

THE BUTLER ANCESTRY

OF

GEN. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN BUTLER

IN AMERICA.

LOWELL, MASS.,

PREFACE.

The Butler family—descended through Malichi Butler from Mr. Nicholas Butler, of Eastwell, Kent, England, who came with his wife Joyce to America in 1637—has always supposed that Malichi Butler was the earliest ancestor in this country, and the town histories of Nottingham, New Hampshire, Woodbury, Connecticut, and others have so stated. The fact that Malichi Butler sent his oldest son Benjamin to Harvard College, where he graduated in 1752, seemed to indicate a more intimate knowledge of the institutions of the country than a newcomer would have been likely to have had, and this fact induced a close search for any clue that might lead to a better knowledge of an earlier family record. The coincidence of the military service of two Zephaniah Butlers in the Revolutionary War, one from New Hampshire, the known descendant of Malichi, and the other from Martha's Vineyard, suggested the latter locality as a possibly fertile soil for genealogical research.

The results of such search are given in the following pages.

Pedigree given by Harriet M. Pease from data gathered by her father, Richard L. Pease of Edgartown, historian and genealogist, and from town and probate records Martha's Vineyard.

January, 1895.

"Nicholas Butler came from Eastwell, in Kent, Eng., and was styled yeoman. He embarked with his wife Joyce, three children, and five servants, at Sandwich on the Hercules June, 1637. He joined the church and was made freeman March 14, 1638-9. He had a grant of land at Dorchester Neck in 1637, and was proprietor in the great lots in 1647. In 1651 he deputed his son John his attorney and went to Martha's Vineyard, where he died."—Histories of Dorchester and Watertown.

"Mr. Butler was Nicholas Butler, ancestor of all that name on the Vineyard. In early colonial times but very few men were styled Mr. The ordinary term was goodman."—History of Martha's Vineyard.

"June 6, 1654, chosen by the town John Butler² to be leader of the company for this year."

"In 1655 John Butler² chosen leader for the year."

John Butler² was constable in 1658.

John Butler³ was constable in 1692.

Among a list of names of those who on Aug. 16, 1662, voted that they would "follow Thomas Bayes as leader for the safety of the town" is that of Mr. Butler. The name of Nicholas Norton also appeared in the list above alluded to.

"Malichi Butler of Windham, Conn., sold one-half of a pew to his nephew, Shubael Butler, in 1745, in Martha's Vineyard. Malichi Butler of Woodbury, Conn., sold land to John Pease in 1758 in Martha's Vineyard."

Malichi Butler is mentioned in the Public

Records of Connecticut, Vol. XI., page 463:

“Upon the memorial of Matthew Mitchel, Aaron Mallery, Seth Preston, etc., selectmen in and for the town of Woodbury, shewing to this Assembly that sometime in September, 1757, the selectmen of said Woodbury by and with the advice of the civil authority of said Woodbury, took one Malachi Butler of said Woodbury, with his family and estate, into their hands; he, the said Butler, through idleness, mismanagement, and bad husbandry being then in a likely way to spend all his estate, and then took an inventory of his estate, which amounted to £179, one hundred of which is real estate, and the just debts then due from said estate and what hath since been expended for his support amount to £127 11s. 11d. lawful money, so that the debts, etc., surmount the movable part of said estate the sum of £48 11s. 11d., and that the said Butler yet remains under circumstances not fit to have management of his affairs; and praying to this Assembly for liberty to sell so much of the real estate of said Butler as to make said £48 11s. 11d. lawful money with incident charges.

“Resolved by this Assembly that the said selectmen have liberty, and liberty is hereby granted unto them, to sell so much of the real estate of the said Butler as to make said sum of £48 11s. 11d. lawful money together with the charges arising by said sale.”

Malichi Butler's great-granddaughter, Betsey Morrill Butler,—Mrs. Daniel Stevens of Nottingham, New Hampshire,—born in 1808, is authority for the following: "Malichi Butler, who made waste of his property, was my great-grandfather. He was at times partially insane and did many strange and some decidedly queer things. His sons would have hesitated about putting him under guardianship themselves, as he was sane part of the time and they would rather he should be restrained by the town authorities."

It is worthy of note that his first son, Benjamin, who graduated from Harvard in 1752, was living in New Hampshire, and his fourth son, Zephaniah, almost thirty years of age, was serving with the Connecticut troops in 1757 and '58. Thus Malichi was an old man and liable to the weaknesses of age. He was also a newcomer in Woodbury, having moved thither from Windham, Conn. The records of Martha's Vineyard also show that in 1758 he sold property in Martha's Vineyard to John Pease. This was a year after the selectmen of Woodbury had seen fit to undertake the management of his affairs and had made an inventory of his property in that town.

The dates of the births of Malichi and Jemimah Daggett Butler have not been found. This is due probably to the fact that they belonged in Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, and the early records of that town have been lost.

"The first Butler births recorded in the now oldest book of records are the children of Simeon Butler, the eldest, born in 1713. Simeon was a brother of Malichi. The others may have been recorded in the first book of land records, 'The Black Book' so called, which was believed to have been purposely destroyed by one ———, who was with the town clerk, in whose custody the book was the night he died, and the book was never seen afterwards. It was to the advantage of this ——— and to others of his name to have the book out of the way. Titles to property could not then be proved. . . . Births, marriages, and deaths were mixed up with records of land and town meetings, etc."

The children of Malichi Butler and Jemimah Daggett were Benjamin, Silas, Solomon, Zephaniah, Thankful, Susannah, Margery, Lydia, Mary.

Silas Butler settled in New York, leaving many descendants. Solomon Butler went south and settled in South Carolina. Zephaniah and Benjamin settled in Nottingham, N. H.—History of Nottingham and Deerfield.

Zephaniah Butler, son of Malichi and Jemimah Daggett Butler, was born in Windham, Conn., in 1728. (His father moved to Woodbury, Conn., in 1758.) He (Zephaniah) married Abigail Cilley, daughter of Capt. Joseph Cilley of Nottingham, N. H., and sister of Gen. Joseph Cilley, who served in the Revolutionary War as Major and Colonel. Capt. Zephaniah Butler served with Connecticut troops in the French war under General Wolfe at the siege of Louisburg, Quebec, and other engagements. In the war for American independence, he (Zephaniah) joined the army under Gen. John Stark, and with his eldest son, Benjamin (who was afterward on the staff of his uncle, Col. Joseph Cilley), was at the battle of Bunker Hill. His second son, Enoch, was also with him at Bunker Hill. He died at Nottingham, N. H., in 1800.

Zephaniah Butler was in Capt. Nathan Sanborn's company, in Colonel Lash's regiment, raised to reinforce the Continental army in New York Sept., 1776; also in Capt. Amos Morrill's company, in Col. John Stark's regiment, April 8, 1777.—Revolutionary Rolls, New Hampshire Records.

Capt. John Butler, son of Zephaniah Butler and Abigail Cilley Butler, was born in Nottingham May 17, 1782. He married Sarah Batchelder of Deerfield, N. H., June 5, 1803. The children were Polly True, b. June 8, 1804; Sally, b. March 11, 1806; Betsey Morrill, b. Jan. 9, 1808. Mrs. Sarah Batchelder Butler died Feb. 23, 1809. Capt. John Butler then married Charlotte Ellison, July 21, 1811. Their children were Charlotte, b. May 13, 1812; d. Aug., 1839; Andrew Jackson, b. Feb. 13, 1815; d. Feb. 11, 1864; Benjamin Franklin, born at Deerfield, N. H., Nov. 5, 1818; d. Jan. 11, 1893.

Upon the breaking out of the war of 1812, John Butler applied to the War Department for permission to raise a company of light dragoons among his neighbors. Permission was granted, the company was raised, and he was commissioned its captain on the 23d of July, 1812, by President Madison.

I. Generation, John Daggett; m. 1st wife (name unknown); 2d wife, Bathsheba Pratt; d. about 1673.

Governor Thomas Mayhew; 1st wife probably Martha Parkhurst; 2d wife, Grace Paine, widow of Thomas Paine; dau. Hannah.

II. Son, Thomas Daggett, b. (unknown); d. about 1691; m. Hannah Mayhew, b. April 15, 1635; d. (no record of death) in Watertown, Mass.

III. Son, Thomas Daggett, b. (unknown); d. Aug. 25, 1726; m. Elizabeth Hawes, daughter of — Edward Hawes of Yarmouth; d. 1733.

IV. Daughter, Jemimah Daggett; m. Malichi Butler.

“John Daggett, born unknown, died May, 1673, at Plymouth. He came to this country in 1630, in Governor Winthrop’s company, settled at Watertown, Mass., and became a man of note there. In 1644 he removed to Martha’s Vineyard in the company of Gov. Thomas Mayhew, and was a prominent man of the company. He was married twice. It has not been ascertained who his first wife was, or where she was born. He married the second time at Plymouth, Mass., Bathsheba Pratt, a widow, Aug. 29, 1667.”

Thomas Daggett, of what is now called Edgartown, Mass., son of John Daggett¹, married at Chillmark, Martha’s Vineyard, Mass., Hannah Mayhew, the eldest daughter of Gov. Thomas Mayhew. She was born in Watertown, Mass., April 15, 1635.

The date of marriage is not known, neither is the date of birth of Thomas Daggett, nor of his death. It was in the year 1691, as near as can now be determined. "Governor Mayhew, in his will he 'appoints' my son Daggett to be one of the overseers to see this my last will to be done; which I praise God I have written with my own hand this sixteenth day of June, and sealed it with my own seal, Anno Domini, 1681." Hannah (Mayhew) Daggett outlived her husband, and married 2d Samuel Smith, who lived to the advanced age of 103 years. No record of her death has been found.

"John Daggett¹, senior, chosen corporal in 1653."

"April 13, 1691, at a meeting of all the melisha in general of the town of Edgartown, Left. Thomas Daggett, Esq., was chosen by them their captain by unanimous choice by them. At the same time John Butler had the place of first or eldest sargeant,"

"Thomas Daggett, Clerk of the Court at the Vineyard, August the 8th, 1670."—Plymouth Colonial Records, Vol. V., p. 33.

"Thomas Daggett was surveyor in 1673, 1675, and 1682. Was Committee in 1691." "Was Selectman in 1700, 1703, 1712, 1717, and 1719."

"Thomas Mayhew in 1671, was made Governor of the islands of Martha's Vineyard, Nantucket, and all others embraced within the limits of Dukes County as originally constituted." "Gov. Mayhew died in March, 1682, lacking six days of being ninety years old. He was sick but six days, and preached the day before he was taken sick."

"Thomas Mayhew (Watertown) . . . must have been here in 1631, and he served as a merchant at Southampton, Eng., as Bond relates, and here as representative 1636-44, except 1642. Was active in trade, first at Medford, afterwards at Watertown, but was induced to remove to the Vineyard about 1647, where he was proprietor's Governor and preacher to the Indians above 33 years."—Savage.

"An imperfect impression of Mr. Mayhew's seal on wax remains upon this letter, the escutcheon bearing on a chevron, between three birds, five lozenges, with a mullet as a difference in middle chief. This coat is given by Burke as that of Mayor of Denton, Co. Wilts." The birds are probably Cornish Choughs, one of which constituted the crest of the Lestinthiel (Co. Cornwall) family of Mahewe or Mayew, and of the Mayhews of Essex."—Plymouth Col. Records, Vol. X., p. 406.

"Edward Hawes, Deputy 1645 for 16 years, Selectman 23, Town Treasurer 28 years, came passenger on ship James of London, which sailed from Southampton, England, about the sixth of April, 1635. He was described as a 'cutler,' doubtless to avoid being detained by the authorities as other emigrants were for similar reasons. He was also set down as 'late of London.' Mr. Hawes resided for some years at Duxbury before he came to this town (Yarmouth). In 1645 he was an inhabitant of Yarmouth and a Deputy to the Court. He was appointed in 1672 Chairman of the Land Committee, and for many years was one of the Board of Selectmen and Assessors. He held the position of Town Clerk, succeeding to Anthony Thacher at the time of his death. His lands were situated between the lands of the Hallets and Thachers, at the eastern part of what is now called Hallet Street, and the highway running to the easterly side of Dennis Pond was long known as 'Hawes' Lane.' He survived nearly all the first settlers in Yarmouth. His death is recorded with great formality in the old records: 'Mr. Samuel Hawes died upon the 9th day of June, and was burried the tenth day of June, one thousand six hundred and ninety three, 1693.' His age at the time of his death is not given, but he must have been about eighty years old. He was a man of education and good parts, and was a leading character of the town and colony. He had one son, John, who was also a man of influence and high character."—Swift's History of "Old Yarmouth."

"James Minott, M. A. and B. A., born 14 September, 1653, was second son of Captain John Minott of Dorchester, who married 19 May, 1647, Lydia, daughter of Nicholas Butler."—Sibley's Harvard, Vol. II.

Mr. Nicholas Butler deceased: the 13th of August in the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred seventy-one.
