FOREWORD

Work on this genealogy was first begun in 1882 and the material composing it has been gathered over a long period. In the course of time some of the facts in the lives of the later generations of the Coggeshall family have altered. Corrected data of occupation, marriages, residences, etc., could not be obtained without a retracing of the steps made in the original compilation, an undertaking which circumstances render unfeasible. There are errors in this genealogy for which the authors ask your indulgence. They are, however, not of a vital character, but relate particularly to the spelling of proper names which either appeared on the records in unorthodox orthography or have been corrupted during the course of the many transcriptions incidental to compilation and publication.

THE COGGESHALLS IN ENGLAND

The English town of Coggeshall lies in the county of Essex about forty-five miles from London. It has been identified with the ancient Canonium of the Romans, whose broken urns, tiles, and coins have been found there. The derivation of the name is uncertain, though several plausible theories are reviewed by Beaumont in his History of Coggeshall in Essex. The name first appears as "Coggashael" on a grant made during the reign of Edward the Confessor, who married the daughter of Godwin, favorite of Canute the Dane and apparently lord of the Manor of Coggashael. The Manor and Abbey of Coggeshall are conspicuous in the early history of the town, the former having been its seat for generations. Sixth in line of the abbots of Coggeshall was Ralph de Coggeshall, a learned and industrious monk.

The town of Coggeshall is very pleasantly situated on the north-east bank of the Blackwater River, and contains an area of about twenty-seven hundred and seventy acres. In old records and deeds it is often called Sunny Bank, from the beauty of its location, partly upon the low grounds on the north side of the river and partly upon the slope of an agreeable hill. The town is ill built, and the clothing trade, especially the manufacture of baize, which was formerly carried on, has almost entirely disappeared: but some branches of the silk manufacture have been introduced, and a few of the inhabitants are engaged in the making of toys. The manufacture of velvet was introduced by the Flemings who settled there in large numbers, and the town was once the home of the celebrated "Cog'sall" white baize, now almost unknown to the trade. The coronation robes of Edward VII and George V were made there by a Mr. and Mrs. Potter, whom the author visited. The old hand loom at which Mr. Potter had worked for sixty-five years was also to be seen. The section where he lived is known as the Clayfield and tiles and pottery have been made there from the earliest period. The author examined an old document which described an individual as "John the potter son of William the potter." The residents at one time were all named Potter. The church, a spacious structure in the perpendicular style, has a large square tower. The river is crossed by an ancient bridge of three arches. There seems always to have been more or less difficulty in spelling the name correctly, even for those living in the town, the old records showing it written upwards of a dozen different ways, such as Coggeshall, Coxal, etc. With the many variations of spelling in mind, one would not hesitate to suggest that the similarity of the names of Coggeshall and Cogswell indicates a common English origin, yet it is not to be assumed that the American families of the names are descended from a common ancestor in this country. John Cogswell, the first of that name in America, settled in Ipswich, Mass., in 1635. He is not to be confused with the John Coggeshall who was first president of the Rhode Island Colony.

The Coggeshall arms which serves as a frontispiece to this volume is a copy of the one in Heralds' College. The presence of the escallops on the shield indicates a pilgrimage to the Holy Land by a member of the family, as returning pilgrims were accustomed to sew on their clothing these shells, which they found on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea. The cross apparently indicates participation in one of the Crusades, though no family records to substantiate this conclusion have been found. The design of the crest varies according to the branch of the family, sometimes being a stag couchant, as shown in this book, and sometimes a boar or a dexter arm embowed holding a sword. The records of Heralds' College also contain the earliest known record of a member of the Coggeshall family in the following pedigree:

- I. Sir Thomas Coggeshall, of Coggeshall, Knight, was living in the reign of King Stephen (1149), and had a son.
- II. Sir Thomas Coggeshall, also of Coggeshall, Knight, who was living, 1188 and 1194. He had issue Sir Ralph (3) and Sir Roger, who was living 28 Henry III.
- III. Sir Ralph de Coggeshall, of Codham Hall, Wethersfield, Knight, was living 1233, died 1305. By his wife, Elizabeth, he had issue,
- IV. John de Coggeshall, who died, 1296, leaving (in addition to the son from whom descended the Coggeshalls of Hundon, Fornham, etc., Suffolk),
- V. Sir John de Coggeshall, of Coggeshall, Knight, who was living in 1302, and married Sara, daughter of Jordan le Brun, Knight. Sir John died 1319, leaving
- VI. Sir John de Coggeshall, Lord of Coggeshall, knighted in 1337; High Sheriff of Essex for several years. Aged 18 in 1320, proved his age, 1322, died 1361; married Mary (?Margery), daughter and heiress of Henry (?Humphrey) de Stanton of Essex. She died, 1342. (It is this Sir John's monument that is given in Weever.— See Holman's MS.) He had issue Sir Henry and Thomas.
- VII. Sir Henry Coggeshall, Knight, was 30 years of age in 1361, died 1373, buried at Coggeshall; married Joane, daughter and heiress of William de Welles of Exning; she died 1375. They had issue Sir William, of whom hereafter, and Thomas of Sandon, who held Newhall, in Boreham, in 1391, and died in 1422, having had issue one son and one daughter, Richard the heir, aged 13 in 1422, and died without issue in 1432, and Elizabeth, the daughter, married Thomas Philip.

- VIII. Sir William de Coggeshall, of Codham Hall, Wethersfield, Knight, was aged 18, in 1375 and died 1424. High Sheriff, 1391, he married Antiochia, daughter and heiress of Sir John Hawkwood, Knight, the celebrated Captain of Condotien, whose residence was at Sible Hedingham, Essex. Her second husband was Sir John Tyrrell, Knight, of East Horndon, Essex. Sir William, by his wife, Antiochia, had issue no sons but four daughters,
- i. Blanch, who married John Doreward, Esq., of Bocking.
 - ii. Eleanor (?Alice), who married Sir John Tyrell, of Herons, Knight.
 - iii. Margaret, who married, first, William Bateman, Esq., of Little Samford, and secondly, John Roppeley, Esq.
 - iv. Maud, who married first, Robert Dacres, Esq., and secondly, John St. George.

This Sir William was living in the sixth year of the reign of Henry V, as the lease of his Manor of Codham Hall, Weathersfield, is tested at Coggeshall. At his death, his extensive estates in Essex were divided among his daughters, in the absence of male heirs. The family of Coggeshall became proprietors of Codham Hall in the reign of King Edward, 1272, though the manor had previously been occupied by the de Codhams since shortly after the Conquest. As the Coggeshalls were proprietors of various estates from the twelfth century on, and as they served in many official capacities, references to them are frequent. The records of Heralds' College show that several of the name were sheriffs of Hertfordshire and Essex, naming the following as having filled the office: John de Coggeshall, from 1334 to 1353 inclusive; Sir William Knt., 1391; Thomas, 1393; William, 1404; Sir William Knt., 1411.

In the Rolls Office, Chancery Lane, London, is a large volume containing a record of the passengers "passing beyond the seas" between Christmas 1631 and Christmas 1632. Under the date of June 22, 1632, is a list of twenty-three names, the fourth being that of John Coggeshall, the first of his name to come to America. A paper contributed to the New England Historical and Genealogical Register (Vol. LXXIII, pp. 19-32. Genealogical Research in England. Coggeshall, contributed by Hon. Frederick Samuel Fish, A.B. of South Bend, Ind., and communicated by the Committee on English Research) contains an account of John Coggeshall's line as far as traced up to this time. The information is derived from various wills, court records, etc., and is in part as follows:

"1. John Coggeshall 'the Elder,' of Halstead, co. Essex, gentleman, the testator of 1600, died 1 Jan. and was buried at Halstead 3 Jan. 1600/1. He married first ELIZABETH —; and secondly, probably about 1564 or earlier, KATHERINE —, who survived him, was one of the two executors who proved his will at Braintree, co. Essex, 8 Jan. 1600/1, and was living 22 March 1608/9, when she and her son John were taxed 5s. on goods valued at £3. He held Munchensies in Halstead . . . situated near Coggeshall bridge, on the left-hand side of the road leading from Halstead to Colchester. . . . He made great additions to the house in 1563, and died 1st January 1600. . . . The 'great additions' which John Coggeshall made to his house in 1563 may have been for the purpose of preparing a suitable abode for his first or, more likely, his second wife. He is said to have been at one time a merchant in London. At Halstead he built also an almshouse, which had on the architrave of the porch the following inscription: 'John Coggeshall did Bild this Hous in Ao MD63. . . .'

Children by first wife:

- i. Richard, living 27 Dec. 1600, when he is named in his father's will.
- ii. John ('the Elder'), living 27 Dec. 1600, when he is named in his father's will.

Children by second wife, baptized at Halstead:

- iii. Katherine,* bapt. 26 Dec. 1564; m. at Halstead, 2 Mar. 1583/4, Thomas Harrington. Children, living unm. 27 Dec. 1600, when they are named in the will of their grandfather, John Coggeshall:
 1. Katherine. 2. Thomas. 3. Anne. 4. Susan.
- iv. Elizabeth,* bapt. 27 Feb. 1571/2; bur. at Halstead 23 Feb. 1604/5; m. Rev. John Watson, vicar of Halstead, who was living 27 Dec. 1600. Children: 1. Elizabeth, living unm. 27 Dec. 1600. Five others.
- 2.v. John ('the Younger'), b. 24 July and bapt. 29 July 1576.

2. John Coggeshall (John) called 'the Younger' to distinguish him from his half brother, John Coggeshall, 'the Elder,' of Halstead, co. Essex, gentleman, born 24 July and baptized at Halstead 29 July 1576, was buried at Halstead 4 Aug. 1615. He married Anne Butter, who, as Anne Coggeshall of Castle Hedingham, co. Essex, widow, made her will [v. N. E. Gen. Reg., loc. cit.] 16 Apr. 1645, which was proved 10 Nov. 1648. She was a sister of John Butter of Thorington, co. Essex, yeoman, the testator of 1624/5, who in his will . . . names many of his relatives, and leaves £40 to each of the three children of his sister, Anne Coggeshall. In 1640 Anne Coggeshall, widow, was defendant in a bill of complaint . . . brought in Chancery by Moses Greenwood of Hingham, co. Norfolk, England, who claimed the £40 which had been left to her son, John Coggeshall, by his uncle, John Butter, said Greenwood having, as he alleged, sold merchandise to John Coggeshall after the latter had settled in New England. 'John Coggeshall was seised of sundry parcels of land in Halstead, which in 1605 he mortgaged to John Sydaye of Pebmarsh, co. Essex, gentleman, as is set forth in the bill of complaint brought in Chancery in 1620 by his son John. . . .' In the lay subsidies for co. Essex, under date of 22 Mar. 1608/9, he and his mother are taxed 5s. on goods valued at £3.

Children, baptized at Halstead:

- i. John, bapt. 9 Dec. 1601.*
- ii. Anne, bapt. 2 Apr. 1604; living 16 Apr. 1645, when she is named in her mother's will; m. not earlier than 26 Jan. 1624/5 . . . Richard Raymond . . .
- iii. Katherine, bapt. 18 Apr. 1607, d. unm.; bur. at Castle Hedingham 14 May 1640."

* In Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island, p. 49, and The Rhode Island Historical Magazine, vol. 5, p. 174, the year of John Coggeshall's birth is given as 1591. This date was obtained by accepting as correct the age at death as given on his gravestone; but the gravestone was set up several years after his death. According to the Friends' record (Arnold's Vital Record of Rhode Island, vol. 7, p. 95) his age at death was forty-eight years.

FIRST GENERATION IN AMERICA

I

1. JOHN COGGESHALL (John, John) of co. Essex, England, and of New England; mercer and merchant; baptized at Halstead, co. Essex, December 9, 1601; died at Newport, R. I., November 27, 1647. He married in England, MARY —, born, probably in England, about 1604; died in Newport, November 8, 1684.

He arrived at Boston in September, 1632, in the ship Lyon, the vessel which also brought the Indian Apostle John Eliot and Roger Williams. Where he first located is still a matter of conjecture, though it is presumed to have been Roxbury, as he joined the First Church of that place, then under the pastoral charge of the Apostle John Eliot. This must have been done very soon after his arrival as he was admitted a freeman November 6, 1632, and one of the necessary qualifications for this membership, was the fellowship of some one of the churches. On the list of church members, his name appears number thirty and that of his wife number thirty-one.

For some unknown reason, possibly because of the better business outlook, he withdrew from the Roxbury church and united with the First Church of Boston, April 20, 1634, Rev. John Wilson, pastor, where he was soon elected a deacon. He lived on Washington Street, opposite Water Street, next to the home of Anne Hutchinson. We note from old records, that in the allotment of lands for pasturage to the inhabitants of Boston, from territory adjoining the town, one William Townsend received from Muddy River, now called Brookline, eight acres — "bounded on the northwest with a swamp by Mr. John Coggeshall's wigwam." By "wigwam" was meant a shelter for his cattle. A further grant was allotted him of two hundred acres of pasturage at the south of Saugus River, which must have embraced a portion, if not the whole, of the present Point of Pines. Wherever his name occurs, it invariably has the prefix "Mr.," signifying in those times dignity and quality, and indicating something more than the simple form of polite address of the present day.

His abilities were not long in being recognized, for September 1, 1634, he appears as one of the board of selectmen, and at the meeting of the General Court, May 14, 1634, his name leads the list of deputies from Boston, the whole number being twenty-four, representing eight different towns. He was also a member for the years 1635, 1636, 1637. We find him public spirited in various other ways. To assist in the erection of a fortification on Fort Hill, he is one of twelve to loan the colony five pounds. In March, 1636, he is appointed, with others, to superintend the allotment of land to all newcomers. On August 12, 1636, at a meeting of the richer inhabitants of the town his name is the tenth on the list of forty-five subscribers to the support of public instruction. However, since he favored the heresy of Anne Hutchinson and opposed the persecutions of Rev. John Wheelwright, the general court at its meeting in November, 1637, disfranchised him, and passed an order enjoining him "not to speak any thing to disturb the public peace upon pain of death." Prior to the adoption of this vote, March, 1637, the trial of Mrs. Hutchinson had taken place before this same court, which sentenced her to banishment, only three deputies, one of whom was Coggeshall, dissenting. Adhering to the fortunes of the Wheelwright and Hutchinson causes, whose religious faith he had first tolerated and then embraced, and scorning to temporize his opinion, he too, was banished in March, 1638.

Mr. John Clarke, one of fifty-eight disfranchised church members, proposed to some of his censured brethren, among these being John Coggeshall, to remove from the jurisdiction. Their purpose was to go southward, but while their vessel was passing around Cape Cod, they crossed by land, with a view to sail afterwards to Long Island or Delaware Bay. At Providence they met with Roger Williams, by whose recommendation and the advice of friends at Plymouth, they concluded to settle at Aquidneck, now part of Rhode Island. Acting upon this determination, they went back to Boston and prepared for their removal. Early in the spring they took their final leave of Massachusetts, and pursuing their tedious journeys through the wilderness, which could not have been exempt from many difficulties and discomforts, reached their new point of settlement, the northern end of the island called by the Indians, Pocasset, which name was retained by the settlers till changed to Portsmouth.

The civil compact formed at Providence and signed by nineteen of the settlers, was as follows: "The seventh day of March, 1638, We, whose names are underwritten, do here solemnly, in the presence of Jehovah, incorporate ourselves into a Body Politick, and as he shall help, will submit our persons, lives and estates unto our Lord Jesus Christ, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, and to all these perfect and most absolute laws of his, given us in his holy word of truth, to be guided and judged thereby. — Exod. XXIV., 3, 4; 2d Chron., XI, 3; 2d Kings, XI., 17." Of the signers to this compact, William Coddington's name heads the list, and John Coggeshall's comes fourth. Callender says, that the Aquidneck settlers "were Puritans of the highest form," and the peculiar phraseology of their civil compact verifies the remark. So peculiar indeed is the religious character of this instrument, that it has by some been considered, although erroneously, as being itself a church covenant, which also embodied a civil compact.

As was the universal custom of the first settlers, the town was built near the spring which was located at the cove, the entrance of which is crossed by the Old Colony Railroad, just before reaching the Railroad Bridge. They deemed it their first duty to build a place of worship, and John Coggeshall and John Sanford were appointed a committee to give it due attention. The church was located on the neck of land that leads to the main part of the island. At the first general public meeting, the responsibility of allotting the land was entrusted to John Coggeshall, John Sanford and John Porter. The allotment to Coggeshall comprised six acres, twenty poles in breadth on the east, and ninety-six feet long, and was located west of the spring. On June 27, 1638, William Hutchinson and John Coggeshall were chosen treasurers of the company for one year. The colony increased so rapidly that new territory was required. Accordingly, April 28, 1639, "It is agreed by us whose hands are underwritten, to propagate a plantation in the midst of the island or elsewhere, and do engage ourselves to bear equal charges answerable to our strength and estate in common, and that our determinations shall be by major voice of judge and elders, the judge to have a double voice." The signatures to this instrument are, William Coddington, Judge, and three elders, among them John Coggeshall, composed entirely of members of the Pocasset government. This new settlement was the corner stone of the present city of Newport, the dividing line between the two settlements being about the middle of the island. In the allotment of land at Newport, John Coggeshall received next to the largest share, embracing nearly four hundred acres, situated at the southerly part of the town. A portion of this property remained in the possession of his descendants until early in the nineteenth century. The election of 1640 resulted in the choice of John Coggeshall as one of the four assistants, and he was also delegated with two others to lay out the remaining lands of Newport. He was one of the assistants too, for the years 1641-2 and 43. When the four towns of Providence, Portsmouth, Newport and Warwick were consolidated under one government, John Coggeshall was chosen first president. He lived to see Rhode Island a corporate power under a parliamentary charter and a regularly organized government of which he stood at the head. Of irreproachable character, firm in his convictions of right regardless of personal sacrifices, he died as he had lived, respected and honored, and his loss must have been deeply felt by the infant colony, to which he had so long been a leader, counselor and guide. His remains were interred in the Coggeshall burial place, which is situated at the corner of Coggeshall and Victoria Avenues, and at the time of his death stood a few rods west of his house.

In the Massachusetts Historical Society Collections, 5, 1, 346, and reprinted in the second volume of Chapin's Documentary History of Rhode Island, pp. 182-4, is a letter written by President Coggeshall in the year of his death. As far as is known this is the only paper from his hand in existence.

"Honored Sir:— I reseyyed your loving letters, for wch I thanke you, and I had saluted you wth the like, but had noe oppertunity sence to send to you, for both Thomas Stanton and Mr. Throckmorton fayled to call on me, altho I desired jt, but now I have sent you, 12 Boshells of heyseed. I filled the sakes, because I know you will not repent it & also I want corne. Thomas Stanton tould me he would have more, but he could not put in at our towne as he came back, but if you have not soe much corne for present, I shall willingly stay till you have it. Thomas Stanton gave me a boshell & halfe for a boshell, for he held his corne at 3s. 4d. with us, but sould it at last (at the other end) for 2s. 2d; but a bushel & a halfe I am contented to take you, altho they that bought the corne of Thomas Stanton sells it for 2s. 8d, & I sell my heyseed for 5s a boshell. What corne you send, if you put it in the sakes & leave it [at] your Iland, Mr. Throckmortō will sall [sic] for it there. I did inquire about sheep as you desired, & find none willing [to] put any out. I am informed Mr Alme at Portsmoth will sell some. The last weeke we had a Generale Court of the Province, and ther was a generall agreement (beyond expectatiō) to the satisfactiō of all. Ther was only 2 acts passed wherin a considerable party were unsatisfied, & the next day they were altered, soe that all were satisfied. The lawes of England are established with very little variatiō, & the lawes of Oleron or sea lawes for sea man, & the Court (thorow the earnest suit of many with us) have made an order, that the Dutchmen shall pay the same customes with us that we pay with them, & that they shall not trad with the Indians in our Provice (unless they allow us free trad with them) upon forfeiture of ther goods, only I gott this thus fare moderated that the Gor. should first be informed, & his answeare to be considered on by the Court, before it be put in operatiō. Sir, Captayne Moris sent me this note to informe me tht I might writt to you, but the messenger staying I cannot writt it out; he desires you will be pleased to doe what you can in it, for his wife is much straitned for want of her. Soe with my love remembered to your selfe &

wife, I take leave, but desire ever to remain your affectionate friend to serve you

John Coggeshall.

"You may sow this hayseed now if you spread the hills, or upon other ground if you mow downe the grasse or weeds twice this summer; but upon ground that have bin planted (the hills being spread) it will come soner to perfectiō & les seed lost.

2. MAJOR JOHN COGGESHALL (John), born in co. Essex about 1620; emigrated with his parents in 1632; died at Newport, R. I., October 1, 1708, in his 90th (sic) year (gravestone record), and was buried in the Coggeshall cemetery at Newport. Married (1) at Newport by John Porter, Assistant, ELIZABETH BAULSTONE (or Baulston), June 17, 1647. She was daughter of William and Elizabeth Baulstone of Portsmouth, R. I.; born at Portsmouth, August, 1639; died at Portsmouth, October 1, 1700. He obtained a divorce from her May 25, 1655, and she married Thomas Gould, son of Jeremiah and Prescilla (Grover) Gould; no issue. Major John married (2) at Providence, PATIENCE THROCKMORTON, December, 1655. She was daughter of John and Alice (Staut) Throckmorton of Providence; born about 1640; died at Newport September 7, 1767 and was buried in the Coggeshall cemetery. Her father lived in Providence and came on the Lyon with Roger Williams. Major John married (3) at Yarmouth in Plymouth Colony (or Boston?) MARY (HEDGE) STURGIS, October 1, 1679. She was daughter of Capt. William, Sr. and widow of Samuel Sturgis; born at Yarmouth, 1648; died at Newport, August 22, 1731, in her 83d year and was buried in the Coggeshall cemetery. She had by her former marriage Mary Sturgis, who married Josias³ Coggeshall. Major John had a farm in the southern part of Newport, which his father had formerly held. He held many offices in the colony and was deputy governor, 1686 and 1689-90. He was several times treasurer and general assistant, and one of the petitioners to the new charter granted by Charles II in 1663. In May, 1684, two majors of militia were appointed, John Greene for the mainland and John Coggeshall for the island, hence his title. He was one of the five Rhode Island delegates to the first council held by Governor Andros. At the time of his death his holdings had increased to five hundred ten acres. 5. JOSHUA COGGESHALL (John), of Portsmouth, R. I., was born Essex Co., England, about 1623, came to this country with

HOMESTEADS OF THREE SONS OF JOSHUA, SON OF JOHN

At the top of the page is a photograph of the house of Daniel³, built on the homestead portion of his father's farm. In the center is shown the house of John², built to the south of Daniel's. These two farms are now owned by Mr. Bradford Norman. At the bottom is the house of Joshua², which lay to the south of John's. It burned a few years ago, after having been in the family for about two hundred and fifty years. This property is now owned by Mr. William his father in the ship Lyon on September 16, 1632, died Portsmouth, R. I., of Measels, on May 1, 1688, and was buried on his own grounds at Portsmouth, R. I.; married (1) at the house of his brother-in-law, Peter Easton, in Newport, R. I.; on December 22, 1652, JOAN WEST, daughter of Matthew West, of Newport, R. I. She died Portsmouth, R. I., April 24, 1676, aged 45 years. He married (2) in his own house at Portsmouth, R. I., June 21, 1676, REBECCA RUSSELL, a Quakeress from Hawkshead, Lancashire, England. She afterwards moved to Lewes, Del., with her two children, and married Thomas Harford, of Lewes, Del. He held several minor offices, but devoted most of his time to farming. After his father's death, he purchased a farm of about two hundred acres near the boundary of Newport and Portsmouth, and at the time of his death it had been increased to about three hundred sixty acres. He made his home but a few rods from the shore — not far from the Cornell farm at the north. The cellar and well of the house can still be seen. He left the farm to three of his sons in equal share. Daniel was given the homestead portion, and later on built a house near the road. This house is still standing. The farm is known as the Redwood Farm, deriving the name from Abraham Redwood who purchased it of the Coggeshall heirs. He was the founder of the Redwood Library of Newport. A lane leads from the road, and at the south of it, not far from the old house, was the family cemetery where it is supposed Joshua and his family were buried. The next farm south was given to his son John, whose house was built near the road. This house is also standing and these two farms of Daniel and John are now owned by Mr. Bradford Norman. The headstones of the graves of John and his wife Mary are still standing, only a short distance west of the house.

Joshua's farm was at the south. His house was only a short distance from John's, a brook dividing them. It was the custom in those days to locate the home near a spring or brook. This farm is still in the family of Mr. William Coggeshall, having passed from generation to generation by will or deed. The old farm house was standing till within a few years, when it was destroyed by fire. A copy of the will of Joshua, son of President John, will be found in the Appendix.

"Abraham Redwood, came to Newport, R. I., to live before he was twenty years of age, and he continued to live there until he was about seventy-nine years old, in a style of opulence becoming his fortune, mixed with the elegant simplicity of the Quaker. His town house and country-house indicated the riches and taste of the owner. The latter, now called the 'Redwood Farm,' was purchased in the year 1654, by Joshua Coggeshall, one of the first settlers of Rhode Island, and descended to Daniel Coggeshall, who in the year 1743 conveyed the said farm to Abraham Redwood, of Newport, R. I., for the sum of sixty-five hundred pounds currency of New England. The deed is dated November 1743, and is on record in the Town Clerk's Office in Portsmouth, R. I.

New Jail (N. Y.). July 2, 1776.

Dear Governor Morris:

Residing peaceably upon Long Island I was taken prisoner brought to town on Sunday Evening and confined in Jail. As there neither is nor can be any crime alleged against me I flatter myself that for merely being a servant to his Majesty it cannot be the intention of the Congress to keep me in this situation, you may be assured that I am in a very bad state of health and my constitution unable to sustain the dismal and weary hours of a prison. This added to the precarious situation of every person confined here at present makes me more than anxious to be free. I make no doubt of your readiness to afford every generous and humane assistance to relieve me.

Wishing you all good health and happiness, I am, dear Sir, your most obedient humble servant.

She was born Portsmouth, R. I., June, 1721; died Newport, R. I., December 6, 1780.

Mr. Coggeshall, for many years resided in Newport, R. I., and was on a visit to some of his children when he died. He had eleven daughters; many of them were of more than ordinary height, and he was often heard pleasantly to remark that he considered himself more favored than most men "as he had sixty feet of girls." His house was situated on a corner lot, the entrance to which bore the name "Coggeshall Gate." It was about a quarter of a mile from the Coggeshall Cemetery.*

* DOMESTIC SLAVERY: The following is copied from the Friend's Records, of Newport, R. I.:

"To all Christian people to whom this may come, know ye, that I, James Coggeshall, of Newport, in the county of Newport, in the Colony of Rhode Island, &c., have in my possession one negro woman, called Meriah, who, according to the laws of said colony and customs of the same, is deemed a slave and as my property; but believing it to be contrary to true Christianity, and the divine injunctions of the author thereof, to hold mankind as my property, or continue her in a state so as to be subjected to slavery after my decease, and in consideration thereof, and other causes me thereunto moving, I do for myself, my heirs, executors and administrators, manumit release and discharge the aforesaid negro from state of slavery, and hereby declare her to be henceforth a free woman; as amply and as fully as if she had been born of free parents; and I now for myself, my heirs, executors and administrators, warrant, secure, and defend her, the said negro woman from claims of right, title or property, in her, or any person whatsoever so claiming, or pretending from, by or under me.

In witness thereof I have hereunto set my hand, this fourth day of the fourth month, called April, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five.

James Coggeshall.

In presence of us,
 Henry V. Allen, Jr.,
 John Gould."

* The father of Ruth Coggeshall Greene, was a Quaker and as it was against his religious belief, did not take part in the Revolutionary War. He remained at home during that time, and while the British were in possession of Newport he was forced to have a certain number of the Officers quartered with him. At this time Ruth was about twenty-four years of age. One day, one of the younger officers attempted to be free with her, and he tipped her chair; she warned him to beware; he then proposed a kiss; this was too much for the Quaker maiden; she seized a large pair of tongs, and hitting him over the head, felled him to the floor, and for three days he was not to be seen. After this she was an honored maiden; and dubbed "The Little Rebel General." Ever after this the greatest respect was shown her. Her father's grounds alone escaped the hands of the destroyer, his orchard being the only one left to bear fruit at the close of the war. She was a woman of exemplary character, and was noted for her cheerful temperament, courageous bearing, and above all for her purity of character. At the time the British were bombarding Newport she took her station at the scuttle window and watched the cannon balls while they fell in every direction, some passing over the house.

Copy of Friends Records, Portsmouth Monthly Meeting.

"Monthly Meeting held at Portsmouth, 20 2m. 1708.

"It is the sense of this meeting yt whereas Mercy freeborn now Coggeshall daughter of Gideon freeborn has proseeded in marriage with Thomas Coggeshall, Corporal of the train band contrary to the good order of friends yt friends ought not send or approve to deale with her but in as much as she has run out of the order of friends and so of unity. Do think it most orderly yt she voluntarily give satisfaction in writing against next montly meeting and John Stanton and John Howlet are appointed to have a paper of condemnation ready drawn up against said Mercy and bring to the montly meeting and yt friends may proceed therein as they shall see good."

She signed a satisfactory paper.

"15th of 4 mo. 1708,

Thomas Coggeshall Intruding himself into our montly meeting upon wh. occasion presumptuously taking a paper out of a friends hand did after a rude manner carry away s' paper but several fds together with Giles Slocumb, Assistant followed him and strictly Demanding s' paper he did do it again."

Hon. James Davenport, the fourth child of Hon. Abraham and Elizabeth (Huntington) Davenport, was born in Stamford, Conn., October 12, 1758, and was graduated from Yale in 1779. Like his father and brother John, he was an earnest patriot, and during the Revolution was employed in the commissary department. His tastes were especially literary; and though much in public life, having been a lawyer by profession, with the office of the judge of the court of common pleas, a member of the state legislature in both houses, and a member of the national congress, he still found time to make himself one of the most intelligent men of his time upon all subjects that received the attention of scholars and thinkers. He was fellow of Yale College from 1793 until his death. He married (1) May 7, 1780, Abigail Fitch,* who died November 1782. The only child of his first wife was named Betsey Coggeshall Davenport; she became the wife of Charles W. Apthorp, of Boston, Mass.

LXII

255. MAJOR* JOHN COGGESHALL (Josias, Josias, Joshua, John), of New Bedford, Mass., was born Newport, R. I., October 5,

* The following interesting and historically important bit of John Coggeshall's life as described by himself has been preserved:

"In 1767 I then lived in Newport, I saw the Kings Carge chase a sloop from the West Indies and she was hauled on the wharf and carried on the Common and burned. I also saw the King's tender of the sloop Liberty of 10 guns chase a vessel to the wharf, the crew were then driven from her and she was set on fire and burned. She belonged to the Senegal 44. I saw three houses of the King's officers levelled and tore to pieces and their likenesses burned on the gallows.

"In 1770 I came to Bedford, I was 14 that year, I was called in the train band under Capt. Cornish, a King's captain. In 1775 I enlisted in a minute company under Thomas Kempton and learned to exercise by John Salings, a British soldier that deserted from the British army in Boston. In April 19, the battle was fought, on the 20th at night, the news got to Bedford, and on the 21st sixty of us turned out to go to assis them and went as far as Braintree, and formed they were beat into Boston. Our captain went that night and saw Hancock, Warren, Ward, and Thomas at Roxbury, and got orders for us to go and enlist for eight months, and we joined Col. Donaldson's regiment. The 17th of June I saw the Battle of Bunker Hill. I next went on Lighthouse Island with Major Tupper with 320 men; we took 28 prisoners and killed 7 and we had one killed and some wounded and we came very near being cut off. I served eight months and came home. I next, in 1776, in March, volunteered my services, the 16th at night, on Dorchester and hove up a battery, in the morning of the 17th we gave them some shot and demanded the surrender of the town which they agreed to give up in a certain number of hours. I went in with the first regiment and took possession of the town."

1757; died New Bedford, Mass., July 13, 1830; married Scituate, Mass., ABIGAIL HAYDEN, daughter of Joseph and Lettice Hayden of Scituate, Mass.

"At the outbreak of the Revolution in 1775, my father, then only nineteen years of age, voluntarily joined a company of his townsmen under the command of Captain Samuel Peck. This company, augmented by a considerable number of volunteers and enlisted men, formed a portion of Colonel Hinman's regiment, under the supervision of a committee appointed by the legislature of Connecticut, then in session. They left Milford in October, and marched through the wilderness to strengthen the garrison at Ticonderoga, which had been previously captured by Colonel Ethan Allen, on the night of the 9th of May, 1775. After remaining there all winter, and enduring many hardships and much suffering, they returned home the next spring in a destitute condition, to repose for a brief time. . . .

"In 1777 a small fort was erected at the entrance of Milford Harbor. This battery was commanded by James Davidson, a veteran shipmaster, to protect the port and its vicinity from the marauding ravages of the small British vessels and boats, which at this time infested our waters. In this fort my father served for a short period, but finding the situation too inactive for his desires of enterprise and distinction, he procured a substitute, and joined the armed sloop 'Guilford' as chief mate, under the command of William Nott, Esq. This vessel was armed and equipped by the State of Connecticut, and commissioned by Governor Trumbull in May, 1779, to cruise in Long Island Sound to protect the trade and commerce of the American Colonies, as the States were called at that period. Captain Nott was ordered to take, burn, sink and destroy the common enemy wherever he could be found within the waters of Long Island Sound, and also to protect the shores from the assaults and depredations of the British and their adherents, and to report progress from time to time to the Governor of the State.

"In this service my father was employed for several months, under two commanders, Captain William Nott, of Milford, and Captain David Hawley, I think, from Fairfield or Stamford. . . .

"After making several cruises in this armed sloop, my father, desiring a wider field of daring enterprise, joined the brig 'New Defence,' on the 7th of October, 1779, as sailing-master's mate, with Captain Charles Pond, of Milford. . . . Not long after leaving port, while cruising off Sandy Hook, New York, she fell in with and engaged a larger English brig of war. It certainly would have been more prudent to have avoided an engagement with an enemy so superior in size and force to the frail little brig 'New Defence,' but the gallant Captain Pond and his gallant officers and crew thought otherwise. With this determination they continued the action at close quarters for more than an hour. During the fight the sailing-master of the 'New Defence' was killed, and many of the crew were wounded or disabled. The sail and rigging were so cut to pieces by the round and grape shot of the enemy, that the little brig became unmanageable, and was compelled to surrender to superior force and numbers. A few days after her capture she arrived in New York, where the captain and first lieutenant were forthwith paroled or exchanged, while all the other officers and men were immediately transferred to the 'Jersey,' then lying in the Wallabout, where, during a long and dreary winter these men were confined in that pestilent prison-ship, with scarcely enough food and clothing to sustain life. In addition to all other complicated evils, my father was seized with smallpox, which reduced him to death's doors, so that when exchanged in the spring, he was so weak he was hardly able to walk. On the return home to Milford he was so terribly marked with the effects of the disease, that it was with difficulty that his friends could recognise him. . . .

"After the peace was proclaimed in 1783, my father retired to the peaceful avocation of private life, and was occupied as a shipmaster for several years. He commanded sundry brigs and schooners from Connecticut to the West Indies, and was generally successful in these operations. Having acquired considerable property in the business as captain and supercargo, he purchased three or four brigs and schooners and employed them in the same trade while he remained on shore to direct and manage these vessels for the mutual interest of all those concerned in the same trade. . . . For example, one of my father's vessels, a large schooner called the 'Laura' took a cargo from Connecticut to Martinique, where it was sold and reinvested in sugar and coffee. On her return passage, a few days after leaving port she was captured by a British cruiser, carried into Montserrat and there both vessel and cargo were condemned, for no other reason than that she had been trading at a French island. Not long after this unjust act, another vessel of his, called the 'Two Friends' was taken by the French, carried into St. Martins and there condemned, for no other reason, but that she had been trading at the English island. . . . These losses soon stripped my father of his fortune, and threw those dependent on him almost penniless upon the world, to gain their bread the best way they could."

425. CAPT. CALEB COGGESHALL (Job, Caleb, John, Joshua, John), of North Carolina, Newport, R. I., and New York City, was born Nantucket, Mass., August 28, 1758; died New York City, January 1, 1847; and was buried in the Friends Grounds, at Houston, N. Y.; married Nantucket, Mass., October 3, 1793, ELIZABETH HOSIER, daughter of Giles and Elizabeth (Mitchell) Hosier. She was born Newport, R. I., March 4, 1770; died New York City, N. Y., June 6, 1851.

Elizabeth Hosier Coggeshall was a minister of the Society of Friends, active in the old world, and in our own country, visiting meetings and families, where there was a settlement of Friends. During a period of thirteen years she visited all the meetings of Friends in America. Her second pilgrimage to England was made in 1813, when the war between England and America was in progress, and transportation was difficult, application was made to the Government, and "Elizabeth Coggeshall" was permitted to take passage in company with prisoners of war. There is a beautiful sketch of her life in the "Memorial of the Monthly Meeting" of New York, published in 1852.

426. TRISTRAM COGGESHALL (Job, Caleb, John, Joshua, John), of Nantucket, Mass., Virginia, Guilford Co., N. C., and Wayne Co., Ind., was born Nantucket, Mass., March 2, 1762; died Wayne Co., Ind., January 11, 1850; married (1) in Virginia, about 1790, LUCY TERRELL, daughter of Edward and Sarah Terrell. She was born in Virginia, October 15, 1775; died Guilford Co., N. C., July 31, 1807. He married (2) Guilford, N. C., about 1812, ELIZABETH GARDENER, daughter of Sylvanus and Hannah Gardener.

She was born Guilford, N. C., April 23, 1780; died Wayne Co., Ind., May 22, 1848.

Tristram Coggeshall, while engaged as a sailor on a merchant vessel on the high seas, was with others taken prisoner during the Revolutionary War, by a British man-of-war, which was anchored about half a mile from shore, off the southerly part of the eastern coast of the United States. During the night before the vessel departed to parts unknown to them, he and one or two others of his comrades determined to escape from their captivity, even at the risk of their lives, so they resolved to venture to let themselves overboard into the sea and swim to the shore, in which attempt he succeeded, hearing nothing more of his companions. Having reached what proved to be the coast of Georgia, he found himself in a wilderness of canebrake, inhabited perhaps, only by wild animals. He knew not which way to go for safety. After wandering about for some time, to his surprise and joy, he came in contact with a couple of American Military Officers, who conducted him to their camp, not far distant where he remained a few days, to recuperate, after which he was escorted to a settlement in Virginia, where in time he married. A few years after he moved to Surry, now Yadkin Co., North Carolina, where he remained until 1817, when he emigrated with his large family of children to Wayne Co., Indiana, where he passed the remainder of his life, enduring the toils and privations incident to a pioneer life for several years, in opening out and building up a comfortable home in the almost unbroken forest of the then far West.

508. WILLIAM COGGESHALL (James, Major Newby, William, John, Major John, John), of Lewistown, Pa., Akron, Massillon, Springfield, and Kenton, Ohio, was born Bristol, R. I., September 3, 1795; died Akron, Ohio, August 18, 1886; married Bloomsburg, Columbia Co., Pa., November 22, 1820, ELIZA GROTZ, daughter of Abraham and Matilda (Kuhn) Grotz. She was born Easton, Pa., April 1, 1803; died Massillon, Ohio, September 1, 1857.

Mr. Coggeshall first settled in Lewistown, Pa., and pursued the wagon and carriage business. He then removed to Akron, Ohio, in 1841, and in 1855 he moved to Massillon, Ohio, to Springfield, Ohio in 1862, and engaged in the paint business. Later he lived with his daughter Mrs. Snodgrass, in Kenton, Ohio, until her death. After that he lived with his daughter Mrs. Warner, at Akron, Ohio, where he died.*

*At the time of his death, he was the oldest man but one in Akron. The following notice appeared in a local paper: "Died at 7 o'clock p.m. Wednesday, August 18th, 1886, at 121 Walnut Street. William Coggeshall at the age of nearly 91 years. The deceased was born at Mount Hope Bay, R. I., Sept. 3rd, 1795. When quite a young man his parents removed to the state of New York, where he grew to manhood and learned the trade of carriage making, at which trade, after concluding his apprenticeship, he established himself at Lewistown, Pa. Here he was married to Elizabeth Grotz, whose parents and other relatives afterwards emigrated to Ohio, settling in Greene Township in this county. Mr. Coggeshall with his family followed them in 1814, locating in Akron, and in 1843, erecting a house on South Broadway, now belonging to Mrs. H. E. Merrill and known as No. 131. Some three or four years later Mr. Coggeshall exchanged places with the late David Miller for a small farm in Wadsworth. Here he invented the improvement in a wheat drill machine, for the manufacture of which an arrangement was subsequently made with Messrs. Ruessel and Co. of Massillon, whither he removed with his family. Here he buried his wife in 1858, and a year later he removed with his remaining family to Springfield, Clark Co., Ohio, where he commenced to manufacture mineral paints and in which business he was not only a pioneer but for many years, very successful. Retiring from business some 15 years ago, Mr. Coggeshall took up his residence with a married daughter at Kenton, Ohio, upon whose death a few years ago, he returned to Massillon, to spend the rest of his days with his only surviving child (out of fourteen) Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Warner,

Mr. Coggeshall was commander of the brig Nymph which was owned by Capt. George Coggeshall and Richard M. Lawrence, Esq., having been purchased by them in New York, on August 22, 1823. Capt. George Coggeshall gives the following account of his last days:

"It will be recollected that while lying in St. Thomas, on the 10th of January, 1824, I discharged Captain Coggeshall at his own request. From that port he returned home to Milford, where he soon sickened and died, leaving a wife and son. On my return to New York on being made acquainted with the early and unexpected death of my young friend and cousin, I wrote as applicable to him, the following:

EPITAPH:

Here in this lonely, humble bed,
Where myrtle and wild roses grow,
A son of Neptune rests his head,
For, reader, 'tis his watch below.

Long hath he done his duty well,
And weathered many a stormy blast;
But now, where gentle breezes swell,
He's safely moored in peace at last.

Tread lightly, sailors, o'er his grave,
His virtues claim a kindred tear;
And yet mourn a brother brave,
Who rests from all his labors here.

* Two generations back the name was LA PLACE; their ancestors were French Huguenots.

Though here below his body lies,
 To mingle with the dust,
 His soul has blown to brighter skies
 To dwell among the just.

She was born in Connecticut, July 4, 1804; died at St. Luke's Hospital, New Bedford, Mass., October 4, 1885, and was buried in Newport, R. I., Cemetery.

James Coggeshall came to New York from his native city, Newport, R. I., about the year 1827. For some time he was the keeper of the City Prison, and subsequently was appointed in the United States Government as inspector of lights in the District of New York, which embraced a portion of the New Jersey Coast bordering on New York Harbor. He was more or less in politics during his whole life, being an ardent old-line Whig, and lent a helping hand to Horace Greely in his newspaper enterprises. He was also, for a period, interested financially in the establishment of a concern that commenced the manufacture of brass lamp fixtures, mantel candelabra, etc. With some Newport parties, he helped organize and promote the Aquidneck Bank in that city. In his early life, after his marriage to his second wife, Sarah Maria Francis, he resided in White Street, New York City, moving thence to 221 Bowery and about 1850 bought a home at 63 Rivington Street, where he died.

967. DAVID COGGESHALL (Joshua, Joseph, Joshua, Capt. Thomas, Joshua, Joshua, John), of Middletown, R. I., was born Middletown, R. I., October 28, 1818; died Middletown, R. I., on Wednesday morning, July 11, 1906; married Middletown, R. I., March 12, 1851, by Rev. John O. Charles, SARAH CHASE BAILEY, daughter of George Irish and Mary S. (Chase) Bailey. She was born Middletown, R. I., December 1, 1825. Mr. Coggeshall cultivated one of the most extensive farms in Rhode Island, composed for the most part of ancestral estates. While by no means obliged to do so, he seemed to take pleasure in demonstrating his physical powers for work. On several occasions he was offered town offices and nomination for the General Assembly, but he always declined. He was for many years a director of the Newport National Bank, and at the time of his death was known as a man of considerable wealth.

She was born Worthington, Mass., June 12, 1837; died New York City, N. Y., December 22, 1861, and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery. (No issue by second marriage.)

When a young man, Mr. Coggeshall entered the wholesale clothing house of Lewis B. Brown as clerk. The store was located on the east side of Broadway between John and Fulton Streets. Later he became a partner in the business, the firm name being Lewis B. Brown & Co. About 1855, the firm moved to 31 Chambers Street, and there they continued business until about 1863. The trade of this firm was almost exclusively with the South and the continuance of the Civil War finally compelled the abandonment of the business. Later Mr. Brown was very successful in developing the well-known resort on the Jersey Coast known as Elberon (L. B. Brown). In 1864-65 he was associated with his brother-in-law in the flour business at 9 South Street. From 1866 to early 1868, he was again in the clothing business under the firm name of Faile, Coggeshall & Co., at 53 Chambers Street. He then became secretary of the Underground Railroad Co., an enterprise in which his former partner, Mr. Brown, was interested, but which did not prove to be a success. A few months previous to his death, he became secretary of the Sampson Scale Co., with an office opposite the City Hall. After his marriage in 1843, he lived first in West Tenth Street, south side and east of Sixth Avenue. About 1850 he removed to what was then 146 East Nineteenth Street, and in 1854 he was living at 123 East Nineteenth Street, north side near Third Avenue. In 1857 he purchased the house at 199 East Nineteenth Street, which number was changed in 1867 to 318, south side, east of Second Avenue. Here he passed the remainder of his days.

Charles Timothy Brooks, ANNA GARDNER CHASE, daughter of William Gorham and Elizabeth Shepard (Congdon) Chase, of Nantucket, Mass. She was born Nantucket, Mass., on the Pocono Farm, November 24, 1841. From the time of his return to Newport, after graduating from the New Bedford High School, till his health began to fail, Mr. Coggeshall was closely identified with every movement of public interest. He was a member of the School Board for fourteen years and an earnest advocate of the latest and most approved methods of teaching. He served in the Common Council for sixteen years and was Mayor of the City for three years. He was largely interested in the opening of Ocean Avenue, or as it is popularly called, "The Ocean Drive," in the establishment for the Wickford Steamboat and Railroad Co., in the transfer of Coasters Harbor Island to the United States Government for a Naval Training Station, and in the agreement of the City Council with George H. Norman for the establishment of the Newport Water Works. He was actively interested in the establishing of the Aquidneck National Bank of which he was a director from the beginning and president for twenty-six years, and for many years he also served as president of the Addington Savings Bank. He was a member of the State Board of Charities and Corrections for twenty-four years and tried in every way to better the condition of the criminal and unfortunate, after making high inspection of the institutions at Cranston to assure himself that the inmates were properly watched and cared for. He was first appointed postmaster by President Lincoln and served in that capacity through successive administrations for more than twenty-five years. He was a member of the old Unitarian Church and later of the Channing Memorial Church, serving at different times on the board of trustees and as secretary of the corporation.

1013. CHARLES WILLIAM COGGESHALL (Timothy, Thomas, Gideon, Capt. Thomas, Joshua, Joshua, John), of New York City, N. Y., and New Bedford, Mass., was born New York City, N. Y., on Saturday morning, December 20, 1834; married New Bedford, Mass., January 24, 1860, by Rev. James White, ANNIE HOWLAND SANFORD, daughter of Thomas and Lydia (Howland) Sanford, of New Bedford, Mass. She was born New Bedford, Mass., January 20, 1838.

Mr. Coggeshall was educated in the schools of Newport, R. I. He went to New Bedford in 1851 and became a tinsmith, working as an apprentice and journeyman for twelve years. In 1863 he helped to establish a tinsmith and plumbing business under the firm name of Tobey & Coggeshall. Some years later, after the death of Mr. Tobey, the partnership of Coggeshall and Maxfield, & Co., was established, and an extensive and successful business developed. In 1873 Mr. Coggeshall was successful in developing a large tract of land in the northwest section of New Bedford, Mass. He was a member of the City Council for the years 1875-76-77, and a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1885-86-87-88. He was a strong candidate, as is revealed by the fact that he always secured the largest number of votes, yet on election day he could always be found attending to his usual vocation and not giving any concern to the election.

1234. DR. BELA COGGESHALL (Hon. Bela, Rev. Archibald, Dunlap, Benjamin, John, Joshua, John), of Flint, Mich., was born

Groveland, Mich., March 31, 1842; married (1) Davisburg, Mich., October 17, 1866, MARTHA ELIZABETH PEPPER, daughter of Robert and Lydia (Erwin) Pepper. She was born Springfield, Mich., April 14, 1845; died Flint, Mich., October 14, 1901.* He married (2) Flint, Mich., July 3, 1902, MRS. EVA (KINNIE) ANDERSON, widow of Lebbius Anderson, and daughter of Timothy and Charlotte (Borney) Kinnie, of Washington, D. C. She was born Elba, Mich., March 18, 1858.

Dr. Coggeshall was educated in Charleston Academy and the Flint high schools. In 1864-5 he took a course of medical lectures in the University of Michigan, and in 1866 received the degree of M.D. from Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, one of the best medical schools in America. He practised his profession for eight years in Gaines Village, coming to Flint in 1874, where he gained such a wide reputation that he was called in consultation as far as Washington, D. C.

He was for many years editor of medical and sanitary departments in some of the Flint papers, and became eminent in sanitary matters. In 1881 he prepared and read a paper on "Consumption, Is It Contagious?" before the State Public Health Association. He contended that it was, and this was a year before the germs were discovered. This paper attracted great attention and was published in the leading journals of this country and France. The Michigan State Board of Health published it in their proceedings, and have adopted his ideas, as have many other states.

In 1882 he prepared another paper on the same subject, which he read before the National Public Health Association at Indianapolis. These papers gave the doctor a national reputation. He was a member of the leading medical and public health associations of the country, and was president of the Academy of Medicine and also health officer of the City of Flint, county physician, and United States pension examiner surgeon for eight years.

The doctor was also a mason of high degree, and a member of the Odd Fellows and Maccabees. He was active in church work and to his indefatigable labors the Garland Street Methodist Church is indebted for its proud position as one of the leading churches of the city. For many years he was editor of the Methodist, one of the best religious monthlies of the state. The doctor was an extensive traveller and wrote numerous accounts of his travels for the public press.

* The funeral services were held at the Garland Street M. E. Church on the thirty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, October 17, 1901, and were attended by many hundred sorrowing friends, who covered her casket with floral offerings. Her parents emigrated from Ireland in the first quarter of the century and settled in Springfield, Mich., when it was still a wilderness. She joined the Methodist Church in her eleventh year.

APPENDIX TO SECTION II
COPY OF THE WILL OF
MAJOR JOHN COGGESHALL

I, John Coggeshall of Newport in the County of Rhode Island and Providence Plantation etc., Senr. being aged and weak of body but of sound sense and Memory through the goodness of God to me and altho' I had a former Will some years since but several changes hath fell out since that which causeth me to make this my last will and Testament hereby revoking all former Wills made by writing word of mouth or otherwise whatsoever, and this to stand as my last Will and Testament,

Imprimis: — I Bequeath my soul to the Lord that gave me life and being and my Body to the Earth to be decently buried by my Executrix and Executor hereinafter named, on the East side by my Wife Patience Coggeshall (so called) and my Will is to be buried without Soldiery in Arms and concerning my Real and Personal Estate which God hath been pleased to bestow upon me I do Order and Dispose of in Manner as followeth,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Freegift Coggeshall (so called) Eldest son of the aforesaid Patience, deceased, a part of my farm I now dwell in bounded as followeth, to begin at the mouth of the river which parts Jahhell Brenton's land (lately purchased of Richard Mew) and mine and so northerly crookedly as the river runs until it comes to the corner of the Stone wall which lies Westerly from my old dwelling house and from thence Northerly upon the Stone wall (and a row of trees by it) being on the North side of the house the said Freegift dwells in and so to continue a Rod from said Wall to the end thereof and from thence still on a straight line until it comes to a fence set up by said Freegift of posts and rails so from thence southerly until it comes to a stone wall and so Eastwardly upon said Wall until it comes to the sea and so rounding upon the Sea until it comes to the aforesaid River, All which said part of my farm so bounded the aforesaid Freegift shall possess and enjoy presently after my decease, with all the buildings fences privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto in anywise appertaining and to his Heirs Male lawfully begotten of his body forever, the said Freegift paying such legacies as I shall hereafter order him to pay,

Item: — I give and will unto James Coggeshall (so called) second son to the aforesaid Patience two pounds in current silver money of

New England to be paid by the aforesaid Freegift presently after my decease if demanded by my son said James, he the said James (but especially his wife) having notoriously abused myself, my wife and brother intimating as if we were no better than thieves and murderers as may more particularly appear in a wicked false scandalous letter (Jezeble like) she sent to my wife written with her own hands her husband maintaining her in it, all which we know and God knows is false, and we are innocent, so far in all probabilities the breach might have been made up but since to provoke me further she hath by a pretence borrowed a book to look something in it she kept it two or three days but when it came home, We found six choice manuscripts cut out which we very much prized, as a Book of Physic, Dary, Distillations, Dying all sorts of colors, cooking, which being demanded by myself she put me off with slight answers neither denying nor owning, her husband knowing all those things, but no course he takes to satisfy his parents, but to take her part in all her wicked false charges doing their utmost endeavors to set my neighbors children and grandchildren against us, all raised and fermented by her wicked jealous spirit crying out of wrongs but will name no particular and to provoke further neither of them hath come to see their father near upon three years though sometimes near to death, all which and several other provocations which is not convenient here to be inserted gives me just cause to disinherit him as far as I have done,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Benj. Coggeshall (so called) third son of the aforesaid Patience another part of my farm I now dwell in bounded as followeth, first I give unto the said Benj. all that field called Vaughans field bounded on the East upon John Mumford's Land, Northerly upon Iereh Bull's Land, South upon stones laid towards making a stone wall, untill it meets with the aforesaid John Mumford's land, Westerly upon land now in the possession of the aforesaid James, Likewise I give to the aforesaid Benj. all that Lane (as it is now fenced) which leads to the aforesaid Vaughan's field to the place where we used to catch sheep, on the south side of the said James his house, Further I give unto the aforesaid Benj. another part of my farm bounded as followeth, to begin at the rock which lies East from the burying place where my father and mother was buried and from thence on a straight line Westerly until it comes a rod Northerly from a little gate which opens into the highway which leads into the Neck and Jahheel Brenton, Esq.'s farm, etc. and so running upon the highway until it comes to my gate which leads to the town of Newport and so Southerly upon the stone wall until it meets with the Rock aforesaid all which two parcels of land the said Benj. Coggeshall (so called) shall possess and enjoy presently after my decease, with all the buildings, fences, privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto in any wise appertaining and to his heirs made lawfully begotten of his body forever, further my will is that the said Benj. shall have free liberty to mow four loads of marsh and two loads of creek grass, with free ingress and regress to carry it where he thinks convenient forever he paying what legacies I shall hereafter order him to pay,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Joseph Coggeshall (so called) eldest son of my wife Mary Coggeshall (so called) the moiety or half of a piece of land lying in the town of Newport which I purchased of Walter Clark bounded on the North upon Mayor William Wanton's Land, Southerly upon land of mine, West on the harbor, and on the East upon the highway, being about twenty-six foot breadth next the highway, together with all the buildings which he built on it, with privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto appertaining to him his heirs and assigns forever, Further my will that the aforesaid Freegift shall pay unto the aforesaid Joseph thirty pounds in current silver money of New England the half of which is fifteen pounds to be paid twelve months after my decease and the other fifteen pounds the next year after, leaving it to the discretion of his aforesaid mother what she and his brother Abraham shall pay as further legacey to him,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Abraham Coggeshall (so called) second son of my wife Mary Coggeshall (so called) all the remaining part of my farm I now dwell in bounded as followeth, on the land of John Mumford and the sea, Southerly and Easterly upon land given to the aforesaid Freegift — Northerly and Northwesterly upon land given to the aforesaid Benjamin, Northwesterly and Southwesterly upon land of Jahheel Brenton, Esq. and Capt. John Stanton's Land, further I give unto the aforesaid Abraham all the Marsh meadows called the Marsh meadow fenced in with Stone Wall and joining the aforesaid Freegift's marshes excepting the four loads of Marsh given to the aforesaid Benjamin all which said parcels of Land so bounded the said Abraham Coggeshall (so called) shall possess and enjoy presently after my decease for himself and his heirs male lawfully begotten of his body forever Provided and my Will is that his mother Mary Coggeshall (so called) shall have the use and benefit of the new dwelling I built last until her decease and after her decease shall return to the said Abraham and his heirs male lawfully begotten of his body forever with all the buildings fences, privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto appertaining, further my will is his said mother shall have the use of a convenient place to lay her wood upon and to keep her horse a cow and some poultry and to cart her firewood as long as she liveth, She paying for the wood brought to a wharf in Newport,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Samuel Coggeshall (so called) the other moiety or half of the land I purchased of Walter Clark bounded on the east upon the highway and on the South upon Samuel Cranston's Esq. land and on the West upon the Sea or harbor and on the North upon land given to the aforesaid Joseph his brother being about twenty six feet in breadth next the highway with all the privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto appertaining and to his heirs and assigns forever, to possess presently after my decease further my will that the aforesaid Benjamin shall pay unto the aforesaid Samuel forty pounds in current silver money of New England to say twenty pounds a year after my decease and the other twenty pounds the next year after but if the said Samuel (being abroad not knowing where he is) should be deceased the forty pounds which the said Benjamin was to have paid the said Samuel he shall pay unto the aforesaid Joseph and Elisha Coggeshall (so called) in equal proportions leaving it to his aforesaid Mother what she and her aforesaid son Abraham shall pay unto the aforesaid Samuel as a further legacy,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Elisha Coggeshall (so called) a fourth son of the aforesaid Mary Coggeshall (so called) a piece of land which I purchased of Major Nathaniel Coddington being sixty foot one way and fifty foot the other as may appear in a deed of sale under said Coddington's hand and seal with all the buildings, privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto appertaining to possess and enjoy presently after my decease and his heirs and assigns forever, Further my will is that the aforesaid Freegift shall pay unto the aforesaid Elisha forty pounds in Current silver money of New England to say twenty pounds three years after my decease and the other twenty pounds months after next leaving it to his aforesaid mother's discretion what she and his aforesaid brother Abraham shall and will give unto the aforesaid Elisha as a further legacy,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto Rebecca wife to John Reynolds, to Patience wife to Samuel Rathbone, to Content wife to Samuel Norton, each twenty pounds to be paid by the aforesaid Freegift to say ten pounds each two years after my decease and the other ten pounds each to be paid a year or twelve months after, as an addition to what I have given them before the twenty pounds apiece in current silver money of New England,

Item: — I give and bequeath unto three daughters of Mary Bull deceased wife of Ephraim Bull five pounds apiece to be paid them by the aforesaid Benjamin Coggeshall in current silver money of New England,

Item: — I give unto the aforesaid Benjamin my seal gold ring and to the aforesaid Joseph my buff belt with the furniture belonging to it, and to the aforesaid Abraham my plate buttons and the little silver dram cup and to the aforesaid Elisha my silver shoe buckles and shirt buttons, Further my will is that the aforesaid Joseph, Abraham, Samuel and Elisha shall have all my wearing apparell both woolen and linen to be equally divided betwixt them after my decease,

Item: — I give unto the aforesaid Abraham all my tacklings belonging to husbandry, as cart, plows, yokes chains with all other tools &c. Also 4 sound working oxen, four cows, fifty good sound ewe sheep al to be delivered said Abraham presently after my decease provided and my will is that the aforesaid Benjamin shall have the use of said cart and oxen at convenient times to cart his own firewood fencing stuff and other necessary things for his own use, Doing the oxen no wrong which if he do to make them good again and if he breaks either cart or tacklings to mend them as they were before. Further — my mind and will is presently after my decease all my personal estate now in my possession (except what is disposed of this my will) as sheep, neat cattle, horse kind, cattle, etc., with all my silver money and plate likewise my household utensils of what nature or kind whatsoever as bedding, pewter pots and kettles and I give unto the aforesaid Mary Coggeshall (so called) whom I make my executrix and join with her, her aforesaid son Abraham executor of this my last will and testament to the interest that all my just debts be paid, legacies raised and duly paid. Further my will is that what of my estate afore given to the aforesaid Mary Coggeshall (so called) shall remain in her custody, upon her decease shall be equally divided betwixt the aforesaid Benjamin (if he be married and hath a child) and her aforesaid four sons, viz: Joseph, Abraham, Samuel and Elisha with four daughters to say Mary the wife of Josias Coggeshall, Rebecca wife to John Reynolds, Patience wife to Samuel Rathbone and to Content wife to Samuel Norton. Further — my will is that what I have given unto the aforesaid Mary Coggeshall (so called) shall be in lieu of all thirds or dowries whatsoever which may in any wise be demanded by said Mary Coggeshall. Further — my mind and will is that if the aforesaid Benjamin should de cease without issue male then his said portion of land given to him as aforesaid shall be and accrue to the aforesaid Samuel Coggeshall (so called) and to his heirs male lawfully begotten of his body forever paying and doing in all respects as the aforesaid Benjamin was to do but considering the said Samuel hath been abroad in the world several years and not knowing if dead or alive when knowing of his decease and not learning of him in a considerable season then if said Benjamin should decease without issue male of his body as aforesaid his portion of land shall be and accrue unto Elisha Coggeshall (so called) and to his heirs male lawfully begotten of his body forever paying and doing in all respects as the aforesaid Benjamin was to do and if the said land shall be and accrue unto Joseph Coggeshall (so called) and to his heirs male lawfully forever begotten of his body paying and doing in all respects as the said Benjamin was to do. Further — my mind and will is that if the said Abraham should decease without issue male lawfully begotten of his body forever then his aforesaid portion of land shall be and accrue to the aforesaid Joseph Coggeshall (so called) and his heirs male lawfully begotten of his body forever paying and doing in all respects as the aforesaid Abraham was to do.

Further my mind and will is that if the Aforesaid Samuel be deceased or die without issue then his portion of land of the moiety of land I purchased of Walter Clark shall be and accrue unto Joseph Coggeshall (so called) and to his heirs and assigns forever. Further — Whereas the aforesaid Benjamin and the aforesaid Abrahams portion of land hath very little good planting land in it for Indian corn and the aforesaid Freegifts portion of land is most of it rich planting land, I do order and my will is that the aforesaid Benjamin and Abraham shall have two acres apiece of good land as he shall take unto plant himself paying a reasonable rate for it such as may be judged by rational men. As for fencing, my will is that the aforesaid Freegift shall make and maintain forever a sufficient fence in all those lines where his said portion of land doth butt and bound upon the aforesaid Abraham his portion of land and the aforesaid Abraham shall make and maintain a sufficient fence forever hold the line or lines of fence where his portion of land doth butt and bound upon the aforesaid Benjamin his portion of land and the aforesaid Benjamin shall make and maintain a sufficient fence forever the other half lines of fence between him and Abraham. Also my will is that the aforesaid James his wife their heirs shall maintain forever as long as it is in their possession a sufficient fence around that five acres of land now in their possession.

Further — my will is that the heirs of the aforesaid persons concerned in fencing the one against the other shall truly perform in all respects what the aforesaid persons was to do concerning fencing.

Further — my will is that the aforesaid Freegift his heirs &c shall have free ingress and egress and regress to pass with horse or foot carting and driving of cattle, &c through the aforesaid Abrahams and Benjamins their portion of land to the town of Newport and common, doing as little damage as maybe, Also the said Mary and Abraham and Freegift heirs and the said Mary and Abrahams heirs shall have the said liberty as given said Freegifts doing as little damage as maybe.

Further — my will is that the aforesaid Freegift shall have the use of or benefit of half my great barn (to say the easterly end forever or so long as he keeps it in good repair and so long as he keeps up the southerly little door in sufficient repair) in the meantime the aforesaid Freegift shall have free ingress and regress to carry in or out of said barn what he shall see cause to put there without molestation and to thrash at convenient seasons.

Further my will is that whereas there was laid out to me a piece of land out of the common in the south rocky neck from the town of Newport containing about seventy acres rocks and all bounded east southerly and westerly upon Jahheel Brentons Esqr. land North Westerly upon Capt. Edward Pelhams land and Northerly upon land now in possession of Mr. Stephen Mumfords all which said piece of land so bounded I give and bequeath unto Benjamin and Abraham Coggeshall (so called) and to their heirs and assigns forever all the fences privileges and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto pertaining —

Further — My will is that the five acres of land and houses upon it now in the possession of the aforesaid James, my will is that when the deed made to him and his wife is finished according to the contents thereof then the said Benjamin shall possess and enjoy the aforesaid houses and five acres of land for himself and his heirs male lawfully begotten of his body forever.

Further, my will is that whereas the Aforesaid Freegift Coggeshall (so called) had delivered unto him by me when I leased unto him my farm which he now dwelleth in (being the first of March) Two hundred good ewe sheep and rams before lambing time or shearing time. Six good cows five calves and four good oxen all prized by us the aforesaid John and Freegift Coggeshall (so called) at a hundred and thirteen pound as money which said stock he was to have benefit so long as he rented that part of my farm.

Now my will is that presently after my decease all the aforesaid stock of cattle and sheep (or the worth of them) shall be equally divided between the aforesaid Freegift, Benjamin and Abraham Coggeshall (so called) desiring my overseer (hereafter named) to be helped in the dividing if they cannot agree themselves.

Further — My will is that the burying place where my mother and father etc. are buried in shall be a perpetual burying place for any of my posterity that hath a mind to be interred therein and that it shall be three rods in length from North to South and two rods and a half from East to West and what it wants of the measure as it is now fenced shall be made up on the South and West side and my will is that the said Freegift Benjamin, and Abraham Coggeshall (so called) shall set up a sufficient fence with boards and so them and their heirs to maintain it forever. I give my Indian woman

Jane to the aforesaid Mary Coggeshall (so called) and any servant man or boy that are prentice I give unto Abraham Coggeshall (so called). Lastly my desire is that my beloved friend Samuel Craston esq. and Mr. Benjamin Newberry will take pains to be overseers in helping and advising my executors and executrix for their best advantage and for a gratuity, my will is that my executrix and executors shall provide and give to them each a gold ring of about twenty shillings price apiece and in Witness that this is my last will and testament I have hereunto set my hand and seal this two and twentieth day of June one thousand seven hundred and eight.

APPENDIX TO SECTION III
COPY OF THE WILL OF JOSHUA COGGESHALL

In the name of God, I Joshua Coggeshall of Portsmouth, on R. I. in New England and being at the time of the writing hereof in a perfect memory and in right understanding and calling to mind the many inconveniences Troubles and discords that doth often arise amongst relations for want of settling setting in order disposing of these outward Temporal and worldly Estates — Therefor to prevent all future Differences that might arise for want thereof, I do make my last will and Renouncing, Declaring and by these present nulling and making void all other and former will or wills either by mouth or word of mouth or writing or otherwise Declaring this to be my last will and testament and in the first place I resign up my soul into the Almighty God and my body to the Dust to be decently interred by my executers named.

I do these presents and also order and ordain appoint my Executors to pay all my lawful Debts and also receive all such Debts as is lawfully due me.

Item — I do order and constitute ordain and appoint my loving son Daniel Coggeshall shall be my whole and sole executor to see that this my last will and testment be trully executed and fulfilled in al respects to the full meanings and true Intent thereof in all particulars.

Item — I give and bequeath to my eldest son, Joshua Coggeshall unto him and his heirs lawful begotten of his body forever, six score acre of my farm land lying and situated in the township of Newport, at the southern most end of my farm adjoining unto John Vaughans Land, the line to begin Easterly next to the Common and so to run Westerly. down to the seas with all appurtanances and priveliges belonging there to.

Item — I give and bequeath to my second son, John Coggeshall, and to his male heirs, lawfully begotten of his body, forever, six score acres of my farm land with all buildings fencing and appurtanances and privileges thereto belonging lying and situated part in the township of Newport and part in the township of Portsmouth, and adjoining Southerly upon the land given to his brother Joshua, and the line to begin Easterly next the Common, and to run Westerly down to the sea. He the said John Coggeshall, paying unto his brother Josias Coggeshall, the sum of thirty pounds ster. — in money, or in money to be paid to the said Josias Coggeshall within two years of my death, and he the said John Coggeshall, and his heir forever making and maintaining half the fence between his brother Joshua, and He. also my Will is that my said son John Coggeshall should die without male issue that then the six acres of Land before given to him shall return and be given to my son Josias Coggeshall and to his male heirs forever. He the said Josias or whomsoever shall by due right posses the said land shall pay to the female of said John or if more than one to be equally divided betwixt them the sum of thirty pounds sterling in or as money at the age of eighteen years, or at the day of their marriage.

Item — I give and bequeath unto my fourth son Daniel Coggeshall to him and to his male heirs lawfully begotten of his body forever all the remainder part of my farm land with all the buildings orchards, farmings, and all the appurtanances and privileges thereto belonging to and lying situated in the township of Portsmouth, aforesaid adjoining southerly upon the land before given to his brother John, Northerly by the land of Thomas Cornell, the said Daniel and his heirs forever making and maintaining half the fence betwixt his brother John and He. and also my will is that if my son Daniel Coggeshall should die without male issue that then the inheritance that is hereby given unto him shall be returned and be to my son Caleb Coggeshall or whomsoever shall by due right posses the said land paying unto the female of said Daniel Coggeshall or if more than one twenty pounds sterling in money or as money at the age of eighteen or at the day of their marriage.

I give and bequeath unto, my fifth son Caleb Coggeshall the sum of twenty pounds sterling in money or as money to be paid to him by my executors at the age of twenty one years.

Item — I give and bequeath unto my son Isaac Coggeshall, the sum of five pounds sterling in money or as money to be paid unto him by my executors at the age of twenty one years. I concluding that my wife Rebecca is with child and if she be and it should live I give and bequeath unto said child five shillings in money to be paid to it by my executors at the age of twenty one year and as for the bringing up of the child or children that my wife hath, I leave that to her.

Item: — I give and bequeath unto my wife Rebecca Coggeshall one feather bed with curtains and valances and bedstead and furniture belonging to the bedd, and my riding mare with side saddle and bridle and one cow and twenty ewe sheep and half the pewter, and the great chest that she called hers and all her wearing clothes both linen and woolen, and the little table with the drawer in it, and the still she brought with the iron pot belonging with it, and a small bell meat skillet with it and all this I give and bequeath, unto my wife Rebecca, besides the bed and bedding she brought with her.

Item:— I give and bequeath unto my wife, the sum of twenty pounds sterling in money, to be paid to her by my executors, ten pounds thereof to be paid to her within six months of my decease, and the other ten pounds to be paid within two years after my decease and my said wife to have the chamber rooms, where she lodges and diet and firewood to be provided for such, such as is needful for one half year after my decease.

Item:— I give unto Daniel Coggeshall my negro man called Derrick, and Joseph Johnson and all the rest of my moveable estate excepting what was disposed of, Excepting my silver beaker, which I give to my son Joshua Coggeshall.

Item:— I desire and request that loving friend Thomas Townsend and John Coggeshall, both of Portsmouth, to be overseers of this my last will, and testament. In witness whereof I the said Joshua Coggeshall, have hereto set my hand and seal, this thirtieth day of July, one thousand, six hundred and Eighty Seven.

In the presence of (Signed) Joshua Coggeshall.
