— PREFACE —

The Eastwood family in America is of English origin. Persons of that name are found in earliest Colonial times in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Jersey, but no connection, as yet, has definitely established that shows that they belong to the same family of that name.

Another branch of the family settled in northern New York in the latter part of the eighteenth century. It is thought that these people came up the Connecticut river valley and are connected with the earlier families. Family tradition has it that the first Eastwood in America was an Englishman who was born at sea on a ship coming from Wales to the colonies and that he had a son, Abel Eastwood, who was probably born in Vermont.

There is also a tradition that Abel Eastwood had a family bible which contained a record of those who came before him. Many persons were thought to have had this volume but diligent search has failed to bring it to light. Mrs. Eva Manson, of Warsaw, New York, who visited the Abel Eastwood descendants in the Province of Ontario, Canada, said that this bible was left in the possession of Adriaah (Eastwood) Smith and that it had been worn out or destroyed by her children. This is likely as she was the youngest daughter and remained with her parents in Canada where she married and left many descendants.

Research has been conducted for some sixty years by the late Charles Kirk Eastwood, of Owego, N. Y., and his two sons, Sidney Kingman Eastwood and Eric Kingman Eastwood. What has been learned leaves many gaps that, perhaps, can be filled.

This pamphlet, containing all that has been learned of the descendants of Abel Eastwood, is published with the hope that it will stimulate interest in the family and result in additional information being brought to light, particularly in regard to what connection there is between the New York families and the earlier families of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Jersey.

It is hoped that the names of the parents of Abel Eastwood may be learned. It is also thought that he had brothers and sisters who were in the same region at the end of the eighteenth century. Further there is much to be added in regard to members of the more recent generations. All of this could lead to the publication of a much more extensive work on the family.

FIRST GENERATION

ABEL<sup>1</sup> EASTWOOD, probably born in Vermont, died at Elizabethtown, Ontario, prior to 1836. He married in Vermont Edith (Eldridge) Brayton, a widow who had two sons, Kelep (Caleb) and Benjamin Brayton. He removed to Otter Creek, Washington county, New York, prior to 1780 where all of his children are supposed to have been born. It is not known whether or not he lived at any other place in the state.

He was a strong supporter of the English cause and, sometime before the war of 1812, moved to Canada where he took the oath of allegiance to the king. He located on the St. Lawrence river about four miles east of Brockville where he lived until his death. His wife died there in 1836. Elizabethtown does not appear on recent maps.
