FOREWORD

A list of the descendants of Silas and Ruth Luce Bartoo with ancestors in a direct line back to their coming to America. Compiled from the most authentic and trustworthy records by Eli Bartoo (of the seventh generation), who was the second son of Hiram and Laura Bates Bartoo, who was the first son of Jesse and Eunice Loomis Bartoo, who was the second child of Francis and Mary Ketcham Bartoo, who was the fifth child of John and Elizabeth Barteau, Who was the second son of Francis Barteau, who came from Paris, France to New York in 1657 and settled at Flushing, Long Island, and Mary, his wife.

(Signed) Eli Bartoo
Brisben, N. Y.
July 1899.

The earlier genealogy as here presented was copied from data obtained and recorded by Eli Bartoo of the seventh generation. The arrangement of the material has been somewhat changed, however the facts remain. The present writer has added to the data obtained by him and has thus endeavored to bring our records up to date.

Acknowledgements

The present writer wishes to take this opportunity to thank those many members of the family who have made contributions to the records here presented. The response to requests for data has been very gratifying and has made possible this compilation.

The writer is especially indebted to the following persons:

1. The late Eli Bartoo, who not only laid the foundation for a Bartoo genealogy but collected a greater part of the data, as here presented, previous to 1899. Thanks are due to his daughter, Mrs. Stella M. Burgess, through whom all his records were made available.
2. To Jesse T. Burgess for all the later records of Hiram Bartoo's descendants.
3. To Mrs. Alice McCabe for the descendants of Ruth Bartoo.
4. To Mrs. Carlisle B. Ford for the descendants of Polly Bartoo.

Frequent use has been made of the General Accounting Office and the Veterans' Administration at Washington, D. C. for checking and obtaining records of military service.

Chapter I

The First Four Generations

Francis Barteau

I. Francis Barteau or Breteau came from Holland in 1657 according to Bairds Huguenot Emigration to America, Vol. II, Page 80.

According to Obadiah Barto of Hemstead, Long Island, he came from Paris, France; as he was early associated with Glauf LeMaistre, who was a carpenter of Harlem and Flatbush. Francis may have been a carpenter.

Francis Barteau appeared at Harlem, New York in 1676 as a petitioner, with others for land, which being denied he went to Flushing, Long Island and there made in 1680 a similar application, stating that he had nine children.

In 1698 he was named on the census of Flushing where the name is spelled as pronounced, Francis Burto, wife Mary and three children, Francis, John and Abigail.

For calender of New York (MSS. land papers) mention is made of Francis Breteau of Flushing Long Island in 1680.

In Documentary History of New York, September 29, 1683, Francis Barteau had the following taxable property:

Upland	----12 acres
Meadows	--- 5 acres
Horses	---- 3
Oxen	----- 2
Cows	----- 3
Swine	---- 1
Sheep	---- 8
Taxes paid-	9s, 3d.

In 1683 Francis Barto is mentioned on the Government Organ's patent of Flushing. See Queens County Illustrated, page 75. Also see Rikes History of Harlem and the Bartoo Genealogy and Supplement, pages 205-297.

I. Francis Barteau came from Paris, France to New York in 1657. He lived and died at Flushing, Long Island. Of Mury, his wife, he begat nine children in the second generation, three of whom are positively known.

1. Francis Barteau
2. John Barteau
3. Abigail Barteau
4. Jane Barteau (?)
5. Sarah Barteau (?)
6. Daniel Barteau (?)
- 7.
8. Names unknown
- 9.

II-1. Francis Barte, first child of Francis and Mary Barteau of Harlem together with his parents (named in the census of Flushing) settled at Hemstead, Long Island, in 1698.

He married twice. His second wife, Mrs. James Morris, came over as a companion to the wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania. She was born in 1675 and by James Morris, her first husband, had one child, Constance Morris.

*By his former wife, Francis Barte, had one son, Francis, in the third generation.

II-2. John Barte, second son of Francis and Mary Barteau, was at Harlem with his parents and was named on the census of Flushing in 1698, where he seems afterwards to have lived. His wife, Elizabeth, was baptized together with her six children, at Grace Church, Jamaica, Long Island, March 2, 1714. Amy, the youngest child, was baptized at Jamaica, June 10, 1716.

*The writer has the records of some of the living descendants of this Francis Barte of the second generation, through his son, Francis.

Note: Flushing had been settled 13 years before the coming of the first Francis, by English dissenters who had emigrated from Vlissenger, (Flushing) Holland.

It is interesting to note that the New York Worlds Fair, (1939) commemorating the inauguration of Washington in 1789, will be held upon Flushing Meadows just to the south of Flushing. Doubtless many times did our early ancestors look out upon this barren, marshy waste, with no thought of its transformation into such beauty and splendor some 280 years later.

II-2. John and Elizabeth Barto had the following seven children in the third generation:

1. Elizabeth Barto-1703
2. Hannah Barto----1705
3. Sarah Barto----1707
4. John Barto-----1709-1795(Aug.12)
5. Francis Barto----1711-1786
6. Mary Barto----1713
7. Amy Barto-----1715

III-5. Francis Barto of the third generation was the fifth child of John and Elizabeth Barto, born August 12, 1911, at Flushing Long Island. He settled at Hemstead, Long Island and died at West Hills, Long Island, March 26, 1786.

He married Mary Ketcham and they had nine children in the fourth generation:

1. Obadiah Barto-1740(Oct. 6)
2. Silas Barto---1742(May 31)-1831(Nov. 7)
3. Servia Barto--1744(Aug.10)
4. John Barto----1746(Nov. 4)
5. A daughter----
6. Anna Barto----1751(Apr. 3)-1838
7. Reuben Barto--1755(July30)
8. Morris Barto--1758(Aug.18)-1839(Feb. 6)
9. Jonah Barto---1760(Dec.15)

Note: For the foregoing records I am indebted to Rev. Evelyn P. Bartow, 7 Henry Street, Utica, New York. Signed by Eli Bartoo, Brisben, N. Y.

Note: A Bartow Genealogy by Rev. Evelyn P. Bartow was published in Baltimore, Md., by Innes and Company, Printers, 1878. The book is now rare. A copy may be found in the Historical Library, St. Paul, Minn., one in State Library at Albany, New York, and one in the Congressional Library at Washington, D. C. D. R. Bartoo, Sept., 1938.

The following are only the descendants of Silas Bartoo, dropping all the other lines of the Barteau, Barto, and Bartow genealogy.

IV-2. Silas Bartoo (the first and only one I find with the "oo" termination) was the second son of Francis and Mary Ketcham Barto, born May 31, 1742 (presumably) at Hemstead, Long Island where his father had settled and lived.

As a young man he was engaged in the whale fishery. He married Ruth Luce of Martha's Vinyard, born January 20, 1745. She died January 29, 1839 at Eden, Erie County, New York.

Silas Bartoo was in the Patriot Army of the American Revolution. At one time his family, wife and several small children had to seek protection in the fort, sinking their pewter ware in a pond near by, and putting their clothes and bedding in a dry well and covering them with boards. Their house was burned, as well as the clothing concealed in the well.

Silas Bartoo lived at Rodding Connecticut in 1783; in 1791 he moved to Catskill, New York where he lived until 1799, at least. Next he is found living in Greene County with his son Jesse. About 1830 he went to live with his eldest son, Jonathan Luce Bartoo in Eden, Erie County, New York, where he died November 7, 1831. His grave is at Eden Valley beside that of his wife, Ruth. Their graves have recently been marked by the Buffalo Chapter of The D. A. R.

Silas and Ruth Luce Bartoo had ten children as follows in the fifth generation:

- *1. Jonathan Luce Bartoo-1769(July 1)-1852(Jan. 16)
2. Polly Bartoo-----1770(Sept.13)-1790(June 19)
3. Urania Bartoo-----1772(Mar. 2)-1815(Feb. 15)
4. Anna Bartoo-----1774(Jan. 15)-1790(June 15)
- *5. Jesse Bartoo-----1775(Dec. 24)-1823(Dec. 24)
6. Morris Bartoo-----1778(Apr. 12)-1779(June 9)
7. Ruth Bartoo-----1782(July 16)-1837(Jan. 29)
8. Alice Bartoo-----1783(Dec. 14)-1884(Oct. 28)
9. Nancy Bartoo-----1785(Apr. 14)
10. Silas Bartoo Jr. ----1788(Jan. 13)-1814(Dec. 6)

*Note: The records to follow are those of Jonathan Luce and Jesse Bartoo, the only two sons of Silas who left children. The genealogical records of Alice Bartoo are being compiled by Mrs. Cecile Kellogg Bidwell and will be published soon.

Chapter II Descendants of Jonathan Luce Bartoo

V-1. Jonathan Luce Bartoo (1769-1852) was the first son of Silas and Ruth Luce Bartoo. He was born July 1, 1769. He was a pioneer mill builder in Erie and Chautauqua Counties, New York. He cut the first tree where Fredonia, N. Y. now stands, and built the first mill there as well as at other places. He was familiarly called "Colonel Bartoo" He died January 16, 1852 and is buried at Eden Valley, N. Y. beside his wife, Silence.

September 8, 1790 he married Silence Linsley (1/24/1771-12/3/1832) They had eight children as follows in the sixth generation:

1. Polly Bartoo-----1792(Oct. 17)

VI-2. John Bartoo, second child of Jonathan Luce and Silence Linsley Bartoo, was born October 27, 1794.

He owned and ran a woolen mill at Water Valley Erie County, N. Y. Later he moved to Forestville Chautauque County, N. Y. where he carried on the same business. He died there at the age of 93, September 19, 1887.

John Bartoo was in the War of 1812 and was a pensioner of that war. The following is quoted from records of the office of Veterans Administration at Washington, D. C.

"John Bartoo(S.C. 9435) volunteered at Fredonia or Pomfret in Chautauqua County, New York, and served from July 4, 1812 to December 27, 1812, as a drummer in Captain Jehiel Moore's Company of New York militia.

"In 1852 the soldier was a resident of Hamburg, Erie County, N. Y. and in 1855 was residing at Hanover, Chautauqua County, same state. John Bartoo was allowed pension on his application executed April 18, 1871, at which time he was age 76 years and a resident of Hanover, N. Y. with postoffice at Forestville, Chautauqua County, that state.

"John Bartoo married Ruth Blanchard (b. Oct.9,1797-d.June 20, 1884) November 6, 1820. In 1887 the soldier was residing in Forestville, N. Y. with his daughter, whose name was not given. Noother reference was made to children. #

John and Ruth Blanchard Bartoo had six children in the seventh generation as follows:

1. John Augustus Bartoo ---1821()-1825(Nov. 9)

IX-2. Pearl Dorr married _____ Longley, who is a missionary in India.

IX-3. Jennie Dorr married _____ Bromley and lives in Urbana, Illinois.

VIII-2. Jennie A. Dorr, second child of Mary J. and J. B. Dorr, was born June 20, 1857. She married Dorr. She lives with her daughter at Auburn, N. Y.

Jennie A. Dorr has a chair which possesses more than usual interest. It was made by her great-grandfather Jonathan Luce Bartoo, for his son John, and was completed the day of the birth of his granddaughter, Mary Jane Bartoo, January 25, 1822. Mary Jane was the first to be rocked in it. Silas and Mary Ketcham Bartoo were still living, so that in that day four generations rocked or were rocked in that chair. To-day, 116 years later four other generations (their descendants) are rocking in that self-same chair. Mrs. Dorr in her eighties now occupies the same chronological position as did her great-great-gran father Silas of the earlier days.

Her children in the ninth generation are:

1. Bessie M. Dorr-----1887(Sept. 13)
2. Bartlett William Dorr--1889(June 11)

VIII-3. Clarence J. Dorr, third and youngest child of Mary J. and J. B. Dorr, was born May 12, 1864. d. November 11, 1933. He married Mary Shattuck (b.October 27, 1869) They had one child in the ninth generation:

1. Philip C. Dorr --- 1893(June 19)

IX-1. Philip C. Dorr, only child of Clarence J and Mary Shattuck Dorr, was born June 19, 1893. He married Ruby Y. Young, b. in 1896. They have three children in the tenth generation:

1. Bartlett Dorr---1920(May 24)
2. David Dorr-----1922(Sept.13)
3. Robert Dorr-----1924(July 23)

VII-6. Elizabeth Bartoo, sixth and youngest child of John and Ruth Blanchard Bartoo, was born in 1829. She married H. Clay Fuller. She died of putrid sore throat December 29, 1871. They had no children.

VI-3. Samuel Augustus Bartoo, third child of Jonathan Luce and Silence Linsley Bartoo, was born June 23, 1797. He served in the War of 1812 and was a pensioner of that War. The following data were obtained from the papers on file in the Pension Office at Washington, D. C. Pension claim, S. C. 16389 based upon service in the War of 1812 of Samuel A. Bartoo by A. D. Hilier. Executive Assistant, 1937,

"Samuel A. Bartoo, who served under the name of Augustus Bartoo, volunteered at Nashville or at Hanover, in Chautauqua County, New York, and served from August 1, to September 26, 1814 as a private in Captian M. B. Tubb's Company, New York militia. In 1855 the soldier was residing in Erie County, Pa.

"Samuel A. Bartoo was allowed pension on his application executed April 29, 1871, at which time he was age 74 years and resident of Hanover, Chatauqua County, New York, with post office at Forestville in that county. He signed "Samuel A. Bartoo"

"Samuel A. Bartoo married Rhoda Clark November 6, 1819, in Hanover County, New York. No refenence was made in the claim to children.

"In 1887 Samuel A. Bartoo was residing in Cottage, Cataragus County, N. Y. but spent the greater part of his time with his brother, John Bartoo, in Forestville, N. Y. His pension certificate issued May 2, 1872, was rated at $8 per month; commenced February 14, 1871. He died in 1893 at the age of 97 years.

VI-4. Anne Bartoo, fourth child of Jonathan Luce and Silence Linsley Bartoo, was born September 1, 1799. She is supposed to have lived and died unmarried.

VI-5. Jesse Bartoo, fifth child of Jonathan Luce and Silence Linsley Bartoo, was born March 25, 1802. He died July 29, 1881 in Depage Township, Will County, Ill. He was buried at Plainsfield, Ill. His wife was Sallie Allen (2/5/1803-10/22/1864) She was also buried at Plainsfield, Ill.

Jesse Bartoo was a mechanic and inventor of the Bartoo Water-wheel. U. S. Patent Office under date of May 11, 1858 shows a patent on the "Improved Water-wheel. The drawings accompanying the description are those of the Water-Wheel Gate. Patent #20,187.

Notes by Eli Bartoo- The foregoing records of the descendants of Silas and Ruth Luce Bartoo in the line of Jonathan Luce Bartoo, their eldest son and child have been furnished me by John and Jesse William Bartoo of Eden, N. Y.; George H. Bartoo of St. Ansgar, Iowa; Almira Arrabella (Minnie) Bartoo of Remington, Indiana, daughter of LaFayette Bartoo, with the exception of Norman Bartoo's family. That I got from Charles E. Bartoo, of Syracuse, New York.

For the records of Jonathan Luce Bartoo, Jr.'s family, I am indebted to George H. Bartoo of St. Ansgar, Iowa, youngest member of the family. He has the old family Bible with records back including Silas Bartoo's family.

The record of Elizabeth Melinda Bartoo's family is furnished me by Almira Arabella (Minnie) Bartoo of Remington, Indiana, oldest daughter of LaFayette and Arabella Blood Bartoo.

I have no record of Urania (third daughter of Silas) Bartoo's family, although I know some of her grandchildren. She married Henry Vorse of Greene, N. Y. I have no record of Ellis (Alice), eighth child of Silas Bartoo, who married William Davis and had a large family, or of Nancy, ninth child of Silas Bartoo. She married a Mr. Hall.

(Signed) Eli Bartoo
 Brisben, N. Y.
 March, 1899.

The following are the records of the descendants of Silas and Ruth Luce Bartoo in the line of Jesse Bartoo.

V-5. Jesse Bartoo, fifth child of Silas and Ruth Bartoo, was born December 25, 1775 presumably in Connecticut, (possibly on Long Island as his father lived there in 1783). He married Eunice Loomis who was born October 17, 1778. She was the sixth child of Abijah Loomis, born March 7, 1744, and Mary Loomis, born November 29, 1749. He died July 16, 1819; she died December 4, 1815. They came from Egremont, Mass., to Chenango County, N. Y., but at what date is not now certainly known, probably about 1795-6, and it is not known where they first located, (supposed to have been at Smithville, N. Y. Later he procured a farm on the Chenango River six miles above Greene. It was here that the writer of these records first saw the light and spent "Life's Merry Morn" and also the evening, the "twilight of Life." Here Jesse spent the last years of his life and died very suddenly December 24, 1823, leaving a family of 12 children, all of whom lived to grow to man-hood and woman-hood. He was buried in the Tillotson Cemetery, Greene, New York. Eunice Loomis Bartoo died November 22, 1859. She was buried in the Tillotson Cemetery by the side of her husband. The epitaph from his tomb :

Jesse Bartoo
 d. Dec. 24, 1823
 AE 48 Yrs.
 "Friends nor physicians could not
 Save mortl body from the grave,
 Nor can the grave confine it here
 When Christ commands it to appear."

The following are the children of Jesse and Eunice Loomis Bartoo in the sixth generation:

6. Jesse Luce Bartoo-----1808(May 28)-1897(July 9)
7. Sally Louisa Bartoo---1810(May 1)-1889(Nov. 10)
8. Olive Matilda Bartoo--1812(Sept. 29)-1881(Feb. 17)
9. Urania Vianna Bartoo--1815(Aug. 21)-1886(May 24)
10. Lucretia Cordelia B.--1817(May 6)-1875(Sept. 4)
11. William Bartoo-----1819(Apr. 21)-1896(Dec. 24)
12. Mercy Charlotte B.----1821(Mar. 7)-1912(Dec. 25)

Chapter 111
Descendants of Hiram Bartoo

V1-1. Hiram Bartoo, first child of Jesse and Eunice Loomis Bartoo, was born April 10, 1798. He was considered a successful farmer, making his farm pay for itself, clothing and schooling six boys and three girls and living from its products. He was familiarly known as "Uncle Hiram". He married Laura Bates, December 31, 1818. She was born March 28, 1796, formerly a Connecticut girl.

After having brought into the world six sons and three daughters, and after having served her day and generation, Laura Bates Bartoo "fell asleep", February 16, 1888, and was carried to her grave by six stalwart sons, the writer being one of them; Brisben, N.Y.

Hiram and Laura Bates Bartoo had the following children in the seventh generation:

She was born February 23, 1836. He is a mechanic and a farmer living in East Troupsburg (1904). He died October 5, 1919 and was buried at East Troupsburg, N. Y.

"My father and mother (Miller) came from Greene, N. Y. to East Troupsburg in the fall of 1835 and I was born the following February. They came with all their goods and three children on a lumber wagon. When they were one and one-half miles from the home of Aunt Urania their horses gave out. Father took the horses and one of the children to a farm house near by, while mother carried the other two alternately short distances in the woods"

"The next day they succeeded in reaching Aunt Urania's house where they stayed with Aunt Urania and Uncle Gordon Bartle's family until their new home was established. There were Aunt Urania and Uncle Gordon, father and mother Bates, my own father and mother and eight children living in a two roomed log house; but it was all right."

"This log house stood within sight of the church of East Troupsburg. My father and Uncle Gordon Bartle helped to build the church some years after we came. I remember carrying their dinners to them while they were working; so you see I helped build the church."

"I've been lonesome today; no one has been here and I have been thinking how ma baked her bread when I was a girl (cornbread). She put it in an oven (dutch oven) in the corner of the fireplace and she kept embers around the oven and on top until the next day, and O, what good bread she made! She made salt risin' bread too."

"I can remember your grandfather William and your grandmother Maria very well. (William and Maria Knight Bartoo) They used to come to see us and how we enjoyed their visits. I am sorry that you must go. Now who did you tell me that you are? O, yes, grandchildren of William and Maria, you did tell me when you came."

Note: This data was obtained from Mrs. Eli Bates in her 102nd year of age, August 28, 1937. It was given in answer to questions asked by the writer and his sisters, Mabel Bartoo Holbert and Lera Bartoo Jones. Mrs. Bates does all of her own cooking, baking, and canning. She is stooped but walks about the house rather spryly. She showed us sewing on pillow cases which she had recently done.

She conversed very fluently in unbroken sentences. Was very proud of a recent photograph of herself as well as the letter received from President Roosevelt on her 100th birthday. And She was eagerly looking forward to her next birthday party.

VII-10. Belle Williams, tenth child of Daniel and Mercy Charlotte Bartoo Williams, was born Oct. 11, 1860, at Troupsburg, N. Y. She was a farmer's daughter, living at home, unmarried, caring for a widowed mother in Troupsburg, N. Y. (1904). She died Feb. 12, 1930.

Belle Williams, without any fault of her own and without being consulted in the matter, was born into a large family. The strong, free, rich blood that coursed so freely through the veins of her paternal ancestor, Roger Williams of Rhode Island, 250 years ago, shows itself very visibly in the Williams family of Troupsburg, N. Y., and it is not strange; descending from such an ancestry.

Even in the seventh generation, there should be a sufficient amount of stubbornness and self-will and self-respect, which properly and reasonably controlled makes the grandest character amid all these pre-existing conditions, she is modesty itself, granting others all their rights and privileges, but very tenacious of her own.

She springs the treadles, plies the shuttle, swings the lathe, and in all these industries, she is the peer of the classic dames of Greece and Troy. She occupies a position one might envy. She wields the pen of a ready writer and is a prime factor in the world's forces.

Belle Williams married Arthur Smith of Woodhull, N. Y., March 17, 1917. She died Feb. 12, 1931.

VII-11. Lottie Williams, eleventh and youngest child of Daniel B. and Mercy Charlotte Bartoo Williams, was born Sept. 13, 1864. She married Ralph Carpenter of East Troupsburg, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1889. He is a farmer.

Lottie Williams is impulsive, energetic, with some self-will, and mother of one son:

1. Glen Harold Carpenter-----1892(May 14)

VIII-1. Glen Harold Carpenter served in the World War. He trained at Camp Dix for three months. He was in France for 9 months. He is a painter and paper hanger. He married Margery Wakely, Oct. 22, 1919. They have one child in the ninth generation, born at Elkland, Pa.:

1. Elsie Ruth Carpenter-----1923(Mar. 17)

Dear Doctor Loomis,

The "Bartoo Genealogy" is being mailed under separate cover. You will note that from page 28, all is concerned with the descendants of Eunice Loomis Bartoo. Questions you have asked regarding my own immediate family are answered on pages 114-117. If there are other questions which I may be able to answer do not hesitate to ask.

The relationship interested me very much. You will see, though, that Eunice Loomis Bartoo was my great grandmother. Therefore we are seventh cousins, one degree removed. I am of the ninth generation from our pioneer Joseph, while you are of the eighth. The relationship is very clear. I had failed to recognize the fact that your Dea. John was brother to my Joseph Jr.

A considerable amount of data has come to me since the Bartoo Genealogy was mimeographed. So that, when and if, a list of the female descendants of the Loomis Family is compiled I shall want to add this later data.

I have no records of the Loomis Family except those of births and deaths of Eunice Loomis brothers and sisters and parents. These are copied from records which probably came down from Eunice Loomis herself. The original, now more than 100 years old, is in possession of Mrs. Stella Burgess of Brisben, New York.

Sincerely yours,

D. R. Bartoo
