LEMUEL FULLER, SR.²

Fifth from John Alden and Priscilla Mullins.

Fourth from Dr. Samuel Fuller.

“ ‘Prithee, John, why do you not speak for yourself.’

“The kindness of the surgeon, Dr. Fuller, was shown in his making no charge for his professional services, although he might justly have sent in a bill.”—Plymouth and the Pilgrims Pp. 82 and 182).

My Sincere Thanks

Are due to Dr. T. B. Drew, Custodian of Plymouth Hall ; The New England Geneological Rooms ; Alexander Corbett, Jr. ; and members of the different branches of the family who have responded, with but few exceptions, to my request for records, by sending me the fullest and most complete ones in their possession.

Among the latter I desire to mention especially : Mr. Linus E. Fuller,⁴² Miss Ada M. Rouse¹⁰³ and Mrs. Fanny B. Gale,⁵¹ who in addition to their records sent interesting and valuable newspaper clippings.

Excepting where reliable data to the contrary has been in my possession, no deviation has been made from the records sent in by the different branches of the family, I having simply acted as

THE COMPILER.

EXPLANATION.

The first time a name occurs in this Record it is given a signature (or superior number). Wherever that name occurs, that same signature will be found joined to it. Consorts are designated by the same signature with the suffix "A" for the first, "B" for the second, etc. In the Alden Branch the letter "A" is prefixed to all signatures and in the Fuller Branch the letter "B."

This system of signatures will be found very useful in distinguishing between different persons of the same name, and originated with

THE COMPILER.

NOTICE.

As this Record will soon be placed in a number of Geneological Libraries throughout the country, we request that you will please report any mistakes discovered immediately to headquarters. Although great care has been used, we are aware that in a work of this character errors will creep in.

I desire at some future day to issue a complete Record of ALL the descendants of Lieut. Isaac Fuller's^{B11} children, viz.: Polly,¹ Lemuel,² Isaac,³ Barsillia (Tilden),⁴ Deacon Alden,⁵ Dr. Hosea,⁶ Mrs. Eunice (Drake),⁷ Alpheus,⁸ Rufus⁹ and Otis,¹⁰ with brief biographical sketches of each one. This Record is only of the descendants of Lemuel Fuller.²

Those who have taken this Record will therefore please keep me posted on all the changes in their families. Also please send me, at your earliest convenience, short biographical sketches of those already published in this Record. Please try to limit the sketches to 125 or 150 words each.

Any newspaper articles bearing on the subject will also be thankfully received.

Any one reading this who can assist in securing the records above-mentioned, will confere a great favor on me by sending such information to

ADDENDA.

Since this pamphlet has been printed, my attention has been called to the following:

Page 1. 4th line from top, read: "1620."

The second Note on Page 1 is wrong, for Gov. Carver had 3 servants; Edward Winslow had 2; Isaac Allerton had 1; Christopher Martin had 2; and William White 2; making ten additional servants besides the two belonging to Wm. Mullins and Dr. Samuel Fuller. I have always understood that these were members of their households, i. e. relatives, until informed to the contrary since publishing this Record.

In explanation of the first Note on Page 1, please permit the following: The Pilgrims landed on Clark's Island, Saturday, Dec. 9, 1620, Old Style. They rested there on the 10th, and "marched into the land," over the "Rock," on the 11th. Adding ten days, to make up the difference between the Old Style and the New Style, and we have Dec. 19, 20 and 21, the latter date, of course, being the one on which we now celebrate their landing.

Also, on Page 3. Dr. Isaac Fuller^{B⁶} must have been nearly 68 years old when (Lieut.) Isaac^{B¹¹} was born. This is unusual but not without precedent. The Compiler has a cousin who was born when his father was 63 years old, only 5 years younger than Dr. Isaac Fuller^{B⁶} was when (Lieut.) Isaac^{B¹¹} was born.

As our Lieut. Isaac Fuller^{B¹¹} came from Bridgewater, married a Mary Alden^{A⁵} and their first child was born in 1766, we do not think there can possibly be a mistake, but that Lemuel Fuller's² father, Isaac and Dr. Isaac Fuller's^{B⁶} son, Isaac,^{B¹¹} who married Mary Alden^{A⁵} in 1764, according to Mitchell, are indentially the same.

ALDEN-FULLER RECORD.

ALDEN BRANCH.

John Alden^{A1} married Priscilla Mullins^{A1A} daughter of William Mullins, in 1623; all of whom came over in the Mayflower and landed on Plymouth Rock, Monday, December 21st, N. S., 1621.*

Among their children was :

Joseph A²

John Alden^{A1} was the last survivor of the Signers of the Compact of November, 1620, in the cabin of the Mayflower. He died September 12, 1687, aged over 84 years.

* We know that they must have used the New Style, as history states "That they passed Sunday on Clark's Island" and the Old Style, December 21st, would have been Thursday.

William Mullins and Dr. Samuel Fuller^{B1} were the only two that had servants. Robert Carter of the former, and William Batten, who died on the way over, of the latter.

Joseph Alden^{A2} had at least one child :

Joseph ^{A3} (Deacon).

Deacon Joseph Alden^{A3} married Hannah Dunbar^{A3A} of Plymouth, in the early part of 1690.

One of their children was :

Daniel ^{A4} born the latter part of 1690.

Daniel Alden^{A4} married Abigail Shaw.^{A4A}

One of their children was :

Mary ^{A5} born Aug. 5, 1745.*

He removed with his family to Stafford, where he died, aged 80 years.

FULLER BRANCH.

Dr. Samuel Fuller^{B1} also landed at Plymouth, December 21st, 1620. He was the first physician in the Colony. He married (according to records still existing in Leyden, Holland, first, to Elsie Glasscock,^{B1A} and second, to Agnes Carpenter^{B1B} but his children are by his third wife) Bridget Lee,^{B1C} of Plymouth.

* In MITCHELL'S HISTORY OF BRIDGEWATER, p. 87, it states that Mary Alden ^{A5} was born in 1737 and married Isaac Fuller ^{B11} in 1764.

Isaac Fuller^{B11} born Sept. 24, 1712. Married Sarah Packard,^{B11A} Nov. 9, 1737.

Their children were:

Isaac,^{B12} born Dec. 15, 1738.

Olive,^{B13} born Oct. 14, 1740.

Lemuel,^{B14} born Sept. 29, 1742; died May 25, 1762.

Isaiah,^{B15} born July 7, 1744.

Sarah,^{B16} born March 23, 1746.

Susanna,^{B17} born Nov. 27, 1748.

Lois,^{B18} born Oct. 13, 1751.

Benjamin,^{B19} born Sept. 22, 1754.

Reliance,^{B20} born Dec. 22, 1756.

All believed to have been born in Bridgewater, Mass.

This makes one more generation in the Fuller line and cancels the last part of "Addenda" in the front, therefore please advance the figures to right of "Generation" in the black headings on pp. 7, 9, 17, 30 and 38 one higher, thus making them uniform with the initial figures. Also make "Fourth" in the sixth line on the title page read "Fifth" from Dr. Samuel Fuller. And make Lieut. Isaac Fuller^{B12} instead of ^{B11} wherever the name occurs.

I have recently been informed that there were two Mary Aldens; the first (Mitchell's) dying, and the second (ours) living. This is not verified as yet, but if true, will explain the apparent discrepancy on p. 2.

Lieut. Isaac Fuller^{B12} died in Easton, Mass., Aug. 22, 1804.

Mary (Alden) Fuller^{A5} died in Easton, Mass., Sept. 10, 1818.

ALDEN-FULLER RECORD.

They had two children :

Samuel ^{B2} and Mercy ^{B3}*

He died in 1633.

Rev. Samuel Fuller^{B2} was minister at Middleboro.

He had three sons :

Samuel, ^{B4} John ^{B5} and Isaac. ^{B6}

He died in 1695.

Dr. Isaac Fuller^{B6} was born in 1670. He married Mary Eddy.^{B6A}

They had five sons :

Micah, ^{B7} Samuel, ^{B8} Jabez, ^{B9} Isaiah ^{B10} and Isaac. ^{B11}

Dr. Isaac Fuller^{B6} died in 1727.†

ALDEN-FULLER BRANCH.

Isaac Fuller^{B11} was born Dec. 15, 1738.

Mary Alden^{A5} was born Aug. 5, 1745.

They were married in 1764.

* In LOWELL'S INSTITUTE LECTURES, p. 268, are accounts of the Fullers. Dr. Fuller's will, dated July 30, 1633, was the earliest will on record. His wife and son gave to Plymouth Church a lot for the Parsonage.

† The Records of Dr. T. B. Drew, Custodian of Plymouth Hall, state that Dr. Isaac Fuller ^{B6} died 1727. This is evidently a mistake, as is also the date of Mary Alden's ^{A5} birth in Mitchell's History of Bridgewater, for all our Family Records give the year, month and day of their birth as used in this Record. The date of their marriage is probably correct.

A return showing the "vacancies in several regiments and companies in Col. Frye's Brigade * * * Sept. 20, 1775," shows Isaac Fuller, a 1st lieutenant, in the 28th Continental Regiment of foot, commanded by Col. Paul Dudley Sergeant, Revolutionary War.

A list of officers in the 16th Regiment, commanded by Col. Paul Dudley Sergeant, dated Jan. 28th, 1776 shows Isaac Fuller a 1st lieutenant; and a return of field officers and staff officers of the same Regiment, dated Oct. 4, 1776, shows "Lieut. — Fuller fit for duty,"

No further information relative to his service has been found of record.

It is suggested as a possibility that further information may be obtained from the Secretary of State of Massachusetts.

It appears from the records of this office that James Black was a Captain in Col. Spencer's previously Col. Malcolm's regiment of Continental Troops. His name has been found only on a muster roll of the "Resigned and Supernumerary Officers" of said regiment. This roll reports Captain Black as commissioned March 11, 1777, and resigned April 23, 1779.

Extreme southern point of Scotland where it touches England; about 55° 7½' North Latitude and 3° 36' West from Greenwich.

From the Public Archives in Washington, D. C.:

Extract from Statement of Samuel Young, Esq., of Mount Pleasant, Westchester Co., N. Y., who served in the same regiment.

Soon after Tyron's Retreat, Col. Delancy, who commanded the British Refugees, in order to secure them against surprise, erected a Block-House on a rising ground below Delancy's Bridge. This Col. Burr resolved to destroy. I was in that expedition and recollect the circumstances. He procured a number of hand-grenades and rolls of port-fire, and canteens filled with inflammable materials, with contrivances for attaching them to the sides of the Block-House. He set out with his troops early in the evening and arrived within a mile of the Block-House by two o'clock in the morning. The Colonel gave Captain Black the command of about forty volunteers who were first to approach. Twenty of them were to carry the port-fire, etc., etc. Those who had hand-grenades had short ladders to enable them to reach the port-holes, the exact height of which Col. Burr had ascertained. Col. Burr gave Capt. Black his instructions in the hearing of his Company, assuring him of his protection if they were attacked by superior numbers, for it was expected that the enemy, who had several thousand men at or near Kingsbridge, would endeavor to cut us off, as we were several miles below them. Burr directed those who carried combustibles to march in front, as silently as possible. That, on being hailed, they were to light the hand-grenades, etc. with a slow-match, provided for that purpose, and throw them into the port-holes. I was one of the party that advanced. The Sentinal hailed and fired. We rushed on. The first hand-grenade that was thrown in drove the enemy from the upper story, and before they could take means to defend it, the Block-House was on fire in several places. Some few escaped and the rest surrendered, without our having lost a single man. Though many shots were fired at us, we did not fire again.

Capt. James Black was drowned in the year 179—

FULLER

COAT OF ARMS.

"He beareth argent three bars gules; on a canton of the last, a castle or. Crest—a dexter arm embowed, habited argent, cuffed sable, the hand holding a sword, blade argent, hilt and pommel or. By the name of Fuller."

Motto: "Semper Paratus" (Always Ready).

DESCRIPTION OF THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE FULLER ARMS,

By ALEXANDER CORBETT, JR., Heraldic Artist,

BOSTON, MASS.

The following interpretation of the Fuller Arms is derived from several ancient heraldic lexicographers, including John Gwillim and Aaron Crossley, both of whom were pre-eminent authorities about two hundred years ago. The significance of the various charges contained in the Arms is given practically in their own antiquated and inimitably quaint style of phraseology, as being more interesting, as well as more appropriate, than a more modern form embodying the same matter could possibly be.

Gwillim says: "As colors may be resembled to thyngs of greatest Nobility or Reputation, so is their worthyness accounted of accordingly. A shield of Argent or Silver is white, which is emblematick of Light. According to that Noble and Esteemed French author, Colombiere, Silver signifyes of virtues and Spiritual Qualities: Humility, Temperance and Truth; it is also the emblem of Gentleness. Of the planets it doth typify the Moon; of the four elements, the Water; of Human Constitutions, the Flegmatick; of Precious Stones, the Pearl; of Trees, the Palm; of Flowers, the Flower-de-Luce; of Beasts, the Ermine, which is all white, without any spot; of the parts of Man, the Brain; and of his Ages, that in which his powers are the most highly cultivated and developed. I have read in a Spanish author that those which have a Shield of Silver are obliged to relieve Maidens and Orphans.

"Bars, such as do appear in the Fuller Arms, are derived from Military Belts, or Girdles, of Honor, which from remotest antiquity, have been held in Noblest Esteem by the warrior which has had such a trophy bestowed upon him by his Sovereign, forasmuch as such Belts were the reward especially reserved for those who did great personal service for the Ruler of the Realm. In the sacred Book of Samuel, indeed, we read: 'Why didst thou not smit him there to the ground? and I would have given thee ten Shekels of Silver, and a Girdle.'—[I. Sam. xviii: 11.

"When a Canton is born (for so the square charge in the upper corner is called) it is usually what is termed an argumentation in arms—something added since the original adoption of the Coat of Arms. Most frequently it may be considered to be the badge or cognizance of some defeated enemy of the bearer of the Arms, since anciently the victor was privileged to appropriate the heraldic emblems of a Knight whom he had slain or taken into captivity, and to add it, in the form of a Canton, to his own shield.

"A Castle was frequently given to him who had been the first to mount the walls of a captured stronghold of that nature.

"Gules, or Red, hath ever been the military color, par excellence, notably among the Egyptians, Romans, Gauls and ancient Britons, who esteemed it best fit to strike terror to the hearts of ignorant or superstitious enemies, by reason of its sanguinary tincture. Of surpassing utility was this color, also, to the warrior, by concealing the effusion of his own blood when that he be wounded, in order that his enemies might not be, by its discovery, thereupon emboldened, and his followers correspondingly discouraged.

"An Arm wielding a Sword is the emblem of power and justice against traitors to their Prince and the oppressors of the innocent. In the Sacred Scriptures we read: 'I will render vengeance to mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.'—Deut. xxxii: 41. And again: 'The sword shall devour and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood.'—Jer. xlv: 10."
