FOREWORD

Active work in compiling this book began over two years ago. Inspired by the successful reunion of Griffin kindred held in August, 1930, the author pushed forward and completed gathering material for this publication. The major portion of the material has been secured through correspondence. The author wishes to extend his thanks to the many families mentioned in this work for their promptness in returning questionnaires. It was necessary to write only a few the second time, a circumstance which lightened the work considerably.

This has been a tremendous task. Had I been gifted with that happy faculty of looking into the future, and realizing before hand the vast amount of work necessary for such enterprise, the book would have never been published. However, it is as near complete as it is possible to make it, and the author has no apologies to offer. Perhaps someone else might have performed the task better. It will at least preserve for posterity the records contained herein.

Thanks are due Mrs. Griffin for her kind assistance. With her help, sympathy and counsel the work has indeed been a labor of love.

Errata et Addenda.

Since publishing the genealogical sheet on the family of Mary Green Roach, her husband, James M. Roach, has died. The sad event occurred December 13, 1930

Since publishing the genealogical sheet on the family of Elsie Green Treadaway, there has been added to the family a new member, Betty Ann, born November 15, 1930.

On the genealogical sheet of Jethro Rollins should be added that he was a soldier during the World War; corporal in Company A, 144th Machine Gunners, 40th Division.

Recapitulation.

Chisolm Griffin has a total of 461 direct living descendants, residing in nine states: Massachusetts, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri, Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina and Florida, and in two foreign countries, Mexico and Nicaragua. Society of Griffin Kindred.

A reunion of the Griffin kindred was held on the second Sunday in August, 1930, at the old Jim Frank Daniel place, at which time it was decided to hold the reunion annually the first Sunday in August, at the same place. Officers elected were: President, Frank Griffin; vice-president, B. G. Moore, and secretary, Clarence Griffin.

CLARENCE GRIFFIN

CHISOLM GRIFFIN.

Chisolm Griffin was born about 1750, or earlier, and died about 1807. The place of his birth or the names of his parents, are not definitely known to the author, but he was living in Rutherford County at the time of his death. His parents were natives of Virginia, and they probably died in that state.

Chisolm Griffin was a soldier in the Revolution, serving on several tours with a Virginia Regiment. He came to Rutherford county from Virginia during or shortly after the Revolution.

About 1785 he was married to Frances Terrell, daughter of Mrs. Anna Lewis Terrell Willis. Mrs. Willis was twice married, first to Joel Terrell and the second time to Stephen Willis. Francis Terrell was born in 1764, in Virginia, and died sometime after 1800 in Georgia. Chisolm and Frances Griffin had the following children:

- B1--Anna, never married
- B2--Joel, died young
- B3--Greenbury, Married Faitha Holbert
- B4--WILLIAM LEWIS, Born April 3, 1797, married Elizabeth Suttle

According to the best available information Chisolm Griffin was killed in a family feud about 1807. This was the result of some domestic difficulties. Following his death his children were 'bound out' or apprenticed.

Anna Griffin, the oldest child and only daughter, never married. She died at the home of her brother, Wm. L. Griffin, on Green River, in Rutherford County, N.C. at an advanced age.

Joel Griffin, second child, was apprenticed to Peter Mooney. The following entry appears in the minutes of the Rutherford county Court of Pleas and Quarter sessions for January, 1807: "January 15: On motion it was consented by Joel Terrell and Richard Lewis that Joel Griffin, son of Chisolm Griffin, computed to be 13 years of age, be bound to Peter Mooney until he attain the age of 21 years, the said Mooney agrees that he will learn him the art and mystery of farming and at freedom will give him a horse, bridle and saddle to the value of 25 pounds hard money over and above what the law shall and may direct".

Mooney operated an ordinary, or dispensary, in his house. Joel Griffin was sent one cold, snowy night to get a jug of whiskey. He was found the next morning not far away, frozen to death, with the jug of whiskey at his side untouched. He had lost his way in the snowstorm.

Greenberry, the third child of Chisolm Griffin, was also apprenticed. He was a soldier in the War of 1812. His name appears in the Muster Rolls of the Third Rutherford Regiment, Detached Militia of 1814. He married Mrs. Faitha Holbert, daughter of John Rhodes, of Rutherford county, N.C., on December 12, 1830. He was for a number of years engaged in agricultural pursuits in Rutherford county. He served a number of years as a justice of the peace in Rutherford county, and was a member of the Select Court for sometime, a highly honorable position at that time. He received a fairly good education for his day and time, which enabled him to take a prominent place in his county and community. He left the county shortly after his marriage, and settled in Georgia.

William Lewis Griffin, the fourth and youngest son of Chisolm Griffin, was born in Rutherford county April 3, 1797, where he resided nearly a century, passing away May 27, 1887, after a long and useful life. All descendants mentioned in this book are descendants of William L. Griffin.

B4-- WILLIAM LEWIS GRIFFIN.

William Lewis Griffin, or Erlands, the fourth child of Frances and Chisolm Griffin, was born April 3, 1797, in Rutherford county, N.C., and died May 27, 1887, at the Griffin homestead in Cool Springs township, Rutherford county. He is buried in the family cemetery nearby the old home. He was apprenticed to Aaron Camp at the age of seven years, and remained with him until he completed his apprenticeship. The apprentice papers, in possession of the author, read as follows:

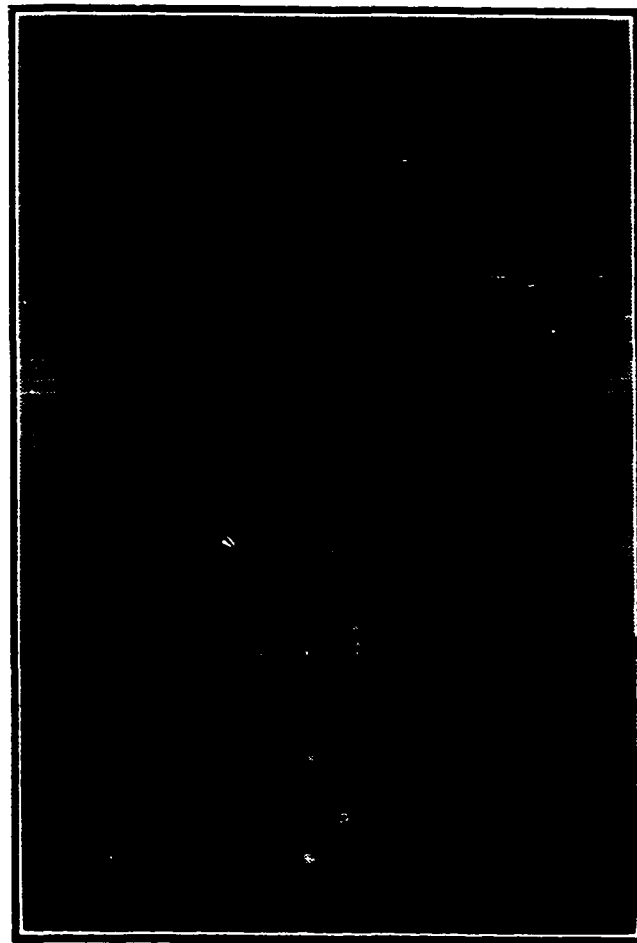

"State of North Carolina

"This indenture, made the eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and five (1805) and in the thirtieth year of the Independence of the said states, between David Dickey, Esq., Chairman of the one part, and Aaron Camp, of the other part: Witnesseth, That the said David Dickey, Esq., Chairman, etc, doth place, put and bind unto the said Aaron Camp, Erlands, commonly called William Griffin, computed to be seven years old, with the said Aaron Camp, to live after the manner of an apprentice and servant, until the said apprentice shall attain the age of twenty-one years, during all which time the said apprentice his Master shall faithfully serve, his lawful commands everywhere gladly obey; he shall not at any time absent himself from his said Master's service without his leave, but in all things, as a good and faithful servant, shall behave towards his said master. And the said David Dickey doth covenant, promise and agree, to and with the said Aaron Camp that he will teach and instruct, or cause to be taught and instructed,

HON. WILLIAM LEWIS GRIFFIN

Born April 3, 1797

Died May 27, 1887

Three things, if possessed by a man, entitle him to be called a chief of kindred:

That he speak on behalf of his kin and be listened to;

That he fight on behalf of his kin and be feared;

And that he offer himself as a pledge for his kin and be accepted.

—Welsh Triad.

now sleeps in a grave beside her husband in the family cemetery near the old homestead.

William L. and Elizabeth Suttle Griffin were staunch members of the Methodist church, and were charter members of the Pleasant Grove Methodist church, joining when it was established in 1838. George O. Griffin, the eldest son, was also a charter member of Pleasant Grove

William L. Griffin was always largely engaged in and with public interests, although never interested personally in public office. He was elected Public Register, (now office of Register of Deeds) of Rutherford county in February, 1851, a position which he filled for more than fifteen years, until the fortunes of the Southern Confederacy brought about a reversal of affairs in the state in 1866.

Without formal education he was a great reader and deeply interested in public education; this interest even extending beyond the customs of his community and time. With the beginning of the public school system in the early forties, he allied himself with the public men of that period who were sponsoring the movement of free public education, and for a number of years he devoted his time as a citizen and school official to the advancement of the public school system in the county. He frequently served in some capacity connected with the schools until his death. His limited opportunities for even a common school education were scant, due to circumstances already related, but he took the fullest advantage of those opportunities and accomplished more than many others who were more fortunate. His early experience doubtless brought about his great desire to make accessible equal educational facilities to all the children of the county, and he constantly worked toward that end.

Eight children were born to William L. and Elizabeth Suttle Griffin, as follows:

- C1--George O Griffin, born July 7, 1821; killed in battle May 29, 1864. Married Martha Tanner
- C2--Mary Ann Griffin, born Oct. 30, 1822; died January 6, 1906; married J. L. Green
- C3--Luvenia J. Griffin (Aunt Vine) born April 8, 1825; died Feb. 12, 1908. (Unmarried)
- C4--Caroline Matilda Griffin, born Aug. 25, 1827; died Feb. 12, 1915; Mar. J. C. Daniel.
- C5--Nancy L. Griffin, born July 15, 1829; died March 13, 1908. (unmarried)
- C6--Martha L. A. Griffin (Aunt May) born Aug. 18, 1831; died March 27, 1913. (Unmarried)
- C7--Loren Walker Griffin, born Aug. 24, 1834; died March 18, 1907; M. E. Radford.
- C8--James M. Griffin, born July 15, 1837; died August 13, 1862; (unmarried)

A list of the descendants of each of the above children, who married, will be found in the preceding pages of this book.

#8-- JAMES M. GRIFFIN

James M. Griffin, youngest child of William Lewis and Elizabeth Suttle Griffin, was born in Rutherford county, N.C., July 15, 1837. He volunteered for service in The War Between The States May 1, 1861, enlisting as a private in Company D, 16th North Carolina Volunteers, (Burnt Chimney Volunteers), and died in Richmond, Va., August 18, 1862.

He was an energetic and ambitious young man, and loved by all who knew him, and those features made him a great favorite in his company until death cut short his career. He was never married. Due to poor transportation facilities, his body was buried in Richmond.

The author has in his possession the following certificate:

"I certify that James M. Griffin, a soldier of Company D, 16th Regiment, North Carolina Troops, enlisted on the first day of May, 1861; died in service on the 18th day of August, 1862; that he had received a bounty of $10.00 from the state of North Carolina, and had at the time of his death $40.00 due"

THE SUTTLE FAMILY

Few men have left as indelible imprint on the pages of Western North Carolina history, in the way of a long line of worthy descendants as have George and Isaac Suttle. Isaac Suttle was born in Virginia about 1740, and was a soldier in the Revolution, and saw much service. George Suttle, his son, it is said, saw service in the Virginia State Militia in the closing days of the Revolution.

George Suttle emigrated with his father, Isaac Suttle, to Rutherford county, N.C., immediately after the Revolution, and settled near the present "Carpenter Brick House" place. He purchased three tracts of land, between 1787 and 1803, on Floyd's Creek, lying in the present townships of Sulphur Springs and High Shoals. The first tract of land was purchased May 14, 1787, from Elizabeth Thomasson, for which the seller agreed to dispose of "150 acres in the old field where John Thomasson used to live", lying and being on both sides of Rocky Creek, of Floyds Creek. An adjoining tract of 350 acres was purchased by George Suttle on March 1, 1803. On March 22, 1803 he purchased another tract of land adjoining the two already bought. The three purchases brought his total holdings to 614 acres, all of which adjoined and lay in the two townships already mentioned. Much of this land was in cultivation, and while in his possession he cleared more of it and planted it. At one time he owned nearly fifty slaves, which necessitated a large area of land in cultivation to maintain them.

About 1808 George Suttle built what is erroneously is called the "Carpenter Brick House". This house is on one of the three tracts of land purchased by him, and is located just across the township line in Sulphur Springs township, about three miles south of Harris. When it was built, and for many years afterwards, it was considered one of the most magnificent structures in the county. Of two stories, with large, well-constructed rooms, the house presents a fine example of the old planters' homes of the ante-bellum South. The house has been in use over a century, and is yet in good condition for two hundred more years. This is one of the oldest houses now standing in Rutherford county.

After the death of George Suttle in 1816, the house, together with the lands, passed to his wife, and upon her death the property was sold and the proceeds divided among the children. In this manner the house passed from the Suttle family, being owned for a time by Tennessee Carpenter, from whom it takes its present name.

George Suttle died about March, in the year 1816. His will was recorded in April, 1816.

He was survived by the following children:

William Byars Suttle,
 Joseph Suttle
 Benjamin F. Suttle
ELIZABETH SUTTLE, Married William L. Griffin.
 George W. Suttle
 John B. Suttle
 Sarah Suttle
 Susan Suttle
 Nancy Suttle

William B. Suttle did not marry. Benjamin F. Suttle married Sarah Baxter; George married Francis Taylor; Sarah married Aaron Camp; Susan married William Kelley and Nancy married a Baxter, a brother to the wife of Ben Suttle.

LEWIS--TERRELL--GRIFFIN CONNECTIONS.

J O H N L E W I S , S R. was born in Wales about the year 1640; and died in Hanover County, Virginia, in 1726. The name of his wife is unknown. He was the father of six children; one of whom was:

D A V I D L E W I S , S R., who was born in Hanover County, Virginia in 1685, and died in Albemarle County, Virginia, in 1779. He married, first, in 1717, to a MISS TERRELL, who died in 1734. Married second time (name of wife unknown.) Married third time to Mary McGarth. Eight children were born to the first union and three to the third union. One of the eight children, by the first marriage, was:

A N N A L E W I S, who was born February 14, 1733 in Hanover County, Va, and died July 2, 1835, in Rutherford county, N.C. She married first her cousin, Joel Terrell, Jr., (born Sept. 22, 1726); and second, to Stephen Willis. She had ten children by her first husband, and none by the second. One of the ten children was:

FRANCES TERRELL, who was born in Albemarle county, Virginia March 17, 1764, and died about 1800. She married:

C H I S O L M G R I F F I N, whose descendants are listed in this book.

ANNA LEWIS TERRELL WILLIS.

(From "Genealogy of Lewis Family in America")

Anna Willis, daughter of David Lewis, Sr., and his first wife, Miss.....Terrell, was born in Hanover county, Va., in 1733. She was a woman of ordinary size, weighting about one hundred and thirty five pounds, and was endowed by nature with a remarkably strong constitution and vigorous intellectual powers. She was never confined a day to her bed by sickness in her life. She was reared at a time when there were but few schools in the country. By aid of her father, together with her own untiring assiduity and diligence, she acquired a very good English education. Piety, industry, probity and charity were prominent traits in her character. About the year 1750 she emigrated from Hanover with her father to Albemarle county, Va., where she married, in 1753, her cousin, Joel Terrell, Jr. After her marriage they kept a hotel at Charlottesville, Va., and among their many boarders was numbered Thomas Jefferson, a young lawyer who had just hung out his "shingle". After the death of Joel Terrell, Jr., her husband, she married Stephen Willis. Several of her brothers and sisters having emigrated to the South and West, it was an inducement to her to emigrate also, she having purchased land of her brother, David Lewis, in Rutherford county, N.C., to which place she sent some of her negroes before her removal. In 1780 she started for her home in the South, and on arrival at her brother's, Wm. T. Lewis', on the Yadkin, in Surry county, N.C., in May, she heard that the British had captured Charleston, S.C., so she remained at her brother's until the succeeding fall, when she moved to her home in Rutherford county, N.C. On her arrival at her home she found no one there. She at once concluded that the British and Tories had taken off all her negroes, as Colonel Ferguson, a short time previous, had marched through Rutherford county. But on her meeting with her friends she found that her sister, Mrs. Susannah Mackey, had them hid out in the river hills.

In order to save his property Stephen Willis was forced to take the oath of protection by pledging himself not to raise arms against the King of England; but at the same time his son Stephen, by his first wife, was in the army, doing good service for the colonies. Stephen Willis' first wife was a sister of Joel Terrell, the first husband of Mrs. Willis

Before the Revolutionary War, Mrs. Anna Willis was a member of the Church of England, but always desired to be immersed. After the death of Mr. Willis, her second husband, who was a Presbyterian, she was immersed in Broad River on the plantation of her son, Joel Terrell, Jr., about three miles southwest of Rutherfordton. She used Spectacles until she was over ninety years of age. At one hundred she could read without the aid of glasses, her eyesight having returned. On the morning of her one-hundredth birthday she presented her grandson, James O. Terrell, a copy of the "Westminster Confession of Faith" which was printed in old style, bound in calf and dressed with the hair on. On the flyleaf of said book she wrote in her own hand as follows: "Presented by Me to My Grandson, James O. Terrell, February 14, 1833. This day I am one hundred years old. Anna Willis." (Note: This book is now in the possession of Susannah Green, of Harris, R-1, N.C. The author).

At one hundred years of age she walked as erect as a girl of sixteen, using, however, a walking staff to prevent her from stumbling. Instead of a bonnet she wore a straw hat with a ribbon around it.

After the death of her husband and her son Joel Terrell, Jr., she continued to reside with her grandchildren. She resided with Col. Arthur Erwin, who married Evalina A. Terrell, her granddaughter, until 1834 when Col. Erwin moved to Georgia, after which time she resided with her grandson, William Lewis Griffin, until the day of her death, which event occurred on the second of July, 1835 at the advanced age of one hundred and two years, four months and a few days. On the morning of the day of her death she arose as usual, dressed herself and walked to the fire, but complained of a slight dizziness. A cup of coffee was furnished her which she drank, and then returned to bed, lay down and immediately expired, almost without a groan or struggle; apparently without pain or suffering. Thus ended her long and useful career of over five score years. Her remains were interred by the side of her son in the graveyard at her old homestead, near Rutherfordton.

Mrs. Anna Willis had ten children by her first husband and none by the second. They are as follows:

(Note: The following dates are furnished by the author. They were copied from a record made by William L. Griffin April 4, 1834)

Joel Terrell, Jr., born Sept. 22, 1726; married September 18, 1753, to Anna Lewis, who was born February 14, 1733.

Their children are as follows:
