THE KENDALL FAMILY IN AMERICA.

KENDALLS IN ENGLAND.

The Kendalls, Kendals and Kendales, an old Britain family, notable but not numerous through many centuries, are centered more or less in County Westmoreland, where the town of Kendall is located on the banks of the river Ken. The name is found in Lancashire, Essex, Devonshire, Cornwall and Derbyshire. As early as the year 1265, Hugh de Kendall was a judge of one of the lesser courts in Westmoreland.

John Kendall, sheriff of Nottingham, was killed in the battle of Bosworth in 1485, fighting in the army of Richard the Third.

The poet Kendale flourished in 1270 and was a contemporary of Thomas the Rhymer. He was a writer of metrical romances, and is supposed to have written "The Geste of King Horn," which is mentioned by Chaucer as "The Romance of Price."

In the year 1434, Edmund Kendall appeared in the records as clerk, and was defendant in a law suit brought by John Broughton, arminger in St. Hilary.

A branch of the Kendall family in 1573, located in Thorpthules in Durham, removing from Ripon in Yorkshire, where the family had lived for many years.

In 1632, in Devonshire, Robert Kendall was a co-defendant in the law case of Collyn vs. Robert Rolle and Sir Samuel Rolle, over lands in County Cornwall. In 1654, Thomas Kendall witnessed a deed in Yorkshire, from Edward Wydmerpole to his son and heir, William Wydmerpole. The Duke of York's youngest son known, as the Earl of Kendall, died in May, 1677. William Kendall, in 1688 was in employ of Sir Miles Stapleton at Carlton "on the Leeds road," in Yorkshire.

The ancestor of the American Kendall family was John Kendall, who was born in 1608 and died in County Cambridge in 1660. Two of his sons, Francis and Thomas came to New England before 1640.

THE KENDALLS IN AMERICA.

Deacon Thomas Kendall who was a proprietor of Reading, Mass., in 1644; was admitted freeman 10 May, 1648. He married Rebecca—and had ten daughters: Elizabeth Kendall born 1642, married John Eaton in Watertown, 8 March, 1658; Rebecca born 1644, married 1661, James Boutwell; Mary born 1647, married 1664, Abraham Bryant; Hannah born 1650, married 1667, John Parker; Sarah born and died 1650; Sarah, second, born 1653, married Samuel Dunton; Abigail born 1655, married John Nichols; Susanna born 1658, married Nathaniel Goodwin; Tabitha born 1660, married John Pearson; and Thomas born 1663, died 1664. Deacon Kendall had no son who lived to adult age.

Francis Kendall, son of John, and brother of Thomas, deposed in December, 1658, that his age was about 38 years, making him born in 1620. In 1662 he made affidavit that his age was about 48 years which would place the date of his birth at 1614. He settled first in Charlestown, but soon after removed to Woburn, where with 31 others he signed the town orders 18 December, 1640. In the old registry of the town of Woburn reads the entry:

“Francis Kendall, alias Miles, and Mary Tedd (Tidd) maryed 24th of 10th mo. (24 Dec. D-S.) 1644.”

Mary Tidd was a daughter of John Tidd. It is claimed that Francis left England against the wishes of his family, using the name of Miles, until he was settled in this country. Francis was admitted freeman 10 May, 1648. He served the town as selectman, held numerous other offices and was looked upon as “a gentleman of great respectability and influence.” He owned and operated a corn mill in Woburn, being a miller by trade. The mill now on the old Kendall homestead was built by Samuel Kendall in 1700 and is near the location of the first mill built by Francis.

Francis Kendall died in the year 1708 at the age of 89. His wife Mary Tidd died in 1705. The will of Francis, dated 9 May, 1706, named his sons, Thomas and John, as executors. The son Thomas had a son Samuel who was a very active, public spirited man, engaged in promoting the civil and religious prosperity of Woburn. In 1732 he received a commission as Lieutenant from Governor Belcher and was widely known as Lieutenant Kendall.

A physical peculiarity has characterized the Kendall family for many centuries,—that is, an occasional excess in the number of the extremities, hands and feet, an extra finger or an extra toe. An old English medical book says that from “as long as the 14th century this mark has been traced, sometimes almost disappearing, and then coming forth again in full vigor.”
