

*The
Jacob Hasbrouck Families*

sioned a recruiting officer and Second Lieutenant. After serving with the One Hundred and Fifty-sixth New York Volunteer Infantry, Nineteenth Army Corps in engagements with Bank's expedition to New Orleans, he was promoted to Captain, Company D. He was wounded in the right leg while leading his company "D" in a charge at Opeaquan Creek, Virginia on September 19, 1864. After being discharged from the Army he moved to Wayne County, Iowa and engaged in farming 320 acres of wild land until 1880 when he joined Dr. George McCulloch in the banking business at Humeston, Iowa. He cast his first vote for the Republican presidential nominee, Abraham Lincoln.

Jacob VI, born in Highland, N. Y. followed his father's profession becoming President of the Farmers' National Bank, Ault, Colorado. He is now serving in this capacity and interested in all civic affairs. His son, Jacob Clayton (Jacob VII), is engaged in farming and livestock feeding near Ault. Jacob Ralph (Jacob VIII), now 19, is living with his father after serving for a year in the United States Navy.

Because of the persecution of the Huguenots, it is doubtful if any written record of the Hasbrouck line before Jean Hasbrouck exists. Their names were carefully cut out of all church records. Jean Hasbrouck spelled his name Jan Broecq in 1677 changing to the present spelling before his death. His brother, Abraham, spelled his name Haesbroecq. It was the translation from French to English that provided the variations seen today although practically all of the descendants that maintained their home ties use the Hasbrouck spelling.

If the genealogy of the other Hasbrouck lines were the same as the Jacob Hasbrouck line, Jacob Ralph (Jacob VIII) would have 63,504 eighth cousins on his father's side.

Robert Stafford wrote the Foreword for this booklet. Most of the data were obtained from, "History of Your Name" by Philip Francis Nowlan, "History of New Paltz, N.Y., and Its Old Families" by Ralph La Fevre, and from personal records of Phebe King, Humeston, Iowa.

A technical description of the Hasbrouck Arms can be found in "Crozier's General Armory."
