GENEVA, SWITZERLAND,
May, 1931.

To the memory of my beloved father and mother,

FREDERIC WOLTERS HUIDEKOPER

and

ANNA VIRGINIA CHRISTIE HUIDEKOPER,

from whom the major portion of the data contained in this lineage was inherited.

Party per pale, azure and argent; first, a sword, proper, hilted or, in pale, a mullet of six points in chief of the last; second, three arbalets, all proper.

A Ridder's coronet (Friesland).

NOTE

The Arabic numerals preceding the names of ancestors in this lineage indicate the generations in America in the ascent of Frederic Louis Huidekoper and Reginald Shippen Huidekoper, both of whom are numbered 1, their parents 2, their grandparents 3, their great-grandparents 4, et cetera. The first ancestor in America in any line has the highest number in that line, and that number specifies the generations in America of that especial family or line. The descent in America of Frederic Louis Huidekoper and Reginald Shippen Huidekoper from any ancestor is, consequently, one generation less than the Arabic numeral preceding the name of that ancestor.

An exponent following the name of an ancestor indicates, likewise, the generation of that person in the ascent of Frederic Louis Huidekoper and Reginald Shippen Huidekoper, whose descent from that particular ancestor is, similarly, one generation less than the number of the exponent. In this lineage the exponents follow the names of ancestors in Europe, Great Britain and Ireland, and those of the fathers-in-law of certain American ancestors.

and only daughter of Anne Hessels<sup>9</sup> and Claeske Lolles; great-great-great-grandson of Freerck Jansen Huydecoper<sup>9</sup>, or Huydecooper (about 1590-1652), who married Righst Jans and who was presumably a descendant of Luyt, or Luytgen, Huydecoper, born about 1460, son of Willem Huydecoper, of Friesland; half-brother of Jan Huidekoper (1766-1835), Knight of the Netherlands Lion (1829), who was the special and personal representative of the King of The Netherlands in several important positions; educated at Hasselt, Belgium, and, 1793-1795, at the Institute of Crefeld (Krefeld), Rhineland, Germany; sailed from Helder, Province of North-Holland, in the brig Prudence, Captain Hovey, August 12, 1796, arriving at New York, October 14, 1796; resided at Cazenovia and Oldenbarneveld (now Trenton Falls), New York, 1796-1799; entered the employ of the Holland Land Company at Oldenbarneveld, New York, 1799; promoted and transferred to its main office at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 1802; Secretary of the Pennsylvania Population Company; appointed Agent-General of the possessions of the Holland Land Company in Pennsylvania (499,660 acres), 1804; removed to Meadville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania, November, 1804; assumed the agency of its lands in the Counties of Erie, Crawford, Warren and Venango, and the superintendence of those east of the Allegheny River, January 1, 1805; built "Pomona Hall" at Meadville, Pennsylvania, 1806-1807; bought all the remaining holdings of the Holland Land Company in northwestern Pennsylvania (58,300 acres) on December 31, 1836, thus becoming, together with his other purchases begun in 1804, one of the largest landowners (247,422 acres) in the United States at that time; in collaboration with his son Frederic (1817-1892), founded on October 1, 1844, the Meadville Theological School

(Unitarian, chartered in 1846, charter revised in 1897, now located at 5701 Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago, Illinois), of which he was the first President of the Board of Trustees until his death and which he endowed with $10,000 in 1851; became a prominent figure in the State of Pennsylvania; married at Meadville, Pennsylvania, September 1, 1806, Rebecca Colhoon, 1779-1839 (vide Colhoun, Colhoon 4, page 6).

3. Edgar, born at "Pomona Hall", Meadville, Pennsylvania, May 30, 1812; died at "Hill Home", Meadville, Pennsylvania, September 9, 1862; buried in the Greendale Cemetary at Meadville, Pennsylvania; Treasurer of the Meadville Theological School, 1846-1862, and a Trustee, 1854-1862; large landowner; married at Meadville, Pennsylvania, June 28, 1838, Frances Shippen, 1818-1897 (vide Shippen 3, page 12).

2. Captain Frederic Wolters, 1840-1908 (vide 2, pages 42-44).

6. John COLHOUN, born in Ireland; died in Middleton Township, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, in October, 1757; descended from Umfridus de Kilpatrick and de Colquhoun (1190-1260), of Dumbartonshire, Scotland, progenitor of the Clan Colquhoun, and from the founder of the Irish branch, Robert Colquhoun (born in Scotland about 1622/1623; created a "denizen" of Ireland, July 14, 1630; obtained in 1630, from the Commission for disposing of the forfeited lands in the six Counties of the Province of Ulster, a grant of 1,000 acres of land "in the precinct of Portlough, Barony of Raphoe, and County of Donegal", which he was directed to erect into "the Manor of Corkagh"), whose descendants—many of whom spelled their surname COLHOUN—established themselves chiefly in the Counties of Donegal (at Corkagh, Lorlagh, and Terrynaul) and Tyrone (at Newtown Stewart, Strabane, Cross, and Lettergull), and at Dublin; had relatives in Dublin, among them the Carmichaels; probably a cousin of Robert Colhoun, of Labadash, and a connection of James Colhoun, "Gentleman", formerly of Dublin but later (1719) an officer of Excise at Strabane, County Tyrone; came from Ireland prior to 1740 and eventually settled, before 1750, in Middleton Township, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania; Justice of the Peace and Judge in Cumberland County; Treasurer of Cumberland County in 1757; married, about 1728, Rebecca — (Galbraith ?, born in 1709; died in 1788).

5. Andrew, born about 1741; died at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, May 8 1794; wrote his surname COLHOON; Second Lieutenant in Wilson's Battalion, Pennsylvania troops (Cumberland County Militia), from October 20, 1777, until June 2, 1778; married at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, February 12, 1777, Esther McDowell, 1752-1795 (vide McDowell 5, page 8).

4. Rebecca, born at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, October 15, 1779; died at "Pomona Hall", Meadville, Pennsylvania, October 22, 1839; married at Meadville, Pennsylvania, September 1, 1806, Harm Jan HUIDEKOPER, 1776-1854 (vide Huidekoper 4, pages 3-5).

6. Andrew McDOWELL, born in the north of Ireland about 1702; died in Cumberland County, near Carlisle, Pennsylvania, in November, 1788; according to family tradition, a younger brother of Ephraim McDowell (about 1673-about 1762), of Connor, County Antrim, Ireland—supposed to have been a descendant of the Clan McDougall—who participated in the siege of Londonderry (April 20-July 30, 1689) and in the battle of the Boyne (July 1, 1690), and who came to New Jersey with his family in 1727; recent investigations however indicate that he was probably a member of the McDowell family of County Down, Ireland, which constituted a branch of the McDowalls of Freugh, Wigtownshire, Scotland, cadets of the Clan McDowall of Garthland, near Port Patrick, Scotland, who were descended from Ethelred McDougall (synonymous with McDowall), a younger brother of Roland, one of the Lords of Galloway long powerful in Scotland, and through him from Dorvallus of Galloway (about 230 B.C.), who slew Northatus, the tyrant, sixth King of Scotland, and established Reutherus on the throne; during the 18th Century the McDowells spread to other Counties in Ireland, among them Cavan, Monaghan and Louth, and to Dublin; probably a connection of James McDowell and his brother, John McDowell, of Ballytrust, County Cavan, " Gentleman " (will dated May 5, 1749, proved March 8, 1749/1750), whose children were Andrew, Thomas, John and Jane, wife of Robert Webb; accompanied by his brothers and sisters, and together with John McDowell, James McDowell and his family, Charles Clinton (1690-1773), of County Longford, the founder of the Clinton family of New York, and others, sailed from Dublin in the George and Ann, May 20, 1729, citing land on October 4, 1729, and reaching New Castle, Pennsylvania (now Delaware), shortly afterward, twelve McDowells dying during the long voyage, viz., two brothers and three sisters of Andrew McDowell, John McDowell, and the wife and five children of James McDowell; settled first in Delaware or New Jersey; removed about 1740 to Chester County, Pennsylvania, in which he owned lands or other property and was a tax-payer from 1740 until 1769 in West Nottingham and London Britain

Townships; a warrantee of land in Chester County, May 29, 1742 (220 acres), December 12, 1743 (50 acres), February 22 (50 acres) and February 25, 1748/1749 (25 acres), and August 20, 1753 (10 acres), in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, February 1, 1743 (50 acres), and in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, May 20, 1742 (100 acres), February 22 (50 acres) and February 25, 1748/1749 (50 acres); commissioned Justice of the Peace, Chester County, December 12, 1745; Captain and Colonel of one of the two Associate Regiments of Chester County, 1747-1748; commissioned, May 6, 1759, a Captain in the "Pennsylvania Regiment" of three battalions, which served, in conjunction with the British regulars and the military forces of Virginia, Maryland and Delaware, on the western frontiers during the French and Indian War, 1756-1763; removed to Fairfield Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, about 1773, and thence to Middleton Township, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, where he was a resident and taxed in 1778; one of the "Rangers on the Frontier" of Bedford County, 1778-1783; member, second class, of the 7th Company, 4th Battalion, Cumberland County Militia, commanded by Colonel Samuel Culbertson, May 9, 1781; owned iron works near Carlisle, Pennsylvania; married in Pennsylvania, 1729, Sarah Shanklin, or Shankland (died in 1788), daughter of Joseph Shankland<sup>7</sup> (died in 1740) and Mary Mountford, of Port Lewes, Delaware.

5. Esther, born in 1752; died at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, June 12, 1795; married at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, February 12, 1777, Andrew COLHOON, about 1741-1794 (vide Colhoun, Colhoon 5, page 6).

\* A calendar of 365 days was inaugurated in B. C. 4241, "the earliest fixed date in the history of the world known to us" (Breasted). In B. C. 46 the Roman calendar was corrected by Julius Caesar by an extraordinary intercalation of 67 days during the year B. C. 46, each year thereafter being a solar year of  $365\frac{1}{4}$  days, with a leap-year occurring every fourth year without exception. During the 16th Century two important modifications were made in the calendar. Charles IX, King of France, by an edict issued in 1563, ordered that thenceforth the year should begin in France on the first day of January. A revision of the Julian calendar was instituted by Pope Gregory XIII (1572-1585), who eliminated the leap year at the close of each century not divisible by four, and who added ten days by decreeing that the day following October 4, 1582, should be styled October 15, 1582. The new Gregorian calendar was adopted by Catholic countries without discussion, but the Protestant powers were slow to conform to this change. In 1600 Scotland and Germany adopted January first as the beginning of the year, but it was not until the Act of Parliament in 1752 that England adopted the Reformed, or Gregorian, calendar for herself and her colonies. By virtue of this Act of 1752 the year 1751, which, like previous years, had begun on the 25th day of March, was shortened two months and twenty-four days and made to terminate on the 31st day of December, with the result that the year 1752 and all succeeding years began on the first day of January.

Russia, Greece and certain Christians of the Orient still adhere to the Julian calendar, which is twelve days behind our calendar, the ten days added by Pope Gregory XIII having been increased by two more days by reason of counting the years 1700 and 1800 as leap-years.

Prior to 1752 it was often customary in all English-speaking countries to indicate all dates between January 1st and March 24th.

at "Galloway", West River, Anne Arundel County, Maryland, except for his two trips to England; married, first, Sarah — (Carey ?, died January 25, 1685/1686 — "the 25th of the 11 mo. 1685"); married, secondly, at London, England, in April, 1689, Ann (Webb) Pardoe (died at West River, Maryland, March 20, 1722/1723 — "ye 20th. Day of ye first mo. Near Half an Hour after twelve o'clock in the Day Anno D. 1722/3"), daughter of Borrington Webb<sup>8</sup> (died in 1720).

6. John, born at "Galloway", West River, Anne Arundel County, Maryland, February 6, 1693/1694 ("the 6 of the twelfth month 1693"); died at West River, Maryland, October 18, 1747; married, first, at both inclusive, by two consecutive years, thus, 1685/1686. In such a double date the first date specified the year terminating on March 24th, while the second date indicated the year which had begun on January first. When such a double date was not used, the date was sometimes followed by the words "Old Style" to denote that it was given according to the Julian calendar, or by "New Style" to signify that it was counted in conformity with the Reformed or Gregorian calendar. The second year in a double date and the date indicated as "New Style" correspond to our present system of reckoning dates. Ignorance of certain of the facts enumerated above has frequently misled many people, and sometimes even supposedly "expert genealogists".

In the case of the date given in the text, the original entry in the Register of the "Births and Burials of the Friends and their Children that belong to the Mens and Women's meeting at West River in Anne Arundel County, in the Province of Maryland 1674-1809, 135 years" — which is now on shelf No. 32 in the fire-proof vault for records of the Park Avenue Meeting of Friends at Baltimore, Maryland — was as follows: "Samuell Galloway the sonne of Richard and Hannah Galloway of Ann Arundell County was borned the 7 day of the 8th. month called October in the Year 1659".

The year 1659 began in England and her colonies on March 25th, and the first day of "the 8th. month called October" was October 25th, according to our modern calendar. "The 7 day of 8th. month" was consequently October 7, 1659, "Old Style", or its equivalent, October 31, 1659, "New Style".
