INTRODUCTORY.

When this genealogy was begun some twenty odd years ago, it was with the idea of compiling a record of those only who bore the name of Duyckinck, but as the authors' interest grew in the work and its possibilities appeared, the book gradually shaped itself into its present form.

As the first ancestor in this country, Evert, had in a family of ten children, only two sons, and the descendants of these sons increased more in the female than in the male line, it seemed best to attempt tracing all the descendants of the original Evert, although it is practically impossible to make such a work absolutely complete. The authors submit what has been gathered, and ask the indulgence of readers for all errors and inaccuracies that may be found. None but those who have made similar incursions into the past for facts can realize the immense labor connected therewith, how for twenty pages of records carefully scanned, but one perhaps brings to light what is sought for.

The mass of material in this book has been collected for the most part from Colonial, State and County records, Colonial and local histories, other genealogies, family Bibles, the publications of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society and from data obtained from correspondence with many whose names appear in this book, some of whom we regretfully now have to record as deceased.

Much praise is due Mr. Whitehead Cornell Duyckinck for his patient and intelligent labors in collecting the material for this book of which he is really the author, also to Miss Catherine N. Duyckinck and Miss Julia S. Duyckinck for their help in preparing this work, and to the many others who have given data and information.

The connecting link between the Duyckincks of Holland and America unfortunately has not been found, though considerable effort has been made. We infer that our ancestor, Evert Duycking, came from Borken, a town in North Brabant, and it is stated that the name still exists in Holland. The family coat-of-arms we find in the Armorial of the Province of Holland published about the end of the 12th century. As early as 1638 the name appears in the records in this country, also on the first map of New York City, reproduced in this book, showing the grant of village lots to our ancestor. * The name variously spelt seems to have been permanently fixed to Duyckinck about 1700, the change from Duycking being probably due to the fact that the final g in Dutch has the half sound of our k. The Duyckinck family, which is my maternal family, is not large but as its representatives have intermarried with many of the leading families of America we trust this history may interest many readers and be of some use to the professional genealogist.

The religious status of the family has much interested me. Our ancestor Evert was connected with the Dutch Reformed Church, as were his family, probably for some generations. The compilers of this genealogy as well as most of Evert Duycking's descendants are connected with the Episcopal Church, as, it may be noted, are many of the descendants of the early Dutch Colonial families. The causes of this transition are interesting. Not so much a change of religious belief, as was the case with the Puritans of Connecticut, but to a great extent from the influences of the changing times. After the British conquest of the New Netherland, English was the prevailing language, so that the younger generation naturally preferred attending the English service, it being in a language they could better understand, but the greatest reason was the accession of their beloved William, Prince of Orange, to the throne of England and his conforming to the English Church.

The authors appreciate how much more interesting and valuable this genealogy would have been had there been included brief sketches of the lives of many of the men whose names appear in its pages, but the work in its present shape has taken so much more time to prepare and publish than was anticipated that it was decided to issue it without further delay in this form. Here is truly a fruitful field for some zealous descendant of Evert Duyck-ing, with time and inclination for historical research. He will find much to proudly record, deeds and works of men who have made their mark in every field, as soldiers, statesmen, college presidents, writers, jurists, divines, philanthropists, physicians, merchant princes, and financiers,—men who with other sturdy sons of old Holland, have during three centuries done loyally and proudly so much more than their share in building up from Dutch New Amsterdam the second greatest city in the world to-day—Cosmopolitan New York.

Again asking your kindly consideration for this, our labor of love, I am, with kind salutations to the descendants of Evert Duycking and all our readers, your friend,

JOHN CORNELL.

NEW YORK, December, 1908.

WHITEHEAD CORNELL DUYCKINCK

THE DUYCKINCK FAMILY.

Evert Duyckinck or (as the name occurs in the various records) Duycking, Duykingh, Duyckens, Duiken, Duicking, came to this country about 1638 from Borken, a village of North Brabant in Holland. He was in the service of the Dutch West India Co., and in 1640 was stationed at Fort Hope, near the present site of the city of Hartford, Conn. "

Among the documents relating to the colonial history of New York procured in Holland by Dr. Brodhead, we find a copy of remonstrance which was presented to the Hon. Director and Council of New Netherlands by Gysbert Opdyk, Commissary on the part of the General Incorporated West India Co., wherein it appears that Pr. Colet, Evert Duycking and Sylvant Sybolts had been attacked by the English, and so severely injured that redress was demanded of the Governor, Mr. Hopkins, and of Mr. Haynes, without gaining any satisfaction, but rather increasing the already bitter feeling between the English and Dutch Colonists.

In the English confirmatory grants reference is made to an original grant to Evert Duyckinck in 1643 of a plot of land behind the meadow ground of the West India Co., also land on Prince's Street, and on the east side of the graft (canal). We also find a transfer in 1693 of land on Dock Street and East river, recorded in the N. Y. Reg. Office, L. 28, fols. 461, 462.

His business is variously designated in the records of that day as limner (or portrait painter), painter, glazier, and burner of glass. He is said to have painted the coats of arms of the various Dutch families upon glass for the windows of the first Dutch Church in New Amsterdam.

On September 9, 1646, he was married to Hendrickje Simons, a young woman from Noordthorn. She had two sisters living in the city, Styntie and Maritje, and was probably related to Gerryt Simons of Schenectady, and John Simons of Hempstead.

Evert and Hendrickje became members of the Dutch Church in 1649, residing at that time and for many years after on Hoogh Straat (now Stone Street, near William), Isaac Bedlow and Christopher Hooghland living on either side of him.

In 1654 Director Stuyvesant gave him a patent for 24 morgens of land in Flatbush, adjoining the land of Johannes Megapolensis. This he sold September 6, 1658, to Cor^s. Van Ruyven. (Flatbush Records, Lib. A, fol. 37).

He took the oath of allegiance to the English in 1664; was in the list of taxpayers for many years, and apparently was a man of considerable property. He was appointed Fire Warden in 1674, and admitted as freeman of the City of New York in 1698. This same year he and Alderman Provost were appointed a Committee to supervise the repairs, etc., of the public buildings. Probably he died in 1702, as we find in the list of inhabitants of the City in 1703 Widow Duyckinck's family thus enumerated, two females, eight children, four negroes, one negress, and two negro children. Also in 1703 a deed signed by the widow and co-heirs of Evert Duyckinck, deceased. (N. Y., L. 28, fol. 281).

All correspondence regarding corrections, or items pertaining to additions, in order to complete this genealogy, will be appreciated and should be addressed, W. C. DUYCKINCK, Plainfield, N. J.

EVERT DUYCKING.

baptized Oct. 20, 1650; died probably about 1680/1; it is probable that he left New Amsterdam quite young and spent many years in Holland and at sea. While in Amsterdam he married Cornelia Jacobse Toll, and in 1679 returned to this country as mate of the ship Charles bringing his wife and two children, a third child, a daughter, was born that year according to the entry in Cornelia's bible, now in possession of Dr. William Beekman. He next became captain of a vessel going to Barbadoes and Jamaica and returned in 1680 to New York, where he probably died soon thereafter. His widow was married July 25, 1681, to Abraham DeLanoy of Harlem, whose will (N. Y. Sur., L 7, fol. 22), 1702, mentions Evert Duyckinck, son of Cornelia Toll, age 25 (see the latter's report as administrator of this estate L 5 and 6, p. 342, also see Wills, 7, 450). GERRIT DUYCKING.

bap. April 11, 1660; joined Dutch Church, May 28, 1679; of him we find the following: "Gerrit the glassmaker was engaged putting the glass in the new church (at Esopus) the glass had been made and painted in the City (New Amsterdam) by the father of our mate, Evert Duiken, whose other son Gerrit did most of the work." On July 6, 1683, he married Maria Abeel, of Albany and resided on Hoogh (now Stone) St.; for many years he was assistant alderman, and in 1689, became identified with Leisler as a member of his council, was made Captain, and was very prominent during those exciting times. He was admitted as freeman of the City in 1699. In 1703 his family consisted of one male, one female, four children, one negro, one negress and two negro children. His name appears among those signing petitions for a new ferry to Long Island in 1707. Although we find (N. Y. Deeds, 21, pp. 87 & 89) that he transferred property, we can discover no record of his will. He died about 1710, having attained a position of considerable social, financial and political importance. Children (Duycking):

HISTORY OF THE DUYCKINCK FAMILY

(Sometimes written DUYCKING, DUYCKINGH, DUYCKENS, DUIKEN, DUICKING)

Being an Account of the Descendants of Evert Duyckinck of New Amsterdam
1638, and of Allied Families

By WHITEHEAD CORNELL DUYCKINCK
and REV. JOHN CORNELL

Edition Limited to 250 Copies

IT is proposed to publish immediately a history of the Duyckinck Family which was one of the first to settle in New Amsterdam (now New York) and with which many of the prominent families of this country have been connected.

The work will consist of one volume and will include some 5000 names; it will be issued from the press of Tobias A. Wright, the well known genealogical publisher, and will be handsomely printed on fine paper and bound in cloth. It will be illustrated with the Duyckinck coat of arms, maps, diagrams and portraits, and will contain an introduction by the Rev. John Cornell who prepared the Genealogy of the Cornell Family, and whose experience and services have greatly aided the completion of this work.

The book will contain a full index of names.

The price has been fixed at $5.00. As so many of the descendants of the old families of New York are interested in this work, and there already being a large demand for copies, we would suggest that you send in your order immediately; due notice will be sent you when the book is ready for delivery.

Should you desire a copy, please sign and mail the enclosed order to

REV. JOHN CORNELL, in care of Moran Bros.,
68 William St., N. Y. City.
