EXPLANATORY

The increasing interest in family history led me to gather, during the past ten years, extensive notes, and this volume is the result. Most of my work has been done by correspondence, that has reached into all parts of our country, while no little time has been given to personal research. Valuable assistance was rendered by Mrs. Lois A. Abbey, a life-long resident of Chester, blessed with an excellent memory, and related to many of the descendants of Simeon; Mrs. Sophia M. Clark of Higganum, a nearby village, greatly aided me on the widely scattered Warner family; Miss Emily H. Lewis of Claremont, N. H., and Mrs. Myrtie E. Palmer of Waterbury, Vt., had previously gathered quite a record of the Huntley family, which was placed at my disposal; while Mrs. L. M. Price of Covina, Cal., and Miss Lillian Owens of Watkins, N. Y., rendered valuable assistance on other lines of the same family. Valuable assistance was also rendered by Mr. H. B. Church of Boston, Mass., Mr. John A. Church of Cleveland, O., Miss Alice M. Church of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. E. W. Savage of Ashtabula, O., and Miss Jennie E. Hanson of New Haven, Conn. Regarding the English ancestry all credit is due to Mr. Alonzo Church of Newark, N. J., who has given much time to that history, and under whose personal attention the coat of arms was printed and hand colored.

It is a great regret to me that there are so many persons and also families of whom little is known. In each case earnest efforts have been made to gain farther information, but all in vain. If anyone can give me any additional information it will be a great favor if they will communicate with me. Also if there are any errors—and many such are to be expected—I shall be glad to be corrected. In the spelling of names the copy furnished has been followed.

Only a small edition has been printed, and for the present the price will be only three dollars.

His English Ancestry

This record is condensed from a report by a genealogist in London for Mr. Alonzo Church of Newark, N. J., and is used by his permission. References are made to the authorities for all the statements in said report.

of Great Parndon Parish, Manor of Geround, Co. of Essex, is the first of this family so far known. He married in 1360 Catherine, daughter of Richard Winchester, who died in 1338, holding a third part of the advowson of the church and his wife's part of the manor. This John died in 1396, holding land in Great Parndon, as appears from an inquisition post mortem, held in 20 Rich. II, when the names of his two sons are given.

CHILDREN.

1. ROBERT CHIRCHE, who died in 1420, holding land in Great Parndon. His only daughter, Joan, married Richard Maistor.
2. JOHN CHYRCH. See below.
3. CATHERINE.

of Leicester is believed to have been identical with the above John Chyrch of Lancaster. He was a resident of the City of Leicester, and held much property. In 1399 he was elected Burgess of Parliament, also in 1420, as appears from the records of the borough of Leicester. In 1402-1422 he was also Mayor of Leicester.

July 26, 1452, Catherine, daughter of John Church of Leicester, left land to celebrate divine service daily for the souls of John Church, senior, and Catherine, his wife, and John Church, junior, and Agnes, his wife, and Catherine, their daughter, and Catherine, daughter of John Church, senior.

son of John and Agnes Church, married in 1496 Margaret, daughter of Robert Greene of Chester. He had lands in Leicester, Nantwich and Castell Camps, near Linton. The Nantwich family coat of arms is our frontispiece.

CHILDREN.

1. ROBERT, b. 1505; d. 1551. See below.
2. JOHN of Malden, b. ———; d. 1559.

John Church, son of Reynold and Margaret, was alderman and baileff of Malden. He married 1st Joan Henkyn; and 2d Mary, daughter of Edmund Tyrrell, a descendant of Walter who slew Wm. Rufus. He died Nov. 19, 1559. His children were John and Edmund. John married Margaret, daughter of Rooke Greene of Little Sampford, Co. Essex. He died Jan. 14, 1565. His son Rocke, bap. Apr. 9, 1564, was surveyor to King James. Edmund married June 8, 1574, Dorothy Green. Prof. A. H. Church says Percy, one of his grandsons, was groom of the Privy Chamber in 1634. The armory of the Malden branch is almost identical with that of Nantwich.

William, son of Reynold and Margaret, had a son Richard who built in 1575 the well-known half-timbered house, still standing in Nantwich, styled "Church's Mansion." See Harleian manuscript in British Museum. Richard married Margaret, daughter of Roger Wright, and died in 1592. Their children were: 1, William; 2, Randle; 3, Isabella. William married 1st Elizabeth Wright; 2d Margaret Broughton. He died in Drayton in 1632. Randle, a staunch Royalist, was father of Randle or Randolph Church, who was Sargeant-at-Arms to James 1st in 1624. Isabella married James McBride, a merchant in Dumfries, Scotland.

SIMEON CHURCH (Samuel 3, Edward 2, Richard 1, a first settler of Hartford), was born in Lyme, Conn., in 1708, and early in life settled in that part of Saybrook, Conn., now the town of Chester. He was the first clerk of that parish, and the records kept by him for many years were unusually well written. Unfortunately they were lost a few years since. The writer saw them in 1880. He was a blacksmith by trade, and a shoe hammer made for his son John is now in the possession of Clark Olds 564. He died Oct. 7, 1792, and his wife, Eunice Warner, July 16, 1809. They are buried in Chester.

In early life Amanda was a school teacher, a writer of no little ability, and was all her life a close student of nature. A botanist of wide reputation said, after a long conversation with her, "He was glad to find a person in Winsted who knew so much about the flowers in her own neighborhood." She was a constant reader, a great Bible student, and always kept herself well abreast of all advance in knowledge or discovery.

Hence, to those who came in close touch with her, she was always and to the last a charming companion. During her first twelve years her nearest neighbor was her grandfather, who often told her of his experiences with Montgomery at Quebec, and with Arnold at Saratoga. As a result, heroism became a marked characteristic of her life. She had a large circle of relatives and friends, and few people enjoyed congenial society as much as did she. She possessed an unusually tender regard for the feelings of others, and fearing she might slight some of her many relatives, she long refused to make a will, and finally left all her property to the Beardsley Library.

Capt. Brooks kept the Faulkner's Island light from 1851 to 1882. While there over one hundred vessels were in distress and eight became total wrecks. He, in his sail boat rendered valuable assistance to the crews of over seventy of the vessels. Two of the occasions required unusual daring. When the steamer E. A. Woodward grounded on the bar at the north end of the island in a storm, his services were especially timely and helpful. On another occasion he, single handed, rescued the captain, his wife and three seamen from the schooner Moses T. Webb, lying on the rocks a mile and a half away, and during a storm so severe that seamen inshore said no boat could live in those waves. For this he was presented with gold medals by the Society for the Preservation of Life, and The Life Saving Benevolent Association. Also the citizens of New Haven presented a silver service to his wife, and a purse of $126 in gold to him. Since his retirement he has twice represented his town (Guilford, Conn.) in the legislature.

"He started on the fatal trip to a neighbor who lived about three miles north in the township of Montville. His trip lay through the wood all the way. He took an axe along, thinking it might come handy if he should happen to tree some sort of game. When night came, he failed to return, but the family and immediate neighbors surmised that he may have concluded to go on to Chardon to pay his taxes, as he started to Montville to collect some money due him, for that purpose. But when he failed to return the next night, the family and neighbors felt that some harm had befallen him. A searching party was organised the next day, with men enough to form a line over a mile in length, when stationed near enough to one another to see all the ground. The line was extended east from where he lived and was marched north as far as the place in Montville where he intended to go. They then moved the line west its length and started on the march back south. When over half way back and within a mile and a half of his home, his body was found. It seems he had cut down a large tree (probably for some sort of game); when the tree began to fall he ran out around, so as to be near the top when it struck the ground. The large tree in falling struck a small, slender tree about five inches in diameter, which stood somewhat leaning, in such a manner as to whip it down at nearly right angles to the direction the large tree was falling. It was the small tree that caught him. It lay across his legs and held him so securely that it was impossible for him to extricate himself, although he had with his hands dug the dirt from roots to try to grasp them to pull himself loose." His widow later married a Mr. Russell and had several children.

ISAIAH HUNTLEY (Elizabeth Church 317), born Nov. 20, 1787; married ——— EUNICE CORSE (——1841), of Waterbury, Vt. He died Sept. 1870, in Essex Center, Vt.

A niece says, I remember seeing him when a small child. He must have been a very venerable looking old man. He had a long white beard. His head was bald, and his forehead seemed to extend clear to the crown. To my childish imagination his head was as long as a horse's. He sat bowed over his cane, and I suppose we children annoyed him with our racket. Every few minutes he would thump, thump, thump on the floor with his cane to hush us, and I was in mortal terror of him."

JOHN CHURCH (Simeon 4, Samuel 3, Edward 2, Richard 1), was born in Chester, Conn., Aug. 3, 1755. He enlisted at Walpole, N. H., in Aug., 1775, and served with Montgomery at Quebec. In 1813 he told his grandson, Lewis W. Olds, then nine years old, that he was near Montgomery when he was killed. He remained in the service two years, and again in 1780 served for three months. He was with Arnold at Saratoga, and when the General was wounded he helped him to dismount. Like the other soldiers he was paid in Continental money that proved worthless. Mch. 29, 1780, he married DEBORAH SPENCER of Chester (Feb. 9, 1759-Dec. 5, 1834), and soon after settled in Winsted, Conn. He was a tanner and shoe maker by trade, as both trades were learned together at that time. He was also a Baptist preacher, with more than a local reputation. He was pensioned in 1832, and died Dec. 6, 1834, one day after his wife, and both were buried in the same grave.

(Aug. 20, 1810-Nov. 18, 1885), of Canaan, Conn. In 1837 they moved to Ohio and returned in 1847, making the journey going via the Erie Canal and returning in their own teams. The return was a lifelong regret to her. When the work of active life was passed she knew how to grow old gracefully, and still with active fingers and cheerful voice she was the attractive magnet of her home. Her thankful nature, her cheerful, confident trust, her very presence, even to the last, was a constant benediction. It is no wonder that when quietly taking their last look of her loved form, her children should say. "We shall never see her like again." The memory of such is truly blessed. She died Mch. 1, 1903, and is buried in Winsted, Conn.

ALMIRA C. CHURCH (Isaac Church 502), born in Erie, Pa., Aug. 30, 1821; married Oct. 6, 1842, RUSSELL SMITH of White Creek, N. Y. He died in Saginaw, Mich., Apr. 27, 1887, where she died Aug. 24, 1905.

A local paper said of her: "Mrs. Smith was one who was ever ready to serve; her home was a resting place for the weary and a place of refuge for the tempted, and while she was a serving Martha, she did not neglect the better part of a listening Mary. Her religious duties were ever of the first importance, and the family altar which was erected during the early life of her children was maintained by herself as long as her children remained at home. She was a great reader, and while she was interested in current events she prized her church paper most of all. It may truly be said of Almira C. Smith that her life was a benediction to all who came within the sphere of her influence."

Dr. Whitman graduated at the University of Michigan in Mch. 1865, and in 1874 he spent a winter in New York in post graduate work. In 1883 he moved from Spring Valley, Minn., where he had located in 1868, to St. Paul. A friend gave this tribute to him: "He was a large hearted man in whose death the poor lost a friend. He was never too busy or too weary to lend a helping hand to a neighbor in distress, or to aid an unfortunate struggling against the powers of evil. His personality was such that the close of each day witnessed some person helped to a better condition. Such a life is the highest type of manhood.

LEWIS W. OLDS (Lucy Church 561), born in Erie, Pa., July 21, 1822; married May 9, 1848, LOUISA E. ACKERLY (Apr. 10, 1826-Aug. 12, 1901), and settled in Erie. For years he was a wholesale manufacturer of pumps. He lost heavily by fire in 1869, and later accumulated a handsome fortune, possessing much valuable real estate. He died June 25, 1908.

He was probably the first man in this country to make the old log pump an article of commerce. As there were no shipping facilities when he began, he built a flat boat in a near-by creek and floated his goods via Allegheny and Ohio rivers to Cairo, Ill., opening up a large trade through the South and West. As an investor he manifested great foresight, holding at the time of his death much property in Erie, also several farms in Iowa; the town of Olds, in that state, being named after him.

The Erie Dispatch said of him: "It was his motto that it was better to be ten years in advance of events than ten years behind, and because of such views he was often antagonized by men who were afterwards the first to acknowledge his wisdom and foresight when occasion proved the truth of his views." He was a man of ideas, firm in his convictions and master of every situation in which he found himself. He was especially interested in historical and genealogical matters. Papers read by him before the Erie Horticultural Society, The Erie Chamber of Commerce, and The Erie County Historical Society, published in the local papers, elicited a great deal of attention. Because of his interest in his family history he made a special trip to London, finding much interesting data regarding the lines of both his parents. The Erie Dispatch then concludes its long review of his life: "A type of man of a past day and age, who courageously encountered and surmounted the most difficult obstacles, of a broad charity and genial, generous nature which knew no envy, rather rejoiced in the prosperity and well-being of his fellow man, in his death Erie loses a citizen who is generally and sincerely mourned."
