TO THE PATRONS AND READERS OF THE BOUTON-BOUGHTON GENEALOGY :

It was not until late in life that the compiler of this work became aware of the importance of such an undertaking and addressed himself to the task ; stimulated solely with the aim and purpose of rescuing from oblivion the history of his worthy ancestors, whose useful lives and honored names, but for which, in a few more revolving years would inevitably have become almost unknown to their descendants.

On entering upon the work it very soon became apparent that it had already been too long neglected, and often, when soliciting information relative to the early families, the reply would be, "We have no written account ;" and those who a few years ago could have furnished a full and accurate history have died and left no one possessed of the desired information.

While as a rule the writer takes pleasure in acknowledging the generous assistance of hundreds of those to whom he has applied for information (without which it would have been impossible to have produced such a work), still there have been those who, recreant to the claims of common politeness, have failed to take any notice of his correspondence, and in a few cases, when called on, have met the subject with indifference and its representative with a marked lack of courtesy and good breeding—a characteristic foreign to the Bouton-Boughton race ; and such are accounted unworthy the honor of a place in this history, though they may bear our name ; in feelings and disposition they are not of us. Doubtless many whose names will be sought for in this collection will not be found, for the reason that those of their relatives who were applied to for the account totally neglected to give it, or even give the name and address of such persons known to them who could have furnished the information.

Not the least of the difficulties the compiler of this book encountered, was the question of means to meet the expense of its publication. Had he been possessed of sufficient means to afford it, he would have deemed it a pleasure to have presented to every one bearing the name, a bound volume as a free gift ; but as that was not the case, it was decided to undertake the publication by subscription, and in order to bring the price within the means of as large a number as possible he decided to furnish the entire manuscript, ready for the printer, gratuitously—the estimated cost of which, in time and money, was Three thousand dollars. And then came the difficulty of finding a publisher who would undertake such a risk. It was hoped that, with this inducement, the relatives would order at least two hundred volumes, which, with the bare expense of paper, printing and binding, the cost to them would not exceed five dollars per volume ; and this was made the basis of an agreement between the publishers and the subscribers, in case enough should subscribe to warrant the publishers to undertake the execution of the work. Circulars were sent out to over a thousand whose address had been furnished, but it was about two years before enough had sent in their orders to secure the publishers against loss in issuing the book.

The time consumed in the correspondence, traveling and writing and transcribing the MSS. covered a space of over six years. As before stated the compiler could not afford to give up his business and devote his whole time to it ; the work was done mostly at night, with an average of about five hours for five nights each week, seldom leaving his work until after twelve o'clock at night ; and though exhaustive, it never became burdensome, cheered on with the hope that his labor of love would be by many appreciated, and that by what he has done some successor may be stimulated to continue the work through the ages to come.

Before closing this address the writer would humbly acknowledge his indebtedness to a kind providence that, though advanced in years, neither health nor sight has been impaired by the extraordinary strain put upon them ; and special mention he feels ought to be made of those who have rendered laborious and valuable assistance in collecting the material for this genealogy, a list of which will be found on another page.

Affectionately yours,

JAMES BOUGHTON.

The following autograph of John Bouton, the first of the family name in this country, was written March 25, 1671, and was attached to a statement of his, on a deed. It shows that the name was originally Bouton, and not Boughton, as some have supposed.

John Bouton

INTRODUCTION.

T is claimed that the Bouton-Boughton race has a traditional record or history, dating back to the Fifth Century, when ancient history tells us that clans or tribes of Gauls inhabited the country bordering on the river Rhone, and extending from Lake Geneva to the Mediterranean Sea, but that they were more particularly identified with the Visigoth clan, the head of the Salian tribe under King Hilderi, A. D. 481, who at his death left his son Clovis, king of the tribe.

From this period, during the reign of Clovis, wars for conquest were of frequent occurrence ; the Franks from the north making attacks upon the southern Gauls, were successfully resisted by Clovis, and Syragrius, a Roman usurper, was defeated and his people subjugated by Clovis, who made himself popular with his subjugated subjects by favoring their bishops, and by marrying Holihelde (Clotilde), the niece (or as some historians say) the daughter of the King of Burgundy, a Christian.

Clovis promised his wife that if her God, whose aid he invoked during the battle of Tolbiac, should give him success, then he would embrace her religion, which he subsequently did and was baptized into the Christian faith, and his example was generally followed by his people.

The ancient Bouton Shield, or Coat of Arms, had the following motto on a ground work of perpendicular lines : "De Gules á la Fasce d'Or," which is old French, and translators say implies "a force as of a Leopard when it attacks with its red mouth open."

To the Dictionnaire des Generaux Francais, the compiler is indebted for the following account which was furnished by Wm. S. Bouton, Esq., of South Norwalk, Ct.

“From A. D. 1350, the military and court records abound with the Bouton name for two centuries. Nicholas Bouton, who bore the title of Count Chamilly, Baron Montague de Naton, born, as is supposed, about 1580 and was the father of Harard and John (who were twins), and Noel Bouton, who were Huguenots and refugees during the violent persecutions of the Protestants by the Roman Catholics during the predominance of the Guises in France, at which time many were slaughtered and many escaped to the fastnesses of the surrounding mountains where subsistence was almost impossible. At length the intolerance of the Roman Catholic bigots was overcome and the refugees, many, returned, among whom was the aforesaid Boutons. Noel distinguished himself and was the Marquis de Chamilly, and was subsequently made Marshal of all France, and a life size portrait of him was placed in the gallery of French nobles at Versailles, France, where it is still to be seen.

“The French historian speaking of the Boutons says that it is accorded to a noble ancestry that a proclivity for patriotism, education and religion is seen in the race all down the ages.”

GENEALOGY.

1. JOHN BOUTON, son, as is supposed, of the Count Nicholas Bouton, was a Huguenot and during the existence of the great persecution fled to England, where the Government were offering to send emigrants to America, on condition they would swear allegiance to the Crown of England. A registry of such emigrants was kept at London, a copy of which has been examined by the compiler of this work, and as only one person by the Bouton name is found on that registry, embracing a period of 100 years, from 1600 to 1700, it is supposed that said person was the John Bouton of whom this account is traced, and that all the families of Boutons or Boughtons in this country prior to 1700, were descended from said John Bouton, who embarked from Gravesend, England, in the barque Assurance, July, 1635, and landed at Boston, Massachusetts, in December, 1635, aged 20 years; whether married or not at the time is not known.

He married 1st, Joan Turney, and lived in Boston and Watertown, Mass., and early in the settlement of Hartford, Conn., moved to that place, and again in 1651, soon after the commencement of the settlement of Norwalk, he removed to that place, where his wife Joan soon died, and where he became an influential citizen, and in 1671, and for several years subsequent, he was a representative in the general court of the colony of Connecticut, and served his townsmen in many official capacities in Norwalk. He m. 2d, at Norwalk, Ct., Jan. 1, 1656, Abigail Marvin (dau. of Matthew Marvin, who came from London, Eng.) She was born at Hartford about 1640, and died at Norwalk about 1672. He married 3d, at Norwalk about 1673, Mrs. Mary Stevenson, widow of Jonathan Stevenson, who was killed in a swamp fight with the Indians near Norwalk.

He gave land to his sons John and Matthew, as appears on the Norwalk town records, and at his death, which occurred at Danbury, Ct., 1704-5, he left an estate at Norwalk, a part of which has remained in possession of his descendants until the present time, July, 1888, now over 200 years. A copy of his Will was made from the Fairfield record, and is herewith furnished for publication. (See copy of Wills.)

Children of John Bouton, Sr., and his three wives (1st, Joan Turney 2d, Abigail Marvin; 3d, Widow Mary Stevenson), of Hartford and Norwalk, Conn.

Children of John Bouton by 1st Wife Joan Turney Bouton. 1

- 2 i. RICHARD BOUTON, b. prob. in Mass., about 1639 or 1640, m. Ruth —, lived and died at Norwalk, June 27, 1665. But little has been obtained of his history except that at his death which occurred June 27, 1665, he left to his wife Ruth, all his property, to be hers during her lifetime and then to go to John's son John, evidently having no children of his own at that time.
- 3 ii. BRIDGET BOUTON, b. prob. at Hartford, Ct., about 1642, m. at Norwalk, moved to Stockbridge, Mass. She m., supposed at Norwalk, 1660, Daniel Kellogg, where they lived for several years, and moved, as is supposed, to Stockbridge, Mass., where mention is made of her by the Boutons of that place.

Children of John Bouton, Sr., and Abigail Marvin, of Norwalk.

- 4 iii. JOHN BOUTON, b. Norwalk, Sept. 30, 1659. Was a farmer; m. at Norwalk about 1685, Sarah, dau. of John Greggorie, of Norwalk, where she was born, 1667. They settled at Norwalk where he owned land jointly with his brother Matthew Bouton, which according to town records, he sold Jan. 25, 1693, to Mercy Lockwood, widow of Ephraim Lockwood. The town records of Danbury contains records of his conveyance of lands at that place, and the records of New Canaan state that he, together with John Jr., Nathaniel, Daniel and Eleazar, were among the constituents of the Society of New Canaan.
- 5 iv. MATTHEW BOUTON, b. Norwalk, Dec. 24, 1661. Norwalk records say he sold his land there, and Danbury records mention his sale of land there.

- 22 i. MATTHEW ST JOHN, son of Matthias 3d, g. son of Matthias Jr. and g. g. son of Matthias who emigrated from England and settled at Norwalk about 1650. Said Matthew St. John was born at Norwalk about 1686, married Oct. 13, 1709, Anne Whitney, daughter of John and Elizabeth Smith Whitney of Norwalk, where she was born about 1691. He, Matthew St. John, was of the company who bought Ridgefield of the Indians Sep. 30, 1708. He was chosen lister Dec. 19, 1716, and surveyor, Dec. 20, 1722. April 6, 1723, he sold his whole right at Ridgefield and settled at Pympawaug now in the town of Wilton, Conn.

They were members of the first Cong. church in Norwalk, 1725. March 10th, 1729, ensign Matthew St. John was appointed a committee of the society to visit Hartford and lay before the Legislature a complaint against the town of Norwalk. Feb. 13, 1732, the names of Matthew St. John and wife were included in a list of members of the church of Wilton. He was chosen as clerk of the society at Wilton and served as such from 1731 to 1745, when having bought, Mar. 5, 1745, a farm of Samuel Comstock about two miles north of Sharon Village for £655, old tenor. The church record of their removal dates June, 1745, in which he is called captain and soon after coming to Sharon he was chosen by the church to be their third deacon.

They died at Sharon, he Aug. 3, 1755, she May 9, 1773, aged 82 years, and was buried in the old cemetery, head Sharon St.

(iii) NATHAN WARREN (see Whitney Genealogy, p. 911), b. Norwalk, Conn., May 1, 1777, was 3d child of Eliakim, Jr., and Phebe Bouton Warren and grandson of Eliakim, Sr., and Ann Reed Warren, and great-grandson of Edmund and Elizabeth, dau. of John Bouton, Sr., of Norwalk, Conn. He, Nathan Warren, m. April 24, 1808, Mary Bouton, dau. of Nathan and Abigail Burlock Bouton, and settled at Troy, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., where they (Nathan and Abigail Burlock Bouton) lived and died. She d. Oct. 5, 1827, and he May 24, 1838.

Said Nathan Bouton, father of Mary Bouton Warren, is mentioned in the history of Norwalk, Conn., as a liberal contributor to the rebuilding of the Episcopal church there, after the burning by the British of the old Episcopal church edifice of that place in time of the war.

The beneficent endowment and dedication to the worship of God of the Episcopal church of the Holy Cross, Troy, N. Y., by Mrs. Mary Warren, is said to be the outcome of a Saturday afternoon sewing society for little girls established by his mother, Mrs. Phebe Bouton Warren, early in the present century. Nathan Warren was a vestryman of St. Paul's church, Troy, and a liberal benefactor of the same. Whitney Genealogy says of Mrs. Mary Warren: "She built and endowed in 1844 the beautiful church of the Holy Cross, in Troy, N. Y., as a house of prayer for all people without money and without price; she also supported throughout her life a free school for girls, which has been continued by her sons and is known as the Mary Warren Free Institute. He died Aug. 13, 1834; she died Feb. 8, 1859."

They settled in Hartford until 1845, when they removed to Troy, N. Y. He d. at Troy, March 27, 1887 ; his widow res. at 1827 fifth street, Troy, autumn of 1888.

The following from a Troy newspaper :

“Eleazer A. Peck, who died at Troy, N. Y., on Sunday last, was the son of Dr. Daniel Peck, and a lineal descendant of William Peck, one of the founders of New Haven. He was born at West Stafford, Ct., on December 15, 1815, and there received a common school education. At sixteen years of age he became a clerk in a dry goods store in Hartford and was subsequently a clerk in a jobbing house in New York city. In 1837, after the great fire in New York, he returned to Hartford, and was engaged in the cotton trade, and afterwards in the flour trade. He married Lucy E. Wildman, of Hartford, in 1839, and removed to Troy in 1845, where he ever after resided. In 1848 he, with Joseph Hillman, his partner, under the name of Peck & Hillman, accepted the general agency of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, controlling the whole business of that company in the state of New York excepting the city of New York. During the time they have been the agents of that company it is said they have sent to the office of the company in Hartford $20,000,000. Mr. Peck's life was insured for $35,000. He had three children, all of whom survive him : Mrs. Amasa R. Moore, of Lansingburgh, N. Y., Wm. A. Peck, a civil engineer, of Denver, Col., and Alfred G. Peck, of Cohoes, N. Y. His widow also survives him. He was next to the youngest of a large family of children. Elisha Peck, formerly of Hartford, Daniel A. Peck, of Ellington, who survives him, and Dr. E. D. Peck, of Perrysburgh, Ohio, were his brothers. Mrs. Aholiob Johnson, late of Enfield, Mrs. H. A. Hamilton, of Somers, and Mrs. Henry P. Averill were among his sisters, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Averill surviving him. His character was that of a most sincere, simple and lovable Christian, and he carried sunshine wherever he went, and will be long missed by those who knew him best."

9. DR. CHAUNCEY BOUGHTON, the 6th generation from John Bouton, Sr., from France, son of John and Elizabeth Roberts Boughton, was born at Nassau, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., Jan. 21, 1805. He studied medicine and surgery at the State University Western Dist. of New York, and at Philadelphia, and at New York city. He practiced in hospitals and in eye and ear infirmaries. Eventually finding his health failing, after 25 years' practice at Half Moon, Saratoga Co., N. Y., he retired to agricultural pursuits and various public services. Having inherited a taste for military affairs from his father, he was chosen to the command of a military regiment of Waterford, N. Y. He was also president of the Saratoga County Bank, and president of the Board of Education, and for three years a representative in the Legislature of the State of New York. He was the youngest of his parents' children and the only one living of them all at the date of this writing, autumn of 1886. He married first, Oct. 4, 1828, Ida J. Smith, dau. of Cornell Smith formerly of Virgennes, Vt., where she was born Nov. 14, 1808, they settled at Half Moon, N. Y., from whence they moved to Waterford, N. Y., where she died Oct. 3, 1876. He married second at Saratoga Springs, Oct. 4, 1877, Laura L. Smith, dau. of Isaac L. Smith, of Saratoga Springs, where she was born April 17, 1853, and they settled at his residence in Waterford, Saratoga Co., N. Y., where they were living June, 1889.

NOTE.—Hon. Jay H. Boughton, being an ardent advocate of prohibition, was nominated by the Prohibition party, in 1888, for the office of attorney-general of Colorado.

Personal note by one familiar with all the details :

“Jay H. Boughton was born at Moravia, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Dec. 28, 1849, and received his primary and classical education at the public school and academy there, and at Groton, Tompkins Co., N. Y. He studied law in the office of Wm. W. Hare, Groton, Tompkins Co., N. Y., and Bouton & Chaplain, Cortland, N. Y., where he finished his legal studies, and was admitted to the bar June 8, 1870, at the general term of the Supreme Court at Binghamton, N. Y. Practiced law two years in Cortland, and then removed to Fort Collins, Larimer Co., Col., where he has resided till present writing, about fifteen years, during which time he has held offices of responsibility and trust, embracing county attorney, county judge six years, president of the board of education for ten years, and alderman and member of city council six years, in all of which he may be said to have been honorably and financially successful."

JAY H. BOUGHTON.

The following article, clipped from the Fort Collins "Courier," tells of the estimate in which Hon. Jay H. Boughton is held by his townsmen:

"That the people of Fort Collins, Col., appreciate Judge Boughton's zealous efforts in behalf of the schools, was happily demonstrated at the school election held on Monday last, when he received all the votes cast for president of the school board. It was a handsome compliment to a competent and most worthy official. There are few men, comparatively speaking, who possess all the requirements of a first-class school officer. Judge Boughton has repeatedly demonstrated that he is one of that few, a fact that the people recognize and fully appreciate. Though disinclined for personal reasons to serve another term, he gracefully yielded to the urgent and earnest solicitation of friends and patrons of the school and consented to the use of his name for re-election."

668^d ii. Personal Notes of CLARK BOUGHTON (son of John W. and Sarah Henry Boughton), b. Preble, Cortland Co., N. Y., July 29, 1851. He received a public school and academic education at Locke, Cayuga Co., N. Y., and at Groton, Tompkins Co., N. Y., after which he learned printing and was for several years foreman of the Cortland County Democrat. His health being poor, in 1871 he went west and remained nearly a year at Omaha, Neb., where he worked at his trade and studied law, and on account of continued ill health was compelled in 1872 to leave Omaha, and went to Colorado. He soon after settled at Fort Collins, where, seeing a prospect of rapid development, he established The Fort Collins Standard, a weekly newspaper, in which he met with great success. Being himself a luminous writer, he was popularly recognized among the brilliant writers of his profession. He was elected superintendent of public schools, which office he held until he died. He raised the standing of the public schools of the county to a degree they had never before attained, and inaugurated the system of teachers' institutes, the first in the state. Afflicted with asthma and rheumatism from childhood, his impaired health broke down under the pressure of his intense application and effort, and he died at Fort Collins, Colorado, Oct. 25, 1874, having, by almost superhuman effort, resisted the inevitable culmination of his diseases for years; by which it was felt that one of the brightest lights of Colorado had gone out at his death.

(vii.) JAMES ALBERT BOUTON, son of Ira and Catharine Bouton, b. Jefferson, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1834. At the age of 18 he became interested in the whale fisheries, and sailed from New Bedford, Oct. 1853, on the ship Levi Starbuck, commanded by Capt. Jernigan, of Nantucket, for a voyage of three and a half years. Landing at the Cape Verde Islands, they doubled Cape Horn, touched at Talcahuana, Chili, and the Sandwich Islands, and spent the summer cruising for whales in the Oshkosh Sea. In the fall they returned to the Sandwich Islands, and having obtained a supply of water and fruits, cruised during the winter in the Southern Ocean, stopping for a time at the Marquesas Islands. The second year was a repetition of the first, but returning the third time to the Oshkosh Sea and not meeting with satisfactory success, they made their way through Behring Strait to the Arctic Ocean. Here again they were disappointed ; but returning to the Gulf of Ana-dir, on the Siberian coast, they found plenty of whales, and soon secured a cargo of oil and whalebone. One whale captured here yielded 224 barrels and 19 gallons of oil. Homeward bound they touched at the Sandwich Islands, Society Islands, and Friendly Islands, and arrived at New Bedford in the spring of 1857. In this voyage he experienced all the vicissitudes and suffered all the hardships incident to a seafaring life, and proved himself so competent and hardy a sailor, that several fine positions were offered him. Among narrow escapes from icebergs and starvation and other innumerable accidents, his boat was once dashed in pieces by a whale and he and his companions were compelled to remain on a cake of ice until so benumbed as to be unable to stand. He declined the choice of several flattering positions, and took up his residence at Flowerfield, St. Joseph Co., Mich., where he married Elvira Bassett. By her he had one child—

924^a CORA EMERGENE BOUTON, who was born Oct. 26, 1864, and died at Three Rivers, Dec. 2, 1870. But new experiences awaited him. In a letter dated May 26, 1861, he says: "There is considerable excitement now-a-days about our country's welfare, and I think it is about time something was done." With this spirit he enlisted, Aug. 24, 1861, as Sergeant in Co. G., 11th Michigan Infantry Volunteers. He took part in a large number of battles and heavy skirmishes, serving chiefly along the valleys of the Cumberland and the Tennessee. Among the most important engagements were those at Stone River, Tullahoma, Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain, Dallas, Kenesaw Mountain, Marietta and Atlanta. At the battle of Stone River he narrowly escaped death, receiving a wound in the head. At the battle of Missionary Ridge he was left in command of his company and the next night made a charge by which he captured 200 prisoners, four guns and two caissons. For six months he retained the command of the company. He refused a commission, however, and at the end of three years returned to his family, having been in the meantime sent on recruiting service for a few months. Taking up his residence at Three Rivers, he has been chosen to various public offices. He was marshal in 1878-79, a member of the city council in 1884 and 1886, and in 1887 held the office of supervisor of Lockport township. His first wife having died, he married for a second wife Mrs. Josie S. Arnold, of Three Rivers, by whom he has one son—

924^b EUGENE BOUTON, born Dec. 21, 1884, at Three Rivers.

Child of Ira (son of William Bouton) and Emma Foote Bouton, his second wife.

924^a EUGENE BOUTON, A.M., Ph.D., was born at Jefferson, Schoharie Co., N. Y., Dec. 6, 1850. His primary and intermediate education was received in the public schools of Jefferson, and his preparation for college was obtained chiefly at Cazenovia Seminary, Cazenovia, N. Y., where he secured numerous prizes for proficiency in his several studies. After a course at Yale College, in which he excelled especially in composition and oratory, he was graduated in 1875, being the class poet, and having received during the course, several honors of a similar character. After teaching for two years at the Norwich Academy, Norwich, N. Y., and then for three years at Sherburne, N. Y., as principal of the union school, he was elected Professor of the English Language and Literature in the Albany Academy at Albany, N. Y., which position he retained for three and a half years. In the spring of 1881 he was elected Professor of History and English Literature in the College of Charleston at Charleston, S. C., but decided to remain at Albany. After studying poetry under Prof. H. A. Beers, he received the degree of M.A. from Yale College, in 1881. During the summer of 1881 he traveled in Great Britain and France, for the purpose of obtaining information concerning his favorite studies, and in 1882 he received the degree of Ph.D. from Syracuse University, on an examination in English Literature. On the first of January, 1884, he was appointed by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction a member of the Institute Faculty of the State of New York, and served thereon two years, until he was appointed Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, in January, 1886, and shortly afterwards Principal of the State Normal and Training School at New Paltz, Ulster Co., N. Y. During the autumn of 1884, he published, in connection with Prof. James Johonnot, a work on elementary physiology and hygiene, entitled "How We Live; or the Human Body, and How to take Care of It." D. Appleton & Co., New York. He has also published various papers on educational and other topics, June 29, 1887, he married Elizabeth Rumrill Gladwin.

b. Sherburne, N. Y., Oct. 9, 1865, daughter of Albert R. Gladwin, Esq., of Sherburne, Chenango Co., N. Y.

(iv.) BENNETT AI BOUTON, M.D., son of Wm. and Hannah Bouton, b. Watertown, Ct., Aug. 14, 1801; when he had reached the age of six years his parents moved to Meredith, Del. Co., N. Y., where he received his elementary education, which was supplemented by a course at the Jefferson Academy, at Jefferson, N. Y.; in 1828 he graduated in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, practiced two years at Meredith, N. Y., and removed in 1830 to Tunkhannock, Pa., where he married Feb. 3, 1839, Martha Ann Young, daughter of Abijah Young, of Drakeville, N. J., who died at Pennsylvania, March, 1848; m. second, at Tunkhannock, Pa., Jan. 22, 1851, Sarah Caroline Miller, of Madison, N. J., and in the autumn of 1868 he moved to 205 Penn avenue, Scranton, where he died Feb. 22, 1876, in his 75th year. The more immediate cause of his death was attributable to exposure in professional life and service. At a meeting of the physicians of Scranton, the following resolutions were adopted, showing the high esteem in which he was held by the physicians of his locality at the time of his decease.

Resolutions :

“It is rare to see an old physician in the county who, for half a century, has administered to the wants of its inhabitants, with a kindness and skill difficult to equal and impossible to surpass, as witnessed in the instance of our departed co-working friend, Dr. Bennett Ai Bouton.

“We deplore his death and deeply sympathize with his family. Well known and even beloved along the valleys of the Susquehanna, Mehoopany and Meshoppen in every house and hamlet where sickness encroaches, for his sterling qualities as a true gentleman and a most estimable physician, and who never heard the call of humanity in vain, as a friend that never could be distrusted, we feel that the profession he so long honored, the community that he so long served, seldom meets with such a loss as is now felt in the death of Dr. Bouton.

“Resolved, That we will attend the funeral and accompany the remains to his former home in Tunkhannock in a body.

“Resolved, That all physicians in the county be requested to join in the funeral of the deceased.”

(xi.) JOHN BOUTON (son of Wm. and Sarah Benedict Bouton), was b. Norwalk, Feb. 18, 1792. At an early age he manifested a taste for learning, and when about 14 years of age he set himself to obtain an education, attending school for three months during the winter seasons. At age of 16 he had been so successful that he was persuaded to teach and received a certificate for that purpose. He took up the political questions of that day and debated them with skill and earnestness for one of his age, and was looked up to as a leader, and at this time was known as a writer both of prose and verse. When eighteen he published a small volume of arithmetical problems, in rhyme, and wrote during the rest of his life a great deal, mostly on religious subjects, leaving at his death many manuscripts on various topics. Having inherited a strong religious nature he was converted and joined the first Congregational church in the town Feb. 4, 1816, under the care of Rev. Mr. Swan. In 1822 was elected deacon and served that church until Jan. 3, 1836, when a new church of the same faith and order was organized at what is now the city of South Norwalk, where he held the same office, which he conscientiously filled and honored until his death. He embraced the temperance cause in its infancy, and adhered to it earnestly in its various stages of growth; was pioneer of the anti-slavery cause in the town, and was among the first in the State to agitate that question. To every question of morals he applied his religious principles and rigidly adhered to his convictions of right. He m. May, 1813, Hannah Betts, b. Oct. 31, 1789, dau. of Thomas and Elizabeth (Smith) Betts. She was much esteemed in the church to which she belonged. She died after a brief illness May 7, 1832. He m. second Betsey Chichester, of Wilton, Ct., dau. of Dr. Abraham Chichester, March, 1833. She died April 25, 1875, at the age of 77 years and 7 months. She was a devout and excellent woman. Dea. Bouton met his death within the walls of the church where he had administered the office of deacon for more than twenty years. He was at work on its enlargement, and by the falling of the scaffold he was thrown backwards to the floor with great force and died instantly, Oct. 31, 1856.

RECAPITULATION.

(i) WILLIAM SMITH BOUTON (son of John and Hannah Betts Bouton), b. Norwalk April 25, 1814. In early youth he made himself acquainted with the history of his country and its public affairs. At the age of twenty-three he united with the Congregational church of South Norwalk, to which he still remains attached. He m. at South Norwalk Dec. 4, 1837,

Margaret F. Hudson, of New Rochelle (dau. of John and Emily Hudson), b. Sept. 18, 1817, they settled at Norwalk, Conn. He enlisted as a private in Company G, 28th C. V., August, 1862. In a short time he was promoted to orderly sergeant of the company. June 14, 1863, was given command of the company, led it in the assault on Port Hudson under General Banks. In his native town he was several times elected to public offices. Was selectman for two years, and was for fourteen years consecutively trial justice of the town until disqualified by age. He has held other town offices. Was commissioner of the superior court of Conn., and assisting pension claimants in their claims with the pension department, and member of the Historical Society of Fairfield county, Conn. His wife took a lively interest in the late war and consented to her husband and two sons enlisting. One instance of her spirit deserves to be mentioned here. Word was received that her son John was badly wounded. Immediately she determined to go to him and procured letters recommending her case to officers in the army but was denied, as passing through the lines was prohibited. Several times was she refused transportation, but managed finally to get on board a boat for Fortress Monroe without a pass or permission, and without assistance she pressed her way to the hospital at Hampton and found the object of her care. Twice she passed her boy without recognizing him, he was in such a wretched condition. By her timely arrival his life was saved and her perseverance rewarded. She died May 21, 1884.

NOTE.—Mr. William S. Bouton has a local reputation as a historian and genealogist. He is the author of several series of published articles, entitled, Cannibal Indians of Norwalk; Sketches of Original White Inhabitants of the Town; Unpublished Traditional facts in its History; One Hundred Years Ago—Reminiscences of the Indian Cities of Naramake and Pampakeshonk; History of Anti Slavery in Fairfield County; and A Record of the Soldiers of Norwalk in the Civil War; together with numerous publications upon various subjects of a political character.

- 1,102 WILLIAM A. GWYER, b. New York city, March 16, 1820, m. N. Y. city, Nov. 15, 1846. Sarah Ann Hall, of Portland, Conn., b. Oct. 3, 1819, d. Omaha, Oct. 5, 1882. When he was three years old his father died and his mother soon removed to Norwalk, to the home of her father, and his childhood was passed at intervals at both places. When ten years of age his mother placed him in a cotton mill in the town of Norwalk, where he remained until thirteen years of age and then worked on a farm. Subsequently obtained a situation in a printing establishment in New York city, where he was compelled to go through the hard ordeal of "printer's devil," becoming an excellent compositor. The business was not congenial to him, nor was the pay sufficient for his living, when a half brother on his father's side, hearing of his condition, came to his relief, gave him a home, sent him to school until a good education was obtained, then procured for him a situation in a dry goods store, where he remained until twenty-one. A merchant of New York then offered him a stock of goods in partnership, and North Carolina was to be the field for operations, under his management. He sailed for Wilmington in 1843, and settled at Strickland's Depot, on the Wilmington and Weldon railroad, about forty-five miles from W. This venture was a success and at the end of two years his partner sold out to him. He remained there three years longer, then went, 1848, to Wilmington, N. C., and opened business as a wholesale grocer, exporter of cotton and naval stores, which soon became extensive and profitable; so that he retired from business in 1856 and returned to New York. That year he traveled much in the west, and in the autumn arrived at Omaha, Neb., settled there, and remained there till late in the year 1859. At this time he visited Wilmington, and was induced to go into business there again. He was meeting with great success when the civil war broke out and he was obliged to leave there secretly because of his loyalty to the Union, and his property was confiscated by the Confederate government. He then came north by the way of Washington, gave valuable information to the government, received the thanks of Secretary Salmon P. Chase, and returned to New York again without fortune. With friends he then engaged in the petroleum oil speculation. In the spring of 1870 he resettled in Omaha, where he now, 1887, resides.

In 1837 Mr. Gwyer was author of a pamphlet on the cotton manufactories of New England and contended that they were no better than negro slavery. In North Carolina, there being no postoffice nearer than ten miles from the place he had chosen to settle in, he made immediate application to Government for a postoffice, which was soon granted and he was appointed postmaster. He held the office four years, and by his business and enterprise the place rapidly grew to a town. It was named Magnolia, of which he may well be called the founder. In 1858 he was a member of the territorial legislature of Nebraska, the author of numerous statutes, was appointed at a mass meeting of the citizens of Omaha, a committee to memorialize Congress on the subject of a continental railroad to the Pacific ocean. This was so thoroughly done the memorial was sent to every member of Congress and to the governors of all the States. It was commended by public men and the press, as an able memorial, and it did much to influence the legislation which culminated in the construction of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific railroads. In 1859 he was an alderman of the city of Omaha, in 1873 a member of the Nebraska State Senate, was elected president of that body, ex officio lieutenant-governor, and for a time acting governor of the State; became in 1875 editor of the Omaha Republican, the leading republican paper in the State, was, 1876, member of the Constitutional Convention, and as chairman of the committee on engrossed bills, received the thanks of the convention. In 1880 was vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, member of the Board of Education, and has held other honorable positions.

The following obituary appeared in one of the city papers: "Mrs. Anna Downs, residing on West street, near the place of her birth, died on Saturday morning at the great age of ninety-one years and two months. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at the house of Mr. Asahel Dickerman. The Rev. H. N. Dunning, her former pastor, delivered an excellent address founded on Luke ii. 25-41, and gave a very interesting sketch of the life of deceased. He described her as being of Huguenot extraction and having been a faithful member of the Congregational church for seventy-seven years. Her husband was a hat manufacturer sixty years and more ago, on the shore where the steamboat dock is now located. She had been a widow fifty-seven years and was the last of a family of fourteen children."

Children of William (son of Joseph) and Sarah Benedict Bouton. 862

NATHANIEL BOUTON (son of William and Sarah Benedict Bouton), was born at Norwalk, Conn., June 20, 1799. On the authority of an Autobiography published by his son, John Bell Bouton, of the Journal of Commerce, New York, it is learned that Nathaniel Bouton, the subject of this record, attended school at Norwalk, and at the age of nine years was so proficient in the rudimentary branches that the teacher frequently sent other scholars to him to be assisted in their studies. As grammar and geography were not at that time taught in the district schools, he studied the rudiments of English grammar, with but little, if any, more assistance than that obtained from a book called "Murray's Abridgement." Between the ages of thirteen and fourteen he began to think of learning a trade. An advertisement appearing in his father's newspaper, Republican Farmer, of Bridgeport, for a boy to learn the printing business, he at once resolved to ask his father to allow him to go and learn that trade, to which he readily consented, and the lad was regularly apprenticed by his father to Stiles Nichols, proprietor of the Republican Farmer, for seven years. A strong attachment mutually grew up between employer and employee, and soon not only his hands but his mental capacities were called into exercise in the work of conducting the paper. During the spring of 1815, special religious services were held in Bridgeport, at which, with many others of about his age, he attended, and became deeply impressed with the subject of religion; and on the morning of June 20, 1815, his sixteenth birthday, he resolved to give himself, without reserve, to the service of God; and pursuing that purpose until the first sabbath in December, 1815, he with ninety-eight others, were received into the First Congregational church in Bridgeport, Rev. Elijah Waterman, pastor.

During the year that followed a desire came upon him to preach the gospel, and consequent upon that a college education, and, here again the thought of four years of apprenticeship to be completed, presented to his mind a difficulty, the only solution of which, that seemed practicable was, to purchase his unexpired time of his employer, which was done for $175.00; his father raising the amount by the sale of some land and the help of a friend; thus securing a release and a cancellation of the indentures.

In the month of September, 1816, he left Bridgeport and returned home to study and prepare to enter college, when an invitation came from the Rev. Mr. Bonney, pastor of the Congregational church at New Canaan, to attend the academy there and which (board and tuition) was offered free.

Again an invitation was received and accepted to attend a school at Wilton, taught by Mr. Hawley Olmstead, under whose instruction he was fitted for and entered Yale college in 1818, in a class of eighty-two; and though deprived of advantages that others enjoyed he kept abreast with his competitors in his class, never having received a reprimand or reproof during his college course.

Graduating at Yale in the summer of 1820, he visited and labored in a religious revival work at Hotchkistown, two miles from New Haven, and on the opening of the term at Andover Theological seminary he was ready to enter upon a theological course, during which, as in college, he never declined any service required of him or lost any time by reason of ill health.

After delivering the valedictory he was met by a committee from Boston, to whom he engaged to commence his ministerial work in a new church in Boston, agreeing to remain for three months. Very soon after he was met by Mr. Fletcher, from Concord, N. H., who presented a call from the Congregational church of Concord, dated Jan. 1, 1825, to become their pastor. On a careful deliberation his mind was at last settled, and on Jan. 29, 1825, he penned his formal acceptance of the call. On or about January 25, 1825, he was on his way by stage to attend the funeral of the wife of Hon. Wm. Bartlett, at Newburyport, when, in conversation on the subject of missions in the west, with Aaron Foster and Hiram Chamberlain, the thought flashed upon his mind of a need of a national missionary society, which was discussed, and was doubtless the germ from which sprung the organization of the American Home Missionary Society, which came into existence in New York, May 12, 1826.

The ordination of Mr. Nathaniel Bouton took place according to appointment, at the court house at Concord, in the presence of a large assemblage of ministers and delegates, on March 22, 1825.

From the ordination until its fifty-third anniversary, Dr. N. Bouton administered his sacred trust at Concord, with a singular equipoise and acceptability, never neglecting the obligations which he owed to the church as its pastor, but by great energy and industry accomplished a vast amount of work on historical and literary topics, which from time to time was rewarded by positions of distinction and honor, the recorded acknowledgments of which will bear the memory of his useful life to many generations.

After a short illness, which was endured with great composure and confident trust, he peacefully departed this life on the 6th day of June, 1878, in the seventy-ninth year of his age.

To return to his family history, he was married, first, at Lebanon, Conn., Sept. 11, 1825, with Harriet Sherman, daughter of John Sherman, of Trenton, N. Y., and great grand-daughter of Roger Sherman of Conn. She died at Concord, May 21st, 1828.

He married second at Chester, N. H., June 8, 1829, Mary Ann P. Bell, eldest daughter of Gov. John Bell, of Chester, N. H. She lived and died at Concord, N. H., Feb. 15, 1839.

He married, third, at Deerfield, N. H., Feb. 18, 1840, Elizabeth Ann Cilley, eldest daughter of Horatio G. Cilley, of Deerfield, N. H. They continued to live at Concord, New Hampshire, until his death. She died Feb. 6, 1887.

H., academy one fall term and also East Hampton, Mass., one fall term, after which he taught school four winters and served Fairbanks & Co. as traveling agent for four years. In 1852 he originated a firm in Chicago for railroad foundry work. In 1856 he originated the firm of Stone, Boomer & Bouton, Bridge and Car Builders and Railroad Building. In 1857 to 1859 was superintendent of public works of Chicago.

He was appointed quartermaster in 1862 of the 88th Illinois, he resigned at the close of 1863 after the battle of Chattanooga. He was supervisor of Cook county for the years 1864 to 1866. He was engaged in general foundry and machine work from 1858 to 1871 under firm name of N. S. Bouton & Co., when his health failed, and in 1876 and for several years he spent in traveling abroad, during which his brother, C. B. Bouton, assumed the management of the business and the style of the firm was changed to Bouton & Co. In 1881 he, N. S. Bouton, resumed his position in the firm without any change in the business style of the same which was still the same in spring of 1887. In religion he was a Presbyterian and an elder in the church at Chicago.

He was chosen one of the twelve relief committee in the time of the great fire at Chicago, at which time said committee dispensed three-quarters of a million of dollars to the sufferers in Chicago. He joined a Union church (undenominational) in which he holds the office of elder at this writing, 1887, residence Chicago, Ill.

Y., and on arriving at maturity, became the senior member of the firm of S. & J. Bouton, grain dealers and forwarders of that city. He was an active member of the Episcopal church, and by indorsing for the rector in the building of Christ church, he was rendered bankrupt.

He subsequently engaged in the grocery business, which he conducted for a few years, and then moved to New Haven, Ct., where soon after he died (on Feb. 10, 1855). His wife survived him and lived until Oct., 1870. Of their four children only two survive.

RECAPITULATION.

GEORGE B. BOUTON, b. Troy, N. Y., April 27, 1828. At the age of nine years he was placed at the Episcopal boarding school under the rector of the church previously alluded to, through whom his father had been defrauded and ruined and for which the said rector was deposed from the ministry.

George remained three or four years at school, until the failure of his father, when he left and went into the hardware store of his Uncle Bradley, as clerk. At the end of three years of faithful service with his Uncle Bradley he went to New York city, where he obtained a position in the large establishment of E. Corning & Co., where he remained four years.

George accompanied his father when he moved to New Haven, and began to study medicine under Dr. Charles Hooker, professor of anatomy in Yale college. In January, 1856, he graduated at Yale, and in March of the same year at New York Medical college.

He had, even before graduating, received the appointment of examining physician and deputy coroner, and on graduating immediately entered upon the duties of the office; this position was held for three terms of three years each, except about one year which was spent as surgeon to Gen. Walker's troops in Nicaragua, with headquarters at St. George's and Rivas.

In 1865, Dr. Bouton removed to Westport, Ct., where he has had his residence till the summer of 1888.

In his profession Dr. Bouton takes a high stand, as an evidence of which, the fact is adduced that on one occasion in New York city he invalidated a will involving over two hundred thousand dollars, by his examination of a body and introducing for the first time in legal annals, portions of the body which had been buried nine months, to illustrate testimony in a civil suit. For this Dr. Bouton received a fee of three thousand dollars. For years Dr. Bouton has been medical examiner for several life insurance companies, and is also a member of the Fairfield county and Connecticut medical societies.

In 1861 he married Mary Frances, daughter of Andrew C. Nash, of Westport, where she was born Feb. 26, 1837. Dr. Bouton is both a Freemason and Odd Fellow, in many of whose lodges he has held prominent offices. Both he and his wife are Episcopalians, he having been vestryman in Christ church at Westport for fifteen years. Personally Dr. Bouton is social and is held in high esteem by a large circle of acquaintances and one of Westport's most valued citizens.

CAPT. MOSES BOUTON (son of Jakin Bouton, of Norwalk, Ct.), who was great grandson of John and Abigail Marvin Bouton, of Norwalk, Ct., was born at Norwalk, April 21, 1757, a farmer of influence and respect among his townsmen. He married at South Salem, having moved there from Norwalk at an early age; the exact date of his marriage not known, but must have been about 1780 to 1782. He married Mary Todd, of South Salem, where they settled. Before marriage he volunteered in the revolutionary war, 1775, under Gen. Montgomery, and went with him in his expedition against Canada, and was left at St. Johns to guard that place, where he remained until the army returned from Quebec. (Whitney Genealogy.) After the war he returned to South Salem and united with the Presbyterian church there, Aug. 10, 1822. Mary, his wife, united with the same church June 3, 1813, and died at South Salem April 6, 1825.

He continued to live at South Salem until July 8, 1847, when he died in a triumphant hope of a blessed immortality beyond the grave.

JAKIN (or JACHIN) BOUTON (son of Joseph and Mary Bouton, grandson of John Bouton, 1st), b. Norwalk, about 1700. He is said to have married twice and had a large family of children. A part of them retained the primitive method of spelling their name—Bouton—while the others adopted the Boughton orthography. The Norwalk Records have the following, which is copied from the will of Esaias Bouton: "For the consideration of the filial duty I have and do bear my honored father, Jachin Bouton, of Norwalk, Conn., I do freely give and grant to him the northerly half part of the dwelling house he now dwells in on Flax Hill. Dated Oct. 31, 1765.

NOTE.—This is a repeated entry. The original entry of these names will be found at numbers on right-hand margin.

NOTE.—The following obituary notice appeared in a local paper of June 9, 1888:

“Enoch Bouton, an old and life-long resident of South Salem, died on Saturday night, the 9th inst., at the age of eighty-three years. Mr. Bouton was one of those genial, open-hearted men whom it is always a pleasure to know.

Kind and obliging, ever ready to lend a helping hand when occasion required, attending strictly to his own business, without unduly interesting himself in the affairs of others, a stranger to dishonesty, and loyal as a citizen, although never prominent as a public man, nevertheless, he was in his day and generation among the foremost of the common people. He possessed in an eminent degree the qualities and the virtues, which go to make the true man, and which are evermore recognized and acknowledged, whether they appear in the character of the humblest individual, or the most distinguished citizen.

The respect and esteem in which he was held were shown in the large attendance at his funeral, which took place at the South Salem Presbyterian Church on Tuesday afternoon."

The following interesting account was furnished by Mr. Samuel Bouton, grandson of the subject of the narrative, who has the original manuscript in his possession at Winston, Daviess county, Mo.:

My grandfather Daniel, son of Nathaniel Bouton, was born 1740 and died 1819. He was elected a deacon of the Congregational church at New Canaan, Conn., June 10, 1797, which office he held until his death.

He took an active part in the war of the Revolution and was the captain of a body of citizen soldiers called minute men, similar to our home guard during the war of the rebellion. They were called minute men from the fact that they were expected to shoulder their muskets and march at once, at the firing of a musket as an alarm that the British were approaching. They were composed of men not subject to military duty to the government, but forming themselves into a military organization for the protection of the community against the raids of the Tories then rendezvousing on Long Island.

In the month of May, 1781, a party of British troops came over from Long Island and landed at a place called Campo Point (now Coscobb) and marched into the country plundering inhabitants and burning the towns of Norwalk, Fairfield and Danbury.

Capt. Daniel Bouton called out his men to oppose the advance of the British troops who had landed at a place some distance from the place where the town of Norwalk now stands, called Campo Point, and was so near that a shot fired from the British vessel over the heads of their troops fell like rain upon the force under Captain Daniel Bouton. A grape shot (a ball weighing a quarter of a pound) struck Capt. Bouton on his shoulder and penetrated about six inches. The wound made him a cripple for life, for which he drew a pension from the government as long as he lived. The said ball was for many years in the possession of the old captain's son Aaron, who some years ago gave it to Andrus P. Bouton, who at that time lived at Oxford, N. Y.

Captain Daniel Bouton sent a memorial to the Connecticut legislature, of which the following was copied :

Upon the memorial of Capt. Daniel Bouton, of Stamford, showing to this assembly that on the 30th day of May, last, a party of the enemy from Long Island landed at Campo and marched into the country plundering the inhabitants of their goods and cattle, and that on the intelligence thereof he immediately mustered his company and marched to Campo to oppose and repel the enemy. When in an engagement with the enemy he received a wound in the left shoulder by a large grape shot from the enemy, and that by said wound he lay several weeks dangerously ill, which was attended with considerable expense in nurses, doctors, etc. That he has lost the use of his arm by said wound and been rendered unable to labor for the support of himself and family, praying for relief, etc. Whereupon,

Resolved, By this assembly, that the said Capt. Daniel Bouton receive out of the treasury of this State the sum of sixty-five pounds lawful money, in consideration of his lost time and expenses already occasioned by said wound, and that the committee of pay table draw on the treasury for payment of the same out of the two shilling and six penny tax record passed on the above. The above was granted.

She also wrote works on health and beauty for women which were published, and one on etiquette which was nearly ready for publication at the time of this writing, beside pamphlets, all of which won for her an enviable reputation as a writer of books as well as for the newspaper press. Her residence was at Toledo, Ohio, 1887, where her mother made her home with her.

Sunday Journal.

Up one, two, three, four flights of stairs, or, up a dismal elevator designed for freight, and that insistent on its avocation that you mentally apologize for intruding, and then desist from any apology for fear you will tip off into unknown space; either way brings you to the top of the new Blade building and lands you nearly at the room labeled "Household Editor." Entering, you meet the object of this sketch, Miss Emily S. Bouton, editor of the "Household," the "Saturday Salad" and the "Home Talk" columns of the Daily Blade; author of "Social Etiquette," "Health and Beauty," and other works more or less directly relating to women. She is not only an adept in this class of writing, which has been chiefly instrumental in establishing her fame, but is also an expert in all classes of newspaper work; she can not only write a heavy editorial but can put it in type properly, and read and correct the proof. You meet as you enter, a lady who greets you with a pleasant smile, and in a particularly charming voice—a voice pitched in just that key that one unconsciously feels is as perfect in the sick room as in the ordinary work of life—bids you welcome. Miss Bouton is—well, perhaps thirty, you know a man can't safely guess on a woman's age, and I may not be right, but never mind, if you looked into those kindly eyes you would not be interested in the age question, but the rather be charmed with the lady. Miss B. drifted from school teaching into journalism some years ago, and now maintains, with the efforts of her pen, a pleasant home presided over by her aged mother, who, a very mother in Israel, is an inspiration to her gifted daughter.

With wavy brown hair, of medium height and weight, of graceful figure and easy manner, Miss Bouton shows by her kindly face, high, broad forehead and intellectual countenance, the woman of culture, thought and power. She has a reputation extending over the entire country, and her writings are quoted and read from Maine to Arizona.

SUMMARY OF THE LIFE OF MAJ. G. W. GARRETT OF POCAHONTAS, TENN.

Maj. G. W. Garrett was born in Union District, S. C., Mar. 5, 1840; he joined the Baptist church in Miss. at the age of sixteen and in May, 1861, volunteered in the Confederate service. He went out as a drummer; though only twenty-one years of age he was soon elected major and his superior officer being absent most of the time for the following two and a half years the command of his regiment fell upon him. For his gallantry and success in several engagements he was appointed by Prest. Davis colonel of the 23d Miss. (his colonel having resigned); he was wounded three times and captured at Ft. Donaldson, Feb. 16, 1862, but was soon exchanged. He was again captured at Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 16, 1864, and sent to Johnson's Island, where he (almost starved) remained until July, 1865, when he was liberated, being reduced to almost a skeleton. He married Jan. 9, 1866, at Canaan, Miss., Elizabeth J. Bouton (dau. of Dr. Ralph L. and Annie J. Gibson Bouton of Jackson, Ark.), and settled in Tippah Co., Miss., and moved to Benton Co., and subsequently to Pocahontas, Tenn., where they resided in 1887 with their family.

(ii.) NATHANIEL WEBB BOUTON, b. Tippah Co., Miss., Apr. 9, 1847; he was educated at the University of Louisiana at New Orleans, and graduated with the degree of M.D., Mar. 16, 1868; married at Ashland, Miss., Dec. 16, 1869, Annie E. Cox, and settled at Ashland where they resided Jan. 1, 1888.

- 1,580 DANIEL BOUTON of whom this account is compiled, in the absence of positive evidence of his identity, contemporary history and connections has led the writer to believe that said Daniel Bouton was the son of John and Mary Pettit, and born South Salem June 20, 1743, was brought up as a farmer and went early in life to a place a few miles west of Pound Ridge where he took up land and settled, which in time came to be called Boutonville. He married Sarah and lived and died at Boutonville, Westchester county, N. Y., in the year 1820 or thereabout. His descendants say he was a zealous patriot in the war of the Revolution and was familiarly known for many years as Dea. Daniel Bouton, who had an old chest in his house which was brought from the old country by the emigrant John Bouton.

The order of the surrogate of Westchester county, N. Y., dated June 2, 1821, for the sale of the real estate of Daniel Bouton, deceased, by his son Enoch Bouton, administrator, being in the hands of the writer, so far describes said Daniel Bouton that he, the writer, feels justified in assuming that the said Daniel Bouton and Daniel the son of John as above are identical.

Authentic history of this family was not found among the records where many others were obtained, but a granddaughter by the name of Mary Boughton, dau. of Azer and Elizabeth Nickerson Boughton, is responsible for the following tradition :

Said Jonathan Boughton was the captain of a merchant vessel and sailed to an Italian port, during the prevalence of an epidemic; he was importuned by a frantic mother to take her infant away from the plague smitten city, whereupon he took the child to his own home in Cape Cod, where she was reared to womanhood and he then married her, and they settled at Simsbury, Conn. He died about 1785; date and place of her death not found.

HIS WAR RECORD.

After raising two companies, not having military experience, he refused to take command. On Sept. 29, 1861, he was mustered into the U. S. service as second lieutenant of Co. D, Fifth N. Y. Volunteer Cavalry, and promoted to first lieutenant June 11, 1862, chosen captain of same Jan. 30, 1863, brevet major May 4, 1866.

His regiment was up the Shenandoah Valley, under Gen. Banks, until Gen. Pope took command, then under him and with the Army of the Potomac. Until the end of the war, under Gens. Kilpatrick and Sheridan.

He was captured by a band of confederates, who were lying in wait to pick up horses and revolvers, July 23, 1863, near Orleans, Va., while returning from delivering despatches from Gen. Kilpatrick to the officers commanding the forces at Snickers Gap, Va. One man with him was also captured. They were released with some forty others, who had been picked up by ones and twos, after keeping them three days in the Blue Ridge mountains.

He was next captured Oct. 10, 1863, while trying to prevent Stewart's cavalry (the advance of Gen. Lee's army) from crossing the river near Madison Court House, was taken to Libby Prison and remained there until May 7, 1864; was then sent to Danville, Va., thence to Macon, Ga., thence to Charleston, S. C. The confederates then put their prisoners under the fire of the union guns on Marvin's Island, after which they were taken to Camp Sorghum, two miles back of Columbia, S. C. (Saluda Mills), thence to insane asylum yard in Columbia. to Charlotte, Raleigh, Goldsborough, N. C., and to the union lines, ten miles from Wilmington, where they were exchanged, March 1, 1865. Mr. Ryder was mustered out of the service May 15, 1865, and returned to Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 1, following. He was elected sheriff of Union county, November, 1872, for a term of three years, chosen freeholder from 1875 to 1876, again elected sheriff in 1878 and served till 1881; he was elected mayor 1882.

In 1885 he was awarded a medal by the American Institute for fire proof composition for walls and ceilings, which he was engaged in manufacturing at his factory in Elizabeth, N. J., where he also resided at the date of this record, 1887.

DR. SMITH AZER BOUGHTON,

THE PHILANTHROPIST AND LIBERATOR.

SMITH AZER BOUGHTON (son of Azer and Elizabeth Nickerson Boughton, who was the son of Jonathan and Abigail Nichols Boughton). Azer was of Simsbury, Connecticut.

Smith Azer Boughton was born in Stephentown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., ———. 1810. When six months old his parents moved to Rensselaerville, Albany Co., N. Y., where he was brought up as a farmer until the age of fifteen years. He was then sent to the academy at Cambridge, Washington Co., N. Y., and after two years went to the university at Middlebury, Vt., where, in 1831, he graduated with the degree of M. D. The following spring he formed a copartnership with Dr. John R. Steel, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. He visited New York city during the cholera epidemic to witness the treatment of that alarming disease, after which he settled at Glens Falls, N. Y., for about two years and then removed to Delhi, Delaware Co., N. Y.

In the fall of 1837 the rebellion broke out in Canada. Intelligence was received that the Canadians were severely oppressed by the home government and the elective franchise denied to the people. The sympathies of the people of the northern interior of the State were excited, and, true to the Boughton proclivity, he joined a band of men of the State and went to the assistance of the oppressed Canadians. Some reinforcements joined the allies from the United States, aggregating about 1,500 men, but the Canadians being poorly officered and undisciplined, it was apparent on the first engagement that all depended upon the efficiency of the United States volunteers, who were finally compelled to retire to Navy Island. There Gen. Scott captured the whole force and sent them home, where Dr. Boughton arrived, in poor health and without money.

Following his return came the intelligence of the severe illness of his mother and soon after news of her death. In 1839 he removed from Delhi to Alps, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., where he practiced his profession and in 1840 married Mary E. Bailey of that place.

As an introduction to the eventful life which followed, it may be remarked that in 1614 the Dutch West India Company made tempting offers to settlers from Amsterdam and other cities of Holland to settle on lands chartered to them, with feudal privileges, in the exercise of which, in time, the settlers on those lands became nothing more than feudal serfs, the landlords holding all judicial and legislative power.

A rich jeweler of Dorp, a city in Holland, by the name of Killian Van Rensselaer and Jeremias, his son, purchased of the company six miles square, including Schodack, Poes-tenkill, Greenbush, and the grounds upon which the city of Troy and village of Lansingburgh have since been built. This was on the east side of the Hudson river, and also on the west side, six miles, exclusive of the city of Albany. That was all they possessed lawfully; but by becoming members of the colonial legislature, and by paying quit rents to the government their doubtful titles were recognized as good; and instead of six miles each side of the Hudson, they extended their claim to forty-eight miles in length and twenty-four in breadth, which extended four miles into Berkshire county, Mass.; but of this they were not allowed to collect the rents, for whenever they attempted it the inhabitants drove them out.

At the close of the revolutionary war the returned soldiers, who had been paid off in continental money, which was nearly worthless, were offered by Stephen Van Rensselaer the privilege to settle on his manor, with a contract to take a farm and have the use of it seven years without rent, with the understanding that at the end of said seven years they should have leases in perpetuity by paying a nominal winter-wheat rent, with no other restriction or incumbrance.

But how great was their surprise to find in the leases many clauses of exactions and obligations, limiting the privilege of using and disposing of their improvements. Remonstrances were useless, the poverty of the tenants rendering them unable to cope with the power of their wealthy landlords, and the exactions were yielded to as a necessity. On the death of Stephen Van Rensselaer, in 1839, his heirs, who had been to Germany, returned; and, supposing themselves possessed of an income equal to a German principality, demanded all the arrearages paid up, including the extortion in the leases. At this the tenants, struck with consternation, assembled to consider their grievances and appointed a committee to wait upon their landlord, Stephen Van Rensselaer, Jr., who claimed as his the western portion of the manor. He, however, haughtily told them they need expect no indulgences from him, as he should exact all the conditions of the leases. It was at this period that Dr. Boughton returned from Delhi to live in Alps, Rensselaer county, N. Y., and found that about 10,000 inhabitants of these leased lands, grieved with the intolerance of their landlords, were holding meetings to consider what measures to adopt for redress of their grievances. Dr. Boughton advised that the legislature be petitioned for protection against the unconstitutional exactions of the landlords, under the leases. Large associations were formed, embracing some eight counties.

In the autumn of 1843 he, Dr. Boughton, was chosen as an agent to attend the legislature and present a petition from the two counties of Albany and Rensselaer and exercise all his influence to have laws enacted for the relief of these oppressed citizens, but it seemed that the whole aristocracy of the State had been enlisted on the side of the wealthy landlords, and the lobby was thronged with their lawyers employed to prevent any action, if possible, by the legislature in the interest of the petitioners. Eminent counsel were employed to furnish legal opinions for the guidance of the committee to whom the petition had been referred. Able opinions in favor of the cause of the tenants were furnished by Gov. Briggs, of Massachusetts, Hon. Daniel Webster (who remarked that if he had time he could tear the manors into shoe strings), and Ambrose L. Jordan, of New York city. It was demanded of the landlords they should show their title, but the presentation proved that discrepancies of dates existed which rendered their claims unfounded in law or equity. Their next move was to get the matter transferred to the judiciary committee which was composed of a selection of members, among whom were three of the landlords' lawyers who brought in a report favoring the claim of the landlords under the terms of the leases. Before further action could be taken the legislature adjourned, and the jubilant landlords issued a notice to the tenants to immediately come in and settle all claims or they would be ejected. It was then that the tenantry resolved upon similar measures adopted by the people of Boston when the tea was thrown overboard. Large forces of men completely disguised as Indians, were organized to prevent the forcible execution of the threats of the landlords; this course was only to be pursued until legal action could be had. This measure became popular with the people of these counties, embracing a population of about 150,000 inhabitants. At the next session of the legislature efforts were renewed to procure an amicable adjustment of the controversy which had grown to such dimensions it was feared by the government that a formidable insurrection would be the result. At this juncture the landlords instituted a secret detective system to obtain some information upon which a charge could be made against Dr. Boughton as a leader of the opposition to the enforcement of the arbitrary exactions of the landlords. In the month of December, 1844, Dr. Boughton was invited to attend a meeting for completing the organization of the town of Claverack, Columbia Co., N. Y. The meeting was large, and after an address by Dr. Boughton and the organization by a committee, the meeting adjourned and the assemblage dispersed. A few disguised persons were leaving the room when unfortunately a pistol was discharged, taking effect in the breast of a lad standing at the foot of the stairs, killing him instantly. It was supposed at the time the shooting was accidental, but it was afterward believed that it was done by a disguised traitor and intended for Dr. Boughton who lingered after the departure of the assemblage to transact some further business. At this time the sheriff and district attorney arrived with a posse and demanded the surrender of Dr. Boughton on a charge of having destroyed official papers which he had taken from the sheriff. This not being true the demand was refused, whereupon a melee ensued, in which the doctor fought his way to a building where he, with drawn pistol, resisted the whole force, who were warned that as they had no warrant for his arrest they were acting contrary to law. The sheriff and district attorney both promised if he would submit to arrest they would simply take him before a magistrate where he could be bailed, and that he should in no event be confined. Arriving at Hudson he was placed under guard and a deputation sent to Albany to invoke the protection of Gov.

Wright against the interposition of the doctor's friends who were in large numbers in the city and demanding his release. The people demanded that the pledge of the sheriff and district attorney, with regard to his release, be redeemed and offered bail to any amount that should be required, but without avail, and early in the morning 500 troops arrived, sent by Gov. Wright from Albany, with six pieces of artillery loaded with grape with which all the approaches to the jail were guarded, and all communication denied to the doctor, and he was placed in close confinement without the privilege of counsel. At length friends prevailed and obtained counsel, and a writ of habeas corpus was procured from a Supreme Court commissioner, but through the influence of the aristocracy its service was arrested by Gov. Wright, who removed the judge and appointed a tool of his own.

On a motion of his counsel, Ambrose L. Jordan, the cause was adjourned until the March term, pending which counsel Jordan was notified, that as the doctor was unlawfully imprisoned, if he would consent, a force of three or four thousand men were ready to march to his rescue, and would release him in spite of the State troops ; but considering that bloodshed must result from such a course, he declined the offer, and the trial came on. Three weeks were consumed in the trial of the case, the jury being all but one for acquittal, and he a miller for the Livingstons. The jury was discharged, court adjourned, and the doctor was left in irons in an unhealthy cell. This aroused the indignation of the people, and a large deputation waited on the governor and demanded his release on bail, which, if denied, would be followed by a resort to force. He was then removed to the common jail, where the accommodations were better. A complete arrangement was made for his escape, secretly, but he, regarding such a course as a tacit acknowledgment of guilt, declined to avail himself of it, determined to proceed according to law. So pronounced had public opinion become, the governor ordered bail to be received, and he was released until the next term of the court, some four months. During this period an attempt by the sheriff to sell some cattle in Delaware county, to satisfy a judgment for rent, caused a conflict between the deputy sheriffs and the disguised men, resulting in two deputies being shot. This caused a great sensation and a general insurrection was feared. The governor claimed that Dr. Boughton, being the leader of this revolt, should be made an example of at this juncture. As the trial was coming on such eminent counsel as William H. Seward, Joshua Spencer and many others offered their services without fee. Hon. Wm. H. Seward, on his way to court had his leg fractured by the upsetting of the stage, and thus the doctor was deprived of his services. There being no judge in that vicinity willing to try the case, Judge Edmonds of New York city was procured. The indictment was for highway robbery and stopping the sheriff and his posse by an armed force and taking certain official papers from him and burning them in his presence. The testimony of the prosecution was contradictory, and the counsel for the defense had no doubt of success, not knowing that large sums of money had been employed and the decision decided upon before the trial. The charge of the judge was partial and severe, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The sentence imposed was State prison for life at hard labor. This was in October, 1845.

The sheriff told Dr. Boughton's wife that he would not be removed to the State prison for several days, as the excitement was intense and fears were entertained that he would be forcibly taken from the sheriff; but that same night he was hurried on board a steamboat, guarded by sixty soldiers, and taken to his destination. There a large assembly awaited his arrival and again offered to set him at liberty in spite of the soldiers sent to guard him from escape; but unwilling to cause bloodshed he yielded to the demands of the officers of the law.

The power conferred by the State constitution upon the governor, to remove judges in case they did not obey his bidding, the people now saw required to be limited, as the governor had so manifestly identified himself with the landlord aristocracy, and exercised that power against the rights of a large proportion of the people of the State.

On arriving at the State prison Dr. Boughton was put in charge of the hospital of the prison, which allowed him many advantages not enjoyed by other prisoners, and an address was prepared by him and sent to the people, advising them to consolidate as a political party, irrespective of other party affiliations, and vote for a change of the constitution and for a candidate for governor who should prove faithful to their cause. This was done, and as a result 47,000 votes were cast by the friends of the oppressed tenants, and John Young, Esq., was elected the governor of the State of New York, with the assurance that the sixteen prisoners under the sentences of the judges controlled by the late governor, in the interest of the feudal landlords, were to be released.

Within one month of Gov. Young taking his seat he sent special messages to the prisons, and the said prisoners were triumphantly conveyed through the country to their homes amid great rejoicings and ovations on the way.

This was in February, 1847. Arriving at his home the doctor settled down to his practice to retrieve his exhausted fortune and enjoy his well earned tranquility, realizing most fully the old maxium, "that the man who attempts to revolutionize and overthrow the evils of a government, must not expect to reap any personal advantages, but find all his reward in the consciousness that his efforts and sacrifices have resulted to the advantage of others." And in this case some 10,000 of these oppressed tenantry had by the enactments of law been released from the entailed exactions in their leases, and they were allowed to purchase and hold their estates in fee simple.

After the lapse of forty years of return to civil life, the respected Dr. A. S. Boughton, and the companion of his youth and the faithful sharer of his trying vicissitudes and sufferings, still live, January, 1887, at Alps, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., where his home has been since 1839.

(ii.) HART BOUTON (son of Egbert and Mary Marvin Bouton), b. South East, Putnam Co., N. Y., March 26, 1827. He received a common school education, and in early manhood sought and obtained a situation in the large clothing store of Brooks Brothers & Co., then on Catharine street, subsequently removed to Broadway, New York city. On hearing of the great gold discoveries in California, he at once became interested, and leaving home ties, friends and fine business prospects, he embarked on board the Pacific, one of the first vessels leaving New York for the gold regions, in the summer of 1849. On the way around Cape Horn, they stopped at Rio de Janeiro, where, on complaint of the passengers, an investigation was had and, by advice of the United States Minister at that port, another commander was put in charge of the Pacific, which safely entered the Golden Gate, Califoria, August 5, 1849. On landing he at once went to the mines on Feather river, the result of which not proving altogether satisfactory, he returned to San Francisco, and embarked in the stationery business on Clay street. In March, 1850, he removed to Sacramento, where he established the Pioneer Laundry, where for about ten years he continued in that and some other business interests. Not satisfied with such a business life he resolved to again try the mines, and did so; encountering great deprivations and hardships. He then went to Virginia City, Nev., and was very successful in the laundry business.

Returning to Oakland, Cal., in 1875, he remained there until 1880, when he returned to San Francisco, where he assumed the superintendence of the La Grange laundry, one of the largest on the Pacific coast, a position for which his long experience eminently qualified him.

He married at Virginia City, Nev., Sept. 22, 1874, Sadie F. Furman, who was born at Haverstraw, Rockland Co., N. Y., Dec. 4, 1852, and they reside 210½ Thirteenth street, San Francisco, Cal., 1887.

The following accounts of Joseph and Francis were principally furnished by Mrs. Lucina J. Bushnel, of Nassau, N. Y.:

FAMILY RECORD OF JOSEPH (POSSIBLY GRANDSON OF JACHIN), AND JENNET GUFFIN BOUGHTON AND THEIR DESCENDANTS.

- 2,222 JOSEPH BOUGHTON, JR., b., probably, Danbury, Ct., March 19, 1768, m. Dec. 25, 1786, Jennet Guffin, who was probably b. Scotland, March 3, 1764.

Disposing of their farm in Danbury, Ct., somewhere about 1794, they moved to Staatsburgh, or Hyde Park, N. Y., where they resided a short time; thence to Schodack, Rensselaer county, N. Y., in 1795 or 1796; where he purchased land on the Van Rensselaer manor, lying along what was afterward, if not then, the Boston and Albany turnpike, eight miles from Albany. Jennet Guffin Boughton died Jan. 15, 1830, Schodack, and was buried in Nassau (which was at first called Union Village), Rensselaer county, N. Y. Joseph Boughton m. second, April 28, 1830, Sarah Bates, of Carlisle, Schoharie county, N. Y. He died April 7, 1840, in Schodack, and was buried in Nassau. Sarah Bates Boughton died Aug. 24, 1840, in Schodack, and was also buried in Nassau. Joseph Boughton was one of the founders of the Presbyterian church in Nassau. At its first meeting he was elected and installed ruling elder in the church, which office he held till near the time of his death; always earnest, active, and conscientious in his religious life, church records show that he was always in his place in all meetings of the church and session. He was genial, kind and sociable in his family and neighborhood. His family was a family of singers, particularly of sacred songs.

Joseph Boughton had one brother, Francis Boughton, who was settled at one time in New Durham, Green county, N. Y.; his wife's name was Esther Stowe. They had ten children: i. James, ii. Edward or Lyle, iii. Clark, iv. Polly, v. Lewis, vi. Rebecca, vii. Ann, viii. Francis, Jr., ix. Theodocia, x. Eliza. These children, some, if not all, settled in Schoharie and Albany counties, N. Y. In 1833 Joseph Boughton visited his brother in Green county, and on his way back stopped to visit a sister at Hyde Park, N. Y., whom he had not seen for twenty years.

She was living with a son-in-law by the name of Smith, who had a daughter who played the organ in the Episcopal church at that time.

The following sketch was contributed by Rev. C. M. Pegg by request of the compiler of this work:

My mother, Jane E. Pegg, was much after the manner of her venerable father, James Boughton, in so far as the matter of her religious life was concerned. She was devotedly pious, and sought diligently to bring up her four children, Samuel, James, Charlotte and myself in the fear of the Lord. In the absence of father from home mother conducted the devotions of the family and would pray for each of the children by name. She died at the early age of forty-four years, worn out in the self-sacrificing service of her children. James was followed in his desperate sickness by a brother and sister. When these had all rallied, their guardian angel and tender nurse laid down in exhausting sickness to die. The most terrible affliction of my life was the loss of my saintly mother. The years which have elapsed since might have been marked by very different experiences than those which have obtained had she been spared to bless us with her presence and counsels.

After her burial I went to visit a relative in a Mohawk valley town. Not being very well after the severe ordeal through which our home had passed, some one suggested in view of a revival of religion going forward in the place, the best medicine for me would be to go to the meeting and get religion. I went and made a profession of faith in Christ. Thereafter for a time I lived in Hartford, Conn., and in Middleburgh, N. Y. When in the latter place I was greatly impressed with the idea of preaching the gospel. I used to wander off by myself and on the "Cliff" overhanging the beautiful valley below exercise myself in this direction. At this time my father had as his wife Catherine Hill Pegg, a sister of Nicholas Hill, who was one of the greatest lawyers who conducted cases in the Court of Appeals at Albany. She was a splendid specimen of Christian womanhood and helpful to me in the religious life. At the age of fifteen years I was admitted as a student of the Troy Conference academy in Poultney, Vt. Then I attended the Jonesville academy, N. Y. From thence I entered the Methodist Biblical Institute which was located in Concord, N. H. At the age of seventeen, on a cold March afternoon in a country section, I found my way into the neighborhood of a school house, several miles from the city, where at night I preached as best I could from "My grace is sufficient for thee." There it was I had Daniel burning in the fiery furnace and I might have had him scorching yet, perhaps, if a brother minister had not told me Daniel was not in the furnace. Having spent several years in attendance on school and in preaching I concluded to abandon the work and go to sea. My father learning thereof came for me and induced me to attend the Troy Conference which was to hold its session in Plattsburgh, N. Y. I went, and being received on trial was stationed at what is now called Pawling avenue church, in Troy, where I remained from 1865 to 1866. Being somewhat dissatisfied with the situation at the end of the first year, despite the many kindnesses I had experienced at the hands of my numerous friends, I determined to try the venture for the sea again. I packed my books and boarded the steamboat "Connecticut" for New York. Once there I sought out Pastor Headstrom of the Bethel ship. He discouraged me in my search for a situation. Nevertheless I sought from place to place, yet without success.

I was reappointed to Pawling avenue, where I spent another year. From thence, in 1867, I was sent to Third street M. E. church. My next move was to Hartford, in Washington county, where I stayed from 1868 to 1869. Here the Lord graciously and powerfully visited the people and more than one hundred persons made a profession of the religion of Christ.

After two years in the above place, in which great material and spiritual prosperity visited the church, I was transferred to the Wilmington Conference, and sent in 1870 to Leipsic, Del. My following appointment, from 1871 to 1873, was in Fairmount, Md. Here, during three years, the work of the Lord went forward with encouraging success. One of the finest churches on the eastern shore, during this time, was dedicated to the worship of God.

From this southern charge I was sent in 1874 to Lewes, Del. This old town commanded a beautiful view of the Delaware bay and the Atlantic ocean. During my last of three years in this village, a wonderful revival of religion broke out, and scores of persons were added to the church. For two years thereafter, from 1877 to 1879, my home was in the city of Wilmington, where I served as pastor of Scott M. E. church. Here we were blessed with a fair measure of prosperity, despite the obstructions which were thrown in our way.

Having completed my term of service there, I joined the New York East Conference, and was placed in 1880 at Kensington, Conn., where we received some displays of the Divine goodness, in the strengthening, in some measure, of the church. Having been stationed at Georgetown and Zion's Hill, in 1881, I remained in this field for three years, when the itinerant wheel brought me, in 1884, to South Norwalk, in the same State. Here a revival, remarkable for its extent and thoroughness, broke out, which greatly changed the whole character of the church, and deeply impressed many people with respect to the interests of the better life. Having served my term of three years, in April, 1887, I moved to New York as the pastor of the old and famous Allen street M. E. church.

This grand old church, by reason of the complete change in the character of the population in the neighborhood, and the thunderation of the elevated railroad, has ceased to be what it was a score of years ago, and can only enjoy a permanently prosperous future by speedily changing its location for a more quiet section of this great city, so full of unrest and sin.

Was a very successful teacher for several years. In the spring of 1871 she went with Mr. and Mrs. Bushnell, on their return to Gaboon, West Africa, as a missionary teacher. There for two years she labored faithfully and well, ever happy in her work. When her health failed, and she was told there was no hope of her recovery there—possibly there might be in America, she consented to return, saying, "if I knew I would not recover, I would rather stay here and die; perhaps my death might be the means of good to some of these poor natives." She returned to Nassau, N. Y., where she had a brother living; and though told by physicians that she could not recover her health, she still continued to hope to return to her chosen work, until a short time before her death, which occurred May 17, 1874, eleven months after her arrival in her native land. Her death was caused by a cancer. She is buried in Nassau, Rens. Co., N. Y.

- 2,310 vi. FRANCIS E. BOUGHTON (son of Francis and Amy Hall Boughton), b. in Worcester, N. Y., Oct. 23, 1829, moved with his father to Schodack, m. Oct. 27, 1852, Magdalina Eutsellar, b. Jan. 29, 1827. He was a blacksmith and carriage builder. After a time he removed to Nassau, N. Y., and continued his business there till 1879, when he purchased a section of land near Tower City, Dakota, where, in 1880, he went to reside.

 2,315 ii. CLAUDE BOUGHTON, b. June 23, 1885.
 2,316 (iii) ANDREW BOUGHTON (son of Joseph and Jennet Guffin Boughton), b. Danbury, Ct., April 12, 1792. His parents removed to Schodack, Rens. Co., N. Y., when he was about four years old. Married in Schodack, March 12, 1816, Lucina Rogers, of Schodack, daughter of Reuben and Lucina Merchant Rogers, of the above named place, where she was born Dec.

16, 1792. He purchased land in Schodack, adjoining the old homestead of his father, and settled on it. On the death of his father, Joseph Boughton, he acquired the old homestead and purchased other lands adjoining. He studied music in his youth, and for years worked on his farm, and winter evenings taught singing in school houses of the surrounding neighborhoods; was chorister in the Presbyterian church, Nassau, many years. United with the church April 19, 1838, elected and ordained elder June, 1844, which office he held till his death. Though blind (caused by paralysis of the optic nerve) for fifteen years, he was seldom absent from church till the last years of his life. February 8, 1875, in his 83d year, he retired to rest, as usual, and in a few minutes, apparently without a motion, was at rest in one of those mansions which our Saviour has prepared for those who love him. Lucina Rogers Boughton died March 31, 1864. She had been a suffering invalid many years, and her patience and cheerfulness were a wonder to all who knew her. She was converted under the labors of Asahel Nettleton, and united with the Presbyterian church, Nassau, N. Y., June 25, 1820. In the language of her pastor, in her obituary, "she was one that looked well to the ways of her household, and sought to meet the claims which her Saviour had upon her, as well as those of her own family and friends." Conscientious, active, decided, yet quiet and unostentatious, her influence was very great, not only in her family, but over those with whom she associated.

Children of Andrew and Lucina Rogers Boughton.

- 2,317 i. JAMES H. BOUGHTON (son of Andrew and Lucina Rogers Boughton) born in Schodack, Rens. Co., N. Y., Aug. 17, 1817; made a profession of religion and united with the Presbyterian church of which Dr. Beeman was pastor, in Troy, N. Y., about 1839. Studied at Brunswick seminary, near Troy. In 1840 he went to Oberlin college, Ohio, having in view the ministry. Studied two years, and for some reason left and taught several years. Married in Schodack, N. Y., October 4, 1849, Julia A. Holley, born April 17, 1826. Engaged in farming in Schodack. Removed about 1860 to Utica, Macomb Co., Mich., where they still reside, 1886.

- 2,338 iv. LUCINA JENNET BOUGHTON (daughter of Andrew and Lucina Rogers Boughton, b. in Schodack, N. Y., April 8, 1830, m. Sept. 12, 1853, Rev. Albert Bushnell, the devoted African missionary, as his second wife. He was born in Rome, N. Y., Feb. 9, 1818. They embarked for Gaboon, West Coast Africa, Dec. 9, 1853, having been detained a while by a severe hemorrhage he had from the lungs. They arrived there Jan. 29, 1854. Much of her work, besides trying to make a happy home for her husband, was in connection with boarding schools, for both boys and girls; part of the time at Nēngenēnge, a new station some distance up the Gaboon river. In 1857, they returned to their native land for a short rest, Mrs. Bushnell being very much prostrated with repeated attacks of fever.

In June, 1858, they again sailed from New York for Africa, to continue the work so dear to their hearts. Once more, late in 1861, they were compelled to leave, physicians saying that Mrs. Bushnell would never again return. But health was restored, and they returned and labored on till 1869 or 1870, when they again came to this country. It was failing health, alone, that compelled them to make these frequent visits. But during the time spent here, he was actively engaged in publishing portions of the Bible in the language of the people, in attending missionary meetings and conventions, visiting colleges and theological seminaries, etc., always laboring beyond his strength. The Gaboon mission being transferred from the "American Board" to the "Presbyterian," Mr. Bushnell was also transferred; and in the spring of 1871 they returned to their work, where he labored on, preaching, teaching, translating, visiting the people from town to town; till, exceedingly wearied and worn, in 1878 he revisited this country with his wife, for the last time. During this stay he was almost constantly under the personal care of his devoted wife, who exercised quietly and unceasingly a watchful care over him. Feeling that his failing health would necessitate his soon laying down his work, his appeals were most pressing upon the young men to enter upon and carry forward the work which hitherto had very much depended upon his energies. Failing to obtain the offer of others to assume the work, he at once resolved to go himself, and give the last of his life, as he had given the best of it, for the neglected people of Africa. Dr. Bushnell, in company with his wife and Miss Janet B. Cameron, of Auburn, N. Y., afterward Mrs. Arthur W. Marling, who had consecrated her life to the mission work in Africa, set sail from New York Oct. 10, 1879, on board steamship Berlin, for Liverpool, Eng. There, after resting a few days, he reshipped on board steamship Ethiopia, for Madeira, where he had been advised by physicians to tarry a while. After three weeks he took the steamship Ambria for Gaboon, seeming stronger than when he left America. But in a few days his physical condition suddenly became alarming, and from an attack of pneumonia, complicated with valvular disease of the heart, he passed to his rest, on board the steamer, just after it anchored in the harbor of Sierra Leone, Africa, Dec. 2, 1879. His remains were respectfully prepared, and the following day conveyed to a cemetery about two miles from the landing, where they were interred until they could be transferred to their final resting place, where his life-work had been given. Mrs. Bushnell proceeded on her lonely journey, arriving at Gaboon Dec. 27, 1879. The above extract is condensed from a little memorial of his life, prepared by friends in this country. Mrs. Bushnell returned to America, arriving in New York Oct. 20, 1883, since which time until the present, March, 1889, she has made her home at Schodack; post-office, Nassau, Rensselaer Co., N. Y.

Through the kindness of Mr. Anson Titus, of Amesbury, Mass., there was much of the following account of the families of Matthew and Nathan Boughton, the sons of Eleazer Bouton, of Norwalk, Conn., furnished from town records of West Stockbridge, Mass.

COPIED FROM RECORDS.

Nathan Boughton and Rhoda Curtis was joined in lawful wedlock Jan. 3, 1771, by Rev. Stephen West.

NOTE.—The following record was found at Norwalk, Ct.:
“We, Eleazer Bouton, of Norwalk and Hezekiah, Seymour and Levi, of Genesee, N. Y., and Matthew and Nathan of Stockbridge, Mass., do remit, release, and forever quit claim to Daniel Weed, all our right, title and interest, in any and all the land formerly the property of our father, Eleazer Bouton, acknowledged by each in their respective towns, viz: Eleazer, Jr., Fairfield, Matthew and Nathan in Berkshire, Hezekiah, Seymour and Levi at Bloomfield, N. Y.

HEZEKIAH BOUGHTON, SR., AND DESCENDANTS.

(ii.) HEZEKIAH BOUGHTON (son of Eleazar and Elizabeth Seymour Boughton), b. Norwalk, Nov. 2, 1725. A farmer and married at town of Stamford, Ct., Oct. 12, 1749, Abigail, daughter of Samuel and Theophila Selleck Penoyer, b. Stamford, Ct., Sept. 2, 1730. They settled at West Stockbridge, Mass., and in 1790 moved to Victor, Ontario Co., N. Y. Having, in company with others of his relatives, been and examined the locality, they returned and removed their families thither, then a wild, unsettled tract, reached by the way of Catskill, down the Chenango river, then down the Susquehanna to Tioga Point, in Pennsylvania, thence up the Chemung river to Newtown, now Elmira, thence to the head of Seneca lake and down its west shore to Geneva or Canandaigua; from thence with a team procured in that region, they proceeded to cut a road through to their future home, to which their families were removed. William Walker, agent for Phelps & Co., with Enos Boughton, son of Hezekiah, erected a store-house at Canandaigua, which was the commencement of that town, in 1788. The same autumn Enos Boughton obtained a contract from Walker, for what became the town of Victor, his father, Hezekiah, Sr., purchasing about one-quarter of it. There he lived and improved the land, and his sons and kindred settled about him. An elevated part of the tract was called Boughton hill, which name it still bears at this writing, 1889, from which a piece of land was set off and donated by him for a cemetery, where he was buried. He died 1798, aged 73 years; she died at West Stockbridge, 1789.

To the published Recollections of Melania Boughton Smith (daughter of Jared and Olive Stone Boughton), by her son, E. Delafield Smith, 1870, the compiler acknowledges much assistance in the history of Hezekiah Boughton and his descendants. Also, to Mrs. Laura H. S. Dom, for much aid in procuring authentic dates, and place of death of the Hezekiah branch.

(viii.) LIEUT. GEO. HEZEKIAH BOUGHTON (son of Hezekiah and Huldah Willson Boughton), b. West Stockbridge, Mass., April 28, 1792. Farmer. He was the eighth and youngest of his father's children, his father dying when he was a small child, while on the journey from West Stockbridge to Victor, N. Y. He enlisted in the war of 1812 and was made a lieutenant, by which title he became known. His commission bears date Aug. 11, 1812. He made extensive tours in the west and down the valley of the Mississippi to St. Louis, on horseback, before that country was settled, and finally settled in Lockport, N. Y., where he was one of the prominent merchants of his day. He married Dec. 19, 1827, Eliza Bates, of Hopewell, N. Y., Rev. B. H. Hickox officiating. He was the first postmaster of Lockport, having been appointed by President Monroe, in 1822, and reappointed by President John Q. Adams. In 1829 he was elected state senator and served four years. His intimacy with Governor Seward was such that he appointed Mr. Boughton canal appraiser; the Senate elected him canal commissioner, and in 1855 harbor commissioner at New York city. He was the founder of Grace Episcopal church, Lockport, and for twenty years a vestryman in it. His obituary closes with the following: "The sun of his life goes down behind no cloud; full of years and full of honors, he is gathered to his fathers, leaving to his children that richest of all legacies, a good name."

(ii.) ENOS BOUGHTON (son of Hezekiah and Abigail Penoyer Boughton) b. Stamford, Conn., May 26, 1755. At just what date he went to Stockbridge the writer is not informed. By the aid of the published Recollections of Melania Boughton Smith, by her son, E. Delafield Smith, New York, 1870, many interesting incidents of early history have been obtained, among which is the following: "In the year 1788, Phelps & Company, of New England, purchased large tracts of land in western New York, of the Indians, notwithstanding such purchases had been prohibited, except by consent of the legislature. They appointed William Walker their agent, by whom Enos Boughton was subsequently employed as clerk. Enos Boughton and his brother Hezekiah, Jr., having heard of the fertility of the Genesee country, went, in the year 1788, through trackless forests, to explore that region. They accomplished their object and returned; and again, in the spring of 1789, he and his brother Jared visited the place which subsequently became Victor, the residence of so many of the Boughtons and their connections. During the fall of 1788, he, Enos, secured a contract from Walker for what became the town of Victor, and before the following spring had sold more than two-thirds of his purchase.

"In process of time some trouble was experienced in obtaining satisfactory titles for these lands, and he, Enos Boughton, became heavily involved, by which not only himself but his brothers, who endeavored to assist him, became large losers, and in order to retrieve their losses, he and his brother Jared, and brother-in-law Daniel Sawyer, went to North Carolina in the summer of 1799. Their project was to make lumber of the juniper or white cedar, which grew in the swamps of that region. The climate not proving congenial and the enterprise unsatisfactory, he, Enos, soon returned with his family to Victor. He married, place and date not known, but probably West Stockbridge, Mass., Clarissa Jones, and moved (after his return from North Carolina to Victor), thence to Niagara Falls, and then to Lockport, N. Y., where he died three years later, Oct. 5, 1827, aged 73 years. She died April 19, 1821, aged 58 years.

"Enos Boughton was a man of great force of character; was active, enterprising, and always sanguine of success in his schemes, when others would have yielded to discouragement. His figure was fine and erect, his eyes dark and expressive. In manner he was courtly but always dignified, and rather reserved. He spent his later years in retirement, at his first home at Boughton Hill, interesting himself in reading, a little farming, gardening and fruit raising, of which he was very fond. A widowed daughter and her child were his chief companions, his wife having died many years before."

NOTE.—An article appeared in a Rochester newspaper on the 4th of January, 1889, as follows: "Yellow with Age.—One of the first transfers of real estate made in Monroe county, N. Y., was recorded in the county clerk's office yesterday. The paper was worn and yellow with age, but the writing was well preserved. The deed was given on August 9, 1795, by Enos Boughton, of Bloomfield, Ontario county, N. Y., to his kinsman, Horatio Boughton, yeoman. The land described in the deed consisted of 241½ acres on the south side of Genesee river, at the entrance of Red creek, and the consideration was £500. Enos Boughton, the grantor, was the founder of a large family, many descendants of which reside in that locality. A portion of the land embraced in this deed, is in the tract selected by the park commissioners for the proposed South Park. When this deed was made, the site of Rochester was an unbroken wilderness, and the purchaser little dreamed that in less than 100 years his descendants would sell the land to a great city for a park."

DESCENDANTS OF JARED BOUGHTON,

Son of Hezekiah and Abigail Penoyer Boughton.

[From Recollections by his daughter Mrs. Melania Boughton Smith.]

(vi.) JARED BOUGHTON, b. Salem, Westchester county, N. Y., Feb. 19, 1766, m. Columbia county, N. Y., 1787, Olive Stone (dau. of Charles and Tryphena Collins Stone), b. Old Stockbridge, Berkshire county, Mass., Jan. 2, 1770.

HEZEKIAH BOUGHTON and his family were residents of Old Stockbridge, Mass., and Jared Boughton, his son, with his wife continued to make their home there for some time after their marriage.

In the spring of 1788, having heard of the fertile country of the Genesee, he and his brother Hezekiah started on an exploring expedition in search of a new home. They went first to Chenango, where Charles Stone, father-in-law of Jared, had previously bought a large tract of land.

Not liking the country they were about to return, but being informed of the council held with the Indians by Phelps & Gorham at Geneva, with a view to the extinction of the Indian title to their large purchase of territory in western New York, they found company and went thither, arriving a few days before the close of the treaty. They were well pleased with the country, but being unable to purchase until the land was surveyed they returned to Stockbridge.

The treaty was held in July, 1788. In the fall of the same year William Walker, agent and surveyor for Phelps & Gorham, Enos Boughton (brother of Jared), clerk and assistant of Walker, with others came on to Canandaigua, where they erected a store-house and other buildings for the accommodation of the party. These were the first buildings erected in that town. In the course of the fall Enos obtained from Walker a contract for township 11, range 4, of the Phelps & Gorham tract, now the township of Victor, Ontario county.

In May, 1789, Jared Boughton, his brother Enos, Horatio Jones, a surveyor, and brother-in-law of Enos, with hired hands came to the new purchase. The township, six miles square, was surveyed into lots and prepared for sale. The father, Hezekiah Boughton, reserved somewhat more than one-fourth, including what was afterward called Boughton Hill. The remainder was mostly sold before spring. Jared Boughton had brought with him a supply of seeds and some farming implements. He raised summer crops for immediate use, built a log house and sowed several acres of wheat for the next year. This was the first improvement made by white men in that town. There had been an Indian village on the Hill and the Indians had burned off the timber and kept the ground clear, apparently for their own planting. Thus there was a large tract nearly ready for the plough. On this the wild grass grew luxuriantly, furnishing abundant pasturage for the cattle and sheep which were brought on in June by Hezekiah Boughton and a cousin, Jacob Lobdell.

In October most of the party returned to Stockbridge. The homecoming of the brothers was saddened by the death of their mother, Abigail Penoyer Boughton, which had occurred in the summer.

The intention of Jared Boughton was to avail himself of the winter, to take his family and effects in sleighs to their new home. They waited in vain for sleighing until February, when, a few inches of snow having fallen, they started on the long journey. Seymour Boughton, younger brother of Jared, accompanied them as assistant and companion. There were two children, a son Selleck, not quite two years old, and a daughter Melania, only four months old. The way was through an almost uninhabited wilderness, if we except Indians and wild beasts. There were no roads except such as were cut through the woods; the streams were without bridges. The Cayuga lake was crossed on the ice, which was so softened by the lateness of the season that with the horses at full speed the sleigh tracks filled with water behind them. When no other shelter was reached they camped under the trees when night overtook them. Of one of these instances Mr. Boughton wrote—having passed the previous night at the house of an Indian interpreter and his squaw wife—"We had traveled thirteen miles. Col. Reed's family and mine, fourteen in number, camped that night under a hemlock tree, built a camp of hemlock boughs, had a warm brisk fire, made chocolate; and although my wife had a young child, we had a comfortable time." They arrived at their cabin in Victor, March 7, 1790.

Olive Boughton, the wife of Jared, was the first white woman who came to that town, and for three months she was the only one. Her second son, Frederic, was the first white child born there. He was born June 1st, 1791.

In October, 1790, seven or eight months after the arrival of Jared Boughton in Victor, his father came, with the youngest son, Seymour, and the unmarried daughter, Theodosia. The married daughters came not far from the same time, and the family were all together in the new western home. The father gave farms to his married children, and built a house for himself and the two unmarried ones. He gave land on Boughton Hill for a cemetery, and a public square. On this square a school house was built, where for many years most of the Boughton ideas were taught to shoot. He laid out a broad highway, extending from Boughton Hill to the south line of his possessions, which was also the line between Victor and East Bloomfield. All these were donated to the town. In the division of property among the children, Enos and Jared Boughton settled on Boughton Hill. The latter built his house under the shadow of a great oak, which had escaped the fires, and beneath which were several Indian graves. Here the family passed a number of happy years. Hezekiah Boughton, the father, died in 1798. Soon after, Enos became involved in financial trouble. To relieve him, his brother Jared, and Daniel Sawyer, who had married the sister Theodosia, sold their possessions, paid the debts, and hoping to retrieve their fortunes, removed with their families—Enos and his family going with them—to North Carolina. Jared and his family were detained at Old Point Comfort, Virginia, by sickness. One of his children, a daughter aged eighteen months, and a niece of Mrs. Boughton aged eighteen years, died there. They had left Victor in June, and arrived at the place of their destination in September.

Their plan was to manufacture lumber from the white cedar which abounded in the swamps there. They hired slaves from their masters and set to work. The lumber was sent in vessels to northern cities, where it sold readily. After a year or two Enos and his family returned to Victor. The others worked on. Soon they were able to purchase vessels. The elder sons were placed in a school in Edenton, N. C. The two eldest daughters were sent to a boarding school in Providence, R. I., where they remained two years.

.At the end of ten years their object was so far accomplished that Jared Boughton decided to return home. The Sawyer family remained in Carolina, never coming north again. Mr. Boughton came back to Victor in 1809 and repurchased a part of his original farm. He also built a brick hotel in East Bloomfield, which was one of a series two or three miles apart on what was then called the State road, leading west from Albany to Buffalo, passing through Canandaigua and East Bloomfield. These taverns, as they were then called, were large with ample barns intended for the accommodation not only of the inhabitants, but chiefly as resting places for the many men and teams bringing goods from the east to supply the western market. Here he placed his second son; the eldest he settled on a farm adjoining his own, but he afterward left farming for the study of law.

In this, the home of his early choice, he spent the most of his after life, beloved and respected by all who knew him. He died February 10, 1852, at the home of his youngest son Enos, in East Bloomfield. His wife had died there Jan. 17, 1849. They are both buried in the old burial ground on Boughton Hill where his father and many of his kindred also lie.

In spring of 1823 they removed to Rochester, which at that time was very sickly, the streets being in a horrible condition and bilious fever prevalent. In the following autumn Dr. Smith went to New York to attend lectures, and his wife with her two little boys, Sanford and Augustus, went to her father's in Victor. In the spring they returned to Rochester, and in 1836 moved to New York city, where the sons attended college. In November, 1846, Dr. Smith was thrown from a horse and injured so that he was never after in good health. He died while on a visit to friends in western New York at the house of his brother-in-law, Enos Boughton, June 19, 1850. - 2,719 iii. AUGUSTUS F. SMITH, b. Victor, N. Y., Oct. 3, 1819, m. May 22, 1844, Lucy A. Elliot; settled in New York; moved about 1850 to Fort Washington, as a country residence in summer, but resided in New York city generally.

The following obituary was clipped from a Rochester, N. Y., newspaper, July, 1876:

"DEATH OF AUGUSTUS F. SMITH.—We are called upon to announce the death of Augustus F. Smith, of New York. He died on the 6th instant, after a long and painful illness. Mr. Smith was once a resident of this city, and was well known to many of our citizens. He was a son of Dr. Archelaus G. Smith, formerly of Rochester, and the only surviving brother of Hon. E. Delafield Smith. He was born in Victor, N. Y., October 3d, 1819. His father became a resident of Rochester in 1823, and practiced in this city till 1836, when he removed to New York with his family. Mr. Smith was one of the "old school boys" of Rochester, graduated at New York university, was admitted to the bar in New York and practiced his profession there until he was seized with the sickness which resulted in his death. He achieved distinction and a fortune as a member of the firm of Martin & Smith, whose business equalled, if it did not exceed, that of any legal firm in the metropolis. He was the active member of the firm, his partner, Mr. Martin, seldom—if ever—appearing in court. Unquestionably, Mr. Smith was one of the first lawyers of New York. He never aspired to political preferment—his entire life was devoted to the profession which he adorned. He was a man of sterling integrity, unblemished character, of noble bearing, and he commanded the highest respect and admiration of both bench and bar. He lived in modest elegance, the head of a family refined and devoted. He will be mourned by all who knew him, and the legal profession will be deprived of a member whose ripe learning, elegant culture and unsurpassed ability it can ill spare."

- 2,720 iv. ADELPHA SMITH (dau. of Dr. Archelaus G. and Melania Boughton Smith), born Victor, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1824, m. June 15, 1844, first, Charles Durfee and settled in New York ; moved to Brooklyn. Married, second, Stephen K. Fowler, and moved to Boxford, Mass. ; died in Vernon, N. Y., August 13, 1885.

- 2,721 v. EDWARD DELAFIELD SMITH (son of Dr. Archelaus G. and Melania Boughton Smith), b. Rochester, N. Y., May 8, 1826, m. Sumter, S. C., first, Charlotte Eliphail Morgan, d. March 31, 1872 ; second, Margaret Morgan ; both daughters of Rev. Dr. Gilbert Morgan, of Sumter, S. C. He graduated from the university of New York, 1846 ; studied law in the offices of Chancellor Kent, Judge Blatchford and Judge Henry E. Davies, and was admitted to the bar in 1848. He practiced in New York for several years, during which, in addition to arduous professional work, he published four volumes of selected legal decisions, which are known as the E. D. Smith Reports. In 1861 he was appointed by President Lincoln, U. S. district attorney for the southern district of New York, an office which he held for four years, during which he achieved many triumphs, the most celebrated being the conviction and execution of Nathaniel Gordon, a slave trader. This was the first conviction under a law which had been in existence, but a dead letter for forty-one years. At the close of his term he resumed the practice of his profession, until appointed counsel to the corporation of New York. In consequence of failing health he retired to his country home in Shrewsbury, N. J., where he died April 12, 1878.

SAMUEL BOUGHTON AND DESCENDANTS.

- 2,863^{uu} SAMUEL BOUGHTON⁴ is the earliest known member of this family,* and even his place of residence is unknown, except that it was in Connecticut. He must have been born between 1730 and 1740. Tradition says he married at the age of twenty-four, and died two years later. His wife's name was Eunice, almost certainly Eunice Nichols, of Reading, Conn., and she was born March 5, 1739. She married, second, John or Daniel Osburn, to whom she bore twelve children. With that husband she removed to Otisville, Orange county, N. Y. She married, third, — Farnham.

*NOTE.— It has been supposed that he was that Samuel Boughton, born April 11, 1730, whose ancestors were : Nathaniel,³ John,² John;¹ but there are grave objections to this theory.

Child of Samuel and Eunice Nichols Boughton.

- 2863^{vv} i. SAMUEL BOUGHTON was born in Connecticut, and so high an authority as Dr. J. W. Meeker, fixes Sept. 16, 1759, as the date of his birth. In childhood he was taken by his mother to Otisville, N. Y. He married at Shawangunk, Ulster county, N. Y., in or before the year 1792, Lucy Tracy,* called "of Canaan, Conn.," though, perhaps, then residing in New York state.

*NOTE.—Mercy Tracy, a sister of Lucy, married a Farnham, of Scipio, N. Y., and was mother of the late Hon.

Henry Farnham, a well known patron of Yale college. Another sister, Abigail Tracy, married Simeon Parks, by whom she had a daughter, Betsey, who married George Boughton, and had at least three children.

- 2,863^{ww} i. SENECA BOUGHTON, b. March 24, 1818; living in Victor, N. Y., unmarried, 1889.
 2,863^{xx} ii. CEPHAS BOUGHTON, of Victor, N. Y. He had several children, including a daughter, Libbie Boughton, b. about 1857, m. in 1879. See 2862^c.
 2,863^{yy} iii. CAROLINE BOUGHTON, b. about 1835; m. William Gallup, long a leading merchant at Victor, N. Y. They had a son William Gallup, born about 1862.*

* NOTE.—See 2862^f.

Lucy, daughter of Benjamin Tracy, by his wife Olive [Killain ?], and her parents are said to have removed from Norwalk, Conn., about 1783, and after residing a while at Shawangunk, removed to Scipio, Cayuga county, N. Y. She out-lived her husband and, after living some time with her daughter Olive, married in her old age Elijah Williams, a Presbyterian deacon of Victor, N. Y. Samuel Boughton settled Victor, about the year 1797, and died there on the estate of his son-in-law James Upton about 1810-20. He had four children.

 2,865 iv. ADDISON⁶ BOUGHTON.

(i.) OLIVE⁶ BOUGHTON (dau. of Samuel and Lucy Tracy Boughton), was born in or near the village of Shawangunk, N. Y., in 1793, but was taken by her parents to Victor, Ontario county, N. Y., in her fourth year. There she married April 21, 1808, James Upton, Esq., one of the leading citizens of western New York. He was born in Charle-mont, Mass., Feb. 2, 1779, and settled in Victor, 1797, where he became a large landed proprietor and built the "Upton Homestead" which still stands.* He died in 1857, having lost his wife April 24, 1842.†

*For a further account of this Upton family, see Vinton's "The Upton Memorial," Upton's "Genealogical Collections," and Munsell's "American Ancestry."

†This date was erroneously printed "1824" in the "N. E.

H. and G. Register" for April, 1886; and thereby the careful author of the "Handbook of Hartwell Genealogy" was led to suppose James Upton had a second wife.

(iv.) ADDISON⁹ BOUGHTON (son of Samuel and Lucy Tracy Boughton), was born in Victor, N. Y., about 1810. He was apprenticed to learn the trade of cabinet maker, by his kinsman, James Upton, Esq., and Mr. Nehemiah Osburn, at Rochester, N. Y. He afterward opened a shop in Penn Yan, N. Y., where he died in middle life. He was married but seems to have left no issue.

(iii.) JOSIAH W. UPTON (son of James and Olive Boughton Upton), was born Sept. 19, 1812, in Victor, N. Y., where he still resides. By his wife Sophia Roe he had three children.

- 2,889^a iv. JAMES UPTON, JR. (son of James and Olive Boughton Upton), was born in Victor, N. Y., April 19, 1815. He resided in Victor, N. Y., and Victor, Mich., and was a man of fine character and great ability. By his wife Elvira Emeline Hawkins, he had one son.

Child of James, Jr. and Elvira E. Hawkins Upton, of Victor, Mich. 2869

- 2,890 i. CLARENCE HAWKINS UPTON, of Rochester, N. Y.
- 2,890^a ii. WILLIAM W. UPTON (son of James and Olive Boughton Upton), was born in Victor, N. Y., July 11, 1817. Our space will not permit an adequate biography of Judge Upton, nor could a complete account of his active life be written without a discussion of burning political questions which would be out of place in these pages. The son of a wealthy farmer in a newly settled part of the state, he received somewhat more than a common school education, and early acquired that love of learning and faculty for hard study which has always been one of his most marked characteristics. Yet his love was for learning, not for show, and in later life, when he was familiar with the most advanced branches of mathematics, and could read Latin and French as readily as English, he declined the degree of LL.D., tendered him by one of our leading colleges, on the ground that "he thought such distinctions should be conferred sparingly, and only upon those who have received a thorough classical education."

Mr. Upton went to Victor, Mich., in the winter of 1837-8, but returned to his native town the following September, where he remained about a year and was married. He then, in 1840, returned to Victor, Mich., and was admitted to the bar. He rapidly gained a leading position at the bar of his adopted state, and was frequently elected to office by his fellow citizens. He was a supervisor of Victor, 1840-5; surveyor of Clinton county, 1841-5; treasurer of same, 1845-7; and a member of the legislature which made Lansing the capital. He removed to DeWitt in 1845, and to Lansing in 1847, in which place he built the first house that was not of logs. He was appointed district attorney for Ingham county, in 1848, and was elected to the same office for two terms of two years each, in 1849 and in 1851. Resigning this office, he left Michigan with his family, April 1, 1852, for California, by the overland route. There he settled, first at Weaverville, but in 1852 removed to Sacramento. He was a member of the legislature in 1856, and in the fall of 1861, when there were three political parties in California, he was elected prosecuting attorney of Sacramento county, which office he held till 1864. In the presidential contest of 1860 he was a Douglas democrat, but on the breaking out of the war he became a firm supporter of President Lincoln, and has ever since been a republican. In 1864 he was urged to become a candidate for congress, but the ill health of his family compelled him to remove from a climate which had proved fatal to his wife and three of his children. He accordingly removed to Portland, Oregon, in the spring of 1865. He was almost immediately elected to the legislature of Oregon. In 1867 he was appointed a justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon, and in 1868 was elected to that position for a term of six years. He became chief justice in 1872. So satisfactorily did he fill these offices and so high was his reputation as a lawyer, that more than eighty of his nisi prius decisions were printed and bound with the decisions of the Supreme Court.

At the expiration of his term of office, financial reverses compelled him to decline a renomination and to resume the practice of his profession. In the presidential controversy of 1876, the vote of Oregon being in doubt, the republicans practically rested their case before the electoral commission upon a decision rendered by Judge Upton at nisi prius upon the question of the power of the governor of Oregon to exercise judicial functions. A majority of the state Supreme Court had differed with Judge Upton, but the electoral commission by a unanimous vote sustained his view, thus giving the state and the presidency to the republicans. In 1877 Judge Upton, unexpectedly to himself, was appointed second comptroller of the treasury of the United States, an office, according to Alexander Hamilton, "next to the secretary of the treasury." As this was practically a judicial office and a court of last resort (the comptroller's decisions being reversible by act of congress only), Judge Upton accepted the appointment with pleasure, removed with his family to Washington city and entered upon the discharge of his duties October 1, 1877. He filled the office with great credit to himself through three administrations, passing upon about 160,000 accounts and claims, involving about $600,000,000. Soon after the inauguration of President Cleveland, Judge Upton tendered his resignation, and on its acceptance, June 1, 1885, resumed the practice of his profession in Washington. Early in 1885 his "Digest of Decisions of the Second Comptroller of the Treasury, 1869 to 1884," was published by the United States government.

Judge Upton married, first, Victor, N. Y., Feb. 8, 1840, Maria Amanda Hollister, eldest daughter of Hon. Joseph and Amanda (Adams) Hollister.* She was born at Danby, N. Y., August 13, 1818, and died at Sacramento in December, 1858. He married, second, East Avon, N. Y., March 29, 1860, Marietta, daughter of Amasa and Alida Ann (Ketcham) Bryan.

*NOTE.—For her ancestry, see Dr. Case's "Hollister Family," and Upton's "Genealogical Collections."

- i. A son,⁸ b. and d. at Victor, Mich., March, 1843.
- 2,891 ii. JAMES BOUGHTON⁷ UPTON, b. Victor, Mich., March 19, 1844. He lived in Michigan and California with his father. He graduated at the High school in Sacramento, and was admitted to the bar there. He removed to Portland, Oregon, soon after his father did, and went from there to Oregon City. In 1869 he returned to Portland, and was for four years in the real estate business in connection with his profession, devoting much time and money to the promotion of emigration from the eastern states and Europe to Oregon. In 1873 he removed to Washington county, but returned again to Oregon City. In 1876 he retired from practice and took up his residence at Oretown, Oregon, which has since been his home, except about two years, when large business interests required his presence in Colfax, W. T. He married, Nov. 9, 1869, Anne Amanda Shaw, of Oregon City, by whom he has five children.

- 2,898 iii. CHARLES BACKUS UPTON, b. DeWitt, Mich., Dec. 18, 1845. He went to California with his parents in 1852, graduated at the Sacramento High school in 1865, removed to Portland, Oregon, where he was admitted to the bar, and was successively deputy sheriff, deputy prosecuting attorney and deputy U. S. attorney. He practiced his profession with marked success, both in Portland and at Walla Walla, W. T., to which place he removed about 1878. He has traveled and read much, is a man of liberal ideas, a large land owner, and unmarried.

- 2,899 iv. MARIETTA UPTON, b. Lansing, Mich., March 4, 1848. She lived with her father in Michigan, California, Oregon and Washington, and died in the latter city, Oct. 1, 1880, unmarried. In this young lady, whose life was devoted to the happiness of those around her, all the strongest and noblest qualities of her family seem to have united and reached their highest development. With all the intellectual power of her father, she inherited from her mother all those gentler graces of mind and heart which are the crowning ornament of her sex. With mental training which enabled her to fit one brother for Yale college and another for West Point, and social accomplishments which made her a favorite in the best society in the land and charmed all who knew her, she found her favorite occupation in relieving the sufferings of the poor and the afflicted. Short as was her life, who can measure the good she accomplished, or the effects of her life and example upon those who were brought within their influence?

- 2,900 v. CHARLOTTE UPTON, b. Lansing, Mich., March 18, 1850 ; d. there the same year.

- 2,901 vi. WILLIAM HENRY^s UPTON, b. at Weaverville, Cal., June 19, 1854. Having pursued his preliminary studies in Portland, Oregon, he received a classical education at Yale college, where he graduated in 1877. He then entered the office of Hon. R. W. Thompson, secretary of the navy, where he remained nearly three years. Entering the law school of Columbian university, he graduated LL.B. in 1879, and LL.M. in 1880. In the latter year, having previously been admitted to the bar, he resigned his position, formed a professional partnership with his brother Charles B., and removed to Walla Walla, W. T., where he has since been in active practice.

He married at Washington, D. C., June 23, 1881, Georgia Louise, youngest daughter of the late Samuel William Bradley, of Olean, N. Y., by his wife Aditha (Barr) Bradley, and has two children.

2,903 ii. GEORGE BRADLEY UPTON, b. June 20, 1885.

- 2,904 vii. GEORGE WHITMAN^s UPTON, b. Sacramento, Cal., June 1, 1857. He was known as George Washington Whitman Upton till 1876, and lived with his father in California and Oregon. In 1876 he was appointed by President Grant a cadet at large to West Point. He remained at the academy nearly four years, but on the death of his sister in 1880, resigned and went to live with his father in Washington city. There, having declined a lieutenancy in the army, he received an appointment in the war department, which he held until, having graduated at Columbian university, he was admitted to the bar. In 1884 he married Harriet, only daughter of Hon. E. B. Taylor, M. C., and, having formed a professional partnership with his father-in-law, settled in Warren, Ohio, where he now resides.

(x.) MARY EMELINE⁷ UPTON (dau. of Samuel and Olive Boughton Upton), was born at Victor, N. Y., April 19, 1829. She married William C. Moore. After living some years at Peoria, Ill., they returned to Victor, where she died Oct. 1, 1879, having been thrown from a carriage a day or two before while on one of her numerous errands of mercy. She was a woman of unusual beauty of person and mind. She devoted the advantages of high social position, great mental ability and thorough culture to the work of promoting the happiness and good of those about her, especially the poor, the weak and the erring; and left a memory which will long be one of the rarest of Victor's treasures.

(xii.) CHARLES E. UPTON (son of Samuel and Olive Boughton Upton) was born in Victor, N. Y., July 4, 1833. He settled in Rochester, N. Y., where he died March 20, 1886. He was a man of the purest character and of unusual ability. Thoroughly unselfish, and finding his highest pleasure in assisting others, especially young men, in the battle of life, he was beloved by his fellow citizens as men rarely are. His widow and daughters reside in New York city. Married Louise Racket, Oct. 12, 1859.

- 2,918 i. CORA^s GILLIS, b. 1852. She was a charming girl, (much resembling, except in point of years, her mother's cousin Mary E. Upton, who married Wm. C. Moore), and was by far the most beautiful of all her kindred. She was of medium height, with a figure of exquisite proportions and grace, brown curls and plump, rosy lips, nose slightly aquiline, complexion as delicate as a rose leaf, forehead a model for an artist, and a glorious dark hazel eye fringed by long, dark lashes. Her mind and disposition were as lovely as her person. But, alas ! ever

Possessed of usual good health, no apprehensions of sickness clouded the bright prospect of her friends for her future until, approaching the close of her eighteenth year, she was attacked with great severity with an illness that rapidly developed into spinal meningitis followed by delirium, and ere her agonized friends could comprehend the danger, the destroyer had snatched the precious jewel, leaving only the beautiful casket to mock the anxious eyes that so reluctantly recognized the terrible fact before them.

SAMUEL BOUTON'S DESCENDANTS.

About the year 1793, James Bouton and Roger Bouton emigrated, it is supposed, from Fairfield county, Ct., to Delaware county, N. Y., where they settled, then a new, unimproved region, with only marked trees by which the settlers could find their way through the dense forest, the nearest place where they could obtain their milling and store supplies being about forty miles distant.

About the same period, David Bouton, supposed to be their brother (the children of Samuel Bouton, son of Nathaniel and Mary Bouton, of New Canaan, in the town of Stamford, Ct.), also emigrated to Delaware county, N. Y., having just married, at Redding, Ct., Esther Belden. Subsequently Mercy, their sister, also came to reside in Delaware county, and settled at Delhi, having married, Feb. 6, 1775, Jonathan Allaben, of Blue Point, L. I. An early record says that Samuel Bouton married and settled on Long Island. (See descendants of Nathaniel Bouton, 1st.)

Feb. 18, 1778; they moved the same year of their marriage to Delaware Co., N. Y., town of Roxbury. A Methodist Episcopal church was formed at that place, with which they were identified as long as they lived. In their early experience they endured hardships and privations, but lived to see the fruit of their toil ripen into a competence in their old age. She died June 24, 1839; he died June 7, 1843, and they were both interred in the family burying ground on the farm where they first settled in that county.

DESCENDANTS OF MATTHEW BOUTON, FIRST

In the absence of authentic history regarding Matthew Bouton (son of the emigrant, John Bouton), of whom the Norwalk town records show that he sold land in Norwalk, the gift of his father, and went to Danbury with his brother John, where they bought land, in the record of which their names are spelled with the "GH" — which spelling seems to have become popular in Danbury thereafter. Although, no doubt owing to the burning of the early town records, there has no definite and particular family record of the first Matthew Bouton been discovered, it is believed and assumed from the records of the probate court (some of which were preserved) that John Boughton, whose will was dated second year of the reign of George III, king of England, September 6, 1756, was a son of said Matthew, Sr. He bequeathed to his wife Rebecca certain movables and the use of lands, and the residue to his children, Rebecca, John and James, having provided a portion for Hannah, Elizabeth and Seth Whitney, children of his wife Rebecca by her first husband, appointing his beloved wife and loving brother, Benjamin Boughton, executors. The following April, 1757, said Benjamin and Rebecca accepted the trust as executors of the will of said John Boughton, and, January, 1758, Rebecca, daughter of said John Boughton, deceased, chose for her guardian her uncle Benjamin, and

Daniel Boughton (probably a brother of said John and Benjamin) was appointed jointly with Benjamin as guardian of deceased John's minor son John.

The first mention found on the records of Danbury, of this period, of Matthew Boughton is April 17, 1767, when he was appointed administrator on the estate of Elizabeth Boughton. It is supposed that he was a grandson of the first Matthew Bouton and a son of David, and in later life moved, with his wife Martha, to central New York, leaving his son Thomas Boughton, a farmer, of Ridgebury, near Danbury, who, as subsequent records show, married Rebecca Coley, and lived and died at Ridgebury, Ct.; he d. April 4, 1846; she Jan. 15, 1853.

A deed of land by Matthew Bouton to John Belden, of Norwalk, dated April 3, 1724, is in possession of D. H. Van Hoosen, Esq., of Wilton, Ct., and is a remarkably well preserved relic one hundred and sixty-three years old.

They built a new house near the Congregational church which sufficed for both a store and dwelling. He was converted and baptized into the Congregational church, Jan. 2, 1842, as was also his wife, May 2, 1852, where they served the church in leading the music, he the choir and she playing the organ. He was elected an officer of the society there and has served the society as such ever since. He was also elected justice of the peace and selectman for many terms, and representative in the state legislature, in which he served two terms—1868 and 1872. His public spirit was manifested especially in improving and enlarging the old burying grounds (which had been neglected), beautifying it with many rare trees, and laying it out with avenues and walks and erecting a handsome iron fence adjoining the highway. For many years the care of the church and the meeting house devolved upon him principally. He was living in the same house which he built in 1854, in the autumn of 1889. He became well known as a statistician and contributed much information for this work, and his knowledge was often invoked from genealogical writers, both locally and abroad.

NOTE. — Charles William Boughton (son of Asa Boughton) early in life left his home and enlisted in the army, engaged at the time in subduing the Indian encroachments on our western frontiers; but the life did not meet his tastes, so by the assistance of friends his discharge from the army was procured. He then went to New York city, where he embarked in mercantile pursuits, which, by his shrewd judgment, he made quite successful. Operating in large undertakings he at one time (1835) controlled the New York market in the article of honey, and eventually working into financial lines he became one of the active men in Wall street and one of the organizers of the open board of brokers. Having secured a competence he retired to Schoharie, N. Y., where he purchased a home and resided, becoming a leader in the councils of his political party (democratic), by whom he was often urged to accept official position, which he always declined. He died, widely known and respected, at the meridian of life, at Schoharie, Oct. 22, 1862.

He married at Ridgefield, Ct., 1767, Martha Scott (dau. of Capt. James Scott, of Ridgefield), and settled in Poundridge, N. Y., where they lived until he enlisted in the army of the revolution, when his wife went to live with her parents at Ridgefield until his return from the war.

Being a zealous whig he heartily espoused the cause of his oppressed country, left his dependent family with his father-in-law, and offered his services and his life, if need be, to his country and the commonwealth of the American colonies.

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN BOUGHTON,

(SON OF TIMOTHY, SON OF EBENEZER.)

(i.) JOHN BOUGHTON, "son of Timothy and Martha Scott Boughton," was born at Poundridge, Westchester county, N. Y., May 2, 1770. Owing to losses sustained by his father, who was a soldier of the revolution, on his return from the war, found himself unable to bring up all his children at home, and accordingly put out his two oldest children, John and Sally, with a Mr. John Edmonds, of Southbury, Ct., to work until of age. When out of his time he continued to live in Southbury and work for his former employer until he married at Southbury, February 1, 1793, Currence Downs, of Southbury, where she was born Nov. 1, 1773. They continued to live at Southbury as farmers for a few years, when, learning of the great advantage of the soil in the western part of the state of New York, he decided to settle in the town of Scipio, Cayuga county, N. Y., where he moved his family with a yoke of oxen and a wagon. He started from Connecticut on the first day of February, 1791, and made the journey of over 300 miles through a new and sparsely settled country in twenty-one days. Arriving at Scipio they settled on a farm he had purchased, lying in the midst of a dense and heavily wooded forest, with but about an acre of cleared land to commence the production of a sustenance for his little family. Leaving, as they had, the comforts and advantages of a cultivated country, they felt keenly the want of church and school accommodations. Both having been members of the Presbyterian church at Southbury, they forgot not their early vows, and soon began, in connection with some of their neighbors, to arrange for church and school facilities.

For a time the neighbors convened at their house for public worship, until the interest resulted in building a school-house, which served for both purposes.

Finding it needful to have a religious society organized, the people were called together for that purpose, and formulated the views of the body, which proved to be that of a regular Baptist church, of which they ever remained members while they lived, and in which all their children were brought up in the fear and admonition of the Lord, and were nearly all baptized into its fellowship.

After a period of about thirteen years of toil and privation, Currence, the mother of all his children and the devoted sharer of his love and labor, died May 3, 1810, and was interred in the burying ground of the Baptist church at Scipio, N. Y., where there still stands a marble tablet with this inscription: "Currence, wife of John Boughton, who died in the faith of Christ May 3, 1810, aged 37 y. 3 m. 4d.

He married second, Abigail Stilson, a widow, of Scipio, N. Y., January, 1811, by whom he had no children.

After twenty-seven years of active life as a farmer on the same farm upon which he settled on arriving in Cayuga county, he died, much respected, March 25, 1824, and was buried by the grave of his departed wife, and a marble tablet, inscribed: "John Boughton, who died in the faith of Christ March 25, 1824," still marks the place of his burial.

DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM BOUGHTON.

(i.) WILLIAM BOUGHTON, b. Southbury, Ct., Jan. 23, 1794, being but three years old when his parents moved from Connecticut to Scipio, N. Y., where he remained with his parents until sixteen years old, when he was apprenticed to Edward Allen, near Auburn, N. Y., to learn cloth-making. The following year he went to Genoa Hollow to learn cloth-dressing with Enoch Buck, but his father, not liking the treatment he received from his employer, took him away and sent him on a visit to Connecticut among his relatives. He made the journey on foot, and called on his way at the house of his uncle, Thaddeus Boughton, in Clinton, Dutchess county, N. Y.

On arriving in Connecticut he went to his grandfather Timothy's old residence and visited the relatives in the vicinity, going to the house of Mrs. Sally Boughton Williams, daughter of Mrs. Abigail Boughton Rusco, the sister of his grandfather, Timothy Boughton, who was at that time an aged widow, living with her only daughter, Mrs. Sally Williams, in the town of Ridgefield. While in Connecticut he worked in the woolen factory in Ridgefield township, north of the town, until January, 1815, when he returned to Scipio, and went to work in the woolen mill at Skaneateles, N. Y.

He was married at Scipio, Feb. 5, 1817, to Miss Anna Wakeley, daughter of Elder Abner and Ruth A. Wakeley, of the same place; she was born in Connecticut, Oct 5, 1794. They settled at Ulysses (now Enfield), N. Y., and afterward moved to Nunda, Allegany county, N. Y., where she died, Dec. 14, 1831.

He married, second, Melinda Enos, and in 1836 moved to Pipestone, Berrien county, Mich., where as farmer he lived until his death, Oct. 11, 1864.

The following short extract was penned from a record by his own hand in the year 1851, viz.:

"I was converted at the age of seventeen, and united with the Baptist church at Scipio, and ever after remained a member of that denomination. I never found anything so consoling as the religion of Jesus. I always sought to live in peace with all men, and never was engaged in an assault or even a lawsuit with any one."

- 3,856 i. SAMUEL NEWELL BOUGHTON (son of William and Anna Boughton), born Ulysses (now Enfield), Nov. 17, 1817. He passed his childhood with his parents at Nunda Valley, N. Y., and was impressed with the idea of becoming a minister of the gospel. In 1831 he united with the Baptist church at Nunda, N. Y., and in 1836 was licensed by them to preach, and soon after he went to Hamilton college to prepare for the ministry; but being embarrassed for want of means he left the college and engaged in teaching school at Victory, Cayuga Co., N. Y. An affection of his eyes proved a serious hindrance to pursuing his studies and he never returned to finish his collegiate course, a thing he often after spoke of with much regret.

He engaged to preach as a supply to the Gouverneur Baptist church, and was prevailed upon to accept the pastorate of that church and was ordained there March 11, 1840.

He married at Sterling, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Oct. 3, 1839, Eliza W. Bent, dau. of Stephen and Elmira Bent.

After serving several pastorates in New York state and at South Norwalk, Ct., his health became impaired, and he was induced to try a western climate, and in 1852 they moved to Delavan, Wis., where, after preaching for a year and a half he purchased a farm near Baraboo, Wis., where, on Oct. 6, 1854, he died in the triumph of faith. Almost his last words were, "In the mercy and grace of God, I, a sinner, full of unworthiness, put all my trust."

He was buried at Baraboo, and his widow remained upon the homestead until 1876, when she moved and settled at Seward, Nebraska. Here she resided, a devoted member of the Baptist church of Seward, until her death, which occurred July 9, 1887.

with the Baptist church at Silver Lake, Genesee Co., N. Y., in 1836; went with his parents from Nunda, N. Y., to Pipestone, Berrien Co., Mich., where, in 1837, finding farm work too laborious, he bought his time of his father at the age of eighteen; but the climate not proving congenial to his constitution, he turned his attention to the medical profession and studied with Dr. Samuel Thompson, Jr., son of Dr. Samuel Thompson, founder of the Thompsonian system of practice. He married, at Jackson, Kosciusco Co., Ind., Sept. 12, 1846, Susanna Crum (daughter of Zachariah and Christena Crum, of Miami, near Dayton, Ohio). He settled in Jackson, and moved from there in 1850 to Edwardsburgh, Cass Co., Mich., and thence to Wakelee, Cass Co., in 1879. She united with the Baptist church at Fitchville, 1838, m. there Nov. 3, 1840, David White, an attorney-at-law (son of Jeremiah and Rhoda Wicks White, of Rensselaerville, N. Y.), where he was born July 4, 1818; he moved to Ulysses, Tompkins Co., N. Y., with his parents, in 1835. He united with the Baptist church at North Fairfield, O., in 1835; settled in North Fairfield and lived there until Oct., 1869; then moved to Coldwater, Mich., and resided at 39 Pearl street, 1885.

A local paper had the following obituary on the death of this gifted Christian woman :

SUDDEN DEATH. — Our community was surprised and shocked last Saturday, September 7, to learn that Mrs. David White, a very estimable and highly respected lady, and wife of one of our well known citizens, had died very suddenly. She had great fondness for plants and flowers and enjoyed cultivating and caring for them. Death unheralded found her busy among these things she loved, and with gentle hand led her into the land of unfading flowers and unchanging beauty. Unexpected as her departure was it was the fitting close of a quiet, unostentatious, beautiful Christian life. Miss Celecia Boughton was born in Grove, Allegany county, N. Y., August 24, 1823. In May, 1836, she removed with her parents to Fitchville, O., where she resided until her marriage, November 3, 1840, to David White of Fairfield, O. Here they lived until October, 1869. During their residence in Fairfield they were called to mourn the loss of two daughters, leaving them childless. Since 1869 their home, except for a brief period after their arrival in our city, has been in the house where she died, and where she welcomed, with cordial hospitality, her many friends and acquaintances. In 1838 she united with the Baptist church at Fairfield, O., and on her removal to this city immediately connected herself with the First Baptist church of Coldwater. In the church of which she was a devoted and consistent member, and in the community where she has lived so many years, only words of praise and commendation are spoken of her. From a kind heart she uttered words of sympathy and performed deeds of mercy. In all the relations of life she was true and faithful—a good woman. It may be said of her

“The blessings of her quiet life
Fell on us like the dew,
And good thoughts, where her footsteps pressed,
Like fairy blossoms grew.

“Sweet promptings unto kindest deeds
Were in her very look,
We read her face, as one who reads
A true and holy book.”

Appropriate funeral services were held at her late residence Monday afternoon, Rev. J. P. Phillips officiating and Rev. W. T. Lowry assisting; and then, tenderly and reverently, gentle hands laid her away to rest in beautiful Oak Grove, "until daybreak and the shadows flee away." The following relatives and friends of Mrs. White were present at the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. Solon Boughton of Bowling Green, O.; Elon Boughton of Norwalk, O.; Theodore Boughton of North Fairfield, O.; Norman Belding and wife of Wauseon, O.; A. D. Stotts and wife of Fairfield, O.

Y., Dec. 2, 1852, Eliza Newland, of Palmyra (dau. of Adolphus and Lucinda Newland), b. June 27, 1827. United with the Erie St. Baptist church, Cleveland, 1850; went to Norwalk, O., about 1852 and embarked in business; moved in February, 1855, to Bowling Green, Wood county, O., and established a general store at that place early in its history. He was an active promoter of the Bowling Green railroad, was chosen one of its directors, and in 1871, upon its organization, was elected its first president, and annually re-elected to said office for ten years in succession. The county seat of Wood county was located at Bowling Green as a result of this railroad enterprise. He united with the Presbyterian church at Bowling Green about 1860 and was elected a ruling elder of the same that year. He was a representative from the church to the general assembly at Brooklyn in 1866, at Philadelphia in 1870, and at Saratoga in 1879 and 1883. At this writing, November, 1889, he is the president of the Crystal City Glass Co., of Bowling Green, where for over thirty years he has been a leading merchant.

In May, 1884, he sold out the business in Bowling Green, and in company with his Pioneer partner, Mr. James R. Reid, removed their stock to Chattanooga, Tenn., where the business was conducted under the firm name of Boughton & Reid, Mr. Reid in charge; while he devoted his attention to the wholesale glass business, under the firm name of Hoyt, Boughton & Co. His family moved to Chattanooga in autumn of 1884, and resided there November, 1887. In August, 1889, he returned to Bowling Green and joined with Mr. Froney, as Froney & Boughton, and have one of the largest and finest stores in Northern Ohio.

Nunda, Livingston Co., N. Y., April 14, 1836. He united with the Baptist church, North Fairfield, O., March, 1848; moved to Westford, Dodge Co., Wis., and to Belmond, Wright Co., Iowa, where they united with the Congregational church and he was elected one of its deacons. On July 18, 1861, he enlisted in Co. D, 8th regiment Wisconsin Infantry, and on Feb. 5, 1865, promoted to first lieutenant and was mustered out Sept. 14, 1865. His regiment was known as the Live Eagle regiment, as it carried a live eagle (Old Abe) perched upon the color staff through the war; and he lived to meet with his comrades at their reunions for many years after the war ended, and was at the Milwaukee reunion in 1880. She was for many years a great sufferer from an ovarian tumor, which was successfully removed by the surgeons at the State Medical university at Iowa City, on Dec. 14, 1883. The operation was regarded as a very skilfully executed one, as the tumor weighed not less than thirty pounds; since which the patient has nearly recovered her usual health, which is regarded a most remarkable providence. Some extracts from an obituary in the South Bend Daily Tribune, Nov. 11, 1885 :

DEATH OF JUDGE ALWARD.--The death of the clerk of the circuit court, Judge George Henry Alward, was not unexpected, for he had been in failing health for many months, but when the news of his death spread through the city this morning it created a shock, for few men in the community were better known or more highly respected than Judge Alward.

Judge Alward was eminently a self-made man. Shortly after reaching his majority he went to South Bend, where he clerked for several years for Mr. A. G. Cushing, during which he studied and fitted himself for the law and commenced practice 1867. Dunbar & Alward was one of the best known firms in northern Indiana.

Judge Alward was for several years deputy county auditor under Auditor W. J. Holloway; held the office of city clerk, judge of the municipal court, and in 1883 was elected clerk of the circuit court; and all these responsible positions he filled with the utmost satisfaction to the people and the republican party which elected him. His funeral was attended from the 1st M. E. church of South Bend, of which he was a member, and was in charge of the Masonic fraternity, of which he had held the office of eminent commander of South Bend Commandery Knights Templars.

Judge Alward's married life was one of unusual happiness. His wife was a lady of rare womanly qualities and superior intellectual attainments, and her influences all tended to making home happy. Few men were so fortunate in their family relations.

(vi.) EBENEZER DOWNES BOUGHTON (son of John and Currence D. Boughton), b. Scipio, Cayuga Co., N. Y., March 20, 1805; he was brought up by his parents on the farm where he was born; m. Ledyard, N. Y., Nov. 11, 1824, Mary Ann Hoyt. They were baptized into the Baptist church at Scipio, 1825; moved from Cayuga Co., N. Y., in 1834 to Fostoria, Seneca Co., Ohio, on land bought of the government, in a dense forest, where, by persevering industry, he made a good home for his family. In 1852 he cast in his lot with the United Brethren of Fostoria, Seneca Co., O., where he lived, a worthy member, until taken to the church triumphant. She died at Fostoria, May 17, 1868, in the sixty-first year of her age, and was buried in the cemetery at Fostoria. She was a great sufferer from rheumatism in her last illness, but she bore her afflictions with Christian fortitude. She was a faithful wife and mother, and her many virtues will not be forgotten by her remaining kindred while memory remains. He died at his home in Fostoria, O., November 8, 1875, greatly loved and lamented by his family and friends, and was interred in the Fostoria cemetery.

May 20, 1826; a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church. They settled at Hickory Corners, Barry Co., Mich. In 1848 they moved to Iowa, in 1858 to Ohio, and in 1859 settled in Fostoria, Seneca Co., O. In 1869 they moved to Williams Co., Ohio, and in 1877 to DeKalb Co., Ind. He was settled pastor of the church at Hamilton, 1885.

*NOTE.—Theodore Hunt entered the service of his country in the suppression of the rebellion August 14, 1861. He was appointed corporal in Co. B, 55th Ohio Vol. Infantry, was in the Army of the Potomac, and in the battles of Monterey, Franklin, second Bull Run, and others. Was three times wounded but not very seriously; experienced a severe sunstroke, which incapacitated him for service, and he was honorably discharged at Providence, R. I., Jan. 3, 1863, and returned to his home in Fostoria, O. He was a stone mason by trade. His wife, while he was absent on the battlefield, was active in efforts to support the flag of her country and in the education of her children to be loyal to their God and their native land.

- 4,078 i. ELLEN HUNT, b. Washington, Hancock Co., Ohio, March 3, 1848, d. in childhood in Barry Co., Mich., Feb. 28, 1851.
- 4,079 ii. HOYT BOUGHTON HUNT, born Hickory Corners, Barry Co., Mich., Dec. 20, 1852. During a revival in the Sunday-school of which he was a scholar, at the age of fourteen years, he was converted, and was soon impressed with a duty to become a minister of the gospel, which was very objectionable to him; but after long resistance the impression became so strong that he determined to unite with the church, and yield to what seemed to be a duty. This was about 1869. On the removal of his parents to Bryan, Williams Co., O., he took his certificate of removal, and united with the M. E. church at that place, and was, Nov. 27, 1871, licensed to exhort, which was by himself unsolicited; whereupon he commenced preparation for the Christian ministry. He attended Bryan, O., normal school, Wesleyan university and Drew theological seminary, where he finished his classical and theological course, and graduated May 16, 1879. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Peck, at Jersey City, N. J., April 1, 1877. After belonging to the Minnesota conference, in October, 1879, and the Northern Indiana conference April, 1881, and also, Sept. 15, 1884, he was transferred to the Michigan conference. During every year of his ministry he speaks of the great satisfaction he has enjoyed in seeing souls converted under his ministry. He married, Granger, Madison Co., O., May 27, 1874, Ida M. Rockwood (dau. of Lewis and Lamira C. Low Rockwood), of Williamston, Igem Co., Mich., b. Dec. 3, 1856. They were settled at Parkville, Mich., 1884, removed to Vicksburg, Mich., in 1885, and were living there in health and happiness, laboring in the work to which he had been called of God. They had no children at that date.

- 4,106 i. NELSON BOUGHTON, b. Nunda, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1830. In 1849, shortly after the breaking out of the excitement for gold mining in California, he went there via the Isthmus of Panama, where he took a sailing vessel for Sacramento. The vessel being becalmed on the Pacific, the passengers and crew suffered extremely for want of water and food. During some four years of absence he suffered great hardships in California and on the journeys there and returning, which he did by Cape Horn. He returned to Sempronius, Cayuga county, N. Y., where he married Oct. 2, 1854, Mary Fisher, of that place, born at Spofford, Onondaga county, N. Y., July 29, 1838. Subsequently they moved to Nunda, Freeborn county, Minn., which at the time was a new and unimproved region of country, where he bought a farm and settled. One of their neighbors, a German named Sigler, who was in the habit of getting intoxicated and ill treating his wife, became exasperated on one of those occasions because he, Nelson, offered protection to her against his brutality; the infuriated assassin rushed upon him with a knife, which he had concealed for that purpose, stabbing him three times in the back and penetrating his heart, from which he fell and died instantly. This occurred Sept. 6, 1859. The desperado was immediately arrested, tried, convicted and hanged.

The bereaved widow with her two small children remained on the farm where she was joined by her father and brother, who aided her in its management until her second marriage at Nunda, Freeborn county, Minn., March 19, 1863, to Silas J. White; settled at Nunda, moved in 1866 to Eyota, Minn., and 1868 moved to Union, Worth county, Ia., where they resided 1885; post-office address, Plymouth, Cerro Gordo county, Ia.

DESCENDANTS OF JESSE BOUTON.

(ii.) SALLY BOUGHTON (dau. of Timothy and Martha Scott Boughton), b. Poundridge, Westchester Co., N. Y., May 2, 1773. When a small child, her father, leaving his wife and three small children, cheerfully answered the call of his country, and took up arms against the encroachments of the king of England and in defence of his inalienable rights. His father-in-law, meantime, took his little family into his own home and care. On his return from the war his pecuniary circumstances were such as to require him to find homes for some of his children, where they could earn their support. Sally, together with her brother John, who was just three years older than she, were put out with a Mr. John Edwards of Southbury, Ct., to live until of age. Here she remained until eighteen years old, and according to the terms of her parents' agreement, she returned to Ridgefield, where, at her parents' home, she married, Sept. 26, 1795, her cousin, Jesse Bouton, Jr. (son of Jesse and Rachel Ferris Bouton), of Poundridge, where he was born September 27, 1776, both their fathers being sons of Ebenezer Boughton of South Salem, N. Y. They settled first in Ridgefield, and subsequently removed to Poundridge, where he died Feb. 22, 1822. Soon after his death she spent some time in the family of her brother, Thaddeus Boughton, in Washington, Dutchess county, N. Y., where with her youngest son, Enoch Bouton, she remained a few months and then returned to Ridgefield, Ct., where, Oct. 19, 1828, she married, second, Enoch Holly, of Ridgefield, where they lived until June, 1837, when he died. She then went to live with her daughter, Eliza Gilbert, three miles east of Ridgefield village. She was a member of the M. E. church, a devoted Christian, a kind and sympathizing neighbor, and a most affectionate mother. She died July 2, 1858, at Ridgefield, where she was buried.

acres on what was called the mountain, in the north-west corner of the town of Washington, where they lived and carried on tailoring in connection with the cultivation and improvement of his farm. He united with the society of Friends about the year 1807, and remained a member of the Creek monthly meeting until 1834, when, having sold his farm in Washington and bought one in Victory, N. Y., he removed his family and household effects in April of that year, going by sloop to Albany and by line boat on the canal from thence to Port Byron, at which place they were met by team and wagon and conveyed eleven miles to the new farm in Victory.

The years that followed this new settlement were filled with the most energetic efforts to not only secure a comfortable home for his family, but to promote the growth of the religion he professed, being what is commonly designated a Quaker. He found himself and family isolated from any of his particular sect, and so established the worship of God in his own house according to the practice of his connection, the effect of which was in time a society was organized at Victor, and meetings were regularly held there under the auspices of the Scipio quarterly meeting.

RETRACING THE HISTORY.

In the summer of 1814, Lucy, the wife of Thaddeus Boughton, was prostrated with a sickness that distracted her mind and for a time incapacitated her for the care of her family, from which she slowly recovered and enjoyed usual health until the winter of 1843-4, when a mental derangement seized her, from which she never after recovered through the remaining eight years of her life. After her illness it was thought best by her family that she should live with her daughter Eliza Wanzer, where she had the most devoted attention and affectionate care possible until May 5, 1852, when she died at Ledyard, Cayuga county, N. Y., and was buried in Friends' burying ground at that place, and not only her children and relatives but all who became acquainted with her in life, ever gladly unite in bearing testimony to her unselfish devotedness to the welfare of others and to her uniformly meek and quiet demeanor.

After her death he continued to live with his son-in-law, Ebenezer L. Wanzer, who with great kindness sought to make his declining years peaceful and happy. With but a short illness he expired at the house of his son-in-law at Ledyard, N. Y., on the 16th of June, 1861, aged 84 years, 42 days, and was buried by the remains of his wife in the Friends' burying ground at Ledyard, where a simple tablet marks his resting place.

4,303 ii. RUNA ROCKWELL BOUGHTON, b. Clinton, Dutchess county, N. Y., Mar. 3, 1806. In boyhood served an apprenticeship with his father at tailoring which, as he advanced in years, did not meet his taste. He obtained a situation as clerk in the general store of Hubby Adee at Pleasant Valley, Dutchess county, N. Y., where he became acquainted with his daughter, Dorinda, the widow of Cornell Palmer, living at her father's with her two small children. She was born at Pleasant Valley, N. Y., Jan. 5, 1803, and they married Sept., 1826, and settled in New York city, where he established himself as a merchant tailor, in which he continued until 1832. During the great cholera epidemic he left the city and resided for a time in Dutchess county. On the abatement of the epidemic he returned to the city and his business until 1837, when he sold out his business in New York and removed to Victory, N. Y., where he built a shop and established the tailoring business at Victory Centre. In 1839 returned to New York city and formed a co-partnership with Mr. Nathaniel A. Knapp at 33 Maiden lane and 19 Courtland street; they were very successful; dissolving in 1854, they divided about $100,000 between them. After the dissolution he established himself in the manufacturing and jobbing clothing business in Murray street and at 256 Broadway, associating with him his two brothers, William and James, and continued until the panic of '57, when the heavy failures of his debtors swept him into an assignment from which he never again recovered his business standing.

In July, 1866, his wife went to the country for a few days of recuperation leaving him alone in his part of the house, and on Sunday, the 20th of July, he was out the most of the day and was seen by the people living in the other part of the house to return at evening. At near midnight he was heard moaning, and on going to him he was unable to converse; a physician and his daughter, who resided near by, were at once summoned, but he died without being able to tell any of the experiences of his last day in life. He was buried in his own lot in Greenwood, where his remains repose by the side of his departed dear ones. His death was supposed to have been the result of a sunstroke, as the day previous to his death was an extremely hot one. His widow having inherited from a relative a legacy of over $70,000, purchased a handsome residence at 541 Franklin avenue, where she died May 22, 1883, and was buried by the side of her husband's remains at Greenwood.

- 4,304 i. GERTRUDE MINERVA BOUGHTON, b. New York city, April 8, 1827. Her infantile life was remarkably beautiful, she possessed an understanding of religious subjects far beyond her years, and seemed to impress those about her with the idea that she was better suited to a home in heaven than on earth. She died in New York city, Sept. 13, 1836.
- 4,305 ii. DANIEL WEBSTER BOUGHTON, b. New York city, Aug. 4, 1835. He was a remarkably beautiful child, winning the admiration of those who saw him and heard his conversation at only about the age of one year. He died Dec. 23, 1836, at New York city, and was buried at Greenwood.
- 4,306 iii. LUCY ADELAIDE BOUGHTON, b. New York city, March 12, 1833. At the age of but three or four years she was seized with measles which left her deaf, and as a consequence she soon lost her knowledge of language and became mute. Her parents feeling greatly afflicted in her loss of hearing determined to as far as possible compensate for her loss by education; she was sent to the New York Deaf and Dumb Institution (as it was called), to be educated, where, under the tuition of David E. Bartlett, she completed her course and graduated with the approbation of the faculty in July, 1850, after which she went home to reside with her parents in New York city.

She married at East 35th street, New York city, Oct. 2, 1860, William Henry Myers (son of Bernard and Abigail Myers), of Brooklyn, N. Y., where he was born Oct. 26, 1834. He, too, having lost his hearing in childhood, was educated at the Deaf and Dumb Institute, New York city. They settled in Brooklyn where he carried on a bakery and confectionery business, from which he retired in 1883, and was living with his wife at her residence 541 Franklin avenue, Brooklyn; after selling her house, 541 Franklin avenue, she purchased 549 Halsey street, Brooklyn, where they res., 1889.

4,307 iv. GERTRUDE AUGUSTA BOUGHTON, b. Victory, Cayuga county, N. Y., March 8, 1838. She was born mute and at the age of eight years was sent to the New York Institute for Deaf-Mutes, where she acquired a good education, graduated and returned to live with her parents, where she continued until the summer of 1876 she went to visit friends in Cayuga county when she became acquainted with Mr. Samuel Allen Taber, of Scipio, Cayuga county, son of William Taber, of Scipio, where he was born Jan. 27, 1829, and they were married at 975 Fulton street, Brooklyn, Jan. 4, 1877, and settled on his farm at Scipio, where they still resided in the autumn of 1885, never having had any children. In spring of 1886 they bought a handsome residence in Auburn, N. Y., where they were living at No. 9 Hamilton avenue in 1889.

4,308 v. ELIZA RUNAANNA BOUGHTON, b. New York city, July 26, 1842. In infancy she manifested unusual intelligence and at her death she seemed to have anticipated the approaching glory, and she happily passed the mortal bourne April 11, 1850, aged nearly eight years.

4,309 iii. ELIZA BOUGHTON, b. Clinton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., Oct. 14, 1811. By reason of the poor health of her mother during her childhood she very early learned to be helpful in household cares, and displayed an aptitude unusual in one so young. At the age of about fifteen years she was sent to the Friends' boarding school at Nine Partners, where religious instruction as well as school education was enjoyed, and on her return to her home she devoted herself and all her energies to the interests of the family; moving with them to Victory in 1834, she continued to have the principal charge of the family until May 20, 1842, when she married Ebenezer L. Wanzer, of Ledyard, Cayuga county, N. Y., son of Husted and Lucy Leach Wanzer, of Quaker Hill, N. Y., where he was born Dec. 20, 1795. He was a widower with seven children, all living at home, among whom she went and enjoyed the greatest respect and esteem as long as she lived. He was a successful farmer while his health lasted, but for several years prior to his death his health was not sufficient for the arduous duties to which he had been accustomed, and he sold his large farm and bought a smaller one adjoining the one he sold, and by will left the use of his real and personal estate to his widow during her life.

Together they made several tours of visitation to the quarterly meetings belonging to the section where they lived, and, as public Friends, were highly esteemed in the society. After a somewhat protracted illness he died June 19, 1874, at his home in Ledyard and was buried in Friends' burying ground there.

After his death she continued to live upon the farm, and, as health and opportunity permitted, engaged in doing good to the needy until, in the effort, her own health and strength gave way, and she died, in a bright hope of a joyful meeting with parents and loved ones in heaven, on Sept. 7, 1883, aged nearly seventy-two years, and was buried in Friends' burying ground at Ledyard, where a plain stone marks the place. She never had any children.

- 4,310 iv. WILLIAM LEASON BOUGHTON, b. Clinton, N. Y., August 27, 1814. At the age of fourteen he was sent to Friends' boarding school at Nine Partners, after which he lived with his parents and learned the tailor's trade with his father, but in the latter part of his minority devoted his time to farming, and in April, 1834, on the removal of his parents from Washington, Dutchess county, to Victory, Cayuga county, N. Y., he being nearly twenty years old, drove his father's team, with a load of goods, from Washington to Victory, a distance of about four hundred miles. To his energy and ability the success of the few years following this removal was largely due. Uncleared lands lying useless were to be brought under cultivation, the sturdy forest trees to be converted into lumber, and a new dwelling to be erected—all of which was accomplished before the end of three years, and largely the result of his personal efforts.

November 14, 1838, he married Diana Ann Morton (daughter of Rev. Otis and Nancy Gibbs Morton), from Hubbardtown, Vt., where she was born Jan. 17, 1823. They settled at Victory and farmed his father's land and taught school during the winter at Conquest and at near Clyde in Wayne county, N. Y.

In 1845 they moved to New York city, where he worked as cutter in clothing stores, and in 1848 moved his family to Milwaukee, Wis., where he went to take charge of a clothing store for (his brother) Boughton & Knapp. The climate of Milwaukee not seeming to agree with her, she made a visit to her cousin, Mrs. Davis, on Calwell's Prairie, where soon after she died June 27, 1850, and was buried in the cemetery two miles west of Waterford, Wis., where a marble tablet bears the following inscription:

Sacred to the Memory

OF

DIANA ANN BOUGHTON,

WIFE OF WILLIAM BOUGHTON,

Who Died

JUNE 27, 1850.

After her death he returned to New York city to engage in his former occupation, and on July 4, 1851, he married second, widow Maria Ann Rockwell, and settled in New York city, and subsequently moved to Brooklyn, where they continued to live until spring of 1857, when owing to the depression of business in New York city they moved to Ashkum, Iroquois county, Ill. The climate proved unhealthy and after some weeks of malaria fever she died Dec. 11, 1857, and was buried a quarter of a mile west of Ashkum depot at a place selected for a burying ground.

The following spring, March, 1858, he returned to New York city, where on the 15th of August, 1860, he married third, Mary Eliza Goodell (dau. of Joseph and Melinda Goodell), formerly of Waterford, N. Y., where she was born Oct. 7, 1832. They settled on a farm near New Brunswick, N. J., moving the following year to Newark, and subsequently sold the Newark property and bought at Bricksburgh, N. J., where they lived and carried on the clothing business for several years; moved to Mt. Kisco, N. Y., and again returned to New York city and worked at cutting clothing at Elfelt & Levy's, his family residing at Asbury Park and Bricksburgh (now Lakewood), where they were living in autumn of 1885. He being at the time on a visit at his daughter's, Helen A. Rice, at Waterford, Racine county, Wisconsin. He moved subsequently to Trenton, N. J., where they were living, 1889.

- 4,311 i. CHARLES AUGUSTUS BOUGHTON (son of William and Diana Ann Boughton), born Victory, Cayuga county, N. Y., July 13, 1841, moved to Illinois with his parents, where he lived until the call of the government for volunteers for the army to put down the southern rebellion, when he went to Camp Douglas near Chicago, Ill., and enlisted in the 42d Regiment Illinois Vols., Col. Roberts' 20th Army Corps. He served in Tennessee under Gen. Rosecrans, and was assigned to the duty of carrying the mail from the base to the front, often through perilous routes infested by the enemy. Was seized with camp fever and sent to hospital at St. Louis, where after sufficient recovery to leave was discharged and sent home unfit for the service, with constitution so much impaired as never to have fully recovered.

On his return to Chicago he married Nov. 3, 1864, Sarah Aurora Field (dau. of Seargent and Sarah Field), formerly of Peacham, Vt., where she was born Jan. 7, 1842; settled in Chicago, and in 1870 moved to Williamsburgh, Kansas, where he purchased a farm, but owing to the grasshopper plague, which continued until his means were nearly exhausted, he returned to Chicago, Ill., and embarked in the restaurant business, which prospered for a time and then again he found himself without means and moved his family to Cayuga county, N. Y., where at Levana, on the Cayuga lake, they resided, 1889. He embarked a second time in the restaurant business at Auburn, N. Y., in 1889, in company with his brother, William E. Boughton.

- 4,312 i. ANNIE LUELLA BOUGHTON, b. Waterford, Wis., Aug. 6, 1865, at home unmarried, 1889.

- 4,313 ii. CHARLES HERBERT BOUGHTON, b. Chicago, Ill., May 11, 1869.
- 4,314 iii. HELEN ELIZA BOUGHTON, b. Williamsburgh, Kan., Feb. 29, 1872, at school at Shiwoods, 1889.
- 4,315 iv. EDNA AURORA BOUGHTON, b. Williamsburgh, Kan., Dec. 3, 1874, and d. March 22, 1875.
- 4,316 v. CLIFFORD LEROY BOUGHTON, b. Chicago, Ill., Dec. 22, 1879.
- 4,317 ii. HELEN AMELIA BOUGHTON (dau. of William and Diana A. Boughton), born Clyde, Wayne county, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1844. After the death of her mother she lived for a time in Brooklyn, where in May, 1863, she was baptized into the First Baptist church, and 1865 went to reside with the relatives of her mother at Waterford, Wis., where in 1866, April 11, she married John T. Rice (son of Ira and A. Caldwell Rice), of Waterford, Wis., where he was born May 24, 1839. He was brought up on his father's farm near Waterford, and at the call of his country he enlisted in the 15th Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers, was commissioned, and went with his regiment and participated in the battles of Island No. 10, Stone River, Murphreesboro, Pittsburgh Landing, Chicahominy and Atlanta. After the war he purchased a large tract of land in Kansas and returned to Waterford, Wis., where he engaged in farming. He was elected in the fall of 1884 to the state legislature of Wisconsin, having previously held several important offices in Racine county, Wis. He built a good dwelling on his farm near Waterford, Wis., where he resided in the autumn of 1889.

- 4,319 ii. EDITH ESTELLE RICE, b. Waterford, Sept. 19, 1868.
- 4,320 iii. CORA HELEN RICE, b. Waterford, April 2, 1872.
- 4,321 iv. EVELYN BELLE RICE, b. Waterford, Nov. 6, 1876.

Children of William L. and Mary E. Goodell Boughton. 4311

- 4,322 iii. WILLIAM ELLSWORTH BOUGHTON, b. New Brunswick, N. J., June 26, 1861; went to Chicago, Ill., fall of 1878, where he remained for about one year. On returning he obtained a clerkship in a grocery at Asbury Park, N. J., where he has had employment most of the time for several years until the present summer of 1889. In the spring of 1889 he was interested with his brother, Charles A. Boughton, in the restaurant business at Auburn, N. Y.

- 4,323 iv. CLARENCE EDWARD BOUGHTON, b. Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 25, 1863; he was reared at home until summer of 1878, when he went to learn the printer's trade, at which he worked until the spring of 1884; he went to Union Springs, Cayuga county, N. Y., and established a notion store, which after several months he sold out and took a course at a commercial college, and has filled an accountant's position at Trenton, N. J., since until present 1889.
- 4,324 v. MARY MELINDA BOUGHTON, b. Elizabeth, August 13, 1864; a milliner, and doing business as such at Lakewood, N. J., Sept. 1, 1885, and in 1889 was living with parents at Trenton, N. J.
- 4,325 v. EDWARD HICKS BOUGHTON (son of Thaddeus and Lucy Rockwell Boughton), b. Washington, Dutchess county, N. Y., Oct. 11, 1819; very early in life he manifested a great desire for literary attainments, which increased with years, and before he had attained the age of sixteen years he had qualified himself for a teacher and entered upon that employment; but, finding it did not meet his taste as a vocation, he effected an arrangement with the celebrated Dr. Samuel Thompson, of Geddes, N. Y., the founder of the Thompsonian system of medicine, to learn his system, and practiced for a time at his infirmary. He subsequently practiced that system in Cayuga and the adjoining counties, but not being pleased with the life and duties of a practicing physician, he turned his attention to the art of photography, which he continued to follow as a business until the death of his brother-in-law, Ebenezer L. Wanzer, in June, 1874; he took up his abode with his sister, Mrs. Wanzer, and turned his attention to farming until her death, in September, 1883, since which, until the present, May 1, 1889, he has lived at Poplar Ridge, Cayuga county, N. Y.
- 4,326 vi. JAMES BOUGHTON (son of Thaddeus and Lucy Rockwell Boughton), b. Washington, N. Y., Jan. 22, 1822; went with the family to Victory, N. Y., where he remained, working on the farm with his father. In the winter of 1837-8 there was a revival meeting held in the Methodist church in the neighborhood of his home in which he became interested, awakened and converted, but owing to the unwillingness of his father did not unite at that time with the Methodist church. On the following April, in company with a neighboring boy, they set out on foot to go to the city of New York, to find some business more congenial than a farmer life in Cayuga county. The tender admonitions of a loving mother, on the separation for a home in the great, wicked city of New York, ever proved a helpful restraint against the many evil devices afterward encountered in a lifetime in that great centre of immorality. After nearly a year spent in the city and at Dutchess county he returned to Victory for a short time, and then went to Marengo, Wayne county, N. Y., to learn the house carpenter trade with Robert Palmer, of that place. In the autumn of 1839 he again went to New York city, in the employ of Dea. Hetfield, of Scotch Plains, N. J., with a drove of sheep, via Milford, Pa. Arriving at New York, obtained employment in grocery store of R. H. Atwell, 381 Broadway, and subsequently with Benjamin Wooster, of 187 Houston street, New York, where for several years he was employed, during which time the duty of uniting with the church was felt, and application was made, through the pastor, Elder George Benedict, to unite with the Norfolk Street Baptist church, then standing on the corner of Norfolk and Broome streets. On Sept. 4, 1842, he was baptized at the head of Water street in the East river, and the same day received into full fellowship of that church.

It was here that an acquaintance was formed that eventuated in the marriage of Eliza Jane Terhune (daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Tallick Terhune), of New York city, where she was born May 11, 1825. They were married by Elder George Benedict, in the Norfolk Street Baptist church, at 8 p. m., May 2, 1844, and departed the following day for their home on the farm of his father at Victory, N. Y., where they remained until the following April, when they returned to New York city, working at the house carpentering business until spring of 1849, when he embarked in the retail grocery business at corner Broome and Lewis streets, remaining but one year in that business, when he secured a clerkship in a wholesale provision store in West street, corner Murray where for several years he was employed as salesman. In spring of 1853 he established himself in the wholesale provision and commission business, which he sold out to join his brother Runa in the manufacturing clothing business, and during the business revulsion of 1857 left that business and moved his family on to a farm at Ashkum, Iroquois county, Ill., where, after one year, on account of the climate, they were obliged to leave, and returned to Brooklyn, N. Y.

In April, 1861, through Mr. William D. Mangum, a prominent officer in the New York Produce Exchange Co., he obtained the appointment of superintendent of that institution, which he held with great satisfaction to his employers and to himself for the next twelve years, when, on a reorganization of the institution, he resigned his position, against the advice of the leading officers and many of his best friends.

Following the resignation of superintendent of New York Produce Exchange he purchased a third interest in the building firm of Hagerman & Alexander, and among the several houses they built the following year was the one for himself, in which he now resides, at 223 Keap street. The firm of Hagerman, Alexander & Boughton dissolved in spring of 1876, and he organized a grocery business on Fourth street, Brooklyn, which, after four years, he closed out at auction, to take a clerkship in a paper commission house in New York city, which he continued until summer of 1885, and in April, 1889, was appointed messenger of the Fifth Avenue Bank, Brooklyn.

In the year 1883 his mind was unusually impressed with the subject of the history of his early ancestors, and, with a desire to become better acquainted with it, opened a correspondence with such relatives as were known to him, which soon decided him in the undertaking which, after six years of constant application to the object, has resulted in completing a genealogy of the Boutons and Boughtons of this country which it is hoped will be appreciated to a degree at least approximating the labor and expense he has contributed gratuitously for this object, for the love and respect he bears his race and kindred.

A few items of religious data may here be in place, viz.: Converted at fifteen; united by baptism in Norfolk street Baptist church Sept. 4, 1842; was by removal transferred by letter to the Sixteenth Baptist church New York; and thence to the First Baptist church Williamsburgh (now Brooklyn), Dec. 5, 1856; elected church clerk 1867; elected deacon April 28, 1868; elected treasurer of the Long Island Baptist association June 8, 1869; excluded from First Baptist church for objecting to the introduction by the pastor, Dr. Read, of comic and frivolous amusements in the place of prayer in the "house of God," July 20, 1875; after Dr. Read's resignation and departure he was restored by a unanimous vote in 1879, which restoration was promoted largely by the influence of the present pastor, Daniel C. Eddy, D.D., whose most cordial and kindly fellowship has continued unbroken until the present date, 1889.

- 4,327 ii. EMMA ELIZA BOUGHTON, b. New York city, June 28, 1846, was with her parents at Ashkum, Ill., on the farm in 1857-8, returned to Brooklyn autumn of 1858, pursued her studies in Grammar school No. 16, Wilson street, Brooklyn. She received lessons in music at home by Prof. Fox and others. She was converted and baptized into the First Baptist church by Dr. John B. Brackett, May 1, 1863. She married at home, 47 Wilson street, Brooklyn, Jan. 17, 1866, Isaac Leroy Allen (son of Darius and Juliet Beardsley Allen), of Brooklyn, where he was born Dec. 29, 1842. Occupation a rope maker; they settled in Brooklyn, and in 1879 moved to Rockville Centre Long Island, and again in 1883, removed to Brooklyn, 455 (A) 5th street; purchased in Feb., 1888. the house 765 Carroll street, Brooklyn, where they were living in 1889.

She, on moving to Rockville Centre, transferred her membership to the Baptist church of that place, and on removing to Brooklyn transferred her membership to the 6th avenue Baptist church of Brooklyn.

He in company with his brother, Theodore B. Allen, built a large rope factory on 3d avenue, Brooklyn, where in 1889 their factory produced 14 tons of rope per day. The 5th Avenue Bank, of Brooklyn, of which he was a director and stock holder, was organized spring of 1889.

- 4,331 iv. HERBERT LESLIE ALLEN, b. Rockville Centre, Oct. 20, 1882, he was living with his parents at 765 Carroll street, Brooklyn, 1889, at school.
- 4,332 ii. LOUISE ADELAIDE BOUGHTON (dau. James and E. J. Terhune Boughton), b. New York city, Sept. 30, 1851. With delicate health in childhood she was unable to graduate at Wilson street Grammar school where she obtained her education. She was converted and baptized into the First Baptist church of Williamsburgh, March, 1870. She married at Brooklyn, N. Y., June 10, 1875, to Benjamin Franklin Wetherby (son of John and Sarah Baldwin Wetherby) of Victory, N. Y., where he was born Sept. 8, 1845; by occupation a salesman, and for many years traveled for a Boston shoe manufacturer; his family residing at Brooklyn, where they lived 223 Keap street, 1889.

DESCENDANTS OF JESSE BOUTON.

(iv.) JESSE BOUTON (son of Ebenezer and Abigail Bouton), of South Salem, N. Y., was born probably at New Canaan, Ct., Oct. 23, 1748; m. Ridgefield, about 1771, Rachel Ferris, b. there Oct. 23, 1751, of parents from England. She was a young woman highly respected and lived to have a large family of children, but later in life was afflicted with that terrible disease of the nerves then known as "magroms" (inherited, as has been said, from the English ancestry, and has appeared in the descendants of the Ferris family here and there to the present day). She died after a lingering illness at Poundridge, N. Y., Oct. 22, 1800. He m. second, a widow, Sarah Lockwood, with whom, his biographer says, he lived in great happiness to the end of his days. A man of acknowledged Christian integrity and one of the largest owners of real estate in Poundridge. His assessed valuation on the records is £970 sterling. He died at Poundridge about 1823, exact date not found. The old family Bible, with records, owned by Eliza A. Allen, Norwalk, Ct., 1888.

(v.) JAMES B. BOUGHTON (son of Timothy and Martha Scott Boughton), was born in town of Ridgefield, Fairfield Co., Ct., Feb. 24, 1780. During his father's absence in the service of his country, in the trying period of the Revolutionary war, his family, embracing his wife and four oldest children—Martha, John, Sally and Thaddeus—were taken from their home in Poundridge, N. Y., to her father's, Capt. James Scott, of Ridgefield, where they remained until her husband, Timothy Boughton, returned from the war, which, when he did, he found himself pecuniarily embarrassed and settled on farming lands three miles east of Ridgefield village, where he lived until his death, September, 1806. He, James, continued to live in Ridgefield and vicinity until married, which he did January 1, 1800, to Sarah DeForest, daughter of Capt. John DeForest, of Ridgefield, where she was born March 20, 1778. They settled in Ridgefield, where they farmed for a time, then moved to Redding, where he burned lime at the lime kilns in Redding, moving about 1815 to Delaware county, N. Y., where he engaged in clearing land for a farm. The second season after settling there, 1816, the year of the great frost, the crops were cut off, and starvation seemed imminent; his father-in-law, Capt. DeForest, who was a well-to-do farmer of Ridgefield, learning of their suffering condition, took his teams and wagon and moved the entire family back to Ridgefield, from which, the following year, they removed to the banks of the Hudson river near Rhinebeck, N. Y., from which, not long after, they removed to Victory, Cayuga county, N. Y., where he bought a small farm and built a house and cooper shop, in which he made a large number of barrels for the flouring mills at Port Byron, on the canal, eleven miles distant. They continued living at Victory with several of their children married and settled in the vicinity, until some of the families of their children having moved to Illinois and Michigan, they sold their farm in Victory in 1846, and moved to Jackson, Mich., and lived with their daughter, Esther Van Alstine, where she, Sarah, died, Dec. 21, 1861. After her death he went to reside with his son, John D. Boughton, at Milledgeville, Ill., and from thence they moved to Hazel Green, where he died July 3, 1862, aged eighty-two years.

- 4,616 iv. ELIZA BOUTON (dau. of James and Sarah De Forest Bouton), b. Fairfield county, Ct., July 10, 1807; when quite a small child she was a great favorite of her grandfather De Forest, who was a well-to-do farmer of Redding, Ct. Her parents moved with their large family of children in 1815 to a new section or region of country on the banks of the Delaware river, where many from Connecticut had gone to make themselves farms in the dense forests of that locality; but in 1816, the year noted in history as the summer of the great frost that destroyed crops all through the country, the destruction of which seriously threatened the lives by starvation of the whole family; whereupon Mr. De Forest (the father of Eliza's mother, Sarah Bouton) drove his teams and vehicles to the Delaware and removed the entire family back to Connecticut, where they remained through the winter, living near the lime kilns, and her father employed his time in burning lime there.

Eliza Bouton married Feb. 20, 1822, Lewis Alley, of Ridgefield, and a few years later settled in Victory, Cayuga county, N. Y., on a piece of land they bought lying adjoining that of her father, James Bouton, where they built a house and lived until 1844, when they moved to Branch county, Mich., and after two years moved to Ontwa township, Cass county, Mich., where she died May 5, 1873. SHUBAEL BOUTON AND DESCENDANTS.

- 4,950 i. SHUBAEL BOUTON's name is found on the St. John Church Records, of Stamford, as having been baptized at Norwalk, Ct., June 2, 1749, where it is also stated that he was the son of John and Sarah Bouton.
Whether he was a grandson or great grandson of JOHN BOUTON, the emigrant from Europe, is not quite satisfactorily settled with the compiler of this history, but no doubt is felt by him that said Shubael Bouton was a lineal descendant of said John Bouton, Sr. The record as furnished by his descendants for this work, states that he was born in Connecticut, December 29, 1740.

When he was young he removed into Dutchess county, New York state. He was by trade a weaver, but possessed an ambition to be a farmer. He moved again and settled at Rensselaerville, Albany county, N. Y., 1795, where he took up land and cleared and improved it for a home; working on the land by day and at the loom at night.

Among his townsmen and neighbors he was regarded as a most earnest and consistent Christian, of the Quaker sect; or, as they styled themselves, Friends.

He married, probably before leaving Connecticut, about 1766, Mary Hodge, b. Oct. 15, 1747. She died at Rensselaerville, Nov. 15, 1817. Some accounts say he married a Seymour; he may have had two wives.

Lucy R. Freeman), was born at Worcester, Otsego
Co., N. Y.; passed his preparatory studies and graduated at the Central medical college at Rochester, N.
Y., and in 1852 the American medical college at Cincinnati; went to Millington, Ill., where, in 1861, he raised Co. K, 8th Ill. Vol. Cavalry; took command of the same, and went into camp for winter, east of Alexandria, in December, 1861. Resigned and in September, 1862, went out as assistant surgeon of the 104th Illinois Volunteer Infantry.

In July, 1863, he was compelled to resign on account of serious illness.

On recovering his health he joined the 106th N.
Y. S. Infantry, as assistant surgeon. Oct. 6, 1864, he was detailed as assistant surgeon in charge of the Third Division hospital of the Sixth corps, which position he held till the close of the war; and on July 1, 1865, was mustered out and discharged, at Ogdensburgh, N. Y.

He was at the battle of Frankfort, Ky., October, 1862, and in December following his regiment was captured by Gen. Morgan.

OBITUARY.—DEATH OF CHESTER F. BOUTON.—Chester F. Bouton, of the firm of Bouton & Geer, died at his residence on Dove street, at 2:30 P. M., after a short illness. December 12, 1885, he was prostrated with malarial fever, but recovered sufficiently to be out during the holidays. January 3d he caught cold, and although he has since been confined to the house, his illness was not considered dangerous until this morning, when acute bronchitis set in. At 8 o'clock he became unconscious and sank rapidly until the hour of his death. Mr. Bouton, who was 52 years of age, was a highly esteemed and successful business man, who has been closely identified with Albany's commercial interests for many years. He was a native of Rensselaerville, removing to this city when a boy. About twenty-five years ago he opened a wholesale grocery and flour store on Washington avenue, where Bouton & Vine are now located. In 1865 he moved to Broadway, forming a partnership under the firm name of Bouton, Jones & Co., dealers in flour. This was discontinued eight years later. In March, 1879, he became associated with the Hon. Robert Geer, and through their efforts the firm of Bouton & Geer has steadily advanced to the front rank of flour houses in this section. Mr. Bouton leaves a wife and six children, three sons and three daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Simeon Bell. Two brothers also survive him. After the death of Mr. C. F. Bouton his family moved to Madalin, Dutchess county, N. Y., where they were living, 1888.

NOTE.—Calvin M. Boughton was a natural mechanic and his abilities were early recognized, and while yet an apprentice he was put in charge of his master's shop. By indomitable purpose he secured a good education by studying evenings, and when out of his time he went in 1836 to Watertown, Wis., and took up government land, built a saw mill, and was one of the most active members of the M. E. church in erecting one of the first church edifices in Wisconsin. He amassed a liberal fortune with which he purposed to give his children a good education, but both he and his wife died, she December, 1855, he October 1, 1857. Through their guardian the property of the children was squandered, and John W. was compelled to leave Lawrence University before graduating, subsequently devoting himself to teaching and farm work until he entered the army. (See his record hereafter.)

JOHN W. BOUGHTON'S WAR RECORD, AND SUBSEQUENT.

He enlisted at Ripon, Wis., August 19, 1861 (when but nineteen years old), in Co. A, 1st Wisconsin Cavalry, for three years. The regiment remained at Kenosha till March, 1862, when it was sent to Barton Barracks, St. Louis, where it was equipped and he detailed to the quarter-master's department and put in charge of the stores, acting commissary. The regiment moved to Cape Girardeau, where he had charge of the store-houses. In 1863 the regiment was sent to Nashville to strengthen Gen. Rosecrans' command, with whom the regiment remained until the fall of Atlanta. The transportation of large trains of supplies in his charge were often in great danger, but were successfully accomplished. After being in the service three and-a-half years he asked leave of absence for two weeks of Gen. McCook, but being refused went to a mustering officer and was mustered out June, 1865, not having been home for about two years. On returning to St. Louis Gen. McCook received him very kindly and invited him to his room and offered him a glass of whisky, which was refused, and ever after, when treating other officers, would apologize by saying to them, "the lieutenant never drinks." After serving as quarter-master in place of the regularly commissioned officer for a long time, the efficiency with which the service was conducted was rewarded to him by a commission as first lieutenant and quarter-master of the regiment. He was in seventeen engagements under fire during his service without ever being wounded. After returning home he went to taking out various patents, one of which P. T. Barnum became interested in, and through a friend of his engaged in manufacturing in New York city, 1867; but through infringements was compelled to commence a new enterprise, in which a stock company was formed and he was made a stockholder and a director; but the business was not conducted to his satisfaction. He left in 1871 and went to Philadelphia and obtained a large factory for manufacturing interior decorations, wood carpeting, etc., which proved a lucrative business; but the factory was burned September, 1884, by which many thousands of dollars were lost; but a new building was erected, and the business at this writing, 1890, is larger than ever before and continually increasing. He is a member of the Trinity M. E. church of Philadelphia, and often called to serve it in an official capacity.

Dec. 31, 1838, to Leonard Lincoln (son of Levi and Betsey Bouton—dau. of Shubael and Mary Hodge Bouton—Lincoln), and settled in Rensselaerville until 1845, when they moved to Watertown, Wis., where in May 13, 1852, she died and was buried. Two years subsequent Leonard Lincoln removed back to New York with his two sons and remained until the spring of 1858, when he married again and returned to the west, settling this time at Winona, Minn.

- 5,349 i. CHARLES E. LINCOLN, b. Rensselaerville, Albany county, N. Y., Jan. 28, 1840, lived with parents until the breaking out of the war of the rebellion in 1861, when he enlisted in Company K, 1st Minnesota Vols.; went to the front and took part in the first battle of Bull Run where he was taken prisoner and sent to Andersonville and subsequently transferred to Castle Pinkney, where he remained for one year except the time he was absent in attempts to escape, three different times, being recaptured each time. On one of these occasions he was out 40 days, traveled 400 miles and had reached within two miles of the Union lines when he was recaptured and taken back to prison and soon after exchanged and sent north where he was discharged as unfit for service, having been so reduced in health during his imprisonment, only weighing 85 pounds, whereas his normal weight was 170. Returning to Winona, after a little he received a recruiting commission and helped to recruit a regiment for service on the western frontier which was being ravaged by the Indians. He was elected captain of Company H, 2d Cavalry Regt., and sent to Fort Ridgley, Minn., where a short time after he was attacked with nervous fever and general prostration and died Sept. 9, 1864, and was buried with military honors.

- 5,350 ii. JOSEPH C. LINCOLN, b. Rensselaerville, Albany county, N. Y., May 22, 1844; while yet only about one year old his parents moved with several of his mother's brothers and their families to Watertown and its vicinity, Wisconsin. When about eight years of age his mother died, and about three years after his father married, second, Catharine Benn and moved to St. Charles, Minn.; and subsequently in 1862 to Marshalltown, Iowa, where he still resides.

About six months after his, Joseph's, father's second marriage, it became apparent that he and his step-mother could not harmonize, so he, Joseph, packed his scanty supply of clothing and started in search of employment. A boy of thirteen, too proud to beg, he traveled all day in search of employment without finding it and with no food or place to lodge, stopped at a school house and built a fire and stayed till the following day, when he obtained employment at chopping wood at twenty-five cents per day, and remained there in summer at eight dollars per month, and the following winter worked for board and went to school until eighteen years old, when he entered Lawrence University at Appleton, Wis., where, by dint of industry and frugality he made his way through college, unaided by any one to the extent of one dollar.

In 1859 he began the study of medicine under Dr. Foard of Winona, Minn., where he remained until the battle of Bull Run, and he received the intelligence that his brother Charles had been captured and that the first Union regiment had lost over half its numbers. It was then he obtained a recruiting commission (though yet not over eighteen years old) and enlisted seventy-five recruits for the first regiment, with which he proceeded to the front, and for eight months was in active service with them, being in many sharp battles and long marches.

At the battle of Fair Oaks he was wounded in his left side, just above the hip, and was sent to the hospital at Bedloe's Island, near New York city, where he remained for four months, when he was discharged and returned to Winona, Minn. He then entered upon the study of medicine and graduated at Rush Medical college at Chicago, Ill., in 1871. Then went to Hampton, Ia., where he practiced medicine until 1873, when he moved to Bowling Green, Ohio, where he has continued until the present, 1888, one of the leading physicians and surgeons of the place. He m. in spring of 1874, Emma, daughter of Hon. John Norris, of Fostoria, Ohio; settled in Bowling Green, where she died January, 1884, from a cancerous affection of the lungs. In 1886 he married second, Nettie Willard, of Cincinnati, Ohio. In addition to a large practice he owns a drug store in the city, beside a large amount of real estate and interests in the oil fields of Wood county, Ohio.

THOMAS BOUGHTON AND DESCENDANTS.

The following account was furnished by Lizzie Boughton of St. Louis, in which she says her parents having died, and she being left to herself, had lived isolated from relatives, and could give but little information of a reliable character. She had heard her father say that his father—

5,555 i. THOMAS BOUGHTON—came from Virginia to Jefferson Co., Mo., in 1819, where he died 1845; his wife's name not given.

The compiler supposes said Thomas to have descended from Samuel of New Canaan, and subsequently of Long Island. See No. 478 and following.

FROM PROBATE COURT RECORD AT FAIRFIELD, CT.

John Bouton's Will.

In the name of God Amen. December 25, 1700.

I, John Bouton, Senior, of ye town of Norwalk in county of Fairfield, state of Connecticut, being by the hand of God upon me weak and infirm of body, but of perfect mind and memory (thanks be given unto God therefor), calling unto mind ye mortality of body, and knowing that it is appointed unto all men once to die—

Do make and ordain this my last will and testament.

Principally and first of all I give and recommend my soul into the hands of God who gave it, and my body I recommend to the earth, after death, to be decently and Christian like buried at the discretion of my friends, nothing doubting but at ye general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God.

And as touching such word by estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life, I give, demise and dispose of the same in following manner and form :

After my just debts and funeral charges are paid and legacye pay^d and discharged, Imprimus : I do give unto Mary Bouton, my beloved wife, half my homestead and the whole house and half my barn, that side of my home lot of land at fruitful spring, and also my lot of land at Pine Hill, and to dispose of said parcels as she shall stand in need for her relief, and in case she shall not stand in need for her necessity to sell and dispose of them, then she may dispose of them to my children by her as she shall see cause.

And also I doe give to my said wife two cows and all my movable estate as shall or may remain when all debts and dues are paid, as above said.

Also my will is that what movable estate I had of her at marriage with her shall not be inventoried as my estate, but to remain to all the above mentioned estate I doe give unto her during her natural life.

Item : I doe give to my grandchild, John Bouton, of Danbury, the sum of five shillings.

Item : I doe give unto my son Matthew Bouton, besides what I have already given him as portion, the sum of five shillings.

Item : I doe give to my son Joseph Bouton and to his assigns all my right, title and interest in land lying near Ebenezer Canfield's land over the river in the bounds of Norwalke; also my part in barren Marsh creek, he paying to my daughter Abigail Smith the sum of five pounds.

Item : I doe give to my daughter Rachell Sension, besides what she has had as portion already, the sum of five shillings.

Item : I doe give unto my daughter Abigail Smith the sum of five shillings.

Item : I doe give unto my daughter Hannah Betts the sum of five pounds, to be paid by Joseph Bouton as above said paid my two sons Thomas and Richard Bouton equally between them when they shall obtain to the age of twenty-three years.

Item : I doe give unto my son Thomas Bouton and to his assigns my Cove lot; also half my meadow lying on west of ye Cove over the river in the bounds of Norwalk; also one-half of my land lying between the parts of Norwalk river near ye staddles, being in quantity eighteen acres and a half of land; also seven acres at Cranberry Plains in ye borders of Norwalk; also five acres of land in ye Indian fields; also half of meadow above Silver Mines, so called.

Item : I doe give unto my daughter Elizabeth Waring, to be paid by my two sons Thomas and Richard Bouton equally between them when they shall attain to the age of twenty-three years, the sum of five pounds.

Item : I doe give to my son Richard Bouton and his assigns that lot lying in the field behind Moor, so called, near ye swamp called Bouton's swamp; also half of my meadow on ye west of the Cove; also half my land between ye parts of the Norwalk river, being eighteen acres and a half; also seven acres at Cranberry Plains; also half my meadow above Silver Mines, so called; also half of my swamp and meadow east of Pine Hill lyin in the common field.

Item : I doe give to my daughter Mary Bouton the sum of five pounds, to be paid by my two sons Thomas and Richard Bouton when they shall have attained the age of twenty-three years.

Item : I doe give to my three sons Joseph, Thomas and Richard Bouton my whole right of bogg lying on the Mill brook and all my commonage equally to be divided between them.

Item : The half of my home lot not given to my wife and half of ye barn not given I doe give to my two sons Thomas and Richard Bouton and their assigns equally between them.

I doe give to my two sons Thomas and Richard Bouton twenty acres of land lying on ye east side of Five Mile river equally between them; and furthermore I do make and ordain my beloved wife and my son Joseph Bouton administrators of this my will, and that this is my last will and testament, revoking and making void any and all former wills and settlements that may have been by me made.

In testimony whereof, I, John Bouton, Senior, have set to my hand and seal the day and year above written.

Ye signment.

John Bouton

John Bouton, Senior, did, on the day and date thereof, acknowledge the above within instrument to be his last will before

JAMES OLMSTEAD, Justice of the Peace.

Report on a Military Order to Gen. Mead's Court, 1780-1.

The deposition of Daniel Bouton, of Stamford, Conn., of lawful age, viz :

Some time in the winter of the year 1780-81, Capt. Jonathan Waring informed me that there was a clandestine trade carried on by driving cattle to the enemy, and that David Lounsbery and Caleb Finch was active in it. That the said Lounsbery had lately took a pair of oxen over to Horse Neck; and on said information Timothy Reed, De-doutt Davenport and myself applied to Maj. Davenport for a writ and took one in our own name and not in behalf of the state. On which David Lounsbery was taken and brought to Capt. David Wells. Said Lounsbery owned that he did take a pair of oxen over to Horse Neck for Caleb Finch, the authority and selectmen being there, and their settling was of the opinion that said Lounsbery was rather a tool, and advised us to withdraw plaint, on said Lounsbery paying the cost and inform of all he knew concerning carrying on said trade.

On this advice we tore up said writ, and said Lounsbery gave a note to Timothy Reed (the sum I do not remember) and which note I was informed said Lounsbery was sued on and a judgment obtained and execution on which said oxen was taken and sold.

Some time in the winter aforesaid after a general court martial held at Palmer's Hill on Capt. Finch, Capt. Waring was there as an evidence in the case.

Of his evidence he informed said court that he was with Caleb Finch at the Raymonds in Canaan, and by what he saw and heard he signified to said court that they had oxen preparing for the trade aforesaid for said Waring informed s^d court that he went with s^d Finch in order to find out his trade with the enemy, for he suspected him.

After this I was informed by Capt. Isaac Lockwood that David Lounsbery had agreed with Caleb Finch to bring forward a pair of oxen that he had chafered for with the above s^d Raymond, and s^d Lockwood advised me to watch the machine.

Mr. Timothy Read told me the same; after this Mr. Charles Weed come to me with David Lounsbery and told me before Mr. Weed above s^d that he had agreed with the above s^d Raymond to take one or two pairs of oxen of them and drive to the enemy in the night following.

As I was informed Gen^l Mead, having had intimation, gave orders directing me to take a number of men in order to see what discoveries I could make.

In obedience to s^d order I took with me a number of men for the scout and in the course of the night took up David Lounsbery and Waterbury Hait, a driving a pair of oxen to the water.

According to my orders I took up s^d men and oxen and brought them to Gen^l Mead, who after examination condemned the oxen and directed me to sell them and bring the avails to s^d court, which order I obeyed.
