THE COMPILER

Of these records of the Ballard Family, Mr. Charles Frederic Farlow, was born in Boston, Massachusetts, September 29, 1848. His father, Mr. John Smith Farlow, was born in Dublin, Ireland, January 12th, 1817; his mother, Nancy Wight Blanchard, born in Boston February 1st, 1816, was a daughter of John and Nancy (Frye) Blanchard, and granddaughter of Samuel and Lucy (Ballard) Blanchard, of Andover.

He was thus descended from William Ballard, one of the founders of Andover, and this fact made a starting point for Mr. Farlow's large interest and extensive amateur work in genealogy. He traced the family of the Lynn Ballards as well as his own kindred; he also did much in Blanchard, Frye and Harris genealogies. He spared neither time, trouble nor expense in gathering complete and accurate information from books and manuscripts, town, church and county records, and from wide correspondence, and worked when in ill health, in this country and in England. He died at Florence, Italy, February 6th, 1900. His collections were given to the Historic-Genealogical Society, of which he had long been a member, and the officers of the Society have afforded every opportunity for the family of Mr. Farlow to have this Ballard Genealogy copied, brought down to date and published.

An earnest effort has been made to present the work in the manner the compiler would have done had his life been spared to issue it. [See Hist. Gen. Register for 1901, p. lix, and No. 32 of the Andover Family in this volume.]

BALLARDS IN ENGLAND

[By the Editor.]

Mr. Farlow procured the services of genealogical searchers in England and had considerable investigation made into the history of the family there.

One of the most valuable sources of information in this direction is the wills and administrations of estates, which have been made and preserved in England from a very remote period. Without attempting to print all that was reported to him, we may well present a few of the most interesting, although none gives what can be accepted as the history of either of the William Ballards who founded the American family. Yet these may afford clues for future search.

Thomas Ballard, citizen and tallow chandler of London; will proved 18 Feb. 1620, mentions wife Joan and son John.

Henry Ballard, of Wadhurst, co. Sussex, will proved 10 Oct. 1622; wife Mary; married daughters and their children . . . nephew Mr. Thomas Ballard of Wadhurst.

Thomas Ballard of Pell in the parish of Wadhurst, Sussex, gent.; will dated 14 Dec., proved 4 May, 1624; sons Thomas, Richard and William; daughters Martha and Elizabeth; brother Richard Ballard of Lamberhurst; etc.

Richard Ballard, of London, gentleman; will dated 28 May, 1636, proved 1 Aug. 1638; brother Mr. Abraham Haines, rector of St. Olaves in Hart Street, London; brother William Ballard; reference to father Mr. Thomas Ballard; had purchased of brother William lands in Lillesden in the parish of Crondhurst in co. Kent; wife Katherine; brother Thomas Ballard; cosen Brocklesby.

Richard Ballard, of Lamberhurst, Sussex; will dated 24 Feb. 1640, proved 18 September, 1641; daughter Elinor, son Richard, wife Anne, daughter Mary, wife of Samuel Maplesden, daughter Anne Rideout; brother in law William Bishop.

Thomas Ballard, of London, gent.; will dated 10 Sept. 1641, proved 18 Sept. 1641; all lands and tenements given to him by his late father Thomas Ballard, Esq. to brother William Ballard; wife Anne; daughter Anne Ballard; godchild Samuel Maplesden; brothers Mr. John White and Mr. Abraham Haynes; all books and wearing apparel to brother William Ballard whom he appointed executor. The will was presented in court on the oath of "William Ballard frater."

It will be observed that this could not be Mr. William Ballard of Lynn, who had died two years before; as to William, of Andover, if he came to Newbury in 1634-5, as some believe, and remained there till he joined with other Newbury men in settling Andover, he could not have been in London to sign his name with the Latin word attached in 1641, and taken care of all those Sussex estates which had been bequeathed to him. Yet the matter is not closed by what is now known on the case.

The following pair of wills may prove valuable.

James Ballard, of Horton, co. Worcester, husbandman; will dated 4 May, 1628, proved 16 May, 1629; son William and his son William; son James; brother Philip.

Margaret Ballard, of Evesham, co. Worcester, made will 21 Feb. 1632, proved June 13, 1632. Son William, son James.

Examination of parish records in each of these cases should be made to ascertain what became of these persons named in the wills.

The settlement of Massachusetts was made under a corporation called The Massachusetts Bay Company. In the records of the colony now extant in Massachusetts there are accounts of meetings of the Company in London before the management was transferred to New England. One of the members of the Company, mentioned as present at various meetings and participator in the business, was Mr. Daniel Ballard. His will is given in full. Though he did not mention any relative who could have been either the Lynn or Andover pioneer, and may not have been in any near way connected with either of them, the fact of his activity in the settlement of New England and his bequest to the education of Indians here are tokens that he was heart and soul with them in all that went to make the Puritan and Pilgrim. So he well deserves to be remembered with respect and regard by all the American Ballards.

WILLIAM BALLARD OF LYNN

Was registered as a passenger, shipping from England for New England, as we find in Hotten's "Original Lists" that "William Ballard, husbandman, ae. 32, with Mary, ae. 26, Hester, ae. 2, and John, ae. 1, came in the James in July, 1635."

The mention of his wife and of the children who grew up here, one of them afterward giving his age to correspond with this entry, makes it entirely certain that this refers to the Lynn pioneer.

Although called in the passenger list "husbandman," i.e. farmer, he must have been a man above the ordinary in education and ability; for the General Court of Massachusetts Bay appointed him a magistrate "in the roome of Captaine Turner," in the session held at Newtowne (Cambridge), June 8, 1638. He was made a freeman of the colony May 2, 1638.

He had settled at Lynn, perhaps upon his arrival in New England, and had 60 acres of land, as we learn from the earliest record of the town extant, made in the year 1638. [Essex Court Files.] The court assigned various duties to him, one of these being to serve on the committee that established the line between Salem and Lynn, whose report was made March 13, 1638-9. Some complaint was made of several persons who had been hiring laborers in an illegal way, and his name was in the list; but he was "discharged" Dec. 4, 1638, "as he had hired none but such as had lots." He had a suit in court in 1637, and was a juryman in 1638. He was one of the Committee, appointed Sept. 7, 1638, to set off land to Richard Bellingham; but he died before the work was completed, and another was appointed in his place May, 1639. [Essex Deeds, 2, 250.]

He died early in 1639, leaving no written will; but he told Nicholas Browne and Gerard Spencer, Jr., "a day or two before his death" that he wished half his estate to go to his wife, and the rest to be divided amongst his children; and this nuncupative will was proved upon their testimony 1 (1)

1638-9. The Court had due information of the event, and appointed "Mr. Tymothy Tomlins to act with Mr. Hawthorne" (as magistrate) June 6, 1639.

He married first, in England Mary ———, who came with him in 1635 and must have died within a few years; and he married a second wife, Elizabeth ———, who survived him. She afterward married William Knight,* of Salem, and outlived him also. He bequeathed to her and her children, "the four children I had by my last wife Elizabeth," and made bequests also to John and Nathaniel Ballard of 40 shillings apiece, though not saying they were her children or why he remembered them; but when the executor paid them their legacies they receipted for them as from their "father in-law" (stepfather, as we now say). Knight's will was dated in 1653, proved in 1655. Elizabeth married third, 28: 1: 1656, Allen Bread (Breed).

In the records of Massachusetts reports are given of meetings held in London in the years 1628 and 1629 by the members of "The Massachusetts Bay Company," and one member whose attendance is noted, and a contribution he made to the cause of settlement in New England, is "Mr. Daniel Ballard." There is no reason whatever to suppose he ever came over here; but one cannot help wondering whether there was not some connection or relationship between him and the man who came here and was honored by the Court here with an appointment to an eminent position. [See Ballards in England.]

We have not an official list of the children of Mr. Ballard. A reference made by one of the sons to his "brother Jenckes" is warrant for the placing in the list a daughter who married Joseph Jenks, Jr. There may have been other sons or daughters.

Children:

2. i. William<sup>2</sup>, probably b. in England of first wife.

* The town of Reading was formed from a district of Lynn, and Mr. Ballard had lands there. In the earliest record of Reading now extant, "the 6th of the 11th Month 1644," a division of land is recorded thus: "To Samuel Dutton half the Meadow that was given to Goodman Knight and Mr. Ballards children, that is Goodman Knight's part."

- ii. Hester (Esther) b. in England about 1633; m. Joseph Jenks of Warwick, R. I., son of Joseph Jenks, Senr. of Lynn; b. in 1632; d. in Providence, Jan. 4, 1717.

Joseph Jenks made will Oct. 21, 1708, proved Feb. 11, 1717. Confirms deeds of land already made; to sons Ebenezer and William Jenks his coal house and forge. Wife to have all movables, cattle, etc. for life, and power to dispose of them at her death to children and grandchildren. Inventory, £36-19-8.

3. JOHN<sup>2</sup> (William<sup>1</sup>) born in England about 1634; married Susanna Story. [Salem Rec.] He also married a wife named Rebecca before 1673, as is shown in a deed quoted below.

He testified in a lawsuit 29 (4) 1655, giving his age as 21 years, that he was at work for his "brother Jenckes" on a boat of Joseph Armitage, etc. The following deposition is also interesting:

"John Ballard aged twenty-five years testifieth that about six months since I saw John Chaxfeild liveing in barbadoes as witnes my hand this 28: november, 1659."

This shows that John had been at Barbadoes, either as a seaman or trader, following out the line in which he was engaged at the time he made the former deposition.

The following obituary notice of Mr. Ballard presents his life-record in a suitable manner.

Joseph Ballard, a life resident of Boston, died November 23, 1877. He was born in Bromfield court near Washington street and opposite to the store which in after years became his place of business. In his boyhood he lived at the corner of Washington and West streets, and drove his father's cow to and from the "Common" where she was pastured. He attended the Latin School in School street, and in 1801 received a Franklin medal.

The business of Mr. Ballard from boyhood was that of carpet dealer. He began by carrying out goods in a wheelbarrow. In partnership with his brother John he founded the firm of J. & J. Ballard which was afterward changed to Ballard and Prince and still later to Sweetser & Abbot in Bromfield street. He made many voyages to Europe before the era of steamships, and was a large importer of foreign carpets. As such he was a strong advocate of free trade and an avowed opponent of the tariff. He was a Democrat of the old school. He was a Congregationalist, a member and loyal supporter of the Old South Church, for many years on its standing committee, and used his influence to prevent the abandonment of the ancient edifice.

WILLIAM BALLARD OF ANDOVER

Was born in England, as his name and associations here show, and about the year 1617, as by his deposition at a later time.

It has been believed by many historians that he is the "William Ballard" who shipped for New England March 26, 1634, in the "Mary and John." He would have been only about 18 years old at the time, rather an unusual age for a Pilgrim; but he was associated with several of those who came in that ship at Newbury (where he owned land in 1645) and Andover; which may confirm the theory that he was this passenger.

He may have been a resident of Dedham in 1643; for when two men of that town, Thomas Bayes and Robert Crosman, were brought before the Court for "mutinous and turbulent speeches" and "offensive speeches," William Ballard united with Henry Chickering, Tymo. Dwyte and Robert Hinsdell in giving bonds for the payment of their fines. It is possible that mere friendship or former acquaintance led to the assistance he rendered to Bayes and Crosman. Dedham records, however, do not mention him.

Andover* was the plantation where the greater part of Mr. Ballard's life in New England was passed.

He married at a place and time not yet ascertained Grace —, whose name and family are not known to us.

His house was a place of hospitality. A simple testimony to this fact came out in the evidence he was giving in a neighbor's lawsuit in 1662; the spelling was that of the notary:

"The deposition of William Balard aged a bought 45. This

*The most ancient entry on the town records of Andover is a list headed "The names of all the free house boulders in order as thay came to towne."

The sixteenth name in this list is "William Ballerd."

While no dates are given it is known from other sources that the men before him and some who follow actually settled at Andover in the year 1644, coming, nearly all of them, from Newbury.

deponent saith that a bought sixe weekes sene the houes of Job Tiler being burned he gave the sd. Tilers wife leave to com with her family for a time and live at his houes hir husband at that time not being at home which accordingly shee did and there remaynes to this time."

This was probably the first residence of Mr. Ballard. Its location is shown by the following abstract of a deed which he made the following year:

William Ballard of Andover, husbandman, exchanged lands with William Chandler, and deeded to him his house and barn and 4 acres of land and one hortyard (orchard), bounded by lands of Nathan Parker, John Lovejoy, Andrew Allen, of Chandler and by the highway; his wife Grace joining in the deed; date, May 20 and 25, 1663.

William Ballard died July 10, 1689, leaving no will.
