Note.—Sir John Goodricke and the Civil War. The Journals of the House of Commons record that Sir John was a prisoner at Manchester 21 January 1642-3, and was committed to the Tower by order of the Parliament 14 August 1643. The "Mercurius Civicus" of 25 January 1644 says he made his escape from the Tower, but was recaptured at Wickham (High Wycombe) on his way to Oxford and reimprisoned in the Tower. He was disguised in the habit of a butcher, and there were found in his pocket fourscore pieces of gold. The "Parliament Scout" of 26 January 1644 and the "Weekly Account" of 1 February 1644 also give similar accounts. He was released from imprisonment under order of the Parliament dated 26 March 1646. Vide Journals of the House of Commons, vols. ii., iii., and iv. Sir John visited the English College at Rome 23 June 1647. He was M.P. for Thirsk in the New Parliament called by Richard Cromwell to meet 27 January 1658-9, and M.P. for York County 25 March 1661.
