

BARR GENEALOGY

F O R E W O R D

This is a record not only of a vanished generation but of the generations that followed down through the years. The speech-ways that once were common usage are gone, the habits and customs are changed and the standard of conduct have been replaced by others quite different.

The story of a family has to be told through the lives of men and women, working, talking, planning, loving and dying. As they come and go, time moves backward and forward with them. That too, is the way all that we remember comes and goes.

And so by research, I have attempted to recapture some of the highlights of the lives of the Barr pioneer ancestors.

Thanks to all who willingly gave me assistance with names and dates.

First Generation:

David Barr:- May 10, 1807 - May 8, 1866 - Born at Wishaw, Scotland, near Glasgow - Son of William Barr and Isabell Hart. Born in Lanarkshire, Scotland. He emigrated, unmarried to Canada in 1833. He bought the Roffey farm on Thompsonhill, Lot 8 Con. 2 Horton Twp.

His wife; Agnes Airth - May 12, 1814 - Jan. 28, 1876 - Daughter of Sergeant Henry Airth - 1786-1870 and Marion Park - 1790-1870 - Granddaughter of Adam Airth and Agnes Urie of Wishaw, Scotland. She was born in Belgium, shortly before the famous Battle of Waterloo. Her father was serving with the British troops. At that time wives were permitted to go with their husbands. She came to Canada with her parents in 1827, who settled at Renfrew, Rear Lot 25 Con. 6 Horton Twp., and became the first settled farmer of the area.

In 1834 David Barr and Agnes Airth were married by Rev. Burney, first Methodist missionary. They were the first couple in Renfrew to be married by a minister.

This pioneer couple, whose homestead nestled in a valley below Thomson Hill, built a handsome stone house in 1854. "Glen Burnie" was the name chosen for their farm.

The following is taken from the book 'The Story of Renfrew' from the Renfrew Public Library.

"David Barr and his wife did earnest and telling work on that farm. They are worthy of special remembrance in these annals for they were such true friends and neighbours. This brought them into close contact with many in those pioneer days, and to the end. They were proverbial for their kindness that they extended to all with whom they met. They were prudent, thrifty and industrious. Beyond material heritage to which these sons and daughters fell heir was the careful training which so strongly influenced their several lives and has proved to be the richest endowment that was left them by those honored pioneers."

In our search, the first person by the name of Airth that we found was Adam Airth and his wife Agnes Urie. They lived at Wishaw, Scotland. Their son Henry 1786 - 1870 was married to Marion Park 1790 - 1870. Rev. John Dick was the minister of Greyfriars and Alexandra St. Parade Church in Glasgow, which was the mother church of the Secession in the West. It was there and by that minister that Henry and his wife were married Jan. 29, 1813.

Henry was a Sergeant in the Napoleonic Wars. He was in Belgium and Spain as a cavalryman in the Royal Horse Artillery during this war. He participated in the Battle of Waterloo where he had two horses shot from under him.

The officers in those days took their families with them. It would be here, near Bruxelles, Belgium where their daughter Agnes was born. After the war the family returned to Rutherglen near Glasgow. It was from here that Henry and Marion with eight children set sail for Canada in June 1827. He came at his own expense landing at Montreal.

Chief McNab met him along with the Hamiltons and Wilsons and persuaded him to come to the McNab settlement. He disagreed with the Chief and so took up land near the second chute of the Bonnechere. The farm was Lot 25 Con. 6 Horton Township, bought from a Mr. MacLean. He moved to the new location in 1828 and was actually the first settled farmer in what became the town of Renfrew. Later he became the first senior magistrate of Renfrew County.

The Airths and Barrs were Lowland Scotts.

'The following came from Ena Edwards, Ajax, Ont. Oct. 1967.'

"There is an Airth Castle at Sterling, Scotland. The castle was sold in 1914 to a man by the name of Mr. McDonald. It was used as a refugee home in the war time and then in 1918 or so he sold it to a Mr. Roberts who made it into a maternity nursing home and remained as such until at least the year 1967. Negotiations were in process of turning the estate into a university."

'The following is from Carmen Stansberry' - Descendant of Agnes Airth (mother) and David Airth (father).

"Two of Adam and Agnes Airth's children went to Australia, one went to Africa and two came to Canada. James was the other son to come to Canada. Born in 1800 in Scotland, and died in 1853 in Toronto, Ont. He married Jean McNaught in Scotland. They came to Canada in 1849. Only two of their nine children came with them. One was Ellen born 1836, died 1919, married William Hamilton. They resided at Glasgow Station and had eleven children. The other one Catherine, born 1838 at Glasgow, Scotland, died 1922. She married James Leitch in 1863. They resided in Renfrew, Ontario area and had six children.
