To those who are interested in genealogical pursuits, the author of this volume need offer no apology. The fact that no history of the Hoyt family has yet appeared, is sufficient to justify this attempt to preserve, in a permanent form, such items as he has collected. But the work has been prepared more especially for the members of that family. They cannot fail to feel interested in tracing the history of their own forefathers. Every descendant of the Puritans should feel an interest in whatever relates to them and their times; but that interest is greatly increased when one feels that he is acquiring some knowledge of his own ancestors—those whose blood flows in his own veins, and to whom he is indebted for many traits of his character, and, indeed, his very being.

The present work is the result of the compiler's desire to know something respecting his own ancestors. In tracing his own line, there was, for some time, one link wanting, which it was very difficult to supply; and, in searching for that, so much information was gathered respecting other branches, that it was thought best to publish it for the benefit of other members of the family. Such a purpose being once formed, the natural result would be, a desire to make as full and accurate a record as possible, and, consequently, it has required much more time and labor than it was originally intended to bestow upon it. Every available source of information has been consulted. Many letters of inquiry have been written, and it has also been found necessary to travel somewhat extensively, not only to collect oral information, but also to examine church, parish, town, county and state records.

A large portion of the following pages is devoted to the descendants of John Hoyt, who settled in Salisbury, Mass., in 1640, and afterwards lived in Amesbury. These embrace most of those bearing the name in Eastern Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, and a part of those in Vermont, New York, and the West, together with some in the Southern States. As no history of either Salisbury or Amesbury has yet been published, a few facts concerning their early settlement have been inserted, which might not, perhaps, properly be considered a part of John Hoyt's personal biography, and a list of the first settlers of those towns has been added in the Appendix. Some account has been given of the early Hoyts of Connecticut, and also a full account of the Deerfield, Mass., branch of the family. General statements respecting the family are founded chiefly upon the author's own observations among the descendants of John Hoyt of Salisbury, and David Hoyt of Deerfield; but, so far as he has the means of knowing, they apply to the Hoyt family in general. Many of the descendants of John Hoyt are also descended from William Barnes, another of the first settlers of Salisbury and Amesbury; and, as no son was left to perpetuate the name of Barnes, a record of the family is appended to this work. The list of revolutionary soldiers has been carefully arranged from the original army rolls contained in the archives of New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

The great requisite in such a work is accuracy, and that has been the main object constantly kept in view. Nothing is stated as a fact without sufficient proof. Wherever there is any doubt, it is always indicated, either in words or by the use of the interrogation point. Where there are discrepancies between records, in regard to dates, &c., those made nearest the time referred to are usually followed, though the others are also frequently given. Authentic records always take the precedence of tradition, and the latter has been very little relied upon. The history of the earlier generations has been made out from written records, and the author is himself responsible for the accuracy of that part of the work, as he has, in most cases, personally examined the original entries. Information respecting the later generations has frequently been furnished by other individuals, and hence there is here a greater liability to errors and omissions, notwithstanding the author has used all means in his power to verify all doubtful points. Wherever it has been possible, he has obtained a statement of the same facts from two or more individuals.*

As middle names did not come into general use till within the present century, there have frequently been several individuals living in the same town at the same time, and bearing precisely the same name—in some instances having wives with the same Christian name. In such cases, it is difficult to distinguish them, and though the greatest care has been taken, there may sometimes be some mistake. In other instances there may be some confusion arising from the fact that there have been two children of the same parents, bearing the same name, one of them having died young, while perhaps only one was recorded. On old records,—previous to 1752,—there is also frequently an ambiguity arising from the custom of sometimes considering the year as commencing with the 1st of January, and sometimes with the 25th of March. Where it can be done with certainty, the date is here given in both ways. In addition to fixing the commencement of the year, the new style also made a change in the days of the month. Most dates prior to 1752 are according to old style, yet when an event occurred before 1752 but was not recorded till after that time, the date may be new style.

* The author will cheerfully furnish authorities for any statement made in this work, if requested to do so. He particularly requests that errors and additional information, especially respecting the older branches of the family, may be communicated to him by mail, at either Amesbury or Brighton, Mass.

On the following pages, the surname Hoyt is spelled in accordance with the usage of different branches of the family, so far as known to the author. In quoting from old records, the utmost care has been taken to preserve the original spelling of every word, and punctuation has been supplied only when it seems absolutely necessary. It is unfortunate that neither John Hoyt of Amesbury, or either of his sons, left wills, as they frequently furnish information which cannot otherwise be obtained. The wills left by members of the third generation of this family have been of great service. It is also to be regretted that the earliest records of the first churches of both Salisbury and Amesbury are not to be found. Only one book for each of these churches is now to be seen, and both of these are in the possession of private individuals.

With but a single exception, every member of the family to whom the author has personally applied for information, has cheerfully granted it; and he would hereby express his thanks, not only to them, but also to those gentlemen who have so kindly furnished him every facility for examining records in their possession. Special mention should also be made of Rev. Henry Roberts, minister of Curry Rivell, Somersetshire, England, who has kindly furnished valuable information respecting the Hoyte family residing there, and Hon. R. R. Hinman, of New York City, who has communicated many facts relating to the early Hoyts of Connecticut.

It is a humiliating thought, that men are usually forgotten in a very few years, even by their own descendants. They act their part in life, as we are now doing—perhaps they may even live to a good old age—but in a few years they have so truly passed away, that it is often only by the most diligent search that the least vestige of their history can be discovered. Many of the present generation do not know even the names of their grandparents, and some seem to be utterly unconscious that any individual ever existed who bore to them the relation of great-grandfather. It is hoped that this volume will awaken an interest in family history among those bearing the name of Hoyt. It is specially designed to furnish reliable information respecting the earlier members of the family. Comparatively little attention has been bestowed upon the later generations, but blank leaves are inserted in most copies, that families may continue their own record down to the present time. Let every one add such notes as may be necessary in order to transmit to posterity a perfect family history.

EXPLANATION OF SIGNS, ABBREVIATIONS, &c.

THE members of the family are numbered in regular order. Each individual is known by the Arabic figures at the left of his name, and whenever he is elsewhere mentioned, that number is repeated (in parenthesis), not only to identify the person, but also to point out the place where his history is given.

Children of the same father are named in the order of their age, and the Roman numerals indicate their place in their own family.

The small figures placed at the right of the name, like the exponent in mathematics, show the number of the generation to which the individual belongs.

The number placed (in parenthesis), immediately after the record of a marriage, is that of the oldest child by that marriage, and serves to indicate where a record of the children may be found. If there is no such number inserted, it shows that the history of that person's descendants is not given.

The numbers placed between the dashes which separate different families, show the relationship of those families. Thus —1— shows that the individuals immediately preceding it are first cousins to those immediately following it; —2— second cousins; —3— third cousins, &c. The children of cousins are considered second cousins, the children of second cousins are third cousins, &c. To find the relationship of any two persons in the same generation, look over the space between them, and the largest number passed over will denote the degree of consanguinity. Thus, (823) Enoch⁷ and (982) Enoch⁷ are fourth cousins, as —4— is the largest number which stands between them. This method gives the relationship on the fathers' side, only, while individuals may be much more nearly connected in the maternal line. Thus, (841) Moses⁷ and (1020) Barnard⁷ are first cousins on their mothers' side, but only fifth cousins by the male line.

When the name of a married lady or widow is mentioned, her previous name is frequently added, enclosed in marks of parenthesis.

The interrogation [?] is used to express doubt or uncertainty. It applies only to what is contained within the brackets. In quotations from old records, brackets are also used to enclose something illegible or omitted in the original, and supplied by the transcriber.

The taxes of 1727 and 1732 are taken from records found in the office of the Secretary of State, at Concord, N. H. The record of the valuation of towns in 1771 is found among the State papers at Boston, Mass.

In ancient records, the character used for per, pro, &c., so nearly resembled the p, that we have used that letter in its place. Other abbreviations, except those in common use, are as follows:

NOTE. Since the Introduction was printed, the author has found Hight families in the city of Philadelphia, who are of either German or Dutch origin, and came to this country within the last century. The name was originally spelled Haydt, but pronounced like the anglicized form, Hight. The statement made on the next page must be taken with this limitation. To the list of spellings on the same page, might be added Height. Page 11, line 34, for three read four. Page 57, lines 18 and 19, omit Canterbury and perhaps. Page 16, line 11, for October, read July or August. Most of the early subsequent grants are dated October, but two or three bear an earlier date.

INTRODUCTION.

THE name of HOYT is not found in any treatise on surnames which we have consulted ; consequently we are left to ascertain its signification and origin from other sources. In Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is found the following : "HOYT, v. i. [Ice. hauta.] To leap ; to caper. Beaum. & Fl." It is undoubtedly one of those old English words which are now entirely obsolete, except as they exist in the form of surnames. The original ancestor of the Hoyt family must have been noted for his agility, and hence the name belongs to that class which had their origin in personal peculiarities. The name implies, either that the one who first bore it was accustomed to jump and move quickly, or that he excelled in leaping and feats of agility. The Hoyt family in general seem to have inherited something of the physical ability of their progenitor. Many of those bearing the name have been noted for their strength, and feats in running, wrestling, and lifting, while nearly all those of whom the author has gained any information have been strong and athletic. Some branches have been distinguished for great size and stature, as well as strength.

We have seen the name spelled in many different ways ; as, Hoyt, Hoit, Hoyte, Hoite, Hoytt, Hoitt, Hoyet, Hoyett, Hoyette, Hoyght, Hoight, Hight, Hite, Hyatt, Hayte, Haite, Hayt, Haight, and Hayts. In the earlier periods of this country's history, there seemed to be no settled orthography for proper names, especially surnames, and each clerk and recorder spelt as he pleased. Sometimes individuals even wrote their own names differently at different times, and some evidently did not know the proper method of spelling them. Whether all those whose names have been spelled in either of the last eight ways above mentioned are descended from the Hoyts, we cannot say. Hight and Hayt now form two names distinct from Hoyt. All the Hight families of whom the writer has any knowledge originated in New Hampshire and Maine, and spelled their name Hoyt, or Hoit, originally. Hight was adopted about the middle of the last century, and owes its origin to a corrupt pronunciation. It is now mostly confined to the state of Maine. In regard to the name of Hayt, Haite, &c., we have no certain information ; but, from the fact that it is often written for Hoyt on the early records of Connecticut, it seems very probable that the Hayts of that State are a branch of the Hoyt race. We occasionally find Hayt for Hoyt on the early records of Amesbury, Mass. It is said that a member of the Hoit family made inquiry in England, in the early part of the present century, concerning his ancestry, and was informed that they were originally from Germany, where the name was spelled Haight, but that, when they settled in England, it was changed to Hoit. It has also been said that there were families in the state of New York who spelt the name Haight, but pronounced it like Hoit.

The manner of spelling the name in England, at the present day, is Hoyte, though we are informed that it is written Hoyt on an ancient family record of the Curry Rivell, Somerset, branch. The e was sometimes added on old records in this country, though it is found Hoite quite as frequently as Hoyte. The three most common ways of spelling the name in this country, at the present time, are Hoyt, Hoit, and Hoitt. The latter originated in Northwood, N. H., near the close of the last century, and has been adopted by very few individuals except those descended from the Northwood branch. Hoit came into use in New Hampshire, near the middle of the last century, and is now mostly confined to the families of that State.* These two spellings are now chiefly, if not wholly, found among the descendants of John Hoyt, of Salisbury and Amesbury; but Hoyt is preferable, for the following reasons: 1. It is the manner in which it is almost always written on the ancient records of Essex and Old Norfolk Counties, on the Amesbury and Salisbury town records, and on the records of both the Amesbury churches, though the records of the Salisbury churches sometimes have it Hoit after 1700; 2. The members of the family in that region have spelt their own names Hoyt,† in signing deeds, &c., from the first settlement of the country to the present time; 3. The general custom of other branches of the family, in this country and in England, as well as of the majority of the Amesbury branch, is to use y in preference to i; 4. Hoyt is a better looking word than Hoit. Although the verb appears to have been spelled hoit, yet that would not necessarily control the orthography of the proper name derived from it.

The proper pronunciation, and that which is most common at the present time, in this country, and in England also, so far as we have ascertained, is to give the diphthong oy, or oi, its usual sound, as in boy, toy, voice. This sound of our language is, however, sometimes vulgarly contracted into the long sound of i, as in the words hoist, boil, spoil, join, point, oil, poison. In the same manner Hoit has sometimes been mispronounced, and has thus given rise to the name Hight.‡

The name of Hoyt, in any of its various orthographies, is not found in any book of heraldry, or on any of the ancient rolls of English names, within reach of the author. There are several copies of a coat of arms

* The name was, perhaps, spelled with an i in Western Massachusetts (family of David Hoit, of Deerfield), in the latter part of the seventeenth century; but the y is now used by the descendants of that family.

† The petition of (3) John² Hoyt, given on the following pages, is signed "John Hoite," but that from which we copy is evidently not the original document, or, at least, the signature is not his own hand-writing.

‡ If this pronunciation was common at the first settlement of the country, Hoite and Haite might have been pronounced alike, the o and a being both silent, and used interchangeably. In later times it was probably so general, in some parts of the country, as to be considered correct, especially where the name was spelled Hoit. Though there are a number of words where oi is frequently mispronounced, yet Americans seldom give oy the simple sound of i. It is difficult to determine the original pronunciation, but it seems most probable that the sound of the diphthong has been naturally contracted into the long sound of i, by dropping one of its component parts. Although we meet with many other early spellings, yet we have never seen Hight or Hite bearing date earlier than 1737.

to be found among the Hoyt family in this country ; but they have all, so far as their origin is definitely ascertained, been obtained from England by sea-captains within the last seventy or eighty years. Two of the original copies, both of which probably came directly from England, are not alike, if, indeed, they have any points of resemblance.* Mr. Jesse Hoit resided in London, at different times, four or five years, at the beginning of the present century, and made every effort to obtain the true arms of his family. He was told, that there was no established coat of arms to which the Hoyts were really entitled, but that, by paying a handsome sum of money, he could be furnished with an acceptable one. Of course, he did not choose to obtain one in such a manner.

The members of the Hoyt family in this country generally belong to the middle classes. Very few are extremely poor, or found among the low and degraded. There are some wealthy men bearing the name, and some who occupy high positions in society ; but the majority are honest, industrious farmers and mechanics. There seems to be a vein of quiet humor running through the race ; and its members usually possess a sufficient amount of independence, sometimes verging into oddity. The earlier generations were of the strict Puritan faith ; but, between the middle and close of the last century, some individuals adopted Baptist and Quaker sentiments, and now all sects and shades of religious belief (including the Mormons and Shakers) number among their adherents those bearing the name of Hoyt. Of course, so large a family must also be represented in almost every calling and profession. Divinity and law each claim a share, but the practice of medicine engages a much larger number. It is worthy of notice that so many of the name are physicians, compared with the number in other professions. Quite a large number, also, either are, or have been, engaged in teaching. Farmer states that "Eight had in 1828 received honours at the N. E. colleges."

The Hoyts seem to have received a full share of the military titles so profusely scattered under the old militia system. There was a General Epaphras Hoyt, of Deerfield, Mass., who was the author of one or two works on military tactics. The ancestor of the Amesbury branch of Hoyts was styled "Sargent," and there are, at least, three of his descendants now living in New Hampshire who are known by the title of General Hoit, to say nothing of colonels, captains, and other minor officers, in almost every generation. In the French and Indian, and Revolutionary wars, the family took an active part. A large number served as soldiers, and many thereby lost their lives. A few of the Connecticut Hoyts were, however, on the Tory side in the Revolution.

The part of England from which the Hoyts of this country emigrated has not been ascertained. It is possible they may have come from Somersetshire,† as there was an ancient family bearing the name in that county. In the Supplement to Burke's Dictionary of the Landed Gentry

* This statement is made from memory. One of them was seen by the writer only once, and is now probably in California. The other is somewhat extensively circulated in the form of daguerreotypes.

† Salisbury and Amesbury, Mass., were probably named for towns in Wiltshire, England, and some of the early settlers of those places were from that county. John Hoyt may have been one of that number, but we have found no proof that such was the case.

we find: "The Rev. John-Hawkes Mules, b. in 1754, vicar of Ilminster, co. Somerset, m. in 1781, Sarah, dau. of John Hoyte, Esq." On the list of subscribers for Collinson's History of Somerset, published in 1791, are "John Hoyte, esq. William Hoyte, esq.; Curry-Rivel." The only person bearing the name in that region at the present time, is Miss Katharine Hoyte,—grand-daughter of William Hoyte,—who still resides on the old homestead at Curry Rivell. In the London Directory for 1855, we find Robert Hoyte, and two persons bearing the name of William Hoyte.

Of course, there is a tradition in the Hoyt family, as in almost every other, that there were "three brothers came over from England;" but there are also traditions which speak of "two brothers," and "four brothers." There is no proof, however, that any such relationship existed between the progenitors of the different families of Hoyts in this country.

SIMON HOYT was the first member of the Hoyt family who emigrated to New England. We have not been able to ascertain the time or manner of his arrival; but, in Drake's History of Boston (p. 57), we find "Simon Hoyte" on the "List of the names of such as are known to have been in Salem and about the north side of the Massachusetts Bay, before and in the year 1629." The name of "Simon Hoytt" appears on the first list of "such as tooke the Oath of Freemen" in Massachusetts, 18 May, 1631, although it is not among "The Names of such as desire to be made Freemen," 19 Oct., 1630. We find "Symon Hoite" mentioned on the Dorchester records in 1633. On the 8th of October, in the same year, "Symon Hoyte" was chosen one of that town's committee to "see to" fences "for the East feilde."* In the History of Dorchester lately published (p. 57) we find: "Simon Hoyt in Dorchester early, probably 1630. Removed to Windsor and was an Elder or Deacon there." In Deane's History of Scituate (p. 289) is found: "Goodman — Hoyt, probably Simon, was a freeman in Massachusetts, 1631. In Scituate 1633, and probably earlier, he had a lot of planting land on the third cliff, as also Thomas Bird and Henry Merritt. He had a house lot also on Kent street, the third lot on the Green-field, west of Barnard Lombard's lot. Traces of him here disappear after 1636." "Symeon Hayte and Bernard Lombard and their wives joyned" the Scituate church, April 19, 1635.† From Rev. Mr. Lothrop's list of houses in Scituate, it appears that "Goodman Haites . . . wch Mr Bower haith bought," was built between Sept., 1634, and Oct., 1636; also, "The Smiths. Goodmā Hait's brother," was built during the same period.‡ On page 11 of Hinman's (Smaller) Catalogue of the first Puritan Settlers of Conn., we find "Simeon Hoyt," the last name on the list of those who joined Rev. Ephraim Huit in Mass., on his way from England to Windsor, in 1639. Also, on page 32, "Hoyt or Hoyette, Simon, 1639—came to Windsor in the 2d colony in '39." At "the Priculer Courte," May 7, 1640, "Simon Hoyette and his family are to be freed frō watch & ward vntill there be further Order taken by the Courte."§ He had four score acres of land granted him at Windsor, by the Plantation, Feb. 28, 1640.|| On the list of children,—manuscript of Rowland's first record of Windsor,—two are put down for "Symon Hoit." Simon Hoyt had a son Benjamin born at Windsor, Feb. 2, 1644. Simon Hoit had a house-lot granted to him, by Fairfield, of 2½ acres, in March, 1649, and purchased lots of John Green, and other lots there, in 1649. There may have been a Simon,² son of Simon,¹ and some of the later of the foregoing records may possibly relate to him; but it seems probable that all the earlier records must refer to one individual. He may have gone from the vicinity of Salem to Dorchester, thence to Scituate, and afterwards have joined Rev. Mr. Huit's Windsor colony. From the fact that his house in Scituate was not built till after September, 1634, and he did not join the church there till April, 1635, it seems possible that Deane may be mistaken in regard to Simon Hoyt's being in Scituate in 1633 or earlier, and he may be the same one who was in Dorchester, October, 1633. Probably this man was the ancestor of the Hoyts of Connecticut and Western Massachusetts, and perhaps of the Hayts also. The Windsor records state that "Ould Goode Hoyt" died there in 1644,—possibly wife or relative of Simon.

WALTER HOYT (perhaps son of Simon), in Windsor 1640, had three children there; son John born July 13, 1644.* Walter went to Fairfield County, and was one of the early settlers of Norwalk, where the name was frequently spelt Haite, or Hyatt. "Walter Haite" is on the list of those who early had home lots in Norwalk. His four acres were bounded south by George Abbott's home lot. He was a fence-viewer, &c., there in 1655. "Walt'r Hoyt" † was a deputy to the October session of the General Court in 1658, 1659, and 1661.‡ "Walter Hoyt" was confirmed as sergeant of a company at Norwalk by the "Gen^l Court of Election, Hartford, May 19, 1659."‡ "Serj^t Walter Hoit" § was a deputy in May and October, 1667.‡ "Walter Haite" on list of freemen in plantation of Norwalk, Oct., 1669.‡ "Walter Hoyte" and others, in May, 1672, gave in their names to the General Court "for the beginning of a plantation neare the backside of Norwalke."‡ "Walter Haite" agreed to beat the drum on all occasions required, at 10 shillings, chosen to beat the drum in 1670. On the list of lots drawn over Norwalk River, Walter's name is spelled "Hoyt," and also on the list of inhabitants of Norwalk commonage estates, Jan. 3, 1687. "Walter Hoyt" was on the roll of freemen, as a voter at town meetings in Norwalk. Walter was one of the proprietors named of the town of Norwalk, confirmed by the General Court in 1685.

NICHOLAS HOYT, || of Windsor (perhaps son of Simon), married Susanna Joyce, July ¶ 12, 1646, and had children: Samuel, b. May 1, 1647; Jonathan, b. June 7, 1649; David, b. April 22, 1651; Daniel, b. April 10, 1653, died in 1655. It would seem that both Nicholas and his wife died in 1655. His wife had one daughter, Abigail Joyce, born in 1645. sor, Nov. 16, 1668. "Nicholas and Walter Hoyt," of Windsor, sold 20 acres of land in that town to Wm. Hannum, of Windsor. Probably Nicholas and Walter were brothers.

"JOHN HOITE," of Fairfield (possibly a son of Simon), was fined 20^s, July 8, 1650; but the fine was remitted by the General Court, May, 1651.* "John Hoite" was "accepted to be made free" for "Fayrefield," Oct., 1664.* There was also a "John Hoyte" who was proposed "to stand for nomination for freeman" in "Norwalke," Oct., 1667;* but very likely it was Walter's son, who was born in 1644. "John Haite" was a freeman in Norwalk, Oct., 1669.* John Hoyt went from Norwalk to Danbury, where the name is still found. He left six sons.

There was a "Zerubbabel Haite" who was to beat the drum for Norwalk in 1680. "Zerubbabel Hoyt" was on the roll of freemen, as a voter at town meetings in Norwalk. A "Nicholas Hoyte" was deputy for Norwalk in General Court, Oct., 1672.* "Josh: Hoyte" was "propounded for freeman" in "Standford," 1669.* "Jonathan Hoite" is one of the list of names in Guilford in 1650. "Thomas Hyatt," of Norwalk, was a soldier in King Philip's War, and, in 1682, the town gave him the privilege of exchanging lands granted him for his services. He married Mary, daughter of Matthias Sention, of Norwalk, Nov., 1677, and had a daughter Rebekah, b. Oct., 1678. A "Thomas Hoyt," of Windsor, moved to Stamford, and settled there in 1662.

THE HOYT FAMILY.

First Generation.

(1) JOHN¹ HOYT.

The earliest information concerning (1) John¹ Hoyt, which has yet been obtained, is that he was one of the original settlers of Salisbury, Mass. His age at that time can not be accurately determined, but, from the fact that he had at least two children born previous to 1639, it seems probable that he was born about 1610-15. He was chosen selectman, March, 1681-2, and moderator of town-meeting, April, 1687 (the same year he died), hence he could not have been very aged and infirm at that time. Whether he came directly from England, or had previously lived in other towns in America, is uncertain. His name does not appear among the passengers on any of the early emigrant ships of which we have seen any record, and is not found on any of the lists of freemen contained in the Massachusetts Records. He may have come into the country when a minor. It is, perhaps, possible that he may have been either a son or brother of the Simon Hoyt who was in Dorchester quite early, and who "took the oath of freemen" in 1631; but there seems to be nothing to warrant our assuming the probability of any relationship between them. The name Simon does not occur among John's descendants for over a century. There was a John Hoyt in Connecticut as early as 1650, and, as Simon removed to Windsor, Ct., it is quite probable that John was his son; if so, John of Salisbury, Mass., could not be. Simon was some years older than John of Salisbury, and it hardly seems probable they were brothers.

From the Massachusetts Records, we find that permission "to begin a plantation at Merrimack" was granted Sept. 6, 1638,—plantation named "Colechester," Sept. 4, 1639,—name changed to "Salsbury," Oct. 7, 1640. On the Salisbury records is found the following entry:—

"1639, the third month.

"At a meeting at merrimack of Mr Simone Bradstreet, Mr Samuell Dudly, Mr Danniell Dennisonn, Cristopher Batt, Samuell Winsley, John Sanders:

It was ordered that there shall be 2 divisions of Meadow, the one nerrer, the other farther, the nerrest shall haue fower Acres to Each 100^u [£], the other left to farther Consideration.

It was further ordered that vpland for planting lotts shall be divided so as he that hath vnder 50^u shall haue 4 Acres, and he that hath aboue 50^{li} to 150^{li} shall haue 6 Acres, and all aboute shall haue 4 Acres to Euerie 100^{li}.

Allso, it was ordered that all lotts granted to singlemen are on Condition that they shall inhabit here before the 6 of may next, and such as haue families that they shall inhabitt here before the last of october next."

The last clause may refer to October, 1639, but October of the next year is probably intended. John Hoyt had a family at that time, and must have been in Salisbury previous to the above date. The date* of the "first division" of land is not given, but the earliest subsequent grants are dated October, 1640. John Hoyt was almost the only individual who received all his earlier grants at the "first division." Most of the others received only two or three lots at that time, and the remainder some months after. This would rather seem to indicate that he was among the earliest to move into the town. The following is a copy of the twenty-third page† of the original book of land records for the town of Salisbury:—

"According vnto the first division of the Towne of Salisbury there was granted vnto Jn^o Hoyt a House Lott conteinijng p estimacoñ one acre more or lesse, lijng betweene the house Lotts of Willi Holdred & Jn^o Dickison, butting vppon the streett & Anthoney Sadlers house Lott.‡

Also there was granted vnto him a planting lott conteinijng p estimacoñ 4 acres more or less, lijng between the planting lotts of Willi Holdred & Anthoney Sadler, butting vppon the mill way, wth y^e Northermost end, & the other end vppon the great Swamp: leading to y^e fferrie.‡

Also ther was granted vnto him twenty acres for a great Lott conteinijng p estimacoñ 20 acres more or less, lijng between the great Lotts of Willi Holdred & Joseph parker, butting vpon the river merimack, & the coñon.

Also ther was granted vnto him a meddow lott conteinijng p estimacoñ two acres more or less, lijng between the meddow lotts of Rob fitts & Tho: Barnett, butting vppon y^e Necke & the great Creeke, before y^e Towne: §

Also ther was granted vnto him a farr meddow Lott conteinijng p estimacoñ two acres more or less, lijng beyond y^e Elders coue towards Hampton, butting vppon y^e meddow Lott of Tho: Carter & so is incompassed wth the little River:

* The time of recording the grants, in their present form, is given in the following extract from the town records:—

"the 14th of y^e 2^d Mon: 1643:

"1st: At a meeting of y^e 7 men

"6th: It was Ordered {That for y^e avoyding of all future contenc[ions]} That all grants of landes giuen by the Towne of Salsbery shalbe recorded in the New booke, by ye last of June [next] ensuing: allowinge the Clerke a penny for every grant so recorded, and 6^d for the Coppie of every mans ptticular grants, together."

† One page was originally devoted to each grantee.

‡ March 5, 1642 (probably 42-3), John Hoyt exchanged his four acre planting lot with John Dickinson, for a house lot and planting lot,—the house lot adjoining Hoyt's and lying where two streets met at "fitts his corner," and the planting lot lying on the Merrimack. Thus there were two acres in John Hoyt's house lot when he sold it to William Holdred in 1647.

§ These two acres were sold to "Willi: Osgood, Millwrite," Sept., 1650, deed acknowledged June, 1660.

All the abouesayd grants were confirmed by m^r Cristopher Batt, m^r Sam^l: Winsley, m^r Sam^l: Hall, Tho: Bradbury, & Isack Buswell, according to the order of y^e Towne pvided in thatt behalfe."

John Hoyt was one of those who were fined for felling trees against the town's order, but their fines were abated 2^d, 11^m, 1644. His name appears on the list of "townesmen and comōners" of Salisbury in 1650. His share of "Mr Wosters rate," 25 Dec., 1650, was 6^s 6^d.* He entered his "contra discent" on the records of S. in 1651. When the right of mowing the "Beach Comōn" was divided, 14th March, 1653-4, Jn^o Hoyt received lot 47, containing "2 A, 100 R." His "Contry Rate Anno 1659," was 9^s. The only times we have noticed his name spelled otherwise than Hoyt, on the Salisbury records, are in a boundary of land in 1640, and an entry relating to a "Meddow" lot (No. 27), 1653 or '4, where it is spelled Hoyte.

From the first settlement of Salisbury, it seems to have been understood that the part of the town lying on the west side of the Powow River (now Amesbury), should be made to form a distinct parish; and arrangements were soon made to settle it, as is testified by the following extracts from the records:—

"26. 10th. month. 1642.

"At a generall meeting of the freemen it was ordered there shall thirtie families remoue to the west side of the powawes riuier."

"5th. 11m. 1642.

"Att a generall meeting of the ffreemen
Allso the same day it was ordered and Agreed that thirtie families of this town shall remoue theire dwellings to the West side of the pawowes riuier before the first of the third month in the yeare 1645."

On the 10th of May, 1649, the General Court "Receaved a petition from the inhabitants of the new toune at Salisbury, ffor exemption from rates to the ministry at the old toune," that they might sustain the ministry among themselves; but the magistrates dissented, and the matter was referred to the next Court. May 26, 1658, the General Court again refused to grant the petition of "the inhabitants of the new toune at Salisbury, humbly desiring that they might be a distinct toune of themselves," and ordered them to worship in the old town. It seems, however, that they did not obey the Court's order, for, in October of the same year, "Joseph Peasely & the rest of the inhabitants" of the new town were required to appear before the next County Court at Salisbury, to be fined five shillings for every day's absence from worship in the old town. At the next May session [1659] one half their fines were "respitted vntill the next General Court," and they were directed to accept the proposal of Mr. Worcester (the Salisbury minister), to preach in the new town every fourth Sabbath; but Joseph Peasely was forbidden in October, 1659, to preach in any part of the Court's jurisdiction. There was still another petition presented in 1660, respecting the settlement of Shubael Dumer, of Newbury. In 1666 and 1668 the inhabitants of the new town met with encouragement, as may be inferred from the following entries : 23 May, 1666, "In answer to the peticoñ of the inhabitants of New Salisbury, this Court doeth grant them the liberty of a towneship, according to the agreement with the old toune, & that vpon their providing a minister approoved off according as the law provides, they then to be taken of from contributing to the minister of y^e old toune." 27 May, 1668, "In ans^r to the petition of the inhabitants of Salisbury new toune, humbly desiring the favor of this Court that their toune may be named Emesbury, the Court grants their request." Their first settled pastor, Mr. Thomas Wells, commenced his ministry (of sixty-two years) among them in either 1672 or '73. William Barnes and John Hoyt were chosen, May 11, 1672, "to see if they can obtain M^r Weels to be helpfull to us in the work of the Ministry."

In all the above transactions John¹ Hoyt must have been concerned, and, being one of the pioneers in the settlement of both Salisbury and Amesbury, he must have shared largely in the trials and privations incident to those early times. As he early removed to the west side of the Powow River, we find him selling his dwelling house on the east side to Wm. Holdred in September, 1647. His name appears on the original articles of agreement* between Salisbury and Salisbury New-town in 1654; and he was one of the seventeen original "comenors" of the new town whose names were recorded, March 19, 1654-5. In the divisions of land he received several lots, in the "Great Swamp," "on the River," at "Lion's Mouth," and in other parts of the town. One of these contained two hundred acres, and was styled his "great division." The boundaries of these lots are preserved on the Amesbury records, but they are stated in such a manner as to be of little use at the present day,† most of the bounds being white oaks, black oaks, "hamlocks," "pichpines," maples, and the like. "Goodman Hoyet" was one of those who were chosen to lay out land in "Lion's Mouth," &c., February, 1661. John¹ Hoyt is also frequently mentioned on the old Amesbury records as prudentialman, selectman, constable, jury-man, moderator, &c. It was customary in those days for the minority on any question in town affairs to enter their "contrary desent" upon the town books: his name appears in this way with sufficient frequency to show that his opinion did not always coincide with that of the majority. In several instances he entered his "contrary desent" alone, one of them being on the question of his serving as selectman in 1682. Of course he was a member of the church, as no others were then allowed to hold office, or even vote. He had a seat assigned him in the*meeting-house, July 9, 1667. We have seen the name spelled Hoit once, and Hoyet, Hoyett, and Hayt a few times, on the earliest of the Amesbury records; but Hoyt was the most common orthography, and after the first few years it was almost invariably so written.

* Of the twenty-nine whose names are preserved on the Salisbury copy, it appears that thirteen wrote their own names, nine made one or more initials of their names, and seven made a simple mark. John Hoyt here, as elsewhere, made an H for his signature. On the ancient Amesbury copy there are some forty names, but the forms of the signatures are not retained.

† It is difficult to determine the precise location of (1) John¹ Hoyt's homestead. It was afterwards owned and probably occupied by his grandson (19) Joseph,³ and some account of it is given in connection with his history.

On the records* of the Hampton Court, 3, 8^m, 1650, we find: "John Hoyt tooke the oath of fidelitie, att this p^rsent Court." He was one of the "Grand Jurie" in 1652, and several times afterwards served in the same capacity, and also as one of the "Jurie of Tryalls." A "Jn^o Hoyt of Salisbury tooke y^e freemans oath" before the Salisbury Court, 2^m, 1663, but it was probably (3) John², especially as there was a John Hoyt on the grand jury at the same court.

In old deeds, John¹ Hoyt was always styled a "planter," or "husbandman," but it is possible he was engaged in some other employment at times. His land probably included some of the clay pits found on the banks of the Powow River, and he may have aided in manufacturing what bricks were needed in those times. The town of Haverhill voted in Dec., 1650, that "John Hoit shall have three quarters of an acre of land . . . and also the clay pits upon condition that he come to town to live." Mirick, in his History of Haverhill, calls this John Hoit a brick-maker, and seems to imply that he became an inhabitant of the town and worked the clay pits; but we find nothing on the town records to justify such a conclusion,—save the lines just quoted. We have been able to find no other record which seems to indicate that there was any Hoyt in the Province at that time except John of Salisbury, and we are inclined to regard this as an offer made to him which he did not accept. He was certainly residing in Salisbury in 1650, '51, '53-4, and '54.

John¹ Hoyt was a Sergeant of the Salisbury Military Company, and was frequently called "Sargent Hoyt." From the Massachusetts Records, we learn that in May, 1658, the General Court answered the "request of Sarjant Hoyte & Sarj^t Stephens, that Phillip Challice might be confirmed left. to y^e ffoote company in Salisbury," by referring "the determination thereof to y^e next County Court of that county." "Sargent Jn^o Hoyt" was freed by the Salisbury Court, 9, 2^m 1667, "from all traynings, allowing to y^e Millitary company of Salisbury: tenn groats p annū." "John Hoyt sen^r" was also one of "the Commissioned and other officers of the Militia in the County of Norfolk," who signed a petition to the General Court in May, 1671, complaining of Capt. Pike's appointment over them the year previous as Sergeant Major.†

He had two wives, both named Frances. He probably married his first wife about 1635 (2), though we have found no record of it. She died Feb. 23, 1342-3, and he married his second wife in 1643 or '44 (7). His second wife survived him, and was living in 1697. The town records of Amesbury state that "Sargent Jn^o Hoyt sen. died on y^e 28th day & was buried on y^e 29 day of Feb. An. Dom. 1687-88." The county records at Salem state that he died on the 29th of February, but the town records are probably correct. His eldest son, (3) John,² had the homestead, paying his step-mother a certain sum annually; but his grandson (19) Joseph³ received the deed of it, on the same condition, in 1689. There are quite a number of deeds on record from (1) John¹ Hoyt to his sons, (3) John² and (4) Thomas,² especially the former, his eldest son; and it would seem that he deeded most of his property to his children during his lifetime. If he died possessed of any estate, it must have been disposed of before an administrator was appointed,—nearly ten years after his death. His sons were both dead at that time, and the husband of his oldest daughter was appointed to settle the estate. The following extracts are copied from the Probate Records at Salem:—

- (3) II. JOHN,² b. about 1638; m. Mary Barnes, dau. Wm.[†] and Rachel Barnes, June 23, 1659 (15). On the Salisbury records, his “Contry Rate Anno 1659,” is given as 2^o 3^d. He received his first lot of land (“on the river”) in Amesbury, Oct., 1658, and was admitted as a “townsman,” Dec. 10, 1660. Among the other lots which he received were one in “Lion’s Mouth,” 26 Feb., 1661, and a lot of 120 acres, April, 1662. One of his earliest purchases consisted of five acres of upland at the “southermost end of Tom: Whitchers hill,” bought of Edward Cottell in 1660. It is difficult to determine the location of his homestead. [See (24) Robert.³]

§ John¹ Hoyt’s father [(1) John¹] was on the grand jury in 1667, and a John Hoyt, probably the same one, was also one of the grand jury in 1663.

"Jun." is not added, as it is in most instances where he was referred to. On the records of the Salisbury Court, 9, 2^m 1667, we find the three following entries: "Jn^o Hoyt Jvn: tooke y^e oath of fidelitie: att y^e p^rsent Court." "Jn^o Hoyt jvn: vpon y^e request & choyce of ye Newtowne is admited by this p^rsent Court to keep y^e Ordinary at y^e Newtown of Salisbury, & to sell wine & strong waters for y^e yeare ensuing." Also, "Jn^o Hoyt jun: is dismist by this Court from all trainings: vntil such time: as he shalbe cuered of y^t infirmity w^{ch} doth att p^rsent disainm^t him frō trayning." On the records of the following year (Salisbury Court, 14, 2^m, 1668) is found the following: "Jn^o Hoyt jvn^s: license is renued to keep y^e ordinary at y^e new towne: & to pvide entertainm^t for horse men & foot men: but hath liberty to sell w^t wine & strong waters he hath laid in in respect to y^e ordinary, and L: Challis is to take notis of w^t he hath layd in & to make returne thereof to y^e clarke wthin 14 dayes." 13, 2^m, 1669, he was also licensed "to keep y^e ordinary for Amsbury for y^e yeare ensuing." He took "y^e oath of Allegiance & fidelity" before Major Robert Pike in "Eamsbery," Dec^r. 20, 1677. He is also frequently mentioned as a juror, on the Old Norfolk records.

John^s Hoyt always signed his own name in full, and evidently had a pretty good education for a common man of those times. In old deeds (of which he gave and received a large number), he is sometimes called a "planter," and sometimes a "carpenter." He and his father sold buildings and land to the town for the use of the ministry, soon after Amesbury was incorporated. He had a seat assigned him in the meeting house, July 9, 1667. His name frequently appears on the Amesbury records as lot-layer, constable, &c. He was chosen a "standing lot-layer," 12 March, 1667-8; constable, 1674 and '77-8; to rectify bounds of land, 1680-1; constable in Thomas Stevens' place, April, 1690; added to committee "to return the bounds of land into the towne book of Records," March, 1690-1; * chosen "Clarke of y^e markett" for the town of Amesbury, 1692-3, &c., &c. But he did not always find these offices either agreeable or profitable, as is abundantly proved by the following petition, preserved in the archives of Massachusetts:—

"To the Hon^{ble} their Maj^{ties} Great and Generall Court of the Province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, now sitting in Boston by adjournm^t, March 6th, 1694.

All that we know of his imprisonment is what is contained in the foregoing petition. Whether he ever paid the debt himself is uncertain, as he died within two years after his release. He—with a young man named Peters, also of Amesbury—was killed by Indians, in Andover, on the road to Haverhill, Aug. 13, 1696. The following is the account of the administration of his estate :—

Joseph Hoyt presented the above Inventory, Nov. 10, 1697. Joseph Hoyt also exhibited an account of the administration of John Hoyt's estate, May 22, 1712. No real estate appears in the above inventory but John's widow seems to have possessed a homestead after his death.

Several deeds are on record conveying real estate from John² Hoyt to his children, a few years previous to his death.

The wife of (3) John² Hoyt was living in 1704, when she acknowledged a deed granting her "youngest son Robert" the homestead where she was then living, which seems to have been situated in that part of the town now called "Pond Hills." "Quick as Granny Hoyt's powder-horn" is an expression which has been handed down in different branches of her descendants,—some of whom have been widely separated from each other for the last century,—and it seems most probable that she is the "Granny Hoyt" referred to. Tradition says that this lady lived alone and was always up at work early in the morning. One day her fire did not kindle well, and she undertook to hasten the operation by pouring a little powder upon it; but the fire spread further than she intended, and an explosion was the result. Authorities differ as to the direction the horn took, but the most common and plausible version seems to be that it was blown up chimney, while the old lady was no doubt prostrated on the hearth.

- ✓ (4) III. THOMAS,² b. Jan. 1, 1640–1; m. Mary Brown, dau. of William and Elisabeth Brown of Salisbury (25). He worked for one Walter Taylor, who was so noisy and turbulent a character, as to be frequently obliged to appear before the court. The following is from the records of the Salisbury Court, 12 April, 1664:—

"Tho: Hoyt & Tho: Jonson ar judgd by this Court to haue a legall admonicoñ & to pay fve shillings a peece for going away disorderly frō their Master Walter: to be payd to y^e treasurer.

"And Walter Tayler for vsing cursing speaches to his servants: is judgd to haue to pay 10^s: to y^e treasurer of y^e County:

"And Jn^o Hoyt Senior to be admonisht for entertejning his son being servant to Walter Tayler."

We have been unable to find any record of the date of his marriage, or of the birth of his oldest son. The oldest of his children recorded at Salisbury was born in 1670. The name of Thomas Hoyt stands first on the list of those who took "y^e oath of Allegiance & fidelity" before Tho: Bradbury, Captain of the Military Company of Salisbury, Dec. 5, 1677.* The last of his children recorded on the Salisbury books was born in 1680, and he shortly after removed to Amesbury. His residence is given as Amesbury in 1685–6, when (1) John¹ Hoyt deeded to his "son Thomas" land at "Bugsmore" (in Amesbury), "lott 15," between lots of Thomas Barnard and Wm. Huntington,—town highway on one end, common land on the other, next Powow river. The birth and death of a daughter of Thomas² are recorded in Amesbury, 1688. There was a Thomas Hoyt who married Mary Ash in Amesbury, Nov. 29, 1689, according to the town books,—the county records read Nov. 29, 1690. It seems that the Thomas Hoyt referred to must have been (4) Thomas,² as it could not have been his son, and we know of no other individual bearing the name at that time. There was a dau. of Thomas and Mary Hoyt" b. Oct. 1, 1690. Both wives were named Mary, but this must have been a child of the second wife, if the town record of the marriage is correct. If the county record is correct, he must have married very speedily after the death of his first wife. The death of Thomas Hoyt himself is recorded, and also the deaths of his two youngest daughters, but we have been unable to find any record of the death of his first wife. (4) Thomas² Hoyt d. (5) IV. GREGORIE,² b. Jan. 1, 1640-1; d. Jan. 1, 1641-2.

(6) V. ELISABETH,² b. Feb. 23, 1642-3.

Children of (1) John¹ Hoyt and Frances, his second.wife.

(7) VI. SARAH,² b. Jan. 16, 1644-5; d. Feb. 26, 1644-5.

(8) VII. MARY,² b. Feb. 20, 1645-6; probably m. Christopher Bartlet, of Newbury, Dec. 19 [or 17?], 1663.

- (9) VIII. JOSEPH,² b. May 13, 1648; d. April 19, 1648, according to the records. Probably a mistake in the month of one of the dates.
- (10) IX. JOSEPH,² b. Nov. 27, 1649; d. Jan. 24, 1649-50.
- (11) X. MARAH,² b. Nov. 24, 1653; d. Dec. 1, 1653.
- (12) XI. NAOMI,² b. Jan. 23, 1654-5; probably m. John Lovejoy, Andover, March 23, 1677-8.
- (13) XII. DOROTHIE,² b. April 13, 1656. From the Old Norfolk County records, it appears that she once indulged in a frolic which highly offended the stern Puritans, though their descendants are more indulgent to the ladies of the present day.
 "Att y^e Covnty Court held att Hampton

- It is worthy of note, that, at this session of the Court, "John Hoyt Jnr^r" (her brother) was on the "Jurie of Tryalls," and "John Hoyt Sen^r" (her father) and William Barnes were members of the "Grand jurie." Whether the fine was paid, we cannot say. It is possible the offender may have remained without the Court's jurisdiction, as we have discovered no further traces of her. There was a Dorotheie Hoyt m. Nathaniel Lovejoy, Andover, March 21, 1693-4, but it probably was (22) Dorotheie.³
- (14) XIII. MEHETABEL,² b. Oct. 25, 1664.

Third Generation.

Children of (3) John² and Mary Hoyt.

- (15) I. WILLIAM,³ b. Sep. 5, 1660; m. Dorothy Colby, dau. Sam. Colby, Sen., Jan. 12, 1687-8 (36); d. July 19, 1728. His grandfather, Wm. Barnes, for whom he was probably named, deeded him two or three pieces of land. From the Old Norfolk records, we learn that he took "y^e oath of Allegiance & fidelity" before Maj. Robert Pike, in "Eamsbery," Dec. 20, 1677. The town records state, that he was chosen tithingman, 1693-4 and 1697-8. He probably lived at or near "Lion's Mouth." Will dated 13 May, 1728, proved Aug. 5, 1728. Inventory taken Aug. 2, 1728. "Homestead Living containing about thirty-four Acres & his dwelling House on said Land," £227. Whole amount, £323. Homestead sold to Gideon Lowell, Jr., Sep., 1728: bounded.

- S. and W. by land of John Blaisdell, N. by John Jewell and Abner Hoyt, E. by "high way in the Hallow." His wife, Dorothy, survived him, and probably removed to Methuen with her sons, Wm.⁴ and Philip.⁴ A Dorothy Hoyt was admitted to the Methuen church, "by dismission from another church," in 1731; and was dismissed, to unite with another church, in 1740.
- (16) II. ELISABETH,³ b. Feb. 8, 1661-2 [Jan. 8 on Norfolk records]; probably m. Joseph "Lanckester," Jr., March 31, 1687.
- (17) III. JOHN,³ b. March 28, 1663; m. Elisabeth (Hall)⁴ (45); d., intestate, Aug. 24, 1691. His father, in 1686, deeded him land in Jamaica [W. Amesbury], formerly (1) John¹ Hoyt's. He probably lived in the west part of the town. Among the items named in the inventory of his estate were, three acres meadow, £15; "two Lots in the Lyons Mouth," £15; "one Lott in Childrens Land," £15; "Land at the Countrey pond," £6; "House & Land at Jamaica," £60;— whole amount, £153. 10s. His wid., Elisabeth, m. John Blaisdell, Jan. 6, 1692-3. She was living in Dec., 1744.
- (18) IV. MARY,³ b. Oct. 11, 1664; m. John Whittier, of Haverhill, Jan. 14, 1685-6. In 1698, Wid. Mary (Barnes) Hoyt deeded her "son-in-law, John Whittier of Haverhill," the "great farm or lott" of Wm. Barnes, situated in Amesbury, "adjoining toward y^e west & northwest upon y^e great pond commonly called y^e Countrey pond." Thomas Wells, the minister, had a right of way through this lot.
- (19) V. JOSEPH,³ b. July 14, 1666; m. Dorothy Worthen, Oct. 5, 1702 (48); d., intestate, 1719 or 20. Wid. Dorothy ap. adm. May 2, 1720. Inventory taken June 27, 1720; amount, £317. 12s. Estate divided in 1735. He was chosen tithingman, March, 1709-10; selectman, 1711-2; and a member of the grand jury, 1712-3. He probably lived on the homestead* of his grandfather, (1) John¹ Hoyt, somewhere near the Powow River. [See (51) Ezekiel.⁴] His widow's thirds included the house and one acre of land on the west side of the country road, bounded N. and W. by land of John Bartlett, E. by road, S. by "said Hoyt's land;" one half acre of land, with barn, on east side of the road, bounded S. by Capt. Richard Currier's land; two acres near the homestead, on the Powow;† and six acres at "Lion's Mouth," on the Powow. (51) Ezekiel⁴ had one acre on the west side of the road, bounded N. by a part of his mother's thirds, S. by Capt. Rich. Currier's land, W. by John Bartlett's land, E. by road,—also $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres on east side; (54) Moses⁴ had $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres on E. side of road, N. of mother's half acre, and W. of Ezekiel's $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres; and (53) Nathan⁴ had 3 acres on E. side of road, E. of Ezekiel's: but the shares of the other children were located at the Lion's Mouth, most of them bounded N. by the Powow River, which was there, at one point, 62 rods distant from the highway. Wid. Dorothy m. Daniel Flanders, int. ent. Oct. 24, 1724.

* (3) John² Hoyt deeds to his son, (19) Joseph,³ a dwelling-house, pasture, &c., formerly his father's, (1) John,¹ on condition that Joseph pay annually to his grandmother, Wid. Frances Hoyt, the same sum that (3) John² was obliged to pay. The land is described as "Lying in betwixt y^e lands of Wm. Barnes and Will. Osgood Senr. on or towards y^e north and northeast, and y^e lands of Elenor Little and John Barnard southward, abutting upon the Powow river Eastward and toward y^e Southeast, adjacent upon both y^e west and East Sides of y^e Country rode y^e leadeth from Amsbury ferry to Salisbury." Dated 1689, ackn. 1690-1.

† A drift-way from the road to this lot, an easterly direction, was 80 rods in length; hence the homestead was a little more than $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile west of the Powow River.

- X (20) VI. SARAH,³ b. —; m. Faun Clements, of Salisbury, Nov. 21, 1688. They lived in Newbury in 1696.
- (21) VII. RACHEL,³ b. June 28, 1670; m. Joseph Weed, Nov. 29, 1693.
- (22) VIII. DOROTHE,³ b. Jan. 29, 1673-4; perhaps m. Nathaniel Lovejoy, Andover, March 21, 1693-4. Her father was killed in Andover, probably on the way home.
- (23) IX. GRACE,³ b. March 29, 1676.
- (24) X. ROBERT,³ b. —; m. 1st, Martha Stevens, Dec. 4, 1701 (56), and 2d, Mary Currier, March 17, 1706-7 (58); d. early in 1741. He was a farmer, and lived near "Pond Hills,"* perhaps on the homestead of his father [See p. 22], as his mother, Wid. Mary (Barnes) Hoyt, deeded her "youngest son Robert," "my homestead or Tract of land whereon I now dwell, bounded on y^e South with y^e Countrey highway, on y^e North with land now in y^e possession of Thomas Coleby Sen^r, and on y^e northwestward part of it and on y^e East and west with part of y^e great Swamp and other land now in y^e possession of my Son in law ffawne Clements, being in quantity Twenty acres of upland Meadow and Swamp, as alsoe my Oarchard dwelling house barne and other buildings and out housing and fences thereon;" Signed Dec. 23, 1701, acknowledged May 13, 1704. Robert³ Hoyt was chosen highway surveyor in 1703 and 1711, assessor in 1714-5, and juryman in 1720, and is several other times mentioned on the Amesbury records. Will dated March 18, 1740-1, proved June 1, 1741. Among the items in the inventory are, homestead living, 20 acres, £200; other land, £123; dwelling-house, £50; barn, £25; Mill-pond grant at Kingstown, N. H., £30;—whole amount, £525. 5s. His widow, Mary, d. about 1766.

Children of (4) Thomas² and Mary Hoyt.

- (25) I. THOMAS³ (LIEUT.), b. —; m. 1st, Elisabeth Huntington, May 22, 1689 (65), and 2d, Wid. Mary Barnard [probably wid. of Joseph], Nov. 18, 1722; d. 1740 or 1741. First wife, Elis., d. Jan. 29, 1721-2. He was a farmer by occupation, but did considerable business,—gave and received quite a number of deeds. He was chosen viewer of fences, 1695-6; constable, 1704-5; moderator, May, 1705, and March, 1705-6; juryman, 1708-9 and 1714; and at a later date his name frequently appears on the Amesbury records, with the title of "Left." On the Mass. records we find mentioned a memorial of Thom. Hoyt, Representative for the Town of Amesbury, respecting a wounded soldier, Nov. 11, 1724. He deeded pew in E. Meeting-House, Amesbury, to son (72) Thomas,⁴ May 8, 1740. Will dated 1734, proved 1741. Inventory dated March 31, 1742; amount, £6275. 19s. Wife Mary is mentioned in will,—probably survived him. His residence and farm were at Pond Hills. A part of the farm is still owned and occupied by his descendant, (582) Thomas⁶ Hoyt. Tradition says his house was a little above that of Thomas,⁶ on the other side of the road.

* His house was on the north side of the road, just east of a point where the "Great Swamp" reached the road. The vicinity of the late Matthias Merrill's house seems to be the only one that answers to such a description.

- (26) II. WILLIAM,³ b. Oct. 19, 1670; d. Oct. 29, 1670.
- (27) III. EPHRAIM,³ b. Oct. 16, 1671; m. 1st, Hannah Godfrey, of Hampton, April 25, 1695 (76), 2d, another Hannah Godfrey, Aug. 12, 1736, and 3d, Elisabeth Macrest [or Macree], Sep. 4, 1738; d. in 1741 or '42. In Jan., 1702-3, he petitioned the town of Hampton for permission to cultivate a lot of land for two or three years, promising to lay it down common again at the end of said term. He must have lived in that part of Hampton which was incorporated as Hampton Falls in 1712. We find him taxed at Hampton Falls, in 1727, for "2 heads, 2 oxen, 3 cows, 1 swine, 1 house, 1 hors, 7 acres of tilleg Land, 1 acre of Medow;" also, in 1732, for "3 Heads, 1 House, 6 Planting meadow & mowing Land, 2 Cows, 3 Three year olds, 1 Yearling." [See (95) Joseph.⁴] In June, 1741, he deeded his son, (76) Ephraim,⁴ the homestead in Hampton Falls. In Aug., 1742, Wid. Elis. relinquished her right of dower.
- (28) IV. JOHN,³ b. April 5, 1674. There was a John Hoyt* living in Kittery from 1697 to 1703, probably removed to Dover, Bloody Point, in 1703. It is possible he may be the one whose birth we have recorded here.
- (29) V. WILLIAM,³ b. April 8, 1676. (15) Wm.³ is called senior in 1695-6 and 1697-8, and Wm. Jr. had a seat assigned him in the meeting house at Amesbury, 1698-9; hence (29) Wm.³ was living in Ames., as late as 1699. There was a Wm. Hoyt of Kittery, who bought land of John Dam of Dover, March, 1703. There was also a William Hoyt who died in Newington,† N. H., as early as 1726. His descendants are given in the latter part of this work.

* On the Kittery records we find: "Mary, dau. of John Hoyt and Sarah his wife, born May 2, 1697;" also, 50 acres land granted to John Hoyt, May, 1699. George Brown deeds to John Hoite of Kittery, York Co., house and land in Dover, Feb., 1702-3, and, at the same time, John Hoyt and wife Sarah of Kittery deed land in K. to George Brown of Bloody Point. In June, 1703, John Hoyt of Bloody Point, Dover, buys land at Bloody Point, of John Downing.

† Originally a part of Dover and Portsmouth. "Bloody Point" forms a part of Newington.

- (30) VI. ISRAEL,³ b. July 16, 1678. There was an Israel Hoyt taxed in Portsmouth for "1 head, 1 horse," in 1732. For a full account of all we have been able to discover respecting him and his descendants, see latter part of this work.
- (31) VII. BENJAMIN,³ b. Sep. 20, 1680; m. Hannah Pillsbury, of Newbury, int. ent. Feb. 19, 1703-4 (86); d. in 1748, probably 1748-9. He was a tanner,—lived in Salisbury at the time of his marriage, but the births of his first two children are recorded in Newbury, the remainder (except Enoch's) in Salisbury. His four youngest children were also baptized at Salisbury (First or E. Parish), and he resided there at the time of his death. Hannah Hoyt was adm. to 1st Salis. chh., May 10, 1713. At the Salisbury "March Meeting, 1731-2," it was "Voted by y^e Town that Benjamin Hoyt be Dismist this year from being constable by reason of y^e Lameness of his hands." The Benj. Hoyt here referred to must be either (31) Benj.³ or his son (86) Benj.,⁴ as they were both living at the time. Many of (31) Benjamin's³ descendants, for two or three generations, were much noted for their great stature, and still more for their strength. His wife, Hannah, survived him. Will dated Dec., 1748, proved Feb. 6, 1748-9. Inventory taken May 6, 1749. "The homestead wth y^e Orchard & building^s thereon," £600.
- (32) VIII. JOSEPH,³* b. about 1684; m. Hannah Chase, dau. of Aquila² Chase of Newbury, Dec. 22, 1707 (92); d. at Stratham, N. H., May 24, 1753. He was a shoemaker and farmer, and lived in Newbury till Sep., 1712, but in 1715-6 was living in that part of Exeter which now constitutes the town of Stratham. He bought house, orchard, barn, and land (22 acres) lying in Exeter, of Benj. Rawlins, Sep. 11, 1712. The birth of his oldest child is recorded in Newbury,—four of the others in Stratham. He was chosen tithingman in Stratham, 1722. In 1732 he was taxed in Stratham for "1 head, 1 house, 11 lands, 2 cows, 2 two year olds, 2 one year old, 1 horse, 1 swine." [See (95) Joseph.⁴] Will dated May 5, 1748, proved June 15, 1753. His widow, Hannah, "died March 9, 1774, in the 87th year of her age."
- (33) IX. A DAUGHTER,³ b. ——. Deliverance is called 2d daughter on the Amesbury records.
- (34) X. DELIVERANCE,³ b. May 2, 1688; d. May 9, 1688.
- (35) XI. MARY,³ b. Oct. 1, 1690; d. Jan. 20, 1690-1. Possibly child of a 2d wife. [See p. 23.]

* We have been able to find no positive proof that Joseph was the son of (4) Thomas.² The name is common in the family, and is found not only among the children of (1) John,¹ but also among those of (3) John;² hence, if Joseph is a descendant of (1) John,¹ he must be the son of (4) Thomas.² The first record we find of him is in Newbury, 1707, when (31) Benj.³ who was probably living there at the time, informed the clerk of "an intention of marriage between Joseph Hoyt and Hannah Chase, both of Newbury." There were evidently two or three children unrecorded between the last on the Salisbury records (Benj.) and the first on the Amesbury (Deliverance), as there is no record of births in Amesbury prior to 1687. The Stratham records state that Joseph "died May 24, 1753, in the 69th year of his age;" hence the date of his birth would come in the break between the records.

Fourth Generation.

Children of (15) William³ and Dorothy Hoyt.

- (36) I. ELISABETH,⁴ b. June 15, 1689; m. Ephraim Hunt, int. ent. Dec. 16, 1710.
- (37) II. DOROTHY,⁴ b. July 20, 1691; m. John Wells, Feb. 5, 1712-3.
- (38) III. ABNER,⁴ b. Jan. 25, 1693; * m. Mary Blaisdell, Nov. 14, 1717 (100). He was a carpenter. His name is mentioned on the Amesbury records in March, 1728-9. Feb. 24, 1729-30, he sold house and land immediately north of his father's homestead, "near Lion's Mouth," to Gideon Lowell, Jr. He was living in Amesbury on the 9th of March, 1729-30, but removed immediately after to Penacook, afterwards called Rumford, and now Concord, N. H., being one of the earliest settlers of that place. He was one of the proprietors of "Penny Cook," Sep. 18, 1732. He deeded his wife's share of the estate of John Blaisdell of Amesbury, to Jacob Blaisdell, Jan. 9, 1733-4. His name appears in Bouton's History of Concord, with those of his two eldest sons, 1746; but their names appear without his, Jan., 1747-8. He d. in 1747 or '48, and his wife probably d. about as early. [See (100) Jacob.⁵]
- (39) IV. MARIA,⁴ b. Nov. 21, 1694; m. Moses Ingalls, of Andover, Feb. 21, 1712-3.
- (40) V. SUSANNA,⁴ b. Feb. 20, 1696-7; † m. Richard Kelly, of Newbury, Sep. 28, 1721.
- (41) VI. PHILIP,⁴ b. April 1, 1697; † probably m. Mary Lowell in Methuen, Aug. 5, 1736. There was a Philip Hoyt taxed in Methuen in 1736, and Wm. and Philip Hoyt sold land there in Dec., 1737, deed ackn. May, 1738. As his brother Wm. removed to that town, it seems probable that (41) Philip⁴ lived there also. On the Methuen chh. records, we find a Mary Hoyt received to full communion in 1738. — There was a Philip Hoyt who, with others of Kingstown, in 1730, petitioned for a new town to extend five miles up the river and five miles down from Amoskeag Falls, and to be five miles wide on each side of the river. Philip Hoyt was taxed in Kingston, in 1732, for "1 head, 2 land." A deed is on record from Philip Hoyt of Kingston to Wm. Buswell, dated 1732, ackn. 1735. There was also a Philip Hite [in the west part of Haverhill district (Plaistow) in 1749?]
- (42) VII. WILLIAM,⁴ b. Aug. 15, 1702; m. Katherine Davis, of Haverhill, Jan. 1, 1729-30. He removed to Methuen the latter part of 1728,—was taxed there in 1736, and sold land there in 1737-8. On the Methuen chh. records, we find that Katharine Hoyt was received to full communion in 1736, and dismissed to the 3d chh. in Haverhill in 1746. There was no

* So on Ames. records, yet it can hardly be '93-4 if Maria was born in 1694.

† Evidently a mistake in one of these years.

Hoyt in Methuen at the time of the "Valuation of Towns" in 1771.

- (43) VIII. HOPESTILL,⁴ (or HOPEE), b. Sep. 6, 1704; m. Timothy Pike, of Newbury, Aug. 4, 1726.
- (44) IX. MIRIAM,⁴ b. Oct. 31, 1710; probably removed to Methuen and m. Richard Heath of Haverhill, April 9, 1730.

— I —

Children of (17) John³ and Elisabeth Hoyt.

- (45) I. LYDIA,⁴ b. June 15, 1686; m. Joseph Quinby, Jr., int. ent. July 10, 1717. John Blaisdell, their mother's husband, was appointed guardian of Lydia and Daniel, March 29, 1699.
- (46) II. MARY,⁴ b. March 5, 1687-8; probably died young, as she is not mentioned in the appointment of a guardian, 1699, nor in the settlement of the estate, 1720.
- (47) III. DANIEL,⁴ b. March 2, 1689-90; m. Sarah Rowell, int. ent. Dec. 9, 1710 (107), and Elisabeth Baxter,* July 24, 1729; d. March 3, 1742-3. His first wife, Sarah, d. Jan. 2, 1728-9; his second wife, Elisabeth, survived him. In the settlement of his father's estate, 1720 and 1722, Daniel had the "homestead at Jamaica, on the road to Haverhill." His tombstone is still to be seen in the W. Amesbury cemetery. Will proved March 10, 1742-3. [Wid. m. Jacob Sargent, Dec. 22, 1746?]

Children of (19) Joseph³ and Dorothy Hoyt.

- (48) I. JOHN,⁴ b. July 2, 1703; m. Mary Eastman, of Salisbury, Dec. 15,† 1726 (115); d., intestate, in South Hampton, as early as 1754. He bought the shares of Mehitable, Joseph, and Dorothy, in his father's estate. [See (19) Joseph.³] John and wife, Mary, were dismissed from the first chh. in Amesbury (East Parish) to the South Hampton chh., March 18, 1743-4. His wife survived him. His children were all born in Amesbury—except, possibly, the youngest. Inventory dated April 19, 1754. Estate divided July, 1755.
- (49) II. MEHETABEL,⁴ b. Nov. 25, 1705; m. Jeremiah Flanders, of Salisbury, Dec. 29, 1726.
- (50) III. JOSEPH,⁴ b. Jan. 10, 1707-8; m. Ann Pettingill, of Newbury, May 6, 1731 (122); d. 1778 or 9. He was a mast-maker, lived in Newbury, afterwards Newburyport. His sons, Joseph⁵ and Moses,⁵ were ap. adm. of his est., April, 1779, but the estate was settled by Moses,⁵ the "surviving administrator," in 1794, after his wife's death. Perhaps the Ann Hoyt who died in N., Jan. 23, 1794, at the age of 96, may have been his wife, as Moses⁵ Hoyt was ap. adm. est. of his mother, Ann, Feb. 24, 1794.
- (51) IV. EZEKIEL,⁴ b. Jan. 7, 1709-10; m. Rebecca Brown, of Newbury,

* Widow of Nicholas. Name spelled on different records in several different ways; as, Baxter, Bareta, Bartow, Barto, Beorter, &c.

† Second Salis. chh. records. The town records of Salis. read Dec. 29, but Dec. 15 is undoubtedly correct.

Dec. 25, 1735 (129); d. in Brentwood as early as 1754. Ezekiel and wife were received as members of the first chh. in Amesbury, May 1, 1737, and dismissed to the second chh. in Salisbury, June 21, 1739,—recd. there July 1, 1739. He was residing in that part of Salisbury which was incorporated as South Hampton in 1742. His oldest child's birth is recorded in Amesbury, the second in Salisbury, the three next in S. Hampton, and the two youngest in Brentwood. He was a tanner, and, in Dec., 1737, sold to Titus Wells, of Amesbury, sadler, the two pieces of land* which he inherited from his father, and also a dwelling-house, shop, mill-house, and tan-yard. [See (19) Joseph.³] He bought land in the same month, at "Bugsmore," and also in Salisbury. Joseph Godfrey was ap. adm. of his est., April 15, 1754. Invent. dated April 20, 1754; est. divided in 1759.

His widow, Anna, was appointed administratrix of his estate, Dec., 1764; hence he must have been dead at that time. He was a shipwright—lived in Newbury, afterwards Newburyport. His widow, Ann, d. * There was a Titus Wells who lived nearly opposite where Robert Patten, Esq., now lives, near Amesbury Mills, and this land was probably situated near what is now known as Patten's tannery. Unless Ezekiel's father removed after first settling in life, it formed a part of (1) John¹ Hoyt's homestead.

man, and lived in a house which has always been occupied by his descendants. It has descended in a direct line to Enoch⁷ Hoyt (the author's father), who now resides in it. Theodore⁴ probably built it himself, somewhere near 1735. It has been kept in good repair, and some additions have been made from time to time, so that one would hardly, at first sight, suspect it to be one of the oldest houses in Amesbury. The front part of the house is all that remains of the original structure, the back part having been either added or rebuilt at a later date. On the side of the road, opposite the old house, the old well is still in existence. It was filled up, and its exact location was almost forgotten, when it was dug out, a little more than twenty years since, and a pump put in. Within the last few years, however, it has again fallen into disuse. Lowell Bagley, Esq. (now seventy-two years old), relates that when a small boy he lost three coppers into the well—it being quite old, even then. When the well was cleared out, two of those coppers were found.—Tradition says that Theodore⁴ was Lieut. of a company of carpenters who were engaged in building bateaux, &c., on Lake Champlain, during the French war. It is also stated that he was accompanied by his two oldest sons, one of whom was then about nineteen years old; if so, it must have been near the year 1756. In the Mass. archives, we find a paper relating to Capt. Barnard's Company of Carpenters,—expedition to Cape Breton,—consisting of thirteen men. Entered service Feb. 6, roll made up to July 27, year not given. [1758?] The men's names are not given, but Barnard is an Amesbury name, and this may have been the company to which Theodore⁴ belonged. [See (148) Wm.⁵] —Theodore⁴ Hoyt is mentioned on the Amesbury records, as a measurer of timber, in 1742. He owned land in Kingston and New Amesbury (now Warner, N. H.), and also in Davistown, about fifty miles east of Augusta, Me. A part of his real estate in Amesbury consisted of a lot near the Powow River, in a region called Golgotha, a portion of it having been anciently used as a burying place. One day he was found lying in this field, in a apoplectic fit, and lived only two or three days after being carried home. His two eldest sons were ap. adm. of his est., April, 1782. His widow, Hannah, was living in 1796.

(61) VI. DOROTHY,⁴ b. April 22, 1714; m. Barnes Jewell.

(62) VII. AARON,⁴ b. March 30, 1716. His brother, Theodore,⁴ was ap. ad. of his estate in 1750. Inventory dated 1749. By the will of (24) Robert,³ he received the dwelling-house in which his father was then living (1740); but his mother outlived him, and consequently he did not come into possession of it.

(63) VIII. ANNE,⁴ b. May 9, 1718; m. Elijah Morrill, of Salisbury, Aug. 18, 1741; d. Dec. 30, 1759. An Anna Hoyt renewed covenant with the 1st Ames. chh., April 12, 1741. One of her sons used to tell that he remembered going up to his grandmother's,—Mary, widow of (24) Robert³ Hoyt,—and looking into the Sandy Hill meeting-house (1st, or E. Parish), then just being finished. This must have been somewhere near 1760, according to his statement. The name Robert is kept up in this branch of the Morrill family.

Children of (25) Thomas³ and Elisabeth Hoyt.

- (65) I. JOHN⁴ (CAPT.), b. July 25, 1689; m. Sarah Barnard, Aug. 22, 1723 (157); d. 1757. He and his two brothers, Jacob⁴ and Timothy,⁴ were living in the West Parish in 1726. Perhaps he settled near where Moses⁷ now lives, on "Tucker Hill," formerly called "Hoyt Hill." He was a member of the 2d or W. Ames. chh., Oct. 9, 1726, and his wife Sarah joined it, Dec. 10, 1726. Lieut. John Hoyt was chosen deacon of that chh., March 10, 1740. A John Hoyt was selectman in 1719 and 1733, "Dea. John" in 1742, and "Capt. John" in 1744. "Lieut. John" was moderator in 1742. Will dated March 26, 1757, proved Sep. 5, 1757. His widow, Sarah, was living in 1761.
- (66) II. JACOB,⁴ b. June 19, 1691; m. Joanna Ring, Feb. 14, 1716–7 (165); d. 1755 or '6. He settled on the "Children's Land," in W. Ames. His widow, Joanna, was living in 1762.
- (67) III. MARY,⁴ b. Aug. 15, 1693; m. John Lancaster, Dec. 20, 1716.
- (68) IV. DAVID,⁴ b. March 12, 1695–6; must have d. young.*
- (69) V. SARAH,⁴ b. May 4, 1698; m. Joseph Bartlett, April 27, 1721.
- (70) VI. TIMOTHY⁴ (LIEUT.), b. June 24, 1700; m. Sarah Chailis (dau. of William and Margaret), Feb. 15, 1721–2 (171). He lived in the W. Parish, on the "Children's Land," or "Highlands." His wife, Sarah, joined the 2d Ames. chh., Dec. 10, 1726. His name does not appear on the parish tax lists after 1774.
- (71) VII. ELISABETH,⁴ b. March 14, 1701–2; probably d. young, not mentioned in the will, 1734.
- (72) VIII. THOMAS,⁴ b. Jan. 18, 1703–4; † m. Ruth Barnard (grand-dau. of Thom. Barnard), Jan. 20, 1725–6 (181); d. 1743 or very early in 1744. He was recd. to the 1st Ames. chh., April 15, 1733, and his wife, Oct. 29, 1732. He received the west half of his father's farm at "Pond Hills," and probably lived on it. His widow, Ruth, was living in 1748.
- (73) IX. MICAH⁴ (LIEUT.), b. Jan. 18, 1704; † m. Susanna — (189); d. early in 1769. He was among those who petitioned for a new parish in 1744, and who formed a new parish, in the west part of South Hampton, 1748—incorporated as "New-Town" the next year, 1749. Will dated Dec. 24, 1768, proved Feb. 22, 1769. Wid. Susanna d. Sep. 12, 1790.
- (74) X. DANIEL,⁴ b. Jan. 23, 1707; not mentioned in the will, 1734,—probably died before that time.*

* Tradition says that one of the brothers [probably either (68) David⁴ or (74) Daniel⁴] was killed when a boy, near their residence at Pond Hills, by Indians.

† Possibly twins, but they were not recorded together.

- x (75) XI. DAVID,⁴ b. Oct. 27, 1709 ; m. Mary Quinby (199) ; d. 1795-8. He had the east half of his father's homestead farm at " Pond Hills," and occupied the house in which his grandson (582) Thom.⁶ now lives. Wife Mary renewed covenant with 1st Ames. chh., Feb. 22, 1735-6, recd. to the chh., Nov. 20, 1737. David⁴ was recd. to the chh., May 24, 1741. Will dated Nov., 1794, proved Dec. 4, 1798. Wife Mary d. some years previous.

Children of (27) Ephraim³ and Hannah Hoyt.

- (76) I. EPHRAIM,⁴ b. — ; bap. Dec. 16, 1716 ; m. 1st, Sarah Clough, of Salisbury, Jan. 3, 1726-7 (210), 2d, Abigail Welch, Oct. 31, 1754 (218), and 3d, Susanna —. Lived in Hampton Falls till about 1757, then removed to Chester, N. H., where he d. Feb. to April, 1767, his third wife, Susanna, surviving him. He was taxed at Hampton Falls in 1727, for " 1 head, 1 cow, 1 hors," and in 1732, for " 1 Head, 1 House, 3 Three year olds, 1 Yearling." Will dated Feb. 16, 1767, proved April 29, 1767.
- (77) II. BENJAMIN,⁴ b. — ; bap. Dec. 16, 1716.
- (78) III. HANNAH,⁴ b. — ; bap. Dec. 16, 1716 ; [m. Henry Ambros, of Salisbury, Dec. 20, 1722 ?]
- (79) IV. MARY,⁴ b. — ; bap. Nov. 3, 1717.
- (80) V. HULDAH,⁴ b. — ; bap. Nov. 3, 1717 ; m. John Chapman, June 4, 1729.
- (81) VI. DAVID,⁴ b. — ; bap. Sep. 2, 1722.
- (82) VII. JONATHAN,⁴ b. — ; bap. Sep. 2, 1722 ; perhaps m. Katherine Clough (both of Salisbury), Nov. 6, 1728 (221 ?). A Jonathan Hoyt was adm. to the 2d chh., Salisbury, April 6, 1729, and a Catherine Hoyt, April 6, 1746. Also, one of the children of a Jonathan Hoyt was bap. there as late as March, 1747-8. A Jonathan Hoyt's estate was annexed to Hampton Falls in 1741, and this was confirmed the following year, in the charter of South Hampton. [See (86) Benj.⁴] A deed is on record from Ephraim to his brother Jonathan, both of Hampton Falls, June, 1741 ; and Jona. is mentioned in 1757, as owning land adjoining Ephraim's, in H. Falls. Jonathan Hoyt was one of the Presbyterian church in Hampton Falls when they petitioned, in 1765 and 1767, to be exempted from taxation to support Rev. Paine Wingate (Cong.), as they already supported one of their own persuasion, Rev. Sam. Perley. There are several elaborate petitions and remonstrances on this subject among the Province Papers at Concord. To settle the difference, two parishes were formed in 1768.—There was also a Jona. Hoyt in H. Falls in 1769.
- (83) VIII. NATHAN,⁴ b. — ; bap. Sep. 23, 1722 ; m. Rebecca Rawlins [or Rollins], Aug. 4, 1735 (229). His mar. is recorded in Hampton Falls, but he moved to Epping, and probably died there. The name of " Nathan Hoyt " is on the " List of the parish Rats " in Epping, Oct., 1742. A Nathan Hoyt was recd. to the Epping chh., April 10, 1774; and a deed of Nathan Hoyt, of Epping, yeoman, 1774, is on record;—either (83) Nathan⁴ or his son, (230) Nathan.⁵

Children of (31) Benjamin³ and Hannah Hoyt.

- (86) I. BENJAMIN,⁴ b. April 29, 1706; m. Mary Collins, March 25, 1730 (233); d. as early as 1745–6. Soon after the settlement of the boundary of Mass. and N. H., Benj. Hoyt signed the petition of those who “did belong to the Easterly part of Salisbury,” showing that they did not wish to be joined to the township to be formed of the westerly part of Salisbury and a part of Amesbury, as they were six miles from the meeting-house; and requesting to be joined to Hampton Falls. In the charter of South Hampton (May 25, 1742), “the lands, estates & polls” of Jonathan Hoyt and Benj. Hoyt were excepted, and thereby “annexed to Hampton Falls.” In 1743, “Benjamin Hoyt, Jun., formerly of Salisbury, now of S. Hampton,” deeds homestead to Richard Long. In 1745–6 we find a deed from Richard Long to Mary Hoyt, widow of Benj., of S. Hampton. The births of Benjamin’s children were recorded at Hampton Falls, but they were all bap. in Salisbury, E. Parish. Two or three of his sons lived in H. Falls a short time after their marriage, but their residence was sometimes considered in S. Hampton. Mary Hoyt, widow, was taken into the 1st Salis. chh., Nov. 11, 1750.—(86) Benj.⁴ was a very tall and stout man. It is said he was a carpenter, and the story is, that he once held up the whole side of a building, and prevented it from falling upon other individuals. (713) James⁵ Hoyt, of Concord, N. H., relates the following traditions respecting a brother of his grandfather, evidently (86) Benj.⁴: He and a neighbor were once hoeing in adjoining fields. After a while, his neighbor says to him: “I have hoed as many hills as you, lacking two.” It turned out, however, that Benj. had hoed two rows at a time, and had thus done more than double the work of his neighbor.† At another time, he carried a very heavy stone into a mill, where it remained for a long time, serving as a trial of strength. At last one man was found who carried it out, though not as easily as Benj. carried it in.† It is also said that while he was at Cape Breton, during the French war [1744?], the soldiers were obliged at one time to supply the fort with water by carrying it in barrels, two men to each barrel. They complained of it as being too heavy work, but Benj. took up two barrels and carried them into the fort (a distance of twenty rods)

* (85) omitted. We have found but nine children, instead of ten, as was at first supposed.

† These two traditions may possibly relate to (234) Abner.⁵

and back, on a wager. He was taken sick, shortly after, with a "nervous fever," and soon died,—the effect of carrying the water, as some supposed, and other hardships and exposure. Most of his children were noted for their great strength. His widow, Mary, lived among her children, and died with her son Abner, at Weare, N. H., early in 1801, probably between ninety and a hundred years old.

- (87) II. MOSES,⁴ b. March 1, 1707–8; m. Mary Carr, July 15, 1731 (242); d. about 1784. He and his wife were taken into the 1st Salis. chh., March 14, 1741–2. He was in Salisbury (E. Parish) till Jan., 1742–3; but was living in Epping, N. H., in July, 1743. He was there chosen constable, and also committee to provide a minister, Nov. 10, 1746; mentioned as on a "Comitey to treate with him [Rev. Robert Cuteler?] upon Setelement," Aug. 10, 1747; moderator, Oct. 5, 1747; pew No. 19 [assigned him Feb., 1749–50?] entered as his in 1755. He is also mentioned on the Epping chh. records, as member of a committee, in 1748. A Mary Hoyt was also member of that chh. in 1755. Moses⁴ bought land in Exeter (probably Epping Parish) in 1742. [See (90) Daniel.⁴] We find four deeds dated 1753 in which he was grantor, and two the same year in which he was grantee, all giving his residence as Epping. His sons went back to Salisbury, Mass., and, in 1771, he was living there also, and had "2 polls rateable;" but he probably signed the "Association Test" in Weare, N. H., 1776. He probably lived with his children in the latter town, and died there. He was a tall and stout man—was sometimes styled a "cordwainer," and sometimes a "yeoman."
- (88) III. HANNAH,⁴ b. May 8, 1710; bap. June 18, 1710; m. Daniel Merrill, Dec. 22, 1736.
- (89) IV. ENOCH,⁴ b. —; bap. Sep. 5, 1714; m. Sarah French, Dec. 3, 1735 (251). Both were taken into the 1st Salis. chh., March 11, 1739 (probably '38–9), and we there find a record of the bap. of all their children, except the oldest. He was taxed in Salisbury in 1771.
- (90) V. DANIEL,⁴ b. March 25, 1715; bap. June 5, 1715; m. Judith Carr (of Carr's Island, in the Merrimac River), June 24, 1736 (258). Daniel "owned y^e covenant," Nov. 6, 1737. Both were taken into the 1st Salis. chh., Aug. 26, 1744, and "Dismissed to y^e Chh. of & at Epping," Aug. 30, 1752. Four of their children were bap. at Salis., and two at Epping. In Jan., 1742–3, he bought of his brother Moses (both then living in Salisbury), land in Epping. In 1754, he and his brother Moses exchanged deeds, both then living in Epping. We find the ear-mark of "Daniel Hoyt" on the Epping records. Daniel and Judith Hoyt were members of the chh. there in 1755, and Daniel Hoyt is mentioned as a member of the chh. in 1757. Adm. of the est. of Daniel Hoyt, of Epping, husbandman, was granted Joseph Sillea [Cilley?], Dec. 3, 1757.

- (91) VI. *JOSEPH,⁴ b. Sep. 20, 1717; bap. March 19, 1726-7; m. 1st, Naomi Smith, of Exeter, int. ent. Oct. 17, 1741, and 2d, Susanna French (265); d. about 1788. He was taken into the 1st Salis. chh., June 27, 1742. Tradition says that he studied medicine a while, but, the physician dying with whom he studied, he did not continue it. He afterwards taught school, and also went to sea. He was a stout, heavy man, though not very tall, and was much noted for his strength. It is said that he carried a barrel of water from the river to his house (in Boscawen), about thirty rods, when he was over sixty years old. He was a soldier in the Indian war, and many stories are still told of his strength and courage. His descendants say, that, while stationed at Saco, he was once on a scout below, when his party discovered an Indian. The captain, sergeant, and Joseph immediately started in pursuit, but the latter soon distanced the others, and overtook the Indian. At another time, he and his captain were out alone after the cows, when their dog began to bark, and they became aware that a number of Indians were lurking behind the log, "where [Maj. ?] Sorrel's grave was." The captain, however, frightened them by shouting: "If you see an inch of their heads, put a bullet in!" and the two retreated with their faces towards the log and their guns ready to fire, till it was safe to turn round and run towards their encampment. One of the Indians afterwards said to the captain: "Me might kill you and yaller-headed man, —(91) Joseph,⁴ who had light hair,—you out after cows, little ellamoose [dog] say ya ya ya." "You cowardly dog, you didn't dare to," answered the captain; to which the Indian only replied: "Me no orders kill captain." According to the statement of the Indian, there were fourteen others with him behind the log. (718) Amos⁶ Hoit states that Joseph⁴ was one of the rangers under Capt. Bradford, at Saco, in the French and Indian war, and thinks he was a clerk or orderly sergeant. He was once out with the captain's son, and fell in with a party of Indians, yet they were not harmed, as the captain's son had previously done the Indians a kindness.—(91) Joseph⁴ removed to Boscawen, N. H., about Sep., 1761, and was a deacon of the Cong. chh.

* There is a story told by some of the descendants of Joseph, which must relate to this branch of the family, perhaps to those of the fourth generation. It seems that two individuals by the name of Hoyt, and one other man, all very stout and strong, wished to play off a joke upon a press-gang who were lurking in the vicinity of Salisbury, and went to the tavern for that purpose. The landlady told them they had better be going, for a press-gang would be along pretty soon; but they only laughed at it, and still remained. Eight men soon came in, appeared extremely friendly, treated all round, and at last invited them to take a walk. All now started off towards the shore, locking arms, but in such a manner that each supposed dupe was guarded by a press-man on each side. After walking till they came to an old cellar, overgrown with brambles, one of the Hoyts said: "Brother, haven't we come about far enough?" The other replied: "Yes, I guess we have." The press-men laughed well at this, but not at what followed; for they were all suddenly pitched into the old cellar, while their intended victims started for home.

there. His name heads the "Association Test" from that town, 1776. His wife, Susanna, survived him, some eight or ten years. He had one child by his first wife, but it died young.

(32) Joseph³ and (95) Joseph⁴ of Stratham, and (27) Ephraim³ of Hampton Falls, were among those who petitioned, in 1739, to be annexed to Mass. (95) Joseph⁴ received a deed of one half his father's dwelling-house, &c., in 1741, and the remainder was bequeathed him in his father's will. He was one of the proprietors of Sanbornton, and, in 1770, we find him petitioning the General Court, in their behalf. One or two of his sons settled in that town. He seems to have been a man of considerable wealth and influence in Stratham, and that town sent him as a delegate to the first Provincial Congress which met at Exeter, in April, 1775. He was not a member, however, of the two subsequent sessions held the same year, and refused to sign the "Association Test" in 1776. Will dated June 10, 1789, proved Aug., 1789. His second wife was probably the Deborah Hoyt who d. at Stratham in 1818, aged 93. A "Joseph Hoyt" was adm. to the 1st Exeter chh., Jan. 11, 1756, and a "Capt. Joseph Hoyt" was taxed there in 1773 and the following years; but if it was (95) Jos.,⁴ he probably did not reside in Exeter.

cause, in 1747-8. In 1748, he bought the rights of Zeruah, Betty, Stephen, and Apphia in their father's estate. He kept tavern some years in Concord, N. H., was constable there in 1771; moved to New-Amesbury (now Warner, N. H.), was living there in 1775; removed to Rochester, Vt., about 1782, and d. there about 1800.

- (101) II. ZERUAH,^s b. —; m. Joseph Farnum, of Rumford, int. ent. Jan. 27, 1740 [prob. '40-1].
- (102) III. BETTY,^s* b. —; m. Samson Colby, of Rumford, int. ent. Sep. 19, 1742; lived in Hopkinton, N. H.; afterwards m. Ezekiel Straw.
- (103) IV. STEPHEN,^s b. —; m. Abigail Eastman, of Rumford, int. ent. July 28, 1745 (281). His first two children were recorded at Concord, and he is mentioned on the town records there in 1746 and 1747-8; but he was one of the proprietors of Hopkinton, N. H. (formerly called No. 5), in 1757, and was an early settler there. He was one of Maj. Rogers' rangers, and was present at the attack on the Indian village of St. Francis, Oct., 1759. On their way back, Maj. Rogers' party separated. The company which Stephen Hoyt joined were never afterwards heard from, and, as they were much exhausted and nearly destitute of provisions, they doubtless perished of hunger and cold amid the snows of the wilderness. It is said that some human bones and other relics were afterwards found near the White Hills, which were supposed to be traces of this party. It is also related, that the following spring some clothes and other things were found on an island in Lake Winnipiseogee. Among them was a snuff-box, marked Stephen Hoyt, found by Capt. Archelaus Miles, of Canterbury.† Wid. Abigail was ap. adm. of his est., Oct. 28, 1767. She died at her son Enoch's, in Bradford, N. H., spring of 1815.

* While her father's family were in Mr. Jonathan Eastman's garrison (on the Mill Road, opposite the house of Mr. Aaron Shute, Concord, N. H.), on one occasion "Betsey went out to milk the cows, just at twilight. She was accompanied by a soldier named Roane, for a guard. While she milked the cows, Roane sat on the fence; but instead of looking out for Indians, his eyes were attracted towards Betsey. She, observing his gaze, said, 'Roane, you better look the other way, and see if there are any Indians near.' Turning round at that moment, he saw an Indian with tomahawk in hand, creeping slyly toward him. Roane screamed, leaped from the fence, and run, gun in hand, leaving Betsey to do the best she could for herself. Fortunately, however, Betsey regained the garrison in safety." (Bouton's Hist. Concord, N. H.)

† The accounts of this expedition, as given us by Stephen's descendants, and as found in Rogers' Journal, Belknap's Hist. N. H., and Bouton's Hist. Concord, differ in a few particulars. We have endeavored to make the above statements in such a manner as not to conflict with either. The tradition as related by Stephen's descendants is, that the Indians pursued the returning party, and surprised them on a point of land at the junction of the St. Francis and Memphremagog Rivers, killing some and taking others prisoners, while the rest were obliged to cross the rivers and flee in all directions, each man for himself. It was thought that they were obliged to throw away an image which they had taken among their spoil, and that vicinity has since been carefully, but unsuccessfully, searched for the purpose of finding it. The accounts differ also in other minor points, which it is hardly worth while to notice here.

His son Jacob relates that he [John⁵] subscribed four dollars towards the first frame meeting-house at Concord, and worked it out in cutting timber, at a pistareen a day. His farm was at one time considered a part of Loudon, but was afterwards [1784] set back into Concord. He kept a tavern (in the north-east part of Concord) which was very celebrated in its day. One night thirty-three teams, or sixty-six oxen, put up there. He charged half a pistareen for keeping a yoke of oxen over night. This tavern was kept there from 1780 till his death. His widow, Abigail, d. May 25, 1824.

* "The little girl who saw one Indian or more in the bushes on the Sabbath before the massacre" at Penacook. (Hist. Concord, N. H.)

Sarah Collins (328), and 2d, Wid. Ruth (Clough) Brown, of Poplin; d. about 1808. He was living in Brentwood, N. H., as early as 1752—in that part incorporated as Poplin in 1764. He was taxed in Poplin as late as 1772, but very soon after removed to Grafton, being one of the earliest settlers of that place. Tradition says that the first orchard set out in Grafton consisted of one hundred trees carried there from Poplin, by Joseph's wife. It is said that Joseph⁵ raised 20 men, and went as captain when the Indians burnt Royalton, but did not reach the place. He paid all the expenses himself, but, when his son, Ebenezer,⁶ was a member of the legislature, the money was refunded. An old arm-chair, silver shoe-buckles, and several other ancient relics, some of which were said to have been brought from England, were preserved by his family. It will be seen that he was the oldest son of (19) Joseph's³ oldest son, and as Joseph³ probably occupied the homestead of (1) John,¹ it is possible some of these things may have been quite ancient.

- (116) II. JOHN,⁵ b. Dec. 8, 1729; m. 1st, Sarah Collins (336), and 2d, Wid. Miriam (Brown) Hobbs, of Poplin, Feb. 3, 1790. He was a "joiner;" moved from South Hampton to Brentwood in 1761, was living in that part incorporated as Poplin in 1764; moved to Chester in 1767, himself and wife were adm. Chester chh. April 10, 1768; d., testate, about 1817. His 2d wife, Miriam, survived him.
- (117) III. JONATHAN,⁵ b. Oct. 1, 1731; bap. Oct. 31, 1731; m. 1st, Sarah Shepherd, of Salisbury, Ms., Jan. 24, 1753 (345), 2d, Elizabeth (Eastman) Currier—wid. of Moses—(353), and 3d, Phebe Marshall (361). He was a shoemaker; moved from S. Hampton to Brentwood between Jan., 1753, and July, 1755; lived in that part afterwards called Poplin (now Fremont, N. H.); moved to Grafton later than 1772, and afterwards to Orange, where he cleared a large tract of wild land. He d. about 1806. As he was hauling a heavy load of boards with an ox team, his feet slipped, the wheel passed over him, and crushed his head. It is said that he had twenty-one children, but we have learned the names of only nineteen. The other two probably d. very young.
- (118) IV. DAVID,⁵ b. —; bap. Aug. 25, 1734; m. Joanna Smith, Oct. 26, 1757 (364); d., testate, early in 1795, his wife, Joanna, surviving him. He moved from S. Hampton to Brentwood (afterwards Poplin) early in 1756, and resided in Poplin till his death.
- (119) V. BENJAMIN,⁵ b. Sep. 17, 1736; bap. Nov. 7, 1736; m. Mary Colby (in Kingston), Nov. 26, 1759 (376); d., testate, about 1803, his wife, Mary, surviving him. He moved from S. Hampton to Brentwood (afterwards Poplin), 1757 to '59, and from Poplin to Chester soon after. He was in Poplin in 1764, and was taxed there in 1765, but not in '66 and succeeding years. He lived in Chester in 1765, the births of his four oldest children are recorded in Chester, and his oldest child was bap. there in 1760; but we have found no record of the bap. of any of his other chil., until that of Levi, in 1771. He resided in Chester till his death.

- (120) VI. SAMUEL,⁵ b. Jan. 24, 1739-40; bap. April 20, 1740; m. 1st, Joanna Brown (385), 2d, Wid. Anna (Sibley) Stevens, June 18, 1778 (391), and 3d, Wid. Mehetabel Kilborn, of Weare, Feb. 4, 1793. His 1st wife, Joanna, d. Jan. 1, 1778, 2d wife, Anna, d. Sep. 14, 1792, and 3d wife, Mehitabel, d. Nov. 15, 1833. He was in Poplin in 1764, and his name appears on the Poplin tax list in 1765; but he was living in Chester in June, 1765, and in Hopkinton, N. H., as early as Feb., 1767, where he resided till his death. He d., testate, Nov. 22, 1821.
- (121) VII. EASTMAN,⁵ b. —; m. Martha Clough—dau. of Sarah, and sister of Theophilus—(395). He was living in S. Hampton in 1765. We find his name on the Poplin tax list for 1766, '67, and '69; but the records of Hopkinton state that his oldest child was b. at South Hampton, Feb., 1767, and second one at Hopk., Jan., 1769. He was probably still living at Hopk. in 1791, but removed, with his family, to Windsor, Vt., and died in Westmoreland, N. H.

Children of (60) Theodore⁴ and Hannah Hoyt.

- (147) I. THEODORE,⁵ b. ———; bap. Aug. 31, 1740; m. Mary Wells, dau. Titus Wells* (433); d. 1790-1800. He and his wife renewed covenant with the 1st Ames. chh., Dec. 4, 1768.

* Titus Wells lived nearly opposite the house now owned and occupied by Robert Patten, Esq., near Amesbury Mills. [See page 32.]

Either he or his father was constable and collector for the eastern portion of Ames. in 1775, and his name [Theo. Jr.] appears as one of the town's committee of "Correspondence, Inspection, and Safety" in 1777. He was a ship-carpenter; lived in the same house with his father, a Amesbury Ferry. His wife also occupied rooms in the house till her death, Jan. 15, 1822. He served with his father and brother, Wm., in the French war. Theo. and Wm. were baptized at the same time, and were appointed joint executors of their father's estate. Possibly they were twins. (444) William^s thinks, however, that Theo. was about two years older than Wm.

- (148) II. WILLIAM,^s b. [Dec. 16, 1737?]; bap. Aug. 31, 1740; m. 1st, Elizabeth Challis, Nov. 25, 1762, and 2d, Apphia Worthen [sister of (207) Daniel's^s wife], Nov. 10, 1774 (443). Eliz., wife of Wm., renewed covenant with 1st Ames. chh., April 23, 1772. Wm. and wife [2d] renewed cov., July 28, 1776. He built and occupied a house which is still standing, two or three rods south of his father's; but removed to Chester, N. H., in 1789,—d. there Feb., 1820. He worked as a shipwright in Amesbury, and in Chester he sometimes got out treenails, knees, timber, &c. Tradition says that when he was about nineteen years of age, his father and brother were about to start on an expedition in the French war; but his mother was so much opposed to William's going, that she applied to a physician and obtained an excuse on account of a fever-sore on his leg. He was so desirous of going, however, that he obtained some nightshade, cured his sore, and went with his father and brother. It is said he was present at the taking of Louisburg in 1758. When he was twenty-one years old, having been away two years, he embarked for home; but the vessel was driven out of her course and obliged to winter at some island where many of those on board had the yellow fever. Among them was a Kendrick of Amesbury. It is not known whether his father and brother were with him at the capture of Louisburg, or on his return home. (444) William,^s who has related these particulars, thinks they might have served longer.
- (149) III. PELATIAH,^s b. Jan. 22, 1740; m. Dorothy Morrill, May 16, 1765 (447); d. Aug. 28, 1795. Pel. and wife renewed cov. with 1st Ames. chh., July 21, 1776. He was a shipwright; lived at Amesbury Ferry, except a short time spent at Haverhill. Wid. Dorothy d. somewhere near 1820.
- (150) IV. ANNE,^s b. Feb. 6, 1742; bap. June 19, 1743; m. Nathan Wells, April 7, 1763. She was a school-mistress, probably after his death.

* The only record we have found of these children is that of their baptism—2d Salis. chh. * "It was then a wilderness, and the bears and wolves were very troublesome, devouring his sheep when they were but a small distance from his house. He used to kill bears, some by shooting and others by trapping. The trap was formed of heavy logs in the shape of the figure 4, the upper log falling when the bear entered to take the bait. One trap was set at a distance of nearly three miles from his house. On a warm day in May he rode his old mare to the trap, and found a large bear in it, dead. How to get it home he was at a loss, but soon contrived a way which proved successful. He took off his vest, and buttoned it tight round the old mare's head to blind her eyes, to prevent her being frightened at the bear; next, he took the throat-latch from the bridle, and buckled it tight round the old mare's tail; then cut a hole through the bear's nose, and put in a withe and fastened the other end to the strap on the mare's tail. Mounting, he rode home, dragging the bear after him, much amused at the success of his contrivance." (Bouton's Hist. Concord.)

 fingham, and Wolfboro' academies, and graduated at Dartmouth College in 1829. While in college, he manifested a decided taste for the fine arts, and soon after graduating devoted himself to painting as a profession. In the fall of 1831, he commenced his favorite employment at Portland,
 Me. He resided in Portland, Belfast, Bangor, and St.
 John, N. B., till 1839, but in the fall of that year removed to Boston. In the spring of 1840, he was commissioned to go to Ohio and paint the portrait of Gen. Harrison. On the 16th of Oct., 1842, he sailed for Europe, and after a short stay at London and Paris, spent the winter at Florence, visiting the galleries of art and copying many of the pictures found there. He remained in Italy, visiting various places of interest, till the spring of 1844, the second winter having been spent at Rome, and returned by way of Switzerland and the Rhine to Belgium, thence to Paris and London, reaching home in July, 1844. From the autumn of that year until the period of his sickness and death, he continued his professional labors in Boston, where he was well known and much esteemed, both for his talents and private worth.* One of his productions is a full length portrait of Washington, copied from Stuart, which was exhibited for the first time, Feb. 22, 1856, when Edward Everett delivered his oration upon the "Character of Washington," before the Boston Mercantile Library Association. He died at his residence at Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury, Dec. 18, 1856, leaving two children.

* The following extracts are taken from the Boston Courier's report of a lecture delivered before the Boston Art Club, Jan. 29, 1857, by his friend and brother artist, Daniel Huntington, of New York. "He [Hoit] admired greatly the schools of color, and when in Italy was the wonder of his brother artists, for the facility with which he adapted his hand to the various masters he copied. He absolutely reproduced their master pieces, seeming to enter intuitively into their states of mind and methods of handling and color. . . . His portraits are remarkable for their faithfulness and quiet dignity. His landscape studies indicate a rare appreciation of the beauties of scenery, and are much diversified in character. Had he early devoted himself to this department, to which his genius was peculiarly fitted, he would have taken high rank among the professors of landscape. As it is, the sketches he has left are replete with beauty and are valuable from a certain unaffected and hearty relish of nature. They smell of the fields and brooks and mountain sides of his own native state, and ought to be highly prized by their fortunate possessors. His was a manly, honest, solid, yet enthusiastic nature."

Newington Branch.*

Two brothers [(28) John³ and (29) William³ Hoyt] disappeared from Amesbury about the same time that two individuals bearing the same names appeared in Kittery. By records given on page 28, it seems that John and Wm. Hoyt removed from Kittery to Newington, N. H. From these facts, it seems extremely probable that the Newington and Berwick Hoyts and Hights are descended from the Amesbury branch of the family, and we have numbered the generations in accordance with that idea. The number of children of either of these men is not known. (1531) William⁴ Hoyt, or Hight, of Berwick, went from Newington, and was probably a son of one of them, whether of John, or Wm., is now uncertain. From deeds on record at Exeter, it seems that William³ Hoyt of Newington died previous to 1727,† leaving at least four children, as follows:

Children of William Hoyt of Newington, perhaps (29) William.³

- (1448) I. SARAH,⁴ b. —; m. Samuel Nutter, May 18, 1725.
 (1449) II. ABIGAIL,⁴ b. —; m. George Boyd, before 1727.
 (1450) III. JOHN,⁴ b. —; m. Lydia Miller (1452); lived in Newington, probably on his father's estate. His name is frequently mentioned on the town records, usually spelled Hoyt, sometimes Hight. "John Hoytt" is the only one of the family who was taxed at N. in 1727 and 1732.
 (1451) IV. ELIZABETH,⁴ b. —; m. — Coolbroth, between Nov., 1734, and Feb., 1734-5.

- (1455) IV. DENNIS,⁵ b. May 1, 1744; m. Betsy Fabyan, April 1, 1768 (1482); d. April 22, 1818. He probably signed the association test at Portsmouth, in 1776, but spent most of his life in Newington. He is mentioned as assessor at Newington in 1799. Wid. Betsy d. April 27, 1838.

Berwick Branch.

- (1531) WILLIAM,⁴ b. about 1707; m. 1st, Elizabeth — (1532), and 2d, Mary Kinerson, int. ent. Nov. 19, 1777; d. Nov. 30, 1782, aged 75. Wife Eliz. d. April 18, 1776, aged 63. Wid. Mary probably m. Joseph Pray. Wm. Hight went from Newington, N. H., to Berwick [see p. 113], and was probably either a brother or cousin of (1450) John.⁴ In July, 1737, Wm. "Hoight," or "Hight, late of Newington, now of Berwick," bought land in B., of Wm. Spencer. We find at Kittery, dated Feb., 1747-8, a record of land in "Barwick" (which he had bought) laid out to Wm. "Height." He was a "merchant," or "shop-keeper," in what is now South Berwick. His name is usually spelled Hight, but sometimes Hoit, on the records of deeds at Alfred. In the "valuation of towns," 1771, he was put down for 5 dwelling houses, and was the second man in Berwick in point of income. In his will [1782], he mentions his "3 negroes Diner, Violet, and Peter." Nathan Hight and Nathaniel Hight are mentioned as creditors of his estate. His children, as given below, may not be named in the proper order.

Children of (1531) William⁴ and Elizabeth Hight.

- (1532) I. GEORGE,⁵ b. —; m. Eunice Hill, Sep. 6, 1764; lived in Berwick, constable 1766; d. previous to March 15, 1769, his wife surviving him. Chil.: George,⁶ Elisha,⁶ and Elizabeth.⁶

 (1534) III. FANNY⁵ (or FRANCES), b. about 1748; m. Dr. Ivory Hovey; d. Feb. 3, 1816, aged 68.
 (1535) IV. TEMPLE,^{5*} b. —; m. Sarah Goodwin, Sep. 24, 1772; merchant, lived in Berwick, constable 1771; d. previous to Nov. 24, 1778. Wid. Sarah d. previous to Oct., 1787.† Chil.: William,⁶ b. Oct. 3, 1773, and Betty.⁶ Wm. prob. m. Nabby Goodwin, int. ent. Dec. 7, 1796. He was Justice of the Peace, lived in S. Berwick.

* William,⁴ in his will, speaks of a son Temple, not of age, as well as a son Temple deceased. The language of the will is rather ambiguous, but it may refer to a son born later than 1760, and so named after the death of (1535) Temple.⁵

† At that time, Bishworth Jordan, Jr., was appointed in her place, adm. est. Temple Hight. The Berwick records state that Mr. Jordan of Biddeford and Sarah Hight were published Oct. 23, 1777. Temple's widow is, however, called Sarah Hight, in Nov., 1778, when she was appointed adm. of his estate.

- (1536) V. SARAH,⁵ b. ———; m. Wm. Whittier, June 22, 1776.
 (1537) VI. ELIZABETH,⁵ b. ———; m. Joseph Brewster.
 (1538) VII. JANE,⁵ b. ———; m. Ebenezer Lord.

Portsmouth Branch.

- (1539) ISRAEL HOYT, of Portsmouth, N. H., a "carpenter," or "housewright," is mentioned in various records, from 1732 to 1760. His name is variously spelled; as, Hoyt, Hoit, Hoytt, Hoitt, and Hight. If the earlier records refer to (30) Israel,³ the later probably relate to another individual bearing the same name, perhaps his son. For aught we know to the contrary, however, Israel of Portsmouth may have been a brother to (1450) John⁴ or (1531) William.⁴ It is possible that (30) Israel³ d. young. We find, on the tax list of Portsm., 1732, at Concord, "Isr^{le} Hoit, 1 head, 1 horse," and in another place on the same list, "Isreal Hoytt, 1 head, 1 horse." Whether this is a repetition of the same man's tax, or refers to two individuals, we cannot say. We find no Israel Hoyt on the parish rate lists of Portsmouth in 1736 or 1737, but the name appears in 1741, and he was taxed from that time up to 1760, when he probably died. Sarah Hoit, wife of Israel, was a member of the church in 1747, and we have found a record of the baptism of two dau. of Israel Hight: Mary, bap. Sep., 1748; and Grace, bap. June 17, 1750. Israel also had two dau. named Eleanor and Elizabeth, and probably a son James, all older than the above. [See (1541) James.]
- (1540) CHARLES HIGHT (OR HOIT), a sailmaker, died in Portsmouth in 1760 or '61. We find his name on the parish rate lists in 1737, also in 1749, and from that time up to 1760. Chil.: Charles, a sailmaker; Andrew, a mariner, prob. b. about 1744; Elizabeth Mayberry, bap. Nov. 26, 1749; Christopher Culling, bap. April 7, 1751; Samuel, bap. Jan. 12, 1755. His widow's name was Alice [dau. Sam. Frost of New Castle], probably a second wife. She was adm. 1st Portsm. chh., 1778; d. Oct., 1780. At the division of her estate, 1787, Nathaniel Shannon is mentioned as her only son, and Abigail Bryen and Margaret Parker are also mentioned.
- (1541) JAMES HOIT (OR HIGHT) was probably a son of (1539) Israel, and born about 1740. Chil.: Alice, bap. April, 1762; James, bap. April, 1764; Israel, bap. Oct. 5, 1766; Mary, bap. Oct. 15, 1769; Christian, bap. Aug. 15, 1773; Elizabeth, bap. Sep. 24, 1775. In 1765, Eleanor and Elizabeth Hight, spinsters, deed all right in their father Israel's house and land in Portsmouth to James Hight of P., housewright.*

DEERFIELD HOYT FAMILY.

- (1553) DAVID² (DEA. and LIEUT.), b. April 22, 1651 ; m. 1st, Mary Wells, (1554), 2d, Sarah Wilson, (1555), and 3d, Wid. Abigail Pomroy (1558). He was the son of Nicholas,* mentioned on page 13 ; took the "Oath of Alleagence" at Hadley, Mass., Feb. 8, 1678-9 ; but settled at Deerfield, Mass., as early as 1682. When the French and Indians attacked that town, he was taken captive, with his wife and four children. When at a place called Coos, near what is now Newbury, Vt., provisions became so scarce that Dea. Hoyt died of starvation, May, 1704. His widow endured all the horrors of captivity, and returned to Deerfield. She afterwards m. Dea. Rice, and removed to Wallingford, Conn.

Son of (1553) David² and Mary Hoyt.

- (1554) I. DAVID,³ b. — ; m. Mary Edwards, April 14, 1699 (1561). It is said that he was one of the seven men who successfully defended the house which took fire after the Indians left. They pursued the Indians, and David was killed the same day in the "meadow fight," Feb. 29, 1703-4. Wid. Mary m. Dea. Samuel Field.

Children of (1553) David² and Sarah† Hoyt.

- (1555) II. MARY,³ b. — ; m. Judah Wright, April 4, 1707. She was absent on a visit at Hatfield when the French and Indians attacked the town of Deerfield.
- (1556) III. SARAH,³ b. May 6, 1686 ; m. — Nims. She was taken captive, with others of her family. Her captors were about to resort to force to compel her to marry a Frenchman, when she offered to marry any one of her captive neighbors who would accept her hand, and thus rid her from her troublesome friends. Mr. Nims accepted the offer, and they were united forthwith. Both were afterwards released from captivity, and returned to their native town, where they reared a large family.

* Nicholas Hoyt was married in 1646, hence he was probably born in England, but came to this country when a minor. As we do not know that he was the son of Simon, we have considered Nicholas the emigrant ancestor in numbering the generations, calling David one of the second generation.

† On the town books, Sarah and Jonathan were originally recorded as the children of David and Abigail Hoyt, but Abigail is erased, and Mary written over it. The family manuscripts state that the second wife was Sarah Wilson.

- (1557) IV. JONATHAN³ (LIEUT.), b. April 6, 1688; m. Mary Field (1563); d. May 23, 1779. He was taken captive by the Indians, and carried to a place a few miles north of Quebec. While in the city one day with his master, he was noticed by an agent of the Mass. government, who paid a sum of money for his ransom, and immediately sent him home. He landed in Boston after an absence of two years and a half, and settled in his native town, Deerfield. A number of years after his return from captivity, his old master visited him and was entertained with great hospitality, much affection being manifested on both sides. Wid. Mary d. June 26, 1780.

Children of (1553) David² and Abigail Hoyt.

- (1558) V. BENJAMIN³, b. Sept. 15, 1692. It has been said that he secreted himself in a bin of corn, and thus escaped the enemy; but however this may be, he was not taken. He removed with his mother to Wallingford, Conn., and had a family.
- (1559) VI. EBENEZER,³ b. Aug. 21, 1695. He was taken captive, and always remained among the Indians.

- (1641) I. DAVID STARR⁷ (MAJ.), b. Feb. 17, 1821 ; m. Matilda Chester, in Chester, Ill., Oct. 4, 1849. By the advice of his uncle, Gen. Epaphras Hoyt, and under his instruction, he early fitted himself for a civil engineer. In Dec., 1846, he enlisted in a company of ordnance under Gen. Scott. He assisted in throwing the first shell at Vera Cruz, and the last one at the city of Mexico, having participated in every battle but one, of Scott's division. He was also one of the small party who ascended the volcano of Popocatepetl with Lieut. Stone, and planted the stars and stripes on its summit, an elevation of nearly 17,800 feet. While in Mexico, he learned the Spanish language, and also commenced keeping a meteorological journal, which he ever afterwards continued. From Sep., 1848, to April, 1849, he remained in Deerfield, and from the latter date to April, 1852, was in Randolph Co., Ill. From Ill. he went to California, reaching the gold region in 70 days. In June, 1853, he joined Col. Stevens' Exploring Expedition, as assistant to Lieut. Saxton in taking scientific observations and surveying the northern route for the Pacific Railroad. Nov., 1853, he again returned to Deerfield, where he remained, with the exception of a few weeks spent in Washington and Illinois, till Feb., 1856. On the 20th of that month, he started for Kansas. At Lexington, Mo., an armed mob compelled him to surrender a number of rifles in his possession, but as he had taken the precaution to send an essential part of each gun by another route, they were of no use to those who took them. After reaching Kansas, he took an active part in the Free State cause, and was selected by the citizens of Lawrence to remonstrate with a company of "border ruffians" under Capt. Saunders, encamped about seven miles distant. Having been assured by U. S. officers that it could be done with perfect safety, he started on his mission alone and unarmed ; but his mutilated body, partially buried, was found by a party of his friends the next day. It is said that he had an amicable interview with Capt. S., but was followed from their camp by two of the ruffians, and murdered on his return. He was probably killed on the 12th of Aug., 1856. Those who knew him best, say that he was incapable of fear—"too brave." His friends feel his loss deeply. His parents preserve with sacred care a cabinet of curiosities which he had collected during his travels.

APPENDIX.

William Barnes.

William Barnes* was one of the original settlers of Salisbury, Mass. At the first division of land, he received a house lot and a planting lot of four acres. In Jan., 1640-41, he received the "Rockie Island" in the meadow, and other grants. On the list of freemen contained in the Mass. Records, under date of June 2, 1641, we find the name of William Barnes, in connection with two or three other Salisbury names. He was one of those who removed to the west side of the Powow River, and settled that part of the town afterwards called Amesbury. On the Amesbury records he is frequently mentioned as constable, moderator, &c. His name also occurs several times on the Old Norfolk records, as juror, one of the "comission" to end small causes" in Amesbury, &c. His grants of land in the new town correspond very nearly in number and amount with those of (1) John^t Hoyt. His trade was that of a house carpenter. Wife Rachel died Feb. 9, 1685-6. He died March 14, 1697-8. Will dated April 7, 1696, proved Sep. 28, 1698. His homestead was bequeathed to his daughter, Rebecca Morrill.

Children of William and Rachel Barnes.

- I. MARY, b. — ; m. (3) John² Hoyt, June 23, 1659. By her father's will she received his "great farm or lott." [See (18) Mary² Hoyt.]
- II. WILLIAM, b. — ; d. June 11, 1648.
- III. HANNAH, b. Jan. 25, 1643-4 ; m. John Prowse. She d. May 27, 1688.
- IV. DEBORAH, b. April 1, 1646 ; m. Samuel Davis, Dec. 19, 1663 ; lived in Amesbury.
- V. JONATHAN, b. April 1, 1648 ; probably died young. He is not mentioned in his father's will.
- VI. RACHEL, b. April 30, 1649 ; m. Thomas Sargent, March 2, 1667-8 ; lived in Amesbury.
- VII. SARAH, b. — ; m. 1st, Thomas Rowell, Sep. 8, 1670, and 2d, John^t Harvee ; lived in Amesbury.

* In the Genealogical Register, July, 1850, p. 261, is found the name of W^m Barnes, aged 22, among the "Passengers for Virginia," August, 1635, "in the Globe of London Jeremy Blackman M^r." We also find the names of Wm. Browne and Richard Wells on the same list.

† Written John in the record of the will, but we find on the Salisbury records, under the head of "Emsbery Marriages": Tho: Harve m. Sarah Rowell, Oct. 26, 1676. Probably these are the same persons, but whether John, or Thomas, is correct, we cannot determine.

- VIII. REBECCA, b. — ; m. Moses Morrell, and lived in Amesbury. They had a son William Barnes Morrell, an early instance of a middle name.* He was probably so named because there was no descendant in the male line to bear the name of Barnes.

Members of the Hoyt Family who Signed the Association Test in New Hampshire.

In consequence of a Resolution of Congress, dated March 14, 1776, recommending that all persons be immediately disarmed who were "notoriously disaffected to the Cause of America," the "Colony of New Hampshire in Committee of Safety," April 12, 1776, issued the following test, which was printed and sent to each town for signatures:

"WE the Subscribers, do hereby solemnly engage, and promise, that we will, to the utmost of our Power, at the Risque of our Lives and Fortunes, with ARMS, oppose the Hostile Proceedings of the British Fleets, and Armies, against the United American COLONIES."

We have been able to find no returns from Dover, Exeter, Hampton Falls, Poplin, and Warner; consequently the above lists do not comprise all the members of the family then residing in New Hampshire.

It will be seen that this document was signed, at least in most cases, before the Declaration of Independence. The four individuals who refused to sign may not have been Tories. They may have been influenced by timidity, conscientious scruples, or other motives. Three of them belonged to the same immediate family—a father and two sons. The parent, Capt. Joseph Hoyt, was a wealthy man, and a member of the first Exeter Congress. In addition to the value of this test as an index of the feeling in those times, the signatures throw some light upon the manner of spelling the name. Most of them are autographs, and we have retained the orthography of the surname. The spelling of the names of those who refused, is, of course, no authority; and the Rochester, and perhaps the Sanbornton returns, are copies of the original.
