sources: Franklin County Virginia Registry and "Pioneers and Their Coats of Arms of Floyd County" by permission of the Author, Sue Jefferson Shelor, Route 2, Floyd, Virginia. No attempt was made to bring the outline to date but to tie in with Colonial Ancestry through Peter Cannaday, a great grandfather of this Narrator.

8. Probably, Elizabeth m. 1797-12-9 Isaiah Turner.

There are 4 others whose names we were unable to obtain.

Sue Jefferson Shelor, in her "Pioneers and Their Coats of Arms of Floyd County" says, that

"James Cannaday (Kennedy) came to this country from England with his wife, Miss Raikes, a relative of Sir Robert Raikes, English founder of Sunday Schools. History tells us that Sir Robert Raikes b. 1735 and d. 1811 first took his Bible and song book and would go among those who herded cattle and sheep and taught in the fields, and then he came to America and taught the first Sunday School ever taught in America."

"James Cannaday was a Revolutionary Soldier ((3V.R.) W.D. 78, 4) and fought under General Green. He and his wife (she was only twelve years of age when she married) settled on 'Runnet Bag Creek,' Franklin Co., Va. in a house which still stands, opposite Trinity Methodist Church. In this old house is a two-pronged fork tightly stuck up above the mantel piece in the old chimney. The story is told that Mrs. Cannaday placed it there because after forks were invented to use with knives one man used a fork to mutilate and kill his wife, therefore the legislature passed an act forbidding the use of forks."

"The queer name 'Runnet Bag Creek' (originating from a spring in Smark View Park, spelled 'Rennet Bag' on Blue Ridge Parkway signs labeling the creek) starts out a small stream trickling down the Blue Ridge Mountain, along the roadside, winding its way through the ivy and rhododendron, receiving other streamlets rippling and sparkling and dashing, murmuring its own sweet music, which only those who love the wild rugged mountains can appreciate. At the base of the mountain it has formed a good sized creek—on and on it rushes and its power still grinds corn at the old mill built over a hundred years ago by a Mr. Treadwell. This was the Cannaday Mill. The creek unites with Otter Creek in the midst of the John Treadwell Cannaday farm now owned and managed by his granddaughter Mrs. Sallie Cannaday Ross. (The lake above the U. S. Floods Control Philpot Dam which is being finished in 1953 inundates more than two hundred acres of this farm which necessitated abandoning the home.) Together these creeks find their way to Smith's River which river forms the lake at the Fairy Stone National Park.

"In Slavery time James Cannaday owned a large number of slaves and a vast estate along these creeks, and from here his descendants have gone into the world—minister, doctors, teachers, and musicians are all found in the walks of life. Corn grew and still grows on those rich bottoms as though it were along the Nile in Egypt. The slaves along the mountain road and on top of the mountain in Floyd County, would take their sacks and descend the mountain and carry back bags of corn the Cannaday slaves had grown. So this is the origin of the name 'Runnet Bag' Creek."

This story is related by permission of Mrs. Shelor.

CANNADAY No. 5

PETER CANNADAY, b. about 1813, son of James 2nd. and Sarah (Young) Cannaday m. 1836-3-4 Mildred Ann b. 1815 dau. of George b. 1776 and Mildred Turner b. 1780. The U. S. Census of Franklin County, Va. 1850 Volume 8, page 139 lists Peter Cannaday age 37, a farmer born in Virginia. Value of real estate $1500 and Mildred A. age 35 born in Virginia. All of his children are listed except George and Madison, but at the next house lived a brother, Isaac, who listed a George age 2 and a George age 4, which was the correct age for son George M. Madison was born in 1857.

In May 1864 Peter Cannaday and others were appointed by the Franklin County Court as Conductors of an election to be held at Long Branch on the 4th Tuesday of this month and for an election to be held on the 4th Tuesday of March 1865 at Long Branch, the Court again appointed Peter Cannaday and others as Conductors. In 1865 James Cannaday, Peter Cannaday and Harvey Claytor were appointed to appraise the estate of Samuel Radford, decd.

In 1890 Peter Cannaday's name appeared for the last time on the Franklin County personal property tax list. It appears, and we are advised, that he had conveyed his home to his son Madison.

The records of The Long Branch Primitive Baptist Church, organized in 1825, found in the hands of Elder J. G. L. Hash, Route 3, Ferrum, Va., show that Peter Cannaday, Sr. joined the Church 1892-9-25, was baptized by Elder W. A. Via 1892-10-16 and departed this life 1893-3-5. There is a legend that he, being old and infirm, was carried down into the water in a chair for baptism by immersion. 7 ch.

THE HICKMAN FAMILY
OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, VIRGINIA

A famous name will never die.—HANS ANDERSON.

THE NAME Hickman is believed to have been used as a baptismal name and later to have been adopted as a surname. In Old English records the following spellings among others are found: Hickeman, Hichman, Hycman, Heckman and Hickman, the last of which is generally used in America and will be used in this manuscript.

The first members of this family in America were numerous Virginia immigrants who left few records of their immediate families or descendants. One, R. Hickman, "Clerk of the General Court in 1622" who settled in Virginia as early as the 1620's and others in 1635 and 1637 were the earliest.

No effort is made to connect our family with these though the presumption is that there is colonial ancestry. Indeed all the names in the outline before Joseph Hickman, b. 1796-12-11 who married Jane Akers b. 1806-9-15 are built up from records found in Franklin County, Va. Registry.

HICKMAN No. 1

JACOB HICKMAN, 1st., probably son of Joseph Hickman, 1st., of Bedford Co., Va. m. Barbara d. 1789. Will probated 1789-4-4 Franklin County, Registry. Some extracts from the will follow: "I bequeath to my loving wife my house, land and effects and cattle and horse, housen furneth induring her widowhood except my joiner tools which I give to my oldest son Jacob after he is twenty one years of age. (The only one named in the Will), but if so be that she ever marries she shall leave the place. (Here he names certain personal properties to go to her after which the remaining personal effects and the land shall be sold and) "equally to be divided amongst them all." He used the expression "divided amongst them all" twice which indicates that there was a large family and more than one son. Jacob Kinsey and Jacob Sowder were named sole executors. Probably 10 ch.

On August 1, 1860 George C. King, David P. Hickman and others, Justices elect for the County and being duly commissioned by John Letcher, the Governor of the Commonwealth, as such, this day severally took the several oaths as required by law. At the November meeting of the Court

DR. DAVID PAINTER AND CAROLINE V. (CANNADAY)
HICKMAN OR HECKMAN

David P. Hickman and Michael Knowles were absent and James S. Calloway and Jonathan McNeil were present. This information is found on Page 29 of the Order Book of the Franklin Co. Court for 1860-1865.

On Page 61 it is ordered that Peter Saunders, Jr., Michael Knowles and David P. Hickman be allowed for their services in Court, this day, as Justices. On Page 130 D. P. Hickman (doing private practice after returning from the war between the States), was allowed $32.00 for medical services per order of the overseer of the poor.

On Friday, July 1, 1861 at Higgs Field, Long Branch, Franklin Co., Va. he organized, for service in the civil war a company which was later designated Co. C. 57th. Regiment, Stewart's Brigade, called "Franklin Fire Eaters." A roster of the Co. is found in the Archives of the Virginia State Library—Confederate Records, Vol. 6, Page 273. The muster roll calls #19246 supplemental to said volume shows D. P. Hickman, though listed a captain in the organization, a 1st. Lieut., promoted Captain 1862-8-31 and promoted Major 1863-7-5.

On September 1, 1861 he was assigned to special duty, acting surgeon. He was wounded at Gettysburg where his brother William was killed. He was with Lee at Appomattox.

After the close of the war he very seldom referred to it and would not often relate experiences. He practiced medicine for many years, traveling on horseback with saddle bags filled with small vials of drugs—his drug store, doing a large practice.

He was gentle, kind and generous, a wise counselor, speaking harshly of no one—deeply religious. He was a member of the Fairmont Baptist Church, which was organized 1855-4-29. The building was finished in 1857, and the first worship 1857-12-5 led by the first pastor, the Rev. Thomas C. Goggin who served for eleven years.

Record of his Will is found in Will Book No. 25, Page 225 located in the Clerk's Office, Rocky Mount, Va. S. H. Akers was named Executor and R. E. L. Hickman was named guardian for Eddie Leighton, grandson and minor. Will probated 1907-12-8.

He lost interest in living after the death of his wife. d. at the home of his dau. Mary Ellen (Kitty) Akers and was buried in the "Hickman Memorial Cemetery" about one-fourth mile east of Hickman's Mill. The marker at the head of his grave is erroneously inscribed "Dr. D. R. Hickman" when it should be "Dr. D. P. Hickman." Caroline V. Hickman, his second wife d. 1906-4-13 is buried by his side.

THE PRIDGEN FAMILY OF WILSON COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.—BIBLE

THE SURNAME Pridgen is probably of French Origin. It is said by some that "This family was originally seated in France and anciently seated in England." In 1596 one Philip Pridgen of Lincoln Co. was registered at Oxford University. In 1654 Dr. Francis Prujean was re-elected President of Caius College, Cambridge, England upon the recommendation of the famous Dr. Harvey who discovered that the blood circulates.—Encyclopedia Britanica, 13-43 c.

There are various spellings of this name as: Prujean, Pridgeon, Pridgeion and Pridgen, a liberal translation of the original French name means "Fearless John." Pridgen is the modernly accepted spelling. The motto is "Esse Quam Videri," To be, rather than to seem.

The following information in the greater part, came from a statement made by 85-year-old John W. Bone in 1927. Mr. Bone married Zellah Pridgen, dau. of William Asbury Pridgen, grandson of William 1st. John W. Bone's statement was made to Mrs. Bertha Pridgen Barnes who gave this narrator a copy.

It is supported by materials gathered by a Raleigh genealogist and furnished Wilton H. Pridgen. The information comes from State records, records of deeds, wills, marriage bonds, colonial records and the records of Courts of Nash County, and of Counties from which Nash was carved. This narrator has done much checking against them and believes the following outline is correct.
