Samuel Stillman Kendall studied medicine with Dr. Moses French Colby and graduated from medical departments of Vermont University and Dartmouth College. He began practice in Coventry, Vt. He was town clerk 1836-1844, and 1851-1854. He was town treasurer 1836-1846 and representative to the General Assembly 1838-1851.

About June 1, 1852 he moved to Georgeville Province of Quebec and continued the practice of his profession. His medical attainments were of the very first order and he ranked high in his profession, and with the most unassuming but sincere piety were combined all the qualities which constitute the real gentleman, says B.F. Hubbard, the historian of Stautead Co. Quebec, Canada.

He and His family were members of the Congregational Church.
