PRELIMINARY

Family tradition indicates that our ancestor held the position of Hofmeister, (which in English is Courtmaster), under Charlemagne (786 to 814 A. D.). The title followed him afterwards as a surname.

Up to the late war the courts of Germany and Austria had their official Hofmeister, a position of dignity and importance.

The gathering of the family records found in the present work has been a task of many years. It is to be regretted that many names are wanting, but the hope is indulged in that all the descendants will at least be enabled to trace their early ancestry by means of this small volume.

The names are numbered in serial order. As head of a family each one's number is placed to the right of the name. The numbers in the index refer to the corresponding numbers in the serial order.

LOUDERBACK

Johan David Lauterbach arrived at Philadelphia from Rotterdam on the ship Samuel, Hugh Percy, Commander. He was twenty-three years of age and unmarried. He "qualified" or took the oath of allegiance on August 27, 1739. He settled in Virginia, and his name was there after spelled David Louderback. He married Elizabeth and their home was in Shenandoah County, Va. He was born in 1716 and died in 1793. His will is recorded in that county.

Children.

Sons.

David, married Jessey.

John, married Eve.

Matthias, married Magdalena.

Joseph, married Caty Comer, 1783.

Daniel, married Anne Ward, 1790.

Abraham, married Margaret Emmons, 1786.

Daughters.

Christine, married Adam Bowyer.

Susanne, married Ernest Frederick Julius Martini.

Sarah, married Godlove Huffmaster, 1781.

Eve, married Abrahami Campbell, 1799.

Barbara, married Peter Helvey.

Elizabeth, married John Burdidge.

The order of births and marriages of the children are only partially known.

So far as is known all the children remained in Virginia except two who moved to Hawkins County, Tennessee. David bought land there in 1798. He left a large number of descendants. Godlove Huffmaster, who married Sarah, bought land there in 1810.

FIRST GENERATION.

Godlove Huffmaster (1).

Gottlieb Hoffmeister arrived in America about 1776, and settled in Shenandoah County, Virginia. He was born about 1757, in the vicinity of Frankfort on the Main in Germany. He changed the spelling of his name to Godlove Huffmaster; was married June 12, 1781, to Sarah Louderback, who was born February 18, 1764. Their children were all born in Virginia, but all moved to Hawkins County, Tennessee, where he bought land in 1810. He and his wife died about 1844. His will is on record at Rogersville.

It has been found convenient to give the descendants of Joseph and John separately. Only fifteen descendants of the other children have been found. Two sons, Daniel and Godlove, were killed by a stroke of lightning.

nessee. A local paper says of him: "John E. Campbell was an extraordinary man. He was big brained and tireless. Up to recently, when all business slacked a little, few young men would have cared to follow him through one of his busy days. Despite his busy life, Mr. Campbell was an active churchman and found time to look after much church work. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church and liked to attend, not only the services of the church, but upon the Presbyteries and General Assemblies. The death of Mr. Campbell is a distinct loss to Humboldt. He was interested in the town and its institutions and did much for both." He was popular with all classes, with white and black alike. He has gone to his reward. He died May 28, 1921. His wife is a daughter of James A. W. and Gabriella Hess.
