P R E F A C E

The descendants of John Ketcham and Sarah Matthews , his wife were compiled by a very fine lady, long since deceased; Mrs. Electa Ketcham Penney, who lived on the old Minisink Road, and, was born and raised and lived in the Town of Mt. Hope among all her kith and kin.

To her, Mt. Hope Township was home, and she loved every foot of it. She spent many years compiling all this data we shall present for your use. To her, it was a pleasure.

She also wrote a very fine sketch about all the old mills that once dotted the vales of the township, and gave it to Dr. Lillian Morgans for, supposedly, presentation to the Middletown Historical Society. What Dr. Morgans did with it, I never knew, and I would not ask her. Mrs. Electa K. Penney felt rather put out about the matter when I talked with her the last time.

Mrs. Electa Ketcham Penney was a very entertaining and informative person to converse with, possessed of a very charming personality. We enjoyed our visits to her home.

And, so this book is dedicated to her , and to her memory.

The first generation, the original Ketcham, and progenitor of the families in America, was Edward Ketcham, who came from England on the Hopewell.

1. Edward Ketcham settled at Ipswich, Massachusetts 1635, freeman March 1637, removed to Southold, L.I. where he was a land owner 1637, died at Stratford, Connecticut in 1655, leaving seven children, four sons and three daughters, Mary, Hannah and Hester.

2. John, his son, was at Ipswich, Mass. in 1648, representative in general court, removed to Souket, Brookhaven, L.I., constable and notary 1662, member of the Connecticut Legislature in 1664, owned 150 acres of land at Newtown, L.I. June 2, 1653, married Bethia Richardson.

3. John, overseer of Huntington, L.I., 1665 and 1671, one of the grantees of first Nichols patent at Southold, 1665, Sept. 27th, 1666 sold land as Lieutenant Ketcham, wife Susan.

4. John born 1674 at Southold, removed to Huntington, influential citizen.

5. John Jr. born Jan'y 24, 1716 in Southold, was one of twelve children, married Sarah Mathews, who bore him ten children, five sons and five daughters. The family moved to Orange County, N.Y., near the present village of Goshen, N.Y., of that part of it known as East Division. John Ketcham removed with his family some years later, to the present town of Mt. Hope, called in those early days, Deerpark. Here he purchased several hundred acres of land. These included the farms owned and occupied during the last fifty years, by the late Amos Ketcham, Joseph Ketcham, William S. Little, Andrew D. Thorn, Gabriel Hallock, and a portion if not the whole of the farm now occupied by Lewis A. Ketcham. The house first occupied by John Ketcham and his family, was a log house, situated on that part of the farm of land, known to us as the Amos Ketcham or grist mill farm, occupying a spot in what is now a field to the northwest of the present house on said farm. (I would imagine that the period she is talking about is somewhere around 1900 or before, the exact date could only be arrived at by tracing the ownerships to these people) Portions of the original claim have remained to, and are still occupied by members of the Ketcham family, who are descendants of John and Sarah Matthews Ketcham.

John Ketcham spent the remainder of his life in the home founded here, dying at an advanced age April 21, 1794. In 1774, when he settled in Mt. Hope it was then a part of Clde Ulster(County). In a document signed by him June 11, 1776 appears the statement, I, John Ketcham of Ulster County, Province of New York.

Sarah Matthews, wife of John Ketcham survived him but eight years, she died in 1802 aged over 80 years.

Samuel A. King died April 9, 1877 at Comstock, Kalamazoo County, Michigan.

The following bit of biographical history was furnished by the granddaughter of Mr. & Mrs. Samuel A. King-Miss Ellen Florence King, written at Whitmore Lake, Michigan May 1888.

Mrs. Ketura A. King resided with her husband in Orange County, N.Y. until the Spring of 1834 when they removed to Western New York and made their home in Genesee County. Eleven years afterwards they again journeyed westward, crossing the prairies and taking up a residence in Rock County, Wisconsin. (You will have noted others of the family were there) Here they remained until 1863, when another removal was made. This time to southern Michigan where Samuel A. King died in the year 1877. Mrs. King since her husband's death has made her home with her son in the Western part of the State. Although over eighty one years of age, she is vigorous and hearty, is a firm believer in early rising, and in plenty of open air exercise. Like most persons of strong individuality, she has a hobby, and hers in her declining years takes the form of propagating early tomatoes. Should she follow out her ideas on this momentous subject long enough, she will doubtless succeed in ripening tomatoes in time for Easter.

432. Ida Penney born April 8, 1870 at Port Jarvis, N.Y. married a son of Engineer Clark Caskey, he died shortly after the birth of their two sons, I knew Clark Caskey the grandfather, very well as a lad, just growing up.

Russell Caskey graduated from Port Jarvis High married about 192- to Edna Coulter born May 24, 1895 daughter of John Coulter Jr. and Carrie Osterhout, daughter of Martin Osterhout and Mary Walls, a granddaughter of Solomon Osterhout and Jane Quick? I think, and a great granddaughter of Tunis Osterhout and Appolonia Quick also known as Prude. Tunis ~~Quick~~ was a lineal descendant of Jan Jansen Osterhout and Anna Hendricks pioneer settler at or near Kingston, N.Y. in the 1600's, or by his second wife Annatje Jellis whom he married in Kingston, the latter the mother of all his children, except one. We think probably that Annatje Jellis is the ancestor of the Osterhouts here in the Delaware Valley.

Russell Caskey's grandfather Clark Caskey was a son of John Caskey, a grandson of Martin Caskey and Jane Middaugh, great grandson of Samuel Caskey and Sarah Decker. The latter a daughter of Lieut Martinus Decker (son of Peter Decker and Miss Osterhout founder of Deekertown-now Sussex) and his wife Janneke Westbrook, daughter of Johannes Westbrook and Sarah Tack and granddaughter of Dirk Westbrook and his wife Miss Osterhout, (daughter of the pioneer already mentioned) of Kingston, N.Y. Edna Coulter was a graduate of Oneonta Normal and a teacher, they have one daughter Ellen Caskey a teacher in Western New York State

Both boys were associated with the Westinghouse Elec.

This brings to a close the data furnished by Mrs. Electa Ketchum Penney plus a few notes here and there of our own.

Since there are a lot of collateral lines that are quite closely connected we will give immediately following a short sketch of the Mullock, Seybolt, Writer, Wheat, Beyea, Osborne, Murray, Reeve families, plus the Hoyt notes, so far as they seem applicable.

On the farm of Mrs. Electa Ketcham Penney in the Town of Mt. Hope, were manufactured all the wheelbarrows used on the D. & H. Canal excavation. Also, they made wheelbarrows for the Gold Rush, took them to Newburgh on hay shelving, shipped them by boat to New York, and on clipper ships to California.

During the Civil War they made tent pegs for the Union Army.

Apparently, in the Town of Mt. Hope, there were three Wheat Families, one from Amos Wheat, revolutionary soldier, and the other from Solomon Wheat. They were probably both sons of Mercy Wheat who is buried at Howells, N.Y. died the 27th of February, 1834 in the 95th year of her age.

On the 21st day of August, 1832 Amos Wheat swore that he was then 74 years of age and that he was born in Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, N.Y. in the year 1758 and that he had a record of his age in his Bible.

That he enlisted as a minute man at Deerpark, (Mt. Hope now) Orange County, N.Y. where he then lived, and that he also served as a corporal. He was in Captain Denniston's Company and Colonel McGlaughlin's Regiment, which was the first year of the War, the company was marched to Poenpack (now Huguenot) and from there to Hapanoch, N.Y., to protect the frontiers against the Indians, and served 6 months.

Was again called and marched to Peenpack to guard Ezekiel Gumaer's house, which was then a garrison, and was appointed a sergeant, stayed about three months.

Ordered out again in the same regiment in which Benjamin Vail was Lieutenant, marched to Hackensack, N.J. stayed 4 months and then marched home and immediately called to Fort Clinton in Orange County and stayed about 4 months, was taken sick and given a furlough by the Colonel to go home where he stayed several months, was again called out and went to Snake Hill, Orange County and stayed about 2 months, which was immediately after Fort Montgomery was taken by the British, was again called out and marched to Mombaccus in Ulster County in Captain John Burnett's Company and stayed 8 or 9 months.

Affadavits by Hozekiah Woodward of Deerpark, Christian Roats of Montgomery and Amos Harding of Mt. Hope, as to his War service.

No. 34, Lemuel Wheat son of Simeon Wheat and Dimmis Minor, we believe to be a grandson of Mrs. Mercy Wheat mentioned above.

We also have the Bible Records of Salmon Wheat, son of Mrs. Mercy Wheat, quote;

Many years ago, it was my habit to call occasionally on Mrs. Doctor Worcester, she was a Hallock and told me many things, she lived to be way up in the 90's and is now gone.

Here are some notes she gave me on one trip, that in a way puzzle me, because I don't know just how they fit in, but fit they do, somewhere.

She spoke of Nathan (her grandfather) Hallock, Joshua Mullock No. 16 speaks of him as his grandson, if I am talking about the same man. Her father was James B. Hallock (James Blizzard Hallock) who was Postmaster of Middletown, and then she said her father married Melinda Mullock, which has me guessing. Then she spoke of Anna Jane Mullock who married somebody in Jersey City, had son George who had two boys, no girls. She also mentioned William Gerow on that side on the Mountain Road near New Vernon, boy and a girl. Of Ella Mullock who divorced a Gumacr and left her money to the Wiggins side.

Also , one of the Owens family, Grace, came on from Michigan years ago. Also, Park Blizzard married a Mullock. Said that Nathan Hallock left his money to Gerowas and Blizzards.

Then to cap it all, she made this statement, that the 2nd wife of grandfather Blizzard was Lydia Mulloy it looks like, these notes were made 15 years ago, said she lived to a 100 yrs. was also the mother of Thomas King, and also the mother of Elisha Harding or his wife Sophie.

This sure has me going round in circles, because I don't know enough about all these families to fit all this together, but there it is for somebody who knows more about it than I to figure out the puzzle.

I have known her son, Blaine Worcester many years, also his wife, and their children, the daughter Carol and the son, both smart as a whip, one or both were valedictorian of their High School Class. Blaine was in West Point until his health went bad.

1.....

We might state here that George Adams Boyd has written a history of Elias Boudinot who was General Washington's Commissioner for Prisoners of War and a delegate to the Continental Congress from New Jersey, also the owner of land in the old town of Minisink, as I have copies of deeds to prove. The American Bible Society Record for May 1954 Vol. 99, No. 5, has a two page article on pages 72 and 73 about Elias Boudinot, the founder of the American Bible Society, to which I subscribe, and they make this comment, quote:

"Happily, we are helped in this (article) by a most interesting biography recently published - "Elias Boudinot-Patriot and Statesman", by George Adams Boyd (Princeton University Press, Princeton, New Jersey). With skill and humor Mr. Boyd traces for us the varied experiences of one of the central figures in the founding of our country" End of quote.

The father of Mrs. Boyd, Homer M. Green was a very interesting and delightful person to meet and occasionally I use to wander down to Mt. Joy farm and spend an hour or two with him as time permitted. I was much interested in his ancestry, which he unfolded to me. Homer was a writer of distinction, on the old N.Y. Herald Tribune and his old associates were want to remember him with a little gift once a year, to show they had not forgotten. When we come to Hattie G. Boyd I shall give you a sketch of Homer's people.

As promised we shall give a sketch of the ancestors of Homer M. Green as told to me on one of my visits to his home long years ago.

The great grandfather of Homer Maxwell Green had a grocery store in Nyack, N.Y. about 1790, his son the grandfather of Homer M. had a lumber yard in New York City and was the father of John E. Green who furnished the stone for the old PostOffice in New York City, he used sixteen teams hooked on one load, in order to haul some of the stone.
They started their hauling operations around two or three o'clock in the morning, so there would be no traffic. Homer
M. thought the stone came from Nova Scotia where his father was interested in a quarry.

John E. Green was in the Army and they have all if not most of the letters he wrote home, as a young fellow, after the War, he came up to Campbell Hall with the son of the man who owned the creamery, they had both been in the Army.
At Campbell Hall lived James J. Bertholf and that was how from a neighborhood party, he came to marry Bertholf's daughter Elizabeth, who was a graduate of Seward's School at Florida, N.Y., she taught one year in Mt. Joy school in order to get money for her trousseau.

On one line Homer M. Green went back to Dominie Bogardus who married in 1837 Anneke Weber, better known as Anneke Jans, or the widow Jans, their son William Bogardus married in 1859 Wyntje Sybrant, and their daughter
Anna Bogardus married in 1882 Jacobus Brower, their son
Sybrant Brower married in 1706 Sarah Jebber, their daughter Jane D. Brower married in 1743 Cornelius Tunison, and their son Garret Tunison-Revolutionary soldier and land grant owner, married in 1784 Sarah Ten Eyck, their daughter Jane D. Tunison married in 1808 Jesse Wood, their daughter Jane D. Wood married in 1833 James J. Bertholf and lived at Campbell Hall, and their daughter Elizabeth Bertholf above married in 1864 John E. Groen.

Now we will discuss the Wood side of the family.

Among the inhabitants of Long Island as early as 1675 were Jonas Wood and Jonas Wood Jr.

The elder was the uncle of three brothers, Richard and Jacob unmarried came to Long Island in 1697.

The third brother Timothy came from Yorkshire, England in the year 1700 bringing with him a wife and son, Timothy and resided with his brothers, Richard and Jacob.

The elder Timothy was the ancestor of the Wood family in Orange County. He was a farmer, went out in the morning to bring up his cows for milking before breakfast, staying longer than usual, the family went to search and found him dead with seven poisonous arrows sticking in his body. He had been killed by the Indians.

He left three sons, who left Long Island immediately after his death in 1730.

1. Timothy born in England settled in Goshen, N.Y.
2. Daniel born 1700 on Long Island settled in Florida Orange County
3. Andrew settled in New England.

Daniel Wood born 1700 married a Miss Oldfield in 1729 in Long Island-see early Oldfield wills in Orange County, and bought a farm in Florida, Orange County, N.Y. where his grandson James lived many years. He died in 1773. Their children:

1. John Wood born 1730 father of Jesse Wood of Sugar Loaf
2. Jonas Wood born 1732 moved to Cayuga County, N.Y.
(IN Franch's Gazetteer, it is given as Jonas Ward and son Caleb instead of Jonas Wood and son Caleb)
3. Infant born 1733
4. Mary Wood born 1736 married William Hudson of Blooming Grove.
5. Elizabeth Wood born 1738 married Major John Poppingo
6. Deborah Wood born 1741 married Richard Bailey.

Daniel Wood's first wife died in 1742, married second in April 1749 to Mary the widow of Captain Thompson of Perth Amboy, N.J. her maiden name was Mary McDowell, born in Ireland in 1711. Their children:

1. Daniel Wood Jr. born 1750 died 1843 in Auburn, N.Y. buried in Quincy, Illinois, was a doctor, served in the Revolutionary War, his son John Wood was Governor of Illinois.

2. Andrew Wood born 1753 died Sept. 27, 1782 was the father of James G. Wood and grandfather of Rev. James W. Wood and the great grandfather of the Rev. Daniel T. Wood, who was pastor for many years of the First Presbyterian Church of Middletown while Rev. James W. Wood was pastor of the Chester, N.Y. Presbyterian Church.

Unless we get further data on the Soybolt Family, as outlined on page 38 S, we are going to call quits on this volume, we could keep on with other allied families on which we have data, but, a stop has to be made some place.

We have thought for some time we ought to set down, just how much we have published to date.
