HOW I CAME TO ATTEMPT IT, ETC.

I had always desired a genealogy of our family, but with the exception of making out a chart of one branch—that to which I belong—had not taken any step in the matter, understanding that others were engaged on the work; and thinking that at some time I could send for a copy.

A year ago my desire for a knowledge of the relatives and our genealogical history was stimulated by a visit from a descendant of Aaron, one, Philo B. Ingalsbe; and after considerable correspondence, having learned that the work had never been completed and published, and that the several laborers in the vineyard, Prof. Oscar Fitzalen Ingoldsby, of Eddytown, N. Y., Milo Ingalsbe, of Hartford, N. Y., and Maynard Ingoldsby, of Syracuse, N. Y., had quitted their earthly task, I felt the call of DUTY to the field where the vines were perishing; and a love for the work, decided me to attempt its compilation and publication; and at once.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge the assistance in the compilation of Grenville M. Ingalsbe, Annis Ingalsbe Park, Mary Ingoldsby Crans, Anne Ingalsbe Frisbie, Mary Ingalsbe Staples, Caroline A. Ingalsbe, Laura B. Ingalsbe, Emma Ingalsbe LeRoy, Florence Ingoldsby LeRoy, Eliza A. Ingalsbe, Smith Ingalsbe, Maynard Ingalsby, Julius M. Inglesby, Albert Inglesby, Mary Inglesby, George W. Ingalsbe, Florence Ingalsbe Tufts, Albert Ingalsbe, Jane Ingalsbe Jones, Mary Ingalsbe Bradford, Lewis D. Rowell, Frank S. Ingoldsby, Dency Ingalsbe, Almarin P. Bump, Orpha Ingalsbe Spencer, Allison E. Ingoldsby, Parley V. Ingalsbe, John N. Inglesby, Truman Ingalsbe, Frank R. Ingalsbe, Xurry M. Ingalsbe, John and Mark Inglesby, C. F. Ingoldsby, Truelillian Ingalsbe, Mrs. Frank Ingalsbe, Seward A. Ingalsbe, Aaron U., Joel T., Henry and Samuel Ingalsbe, C. H. Englesby, Mary Englesby Brobst, Seth and Adell Ingalsbe, and many others, all of whom I thank cordially.

The plan of the work adopted is, beginning with the earliest Ingoldsby record, to give the descent consecutively until there is more than one line, then to give it by generations, beginning with the first of the family, or entail line, and giving each in its respective order in that generation; then the next generation in the same order; until we come to the seven branches of Ingalsbe, when each branch is given separately and by generation in the order as above. The pedigree is given at the beginning of each record of our post-revolutionary families, from Capt. Ebenezer Ingalsbe, down.

There is still some research necessary to fill out the early Massachusetts history—the looking up the administration of estates, records of deeds, births, marriages and deaths, of Ingoldsby, at Boston, Worcester, Sudbury, Shrewsbury, Springfield, Chelsea, Malden, Rehoboth, Salem—which I sincerely hope will be done as opportunity offers.

The following is respectfully submitted.

DERIVATION OF THE NAME.

The name of "Ingoldsby" is an ancient one, formed by that of the old Norse chieftain "Ingjald," a descendant of Aun, the old, and of the Yingling family, (or, according to the Patronymica Britannia, "from the Scandinavian, 'Ingold,' 'Ingoll,' or 'Ingle,' a surname") in the possessive case, and the Danish termination "by," for village or town, meaning Ingold's town. "Ingjald" or "Ingold" may mean literally in gold, or golden; i. e., wealthy; or, it may be a modification of "Angle," an ancient people of England; or, from "Ingol," meaning intrenched, or fortified, as, Ingolstadt, a fortified city of Bavaria. The first is the probable derivation, as the Danish in their conquest more commonly named their settlements directly after individuals.

The Danes are responsible for the name of "Ingoldsby," for they bestowed it upon one of their villages in Lincolnshire, the birthplace of the INGOLDSBY race, when they invaded and settled in England under the chieftains Gothrun and Halfdene in the 9th. century; or later, under Eric, Canute, or, others, in the 10th. or 11th. centuries.

This English town, the mother and sponsor of the INGOLDESBY family, is at this day described in an English Church register, as follows: "Ingoldsby—a village and parish in Grantham district, Lincoln. The village stands $4\frac{1}{2}$ m. nne. of Corby r. station and 8 m. se. of Grantham. Acres 2237. R. P. £3.663. Pop. 427. Houses 81. The Manor and most of the land belongs to Lord Aveland. There is an ancient circular camp about 500 ft. diameter, with several tumuli, called the round hills. The Church is Norman and later English, in good condition and has a tower."

"Manor" was synonymous in the language of the Normans, with "villa" in Latin, and "tune" in English. It denoted an extensive parcel of land with a house on it for the accommodation of the lord, and cottages for his villains and slaves. He generally kept a part in his own hands and bestowed the remainder on two or more tenants, who held of him by military service, or rent, or other prestations.

We have been unable to find anything relating to the Ingoldsby family until the 13th. century, in the reign of Henry III. 160 years after the Norman conquest. Until about this period family nomenclature consisted only of a given name and a nickname, or title, or the addition of their native town; as, William, the red; Roger, lord of Ingoldesby; Alan, of Bretagne. This, it will be readily understood, renders identification difficult before the acquisition of this Lincolnshire town by the family.

As The Conqueror in his pacification of England almost completely dispossessed the Angles, Saxons and Danes in the proprietorship and holding of the land in favor of his barons, clergy and knights, it is to be presumed that the ancestor of the Ingoldsby family was a knight in the Norman army, and a Dane or Norman; although it may be possible that he was a Danish thane, one of the exceptions, who obtained William's favor. Mrs. M. Pearson, of Kent, England, an Ingoldsby on her father's side, whose ancestors have always lived in Lincolnshire, makes the statement that, "the Ingoldsby family is one of the oldest in England, and is mentioned in one history previous to 1230; and that it is of Danish origin." The first of the family that we find any record of bears the Norman name of "Roger."

The change in the orthography to "Ingalsbe" was made arbitrarily in 1774-5, when the Revolutionary War broke out, by Capt. Ebenezer Ingoldsby, of Shrewsbury, Mass., and was adopted by the several families; and the apparent reason for the change was on account of Ebenezer and his brother John having been British soldiers in the French-Indian war, and the contingency of their being treated as traitors if captured by the English. The later modifications in spelling are very likely the result of carelessness.

The Ingoldsby family is honorably distinguished in the armies and governments of England and Ireland, and among the pioneers in the primeval wilderness of America. Its warrior blood has never languished, but promptly responded to its country's call. Its Military history is a continuous one, for liberty and civilization. The American branch is distinguished as an agricultural people, of culture; scholarly attainments, philosophical and scientific mentality; artistic and musical ability; inventive and mechanical genius; and rugged honesty.

OF THE 13TH GENERATION.

- 13—FRANCIS, (1 Richard 12) bapt. 14th. Aug. 1614. In the Parliaments of the Protector 1654-1656 he represented Buckingham. Upon the Restoration, gaining the Royal favor, his name was placed on the list of those on whom it was intended to have conferred the knighthood of the Royal Oak. Subsequently he dissipated his fortune, sold Lethenborough house to Mr. Robinson, his steward, mortgaged as far as he could his whole estates and went to London in 1673, being admitted a pensioner at the Charter House 1679, where he d. Oct. 1, 1681. He m. Lettice, da. of Crawley Norton Esq. of Offleys, co. Herts. and had issue
 - 1—Francis-Richard bapt. 23rd. Apr. 1652, ownf.
 - 2—Edward, D. young.
 - 1—Ellen, 2—Ann, 3—Lettice, 4—Martha, 5—Elizabeth.
- 13—Sir RICHARD, K. B. (2 Richard 12) b. 1618. The celebrated parliamentary General. Was one of the commissioners of the High Court of Justice for the trial of Charles I.; signed the warrant for his execution. Was one of the chief confidants of Oliver Cromwell. "Here is Dick Ingoldsby, who can neither pray nor preach, yet

I will trust him before ye all," declared the great Oliver. Governor of Oxford Castle and a lord of the Upper House; when he found the cause of his cousin Richard Cromwell desperate, he exerted himself in promoting the Restoration and so effectually recommended himself to the favor of Charles II., that he was not only pardoned, being the only one of the regicides freely forgiven, but was made a Knight of the Bath. He m. Anne, da. of Sir Richard Croke, a Judge of the Court of the Kings Bench, and widow of Thomas Lee Esq. of Hartwell. He d. in 1685 leaving issue:

Jane, wife of Thomas Marriot Esq. of Ascot in Gloucestershire, and a son and heir

Richard.

- 13—JOHN INGOLDSBY (4 Richard 12) b. 1621. "Who is stated to have been also engaged on the Parliamentary side and to have died at sea." But he did not die, although he NEVER RETURNED TO ENGLAND, for he came to America and settled in Boston, and became the ancestor of the American Ingoldsby family.

John Ingoldsby a single man, appeared in Boston, Mass. Col. 1640 (probably about 20 years old); was admitted to the church 9th. July 1641; appeared in list of "Freemen" (or voters) May 16th. 1642; was married before 1649 to Ruth (Griffin ?); "John Ingoldsby, who married widow Griffin, has liberty to make use of fallen timber at Muddy River for tenant that lives in her house. Oct. 1st. 1673.") He appeared as a witness in the will of William Teft, Boston Sept. 2nd. 1648 and again Nov. 23rd. 1672. He bought a house and lot Jan. 26th 1650 in Boston. Est. adm. 1684. Had issue—

- 1—John, who d. June 3rd. 1649.
- 2—John, b. Aug. 15th. 1651; d. 1653.
- 3—John, b. July 10th. 1653.
- 4—William, bapt. June 7th 1656, ownf.
- 5—John, b. Oct. 2nd. 1655; d. Oct. 15th. 1655.
- 6—EBENEZER, b. Dec. 15th, 1656.
- 7—Peter, b. Mar. 8th, 1658; bapt. Jan. 13th. 1659; was in Capt. Oliver's Co. Boston Troops 1675-6, King Philip's War; was in the Swamp fight at Narraganset. His name was not in the list of killed or wounded, nor in list of applicants for bounty land at close of war, but it is the last known of him.

8—Sarah (possible da.) m. Caleb Seaver of Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 16th. 1671; d. Jan. 31, 1708; had son Nicholas, b. 1680.

9—Thomas (possible son.)

13—Sir Henry, Bart. (5 Richard 12) b. 1622; held at first a commission in the Royal army, but subsequently became a colonel in the service of the Parliament. He went afterwards to Ireland and was there most useful to his party. He was returned to Parliament by counties of Kerry, Limerick and Clare, 1654-6-9. Like his brother Richard, he was zealous in paving his way for future favor with the exiled monarch, whose restoration he foresaw. He left his command and hastened from Ireland, took possession of Windsor Castle and garrisoned it for the Parliament, which appeared favorably disposed toward the restoration of the monarchy. For this service he was created a Baronet by Charles II. Aug. 30th. 1660, having already obtained a similar dignity from the Protector Cromwell in 1658. He d. in Ireland in 1701, one of the oldest officers in the army; and left by Anne, da. of Sir Hardress Waller, a son and heir—George.

13—Sir George, Kt. (6 Richard 12) m. an Irish lady named "Gould;" was killed in the Dutch war; leaving issue—

1—Richard, who obtained his first commission July 13th, 1667, in Royal Welsh Fusiliers; commanded regt. in Flanders at siege of Namar. In Ireland he was made Brig.-Gen. 1677-1701. Was in Holland in command of troops in 1702 and 1706; was Maj.-Gen. 1702 and Lt.-Gen. in 1704. In 1706 was transferred to Colonelcy of 18th Royal Irish Foot. Sat for Limerick in Irish parliament 1703. Acting Lord Justice of Ireland in 1709, d. at Dublin in 1712, issue by Frances, da. of James Naper, unknown, but likely the ancestors of the Irish Ingoldsby and Inglesby families of today.

13—Thomas, (7 Richard 12) of Dedham, co. Essex, England, in 1643, was a Capt. in his brother Richard's regt. Parliamentary army. Had probable issue of

Richard, who was sent to N. Y. at time of Leisler rebellion 1690, Capt.-Maj. of two detached companies and commander of English forces. He was acting Gov. of N. Y. and N. J. during interims and from 1707-10. He was very much disliked. It is likely he returned to England in 1710. He became a Colonel before he died in 1720. Possibly he was the father of George Ingoldsby, Lt. of English troops in N. Y. 1721-2. ownf.

OF 14TH GENERATION.

- 14—Richard (Richard 13) m. Mary, only da. William Colmare Esq. of Warwick and d. 14th Apr. 1703, leaving issue—

1—Thomas, b. 1688.

2—Richard, living in 1713.—Very likely the Brig.-Gen. who was thought to be his brother's son, Richard, 1st commissioned Ensign in the Foot Guards 28th Aug. 1708, Lt. and Capt. 1711; Capt. and Lt.-Col. 1715, but who while serving in Flanders and before Fontenoy, May 11, 1745, failing in the execution of an order to take a position of the enemy, was arbitrarily and wrongfully retired from the army; and d. at London in Lower Grosvenor St. 1759, leaving wife, C. Jane Ingoldsby, issue unknown.

3—Frances, unm. 1713. 4—Henrietta, living 1713. 5—Letitia, d. 1711.

- 14—John, (3 of John 13 of Boston Am.) b. July 10th, 1653. Apprenticed to Joseph Davis, feltmaker, for the term of 8 years, May 1st, 1667. Took the oath of allegiance Boston, 1678. At Salem, 1704-12. Est. adm. 1712. Possible issue—

John.

Eliza, who m. Winsor Golden Apr. 8th, 1698.

Elizabeth, who m. Stephen Norwood, 1701.

Ebenezer.

- 14—EBENEZER, (of John 13 of Boston) b. Dec. 13th, 1656, at Boston, Mass., was a soldier in King Philip's war, in Capt. Scottow's company Jan. 25th, 1675-6, on expedition to recover fort at Black Point, which had been surrendered to the Indians; it was found deserted and recovered without a shot. In Capt. John Jacob's company of Hingham, Mass., at Medfield, July 24th, 1676. He was also in the Swamp fight at Narraganset; was not in the list of killed or wounded, nor of applicants for bounty lands at close of war. Took oath of allegiance 1678. He was the first Ebenezer known of in the family. Probable issue—

Ebenezer, an only son.

Eliza, m. Winsor Golden Apr. 8th, 1698.

Elizabeth M. Stephen Norwood, 1701.

Sarah, m. John Perry July 27, 1707.

- 14—Thomas, (9, pos. John 13) m. Mildred and had issue—
 Samuel, b. June 16th, 1680.
 Susannah, b. Aug. 27th, 1687; m. John Flood July 19th, 1706; m. 2nd. George Pemberton, 1712.
- 14—Sir George, Bart. (Sir Henry 13 Eng.) m. Mary, da. of Sir Peter Stanley Bart. and had with a da. Anne, m. to Sir Francis Blundel Bart. a son and heir.
 Sir William Ingoldsby Bart. m. Theophila, da. of Sir Kingswill Lucy Bart of Broxbourne Herts. and had a da. Anne. He d. Apr. 25th, 1726, and the Baronetcy became extinct.

OF THE 15TH GENERATION.

- 15—Thomas, (Richard 14; Richard 13) of Walldridge, co.
 Bucks, England, b. in 1688, d. 1760. High Sheriff of Bucks. 7 George I. (1721) and M. P. for Aylesbury, 1724-34. He sold Cartown, co. Kildare, Ireland, 1738-9, sometime residence of Ingoldsbies and Talbots. m.
 Anne, da. of Hugh Limbrey of Tangier Park, Hampshire, and had issue—
 1—Richard, of Walldridge; M. P. for Aylesbury, d. s. p.
 2—Thomas, (believed to be a son) Brig.-Gen. in the army, d. 1757, leaving da.
 3—Martha, m. 1762 George Pawlett, Marquis of Winchester, d. 1796, leaving son, Charles Ingoldsby Pawlett, who in 1800 became 13th Marquis of Winchester.
- 15—John, (of John 14; John 13) of Salem, Mass., mar. Sarah Robinson May 4th, 1704. Est. adm. 1740. And had possible issue—
 Elizabeth, July 9th, 1705.
 John.
 Ruth, 1713.
 William, who m. Mary Arnold May 3rd, 1722, both of Rehoboth, Mass.
 Athia, m. Andrew King Nov. 17th, 1739.
- 15—John, (of John 14; John 13) of Salem, m. Sarah Robinson
 May 4th, 1704, and d. in 1706, leaving da.
 Elizabeth, b. July 9th, 1705.
- 15—EBENEZER, (of Ebenezer 14; John 13) an only son, and 17 years old when his father was about 70. The legend is that for many generations the oldest son was named Ebenezer. He was with Capt. Penhallow and company in Maine Jan. 5th-Nov. 14th, 1722, and with Capt. John Grey and company June 1st-Nov. 30th, 1725, engaged against the Indians; was from Boston. The legend is, that he had several daughters and three or four boys; that he was mixed up with the Tuttles and a second wife and died while the boys were away in the army, the Tuttles getting possession of his property and cheating the boys out of their patrimony. Now, Ebenezer and John of the sons, who lived at Shrewsbury, Mass., served in the French and Indian war in the 1750's, and there also occurs this record, "Sept. 6th, 1754, married, Daniel Tuttle Jr. and Mrs. Anne Inglesby, both of Chelsea," which place is near Boston. According to one branch of the family there was valuable land in Maine belonging to the estate, and another branch has it that the long wharf at Boston was a parcel of it. Sometime they who can follow this matter up may possibly learn more about it.

His issue was—

EBENEZER, b. 1730.

John, of Shrewsbury and West Springfield.

(Joseph), who lived near Boston and was the father of Ebenezer Inglesby, Cudworth, and Bartholomew, who were in the Rev. war.

Bethia, who m. Samuel Waite of Malden, Mass., 1775, d. 1792—and others, unknown.

OF THE 16TH GENERATION.

16—John, (Ebenezer 15; Ebenezer 14; John 13) of Shrewsbury, in Capt. Asa Whitcomb's company, Col. Jonathan Bayley's regt., at Lake George under Gen. Abercrombie in 1758; was with Col. Bradstreet in his campaigns in the French and Indian war. Moved to West Springfield, Mass. Served with his sons in the Revolution. Had issue—

Ebenezer, of Capt. Enoch Chapin's co. rev. war.

Joseph, of Capt. Enoch Chapin's co. rev. war.

John, of Capt. Enoch Chapin's co. rev. war.

Abigail, b. Oct. 13th, 1750, m. Joseph Smith of Lexington Mar. 13th, 1777.

Nothing further of this family, though it is believed that their descendants live in the state of Vermont, near Rutland and Burlington.

The early Ingoldsbies must have run out of boys as the only ones that have been met with for an 100 years (excepting late Irish and English comers) are the descendants of Capt. Ebenezer Ingoldsby, b. 1730, which is an odd fact considering the several families there were then existing.

THE FIRST OF THE INGALSBE FAMILY.

EBENEZER INGOLDSBY, alias INGALSBE, (16) b. Jan. 30th, 1730, in the vicinity of Boston, or Shrewsbury; lived in Shrewsbury, Worcester co., Mass.; m. Susanna Robbins, b. Oct. 7th, 1729, about 1751. He was a soldier in the French and Indian war, serving in Capt. Asa Whitcomb's Co., Col. Timothy Ruggle's Regt. as corporal; was with Johnson and Lyman in camp at Lake George Sept. 1755, and had his first skirmish when sent out after the retreat of Williams and Hendricks and the defeat of Dieskau's Army, to bury the dead and bring in the wounded. He was not in service in 1756-7, but was with Amherst and Wolf at the taking of Louisburg in 1758; with Amherst at Ticonderoga and Crown Point in 1759; with Haviland in the march from Ft. Edward down the lake and across to Montreal, and at the final round up of the French in Spring of 1760; in the last two campaigns, serving as Ensign and Lieut. After the war he settled in the north part of Shrewsbury as a farmer, and was a Justice of the Peace. A short time before the Revolution, he received for his services in the past war, a grant from the English Government of 10,000 acres of land in Maine; but the Revolution breaking out shortly after, he took sides with the Colonies and in some manner the grant became lost. Until this time he had spelled his name "Ingoldsby" (Military History of Lancaster Men) but at the beginning of the Revolution he changed it to "INGALSBE," and he had a very good reason for the change. The colonists in general were regarded as rebels by England, but a rebel who had been in English military service was treated to a short ceremony as a traitor, and appearances testify to the willingness of the Ingoldsbies to be forgotten, as military records show a general change of their name. "Ebenezer Ingalsbe, Shrewsbury, Sergeant, Capt. Robert Andrews Co. of Minute Men, which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775, from 2nd precinct in Shrewsbury to Cambridge, service 19 days; also Captain, Col. Job Cushing's regt. engaged Sept. 1, 1777, discharged Nov. 29, 1777, service 3 mos. 9 days in Northern Department, including 10 days (200 miles) travel home; also pay abstracts dated Scaresdale, Nov. 30, 1777, and sworn to in Worcester Co., respectively for retained rations due the officers of Col. Job Cushing's regt. in continental service in the Northern Department; said Ingalsbe credited with rations from Sept. 1, 1777, to Dec. 9, 1777, 224 rations; also Captain 5th Co. Col. Job Cushing's (6th Worcester Co.) regt.; list of officers endorsed Jan. 1, 1778."

OF THE FIRST BRANCH.

EBENEZER INGALSBE, (Eb. 16) b. Feb. 25, 1752, at Shrewsbury, Mass. "He enlisted in the Continental service, Private, Capt. John Maynard's Co., Col. Job Cushing's regt., marched Aug. 21, 1777; discharged Aug. 23, 1777; 6 days, including 3 days, 60 miles travel home; Company marched to Hadley by order of Col. Denney on an alarm at Bennington. Roll dated Shrewsbury."

"Private Capt. Ebenezer Ingalsbe's Co., Col. Job Cushing's regt.; enlisted Sept. 12, 1777; discharged Nov. 29, 1777; 2 mos., 28 dys. in Northern Department, including 10 days, 200 miles, travel home."

"Corporal, Capt. Ephraim Lyon's Co.; enlisted June 20, 1778; discharged July 13, 1778; 26 dys. Company joined Col. Wade's regt. June 22, 1778, for 21 days' service at Rhode Island. Roll dated Grafton."

He did not belong to any Shrewsbury minute men company, but was out 5 or 6 days at time of battle of Lexington; also at battle of Danbury in Connecticut, where he was wounded by a musket ball, which cut across pit of his stomach, not deep enough to cause him much trouble until he was 40 or 50 years old and very fleshy, after which time he could do no hard work. At Boylstown, Mass., May 20, 1779, he m. Phoebe Estabrook, b. Aug. 2, 1755. After the war he lived in Shrewsbury until 1792, then he moved to Boylstown, and later to Hartford, Wash. Co., N. Y., where his father and brothers had preceded him. After the death of his father and mother, the families began to scatter, some migrating westward; and the winter of 1808 he packed his goods on a sleigh, and with a yoke of oxen and a horse hitched ahead, made his way to Tylerville, Jefferson Co., 8 miles south of Watertown, where his brother John had been since 1804. He had purchased 120 acres of land in Scipio, Cayuga Co., and John joined him in his journey to that place. When about two-thirds of the way, they came to Seth and Henry Warner's, where they stayed over night and got into a log chopping match between the Ingalsbes and Warners, the latter being famed for their quickness in that work, the losers to treat the crowd to rum, of which Eb. and John had three gals. in their sleighs, for which the Warners were thirsting. There were about 20 or 30 Ingalsbes and Warners and all the neighbors came over to see the fun. The Ingalsbes lost the wager and very much of their 3 gals. of rum.

After he had his farm cleared at Scipio, he did not do much work, his youngest son, Emery, working the farm and staying with him until his death, July 12, 1828. He then weighed 350 lbs. His wife d. Nov. 13, 1823. Their children were—

1—Elijah, Sept. 12, 1780.

PARLEY V., (Elijah, Eb. Eb. 16) b. May 29, 1810, at Ontario, Wayne Co., N. Y. Brought up on a farm; though of limited opportunity for a schooling, he possessed a splendid mind for which the district schooling he secured laid a solid foundation upon which he built a sound fabric in after years from experience, of wisdom, which he exercised in the administration of Justice, town affairs, estates, the accumulation of a considerable property and in business, political and social affairs generally; m. in the town of Alabama in the forties to Sarah A. McComber. An attentive and loving husband, five sons were born to them, three living to manhood. After a long and happy wedded life, he has lived to walk alone many years. In politics he has always affiliated with the Republican party, as in fact have the whole Ingalsbe family with little exception, being elected Justice of Peace, town of Alabama, 1841; again 1845; also in town of Oakfield, 1857, and re-elected twice; elected Supervisor in 1863-64-65. Was U. S. census taker for Oakfield and Elba in 1870. For the last few years a Gypsum Co. has been taking plaster rock from his property, and the income has made him quite independent. He owns two farms on the Judge road west of Oakfield, where he alternately spends the summer and winter when at home. For the last ten years he has frequently made western visiting tours to Mich., Ill., Wis., Minn. and Kan. At the age of 93, from Aug. 9 to Nov. 1, 1903, he was away from home, making the circle among the relatives alone. He is a large man, little stooped by his years and a very prompt correspondent; while he says he is retired from business, he still keeps a good account of it and what is happening the world over. his abdomen between the ribs and hips; although his parents thought he was killed, his mother quickly carried him into the house and bathed him with liniment, and he was as lively as ever in half an hour; but all his life experienced trouble from the injury. When he was 15 he began to teach school. When 16 he crippled himself for life and almost bled to death by cutting his left foot open while chopping in the woods. Although he had never been required to do much on the farm, he was useless for the work thereafter and was sent away to school (and as an old English woman of the neighborhood who had told his fortune in his 14th year, said, as she prophesied the accident, he "would think it a misfortune, but it would prove a good fortune") at the Wilson Coll. Inst. 1852-3; Cara Coll. Inst. 1853-6; Hydro-Ther. Med. Coll., N. Y. city summer 1856. He went south in the fall, and the spring 1857 was spent teaching in the Knickerbocker Bus. Col., Natchez, Miss. Went up the river to Tenn. and Iowa in the summer; attended the Hillsdale, Mich., Baptist Coll. 1857-60; and took the Mich. University Law course at Ann Arbor 1860-61; commenced the practice of law in Filkin's Law office at Medina, N. Y., and in 1862 helped organize a military company for the war, but was unable to go to the front on account of his foot. Admitted to the Bar of the 7th Jud. Dist. at Rochester, N. Y., 1863; shortly after went to Mo. and became a station agent at Brookfield on Hannibal and St. Joe R. R. Went to Chicago and engaged in law practice in '64, but gave it up on account of health in '65, and went as advance agent for Bullard's Panorama of N. Y. City '65-67; was m. to Ann Maria, da. of Mrs. Mary (Tower) Kinney of Girard, Pa., at Ypsilanti, Mich., June, '67, and lived for a short time at Toledo, Ohio. Moved in fall to Detroit and taught bookkeeping and penmanship successively at the Board of Trade Bus. Coll. and Mayhew's Bus. Univ. Later keeping books for a business firm. Moved to Flint, Mich., in 1871 and published his series of International School charts in 1872. Suffered in the panic of '73 and had to relinquish his publishing business. Moved to Ohio and engaged in business with Dr. J. J. Stedman at Wellington 1875-8. Returned to Mich. in 1879, settling in Grand Rapids fall 1880, where he has conducted a private school in Bookkeeping and Phonography to the present time. OF THE SECOND BRANCH.

JOHN INGALSBE, (Eb. 16) b. May 15, 1753, in north part of Shrewsbury, Mass. Was in the Revolutionary War. "John Ingalsbe, Shrewsbury, list of men raised to serve in the Continental Army, from 6th Worcester Co. regt., as returned by Capt. Ebenezer Ingalsbe, dated Dec. 15, 1777; engaged for town of Shrewsbury, joined Capt. A. Wheeler's Co., Col. Thomas Nixon's regt., term 3 years." "John Ingalsbee, Private, Capt. Thomas Barnes' Light Inf. Co., Col. Thomas Nixon's (6) regt. Cont. Army, pay accts. for services from Feb. 12, 1777, to Dec. 31, 1779; credited to town of Shrewsbury; also, Capt. Adam Wheeler's Co., Col. Thomas Nixon's regt., return of men who were in camp, on or before Aug. 15, 1777, dated Soldiers Fortune, Feb. 15, 1779, and cert. at camp near Peekskill; enlisted Feb. 12, 1777; reported deserted Dec. 28, 1777, but returned of his own accord Jan. 21, 1778; also, Capt. Thomas Barnes' Light Inf. Co., Col. Nixon's (6) regt. pay-rolls for June-Oct., 1779; also, Light Inf. Co., Col. Nixon's regt. pay-rolls for Nov.-Dec., 1779; also, Capt. Abel Holden's Co., Col. Nixon's regt. Cont. Army pay accts. for service from Jan. 1, 1780, to Feb. 12, 1780, residence Shrewsbury, term 3 years; reported discharged Feb. 12, 1780." Was in Capt. Wheeler's Co. of Minute men in 1775, and on night of Apr. 18 he was detailed with two others to light the signal fire and discharge their alarm guns. In loading his piece, he got so much wet grass or paper, that it split 5 or 6 inches of the muzzle. He ran to the blacksmith, who sawed it off and put in a new sight and then they hurried after their Co.; reaching Lexington just as the British came back from Concord. He started with 24 rounds in his cartridge box and when he got to Charleston he had one left in his box and one in his gun. He used that gun until next Sept. Only 5 Co.'s of the regt. were engaged at the Battle of Bunker Hill, and though not one of them, he was detailed to carry ammunition to those who were. He served in Canada, fall of 1775-6; at taking of Camblee and Montreal; at battle of Three Rivers and White Plains, and help nurse two regts. of Penn. (His especial abhorrence) at Isle Aux Noix, who were down with smallpox; he was not an immune but did not take it. That was the most disagreeable three months of the war to him, so he used to say. He was with two Cos. on scout duty down the west side of Lake Champlain, helping settlers in Wash. and Warren Cos. to get their stock and goods to Ft. Edward, and they were fired on every morning, by Tories and Indians, who had crawled up during the night for a chance to pick them off when they broke camp. It is related, that in one battle, John with one, Sackett, stood in the face of the on-coming Redcoats when all of their company had fled, and as a last load, he put all the buckshot and powder he had into his gun and fired it at the enemy, and it bursted; then having to run to escape capture, he threw his useless gunbutt in the Britishers' faces with a "There, dam you, take that." Sackett was hit in the heel as he ran, and fell. John stopped to help him, but he got up and ran alright. After the war he settled in Shrewsbury; m. Jan. 1, 1785, Lovisa Maynard, b. Apr. 18, 1760; lived there until spring 1789, when they moved to Hartford, Wash. Co., N. Y., where his wife d. in 1799 and he stayed until after his father's and mother's deaths; moving in the spring 1806 to Rutland, Jeff. "Aaron Ingalsbe, Esq., Hartford, Washington County, N. Y., Canal, Aug. 24. Van Buren, August 19th, 1836. Dear Uncle—It has become my painful duty to inform you of the death of my father. He departed this life the 17th inst., at 4 o'clock afternoon, his health remained about as it was when you was here until about four weeks ago. Since that time he was unable to sit up only to have his bed made. For the last week of his sickness he seemed to be in great distress; but at last dropped away like going to sleep. My health is not very good and my wife is in poor health. Olive enjoys comfortable health. I wish you would give my respects to Aunt Polly, and all your children. I should be glad to have you write to me as soon as convenient. I feel anxious to learn how you stood your journey and how you found your children. Give my respects to Aunt Molly; if living, tell her I wish her comfort in her declining years and peace in death. Olive wishes to be remembered to you all. Direct your letters to Van Buren, Onondaga County, Canal Post Office, Eber Ingalsbe. P. S.—Sunday morning—We had frost this morning. Corn is not yet

EBER, (John, Eb. 16) b. in Boylstown, Mass., June 29, 1787; lived in Hartford, N. Y.; Oct. 1804 went with his uncle Stephen Bump, a great hunter, to Robbins settlement, near Sacketts Harbor, Jefferson Co.; hired out to Esq. Daniel Eames of Rutland and made four trips to Salt Point, (now Syracuse) after salt. In 1804 not even a log shanty was there. Worked for Eames and Col. Gershone Tuttle five years, clearing land, boiling potash and running it into Canada; and in winter drawing corn, oats and potatoes to Salt Point, and salt, back to Watertown. In 1806 when his father came on with the family, he had to help him build, and clear a few acres; and they had scratching times. Sept. 3, 1811, he went to work as overseer in the Rutland Woolen Mills Co. (or Factory Co.) May 10, 1812, he enlisted in the Vol's., Capt. Hales' Co., Col. Tuttle's regt. as 1st Serg. for 9 months. Was secretary to Gen. Jacob Brown until Oct. 15, when he was taken with camp dysentary and moved out to his cousin's at Robbins Settlement, until June, 1813. During his sickness he became acquainted with the school teacher and tailoress, Esther Kniffin, b. Dec. 26, 1789, and they were m. Mar. 25, 1813. In June he enlisted again, for three months, and served most of the time as Lieut. and Paymaster to Col. Belinger's regt.; was a volunteer in Capt. Tuttle's Ind. Co. whenever there was any fighting; was at the taking of the British after they had cooped the Americans up at the mouth of French creek; was at the battle of Sacketts Harbor. OF THE FIFTH GENERATION.

GRENVILLE M., (Milo, James, Aaron, Eb. 16) b. July 26, 1846, in Hartford, N. Y., and an only child. His education was begun by his father, who kept him under his instruction until he was 14 years of age. The following four winters he attended the district school and one term of Sarah Slocum's Select School. In 1864-5 he was a year at the Ft. Edward Coll. Inst. and entered Union College in 1866, in the class of 1868, where he remained but one year. His record as a student was a brilliant one. His Bachelor's degree was conferred upon him in 1870 and in 1873 the degree of M. A. In 1867 he became Prin. of the Argyle Academy at Argyle, N. Y., which position he retained for three years, resigning in 1870, and leaving the educational field for the legal profession. He began the study of law in the office of Hughes & Northrup at Sandy Hill, N. Y., and after a year entered the Harvard Law School, where he accomplished the two years' course in one year, graduating with honors, as Bachelor of Law in 1872. Besides law, he pursued the study of history under Dr. Elliot; botany under Dr. Grey; natural science under Louis Agassiz; etc. He re-entered Hughes & Northrup's office as managing clerk. During the political campaign of 1872 he flung aside the most flattering offers of preferment to espouse the cause of his personal friend, Horace Greeley. From this time, while identified generally with the Republican party, he has not been a strict partisan. In 1874 he was admitted to the bar, opening an office in Sandy Hill in 1875. Sept. 20, 1876, he was married to Franc E. Groesback, step-da. of Amasa Howland of Sandy Hill. She was b. Oct. 19, 1856, to Nathaniel Barrett and Lydia

PROFESSOR OSCAR FITZALAN INGOLDSBY, b. in So. New Berlin, N. Y., in 1830; became principal of Starkey Seminary in 1861. His service covers two periods, from 1861 to 1872, and from 1878 to 1884. "The history of his management of Starkey is the history of the making of the school in every important sense." "During his nineteen years' administration he might have saved some money, had it not been for the fact that as soon as receipts netted him an income, instead of laying it by for the future, he always expended it for the benefit of the institution." "Professor Ingoldsby as an executive officer was a genius. He inspired confidence all around. While he was principal the trustees had no anxiety about the fate of the school. * * * All the teachers shared the same feeling. * * * And while their compensation might be small, they knew themselves to be faring fully as well as he." "While the two buildings which sheltered the school for so many years honored in their names two persons as benefactors of the institution * * * Professor Ingoldsby was himself its greatest benefactor up to the time of his death." "Professor Ingoldsby belonged distinctly to the scientific and prophetic order of soul, and his service as a pastor was brief. * * * His inquiring mind led him to reject not only some of the dogmas of that orthodoxy against which his own denomination has always protested, but also some of the unwritten dogmas of his own sect." "His was a nature absolutely unacquainted with fear. * * * He did not act from impulse but from conviction. * * * After deliberate thought." "He was an abolitionist and when that form of slavery was apparently abolished. * * * He did not cease to be a reformer, but joined the crusade against the liquor traffic. Professor Ingoldsby was no actor, no hypocrite. * * * He meant business and everybody knew it. No one had to guess where he stood. And here was a man who knew no other motive of action than love of humanity. No other man had a kinder heart or knew better how to say the word of comfort. Professor Ingoldsby never used the word "faith." * * * He exemplified it. He lived it." "Side by side with him through all the fruitful years went as noble, as heroic, as devoted a woman, wife and mother as man ever had."

EBENEZER TORREY ENGLSBY was born in 1777; died in 1854 in Burlington, Vt.; belonged to the Massachusetts branch of the family, but came to Burlington from New York City in Nov. 1797. He was four times married. His first wife was Miss Pomeroy of Burlington. His second and third wives were daughters of Col. E. G. Keyes. His fourth wife was Adelia Brush, born in Bennington, Vt., 1799; married at Windsor, Vt., 1820; died 1880 at Burlington. There were three children of the last marriage—

Ebenezer Cuthbert Englesby.

Rosamond P. Englesby.

Leverett Brush Englesby.

The first two died unmarried.

Mr. Englesby was president of the first bank of Burlington from 1820 to 1849. He had the finest grounds in Burlington, many coming from a distance to see them.

LEVERETT BRUSH ENGLSBY, second son of Ebenezer Torrey Englesby and Adelia Brush Englesby, was born Feb. 20, 1827; died Jan. 27, 1881. Mr. Englesby was twice married. His first wife was Miss Amelia Francis of Burlington. They had two sons, one of whom died young, and Leverett F. Englesby, a lawyer, now of Washington, D. C. His second wife was Miss Mary R. Hudson of Hartford, Conn. They were married in 1869. Of this union there was one son—

William Hudson Englesby.

Leverett Brush Englesby occupied for many years a leading position at the Vermont bar. He represented Chittenden county in the state senate 1865-1866, and during the last year was president pro tem of that body. From 1867 to 1869 he was state attorney for this county. He held various other responsible positions: From 1866 until his death he was trustee of the University of Vermont.

LEVERETT F. ENGLESBY of Washington married Miss Florence Huse of Evanston, Ill. They have two unmarried sons—George W. and Ebenezer Torrey.

WILLIAM HUDSON ENGLESBY was born in September, 1872. He graduated from the collegiate department of the University of Vermont in 1894, from the medical department in 1897. He studied in New York two years, and is now in practice in Burlington, making a specialty of the eye, ear, nose and throat. He married Miss Maud French of Malone, N. Y., Oct. 25, 1899. They have one son—William Hudson Englesby, born Oct. 9, 1900.
