THIS BOOK IS DEDICATED TO THE CHEERISHED MEMORY OF MY FATHER

REV. GEORGE BULLEN, D.D.

DANA RIPLEY BULLEN

“Deem not life a thing of no consequence. For look at the yawning void of the future, and that other limitless space, the past.”

Marcus Aurelius.

In presenting the Ancestors and Descendants of Philip Bullen to the public, the compilers wish to thank all those who have assisted them in its preparation. They feel that an expression of gratitude is especially due to Walter Kendall Watkins of Boston, Mass., who first suggested to them the possible origin of Philip Bullen, to the Rev. Francis de Gruchy, Rector of S. Peter's, Jersey, England, who greatly assisted in the development of the Jersey pedigree, and to Roy Bullen of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Besides his direct Balleine ancestry, Philip Bullen (Balleine) is connected with so many of the historic families of Jersey that it has been deemed wise to put in an appendix such data regarding his other progenitors as has been gathered together, there being so little material available in America on the genealogy of the inhabitants of the Channel Islands.

JERSEY ANCESTRY OF PHILIP BULLEN

BALLEINE

The family of Balleine, Baleyne, etc., was in Jersey,* one of the Channel Islands, England, at a very early date, so early that its beginning is lost in the dimness of ages. In the Xth Century, the Islands became of sufficient importance to be desirable and were annexed to Normandy with their populations of French settlers. When in 1066 William the Conqueror came over from Normandy to England, they were a part of his possessions and became merged in the territory held by the English Crown. They so remained until the reign of John. When Richard I, John's elder brother, then King of England, was held prisoner by Philip of France he ransomed himself not only by paying a large money indemnity but also by acknowledging Philip as his over-lord and by making England a fief held by him of the French King. Doubtless Richard considered this a temporary arrangement, intending to get it back from Philip as soon as he had disciplined his traitorous brother John. Unfortunately he died within two months and John succeeded him, holding Normandy and England as fiefs of France. John soon became embroiled with Philip, who took Normandy from him on the ground that he was an insubordinate vassal. John retained England and the Channel Islands. Philip also confiscated the property of those nobles of Normandy who had sided with John and many went to the Islands where they became the ruling class. Many attempts have been made by the French, especially from the reign of John to that of Henry VI, to gain the Islands for France, but never have they been successful in holding all the Islands at the same time. During the XIVth Century they held Guernsey for a few years, but it was retaken with the help of Jersey, while the latter Island a century later was a French possession for six years. Thus it is that these Islands are inhabited by a people French in race, in language, and in customs, but English in adherence, in feeling, and in loyalty to the British Crown. They are as English as any descendant of a Norman who came over with William in 1066. They think of themselves as English and go on talking French. The great ruling families of Jersey like the de Carterets, Paynes, etc., are nearly all descendants of the barons who went there at the time of John; others, however, descend from still earlier emigrants from France to the Island. Racially they are almost pure Norman French.

One of the earliest mentions of the name of Balleine and a most peculiar form of it is found in a book called "Calendar of Documents in France," 918-1206, by J. Horace Round, published 1899. Document 951 is an abstract of a Charter of Philip de Croileio,* son of Richard, son of Robert, Earl of Gloucester, dated 1187. In this Philip de Creully gives the Abbey of S. Mary de Voto at Cherbourg and the Canons there serving God all his fee and demesne at Areville, etc. Among the witnesses to this document are Guillaume, abbé de Montebourg and Guillaume Malet, Petro de Balena and others, all French names, the last two, Malet and Balleine, being also Jersey names. It is extremely probable that Petro de Balena must have belonged to the same family as the Jersey one and points to its Norman origin.

The family of Balleine settled in Jersey before 1300, probably before 1200, although the first mention of them is found in the Extente (Rent Roll) of 1331. In this appear the names of Philippe Balan of S. John's and Maurice Bulen of S. Brelade's. These Extentes were drawn up by English scribes, who made sad work of French names even as they did in Colonial America, generations later. The spelling of "Bulen" in 1331 is indeed extraordinary and seems almost a precursor of the spelling to be given this old French name generations later in this country. The Armorial of Jersey by J. Bertrand Payne, Membre de l'institute Historique de France, which gives the spellings of the name as Bolen, Baleyne, Balene, Balleine, and Balleine, etc., says that in 1331, Philip Balein was a member of a Jury empanelled to ascertain the King's dues in the parish of S. John. It gives the following emblazonment of Arms for Ballaine: Argent, a lion rampant sable, armed and langued Gules. Burke gives these same arms. The Armoriale Generale, by Rietstap, states the arms of Balleine—Jersey, to be: D'arg. au lion de sa., arm. et lamp. de gu., and those of Baleine—Champagne: D'arg. au lion de sa. arm. lamp et cour. de gu.† These are all alike, the difference being merely in the wording of the emblazonment, except in the last one where the lion is also crowned.

The pedigree really begins with a Balleine in the XVth Century, evidently a descendant of the family there in 1330.

* Croileio is the Latin for Creully in the Department of Calvados in Normandy.

† Arm. = armed, referring to claws of beasts.
lamp. = lampasse, referring to the tongue of animals.
cour. = couronné = crowned.

Marguerite de Carteret's father, Philippe de Carteret, was Connétable of S. Ouen's and a very famous man in Jersey (see account of de Carteret), and her grandfather, Edward Messervy of S. Saviour's, was an Advocate of the Royal Court.

Jean Balleine was a Churchwarden of S. Peter's. He left a will dated 16 June 1657.

Elizabeth's father, Mr. Aaron Journeaux, was Seigneur de Câtelet, Connétable of S. Mary's in 1655.

Philippe Balleine was the eldest son of his father and, although the American immigrant descended from his younger brother Jean, his family for the next three generations is included in this report to clear the line.

Children, born in S. Peter's, Jersey:

- i. PHILIPPE, b. May 1675, d. s. p., 1719, unm., Centenier of S. Peter's in 1714 and Public Trustee.

9. PIERRE BALLEINE (Philippe, Jean, Thomas, Jean, Michel, Jean, Thomin), baptised in St. Peter's, Jersey, in 1682, buried in S. Mary's parish, Feb. 1742-43. He married in S. Mary's in 1720, ANNE DE CARTERET, born 1696, died Jan. 1768, buried in S. Mary's Church, daughter of Amice de Carteret, Siegneur of Vinchelez de Bas and Anne le Couteur, daughter of the Very Rev^d. Clement le Couteur, Dean of Jersey.

Pierre Balieine was the eventual heir of his uncle, Mr. Jean Journeaux, Seigneure du Câtelet. He settled at S. Mary's, on his mother's property, and later inherited his father's property, his elder brother, Philippe, having died unmarried in 1719. He, however, died before his uncle, who died in 1753. His eldest son, Pierre, Jr., therefore inherited the Journeaux estate, but, dying without issue, the property went to his younger brother, Amice Baleyne, who changed the spelling of the name.

- i. PIERRE, b. Dec. 1721, d. s. p., 1758, buried in S. Mary's Church.

10. PHILIPPE BALLEINE (Jean, Jean, Thomas, Jean, Michel, Jean, Thomin), baptised in S. Peter's, Jersey, 23 Nov. 1689, executed in Dec. 1723. He married at the early age of eighteen, in 1707, RACHEL PAYN,* born between 1680 and 1690, buried in S. Peter's, 3 Dec. 1736, a daughter of the famous Payn family of Jersey whose earliest recorded ancestor was Jordan Payn, Jurat of the Royal Court, 1331, Seigneure of Godelière and co-Seigneure of Oulande.

Philippe Balleine had inherited, as the eldest son, the estate of Les Nièmes which, although leasehold property, had been held by his ancestors for generations. His unfortunate death at the age of thirty-four was the outcome of a deed committed in anger, if not in self-defence. The account of parts of his trial (in old French) sent by Rev. Francis de Gruchy, Rector of S. Peter's, with other papers, and a pedigree compiled from records in his charge, including the probate cases, shows that Philippe was a respected citizen, with a wife and five children, and with the best blood of Jersey in his veins. It appears that a man named Umfrey Towing came to his home one night, that an altercation ensued, that Philippe snatched a gun from the wall and shot him, and that Towing died from the wound. This happened 9 Oct. 1722. Philippe was arrested and sentenced, 13 June 1723, his estates becoming forfeit and returning to the King or to the Seigneurs in whose fiefs they lay. However, his influential friends obtained a stay of his sentence by a plea to the King. "In the meantime the said Philippe Balleine was sent back to prison to be detained there as before in the lower Dungeon with irons on his hands and legs." (Cour de Cattel, livre 33, p. 25.) There he must have languished for over six months longer, for it was not until the 23 Jan. 1723-24, that "The Prevost of the parish of S. Peter declares to the Court that Philippe Balleine, son of Jean, has been executed for the crime of murder." (Heritage Division of the Royal Court of Jersey.)

* In all the parishes of Jersey there are only two Rachel Payn baptisms found. The first, and the one with which Rachel (Payn) Balleine is probably to be identified, is that of Rachel, baptised in S. Martin, 22 Oct. 1680, daughter of Michel¹² (Edward,¹² Abraham¹¹, Edward¹⁰, John⁹, Philip⁸, Philip⁷, Michel⁶, Thomas⁵, Ranlin⁴, Jordan³, Ranlin², Jordan¹) and Elizabeth (Meservy) Payn. The other was Rachel, baptised 22 May 1681, daughter of Edward and Sarah (—) Payn.

The first mention of the case is dated 9 Oct. 1722. "Philippe Balleine, son of Jean, of the Parish of S. Peter is accused of murder. M. Jean Balleine, brother of the said Philippe Balleine, and Philippe Balleine his son (of the said Philippe) aged about 12 years," etc. (Translation) (Saturday Division of the Royal Court, vol. 88.)

After the death of Philippe Balleine, his estates having been forfeited, his widow and children were most unhappy in their lot. Stripped of his position and disgraced by the execution of his father, young Philippe evidently resolved to leave Jersey. Consequently having appointed his mother, Mde. Rachel Payn,* his "administratrice," or attorney, to handle any property of his he might have left, he went away from the Island. That he did not die and that he did go away is proven by the fact that in 1732 his mother, Rachel, was acting as the "Procuratrice" of her eldest son Philip, and a Procureur or Procuratrice could only be appointed to act for a person who was out of the country. Les Nièmes returned to the Lady Marie de Carteret, wife of Jean de Carteret, who was the real owner of the leasehold property. The old house stood until a few years ago when it was taken down and a new one built.

The French extracts from the records furnished by Rev. Francis de Gruchy are as follows:

"Philippe Balleine fils Jean, de la Paroisse de S. Pierre est accusé de meurtre. M. Jean Balleine frère dudit Philippe Balleine et Philippe Balleine son fils

* Women are still called by their maiden names in French law. In the Province of Quebec, Canada, which so largely preserved its old French customs, a suit at law concerning a married woman is always taken against her in her maiden name and as wife of her husband, for instance, she will be cited as Madame Jane Smith, wife of John Brown.

[Translation: On the 22 Jan. 1736-37, Jean de Carteret, Gent., in the cause of the Demoiselle Marie de Carteret, his wife, owner of the fief and Seignury of Les Nièmes, and in that quality having right to the house and land of Philippe Balleine, who was executed for murder, took action against Philippe Balleine, Jacques Balleine, Rachel Balleine, and Mary Balleine, children of said deceased Philippe in order that the order of Justice be confirmed that they must immediately quit the said mansion and leave it to the said Seigneur as well as the lands peaceably according to the said order and under the penalties contained therein.] (Saturday Division of the Royal Court of Jersey, 95: 34.)

This of course was merely a case at law to clear the title; it was taken after Philippe, and presumably, Jacques, had left Jersey and occurring as it did after Rachel's death leads to the inference that she had been permitted to go on living there until she passed away.

The following shows the location of Les Nièmes, the estate of Philippe Balleine:

"Le 19 Avril 1614, Jean Balleine fils Pierre vendit à Thomas Balleine fils Jean, fils Michel, la Maison et Ménage des Niepmes, comprenant 5 vergées de terre, située à l'Est de la Maison et Ménagement de Nicolas Le Bas fils Jean, en la paroisse de S. Pierre, sur le fief des Niepmes, Jean Balleine jun^r fils aîné dudit Jean Balleine fils Pierre, consent à ladite Vente."

[Translation: The 19 April 1614, Jean Balleine, son of Peter, sold to Thomas Balleine, son of John, son of Michel, the house and property of les Nièmes, containing 5 vergées* of land, situated east of the house and property of Nicolas Le Bas, son of John, in the parish of S. Peter, on the fief of Nièmes, John Balleine, Jr., eldest son of the said John, son of Peter, consented to the sale. †]

In the extente of Jersey for 1749 are various items of interest in S. Peter's parish:

Mr. Amice Gabourel in right of Peter de la Haule "occupying the house &c of Ph. Balleine" owed taxes expressed in wheat. Another item mentions the "forfaiture de Philip Ballaine."

In Trinity parish:

"Philip Renouf Sen^r one quarter, 3 Sxton^m of wheat for the Land (called Les Terres—des—Rues Cupel) Faifaiture de Ph. Ballaine."

It does not seem from any records discovered that Philip Balleine, Jr., ever returned to Jersey, although, as he was a mariner, it is possible that he went back to see his relatives more than once.

PHILIP BULLEN

WINIFRED LOVERING HOLMAN, S. B.

DESCENDANTS IN AMERICA OF PHILIP BULLEN

1. PHILIP¹ BALLEINE * (Philippe, Jean, Jean, Thomas, Jean, Michel, Jean, Thomin), baptised in S. Peter's parish, Jersey, England, 21 Jan. 1710, died in Charlestown, Middlesex County, Mass., between 13 Apr. 1743 and 1747. He married before 10 Dec. 1734, DEBORAH HUTCHINSON, born in Charlestown, 12 July 1716, died before January 1749, daughter of Samuel and Sarah (Fascitt) Hutchinson. She married secondly before 1746, [John?] Humphries.

Philip Balleine left Jersey before 1732. He evidently intended to find a new home for himself and became a mariner. Whether he stayed in Charlestown because he liked the place and afterwards met Deborah, or whether he stayed because he met and married her, is not shown. Like all men with a French name his patronymic was greatly abused, for the English officials spelled it phonetically as it seemed to their hearing. At first, in two generations, it is found spelled Ballain, Ballan, Bullein, Bulland, Bullion, Bullin, Bellon, Bullan, Ballaine, Ballon, Balland, Ballin, and Bullen, but later the spelling crystallized into Bullen, probably because of the presence in New England of the descendants of Samuel Bullen of Dedham. This was a name to which the clerks were accustomed. It is interesting to note that the one spelling of "Ballaine" found is in the intention of marriage of the widow of Nathan² in Boston in 1763.

Apparently Philip Bullen, to spell his name in the modern fashion, never owned any land in Charlestown. He lived less than ten years after his marriage and left little imprint on the records. On 13 July 1735, under "Renewer of Covenant" is found, "Deborah Ballon w. of Phillip Ballon."

The church records also contain the following baptisms:

"Samuel S Phillip & Deborah Ballon," 13 July 1735.

"Nathan S. of Phillip & Deborah Balland [or nt]," 10 Apr. 1737.

"Phillip S of Phillip & Deborah Bullan," 5 Oct. 1740.

"Phillip S of Phillip & Deborah Bullen," 16 Oct. 1743.

In a case in court on 10 Dec. 1734, Deborah is called, "Deborah Ballan, the wife of Philip Ballan of Charlestown, mariner." It seems rather probable that if Philip continued as a mariner that Deborah may have made her home before 1743 with her relatives as he would be away nearly all the time. He was probably lost at sea. No administration was taken out on his estate perhaps because no one was absolutely sure that he might not return. After 1743, they probably lived on the land that her father gave Deborah.

* Philip¹ of the American family and Philip² of the Jersey one.

"To all People to whom these presents shall Come Greeting Know Ye that I Samuel Hutchinson of Charlestown . . . Yeoman For & in Consideration of the Love and affection which I have and do bear for & unto my Daughter Deborah wife of Phillip Bulloin of Charlestown afors^d Mariner have given . . . unto my said Daughter Deborah Bullein after my Decease & not before the lese & Improvement during her Natural life of thirteen Acres of my land situate in Charlestown afors^d which I bought of Mr John Frizel adjoyning to the land now belonging to Samuel Rand & which he lately purchased of Jonathan Fosdick & then after her Death such Land shall be a Good Estate to her heirs . . . forever," 13 Apr. 1743. Signed "Samuel Hutchinson" (Seal) Wit: John Stevens, Seth Sweetser. Recorded 10 May 1756. (Middlesex County Deeds, 53: 434.)

Samuel Hutchinson in his will, dated 9 May 1743, proved 5 Dec. 1743, gave a legacy to Deborah.

"In the Name of God Amen I Samuel Hutchinson of Charlestown . . . Yeoman being of a Sound and disposing Mind and Memory . . . ordain this my last will and Testament

Imp^m My will is that my just Debts and funeral charges be paid by my Executor out of my personal Estate as soon as possible after my Decease

Item My Will is that my Children should each of them [have] those Several Pieces of Land agreeable to my Deeds to them in my Life Time

Item My will is that all my Wearing Apparel Woolen and Linen be equally Divided between my Sons Thomas and Samuel without making any allowance therefor their Sisters having had an equivalent in their late Mothers apparel which I divided amongst them

Item My Will is that notwithstanding in the Deeds of Land I formerly gave my two Sons they were to allow as follows as part of their portion in my Estate viz Thomas one hundred and twenty pounds & Samuel Eighty pounds yet there shall no account be made of that forasmuch as I have given my Daughters in proportion at their Marriage and in my life Time which I have made no Account of

Item My Will is that my Daughter Bethia Priest and Daughter Deborah Bullein have twenty pounds apiece old Tenor which with what I have given them by Deed and otherways shall be in full of their portion in my Estate

Item My Will is that the whole of my Estate not other ways disposed of both real and personal be equally divided among my other Children viz Thomas Samuel Sarah and Mary . . .

Lastly I do . . . appoint my Son Thomas Hutchinson . . . the sole Executor . . ."

This will was presented, 30 Nov. 1743, and the inventory made, 9 Dec. 1743. It totalled over £829. Among interesting items can be noted "a maple oval table"; "chest with draws"; "Callico Quilt"; linen, Great Bible, books, etc. (Middlesex County Probate, 12351.)

10 July 1747, Samuel Sheldon and his wife, Sarah, of Billerica convey to Samuel Hutchinson of Charlestown, land in the latter place, which was formerly the property of their father, Samuel Hutchinson and bounded on the land which "Deborah Bullion" this day sold to David Wood of Charlestown. (Middlesex County, Deeds 47: 129.) The deed to David Wood is not recorded.

10 June 1749, Samuel Hutchinson of Charlestown, cordwainer, sold to David Wood of same place, baker, land there without the neck, "bounded . . . South westerly on my Sister Deborah Ballin." Wit: Ebenezer Swinner-ton, John Brazeer. (ibid., 48: 402.)

In the County Court Records, 1748-1761, p. 82, Court held January 1749-50, is found this item:

"Deborah Bullen al^d Deborah Humphreys being bound by Way of Recognizance before Thaddeus mason Esq^r one of his majestys Justices of the Peace for this County on 30th of October last for her Appearance at the Term to answer (as in the Recognizance on file is at large Set forth Her Suerties Thomas Hutchinson & Samuel Hutchinson appeared and certyfing to the Court that the Said Deborah the Principal is Since dead Ordered that the Said Recognizance be discharged."

The papers on file for this year and several preceding it show nothing of this case. It may have had to do with property of her second husband. Just whom she married is not shown, but he either died shortly after their marriage or they separated, as she is called, as often happened when a widow was better identified with her first husband than her second, by the former's name instead of the latter's. It is interesting to note in the Christ Church Records, Boston, the same Church in which Deborah's son Nathan married twelve years later, the following baptism:

8 Mar. 1746, "Richard, son of John and Deborah Humphreas."

Nothing further is found of this particular John Humphreys, but he evidently had a brother Richard who also appears in the records of this particular church. It is quite possible that John also was a mariner and died soon after the birth of Richard, and it is extremely probable that the mother of this baby was Deborah (Hutchinson) Bullen. If so the child did not survive for no child of the name was recognized in the settlement of her estate.

It was not until several years after her death that an administration was taken on her estate.

Samuel Bulland, husbandman, with David Baldwin, husbandman, both of Billerica, and Thomas Hutchinson of Charlestown, yeoman, as sureties, was appointed and "admitted adminstra^r of the Estate [of] his Mother Deborah Bulland late of Charlestown . . . Deceased Intestate," He signs "Samuel Bulland" with a seal.

The inventory of her estate was made, 29 May 1756, but it was not distributed until three years later, when a summary of the land was made:

"To Thirteen Acres & a quarter of land in said Charlestown bounded Northerly on a range way, Southwesterly on the land of Chambers Russel, Esq^r in part, and partly on the land belonging to the Church of Christ in sd Charlestown and partly on the land of Samuel Hutchinson and Northeasterly on the land of David Wood

Vallued at one hundred Twenty one pounds 6/8 £121-6-8

"Samuel Bullin

(Middlesex County Probate, 3491.)

The appointment of Nathan's guardian, whom he chose when he was over fourteen, will be found under Nathan's own history. It is to be noted that Samuel Bullen accepted the above division at a time when, as eldest son, he was entitled to two thirds of the property. He thus showed the fairness and justice of his nature.

Deborah's brother, Samuel Hutchinson, went to Maine as did her son Samuel Bullin and her son, Nathan's, widow after her re-marriage. Samuel Hutchinson died in Woolwich, Lincoln County, in 1781. In his will (Lincoln County Probate, printed, p. 113), he does not mention his nephews or their heirs.

Samuel and Mary (Davis) (French) Brown and granddaughter of George Brown and Joseph Davis.*

Samuel Bullen is called "Deacon" on his gravestone.

Lieut. Samuel Brown mentions his daughter, Anna Bullen, in his will, but her name is given as Anna Buller. An abstract of his will is given to show the proof of her parentage.

"In the Name of God amen I Samuel Brown of Billerica . . . Gentleman being weak & infirm . . . ordain this my Last Will and testament . . . viz

In regard to the ancestry of Anna (Brown) Bullen, two other estates are of interest, first, that of Jonathan French, 1728, in which a paper of 1748 cites:

"A Decree . . . to Settle what was set off to y^e widow of Jon^s French Sen^r of Billerica Deced (about 4 Years ago) on his widow Mary (Now wife of Sam-

Secondly, that of Jonathan French 1748:

9 Jan. 1748, Samuel Brown Gent^s with Jacob French, yeoman, and Joseph Walker, husbandman, all of Billerica, as his sureties, appointed the administrator of the estate of Jonathan French, deceased, late of same place. (ibid., 8603, 8605.)

Our first record of Samuel Bullen after his baptism in 1735 is that of 1756, when he was just of age, and hence appointed administrator on the estate of his mother, Deborah (Hutchinson) Bullen, who had deceased prior to 6 of May that year. In the papers in this estate, it is stated that he was the eldest son, and as the administrator, he signed acceptance of the division, which divided equally her estate between the two remaining children, Samuel, and his younger brother, Nathan. As Nathan left an only daughter, of whom we can find nothing further than her baptism, all the known descendants of Philip Bullen trace their lineage through his son, Samuel Bullen, of Billerica, Mass., and Hallowell, Me.

Our next record of Samuel is in 1759, when he conveyed his Charlestown inheritance, as follows:

3 Jan. 1759, "To All People to whome these presents shall come . . . Samuel Bullen of Billerica . . . Husbandman . . . Know ye that I the said Samuel Bullen For . . . Sixty pounds . . . paid by David Wood of Charlestown . . . Baker . . . confirm unto him . . . Land . . . in Charlestown . . . without the Neck which was set off to me by a Committee appointed by the Judge of Probate . . . as my part of the Real Estate which my Mother Deborah Bullen . . . died siezed of in fee . . ." Recorded 1760.

(Middlesex Deeds, 58: 92.)

The next year, 1760, at the age of twenty-five years, Samuel Bullen married into one of the old Billerica families. The town of "Billirkeyca" was first established in 1655, and at the time that Samuel settled there (before 1756), the towns of Charlestown and Billerica were not many miles apart. He was probably apprenticed to some resident of the latter town, and that would explain his removal there.

There is only one other deed of Samuel's recorded in Middlesex County, and that some seventeen years after it was signed:

3 Mar. 1761, ". . . we Samuel Brown Gent Samuel Brown Jun^r Benj^a Lewis Jun^r & Mary his Wife Edward Farmer & Sarah his Wife Samuel Bullen and Anna his Wife James Lewis and Rebecca his wife and Abigail Brown all of Billerica . . . for . . . upland . . . in Billerica . . . being that part of the Estate of Jon^a French late of Billerica decd which was set off to his Widow for her Thirds . . ."

They all sign, and the Bullens acknowledge the deed, 26 Mar. 1761.

In 1763, Samuel Bullen received a grant of land in Maine, then of course part of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay. This original grant was in 1927 in the hands of a descendant, Miss Mellie-Marion⁶ Hunt of Randolph, Me.* From this original grant, a photograph was made some years ago, and from this photograph, a photostat was made in 1927, a copy of which photostat is as follows:

"To whom these Presents shall come, Greeting

* Miss Hunt has supplied the compiler with the following items as told her by her grandmother, Hannah^a (Bullen) Hunt, daughter of Philip^a, and granddaughter of Samuel^a Bullen:

Samuel Bullen and wife Annie, with a hired man, and two children, Samuel and Nathan, came from Billerica, Mass., up the Kennebec River and landed at what is now Chelsea, Me. For one week they boarded with a family in a log house of but one room, making eleven persons in the one room. During this time, Samuel and the hired man bought some boards at Gardiner, brought them up the river on rafts to a place, in the corner of what in late years was called the Howard Hunt Farm, about two miles from Gardiner. They put up a house in one day, and the next day moved in which was Saturday. The first of the next week, Samuel built an oven out near the door, which was the only oven in the vicinity, and Annie felt very proud of it. They lived down by the river, and then built a house up on the hill where the present house now stands. They always kept a hired girl. Mr. Bullen was a great orchardist and set out the big elm tree on the east side of the road. In those days they used to catch fish with nets near where Brown's Wharf now is, and thirty pound salmon were common. At one time they hauled in thirty barrels of alewives. Samuel and his wife went to Billerica every year until the Revolution, and then ten years elapsed before they again made the trip.

Although Samuel Bullen received this grant of two hundred and fifty acres on the east side of the Kennebec River in 1763, it seems evident that he made no actual settlement there for some years. The first mention we have of him in Hallowell is in May 1771, when he was chosen a constable. Yet seven of his children are recorded at Billerica, the seventh being his son Philip, born 26 Nov. 1772.

The Turner Family Bible [Anna⁴ (Bullen) Turner] contains the following:

"Our great Grandfather Bullen came from England" *

An old paper which came down in this branch of the family reads:

"Samuel Bullen & Anna Brown were married by the Rev. John Chandler.

May 22nd 1760

Samuel & Nathan, sons of Samuel & Anna Bullen were born, November 2nd 1762

Anna, their daughter, born Feb 23rd 1765

Joshua, their son, Born, March 17, 1766

Jesse, their son, Born March 2nd 1768

Patty, their daughter Born Sept 29th 1770

Phillip, their son Born November 26th 1772

A true copy taken from Billerica Records Attest Joshua Abbott

Town Clerk, Billerica Oct. 24th 1774"

It is probable that Samuel Bullen preceded his family in going to Maine, being joined by them later. Hallowell, permanently settled in 1754, was incorporated in April 1771. It was on a portion of territory that was first in York County; but fell in Lincoln County, when that was established in 1760 from York, and again, in 1799, fell in Kennebec County, when that county was erected in 1799. Wiscasset is the county seat of Lincoln and Augusta of Kennebec, and in the latter registry are copies of the deeds which pertain to that part of Lincoln County absorbed by Kennebec.

In an examination of the town meeting records or "Proceedings" of Hallowell the following mentions of Samuel Bullen were found:

First town meeting, Samuel Bullen chosen constable, 23 May 1771; 25 Mar. 1772, he was a jurymen; 31 Mar. 1774, a selectman; 31 Oct. 1775, "Mr. Samuel Bullen" was chosen moderator of the meeting; 10 Mar. 1777, surveyor, and on the "Committee of Safety"; and in April of that year, was again made moderator; 16 Mar. 1778, he again was made surveyor of highways, and also a fence viewer; in 1780, he was one of a committee appointed to raise soldiers;† in 1782, was one of a committee to enquire into building a Meeting House; and 10 Mar. 1783, was appointed a fence viewer.

These mentions as a civil servant in the Hallowell Town Records

* Jersey is, of course, a part of England, and the people as truly English as any descendant of the Normans who came with William the Conqueror in 1066 and settled in England itself.

† "Hallowell, March 17, 1780

Voted that Benjamin Patengail, Jeremiah Ingraham and Jonathan Davenport, Samuel Bullen and Robert Kanady be a committee to estimate, what each individual person shall be allowed for the services they have done, by going into the service for this town for the time past, and also to examine and estimate the expense that individuals in this town have been at either by personal service or any other way, in procuring soldiers to engage in the present war. Since the public encourage them to enlist voluntarily and also if the town will raise a sum of money by an equal tax on the poles and estate sufficient to defray said expense and reimburse the same out of said tax to the persons which have done the service or been at the expense. And to hire men for the future on the towns credit to go into the war wherever they are requested by the continent or state and to hire them in the cheapest manner they can be procured provided they are able bodied effective men, and said committee or committees to lay their accounts before the town in order for the money be granted."

"March 17, 1781, Hallowell

Voted to allow Benjamin Patengail Esq., Jeremiah Ingraham Jonathan Davenport Robert Kanady, Samuel Bullen the sum of two hundred and forty pounds for their time and expense in raising men to go to Camden in year 1780" (Hallowell Town Records Copied and sent by Town Clerk.)

constitute service which gives eligibility to certain patriotic societies to his descendants. It is important to note that he generally received the appellation of "Mr."

To continue, 1 Mar. 1785, he was a selectman, surveyor, and moderator; in 1788, fence viewer and moderator; in 1789, one of a school committee on the East Side Schools; in 1790, fence viewer, collector of school money on east side of river; in 1791, fence viewer, collector, and field driver; 1792, tythingman, fence viewer, field driver, collector, and juror at court of common pleas; 1793, fence viewer and field driver; 1794, the same, also collector; 1795, the same, also on a committee to inspect fisheries; and that same year, again a juror and also signed a protest against the choice of town officers.

By 1796, Hollowell had three parishes, and in March of that year, Samuel Bullen transferred from the South to the Middle Parish, also that year he served as field driver, fisheries inspector and collector. In 1797, he was pound keeper and juror; 1798, fence viewer and pound keeper; 1799, fence viewer, field driver, and member of school committee, east side of river; 1800, fence viewer and field driver; 1801, the same; and also member jury of Supreme Court; 1802, fence viewer, and surveyor of wood and bark; 1803, surveyor of wood and bark; 1804, fence viewer; 1805, hog reve; 1806, constable; 1807, fence viewer; 1808, cutter of hoops and staves; 1809, surveyor of wood and bark, also fence viewer, and mentioned as an inhabitant of the south school district signing a petition regarding repairs therein; and in 1810, the last mention in the town records, Samuel Bullen was appointed a fence viewer.

From the same source, the town records, we learn that, 25 Dec. 1797, Moses Sewall, Robert Randall, and Jason Livermore, as a committee to seat the Meeting House of the South Parish, sell for $67.00 to Samuel, Jesse, and Philip Bullen a pew therein, being on the floor, number twelve, they to have a third each (Hollowell Town Records p. 28).

This was, of course, Samuel and his two sons. Later in 1802, Jesse sold out his third to his brother Philip, as we shall see under their accounts.

Samuel Bullen has a number of deeds recorded in Lincoln County, copies on record at Lincoln and Kennebec Counties, brief abstracts of which follow:

2 Jan. 1786, "I Samuel Bullin of Hollowell . . . Husbandman in Consideration of thirty Pounds . . . paid me by Samuel Bullin Junr of said Hollowell yeoman . . ." convey to him a tract of land, near Sandy River, being one half front lot number thirty four. No release of dower. Wit: Hannah and Joseph North. (Lincoln Deeds, 21: 134.)

18 Feb. 1787, George Brown, of Hollowell, for £50 sells to Samuel Bullen, of same, land in Vassalboro, being one half lot fifty six. Elizabeth Brown releases her dower. Wit: William Lithgow Jr., Jas Davidson. (ibid., 23: 136.) [George Brown was probably brother-in-law to Samuel Bullen.]

14 Mar. 1789, "I Samuel Bullen of Hallowell . . . Yeoman for . . . six pounds paid me by my Son Samuel Bullen Junr of a place called Sandy River . . . conveyed my Right to . . . Land . . . in said Sandy River and contains the Southerly half of Lot Number thirty three on the Easterly Side of said River." Wit: Samuel Poole, Danl Coney. (ibid., 23: 140.)

15 June 1793, Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, sells to Zacheus Mayhew, of Sandy River, land there. Wit: Jesse Bullen, Philip Bullen. (Kennebec Deeds, 2: 141.)

26 June 1797, Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, sells for $20.00 to "Joshua Bullin of Farmington" land in Farmington, being southerly half of lot thirty four. Wit: Amos Stoddard, Elijah Woods. (Lincoln Deeds, 40: 84.)

11 Aug. 1800, Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, sells his property in Vassalboro to Solomon Howes, of Vassalboro. (Kennebec Deeds, 2: 241.)

25 Jan. 1804, Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, sells land there to Andrew Goodwin, of same. Anna Bullen, his wife, releases her dower rights. Wit: Philip Bullen, Timothy White. (ibid., 6: 231.)

In 1805, in a case re James Howard at Augusta the testimony is recorded of one "Samuel Bullen aged seventy one years." (ibid., 8: 393.)

23 Jan. 1810, I Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, yeoman, for $1000. paid to me "by my son Philip Bullen of Hallowell . . . Surveyor" convey to him land on which my house and buildings now stand on the east side of the Kennebec River. (ibid., 19: 57.)

Same day, 23 Jan. 1810, Samuel Bullen conveys for $5.00 to his "son Philip Bullen," land near his house, on the east side of the Kennebec River in Hallowell. (ibid., 13: 560.)

3 Feb. 1810, Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, sells land there to Andrew Goodwin, of same. Wit: Shebael West. (ibid., 17: 303.)

We have seen that Samuel Bullen was an original proprietor of Sandy River (Farmington), that he held a front lot of land there and by the above deeds that he later sold out his interests to his sons, Samuel and Joshua, who had settled there. Samuel Bullen was living in Hallowell in 1790 and, in the census of that year, is recorded as having a family consisting of three males over sixteen, and five females, that is, sons Jesse, Philip, and himself; daughters Anna and Patty, his wife, and two other females.

In the census of 1800 he is of Hallowell, with a family of one male between sixteen and twenty-six (his son Philip), one male over forty-five (himself), and one female, over forty-five (his wife). In 1810, still of Hallowell, he and his wife, both over forty-five, are living alone, their children all married and settled in their own homes. In 1820, the Widow Ann Bullen is living alone in Hallowell; and in 1830, she is evidently that female, between ninety and one hundred, living in Philip Bullen's family.

Samuel Bullen left no will, but an administration was granted on his estate as follows:

26 Feb. 1811, to Philip Bullen, as principal, with Andrew Goodwin and Moses Palmer, as his sureties, all of Hallowell, administration granted on the estate of Samuel Bullen late of Hallowell, deceased. All three sign the bond. The inventory of the estate was first made the same date, and a later appraisal listed an estate of $1472.52. On 25 Jan. 1814, the Court ordered a sale of the real estate, and 8 Feb. 1814, Philip Bullen was bonded to sell the same, with William H. Page, and Nathaniel Folsom, sadler, all of Hallowell, as his sureties. No other papers. (Kennebec Probate.)

Both Samuel and his brother Nathan signed their legal documents with good clear signatures, and in turn Samuel's sons also wrote well. One more deed is of interest:

17 Mar. 1814, Philip Bullen, of Hallowell, as the administrator of the estate of Samuel Bullen, late of Hallowell, deceased, and licensed by the Court to sell the deceased's real estate, sells a portion of it to James Atkins, of the same town, being forty-seven acres. (Kennebec Deeds, 18: 456.)

The widow, Anna (Brown) Buller, has no recorded deeds, nor any recorded estate, she lived to extreme old age, being ninety-four at the time of her decease.

Children, all but last two, recorded in Billerica:

4. i. SAMUEL², b. 30 Mar. 1761; m. SARAH FLETCHER and JANE SMITH.

* Some of the above children are also recorded in Hallowell, it is probable that Philip, the seventh child, was born in Hallowell.

3. NATHAN² BULLEN (*Philip*¹), born in Charlestown, Mass., 7 Apr. 1737, baptised there, 10 Apr. following, died there, between 25 Apr. and 27 July 1761. He married in Christ Church, Boston, Mass., 22 May 1758 (intention dated 6 May 1758), his first cousin, MARY HUTCHINSON, born in Charlestown, 12 Apr. 1737, died after 1797, for she was living in New Milford, Lincoln County, Me., in that year, daughter of Samuel and Ruth (Osborne) Hutchinson.*

Mary (Hutchinson) Bullen married secondly, as "Mrs. Mary Ballaine", probably in Boston (published there, 30 June 1763), DANIEL-GENT TUCKERMAN, baptised there in the Old South Church, 18 Jan. 1718-19, died in Pownalborough, Lincoln County, Me., before 14 Apr. 1774, son of John and Hannah (Gent) Tuckerman. She married thirdly, in Pownalborough, 14 Apr. 1774, JOB AVERELL, born in Topsfield, Mass., 11 Aug. 1707, died in Pownalborough, between 1794 and 1797, son of Job and Susanna (Brown) Averell. She was the third wife of Daniel-Gent Tuckerman and the second of Job Averell, the former having married first in Boston (intention dated 12 May 1741), HANNAH FLAGG, who was buried in the Granary Burying Ground, Boston, 13 June 1757, aged thirty-six years; secondly, in the New North Church, 1 June 1758, DEBORAH HOOD, who was buried in the Granary, 19 Feb. 1763, aged twenty-eight. Job Averell had married first, perhaps in Arundel, Me., about 1730, SARAH ———. The name of Averell is frequently spelled "Avery" in the records, and Daniel-Gent Tuckerman appears as Daniel-Jent Tuckerman in church records and Suffolk County Deeds.

The will of Mary's father proves her parentage and is given here:

"In the Name of God Amen. I Samuel Hutchinson of Woolwich of the County Lincoln & Common-wealth of Massachusetts yeoman: Being very weak in Body, but of perfect Mind & Memory . . . Do make & ordain this my last Will & Testament.

. . . I give . . . my Soul into the Hands of God who gave it, & for my Body, I commit it to the Earth to be buried . . . And as to my Worldly Estate which God hath blessed me with in this life, I give, Demise, & Dispose of the Same in manner following.

"The Genealogies and Estates of Charlestown," by Wyman, states that Mary married James Fullington, but the will of Samuel⁴ Hutchinson, quoted in the text, proves that it was Martha. The tombstones of the Fullingtons are in the Woolwich Cemetery: Capt. James Fullington d. 25 Mar. 1821 in his 80th year; Mrs. Martha, his wife, d. 29 Mar. 1819 in her 74th year.

It is interesting to note how many members of the family went to Maine. Not only did Samuel Bullen settle there after 1763, but Mary (Hutchinson) Bullen, widow of Nathan, went there with her second husband, and so did her father, Samuel Hutchinson, who was also uncle to Samuel and Nathan and had been the guardian of the latter.

"Nathan Bullen was a potter, lived with Samuel Hutchinson, had his tax abated in 1758, and had been a soldier." (The Genealogies and Estates of Charlestown, Wyman.)

In the Massachusetts State Archives, the service is found of a Nathan Bullen, no residence given, who was in the French War under Capt. George Hanner, 11 Oct. 1756; he appears also on a payroll dated Boston, 7 Feb. 1757, under the same captain, with service from 1 Sept. to 5 Dec. 1756, at Crown Point. As the intentions of marriage of Nathan³ Bullen are given in Boston, 6 May 1758, to a resident of Charlestown, he must have been a recognised inhabitant of Boston, and there can be no doubt that this service belonged to him. (Massachusetts Archives, 94: 125, 205, 402; 95: 195.)

The first record we have of Nathan Bullen after his baptism is his guardianship paper, which follows:

21 Oct. 1751, Samuel Hutchinson, yeoman, with Nathan ¹¹ Lawson, stone cutter, as his bondsman, both of Charlestown, "Allowed to be Guardian unto Nathan (at his own Election) a Minor in his fifteenth year of age Son of Phillip Bullen late of Charlestown . . . Deceased . . ." (Middlesex Probate, 3498.)

There is only one deed of Nathan Bullen's on file:

24 Feb. 1759, "To all People to whom these presents shall come Greeting Know ye that I Nathan Bullen of Charlestown . . . Potter For . . . seventy pound two shillings and 8^d . . . paid by Thomas Ireland of Cambridge . . . husbandman . . . confirm unto him . . . Land . . . in Charlestown . . . being that part of the real Estate of my mother M^{rs} Deborah Bullin late of said Charlestown deceased which was set off to me . . . by the Judge of Probate . . ." And "Mary my wife" releases her dower rights in said property. Signed: "Nathan Bullin" (Seal).

Witnessed by John Holeman and Susannah Hutchinson; recorded 28 Oct. 1765. (Middlesex Deeds, 65:130.)

"In the Name of God Amen I Nathan Bullan of Charlestown in the County of Middlesex and province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England Potter being in Health of Body and sound in Mind yet sensible of the great Uncertainty of this Life after having commended my Soul into the Hand of God through a glorious Redeemer and my Body to the Dust to be buried at the Discretion of my Executrix hereafter named Do make and ordain this my Last Will & Testament

Impr^o My Will is that after my Just Debts & Funeral Charges are Paid by my Executrix out of my Estate That my beloved Wife Mary Bullan have all the Remainder of my Estate of what Name or Nature soever or wheresoever the same is or may be found to be a good Estate to Her her Heirs and Assigns forever

Item I Constitute and appoint my abovenamed Wife Mary Bullan to be the sole Executrix of this my Last Will and Testament

Lastly I revoke all other Wills by me made and Confirm this only to be my Last Will and Testament In Witness whereof I have hereunto Set my Hand and Seal this Twenty fifth Day of April in the first Year of his Majesty's Reign Annoq Domini 1761"

"Nathan Bullin" (Seal)

Witnessed by Joseph Lewis, mark of Hanah Lewis, and John Turner. This will was not written by Nathan Bullen, although signed by him. It was proved 27 July 1761, and on that date, Mary Bullin, widow, with Samuel Hutchinson, yeoman, and John Turner, housewright, all of Charlestown, as her sureties, was appointed the executrix, and signed the bond in a good hand as, "Mary Bullin." (Middlesex Probate, 3499.)

From the records of the First Church of Charlestown we learn that, 1 Apr. 1759, among the "Renewers of Covenant," was "Mary wife of Nathan Bullen." Again, 4 Oct. 1761, among the baptisms, was "Mary D. of Mary (vidua) Bullen."

It is not known what became of Nathan's only child, Mary, born after 25 Apr. 1761, probably posthumous. If she lived, she was probably taken to Maine.

Daniel-Gent Tuckerman, the second husband of Mary (Hutchinson) Bullen, has no land records in Middlesex County, but we find four of his deeds recorded in Suffolk County:

28 May 1754, Know ye that Daniel Jent Tuckerman, of Boston, tailor, and Stephen Harris, of same, baker, and Thankful Harris, his wife, sell to Stephen Greenleaf, of Boston, merchant, land there, formerly part of the estate of their father, John Tuckerman, near the Common, "and Hannah the wife of Daniel Jent Tuckerman" released her dower. Wit: John Tuckerman, Hannah Flagg. (Suffolk Deeds, 84: 156.)

26 Mar. 1756, Stephen Harris, of Boston, baker, with Thankful his wife, sell to Daniel Jent Tuckerman, of same, tailor, all rights to a house and land there, late the property of their late brother, John Tuckerman, and also the mansion house and land, of their late father, John Tuckerman, in the south end of Boston. (ibid., 88: 124.)

26 Mar. 1756, Hannah Tuckerman, of Boston, widow, and administratrix of the estate of her late son, John Tuckerman deceased, sells part of his lands, being land on Pleasant St., to Daniel Jent Tuckerman, of Boston, tailor, and the house thereon. Wit: Samuel Sewall, Stephen Harris. (ibid., 88: 123.)

24 Apr. 1764, Stephen Harris, and Stephen Harris, Jr., both of Boston, bakers, convey to Daniel Jent Tuckerman, of same, tailor, all rights they have in the real estate of John Tuckerman, late of Boston, merchant, deceased, that was set off to Hannah Tuckerman, the widow of the said John, as her dower. Wit: Samuel Welles, John Swift. (ibid., 101: 223.)

Under date of 12 Nov. 1766, Pownalborough Proceedings, we note: "Job Averell, Constable warned Daniel Tuckerman and wife with five children and servant . . . to depart out of the town," Lincoln S. S., 11 Nov. 1765. (Averell Genealogy.)

So we see that between 24 Apr. 1764, and 11 Nov. 1765, Daniel-Gent Tuckerman, with his wife and five children, had removed to Pownalborough. He has no land records there, although his widow, as Mary Averell, appears in a deed to her son, Daniel-Gent Tuckerman, in 1791.

For thirty-four years, Pownalborough was the shire town, although there is no town of that name now, for the present towns of Dresden, Wiscasset, Alna, and Perkins, comprise what was formerly the old town. Wiscasset is now the county seat.

Daniel-Gent Tuckerman died intestate, and an administration was granted:

25 Mar. 1785, Job Averell of Pownalborough, with James Hodge, and Asa Andrews, of the same place as his sureties, appointed administrator to the estate of "Daniel Gent Tuckerman, late of Pownalborough, tailor" deceased. The inventory amounted to £49-18-1, and an account was filed 29 June 1786. The widow's dower was set off, 30 June 1786. (Lincoln Probate.)

It is interesting to note that, 6 June 1800, Daniel G. Tuckerman, of Pownalborough, Lincoln County, baker, sold to Philip Bullen, of Hallowell, Kennebec County, yeoman, two tracts of land in Winslow, Kennebec County, said deed being witnessed by Samuel and Sally Bullen. (Kennebec Deeds, 2: 43.)

In the above deed, Philip and Samuel Bullen were sons of Samuel² Bullen, Sally Bullen was the wife of Philip³ Bullen, and the grantor a son of Nathan² Bullen's widow.

The Averell Genealogy,* pages 199-211, gives quite a complete account of Job Averell, who was a prominent man of Pownalborough, and had lived successively in Topsfield and Middleton, Mass., and Arundel, Sheepscot, and Pownalborough, Me. He was many years older than his second wife, whose intention reads, "Marey tuckerman . . . of Pownalboro". The last public record of Job Averell was 21 June 1794, when he acknowledged a deed of gift of land given to his son Samuel. A search has been made for the gravestone of Job Averell, and those of his two wives, but without success, so that the actual dates of their deaths are unknown. It is said that Mary (Hutchinson) (Bullen) (Tuckerman) Averell died in Alna, Me., at the home of her step-son and son-in-law, Ezekiel Averell.

4. SAMUEL³ BULLEN (*Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in Billerica, Middlesex County, Mass., 30 Mar. 1761, died in Farmington, Franklin County, Me., 2 Dec. 1825, aged sixty-five years. He married first, in Hallowell, 29 Mar. 1790,† SARAH FLETCHER, of Pittston, born in Norridgewock, Me., in August 1774, died in Farmington, 31 Aug. 1791, daughter of William Fletcher of Concord, Mass., and Norridgewock;‡ secondly, in Farmington, 6 Sept. 1792, JANE SMITH, born in Edgartown, Mass., 16 May 1769, died in Farmington, 1 Sept. 1828, aged fifty-nine years, daughter of Ebenezer and Jane (Marchant) Smith.

Farmington, originally known as "Sandy River," first settled in 1776, incorporated as a town in 1794, was in that part of Kennebec County that was set off in 1838 to form the new county of Franklin. It was here, in "Sandy River," that Samuel Bullen and his brother Joshua Bullen settled, their father having acquired land there in 1780. Three years later, 15 Oct. 1783, the first meeting was held at the home of Samuel Butterfield, and Samuel Bullen, probably the father, served as its moderator and also as a member of one of the committees. Again, in 1786, he was a member of a committee. We have seen (see account of Samuel² Bullen) that in 1786, Samuel Bullen, Jr., purchased of his father one half the front lot number thirty-four; that in 1789, he purchased of his father the southerly half of lot number thirty-three, and that in the former deed, the son is called of Hallowell, and in the latter "of a place called Sandy River." Hence we know that sometime between 1786 and 1789, Samuel Bullen, Jr., settled permanently in Farmington.

* His pension record does not give further data re Bullen or Tuckerman.

† Intention, 12 Mar. 1790, Samuel Bullen, Jr.; marriage 31 Mar. 1790. (Hallowell Records.)

‡ Sarah Fletcher is said to have been the first white child born in that section, now Somerset County, and her mother may have been a Sarah Frost. The will of William Fletcher, of Canaan, mentions wife Rebecca, eldest daughter Rebecca Weston, daughters Lydia Weston and Sibyl Copeland, youngest daughter Rhoda Fletcher, and son William Fletcher, dated 7 Feb. 1812, proved 7 June 1813. (Somerset Probate, 1:69.)

But prior to his removal to Farmington, in 1779, Samuel Bullen, Jr., saw service in the Revolutionary War:

"Bulin, Samuel, Private, Capt. John Blunt's co., Col. Samuel McCobbs' regt.; service from June 28, 1779, to Sept. 28, 1779, 3 mos., on expedition against Penobscot." (Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in Revolution, 2: 774.)

"Sandy River Lower Township" (first, "Reuben Colburn and his Associates," then, "Sandy River Associates") had no real organized government for some thirteen years, and although the settlers met from time to time to discuss ways and means, the first real town meeting took place in 1793, and the final incorporation in 1794. An inventory of lands there in 1789, lists: "Front Lots on the East Side of the River"

	Number	mark	Entry	Time of Settlement	acres under improvement
"Samuel Bullen } Joshua Bullen }	34	S	1780	1782	8	"

In 1798, Samuel Bullen was one of a number to sign a protest, and we often find his name connected with various town affairs. In 1790, he is listed as living in Sandy River, with a family consisting of one male and one female, himself and wife. At that time, both Hallowell and Sandy River were in Lincoln County.

In 1800, Samuel Bullen of Farmington, Kennebec County, had in his family, three males under ten; one male, twenty-six to forty-five; three females under ten; and one female between twenty-six and forty-five. In 1810, he was omitted from the census, but in 1820, he is again listed as of Farmington, with a family of one male, ten to sixteen; two males, eighteen to twenty-six; one male over forty-five; one female between sixteen and twenty-six; one between twenty-six and forty-five; and one female over forty-five.

Brief abstracts of Samuel Bullen, Jr.'s deeds follow:

26 Oct. 1790, Francis Tufts, Samuel Butterfield, of Sandy River lower Township, and Dumer Sewall, of Bath, sell for £2-5s. to "Samuel Bullen of Sandy River lower Township," one half lot number thirty-three. (Lincoln Deeds, 27: 219.)

16 Feb. 1803, Zacheus Mayhew, of Farmington, sells land at Sandy River to Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, wife Pamela Mayhew releases. (Kennebec Deeds, 8: 216.)

21 Aug. 1804, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, sells land there to Ebenezer Norton, Esq., of same, and Jane Bullen, his wife, releases her dower rights. (ibid. 7: 220.)

23 Oct. 1805, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, sells land there, on the east side of Sandy River, to Andrew and Jeremiah Norton, of same, Jane releases. (ibid., 8: 391.)

20 Nov. 1806, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, sells land there to Jeremiah Norton, of same, and Jane releases. (ibid., 12: 272.)

19 Mar. 1807, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, conveys land there to William Palmer, Jr., of Hallowell, which said Bullen had purchased of Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell, 2 Jan. 1786, consists of nine acres. (ibid., 11: 157.)

4 Feb. 1808, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, sells land there to William and John Case, of same, Jane releases. (ibid., 12: 414.)

14 Mar. 1809, Abijah Scott, of Farmington, sells to Samuel Bullen, of same, property which has a mortgage on it, wife Nancy Scott releases. (ibid., 15: 485.)

10 Dec. 1810, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, sells land there to Church Brainerd, of same, and 15 Sept. that year, sells land there to Joshua Bullen, gentleman, of New Sharon, Me. (ibid., 19: 115; 16: 137.)

8 Mar. 1811, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, conveys all rights to Moses Palmer, of Hallowell, in land at Hallowell, being that farm in Hallowell, "lately owned by Samuel Bullen of s^d Hallowell now deceased & in which he lived until his death." (ibid., 19: 241.)

30 Dec. 1812, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, yeoman, for $50.00 paid him by Samuel Bullen, Jr., of same, conveys a certain pew in the Farmington Meeting House. (ibid., 28: 87.)

There are no further land records for Samuel³ Bullen, neither is there any record of his estate, nor of the estates of his two wives.

In the old graveyard in Farmington, beside the County Court House, there is a gravestone to the memory of Samuel and Jane Bullen, the two inscriptions appearing on the same stone:

"Samuel Bullen	"Jane

5. JOSHUA ³ BULLEN (Samuel ², Philip ¹), born in Billerica, Middlesex County, Mass., 17 Mar. 1766, died in New Sharon, Franklin County, Me., 10 Mar. 1840. He married, probably in Farmington, about 1792, THANKFUL SMITH, born in Edgartown, Mass., about 1765, died in New Sharon, 8 June 1850, daughter of Joseph and Abigail (Butler) Smith.

Under the account of his brother, Samuel Bullen, Jr., we have seen that the two boys settled at Sandy River, on land that their father, Samuel Bullen, had acquired there in 1780, and that the probable date of their real arrival there as actual dwellers was about 1786 to 1789. In 1797, the father, Samuel Bullen of Hallowell, sold "Joshua Bullin of Farmington," land in Farmington, being the southerly half of lot thirty-four, and we note that in 1786, brother Samuel had purchased of his father the northerly half of the same lot.

In an inventory of lands recorded at Sandy River in 1789, we note that Samuel and Joshua Bullen owned lot number thirty-four; said land had been entered in 1780, and settled upon in 1782, and eight acres were under improvement. If this land was settled upon in 1782, the boys were apparently still at that time legal residents of Hallowell.

In 1794, Joshua signed his name to a petition as "Jos. Bullen." He appears as a resident of Sandy River, Lincoln County, in the census of 1790, as one male over sixteen; no others in his family. In the census of 1800 he was living in New Sharon, and had in his household, two males under ten, one male twenty-six to forty-five, two females under ten, and one female twenty-six to forty-five. In 1810, still of New Sharon, he had a family of one male under ten, two males ten to sixteen, and one male twenty-six to forty-five; one female ten to sixteen, one female sixteen to twenty-six, and one over forty-five. He subsequently appears as of New Sharon in the census records of 1820, and 1830. In 1850, his widow, Thankful Bullen, was living, aged eighty-four, born in Massachusetts, with her daughter, Mary Bullen, aged fifty-seven, born in Maine, in New Sharon.

The History of Farmington states that Joshua Bullen came to Farmington at sixteen, and afterwards became a settler on front lot thirty-four, east side, which he later sold to Joseph Pease, and removed to New Sharon, that he was a farmer, and "died at an advanced age."

He had many land records, and only very brief abstracts appear here:

3 Nov. 1825, Joshua Bullen, of New Sharon, for $100.00 sells to Joseph Bullen, of same, land in Farmington, and same date, Joshua Bullen, of New Sharon, for $150.00 sells to Joseph Bullen, of same, land in New Sharon. (Kennebec Deeds, 55: 119, 121.)

8 Jan. 1831, Joshua Bullen, of New Sharon, sells land there to Benjamin F. and Ebenezer Norton, of same, witnessed by Joseph and Thankful Bullen. (ibid., 75: 329.)

2 July 1834, Joshua Bullen, of New Sharon, sells land in New Vineyard to Alvin Smith, of Industry. (Somerset Deeds, 34: 186.)

In 1835, Thomas Stevens, of New Sharon, mortgaged to Joshua Bullen, same, land there and buildings. (Kennebec Deeds, 51: 301.)

In 1835, Franklin Weekes, of New Sharon, sells land there to Joshua Bullen, of same, witnessed by Joseph Bullen. (Franklin Deeds, 0: 172.)

In 1837, Ephraim Mayhew, Henry Mayhew, and Benjamin Mayhew, all of New Sharon, sell to Joshua Bullen, of same, land there, witnessed by Joseph Bullen; also Joshua Bullen, of New Sharon, sells to Warren Bullen, of same, sixty acres there, that same year, Thankful Bullen releases, and Ephraim Mayhew witnesses. (Franklin Deeds, 0: 272, 240.)

Joshua Bullen died testate, an abstract of his will follows:

Thankful, Mary, Joshua, Warren, and Joseph Bullen, with Ephraim and Abigail Mayhew, all sign a statement to the effect that they make no opposition to the said will. (Franklin Probate, 67.)

From the above deeds, we note that Joshua Bullen removed to New Sharon, from Farmington, between 10 May and 3 Nov. 1798.

6. JESSE³ BULLEN (*Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in Billerica, Middlesex County, Mass., 2 Mar. 1768, died probably in St. Albans, Somerset County, Me., 8 Oct. [18 Dec., in another family record] 1843, aged seventy-six years. He married in Hallowell, 4 July (intention 6 May) 1799, SALLY LOVELL, born in 1778, died in St. Albans, 16 Dec. 1845, aged sixty-seven years, parentage unknown.

Sally Lovell is called of Stark, Me., but an exhaustive search of probate, land, and other records has failed to reveal her identity. One descendant states she was a Sally-W. Lowell, but this is doubtful.

St. Albans was settled about 1800, and was in that part of Kennebec County that in 1809 was set off to form Somerset County. In 1800, Jesse Bullen was living in Hallowell, with a family consisting of one male between sixteen and twenty-six, one female under ten, and two females between sixteen and twenty-six, that is, himself, wife, daughter, and possibly a sister of his wife. In 1810, he is still of Hallowell, with three males under ten; one between twenty-six and forty-five; two females under ten; one female ten to sixteen; and one female twenty-six to forty-five. Jesse is variously called in family records as of Hallowell, Fairfield, Winslow, and St. Albans. He was taxed at Hallowell in 1797, 1798, and 1799.

In 1796, it is recorded that Jesse Bullen was a surveyor of highways; in 1801, on the school committee, and in 1808, a petit juror. With his brother, Philip Bullen, and his father, Samuel Bullen, he purchased a pew in the meeting house in Hallowell in 1797, and 15 Dec. 1802, "Jesse Bullen of Hallowell" for $25.00 sold one third part in this pew to "my brother Phillip Bullen" of same. (Hallowell Town Records.)

Jesse Bullen has four deeds of record; there are no deeds of his recorded in Franklin or Somerset Counties:

* CAPT. EBENEZER CHILDS m. (1) HANNAH LOWELL, b. 1790, d. 16 July 1834, dau. of Rosanus Lowell, of Thomaston, Me.; m. (2), about 1837, PETER JOHNSON, b. 21 Oct. 1799, Mass., d. 30 Jan. 1854, Farmington. Children, by Phebe Johnson, (Childs), (1) Calvin-Newton, b. 15 Jan. 1838; m. Ella-V. Blanchard, rem. to Milwaukee, Wis.; (2) James-Upham, b. 17 Oct. 1840; m. Ella-Frances Stanley, res. Farmington.

10 Feb. 1792, Silas Lee, of Pownalboro, for £60 sells to "Joshua Bullen & Jesse Bullen both of Hallowell" land in Hallowell, on east side of the river, bounded by Samuel Bullen's farm, where he now lives. (Lincoln Deeds, 29: 85.)

10 Feb. 1792, Joshua and Jesse Bullen, both of Hallowell, mortgage the above property to Silas Lee, of Pownalboro, mortgage released in 1795. (ibid., 29: 88.)

31 Dec. 1798, Jesse Bullen, of Hallowell, sells land there to Philip Bullen, of same. (Kennebec Deeds, 2: 43.)

5 Jan. 1805, Jesse Bullen, of Hallowell, gentleman, sells to Andrew Goodwin, of same, all rights to land, near the farm of Samuel Bullen in Hallowell, and bounded by land of Philip Bullen of same, wife Sally Bullen releases her dower, said property consists of some fifty acres. (ibid., 15: 253.)

An extant old letter written by a granddaughter of Jesse Bullen to "Millie" Lovejoy, a daughter of Harriet-Amanda ' (Moore) Lovejoy, contains the following:

"about the Bullen family)

"Mother cant remember very much about it but Frank & Jesse were down to Alonzo Chandlers and they have the old family bible and they looked it up some. Your Great Grandfather and mother would be mother's Grandfather & mother and mother says that her Grandfather Bullen came from England so she doesn't know any further about him, but I will give you what they took from the bible.

"Anna Brown (wife of Samuel Bullen) daughter of Samuel and Mary Brown, was born Sept. 21, 1737.

"Samuel Bullen & Anna Brown were married by Rev. John Chandler May 22, 1760.

"Jesse was my mother's father and Patty was your mother's mother. That was all she found in the old bible and all we know about it as to dates. This is copied from the Billerica records—Oct. 24, 1774. The old bible was mother's Grandfather's and they all lived in Billerica, Mass. I hope this will do you some good.

"I suppose there are lots of changes and news I might write you but my sheet is nearly full and . . ."

Unfortunately we do not know the place and date of this letter, nor the name of the writer, just the fragment has come down to this day, nor has the compiler ever been able to locate the present whereabouts of the old Samuel Bullen Bible.

tracts from notes on the family, in the possession of a descendant now living at St. Albans,* tell us that, according to a Bible record, Jesse was aged seventy-six at his death, his widow aged sixty-seven at her death, that they were married, 4 July 1799; that their son Ansel was born 26 July; and their daughter, Parthena, 21 March. (See below.)

7. PATTY (MARTHA) ‡ BULLEN (Samuel ‡, Philip †), born in Billerica, Middlesex County, Mass., 29 Sept. 1770, died in Skowhegan, † Somerset County, Me., between 1837 and 1840. She married, first, in Hallowell, Me., 13 Mar. 1794, DR. WILLIAM WARD, born in Amherst, N. H., in 1765, died in Canaan, Me., between 3 Feb. and 26 May 1807, son of Richard and Margaret (Chandler) Ward; secondly, in Canaan, intention dated 28 June 1809, NATHAN MOORE, ‡ born in Maine, in 1784, living in Skowhegan, in 1850.

The History of Norridgewock, published in 1849, gives the following:

"Dr. William Ward came from Antrim and settled in Bloomfield, near the Skowhegan falls, at the Old Ferry way, about 179-, and practised medicine very satisfactorily and extensively in the new country; was a man of good talents and acquirements for the time. He was in partnership with Senr. Col. John Moor, who furnished him medicines. Habitual intemperance rendered him unfit at times for professional service, although his experience in it and his ever ready wit, gave him some advantages. In 1794 he married Patty Bullen."

* Eliza-Ann (French) Longley.

† Canaan, originally known as Wesserunet, some eight miles from Skowhegan, the shire town, first settled 1770, incorporated 1788 as Canaan; later Bloomfield was set off, and in 1822, Skowhegan. Skowhegan, an Indian name from "place to watch," because of the salmon in the falls there, separated in 1822 as Milburn, later changed to Skowhegan, and Bloomfield annexed in 1861. Norridgewock, from Indian chief "smooth water," five miles from Skowhegan, settled 1773, incorporated 1788. Somerset County was established in 1809 from Kennebec.

‡ Nathan and Sarah (Town) Moore of Oxford, Mass., and Vassalborough, Me., had son Reuben, an early settler of Hallowell; son Nathan, b. 1755; and son William, b. 1765. Nathan, Sr., d. 1778, Norridgewock, Me. It is possible that our Nathan was a descendant of this family. Census of 1850 for Skowhegan lists a John Moore as ne. 64, b. in Maine, probably a brother. The name is also spelled Moor and More.

In 1800, William Ward is listed as a resident of Canaan, with a family of one male ten to sixteen, and one male twenty-six to forty-five; one female ten to sixteen, and one female twenty-six to forty-five.

Below are brief abstracts of his land records:

In 1795, William Ward is mentioned as collector of taxes in Norridgewock. (Kennebec Deeds, 2: 153; 4: 316.)

13 Jan. 1796, Henry McKenny, of Seabasticook, sells land, on the Kennebec River, to William Ward, of Norridgewock, Physician. (ibid., 36: 74.)

12 June 1797, Joseph Cleveland, of Seven Mile Brook, sells land at Canaan to William Ward, of Canaan, physician. (ibid., 5: 61.)

5 Apr. 1798, Timothy Langdon, of Pownalborough, Esq., sells land at Norridgewock to William Ward, of Canaan, and Jonas Parlin, of Norridgewock. (ibid., 4: 317.)

5 Apr. 1798, Timothy Langdon, of Pownalborough, Esq., sells land at Norridgewock to William Ward, of Canaan, physician. (ibid., 2: 154.)

21 Oct. 1799, William Ward, of Canaan, physician, sells land in Norridgewock to William Goodwin, of Charlestown, Mass., chaisemaker. (ibid., 2: 155.)

9 May 1803, William Ward, of Canaan, physician, sells land there to James Bridge, of Augusta, and Seth Currier and William Bridge, of Canaan; wife, Patty Ward, releases her dower rights. Witnesses: Ephraim and Anna Ward. (ibid., 5: 96.)

3 Feb. 1807, Nathaniel and Joseph Russell, of Canaan, convey land near Norridgewock to William Ward, of Canaan, physician, and Rebecca Russell, wife of Nathaniel, releases her dower, same date; Ward re-conveys, probably a mortgage. (ibid., 11: 204.)

William and Patty (Bullen) Ward had no children, he died in 1807, intestate:

26 May 1807, Patty Ward, widow, of Canaan, with Samuel Bullen and Philip Bullen, both of Hallowell, as her sureties, was appointed administratrix of the estate of William Ward, late of Canaan, physician. All three sign. [The Bullens were of course her father and brother.] The inventory was made 6 July 1807. The estate was found insolvent in 1808, and the widow asked a committee to appraise the real estate; the warrant for dower was rendered 16 Dec. 1808. 10 May 1809, Patty Ward, of Canaan, widow, with Boyce McLellan, of same, Esq., and Nathan Moore, of same, as her sureties, was bonded to sell the real estate. (Kennebec Probate.)

28 Dec. 1807, Patty Ward, as the administratrix of the estate of William Ward, late of Canaan, deceased, registers that Moses and Jedediah Cooper are to appraise the estate. (Kennebec Deeds, 14: 24.)

12 Aug. 1809, Patty Ward, as administratrix of the estate of William Ward, physician, late of Canaan, deceased, sells land there to Nathan Moor, of same, said land having been offered at public vendue. (ibid., 13: 473.)

26 Aug. 1809, Patty Ward, of Canaan, county of Somerset, widow, sells land there to Seth Currier, of same, witnessed by Thomas MacLaughlin, Nathan Moor. (ibid., 16: 40.)

We have seen that about two months prior to the last date given above, the marriage intentions of Patty Ward and Nathan Moore were taken out in Canaan, but the actual ceremony evidently took place after 26 Aug. 1809.

There are a number of land records in the name of Nathan Moore,* as follows:

Nathan Moore, of Canaan, and Patty his wife, sell land there to Judah McLellon, of same, attorney at law, both sign. (Somerset Deeds, 2: 139.)

24 Nov. 1813, Nathan Moor, of Bloomfield, and Patty his wife, sell land and a house thereon, in said town, to Augustus Taylor, of Norridgewock, cordwainer. (ibid., 3: 262.)

8 Feb. 1816, Jonathan Farrar, of Bloomfield, merchant, sells land there to Nathan Moore, of same; same date, Nathan Moore, of Bloomfield, with Patty his wife, conveys house and land there to Augustus Taylor, of Norridgewock, cordwainer. (ibid., 3: 370; 5: 549.)

24 Apr. 1816, Nathan Moore, of Bloomfield, with Patty his wife, sells to Joseph Lock, Esq., and J. Brooks Dascomb, gentlemen, both of Bloomfield, land there, one of the witnesses being Aphia Moor. (ibid., 7: 50.)

27 Mar. 1819, Nathan Moore, of Bloomfield, conveys land there to Stephen Weston, of same; and 29 Mar. 1819, Nathan Moore conveys rights to land there to Samuel Weston of same, last deed witnessed by John Moor. (ibid., 8: 184.)

1 June 1830, Robert Hallowell Gardiner, of Gardiner, Esq., sells to Nathan Moore, of Milburn, land in Canaan Gore, wife, Emma Jane, releases. (ibid., 42: 149.)

8 Jan. 1834, Nathan Moore, of Milburn, mortgages land there to Thomas L. Winthrop, of Boston. (ibid., 29: 472.)

20 Jan. 1835, Nathan Moore, of Milburn, sells to James Dinsmore, of same, land near said Moore's home, in Milburn, wife, Patty Moore releases, witnessed by Albion K. Moore. (ibid., 35: 330.)

6 Oct. 1836, Nathan Moore, of Skowhegan, sells land there to Albion K. Moore, of same. (ibid., 41: 219.)

13 Mar. 1837, Nathan Moore, of Skowhegan, and Patty his wife, sell land there to Joseph Lock, Esq., and Brooks and James B. Dascomb, of same. (ibid., 41: 294.)

14 Mar. 1837, Nathan Moore, of Skowhegan, gentleman, mortgages to Albion K. Moore land there, near the mills of John Moore. (ibid., 37: 601.)

25 July 1837, Nathan Moore, of Skowhegan, sells land there, being part of the land he now lives on, to Joseph Patten of same, and Patty, his wife, releases her dower in same. (ibid., 44: 31.)

Nathan "Mower" first appears in the census of 1810 in Canaan, with one male between twenty-six and forty-five, and one female the same age. With his wife and family he appears in the census records of 1820 and 1830. However in 1840, he was evidently that male,

* In 1804, Levi and Nathan Moore of Sidney convey land there to Timothy Robinson; Rebecca and Hannah Moore, their wives release. 7 Feb. 1807, Nathan Moore of Sidney sells land there to Eli Moore of same, no release. (Kennebec Deeds, 8: 432; 33: 269.) These deeds may apply to our Nathan and if so, he had a first wife Hannah.

between fifty and sixty, living in the family of his son, Herbert-A. Moore, his wife having deceased by that year; and in 1850, he is listed in the said son's household as, Nathan Moore, aged sixty-six, farmer, born in Maine.

Children, born in Canaan:

Philip Bullen succeeded to his father's property in that part of Hallowell, now Chelsea, Me., which had been granted to Samuel Bullen in 1763, and which passed out of the family only a few years ago. Philip Bullen was a prominent surveyor and well-to-do farmer.

Taxed at Hallowell in 1799 and 1800, until 1810, he was included as a member of his father's family in the census records. In 1810, he had in his family, one male under ten; two males, ten to sixteen; and one male, twenty-six to forty-five; two females under ten; one between ten and sixteen; one between sixteen and twenty-six; and one over forty-five. He is also listed in Hallowell in 1820, 1830, and 1840, and in the latter year was head of a household consisting of one male between sixty and seventy; one female, fifteen to twenty; and one female, fifty to sixty. He does not appear in the census of 1850.

In 1802, Philip Bullen served as a hog reve; in 1804 and 1806, on the school committee; and as a surveyor of lumber in 1805, 1806, and 1807. In 1808, he served as surveyor of lumber, hog reve, and petit juror; in 1809, on the school committee and clerk of the meeting; and, in 1810, surveyor of lumber and field driver. (Hallowell Town Records, prior to 1811.)

After 1810, he held many town offices and was a prominent citizen of the place, being called upon particularly as a surveyor. In 1797, a lot of land at Weld, Me., was granted to him. That same year, 25 Dec. 1797, Moses Sewall, Robert Randall and Jason Livermore, a committee of the Meeting House in the South Parish, sold for $67.00 to Samuel, Jesse, and Philip Bullen, a pew therein, being number twelve on the first floor, the grantees to have a third each. 15 Dec. 1802, "Jesse Bullen of Hallowell" for $25.00 sells to "brother Phillip Bullen" of same, one third part of this pew, and signs his name to the transaction. (ibid., pp. 28, 109.)

His many land records are abstracted as follows:

In 1807, Bullen sold some of this property to Ephraim Wood, of Karratunk. (ibid., 11: 381; 13: 376.)

In 1812, Philip Bullen gave his testimony in the land court, no age given. On 9 Apr. 1814, he purchased of James Atkins, of Hallowell, land there, and Hannah Atkins released her dower. (ibid., 18: 46; 16: 380.)

The same year, Samuel Jewett, of Gardiner, sold to Bullen an eighth of a mill privilege, this last deed was recorded very late. (ibid., 66: 329; 122: 362.)

3 Dec. 1825, Philip Bullen, of Hallowell, gentleman, sells land there to James Sever, of Kingston, Mass. 28 Jan. 1825, he sold to the same Sever, land there. (ibid., 55: 163; 52: 21.)

13 Mar. 1826, Philip Bullen, of Hallowell, sells land in Bingham to Asa Steward, of Bloomfield; and 6 Apr. 1826, Philip Bullen sells Nathaniel Bailey 3rd, of Pittston, land in Hallowell, Susan Bullen releases her dower, and one of the witnesses was Paulina Bullen. (ibid., 24: 377; 58: 503.)

11 Dec. 1840, Philip Bullen, of Hallowell, sells to Caleb Hunt of Winthrop, lands at Hallowell, wife Susan Bullen releases her dower. (ibid., 121: 462.)

8 Feb. 1841, Caleb Hunt, of Winthrop, sells three shares in a mill privilege and land, in Hallowell, to Philip Bullen of Hallowell; wife Hannah Hunt releases her dower. Same year, Hunt conveys more land, in Hallowell, to Bullen, and 1 Nov. 1841, Bullen conveys two thirds of certain land there to Hunt. Also, 1841, Ebenezer Freeman of Winthrop, sells land in Hallowell to Philip Bullen. (ibid., 122: 363, 442, 504; 125: 477.)

1 Sept. 1843, Caleb Hunt, of Hallowell, yeoman, sells land there to Philip Bullen, of same. (ibid., 135: 128.)

There is no recorded estate for Philip Bullen, nor for his two wives. The actual place of his death is not certain, but is supposedly Hallowell.

Children born in Hallowell:

By Sally Thurston,

9. ANNA³ BULLEN (*Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born probably in Hallowell, Kennebec County, Me., about 1774, died in Albion,[†] same county, Me., 24 Feb. 1840. She married in Hallowell, 17 Mar. 1796, WILLIAM PALMER, JR., born before 1776, died in Albion, between 1840 and 1850, probably brother of Moses Palmer of Hallowell, who was born in Derryfield, N. H., 22 May 1773, son of William and Susannah (—) Palmer.

* Family records give 10 Nov.; the Sampler gives 18 Nov. 1810.

[†] The plantation of Freetown was organized in 1802, incorporated as Fairfax in 1804, name afterwards changed to Lygonia, and lastly changed to Albion in 1824.

With Moses Palmer. William Palmer purchased, in 1796, land in New Sharon, Me., and at that time they were both of Hallowell. William Palmer remained in Hallowell until about 1809, when he sold his holdings there, and removed to Fairfax, now Albion, where an old map dated 1809 mentions land of "W. Palmer." Here he was listed in the census records of 1810, 1820, 1830, and 1840.

In 1810, then a resident of Fairfax, William Palmer had in his family, one male under ten; and one male, twenty-six to forty-five; two females under ten; one ten to sixteen; one sixteen to twenty-six; and one twenty-six to forty-five.

In 1840, he had two males, twenty to thirty; one male, thirty to forty; one male, sixty to seventy; one female, fifteen to twenty; and three females, twenty to thirty.

According to family tradition, the Palmers had eight children, among them a daughter, who married a Kendall, the latter being a Baptist minister at Skowhegan, Me. After considerable research the names of their children were found, and that a daughter did marry a minister named Henry Kendall, but not the Rev. Henry Kendall, who organized the Baptist Church in Skowhegan about 1806.

The Town Records of Albion contain the following:

"The following are the Children of W^m and Anna Palmer

"Nancy Palmer born Nov 26 th	1797

Samuel " " Died June 13	1800

Atorat " " Nov 10	1802	[Stewart?]

"Anna wife of William Palmer died Feb 24 1840" *

During his residence in Hallowell, William Palmer, Jr., held some minor town offices, such as a surveyor of pork and fish in 1797, and packer of beef in 1798. (Hallowell Town Records.)

There are only a few deeds of William Palmer on file in Kennebec County, abstracts of them follow:

5 Mar. 1796, Seth Jewett Foster, of Hallowell, sells land in New Sharon to Moses Palmer and William Palmer, Jr., both of Hallowell. (Lincoln Deeds, 36: 191.)

6 Oct. 1800, Lemuel Tobey, of Hallowell, sells land there to William Palmer, Jr., and Martha Tobey his wife releases. (Kennebec Deeds, 4: 518.)

* This William Palmer of Hallowell and Albion is not to be confused with that wealthy land owner of St. Albans, Me., William Palmer of Milton, N. H.; nor with that William Palmer who died in Norridgewock, Me., in 1829, aged seventy-five years. It is barely possible that the latter was the father of our William; he appears as of Norridgewock in the census records of 1810 and 1820. In connection with these early records are found some early deeds, viz., 15 Aug. 1770, John Palmer of Newton, Mass., conveys to "my son William Palmer" of the same, land on St. Georges River below the block house in county Lincoln. (Lincoln Deeds, 8: 235.) In 1793, William Palmer of Ballstown conveys land there to Joseph Weeks, laborer. (ibid., 31: 10.) There is another William Palmer deed of Ballstown in 1795. (ibid., 34: 112.)

8 Oct. 1800, William Palmer, Jr., of Hallowell, quits rights to land and buildings there to Levi Palmer, of same. (ibid., 3: 284.)

19 Mar. 1807, Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, conveys land there to William Palmer, Jr., of Hallowell, which said Bullen had purchased of Samuel Bullen, of Hallowell in 1786, same consists of nine acres. (ibid., 11: 157.)

28 June 1807, John Pratt, of Fairfax, sells land there to William Palmer, Jr., of Hallowell. (ibid., 15: 278.)

20 Jan. 1808, William Palmer, of Hallowell, quits to Samuel Bullen, of Farmington, all rights to land in Farmington, that he had purchased of the said Bullen, and wife Anna Palmer releases her rights. (ibid., 13: 101.)

1 Jan. 1809, William Palmer, of Hallowell, sells to Moses Palmer of same, land in Fairfax. (ibid., 15: 430.)

14 Aug. 1809, William Palmer, of Hallowell, sells to Moses Palmer of same, more land, but this time in Hallowell. (ibid., 17: 13.)

In 1812, judgment was recovered against William Palmer of Fairfax. (ibid., 14: 213, 215.)

As he lived until after 1840, it seems rather certain that he had further dealings in land. There is no recorded settlement of either his estate, or that of his wife.

10. SAMUEL⁴ BULLEN (Samuel³, Samuel², Philip¹), born in Farmington, Me., 11 May 1791, died in Belfast, Me., 2 Nov. 1870. He married, in Belfast, 1 Dec. 1819, MARGARET WEST, born in Farmington, 27 Oct. 1798, died in Belfast, 2 Mar. 1883, daughter of Stetson and Margaret (Gibson) West.

Although he saw service in the War of 1812, there is no record at Augusta of this fact, proof being found in the pension and bounty land right records.

In the pension record it is stated that Samuel Bullen served in the Maine Militia as a private under Capt. Smith Elkins, that he enlisted 27 Aug. 1812, and was discharged 26 Sept. 1813. According to the town record of Belfast, he married, 1 Dec. 1819, Margaret West. 20 Jan. 1851, Samuel Bullen of Waldo, aged fifty-nine, applied for bounty land rights and gave statements as to his service under Captain Elkins. 19 Mar. 1878, Margaret Bullen, aged seventy-nine years, widow of Samuel Bullen, stated that said Samuel died 2 Nov. 1870, and was of Waldo. Elijah West of Belfast, aged sixty-seven, testified that he had attended both the marriage and funeral of the said Samuel Bullen; and William H. Beckwith, aged thirty, and Joseph H. Eaton, aged thirty-two, also testified acquaintance, etc. (U. S. Pension Bureau.)

The History of Belfast states that, 31 Aug. 1846, Samuel Bullen and others, "inhabitants of the North part of Belfast", founded a Congregational Society, at the "Head of the Tide" in Belfast. Again, 3 May 1861, the surviving soldiers of the War of 1812 met in Belfast and paraded the streets, amongst them being Samuel Bullen of Waldo, aged sixty-eight (sic).

Neither Samuel nor his widow, Margaret, left recorded estates. They lived in Waldo, a town ~~some~~ six miles north of Belfast, in Waldo County, which county was set off from Hancock County in 1827.

14. JANE ANN⁴ BULLEN (Samuel³, Samuel², Philip¹), born in Farmington, Me., 23 Jan. 1804, died in Mattapoisett,* Mass., 4 Apr. 1881, aged seventy-seven years. She married, first, in Rochester, Mass., intention dated 4 Dec. 1822, SETH MENDELL, "of Fairhaven," born in New Bedford, Mass., 29 Nov. 1796, died in Rochester, 9 Feb. 1837, son of Ellis and Hannah (Hammond) Mendell; secondly, in Rochester, 10 Jan. 1839, THOMAS-PENN HAMMOND, born there, 8 June 1807, died there, 6 Dec. 1879, son of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Pope) Hammond. They are all buried in the Hammond Cemetery in Mattapoisett.

A granddaughter† wrote the compiler: "Years ago an old woman here used to tell me of my grandmother's coming to this town and always stressed the point that 'Jane Bullen was a lady.' Now I wish I had questioned my old friend as to just what she meant, but I was young then. Grandmother was a dear, charming old lady, but there is nothing in the records to indicate aristocracy, and she seems to have been considered an aristocrat when she came here a bride."

Seth Mendell lived in that part of Rochester later set off to form Mattapoisett; he was a founder of the Universalist Church there, a schoolmaster, and a captain in the militia. He left the following will, dated 29 Jan., proved 31 May 1837:

"I Seth Mendall of Rochester being weake in Body . . . make this my last Will and testament . . . Viz Itm—I give . . . to my Beloved Wife Jane the use and improvement of all my Real and personal Estate . . . for the purpose of her own Surporte . . . and good bringing up of My Children Viz John Mendall Henry Mendall Mariah Mendall Ellis Mendall and Jane Mendall . . . * Mattapoisett, Plymouth County, Mass., was established from Rochester in 1857.

† Harriet-Maria (Mendell) Hammond.

Amittai B. Hammond, Silas Stetson, and Hope Hamblin. (Plymouth Probate, 18319.)

Thomas-Penn Hammond, Jane's second husband, was a farmer and stone mason, served on the Board of Selectmen of his town, and as ensign in the state militia. The Hammond Genealogy (published 1894 by Roland Hammond, M.D.) states he was a "man of good judgement, untiring energy, and great perseverance, and was much respected for his integrity of character." In 1894, his sword and plume, relics of his commission in the militia, were preserved in the old home.

He left no will, but an administration was granted on his estate, 23 Dec. 1879, to William-G. Hammond, who had, as his sureties, C.-B., and E.-L. Hammond, all of Mattapoisett. One of the witnesses on this bond was Ellis-L. Mendell. The heirs were: the widow Jane, and sons, Charles-B., of Mattapoisett, Roland, of Bellingham, Edward-L., of Mattapoisett, and William-G., of Mattapoisett. (ibid., 9078.)

Also same year, Joshua, Joseph, and Mary Bullen, and Ephraim Mayhew conveyed to Warren Bullen their rights in certain property, mentioning the will of Joshua Bullen, and Abigail-S. 21. ANSEL⁴ BULLEN (*Jesse*³, *Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in Hallowell, Me., 6 July 1801 [Bible Record gives it as 26 July], died in St. Albans, Me., 20 May 1850, aged forty-nine years. He married, place and date unknown, first, HARRIET LAMBERT, of whom no more is known; secondly, before 1839, NANCY-G. HAYDEN, of Winslow, Me., born in Winslow, in 1806, died in Clinton, Me., 17 Aug. 1897, aged ninety-one years and ten months, buried in Winslow, daughter of Josiah and Nancy (McFadden) Hayden.

In 1840, "Ansill" Bullen was living in St. Albans, having in his family, one male, fifteen to twenty; one male, twenty to thirty; one male, thirty to forty; and one male, between seventy and eighty; one female, thirty to forty; and one female, sixty to seventy. It is evident that his father and mother, Jesse and Sally (Lovell) Bullen, were living with him in St. Albans in 1840.

* With but two exceptions, letters and charts sent to descendants of Anna (Bullen) Turner, were neither answered nor returned.

Neither Ansel nor his widow left recorded estates, but his few deeds are noted here:

17 Mar. 1832, Ansel Bullen, of St. Albans, sells land there to Joseph Merrill. (Somerset Deeds, 33: 33.)

12 Feb. 1834, Ansel Bullen, of St. Albans, sells to Albert Lyford, of same, land there; also mortgages property to him, same year. (ibid., 35: 178; 43: 330.)

30 Sept. 1839, Ansel Bullen, of St. Albans, sells land there to Isaiah Clough, of Litchfield, wife Nancy-G. Bullen releases her dower. Also, 1839, Albert Lyford, of Waterville, conveys to Ansel Bullen, of St. Albans, land there, being the same mortgaged him by said Bullen, in 1834. (ibid., 51: 27; 52: 5.)

10 Jan. 1842, Ansel Bullen, of St. Albans, sells land there to James-S. Gould, of Vassalboro, wife Nancy-G. Bullen releases her dower. (ibid., 57: 547.)

He is said to have had but two children, both of whom later removed to Massachusetts, whether by the first or second marriage is unknown. The young males listed in his family in 1840 were evidently his two youngest brothers, Moses⁴ and Benson-P.⁴ Bullen.

Children:

- i. SARAH⁵, rem. to Massachusetts
- ii. MARY, rem. to Massachusetts.

22. POLLY⁴ (MARY) BULLEN (*Jesse*³, *Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in Hallowell, Me., 16 Sept. 1802, died in St. Albans, Me., 20 Jan. 1852, aged fifty years and four months. She married in St. Albans, 3 Dec. 1822, ALVAN CHANDLER, of Readfield, Me., born in Sandwich, Mass., in January, 1793, died in St. Albans, 1 July 1861, aged sixty-eight years and seven months, son of Asahel and Deborah (Bourne) Chandler.

Asahel Chandler of Wayne, Me., made his will, 15 Aug. 1815, proved in 1829, in which he bequeaths to wife Deborah, to sons John, "Elvin", and George Chandler, and to daughters, Sarah, Mary, Dorothy and Abigail. (Kennebec Probate.)

"Alvin" Chandler appears as a resident of St. Albans in the census of 1840, with a family of one male, under five; one male, fifteen to twenty; and one male, thirty to forty; one female, under five; one female, five to ten; and one female, twenty to thirty. In 1850, he is listed as "Alvan" Chandler, aged fifty-seven, born in Massachusetts, with wife Mary, aged forty-seven, born in Maine; and children, Columbus-B., aged twenty-six; Sydney-A., aged twenty-three; Alonzo-D., aged twenty-two; George-N., aged nineteen; Jesse-W., aged twelve; Augusta, aged fifteen; and Mary-A., aged ten; all born in Maine. In 1860, as Alvan Chandler, he was living in St. Albans, aged sixty-eight, born in Massachusetts, and with him were living, Alonzo-D., aged thirty-two; Jesse-W., aged twenty-three; Sarah, aged twenty-seven; two infants not named; and a servant, all born in Maine.

24 Nov. 1830, Henry Nason, of St. Albans, sold land there to Alvan Chandler, of Wayne, witnessed by Ansel Bullen, recorded 1837. (Somerset Deeds, 41: 310.)

1 Mar. 1830, Alvan Chandler, of Wayne, sold to Benjamin-L. Lambard, of Readfield, a house he then lived in, in Wayne, also his half of the real estate, "Which Asabel Chandler my late father," devised in his will to me and my brother, George; Mary Chandler his wife, releases her rights. (Kennebec Deeds, 77: 333.)

14 Mar. 1833, Alden Chandler, of Poland, sold land in Ripley to Alvan Chandler, of Ripley. (Somerset Deeds, 38: 153.)

5 Mar. 1836, "Alvin Chandler," of Ripley sells land there to Rufus and William Ricker, both of Dexter. (ibid., 42: 169.)

So we see, from his deeds, that he was of Wayne, Ripley, and St. Albans, removing to the latter town before 1840, and remaining there until his death in 1861.

In the little graveyard in St. Albans, where the Turners are buried, we find the following inscriptions:

"Alvan Chandler

"Mrs Mary

Alvan Chandler

& Sarah Bullen

In the same yard are also stones erected to the memory of Jesse-W. Chandler, and his wives, Lucy and Frances-M. Chandler, and to Augusta-A. Chandler, and Sidney-A. Chandler.

23. WILLIAM W.⁴ BULLEN (*Jesse*³, *Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in Hallowell, Me., 22 Mar. 1804, died there, before 30 Nov. 1865. He married there, intention dated 23 Apr. 1831, HANNAH WHITE, who survived him, probably that Hannah White, born in Hallowell, 1 June, 1800, daughter of Timothy and Silence (——) White.

He is listed as of Hallowell in the census of 1840, having in his family then, one male, ten to fifteen; one male, twenty to thirty (sic); one male, forty to fifty; one male, between seventy and eighty; one female, twenty to thirty (sic); and one female, between seventy and eighty. His wife was evidently omitted, and the old people were probably her parents. In 1850, still of Hallowell, we note, William-W. Bullen, aged forty-six, farmer, born in Maine, wife Hannah, aged fifty, born in Maine, and children all born there, viz., Mary-A., aged thirteen, Julia-O., aged ten, and Joseph, aged seven. There is no help in subsequent census records.

27 Mar. 1839, William-W. Bullen, of Hallowell, sells land in St. Albans, near the land of Ansel Bullen, to Belinda Turner, of said St. Albans. (Somerset Deeds, 48: 100.)

9 Apr. 1840 William Chase, of Hallowell, sells land there to William-W. Bullen, of the same place. (Kennebec Deeds, 122: 184.)

10 Apr. 1840. Anna Hunt, of Pittston, conveys her rights to land in Hallowell to William-W. Bullen, of said Hallowell, and her husband, Ephraim Hunt, releases his rights, one of the witnesses being Moses-B. Bliss. (ibid., 122: 212.)

30 Nov. 1865, Widow Hannah Bullen was appointed administratrix on the estate of her husband, William-W. Bullen, late of Hallowell, deceased, with Samuel-A. Chase and Joseph Baker, of same, as her sureties. (Kennebec Probate.)

Children, born in Hallowell:

- i. SARAH-ELIZABETH ¹, b. 7 Nov. 1831.
- ii. THOMAS-FRANCIS, b. 5 July 1834.
- iii. MARY-A., b. 12 Feb. 1837.
- iv. JULIA-OLIVE, b. 2 July 1839.
- v. JOSEPH-W., b. 25 Feb. 1843.

24. PARTHENA ⁴ BULLEN (Jesse ³, Samuel ², Philip ¹), born in Hallowell, Me., 2 Mar. [21 Mar.] 1806, died in Lawrence, Mass., 4 June 1861, aged fifty-five years. She married probably in St. Albans, ——— PACKARD of Readfield, Me., probably Roger or Josiah Packard, who died before 1861.

4 June 1861, Lawrence, death of Parthena Packard, widow, res. Lawrence, aged 55-3-13, b. Hallowell, Me., dau. of Jephtha (sic) Bullen. (Massachusetts State Records, 147: 212.)

Parthena Packard died intestate, and 11 June 1861, Joseph-L. Partridge presents that the next of kin is Harrison Bullen and asks that he, said Partridge, be made administrator, that he is no relation, etc. (Essex Probate 48964.)

This Harrison Bullen was, of course, her brother, Harrison-Otis⁴ Bullen. Family records state that she had five children, but they had all deceased apparently by 1861.

Children:

- i. CHARLES ⁵ PACKARD.
- ii. FRANCES PACKARD.
- iii. EDWIN PACKARD.
- iv. EVELINE PACKARD.

25. NEWELL ⁴ BULLEN (Jesse ³, Samuel ², Philip ¹), born in Hallowell, Me., 18 Aug. 1809, died in Salt Lake City, Utah, 2 Mar. 1858, aged forty-nine. He married probably in Mercer, Me., about 1836, CLARISSA-JUDKINS ATKINSON, born in Winthrop, Me., 20 May 1806, died in Richmond, Utah, 28 Dec. 1894, aged eighty-eight, daughter of William and Mary (Blunt) Atkinson of Wayne, Winthrop and Industry, Me.*

William Atkinson of Industry died intestate in 1814, and his widow, Mary, was granted administration on his estate, 5 Sept. 1814. No list of heirs presented. (Somerset Probate.)

Descendants of Newell Bullen, now living in Utah, wrote the compiler that Newell Bullen was born in Kennebec County, Me., and had brothers Ansel and Harrison, further that, "Newell Bullen, his wife and three sons, boarded the ship Brooklyn which left New York, Feb. 6, 1846, for California. This ship went down around Cape Horn and landed at San Francisco, July 30, 1846. This ship had aboard about 243 "Mormons" (among whom were the Bullens), all of whom were under the direct supervision of Sam Brannan . . . Newell Bullen and Family made their way to Utah arriving at Salt Lake City some time before 1850. It is rather generally understood that Cincinnati died and was buried somewhere on the desert between California and Utah."†

Newell Bullen has also been called Newell-Francis-Ebenezer Bullen.

In 1840, Newell Bullen, a tanner, was living in Mercer, with a family of two males, under five; one male, between thirty and forty; and one female, between thirty and forty. In 1850, he was a resident of Salt Lake City, a farmer, aged forty-three, born in Maine; with wife Clarissa Bullen, aged forty-four; son Hershel, aged eleven, both born in Maine; son John-Joseph, aged three, born in California. In 1860, we find the widow, Clara-J. Bullen, aged fifty-three, born in Maine, as head of family, consisting of son Hershel, aged twenty, born in Maine; son John-J., aged twelve, born in California; and son Newell, aged eight, born in Utah.

There are a few land records in the name of Newell Bullen in Somerset County, as seen below; land and probate records in Utah were not searched.

25 Nov. 1834, Horace Daggett, of Mercer, sells land there to Newell Bullen, of same, wife, Jane Daggett, releases her dower, same date, Newell mortgages said property to said Daggett, no dower release. (Somerset Deeds, 38: 256; 37: 424.)

8 Dec. 1835, Enos Field, of Mercer, conveys to Newell Bullen, tanner, of same, a tan yard there, bounded by James Atkinson, Phebe Field releases dower rights; same date, Bullen mortgages to Field said tan yard. (ibid., 39: 86.)

18 Apr. 1836, Newell Bullen, of Mercer, tanner, sells land there near the tan house to Samuel Cordis, of same; no dower release. (ibid., 42: 117.)

7 Jan. 1837, Newell Bullen, of Mercer, tanner, conveys land and tan yard there to James Atkinson, of same; no wife's release of dower. (ibid., 37: 225.)

*See account of Atkinsons in History of Industry, page 501.

†The compiler is under great obligations to Roy Bullen of Salt Lake City for his help about this branch.

Mercer, a town some twelve miles south of Skowhegan, and some twenty miles south of St. Albans, was established in 1804.

In 1844, Harrison-O. Bullen, with wife Mary-G. Bullen assign over to Thomas-J. Hayden of Winslow all her right of dower in certain pieces of land there, comprising the estate of late Josiah-D. Hayden. (Kennebec Deeds, 155: 105.)

John-B. Turner was much older than his wife, and apparently had been married before, for in the census of 1820, we note that he was living in St. Albans, aged between twenty-six and forty-five, with one female of same age. In 1840, he was still of St. Albans, with a family of one male under five; one male between fifty and sixty; one female between five and ten; one between ten and fifteen; and one between twenty and thirty. In 1850, he does not appear. It is probable that the female between ten and fifteen listed in the 1840 census was a daughter by his first marriage.

1 Oct. 1819, Caleb Jewett, of Norridgewock, Me., sells 100 acres in St. Albans to John-B. Turner, of Newport, Me. Same date, Turner re-conveys. (Somerset Deeds, 9: 385, 386.)

26 Mar. 1823, John-B. Turner, of St. Albans, yeoman, quitclaims to Caleb Jewett, of Norridgewock, all right to certain land in St. Albans. (ibid., 13: 211.)

29. HANNAH⁴ BULLEN (*Philip*³, *Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in Hallowell, Me., 18 Aug. 1805, died in Randolph, Me., 27 Nov. 1886. She married in Hallowell, 19 Nov. 1829 (intention dated 30 Oct.), CALEB HUNT, born in Pittston,* Me., 2 Sept. 1802, died in Gardiner, Me., 6 Feb. 1894, son of Ephraim and Patience (Cushman) Hunt.

A family record states that Caleb Hunt was born in Cape Elizabeth, Me., 7 Jan. 1802. An obituary of his, records that Caleb Hunt was but five years of age when he moved to Pittston, that from there he went to Winthrop, Me., thence to Chelsea, Me., and finally, that he settled in Gardiner; that he left two sons, Howard and Edward, three daughters, Mrs. S.-G. Smith, Mrs. Judge Barnard, and Mrs. H.-E. Merriam, and a brother, Winslow Hunt.

Caleb Hunt lived on the old Bullen property in Chelsea, and his granddaughter, Mellie-Marion Hunt, is the owner of the original Samuel Bullen deed of 1763, which is quoted at length under the account of Samuel² Bullen.

Another descendant, Henry-Monmouth Smith, of Brookline, Mass., has in his possession several interesting articles, once owned by the Bullens (see the account of Philip³ Bullen). His sister, Miss Anna-Leland Smith, of Middletown, Conn., is the owner of an old clock, described as a "Terry mantel clock with brass balls and painted front," which has wooden works, and is still keeping time. Miss Smith also has a brown oblong Staffordshire dish that once belonged to Anna Hoyt, other old pieces that were once the prized property of her grandmother Hunt, and one of the samplers mentioned and quoted under the account of Philip³ Bullen.

The articles in the plate designated, "Bullen Heirlooms," are the property of Miss Anna-Leland Smith.

The Samuel Terry mantel clock was in the Bullen homestead from early in the nineteenth century. The names and dates of the following clock repairers appear on the inside of the door, J. Williams, Dec. 21, 1805; C. Sweetser, Portland, Jan. 2, 1838; Brittain, Sept. 18, 1849; and S. Still, Nov. 28, 1891.

The yellow slipware earthen bowl (stated to be early seventeenth century) was used by Hannah (Bullen) Hunt as a mixing bowl. The sugar bowl on the right is of lilac Staffordshire ware, and belonged to Susannah (Hoyt) Bullen, wife of Philip³ Bullen. The sugar bowl on the left, cover missing, is of the same ware, and was part of a set owned by Hannah (Bullen) Hunt.

The white glazed china with pale lavender flower decoration was purchased about 1835, and was Hannah (Bullen) Hunt's "best set."

When in his ninety-second year, Caleb Hunt wrote his grandson, Henry-Monmouth Smith, then a student in college, a very interesting letter, still in Mr. Smith's possession, a copy of which follows:

"Gardiner Feb. 25th/92

My Dear Harry

according to your Request I will give you the best information I can I have a family Record of my Grandfathers family made by my Aunt Marey. in an old account Book of my Grandfathers which beceens in 1766

my Grandfathers Name was Daniel Hunt. my Grandmothers maden name was Mary Winslow I cannot find the name of the place whare he lived in the old Boock. the most that I remember is that they lived in Billricke [crossed out and in same hand Wareham inserted] Mass. before comeing to Maine my Grandmother died in 1788 being 69 years old. She did not come to maine My Grandfather I remember he died in 1811 he was 96 years old. they had eleven 11 children 5 sons 6 daughters, my fathers name was Ephraim born in 1761. Father died in 1855 and was 94 years old. there was twelve of us children 9 boys and three girls your Mother can tell you there names My Mothers maden name was patience Cushman of Belfast meain her fathers name was Apolos they [had] 4 sons and three 3 daughters. I neaver was much acquainted with my Uncles or Aunts on eighther side my Mother was 50 when she died. Apollos my oldest brother was 91 when he died. Daniel 20. Elisha 75 Ephraim 57 Silvia 75 Joshua 50 Mary 53 Susanna 17

My Aunt Mary "[Hunt never married]" used to be called molly. & we all used to call her Aunt molly. she was a 104 years old when she died your Mother can remember her her Father used to carry on the foundry business & I can remember of hearing her say they would have a pot of stued beans for dinner & at night what was left of the dinner was made into bean poriage & with a lofe of brown bread all the men would help themselves from the large boll * of poriage that stud in the midel of the tabel them was happy days this was before the date of the Book I see by the Book that he then delt in lumber I should be glad if I could find out whare he lived at that time but probely never shall with regard to the Bullen's side of my famiely my Wife's Grandfather baught of the propiretors, that baught of King James the first, which was the plymouth compeny they bought all the land on the cannebec river from a place called Negumkike fifteen miles on boath sides of the river for four hundred pounds sterling this was the plymoth compeny this compeny sold to four men which were the propiretors that sold to Samuel Bullen the farm on which Howard now lives in 1763 Samuel Bullen came from Billrica he bought 250 acres runing two miles from the Kannebec river east, my Wifes father sold of all the second mile. I remeber hearing my wife tell how happy her Grandmother said she was when she moved into there own house built on there owne farm. built in one day from wet boards right out of the River for she had ben pent up with others in a not much better house than hers then was. this was on the bank of the River & no road, but a path along the bank of the River. the land then was full of large pine trees. of which they could sor boards two feet wide & when the men went to there work up to whare the house now stands it was so far that they took there dinner with them & her Grandfather cought a bair Just behind whare the Barn now stands. the considerations as I find them are that the said Samuel Bullen build a House not less than 20 feet square, a 7 foot shed clear and bring too fit for tiliage five acres of land within three years from date and actualy live & dwell upon the premisses Left him duering said term or in case of his death His heires or some other one shall live there upon for seven years after the expiration of the first three years also work upon the lot or in building a House for public worship of God two days in a year for ten years also two days in year on the public roads untell said lands shall be Incorporated into a township. this is what he the said Samuel Bullen paid for the premises & he or his heirs had the privilege of cutting of the timber & I to clear the stumps & the large rocks. so that now we can mow a 100 acres with the mowing macean. there is the fifth Generation coming up on that old farm I aded 30 acres to it now it contains 130 acres worth 6,000"

36. JOSEPH ADDISON ⁵ BULLEN (*Joshua*⁴, *Joshua*³, *Samuel*², *Philip*¹), born in New Sharon, Me., 27 Nov. 1827, died in Pueblo, Colo., 30 Dec. 1895, aged sixty-eight years. He married in Indianapolis, Ind., 26 Oct. 1854, ANNE-MARIA PARKER, born there, 13 Feb. 1838, died in Denver, Colo., 22 Apr. 1899, daughter of Wilson and Nancy (Woolen) Parker.

Mr. Bullen was the founder and the president of the Bullen Bridge and Construction Company and lived successively in New Sharon, St. Paul, Minn., Leavenworth, Kans., and Pueblo.

The following account was sent the compiler by Mrs. Hollister, a daughter of Joseph-Addison Bullen:

Joseph Addison Bullen was born in New Sharon, near Farmington, Me., 27 Nov. 1827. His parents were Joshua and Clarissa Hoyt Bullen. He had the splendid foundation in education given by New England Schools, which taught men to think, and which with his later experiences and travel developed in him a well trained and versatile mind. He lived on his father's farm until almost twenty-one years of age, when having inherited a pioneer instinct worthy of his ancestors, he went west to Ohio and Illinois where he taught school for short terms during two years.

When the great gold rush to California came, Addison Bullen induced his brother Charles Augustus, two years his senior, to undertake the trip with him. In 1850 they met in St. Paul, Minn., traveled by river steamer to St. Louis and from there to St. Joseph, Mo. Here they outfitted. Having consulted a pioneer they took his advice and for the trip purchased each a saddle mule, also a pack mule and camping outfit. They contracted with a wagon train to carry their extra baggage consisting of supplies, a few books and some clothes. This enabled them to travel independently; sometimes they would join some wagon train through hostile Indian country, but much of the time they camped by themselves. So they rode "mule back" to Sacramento reaching there after a three months' trip.

From there they went to the gold fields, took up placer claims, built their own shacks and worked as men of their hardy New England stock well knew how. After two years the brothers returned to the family home in Maine, but for a short visit only. The result of their toil netted them each about four thousand dollars in gold dust. Their return trip to Maine was made by water from San Francisco to Nicaragua, thence across the Isthmus and by vessel to Boston.

After visiting his family, Addison returned to the West. His first business venture was with a syndicate of men in Washington who having watched the rapid growth the city of Chicago was making, were induced to send him on an exploring expedition to the head of Lake Superior, intent to start a new city in that location. About 1853, Mr. Bullen went, with only Indian guides, from St. Paul through an unbroken wilderness to the western end of

Joseph Addison Bullen

Lake Superior, where he located, surveyed, and laid out, the City of Superior, Wis.

Quoting from a book published in the late fifties or early sixties, entitled "The Early History of Minnesota": "J. A. Bullen of St. Paul, Minn., was the first white man to build his camp fire on the shore of Lake Superior at the point where the city of that name now stands."

For the best part of two years he was engaged in this work, which took him occasionally to St. Paul, which was in those days the most important city in that region, being the head of navigation on the Mississippi River. It was there that he met Anne Maria Parker who had been taken by her Uncle, a Kentucky planter, for the great river trip to St. Paul. Joseph Addison Bullen and Anne Maria Parker were married at her home in Indianapolis, Ind., 26 Oct. 1854.

At that time there was a movement towards the West, and St. Paul was experiencing a tremendous growth. Having wonderful water power and being close to the great white pine forests of Wisconsin it seemed destined to become a city of great importance. After his marriage, it was to St. Paul that Mr. Bullen took his bride, a girl of seventeen. The country was inhabited by Indians, friendly enough with the white settlers most of the time, but ugly when drunk, and it was a dangerous surrounding for the early settlers.

In 1854 and 1855, the Government opened for settlement the Indian lands around Leavenworth, Kans., Mr. Bullen had been industrious and had done fairly well in purchasing and selling property around St. Paul. The field at Leavenworth, however, seemed more promising to him, so in 1856, he moved there. At the government land sale, he purchased for a syndicate eighty acres of land which now forms the southeastern quarter of the City of Leavenworth. This was laid out into town lots known as Day's Addition. It was here that he built his home on a two acre tract of land, a beautiful location in a natural hardwood forest. He belonged to the Masonic fraternity, and both Mr. and Mrs. Bullen were charter members of the First Congregational Church of Leavenworth.

In ten years time a city of twenty thousand people sprung up. Fort Leavenworth adjoining the city had been an important post for the Government during the Mexican War and is today one of the finest and most important military posts in the country.

When the Civil War broke out this was the extreme edge of civilization. This section was infested with bush-whackers, and guerrilla warfare was rampant. The question of whether Kansas should be admitted to the Union as a free or slave state was one of the leading causes of the war. The settlers in this country of John Brown's activities were never safe. Mr. Bullen and most of the Leavenworth settlers were staunch Union men. Across the river, Missouri was a slave country and settlers there sympathized with the Confederates.

During the war, 1861 to 1865, and for a time afterwards, Mr. Bullen undertook the extra hazardous problem of furnishing the United States Government with provisions and hay at Fort Laramie, Wyo. He transported his provisions by ox teams from "St. Joe" to Laramie, a distance of nearly 700 miles, through a territory infested by hostile Indians. One entire wagon train was captured by the Indians, the goods and cattle stolen, and the wagons burned. The foreman of the outfit, a negro, was the only survivor.

About 1873, Mr. J. A. Bullen joined a company organized for the purpose of building a railroad out of Dallas, Tex., northwest, with the ultimate intention of extending it to Denver, Colo. It was incorporated as the Dallas and Wichita R. R., with Dr. J. W. Calder of Pennsylvania as President and himself as General Superintendent. He secured the right of way for the railroad, but, after forty miles of grading had been completed, the money panic of 1877-1878, made the financing of the undertaking impossible, and internal dissensions, among the members of the organization, caused the abandonment of the project. This start, however, really formed the nucleus for the organization which later built the present Fort Worth and Denver R. R., now the Colorado & Southern.

After this, Mr. Bullen returned to Leavenworth where he started in a small way the business that he followed the rest of his life. He had always been a pioneer and a pathfinder. After the Civil War, the State of Kansas was rapidly settled by soldiers of the Union Army. It composed a great fertile empire. When Mr. Bullen, in 1875, commenced to build a few small highway bridges, around Leavenworth, the two eastern tiers of counties in Kansas were the only ones well settled. In this territory he commenced building highway bridges for towns, townships, and counties. His was a new business in a new country. As the State settled up farther west his business followed the settlement and extended also into Nebraska, as well as into Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois. In 1884, he organized the Bullen Bridge Company and extended his operations into Colorado; the organization which he founded built up a large business. In 1887, he built the first iron bridge in Pueblo, Colo., across the Arkansas River. Pueblo was then booming and his company for many years built most of the iron and steel highway bridges in Colorado. His bridge building had advanced from wooden to wood and iron combination bridges, then to all iron bridges, and finally to all steel structures. So favorably was his work regarded that for many years his company had almost a monopoly in bridge construction in that section. His business so centered around Pueblo, that in 1892, he moved his residence there from Leavenworth.

The State of Idaho was growing rapidly in the early nineties. There was scarcely an iron bridge in the State. Almost in the van with early settlement, Mr. Bullen's company built most of the bridges in the vicinity of Boise, Idaho City, and along the valley of the Payette River, extending its operations to Eastern Oregon. Most of his work was done through Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Montana, and Oregon.

In 1893, the only bridges for highway traffic across the Willamette River, in Portland, Oreg., were two crude wooden structures. Mr. Bullen's company built the first steel bridge in the city crossing the Willamette River on Burnside Street. He established a western office in Portland where the coast business of his company was handled for years after his death.

He built hundreds of bridges large and small from as far east as Illinois and west to Portland, Oreg. As one of the pioneer contractors he made an enviable record.

THE ISLAND OF JERSEY

BY REV. FRANCIS DE GRUCHY, Rector of S. Peter's, Jersey

Jersey is one of the islands lying near the north coast of France and called the Channel Islands. These islands formed part of the province of Neustria, situated in the north of France. A large portion of this province was ceded to the Norman trader and sea-rover, Rollo, by Charles the Simple of France by a treaty made between the said Rollo and Charles in the year 912. The territory that was thus ceded, which included the Channel Islands, was called Normandy. From this period to the present time, Jersey has belonged to the Dukes of Normandy and their successors, the Kings of England.

There is some little doubt as to what race of people inhabited Jersey just prior to what may be termed present historical times, although there is every reason to believe that it was made a dwelling-place both by Basques and Kelts,—settlers from Germany and Scandinavia also frequenting the place,—whilst there is some evidence to shew that it was not unknown to the Romans, some historians going even so far as to believe that Caesar himself visited the Island.

The first time, however, that the Island became famous was when Helevius, a Christian hermit, whose dwelling place is still shewn at Elizabeth Castle, was brutally murdered by those Norman pirates who at that time ravaged the coast of the north of France and adjacent islands. One of the same race, a nobleman, in after days founded the Abbey called “L’Abbaye de S. Hélier,” from which the capitol of Jersey takes its name.

Then, coming to later times, for the space of eighty years,—837–912 A.D.,—there is no doubt but that Jersey was the scene of piratical outrages. Charles the Simple of France, however, put an end to these disturbances by compounding with Rollo, who was the leader of these Norman pirates. Rollo’s name is still revered on the Island,—and worthily,—for he became a powerful ruler both over Jersey and the adjacent places. First embracing Christianity and being baptised in the Christian faith, he was, on these conditions, granted by Charles the Simple of France, by treaty in 912 A.D., not only the Island of Jersey but also that considerable portion of the mainland of the Continent now called Normandy.

Then from the time of Rollo, six dukes of Normandy were lords and masters of the Island: William Longsword (son of Rollo); Richard the Intrepid; Richard II, so-called The Good; Richard III, who, dying unmarried, left his duchy to Robert the Magnificent; and William the Conqueror, a son of Arlette, daughter of a tanner of Falaise, and born at that place in 1027 or 1028.

For the proper understanding of the history of Jersey subsequent to the year 1066, the year in which William the Conqueror ascended the English throne, it must be remembered that he was, in his own right, Duke of Normandy; hence, Jersey and the rest of the Channel Islands, as belonging to this Norman dukedom, became in a way attached to the English Crown, though in reality they were separate possessions belonging not to England, but to its King, as his own personal property.

When William the Conqueror died, he bequeathed the Channel Islands with, and as a portion of, the Duchy of Normandy to Robert of Normandy, his eldest son; William Rufus (1087–1100), the second son, succeeding to England; * whilst upon the death of the latter, Henry, the Conqueror's youngest son, became king (1100–1135) and, dispossessing his elder brother, Robert, of the Duchy of Normandy at the battle of Tenchebrai in the year 1106, he thus, as King of England, came into possession of the Channel Islands, which since that date—with short intervals—have been in their entirety, dependencies of the English Crown, although still keeping up the old connection with Normandy. It is interesting to note that His Majesty King George is at times named as Duke before that of King in Jersey.

The institutions, laws, and customs of the Channel Islands were originally derived from Normandy, and their constitutions were based on "La Coutume de Normandie," and this "Coutume" is in force, in many respects, in Jersey at the present time.

In the year 1204, John, King of England, was stripped of Normandy and other possessions in France by Philip Augustus, King of France; but the Channel Islands remained faithful to John and to his successors. It has been very generally believed in the Channel Islands that some of the free institutions which they possess are due to King John, that after the loss of Normandy he gave to the Islands a free constitution, a charter of liberties, as a reward for their attachment to the

* According to the old Norman law, any property that a man inherited must go to the eldest son, but any that he acquired by purchase, conquest, or grant was his to will as he saw fit. Hence, William the Conqueror was obliged to give his inherited estate of Normandy and the Channel Islands to his eldest son Robert, but England, being his by conquest, he could give to his younger son William Rufus, which he did.

English Crown; but this is doubtful. It is remarkable, however,—yet a most happy circumstance,—that these islands, at the time when Normandy was reunited to the Crown of France under Philip Augustus, should have separated themselves from their mother country (Normandy) and proved themselves most devoted and loyal to the English Crown.

DE CARTERET OF S. OUEEN'S, JERSEY

1. GUY DE CARTERET, Lord of the Barony of Carteret in Normandy about 1000, is the earliest ancestor to which this line has been traced. He was called L'Oiseleur (The Fowler). He died A.D. 1004.

Children:

- i. WILLIAM succeeded his father in 1004, taking upon himself sovereign authority in the Barony of Carteret, but died without issue.
2. ii. GODFREY.

2. GODFREY DE CARTERET (Guy) succeeded his brother William at the latter's death. He founded the Abbey of Fontenelle on his return from a pilgrimage to a Shrine. He married and had four sons, among them two whose names are known.

Children:

3. i. ONFROI (Humphrey), the heir, b. prob. abt. 1036.
- ii. MAUGIER.

3. ONFROI DE CARTERET (Godfrey, Guy) was Lord of the Barony of Carteret, succeeding his father, born probably about 1036. With his brother, Maugier (Mauger), he came with Duke William to England in 1066 and fought at Hastings. They are mentioned by Wace in his "Roman de Rou" in the list of the Norman Barons and Knights.

*"E de Bohun, le vieil Onfrei,
De Cartrai, Onfrei e Maugier
Ki estoit novel chevalier."*

In his old age he gave much wealth to the Abbey of Fontenelle. He probably had several children, but only one is preserved in the pedigree.

Child:

4. i. SIR REGINALD.

4. SIR REGINALD DE CARTERET (Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy). Knight, Lord of the Barony of Carteret in Normandy and S. Ouen's* in Jersey, born about 1066, died between 1125 and 1135. He married LUCIA ———. According to a manuscript roll, formerly preserved in the Cathedral of Bayeux, he was present with other knights under Robert Courte-heuse and Godfrey de Bouillon, Duke of Lorraine, at the taking of Jerusalem. In 1125, he gave to the Abbey of Mont S. Michel, Normandy, the Church of S. Germaine of Cartrait, with all its appurtenances and also the land belonging to it in Jersey, being the King's "Almoyne." He further gave tithes of his household goods, "decima bonarum domus mee."

Children:

5. i. SIR PHILIP, the heir, b. abt. 1095; m. NICOLAA ———.
- ii. HUMPHREY.
- iii. GEOFFREY.

5. SIR PHILIP DE CARTERET (Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Lord of Carteret and S. Ouen's, born probably about 1095, died in 1156. He married about 1120, NICOLAA ———.

In 1130, because of his safeguarding at sea in a shipwreck and in pursuance of a vow made then, he erected and endowed the parish church of S. Philip de Torteval in Guernsey. In 1135, he confirmed his father's gifts to the Abbey of Mont S. Michel, having previously refused to recognise them, adding thereto the tithes of his mills and land adjoining his manor in Jersey. In 1156, he gave to Mont S. Michel, the abbot of which was a kinsman, Robert de Thorigny or, as he was called, Robert "de Monte," the Church of S. Ouen and the Chapel of S. Mary, both in Jersey. Again only the name of the heir is given.

Child:

6. i. SIR REGINALD, b. prob. abt. 1125.

6. SIR REGINALD DE CARTERET (Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Lord of Carteret and S. Ouen's, born probably about 1125, living 1156, died before 1200.

Children:

7. i. SIR REGINALD, the heir, b. abt. 1150.
- ii. RICHARD.

7. SIR REGINALD DE CARTERET (Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Lord of Carteret and S. Ouen's, born probably about 1150, died after 1212.

At the time of the invasion of Normandy, King John ordered, 8 July 1203, Peter de Præaus, then "Warden" or Governor of Jersey and Guernsey, to cause to be levied by the hands of Regin. de Cartray, on the inhabitants of those islands a reasonable aid for the maintenance of the knights and men-at-arms engaged in their defence.

*The five seigns haubert of Jersey are S. Ouen, Rosel, Samarès, Melesches, and Trinity. There are one hundred and sixteen seigns subalterne. A "seign de haubert" was a barony held by furnishing a hauberk, shield, and complete armor for a knight.

On the final conquest of Normandy, Reginald de Carteret continued faithful to the English Crown, thus losing his estates in Normandy which included Carteret and others and which escheated to the French King. It was probably mainly through him that Jersey remained an English possession. In 1207-08, the King having insisted on hostages for the fidelity of the principal men of the Island, Reginald de Chartray gave his son Philip, who was committed to the custody of his uncle, Richard de Carteret, then Constable of ——— Castle. He was soon transferred from him, for in 1212 he was in the custody of Stephen de Turnham and was given to Philip d'Albini (d'Aubigne), Warden of the Islands. Soon after an attack was instituted on the islands by Eustace le Moine, possibly in the interest of the revolted barons, but was defeated by the valor of the islanders. King John, satisfied with their fidelity, ordered the hostages to be returned to their people.

Sir Reginald gave to the Abbey of S. Hélier, Jersey, one acre and a half a vergée of land. His wife is not known, and only the name of his heir is preserved.

Child:

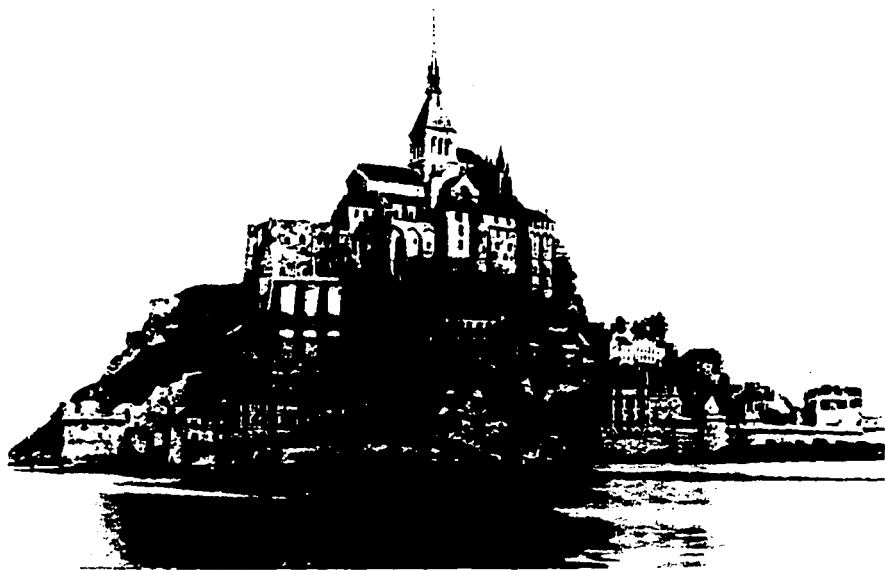

8. i. SIR PHILIP, b. abt. 1175.

8. SIR PHILIP DE CARTERET, Knight, (Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Seigneur of S. Ouen's, born probably about 1175, living 1230, died after 1252.

Sir Philip accompanied Henry III on an expedition to Brittany in 1230-31. For his good service given there with Ameery or Arnold de S. Armand, he was the next year made Warden of the Norman Isles, by Letters Patent, dated Reading, 25 Oct. 1232 ("Insulas de Jeresay, Gernesey, Aueney et Sarcq"). He continued to be of such service to Henry that the King granted him two permits, to endeavor to reclaim his lands and lordship in Normandy, but he failed to obtain them. With Jourdan de la Hogue, he was, in 1252, commanded by the King personally to survey the castles of Jersey and Guernsey and to take stock of their armaments following the dismissal of Drogo de Barentine, Bailly (Warden), then of the islands.

By a charter without date, he gave to the Chapel of S. Mary de la Wic and to the monks of Mont S. Michel, "Ibidem Deo servientibus," 29 perches of land adjoining the manor of la Wic. His wife is not known.*

* It is extremely probable that all these men had large families, but sometimes only a few survived. It is rare, however, when an old pedigree mentions all the children, the daughters are almost never listed and frequently only the eldest son. Unless some court action occurs or a wife is mentioned in a will, her name is generally unknown.

Fondans, to cause certain tithes in parish of S. Ouen's to be arrested by Peter de Arenis, Bailly of Jersey.

9. SIR PHILIP DE CARTERET, Knight (Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Seigneur of S. Ouen's, born probably about 1210, died after 1280. He married about 1232, MARGUERITE, niece and heiress of Philip d'Albini, Bailly of Jersey, and granddaughter of Ralph d'Albini, who died before 1274. He was still Lord of the Manor in 1279.

10. SIR REGINALD DE CARTERET, Knight, (Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Seigneur of S. Ouen's, born probably about 1235, died between 1307 and 1309.

Sir Reginald was in 1274, before the death of his father, as appears by an Inquisition of that date, possessed in right of his mother of lands and tenements in the parishes of S. Peter's and S. John's in Jersey having a yearly value of £20.* In 1270, John, Bishop of Coutance, desired the Dean of Jersey to admonish Reginald de Carteret and his tenants and compel them to permit the Abbess of Caen and her nuns to enjoy their goods and revenue in the Island. Sir Reginald was very conspicuous for his services to Edward I, both by land and sea, and in 1297 was granted by the King a prize of certain wines taken from the enemy. In 1304, he was appointed with Henry de Guldeford, a Judge Itinerant. Three years later the King granted to his beloved and faithful Reginald de Carteret those lands and tenements forfeited in the Island of Jersey by Thomas Paynell and which he held by the death of Robert de Melesches, and the which Otho de Grandison holds by grant of the King for life, to have and to hold to the said Reginald for his life freely and to his heirs forever after his decease, paying yearly sixty livres Tournois and a pound of Le sire le roi a aussi la garde de l'avant dit manoir avec appartenances, quand le cas advient. Et vaut la garde dudit manoir avec appartenances, quand le cas advient année commune 50 livres sterling." (Extente, 1274.) Also Reginald de Carteret held 20 livres in S. Pierre's and S. Ouen's which land Philippe Daubeneys, then Bailly, gave to Philippe de Carteret, father of the said Reginald, with Marguerite, his niece, mother of Reginald; and when Reginald was asked how he held this land he answered that his father and himself after him had held it for forty years and more. In March 1290, Sir Reginald appeared before the Bailly and, with the consent of his eldest son, Philip, ratified and confirmed all the grants made by his ancestors and himself to Mont S. Michel. † This is possibly wrong, as he would be very old.

In 1329, the King signified to the Governor of the Isles of Jersey and Guernsey that whereas Reginald, son and heir to Philip de Carteret, deceased, could not leave the Island of Jersey and come to England personally to do homage to the King for the lands and tenements belonging to his late father by reason of his being Governor of the King's castles there; therefore, he, the King, of his special favor respited him for a year provided he perform the accustomed services. (Woodstock, 8 June, 2 Edward III.) In 1330, Sir Reginald complied with the above and did homage to the King at Amiens on the 8th of June, who thereupon sent letters to John des Roches, Governor of the Islands, stating that he had taken homage of Sir Reginald de Carteret, son and heir to Sir Philip, deceased, of all the lands and tenements which the said Philip held in capite of the King at the time of his death. In the Extente of 1331, he is listed as owning S. Ouen's.

The French, making one of their periodical descents on the Island of Jersey, attacked the Castle of Mont Orgueil, then held by Drew de Barentine, Governor of Jersey, who was killed. Sir Reginald was immediately chosen his successor and, after hard fighting, forced the enemy to retire. He then joined the English fleet under Reynold de Cobham and Geoffrey d'Harcourt and was, with his men, the principal force in the recovery of Guernsey from the French, who had been holding it.

13. SIR REGINALD DE CARTERET, Knight (Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy). Seigneur of S. Ouen's and Captain of the King's Castles in Jersey, born probably in Jersey about 1310, died in 1381. He probably married as early as 1335, as he had seven sons knighted between 1374 and 1377.

He was taxed in 1331, being probably just about twenty-one at the time.* (Extente, 1331.)

This Sir Reginald inherited all the martial vigor of his ancestors. He was a man of brilliant abilities in leadership and plan of campaign. He repulsed Bertrand du Guesclin, the greatest soldier of the age, the only time he was ever defeated. Bertrand du Guesclin came suddenly from Brittany to Jersey in 1374, with ten thousand men, including many of the finest chivalry of France. Sir Reginald in-

* "Regnauld de Cartret fils de Regnauld de Cartret pour un columbier érigé dans le fief de Fale-doit, a la fête de St. Michel." (Extente, 1331.) A "columbier" is a pigeon house, and it is interesting to note that an old estate known as Le Colombier in Jersey was held by a branch of the Fayn family until comparatively recent times.
A dovecote or pigeon house was a much coveted feudal appurtenance, and generally the right to erect one was granted by the Crown.

trenched himself in the Castle of Mont Orgueil, defending it against successive attacks until du Guesclin had to retire with his greatly diminished forces and sail for France. Sir Reginald and his seven sons were knighted in one day for this prowess by Edward III. Of the seven sons only the name of one, his heir, is given. [It seems evident that the Armorial Pedigree is in error in making only one generation between this Sir Reginald's heir and Sir Philip, who was a minor after 1460. The error is probably due to there being two Sir Reginalds between this one and Sir Philip, and this hypothesis is followed here.] Sir Reginald, the heir, was probably not the oldest son in 1374-77, although he was so in 1381.

Ouen's and of Longueville, Bailly of Jersey, born probably about 1360. He is said to have been Bailly in 1446, but he would be a very old man, and it is doubtful if he is identical with the Bailly in that year. He died before 1421 if his son was born about 1400, as seems probable.

16. SIR PHILIP DE CARTERET, Knight, (Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), Seigneur of S. Ouen's, born probably about 1400. He was a minor when his father died, and guardianship on his estate and person was granted to Roger de Walden, Rector of Drayton, Leicestershire, "he paying into the Exchequer ten pounds per annum for which the said Roger gave security." He married, probably about 1425, the daughter and heiress of Sir William NEWTON of Gloucestershire.

Sir Philip inherited the military prowess of his family, and again a de Carteret prevented Jersey from being taken by the French. About 1460, the castle of Mont Orgueil, then the chief stronghold of Jersey, was seized by the Seigneur de Surdeval, a relative and lieutenant of Peter de Brézé, Count of Maulevrier [of Anjou], who later joined his lieutenant and held for six years the six eastern parishes for France. The other parishes held firm for England despite repeated assaults by the French. These loyal parishes were banded together under the command of the Seigneur of S. Ouen's. Philip, in his capacity of commanding officer, had many narrow escapes, at one time leaping his horse across a chasm twenty-two feet wide and eighteen feet deep and thus gaining the safety of his castle. The horse fell dead at the door of the manor house, but its portrait still hangs on its walls. The ancient road is still called "Le Val de Carrière."

Mont Orgueil Castle, Jersey

Philip then gained the coöperation of Richard Harleston, who was off the Guernsey coast with an English fleet. Together, they besieged Mont Orgueil by land and by sea, finally forcing the enemy to yield. Harleston was then made Governor with William Hereby. Sir Philip probably died soon after 1460.

17. PHILIP DE CARTERET (Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy.), born probably in Jersey about 1422, died before his father, probably about 1450. He married, probably about 1445, PERRINE DE CAUX, daughter of Penna de Caux of the Pays of Caux in Normandy.

Child:

18. i. SIR PHILIP, b. abt. 1447; m. MARGARET HARLESTON.

18. SIR PHILIP DE CARTERET, Knight, (Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy.), Seigneur of S. Ouen's, born probably in Jersey about 1447, died in 1500. He married about 1468, MARGARET HARLESTON, daughter of Richard Harleston.

Sir Philip's father died when he was three years old and he succeeded his grandfather. He had a minority of eighteen years, during which he was a ward of the Crown. An old manuscript tells that when he became of age, alder trees grew in the hall of the manor owing to the covetousness of those who were his guardians. This is probably not strictly true.

His wife, Margaret Harleston, is known as the "Heroine of Jersey." During the reign of Henry VII [1485-1509] the Seigneur of S. Ouen's became obnoxious to the then Governor of Jersey, Matthew Baker, because he protested against Baker's abuse of power and unjust taxation. Baker formed a plot against him. He had a forged letter, purporting to come from de Carteret and really written by a man whom the Seigneur had saved from the gallows but who was in the power of the Governor, to be presented to him as he went from the Castle of Mont Orgueil to S. Hélier's. The letter held an offer to betray the Island to France. Baker read the letter and, with false indignation, showed it to the Bailly, who instantly arrested the unsuspecting de Carteret and incarcerated him in a damp and unhealthy dungeon. Here he was given scarcely enough food to keep him alive. Forced by Baker, the author of the letter maintained its authenticity and demanded a trial by combat, expecting an easy victory from the enfeebled Sir Philip.

At first the Seigneur indignantly refused, holding that the man's condition in life was of too low a station to allow him to be met by a man of his rank, but he was forced to agree or die. The lists were prepared and the combat was to take place on the eve of St. Lawrence.

Margaret had not been able to do much for her husband because of a pregnancy, but being now delivered of her child, only three days after its birth, she took a boat with a solitary attendant and sailed secretly for Guernsey, thus eluding the Governor, who had forbidden anyone to leave the Island without his permission. In Guernsey, the Jurat, William de Beauvoir, a friend of the de Carterets, took her in his own boat to Poole from whence she rode hastily to Salisbury, where Henry VII was then holding his court. Baker, in the meantime becoming aware of her absence and dreading to have his wicked designs known to the King, hastened after her to England. On her presenting her case to the King, Henry gave her a warrant under the Great Seal, restoring her husband to liberty and his full honors, and the old papers tell that she left with her precious document by one door just as Baker entered by another. Back she hurried to Jersey, arriving the day before the combat was to ensue. Sir Philip was set free in an enfeebled condition. The lists that had been prepared were examined and found to be pitted with holes. It was obvious that Sir Philip's death was to be a sure thing, his opponent would be able, through knowledge of their positions, to avoid the pitfalls, but Sir Philip's horse was bound to stumble and throw him. Baker was degraded from his position and in order to avoid a similar abuse of power, the right to appoint the Baillies and Deans of the Island was taken from the Governor and vested in the Crown. This custom still persists and prevents collusion between the various arms of the government of the Island.

Sir Philip never recovered his health, and was not an old man when he died.

Children, probably all born in Jersey:

- i. PHILIP, b. prob. abt. 1468, d. y.
- ii. EDWARD, the heir, b. prob. abt. 1470; m. (1), unknown; m. (2), MARY SARRE, dau. and sole heiress of Simon Sarre. From him descended the Seigneurs of S. Ouen's, who continued to hold Jersey for the British Crown.*
- iii. RICHARD, to whom Katherine of Vinchêlez, dau. of John and Perronelle de Vinchêlez, left her property and who founded the de Carterets of Vinchêlez en Haut. In 1516, the heirs of John de Vinchêlez "now Ri^d Cartret" paid a tax on it.†
- iv. HELIER, Bailly of Jersey in 1515, b. prob. abt. 1474, or later, who d. in 1560, leaving a dau. Margaret, who m. (1), Clement Dumaresq and (2), another Helier de Carteret.

And thirteen more sons, whose names are not given.

19. PETER DE CARTERET (Sir Philip, Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), born probably in Jersey about 1478, death unknown.

He was Lieutenant-Bailly of Jersey in 1532; mentioned as brother of the Bailly in 1533.

Children, at least:

20. i. GEORGE,† b. prob. abt. 1505; m. JEANNE MESSERVY.
- ii. KATHERINE; m. LAURENS AUQUETEL.

20. GEORGE DE CARTERET (Peter, Sir Philip, Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), born probably in Jersey about 1505, died there after 1566. He married, probably about 1530, JEANNE MESSERVY, born probably about 1513, died in 1565, daughter of Edmond and Catherine (Payn) Messervy.

* Edward had also, probably by his first wife, a daughter, Collette, who m. (1), Michel le Couteur and (2), John de Soulement, her daughter Isabel de Soulement m. 1572, Edward Messervy. (See Messervy Line.)

† Philip de la Hougue and Katherine his wife, daughter and heiress of John de Vinchêlez and Perronelle his wife, deceased, the said Katherine having the authority of her husband, the said Philip, gave to her godson, Richard de Carteret, son of Philip de Carteret of S. Ouen's her manor of de Vinchêlez, if she died without issue. This was about 1488. She died without issue and he succeeded. This caused trouble as her legal heirs, the Dumaresques, and others, objected to her thus willing away what should be theirs. The matter drifted for about one hundred years and then an amicable settlement was effected. The heirs who objected to Richard having the property were John, son of Thomas Dumaresq and Jeanne le Bagot; John, son of Jacques Dumaresq; John Dupont; Phillipot and Peter Horman; and Guille and John Godfrey. Perhaps Katherine was also of de Carteret blood.

‡ The Jersey Armorial makes this George die without issue but, as the Messervy Genealogy proves, the Armorial is often in error. Recent investigation verifies the statement in the Messervy Genealogy, that it was George the son of Peter who married Jeanne Messervy.

George de Carteret was Connétable of S. Peter's in 1546 and Juré-Justicier from 1549 to 1566.

Child:

21. i. JEAN, b. abt. 1532; wife unknown.

JEAN DE CARTERET (George, Peter, Sir Philip, Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), born probably in Jersey about 1532, died after 1607.

John de Carteret was Connétable of S. Ouen's from 1595 to 1601. He is mentioned in 1555 and 1560 and with Jean Haulcoil, on 15 Oct. 1590. (Catel Livre 13.) Taxed in 1607. (Extente, 1607.)

Children:

22. i. PHILIP, b. prob. abt. 1570; m. CATHERINE MESSERVY.
Probably others.

22. PHILIP DE CARTERET (Jean, George, Peter, Sir Philip, Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Philip, Sir Philip, Sir Reginald, Sir Reginald, Onfroi, Godfrey, Guy), born probably in Jersey about 1570, died in 1644. He married in 1595, CATHERINE MESSERVY,* born probably about 1573, died about 1648, daughter of Edward and Isabel (de Soulément) Messervy.

Philip de Carteret was of S. Ouen's, Connétable there from 1632-36. In 1607, a Philip de Carteret, son of John, paid a tax for Hacoul in discharge of Vincent Gabourel. (Extente, 1607.) Also Philip de Carteret fils John for discharge of John Hacquoil, etc., and Philip, son of John, is mentioned, 17 Aug. 1583. This may be the Philip who married Catherine Messervy, but possibly is one of the de Carterets of Vinchélez en bas.

Children:

- i. MARGUERITE,† b. prob. abt. 1612; m. JEAN BALLEINE. [See Ancestry of Philip Bullen.]

* Catherine Messervy married "Philippe de Carteret, d'auprès de l'Eglise de St. Ouen Connétable de cette paroisse, 1630-36, ob. 1644." He was "fils aîné de Jean de Carteret, Connétable de S. Ouen, 1595-1601, fils aîné de George de Carteret, Jure Justicier 1549-1566, et de Jeanne, sa femme, fille de Edmond Messervy." (Messervy Genealogy.)

† It must be borne in mind that it is hard to get a full list of children in a Jersey family before the church records begin, owing to the way property was regulated by law. The heir was entitled to the house and two acres of land and then one-tenth of the remaining land, subject to his mother's dower, the widow had her right in one third of the real estate including the house and one-third of the money, being enabled to dispose of the latter. Two-thirds of the balance of the real estate went to the other sons, including the heir, and the other one-third to the daughters who, however, had their dowries out of the property. But no daughter could inherit more than a son. This refers to property inherited by a man who could dispose of other property (obtained by purchase or grant), but if he tried to will away inherited property his will was voided. Hence many men left no wills. For this reason it is frequently the case that only the name of the heir survives.

MESSERVY

ARMS—Or, three cherries gules stalked vert.

One of the earliest mentions of this name is of Jean Messervy, who was one of the "Anciens" of the parish of S. Martin's and possibly the same as that Jean Messervy of S. * The Messervy Genealogy states that Catherine, wife of Edmond Messervy, was the youngest daughter of Michel Payne by his first wife, Jeannette de Bouvoir. The Jersey Armorial, in its Payn pedigree, gives only one wife, Mabel de Carteret, to Michel Payn. As the Messervy Genealogy is much more carefully compiled than the Armorial, it is extremely probable that it is correct.

* If Abraham was born in 1616, he was only eighteen when he married.

† In the Exécute of 1668, in the parish of S. Martin's, Edward and Michel are found being taxed. An Edward Payn is thus identified, "Edward Payn, fr; Edward, cā māt: fille d'Adam la Cloche pour le tenement Jean Nordest." (Société Jersaise, Bulletin for 1882, pp. 2, 5, 8, 113.) Unless Edward Payn was born much earlier than 1650, he would not be this one, but it is possible that the children are out of order and that Edward was born about 1633. But if this is the case, then Edward, the father of Michel and Edward, married also a daughter of Adam la Cloche. Possibly she was a second wife and the mother of Edward, Jr.

Michel Sarre, who married a daughter of Jean Beaudains, son of Edward, for the Fief Guillaume Payn, and is again listed as paying another sort of tax for the same man. (Extente of 1668, pp. 2, 5, 7, 8, 10, 113.) Probably this was some property of his great grandfather's.

Children, born probably in S. Martin's, Jersey:

- i. EDWARD, b. 1668, Seigneur du Fief Payn; m. SUSAN DUFRESNE. Children (PAYN), (1), Michel, b. 1702; d. unm.; (2) Edward, b. 1706, Seigneur du Fief Payn; (3) Rachel, m. John Collas.

The following items pertaining to an earlier member of the Balleine family who was in America for a number of years seem of interest.

CAPT. JAMES BOLLEN

SECRETARY OF NEW JERSEY COLONY

Sir George de Carteret, a son of Elias de Carteret, of S. Peter's, Jersey, who was younger brother of Sir Philip de Carteret, famous victim to the royalist cause of Charles I, became interested about 1660 in the new colonies in America. Sir George married the daughter of Sir Philip, by his wife, Anne Dowse, thus becoming his uncle's son-in-law as well as nephew. Naturally Sir Philip wished to advance the young man's fortunes and found in him one whose courageous spirit and fine intellect made him worthy of the great trusts he bestowed upon him. After Sir Philip's death, Sir George became the principal man of the day in Jersey, and that he did not confine his interests entirely to insular things is shown by his appointment as Proprietary Governor of Jersey about 1664. He sent over his young kinsman, Captain Philip de Carteret, then aged about twenty-six, as his representative, who called the territory, "New Jersey," in memory of the homeland. Capt. Philip de Carteret came over to Virginia in 1665, and from there wrote a letter to John Winthrop, of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. It is dated "Newporte newes, Virginia, 13^o Junii 1665," and a postscript says: "Sir—If you please to doe me the favour to let mee Heare from you direct your Letter to Cap^a James Bullaigne in New Yorke." (History Elizabeth, N. J., pp. 49, 50.)

This Capt. James Bullaigne, afterwards called James Bollen or Ballin, came to New York in 1664, probably with the English fleet but, as the historian points out, the fact that Carteret ordered letters sent to him, and the devotion of Bollen to the de Carteret faction through the troublous times that followed, indicates an earlier acquaintanceship in Jersey. As the name is spelled in New York records "Bullaine," and "Balline," there can be little doubt that James was a member of one of the branches of the Balleine family of Jersey, though perhaps not of the one in S. Peter's parish. When the ship "Philip" came to New York on 29 July 1665, and thence to Elizabethtown, carrying Capt. Philip de Carteret with his band of emigrants, Bollen joined him and helped him in establishing the new government. He was made Secretary of the Province and a Justice of the Peace on 20 Jan. 1665-66, thereafter performing most of the marriages that occurred among the colonists. As Secretary he kept the records of the Proprietary Government, and several of the early volumes are written by him. His warm support of the de Carteret party made him obnoxious to the town and on 30 Sept. 1673, he exchanged properties with John Martin of Woodbridge, becoming a citizen of that town and leaving Elizabethtown, which was named for de Carteret's wife, Elizabeth (Smith) Lawrence.

James Bollen, however, retained his proprietary interests. He died intestate in March, 1682-83, having survived his friend Philip de Carteret but a few weeks.

Administration of the estate of Capt. James Bolin, Bollen (Secretary of the Province) was granted to Samuel Moore and Nathaniel Fitzrandolph, 12 May 1683. His personal effects were sold, among the purchasers being an Ann Bollen, presumably the widow. James and Anna Bollen, children of James Bollen of Woodbridge, selected Samuel Moore and Nathaniel Fitzrandolph to be their guardians. (New Jersey Wills, I: 23.)

On 17 June 1714, the inventory of the estate of Rachel Hutchinson of Burlington County, N. J., was taken by James Bollen and his wife Martha, formerly Martha Dennis. (ibid., p. 44.) No further research has been attempted on the descendants of Capt. James Bollen.

DANIEL BULLEN OF HEBRON, ME.

In the Census of 1790 for Maine, there are but four Bullens listed as heads of families. Samuel of Hallowell, his two sons, Samuel, Jr., and Joshua of Sandy River, and a Daniel Bullings of Shepardsfield Plantation, Cumberland County.

As some confusion has resulted about this Daniel Bullen, who was of no connection to the descendants of Philip Bullen, it has seemed wise to give a brief note about him here.

DANIEL BULLEN, of Hebron (Shepardsfield), Me., was born in Sutton, Mass., 9 Apr. 1756, son of Joseph and Mary (Marsh) Bullen, probably a descendant of the Dedham, Mass., Bullen family, death unknown. He married in Sutton, 20 June 1784, LYDIA RAWSON, born there, 23 Apr. 1760, death unknown, daughter of Ebenezer and Sarah (Chase) Rawson.

In 1790 he was of Shepardsfield Plantation, with a family of one male over sixteen, one under sixteen, and two females.

His sons, Daniel, Jr., and John-Rawson, had service in the War of 1812, as follows: Privates in Capt. J. Bemis's Company, Major Blossom's Battalion of Artillery, raised at Paris, service at Portland, 12 Sept. to 14 Sept. 1814. (Adjutant General's Office, Augusta, Me.)
