P R E F A C E .

Northampton, Dec. 1, 1850.

THE object of the Compiler in the work he has undertaken is to preserve in a durable form some most interesting but rapidly perishing memorials of our Puritan ancestors. He has taken much pains to trace and to transcribe the inscriptions correctly.

T. B.

From the first settlement of Northampton in 1654, to 1661, a period of 7 years, there were 10 deaths. The place of burial was Meeting House Hill. The Town voted that after Oct. of that year no more burials should be on that spot, and the present yard was selected for that purpose. The first person buried therein was Henry Curtis, the only person who died that year; but no monument designates the place of his interment, nor that of others, for many years. Among this number was Rowland Stebbins, ancestor of all of the name now in America, who died Dec. 14, 1671, aged 77, to commemorate whose death a Granite Cenotaph has been erected, which will be noticed in the Sequel of Monumental descriptions.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Greenfield, July 31, 1850.

The subscriber cheerfully recommends to his friends and acquaintance, the proposed compilation of the inscriptions, epitaphs, &c. in the Northampton and Springfield Burying Grounds, by Mr. Thomas Bridgman. Such a work, he believes, will be highly interesting, not only to the inhabitants of those towns and vicinity, but throughout the Commonwealth. In the list will be found the names of some of the most distinguished men of our country, and the record of the same, as taken from the stone that marked their final resting place will be esteemed of no ordinary value by the patriot as well as the relative and friend.

T. STRONG,

Rector of St James Church, Greenfield.

We also concur in the above, as it will aid many having a desire to trace their ancestry.

I approve of the design of Mr. Bridgman's Book, and trust it will secure the favor and patronage of many in this section of the country.

The subscriber recommends the publication of this book.

W. ALLEN, D. D.

Late President of Bowdoin College.

I like the form of Mr. Bridgman's work. I should think such a work would have a rather large sale.

BRIEF ANNALS

NORTHAMPTON.

NORTHAMPTON, at the foot of Mount Holyoke, is generally regarded as the most beautiful village in the valley of the Connecticut, perhaps in New England.

1653. Certain Inhabitants of Springfield, 24 in number, petitioned the General Court for liberty to make a settlement at Nonatuck, about 15 miles up the river, representing that the place was suitable to erect a town for the furtherance of the public weal and propagation of the Gospel, and obtained permission. In the records of the company the name is written variously, Nonatuck, Nalwottoge, and Norwottuck. The accent being on the last syllable, the words, in the indistinct enunciation of the Indians, will appear to be the same. Thus on the records, Pewongeng is also written Pewongenack. Rev. John Eliot uses the 'Indian word Nonatuck, as meaning, in the midst of the River.' By its windings the meadows of Northampton, Hadley, and Hatfield are in the midst of the River.

The witnesses were Elizur Holyoke, Henry Burt, Thomas Cooper, and Thomas Stebbins. The payment was 100 fathom of wampum, 10 coats, the plowing of 16 acres, and a few small presents.

As he made the purchase in behalf of the petitioners, he assigned the land to them in 1662. In November certain regulations were made concerning those, who should go up in the next spring to settle at 'Nalwottoge.'

1654, May 9. Two settlements being proposed, Pyncheon, Holyoke, and Samuel Chapin, by appointment of the General Court, laid out the bounds of the first settlement at Nonatuck, extending from the little meadow (Hatfield) to the Great Falls, and 9 miles back, and west from the river. Mount Holyoke is probably named after Mr. Elizur Holyoke. The town is now commenced and this may be regarded as the date of the first settlement.

Of the 24 petitioners, only 7 were among the settlers,—namely, Robert Bartlett, William Clark, Edward Elmer, John Gilbert, William James, William Miller, and Thomas Root. Others came from Windsor, Hartford, and Dorchester. The name of Northampton was adopted. Nov. 18. The first marriage, David Burt and Mary Holton.

1655. May 2. The first birth; Ebenezer, son of Joseph and Mary Parsons. May 30, James Bridgman born.

1656, Jan. 14. The first death, James, son of James and Sarah Bridgman. In this year there were nine births. Among the settlers were Joseph Parsons, Isaac Sheldon, and Samuel Allen.

1657, June 25. A town meeting was held, a grant of land was made to Joseph Parsons, and Samuel Allen. It was agreed to procure a minister. Measures taken to protect the Indians from the evils of intoxicating drinks.

July 20. Lampancho, sachem, sold to the town Pewongeng for 50 shillings; this was included in the former purchase.

1658. The first meeting to raise money to defray town expenses, amounting to 130 dollars, 110 of which were for ministerial services. It was agreed to allow Rev. Mr. Mather, as a salary, about 350 dollars a year. He began to preach here in July.

Oct. 17. The title to Capawonk, the little meadow in Hatfield, relinquished on condition of a settlement by the next May on both sides of the river,—in Hatfield and Hadley.

1661, June 18. The church was gathered; and the first minister, Eleazer Mather, son of Rev. Richard Mather of Dorchester, was ordained. The seven 'pillars' of the church, the seven men, first organized as a church,—were David Wilton, William Clark, John Strong, Henry Cunliffe, Henry Woodward, Thomas Root, and Thomas Hanchet; John Strong, was the ancestor of the late Governor Strong; Henry Woodward was the ancestor of the late Dr. Samuel B. Woodward. John Stebbins and others appointed to build a meeting house, 42 feet square, at an expense not exceeding 150 pounds. The first militia company organized. The burials, after October, no longer on meeting house hill, but in the present cemetery. Woratuck, or Hadley was settled, long called New Town. The word may be the same as Norwattuck.

1662. The following are the names of the inhabitants, eight years after the settlement:—Geo. Alexander, Samuel Allen, Alex. Alvord, Edward Baker, Robert Bartlett, Thomas Bascom, James Brideman, John Broughton, David Burt, Joshua Carter, William and Nathaniel Clark, Aston Cook, Henry Cunniff, widow Curtiss, Nathaniel Dickinson, Alex. Edwards, Zachery Field, Thomas Ford, Rich. Goodman, David and Thomas Hanchet, William and John Hamum, Robert Hayward, William Holton, William and John Hulbert, Jona. Hunt, Ralph Hutchinson, John Ingersoll, William James, John King, Geo. Langton, Walter Lee, William and Thomas Lewis, Rich. John, and Robert Lyman, Thomas Mason, Eleazer Mather, John Miller, Joseph Parsons, Nathaniel Phelps, Medad Pomeroy, Thomas and John Root, Thomas Salmon, Isaac Sheldon, William Smead, Christopher Smith, John Stebbins, John and Thomas Strong, and J. Strong, jun. Geo. Sumner, Mrs. Williams, Ensign Wilton, Thomas Woodford, Samuel Wright, and S. W. jun., and Henry Woodward. Such is the connexion of families, that Rev. W. Allen of N. is a descendant not only of Samuel Allen; but, also by his father, of Thomas Ford, John Strong, Isaac Sheldon, Joseph Parsons, and Thomas Woodford; and, by his mother, of John Strong, and Henry Woodward.

May 7. This town, Springfield, and Hadley constituted the county of Hampshire.

1663. The first school was organized.

1664. Measures to restrain the youth from disorderly behavior on the Sabbath.

1665. Deacon Samuel Wright died, from whom descended the late Governor Silas Wright of New York.

1667. A court House erected.

1669, July 24. Rev. E. Mather died; during his ministry there were 71 church members. Measures to prevent the Indians from doing damage on the Sabbath, and to counteract the evil example of their drinking and profanity.

1672, Sept. 11. Rev. Solomon Stoddard was ordained. He was minister 56 years. His descendants remain in N.

1675. King Philip's war began. Robert Bartlett, Thomas Holton, Mary Earle, Samuel Mason, Praisever Turner, and 9 others were killed by the Indians. Hadley was attacked, but the people under Gen. Goffe repulsed the enemy.

1676, May 19. In the 'Fall fight,' so called, near Deerfield, of the 38, who were killed, were Capt. Wm. Turner, and 14 others from Northampton; among whom were John Miller, Thomas Roberts, Joseph Fowler, William Howard, and John Foster. Perhaps some were soldiers, not settlers. In a few days afterwards, Hatfield was attacked and 12 houses and barns burnt; but 25 bold young men from Hadley charged the large body of the enemy and put them to flight. It was voted to accept a garrison of 50 men. The meeting house and several houses were palisaded. Joseph Hawley invited to teach a school.

1677. The number of church members was 76.

1679. Up to this year more than 500 church members had been admitted.
1683. A great revival of religion; also in 1690, and 1712.
1684. Died Nehemiah Allen, the ancestor of Gen. Erhan Allen.
1689. The town palisaded from half a mile to a mile square.
1692. A fine of 12 pence imposed for every non-attendance upon a town meeting.
1694. A salary of £40 to the schoolmaster for the next twenty years.
1695. Mr. Stoddard relinquished all debt of the town to him.
1697. An order for a foot bridge over Mill River to South-st.
1699. The town ordered, that no more candle wood should be collected for use within 7 miles of the Meeting House, on forfeiture of the same. Elder John Strong died, aged 92: his descendants numerous.
1700. Pine trees not to be boxed for turpentine within 3 miles.
1703. Jan. 17. Col. John Pyncheon died. A sermon by Mr. Stoddard on his death was published.
1704. Capt. John Taylor, and 10 of the name of Jones, and 10 others killed by the Indians at Paskhommuck, at the foot of Mount Tom. Killed at Deerfield Mrs. Williams, daughter of the Rev. E. Mather.
1706. The number of church members was 96.
1708. Joseph and Samuel Parsons killed by the Indians.
1711. Samuel Strong jr. also killed by them.
1712. A Grammar school ordered to be supported for 20 years: it has never been discontinued. To this time there was only a bridle path to 'the Bay,' or to Boston.
1713. A water privilege at the foot of Mt. Tom to Benj. Stebbins, on condition that for 4 years he sell boards at 20 shillings a thousand feet.
1715. An alms house erected on meeting house hill.
1720. Elder Preserved Clap died.
1724. Nathaniel Edwards 2d, was killed by the Indians at the corn mill.
1726. The town granted Round Hill to Col. J. Stoddard for 40 pounds.
- 1727, Feb. 15. Rev. Jonathan Edwards, was ordained as colleague in the ministry with his grandfather, Mr. Stoddard.
- 1729, Feb. 16. Rev. Mr. Stoddard died: during his ministry, the admissions to the church 630. Of the sermons of Rev. Mr. Williams of Hatfield, and of Mr. Edwards on his death the town requested copies for the press.
1735. A revival of religion; 200 converts in 6 months, 10 of them about 90 years of age.
1736. The number of church members was 620.
1737. The new meeting house, 70 by 46 feet, built on meeting house hill, near the old one, with a steeple: it lasted till 1812. The men were seated at the south end, the women on the north side, the young men alone in the gallery, the children in front of the pews.

1740. Mr. Whitefield preached at Northampton: great attention to religion: revivals in 150 congregations.

1746. From 1729 to this year, Mr. Edwards being the minister, the admissions into the church were 495.

1747, Oct. 9. Rev. David Brainerd, missionary, died at the house of Mr. Edwards, aged 29. Jerusha Edwards, betrothed to him, died a few months afterwards, aged 17, and was buried at his side.

August. Elisha Clark killed by the Indians. He was the last of between 50 and 60 deaths by Indians, as states on the records of the town.

1748. Col. John Stoddard, a man of great influence in public affairs, died in Boston. The number of polls, and estates about 350.

1750, June 22. Mr. Edwards was dismissed: in August he removed his family to Stockbridge. He died at Princeton, March 22, 1758, aged 55. For more than 23 years was he in the ministry in Northampton. The cause of his removal was his maintenance of the principle, that the Lord's supper is designed for those, who in the judgment of charity are true christians; in opposition to Mr. Stoddard's views, who regarded it as a converting ordinance. The church now adopts the principle, for which they rejected him.

1753, Dec. 5. Rev. John Hooker was ordained; he died of the small pox Feb. 6, 1777. Southampton was incorporated as a separate district; Rev. Jonathan Judd, had been the minister of this 2d precinct since 1743: he died 1803.

1755, August 17. Capt. Hawley, Lt. Pomeroy and Thomas Wait killed at lake George.

1756, August 26. Died Abigail Alvord, aged 102; her name before marriage was Phelps.

1760. A letter of Joseph Hawley was published, in which he humbly acknowledged his sin in the efforts, which he made for the removal of Mr. Edwards; and he also expressed his belief, that 'the town and church' were lying under 'great guilt in the sight of God,' for which they should pray for forgiveness, and their repentance for which, now that Mr. Edwards was dead, should be manifested by their vindicating his character and honoring his memory.

1767, Oct. 6. Elisha Alvord gave a deed of a lot in the center of Northampton. 'To the Inhabitants of the County of Hampshire' in consideration of 130 pounds paid by Ebenezer Hunt, Timothy Dwight, Jr., Seth Pomeroy, Caleb Strong, Solomon Stoddard, Samuel Clark, Ephraim Wright, William Lyman, Seth Lyman, John King, Samuel Parsons, Jonathan Allen, Selah Wright, Joseph Allen, Joseph Cook, Joseph Lyman, Benj. Sheldon, Jr., Quartus Pomeroy, Elisha Lyman, Gideon Clark, John Hodge, Hezekiah Russell, Thomas Bridgman, Elijah Southwell, Asabel Clapp, Abner Barnard, Daniel Hitchcock, Wm. Mather, Levi Shepherd, Eliphaz Strong, Seth Clapp, Elmathan Wright, Joseph Parsons, Haines Kingsley, Timothy Parsons, Anson and Enos Kingsley, Asa Wright, Josiah Parsons, Jr., Titus King, Oliver Lyman, Elisha Lyman, Elkanah Burt, Ebenezer Clapp, Elisha Clark, Pliny Pomeroy, Abijah Wait, John Parsons, Jr. Simeon and Jos. Clapp, Joseph Hutchins, Lemuel Lyman, David Lyman, Elias Lyman, Jr. and Asabel Danks of Northampton, and Sam'l Fairfield of Hatfield.

The land, thus purchased by the principal inhabitants of Northampton, was by them given to the County, expressly for but two objects, 'for the purpose of a Green, or Common, and for erecting a Court House, or Court Houses thereon.'

Very improperly, by some mistake, the County Court was induced to license in 1816 the Selectmen to erect a Town Hall on this Lot, close to the Court House, to the great injury of the beauty of its situation,—to the inconvenience of the inhabitants of the County, who frequent the Courts, and to the destruction in part of the Small Public Green in the very center of the Town.

It is understood, that the County Commissioners have full power to revoke the License, which was given in disregard of the provisions of the Alford Deed, and to order the removal of the old Town Building from the County Lot, and to restore the site of it to the use of the County as 'a green or common.' Respectable memorialists of various Towns in the County have already presented the subject to their consideration. We may expect, that as intelligent and worthy men, the express guardians of the rights of the County, they will do their duty.—In the mean while, the Town has an opportunity voluntarily to pursue the path of justice and honor, and to restore the land to the sole uses, for which the former Fathers of the Town, the ancestors of most of the present inhabitants, purchased it and gave it 'to the inhabitants of the County.' The Town having erected a new and elegant Town Hall on a different lot, has no longer an occasion for the old building, as a Town Hall, and can use it only to rent or to save a little expense; and if, by possibility, they could now legally hold it, yet they could not in justice to the County and with a sentiment of honor to the memory of their Fathers.—As we have to do at present with the grave yard, we will say, it would be strange, if any worthy man in Northampton, out of economy, should rob the grave yard of his Father's Monument to make it a stepping stone to the door of his house.

1771, April 30. Died Col. Tim. Dwight, grandfather of President Dwight.

1775. Dr. Wm. Mather, and Rev. J. Hunt of Boston died.
 1778, June 6. Rev. Solomon Williams, was ordained: he was in the ministry 36 years. Westhampton was incorporated as a town, including a tract 4 miles wide from the west part of Northampton: Rev. Enoch Hale, was ordained the minister the next year.

1785. Easthampton was incorporated as a district; and as a town in 1809. Rev. Payson Williston, yet living, was ordained in July, 1787.

1788, March 10. Joseph Hawley, Esq. died, a grandson of Rev. Mr. Stoddard. He was a distinguished lawyer, and statesman.

1790. The population was 1628; in 1800, it was 2100; in 1810, it was 2631; in 1850, it was 5309.

1801. March, a great flood.

1805, Jan. 5. Phebe, wife of Noah Parsons, died; she was the daughter of Wm. Bartlett, and at the age of four or five years was a convert, as was stated by Mr. Edwards in one of his books.

1806. Sarah, relict of S. Baker, died, aged ninety-eight.

1809. Widow Margaret Rust, died, aged ninety-five.

1812. Oct. 28. New Meeting House dedicated: the old house stood a few feet south-easterly. Widow Hannah Wright died, aged 98.

1819. Nov. 7. Caleb Strong died, aged 74. He was Governor from 1800 to 1807, and from 1812 to 1815. His ancestors were Elder John, Ebenezer, Jonathan and Caleb.

1820. Dr. Ebenezer Hunt died.

1822. The Court House burnt. It was built in 1813.

1823. Present Court House built.

1825. The Unitarian church formed. The pastors have been Rev. Edward B. Hall, ordained Aug. 16, 1826, till Dec. 6, 1829; Rev. Oliver Stearns, Nov. 9, 1831 to March 31, 1839; Rev. John S. Dwight, May 20, 1840 to 1841; and Rev. Rufus Ellis, the present minister, June 5, 1843.

1826. The admission into the Church, 117. Episcopal Church organized. The ministers have been Rev. G. Griswold, 1826, Rev. Jos. Muenschler, 1828 to 1831, Rev. W. Chaderton, 1835, Rev. D. Devens, 1838, Rev. Orange Clark, D. D. 1841, Rev. Henry Burroughs, 1843 to the present time.

1829. Solomon Stoddard died, aged 94: High Sheriff before the revolution.

1831. The admission into the Church, 164.

1832. The number of Church members was 728. The "Edwards Church," so called, being a Colony from the Old Church, was formed; the Ministers of which have been Rev. Dr. John Todd, now of Pittsfield, and Rev. John Mitchell. Rev. Geo. E. Day, the present Minister, ordained Jan. 12, 1848.

1834. Rev. Solomon Williams died, aged 82. His Colleagues, who are now living, though not in Northampton, were Rev. Dr. Mark Tucker, from March 10, 1824, to Aug. 16, 1827; Rev. Dr. L. S. Spencer, from Sept. 11, 1828, to March 12, 1832; and Rev. Dr. Joseph Penney, from June 5, 1833, to Nov. 23, 1835.

1837. Nov. 7. Rev. Charles Wiley was ordained, and dismissed Feb. 26, 1845. Dr. W. is now one of the Ministers of Utica.

1843. April 15-18. A great flood of the Connecticut. The number of members in the first church was 515.

1845. Connecticut River Rail Road from Springfield to Northampton was opened.

Nov. 19. Rev. E. Y. Swift ordained over the first church.

1846. Nov. 24. Rail Road to Greenfield opened. Rev. D. M. Crane took the charge of the Baptist Church.

1847. Round Hill Water Cure opened by Dr. Denniston; now under Dr. Hall. Rev. Dr. C. J. Tenney, formerly Minister of Newport, and of Wethersfield, died, aged 67. Joseph Lyman, formerly High Sheriff, died, aged 80. He gave the town the lot for the Boy's High School. Dr. Charles L. Segur died, aged 85.

1848. Dr. Denniston's new Water Cure Establishment opened.

June. Nine children of Benjamin Tappan, who died in 1831, aged 83, met from different States at Northampton — Benjamin, John, Arthur, Charles, Lewis, &c., at the average age of 68 years: all living in 1850, at the average of more than 70—an unequalled family longevity. John Tappan gave his father's estate for a female school.

1849. Dr. Munde's Water Cure. New Town Hall erected.

1850. Dr. Samuel B. Woodward died.

June 22. A cenotaph erected by Dr. Daniel Stebbins to Jonathan Edwards, 100 years after his dismission.

"Take them O Death! and bear away
 What ever thou can'st call thine own:
 Thine image stamped upon this clay,
 Doth give thee that, but that alone!"

"Take them, O Grave! and let them lie
 Folded upon thy narrow shelves,
 As garments by the soul laid by,
 And precious only to ourselves!"

"Take them, O great Eternity!
 Our little life is but a guest,
 That bends the branches of thy tree,
 And trails its blossoms in the dust!"
 LONGFELLOW.

NOTE.—John Dwyt, or Dwite, or Dwight, supposed to be the root of all of that name in America, came to this country in 1636. He was the son of a wool-comber. He settled in Dedham. His eldest son, Richard, was lost in the wilderness, when about seven years old. Timothy, his only remaining son, married Reua Flint, by whom he had ten children. Henry, the fourth surviving son of Timothy, married and settled in Hatfield, died 1752. His son, Josiah, settled in Springfield, and died 1763. His son, Edmund, removed to Halifax, and died 1755. Josiah was the father of Thomas Dwight, and Edmund of Jonathan Dwight of this town.

HADLEY.

“Where are the flowers, the fair young flowers, that lately sprung and stood,
 In brighter light and softer air, a beauteous sisterhood?
 Alas! they all are in their graves, the gentle race of flowers
 Are lying in their lowly beds, with the fair and good of ours;
 The rain is falling where they lie; but the cold November rain Calls not from out the gloomy earth the lovely one again.—W. C. Bryant.

HIS REMAINS WHO FIRST GAVE

HERD AND FOR

GOFFE and WHALLEY, two of the judges of Charles I. were concealed from the rage of their pursuers for several years, in the Rev. Mr. Russell's cellar. One of them was there for a long time, and was so carefully screened from the public eye, that none of Mr. Russell's neighbors had any knowledge of the circumstance.

The tradition is that on a certain occasion, when the town was beset by Indians, an aged man of a remarkably venerable aspect with a long beard, white as the driven snow, suddenly rushed into the engagement, fought with wonderful adroitness, animated the soldiers by his cheering language and valiant conduct, and after repelling the enemy, immediately withdrew to his place of concealment. It was reported that an angel had appeared with a sword, and achieved the victory.

Sacred to the Memory of Cap<sup>s</sup>. MOSES PORTER, who was born at Hadley,
 Jan. 13th, A. D. 1721, and was slain by the Indians near Crown Point, in the morning scout of the 8th, of Sep. 1755.

"Earth's highest station ends in here he lies,
 "But life immortal waits beyond the grave."

[Lines written by President Dwight, in whose family Miss K.
had been an inmate.]

Stay, thoughtful mourner, hither led
To weep, and mingle with the dead ;
Pity the maid, who slumbers here,
And pay the tributary tear.—
Thy feet must wander far to find
A fairer form, a lovelier mind ;
An eye that beams a sweeter smile :
A bosom more enstrang'd from guile,
A heart with kinder passions warm'd,
A life with fewer stains deform'd ;
A death with deeper sighs confess'd
A memory more belov'd and bless'd.

 who was born at East Hartford,
 Oct. 4th, AD 1719,
 and died at Hadley, Oct. 2, 1798.

To the Memory of
JOHN WEBSTER, Esq.,

One of the first settlers of Hartford, in Connecticut, who was many years a magistrate or assistant, & afterwards Deputy Governor of that Colony, & in 1659, with three sons, Robert, William & Thomas, associated with others in the purchase and settlement of Hadley, where he died in 1661. This monument is erected, in 1818, by his descendant, Noah Webster, of Amherst.

Here lies the body of the
REV. ISAAC CHAUNCY,

Pastor of the first church in Hadley, who was of a truly peaceable and Catholic spirit, a good scholar, an eloquent orator, an able divine, a lively, pathetic preacher, a burning and shining light in this candlestick, an exemplary christian, an Israelite indeed, in whom was no guile. He departed this life 2 May, A. D. 1745, ætat. 74.

Here rests the body of the HON ELEANER PORTER, Esq.

A lover of his country and universally benevolent. He compassionated the distressed, relieved the poor, was the orphan's friend, a kind husband, tender parent, a lover of good men, and an exemplary christian. He died, 6 Nov. 1757, anno ætatis 59.

Sacred to the memory of the REV. SAMUEL HOPKINS, D. D.

Who, in christian duty exemplary, in friendship frank and sincere, in prudence and meekness eminent; able in counsel, a pattern of piety and purity, ever upright and honourable in conduct, the epitome of the heart; as a peacemaker blessed, as a minister of Christ, skilful and valiant in the truth; having, with ability and charity, long magnified his holy office, and served God and his generation faithfully; fell asleep, 8 March, A. D. 1811, in the 82 year of his age, and the 57 of his ministry.

In Memory of
REV. ISSAC LYMAN,

The social, venerable, and pious pastor of the first church in York, for more than sixty years; was born at Northampton, Massachusetts, 25 February, 1724; graduated at Yale College, 1747; ordained 10 Dec. 1749; and died 12 March, 1810, ætat 85.

WEST SPRINGFIELD.

I saw an aged man upon his lie,
 His hair was thin and white, and on his brow
 A record of the cares of many a year ;—
 Caree that were ended and forgotten now,
 And there was sadness round, and faces bowed,
 And woman's tears fell fast, and children wailed aloud.

Then rose another hoary man and said,
 In faltering accents, to that weeping train,
 Why mourn ye that our aged friend is dead?

I am glad, that he has lived thus long,
 And glad that he has gone to his reward ;
 Nor deem, that kindly nature did him wrong,
 Softly to disengage the vital cord.
 When his weak hand grew palsied, and his eye
 Dark with the mist of age, it was his time to die.—W. C. BARRETT.

~~~~~
 "Life is real! Life is earnest!
 And the grave is not its goal;
 'Dust thou art, to dust returnest,'
 Was not spoken of the soul.

Lives of great men all remind us,
 We can make our lives sublime,
 And, departing, leave behind us
 Footprints on the sands of time:

Footprints, that perhaps another,
 Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
 A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
 Seeing, shall take heart again."—H. W. Longfellow.

In Memory of Capt. ISAAC COLTON, who died Jan. 23d 1757,
 in his 57th year.

Capt. J. Colton had a military genius, commanded a company at Louisburgh in 1745, was respected and useful at home, was a man of prayer.—Isaiah, 31: 3. "For behold the Lord doth take away the Captain."

How art thou fallen in the midst of battle, O very pleasant hast thou been.

In Memory of
 Lieut. NATHANIEL BURT, who was slain in the memorable battle of Lake George,
 Sep. 8th, 1755

When his Colonel and other brave officers fell, yet a signal victory was obtained over the enemy. Mr. Nathaniel Burt was a deacon of this church, an exemplary christian, a man of public spirit, and a good soldier, well beloved at home and in ye army. A concern for pure religion caused his going into ye military service. He died in his 45th year.—2 Chron. 35, and 26, and Jeremiah lamented over Josiah.

Sacred to the Memory of the Rev. RICHARD S. STORRS,
 pastor of the church in Longmeadow,
 he was born at Mansfield, Conn. Aug. 30th, 1763, graduated at Yale College in 1783, ordained Dec. 7, 1785, died Oct. 3, 1819.

In the private relations of life he eminently illustrated the graces of the christian. He was distinguished for his appropriate, perspicuous, and affectionate exhibition of evangelical truth, for propriety, richness and fervor in social prayer, and for his instructive conversation and christian sympathy in pastoral duties. In testimony of their affectionate remembrance of his personal worth and their regard for his ability, zeal and usefulness as their christian pastor, his mourning congregation erect this monument.

A G A W A M .

He was there—
Swathed in that linen vesture for the grave—
The same loved one in all his comeliness—
And with him to the grave her heart must go.
What though he talk'd of her to angels? say—
Hover'd in spirit near her?—'twas that arm,
Palsied in death, whose fond caress she knew?
It was that lip of marble with whose kiss,
Morning and eve, love houn'd the sweet day in.—WILLIS.

While cold and lifeless lies the speechless form,
 Which once was with each God-like virtue warm,
 Which for the poor and needy wrought relief,
 And lost its sufferings in another's grief;
 Applauding seraphs hail thy happier shade,
 To brighter realms, where no rude storm invades.

" LUCY,"

Daughter of Amos and Dezire Worthington, Died June 15, 1846, Æ 41.

" Wee the Inhabitants of Agaam upon Quinneticot takinge into consideration the manifold inconveniences, that may fall upon us, for want of some fit magistracy among us. Being now, by Gods Providence, fallen into the line of the Massachusetts jurisdiction; and it being farr off to repayre thithoe, in such cases of Justice, as may often fall out among us, doe therefore think it meett by a general consent and vote, to ordaine, (till we receive further directions from the General Court, in the Massachusetts Bay,) Mr. William Pynchon, to execute the office of a magistrate, in this our plantation of Agaam. viz. To give oaths to constables and military officers, to direct warrants, both processes, executions, and attachments, to hear and examine misdemeanor, to inflict corporal punishment, as whipping, stockinge, byndinge to the peace or good behaviour, and in some cases, to require surerties, or if the offence require it to commit to prison, and in defaults of a comou prison, to commit delinquents to the charge of some fit person or persons till Justice may be satisfied."

WESTFIELD.

'Tis a harsh world, in which affection knows
 No place to treasure up its loved and lost
 But the foul grave! Then, who so late wast sleeping
 Warm in the close fold of a mother's heart, Scarce from her breast a single pulse receiving
 But it was sent thee with some tender thought,
 How can I leave thee—here! I—WILLIA.

NOTE.—The Indian name of Westfield was Warronoco, and belonged to Springfield.

1658. Dec. The inhabitants of Springfield granted a tract of land to Thomas Cooper, on condition that he commenced improvements in 12 months, and continued them 5 years.

1660. A similar grant was made to Deac. S. Chapman.

1661. Another grant to Capt. Pyncheon, Robert Ashley, and George Colton.

1664. Feb'y 7. A committee was chosen by the citizens of Springfield, to take the charge of affairs at Warronoco, and to grant lands.

Some improvements were made as early as 1660, but no permanent settlers.

1666. Rev. Mr. Ballentine, in his private journal, April 8, 1754, says—"Died, Benjamin Saxton, aged 88, the first English child born in this town."

1667. Sept. 22. "Born, Mary, daughter of John and Mary Root," which is the first birth recorded. Meetings were first held this year on the Sabbath. Mr. Elizur Holyoke, of Springfield, preached six months.

1668. January. Rev. Moses Fish, of Chelmsford, came and preached 3 years.

1669. The town was incorporated. 9th month, 27th day, Moses Cook married to Elizabeth Clark. This is the first marriage on the records.

1671. 10th month, 3d day, Rev. Edward Taylor came here. The following heads of families were here at this date—John Pander, David Ashley, John Ingersoll, Moses Cook, Isaac Phelps, Edward Neill, Thomas Bancroft, Walter Lee, Thomas Dewy, John Osborn, Thomas Gunn, Gideon Green, Joseph Whiting, John Greet, and John Root.

1679. Last Wednesday of June the church was organized, and Mr. Taylor ordained. Seven men were selected to be formed into a church, called foundation men. Thomas Green was chosen, but declined; he was afterwards admitted to the church without narrating his experience, because he was "so decayed by age that it was hard to gather it."

1726. Oct. Mr. Nehemiah Bull was ordained colleague pastor with Mr. Taylor.

1741. June 17. Rev. John Ballentine, of Boston, was ordained pastor.

1781. Nov. 22. Rev. Noah Atwater was ordained. He kept 20 sermons on hand, never preached the same to his own people a second time, and had his sermon for the ensuing Sabbath ready on Tuesday evening.

1800. Jan'y 1st. Westfield Academy was dedicated, and the institution opened under the superintendence of Peter Starr, now in Middlebury, Vt. Sermon by Dr. Lathrop.

1803. Nov. 16. Rev. Isaac Knapp, of Norfolk, Ct., was ordained.

1805. Jan'y 1st. The present Congregational Church was dedicated. Sermon by Mr. Knapp. Text Gen. 28, 17. May, a Baptist church organized. The one organized in 1784 had become extinct.

1836. June 1. Rev. Emerson Davis was ordained colleague with Mr. Knapp.

1844. Sept. Normal School opened at Westfield.

1846. Sept. 3d. The Normal School building dedicated.

1847. July 6. Died, Rev. Isaac Knapp, aged 72.

“Our dying friends come o'er us like a cloud,
 To damp our brainless ardors; and abate
 That glare of life, which often blinds the wise.
 Our dying friends are pioneers, to smooth
 Our rugged path to death; to break those bars
 Of terror, and abhorrence, nature throws
 Cross our obstructed way: and, thus to make Welcome, as safe, our port from every storm.”—YOUNG.

In Memory of
 MAJ<sup>R</sup> Jonathan CLAP, who died May 10th, 1782, in the 69 year of his age.

The wise, the just, the pious and the brave,
 Live in their death, and flourish in the grave.
 Here sown in death the body lies.
 Till God shall call & bid it rise.

Mrs. SARAH,
 y<sup>e</sup> wife of Mr. Ebenezer Corse, Died Jan' 3, 1768, in the 73 year of her age.

By Adam's sin we all must die,
 By Christ alone we rise on high.

In Memory of Capt. STEPHEN WRIGHT, who died FEB'RY 15th, 1763, in y<sup>e</sup> 71 year of his age.
 Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord: yea saith the spirit,

In Memory of CAPT. LUTHER CLAP,
 who died August 17th, aged 39 years.
 And his wife, Mrs. TIRZAH CLAP, who died 31st same month, aged 38 years,
 A. D. 1811.

Both fell victims to the Typhus FEVER.
 They were active, pleasing, benevolent, devout.

For us no longer mourn,
 Your souls demand your care,
 Soon you will be hither borne,
 For death, oh friends prepare.

Inasatiate Archer, could not one suffice? Thy shaft flew twice, and twice it smote full sore. Scarce did the widow'd mourner from the cold grave of a lov'd partner trace her backward steps, than death his awful mandate sent to call her hence.

Two weeks she struggled with disease, when death released her from suffering here, to soar on angel's wings to realms of bliss. This once happy pair who here repose, no children left their early exit to lament, but many friends who their sad fate will long bemoan.

Rich in the comforts of domestic BLISS, blest with the ample gifts of FORTUNE, and more bless'd with ample hearts disposed to sweetest acts of CHARITY.

Here lies buried the body of the Reverend ZEPHANIAH SWIFT MOORE, D.D.,
 President of the College at Amherst.

He was a man pre-eminent for genius, and science, and sincere piety, as well as greatness of mind and humility. He was firm in his purposes, and yet very mild, easy to be entreated, modest, placable, full of mercy and good works.
 He was not censorious, and no dissembler. By his pupils he was loved and venerated as a father. To the great grief of all, he died on the 30th of June, in the year of our Lord 1823, and in the 53d year of his age. He received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Hanover in 1793; he was pastor of the church at Leicester 14 years, Professor of languages at Dartmouth College 4 years, President of Williams College 2 years. The trustees of the College at Amherst have ordered this stone to be erected.

"Keep silence! be solemn! my life wears away—
E'en now I look down where my form they will lay,
Where oft I have wandered at close of the day
And silently mused o'er the tomb."

Come, his thee forth, sexton, with mattock and spade,
They've pointed the spot where my bones must be laid,
They've ordered my coffin and shroud to be made—
I go to my last narrow bed."—J. E. D. COMSTOCK.

Sacred to the memory of that venerable man,
DEACON ORADIAH DICKINSON, who early witnessed a good confession, who through various dispensations, in prosperity and adversity, exemplified the religion of Jesus; who, for many years, used the office of a deacon well, and purchased to himself a good degree and great boldness in the faith, who, in the hope of a better life, fell asleep, June, A. D. 1788,

In memory of the HON. ISRAEL WILLIAMS, ESQUIRE, who departed this life, 10 January, 1788,
in the 79 year of his age.

High and low, rich and poor, are death's equal prey, and no valuable distinction survives his resistless attack, but that, which ennobles an angel, the love of God.

All on earth is shadow, all beyond
Is substance; the reverse is folly's creed.
How solid all, where change shall be no more!

Interred the remains of

 she departed this life, the 18 of September, A. D. 1770, aged 63 years.

In memory of
 the REV. TIMOTHY WOODBRIDGE, for 30 years Pastor of the Church of Christ,
 in the town of Hatfield.

NOTE.—This man of God, who called on the Lord, out of a pure heart, followed after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness, apt to teach, charitable, and gentle to all men, departed this life, on the 3 of June, A. D. 1770, in the 58 year of his age.

To the memory of

who, respected by the brave, beloved by his country's friends, dear to his relations, while manfully defending the laws and liberties of the Commonwealth, nobly fell by the impious hand of treason and rebellion, on the 17th of February, 1787, in the 32 year of his age.

NOTE.—This valiant friend of his country was killed in a dastardly manner, by one of the deluded followers of Shays in time of an alarming insurrection in New England.

In memory of
 the HON. JOHN HASTINGS, Esq.,

who, an early professor of the faith of Christ, observed strictly gospel ordinances; in perilous times faithfully performed the duties of the citizen patriot; for 36 years an upright magistrate, and for 28 years a Senator or Counsellor of this Commonwealth; was gathered to his fathers, 6 December, A. D. 1811, in the 74 year of his age. Her strong rods were broken and withered.—EZEKIEL.

Here lies interred the remains of
OLIVER PARTRIDGE, Esq.,
 who died the 21 of July, A. D. 1792,
 in the 81 year of his age.

His usefulness in church and state,
 Was early known to men;
 Blest with an active life, till late,
 And happy in his end.

NOTE.—The family of Partridge here interred are descendants from William Partridge, who came from Berwick on Tweed, in Great Britain, and died in Hadley. Oliver was the son of Edward, Edward was the son of Samuel, Samuel was the son of William, who was one of the first adventurers in forming settlements on Connecticut river in the 17th century.

Here are interred the remains of
Mrs. ANNA PARTRIDGE, Consort of Oliver Partridge, Esq., who died 21 Dec. A. D. 1802, in the 86 year of her age.

In youth devoted to the Lord,
 Through a long life, esteem'd his word;
 Trusted in God, his laws obeyed,
 And thus an happy exit made.

who died July 29, 1827,
aged 74,
having been 45 years Pastor of the Church in this place.

Blessed are the dead, &c.

In memory of
LIEUT. LUKE MONTAGUE,
A worthy Christian, and an ornament to the community in general, who died Aug. 23, 1775, in the 76th year of his age.

NOTE.—This town was originally a parish in Hadley; it was incorporated as a town in 1753. Was settled as early as 1721 by a few families from Hadley. It was then called the South Precinct in Hadley. The first settlers for some time continued to attend public worship on the Sabbath in Hadley, a distance of about 7 or 8 miles. In 1733 the first town meeting as a separate district was held, and it was resolved that a meeting-house, the frame of which was put up the year before, should be in part finished. The building, however, was not completed until the close of the year 1737. The families were few in number and indigent in their circumstances, and the house was principally built by their labor; it was not large, containing only nine pews in the body of it. A gallery was subsequently added. There was no steeple or bell. The people were called together at the appointed hour of public worship by the "blowing of a conch shell." The house still remains, and is occupied as a dwelling house, on the north side of the common. In consequence of the house being too small to accommodate the people, at the meeting of the town in March, 1750, a vote was passed to build a new house, 55 feet in length and 45 in breadth, to be placed as near the old one as might conveniently be done, and as near the center of the town as possible. The difficulty of locating the house was without a parallel. It was not till thirteen years afterwards that the question was settled, during which more than fifty meetings for the purpose of agreeing on the place were held. It was finally settled by lot. The lot fixed the place where the meeting-house of the first parish now stands. A part being dissatisfied, a council of ministers was called, consisting of the Rev. Dr. Williams of Longmeadow, Rev. Mr. Breck of Springfield, Rev. Mr. Ballantine of Westfield, and Rev. Mr. Lathrop of West Springfield, who decided that both parties were under moral obligation to abide by the lot. The first pastor of the church in South Hadley was Rev. Grindall Rawson, who was settled in 1733. A grant of land, called the "Proprietors' Land," was set off to this town on its first settlement, by the town of Hadley, for the use of the ministry, on condition that the people would settle among them "a good orthodox minister." By a vote of the precinct, at their first meeting, this land was appropriated to Mr. Rawson. Rev. John Woodbridge, the successor of Mr. Rawson, was installed pastor in 1742. He died in 1783, aged 80. He was succeeded in the ministry by Rev. Joel Hayes, who was settled in 1782. Rev. Artemas Boies, the next minister, was settled in 1824. Rev. Joseph D. Condit was settled July 8, 1835, ob. Sept. 19, 1847. Rev. Thomas Laurie was settled June 7, 1848. Rev. Flavel Griswold was the first pastor of the second or Canal church. He was installed pastor in 1828; Rev. William Tyler succeeded him in 1832.

They were sisters, virtuous and lovely, as wives they were amiable, and as parents, they were kind and affectionate. In the midst of usefulness they were arrested by the harbinger of death. Nature sickened around them both at once, their eyes lost their lustre, the world its variegated charms, and they expired, one just 32 hours after the other.

Shew us thy face and we'll sway
 From all inferior things,
 Speak Lord, and here we'll quit our clay,
 And stretch our airy wings.

NOTE. THIS is the oldest town in Franklin County; the Indian name was POCUMTUCK. A deed was made to John Pynchon, Esq., of Springfield, "for the use and behoof of major Eleazar Lusher, ensign Daniel Fisher, and other English at Dedham, their associates and successors," by Chauk alias Chaque, the sachem of Pocumtuck, and his brother Wapahoak, and is dated Feb. 24, 1665, prior to the grant by government. The deed is witnessed by Wepumock, who, "helped the Sachem in making the bargain;" and reserves to the Indians "the right of fishing in the rivers and waters; hunting deer, or other wild animals; the gathering of walnuts, chestnuts, and other nuts, and things on the commons." The first settlement at Deerfield commenced in 1760, and within four years a considerable number of buildings were erected. In 1686, the Rev. John Williams was settled as minister of the place, on a salary of £60, to be paid in wheat at three shillings and three-pence the bushel, peas at two shillings and six-pence, Indian corn at two shillings, and salted pork at two-pence halfpenny the pound.

This monument stands 30 or 40 rods southerly from the Congregational church. South-easterly from the monument is seen Sugar-loaf Mountain, a conical peak of red sand stone, about 650 feet in height. In 1835, the 160th anniversary of the destruction of Capt. Lathrop and his men was commemorated in this place. The Hon. Edward Everett, governor of Massachusetts, was appointed orator for the occasion, and General Epaphras Hoyt, of Deerfield, was appointed to make the address at the laying of the corner stone for the monument. About six thousand persons were present on this occasion. Governor Everett delivered his address under a walnut tree. About forty years after Capt. Lathrop and his men were killed, a rude monument was erected to their memory, but the different occupants of the soil removed it so many times, that it was a matter of uncertainty where he or his men were buried. In 1835, the committee of investigation, guided by the tradition of some aged people, found the spot where he and about thirty of his men were interred; the grave was just in front of the doorway of Stephen Whitney, Esq., and about twenty feet north-west of his front door. Their bones were in a state of tolerable preservation, but fell to pieces on exposure to the air. "A grave probably containing the bones of the ninety-six Indians who were slain on that day, was likewise found by accident about the same time, nearly one hundred rods west of the road leading from Bloody Brook to Conway, by Mr. Artemas Williams, and a little more than half a mile south-west of the grave of Lathrop."

The monument is six feet square and about twenty feet in height; it is constructed of marble, by Mr. Woods of Sunderland. On its completion an address was delivered at its foot by Mr. Luther B. Lincoln, of Deerfield.

"For the distance of about three miles, after leaving Deerfield meadow, Lathrop's march lay through a very level country, closely wooded, where he was every moment exposed to an attack on either flank; at the termination of this distance, near the south point of Sugar-loaf Hill, the road approximated Connecticut river, and the left was in some measure protected. At the village now called Muddy Brook, in the southerly part of Deerfield, the road crossed a small stream, bordered by a narrow morass, from which the village has its name; though more appropriately it should be denominated Bloody Brook, by which it was sometimes known. Before arriving at the point of intersection with the brook, the road for about half a mile ran parallel with the morass, then, crossing, it continued directly to the south point of Sugar-loaf Hill, traversing what is now the home lots, on the east side of the village. As the morass was thickly covered with brush, the place of crossing afforded a favorable point of surprise. On discovering Lathrop's march, a body of upwards of seven hundred Indians planted themselves in ambuscade at this point, and lay eagerly waiting to pounce upon him while passing the morass. Without scouring the woods in his front and flanks, or suspecting the snare laid for him, Lathrop arrived at the fatal spot: crossed the morass with the principal part of his force, and probably halted, to allow time for his teams to drag through their loads. The critical moment had arrived—the Indians instantly poured a heavy and destructive fire upon the column, and rushed furiously to close attack. Confusion and dismay succeeded. The troops broke and scattered, fiercely pursued by the Indians, whose great superiority enabled them to attack at all points. Hopeless was the situation of the scattered troops, and they resolved to sell their lives in a vigorous struggle. Covering themselves with trees, the bloody conflict now became a severe trial of skill in sharp shooting, in which life was the stake. Difficult would it be to describe the havoc, barbarity, and misery that ensued; 'fury raged, and shuddering pity quit the sanguine field,' while desperation stood pitted, at 'fearful odds,' to unrelenting ferocity. The dead, the dying, the wounded, strewed the ground in all directions; and Lathrop's devoted force was soon reduced to a small number, and resistance became faint. At length the unequal struggle terminated in the annihilation of nearly the whole of the English; only seven or eight escaped from the bloody scene, to relate the dismal tale; and the wounded were indiscriminately butchered. Capt. Lathrop fell in the early part of the action. The whole loss, including teamsters, amounted to ninety.

Capt. Mosely, who was at Deerfield with his company, between four and five miles distance, hearing the musketry, hurried on to the relief of Lathrop, but it was too late; he found the Indians had done their bloody work, and were stripping the dead. Rushing on in close order, he broke through the enemy, and, charging back and forth, cut down all within the range of his shot. After several hours of gallant fighting, the savages were compelled to seek for safety in the surrounding swamps and forests. Lieutenants Savage and Pickering greatly distinguished themselves by their skill and bravery. Just at the close of the action, Major Treat, of Connecticut, who on the morning of this day had marched towards Northfield, arrived on the ground with one hundred men, consisting of English, Pequot and Mohegan Indians, and shared in the final pursuit of the enemy. Capt. Mosely lost but two men in the various attacks, and seven or eight only were wounded. The loss of the Indians in the various attacks of the day was estimated at ninety-six, the greatest proportion of which fell in the engagement with Mosely. On the approach of night, Treat and Mosely proceeded to Deerfield, where they encamped for the night, and the next morning returned to the field of slaughter to bury the dead. The day after this disaster, the Indians appeared at Deerfield, on the west side of the river in that town, and, displaying the garments they had stripped from Lathrop's slain, made demonstrations of an attack on the fortified house, which then contained a garrison of only twenty-seven men. The commander held out delusive appearances of a strong force,—caused his trumpet signals to be given, as if to call in additional troops, which so intimidated the Indians that they withdrew without making an attack. This post, however, was afterwards abandoned by the garrison, and the place was soon after destroyed by the enemy.

While rich flowers the air perfuming,
Nod above their grave.”—D. ELLEN GOODMAN.

VERNON, VERMONT.

[The Oldest Monument in this Burying Ground.]

Here lies cut down like unripe fruit,
 A Son of Mr. AMOS TUTE,
 And of MRS. JEMME TUTE his Wife,
 Called JONATHAN; of whose frail life,

The days all summed how short the account,
 Scarcely to fourteen years amount,
 Born the 12th of May was he
 In Seventeen Hundred Sixty-Three;

To death he fell a helpless Prey,
 On April 5 & Twentieth day,
 In Seventeen Hundred Seventy-Seven,
 Quitting this world we hope for Heaven.

Behold the amazing alteration,
 Effected by — inoculation,
 The means employed his Life to save,
 Hurried him headlong to the grave.

Full in the bloom of youth he fell,
 Alas what human tongue can tell,
 The Mother's grief, her anguish show,
 Or paint the Father's heavier woe.

Who now no Natral offspring has
 His ample fortune — to possess,
 To fill his place Stand in his stead,
 Or bear his name when he is dead.

So God ordand, His ways are just,
 Tho' Empires Crumble into dust;
 Life and the world mere bubbles are,
 Let loos to these, for Heaven prepare.

 with you in the habitation "made without hands, eternal in the heavens," then perhaps when "there shall be none to mourn," some stranger who has known and felt the loss of those virtues which adorn the Wife, the Mother, the Sister and the Friend, will pause and drop a tear over the ashes in which they once resided.

Insatiate archer! could not one suffice?
 Thy shaft flew twice, and twice my peace was slain.

AZUBAH,
 Wife of Aaron Hitchcock,
 Born Jan. 18, 1795, married Jan. 21, 1827,
 Died Jan. 7, 1842.

ELIZABETH,
 Wife of Rev. Wm. H. Gilbert,
 Died Dec. 13, 1846, Æ 25.
 I opened not my mouth because thou did'st it.

BRATTLEBORO', VT.

Erected in memory of
 Mrs. MERCY WHITNEY,
 Consort of Doct' Ephraim Whitney, who died Feb'y 26th, A. D. 1792,
 aged 50 years.

"While the dear dust she leaves behind,
 Sleeps in thy bosom, sacred tomb,
 Soft be her bed, her slumber kind,
 And all her dreams, of joys to come."

This is in memory of Mr. TIMOTHY WHIPPLE, who departed this life November 4th, 1796,
 in the 72d year of his age.

"Deliriums State, was worse than fate:
 And vacancy of mind;
 But real grace, fill'd up the space,
 And left a hope behind."

This stone consecrated to the memory of
 MADAM JANE ROBBINS,
 Consort of the late Rev. Doc. Robbins, who languished from his death, 30 June, 1799, till 12 Sept. Anno Domini, 1800, when, in the 60 year of her age, she commenced her inseparable union with her much beloved consort, and her tombstone is erected by the piety of her afflicted children.

NEWBURYPORT.

“This Cenotaph
 Is erected with affectionate veneration, to
 The memory of the
 REV. GEORGE WHITFIELD,
 Born at Gloucester, England,
 December 16, 1714.
 Educated at Oxford University;
 Ordained 1736.
 In a ministry of thirty-four years,
 He crossed the Atlantic thirteen times,
 And preached more
 Than eighteen thousand sermons.
 As a soldier of the Cross, humble, devout, ardent,
 He put on the Whole armour of God; preferring
 The honor of Christ
 To his own interest, repose,
 Reputation, and life.

CONCORD.

God wills us free; man wills us slaves. I will as God wills,
God's will be done.

Here lies the body of

JOHN JACK,

a native of Africa,

who died March, 1773, aged about 60 years.

Though born in a land of slavery, he was born free; though he lived in a land of liberty, he lived a slave, till, by his honest, though stolen labours, he acquired the source of slavery, which gave him his freedom, though not long before death, the grand tyrant, gave him his final emancipation, and set him on a footing with kings.

Though a slave to vice, he practiced those virtues, without which,
kings are but slaves.

NOTE.—This was written by Daniel Bliss, Esq.

DORCHESTER.

Hear lyes our Captaine, & MAJOR of Suffolk was withall,

A godley Magistrate was he, and MAJOR GENERALL

Two Troops of hors with him here Came,

Such worth his love did Crave;

Ten Companies of Foot also Mourning Marcht to his grave.

Let all that read be sure to keep the faith as he has don,

With Christ he lives now crown'd,

His name was HUMPHREY ATHERTON

He dyed the 16 of September 1661.

PLYMOUTH.

The Pilgrim Fathers where are they?
 The waves that brought them o'er
 Still roll in the bay and throw their spray,
 As they break along the shore
 Still roll in the bay as they rolled that day,
 When the May-Flower moored below;
 When the sea around was black with storms,
 And white the shore with snow.

The Pilgrim Fathers are at rest,
 When Summer's throne on high,
 And the world's warm breast is in verdure dress'd,
 Go stand on the hill where they lie.
 The earliest ray of the golden day
 On that hallowed spot is cast;
 And the evening sun as he leaves the world,
 Look kindly on that spot last."—FRONT.

The most ancient Inscriptions are on Burying Hill, formerly Fort Hill, it is in the rear of the Town rising one hundred and sixty-five feet above the Sea-level, embracing about eight acres, on the summit of the south-west side, the PILGRIMS erected first some temporary defence, but on the approach of Phillip's war they erected a strong fort one hundred feet square, strongly palisadoed, ten and a half feet high; no other place could have been so well chosen either for discovering the approach of Savages, or for defending the town against their attacks; it is covered with the symbols of mortality; the sepulchres of our PILGRIM FATHERS. Here we tread on the ashes of those to whom we are indebted under providence for our most precious earthly enjoyments, Religious and Civil liberty.

Here lies the body of
 EDWARD GRAY, Gent.
 aged about 52 years,
 and departed this life about the last of June 1681.

Departed this life, 23 June, 1796,
 in the 90 year of her age,
 MADAM PRISCILLA HOBART,
 relict of the Rev. Noah Hobart, late of Fairfield, in Connecticut, her third husband.
 Her first and second were John Watson, Esq., and Hon. Isaac Lothrop.

In memory of
 DOCTOR LAZARUS LE BARON,
 who departed this life,
 2 September, 1773, æt. suæ 75.

My flesh shall slumber in the ground
 Till the last trumpet's joyful sound,
 Then burst the chains, with sweet surprise,
 And in my Saviour's likeness rise.

Here lyeth buried the body of that precious servant of God
 MR. THOMAS CUSHMAN, who, after he had served his generation according to the will of God, and particularly the Church of Plymouth, for many years, in the office of a ruling elder, fell asleep in Jesus, 10 Dec. 1691, and in the 84 year of his age.

ANDREW FARRELL,
 of respectable connections, in Ireland,
 aged 38 years,
 owner and commander of the ship, Hibernia, sailed from Boston, 26 Jan. and was wrecked on Plymouth beach, 28 Jan. 1805.
 His remains with five of seven seamen,
 who perished with him, are here interred.

O piteous lot of man's uncertain state;
 What woes on life's eventful journey wait!
 By sea, what treacherous calms, what sudden storms,
 And death, attendant in a thousand forms!

Here Lyes y^e Body of y^e Honorab^l Major WILLIAM BRADFORD, who expired February y^e 20 1703—4
aged 79 years.

“He lived long, but still was doing good,
And in his country's service lost much blood.
After a life well spent, he's now at rest,—
His very name and memory is blest.”

Here lies buried the body of MR. THOMAS CLARK,
aged 93 years, who departed this life,
the 24 of March, 1697.

This stone is erected to the memory of that unbiass'd judge, faithful officer, sincere friend, and honest man,
COL. ISAAC LOTHROP, who resigned this life, on the 26 day of April, 1750,
in the 43 year of his age.

Had virtue's charms the power to save
Its faithful votaries from the grave,
This stone had ne'er possess'd the fame
Of being mark'd with Lothrop's name.

In memory of
GEORGE WATSON, Esq.,
who died the 3d of Dec. 1800,
in the 33 year of his age.

No folly wasted his paternal store,
No guilt, no sordid sv'rice made it more.
With honest fame and sober plenty crown'd,
He liv'd and spread his cheering influence round.
Pure was his walk and peaceful was his end
We bless'd his rev'rend length of days,
And hail'd him, in the publick ways,
With veneration and with praise,
Our father and our friend.

To the memory of
JOHN COTTON, Esq.
 formerly a minister of the gospel at Halifax,
 which employ was ever his greatest delight,
 who died, 4 Nov. A. D. 1789,
 in the 78 year of his age.

'Tis heaven's irrevocable decree,
 That the great, the good, the pious shall fall,
 In that dark grave undistinguish'd to lie,
 Till the last trumpet rends the azure sky;
 When the virtuous immortal will rise,
 To glory and joys, above the starry skies;
 The vicious to pain, dishonor, contempt,
 In realms, below the splendid firmament.

DANVERS.

This humble stone in memory of ELIZABETH WHITMAN,
 is inscribed by her weeping Friends.

To whom she endeared herself by uncommon tenderness and affection. Endowed with superior genius and acquirements, she was still more endeared by humility and benevolence. Let candor throw a veil over, for great was her Charity for others. She sustained the last painful scene far from every friend, and exhibited an example of calm resignation. Her departure was on the 25th of July. A. D. 1788, in the 37th year of her age. And the tears of Strangers watered her grave.

NOTE. She was better known to readers of romance by the name of "Eliza Wharton."

NEW HAVEN, CONN.

J. D. Esq.
deceased March y^r 18th,
in y^r 82d year of his age, 1688-9

NOTE.—This is a copy of the inscription on the headstone of John Dixwell, one of the regicides, who fled to this country on the restoration of king Charles, the second.—[See Stiles' Hist. Regicides.]

In memory of the HON. ROGER SHERMAN,
mayor of the city of New Haven,
and senator of the United States.

He was born at Newton, in Massachusetts, 19 April 1721, and died at New Haven 23 July, A. D. 1793, aged 72.

Possessed of a strong, clear, and penetrating mind, and singular perseverance, he became the self taught scholar. Eminent for jurisprudence and policy, he was nineteen years an assistant, and twenty-three years a judge of the supreme court in high reputation. He was a delegate in the first congress, signed the glorious act of independence, and many years displayed superior talents and ability in the national legislature. He was a member of the general convention, approved the federal constitution, and served his country with fidelity and honour in the house of representatives, and in the senate of the United States. He was a man of improved integrity, a cool discerning judge, a prudent sagacious politician, a true, faithful, and firm patriot. He ever adorned the profession of christianity, which he made in youth, and was distinguished through life for public usefulness, and died in the prospect of a blessed immortality.

WM. JONES, Esq. Dep. Gov.
dec. 17 Oct. 1706, ætal. 82.

Mrs. HANNAH JONES,
dec. 4 May, 1707, ætat. 74.

The memory of the just is blessed.

THEOPHILUS EATON, Esq. Gov.
dec. 7 Jan. 1657, ætat. 67.

EATON so famed, so wise, so meek, so just ;
The phoenix of our world, here hides his dust,
This name forget N. England never must.
To attend you, svr, undr these framed stones,
Are come yor hond son and daughter Jones,
On each hand to repose yr weary bones.

Here lyeth interred the body of the Reverend and Learned Mr. THOMAS CLAP, the late president of Yale College, in New Haven.

A truly great man, a gentleman of superior natural genius, most assiduous application, and indefatigable industry. In the various branches of learning he greatly excelled ; an accomplished instructor : a patron of the college ; a great divine ; bold for the truth ; a zealous promoter and defender of the doctrines of grace ; of unaffected piety, and a pattern of every virtue, the tenderest of fathers and best of friends, the glory of learning, and an ornament of religion ; for thirteen years, the faithful and much respected pastor of the church in Windham ; and, near 27 years, the laborious and faithful president of the college, and having served his own generation, by the will of God, with serenity and calmness, he fell on sleep, the 7 day of January, 1767 in his 64 year.

Death, great proprietor of all,
'Tis thine to tread out empires
And to quench the stars.

In memory of
Captain ROBERT TOWNSEND,
who departed this life,
19 Nov. 1806, in the 59 year of his age.
This spot contains the ashes of the just,
Who sought no honours and betray'd no trust.
This truth he prov'd, in every path he trod,
An honest man's the noblest work of God.

THE ancestor of the families of DAY, found in Springfield, West Springfield, South Hadley, and Northampton, was ROBERT DAY, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn. who emigrated from England to this country in 1634, and died in 1648, aged 44. His eldest son, THOMAS, settled at Springfield, and died Dec. 27, 1711. Most of the families of the name in Springfield, and West Springfield are descended from him. His other son, JOHN, from whom are descended the families in South Hadley, and Northampton, (with one or two exceptions,) lived in Hartford, and died in that place about 1730. A genealogical register of the numerous descendants of ROBERT DAY, among whom is Rev. JEREMIAH DAY, D. D., late President of Yale College, containing more than two thousand five hundred names, was published at Northampton in 1848, in an octavo pamphlet 130 pages.

N. B. Many inscriptions are in the hands of the compiler, which could not be inserted in this book, but which are reserved for another edition or another volume.
