INTRODUCTORY REMARKS.

After several years of collecting, condensing and arranging, the Record is completed, ready to go out among those for whom it is intended.

Only those who have undertaken similar work can form a just estimate of the many difficulties surrounding such a task. This work was not undertaken with any expectation of gain, but solely to supply what was desired by many—a reasonably correct Record of the Dundore Family. I have my sufficient reward in the belief that I have satisfactorily accomplished that which I started out to do.

I was confronted at the outset with the absence of sufficient data to make a correct start, namely: a full and correct record of the family of our first ancestor in this country—Jacob. On this point I had been seeking information for years before sending out the circular of March, 1878.

This point was only cleared up within a year past, when the possibility of a Will being in existence was suggested,—this suggestion being followed up, and to my great satisfaction made clear what had in part been conjecture before.

The Record is now complete from Jacob down, as regards the male line. It would be a great satisfaction to have the full record of all the descendants, male and female, but it was found inexpedient to extend it beyond one generation respectively, on the female side.

It would be claiming probably too much to say that the Record is free from errors, considering the large number of names and dates, and these not always plainly written by those who furnished the data. Should there be any, those interested will do me a favor to report the same.

The system on which the Record is made up is that recommended by the Pennsylvania Historical Society, with slight modifications, and will be readily understood.

To secure the several family records and other data, I had necessarily to depend on the friendly co-operation of various members of the family; indeed, without this aid the Record would have been very incomplete. Foremost among these I name Jonathan Dundore, of Iona, Lebanon County, Adam M. Dundore, of Reading, Philip Y. Dundore, of Plainfield, Illinois, and Nathan T. Dundore, of Dundore, Snyder County; to the latter I am under special obligations.

The sources of information in Pennsylvania respecting its early settlers, are "The Colonial Records of Pennsylvania," "Pennsylvania Archives" (first and second series), and the unpublished manuscripts in possession of the "Pennsylvania Historical Society," Philadelphia; all of these have been more or less carefully searched, and the extracts herein given is all there is of reference to our family.

Any one having facts not herein stated is kindly requested to make the same known.

A BRIEF STATEMENT OF FACTS
REGARDING THE LIFE OF
JACOB DUNDORE,¹
AND EARLY HISTORY OF THE FAMILY;
TOGETHER WITH SOME FAMILY TRADITIONS AND REMARKS ON LOCAL HISTORY.

Jacob Dunder was born July 25th, 1720; was married about the year 1745 to Anna Maria ———, emigrating to this country either shortly before this event, or immediately after; that he came from a fine farming region and was a farmer himself, is the tradition frequently repeated by my Aunt Catharine Lieb (19), the oldest living representative of the family. Another universal tradition in the family is that he was of French descent. I have been thus far unsuccessful in my researches extending over a number of years, and in following up every clue, to fix upon the precise country he came from, but undoubtedly it was from one of the Rhine Provinces — Alsace or Lorraine. Settling down among an exclusively German population, and writing his name in German, are evidences that his education was in that language, leaving the inference that if born in France proper, he must have left his native country early in life, settling among Germans, and thus acquiring their language and habits.

It is the opinion of the compiler that there is information on this point extant which it is hoped this publication will bring to the light. It is more than likely that the "large bible" referred to, in the inventory, is in existence, and that it contains some written matter leading to the solution of this question.

The name appears for the first time, in any preserved record known, in the old records of the Host Church, in Berks County, this State, in the year 1749, where the birth of a child is recorded, giving "Jacob Dondeer" as the father; after this the name occurs at intervals in these records as children were born.*

The next mention of the name is in the "Unpatented Land Record," preserved in the Prothonotary's office at Reading, where it appears in the year 1759, and again a few years later. In one case it is written "Jacob Dundier," in the other "Jacob Dundare."

The next mention of the name in a public document is in the "Pennsylvania Archives, second series," volume II, page 402, setting forth that on April 10th, 1760, "Jacob Dunder" was naturalized by the "Supream" Court sitting in Philadelphia,† thereby becoming an English subject. The name appears again in 1779, in same series, Vol. III, page 378, attached to a remonstrance very largely signed by the Germans of Berks and adjacent counties, against calling a convention for the purpose of changing the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, namely, "Jacob Dunder" and "Jacob Dunder, Jr." (John Jacob 6).

In 1771 he bought the farm east of Bernville, continuing to reside, it is presumed, for some years on his farm in Tulpehocken township, several miles east of the Host Church, as according to the Court records he owned that farm until 1785. In this year we find a deed recorded conveying same to Valentine Heberling. It is certain that he resided on the Bern farm at the time of his death. This farm he conveyed by deed to his eldest son John 4, signing Jacob Dunder in German; from whom it passed to his son John Adam 11, by deed, signing John Dundore, in bold round English; John Adam divided the farm between his two sons Samuel E. 31 and Adam E. 32, signing Adam Dundor, in German,—Adam E. obtaining the portion having on it the old homestead,—the farms being in their possession at this date.

Jacob¹ died May 12th, 1789, and was buried in the Bern Church Yard; his grave, in the oldest part of the ground, is marked by a substantial and well preserved yellow sand-stone, bearing the following inscription :*

"Hier Ruhet dem Leibe nach
Jacob Dondoer ist gebohr. D. 25 Jul.
1720 u. Starb D. 12 May 1789 hat
Sein Leben Bracht auf 68 Ja.
10 u. 17 tag mit einander kinder erzeugt 5 Söhne u. 3 töchter in der Ehe gelebt 44 Jahr."

The inscription had become well nigh obliterated when, some years since, thanks to the brothers Samuel and Adam E., who caused it to be entirely restored.

His Will[†] is dated March 3rd, 1787, and proved June 12th, 1789, and reads, freely translated, as follows:

IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN.

This Indenture witnesseth, that I Jacob Dundör of Bern township Berks County State of Pennsylvania being in good health and sound mind but remembering my mortality recommend my soul in the hands of God who gave it and my body after natural death to christian burial by my executors.

Touching my worldly Estate wherewith the Lord has blessed me in my lifetime I have sold and bestowed unto my lawful Heirs or Children as follows:

Firstly, I have sold to my eldest living son, John, my Plantation containing two hundred and forty-six acres more or less with a free deed in Bern township, adjoining lands of Peter Kershner and Jacob Conrad for the sum of nine hundred and fifty pounds hard money in gold or silver lawful specie as it is current in Pennsylvania; and said John my son shall at the expiration of one year after the date of my death make a payment of sixty pounds, and then on yearly on said date he shall pay sixty pounds until the said sum is fully paid. These annual payments of sixty pounds shall be made in five equal parts to my children (my son John inheriting along with the rest) with the exception that my son Jacob already has received two hundred pounds and my daughter Catharine fifty-five pounds these shall receive nothing until after deduction of the money received.

Secondly, I ordain and bequeath to my beloved wife Anna Maria, one hundred pounds out of my Estate, and this sum shall remain on the Estate so long as she lives and the lawful interest shall yearly be paid to her, to wit:—six per cent. per hundred, and the said one hundred pounds as also her other remainder shall in six years after my beloved wife's death be distributed in five equal shares among my five children; further shall be paid in hand to my beloved wife, ten pounds out of the personal Estate before hands; further shall be delivered to her yearly out of my Estate by my son John ten bushels of good Wheat, seven bushels of good Rye, twenty pounds of long hatchelled Hemp, or the same quantity of good hatchelled Flax, fifteen pounds of tow of Hemp or Flax as she may choose, one fat hog, no less than one hundred pounds in weight, shall be delivered to her killed including the lard, and salted down; also forty pounds Beef which shall in like manner be salted down for her, the fleeces from two of the best sheep in the flock,—these shall be delivered to her yearly about the month of December.

FURTHER she shall have the right to take another Cow every spring together with the Calf,—if said Cow should not give enough milk the then following Winter, then plenty of milk shall be given her, and this cow shall be turned into any field that she may desire and be well fed Winter and Summer, she may feed through Summer half an acre of the best grass, also when necessary the Cow shall be milched for her.

FURTHER shall be given her two barrels of good Cider, and she shall be at liberty to take as many Apples for drying as she pleases, and one bushel of Fine Salt shall be delivered to her in the Fall of every year; and if she should not be able to live in peace with my son John all the foregoing reservations shall be delivered to her at another place. The Linen shall be woven and whitened for her at the cost of the Estate;—she shall retain for her use two beds, to wit:—the one in her room and the one in the other room, which shall remain standing where it now is, where she may lay her visitors; the house clock if she desires it shall also be hers as long as she lives, she may live in this or the other room at her pleasure. she may take as much space in the garden as she may have occasion for herself, for Cabbage, Turnips, Potatoes and Beans; the third part of the vegetable cellar and spring house shall be hers; a riding creature shall be given her to church and to visit friends as often as she requests it, and some one shall ride with her that in all dangers takes care of her, and in case she would not or could not be on this Estate with my son John, then all her aforesaid Reservations shall be delivered to my other son, or any one of my daughters at the aforementioned time; the manure shall be hauled in her garden and firewood to the house and cut small upon occasion, the fire shall be made for her in the stove, the hauling to and from the Mill shall be done for her upon occasion, the Bread shall be baked for her, and in sickness a Nurse shall be kept for her and all this at the expense of my son John; the garden shall be cultivated for her, she may also take as many Eggs as she has occasion for her use, and if she moves shall not lose her House-right, but she may at the expiration of one year or day take possession of above mentioned right; Tallow or Fish Oil shall be given her as much as she wants for lighting purposes and if she can't bear the fish oil tallow must be given her, all the aforesaid reservations my son John, (or after him if he would not take the Plantation at the sum set, the next heir till to the last heir) shall deliver same, and although I have sold my plantation to my son John hereditary yet it shall not be sold during the life time of my beloved wife unless it be by her consent; my son John shall have for his Birth-right ten pounds beforehand and no more; he shall also deliver to my wife (which was overlooked above) yearly, two gallons of Rum with the Cider about the month of November.

My son Jacob shall deliver yearly to my beloved wife four bushels good Wheat, and four bushels of good Rye, fifty pounds of Pork with the lard, and twenty pounds of Beef about the month of December, besides one gallon of Rum, and two barrels of Cider, and three pounds of hatchelled Flax. My son John shall be bound by virtue of my last Will and Testament to give a Deed Poll to my son Jacob for a piece of Woodland at the Blue Mountain, and this said piece of land shall not be sold as long as one of my children lives within fifteen miles thereof. I have reckoned the Plantation to my son Jacob whereon he lives at eight hundred pounds and he shall not be required to pay any more, and the Bonds of Valentine Heberling shall be and remain my son Jacobs and instead of said Bonds and money down—a sum of five hundred pounds—he shall not offset more than two hundred pounds against my other children. He my son Jacob shall pay no interest nor principal till the Plantation whereon he lives is paid in full and then my son Jacob shall pay yearly twenty-five pounds and inherit along thereat till my children are even one with another.

After my death both of my sons shall give bonds to my daughters named as follows: to Mrs. Susanna Gerhart and her heirs, to Mrs. Catharine Smith and her heirs, to Mrs. Catharine Elizabeth Shauer and her heirs, and when my children have agreed one with another in peace and both my sons have given the said bonds to my daughters then both Deeds shall be their own and their heirs forever, the Deeds and other costs touching the piece of Woodland at the Blue Mountain shall be paid out of my Estate, and each of my children shall have equal right upon occasion to cut wood on said piece of land but not to sell;—my beloved wife shall have the right to take any kitchen furniture in use, she shall also have a right to take as much Linnen as she wants, and of all that my beloved wife keeps a perfect inventory shall be made and that which she does not want shall be sold after my death at public vendue and after her death that which remains be distributed among my five children in equal shares. Both our funeral expenses shall be paid out of the whole Estate; after my death the ready money and the money received from the vendue shall be paid to my daughters which shall be offset by a like sum by each of my sons on account of their land.

I make and declare this my last Will and I disallow and recall all of my former Will and Testament, constitute, ratify and confirm this My last Will and Testament and no other. Published, declared and sealed by the aforementioned Jacob Dundör the third day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven.

At an Orphans Court held at Reading in and for the County of Berks the fifth day of March A. D. 1800 before the Hon. Jacob Bush Esq. Nicholas Lutz and Benjamin Morris Esqrs Judges &c.

The within account of the administration of Jacob Dundore dec'd being produced before the Court the same is allowed.

By the Court
JAMES SCULL, Clerk.

Respecting the orthography of the name a few words will not be out of place. Those who read and understand German will readily understand that the name as it was brought to this country was not Dundore, but pronounced as if written Dundare. The last syllable of the name as herein given was by different persons written “der”—“doer”—“~~der~~” and “dör,” each equivalent to the English dare. deer

It is asserted traditionally that the inscription on the tombstone is the correct orthography. In opposition to this we find John, the eldest son of Jacob,¹ writing his name Dundore. The descendants of John,¹ (Appendix) without exception, also write Dundore.

With the present information it is impossible to decide which is nearest correct, and as the divergence is not great the solution of the question is of no practical importance.

When written in German, the terminal “e” is usually left off as being redundant; that is Dundor—some few write so in English. It has now crystalized into DUNDORE,* and this method is followed throughout in this Record.

*The following letter explains itself and is given in corroboration of what is above stated.
RECORDER'S OFFICE, READING, Dec. 16, 1874.
MR. NATHAN DUNDORE.
Sir: Your letter of 15 inst. rec'd, and in reply would say that by searching the old records, I find the name of Dundore spelled thus—Dundor, & Dundore. In 1785, Respecting the place of first settlement of Jacob,¹ or at what port he landed, nothing definite is known,—not improbably Baltimore or Charleston, the two principal ports south of Philadelphia;—this belief is founded on the fact that the name is not found in “Rupp’s Thirty Thousand Names of Emigrants into Pennsylvania,” who for the most part landed in Philadelphia. As stated, we find the family in the neighborhood of the Host Church in 1749. This Church is located in Tulpehocken township, Berks County, at that time Lancaster County.

In 1852 Berks was erected; all that part of the County lying west of the Schuylkill was taken from Lancaster—Tulpehocken township at that time taking in all the western end of this strip, now subdivided into a number of townships. In the Colonial Records all the region round about was called “Tulpehocken,” without reference to county lines, which indeed were quite indefinite. It was also known as the “Back Country,” and “Border Settlements,”—and at the time Jacob¹ settled here the Blue Mountains or Kittatinny Range, as it was then known, formed the boundary line between the white settlements and the Indian territory. The Host Church is distant eight to ten miles from this range. The Indians being unfriendly at this period much suffering and loss was occasioned the settlers in the Tulpehocken Country from their frequent predatory incursions; buildings were destroyed, fields despoiled of their crops, and many of the settlers killed by the savages. In many respects the early history of Tulpehocken is the counterpart of the Wyoming Valley,—its full history remains to be written.

It is not surprising, therefore, that educational matters were almost entirely neglected. The only schools were those belonging to the churches,—the parish schools. These schools were maintained until the full introduction of the free schools, the school-master resided on the parish farm, teaching school in Winter and working the farm in Summer; his further duties were that of chorister, and having the general care and preservation of the Church.

The Host Church naturally became the centre and rallying point for a large surrounding district, the Church having been established at an Deed from Jacob Dundore, (spelled so throughout the whole Deed), Bern Township, Berks Co., to Valentine Heberling, signed by him in German—Jacob Dunder, thus I find it spelled in the Grantor’s Index Dundore up to 1832 when I find it spelled Dunder.

In the Grantor Index I find Deed from Ad. Schower to Jacob Dundore’s Exor. Bern Township, spelled Dundore.

It appears that Dunder and Dundore are the same persons, as it appears on our records. In the Grantee Index it seems to be spelled Dunder from 1790 to 1814 when it is spelled Dundore again. It is spelled now generally Dundore. Hoping the above may be satisfactory, I remain, early period of the settlement, by the Classis of Amsterdam and Synod of South and North Holland, as a mission station; ~~the~~^a pastoral Letter is still preserved in the parish. The present edifice was dedicated in 1775, of which there is a photograph given. The view is from the rear. In the foreground is seen the modern Cemetery, the old graveyard being out of view in the back ground (on the front of the Church). The Church is in a good state of preservation, the walls being to all appearances as good as the day they were built; the material is blue limestone, laid in lime mortar, pointed; trimmings of corners, windows and doors are of a light colored sand stone; in size it is large for the period in which it was built, probably the largest and most substantial church building in the County at that time. The belfry is a later addition; the interior has also been remodelled, the brick floor replaced by a wooden one and a gallery and organ loft added. Owing to its elevated position its fine toned bell is heard for many miles around.

Yours, &c.,

The custom of ringing it on every secular day at the noon hour, for the benefit of the farmers, is still kept up; so also the ringing on the death of any person in the neighborhood, ending by tolling the number of years of deceased. On June 12th and 13th, 1875, the centenary of the Church was celebrated by a series of religious exercises, conducted by the clergy of the Reformed and Lutheran denominations, who are joint occupants,—the latter denomination having been some years since admitted to joint ownership. It was the rare fortune of the compiler to be present on this interesting occasion.

It has been deemed an acceptable service to refer at some length to this historical structure, since it forms such an interesting connecting link between the events of more than a century past and the present, and more particularly that our first ancestor attended divine service within its walls, as well as all of his family.

The Bern Church* connects the past with the present still closer, for it is here his remains lie buried,—the photograph herein given of the grave-yard gives the brick church, erected in 1837, in the back-ground. The picture was taken some years ago, and with no reference to the use now made of it, and unfortunately does not bring into view his resting place,—it is on a line and quite a distance to the left of the tomb-stones shown in the foreground. As the grave-yard is a large one, only a portion of it is seen in this view. Here also lie buried his two sons John and John Jacob, and many of his grand-children and their children, and is still the burying place of a number of families living in the vicinity. The land upon which the Church is built and surrounding farm was deeded to the Church (Reformed) by Richard and John Penn. Like Host, it is now the joint property of Reformed and Lutheran.

*The present building is the third,—the first was a log building, and the second stone.

BERN CHURCH AND GRAVE-YARD.

Reference is also made to the "North Heidelberg" Church. This is a small brick building, also owned jointly by Reformed and Lutheran. The first building was put up by the Moravians, who had here formed a settlement under Count Zinzendorf. The colony has long since disappeared.

"Zion" Church, referred to in the Record, has no historical interest aside from the fact that it was built and for many years supported mainly by the efforts of John Dundore (12 B. B.), and his family. It belongs to the Evangelical Association.

PERSONAL REMARKS.

Regarding occupation, the family has been true to their inheritance: having been born to a farmer's life, they have successfully followed that pursuit to the present day. Their habits of industry, sobriety and thrift has enabled them almost without exception to own the farms they tilled—fitly illustrating the motto "Labor Omnia Vincit," (Labor conquers everything). They are not only successful but progressive farmers. Of the living generations a few have chosen the medical profession, and a larger number mercantile pursuits.

Law-abiding, the name rarely appears in lawsuits, and has perhaps never been on a criminal docket.

Politically, the family is divided between the two great parties of the day—republican and democratic; having been almost without exception, of the democratic faith down to the time of the breaking out of the Rebellion; the issues of the war divided, but not estranged the several members.

They have rarely sought political office, but very many of them have been, and are now, public school directors, and they are to be found among the foremost, in the several communities in which they reside, in advancing educational matters. Probably the highest offices held by any one of the name are Adam M. (30 H. B.), who is the present Treasurer of Berks County, and Franklin (84 B. B.), who recently retired from Select Council of Philadelphia.

Respecting church matters, they were originally German Reformed, as were all the French Huguenots—probably the greater portion still hold to this church. Quite a large number have become connected with the Evangelical Association, and a few with the Lutheran and other churches.

The foregoing statement is made for the mutual benefit of the widely separated members of the family, some of whom will for the first time learn the direct line of their relationship when they see this Record.

COPY OF CIRCULAR SENT OUT.

Philadelphia, March, 1879.

DEAR SIR:

You may be aware that I have been gathering material for some time for a Genealogical Record of the DUNDORE Family. I have found many difficulties in getting dates as well as full names; you are therefore requested to fill up the blank as far as it relates to your family and return it to me in the enclosed envelope—attend to this at once. It is the intention to have it printed in a neat pamphlet and be sold at cost price to any who may want it.

Very truly yours,

NATHAN DUNDORE,

No. 331 NORTH FIFTH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

EXPLANATIONS:—b. born; m. married; d. died. B. B. Bern Branch; H. B. Heidelberg Branch. The name of County in which P. O. is located is only given once. In all cases where no State is given Pennsylvania is understood. The small figures to the right of a name indicate generation—thus John Jacob² means that he belongs to the second generation. The continuous column of figures on the left running through each division of the Record, has no significance except as serving as guide in distinguishing families one from another—thus B. B. No 19 appears in parenthesis further on thus (19) Catharine⁴ as head of a family. Where no death is indicated by a date or dash the person is presumed to be living.

THE RECORD.

JACOB DUNDORE,

OF TULPEHOCKEN,

AND HIS

DESCENDANTS.

1. JACOB DUNDORE,¹ b. July 25, 1720, d. May 12, 1789.
 Anna Maria, his wife, b. ———, d. in 1793 or 1794.
 Both buried in Bern Church Yard.

Children.

2. MARIA CATHARINE,² b. Mar. 19, 1749, d. ———.
3. SUSANNA,² b. ———, d. ———.
4. JOHN,² b. Mar. 20, 1751, d. Oct. 14, 1823.

6. JOHN JACOB,² b. Mar. 19, 1756, d. Sep. 22, 1821.
7. DAVID,² b. July 21, 1758, d. ———.
8. CATHARINE ELIZABETH,² b. ———, d. ———.
9. SON, name not known, b. ———, d. ———.

The inscription on the tombstone states there were eight children, viz: five sons and three daughters.

* * - * * * *

In the will only five are mentioned, viz: two sons and three daughters; it is therefore inferred that the other three sons either died during minority or without families.

MARIA CATHARINE married John Smith.

Their descendants moved to the Wyoming Valley where some of them still reside.

SUSANNA married Frederick Gerhart.

They resided in the vicinity of the Host Church, and their descendants are still to be found in that neighborhood, and are among the most esteemed citizens of that section.

CATHARINE ELIZABETH married Adam Shower (Schauer).

The families of this name living in the vicinity of Bernville, are undoubtedly of this stock,—a matter that has not been looked up.

JOHN settled in Bern Township, near the present site of Bernville; his descendants are known as the “Bern Branch.”

JOHN JACOB* settled in Heidelberg Township, the Tulpehocken Creek dividing the two farms, and being also the Township line between Bern and Heidelberg; his descendants are known as the “Heidelberg Branch.”

For convenience of reference the Record will be presented under two divisions, viz:

First,—“BERN BRANCH.”

Second,—“HEIDELBERG BRANCH.”

*He divided his farm between his two sons, John Adam and John. That of John Adam is now the property of his youngest son, Adam M.

I.

APPENDIX.

In searching for the full family of Jacob¹ before coming in possession of his Will, the compiler entered into extensive correspondence with County officials in Pennsylvania and Virginia—the fact of the existence of a rather numerous branch of the family residing in Northumberland, Lancaster, York and Union Counties, Pennsylvania; in the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia; and various points in Maryland, and scattered through the Western States, was discovered, unknown to the present generation of the descendants of Jacob.¹ Every effort was made to ascertain the relationship existing between the two families. The discovery of the Will disclosed the fact that the entire line of Jacob¹ was known, and that the relationship must be looked for elsewhere. Looking through the “Host” Church records it was found that a certain John Dundore had been a resident in that vicinity, as the following translated extracts show:

“1749..

“Baptism of a child,—Catharina Jacobina; the father Joh. Dunther; “May 6th. Sponsor Miss Mayer.”

“1753.

“John Dondoer and Maria Dorothe brought an infant daughter to “baptism, on April 9th. The sponsors were Jacob Dundoer* and Anna “Maria, his wife.”

The extracts are from the same record heretofore quoted from. The various ways in which the name was then written by clergymen and others, is here also shown. In the Deed received by Jacob¹ to his farm in Bern township, which afterward became the property of John (4 B. B.) it is several times written “Dunther.”

The Records of the Register of Wills office in York County, show that John Dundore died in that County in 1774, Jacob Dundore, his son, appearing as administrator.

In the Inventory of the personal estate of Jacob¹ the name of George Dundore occurs. John Dundore, of Hunterstown, Adams County, gives his grandfather's name as Christopher; it is therefore assumed that he had at least three sons, viz: George, Christopher and Jacob.

Jacob Dundore, of Mt. Clinton, Rockingham County, Virginia, gives his father's name as Christopher, but knows nothing of his grandparents "as his father left his home when quite young, on account of his step-mother." It seems quite probable that he was named after his father (Christopher). In the light of the foregoing I have made up the following record so kindly furnished me by some members of this branch of the family.

Having the material on hand, it was thought of sufficient interest to the family at large to print it along with the Record proper in form of an Appendix. The conclusion is irresistible that Jacob and John were brothers. That the two families lost all knowledge of each other is probably due to the descendants of Jacob remaining north and east of the Susquehanna, or removing to the far West, while those of John resided south and west of this river, and the course of business never bringing them together.
