The compiler would take this opportunity to express his thanks to Richard H. Dana, Jr., Esq., to Prof. James D. Dana, John W. Dana, Esq., Luther Dana, Esq., and others who bear the name of our honored ancestor, for the loan of manuscripts, and for assistance in other modes in gathering materials. He would particularly express his obligations to the Hon. Samuel Dana Bell, late Judge of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, for the very full manuscript he furnished.

Unlike the work of Judge Bell, who traces the descendants of the daughters, we only trace those of the sons.

It is not claimed for this compilation that it is complete; but it is hoped that it may interest the members of the various families in the genealogies of those of the name, and lead them to contribute facts or suggestions, so that at some future day we may obtain a complete list of the progeny of RICHARD THE FIRST.

ORIGIN OF THE FAMILY.

RICHARD DANA AND HIS CHILDREN.

It is believed that every person of the name of Dana in the United States, entitled to the name by birth,* traces descent from Richard Dana, who came to Cambridge in Massachusetts in the year 1640. Certainly no person has been found or heard of, so entitled to the name, who does not claim descent from him. He had no brothers, or other relatives of the name, who came with him.

Not only does he appear to have been the sole progenitor of the family in America, but no trace has been found of the name in England, except among the descendants of his great grandson, the Rev. Edmund Dana, who removed to England about the year 1761, married there, and had a large family (see p. 54). The Rev. Edmund Dana said his name was everywhere regarded as a new one in England, and Dr. Luther V. Bell (see p. 62) made careful search in England, not only at the usual sources, but in catalogues, indexes to law reports, and elsewhere, with no success. It seems, therefore, safe to assert that if any of the name existed in England, in the seventeenth century, they soon died out.

The writer knows of no direct and positive proof in writing that Richard was born in England; but the uniform tradition has been, that he came here from England, that he was born there, and that his father was a native of France, who emigrated to England on account of religious persecutions. A silver cup was in possession of Hon. Judah Dana of Fryeburg, Me., which tradition says was brought by the father of Richard Dana from France. Tradition adds that this emigration from France to England took place about the year 1629.

* Judge Bell states that in the southern part of New Hampshire are families bearing our name, who do so by authority of an Act of the Legislature, changing their former name to Dana.

We have no written proof of the pedigree of Richard. The only fact conflicting with the theory that his father came from France to England is the coat of arms now in general use among the Danas in the United States. This coat of arms is found in the Herald's College as having been given about the year 1569, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, to William Dane (as the name is spelt on the record), a sheriff of Middlesex and alderman of London, an iron merchant. The writer has no proof that this coat of arms was brought here or used by Richard, or used by his immediate descendants. The first known proofs of its use are soon after the Revolutionary War. Nor has the writer been able to hear of any proof of any connection between Richard and this William Dane of 1569. If the fact be that this coat of arms was given at the Herald's College in response to inquiries made there by some of our family several generations after Richard, without any proofs of pedigree connecting him with this William Dane, and so passed lately into use in the family, it amounts to very little. If there be any proof of its earlier and general use in the family, or of a pedigree of Richard, it is earnestly hoped it will be produced.

There is no reason for connecting our name with that of Dane. The name of Dane is common in England and America, and is always a monosyllable. It means "the Dane," i.e., of Danish descent, in England. Our name, on the contrary, has always been a word of two syllables. No other mode of spelling it has ever prevailed than the present. Not only did Richard so spell it, but all his numerous descendants, scattered in all parts of the country, and without much opportunity for communication, are found to have spelt it uniformly Dana. In the Cambridge records, when written by other persons, it is found occasionally spelt Dany, and once (apparently, though the writing is obscure).

Danae; but however spelt or pronounced, it has always been a word of two syllables.* The names of Dauney, Daneray, Dennie, &c., are found in England. The latter name is common in America, but no descendant of Richard ever spelt his name in that way, nor has any person of the name of Denny, or Dennie, ever claimed descent from Richard Dana. It may therefore be considered as settled that the surname borne by our common ancestor, Richard, was a word of two syllables, properly spelt Dana, and that no person is found to have borne that name in America or England, entitled to it by descent, who is not descended from him.

The date of Richard's settlement in Cambridge seems always to have been fixed at 1640. The writer has no documentary evidence of the date of Richard's birth, though in some late records it is placed at 1620. The authority for this is not known to the writer. In 1652, in the division of Shawsheen, he is named thus: "102, Richard Dana 20 acres." He was elected constable in November, 1661. In the Rev. F. A. Whitney's funeral sermon on Mrs. Champney (1855) occurs this passage: "Richard Dana, the progenitor of the Dana family in this country, . . . had his large estate on Market street, which street was laid out wholly through his estate in 1656." In 1662-3, is the entry: "Richard Dana to sit in the meeting house where brother Gibson set." In 1665 he was surveyor of highways. In the same year he received an allotment, as follows: "110, Richard Dana, 10 acres." In April, 1668, he was chosen "Tythingman of the village." He was chosen by the selectmen of Cambridge a grand juror, and is called, on that record, "Richard Dany." In December, 1683, in the "list of the inhabitants that doo service

* It was the universal custom of New England, until within fifty or sixty years, to give to the final a the English sound, as in fāte. Our name would have been so pronounced when properly spelt, and was so pronounced under the general custom. This led to the occasional misspelling of the name, by persons who spelt from the sound only. Now the final a in proper names has the continental sound, as in far, and the spelling is less likely to be mistaken. In England, both syllables of the name have the sound of a in far.

and pay rates and to whom lands are apportioned as followeth : Lot 21, Richard Dany, 15 acres."

The first act of his that appears on record is a deed to Edward Jackson of fifty-eight acres of land situated on the south side of Charles River, on the road leading from Newton Corner to Boston, known now as the Hunnewell Farm. The deed is dated April 20, 1656.*

Richard Dana married Anne Bullard of Cambridge, probably in 1648. She died July 15, 1711. Richard died April 2, 1690, of injuries received by falling from a scaffold in his barn. An inquest was called by Lt. Gov. Thomas Danforth ; and the officer made return, "they have done accordingly."

On the 2d of August, 1690, an Inventory of the Estate of Richard Dana was returned by the Widow and her son Jacob, "£209.3.6, and 101 acres of Land." The Estate was settled by agreement of the Widow and Children, dated April 16, 1691. They "agree that Jacob have the house and half the barn ; that Benjamin have 6 acres about his house and half the barn ; and all the land in the Inventory about the house to Jacob, Benjamin and Daniel : Joseph to have the land near Concord bounds. The Sons in Law, Oldham to have £14, Woodward £13, Hyde £12, and the Widow £9 per year ; all to be paid by Jacob, Benjamin and Daniel." This agreement was signed by "Anne the Widow, Jacob, Joseph, Benjamin, Daniel, Samuel Oldham, Daniel Woodward and Samuel Hyde." (Middlesex Records, vol. viii., p. 333).

It should have been stated that both Richard Dana and Anne his wife were members of the Cambridge Church in "full communion."

JACOB, the oldest son of Richard who reached manhood (b. Dec. 2, 1654), lived at Cambridge. Richard died intestate, and in the division of his property by mutual agreement, Jacob had "the dwelling house and half the barn, with all the appurtenances, as one single share, or half his double portion." He also had "one-third of all the land near the house, viz., one-third of the meadow lying before the dwelling house," "the land by estimation 5 acres more or less." He also had "4 acres on the south pitch of the hill bounded by John McKeen north and west, Thomas Chaney south, and Daniel Dana east, and the remainder of his third part of the upland lying by the road-way leading from Thomas Chaney's land to Roxbury highway, lying in equal breadth from the foresaid meadow to the land of Thomas Chaney aforesaid," subject to certain rights of his mother and to the payment of £3 annually to her. JOSEPH, the second son of Richard that attained to manhood, was probably born March 21, 1656. Some of the manuscripts have it 1655 ; but if this is correct, then his brother Jacob could not have been born in December, 1654, as is generally conceded.

“In the division of his father’s estate, April 16, 1691, he had for his part ‘all that land that his father was possessed of lying in Cambridge towards Concord bounds, containing by estimation 26 acres more or less : also 5 acres that belonged to his brother Jacob Dana, lying towards Concord bounds aforesaid ; also 50 shillings in money.’

“Mr. Dana died at the age of 45, and letters of Administration were granted to his Widow Mary Dana, March, 1699–1700. (Middlesex Prob., 10, 71.) The Inventory was, Personal £91.17; Homestead 40 acres, and 20 acres near Sudbury line, and six acres of meadow on the river, and a part of the Estate of Thomas Gobell. The estate was settled April 14, 1707. (Mid. Prob., 11, 171.)”

“By an Agreement found in Mid. Prob., 1691, between the Widow and [other] heirs of Thomas Gobell, deceased (among whom are Joseph and Mary Dana), £5 were to be paid to Joseph’s son Joseph when he should reach the age of 21 years.”

“In a division of Thomas Gobell’s Estate, made July 18, 1732, there was assigned to Joseph and Mary Dana, alias Mary Meads, 73 acres 3 rods on the plain so called, allowing the highway to Sudbury through it, south on Sudbury line. £219, other £7.11.2; Personal £17.4.”

Joseph, son of Richard, married Mary, daughter of Thomas Gobell. He lived at or near Concord; “probably on the land lying towards Concord bounds;” probably (says Judge Bell) “in what is now Lincoln.”

Gen. III. Richard, Joseph.

Children of JOSEPH (son of Richard) and MARY (Gobell)
DANA.

Joseph, b. Sept. 22, 1685. Camb. Record.

Mary, ?* after 1691.

* There has always been a tradition that Joseph, son of Richard, had two children, who both died young. There seems to be some doubt whether he had a daughter, for reasons which I will give. If Joseph, Sen., had a daughter of this name, and she was born previous to 1691, in which year it was agreed between the heirs of Thomas Gobell, that “Joseph’s son Joseph should have £5 when he should reach 21 years,” it is singular that she should not be mentioned as another heir of Mr. Gobell, still in her minority. In the final division of Thomas Gobell’s estate, in 1732, seventy-three acres and three rods “were assigned to Joseph and Mary Dene, alias Mary Meads.” If Joseph Dana is here meant, and he and Mary Dene, alias Mary Meads, were brother and sister, it seems hardly probable that they should be mentioned in this summary manner; for if we suppose Mary Dene to have married Mr. Meads, the probability is her husband’s name would have appeared in the document. Is it not possible, and even probable, that Joseph Dana, Jun., married Mary Meads, and that the “alias” in the agreement signifies that her maiden name was Meads? No record of the birth of a sister is found in the Cambridge Records. If Joseph, Sen., had a daughter of this name, it would probably have been recorded in the same manner as that of the son. If he had a daughter, she must, for reasons above stated, have been born after 1691.

No record of the marriage of Joseph Dana, Jun., has been discovered. Judge Bell, who has been very pains-taking in his endeavors to trace the family, after an examination of the records of Killingly, Ct., Concord, Mass., and Oxford, Mass., says that he infers that "Joseph Dana of Concord moved to Killingly in 1716; then removed to Oxford; resided there till 1720; and then returned to Killingly till 1722, when he is again found in Oxford in 1722, 4, 5, and 6. After that time nothing respecting him is found, except the settlement of the Gobell Estate referred to."

It thus appears that for several years he was frequently removing from place to place, and it is not strange that the records of the births of his children are missing.

"In the Oxford Records is found the following: 'Phinehas Dana and Hannah Twitchell, both of Oxford, were married March y<sup>e</sup> 8, 1730-1.' Phinehas might be the son of Joseph Dana, who would then be 46 years old" (Judge Bell). Judge Bell shows that the tradition that Phinehas was the son of Thomas Dana of Brookline must be erroneous, because Thomas was married, according to the Cambridge record, Jan. 22, 1719, and none of his children could have been more than twelve years old at the marriage of Phinehas; and he feels warranted in supposing Phinehas to have been the son of Joseph of Oxford.

BENJAMIN, the third son of Richard, born Feb. 20, 1660, lived at Cambridge (now Brighton), and is said to have owned a farm one mile from the meeting house, lately owned by Col. Stephen Dana, on the road to Newton Corner. He and his brothers Jacob and Daniel owned one-twelfth part of the Mashamoquet purchase of 15,000 acres, in Pomfret, Ct., which cost £30 in 1686.

Benjamin was Tythingman in 1699 and 1701, and Surveyor in 1702. He married Mary Buckminster, May 24, 1688. He died at Cambridge, Aug. 13, 1738. "On account of age," his widow declined administering on his estate, and letters were granted to his son Benjamin, Aug. 28, 1738, and the inventory returned Aug. 31, 1738, of 20 acres of land in Newton, £160; personal, about £90. His widow "married July 19, 1742, Joshua Fuller of Newton, he being 87 and she 74 years old. Mr. F. died June 27, 1752, in the 98th year of his age." (Jackson's Newton). There is evidently some mistake. Jackson says she was "born in 1678," or rather that "she was 74 years old in 1742," but this would make her only 10 years old when she married Benjamin Dana. She was probably 84 years old when she married Mr. Fuller, and this would make the year of her birth 1668.

DANIEL, the youngest son of Richard, was born in Cambridge, March 2, 1663. He had a part of his father's homestead, but it is uncertain whether he lived upon it. He held the office of Tythingman in 1700, and Surveyor in 1701.

He married Naomi Crosswell of Charlestown, who was born in 1669. He died Oct. 10, 1749, aged 86 years. His will was written Jan. 18, 1742, and was proved Nov. 6, 1749. The Executors were Thomas and Caleb, the two eldest sons. Legacies were given to his daughters, Hepsibah and Priscilla, and to grandson William Upham, whose mother Naomi was dead.

Richard had the homestead ; Caleb and Thomas had other lands in Cambridge ; Ebenezer had 205 acres in Pomfret, Ct.

Mrs. Naomi Dana died in February, 1751, and her estate was settled by Thomas Dana, her eldest son, to whom Letters of Administration were granted March 25, 1751.

Gen. III. Richard, Daniel.

Naomi, b. Aug. 7, 1702 ; m. William Upham, and d. in child-bed, March 14, 1725-6, and left a son William.

Hepsibah, b. *? ; m. May 8, 1735, Thomas Hastings, and had several children.

Gen. IV. Richard, Daniel, Thomas.

Children of THOMAS (son of Daniel) and MARY (Parker)
DANA.

Mary, b. Nov. 27, 1719 ; d. Dec. 17, 1740.

Susanna, b. Aug. 4, 1721 ; m. May 29, 1755, Edward Jackson of Brighton, and had 3 children.

Thomas, b. Aug. 8, 1723 ; m. Martha Williams. Vid. p. 51.

* A slab in Brighton burial ground, says, "Caleb Dana, Esq., d. April 28, 1769, aged 72 yrs." If his age is stated correctly, he must have been born in 1697, and not 1699, as most of the "Dana Records" have it. For this reason, I have put the birth of Thomas in 1695. It is generally supposed that Hepsibah was born between Priscilla and Ebenezer. The fact that in her father's will, Hepsibah is mentioned before Priscilla, leads me to suppose her to have been the elder of the two.

Naomi, b. Aug. 28, 1725 ; d. probably before 1752.

Daniel, b. Oct. 26, 1726 ; m. Experience Hunting, Jan. 16, 1745-6, who d. Jan. 25, 1776. He m. Widow Elizabeth Bowen, who d. March 31, 1779. Another account says, "he left one daughter." Vid. p. 52.

Elizabeth, b. Feb. 7, 1731 ; m. Dec. 18, 176-, Capt. William Angier.

Ann, b. June 8, 1733.

Richard, b. Aug. 6, 1735 ; m. August, 1763, Mary Trowbridge, who d. 1776. He had Edward, b. May 18, 1764 ; John Trowbridge, b. May 18, 1768 ; Elizabeth, b. July 28, 1770 ; Ann, b. Nov. 9, 1773 ; Benjamin, b. ? . Richard d. 1776.

Sarah, b. Sept. 2, 1737 ; m. Dec. 1, 1757, George Lamb, Springfield.

Silence, b. Oct. 5, 1739 ; d. probably before 1752.

Deliverance, b. Oct. 5, 1739 ; d. probably before 1752.

Thomas d. in 1752. His will was dated April 22, 1752, and proved July 23, 1752. The Legatees were Susannah, Elizabeth, Ann and Sarah. Thomas, Jun., had a lot, and Daniel the residue. As Naomi, Silence and Deliverance were not mentioned in the will, they were probably not living in 1752. The Dana manuscripts agree in saying that Richard, the son of Thomas, married Mary Trowbridge, but if so, it is strange he is not mentioned in his father's will. From the Prob. Records we know that Capt. Benjamin Dana had a son Richard. He may have married Mary Trowbridge ; and Richard, son of Thomas, may have died previous to 1752.

The will of Caleb Dana was dated March 4, 1769, and a codicil dated April, 1769. He devised to his wife Phebe and others. "To my son George, I give my        and farm, with the appurtenances, in Stow, whereon he now dwells, and all my lands and buildings in Ashburnham, to hold and enjoy during his natural life only, and then to his children, unless he should direct otherwise." In his first codicil he said, "I also give all my wearing apparel to my son George." In the second codicil, dated April 28, 1769, he said, "I give my son George my best riding mare; all my stock in my tanyard, besides my silver tankard." His wife Phebe and George were the executors. "Inventory of Caleb Dana, Esq.: Personal Estate, viz., Silver Tankard, £9; Stock of Leather in Tan Yard, £200, &c. Total Personal, £371.5.8. Real Estate, £5,468.13.4. Pew in Cambridge, £16. Do. in Ashburnham, £10. Two Pews in Little Cambridge, £14." He said in his will, "Item. To my daughter Phebe I give the sum of £5, to be paid by my Executors if she returns to dwell in New England." To Priscilla he gave "land in Cambridge," and "after her death to her children." He gave to his son James, land in Charlemont, and wilderness lands to his grandsons Henry, Caleb, Robert, and James D. Coolidge. "The codicil recites the sickness of Caleb [his son] at Wallingford." Vid. Judge Bell; also Sermon of Rev. F. A. Whitney on the death of Mrs. Susanna Park Champney.

* I have followed the arrangement of the names of Caleb's children given in the notes to Mr. Whitney's sermon. It cannot be that the Caleb who was born in 1726-7 was the same who died at Wallingford in 1769, because his children would not have needed guardians. I have inserted a second Caleb, born about 1733.
