INTRODUCTION

"It is a noble faculty of our nature which enables us to connect our thoughts, sympathies and happiness with what is distant in time and place, and looking before and after to hold communion at once with our ancestors and our posterity.

There is a moral and philosophical respect for our ancestors which elevates the character and improves the heart.

Next to the sense of religious duty and moral feeling, I hardly know what should hear with stronger obligation on a liberal and enlightened mind, than a consciousness of an alliance with excellence which is departed; and a consciousness too, that in its acts and conduct and even in its sentiments and thoughts, it may be actively operating on the happiness of those that come after it."

Daniel Webster

"Descent from the great and good is a high honor and privilege--He that lives worthy of it is deserving of highest esteem; he that does not, of the deepest disgrace. The inheritance of a distinguished and noble name is a proud inheritance to him who lives worthy of it."

Colton

"It is indeed a blessing, when the virtues of noble races are hereditary."

Nabb

"It is a shame for a man to deserve honor only because of his ancestors and not to deserve it by his own virtues."

A careful investigation of all information and records so far obtained indicate beyond any reasonable doubt that William Coultrap and his wife Mary Woods Coultrap, were born in Pennsylvania. David Snyder Coultrap, the youngest son of William and Mary, stated to Prof. Fletcher Stanton Coultrap, when interviewed at Fairview, Ohio, that his father (William) was born in Pennsylvania, his father having previously come from England; also his mother (Mary Woods) was born in Pennsylvania, her parents having previously come from Germany.

So far we have not been able to find the given name of the Coultrap who first came over from England, nor the exact date of his coming, nor the exact locality in which he first settled. However, it is believed that he first settled in Pennsylvania, near Burnt Cabins, in Fulton, Franklin, or Huntington County. If he came as early as 1750-1757 and located in Burnt Cabin Valley, it is not likely that he stayed more than a short time, for at that time that part of Pennsylvania belonged to the Indians, and immigrants were not permitted to settle there. We know that some who did settle there between 1750 and 1760 were either killed or driven away and all their homes burned. Hence, the region was spoken of as Burnt Cabin Valley. Later other settlers were permitted to locate in that region. Hence, I am of the opinion that if William's father settled in that region it must have been as late as 1760 or 1765. So we are sorry to say so far we have not been able to find the name of the first Coultrap who came over from England, nor the exact time of his coming, nor the particular locality in which he first settled.

While of Scottish descent, he seems to have come from South East England, from Kent or Sheppey County near London, not far from the date 1760 or 1765, possibly slightly earlier.

David Snyder Coultrap did not give the date of his father's birth, but it must have been not earlier than 1760 or 1765, since his wife, Mary, must have been born in 1775, as she was only 67 years old at her death in 1842. See her tombstone at Fairview, Ohio. David Snyder Coultrap further affirmed that his father and mother (William and Mary) were married in Pennsylvania. Soon after married they moved to Virginia (now West Virginia). His recollection was that they moved from either Burnt Cabin Valley, or Ligonier, Penn. to Virginia, and rented property on the Ohio River near Martins Ferry. They lived there several years where William ran a ferry boat on the Ohio River. Thence they moved to Smithfield, Jefferson Co., Ohio. Here David Snyder was born June 23, 1807. In 1816 William and Mary and family moved to Stock Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, purchased a farm near Deersville, erected a log cabin and started real pioneer life in Ohio.

In the County history of Harrison Co., we find data confirming William and Mary Coultrap's living in Virginia. In speaking of William Coultrap, Jr., oldest son of William and Mary, the records state "The early life of William Jr. was passed in Virginia." He came with his parents to Smithfield where he met and married Sarah Moore. Later he moved to Harrison Co., coming in 1815 or 1816 and purchased a farm about one mile east of Deersville.

As said before William and Mary purchased a farm in Stock Township, erected a log cabin into which they moved their family. At that time the country was in an exceedingly wild state, filled with game of every variety, especially deer and turkey. The Indians were frequent visitors in the home of the settlers. Fortunately, at that time the Indian was peaceably inclined. Here the family endured all the hardships and toil of pioneer life, and here William Coultrap ended his long and useful life in 1821. He was one of the founders of the Methodist Church of his neighborhood. He was highly respected for his honesty, his patriotism and his staunch manhood. He was loved and esteemed by his neighbors as an enterprising and worthy citizen and Christian. He died of the flux. His very interesting will is recorded in the recorder's office at Cadiz, Ohio, the County Seat of Harrison Co. His widow survived him for 21 years. She died of some bowel trouble, and was buried at Fairview, Gurnsey Co., Ohio. On her tombstone is the following inscription: "Mary, Wife of William Coultrap. Died Aug. 16, 1842, Age 67 years."

To William and Mary were born seven children - Sarah, Margaret, William, Jr., Elizabeth, Henry, Matthew, and David Snyder Coultrap.

Sarah, the oldest child, married Hewett McGee and died at Deersville. Matthew Coultrap died in early manhood. The other children will be spoken of later.

Just when and where and how the name Coultrap originated and what it signifies are as yet unsolved problems. William and Mary spelled it C-O-U-L-T-R-A-P. It is misspelled in William's will as proven by the spelling in many other places. It is also misspelled on Mary's tombstone in the Fairview Cemetery. Some years ago one family desired to spell the name COLETRAP or COALTRAP, but as no good reason could be given for either spelling, the name continued to be spelled COULTRAP, and for many years now, this spelling has been unanimously accepted as the correct spelling. However, since 1926 a question has arisen as to what the original spelling was in England. In 1926 while visiting my brother, F. S. Coultrap of Long Beach, California, I found three families there with the spelling C-O-U-L-T-R-U-P, and a little later, in the same year, we found three families near Somonauk, Ill. who spell the name C-O-U-L-T-R-I-P; and since, we have located two or three families in northern Ohio, near Berlin Heights and Wakeman with the spelling COULTRIP, and two more families of COULTRUPS in Long Beach, California. This has led to some interesting correspondence. We now have definite information proving fully that the Coultrups of California and the Coultrips of Somonauk, Ill., and of Berlin Heights, Ohio are closely related, being first cousins only two generations back. Possibly some of these quotations should be given at this time.

"Mr. C. W. Ward of Monmouth, Ill. in a letter of Dec. 4, 1926, says, "My grandmother's maiden name was COULTRUP. There are a number of Coultrups living in England near Minster.

William Coultrip of Somonauk, Ill. wrote me Nov. 19, 1926, "I received your letter and am very glad you have written me. I am ninety-one (91) years old. I left England 1855 when I was (20) twenty years old; have always lived near Somonauk, Ill. Have three living sons - Clarence, William, and Herbert. Had a brother named Jim. He brought his family over to America and settled in Ohio; also a cousin named William. After he came to U.S. he went back to England and got his sister and a nephew named Ward. My Cousin William lived in Belvidere, Ill. Cousin William's children moved to California." Respectfully, William Coultrip.

Clarence Coultrip of Leland, Ill., son of William of Somonauk, informs me that Cousin William of Belvidere, Ill. spelled his name with u thus COULTRUP.

Further, Rose Coultrup Smith of Los Angeles, told me her father William Coultrup had lived at Belvidere, Ill.

Miss Anna Coultrip of Cleveland, Ohio in a letter dated April 30, 1930, says, "Dear Mr. Coultrap, I took your letter out to Aunt Eliza, Sunday. She says her parents--"James and Sophia Coultrip--came from Minster, near Kent, England in 1852, and settled near Berlin Heights, Erie Co., Ohio. Two years or so later, Aunt Eliza's father's brother William came over and settled in Illinois." I think this leaves no doubt that William of Somonauk, Ill. and James of Berlin Heights, Ohio were brothers, as the dates, names, and places tally exactly. Hence it seems that we are safe in asserting that the Coultrips of Ohio and Illinois and the Coultrups of California, are closely related, being cousins only two generations back.

Now, how about the Coultraps? Are they related to the Coultrips and Coultrups? There seem to be Coultraps, Coultrips and Coultrups living today in southeast England. Mr. Ward said in a letter, "All the Coultraps he ever knew live in Sheppey County. You will notice that Mr. Ward gives the spelling Coultrap. Mr. Frank Tyler, F.S.A., F.S.G. of 34 Whitestable Road, Canterbury in a letter dated Jan. 19, 1935, said, "I do not think you need to attach too much importance to the spelling of the name. In the 17th century, few people could write in those days and the spelling of the name was very often left to the scribe who was no great scholar. He says, "I have found two or three different ways of spelling the same name in the same will." Then he says, "The Canterbury marriage license to which you refer reads as follows: "Quoife, Robert, of Whitestable, husbandman, ba., 26, and Elizabeth Coultropp, S. P. widow, at same or Seasalter, (John Quoife of Whitestable, husbandman, bonds), May 1, 1691." In another letter of Dec. 12, 1934, Mr. Frank Tyler sent the following: It is so interesting that I will quote the letter in full. Please note the various spellings of the surname of John and his son Thomas in the same Church record in space of 50 years. 34 Whitestable Road, Canterbury, Dec. 12, 1934.

Prof. M. W. Coultrap, North Central College, Naperville, Ill. Dear Sir: In 1931 you wrote me regarding the family of Coultrap, Coultrip, and Coultrup of Kent; and as in the course of my research I have recently found some of the names at Staple, Kent, I am sending you particulars hoping that they may be of interest to you. If you would like me to investigate the matter further I should be pleased to do so.

Staple Transcript of Parish Registers

Feb. 15, 1685-6 John Coultrup and Mary Marsh married.
 Jan. 1, 1687 Thomos, son of John and Mary Coltrop, baptized.
 July 6, 1690 Elizabeth, daughter of John and Mary Coultripe, baptized.
 Feb. 14, 1692 Samuel, son of John and Mary Coultrup, baptized.
 Mar. 24, 1733-4 John, son of Mary Coultrap, baptized.
 Oct. 30, 1735 William, son of John and Mary Coultrup, buried.
 Jan. 15, 1733? John, son of Thomas and Sarah Coultrope, baptized.
 June 4, 1738 Mary, daughter of John and Mary Coultripe, baptized.
 Feb. 18, 1738-9 Sarah, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Coltrip, baptized.

Yours faithfully,
 Frank W. Tyler.

Here we see 7 different spellings of the name in this one church record, namely, Coultrup, Coultrop, Coltrop, Coultripe, Coultrap, Coultrope, and Coltrip, and in another place Coultropp. Hence, eight different spellings. All except two have Coul for first syllable. Also Coultrip is found in England and in U.S.

There are at least two scores of families of Coultraps in America, five or six families of Coultrups and a like number of Coultrips. I am fully convinced all are related. So while about 40 or 50 families have accepted Coultrap as the correct spelling, possibly if we could trace the name back to its original we might find neither one exactly correct. Possibly those with the spellings Coultra, Coultray, Goultra and Goultray and Goultrap may all be related and even others of near spellings.

I have thus digressed with reference to the name as it has been of much interest to me, I thought it might prove of like interest to others. Doubtless the Coultrap families will continue Coultrap as the spelling, likewise Coultrup and Coultrip will continue. Yet I feel sure the blood stream coursing through each and all the families is from the same original source.

The County History of Harrison Co., Ohio contains most of the following facts: Richard M. Coultrap was a representative of one of the oldest families of Stock Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, where he was born in 1840. His father, William Coultrap, Jr., was a native of Virginia, now West Virginia, near Martins Ferry where William Coultrap, Sr. was engaged in ferrying on the Ohio River for several years. Some years before 1816 William and Mary Woods Coultrap and family moved to Smithfield, Jefferson Co., Ohio. Here William Jr. met and married Sarah Moore, and here David Snyder Coultrap was born June 23, 1807. In 1815 William Jr. and family moved to Harrison Co., Ohio, purchased a farm in Stock Township. Here, as was said of William and Mary, he and his family endured all the hardships of pioneer life. Here too the Indian was a frequent visitor in their home.

The boyhood of William Jr. was passed in West Virginia. He married in Smithfield and shortly after settled on a farm of his own near Deersville, Ohio. William Jr. and his wife, Sarah, were loyal members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. William Jr. died in 1845. His widow survived him until Sept. 8, 1889, living to the advanced age of 93.

Richard M. Coultrap remained on the old homestead which was part of Sec. 19 of Stock Township. The home being about one mile east of Deersville. Richard's son Harry later owned the farm. It is now owned by Lester Pugh (1937).

Richard M. was a good farmer, yes even a skillful farmer as the fine appearance of the old homestead always bore ample evidence.

Richard M. was a member of the Democratic party and held many offices within its local gifts. He was a deep reader on political and economical questions and became thoroughly posted in regard to them. He died in 1902. His wife passed in 1908. Both are buried in Deersville, Ohio. William Jr. and his wife Sarah were buried in the McGee Cemetery which is about 2 miles east of Deersville.

Harry Coultrap sold the old homestead to Lester Pugh and purchased a fine farm in the valley about 7-1/2 miles west of Cadiz. This latter farm is now owned by Harry's 2nd son Edward McIlroy Coultrap.

Henry Coultrap, 2nd son of William and Mary Woods Coultrap was born June 26, 1800; married Elizabeth Cramblit, Oct. 19, 1820, Rev. William Knox officiating. He was most likely born in West Virginia, came with his parents to Smithfield when a small boy, and later in 1816, to Stock Township, Harrison Co., Ohio where his father purchased a farm. Shortly after his marriage with Miss Cramblit, they moved to Muskingum Co., Ohio and located some where near Sonora and Norwich. In 1845 and 6 he was connected with the building of a church at Sanora, being one of the Trustees of the church and a liberal contributor.

Henry Coultrap was a man of giant strength, there being no man in his neighborhood his equal in that respect. In those days fighting was considered honorable and though he was a local preacher in the Methodist Church, he often said he would about as soon have a good fight as eat a good meal. Be it said to his honor, however, he was a very peaceable man and never picked a fuss, but never failed to win if he got into a fight.

Henry Coultrap, June 26, 1800 - June 10, 1864
Elizabeth Cramblit Coultrap, Nov. 11, 1803 - Feb. 5, 1872
Married Oct. 19, 1820

He and Elizabeth had a large family of five boys and six girls. They all grew to adulthood except Susannah. She was killed by a rolling log while playing where her father was clearing. For dates of births and of the children see previous tabulated data. The Coultrap home was always open to the ministers who frequently enjoyed their cordial welcome. It is interesting to know that one of these ministers asked mother Coultrap (as Elizabeth was sometimes addressed) to cook some TOMATOES for him. "Oh! she said, I could not think of doing that, they are rank poison." The minister persisted in his request, assuring her that they were not poisonous in the least but excellent food. So rather reluctantly she agreed to cook them if he would stand by her and tell her how. She rejoiced that the minister did not suffer any ill effects from eating of the tomatoes. Tomatoes were often called love apples 75 to 100 years ago and used as ornaments on mantels.

According to my father's report to me Henry Coultrap lost his life by having one arm amputated in a sawmill, bleeding to death before getting help. He was not quite 64 years of age, hence really in the prime of life at that time. His wife, Elizabeth died in 1872. They are buried in Zanesville.

William Coultrap, oldest son of Henry and Elizabeth Coultrap, was born Aug. 30, 1821 in Muckingham Co., Ohio. I have no definite data concerning his boyhood and early manhood further than that he received a fair education in the public schools of those days and was granted a license as a teacher, but not fancying that occupation he never became a teacher. He must have been highly respected for he married into one of the best families of the community.

He and Rebecca Wilson were married Feb. 23, 1843. They were blessed with a large family of two girls and seven boys, six of whom grew to adulthood. Soon after marriage, William and Rebecca settled in Morgan Co., Ohio, a few miles east of McConnelsville, purchasing a small tract of land of a brother-in-law, Geo. M. Herron. Here they erected a small cabin where they lived for a few years. Here four of their children were born--Harriet, Henry, Truman, and Asbury. The latter is buried there. In the spring of 1851, William Coultrap and family having disposed of their small farm, moved to Vinton Co., Ohio, purchased a farm of 160 acres in the north-east corner of Jackson Township. The farm was mostly heavily timbered with such trees as magnificent chestnuts, sturdy oaks, stately white and yellow poplars, durable locust, and other useful and beautiful trees.

There were but few roads in the country and those were almost impassible during the winter and early spring. The nearest flour mill was a dozen or more miles away and horseback was frequently the best way of getting there, riding one horse and leading another, each well loaded with wheat or corn to be ground. The trip required the whole day and often a good part of the night. All forms of work has to be done with the simplest kind of tools. Father and mother were very industrious and systematic in all their work of every description. Labor was not limited to 8, 10 or even 12 hours per day. When the children were large enough to work, each one was assigned a definite task and held strictly responsible for doing that work promptly and well; no child was ever permitted to forget or to do poorly any work assigned. Hence they thus taught their children to do promptly and completely whatever was to be done. Not only did they teach industry and honesty and care in all things, but they early aroused within each child a deep and lasting desire for an education and a life of usefulness. Whatever success the children have made in life is due very largely to that early training so wisely and carefully given by the wise and patient parents.

Father and the four boys that grew to manhood cleared up the farm, clearing from five to seven or more acres each year; and mother and the girls looked well to everything which would make home a charm, delightful and pleasant and attractive to each and all. There were no better cooks and home-makers anywhere.

Further, father and mother were vitally interested in the church, the schools and every movement for the welfare of the community. They were good neighbors. If a person was sick they were there immediately to aid, sometimes for weeks, nursing them back to health; always refusing any pay, saying "It is pay enough to see you well again." It is needless to say they had many friends and were greatly missed when taken by death.

Mother passed to her rich reward Dec. 12, 1893, and father Mar. 23, 1909. William Coultrap was a soldier in the Civil War, serving in the 148 Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was a fine neighbor, a good citizen, a lover of his Country, a safe Counselor, and his word was always faithfully kept. Father and mother and four of their children--Harriet, John, Truman and James, are interred in Locust Grove Cemetery, Jackson Township, Vinton Co., Ohio, quietly sleeping with friends whom they dearly loved.

The following is taken from the Tribute of Respect on behalf of the children read by the oldest son, Judge H. W. Coultrap, at the funeral of their mother, Saturday, Dec. 16, 1893.

Mother was born May 29, 1817 and died Dec. 12, 1893. She and father were married Feb. 23, 1843. Mother united with the Methodist Episcopal Church when a girl, and from that time to the close of life had a consciousness of the saving power of Christ. She loved the Church as she did her home. The Bible was to her the bread of life. She loved to read its pages and to feed upon its promises. She had marvelous faith born of her knowledge and love of its teachings. What she could not understand, she was content to wait for until she could see Jesus and hear the explanation from his own lips. She therefore never worried over passages of the Scriptures which she could not understand. But she believed in a daily searching of God's word and taught her children this habit in early childhood. Indeed of such importance did she deem the daily reading of a portion of Scripture that she never failed to remind us of the duty and many times after we had retired brought the book and light to the bedside. She was a good mother. No mother was ever more devoted to her children. There was no sacrifice that she counted too great to make for their good, and it is but the simple truth to say that no mother ever did more for her children than she did. She has always been to them a constant inspiration to strive to live true and useful lives. She was wont to talk with God as with one present, and she never forgot to invoke His blessing upon her children no matter where they were, knowledge of which fact has always been to each of us a safeguard of incalculable strength. She was ambitious for the success of her children, but her chief concern was that they should be Christlike. She spoke of Heaven as her home and talked of her inheritance there with as much assurance as one speaks of possessions here. She was especially anxious to see Jesus and frequently said she wondered at people talking so much about wanting to see their friends in the next world, for her first thought was to see Jesus. That she said would be the sweetest sight. For years she has expressed herself as fully prepared to go and was simply abiding the Master's time. Her letters to her loved ones have been full of encouragement, conveying the best advice and always expressing the liveliest hope. She has for weeks past talked almost constantly about Heaven and her willingness to go, and evidently felt that her time was near at hand. But all this time she has exhibited the sublimest faith. Only the day before her death, while holding her little grandchild who was ailing, she said, "What if Minnie and I would die before next Sabbath?" then added, "If so, you would be a little angel and grandma has no fear, she knows she will go straight through."

The following are a few extracts taken from some recent letters to her children:

- Sept. 3, "Study to do what God commands."
Sept. 11, "My dear child, don't forget to read the word of God carefully and be a good boy, then I won't be uneasy if you are called to try the unalterable laws of Eternity."
Oct. 1, "I am glad that we can talk to the One who watches over us and have the assurance that He cares for us."
Oct. 8, "I for one feel like taking fresh courage. I pray that the power of God may come upon our new minister."
Nov. 5, "I trust you all (referring to her children) will be kept in the narrow path that leads to life Eternal."

Harriet Coultrap (Smith) the oldest child of William and Rebecca Coultrap, born Dec. 12, 1843, married Matthias Smith, Dec. 25, 1866 and passed to her heavenly reward Oct. 27, 1910. Death was due to a severe injury from a fall a few days previous. Harriet was born in Morgan Co. near McConnelsville, Ohio and when about seven years of age came with her parents to Jackson Township, Vinton Co., Ohio. Here she united with the church in early womanhood and lived the life of a faithful and consistent Christian all her life. She was a great student of the Bible. One summer while yet a young girl in the home besides doing most of the housework and taking care of her sick mother, she memorized all of Matthew and ten chapters of Mark and recited the 38 chapters in the Locust Grove Sunday School, receiving first prize for having memorized the greatest number of verses that summer. Harriet Coultrap received a good education in the public schools and taught several years. She was a noble Christian woman, a devoted wife and a true mother. Her children hold her pure and useful life in sacred memory.

Her husband, Matthias Smith, was born near Islebora, Hocking Co., Ohio, May 2, 1840 and died of cancer, Sept. 26, 1907. He was left as an orphan before he was three years old and was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Kelly at New Concord, Ohio.

He enlisted in the Civil War at the age of 21, serving in the 26 Ohio Infantry Co. A. for four years, five months and 17 days. He was in many desperate battles and was severely wounded at Chicamauga, being struck by four balls. He lay on the battle field 36 hours without food or water. During the second night, nearly exhausted from loss of blood, he was found and taken to the hospital. Two balls lodged in his body, one in his wrist and the other in his thigh. After several years, the ball in his thigh was removed, the one in his wrist he carried to his grave.

Matthias was a brave soldier, a real patriot, a good husband and father, and a fine citizen. He and Harriet, their oldest daughter, Mrs. Dora Boone and two granddaughters, Mabel and Florence Boone, Boone sleep in Locust Grove Cemetery, Jackson Township, Vinton Co., Ohio.

Notes

Henry Coultrap, eldest son of William and Rebecca Wilson Coultrap, was born in Morgan Co., Ohio, April 22, 1846. At the age of four he came with his parents to Vinton Co., Ohio. His boyhood and youth were spent on the farm some ten miles northwest of McArthur in Jackson Township near Locust Grove Church. He grew up in a home of faith and prayer and in vital connection with the church and Sunday School. In later life he often said, "I realize now what a great thing it is to be reared right, to have one's faith bred and born in him and remain in him all his life."

As a boy he took to education and taught his first school before he was 20 years of age. He was educated in the public schools of Vinton Co. and Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio Universities. He graduated from the latter in 1871. The year of his graduation he was the commencement speaker as the orator for the Athenian Literary Society. The Athens paper reporting the program said, "Mr. Coultrap was the orator of the evening. He was without doubt the best speaker in every way of the evening. With an excellent production he was truly eloquent in his tempered earnestness. His manner was almost faultless, his enunciation clear and deliberate and his every gesture easy and graceful." Thus, we see that the future jurist evidenced poise, force, and clarity of thought while yet in the University. But his triumphant exit from college did not end his interest in his Alma Mater. For 27 years he served with high credit on the Board of Trustees, and in recognition of the fidelity and efficiency which characterized that service, together with his splendid work and superior quality as a jurist the Ohio University in 1909 conferred upon him the degree of "Doctor of Law."

After graduation he taught school in McArthur, Ohio, and studied law during spare time. He was admitted to the bar in 1874 and at once manifested great ability in his chosen life work. He put energy and conscience into his work. He never felt it his duty to try to clear a man whom he knew to be guilty. Doubtless the world would be far better and fewer crimes would be committed if all lawyers thoroughly believed and vigorously practiced this admirable doctrine.

In the words of Judge Worstell "Judge Coultrap was an earnest sincere student of the law. He was a great lawyer and as a judge he administered a high-minded justice with distinction to himself and credit to his profession. His interest and sympathy were broad and varied, but the most engrossing were those of education, the law, the community, his church and his home. In brief, we may say, "Judge Coultrap's splendid legal ability and profound knowledge of the law, his love of justice, his incorruptible integrity, his uncompromising stand on all moral issues, his loyalty to his many friends, his fairness to his enemies, his faithfulness to his Church and his home, and loyal devotion to their interests made him a useful and influential member of the community. What more need or could be said of any man? He deserved to succeed and he succeeded. He always did the right as he saw the right. He was a leader in his profession." Hon. E. J. Jones said of him, "He was always right on the great questions that arose." Rev. C. B. Taylor said, "I realize that we, his neighbors, have an added responsibility to live right because we have known such a man and such a neighbor as Judge Henry W. Coultrap. The source of his strength was in his religious life. Early in life he gave his heart to God and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, which he truly loved as manifested by his loyalty and devotion. He was a member of the Board of Trustees at McArthur, taught the Men's Bible Class and was deeply interested in all the activities of the church. He was a loving and devoted husband and father, he will be greatly missed in the home, in the community, and in his profession. His life work which was ended so abruptly will continue in the far-reaching influence which he left behind."

He was married April 28, 1880 to Miss Mellie Hughes, the daughter of a Presbyterian Minister. To this union were born 5 children--Harry M., Superintendent of Schools, Geneva, Ill.; Mrs. Bernice Gerwick of Berkeley, Cal.; Manley, a newspaper editor of Corcoran, Cal., formerly on the staff of the Fresno, Cal. Republican; Miss Anna who died Oct. 31, 1929 and one child who died in infancy.

On the 18th of Sept., 1899 he lost by death his noble wife and companion. Some four years later, Sept. 30, 1903 he married Miss Frances Gibbons, a daughter of the late Rev. William Gibbons, for many years an honored member of the Ohio Conference. To this union were born two children--William, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, also of Ann Arbor Law School and now a progressing young lawyer of Lancaster, Ohio, and Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer of Dayton, Ohio.

On Nov. 25, 1924, Mr. Coultrap attended the Methodist Mens Council at Columbus, Ohio. While crossing High Street, he was struck by a heavy truck and lived about 3 hours. His body rests in the beautiful cemetery at McArthur, Ohio.

As a brother may I add this brief word of testimony. "Henry W. Coultrap was an exceptionally fine man, clean, pure and noble; never used liquor or tobacco in any form. He was dearly loved by all his brothers and sisters."

Mellie Martha Hughes-Coultrap was born near New Plymouth, Vinton Co., Ohio, Feb. 12, 1857; the 8th member of a family of eleven children--eight boys and 3 girls. She was the daughter of David and Susan P. Hughes. Her father was a minister in the Presbyterian Church and his careful training of his children had a most wholesome influence on his young daughter who was left fatherless at the age of seven by her father being taken by typhoid fever. In early life, feeling profoundly the force of a devout life, a godly home, and righteous instruction, and also having a strong conviction that the best life is the Christian life, she sought fellowship with God's people in early girlhood by uniting with the Presbyterian Church in the doctrines and policy of which she had been so faithfully instructed; and lived daily a beautiful and consecrated life. She believed in God as she believed in her own existence. She had a profound reverence for the Bible and an implicit faith in the divine message of God for her life. With patient care she sought to instruct her children and to instill into each the letter and spirit of that message which was the strength of her youth, the support of her womanhood, and the consolation of her dying hour.

On the 28th of April, 1880, she was united in marriage to Henry W. Coultrap with whom she lived a devoted wife until that holy and sacred tie was severed by death, Sept. 18, 1899.

After marriage she transferred her membership from the Presbyterian Church to the Methodist Church at McArthur. Her beautiful spirit, peculiar fitness and cheerfulness brought her at once to the front as a leader among the ladies of the church. She served well in many different positions--Sunday School teacher, President of Missionary Society, President of Epworth League. Her influence reached beyond her own church. She radiated her beautiful Christian spirit through the entire community till she passed triumphantly from this mortal life to immortal life.

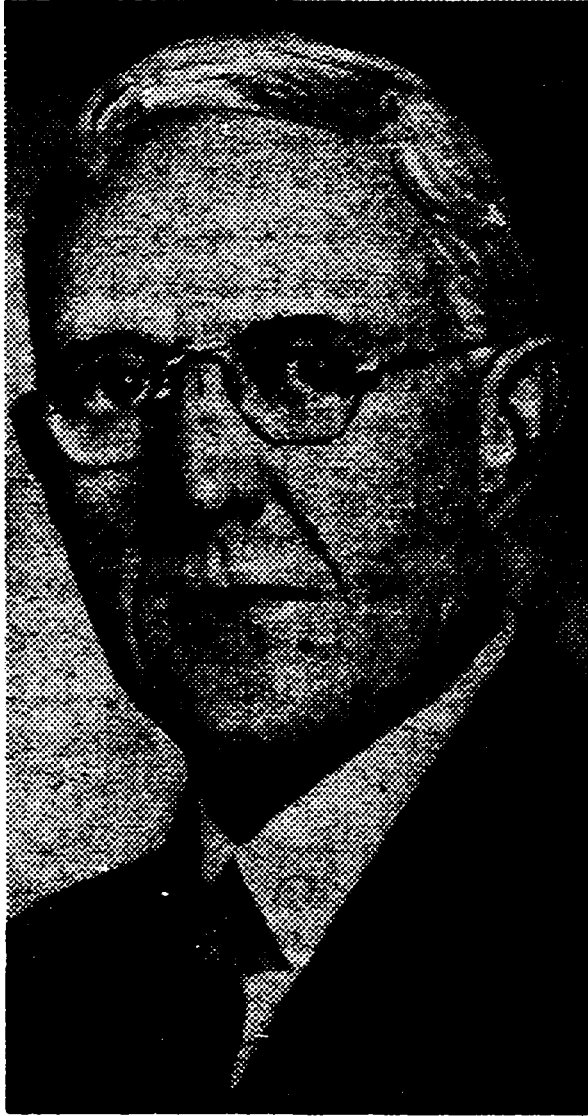

Her earthly life was brief but beautiful and inspiring.

Anna Coultrap was a daughter of Judge H. W. Coultrap and Mellie Hughes Coultrap. She attended the McArthur schools and graduated in the class of 1913. Her collegiate education was at Ohio University and she taught in the public schools until her health began to fail. She spent 3 years in California seeking improvement of her health but received no permanent benefit.

Anna Coultrap was universally known as possessing a lovely Christian character, and bore her long period of illness with complete patience and resignation. Her conscience and God's word guided her alike in things small and great. She never intentionally did a wrong act nor entertained a willful thought. She was also guided during her life by a splendid mental equipment and good judgment.

Hers was a beautiful and inspiring life; brief but victorious.

Harry Mansfield Coultrap, oldest son of Henry Wilson Coultrap and Mellie Hughes Coultrap, was born at McArthur, Ohio, June 29, 1881. He received his preliminary education in the McArthur schools. He attended Ohio University and the University of Colorado, graduating from the latter institution with the degree of A.B. in 1908. Later he received Master of Arts degrees from both Ohio University and Northwestern University.

H. M. Coultrap

Being of a studious disposition and much interested in social service he was naturally attracted to the profession of teaching, to which he devoted his life. To him teaching always seemed a golden opportunity for service to others. His first work in this field was in the sixth grade of the McArthur schools. He then served for two years as high school principal and later as superintendent of the McArthur schools. He resigned the latter position to complete his college work at the University of Colorado. After receiving his degree he served as teacher of history and junior-class advisor in the Elgin, Illinois high school.

From Elgin he moved to Geneva, Illinois, to become superintendent of schools, which position he has filled ably and satisfactorily for the past twenty-six years. Under his supervision the Geneva Public Schools have been developed to such a degree that they are widely recognized as an outstanding example of efficient administration. During his term of office four new school buildings have been erected, all old equipment has been replaced by the newest and most modern type, teacher standards have been raised, a modern curriculum installed, and the school system brought successfully through the depression years following 1929 on a strictly cash basis.

He is a member of many professional organizations, such as the National Education Association, Progressive Education Association, the American Association of School Administrators, the Department of Secondary School Principals, the National Society for the Study of Education and Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity. His leadership has been frequently recognized by election to various responsible positions in educational circles.

He has always been especially active in civic affairs, and has been identified with practically every movement which has had for its object the betterment, physically, spiritually, socially or morally, of the communities in which he has lived.

Since childhood he has been an active member of the Methodist Church, whose services he has faithfully attended and loyally supported.

In 1908 he married Anna M. Will of McArthur, Ohio. To this union were born two sons, James W. Coultrap, who is a lawyer in Chicago, and Paul W. Coultrap, who holds a business position in the same city.

Notes

Fletcher Stanton Coultrap, the fourth son of William and Rebecca Wilson Coultrap, was born Mar. 28, 1851 in Vinton Co., Ohio. His early life was spent on the farm; his early education was in the country schools. He left the farm for Ohio University the day he was 18 years old, and graduated in A.B. course in June, 1875. Three years later he received the degree of Master of Arts.

While in college he was especially fond of debating and successfully represented his society in two annual contests, winning in both instances over strong opponents.

As to his work as a teacher, he taught two years in the country schools before his graduation. Following graduation he was Superintendent of Schools thirty-two years, two at Wheelersburg, Ohio, twenty-one at Nelsonville, Ohio and nine at Athens, Ohio. Then he entered the Ohio University as professor of the Art of Teaching, and for seventeen years headed that department efficiently. He was County Examiner of Athens Co. for 25 years, County Secretary of the Ohio Reading Circle for 10 years, and a member of the Board of Control of the Ohio Reading Circle for 22 years.

He was an active churchman and a public spirited citizen. In 1892 he was a delegate to the Methodist General Conference at Omaha and in the same year was appointed by Gov. William McKinley distributing agent of food supplies furnished by the state for the needy in the Hocking and Sunday Creek Valleys.

During his long service as a teacher, he served on many important committees. He was chosen by the State School Commissioner as one of a committee of five to prepare a syllabus on language for use in the public schools of the state. In 1919 he was chairman of the committee of nine educators of Ohio chosen to compete with like committees of the several states of U.S. for a prize of $20,000 to be awarded for the best report on character education.

After 51 years of efficient service as an educator, Prof. F. S. Coultrap retired with the good will and esteem of all. For 51 years he was an earnest, progressive and successful teacher, ever finding joy in his work.

He was united in marriage with Fannie Gebhart, Dec. 25, 1876. The union was a very happy one. For over sixty years they have enjoyed a most beautiful companionship.

To them were born three sons and one daughter who grew to adulthood. Dr. Floyd Coultrap of Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Frieda C. Long of Dayton, Ohio, now of Long Beach, California.

Manning G. Coultrap of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Don C. Coultrap of Columbus, Ohio.

Prof. and Mrs. Coultrap moved to Long Beach after retiring in 1924, and are now enjoying that delightful climate even though the depression continues into 1938 still enjoying life and blessed companionship at the ripe age of 87 years.

John William Coultrap was born in Vinton Co., Ohio, Oct. 14, 1852, and died July 6, 1877. His life was brief being less than 25 years in duration, but it was a rich life. The influence of his consecrated Christian life was far-reaching. There was a marvelous charm in his life possessed by very few.

He taught several terms of school with great success. Attended Ohio University one year, preparing to enter the ministry. In March 1877, he contracted a severe cold which quickly developed into lung trouble, spoken of in those days as quick consumption, resulting in his death in July.

It can truthfully be said of him--

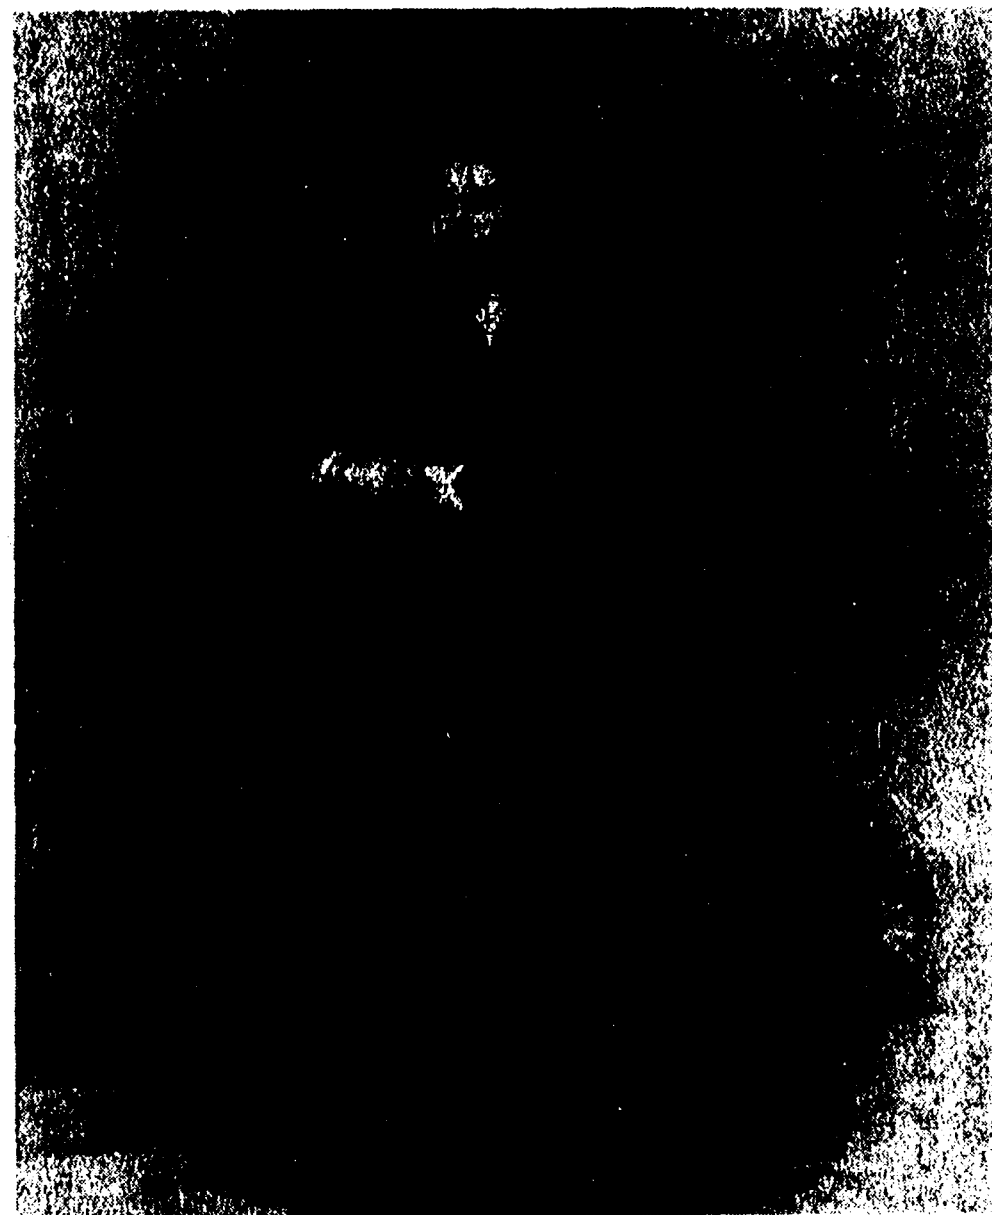

"He lived in great deeds not passing years,
In noble thoughts not fleeting breaths,

In kindly feelings not mere figures on a dial."
He truly lived the life of a Christian and died the triumphant death of the righteous. I have seen many people die but none more triumphantly glorious than he.

Mariah Jane Coultrap, the youngest daughter of William and Rebecca Wilson Coultrap, was born July 14, 1857. Jennie, as she was usually called, was a quick witted brilliant girl of serious yet joyful disposition, intellectually keen. She loved fun and enjoyed giving and taking clean jokes, but gladly sacrificed her pleasure at any time to aid those in need of help. She was as ambitious as any of her brothers and would have made a fine teacher had opportunity afforded her the chance of an extended education, but due to sickness in the family, she never received a college education. Nevertheless, sister Jennie always exerted a strong influence for good in her church and community. Her strength of character, her clear sense of the right, her kindness of heart, her strong desire to be of service made her a leader of ability. Converted in early youth she united with the Methodist Church and has been a faithful member of the same for more than 65 years.

She married Fred Amerine Dec. 24, 1889. To this union were born two children--Mrs. Minnie Amerine Aten of Lancaster, Ohio, May 18, 1892, and Wright Amerine of Lancaster, Ohio, Nov. 2, 1899.

In every sphere of life Mrs. Jemie Amerine has been faithful to every trust. Truly unselfish, many a heart has been cheered by her, many a discouraged soul encouraged, many a home helped. The world is far richer because of her unselfish Christian life.

McKendree Whitefield Coultrap, youngest son of William and Rebecca Coultrap, was born Mar. 29, 1859. He, like all his brothers and sisters, was reared on the farm and as soon as big enough to work, was assigned a definite task and held responsible for doing that work promptly and well. Even at the age of six in 1865 when his father was in the service of his Country, his mother assigned to him and his sister, then 8 years of age, the duty of driving the sheep each day to a nearby spring that they might get water. Thus early in life the children were trained in usefulness and responsibility. The parents believed in placing responsibility upon each child and requiring each one to do his own work unless sick. At the time the children did not always appreciate the responsibility, but in later life realized the wisdom and goodness, yea verily the real kindness of the parents.

His early education was in the country schools and the Sunday school. At the age of 19 he entered the academy of Ohio University. After four terms there he changed to Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, Ohio where after one year he was ready for college. However before entering upon his college work, he taught 3 winters in the country schools and one year at Buehtel, Ohio. In 1884, he entered Ohio Wesleyan University as a freshman, graduating in June, 1888, completely financing his way during the six years of academy and college work. Following graduation he was Superintendent of the public schools at Middleport, Ohio for two years, then two years at Shawnee, Ohio. In 1892 being offered a much larger salary he reluctantly left Shawnee and became Superintendent of the schools at Attica, Ind. Here after six weeks his wife sickened and in 21 hours passed to the beyond. The blow was so sudden and unexpected that his health was greatly impaired, consequently he resigned his position at the end of the year intending to rest for a year. However, having regained his health completely during the following summer, he decided in September to take a year of special work in psychology, history and philosophy of education, and methods of teaching and entered the Teachers College at Terre Haute in order to pursue that work with the noted Drs. Sanderson and Parsons. During the year he did considerable teaching, giving courses in methods of teaching mathematics. In the fall of 1894 he became Prof. of Mathematics in Upper Iowa University, where he remained five years, taking advanced work in Chicago University during the summer vacations. In 1899 he accepted a position at Troy, Ohio and returned to his native state and the public schools for eight years. In 1907 he accepted the chair of Mathematics in Northwestern College, now North Central College, Naperville, Ill.

After 30 years of faithful work, enjoying a rich fellowship with students and faculty, he retired June 7, 1937, having worked as a teacher 54 years; 18 in the public schools and 36 years in College as Prof. of Mathematics.

Prof. H. M. Perkins characterized Mr. Coultrap as a student as "A man of fine ability and superior scholarship. He possesses marked ability in presenting mathematical truths in a clear, concise, forceful, and attractive way."

Pres. Bissell of Upper Iowa University said, "Mr. M. W. Coultrap is an accurate scholar and a fine instructor. He possesses rare ability in selecting and emphasizing the important points at the right time."

He was united in marriage with Minnie Blanche Ball, June 18, 1890. The union was a happy one, but of short duration. Two years and 4 months later that sacred tie was severed by the death of the young wife. She was dearly loved by all who knew her, and her early death was a great shock to all, especially her husband. His sorrow was keen, but mellowed by the assurance that she had entered the beautiful city where sickness and sorrow and separation are forever unknown.

March 13, 1895 he married Mary Frances Ball, a sister of his first wife, who like her sister knew how to make a delightful home, ever-filling it with a beautiful and inspiring spirit. For forty-one years she made home a joy, a veritable paradise.

Feb. 11, 1936 as the early morning light was heralding the coming day, she closed her vision to earthly things and with unspeakable rapture beheld the glorious splendor of her mansion over there, not made with hands, Eternal in the Paradise of God, with loved one gone before.

M. W. Coultrap united with the Methodist Church at Locust Grove, Ohio in early boyhood and continued an active member of that denomination till 1907, when after due consideration he joined the Evangelical Church in Naperville, Ill., serving faithfully in many important positions--teacher in Sunday School; usher, member of building committee, secretary of building fund, financial secretary for many years, trustee for 12 years, and church clerk.

In college he served on many important committees and was always willing to take his share of responsibility.

Prof. Coultrap honored by trustees and students.

After over fifty years of teaching, thirty of which were spent at North Central College, Professor M. W. Coultrap is retiring at the close of the present school year. In recognition of his many years of devoted service, the Board of Trustees passed the following resolution which was presented to Professor Coultrap at the Chapel service, Apr. 14, 1937.

A man lives in deeds not years, and yet when one lives in both, he makes possible a far greater investment of talent and personality; such is the case of over a half-century of teaching by our esteemed friend Professor McKendree W. Coultrap. For thirty of these years, he has taught on the faculty of North Central College, and his influence in classroom, on the campus, and in the church has reflected his genuinely Christian character. His sympathetic understanding of student life has endeared him in the hearts of thousands of students, his wise counsel as an active member of the faculty has contributed to the success of the college.

Therefore be it resolved that we express our deep appreciation to Professor Coultrap for his many years of faithful service, and assure him that he may sense the joy of satisfaction in a work well done, and we pray that in his years of retirement he may be the beneficiary of the signal blessings of a gracious Providence. Be it further resolved that in recognition of his long and faithful service he shall be appointed as Professor Emeritus of Mathematics.

Dedication of Spectrum (College Yearbook)

As a neighbor may light a brand from a man's hearth without diminishing that first flame, so the inspiration arising from a skillful blending of pragmatism with idealism has kindled the desire to behold the vision of all time and existence in the hearts of an innumerable caravan of students who have passed through the portals of the classroom of McKendree W. Coultrap, to whom we dedicate this book in his fifty-fourth year of service in the profession of teaching.

The Class of 1937.

A Tribute to Professor Coultrap

At the close of this school year, Professor McKendree Whitefield Coultrap will become Professor Emeritus of Mathematics of North Central College. This is but one of the many eventful steps which has marked the pathway of an educator who has been honored, respected, and loved by a countless number of students.

Through the years, Professor Coultrap has built a character of determination, dignity and high idealism. Born on a farm in Ohio, Mar. 29, 1859, he learned early a sense of responsibility and prompt, careful execution of duty. These virtues have never for a moment departed from him.

The day before his graduation from Ohio Wesleyan University in June, 1888, he was elected Superintendent of Schools in Middleport, Ohio. For a number of years then he was engaged in public school work. Later he went as Professor of Mathematics to Upper Iowa University. Of his work there President Bissel said, "He possesses unusual ability to interest students in his work. He is a close student improving every opportunity to perfect himself in all that goes to make a successful teacher."

He already possessed a splendid record as an educator when in 1907 he became Professor of Mathematics of Northwestern College, now North Central. During his thirty years on the faculty here he has been recognized as a thorough scholar and a fine instructor.

In Professor Coultrap we have a leader in civic, religious, and educational circles. He has held many positions of great responsibility in the church and town. He is a member of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and of Phi Delta Theta. He has been, also, a vigorous participant and enthusiastic backer of football and volleyball.

No tribute of respect and esteem to Professor Coultrap could be complete without mentioning his wonderful home life. The never-failing courtesy and hospitality of the Professor, and the unsurpassed charm of his beautiful wife made the Coultrap home a haven for distinguished guests, and a gathering place for their multitude of friends.

It is a joy to know that Professor Coultrap is to remain on the campus in fellowship with the students and faculty. His nobility of character and firm faith in God, even in times of sorrow, will continue to be an inspiration to all who meet with him. Students and faculty join together in paying highest tribute to Professor M. W. Coultrap, fine Christian gentleman and beloved teacher.

Mary Ball Coultrap

Mary Frances Ball, youngest daughter of Andrew J. and Rebecca McFadden Ball, was born in Knox Co., Ohio, Feb. 5, 1874. She grew to noble womanhood in an atmosphere of love and sacrificial service for the good of all.

Mar. 13, 1895, at the age of 21, she married M. W. Coultrap, Prof. of Mathematics in Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa. Here Mrs. Coultrap took a keen interest in the various phases of student life and became an inspiration to many and a friend to all.

In 1899 they returned to Ohio and spent the next 8 years in Troy, Ohio, Mr. Coultrap returning to public school work. Much of the time at Troy, Mrs. Coultrap was in poor health, having to undergo three major operations during those eight years.

In the fall of 1907, Mr. Coultrap became Prof. of Mathematics in Northwestern College, now North Central College, Naperville, Ill. Here Mrs. Coultrap's health was much better, and she entered heartily into the work of the church, the community, and the Y.W.C.A. of the college, radiating cheerfulness and a benign influence, ever-ready to render loyal service in any good cause. Soon her fine spirit and efficiency brought her to the front as a leader. She served well in various positions-- Sunday School teacher, Pres. of Ladies Aid, Pres. of Womans Club, District Pres. of Womans Club, State Treasurer of Federated Clubs, and many other responsible positions.

During and after the World War she was constantly active in many lines of work, such as the Council of Defense; U.S. Food Administration; Red Cross; Board of Health, near East Relief; Salvation Army Financial Drives; also active in promoting temperance and clean politics,--in short every good cause received her loyal support. She was especially devoted to her large Sunday School class of young married ladies.

In early girlhood she united with the Christian Church of Mt. Vernon, Ohio and ever lived in daily communion and blessed fellowship with her Heavenly Father. Her Christianity was genuine. It filled her home with fragrance and brought pleasure and inspiration to all. She desired that her life should reflect Christ. During these strenuous years, her health while never vigorous, was fair; however, in the fall of 1928 her health became very delicate but during the following 7-1/2 years of sickness, I never once heard her complain. She was patient and cheerful even in the midst of intense suffering.

A few days before her passing, realizing that the crossing was near, she chose as the text she desired to have used "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God believe also in Me. In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you," then turning to her pastor, Rev. Dewey Eder, said, "Please do not praise me, I want my life to speak for itself." Hence at the funeral, Rev. Eder said, "By request of Mrs. Coultrap there will be no obituary and no eulogium--she desired that her life speak for itself." Then added, "And her life does speak for itself far more beautifully and eloquently than any words I could express."

Near the early dawn of Feb. 11, 1936 our beloved Mary exchanged earthly suffering for Eternal Bliss. Thus ended a beautiful life here, but her fine influence will forever continue in the lives of all who intimately knew her.

Because of her executive ability, Mrs. McKendree Coultrap has twice been elected to important positions in the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs. She was President of Eleventh District Woman's Clubs 1919-1921 and was Treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs 1924-1925. This ability was again recognized when she organized the first DuPage County Woman's Republican Club, for she was elected its first president. She has also served as county chairman for Near East Relief. Besides these official positions, Mrs. Coultrap is a member of the Daughters of American Revolution; Naperville Woman's Club; Daughters of American Colonists.

At the close of the World War, Mrs. Coultrap received certificates in recognition of services faithfully performed in behalf of the nation and her men at arms for each of the following societies: the Red Cross; Council of National Defense; and the United States Food Administration.

Mrs. Coultrap is the wife of McKendree W. Coultrap, Professor of Mathematics, North Central College, Naperville, Illinois. Her maiden name was Mary Ball. She was the daughter of Andrew J. Ball and Rebecca (McFadden) Ball. She was born in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, where she received her education.

A Loving Tribute in Memory of
Mrs. Mary Ball Coultrap

By

Miss Mary Bucks, one of the lady professors

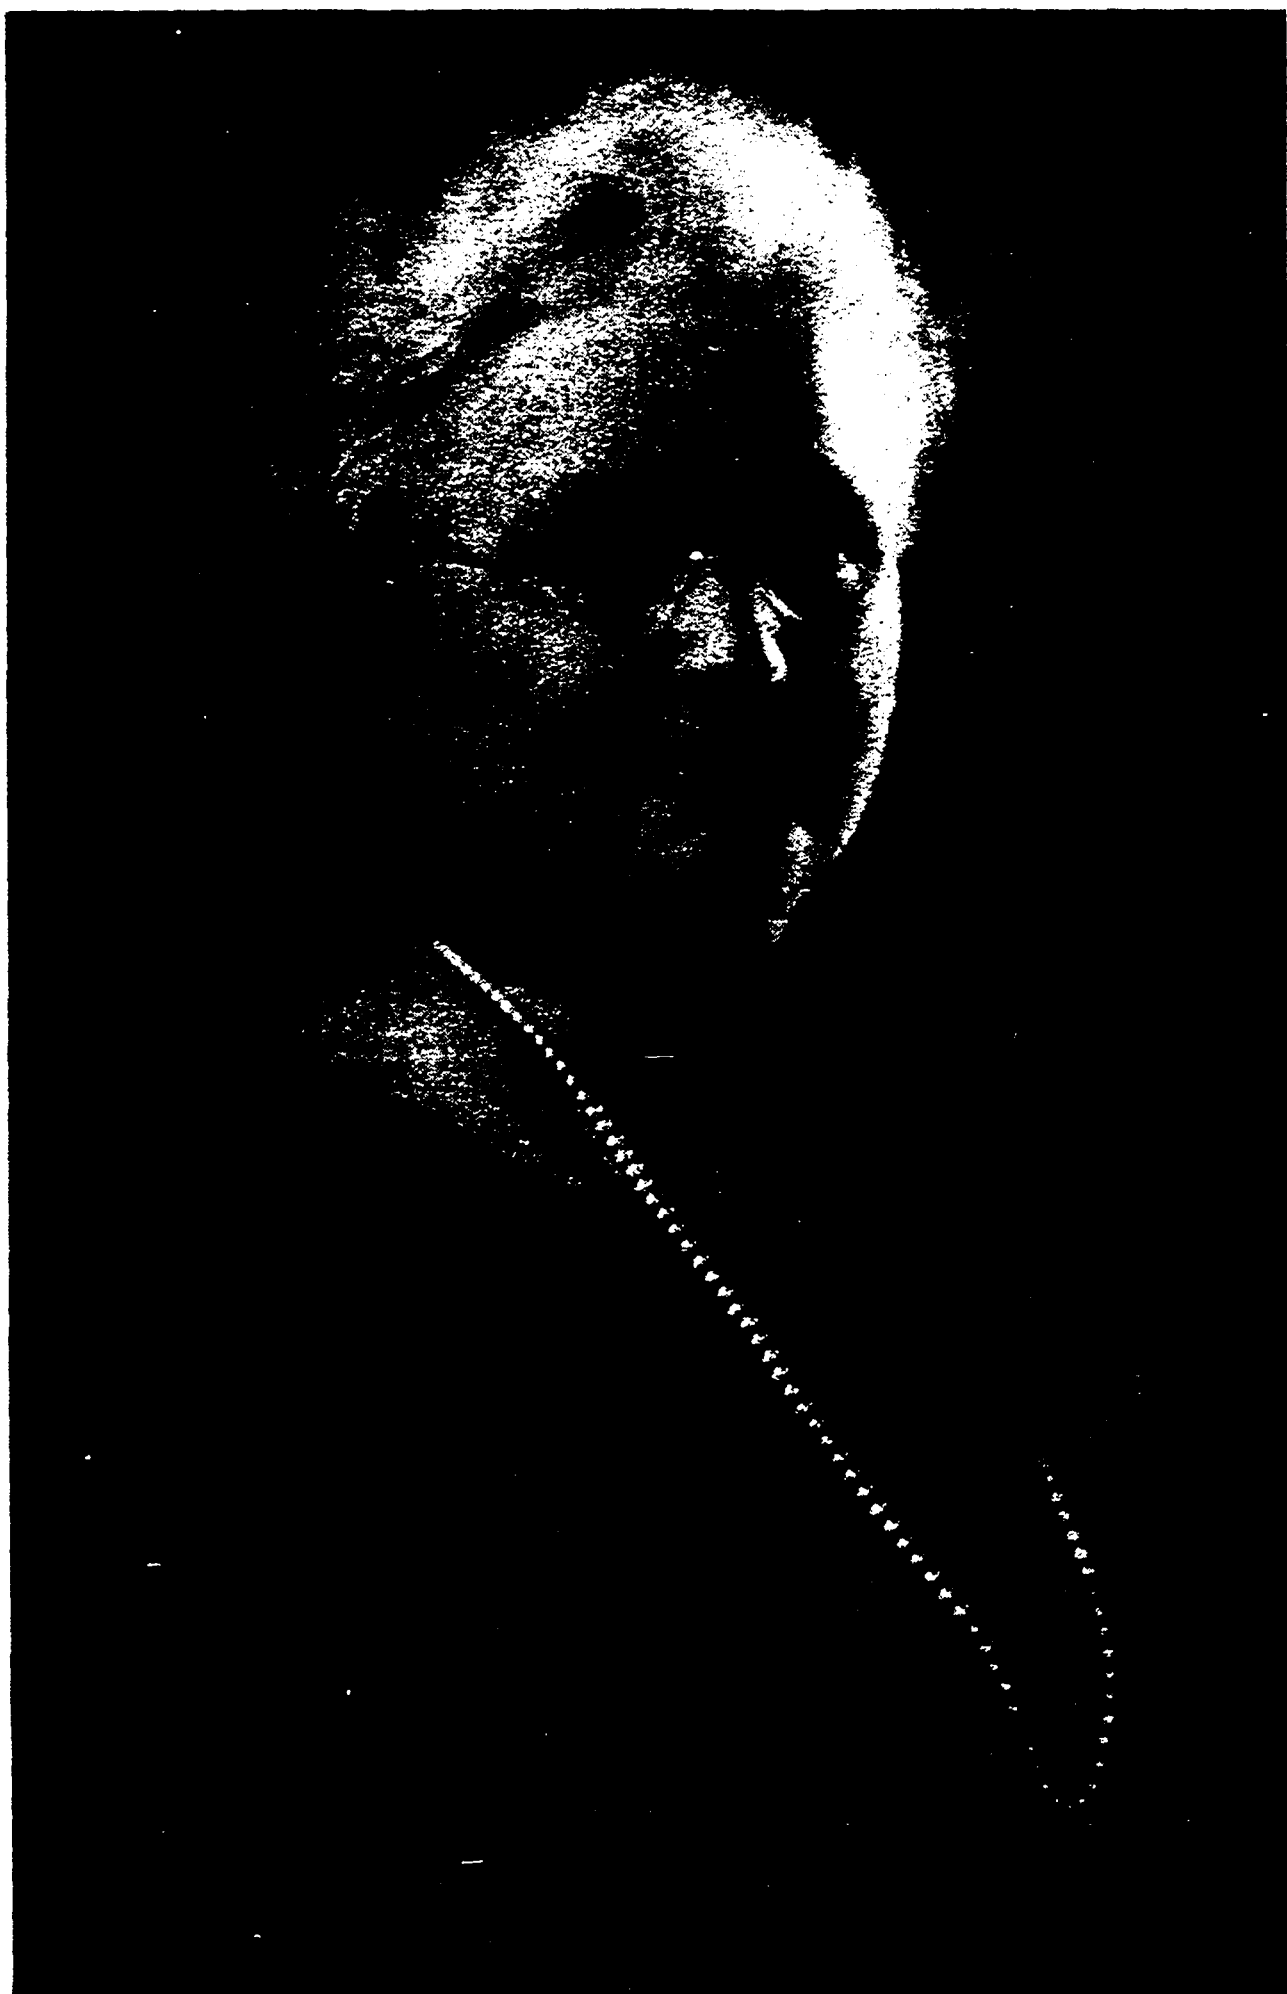

After years of patient, yet cheerful suffering, our friend and associate was translated home to the realms of peace and rest, beyond.

Mrs. Coultrap's lineage is traced back to very early pioneer settlers on several different lines, and to five of the signers of the Magna Charter. Thus she became a life member of the National Society of the Magna Charta, and the Society of Descendants of Knights of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

During the late years of her ill-health, she was confined to her bed much of the time. But, true to her supreme desire to be engaged in some useful work, she prepared a most excellent genealogy chart running back fifteen generations, and containing over eight hundred names carefully traced out and proven. She also wrote a very comprehensive history of the Ball family.

Mrs. Coultrap, in her earlier years, was very active in many lines of public activities as well as being deeply interested in all College activities, and in close and sympathetic touch with the First Evangelical Church, Sunday School duties and Y.W.C.A. work. However, as her health failed, she was obliged to lay aside these strenuous duties, one by one.

She had a very sunshiny disposition, hopeful and optimistic. As disease preyed upon her, hers was indeed, a brave and heroic struggle to "get well." Her cheerful smile and hearty welcome, "Come right in," was contagious, and one felt cheered and happy after a visit at her bedside. Her courage was also buoyed up by the kind and devoted care given her by her beloved husband. She was obliged to make many visits to various hospitals, or "workshops," as she termed these institutions, in the vain hope of obtaining permanent help.

Her last earthly journey was made to Copley Hospital at Aurora, Illinois. In the course of a few days, she and her dear one realized that no earthly skill could help. As she sensed this fact, she said to her beloved husband, "I am so tired. I have come to the point where I feel I want to go Home and be with those dear ones who are waiting for me, and to be with Jesus." Then she turned to her husband with a wistful smile on her face and said, "But I don't want to leave you." After a painful pause she looked up with a radiant smile on her face and said, "But I'll be looking for you. Remember, I'll be waiting for you. Remember, I'll be waiting--for--you."

Only those who are resting on His promises, "Let not your heart be troubled, I go to prepare a place for you," could speak such words of comfort and confidence. Hers was the peace of a perfect trust in her loving Father, unwavering faith that never doubted that God chose the best for her. In the words of the poet she speaks thus:

"Best, though my plans were all upset,
Best, though the way was rough,
Best, though my earthly store be scant,
In Christ I have enough.

"And even though disappointments come,
They too, are best for me,
To wean me from the present world
And lead me nearer Thee."

In the hush of early dawn, our friend peacefully fell asleep in Jesus. We should not question why, or murmur. He, who doeth all things well, knoweth best. With confidence and trust we look up and say, "Not our will, but Thine be done." Her hope and faith in God helps us to look beyond the grave.

We quote a few stanzas of one of her much loved poems, by Ella Wheeler Wilcox:

Beyond

"It seemeth such a little way to me
Across to that Strange Country, The Beyond;
And not strange--for it has grown to be
The home of those of whom I am so fond;
They make it seem familiar and most dear,
As journeying friends bring distant countries near.

"So close it lies, that, when my sight is clear,
I think I see that brightly gleaming
strand;
I know I feel that those who've gone from here
Come near enough to touch my groping hand.
I often think that but for our veiled eyes
We should find Heaven right round about us lies.

"I cannot make it seem a day to dread
When from this dear earth I shall journey out
To that still dearer country of the dead,
And join the dear ones so long dreamed about.
I love this world; yet I shall love to go
And meet the dear ones who wait for me, I know.

"And so, to me there is no sting to death,
And so, the grave has lost its victory;
It is but crossing, with abated breath;
And white set face, a little strip of sea;
To find my loved ones waiting on the shore
More beautiful, more precious than before."

Items Taken From the Obituary

Mrs. Emma Witherspoon was born in Morgan Co., Ohio, Jan. 5, 1864. She was the youngest of a large family of 13 children, 9 girls and 4 boys, all of whom with the parents have preceded her to the spirit world. Her father, James Wilson, died when Emma was small and Emma was gladly taken and raised by her half-sister, Mrs. Rebecca Coultrap. The entire Coultrap family dearly loved Emma and always called her sister. Emma was a bright, cheerful and lovable girl.

She was educated in the country schools and taught several terms of school. She was married to Plyley Witherspoon Apr. 30, 1885. The union proved to be a very happy one, blessed with three children, two of whom grew to adulthood. Emma united with the Methodist church at Locust Grove in early girlhood and was ever active in church work. She and her husband had charge of the Children's Home of Vinton Co. for almost 12 years. They did a great work there and were dearly loved by all the children.

A few short weeks before death, due to Emma's failing health, they left the Home hoping for a well-deserved rest, and sooner than was expected real rest came to our dear one in the beautiful mansion prepared by Him who loves us and gave His life for us.

Emma was a good mother, a loving wife, a fine neighbor, in short, a real Christian. She leaves to mourn her departure, the husband, two daughters, and seven grandchildren.

Goodbye, dear Mother and Friend. We shall meet you some bright morning on the happy shore over there where sickness and sorrow shall never come.

Emma died of cancer Apr. 7, 1933, at the age of 69 years, 3 months, and 2 days.

John Graham, Superintendent of Schools, Huntington, West Va.--one child, Jack Graham b. Martha Dew m. Rexford Small. They live in Mansfield, Ohio.

VIII. Emma A. Geyer and Charles Edwards lived in Newark, Ohio. No children.

IX. William E. Geyer lived in Mansfield, Ohio. I believe two of his sisters who never married,--Anna M. (a dressmaker) and Lula (a saleslady) still live there.

Most of these data was given by Frances Geyer-Hamilton of Colfax, Ill. I copied an interesting bit of history from the History of Muskingum Co.

"The first schoolhouse in Bloomfield, Highland Township was a round log structure 24 by 24 feet with puncheon floor and furniture. It stood on the N.W. 1/4 of Sec. 11, owned then (1818) by Walter Hogseed. It gave way in later years to a hewed log hexagonal building. The first teacher was Lorenzo Dow. He died and was buried near the scenes of his labors in 1818, being the first person buried in the ground that became Bloomfield Cemetery."

It is stated that John Bell introduced into school No. 4 the First Blackboard in eastern Muskingum Co. It was made by Peter Geyer, one of his pupils in 1843, when Peter was about 19 years old.

THE CURTAIN IS DOWN

Jess Coultrap, veteran stage manager of the Weller theatre, passed away Monday afternoon, December 13th, at one-thirty o'clock, in his sixty-eighth year.

With the passing of "Jess," as he was affectionately called by all who knew him, Zanesville loses one of its best-known citizens and The Brown Theatrical Company one of its most valuable employees.

Shortly after his school days Jess began his back-stage career at the Schultz Opera House and served there until the opening of the Weller theatre in 1902 where he accepted the position of stage manager and retained it until his death.

Many of the theatre's most famous stars are numbered among his friends who will learn with regret his passing. Whenever a troupe came to the theatre and opened the stage door the first thing they would say, in the event he was somewhere else in the theatre was, "Where's Jess?" It was a meeting of old friends every time a show came to town as they all knew and loved him.

But the show is over—the curtain is down—there is no encore.

As a token of esteem and affection the Weller Orchestra will play "Lead Kindly Light," before the opening curtain today.

Daniel Coultrap, seventh child of Henry and Elizabeth Coultrap, was born Dec. 15, 1836, in Muskingum Co., Ohio; married Samantha Wiley Mar. 4, 1856, and died Sept. 19, 1897. Daniel and Samantha had four children--Mary Sophia, Susan Ellen, Kezziah, and Laura Elizabeth. The last three died in infancy or early childhood. I know but little of Daniel and Samantha. They must have been excellent people of high ideals and noble characters if one can judge anything from their daughter Sophia,--a noble woman of fine ability, rich in Christian character and helpful deeds. Sophia was a fine musician and served as organist for many years in her church.

Aug. 31, 1879, she was united in holy wedlock with George M. Kerner. To this happy union, four children were born, Daniel R., Dorothy, Beulah, and Grace Kerner. The following is from a letter written by Beulah K. Prose, June 30, 1929.

"Several busy months have passed since your letter came. During the last ten years much has happened to change our once very happy home. In February of 1921, my father died. From that time until Nov., 1927, mother was the one soul about whom her three daughters lived and for whom they loved to labor. After several months from cancer of the liver, mother was taken. That left three daughters at home and a married son near. Last summer, July 3, 1928, I did what few Kerner girls ever did--I married. This leaves my two sisters, Dorothy and Grace at home."

I. Daniel Russel Kerner married Blanche Maxwell, Sept. 17, 1902. To this union were born 3 children--Charles Louis, Katherine Louise, and Karl Kenneth. Louise is the oldest and is the wife of Warren McCormick. They have one daughter--Patricia Ann McCormick b. Nov. 24, 1928. Charles married Harriet Lorimer, June 8, 1925. Kenneth was born Nov. 4, 1911.

II. The second child of our family is Dorothy. Always too frail in bodily strength to go into the business world. She has been a sainted daughter and sister. Upon her has fallen much of the duty and care of a family that has had much sickness. She was my mother's constant companion from the time she left school. As mother grew older she unconsciously placed her duties upon Dorothy who did and does strive continually to fill mother's place. Mother's going was especially keen because of this, however in her efforts to do for us she has added to her laurels of true worth daily.

III. Beulah Rose Kerner comes next in years. For 17 years I taught in the Zanesville schools. I married Charles T. Prose who had been my physics teacher in high school, my grammar school supervisor, my junior high principal, and my superintendent. I had known him for 21 years. Mr. Prose is an alumnus of Denison University, Granville, Ohio. He was a widower with a 17-year-old daughter. He has been superintendent of the Zanesville schools for 3 years (now (1938) 12 years). I am doing my best to make the best home for Ruth that a school-teacher can make. My husband is 18 years older than I, but he is everything that is noble and fine, and our interests are so much alike that age does not seem to count in the least.

IV. Grace, the youngest, is also a teacher, teaching English in an elementary school that has departmental work, and she is also principal of the building of 12 rooms. She is taking summer work in Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, entering upon her senior year. Later, Grace received her degree from Muskingum College and in 1937 was taking work for an advanced degree in Ohio State University.

This plainly shows that Grace is the kind of a teacher real educators like to have in their schools. Grace and I have had to get our college work during the summer because of home responsibilities. Grace has a beautiful voice and is soloist in one of the leading churches. She directs choirs; she has a Sunday school class of 40 to 50 young women of her own age. I desire to add that Dannie, as we girls call brother, is a general contractor. He is very much like his grandfather Coultrap in build and disposition. He is a real Christian business man. All this explanation of my immediate family may seem boastful and out of place but I do not intend to convey the wrong impression. Of course you do not know us and for my father and mother's sake, I want you to know (as mother would say) that as a Coultrap she has not failed. We shall try to be true to their confidence.

Sincerely, Beulah K. Prose

1331 Hazel Ave., Zanesville, Ohio

P.S. May I (M. W. Coultrap) add, "Not half of the fine things that could truthfully be said have been said in the foregoing."

Notes

James Coultrap, son of Henry and Elizabeth Coultrap, was born Jan. 28, 1838; married Charlotte Overs, Oct. 31, 1861 and died Sept. 16, 1916. His five children were John Henry (usually called Harry), William M., Myrtle, Carrie, and Thomas J. Coultrap. William M. died in infancy.

Myrtle, the oldest daughter, has been a sufferer from rheumatism for nearly 40 years, has been bedfast and helpless for 25 years, but quite patient and cheerful (1937). During the years 1912-1920 her loving mother neglected no effort to relieve her daughter's intense suffering. After the death of the ever-attentative mother, Carrie, her younger sister, and her good samaritan husband, Frank E. Wiles, took Myrtle to their own home and now for 17 years, sacrificing many pleasures, have done everything love and tender care and helpful constant service could possibly do to ease pain and bring cheer and comfort to their afflicted sister. Never sparing themselves nor any means they possessed during the long and severe depression. Truly such sacrificial service bespeaks christian character which the Master some glad day will highly honor and richly reward in His Eternal Kingdom, saying, "In as much as ye did it to one of My suffering ones, ye did it unto Me. Enter thou into the everlasting joys of thy Lord." For 17 years they have constantly and patiently performed every duty as faithfully as if they stood in the front rank of some great battle and knew that victory for mankind depended upon their bravery, strength, and skill.

Someone sent Myrtle the following beautiful and applicable poem.

"Deep wrinkles in her face and hands tell of the pain she knows;
The smile upon her whitened face tells of the grit she shows.
She does not cry in petulance, does not give way to tears;
But lives in patience through long days, now numbered into years.
She sadly shakes her head at those who tell her
 of their ills,
She warns them to be humbled by the acts their Maker wills.
She laughs at things which others think are mighty fierce or great.
She knows long waiting will dissolve the trying tricks of fate.
She does not guess that by her life the great good she is teaching,
Nor does she know that in effect her lessons are far-reaching."

Some five years ago I sent her the following, hoping it might bring her comfort.

"Oh for the peace of a perfect trust, my loving God in Thee,
Unwavering faith that never doubts Thou chooseth best for me.
Best though my plans were all upset, best though the way was rough;
Best though my earthly store be scant, in Christ I have enough.
And even though disappointments come, they too are best for me

To wean me from this present world and lead me nearer Thee.
Oh! for the peace of a perfect trust that looks away from all,
That sees Thy hand in everything in great events or small.
That hears Thy voice, a Father's voice directing for the best,
Oh! for the peace of a perfect trust, a heart with Thee at Rest."

Carrie was married to Frank E. Wiles,
Oct. 10, 1900. They have five children--Carl Emmett of Hollywood, Cal., John Lauterback, Dwight A., Mrs. Frances Louise Maneely and Frank Elden Wiles. All except Carl Emmett live in Zanesville, Ohio.

Thomas, the youngest child of James and Charlotte, lives in Zanesville. He has married twice. First, Rosella Newman Sept. 6, 1910. She died Feb. 12, 1917. About a year later, Feb. 20, 1918, he married Marie Handler.

Thomas passed away Feb. 13, 1938 in his sixty-first year.

Notes

Geo. Edwin McBee and Ada Kearns have 2 children, Raymond E. McBee, May 26, 1920; Bettie Jean McBee, July 26, 1923.

Data given by Nettie McBee

Mary Coultrap married Charles Fulkerson, Oct. 28, 1864. They had five children--Nettie, Thomas, Ollie, Anna, Sophia, and Otto C. Fulkerson.

I. Nettie married George L. McBee, Aug. 1, 1889. For many years they lived in Malta, Ohio. They had four children--Alice Mary, Helen M., George Edwin and John Allen.

My husband (George L. McBee) died Jan. 9,

1898, thus leaving me with my four small children. Our marriage took place in Zanesville but our children were all born in Malta, Morgan Co., Ohio.

Alice Mary completed the high school, graduated from Cincinnati Missionary Training school and followed this with 4 years at Ohio Wesleyan University, graduating in 1919, then went as a missionary to China; was teacher in Hitt Training School at Nanking for five years, two years in full charge of all affairs in this institution. Is now at home but hopes to go back soon.

Helen is a stenographer and has always been at home.

George was overseas during the World War for 13 months in Company F 18th Infantry, 1st Division. In 1916 he married Ada Kearns, lives now in Zanesville, has two fine children--Raymond Edwin b. May 26, 1920 and Bettie Jean b. July 26, 1923. My youngest son, John, died Sept. 15, 1921 at the age of 24.

II. My brother Thomas was a painter. He died Sept. 21, 1905.

III. My sister Ollie married Harry H. Ramsey, Nov. 26, 1894. They now live in Anderson, Ind. They have one son, James H. Ramsey b. Oct. 4, 1897. He married Eva Brown, June 23, 1924, and they have one son--James Robert Ramsey b. Oct. 24, 1927. Harry H. Ramsey is an auditor with the Peoria and Eastern R.R. Co. in Indianapolis. His son James is in the office, and assistant in the general management of the Big Four R.R. at Cincinnati, Ohio.

IV. My youngest brother, Otto Clark Fulkerson, married Lillian Ramsey, May 9, 1899 and had 4 children--Mary Katherine, Otto S., Lawrence, and Anna Bell Fulkerson. My brother was representative from Muskingum Co. 1911-1912. He had a bookstore in Zanesville for many years. His daughter, Mary Katherine married Sept. 6, 1926. All members of my brother's family reside in Zanesville.

My father's death occurred Apr. 11, 1898; mother's Mar. 21, 1921.

Notes

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 30, 1929.

Dear Cousin:

Judith Coultrap and Henry Shrimpton had eight children--Georgia, Emma Blanche, Clarence, Alfred, Edwin, Frederick William, Henry, Jr., Mariah Josephine, and Estella.

I. Georgia married John Davis. They had 3 children--Ralph W., Raymond Stanley, and Judith Leland. Ralph W. Davis, a graduate of University of Illinois, later Professor of Science and Athletic Director at Lincoln Nebr. Academy, but now in the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. and also studying law at the University of Cincinnati. He married Minnie Bliss. They have no children yet.

Raymond Stanley Davis married Irene Hennesey of Jacksonville, Ill. They have 3 small children--Leland, Helen Ann, and Maurice.

Judith Leland Davis was a graduate of the Jacksonville high school and was preparing to enter the Woman's College when she was fatally injured in a runaway and died shortly afterward.

II. Emma Blanche Shrimpton never married. She is employed at the Mosley Lock Co. in Covington, Ky., holding a very responsible position.

III. Clarence died when a small child in Zanesville, Ohio.

IV. Alfred Edward married Edna Stiles Hayes. They have one son--Edwin Hayes Shrimpton. They now live in Columbus, Ohio. The son is attending the State University. My brother, Alfred, is construction engineer for the American Laundry Machine Co.

V. Frederick William died Jan. 17, 1901. Age 25 years.

VI. Henry married Jessie Gard of Cincinnati. They live in Norwood, a suburb of Cincinnati. He is a floor manager at Shillito's store. They have no children.

VII. I, Mariah Josephine, am next in line. I married John S. Youngbluth. I have been a widow for 8 years. I have 3 sons--Donold A. 23 years old, a graduate of St. Mary's High School and East High Vocational School. He is in business for himself in Newport, Ky., and is to marry Miss Lavinia Lipscomb, a Newport lady this coming July. My second boy, Joseph Carroll, a graduate of St. Xavier's High School and also St. Xavier's Business College, is 20 years old; is now in Los Angeles. I expect to join him there soon. John Charles (Jack) is just 10. He is keenly interested in all sports. In school he excels in literature. A poem of his was published in our largest daily paper last week.

VIII. Estella married Joseph Lazear White. His people were prominent throughout the south. They have 4 children--Josephine S., Mary Louise, Elizabeth Jane, and Marjory Estella. The Whites live in Cleveland where Mr. White is Superintendent of the Ohio Laundry Co. His mother was a famous singer, and his uncle, Dr. Lazear of St. Louis, became a martyr to his profession by having himself inoculated with yellow fever germs. My father was born in London and came to this country when a small boy. He became chief of the fire department, Zanesville, Ohio. He installed the first alarm boxes. Both my parents are dead and are buried in Mt. Washington Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio. Mother died Aug. 19, 1899 and father Dec. 21, 1907. They came to Cincinnati about 1884.

Your Cousin,
Josephine Youngbluth.

Jennie Coultrap, youngest daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Coultrap, passed to the beyond in 1878 at the age of 33. William, her son wrote from St. Louis Y.M.C.A. Mar. 23, 1929 as follows:

Dear Cousin:

I believe we never met, but I am well acquainted with your father's family. Your father visited us in 1894 in Zanesville, Ohio. I met your brother, Judge Coultrap, at the famous Republican Convention that made the compact of Bushnel for Governor, Foraker for Senator, and McKinley for President, all of which became real history. I am a son of Jennie Coultrap, your father's youngest sister. At her death, Sept. 18, 1878, Mariah Watts, another of your father's sisters, assumed and faithfully fulfilled the duties of a mother to me. She also raised Hannah Watts, a daughter of her husband by his first wife.

Hannah married before my mother died and left Aunt Mariah and me to make our home together.

Aunt was a seamstress. I left school at the age of 12 to work. We did not have much of this world's goods, but we did love those things which leave a rich memory of her devotion and the remarkable contentment we enjoyed in those years.

At 23 years of age, I married Ethel Mercer of Zanesville, Ohio. I kept Aunt Mariah with me in our home all her days. She died Aug. 13, 1901, at the age of 72 in Columbus, Ohio; our home at that time. I have had 2 children--Olive M. and William Lyle. The son died Aug. 19, 1919, age 23, while I was in France. The daughter married Charles M. Grimsley of Moores Hill, Ind. She is a graduate in music of the old Methodist College now known as Evansville University. She is supervisor of music and art in Indiana schools; now at Oakland City, Ind.

She has a daughter, Betty Lou, seven years old (1929), hence 15 in 1937. For 27 years I was in U.S. postal service. In 1918 I took up Y.M.C.A. work. I spent two years in Danzig Free State, Germany. I am now (1929) located in St. Louis and am very happy in my work.

With kindest regards,

I am very truly,

your Cousin, William A. Coultrap.

Notes

David Snyder Coultrap, youngest son of William and Mary Woods Coultrap, was born in Smithfield, Jefferson Co., Ohio, June 23, 1807. In 1816 his father and family moved to Harrison Co., purchased a farm some two or three miles from Deersville, Ohio; erected a log house into which they moved and thus became one of the early settlers of the Co. Here they found an abundance of wild game, especially deer and turkey, also plenty of work for every one and friendly Indians who were frequent visitors in the home.

When David was 14 years of age, his father died with a desire expressed in his unique will, that as soon as convenient his son David should be bound to a trade. David S. married thrice--July 2, 1829 he wed Susan Van Meter. Four children resulted from this union--Mary Elizabeth, Morgan M., Isaac W., and Eliza S. Eleven days after Eliza's birth, the mother, Susan Van Meter, died, May 21, 1837, leaving David with the motherless infant and three others to be cared for. Some time during 1838 David married Susan Arroch. To this union six children were born--Sarah, Anna Dixson, Nancy Dicks, James W., George H., and Bernicia. His second wife died July 2, 1858, leaving him again with several children to be cared for.

His third wife was Sarah Kesselring. David S. was a resident of Fairview for 61 years. The Civil War was hard on his family--Morgan M. died in service at Columbus, Ohio; Isaac was killed in the first Battle of Corinth; James W. was terribly wounded in the head by an exploding shell, from which injury he never completely recovered, suffering greatly from it for over 30 years. David S. died Feb. 11, 1888. His burial was in Fairview Cemetery. His mother who spent her last years in his home, passed away in 1842 and was buried there; also Bernicia and doubtless Morgan and Isaac.

Notes

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Coultrap-Stevens, the oldest child of David Snyder Coultrap, was born in or near Fairview April 29, 1830; married John Stevens and lived to be over 84 years of age. Her oldest daughter, Lyde Stevens-Anderson lives in Fairview. Mr. Anderson is postmaster there. Mrs. Anderson has her grandfather's (David S. Coultrap) Family Bible. It contained some valuable data. Mary Stevens Ault died in 1922; has one daughter living in Fairview. Mrs. Reed wrote that she was educated to be a teacher and taught for a short time, was not especially fond of the work so in 1908 married. She says we live in part of the large house built by my great-grandfather, David Snyder Coultrap and my grandfather David Ault. The brick of which were burned on our place. I have often heard, Mary Elizabeth Coultrap, my grandmother, tell how she carried meals to the men when they were burning the bricks. The house is situated in the eastern part of village.

Lesliy G. Anderson lives in Fairview; Homer S. Anderson lives in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. R. H. Clark of 430 N. 10th St., Cambridge, Ohio wrote me Feb. 7, 1929. From that letter I take the following data:

"My mother, Eliza Coultrap Pack, died when I was 7 years old. There were 3 daughters--Adella T., Bernicia, and Jessie Estella Pack. The first two died in youth. Mr. Clark and I married Aug. 29, 1889. I have one daughter--Mary Eliza Clark, Apr. 9, 1893. She is a teacher in the high school here. Grandfather's children are all gone. Uncle George H. Coultrap died Nov. , 1926. His wife died some two years earlier. They lived at Monmouth, Ill. Shortly after his wife died, Uncle George went to California and made his home with his younger son, Clyde in Long Beach, 3010 Vista St. His older son, Harry's address is 10024 Virginia St., Home Gardens, South Gate, Cal.

Sarah Coultrap Boyd died Apr. 28, 1924 in her 85th year. Her daughter, Georgia Ann Lipsett of Fort Wayne visited me last September. We drove over to Fairview where grandfather, David Snyder Coultrap is buried. His son, Morgan, is buried there too; also Mary, wife of William Coultrap. She died Aug. 16, 1842. That must be our great-grandmother. She died at grandfather's home in Fairview. We have lived in Camebridge since 1891. Mr. Clark was manager of the Western Union Tel. Co. He died Dec. 19, 1926. My daughter and I live alone.

Your Cousin
Mrs. R. H. Clark.

Fort Wayne, Ind., 2415 Webster St.

Dear Cousin:

Sarah A. Boyd had only two children-- Georgia Ann, and my brother Seymore D. Boyd. I have one son Edgar Boyd Lipsett who married Beatrice Franklin of Pittsburg. They live in Port Washington, Long Island and have one child, Beverly Lipsett. My brother married Cora Ash. They have one son-- John Ash Boyd. He lives in Pittsburg. My mother died Apr. 27, 1924, at the age of 84 years and 7 months. She was a very remarkable woman. Had all her faculties to the very last.

Your Cousin
Georgia Ann Boyd Lipsett.

P.S. I followed the Coultrap occupation and taught before being married in 1891.

The Fields and Briggs live in Seattle, Washington.

Eva J. Woodward-Calkins, Mar. 19, 1930 stated in a letter to me.

"My mother's name was Anna Dixon Coultrap. I know very little of my ancestors. My mother was taken from me when I was very young and I do not remember her, further I have no record of her birth or death. Father died May 17, 1890. He was born Jan. 17, 1845. He and mother were married Apr. 27, 1865. They had 3 children--Blanche T., Eva Jane, and Edwin James.

I (Eva Jane) married William C. Calkins, Oct. 24, 1888. We had one child--Lester William, born Feb. 19, 1905. He married Margaret Mounds, Feb. 9, 1922, and they have one son, Lester W. Calkins, Jr., born Mar. 2, 1924.

My brother, Edwin James Woodward, married Dora Belle Wilson, Mar. 21, 1894. They had two children--Jessie Virginia and Helen Elizabeth. In due time they married and live in Seattle, Washington.

Jessie married Fred L. Fields, June 19, 1915. They have 3 children--Richard W., Edward Garrett, and Jane A. Fields.

My husband, William Clinton Calkins, died July 7, 1905, only a few months after my last child was born.

Notes

A letter from George H. Coultrap of Long Beach, formerly of Monmouth, Ill. for many years, written Oct. 8, 1924, stated that he was the youngest son of David Snyder Coultrap of Fairview, Ohio.

He was born Dec. 9, 1846, hence would be 78 years old the 9th of next Dec. He says I lost my wife last spring and my two boys living out here insisted on my coming out here and living with them.

Clyde, my youngest son, has no children. At present I am living with him. He is foreman in a big shop, and is getting along nicely.

My oldest son, Harry, is in the carpet and decorating business. He has a fine wife and five excellent children. Their names are Harry, Ralph, Ruth, Robert, and Mary.

I think my father's family Bible may be with a niece in Fairview, Ohio. My brother, Morgan Coultrap, died in Columbus, Ohio during the Civil War. Brother James is also dead. He was terribly wounded in the head by a piece of a shell that struck him. Another brother, Isaac was killed in the Battle of Corinth. Hence all my brothers were in that dreadful war.

I lived at Fairview, Ohio for a few years after marriage; then moved to Monmouth, Ill. My wife died there last April.

Thank you for writing me,
Your Cousin,
George H. Coultrap.

Notes

William Coultrip was born in East Kent, England and came to America in 1856, being then only 20 years of age.

I make no apology for including the Coultrip families in this history or genealogy. They are definitely related. All the Coultraps, Coultrips, Coultrups, Coultrops and even other closely allied spelling are simply different spelling for the same people.

Frank W. Tyler of Canterbury, a genealogist, said in his letter to me Dec. 12, 1934, "I do not think you need to attach too much importance to the spelling of the name. In the 17th century few people could write and the spelling of the name was very often left to the scribe who was no great scholar."

I noted in the earlier part of this history that seven different spellings of the name were found in one church record of John Coultrap and his son, Thomas, in nine insertions in the space of 50 years; namely, Coultrup, Coultrip, Coultap, Coultrope, Coultripe, Coltrip, Coultrop. There are Coultraps and Coultrips and Coultrups in England, living in the same or near localities, recognizing each other as relatives. William Coultrip of Somonauk and William Coultrup of Belvidere were cousins and frequently visited each other.

I suspect the Coultray, Coultra, and possibly the Goultrap, Goultray and Goultra families are of the same ancestor, for it would be rather easy for the C to get changed into a G or vice versa.

William of Somonauk father's name was also William. I wrote William Coultrip in 1926, in his reply he says, "I am glad you have written me. I am 91 years old. I left England when I was 20 years old, have always lived near Somonauk, Ill. I have three living sons--William, Clarence, and Herbert. I had a brother named Jim. He brought his family over to America and settled in Ohio. Also had a cousin named William. After he came to U.S. he went back to England and got his sister and a nephew, named Ward. My Cousin William lived in Belvidere, Ill. Cousin William's children moved to California."

Respectfully,
William Coultrip.

William Coultrip of Somonauk had some cousins --William, David and Hannah Coultrup who came over near the same time William Coultrup settled at Belvidere, Ill. David kept a gun shop in Boone Co.; Hannah married a Mr. Ruck. Their father's name was *Charles Coultrup. He was born at Bobin in Kent about 1778 and died about 1865. He was 78 years old at death.

William, David, and Hannah had a brother James Coultrup who remained in England. He was born in 1826; married in 1854. Had 3 children--two girls and one boy--James Coultrup of 3 Melrose Road, Wordworth, London, S.W. and Florence Coultrup, 160 Wharncliffe Gardens, St. John's Wood Road, London, N.W. 8. The name of the other girl is not given.

*Charles Coultrup had 5 sons and 3 daughters. The names of 4 of them were William, David, Hannah (who came to America) and James who remained in England. Mrs. Rose Coultrup Smith of 1109-1/2 Santos St., Los Angeles was a daughter of William Coultrup of Belvidere.

Clarence Coultrip of Leland, Ill., son of William of Somonauk, informs me that Cousin William of Belvidere spelled his name Coultrup, using u instead of i. Further, Rose Coultrup Smith of Los Angeles told me her father, William Coultrup, lived at Belvidere, Ill. Now dead.

Dear Mr. Coultrap:

Your letter received. It would seem that people with names the same with the exception of one letter might in some way be related.

James and Sophia Coultrip came from Canterbury, Kent Co., England. They were living in Minster when they came to America in 1852. They settled near Berlin Heights, Erie Co., Ohio. This information was given by Eliza Coultrip Bellamy, my aunt living with my brother at Wakeman, Ohio. She came over with her parents when about 10 years of age. Aunt Eliza will be 88 years old in June but her memory is quite clear and serves her pretty well yet. She had an uncle--Henry Coultrip, living in England when they came over. Also an Uncle William who settled in Illinois some two or three years later. The following are the names of James and Sophia's children who were born in England (not all came to America), Jane, Emma, William, Eliza, Sophia, James, Henry, and John. Charles Coultrip, my father, was born in America and was 75 years old when he died, Mar. 4, 1929.

Note by M. W. Coultrap. It is very clear to me that James Coultrip who came over in 1852 and settled in Ohio and William Coultrip who came a little later and settled in Illinois were brothers, since names, dates and locations exactly tally.

Dear Cousin:

I am going to write this in the form of a letter then you can cull out what you can use for the history of the above.

Aunt Eliza Bellamy is the only surviving child of James and Sophia Fulliger Coultrip and is now in her 96th year, bedridden and blind. She makes her home with a nephew who lives on a small farm near Berlin Heights, Ohio. I spent last week-end with them and had a nice visit with her. She gets very confused but her mind seemed to be clear enough to give me some of the facts regarding her life. She came to America at the age of ten, 1852 with her mother and three brothers and two sisters, a brother and sister having died in infancy at Minster, England. Her father had come to this country two years previous. Her brother Charles, who was my father, was born in this country. The mother died when my father was ten years old and from that time on he had to shift for himself so-to-speak. The father married again, but as is quite often the case, that didn't mean a home for my father. Following is an outline of what you might call the family tree:--

My mother died Apr. 22, 1924, and my father Mar. 3, 1929, on the farm that they purchased 45 years ago which is located a few miles north of Wakeman, Ohio. My brother and his family live on the Old Homestead. He has two sons and two daughters, Lyle who has just finished high school; Charles and Luella who are attending school at Birmingham, Ohio; and a baby, Wilma Jean who is three years old. My sister Ruth and husband occupy a house on the farm that adjoins the Old Homestead and which my brother purchased, making him 136 acres in all. When my brother got married, the folks remodeled a tenant house, just a short distance from the big home, and lived there until their death. My sister Mae and myself have that place as long as we live, but having married since the folks passed, we also have homes of our own located in Elyria, Ohio, just opposite each other. Charles Wallace Smart, my husband, passed away Apr. 16, 1935, and I now have the home rented and am back in the business world again, working for the T & F Engineering Company in Cleveland.

My sister Ruth had a son and daughter. Robert Wolven married and living at Huron, Ohio. That is the town near which my father's parents located when they first came to America. Her daughter Ellen Wolven Brundidge lives at Wolcott, N.Y.

My sister Mae and myself were school teachers. I taught nearly four years before entering the business world.

In looking at the pamphlet that you sent me in 1930, I can see a strong resemblance to my father. You have your hair combed the same and your mustache is very much like the one he had.

In your letter of Apr. 20, 1930, you refer to a William Coultrip of Somanauk, Ill., who wrote you while spending the winter of 1926 in Florida, as follows:

"I am 91 years old. I left England when I was 20 years old. Have always lived near Somanauk, Ill. Have three sons living, Clarence, William, and Herbert. Had an uncle named James. He brought his family to America and settled in Ohio."

Yours Respectfully,

Mrs. Anna Coultrip Smart.

Notes

So far it has been difficult to secure much definite data concerning James Wilson and Ruth Hardesty. I have written a large number of letters to relatives seeking information, but so far have obtained comparatively little of real value. James Wilson and Ruth Hardesty lived in Muskingum Co., Ohio. The county records in the courthouse in Zanesville, Ohio show that they owned a farm in Meigs Township for they sold to William Watson, Dec. 31, 1841, the west half of N.E. quarter of Sec. 15, in Township 12 (Meigs Township) of range 11, 80 acres, Jemima Wilson and John Forshey being witnesses of the sale. Ark Spring Church stood on the edge of the farm, and High Hill Church was about one mile northwest of their home. In 1937 the farm of 80 acres was owned by James C. Hyatt.

James Wilson's birth must have been about 1777, but where, I am unable to say. Neither do I know anything of his brothers and sisters, or his parents.

The date of marriage of James and Ruth was Oct. 18, 1802. They had a large family of 4 boys and 7 girls--Jane, Nancy, Henry, Sarah, Richard, Mary, Jemima, Rebecca, James, Jesse, and Elizabeth. So we see James was the father of 13 children, eleven by the 1st wife. Ruth died Dec. 28, 1855, and was most likely buried either at High Hill or the Hardesty Farm Graveyard. For several years preceding death, Ruth was totally blind. Ruth was a fine mother, greatly loved and tenderly cared for by children and husband. James' 2nd wife was Elizabeth Ross (a sister of Rebecca Ross Morehead). James Wilson was Elizabeth's 3rd husband. First she married Jackson McKee; the 2nd was a Mr. Gay. After the death of Mr. Gay, Elizabeth lived in the Wilson family and assisted with the duties of the home. Later James lived in Rix Mills for a few years, but before death, moved to Norwich where he died Aug. 14, 1868 and was most likely buried by the side of his first wife, in the Hardesty Farm Graveyard, few miles south of Norwich or else High Hill graveyard.

While James Wilson lived on a farm most of his life, he was largely interested in buying and selling stock. Vellecta Wilson-Blackburn, a daughter of Jesse Wilson and a granddaughter of James and Ruth gave me part of the above data and part was gotten from Richard's family Bible, and other parts from other children or grandchildren.

Elizabeth Ross-Wilson died Apr. 27, 1907 in Columbus, Ohio at the home of her daughter, Anna Clark, and was buried in the cemetery west of the city. Many of her grandchildren live in Columbus; others in Carrol, Ohio.

Ruth Hardesty, so it is believed, had a brother by the name of Abe Hardesty. His children were John, Lead (possibly Leander), Ike, and Doc.

Ralph Hardesty home on the Wheeling Road was the voting place for several years until the completion of the National Road. Prior to his home the polling place was at Warrens east of Ralph Hardesty's home. Later the place was at Sensanbaugh's Tavern in Norwich. I wonder if Ralph Hardesty could have been Ruth's brother?

I am not sure that I can tell you much about Grandfather Wilson. He married Ruth Hardesty for his first wife. I do not remember the name of his second wife.

He lived near Rix Mill, Rich Hill Township, Muskingum Co., Ohio. I don't know that I can give you the names of all the children. There were 4 boys and 7 girls by his first wife and two by his second.

The 4 boys were Henry, James, Richard, and Jesse. James went west and was never heard from. Richard lived and died near McConnelssville, Morgan Co., Ohio, and my father, Jesse, lived near Lyttlesburgh, and is buried there. I am the last of 3 boys and 2 girls; all gone except myself and I am past 66, 1830.

The girls of grandfather's family were Nancy Wilson who wed George Herron; Jane Wilson (Frazier); Polly who died in young womanhood; Betsy Wilson (Virden) Aunt Gemima and your mother, and Sarah the 4th child.

The two girls by his second marriage were Annie who married a Mr. Clark, and Emma whom your father and mother took and raised.

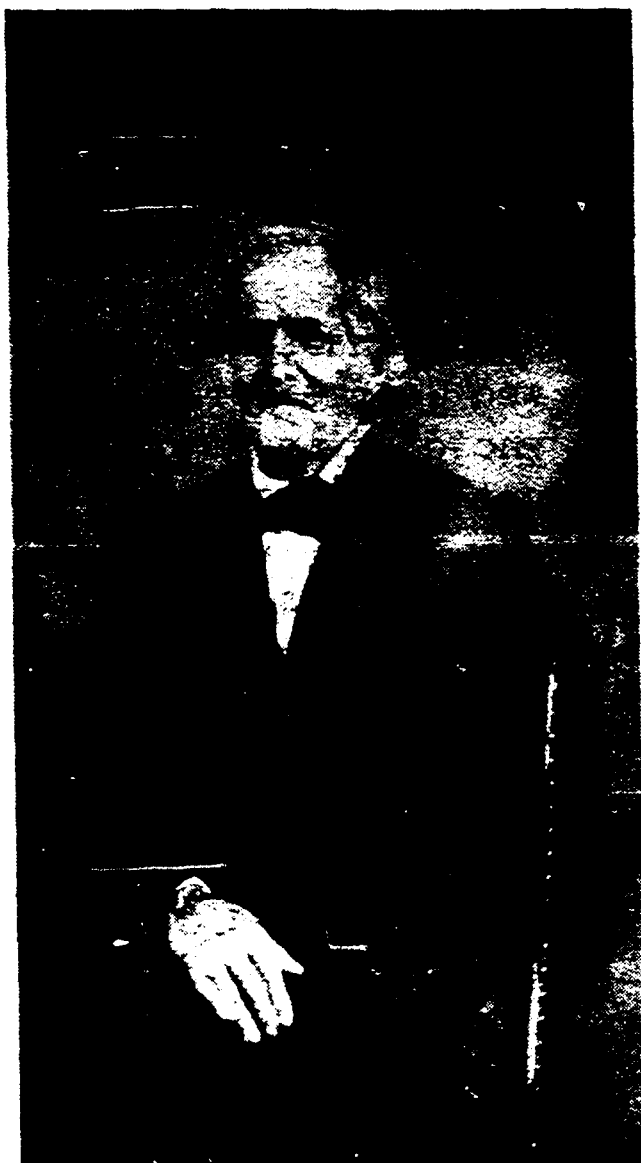

Shall be glad to hear from you again.

Your Cousin,
Vella Blackburn.

Long Beach, Calif.
Nov. 10, 1931

Dear Brother:

I was looking over some old letters today and I found one of yours in which you say that you have grandfather and grandmother Coultrap's pictures but that you do not have grandfather and grandmother Wilson's pictures. I am enclosing your grandfather Wilson's picture. I got it when I saw him when he was ninety-two years old. Mother and I visited him at his home and I got the picture. I have had this picture for sixty-five years or more. You may keep it.

James Wilson, Muskingum Co., Ohio
Father of Rebecca Wilson-Coultrap

This picture that I am enclosing looks just like Grandfather Wilson looked when I saw him. The neighbors of his told me that he was absolutely honest. He was well liked by all. He had the reputation of being a good man and perfectly reliable.

Fletcher S. Coultrap.

Notes

According to the inscription on her monument in the graveyard where many of the Fraziers are buried "Jane Wilson-Frazier was born Oct. 7, 1803 and died Mar. 12, 1891, thus making her the oldest of the children born to James and Ruth Wilson.

Leona Frazier and Dick Tarbert had one child, Ruth Tarbert b. May 10, 1918.

The preceding data is all I have at present time.

P.S. I have chosen the preceding form as it makes it easy to add other dates when secured.

I quote from Mrs. Electa Frazier-Sisk, a daughter of Leander Frazier and a granddaughter of Jane Wilson Frazier,

"We always lived with my grandmother, Jane Frazier, and still own the old Frazier farm, near Ark Spring Church. I have one brother and 2 sisters living. Brother Jay died in 1921; sister Lizzie Atchinson lives at Marion, Ohio; Leona Tarbert in Phoenix, Ariz.

Brother Stanley Frazier lives near Zanesville, Ohio. I have six children, all went to college except one boy. All are married except the two youngest, and they teach. He was a wonderful father. I had a stroke a year ago, so I am living here at Duncan Falls. My daughter, Frances, teaches here."

Nancy Wilson-Herron had a large family of 12 children, three of whom died in infancy. James Herron, one of the older sons, died in 1927 at his home near Graham, Missouri, at the ripe age of 90 or more years. Sarah Herron-Kraps' son, Frank Kraps, is a fine business man in McConnelsville, Ohio. He has a large store there.

William, the oldest son of Nancy and George Herron, has a daughter, Maggie living near McConnelsville.

George M. Herron, Jr. has two sons living in Meigsville Township. Their names are William and Charles.

Maggie Herron stated in a letter to me that her grandmother, Nancy Wilson Herron, was born in 1805 and died in Jan., 1897 at the age of 92.

Francis Frederick and Frances Byrd have a son, Francis Frederick Kraps, Jr., b. Mar. 2, 1936.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of Dec. 31st addressed to any of the Herrons was handed to me. My mother was Sarah Herron, older sister of Aunt Ruth and Kate, whom you mention. All of that family are now deceased. Aunt Ruth passed away in April, 1927 and Uncle James Herron died a few weeks later at his home near Graham, Mo. Mother passed away in Oct., 1925, and Aunt Kate July, 1920. Mother and Aunt Ruth each reached the age of 87, and Uncle James was past 90.

As you are mostly concerned with the Wilson lineage I would suggest you write Mrs. Frank Blackburn, Cumberland, Ohio, R.F.D. She was Vella Wilson, daughter of Uncle Jesse Wilson, and is, I think, the only one left of that family. A granddaughter of Uncle Jesse is at the Masonic Home, Springfield, Ohio. Her name is Mrs. Flora Ogan. I think her father's name was William. Never saw him but I remember Uncle Jesse quite well.

I remember of hearing mother, Aunt Ruth and Kate, often speak of Uncle "Billy" Coultrap and refer to the wonderful visit they enjoyed in your old home. Often thought I would drive down into Vinton County to look up some of your people, but you know how those desires are crowded out by more pressing tasks.

Very few Herrons are left now in Morgan County. Will Herron and Charles, sons of Uncle George Herron, both live in Meigsville Township. Cousin Maggie Herron, daughter of Uncle Will, the oldest of that family, lives near here. The other cousins are scattered in Ohio and the mid-west.

I have the parchment deed or land grant given to my Grandfather Herron and signed by President Adams, dated 1826 or 27. I hold 40 acres upon which is the old house built by my grandfather in 1840. We repaired the house back in 1917 before Aunt Kate died, and it is one of my most cherished possessions. Would not part with it for many times its value. Use it as a summer home and even go out there often during the winter. Would enjoy having you come on for a visit with us; will try to show you all the old landmarks.

Perhaps you might care to know that Grandmother Herron, Nancy Wilson, died in 1897, aged 92.

Sorry I can not give you more definite information but believe you can get some further data from Cousin Velecta Blackburn.

Will be glad to hear from you again.

Yours sincerely,
F. B. Craps (Kraps)

Their Children

They had 13 children, eight of whom died in infancy or early youth. Two of the 8 were killed in falling from a big swing; one of them fell on a picket fence, and died instantly. The other fatally injured by the fall and lived but a short time.

Notes

Richard Wilson, second son of James and Ruth, was the father of a large family of thirteen children. Eight of whom died either in infancy or youth. Two being killed in falling from a large swing; one falling on a picket fence, was killed instantly; the other fatally injured by the fall, lived only a few hours. The home was some two or three miles east of McConnellsville, Ohio, down the hill north of McKendree Church. The five children that grew up were Ben (drowned in the Muskingum River at McConnellsville about 1867 or 1868. The body was recovered from the river by his father and Capt. Irvin Travis, a young man then about 18 years of age and an expert swimmer. James, a soldier in the Civil War. Nancy, Eliza, and Hattie. All dead now except Hattie, living now near Lisbon, Ohio. Nancy married Cyrus Jackson. Had two daughters--Bertha and Clarinda. Bertha married Judd Savage. He died some years ago and she is now a clerk in Mr. J. C. Penney's store, Zanesville, Ohio. Clarinda married Homer Draper. Eliza married William Price--two children--Richard Leander Wilson and Clara Price. Clara married Everett Miller. They have two children--Vera May Miller-Reams and Robert E. Miller, now 15 years of age and at home. Hattie Wilson wed John Dow Patterson. He died several years ago. They had five children, 3 girls and 2 boys.

Albert died in childhood and Charles is in very poor health, the result of infantile paralysis in boyhood. The girls are all married.

Nancy Patterson wed Frank A. Singer--no other information.

May Belle wed Charles Ringer. They live near Louisville, Ohio.

Iva Patterson wed Ray D. Packard. Have six children. Live in Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

Notes

Jemima Wilson, one of the twin daughters of James and Ruth Hardesty Wilson, was born May 29, 1817; married Harrison Priest. To them were born one daughter, Lottie, and four sons--James, William, John and Wilson.

Jemima Wilson Priest and her brother, Jesse Wilson, were members of the First Class of Lytleburg Church, 1854. John Hardesty and his wife (Sarah Ann) were also members. John C. Hardesty was steward, Crawford Wilson and William Ross were class leaders, Rev. John Doan was paster of Lytleburg M. E. Church, 1854.

The following is taken from the history of George Baker Lee as found in "Hanging Rock Iron Region publication."

G. Baker Lee is a native of West Virginia and is a descendant of Lee family so conspicuous in the history of Virginia and the Nation, Gen. Robert E. Lee being a representative of one branch of that illustrious family. G. Baker Lee was born in Jefferson Co., West Va. near Harper's Ferry, Oct. 5, 1850. His father, James H. Lee, was born in Londoun Co., Va., Oct. 15, 1807, and his father, Asabel Lee was one of the prosperous and influential citizens of that county. J. H. Lee first wed Miss Margaret Hensen who died in middle life--all her sons and daughters being now deceased. His second wife was Miss Rachael Baldwin. In 1854, the family moved from Virginia to Ohio, first locating in Guernsey Co., later in Noble Co., and then in Muskingum Co. where he purchased the old Heyden farm and resided there till after the Civil War. In 1866, the family moved to Coalgate Hocking Co., and in 1872 purchased a farm in Athens Co. Here the father closed his earthly career in 1886, at the age of 79 years.

He and his wife were faithful members of the Methodist Episcopal Church and exemplified their deep Christian faith in their daily lives which were marked by kindness, sympathy and careful judgment. To them were born seven children--Charles W., Margaret, James W., G. Baker, Harrison, Sarah, and Catherine. Further data is given in Hanging Rock publication mentioned above. Charles W. became a state officer at Columbus, Ohio. Margaret wed Jacob Errick a prosperous farmer of Swan Township, Vinton Co., Ohio. James W. owned and operated a saw-mill at Coalgate, Hocking Co. Harrison became an able physician and surgeon in Athens, Ohio. Sarah wed Hiram Wilson, a contractor at Groveport, Ohio. Catherine wed George Phillips, a farmer of Vinton Co., and G. Baker Lee, the fourth child in order of birth, in 1872, March 20th, wed Miss Charlotte Priest, daughter of Harrison and Jemima (Wilson) Priest. Charlotte was born in Muskingum Co. but reared and educated in Perry Co. Her father Harrison was born in Virginia. He first married Miss McCreary who lived but a few years after marriage, leaving three small children to the care of the bereaved husband. Harrison's second wife was Jemima Wilson who bore him five children--James, Lottie, John, William, and Wilson, and was a real mother to all eight of the children, loving all and loved by all devotedly.

The Priests were of sterling worth and highly esteemed by all who knew them.

G. Baker Lee and his noble companion were the parents of 13 children (see tabulated data).

Mrs. Charlotte Lee, age 77 years, wife of G. Baker Lee, passed away at her home in Swan Township, Tuesday at 2:30 P.M., Feb. 16, 1932, after an illness of several weeks duration. She is survived by her husband; seven sons--Dr. W. H. Lee of Plain City, George of Lancaster, John of Creola, and Walter, Charles, and Clyde of McArthur; also four daughters--Mrs. C. R. Griffith of New Lexington, Mrs. Emma Neunhafer of Columbus, Mrs. Ida Rheinscheld of Mt. Pleasant, and Allie at home. Burial in Elk Cemetery, McArthur, Ohio.

Notes

For data on Rebecca Wilson and Her Descendants see Data under William Coultrap and Rebecca Wilson, pages - , in Part I. Also see data of Emma Wilson with the Coultraps as she was raised by the Coultraps, becoming a part of the Coultrap family when 9 months old.

The data concerning the date of marriage of William Coultrap and Rebecca Wilson conflicted in William Coultrap's Bible and his father's Bible. One gave the date as Feb. 23, 1843, and the other as Feb. 23, 1844. Being anxious that all data should be completely accurate if possible, I drove from Lancaster, Ohio to Zanesville, Ohio in order to examine the marriage license record in the Muskingum Co. courthouse. In the records of 1842-1844, I found Feb. 23, 1843 to be the correct date of marriage. The license being issued Feb. 16, 1843. So the statement in mother's obituary was incorrect by one year, and father and mother had been married over 50 years at her death, Dec. 12, 1893.

Mr. M. W. Coultrap
Naperville, Illinois

Dear Cousin:

I received your letter and was indeed surprised in finding a new cousin and more than surprised in that you found me at the O.M.H. Sometimes I really feel lost to myself here.

I certainly am pleased to know you but I fear I can not tell you very much about our people except all that I have had the pleasure of meeting are very fine folks.

In regard to Aunt Jane Frazier's family I would suggest you write to her grandson, Dr. C. Sisk, Philo, Ohio, and for data of Aunt Nancy Herron's family, write to Mr. Frank Kraps, a grandson and a cousin whom you will be proud to know.

Yes, I am Jesse Wilson's granddaughter. He was a grand, good man, always ready to do good and help some one. Very quick, impulsive and energetic, also kind, sympathetic and considerate.

He married Eliza Gorrell; five children--William Wilson wed Mary J. Coulter (3 children). His second wife was Mary H. Bay; 2nd child Adora Wilson who wed Leander Tilden (4 children); 3rd child J. C. Wilson. He wed Lottie Spillman (2 children). Stanley Wilson died when about 4 years of age, and Velecta Wilson (the only one of that family still living) wed Frank Blackburn.

Lottie Spillman Wilson lives near Cumberland, Ohio.

William H. Wilson, my father, died Feb. 11, 1924, almost 75 years of age. My mother, Mary J., died Jan., 1888. Father married Mary H. Bay 1890; Mary H. died Sept., 1929. No children to this marriage. Myself, Edna, and Howard are the children.

I married U. G. Ogan (3 children). Mr. Ogan passed away in 1922. My son R. W. Ogan married May G. Collins (one child, Janet Marie, 8 mo.). R. W. Ogan is finishing his college work at Columbus, Ohio. Was a professor in Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio in the Educational Department for three years. Received his A.B. degree from Muskingum and M.H. from Columbus. Mildred C. Ogan, single, teacher in the Akron schools; also a senior at Muskingum. Bernice Ogan, my other daughter, is a teacher in Barnesville, Ohio and a junior at Muskingum.

I was a teacher; loved the work and if my eyes were strong I would love to try the work again.

After my husband died, I left the farm and located in New Concord so the children would have educational advantages. Then when they all left me for their respective works, I wished to be independent and came to the Masonic Home as matron of the senior girls. I have 24, most of them in the H.S., however, after awhile, I expect to go back home.

Edna Wilson, my sister, married Samuel Gilliland. She has 3 children as follows--Dale Gilliland wed Dorothy Rex; Donivan Gilliland 12 yrs. old, at home; Mary Cleo died in infancy.

Jesse Howard Wilson, my brother, married Alvina Heller (2 children)--Florence and Ruth about 10 and 12. Howard passed away Mar. 18, 1929. His family live in Idaho Falls, Idaho. He was a civil enginer, graduated at Ada, Ohio. Taught school several years also. My father was a teacher, later settled on a farm. Dale Gilliland is a teacher. Teaching seems to be a favorite work with the Wilsons.

I did not know the Witherspoons. Those boys are entirely separate from my unit and I never dreamed that any of those here could be a relative, however, since I received your letter, I have seen two of them. Their mother visited them last Sunday, but I did not have the pleasure of meeting her.

Aunt Adora Tilden's children are as follows--
Laura, Della, Odus, and Earl.

Della of Alliance married Dr. C. H. Ross
(3 children)--Lloyd, Renna, and Hurd.

Lloyd of Harvard married
Renna is a teacher in the Alliance High School.

Hurd died in early manhood.

Laura of Los Angeles, Cal., married Howard Miller, who was killed when the old Ford Theater in Washington fell. Laura has one child, Earl Miller, lives in Los Angeles, no children.

Earl Tilden of Pasadena, Cal., single.

Odus Tilden, a farmer, married Sadie Wilson
(no relative however) lives near the old home.

J. C. Wilson had two boys. Woodie died in childhood and Melvin lives in Zanesville; married Alma Miller. They have two children--Gladys was a teacher; now lives near Zanesville having married a farmer, by the name of Clark I believe, not quite sure. I think the boy's name is Chalmer Wilson.

I remember meeting my step-grandmother once in Malta, Ohio. Her daughter Anna married a Mr.
Clark (Thomas E. Clark). Anna had two very dear daughters--Pearl and Coral Clark, and 4 sons--Elmer, Homer, Edgar, and Raymond.

I cannot tell you anything about Uncle Richard's family not having seen any of them for years. I think Mr. Kraps may be able to tell you about them and the Clark girls also.

I hope this may help you some. I shall be glad to receive an outline of your data when convenient as I too am anxious to know about my people.

My husband's mother was a Blackstone, may have been related to the one who married Miss Witherspoon. I wonder.

Wishing you the best of success, I close

Your Cousin,

Mrs. Flora A. Ogan.

Pearl married Earl Allen Toy, Apr. 7, 1909. Pearl has 6 children--Coral Leona, Anna Pearl, Earl W., Kenneth, Arnold, and Mary G. They live in Columbus, Ohio.

The Ancestors of Elizabeth Cramblit and Some of Her Numerous Relatives

Elizabeth Cramblit's grandfather's name was John Cramblit, and his wife's name was Nancy, so reported by Naomi Cramblit Noggle. Also her father's name was John and his wife's name was Nancy Ellen.

John and Nancy Ellen lived quite a number of years at Richhill, Ohio. I think they had previously lived near Deersville, Ohio. They had eight children--Elizabeth, Ellen, Mary, Ann, Matilda, John, Andrew, and Daniel.

Elizabeth, born Nov. 11, 1803, wed Henry Coultrap, Oct. 19, 1820, and died Feb. 5, 1872. Mary wed James Eichor; Ellen wed Jared B. Randall; Ann wed Simeon Simms; Matilda died at the age of 25.

John wed Caroline Castell, Aug. 22, 1839, M. J. Lukens, J. P. officiating; Andrew wed Bettie McGee; and Daniel wed Elizabeth W. Lukens, May 21, 1829, Deacon John W. Minor officiating.

(His. Col. of Harrison Co., Ohio)

The following was received from Mrs. Noggle, a daughter of Daniel Cramblit; her home at that time, Aug. 13, 1929, was in Chillicothe, Ohio.

Dear Cousin:

My great-grandfather was John Cramblit and his wife's name, I am told, was Nancy; also my grandfather's name was John and his wife's name was Nancy Ellen. For many years they lived in Richhill, Ohio, near Zanesville, Ohio. They had eight children, three boys and five girls; namely, Elizabeth, Mary, Ellen, Ann, Matilda, John, Andrew, and Daniel.

The oldest daughter, Elizabeth, wed Henry Coultrap; Mary wed James Eichor; Ellen wed Jared B. Randall; Ann wed Simeon Simms; Andrew wed Bettie McGee; the last four families moved to Vinton Co., Ohio and settled near Locust Grove Church. Many of them are buried in the cemetery there. Matilda passed away near the age of 25.

The oldest son, John, wed Caroline Castell, a fine English woman. John was a dry goods merchant at Deersville and New Philadelphia, Ohio for several years. He retired and moved to Des Moines, Iowa. He owned some fine land near Ames, Iowa. He had 6 children--two sons and four girls. All dead now except the youngest son who is now living in Los Angeles, Cal. He never married. He was Lion and Healy's private secretary in the music store in Chicago, Ill. for forty years. He is near 80 now (1929). He is a very fine man.

Most all the families were large. Elizabeth had eleven children; Mary nine; Ellen thirteen; Ann six; John six; Andrew six; and Daniel eleven.

The Simms family moved to Iowa, near Ames, in 1881.

My father, Daniel Cramblit (that is Naomi's father) wed Eliza Lukens at Deersville, Ohio, May 21, 1829. Mother was born June 5, 1810 and died June 3, 1892.

Father was born Dec. 6, 1808 and died Apr. 1, 1896. They had eleven children--namely,

I. Julia, the oldest, born Apr. 21, 1830, died Aug. 24, 1926. Had 12 children.

II. Thomas, born Oct. 10, 1831, died at Boone,

Iowa, May 29, 1888. Had 9 children.

III. Sarah, born Dec. 16, 1833, died July 14, 1836.

IV. John, born Jan. 16, 1836, died at Portland, Oregon. Had 6 children.

V. Jane, born Apr. 24, 1838, wed Jacob Nicholson, Sept. 2, 1857, and died Dec. 2, 1924. They lived in Gurnsey Co., Ohio. They and their sons have passed away. They were in the eighties.

VI. Eli my only brother living, was born Dec. 18, 1840. He will be 89 Dec. 18 of this year (1929). He served during the Civil War. At the close of the War he went to Ames, Ia., married a Miss Nichols, a good woman, and has lived there all these years. He has two daughters and one son-- Bert of Ames; Flo Lincoln at Nashville, Tenn. She has one son; and Rose Stockwell at Albuquerque, New Mexico. They have one daughter. She is married and lives there too.

VII. Naomi, that is myself, was born Jan. 22, 1843, married W. F. Noggle, 1882 at Ames, Ia. Later returned to Chillicothe, Ohio. Our son and only child passed away Oct. 10, 1892 when 7 years old; Mr. Noggle, Jan. 29, 1918. Mrs. Naomi Noggle died Oct. 21, 1934.

VIII. Sister Nancy was born June 5, 1845; married W. H. Perkins, and died May, 1926. Their home was Ames, Ia. They had 9 children. The parents and four of the children have passed away.

IX. Alex Cramblit was born Oct. 17, 1847; married Mary Foust and died Feb. 16, 1928. They had one son and three daughters. His wife died in 1921.

X. Sister Elizabeth, the youngest of the family, was born Jan. 1, 1850. She lives at Ames, Ia. She has been married three times; first a Mr. Hickie, 2nd a Mr. Cameron, 3rd a Mr. Hanegan, and is now a widow. She has three sons living and two dead. Those living are married; one at Ames, one at Boone, and one at Peoria, Ill.

XI. I do not have the name of the other child.

She died in youth. I can not say how many grandchildren there are. I judge there are two-hundred grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Sister Julia had 64 when she died, Aug. 24, 1926.

My father, Daniel Cramblit, when first married, lived in Noble Co., Ohio. Several years later, he moved to a farm on the old Clay Pike in Gurnsey Co., seven miles from Claysville and six from Senecaville. He lived there till Nov. 8, 1864, then sold his farm and bought one in Ross Co. on the Adelpia Pike, ten miles from Chillicothe, Ohio. He lived there 18 years, sold and went to Ames, Ia.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Naomi Noggle.

Julia wed James Albin. They had 12 children --namely,

- I. Thomas B. Albin, dead.
- II. Louise wed a Mr. Saylor, her address is Mrs. Lou Saylor, Laurelville, Ohio.
- III. Daniel lives in Missouri.
- IV. Martha is dead.
- V. Frank lives in Missouri.
- VI & VII. John Wesley and Martin Henry both dead.
- VIII. Missouri Albin (Miller) lives in Mo.
- IX. Mary (McCully) lives in Kansas City.
- X. James at Jamestown, Ohio.
- XI & XII. Hattie killed by train, and Willie dead.

Thomas, son of Daniel and Elizabeth, wed Elizabeth Jane Dawson. They had 9 children--Elmer, Allie (Lockard), lives in Los Angeles; Sheman, Minnie and Louise, all three dead; Orlin lives at Boone, Ia.; Effie in Chicago, Ill. I do not know the names of the other two.

John, son of Daniel, wed Mary Hurrell, 4 children dead, and 3 living--Clara (Moore), John, Jr., and James; all three live in Washington State.

Jane, daughter of Daniel, wed Jacob Nicholson, 6 children--Ida S. wed a Mr. Thompson. They live at Byersville, Ohio. Eli lives near Pleasant City, Ohio, R.F.D. 2; John and Ulisses G. are both dead; Tecumseh S. lives at Long Beach, Cal.; Hobart was a Luthern Minister. Is dead.

Nancy, daughter of Daniel, wed W. H. Perkins, 9 children--James in Chicago; Willie dead; Walter at Ames; Mabre in Colorado; Grace Perkins (Logan) in Des Moines, Ia.; Flossie P. (Stagewalt) Nevada, Ia.; Minnie Perkins at Ames; Mable and Carrie dead.

Alexander, son of Daniel, wed Mary Faust, 4 children--Eva Cramblit (Nolan) Ames, Ia.; Minnie C. (Bell) Emmetsburg, Ia.; Della B. (Bell) Oskaloosa, Iowa; and Oliver Cramblit, Garden City, Minn.

Now going back to John Cramblit and Nancy Ellen's family, the oldest son, John Cramblit, wed Caroline Castell. They had 6 children--namely, Thomas, died in the Civil War; Celena first wed a Mr. Hanna; her 2nd was a Mr. Boker or Boher; Anna wed Nordyke Gould; Mary wed Vernon D. Price; Albert is single and lives in Los Angeles, Cal. I do not know the name of the other child. I am sorry I do not have any more data concerning these.

Mary Cramblit and James Eichor

Mary Cramblit wed James Eichor. They had a large family of 9 children--six stalwart boys and 3 fine girls--namely, John, William, Andrew, Drummond, Thompson, Daniel, Nancy, Eliza, and Mary. Besides they raised Jane Eichor, John's daughter, her mother having died when Jane was a mere child.

For many years the Eichors lived in Vinton Co., Ohio, one mile east of Locust Grove Church. All the children except Mary grew to adulthood and most of them were married before leaving there. Some moved to other parts of Ohio, but most of them to Missouri and Texas.

Their farm joined the Coultrap farm on the south, and we children loved to go to the Eichor home for Aunt Mary was a good cook and was generous with cookies to us children.

James Eichor died in Sherman, Texas in 1883, at the age of 73. Aunt Mary Eichor, after her husband's death, came back to Missouri to Knob Lick where her son Daniel was living. She came in the spring and lived only two weeks after she came. She was buried in Audfellows, possibly Oddfellows, graveyard. Uncle James Eichor was buried on White Brough Road, west of Sherman, Texas. So was Eliza Eichor (Eads).

I. John, the oldest son of James and Mary Eichor, went to Texas and died there many years ago.

II. William Eichor, second son of James and Mary, wed Mary Schurtz, Sept., 1862. To them were born 3 girls--namely, Mary Jane Eichor, Oct. 10, 1863; Doretha Louise, Apr. 9, 1866; and Harriet Lilly, 1867, who died in infancy.

Doretha never married. She died Aug. 7, 1917.

Mary Jane Eichor wed Deversey Thurness in 1885. To them were born 5 children--namely, Grace Leonore, Jan. 6, 1889. She wed Fred Winchester, 1919, London, Ohio; Bernard Eichor Thurness, Oct. 6, 1893, single, Cleveland, Ohio; Hazel Dorretha, Jan., 1897. She wed A. E. Dangler, 1929, Columbus, Ohio; Mary Leona, Dec. 5, 1902, wed Simeon Adams, 1925, 1348 Green Road., South Euclid, Ohio, a part of Cleveland, Ohio; Vashta, born 1891, died in infancy in 1892.

William Eichor was killed by lightning, June 21, 1867. Thus leaving Mary to care for the little family of girls.

Later Mary married Rev. Price. She died in Logan, Ohio, July 31, 1930.

Sincerely yours,

Mary Thurness Adams.
1348 Green Road
S. Euclid, Ohio

P.S. John Thurness Winchester, born 1920.
Hazzard Adams, born 1926.

Having obtained the address of Mrs. W. J. Bauman, 3644 Herbert St., St. Louis, I wrote her and received the following:

St. Louis, Mo.
Aug. 8, 1934

Dear Cousin:

Your card of July 12, received and I fully intended answering it at once but sickness of my mother prevented my doing so.

My mother passed away July 24, 1934, at 10:00 A.M. She had been failing all summer and the extreme heat was against her. She was almost helpless for about a year. She was 89 the 14th of July. With all that it was hard to give her up.

(Note this was Gertrude Witherspoon, the wife of James Andrew Eichor.)

Now as to relatives: Father's oldest brother was John who passed on years ago in Texas.

Uncle William, the second son, was killed by lightning many, many years ago (June 21, 1867).

Uncle Drummond lives in Hannibal, Mo. with his children. He was 92 last March. His wife, Deborah Ehrhart (Eichor) has been dead a long time. Only three children living. They are living in and near Hannibal. Uncle Drummond's address is 1931 Market St., Hannibal, Mo.

Uncle Thompson Eichor passed away the 27th of this past June (June 27, 1934). His wife, Clarissa Swaim Eichor, died about 6 years ago. Six children living--three boys and three girls--Charley, his oldest son, moved to Texas some three years ago; Harley lives here; and Ray (a R.R. man) lives in Mattoon, Ill. The three daughters all live here in St. Louis.

My father, James Andrew was older than Uncle Thompson who would have been 89 the 26th of July; passed away Sept. 30, 1929, age 89 years and 6 months lacking a few days. He was a soldier in the Civil War; severely wounded. He was sick all his life. I never remember his being real well. There were 9 of us, all living--six girls and three boys. Fletcher lives in Casey, Iowa; Truman lives near Wellsville, Mo., so does Sister Olive. She married Ben Wilson. They have 4 children--three sons and one daughter. The rest of father's children live here. My two youngest sisters own a beauty shop here. One sister is Roxy Reisback, one is Nora Thomas, and I am Mrs. W. J. Bauman. We have a grocery and meat market. My other brother Earl (a printer by trade) is married and has one child. Eliza Eichor (Eads) lived in Texas, and all the family are dead. Nancy Ann (Tatman) died in Chillicothe, Ohio quite a number of years ago. She had a son and daughter. I think they are in a small town near there. Anna Campbell Schurtz of Carroll can give you their address.

Uncle Daniel Eichor is living here in St. Louis; address, 2102 Clifton Ave. His wife died the middle of April, 1934. They had 4 children--three daughters and one son. One daughter died a few years ago.

Since mother's death, I am more or less nervous. Three funerals in about three months was a little too much for me.

Best wishes,
Mrs. W. J. Bauman
3644 E. Herbert St.

In one of Daniel's letters, he says,
"My youngest daughter, Alta Eichor () died at the age of 31. She was a lovely girl. Her little boy was 8 years old at that time. He married when about 19, and has a good job at the Sunenfield store. He makes all the designs for the windows.

My oldest daughter, Mrs. Olga (Bush) was in Chicago, came back and expects now to stay here in St. Louis.

My daughter, Sadie Johannes lives at 6312 Iron St. Their drug store is 3548 Washington Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Your Cousin,
D. F. Eichor

St. Louis, Mo.

P.S. Drummond lives in Hannibal, Mo., 1915 Market St.
Mary Eichor, a daughter of James and Mary Cramblit Eichor, died in youth. She was scalded by falling into a large kettle of boiling lye. She is buried at Locust Grove Cemetery, Vinton Co., Ohio.

Jared B. Randall and Ellen after marriage, lived a few years in Muskingum Co., Ohio. Their oldest son, John, was born there Jan. 23, 1836. A few years later we find them living in Vinton Co., south of Locust Grove Church, about one mile on the road leading to McArthur, Ohio. Their house was situated on an eminence west of the road and high in the gable of the edifice in bold lettering were the words "J. B. Randall, Republican."

J. B. and Ellen had a large family of thirteen brilliant and industrious children, all of whom grew to adulthood, and all married and had families except Edward who was killed in the Civil War. (See list above.)

Notes

John C. Randall and Hannah Brewster were each well endowed with fine intellects and noble ambitions, inspiring their children with strong desires to live pure and useful lives.

John C. Randall was a soldier in the War of 1861-1865. His home was near Jackson, Ohio. His wife was a descendant of Elder William Brewster of Mayflower (1620). Mrs. John C. Randall was still living and quite spry Feb. 13, 1931, being nearly 90 years old. Her birth was Nov. 6, 1841. Her home was then in Rio Grande, Ohio, with her daughter, Dorothy Randall Brooks.

John C. Randall and Hannah had 7 children--namely, Ozen B., Ira V., Aletha E., Jared H., Lyman A., Victor C., and Dorothy E. Randall.

Ozen became a teacher and superintendent of prison schools at Columbus, Ohio. His children are Cecil J. Randall, Judge in Columbus, Ohio; Samuel J. Randall, maj. and teacher in dental dept. of Ohio State University; Frank H. Randall, pastor at Dennison since 1924. Before that he was a Professor of English and Public Speaking at Lincoln, Ill.; Blanche Randall Wilson, wife of Dr. Robert Wilson, Ironton, Ohio.

Ira had no children. He was a teacher, attorney, farmer; Aletha E. Randall (Drake) has 10 children--namely, Frances, Elizabeth, Georgia, Della, Vida, Dollie, Helen, Stanley, Barnard, and William. All married except the last two (1931).

Jared B. Randall had one child who died at birth. Jared took A.B. and M.A. degrees at Brown University; went to Rangoon, Berma as a missionary, his health failing he returned to U.S. and later became a teacher at Leland University, New Orleans. The last eight years of his life was President of Bacone College in Oklahoma. He died Jan. 12, 1919.

Lyman A. took A.B. at Brown University and is now employed by N.P.R.R. Co. at Mandan, N. Dak. He has 3 children--Ellen a teacher, John and Nancy in high school (1931).

Dorothy taught country schools five years, taught in Bacone College one year. She married Mr. Brooks who is a S.S. Missionary in Jackson, Vinton, and Gallia Counties, Ohio. They have 3 children--George, Eleanor and Anna. All at home. They live in Rio Grande, Ohio.

II. Edward, the 2nd son of Jared B. and Ellen Cramblit Randall, was killed in the War of 1861-1865.

III. Matilda Randall wed Alfred Bucks. They had 5 children, Milton and Lucy Bucks were two of the children.

IV. Caroline Randall wed Seitz. They had 7 or 8 children.

VI. Serena and David Drummond had two children--Pearly is a Dr. in the Ford shops in Detroit; Ora lives in Florida, I think.

VII. Taphath Randall wed Samuel Mercer. They had at least 4 children--Corina, Ida, Bert, Clara.

VIII. Joseph D. Randall and Mary Drummond had six children--Alma E. born Aug. 22, 1873; James E. born Sept. 29, 1875; Minnie R. born Aug. 12, 1878;

Martha A. born Jan. 30, 1881; Ernest S. born July 24, 1883; and Mary A. born Nov. 24, 1885, died April 2, 1888.

When Mary A. Randall died April 2, 1888, my father's health was not very good, he gradually grew worse and died Feb. 9, 1889. Mother and we children were left to battle this life alone. Mother is now living in Chillicothe and is very spry and lively for one of her age. She sometimes walks to church which is a half to three-quarters of a mile. She was born Aug. 22, 1850, hence is now in the eighties (1931).

Alma E. Randall wed William F. Archer Oct. 12, 1895. She writes, "We had five children. My oldest died at the age of 17 years and my youngest at 16 months, so raised only three. I have 9 grandchildren, 5 boys and 4 girls, all bright and happy youngsters. My oldest living, Joseph L. Archer, was in the navy during the World War, served over 9 months, stationed at Norfolk, Va. mostly on guard there.

James E. Randall, Joseph and Mary's second child, wed Letetia M. Pugh Feb. 1902. He has a store in Springfield, Ohio. They had three children, the two boys dying young. The daughter, Naomi, will graduate this June (1931) from Asbury College, Ky.

Minnie R. Randall wed Johnson Headley Feb. 21, 1898. They now live in or near Miami, Fla. They have three boys, two married (1931)--Ernest Headley, city mail carrier here in Springfield, Ohio. Served two years overseas during and after the World War; Elmer Headley is a tile setter and decorator in Springfield, Ohio; Oral at home in Florida.

Martha A. Randall wed Elmer Barbee Oct. 19, 1898. Elmer took diphtheria and lived only five weeks after marriage. On Nov. 14, 1901, Martha was again married to John E. Dillie. They live in Columbus, Ohio. No children but are raising the youngest of Brother Ernest of whom I will now speak.

Ernest S. Randall wed Agnes Peifer June 3, 1908. They had four boys, one died in infancy. The oldest, Forest, died in Jan., 1927; Carrol E. Randall is taking a business course at Hartwell College of Commerce in Springfield, Ohio; Kenneth, the youngest, lives in Columbus with his aunt Mrs. John E. Dillie and will graduate from high school in June, 1931.

IX. Lou Ann Randall wed Rev. Henry Eby--one child--Blanche Eby.

X. Daniel B. Randall wed Mary Alvina Campbell. Had 5 children--David, XI. Jared Randall wed a Miss Bucks. Had 3 children, one of them a lawyer; Harry Randall, Ira Randall, XII. Emma E. Randall (Brooks-Somerset), had one child, Ethel.

XIII. Lucy L. Randall wed David Kerns. They have three children--namely, Ben Kerns, — — Her address is 509 Polk St., Topeka, Kansas.

John Simms		Ida Pohle
Mary Simms		Charles Cunningham

Notes

For many years the Simms lived in Vinton Co., Ohio, some four miles southeast of Locust Grove Church on the McArthur Road. Their farm lay just west of Uncle Andrew Cramblit's. His son, William Cramblit, owned a farm just north of the Simms.

Now in the word of their daughter, Matilda Simms Dunkle "Father and mother had six children--Sophia, Asbury, Matilda, Mahlon, John, and Mary.

Sophia passed away in 1910 at Montour, Iowa, her husband W. A. Millard died Dec. 28, 1930. They had no children.

Asbury wed Eunice? or Emma Roggers. They raised a fine family of three boys and four girls--Cecil, Clarence, and Elmer; Florence, Tillie, Ethel, and June. Elmer is married. The other two boys are single (1931) and live on and farm the home place. Elmer has his own farm near the other boys.

Florence married Mr. Robert Healso, a farmer. Florence taught several years before marriage. The other girls are single (1931).

Tillie taught for quite awhile but is now clerking in a big department store in Minneapolis.

Ethel is also in Minneapolis. June was in college the last I knew of her. Asbury died in 1918. His wife was killed in an auto accident in 1921.

Matilda Simms Dunkle says, "My children are--Effie, Lois, Iva, and Carnie.

Lois wed Eugene R. Rushmore. They live in Algona, Ia. He is a traveling salesman. Their home, however, is in Ames, Iowa.

Effie wed George Dodds. They live at Ocean Park, Calif. He works in an airplane factory. They have a nice home there, also property in Oregon. They have no children (1931).

In 1922 Mr. Dunkle went to Chicago with a carload of cattle. He went to his daughter's for a short visit; had a stroke and lived but a few days. Burial was in Ames.

Mahlon Simms lives in Phoenix, Arizona. His wife's name was Anna Finch. She died in 1922. Mahlon has 3 children--one boy and 2 girls. Berley married in 1930. He lives in one of his father's houses and he and Mahlon both work at the Citrus packing house. Berley in charge of the machinery for making the boxes; Mahlon looking after things in general. One of Mahlon's daughters wed Martin Wolf, and lives in the house with her father, the other daughter is single at home (1931).

John Simms lives in Idaho. He does not have very good health. He is so fleshy he can hardly get around, and he has heart trouble. His wife died in 1906. He lives with his daughter. He has 7 children--George, John Jr., Elva, Ethel, Willie, Edith, and Ida.

George, the oldest, wed Lulu Barnett, she died Nov. 3, 1930. No children. He lives on a farm Northern, Iowa.

John, Jr. also lives on a farm near George. His wife was Maud Cook.

Elva wed William Morris. They also live on a farm near the boys, all pretty well-to-do.

Ethel wed Claude Closson, a farmer. They live in Idaho.

Willie Simms wed Mabel Hewit. They live in Chicago. He has a fine position as an accountant. He is a graduate of Iowa City.

Edith is single (1931). She is a teacher.

Ida married just lately in Idaho.

John had rather a hard time raising his family. They were all small when his wife died, but he certainly has raised a fine family and gave all a good education. Brother John's wife was Ida Pohle.

Mary E. Simms, my youngest sister, wed Charles Cunningham. She taught for several years before she married. Her home is in Lincoln, Nebraska. She has been a widow since Oct. 15, 1916. For the last ten years she has been in Evangelistic work. She is an ordained Minister of the Gospel devoting her entire time to Christian work.

In 1925-26 she and her son made an extensive tour throughout United States and part of Canada preaching the good news. The son, Ralph T. Cunningham, Apr. 1, 1927, married Anna E. Deihl, a graduate of the University of Nebraska. They live in Lincoln, Nebr. He is a grocery clerk. They have 2 children.

Your Cousin,
Mrs. Matilda Simms Dunkle

Algona, Iowa.

Andrew Cramblit wed Bettie McGee. They had six children--

I. William wed Julia Honnel.

II. John wed a Miss Bay.

III. Samuel wed a Miss Bay (a sister of John's wife).

IV. Mary Jane wed a Mr. Wiscaver and they lived at Otwell, Ind. I think Mary Jane was older than Sarah and Robert.

V. Sarah wed John Wescot.

VI. Robert wed Lucy Huhn.

Andrew and family lived on the McArthur Road some five miles southeast of Locust Grove Church. He was considered well-to-do. He had a nice team of finely matched beautiful bay horses, the pride of the entire family.

The father and mother ended their days in the old home. I think John and Samuel located in Iowa. Sarah remained in Vinton Co., Jackson Township. Robert first lived near his parents but several years later moved to Ross Co., located near Chillicothe. Died several years ago. Some of his family still live there.

William, the oldest son, a very fine citizen, owned a farm near the old home farm. Had six children--Eliza Jane wed a Mr. Jones. They live on a farm near Hamilton, Mo.; Jefferson lives somewhere in Ohio, his wife Cordelia is dead; Preston located in Missouri; young William is in Detroit, Mich. He has a grocery store there. His wife is dead; Walter is in Oklahoma; Minnie Cramblit (Gilbert) lives in Hamilton, Mo.

Their father and mother moved to Missouri about 1882-1885. The mother, Julia, died in Missouri. William married again; moved to Oklahoma and died there several years ago.

The following pages sent to me by Frank W. Tyler are given as they may aid some person who may at some future date endeavor to ascertain who was the first Coultrap to come to America.

Dear Professor Coultrap:

I enclose a few more items I have found referring to the Coultrap family. I am now making enquiries as to the passengers from England to America between 1760 and 1770.

Yours very truly,
