—INTRODUCTION—
GOODWIN FAMILIES OF NEW ENGLAND.

It may save confusion if brief mention is made of the immigrants who have left Goodwin families in New England. It is exceptionally difficult to keep the tribes separate in New Hampshire and Vermont, for in some instances three different families have had representatives in the same town. The “Three Brother Story”, is of course long since discredited.

1632—William Goodwin and Ozias Goodwin, brothers, settled eventually in Hartford, Conn.

A Genealogy of this family has been published:—

The author of this book has copied from "The Goodwins of Kittery, Me.", the ancestry of Elisha (of the sixth generation from Daniel, the emigrant), who was the author's great grandfather on his mother's side. Thanks are due John Samuel Goodwin of Chicago, Ill., and his assistants who compiled "The Goodwins of Kittery, Me." The data collected by these gentlemen of five generations of the Goodwin family as published in "Goodwins of Kittery", is valuable to anyone of the Goodwin family descending from Daniel in tracing their family if they have not the early records.

The compiler understands there are ten volumes of Goodwin Records of Maine families in manuscript form and hopes sometime these records will be compiled to date, and a complete genealogy of the Goodwins of Maine printed, or that this manuscript will be deposited with some Genealogical and Historical Society where it can be referred to.

The compiler of descendants of Elisha Goodwin., the sixth, spent several years compiling the descendants of Nicholas Doe, being successful in the same except financially. No attempt is made in following pages to do more than to give in the briefest form the family records. The compiler of this work knowing that copies will go to Goodwins whom he visited forty-seven years ago with his mother and has never forgotten how he enjoyed the visit, and only a few of his distant relatives has he seen since, prints a cut of himself and one page of Doe Genealogy.

“THE GOODWINS OF HARTFORD, CONN.”

—BY—

JAMES J. GOODWIN

—OF—

HARTFORD, CONN.

1633—Christopher Goodwin settled in Charlestown, Mass. His descendants were in Boston, Reading, and Marblehead, Mass., and York, Me.

1652—Daniel Goodwin settled in Kittery, Me.

1660—Richard Goodwin resided in Gloucester, Essex Co., Mass., marrying in 1666. His descendants resided principally in Newbury and Rowley, Mass., and in No. Yarmouth, Me., where the name is Gooding.

1660—Edward Goodwin resided in Amesbury, and his son Richard, in Salisbury, Essex Co., Mass. Family is widely scattered through New Hampshire and Vermont.

1712—John Goodwin settled in Boston—Descendants in Dresden, and Fairfield, Me.

1712—William Goodwin, brother of John, settled Marblehead, Mass.

Where did Daniel Goodwin, the Immigrant, come from, and who were his ancestors? John S. Goodwin, in “The Goodwins of Kittery” states his belief that Daniel of Kittery, and that Richard, who resided in Gloucester, Mass. in 1660, were brothers, and came from Plymouth, England. Possibly, someone has been able to trace Daniel Goodwin ancestry since John S. Goodwin published his records. If so it is not known to the compiler of these few pages.

ELMER ELLSWORTH DOE (8) , Andrew Jackson (7), Gorham Weeks (6), Deacon Andrew (5), Nathaniel Jr. (4), Capt. Nathaniel (3), Sampson (2), Nicholas (1), b. July 31, 1862, Veazie, Me.; m. 1st May 19, 1888, Matilda E., dau.
of James and Margaret (Cullen) Smith; b. Apr. 15, 1865, Easthampton, Mass.; 2nd, Aug. 7, 1914, Carrie M., dau. of Horace P. and Abbie Colby Cook, b. June 3, 1876, Barton, Vt. He received his education in the Veazie grammar school and at an early age went to work in the mills. He left home at the age of 18 years, following the lumber business in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. At the age of 20 he went West into the lumber regions of Minnesota, passing four years in that locality, following various occupations, handling lumber from the stump to the planning mill. He returned to Northampton, Mass., in 1887, where he was employed as foreman by the Connecticut Valley

Lumber Co., for sixteen years. During that time Mr. Doe served several years in the city government, two years of this being on the board of aldermen. In 1903 he accepted a position in Orleans, Vt., and took over the management of The E. L. Chandler Co. plant. In 1909 he was elected a director of The Parker-Young Co. of Lisbon, N. H., which controls both The Parker Young Co. and The E. L. Chandler Co., the largest manufacturers of piano sounding boards in the United States. He is the compiler of this Genealogy.

Children, by first wife:

- I. Bertha Violet, b. June 2, 1889; d. Dec. 2, 1889.
- II. Lillian Silsby, b. Sept. 7, 1891, Northampton, Mass.; m. Mar. 18, 1914, Alwyn West Woodbury of Needles, Cal.
- III. Alton Andrew, b. Mar. 9, 1893, Mount Tom, Easthampton, Mass. Graduated from Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., in 1911, and for a period of five years was assistant superintendent of The E. L. Chander Co., Orleans, Vt. When the National Guard was called to the colors, June 19, 1916, he enlisted as a private in Co. L., 1st Infantry, Vermont National Guard, and was promoted to Quartermaster Sergeant. Was stationed at Eagle Pass, Texas, during the summer of 1916. Attended the officers' training course at Plattsburg, N. Y., during the summer of 1917 being identified with the Second Battery, Field, Artillery, New England Division. On August 2, 1917, upon recommendation of the regimental commander, he was appointed a second lieutenant in the First Vermont Infantry, National Guard, which he accepted. He was awarded a second lieutenant's commission in recognition of his work while at Plattsburg, which he resigned. Was commissioned a first lieutenant in summer of 1918 and went to France in September, 1918, with the 57th Pioneer Infantry. Owing to the large number of deaths from influenza the regiment was broken up on its arrival at Brest and Lieut. Doe was transferred to the 39th Infantry. Was secretary to Col. Rhea, chairman of the American bridgehead commission, Coblenz, Germany. M. June, 1918, Ruth, dau. of Robert S. and Rhoda Daley Lazenby of Waco, Texas. Resides Waco, Texas.
