ing stock for the market. He was married Oct. 26, 1865, to Catharine Allbaugh, who was born in Carroll Co., Ohio, April 20, 1847, where she resided until 1861, when she came to Richland county, town of Bloom, with her parents. They now have four children—John A. Logan, Milo E., Marian S. and Bertha M. Mr. Peckham was a member of the 25th Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, and was honorably discharged in June, 1865. He was assessor of the town one year. His father, William Peckham, was born in Jefferson Co., Ohio, in 1804, and died in the town of Bloom in 1881. His mother, Matilda, was born in 1809, also in Jefferson Co., Ohio, and died in the town of Bloom in 1883. Mr. Peckham has the respect and confidence of his fellow-men and may be classed among the best citizens of the county. He has always adhered to the principles of the republican party and is a pronounced member of that organization. Mr. and Mrs. Peckham are both members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Joseph Herbert was born in the town of Marshall, Richland Co., Wis., Dec. 25, 1855, and since his birth, has been a resident of the county, excepting three years spent in Vernon county. He is now engaged in general blacksmithing and the manufacture of wagons in the village of Spring Valley, and is the proprietor of the only hotel in that place. He was married in 1876 to Mary E. Stewart, who was born in Black River Falls, Jackson Co., Wis., in 1857. They have three children—Rena M., Mertie C. and Milton M. His father, Peter, was born in 1801, in Canada; emigrated to the United States in 1845, settled at Fort Clinton, Ohio, and in 1854 came to Richland county and located in the town of Marshall, early in the settlement of that territory. His mother, Elista, was also a native of Canada, born in 1803, and died in Viola, Richland county, in 1881.

John J. Jewell, one of the most prominent business men and farmers of the town of Bloom, was born in Carroll Co., Ohio, in 1828, where his youth was spent, and he received such education as he was able to obtain in the district schools of his native county. In 1855 he moved to Vernon Co., Wis., settled in the town of Union, remained six months, then moved to the town of Bloom, Richland county, where he purchased 800 acres of land, which he has since reduced to 500, located on section 1, where he now resides, and is engaged in farming, merchandising, loaning money and buying and selling stock to a large extent in Richland and Vernon counties. He was married in 1854 to Catharine Borland, who was born in the State of Pennsylvania, in 1830. They have seven children—David W., R. R., Enoch, William K., Ezra, John J. and Mary E. William K. is now married to Sarah E. McBain and Mary E. to Lemon T. Smith. When Mr. Jewell came to this country, it was a wilderness; and pluck and energy were necessary elements for success. Remote from mill and market, without roads or easy methods of transportation, with little food and poor shelter, settlement in those days meant for a while almost hermitage, and all honor is due such men and women as Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, who by sacrifice and effort assisted in putting in motion a series of events, which have made possible the development of so goodly a land. Sometimes it would seem a place has thus been purchased at a cost beyond estimation, but they have lived to enjoy a home honestly gained, a competence fairly won, and are among the best class of Richland county citizens. Mr. Jewell has business qualifications beyond most men, which, combined with economy, energy and good judgment, have enabled him to outstrip others in the accumulation of wealth, until now he is in possession of a sufficiency for every enjoyment during his declining years.

Charles A. Neefe, a native of Germany, was born Jan. 1, 1834, and emigrated to the United States with his parents at the age of two years. They first settled in St. Louis Co., Mo., where they remained eight or nine years, then removed

JEWELL FAMILY COAT OF ARMS

Jewell or Jule of Bowden, county Devonshire, England, of this family was John Jewell, Bishop of Salisbury, 1560-71. You will find this in the photostat made from Burke's General Armory, 1884 edition, which gives four recordings, all using the gillyflowers. It is also recorded for that family of Salisbury, cou. Wiltshire as well as in Scotland. See record of quartered arms used by Thomas Lovett, Esq. etc. Bishop John Jewell's arms has a  shield with a blue chevron on which is a maidens head of gold, the chevron being between three gillyflowers of red, stalked and leaves are green. On a chief (top part of the shield which is black is a hawk's lure, stringed between two falcons' of silver with beaks and legged of gold. The crest is a cubit arm vested blue and cuffed silver, holding in the hand in natural colors a gillyflower as in the arms, that would be red with stem and leaves of green. The mantling would be gold and blue and the helmet in natural colors. Rather complicated arms but would look very beautiful.

Cemetery. (Ohio). Rachel (Tustin) Jackson was born in 1789, and died in 1871.

Children

1. Elizabeth Jackson, born in Greene County; married John Fish and lived near Moundsville.
 2. Mary Jackson, born October 18, 1797, died January 7, 1893; married, February 14, 1822, Henry Woodrow; lived near Byesville, Ohio.
 3. Ruth Jackson; married, November 7, 1822, David Thompson.
 4. Nancy Jackson, born in Greene County; married, in 1817, Elias Dennison; lived in Gernsey County, Ohio. She gave the chart to her son telling of the family record.
 5. Andrew Jackson; removed to Indiana; wife was Booker.
 6. James Jackson; killed by a horse at the age of 18 years.
 7. Margaret Jackson; married Samuel Kirkpatrick and lived in Guernsey County.
 8. Hannah Jackson; married Vincent Dillon; lived in Lawrence County, Ohio.
2. Samuel Keener, son of Ulrich and (Ehrehard) Keener. is mentioned in the will of his father as having already received a place. His name is found in the list of taxables in Greene Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania, in 1784. Only later records of him are found in Monongalia County, West Virginia.

Probable Children of Samuel Keener

1. Nancy Keener, daughter of Samuel Keener; married, November 4, 1802, in Monongalia County, West Virginia, to William Phillips.
 2. Samuel Keener; married in Monongalia County, West Virginia, November 30, 1807, to Sarah McCormick.
 3. Ulrich Keener; married in Monongalia County, West Virginia, December 22, 1810, to Mary Hill.
3. Sebastian (Boston) Keener, son of Ulrich and (Ehrehard) Keener, received a Bill of Sale for his father's home place and served as one of the executors with his brother, Samuel Keener, in the estate of Ulrich Keener. The muster roll of Lieutenant William Cress' Company under Colonel Zackwell Morgan is found among the General Edward Hand papers in the Draper Mss. (3NN6) and proves that Sebastian Keener enlisted in the Militia of Monongalia County on September 2, 1777, and was in the service at Fort Pitt on October 1, 1777. The name of Sebastian Keener is on the Greene Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania, Tax lists for 1784, with the notation "lives out of the Township," which is explainable as he had just received the home farm in Fayette County, Pennsylvania. He was taxed in German Township, Fayette County, in 1785. Sebastian Keener was born September 12, 1755. He was probably pioneering on the west side of the Monongahela River when his brother was killed by the Indians. He secured a warrant for his tract of land on Whiteley Creek, next to John Lantz's land, on February 19, 1793, and the same year added to his holding by a purchase from William Minor.

His wife was Margaret Gilleland, daughter of John Gilleland of Fayette County, Pennsylvania, and she is mentioned in his will of March 21, 1820. Margaret (Gilleland) Keener is also mentioned in the will of her sister, Elizabeth Gilleland, and Margaret's children are named in the will of her sister, Letty Gilleland, who died in Fayette County about 1838. Margaret Gilleland was born January 4, 1758, and died in Greene County on January 26, 1831. She is buried with her husband, who died April 28, 1826, on the original tract of land granted to Sebastian Keener.

Family of Sebastian and Margaret (Gilleland) Keener

1. David Keener, who died in Greene County in 1843. His wife was Margaret Long.

Children of David and Margaret (Long) Keener

1. Nancy Keener, married William Vance.
2. Emeline Keener.
3. Elizabeth Keener.
4. Benjamin Keener.
5. David Keener, married Sarah Owens.
6. Robert Keener.
7. John Keener.
2. Margaret Keener, daughter of Sebastian and Margaret (Gilleland) Keener, is named in the will of her Aunt Lettie as Jane Duel, while local records indicate she married Jewell. Her name was probably Margaret Jane. They had Margaret, William, and Keener Jewell, and went west.
3. Peter Keener, son of Sebastian and Margaret (Gilleland) Keener, died in Greene County, where his estate is listed in O. C. Docket 2. pp. 81-86. Bates History says he married Susan Stewart. There were nine children in the family but only six are named in O. C. Docket.
