A HISTORY OF THE LOOFBURROW, LOUGHBOROUGH AND LUFBURROW FAMILY

Compiled and Edited by Milton R. Lufburrow, Tampa, Florida
Begun March, 1952

At odd moments for the past 35 years I have been gathering data on our family. For its early, and to the great extent its later existence in the United States, I am indebted to Ross Loughborough of Rochester, N.Y., also Mrs. Emily Thompson of Middleton, N.J.; C.A. Lufburrow of Long Branch, N.J., and Mrs. (Dr.) C.B. Lufburrow of Plainsfield, N.J. The English data was given to me by Major General A.H. Loughborough (retired) 45 Blackheath Park, Blackheath, London S.E. 3, England.* My nephew, Albert B. Lufburrow of Savannah, Georgia, found his name in the London phone directory while he was on a visit to England after the German surrender, World War II. The General and his good lady were his charming hosts for several days while there. Albert did a lot of research in N.J. Archives.

A. PLACE NAME

From whence comes the name? LOUGH (old English and Celtic, LUH, LUF) in England as well as Northern Ireland, means lake, bay or inland waters, corresponding to the Scotch Loch. A perusal of the map of Northern Ireland shows various bays and lakes, called Lough. Among others, Belfast Lough, Lough Foyle, Lough Swilly. Inland we find Lough Neagh, all perhaps due to English settlers. Drop down to South Ireland and we find, with few exceptions, the word changes from Lough to bay. BOROUGH means a neighborhood, town or manor. LOUGHBOROUGH therefore means a town or neighborhood on a lake or bay. No doubt the earliest location, from which the family name was obviously taken, is LOUGHBOROUGH in the Leicestershire County in the center of England, at the junction of two streams, which in ancient times formed a lake, since disappeared. This is indeed an old town. Oxford dictionary of English place names quoting from the Exon Domesday Book written in 1086 A.D., records the name as LUCTEBURNE. At the time of Henry II (1154) the same dictionary gives the name as LUCTEBURG. Other ways of spelling are also given. There is also evidence that there was a town on the same site in Celtic-British times and perhaps before the Roman days. The above names seem to be Germanic (anglo-saxon) renderings of any earlier Celtic word. In LOUGHBOROUGH, for several centuries past, has been molded Carillon bells. The famous bells at Bok Tower, near Lake Wales, Florida, were made there. In British Columbia, Canada, leading out from the Strait of Georgia, we find Loughborough Inlet. Washington, D.C. suburbs and St. Louis, Missouri, have streets by this name, which were named for members of the American family, who changed the spelling of their name to that of the above town. Also Lufburrow Rd., N. of Red Bank, N.J. (See map, Monmouth County, 1938). Also Lufberry St., Rahway, N.J.

B. NAME AS A TITLE, NOT A FAMILY NAME

Now let us disapprove an anachronism which seems to be very strongly established in some branches of the L. family in Virginia, New York, and other states.

*also Mrs. V.S. Mulford, (nee Edith Loughborough) Montclair, N.J.; Mrs. Hazel O. Piehn, 2609 South 18th East Salt Lake City, Utah.

That is, that the L. family in America were descendants of Lord Loughborough of King George III's time in England, who arose to be an English Chancellor. In the first place, John Loofbourrow I, "imported himself into the country in 1684.", Vol. A, p. 196, New Jersey Archives. Extracts taken from Campbell's Lives of the Chancellors, Volume VII, page 335, stated that Alexander Wedderburn was made Lord Loughborough* on June 11, 1780, Vol. VIII, on page 221, "although married twice, he had no issue by either marriage." "His honours devolved on his death to his nephew, General Sir James St. Clair Erskine." He died January 1, 1805 Id, page 203. He was born in Scotland, February 13, 1733.

General A.H. Loughborough confirms this data as does Ross L. Loughborough. Both disclaim, of course, any relationship to Lord Loughborough for the reasons that (1) as to Ross Loughborough and the American branch, his ancestors, as well as the common ancestor of all American L.'S, was John I, who imported into this Country at least forty-eight years before the birth of Lord L. and one hundred, twenty one years before his death, and (2) that Lord L. left no descendants. Even if he had, only his eldest son would have been called Lord L.; All Children would have been named Wedderburn, his family name. General Loughborough in his search, which I am sure is accurate, states that there were accurate records of plenty of Loughboroughs Loufborrows, Loveburrows and Loughbouroughs as far back as, and perhaps further than 1697. General Loughborough also said: "In any case, Loughborough as used with the title "Lord" is not a name at all and merely serves to distinguish the Barony. In short, Lord L.'s name is still St. Clair Erskine. There is no other Lord Loughborough in the Peerage and so far as I know, no family in Britian of same name except my own."

C. FAMILY NAME

IN ENGLAND

1. The earliest records which General Loughborough had found as of March 15, 1946 in regard to the Ls, is that the earliest family was in the County of Durham in Northern England, taken from a transcript of three registers of the Parrish of St. Oswalds, Durham, edited by the Reverend Headlam from 1538 to about 1751. The first entry in regard to the Ls is as follows: "Burials - March 12, 1697, Jane Lickbara, daughter of Ralph Lickbara, mason laborer." An editorial note by said writer "this name, rightly Loughborough, often occurs in the Durham registers under various forms-Lifborrow, Lufborough, Lickborrow, etc." Another extract: "Baptisms, March 6, 1714, Jane D. ofCatherin Lickbarrow, all, Loughbourough." The General also states thathe found the following variations in the two parts of the same:

|-------|----------|
| Lick | Bara |
| Lif | Barra |
| Lough | Barrow |
| Louf | Borough |
| Luf | Brough |
| Love | Bourough |

He also says: "And when one remembers that few people other than clerks could read or write, let alone spell, in those days, I don't think its very surprising.

* Earl of Rosslyn about 1803. See Enc. Britanica.

 Mrs. Mulford says a John Loofbourrow was mayor of Leister, England in the 15th. century.

Observing that the Registers of St. Oswalds are the only ones I have myself seen copies of (I only have the results of the Librarian's search for the other Durham registers) from the information I have, the following are the earliest dates at which the rendering LOUGHBOROUGH occurs:

|-----------------|-------|
| "St. Oswalds | 1714 |
| St. Margarets | 1722 |
| St. Nicholas | 1751 |
| St. Giles | 1767 |
| St. Mary-Le-Bow | 1767" |

It is his opinion that Ralph Lickbara, above referred to, was a relative of John Loofbourrow, who was the earliest and only L. immigrant which we have found in this country. General Loughborough on the above date, was not able to carry his family back any further than 1767. His great, great grandfather, being Ralph Loughborough, married Jane Benson. His eighth child and third son, John, was born in 1779 and married Isabella Lindsay. "John was a Clock maker and my eldest brother has one of his clocks to this day. John's eldest son, Thomas (my grandfather) came South to London and was a prosperous solicitor or attorney, as I believe you would say---my father, Ralph, was the eldest son and born in 1843." He had seven children of whom General L. was the fifth child and third son.

There is nothing unusual about the various ways of spelling the same name. There was a great variety in spelling the same name before the 19th century. So much so that the English and American Courts established the doctrine that if two names sounded alike without doing violence to the power of the letters formed in the variant orthography, then the variance in spelling is immaterial, and the names are Iden Scmans. The advent of newspapers and other printed matter helped to establish a uniformity in the spelling.

IN UNITED STATES

11. From all sources that I have been able to find which can be considered authentic, that is documentary or record proof, there was only one immigrant of the family into the Americas.* He was John Loofbourrow, so spelled in the photostatic copy of his will in my possession, dated the fifth of October, 1723, 53 years before the Declaration of Independence. For will see New Jersey Archives, Trenton, N.J. First series, Abstract of Wills, Vol. XXX, page 305. Mrs James H. Loughborough of Washington, D.C. in 1924, says David Loughborough, born 1740, came with two other brothers from England in 1761 and settled in Washington, D.C. Voorhies American Genealogy, Vol. 1, page 444, also gives same data about David, which the author undoubtedly obtained from Mrs. Loughborough. Ross Loughborough doubts this, and so does J.F. Loughborough of Little Rock, who came through the Nathan branch. She says a son of this David, called Nathan, was Assistant Commissioner of Land Office when the Government was in Philadelphia and also after it moved to Washington, D.C. He spelled it Luffborough while in office. Both Ross Loughborough and J.F. Loughborough think both David and Nathan were descendants of Nathaniel, son of John I. Mrs. James Loughborough likewise thought erroneously that her husband was a descendant of Lord Loughborough of England. **

*- Mrs. Mulford says a James Luckburrow came to Virginia from the Barbados about 1635. But neither of us have found anything more about him and do not think he was the Progenitor of any of our families.

 - Mrs. Mulford informs me that Mrs. James L. after obtaining more information, changed her mind both as to her relationship to Lord Loughborough and as to the 3 bros. migrating from Eng.

LOOFBORROW

a. IN NEW JERSEY

"John Loofborow, miller, imported himself into this province (New Jersey) in Feb. 1684." Vol. A, page 196, of deeds of Secretary of State, Trenton, New Jersey. (The following are extracts from a letter from Ross Loughborough, dated April 21, 1929:)

"The town Loughborough has existed since Roman days, and has borne the same name, under different spellings. It has had the present spelling since 1600 or a little later, and John Wedderburn, a Scotchman, was not made Lord Loughborough until about the time of our Revolutionary War. So let's count him out. The similarity in names is a coincidence only.

In Vol. A, of the Town Book of Woodbridge, it is further recorded that he and Hannah Bunn published their intention to marry Oct. 20, 1688, and that they were married before Sam'l Hale, Justice, on Nov. 22, 1688. " Entered by me, Samuel Dennes, Clerk."

Later, "Thomas Loofborrow, son of John Loofbarrow and Hannah, his wife, was born June 6, 1690."

"John L., son of John L. Hannah, his wife, was born June 6, 1692"

"Mary L, daughter of John L. and Hannah, his wife, was born Nov. 5, 1694."

John L., Sr., was a Quaker and settled himself in 1684 in Woodbridge, which is about 10 miles NW of Perth Amboy. His name appears frequently in the minutes of the Woodbridge Quaker Meetings, and always as a member of some important committee or a delegate to some convention.

He soon began to acquire land by purchase, especially some small tracts on "Cranes" alias Van Quillan's Creek", intending to erect a mill, but he seems to have not built a mill there, and about 1700 he moved his family to Middletown, which is about 30 miles east of Perth Amboy, and finally built a mill on a large tract of land, said to be about 1000 acres near where Red Bank, New Jersey, is now*

When I was corresponding with your father, I was writing also to a man named Joseph Lufburrow, of Plainsfield, N.J., then nearly 80, who said that as a boy he used to play about this same mill building, but it has since been destroyed by fire. (Note: 1890, Mrs. Thompson-MRL).

Woodbridge was a proprietary township, and beside purchasing land, John, Sr. secured a proprietor's right, and as a result received at intervals other pieces of land as "dividends." He still owned much land at Woodbridge at the time of his death, most of which he willed to his sons, Nathan and Nathaniel, the former of whom was my ancestor. The Washington and Virginia L.'s, I think, are descended from Nathaniel.

*Middletown is now in Monmouth County, Wills are probated in the county of the residence of the testator so, therefore, unless John I moved afterwards to Middlesex County where his will was probated, it is doubtful that he lived in Middletown. (See infra, page 10.) Monmouth County, one of the four original counties of East Jersey, created in 1682. John I attended Quaker meetings in Woodbridge as late as 1722.

LOOFECURROW

John, Sr., died in October, 1723, leaving a will made October 5, 1723, "being sick" in which he devised property to his wife, Hannah, his sons, Thomas, John, Nathan and Nathaniel, his daughters, Hannah and Catherine, and his granddaughter, Ruth, whom he treated as a daughter. Whose child this Ruth was and what became of her I should like to know. (Probably daughter of Hannah, his deceased daughter.)

By the will, Thomas received the mill on condition that he pay his mother certain amounts quarterly for herself and the 3 girls.

Thomas had a son, Mathew, or possibly grandson, who died in 1773-74, leaving a will proved June 18, 1774, giving his property to his wife, Sarah (Stillwell) while she remained a widow, to bring up the children to the age of 21, and at her death, to be divided equally among their children, namely, John, Stephen, Joseph and Mary.

The matter of names, first names I mean, and their repetition in succeeding generations is interesting and helpful in determining lines of descent. For instance, this name Matthew- John I'S wife, Hannah Bunn, was the daughter of Matthew Bunn, who was a very prominent citizen of Perth Amboy and East Jersey, having served some time in the General Assembly. I am interested in all my ancestral lines, and Matthew Bunn was my ancestor even if he has a different name from mine. I have tried at odd times to find out where he came from. I have learned that a Thomas Bunn, his wife, Bridget, and their infant son, Thomas, were living in James City County (Jamestown) Virginia in 1622. They may have been ancestors of Matthew Bunn, and that may account for John and Hannah naming their first son Thomas. That, too, is only a guess. (There is a genealogy of Bunn family. MRL.)

Hannah Bunn had a brother named Ennis who may have been named after the place of the family's origin, Ennis, Ireland. Thomas' wife Bridget, would indicate that they came from Ireland, and if they came from Ennis, they are quite probably Roman Catholics at first. Many Irish Catholic immigrants to this country in that early day became non-catholic because there were no catholic Churches here to belong to.

The California Adventist preacher, John L., was my father's own cousin. He visited at my home here the last time he was east. He was then returning from England on his way home from a trip around the world in the interest of his Church's missions. Both he and the Washington, D.C. people were more or less obsessed with the idea that they were descended from "Lord" Loughborough. My father was inclined that way once, too. He even went so far as to have a lot of copies made of a picture of the Lord L. which he found in a history of England, and distributed them to his friends and relatives. Of course, he did this partly in fun but I believe he really had an idea that some way we were all sprung from a younger son of Lord L., who could not succeed to the title and estates. The fact, easily verifiable, is that Lord Loughborough had no issue and had to induce George III to make a special grant allowing the title to descend to his sister's children." (End of extracts from letter of Ross L.)

I have an enlarged photograph of the old mill*sent me by Mrs. Emily Lufburrow Thompson of Middletown, N.J. It was reconstructed after a fire in 1890. Cousin Emily states in her letter of May 28, 1930, "it (the millpond) is now the filtering plant of J. Amory Haskell estate. Mr Haskell purchased the property from my uncle some years ago. It is 3 miles from Port Monmouth" but nearer Middleton, N.J. It is now a show place in this part of New Jersey. C.A. Lufburrow of Long Branch, N.J. in Nov. 1930, states Cousin Emily told him that she and her brother, Richard, were born at this mill, and that their father, Richard, last operated this mill.* This Richard was a son of Richard, son of John, oldest son of Matthew I, son of Thomas, oldest son of John I, Thomas may have, though I doubt it, acquired the mill by will of his father, John I, the immigrant, See John's will, infra, pages, 28 and 29.

* Near Middletown

Leonard's book "Indian Trail to Trolley Rail" states that Matthew's son, John, lost his life while looking after his mill during the spring freshet about 1822 (his tombstone, however, read 1828). Ellis' History, marked "Phila, R 7. Pack Co. 1885" states that this John Lufburrow had a mill on McClees Creek. This creek is 3/4 to 1 mile from present side of this mill, says C.A. Lufburrow. It is also said that this mill property was in the Lufburrow family for nearly 200 years. This mill was erected by John I about 1700, it is said.

The non-paucity of these facts should convince any searcher that there is little doubt that all descendants of Matthew I, who undoubtedly was named for his maternal grandmother's father, Matthew Bunn, (supra) were descendants of said John I. All of the family now living in N.J. claim descendency from Matthew I (see more about him, infra, pages 11-16) through his son, John's sons, Charles and Richard.

The photostatic copy of the original will of John I Loofbourrow is not a holographic will. (Holographic means in the handwriting of the testator). The handwriting of the scrivener is entirely different from the signature of John I, the testator, and from the witnesses thereto. In form and language, it is worded

* My information is also that Mrs. Gertrude M. Kelly, nee Lufburrow (infra, page) was born at this mill. I had the pleasure of seeing this Picturesque old mill in 1952. Cousin Emily pointed it out to me. She is 85 years old, alert of mind, spry of body, lives alone, has a beautiful flower garden, has many antiques handed down from her branch of the L. family. She visited me in Tampa, ac., 1929 while wintering in Fla. for many years before her husband's death. See her line P. 14.

 So spelled on a map of Monmouth County, N.J., dated 1938. However, in my search in Monmouth County records, which did not include the deeds to John I shown on page 7, all of which are in Middlesex County, I have not been able to find any documentary proof that the mill is on the same site as was the mill devised to Thomas in John I's will.

like modern day wills many other legal forms, have their form and wording based on early English precedent, three or four hundred years old. In the premodern English way, where a double s occurs in the middle of a word, it is written like a fs. Other forms of the letters and spelling are of its time and age. For its age, it is in a very remarkable condition, only a few words wherein are in the creases or folds are torn out or time decayed the paper. In my 40 years of searching records of wills, deeds, etc. (in my legal practice) both in Georgia and Florida, this is the oldest document I have ever seen, now nearly 229 years old, nearly 53 years older than our Declaration of Independence. With our great scientific knowledge in the making of ink, typewriter ribbon, and paper, I doubt if a modern will 100 years from now would be half as well preserved and half as legible.

The following is a copy of John I'S will from the Photostatic copy of said will. This copy has been verified more than once with said photostatic copy, and, though it is hard to read, I am sure of its accuracy, and especially so that he named a son, Nathan, and not Matthew, as so many copies of it, given to me as authentic, state. Likewise, from photostatic copy, Nathan's birth was January 23, 1706, though erroneously reported as Matthew's, which is highly improbable as his father, Thomas, was on that date a little over 15 years old. Said will is in N.J. Archives , First Series, Abstracts of Will, Vol. XXX, page 305. (See p. 8)

(John Loofbourrow acquired a great deal of property as is shown by the following deeds to him, wherein he is grantee:

William Allger, John Dennes, Grantors, to John Loofbourrow
Liber D, p. 415 - January 23, 1693, Middlesex County.

either John or Thomas I. L.B. Attins, a searcher, did not find any in N.J. Archives)

LOOFBOURROW

It will be observed that the above deeds to John Loofbourrow, with the exception of the first, were for lands in Middlesex County and not in Monmouth County. Therefore, if there was no change in boundary lines, and I am informed there were not, the lands in Middlesex County could not have covered the old mill in Monmouth County.

There is plenty of documentary proof, at least, that John, the oldest son of Matthew I, owned and operated this mill and that it passed on down to his descendants.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF JOHN LOOFBOURROW

FORASMUCH it is appointed for all men once to dye and I, being sick and weak of body, yet of sound and perfect deposing mind and memory and not knowing how long it may please the Lord to call me away, do make this my last will and testament in the manner following:

First of all, that my body be decently buried at the discretion of my executors hereinafter named and touching upon my wordly estate, my will is that the house wherein I now dwell, with my household goods and lands adjoining the same houses, being devised unto my wife, for and during the time she shall remain my widow. Also my will that my lot of land, Paysiach Neck, as soon as may be conveniently after my decease, be sold by my executors hereinafter named and the money arising of such lots, my will is that it shall be applied to discharge a debt for which I have given my bond to Cornelious Johnson on behalf of my son, John, (here the Document was worn out from a fold in it)..acre lot being a dividen in Woodbridge Common, to me allotted be otherwise sold by my executors hereinafter named within as little time as may be convenient after my decease, and with the money arising of such sale, my will is that they pay and discharge said debt of my said son, John Loofbourrow, and for which I am bound with him in two bonds; one to Richard Stilwell of New York, and the other to Samuel Allon of Newark, which debts so paid and discharged is to be in full of my portion of legacys he may expect out of my estate. LOOFBOURROW

The inventory of the estate of John I, taken by his son, Thomas Loofbouroow, on the 25th day of November, 1723, date from the Photostatic copy which is headed "An Inventory of all and singular the goods and chattels of John Loofbourrow of Woodbridge, in the County of Middlesex, and Province of N.J., deceased, as shown us by his widow. Appraised by us, whose names are underneath written."

It will thus be seen that John I did not live in Middletown, in Monmouth County, at the time of his death as some historians report and as indicated by Ross Loughborough (see page 4). Let us settle another disputed question. Some biographers and genealogists state that John Loofbourrow I came from Scotland.* The following, in spite of the quotes on page 4, is an exact quote from 1st Series N.J. Archives, page 65, East New Jersey Deeds, Liber A. Page. 196:

"1684. Nov. List of children and servants, imported by David Mudie, wife and children.
Names of servants and John Loofbourrow, miller, came as free passenger in Feb. 1684-5."

The said David Mudie, as other records show, came from Montrose Scotland. If John I had come from Scotland, he would have spelled his name- Loch - instead of Loof. My information is that in early Scotch, there was no such combination of letters as Loof or double oo's:

I have no record of the date of the birth or death of John I nor the date of the probate of his will. However, my photostatic copy of the inventory of his "goods and chattell" taken by Thomas Loofbourrow and Thomas Gach, is dated "the 25 of November, Anno Domini, 1723." He had to be dead before an inventory could be taken.

From the foregoing will, it is seen that John I and Hannah Bunn had the following children, who are here listed in order of their birth. (The ages given are from other records in N.J. Archives):

- A. Thomas Born June 6, 1690
- B. John Born June 6, 1692
- C. Nathan Born January 23, 1706
- D. Nathaniel
- E. Hannah
- F. Kathrine
- G. Ruth
- H. Ruth, my granddaughter.

I do not have the births of D through H . My guess is that Ruth was a daughter of his then deceased daughter, Mary, who was born Nov. 6, 1694. He also had a son Benjamin, who was born June 3, 1705. My authority for births given is Monnette's "Early Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge," Vol.1-8, p.257, in so far as my records go. N.J. Archives records verify the births of Thomas, John, Nathan, and Mary Only.

* The fact that Lord L. was born in Scotland may have also been a reason for this statement. See p. 2.

 All Bays, Lakes, and Towns, so named, do not begin with Loof or Lough but with Loch. See any map of Scotland.

LOOFBOURROW

CHAPTER I THOMAS'S DESCENDANTS

IN NEW JERSEY, GEORGIA AND FLORIDA

A. THOMAS LOOFBOURROW, et ux. Eleanor (Gardner), were grantors in a deed to William Skinner, dated April 27, 1730, recorded in Liber C-3 p. 165, selling lands in Middlesex County, indicating he was moving to Middletown, Monmouth County. I do not have the date of his marriage or death. Ross Loughborough states his children were: Matthew I; Mary who married N.M. Robinson. on November 23, 1744, in Monmouth County; Jacob (who married Sarah Leg, in Monmouth County, Jan 16, 1758); Catherine, who married in Middletown, Thomas (some say) Johnson, (others say) Jackson, November 23, 1752; Eleanor, married William Kennon, November 29, 1763, in Middlesex County. For marriages see N.J. Archives, Marriages Licenses 1665-1800 Series XXII Page 243. Except the last marriage, all indicate that Thomas was in Monmouth County, and perhaps at Middletown, during this period. All of the N.J. Lufbourrows, and those elsewhere claim Thomas as their progenitor. I have not found any data on the descendants of any of the above named, except Matthew. All of the LUFBURROWS claim Matthew as their progenitor.

By the will of John I, supra, we see that Thomas was given the mill property by the testator, with the proviso that he paid to his mother and his sisters and niece said sum of money mentioned therein. Evidently the mill must have been a source of income which warranted Thomas's payment of this sum to his mother, sisters, and niece. Thomas* was a freeholder in Middletown, N.J. in 1748, N.J. Genealogical Magazine, 14-18-1938-1939. Mathias Lofberry undoubtedly Matthew Lufbrow in 1755, Id. but not same vol.

There is no record that we have been able to find through a Searcher in Trenton, N.J. of any administration upon Thomas's estate or as to how the mill property passed on to his eldest son, Matthew I. (see his will, infra). Matthew I was evidently named after Matthew Bunn, the father of Hannah Bunn, wife of John I. It has long been a custom, even to my time and including me, for a son to be named for his grandfather and particularly so in the early days.

The Monmouth County mill property seems to have gone on down to, or was purchased by John III, the oldest son of Matthew I, and may have been in his ancestors and descendants for nearly 200 years. C.A. Lufburrow of Long Branch, N.J. writes me that John III, son of Matthew I, lost his life looking after the safety of the mill during a spring freshet in 1828, and Mrs. Emily Thompson, nee Lufburrow (as same supra page 6), says that her uncle, A Lufburrow, sold the mill property some years before 1930. I am repeating this in order to connect Matthew I as being the son of Thomas.

The first documentary rendition, - Lufburrow - was in a deed from James Lloyd to John Lufburrow, dated 1795 to lands near Shrewsburg North River (see Deed Book W, page 85). In 1801 the name is spelled again in this manner in a deed from Louis Channcl to John Lufburrow (see Deed Book M, page 358). The name is again spelled thus in a deed in 1803 from David Bowne (see Deed Book O, page 271). Monmouth Co.

(1) Matthew Lufbrow, the son of Thomas Loofbourrow married Sarah Stillwell. We do not have the date of his birth, nor the date of Sarah's birth, nor the exact date of the death of Matthew I, though, of course, he was dead when his will was probated on the 18th of June, 1774. Note that the will says he was a resident of Middletown in the County of Monmouth, which is at least persuasive that he was at or on the old mill property. There is some authority that Sarah Stillwell afterwards married a man named Grover.*

* Spelled in transcript Loffberry. Id. but not same Vol.

A copy from a photostatic copy of Matthew's will, which was "recorded at South Amboy in Book L of Wills in pages 193, 194, and 195", follows:

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF MATTHEW LUFBROW

In the Name of God amen, I, Matthew Lufbrow of Middletown in the County of Monmouth, and eastern division of the Province of New Jersey, being weak of body; but of sound deposing Mind and memory, do constitute and make this my last will and testament as follows: (VIZ) Imprimis. I commend my soul to God, who gave it and my body to be buried with christain decency at the discretion of my executors, and dispose of all my worldly goods as Follows, (VIZ) First, it is my will that all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid out of my moveable estate, with all convenient speed, Item. It is my will that my beloved wife, Sarah, shall enjoy the use and profits of all my estate, both real and personal, while she remains my widow; to enable her to educate my children and bring them up to the age of twenty one years; but if she should contract Matrimony, then it is my will that she should have only her third, as the law directs in that case. Item. It is my will that at the decease of my beloved wife, Sarah, my executor shall make sale of all my Estate and that the money arising from said sale, shall be equally divided among my beloved children, John, Stephen, Joseph and Mary, to be enjoyed by them, their heirs and assigns forever. But if my beloved wife should die before my children arrive to the age of twenty one years, it is my will that in that case, sale shall be made as above directed, and that the money arising from said sale shall be put to interest on Land Security, and that the interest shall be applied toward the education and support of such of my children as are in their non age, till such arrives to maturity; and that then (and not before) the division shall be made as above directed. Lastly I do constitute, ordain and appoint my beloved Brother-in-law, John Stillwell, as the sole Executor of this, my last Will and Testament and my beloved wife, Sarah, as executrix; and I do hereby empower said Executor with full authority to alien and convey and confirm my Estate to the Purchaser or Purchasers, Ratifying and confirming all sales and conveyances of lands as if it was my own out to all intents, Revoking all other wills by me made and confirming this and none else as my last Will and Testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this forth day of November, Annoque Domini One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy three.

Signed, Sealed, Pronounced,
& Declared by the Testator in presence of:

Matthew Lufbrow

David Jones
Charles Doughty
John Layton

* Sarah Stillwell did marry James Grover and had several children by him.

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

This Will was proven by Charles Doughty and John Layton, two of the subscribing Witnesses on the 18th day of June, 1774. Sarah Lufbrow ~~was~~ on the same date made oath and qualified as Executrix after being "duly sworn on the Holy Evangelist of the Almighty God." Why John Stillwell, the Executor named in the will as his brother-in-law, which made him the brother of Sarah, did not qualify, is not shown. Sarah's name, therefore, before her marriage was Stillwell and might have been a granddaughter of Richard Stillwell of New York mentioned in the will of John I.

The children of Matthew I and Sarah Stillwell, she being a sister of John Stillwell as said will shows, are as follows: (all being infants at the date of the will.)

- (a) John III in Thomas's line
- (b) Stephen
- (c) Joseph (no record on line of Joseph and Mary)
- (d) Mary

Richard II Lufburrow married Caroline West on Jan. 16, 1856 and had 3 children; Emily, who is now 85 years old, married William Thompson and resides at Middletown, N.J. Caroline, who married William Applegate and they had a daughter, Lillian, who married William Thaer and died leaving no children, and a son, William Applegate who married Catherine and had a daughter, whose name I do not know. Richard II also had a son named Richard and this Richard had 2 sons named William and Richard. Cousin Emily has no children.

Charles Lufburrow was born May 11, 1805 (see page 13); another record of Mrs. C.B. Lufburrow, infra, shows 1808, and died December 28, 1894, at Locust, Claypit Creek, N.J. According to Mrs. C.B. Lufburrow of Plainsfield, N.J., Charles (date of death on his tombstone, 1894) married Deborah Burdge, born November 10, 1809, died May 1, 1880, on the 28th day of May, 1828 (see Marriage Record Book B, page 247, Monmouth County, New Jersey); and C.A. Lufburrow of Long Branch, New Jersey, says that they had four children, the first being Mary Elizabeth, now Mrs. G.C. Morris, of Red Bank, New Jersey, who, in 1930 was 90 years of age; Charles II, and Joseph, Joseph, born March 27, 1840, died May 4, 1922, married Amelia J. Gardner and had 3 children, Nellie Jennie May, and Charles III, (Dr. Charles Bromwell Lufburrow), born October 24, 1872.

For many years Dr. C.B. Lufburrow has been the leading physician in Plainsfield, and who, up to at least 1948, was still living. He married Elizabeth Brenton, and they had the following children: Elizabeth Brenton, born on the 16th day of August, 1909, married Albert Myrick Freeman, Jr., of Bairstown N.J. and (2) Sylvia Gardner Lufburrow, born August 26, 1911, married Gerald Q. * Winter died Feb. 15, 1918. Sarah died March 29, 1952, age 84.

 Born Jan 1, 1896, at Middletown, N.J. No children.

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

(Charles A. Lufburrow of Long Branch, N.J., with whom my wife and I had such a nice visit and dinner in July 1952, and who furnished me so much data about the N.J. Branch of the family gave me data about his line from which the following is written, M.R.L.).

Charles II married Frances Mount (grave stone gives his death as 1913). Their children were Egbert F. and Amelia. Amelia married George W. Palmer. Egbert married Mary H. Allen daughter of Mary E. and Robert H. Allen. Mary died July 5th, 1913. Egbert afterwards married Bertha Powell. She and Edith now live together. Egbert died January 5, 1923. Egbert and Mary's children were: (1) Robert A. born Dec. 3, 1886 who married Olive Hendrickson of Ashbury Park, May 5th, 1920. He died in 1938. Their children are Robert and Peter C. Robert A. lived at Roanoke, Va. (2) Charles A. born June 4, 1888 married Mary E. Menke, Sept. 20th 1919. They have one son Laurence, who in 1952 was Director of Missions Philadelphia Bible Institute (3) Norman A. born November 25, 1892, married Evelyn Patterson of Washington, D.C. April 17, 1917. He was for many years been the Director of Vocational Guidance at the YMCA in Baltimore, Md. Their children are John E. and William who are now in college. (4) Edith, born June 22, 1902, never married, and who is now a school teacher, in their home town of Atlantic Highlands, N.J.

While visiting in Freehold, my wife carried some clothes to a cleaner and he told us about his school teacher a Miss Edith Lufburrow. About a week later, on our way home to Tampa we went to a Lunch Room in Orangeburgh, S.C., about 700 miles from Freehold, N.J., and sat down at the same table with a couple who introduced themselves as a Mr. & Mrs. Tilton, who were on their way to Jacksonville, Florida to visit their son and new grandson. Mr. Tilton said he also went to school to Miss Edith Lufburrow. One of my daughters brought me from Baptist Sunday School the Aug. 6, 1929 issue of the Intermediate Weekly, published by Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tenn. with a poem in it entitled "But", written by C.A. Lufburrow. * I wrote to Nashville, they gave me C.A.'S. address as Long Branch, N.J., I wrote to him and thus was born our many years of correspondence. It was such a happy moment to meet and visit with him and his charming wife, 23 years thereafter. Is truth stranger than fiction?

The family seems to have diminished or scattered so that not too many are left by that name in this locality. These are all the Lufburrows thus spelled, who are now or have been in New Jersey, that I have been able to find except the following names which were found in the telephone directories of the following towns in New Jersey: In Woodbridge Directory: C.S. Lufbarry, 467 West Ave., Mrs. H. Lufbarry, 146 Strawberry Hgts. Ave., In Rahway Directory: R.W. Lufburrow, 461 W. Milton Ave., John H. Lufberry, 1004 Westfield Ave., In Monmouth County Directory: Leonard A. Lufburrow, S. Main Keyport; R. Lufburrow, 218 Oxford Ave., Red Bank, W.G. Lufburrow, 108 Cooper Blvd., Red Bank (these may be grandsons of Richard II, on previous page, None, answered my letters, nor did any below in Philadelphia.)

I also found in the telephone directory of Philadelphia, Pa. the following: W.H. Luffbarry, dentist, 2505 Tulip; Amelia E. Luffberry, 4811 Knorr; Reverend Henry B. Lufberry, 944 Turner Ave., Mrs. Evelyn P. Luffberry, 1914 W. Giroid.

* He is The Poet-Laureate of the family. See poem in Supplement Page .

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

Mrs. Vincent Strong Mulford, nee Edith Loughborough, 130 South Mountain Venue, Montclair, N.J., is Loughborough now residing in N.J. though she comes from Nathaniel's line. (See more about her, infra page . She is the author of his line. She visited us in Dec. 1952. She is a charming person and has done considerable research on the L. family).

(b) Stephen Lufburrow, see page 13, was the second son of Matthew I and Sarah Stillwell. We have no record of the birth or the date of marriage, or the children of Stephen. It has been handed down in the family that Matthew II's father was Stephen. It has also been handed down in the family that Matthew II purchased the home place of his father, Stephen, in N.J. There is a deed from Stephen Lufburrow and Cathrine Lufburrow, his wife, of the township of Middletown, County of Monmouth, and State of New Jersey, to Matthew Lufburrow of the State of Georgia, dated the 10th day of February, 1823, and recorded on October 22, 1823, in Book G-2 page 396, Monmouth County, New Jersey. Cathrine's maiden name is unknown, though we have made considerable effort to ascertain it.

We, therefore, assume that Cathrine was the mother of Matthew II. There are also records in Monmouth County about the same time, where Matthew Lufburrow of Georgia purchased all of the household and kitchen furniture, livestock, grain and farm equipment from the said Stephen and Cathrine. This is some evidence that Stephen and Cathrine were father and mother of Matthew II. Some think that Stephen I, came South to his son, Matthew II. Others think that he went to Cincinnati, Ohio. Anyway, the said land Matthew II purchased from Stephen remained in Matthew II's estate and was so listed in an inventory thereof in 1865 together with "a one-half interest of 12 acres in the suburbs of Cincinnati."

A letter written to Matthew Lufburrow II, a few months before his death, dated July 9, 1865, by Richard B. Walling of Key Port, N.J. addressed Matthew as his uncle, is as follows:

Key Port July 9th, 1865

Mr. Matthew Lufburrow

Dear Uncle

I am happy to inform you that we are all as well as usual and hope to hear that your folks are all enjoying good health. George Alley received a letter from Orlando on the 7th inst. informing us that you and Aunt Mary was with him in Augusta and for him to direct his letters to Augusta for you. The letters that I have wrote you I have directed to Savannah which accounts for my not receiving any answer. I hope you will receive this soon- in relation to your property in Cincinnati it remains the same that is the country property where Uncle William had his residence. I have collected for you of Mr. Applegate two thousand dollars $2000.00. I received it in March last and on the first of April I invested it in county bonds at seven per cent interest for one year. You will please write to me on the receipt of this and inform me if you would like to have the money for those bonds and give directions how you will have me send it to you---the power of Attorney you gave me was not a full power of attorney it only gives me the power to settle personal property and as I could not communicate with you I have been unable to sell the property. I have been in Cincinnati twice since the war and have done the best with it I could under the circumstances. Now that we can communicate with each other again I think we had better sell it as soon as we can find a customer for it, it won't pay expenses to keep and had best be sold the first opportunity.

You will please write on the receipt of this and let us know how you got along during this terrible civil war we are all anxious to hear from you and all the rest of your family tell Milton and Orlando* I will be glad to hear from them and to have them come see us.

Yours truly,

The following is a copy of a letter written by the same party to Matthew II, dated Aug. 1st., 1865:

Key Port August 1st 1865

Mr. Matthew Lufburrow

Dear Uncle

I have received and answer to my letter to you from Orland wishing me to send you all the money that I have received for you from your Brother's estate also a statement of account. In the first place the country property remains the same as when you was their from the fact that the power of attorney you gave me did not give me the power to convey land if it had I would of sold it before this as it has been a bill of expense to keep. Now that the war is ended and we can communicate once more I hope you will come and see us and then we can sell the property and close the business up but if you should not be able to come yourself I hope Milton or Orlando will come with a full power of attorney so that the property can be sold and a deed given as it is only a bill of expense to keep as to the amount of money that I have received is as I stated in my letter to you on the 14th day of last February I received a draft on the bank of America for four thousand dollars one half for Mother and the other half for you \$2000.00 it has cost me \$245.75 to get the business out of Applegate's hands and put it in other lawyers hands. It is now in the hands of Mitchel J. Collier who has made this collection from Applegate. I have charged nothing for my time in going to Cincinnati I have only charged for the money I paid out for lawyers fees insurance and traveling expenses I have sold the bonds for their face loosing the interest from April 1st. 1865 till now which is about $4\frac{1}{2}$ months interest.

Total amount received $2000.00

Total cost of one half

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

I shall go to New York tomorrow and send the amount to you by express as you directed.

Dear Uncle we all of us do most sincerely sympathize with you and all of your family in your severe afflictions of bad health and the ravages of war. Mother Alley is with us at Key Port and is as well as usual and we all hope this will find you and all of your family in good health.

Yours truly,

Richard B. Walling

Orlando wishes me to inform him who John Smith is that he received a letter from after the battle of Gettesberg. This seems strange to me I don't know what he means as I know of no John Smith that has written to him, I hope he will explain the matter to me in his next letter.

Yours truly,

R.B. Walling

It will thus be seen that Matthew II had a brother named William who died leaving an estate and that this estate was divided between Matthew II and Mrs. Cathrine Alley. It will also be noted that the money coming from William's estate was divided "one half for mother and one half for you" and that he also mentioned that Mother Alley, who was the wife of George Alley, was with him at that time in New Port.

The writer evidently married Cathrine Alley, a daughter of George Alley and his wife, Cathrine Lufburrow, a sister of Matthew II. Cathrine was the wife of George Alley (see Mortgage Record Book G-2, page 41, Monmouth County N.J.). These Cathrine's were evidently named for the wife of Stephen (I) Lufburrow.

Copies of the above letters from Richard B. Walling were given to me by Laura Lufburrow of Savannah, Georgia, who obtained them from her mother, they evidently being in the hands of Orlando Lufburrow's branch.

b. LUFBURROWS IN GEORGIA and FLORIDA

It is said that Matthew II came to Chatham County, Georgia, in the early 1800's with 25¢ in his pocket. It is known that he was a contractor and that he erected the U.S. Custom House in Savannah, Georgia, built the Presbyterian Church and also the foundation for the Pulaski Monument, and other buildings there. As early as 1820, he began accumulating property. The inventory of his estate in 1865 showed II pieces of property in Savannah, a foundary in Augusta, Ga., which is said was the Lombard Iron Works, and 6500 acres in Screven and Effingham County, Ga, at No. 5 (the stations on the Central of Georgia Railroad, when built, were numbered, but afterwards were given names. No. 5 was Oliver, Georgia, though later known, as $4\frac{1}{2}$). The total value of his estate computed by me from the inventory was a little over \$111,000.00, exclusive of Orlando's note. Notes due him by his son, Milton, amounted to \$105.00; notes due him by his other son, Orlando, and a man named Timmons, all payable in confederate value, totaled approximately \$65,000.00, and it was noted that the notes payable in confederate value were "worth only ten cents on the dollar." For the times, this is quite a large estate.

CHAPTER I

Some of my family told me, as well as my mother, my grandmother and my father, that he was a very frugal man and it is told that he required his children and grandchildren to eat every particle of food that each placed on his plate, teaching them a lesson not to waste.

It is also said that when he was in his last illness and was either visiting his Oliver, Georgia home (the old Oliver home) or living there, General Sherman arrived there on his march through Georgia, from Atlanta to Savannah, but that General Sherman, recognizing his Yankee brogue and also the Yankee brogue of my grandmother Caroline (she was from Providence, R.I.) treated them with courtesy and did not, as he had done in so many other instances, burn the home. Later, however, it burned to the ground, nothing remaining except the brick. My brother, Thomas Watson, has the mahogany table on which General Sherman was supposed to have signed his orders. The inventory of his estate also showed the note due him by Wilson C. Cooper for $217.60. Wilson C. Cooper was my grandfather, Randolph Cooper's brother and I think he was the inventor of what was known for a long time as the Cooper turn-plow.

Matthew II owned a family Bible which was printed in 1813. I now have it before me and it is in fairly good condition though the back thereof is gone as well as some of the index. A Concordance in the back thereof was recorded by John Brown "Late Minister of the Gospel, at Haddington, in Scotland." "Arguments prefixed to the different books, with moral and Theological Observations Illustrating each chapter (practical observation shown at the bottom of each page) Composed by The Reverend Mr. Ostervald, Professor of Divinity, and one of the Ministers of the Church at Neufchatel in Swisserland, Translated at the desire of, and recommended by, the Society For Propagating Christian Knowledge." There are many pictures therein, including a frontage piece of Moses with the 10 Commandments entitled, "Notes on Mount Sinai," the letters being printed in the flourishing English script writing. This old Bible has quite a history. It was evidently kept by my great grandmother, Mary Gregory, the wife of Matthew II, until her death and then given to her daughter, Virginia. Anyway, for over 40 years it was lost and about the year 1930, when my brother Burley Matthew was State Forester of Georgia, living at Atlanta, Ga., a young forester, and I have forgotten his name, found the Bible in the attic of the house that he was occupying, and seeing that it was a Lufburrow Bible, turned it over to my brother, Burley, who sent it to me.

The following is a copy from a photostatic copy of the will of Matthew M. Lufburrow, which was proven October 2, 1865, recorded in M. Book, Folio 168, Ordinary's Office, Savannah, Chatham County, Georgia:

- 1824 - from Claudia Coachman - 3 negroes, Sarah, Ben, and "Hardtimes", - $400.00.

Matthew II Lufburrow, born July 31, 1787, died August 26, 1865, married 1st., Rebecca Long, born June 27, 1794, who died without children, on September 18, 1817; 2nd., Mary Gregory, of Goldsborro, N.C., born August 11, 1796, married Oct. 18, 1819, and had the following children, who survived infancy and married and had children:*

1. Homer Milton Lufburrow, who was born October 4, 1822, at Savannah, Georgia, married Caroline Willard Smith, on September 16, 1844, at Providence, R.I. where she was born and reared, he having met her there while attending Brown U. from "1840 through his Junior year in 1843", says the recorder of said University.

My grandmother, Caroline Willard Smith's father was named Aaron Smith. I do not know the date of his birth, death, nor to whom he was married. I remember when I was a young boy that her brothers, Herbert Smith and Charles Smith visited her at Oliver, Ga. They were on their way to Florida to look after their phosphate and mining interests in Polk County, and, I think, at Mulberry, Fla. They had one daughter named Edith and one named Alice, who was the father of which, I do not remember. They were either students or graduates of Radcliffe College. She also had a brother, Stephen, for whom I think my father was named, instead of his grandfather, Stephen Lufburrow. I have pictures of both girls and of Stephen. What became of any of the Smith family I do not know but hope some day to be given a clue from Radcliffe College and make a belated attempt to locate them or their descendants. She was born in Providence, November 5, 1824, died at Oliver, Ga., June 14, 1905. Homer Milton died December 20, 1874, leaving the following children, who survived infancy, married, and left children.

- A. Stephen Bullman, born August 17, 1856, married on September 4, 1884, Lourine F. Cooper, daughter of John Randolph Cooper and Willie Brown, born March 1, 1860, (at Cooperville, Georgia, named after the family). Stephen died at Oliver, Georgia on

He was first in the Normandy Invasion, was discharged, then joined the Chatham Artillery, National Guard Anti-Air Craft, recalled to service and for the past two years has been located at Camp Dix, N.J. and Media Penn. He has spent a great many hours in the N.J. Archives at Trenton on research of the L. family and I am greatly indebted to him for much of the data herein and there obtained; S.B. Jr., "Bunch" attended until his Junior year. Bunch is now and has been for a great number of years connected with the Municipal Court of the City of Savannah. Willamina went about 3 years to Bessie Tift at Forsyth, Georgia. Burley Matthew IV was the first State Forester of the State of Ga. Burley Brown was also the first graduate son in forestry at the U. of Georgia. He is now head of U.S. Forestry at Camp Stewart, Ga., and Albert Bullman also attended the U. of Georgia, but his education was interrupted by World War II. Betty, his wife, is a graduate of Brenau College at Gainesville, Georgia. My wife, Ida Jarnagin, graduated in music from Weslyn College, Macon, Georgia, as did her mother before her. Both of my daughters, Caroline and Charmian, attended Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee, Florida. They, as well as their mother and aunt, Caroline Markwater, belong to the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority; so also does Betty, Albert's wife. Albert, Burley Matthew IV, and myself belong to the Sigma Chi Fraternity.* Burley Brown is a S.A.E.

Both Richard and Wilson Conner, Revolutionary soldiers, are buried at Old Dead Creek Cemetery, near Mount Vernon, Georgia. D.A.R. monuments are placed on their graves. I have pictures of this.

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

My mother's mother's parents were John J. Brown * born November 8, 1810, and Martha Moseley, born November 21, 1813 (Buckingham County Va.).

My mother died at Oliver, Georgia, on the 23rd. of February, 1936. From the time of her marriage in 1864 to her death in 1936, nearly 52 years, she was one of the pillars in the Little Ogeechee Baptist Church at Oliver, Georgia. She taught school at Oliver where she met my father. For a long time and up until the time of her death, she wrote the Oliver News and Comments; under the name of Proselyte; for the Sylvania Telephone. An editorial in this newspaper, dated April 28, 1933, of which I have a copy, in its column "20 Years Ago, as taken from our files, Friday, April 25, 1913," reads as follows:

(About Stephen and Lou's 25th Wedding Anniversary)

"A quarter of a century has passed, bringing many changes in the faces and lives of that light hearted merry throng, quite a number of whom gathered again in celebrating the Silver Wedding on last Friday night. The home and lawn were brilliant with lights and lanterns, and at the foot of a majestic oak with its long garlands of moss, was the punch bowl, imbedded in lovely plants and trailing vines and presided over by Mrs. Anna Burns, and Misses Lucile Kennedy and Willa Huggins.

"Promptly at nine o'clock Mrs. Anna Burns sounded the chorus of the Wedding March, and slowly down the hall, between the palms came the bridal party. Miss Lizzie Cooper and Mrs. H.H. Chance, Miss Mary Cooper and Miss Leila Lanier^x, Milton Lufburrow and Mrs. Randolph Cooper, Jr., Watson Lufburrow and Mrs. W.W. Lufburrow, Mrs. T.T. Warr and Mrs. W.H. Cooper, little Mary Louise Cooper and Carl Huggins, Jr., ribbon bearers; Willamina Lufburrow and Roberta Cooper, flower girls.

"The silver-haired bride, in her wedding gown of cream net over white satin with lovely pearls, the same worn by her mother fifty years ago, and leaning on the strong arm of the groom of twenty five years, paused beneath a bell of pink and white roses, while Rev. C.W. Snow spoke a few words in greeting and then made a touching and beautiful prayer. Mrs. Ezell, Mrs. Huggins and Mrs. Oscar Marsh, sang softly "Silver Threads Among The Gold." Vera Tart recited "What the Little Birdie Said." or "The Man, The Head of the House is He, The Woman, the Heart of the Home is She." Milton Lufburrow read a fine poem "What a Home Should Be." A delightful course supper was served, the color scheme of pink and white in the decorations of the table, etc. Postcard views of the house and lawn were given as souvenirs. A large number of silver tokens from the many friends were highly prized by the happy bride."

* My Mother had two aunts, Nannie Brown, who married Sam Lines and Judith Brown, who married Dr. Thomas Mims. Nannie and Judith taught school in Screven County, Georgia, and married and raised families there.

 Sylvania Telephon's editorial note explained article belatedly published.

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

In an issue of the same paper, dated August 9, 1929, appears the following:

"Stephen B. Lufburrow, Sr., who has been in ill health for some months, died at his home at Oliver Saturday afternoon. While he had been up that day, yet his death came at the end of a long period, and his many friends and neighbors who will miss him from his accustomed haunts, feel glad that he has found rest from suffering.

"He was born at Oliver in this county, and had lived there all of his life. His father's old home was one of the picturesque places of the county, and he himself as the last surviving of the children held high the honor of the family name. He was a successful business man, and was intimately identified with every public movement in this town and community.

"Of pleasant, friendly spirit, he always had a glad word for his friends and was the soul of hospitality in his home. He reared and educated a fine lot of children, who have risen up to do their parents honor, and all of whom have done credit to the family name. In this he had the true and faithful help of his noble wife, who has herself for several years been in very feeble health.

"Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Oliver Baptist Church, being conducted by Rev. W.J. Stockton, and the body was interred in the cemetery at that place."

The following is a copy of a clipping in the Savannah Morning News in the death column:

"Mrs. S.B. Lufburrow, Oliver. Oliver, Ga., February 23, 1936. Mrs. Lou Lufburrow, widow of S.B. Lufburrow, died at her home here today after a short illness. She was born on March 1, 1860, the daughter of Capt. John Randolph Cooper, and was a member of a family of distinction. Mrs. Lufburrow was a teacher, and was socially active as a young woman. She married Steven B. Lufburrow of Oliver, also of a prominent Screven county family, on September 7, 1884.

"Especially gifted, her home was a social center as her family grew up. She was an able, enthusiastic and faithful church worker. Mrs. Lufburrow was the oldest correspondent of the "Sylvania Telephone", having written for that weekly newspaper for forty years, and until a few weeks ago.

"The funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Little Ogeechee Baptist Church at Oliver, with the Rev. W.J. Carswell officiating. Burial will be in the Oliver Cemetery."

A CHIVALROUS SOUTHERN BOY, SON OF A NEW JERSEY YANKEE

I have a newspaper clipping (no date on clipping) out of the Atlantic Journal, headlined, "Going To School In Georgia a Hundred Years Ago," and of the sketch of school life in Georgia around the year of 1830, and is from "Memoirs" of Judge Richard H. Clark (1824-1896). After giving a very interesting account of Chatham County Academy during the year of 1831, when Rev. George White, a native of Charleston, South Carolina, was the principal and obtained as his discipline which was not to "spare the rod and spoil the child" but to "exercise the rod and save the child," he showed the wisdom of Solomon when "On one occasion a girl was sent by her teacher to Dr. White's room for punishment. She was a little beauty that all the boys loved, and the doctor, too. He either felt she deserved extreme punishment or he desired her to escape any punishment. So he inquired what boy would take a whipping for her. Many were ready for the sacrifice, but Milton Lufburrow was the quickest, and he won the honor."

Patrick H. Mell of Athens, Georgia, mentioned on page 22, was a great minister in the Baptist Church and graduated from Mercer University (a Baptist College) and was also president thereof when it was located at Plainfield, Ga. Patrick H. Mell married two of mama's aunts; first, Lourine, and when she died, he married Lizzie Cooper. He had children by both marriages and the surviving children of the deceased were born and reared in Athens Ga. John Mell, his son was also a Baptist preacher and Edward (Ted) Mell was, until his retirement, principal of the High School in Athens, Ga. Patrick H. Mell Jr., also a son, was president of Clemson College at Clemson, South Carolina. Tom Mell, Patrick Sr.'s oldest son, was a lawyer in Athens and was Mayor of the town for a great number of years. Patrick Sr. wrote a book called "Mell's Parliamentary Laws." Patrick Sr. and his son John were presidents of Southern Baptist Convention.

B. Homer Milton and Caroline Willard Smith * also had William Williams Lufburrow who was born at Oliver, Ga., as quoted from the bible, supra, "at 7 o'clock in the morning on the 14th day of February, 1858." He married Hattie Lanier, a daughter of Dr. A.B. Lanier, a noted Doctor at Oliver, Georgia, for over a half a century and who attended my mother in the birth of all of her 10 children and through our sicknesses and accidents. He d. Sept. 29, 1916, she d. in 1934. Md. 3-24, 1887.

Uncle "Billie" built a home at Oliver, Ga. right across the road, Old Louisville Road, from my father's home, where he and his wife lived and died. They had 2 sons who survived infancy.

1. William Augustus, married Florence Maxwell. They have no children. Willie is a noted newspaper columnist. He was born Aug. 4, 1892.
2. Eugene Meldrum (Meldrum after Aunt Hattie's mother) married Ethel Adams.They have no children. "Gene" holds a Government position. "Gene b. Nov. 17, 1898, Md. Sept. 8, 1935.

Both "Willie" and "Gene" now live in Augusta Ga. I think the Williams in Uncle Billie's name came from relatives of great grandmother, Mary Gregory. I remember that there were some Williams in Bulloch County, right across the Ogeechee River from Oliver, with whom papa claimed kin. I also remember a Dr. Causmore Davis, who lived in the same locality across the river, as being a relative of my father through his grandmother, Mary Gregory, but I have never verified this supposed connection.

Homer Milton and Caroline W. Lufburrow also had the following children:

1. Mary Cathrine, born on the 27th day of November, 1850, and who died in infancy.
2. John Foscare, born August 7, 1852, who died unmarried.
3. Orlando Harmon, Jr. born June 12, 1860, died in youth.
4. Henry Gregory, born December 8, 1862, also died in youth.

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBOURROW) LUFBURROW

Homer Milton was evidently born in Savannah, Ga., and the oldest children, Mary and John, were also born there.

But about the year of 1850, Matthew Lufburrow II acquired about 3,000 acres of land from George Oliver, for whom the railroad station at Oliver was named. On it and in an avenue leading out to what is now Newington, Georgia, was located the old brick home of the said George Oliver, which was occupied by Homer Milton and his wife, Caroline, and where the remaining children were born. It is said that Sherman, in his raid through Georgia during the Civil War, made his headquarters in this home. This old home was burned (I do not have the date or the year) and after my father and Uncle Billie married, they built homes in the location above mentioned, which is right across the Railroad tracks, about 4 or 5 blocks, from where the old Oliver home was. Papa built the dining room and kitchen of his home about the time he was married and I was born therein. In the later years and I think, about the time of the birth of my brother, Matthew IV, he added the 4 bedrooms upstairs and the 4 rooms downstairs.

This property, consisting of about 1500 acres lying on the Ogeechee River and both sides of the Ogeechee Creek, has been in our family since Grandfather Matthew purchased it on May 13, 1850, (see Deed Book S, page 10, Clerk of the Superior Court, Screven County, Sylvania, Georgia.) from Clem Lanier, the tract on which the home is located, consisting of about 650 acres, he having purchased from E. Jones on February 15, 1850, the 765 acre tract on the West Side of Ogeechee Creek, now known as Alger Field (see Deed Book S, page 11, same office).

In the division of Grandpa Matthew's estate after the death of his wife and two sons, Uncle Billie obtained the Oliver Tract and also a large tract known as Palmetto Bay, located in the upper edge of Effingham County, Georgia, most all of which was timberland. My father acquired in the said division the above tracts of land from Clem Lanier and E. Jones. My brothers and myself still own the home tract, it having been in our family now for over 102 years. My sister sold her interest in the same in 1951 to the Empire Lumber Company at Oliver, Georgia.

Homer Milton Lufburrow, together with Caroline, his wife, and their daughter, Mary, and sons, John, Orlando and Gregory, together with William W. Lufburrow and his wife and infant daughter, are all buried in the Southeast corner of the little Ogeechee Baptist Church at Oliver, Georgia, and have suitable markers over their graves.

My father and mother, together with my deceased infant brothers and sister are buried on our family lot in the Central Eastern portion of said cemetery and have markers over their graves.

II. Orlando Harmon Lufburrow,* second child of Matthew II and his wife, Mary Gregory, according to the old family Bible above referred to, was born "June 25, 1829, at 4 o'clock in the morning." He died, according to the cemetery records in Laurel Grove Cemetery, Savannah, Georgia, on March 15, 1889. He married as his first wife, Laura L. Wray on the night of the 29th of November, 1849, and by this marriage the following children were born, who survived infancy:

CHAPTER I

(LOOFBURROW) LUFBURROW

(a) Mary Gregory Lufburrow, born the 2nd day of April, 1852 " $\frac{1}{4}$ before 1 o'clock in the morning." She married Procter Screven.

Helen Waldrep, half sister of Mary Gregory, gives me the following data in regard to Mary Gregory:

"About my sister Mary - I think she was just two years younger than Mama, so that would put her birth in 1852 or '53, depending on the month, which I don't know. She married Procter Screven about 1875, I would guess. I remember Mama telling me Mattie was about 12 years old soon after Mama married into the family. I can't give you the dates of their births and maybe not the exact order in which they were born, but these are their names as I recall them: Mattie, Laura, Bennie, Eddie, Joe, Marie, Dupont and John. Mattie married Graham Seabrook of Atlanta, and had two girls but I don't remember their names. Mattie is dead. Laura married a Baldwin (I don't know his given name) and was living in Savannah the last I heard of her. Bennie, Eddie and Joe died early - before marrying. Marie married Ed. Porcher of Charleston, S.C. I don't know if they had any children. Marie is dead. I don't know about him. I don't know whether DuPont ever married or not. He is dead too, so I've been told. John was married when I visited sister Mamie in 1920 but I don't know whom he married nor how many children he had. I think sister Mamie died in 1928 or nine."

(b) Quoting from the Bible, "Sarah Gregory Lufburrow, born the 10th of Sept. 1855, one-half past 6 A.M.

(c) Virginia Martha, born the 10th of Sept. 1855, 40 minutes past 6 A.M.

*(d) Stephen Gregory, born the 10th of Sept. 1855, at 7 o'clock A.M." (The only triplets I have found in all of the L. family)

(e) The family Bible does not contain the date of birth of Charles William Lufburrow, born August 8, 1857, died October 10, 1918, nor of Orlando Lufburrow, who died a bachelor on February 9, 1907, at the age of 34 years.

Orlando Harmon Lufburrow, Sr. also married, as his second wife, Mary Harriett Muller, born Aug. 15, 1850 in Columbia, S.C., and died Dec. 29, 1946, the daughter of Washington and Elizabeth Muller, on August 31, 1882. They had 3 children, Caroline Berg, Homer Milton, who died in infancy, and Helen Berg, born October 1, 1888. Helen married Howard McTeer Waldrep, born May 7, 1892, at Cross Anchor, S.C. on Nov. 15, 1922. They have two sons, Howard McTeer, Jr., born in Greer, S.C. on October 12, 1923, and Richard Arthur, born April 25, 1927, in Columbia, S.C. Richard married Erma Kennemore on September 2, 1951. "Mack" finished Newberry College in 1948. He was in the Normandy Invasion in World War II and was seriously wounded and was hospitalized for a long time in Bethesda Hospital. Richard graduated from Wofford College.

The descendants of Sarah Gregory Lufburrow, as given to me by her daughter Anna (Mrs. George Davis) are as follows:

(b) Sarah Gregory Lufburrow, the third child and second daughter of Orlando H. and Laura Lufburrow, was born September 10, 1855, at halfpast 6. She married Henry Oscar Snow, born April 30, 1853, (who died November 26, 1910,) on July 28, 1875, and they had 11 children, as follows:

On lot 344 of Laurel Grove Cemetery in Savannah, Georgia, stands the old family vault of the Lufburrows and in it are interred the remains of Matthew II and his wife Mary Gregory, the records show that she was born in North Carolina, and also the following children:

1. John Clark Lufburrow, the oldest son, who was born August 16, 1820, and died on the 30th day of September, 1833.

* See page 28 .

These three were removed from the old Colonial Cemetery.

4. Orlando Harmon Lufburrow I, Matthew's 5th child and 4th son, and his wife Laura Wray.

The infant children of Charles W., mentioned on page 31, are also interred in said vault. Charles W. and his wife, Marion Gleason, she being born in Massachusetts, Alexis G., Charles's son, and Matthew III, born on October 15, 1850, died December 2, 1872, who married but had no children, are all buried outside of said vault and have suitable markers.

These records also show that Grandma Mary Gregory resided at 174 Liberty St., Savannah, Ga., at the time of her death, and that Uncle Orlando died at Ridgeland, South Carolina, presumably the home of his second wife, Mamie Berg.

Though Matthew II's male descendants were quite prolific, it has been seen that there are now only 3 of his descendants of whom there is a possibility of the family name being carried on:

1. Burley Brown, son of my brother, Burley Matthew.
2. Albert Bullman, son of brother, T.W.
3. Charles Marion, the son of Alexis G., and his son, Robert Patman.

CHAPTER II. LOOFBOURROW.

CHAPTER II. JOHN II'S DESCENDANTS

c. IN NEARLY ALL OF THE MIDWEST STATES, INCLUDING OHIO, MINNESOTA, WISCONSIN, INDIANA, MISSOURI, KANSAS, IOWA, UTAH, IDAHO, ILLINOIS, OKLAHOMA AND ARKANSAS, AND PERHAPS PENNSYLVANIA AND FLORIDA.

B. JOHN II, son of John Loofbourrow I, was born June 6, 1692 (see page 10, supra). He and his seed produced the most prolific crop of L.'s of whom I have any record. All those residing in the above mentioned states trace their ancestry back to John II and, almost without exception, spell their names as it was originally spelled by the immigrant, John I, - LOOFBOURROW. It sometimes has a variance to Loofboro. Before his descendants arrived in Ohio about the year of 1800, in Lafayette County, Pennsylvania and Bedford County, Pennsylvania, it was sometimes called Loveberry by one branch of his descendants. Perhaps the Luffburrys of Pennsylvania & New Jersey may belong to this family, through John II's son, John. Two of his descendants, W. Karl and his brother, Dwight Logan (see page 53, infra) changed it to Loughborough.

John Loofbourrow II was born at Woodbridge, New Jersey, July 6, 1692, and died in Perth Amboy, N.J. in 1749. He left a will giving all his property to his widow, Abigail, daughter of Reverend Nathaniel Wade, first Presbyterian minister of Woodbridge, and left his son, Wade, five shillings.

John II descendants are the only ones in the L. family that I have found, who can claim relationship to Royalty:

"Governor Bradstreet was born in England, 1603. Came to America in 1630 with Governor Winthrop and settled in Andover, first section of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, 1630-1636. He was governor from 1672-1675. He first married Ann Dudley who was the first poetess of note in New England. One of her brothers was later Governor of the Colonies. She died Sept. 16, 1672."

"One daughter of Governor Bradstreet and Ann Dudley was Mersey who married Major Nathaniel Wade. A son of this union married Mary Davenport and their daughter, Abigail Wade married John II."

CHAPTER II

LOOFBOURROW

THE FAMOUS LADY POETESS, JOHN II'S LINE

(Furnished by Mrs. Hazel Puehn)

Part of the poem "Contemplations" said to be finest of Anne Dudley Bradstreet's poems:

"Sometime now past in the autumnal tide,
When Phoebus wanted but hour to bed,
The trees all richly clad, yet void of pride,
Were gilded O'er by his rich golden head.
Their leaves and fruits seemed painted, but was true
of green, of red, of yellow, mixed hue,
Rapt were my senses at this delectable view
I wist not what to wish, yet sure, thought I
If so much excellence abide below,
How excellent is He that dwells on high,
Whose power and beauty by His works we know,
Sure He is goodness, wisdom, glory, light,
That hath this underworld so rightly sight,
More Heaven than Earth was her, no winter & no night.

Ross Loughborough states that John II's children were Wade, John III, Elizabeth and probably Abigail who married John Flannery in 1749. (We have no data on the last 3 children).

W.C. Loofbourrow* Attorney, at American Falls, Idaho, on March 30, 1929, furnished me with the skeleton written by U.S. & Solon L. around which the whole of John II's descendants have given has been compiled.

January 11, 1922.

The following is a copy of a record begun by U.S. Loofbourrow, Sept. 6, 1896, as given him by his father, John Loofbourrow, additions being made from time to time by others, (This compiler, has added a great deal of the data lately furnished him by others. Special credit is given to Mrs. Puehn for her untiring efforts in many of these additions, especially Jacob's line.)

Genealogy, so far as known, as given Sept. 6, 1896, by John Loofbourrow.

Wade, son of John Loofbourrow II, was a cooper by trade, moved from Amboy, N.J. to Harrison Co., Va., where he died, previous to the Revolutionary War. He left three sons so far as known; they were (1) Johnathan, (2) John Wade, and (3) David.

(3) David moved to Pennsylvania and settled near Red Stone, since which event we have no record. (See W. Karl Loughborough's line, infra page 51; also Wade H. Loofbourrow's line, infra, page 50).

(1) Johnathan was married and moved to Ohio. He had by this marriage one daughter, Eliza, who married William Fulton, and five sons as follows:

* Page 45.

LOOFBOURROW

1st. Ebenezer, who went to Texas and was never heard from.

2nd. Wade, who became an attorney and was prominent in Fayette Co. He made a journey to England, and attended school for a time there.

3rd. Nestor, who was employed on aboard a boat on the Ohio River, where he was killed, He had no family.

4th. Samuel, married but had no children. Lived at Washington C.H., Ohio.

5th. William lived east of Columbus and raised a family. He probably had a son William, who in turn had a son William, who is at present an employee in a Railroad Office at Kansas City, and a son, Charles H., who was in the employ of the C.H. & D. R.R. office and disappeared mysteriously from that place in 1891, but we afterward heard was in Wellington, Ohio.

Johnathan, son of Wade, married a second time when 66 years of years of age a girl of 14, Barbara Sherg (Sherrick?) on May 19, 1819. They raised five or six children, but we know nothing of them. Johnathan died near Somerset, Ohio. His will was probated March 8, 1837, Vol. B, page 66, Perry Co., Ohio. "Children may have been George and Jacob for whom guardians were appointed in same court in 1845 and 1853." Mrs. Puehn furnished the quotes.

(2) John Wade Loofbourrow,* born April 28, 1748 (others say 1746 at Perth Amboy), married Mary Haff, June 17, 1764, born September 10, 1750. He died April 14, 1824. She died April 15, 1814. They raised four daughters and eight sons. Seven sons married and raised families. William died in early manhood. The first 6 children were born in New Jersey, the others were born in Harrison Co., Virginia. Both John Wade and Mary died in Pickaway Co., Ohio. John Wade left a will and his estate was settled in 1825. See more about John Wade, Page 49.

The girls all married. Two, Abigail and Sallie, married Samuel and John Harbert respectively. Mary and Rebecca married Thomas and Elijah Berkeley. No record on Mary. All raised families. (Mrs. Puehn has line of one daughter of Abigail).

Their children were:

- A. Abigail was born, April 12, 1766 (at Perth Amboy md. Harrison Co. Va. now West Va. 1788 to Samuel Harbert). No more data on A-C or E.
- B. Jacob was born May 19, 1771 (md. (1) Mary Davis, and had two sons and six or eight daughters by his first marriage, md. a second time.)
- C. Sarah was born, July 17, 1773 (md. Harrison Co. Va. now West Va., 1789 John Harbert.)
- D. Rebecca was born, Jan. 10, 1776 (md. Harrison Co. Va. 1795 Elijah Barkley).
- E. David was born, Sept. 2, 1780 and died Aug. 16, 1803.
- F. John was born, Mar. 22, 1783 (md. (1) Lydia Brown, (2) Mrs. Harriet Monroe (3) Mrs. Rebecca Lamb Kirkpatrick.

B. Jacob Loofbourrow or (Loofboro), was born May 19, 1771 in New Jersey, a son of John Wade Loofbourrow and Mary Haff. md. Mary Davis in Virginia about 1790-93. Jacob moved to Ohio and record is found of him in 1819 in what is now Green Co., Ohio. Wade also known as (Davis) preceded him to Green Co. about the year 1803. Jacob had 2 sons and six or eight daughters by his first marriage to Mary Davis. When Mary died or where Jacob located after 1819 I have been unable to learn. (He married a second time and raised another family unknown, according to the sketch of the family, written by John Wade Loofbourrow a descendant of Wade, brother of Jacob. See p. 34.)

Parcial list of children by Mary Davis.

- 1. Davis Loofbourrow born Harrison Co. Va. 11 June 1794, (1860 Census of Bloomfield township, Clinton Co. Iowa shows the name Loofborough, age 65), died Feb. 15, 1875 Welton Twsp. Clinton Co. Iowa. - 2. Rebecca Loofboro, md. William Babcock as his second wife. He was born Jan. 26, 1789 and died Oct. 11, 1847, a son of Thomas Babcock and Martha Davis. I am of the opinion that these two are buried in Loofbourrow Cem. at Jay Co., Ind. There were gravestones by these names but the dates were illegible in 1952 when Mrs. Fuehn visited there, and she wrote this data.
- 3. John Loofourrow or Loofboro, md. (2) Rebecca Howell, daughter of Johnathan Howell and Elizabeth Maxson, sister to Mary Maxson, wife of Davis. L. (This is probably Mrs. Fuehn's line.)

The information on this page was furnished me during 1952-53, by Dr. E.B. Loofboro of Janesville, Wisconsin, who, while visiting his daughter, Norma, in Tampa, Fla. in 1952 saw my name in the paper and called my office. He is 76 years old and has been practising dentistry for over a half century. He certainly is spry and young for his age of 76. It will also be noted that he is the youngest of his four living brothers and one living sister, the oldest of whom is now 90 years old, and all of whom, I am informed, are spry for their ages. He tells me that the spelling of his family name was changed to "Loofboro" by his father and his father's two brothers above named, and therefore all of the sons and children of John Wade Loofboro and his two brothers spell the name "Loofboro". The Dr. and I had several enjoyable fishing trips together in my boat. Norma Dobson, his daughter, is quite a noted musician.

Sarah Hurley's son, John, born Aug. 31, 1854, married Aug. 5, 1876, Athalia A. Van Horn, daughter of A. and Amaranda (Loofboro) Van Horn."

3. John Loofbourrow (no more data than is given) md. perhaps three times. Second marriage, Rebecca Howell, daughter of Jonathan Howell and Elizabeth Maxson, a sister of Mary Maxson, who married Davis L., brother of said John. After many years of search, Mrs. Puehn thinks this is her line. Her great grandmother, Clara A. Loofbourrow (Loofbrough) was born ac. 1833, md. John Charles Hubbard, b. Sept. 18, 1827 in Sussex Co., N.J. He died 1864, Green Co., Ohio. She died Sept. 29, 1860 in Hardin Co., Ohio (?). Clara's aunt, Elemeda Lovebery (Loofbourrow), raised her. Elemeda md. Eli Spahr in Green Co., Ohio. He moved to Jay Co., Ind. According to 1860 Census, Green Co., Ohio, Clara had a brother, spelled therein Jacob Luffberg. So if any one knows anything about Clara, Elemeda or Jacob, please write Mrs. Puehn. See page 1 for her address. Clara had at least Madora Charlotte Hubbard, b. 7 Nov. 1853, Hardin Co., Ohio (?), d. 13 Jan. 1928 at Muncie, Ind. Madora md. Dr. Elias Mayo, Dec. 21, 1871 Jay Co., Ind. Hazel Orcutt md. a 2nd time Carl Puehn. No children by him. She has the Orcutt line back on both and all sides for seven generations, and the Orcutt line back to 1040 to Duncan, King of Scotland, an ancestor of David, Earl of Huntingdon, where it joins in the Wade line. See page 33. Mrs. Puehn is a professional genealogist.

Mrs. Puehn's mother's sister (I do not know her name) married Louis Alonzo Jordan, son of Seward Webster Jordan and Emma Reese, in 1925. David Star Jordan descends from this line. See page 33. I understand he was a noted professor in the University of Southern California. Mrs. Puehn's mother was her father's second wife and her mother was the 3rd of ten children.

Mrs. Puehn was State Supervisor on the Historic Records Survey of the State of Indiana with eight counties under her supervision. She supervised, edited and arranged 7 volumes of printed material. She has a letter of commendation from Dr. Luther H. Evans, National Archivist.

CHAPTER II

LOOFBOURROW - LOOFBORO

5. Mary Loofboro, married Daniel Brown. We have no more data.

F. Dr. John Wade,* son of John Wade and Mary Haff, who was born March 23, 1783, and died March 18, 1859, married Lydia Brown as his first wife in Virginia in 1820 and moved to Delaware Co., Ohio. They had 3 daughters but their names are unknown. One lived to become an adult. By his second wife, Mrs. Harriet Monroe, who was born March 31, 1798, and whom he married on January 18, 1831 in Delaware County, Ohio, they had one son, John Loofbourrow, born October 24, 1832. We do not have his line any further. For his third wife, he married Mrs. Rebekah Lamb Kirkpatrick, born July 24, 1816, whose former husband was Richard Henry Kirkpatrick, by whom she raised one son. Dr. John Wade, who left Ohio about 1835 on horseback for Mineral Point, Iowa County, Wisconsin, and Rebekah had the following children, all born in Wisconsin:

- (1) John Wade L., born May 29, 1836, died Sept. 12, 1838.

- (10) John Wilson L., born March 31, 1858, and is now deceased, 1922.

(Compiler has no more data on 1-10, except on Arthur B. Loofbourrow, a descendant of one of the above males, but feels sure a great many descendants live in Wisconsin. After acquired, data, if any, will be placed in Supplement. See story by Rebeckah, wife of Dr. John Wade, about pioneer days, Supp. pp. 4,5,6.)

G. Benjamin Wilson, son of John Wade Loofbourrow and Mary Haff, born May 19, 1786, in Virginia (others say Bedford Co., Penn.). Brown Thurston, author of "Thurston Genealogies", connects this family with the Loofbourrows through Charlotte, daughter of Benjamin Wilson. This author goes back to John I with her line. I differ with him about John I being born in Scotland; that Lord L. was a progenitor of our family; that Lord L's name was changed to Wedderburn - exactly the opposite is true; that John moved to Middletown, N. J.; that he died in Oct. 1722; that he had a son, Matthew (should be Nathan). He evidently copied it from an abstract of this Will, which had made this error so prevalent. See supra, pages 1-6. It is excellently written and gives lots of details about family life. I have a copy of it only down through Charlotte and her children (Thurstons), not enough to show which one was his ancestor. But see his book. Benjamin Wilson married, first, Mary Fryback and later, on June 5, 1823, Mary Hall. The children of Benjamin and Mary Fryback were as follows:

1. Charlotte, born 1809, married 1826 Joseph Thurston; she died Feb. 21, 1884. The following account and list of children of Charlotte was furnished me: Charlotte Loofbourrow was the daughter of Benjamin Wilson and Mary Fryback Loofbourrow. She was born in Pickaway County, Ohio, July 25, 1809. The Delaware Co. History states that she lived with her father on the Thurston farm. After the death of her parents she was sent to live with her uncle John Loofbourrow, but soon after married Joseph Thurston who was the son of Daniel Greene and Frances (Thayer) Thurston. (See "Thurston and "Thayer" Genealogies) They were married at the home of her uncle Feb. 9, 1826 when she was only sixteen. The young couple settled in their own cabin on the West bank of Alum Creek, Delaware County, Ohio where they soon had a large and prosperous farm cultivated. They lived on this farm most of their lives. In 1850 they moved to Delaware while their eldest children were attending school there, but later moved back to the farm. In 1868, finding farm life too exacting for their advanced ages they sold their property and went to Argyle, Wisconsin where they made their home with their eldest son Wilson Benjamin, who was a physician there. They celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1876 and she died eight years later on February 21, 1884 aged 75 years. Her husband survived her only fourteen months.

Children: Wilson Benjamin, born Sept. 13, 1827, married Rachel Dyer, died May 21, 1900; Alfred Lorain, born Sept 25, 1829, married (1) Amelia Vickers (2) Mrs. Eliza Fenton; died Nov. 19, 1915; Frances Maria, born Oct. 29, 1831 married Augustus Pomeroy Kerr; died Sept. 9, 1883; John Loofbourrow, born May 2, 1834, married Elizabeth Williams, died Oct. 3, 1900; Elmore Monroe, born Dec. 20, 1836, married Mary Ann Johnson, died Feb. 12, 1865; Mary Louisa, born Aug. 6, 1839, married Albert Olds, died May 20, 1915; Jerusha Ann, born Dec. 4, 1841 married Samuel Morrell Dyer, died June 4, 1877; Lucretia Cornelia born June 6, 1844, married Franklin G. Wyman, died ---; Joanna Adelpha born Jan. 11, 1846 married Eugene Alson Benton, M.D.; Clara Elnora born Nov. 27, 1850 married Louis Weddington. These lines may be continued in Thurstons Genealogies supra.

2. John Wade Loofbourrow, born Sept. 8, 1815 Pickaway Co., Ohio died Sept. 30, 1865, reported as a result of injuries received in Civil War. Married Mary Plumb, Dec. 16, 1838; She was born Oct. 1, 1819, Berkshire, Delaware Co., Ohio, a daughter of Icabod Plumb and Cathrine Hinsdale (Plumb Gen. 1635-1800). Mary died Jan. 1905 in Calif. John was a Millwright and owned quite a lot of property in Knox Co. Ohio according to the 1860 census records. He died in Knox Co. Ohio. Mary Plumb was the 18th child and 2nd. daughter of 11 children. (Data on John W's family furnished by Mrs. Puehn). Their children were:

a. Harriet Loofbourrow, born 1840, Berkshire Co. Ohio, married April 22, 1858, John B. Mc Grew, whose children are, Franklin S.: Mary, md. Feb. 12, 1885, Hiram E. Moore: James: Helen: Arthur, born July 25, 1870 in Helena Mont.

The last four were born in Ohio. He married a second time and died near London, in Madison Co., Ohio. Judson married Alice Krath, moved to Adams Co., Ind., but sold out and went back to Madison Co., Ohio, and again from there to Missouri, where he was said to have joined Quantrell's Rebel Band of Guerrillas. After the war he returned to Ohio, but was driven away by prejudice on account of his war record. He became a Baptist preacher and went to Kansas, where our record of him stops. James, his brother married and raised three children, Otho, Johile and one daughter, whose name I do not know. Otho married his cousin, the granddaughter of Nathan and Hannah, and raised two daughters and a son, Milton Floyd. He became Commissioner of Madison Co., Ohio. Johile, was almost a total wreck by liquor and of no consequence.

K. Nathan (See page 36) who was born December 21, 1794, and died October 26, 1863 in Madison County, Ohio, married Hannah Pancoast on April 13, 1815. They had 6 daughters and 2 sons, as follows: (1) Leban, born July 27, 1816 in Fayette Co., Ohio, married Elizabeth Alkire, daughter of Benjamin and Hannah Halsted Alkire, in 1837. She died in 1879. They had 1 son, Madison, who married twice. I do not know the name of his first wife, who was obviously the mother of his children. He married her in 1864 and they had the following children: Frank Lee, 1865; Leban Van, 1867; Don Juan, 1868; Nellie, 1871; Lucy, 1872; Charles, 1874, and two other children who died young. He had a second wife by the name of Christian Beatty whom he married in 1879. (2) Lamuel Pancoast, the brother of Leban, born May 14, 1818, married in 1838, Elizabeth Graham, daughter of John and Lydia Alkire Graham of Ky. They had 10 children, 5 daughters and 5 sons. The sons were: 1845, John Graham; 1847, Nathan; 1849, Alvan E; 1853, Solon; 1861, Lamuel P. Solon was sheriff of Fayette County. (3) Sophronia, born in 1820, married Harrison Graham. (4) Amanda, born in 1821, married William Hall and lived in Red Oak, Iowa. (5) Naomi, born in 1822 in Ohio. (6) Cecelia was born in 1824 in Ohio. (7) Pamela, born in 1827 in Ohio, married James S. Webster in 1845 in Darke County, Ohio, and then moved to Texas after her marriage. (8) Mary, born about the year 1829 in Ohio, married Benjamin Thomas.

Miss Stella Miller of Mt. Sterling, Ohio, now deceased, in 1930 wrote me that she had a brother-in-law, without giving his name, who was the grandson of Nathan and Hannah Pancoast Loofbourrow, and that the brother-in-law died young, leaving three small children.

About John Wade, second son of Wade, son of John II, Miss Miller, from a history of Madison, Pickaway and Fayette Counties, Ohio, writes as follows:

"John Wade Loofbourrow served in the Revolutionary War in Capt. James Young's Company, 8th Battalion, commanded by Col. Abraham Smith 1779. Fifth Class Raw Recruits - Cumberland Co. Pennsylvania, Page 549, Series V, Pennsylvania Archives.

John Wade Loofbourrow was a Baptist minister. He organized the first religious organization in Madison Township, Fayette County, in 1813. A Baptist Church Census of 1790 gives John Wade Loveberry, head of a family in Harrison Co., Virginia. David Loveberry (Loofburrow) in U.S. Census, see page 18 in Fayette Co., Pennsylvania. Wade Loveberry in Bedford Co., Pennsylvania. John Wade called himself Loveberry, so some of his grandchildren say.

Four of John Wade's sons served in 1812 from Ohio. They came to Ohio in 1803. Benjamin, Ebenezer, Nathan in Capt. Christian Brotherlan's Company Infantry. John in Capt. Elias Murry's Co. Cavalry."

"My brother-in-law was a great grandson of Nathan and Hannah Pancoast Loofbourrow. I have all the family of Nathan."

Mrs. Kline L. Roberts, nee Julia Loughborough, who lived in 1930 in Columbus, Ohio, but whose letter was returned to me in 1952, writes that she "descended from John (IV), Wade L. (Wade III), John (II) and John I," and that there was a Lovebury living in Columbus who thought he was a descendant of Johnathan. She did not give me his first name.

(3) LINE OF DAVID, 3rd SON OF WADE, SON OF JOHN II, SEE P. 34.

The following information was furnished me by Wade H. Loofbourrow, Attorney, Buffalo, Oklahoma, in his letter of September 27, 1930, relative to David Loofbourrow, son of Wade, son of John II, and his children by Amy Gaskill: Some information gathered from others has been added. All data compiler has, is given.

According to information furnished by the Bureau of Pensions, Department of the Interior, David Loofbourrow was born in Hunterdon County, New Jersey, March 2nd, 1755 and enlisted as a private in the Colonial Army of the Revolution in May 1776. He engaged in the battles of Long Island and Scotch Plains. His claim for a pension was allowed in October, 1832, when he was living in Fayette County, Pa., and he is referred to as the Rev. David Loofbourrow. His last pension was paid to David Loofbourrow, Jr. (said David Loofbourrow being a son of Wade Loofbourrow by his second wife and a grandson of David, the soldier.) The last payment of pension was forty dollars and made March 4th, 1846.

David Loofbourrow, born March 2nd, 1755 and died in 1846, married 1st. Amy Gaskill on Nov. 29, 1779, in Burlington Co. (Vol. XXII Marriage Book, page 243) and they had the following children:

1. Wade H. Loofbourrow*, born July 13th, 1785, died in the year 1852, married Mary Pancoast, born March 2nd, 1794, died May 1, 1825. Married May 15, 1810. 2. Samuel Loofbourrow, (No data on 2 thru 5). 3. Ebenezer Loofbourrow. 4. Rhoda Loofbourrow. 5. Eliza Loofbourrow.

1. Of the union of Wade Loofbourrow and Mary Pancoast, a son, Orlando, Loofbourrow was born on March 28, 1814, and died October 19, 1882.

Orlando Loofbourrow married on Nov. 21, 1838, Francis Dulaney, born Nov. 28, 1821, and died September 29, 1880, and of such union the following children were born:

(a) Wade Hampton Loofbourrow, born Oct. 1, 1839, died April 14, 1883.
(b) William Jackson Loofbourrow, born Feb. 23, 1842, died Nov. 22, 1888.

* Wade H. was a noted Judge and Attorney at Washington Court House, Ohio.

(c) Orlando Loofbourrow, born Jan. 29, 1845, at Washington Court House Ohio, (was living at Beaver Oklahoma) married Sarah T. Wilson. Of this union a son, Robert Hale Loofbourrow was born on Jan. 29, 1873. He married Bertha Groves and their sons are:

(1) *Wade Harold Loofbourrow, born March 18, 1898, married Edith Miles. (address, Buffalo, Oklahoma). Their children were: (a) Marilyn Loofbourrow, born August 29, 1922. (b) Robert Hale Loofbourrow, born June 11, 1924.

(e) Georgianna Loofbourrow, born Sept. 16, 1850 (deceased).

(f) Francis Jane Loofbourrow, born Sept. 19, 1856, died Oct. 6, 1882, married Oscar McMahan.

The said Wade Loofbourrow appears to have married twice and the children of his second marriage were: Mary Louise, David T., Margaret Mahew, and Emma C.

(3) David's (p.34) Descendants By His 2nd. Wife.

The following information was furnished me as to the ancestry of W. Karl Loughborough, formerly Loofbourrow, by his wife, Myrtle, and it will be noted that his line comes through David, the third son of Wade Loofbourrow, who moved from Perth Amboy, New Jersey:

David Loughborough or Loofbourrow, son of Wade, was born in Hunterdon Colony, New Jersey, March 2, 1755. He first married Amy Gaskill Nov. 29, 1779 (N.J. Archives, Vol. XXII, Page 243) and they had five children. (See also Wade H. Loofbourrow's line, infra, page 45.)

By his second wife, Katheryn Rittenhouse, he had - William, David, and Nester. He was a Baptist Minister, sometimes referred to as Dr. He preached in several places. From the history of Burlington and Mercer County, New Jersey, page 49:

"Reverend David Loofbourrow was ordained pastor of the Perberton Baptist Church by Dr. Samuel Jones, March 25, 1781."

One entry on the records of the big Red Stone Church reads, "The Church of Big Red Stone was constituted May 1, 1791, by Reverend David Loofbourrow."

William Rittenhouse was Deacon and Recorder. A list of members received in the Flatwoods Baptist Church, Uniontown, Penn., in 1842, include David Rittenhouse, James Rittenhouse, James Shanks and David Loofbourrow (probably Reverend David's son who married Jane Shanks).

* Wade H. is a noted Attorney at Beaver Oklahoma, but think he is now (1952) dead. Name not in 1952 Legal Directory, but is listed as above in 1950 Sigma Chi Directory. He furnished this data.  He is a Sigma Chi from U. of Okla. deceased in 1950.  Hale Johnson was a noted lawyer and ran for Vice President of U.S. on Prohibition ticket.

Reverend David preached in Georges Township, Philip Rogers Farms, riding and carrying his gun. At Mount Masiah Baptist Church he was their fifth pastor in the year 1787. He also preached in Crest Bethal Church, Uniontown, Pennsylvania, and continued to preach there until October 5, 1793, when he resigned to return to New Jersey. About this time, whether in Penn. or New Jersey, he married Katheryn Rittenhouse. She was related to David Rittenhouse, the astronomer for whom there is a memorial in Philadelphia. At the time of Katheryn's marriage, this David was taking an active part in politics. He was a Jefferson Republican. The Rittenhouse Square in Philadelphia was named for this family.

A REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER (Also John Wade, p. 49)

Reverend David served in the Revolutionary War. According to the Bureau of pensions, he enlisted as a private in June, 1776, for six months under Capt. Sealy, Col. Martin's regiment, New Jersey Troops. At the end of that period, he re-enlisted for three months under Capt. Seward and again for three months under Capt. Cook. That seemed to have been the common procedure as it gave the young soldiers a chance to go home and help with the farm work.

He enlisted also in Morris County and took part in the battle of Long Island, Scotch Plains and others. He was living in Fayette Colony, Penn. when he applied for a pension October 26, 1832. He died in 1848*at the age of 93, the last pension being acknowledged by David Loofbourrow, Jr., who was administrator of his estate. He was buried in Springhill Township, Fayette Colony, Pennsylvania.

David II was born in Pennsylvania, January 4, 1799, and died May 5, 1876 in Ohio. He married Jane Shanks, who was born in Penn., October 8, 1800 and died January 18, 1882, at Van Buren Colony, Iowa.

Abner Rittenhouse Loofbourrow, born in Fayette Colony, Penn., January 3, 1829. In 1852 he married Mary Jane Karr. In 1854 they moved to Iowa and settled on a farm in Jasper County, near Newton. He sold his farm here in 1869 and the family moved to Humboldt, Richardson County, Nebraska, and later went to Peru, Nebraska, where the children attended the Nebraska State Normal School. Mary Jane was the mother of all his children but she died June 2, 1889. Abner lived some 20 years longer and was married twice more. Their children were:

William Karr, born in Ohio, April 28, 1853. Wade, born in Iowa, 1856, died in Nebraska, 1891. His wife is Mrs. Susie Spangler of Lincoln. Mary, wife of N.K. Wagner, had four sons and two daughters. Their home was in Eureka, Calif. She died when the boys were young. Lillian married Newton. Died at 30 years of age. Thadous, Doctor---practised in Eureka, Calif. for many years. He was a graduate of Rush Medical School. He left five daughters.

William Karr Loofbourrow, born April 28, 1853, and died May 26, 1940, attended the county schools until he entered the Iowa College at Grennell - from this school he recieved the Sargent Medal for the highest scholarship. At the age of 16, he taught his first term at Hillsboro, Iowa. From there on, he taught school and attended school and assisted his father on the farm during vacation. While in attendance at the State Normal School at Peru, Nebraska, he united with the Methodist Church. This was in 1874. In the year of 1875 he was licensed as exhorter. He graduated from the State Normal in 1876. A year later he md. Ella May Logan on her graduating day, June 14, 1877. Throughout much of his life he combined teaching and preaching. In 1879 he was granted admission on trial to preach. He was ordained deacon in 1883. In 1884 he was appointed to Sterling, Neb. Here his wife, Ella, passed away, July,7, 1884, leaving 3 ch. They were:

(I located Karl through one of his articles on "Seasoning With Chemicals" sent to me by my brother, Burley Matthew. It was my pleasure to meet him and his good wife in their home at Winter Haven, Florida. He is truly one of the great scientists of our family, holding several U. S. citations for his work along the above lines. He and his two sons are listed in the book "Men of Science". There also appears in the 1944 issue of this book the name of John Robert Loofbourrow, professor of Biophysics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass. He received an A.B. degree from Cincinnati University in 1903. I have not been able to locate him. Also Joseph McVicker Hunt, son of Carrie Loofbourrow Hunt, see supra. Karl and Myrtle and Dr. E.B. Loofboro and wife, Esther, were guests at our house Feb. 9, 1953, Gasparilla Day.)

ANCILLARY HAPPENINGS TO 1953 ROSE BOWL GAME

Believe it or not. Karl and Myrtle Loughborough's son, Dwight Logan, graduated at U of Wisconsin, and their son, Sheldon Riley, graduated at the U of Southern California. On January 1, 1953, at the progenitor of all Bowls - the Rose Bowl - the football teams of these two great universities met to decide the championship for that year. In the rooting section of the U of Wisconsin sat Dwight Logan; of the U of Southern California sat Sheldon Riley. Far across the continent, over mountains, desert, plains, the mighty Mississippi, the blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico, the habitat of the King of all game fish - the silver tarpon - on over the warm lapping waves of the waters of the Gulf, kissing the shores of the world's winter land of sunshine - FLORIDA - on over TAMPA, the metropolis of the West coast, home of the world's largest hand made cigars, the locale of the GASPARILLA PARADE, the world's largest attended event (over 600,000 each year witness this gorgeous show of over 60 floats decorated in every color of the rainbow, adorned with some of the most beautiful women in the world - blondes, brunettes, red heads and Latin Senoritas - who are attired in gowns of every hue, embellished with others almost unattired in what the modern world now calls a bathing suit, with figures more invigorating and faces more beautiful "ne'er has it been my lot to meet", and 40 bands representing Universities, high schools, all branches of the Armed Forces, from far and near --- yes, on over Plant City, the largest winter strawberry center in the world, over vast cattle ranches and acres and acres of orange groves laden with golden-ripe fruit, and finally to Winter Haven, the city nestled among 100 lakes, - in their living room with their radio turned in on this game, sat Karl and Myrtle. Karl, since he worked so hard and long in scientific research at the U of Wisconsin, naturally rooted for Wisconsin; Myrtle took sides with Sheldon Riley - U of Southern California. I wonder if, in the excitement of the game and their interest therein, each did not imagine, as they heard the cheering, that they heard and recognized the voices of their sons. I do not think when the game was over Myrtle razed Karl, but that both only wished they could have been there to see their sons, so far away. I am sure Karl, his sons, Sheldon and Dwight, were thankful to their fellow scientist for their contribution in bringing it in over the radio.

CHAPTER II

LOOFBOURROW - LOUGHBOROUGH

The father of Myrtle, Karl's wife, was Adam Riley, born about 1853, married Elizabeth McCaskill, born in Giles Co., Tennessee, about 1852. Myrtle has carried the McCaskill line back to Scotland, Isle of Skye. A James McCaskill migrated to North Carolina about the year 1791.

Karl, since his retirement, has turned Churchillian and has gone to painting. He also writes technical articles for magazines on wood and wood products, curing of the same, and it is said that some of his methods are now used in all wood in Army and Navy planes.

Dr. E. B. Loofboro, the dentist, and his wife, Esther, have been spending the winters in Florida for many years past. Esther tells me that although he is past 76 years he usually has his calendar full of patients from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

I only wish that I had known personally other members of the family as well as I know Dr. E. B., Karl and Edith Mulford, then I would have had other interesting anecdotes about them and their families.

End of John II's Line

C. NATHAN'S DECENDANTS (THIRD SON OF JOHN I)

This is the line to which ROSS* (Rossington) Loughborough belongs. I only wish he had lived to write this history, as he lived so long and corresponded with so many of the family. He too had trouble in connecting his line with John I, on account of the name NATHAN, being transcribed in so many records as MATTHEW.

The data below was furnished me by his daughter Irene, now Mrs. E. O. Salmon of Amherst, Mass., copied from a graph compiled by him and his father.

Nathan Loofbourrow, son of John I and Hannah (Bunn) Loofbourrow was born, January 23, 1706 at Middletown* New Jersey. He married Catherine Van Gallen, who died in the year of 1789. The following children were born to their marriage: 1. Nathaniel, (2) (James F. of Little Rock, Arkansas line) 2. Hannah (2) (m Robert Quenstine) (Mrs. Mulford who saw her Will at Trenton says Marriage Record shows "Iseltine" so shown April 17, 1756, Marriage Record.) 3. Nathan (2) 4. Elias (1) 5. John (3) 6. Thomas (2)

The above children were named in this same order in their mother's will.

Elias Loofbourrow, son of Nathan (1) and Cathrine Loofbourrow was born at Woodbridge, New Jersey and married Margaret Shanks on July 15, 1766 (Volume XXII Marriage Book, Page 243). Their children were: 1. Nathan (3) born Feb. 21, 1767 and married Sarah Morford June 2, 1791. He died July 17, 1854. 2. John (4) 3. Mary (2) (Aunt Polly) Married John Kerr and moved to Ira, Cayuga County, New York, probably died there.

Nathan (3) Loofbourrow was the son of Elias and Margaret (Shanks) Loofbourrow, and was born Feb. 21, 1767, at Woodbridge, New Jersey. His house was on the Victor E. Bloomfield Town Line Road in East Bloomfield. He died July 17, 1854 at Victor, New York, and is buried at Victor, New York, in the Methodist Church Cemetery. During his life he resided at Woodbridge, Cranberry and Tuckerton, New Jersey and Albany and Victor, N.Y. He was a farmer and a carpenter, and served as a Lieutenant under Capt. Ezekiel Pierce, 3rd, Regiment of Infantry from Middlesex County, New Jersey, September 12, 1794 and December 24, 1794 was engaged in putting down the "Whiskey Rebellion."

He married Sarah Morford on June 2, 1791 at Cranberry, New Jersey. She was the daughter of Thomas and Ester (Bowne) Morford, and was born August 7, 1772 at Cranberry, New Jersey, she died Sept. 28, 1849 at Victor, N.Y. and is buried in the Victor Methodist Church Cemetery. Their children were as follows:

1. John Fletcher born in Cranberry, New Jersey, April 2, 1792.
2. Zebulan was born to this marriage March 14, 1794 at Cranberry, New Jersey, died March 26, 1798, Tuckerton, New Jersey.
3. Elias was born Feb. 22, 1796 in Cranberry and died December 18, 1853 in Victor, New York.
4. David was born Sept. 26, 1797 in Tuckerton.
5. Margaretta was born July 2, 1799 at Tuckerton, N.J. and died Oct. 9, 1872 at St. Peter, Minn. She is buried in the Methodist Cemetery at Victor, New York. She married Miles Carter at Victor, N.Y., on May 5, 1822, by Rev. Rueben A. Aylworth. They had a son, "Captain" Carter (Civil War), died after 1905. There were probably other children.

I. Descendants of Nathaniel, first son of Nathan Loofbourrow, son of John I and Hannah Bunn (see p. 55).

Nathaniel married Isabel Fitz Randolph of Woodbridge, N.J. before 1775. They had at least one child, a son, Thomas Van Gallen, who was born ac. 1775, probably named for his grandmother, Catherine Van Gallen, wife of his grandfather, Nathan. We have no record of his death or marriage, but he had, so far as is known, the following children: 1. John Samuel, and John Samuel spelled it "Loughborough", who was a Land Agent for Illinois and Missouri, and Surveyor General, Illinois territory, before the Civil War. It is said that he went from Kentucky to St. Louis. How the family got to Kentucky, or where they came from, is not known. 2. Preston. 3. Harrison. 4. Charles. 5. Elizabeth. 6. Isabel. Nothing further is known in regard to Harrison, Charles, Elizabeth or Isabel, but Preston was an attorney and afterwards went with the U.S. Post Office Department in Washington, D. C. and is known as the founder of what is now the Post Office Inspection Service. It is said that James A. Farley, Postmaster General, sent postal inspectors to Lexington, Kentucky to look up the Loughborough family. Their report was ordered mimeographed by the Honorable James A. Farley, who also had a photograph of Preston Loughborough made. I have written to the U.S. Postmaster General in Washington attempting to get a copy of the said mimeograph of Preston's family, but have had no reply thereto. I feel reasonably sure from other evidence in my files that his descendants, and perhaps some of the descendants of his other brothers live in Kentucky, and perhaps at Lexington, but I have been unable to find any of them.

A. Who John Samuel married, or when he died, or how many children he had except the child next mentioned is not known. He had at least one child:

1. James Moore Loughborough, who some say was an attorney, but the James Moore hereinafter mentioned says he was a real estate man, but Appleton's Cyclopaedia, Vol. LOD-PIC, p. 33, says he was a lawyer and gives the following data as to his birth, death and marriage:

James Moore, Sr. was born Nov. 2, 1833, near Shelbyville, Kentucky, or Frankfort, Kentucky, died Little Rock, Ark. 1876. He married Mary Webster, born in New York City Aug. 7, 1836. She died in Little Rock, Ark. in 1887. He died at the same place on Aug. 27, 1887. James Moore Loughborough, infra, says a painting of him now hangs in the State House in Little Rock, Ark. He was made Land Commissioner with headquarters at Little Rock.

The children of James Moore and Mary Webster were: (a) James Fairfax Loughborough, b. in Little Rock, Ark. September 17, 1873. He died ac. 1944 at Little Rock, Ark. He was quite a noted lawyer of that city and it is reported that he is in "Who's Who". He was a legal authority on validation of Bond Issues and one of the most prominent attorneys in the State of Arkansas. He married Louise Wright of Little Rock, Ark., a member of an old Southern family still living at the old home in Little Rock, Ark. on Kavanaugh Boulevard. In 1952 she was still living and has made a name for herself in the management of the restoration of the old capitol of Arkansas Territory, being the building in which her own grandfather had helped draft the State Constitution of Arkansas.

Karl Loughborough, of Winter Haven, Fla., sent me a long article clipped from some paper entitled, "Fresh From the Hills" by Marge of Sunrise Mountain Farm, telling of her work on said restoration. No issue born of the marriage of James Fairfax and Louise Wright. (b) Jean, daughter of James Moore and Mary Webster, married Frank Middleton Douglas of the R. G. Dun family. She was one of the Board of Lady Managers of the Chicago World's Fair in 1892. James M. Moore, Jr., infra, furnishes this data as well as all data on his sister, Hope, and himself. (c) A daughter, Hope, for whom the town Hope, Arkansas was named. (Loughborough Avenue in St. Louis was named after John Samuel, supra.) She died during World War I while James, Jr. was on the front line in France. (d) James Moore, Jr., who is now (1953) in the editorial department of the Baltimore Sunday American, who says he is four years younger than Fairfax, supra, and he was christened "Noble St. James Loughborough" but he afterwards took the name of his father, James Moore Loughborough. His life has been mostly devoted to newspaper work, beginning on the old St. Louis Republic, then on the St. Louis Globe Democrat, and afterwards on the St. Louis Post Dispatch. From St. Louis he went to Chicago and worked there on the Chicago Daily News and was Sunday Editor of the now defunct Chicago Inter-Ocean. He was also connected with the New York Evening World and Evening Journal, but has for the past 14 years been with the Baltimore Sunday American. He was Captain in the Infantry, USA, World War I. He reports finding in 1933, in a Colonial library, a history of the Loughborough family, one branch being Catholic and the other being Protestant, and who apparently settled in Virginia in the Colonial days.

I have been unable to check this history. In 1923 he married Ethel Morrison of New York City. She died on Thanksgiving Day of 1952. They had no children. Space here, like so many other lines, does not permit me to add in detail all the data I have obtained. This line, therefore, unless Preston, Harrison, Charles, Elizabeth and Isabel, supra, have descendants, is going to pass out.

Ross and I agreed with James Fairfax in 1930 that James Fairfax was a descendant of Nathaniel, the son of Nathan, supra, through his son, Thomas Van Gallen.

John Lovell Loughborough, b. Nov. 10, 1915 at Chicago, Ill., m. as his second wife Helen Lee McKelvey. By his first wife, Madeline Jane Starbird, he had: (1) John Lovell, b. Aug. 26, 1930, and d. Oct. 1, 1948. Mrs. Lucy Matthews of Pittsford, N. Y. sent me a newspaper clipping of a picture and an article on this son showing him, age 7, at a chess board playing at the same time three opponents. (2) Dudley Fairfax, b. Oct. 22, 1921, who married Arlene Newell on Nov. 22, 1950. (3) Malcolm White, b. Feb. 11, 1934.

John Lovell Loughborough is quite a noted scientist also. Karl L. sent me a clipping from the Los Angeles Examiner which shows his address as 458 South Mariposa Street, Los Angeles, California. It states that he was elected to the "Econometric Society" by the Society at Chicago, Ill.; that he was named to the international organization of scientists in recognition of his research in mathematical economics. He is a former member of the faculties of both the University of California and the University of Southern California. He stated in a letter to me that his father was a cousin of James Fairfax of Little Rock, Ark., and of James M. Loughborough, editor on the Baltimore American newspaper, and he also thought that he was related to John Loughborough, the Adventist. His pedigree chart shows his father to be Richard Logan Loughborough, b. in San Francisco June 12, 1874, m. Ann Jeans Crabb, Oakland, Calif. who was born Jan. 1, 1871 and died in Los Angeles, California in 1935. His grandfather on his father's side, Alexander Loughborough, b. 1830, Cambridge, Mass., d. 1899, Rome, Italy; his wife being Ella Louise Logan, b. at Bowling Green, Ky.; that the father of Alexander was John Rosslyn Loughborough, no date of birth but b. in Edinburgh, Scotland, whose wife was Mary Fitzhugh, also born in Edinburgh; that the father of John Rosslyn was James Wedderburn Loughborough, whose wife was Penelope St. Clair-Erskine.

He also has his line run back on his mother's side and her mother and father to Irish descendants through the Quinn's to the Purcell's and O'Wyndham's. He says his ancestry is Scotch and, "I wear the Coat of Arms of the Earl of Rosslyn on my signet ring although I am entitled to use the Coat of Arms (crest) of the Earls of Huntington and the Earls of Dunraven." He thus claims descendancy from Lord Loughborough which, of course, could not be true as Lord Loughborough had no children. I wrote him a letter on December 16 explaining to him the facts in regard to Lord Loughborough as pointed out herein but have not heard from him. John Fairfax Loughborough thoroughly agreed with me years ago that his family as well as mine was no relationship to Lord Loughborough or the Earls of Rosslyn. Years ago Ross Loughborough wrote me that he had found some records in Massachusetts of a Loughborough who had been born there but he never connected him.

I am extremely disappointed that I have not found the ancestral line or the descendants of John Loughborough, the California Adventist preacher who was one of the founders of this church and did so much to build it up around the world (see p. 5). Nearly every Seventh Day Adventist that I meet asks me if I am a relative of this John, so well is he known in this church. I rather think as Ross did that this John was a son of Nathan Benson Loofbourrow and Minerva Norton (see 6 on p. 56).

IN MEMORIAM

Thomas Rossington (Ross) Loughborough, second son and youngest child of William Swaze Loughborough, was born December 5th, 1871 at 134 Mount Hope Avenue, Rochester, New York. At this time the others in the household were, William Swaze Loughborough, his wife Jane Amelia Rossington, their other children William Grant, Nellie Florence, Alice Jane, and the maternal grandfather Thomas Rossington, who was born in Blankney England. Ross's mother was a studious and religious woman who had taught school before her marriage. His father was a Patent Lawyer and had to be in Washington a great deal.

Because of ill-health, Ross's mother taught him at home, so that in his early years he was more with older people than with his contemporaries and constantly heard stories about relatives, from the steady stream of visiting relatives. His interest in family history never left him, and later became a tie with his father, as their correspondence shows.

In 1882 the Loughborough family moved to Pittsford, New York, where they lived for six years. Ross went to the district school and became acquainted with the country wherein his relatives lived. He always loved to walk over that part of Monroe County. When the time came for Ross to enter high school, the family returned to Rochester, where he finished at the Rochester Free Academy in three years, and as he was a brilliant and promising student, entered the University of Rochester in the class of 1894. After his graduation and marriage, he taught school for a few years and in 1897 moved with his own family to Pittsford again. It was during the next ten years that he really began to collect and organize data on the family, and to try to promote the same interest in all of us. His Family picnics were a great success and grew in attendance.

About 1900 Ross entered the Postal Service in Rochester and continued until his retirement in 1936. In addition to this regular work, he began to teach night school courses in English, basic civics and American History to foreigners preparing for citizenship. He had always had an unwavering belief in the democratic form of government and a passionate affection for mankind. His devoted friendship and work with his pupils further developed these sympathies and endeared him to hundreds of men and women. Whereas most people, as they advance in years, become discouraged with humanity, Ross's belief in the inherent goodness of man increased, and at the time of his death in 1947, he was optimistic and encouraged about the state of the world.

CHAPTER IV

LOOFBOURROW

D. NATHANIEL, the fourth and last son of JOHN I, the Immigrant.

The descendants of Nathaniel now spell their name "Loughborough". They now inhabit parts of Arizona, Maryland, Texas, Virginia, New York, and one in New Jersey (Mrs. Edith (V.R.) Mulford, of Montclair, N. J. and Palm Beach, Florida) and other states. Mrs. Mulford has been working on this and other lines for a long time. She visited our home in December 1952. She is a most charming person. She wrote the following data in 1952 in regard to this branch of the family. Ed.

D. Nathaniel (2) was born in Woodbridge about 1710. This is my belief, as in going over the Quaker minutes, his father, John, resided there from 1688 to 1723, as his name appears there as late as 1723.

Nathaniel (2) was left property in Woodbridge by his father, John (1). I have been unable to trace this property and do not know what happened to Nathaniel (2) at this time. However, he married a Margaret _____ and in 1740 was living in Hatboro, Moreland Co., Pa. He died in 1740 leaving much property and 5 children, all under age. They were:

- | | |
|------------|--|
| A. William | (Ross L. says Margaret married a second time a man |
| B. Hannah | named Rees, by whom she had children. She died |
| C. Rebeka | leaving a will proven Sept. 1767 naming B,D&E and |
| D. John | granddaughter Margarite. - MRL 1952.) |
| E. David | |

A. William was a tailor and lived in Philadelphia in 1759. He married I. Mary Kirk, daughter of John and Sarah Tyson Kirk of Abington Meeting. Of this marriage he had two sons, Nathaniel and William who both died as infants. His wife Mary died in 1761 and in the same year he married her sister, Sarah Kirk. For this he was disowned by the Quakers. He had no children by Sarah and his only daughter, by Mary, his first wife, Margarite (born May 20, 1755, died April 1, 1836. Benjamin H. Shoemaker furnished this information, of Philadelphia, a descendant, says Ross L. in 1938. - MRL), married on the 24th of the 10th month, 1776, Jesse Trump, son of Michael Trump of Upper Dublin Township in Philadelphia. He died ca. 1764 as his administration papers were granted to his wife, Sarah, on Oct. 8, 1764.

B. Hannah married Nathan Spencer of Pennsylvania April 19, 1756 and moved to Loudon Co., Virginia. They had five children: Margaret, Samuel, Mary, John and Nathan, Jr. (Ref. Descendants of Samuel Spencer by Howard M. Jenks.)

C. Rebeka. She probably never married and died before her mother in 1769. She is not mentioned in her will. She resided in Hatboro.

D. John was a blacksmith and resided in Hatboro, Moreland Co., Pa. He married Margaret Kirk, sister of Sarah and Mary Kirk, (wives 1 and 2 of his brother William). He was a Loyalist and in 1778 his lands were confiscated by the Government. His widow was permitted to purchase back some of his belongings and in the New Jersey Archives there is a list of feather beds etc. that she was able to regain. I have no proof of existence of any children, however, I believe that the Jonathan Lovebury that is listed as a British Spy in Washington's Writings might have been a son. The New Jersey Archives states that

LOOFBOURROW - LOUGHBOROUGH

John and Jonathan were given back some of this property and it seems likely that these two boys were sons of John and Margaret. That there is no further trace of them is not too puzzling as they might have gone to New Brunswick, Canada. My belief is based on the fact that in 1806, John Loofborough of New Brunswick, sells some land in Virginia to one John Arundell. This land is the same piece of land that John the Loyalist (D) held a mortgage on from David Loofborough (E). David (E) bought this property in 1770 from William Gardener.

E. David was the youngest son of Nathaniel (2) and Margaret. He was born before 1740. He may have spent his early youth in the Barbados. On Sept. 29, 1765, he married Sarah Anderson Twining. She was the widow of Twining, possibly Benjamin. She had one son by her first marriage, Nathaniel Twining. He is well known in the history of Early Transportation in the U.S. He was a pioneer in the Stage Coach business and was backed by his step-father, David. David and Sarah had only one child. He was Nathan, born in Fairfax Co., Va., July 20, 1772. David died about 1806 in Washington, D.C. and he was buried in the old Presbyterian Cemetery in the District. It is now a playground. All records of this cemetery are lost and it may be possible that his wife, Sarah, is buried there, too.

Nathan, only child of David (E) and Sarah, born July 20, 1772. He married Jan. 1794, Mary Cary Webster. They had 13 children. Nathan, Sr. was a prominent man in Georgetown and at one time worked for the U.S. Treasury. He died in 1848, Dec. 7th. His children were:

- A. Alexander Webster
 - B. Harriette
 - C. Harriette
 - D. Elizabeth Webster
 - E. Mary Jane
 - F. Sarah
 - G. James Henry
 - H. John

 - L. Mary Cassandra
 - M. Nathan, Jr.
- (To Nathan, the name is spelled "Loofbourrow". However, all of his children from A through M and their descendants to present date, spell it "Loughborough". - Ed.)

The Loughborough's and their descendants:

A. Alexander Webster was born Feb. 27, 1796 at Philadelphia, Pa., and died in 1814. He was killed in battle with Indians in Florida while serving on the U.S.S. Constitution. No issue. (See Green's "History of Florida", P. 201-203, for a very interesting story about "Negro Fort".)

B. Harriette - born ca. 1797 in Philadelphia and died 1798.

C. Harriette - born 1798 in Philadelphia and died 1798.

D. Elizabeth Webster, born at Grassland, Georgetown, Md. in 1800. She married Dr. John Borher.

LOOFBCURROW - LUFBURROW MILL NEAR MIDDLETOWN, NEW JERSEY, SUPPOSED TO BE OVER 200 YEARS OLD, A HISTORIC
SPOT IN THIS PART OF NEW JERSEY. I SAW THIS MILL IN JULY 1952. SEE
ACCOUNT OF IT PAGES 5 and 6.

Laura M. Flanders, Librarian of the Monmouth County Historical Association of Freehold, New Jersey, sent me the following taken from newspaper clippings relative to the old Loofbourrow - Lufburrow Mill near Middletown, N. J.:

"Lufburrow's Mill on Willowbrook road, near Chapel Hill, was destroyed by fire. The Mill, an old landmark, had been run several years by Henry D. Kahle. It was owned by Thomas S. Field and John West."

"The Lufburrow Mill property on Whipperwill road in Middletown Township, one of the historical places in that section, comprising 15 acres, was bought by J. Amory Haskell and he added it to his holdings as a game preserve. He paid $250. an acre for the property."

Asbury Park Press. October 1940.

Lufburrow's Mill

"This mill was located about one mile south of Chapel Hill. Hon. Grover H. Lufburrow says that Lufburrow's mill was built and owned by the Lufburrow family for several generations. His father (see story of "Richard and His Wine"), Richard, who died in 1853, conducted the mill for 30 years. His brother, Richard, succeeding him, had it for 20 years. He subsequently conducted the hotel at Middletown. The old mill was burned in 1888. The site was purchased and the pond has since been used by an ice company, a house for storage having been built on the premises.

The mill was small, limited in the water supply, having but a small pond, supplied by small streams, which were nearly dry during the summer months. During the heavy showers it was necessary to closely watch the rise of the water in the ponds and allow it to escape through what was called the flood gates in order not to overflow and wash away the dam, which was occasionally the case in spite of every effort to protect it.

Adjoining the land of Mr. Lufburrow and on one side of the pond was a farm owned by Mr. Eden Carman, who was for years engaged in litigation with Mr. Lufburrow, claiming an encroachment on his land by the pond. This suit was finally disposed of by the evidence of Mr. Daniel Scott, the millwright, who testified that there had been no raise in the height of the flood gates or the dam and consequently no increase in the surface covered by the pond. Mr. Carman patronized Arrowsmith's mill, nearly six miles away from his farm on account of this difference with his neighbor, Mr. Lufburrow."

"Mrs. Annie S. Micheau* (nee Lufburrow) writes that when the British army, after the Battle of Monmouth, made their hasty retreat via the King's Highway (the Middletown road) to the Highlands, that some of the Hessians who had left the lines of march for foraging purposes, visited Lufburrow's mill, taking what they could find of portable value, including the bolting cloth with which they used to make caps for the Hessian women who were attached to the army.

A building entirely surrounded by the water of the pond has been erected by Mr. Oscar Hesse, the owner of the property, for the storage of the Walsrode powder. The surface water has been cut off from the ice pond and the latter is supplied by means of a spring which makes the ice free from the foreign matter found in ponds supplied by surface drainage..."

OTHER POETS IN THE FAMILY ABOUT 300 YEARS
LATER THAN THE ONE SHOWN ON PAGE 34

Ted Malone's book of poetry contained a poem therein (but I have misplaced it) written by Sylvia Gardner Lufburrow, daughter of Dr. Charles B. of Plainsfield, N. J.

The following is a copy of the poem written by Charles A. Lufburrow of Long Branch, N. J. sent to me on a Christmas 1952 card:

LOOKING FOR HIM

So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time without sin unto salvation. Heb. 9:28.

All through the night the Wise Men sought
A King...as they followed a star,
Thinking perchance how stars had brought
To the Magi much fame from afar,
And though the King, His place of birth
Nor His realm was known to them,
Yet the story is told around the earth
How they found Christ in Bethlehem.

All through the night the Shepherds kept
Vigilant watch o'er their flocks,
Thinking perchance as the safe sheep slept
Of lambs they had found in the rocks . .
When angels sang of the Saviour's birth,
Then to Bethlehem quickly they trod,
And the story is told around the earth
How they found there the Lamb of God.

Out of the night the dawn draws nigh . .
While all the world lies asleep
Wise men still study the heavens high,
Shepherds still watch o'er their sheep,
Waiting the hour when the Morning Star
Shines through the dawning dim,
For where His wise men and shepherds are
They will be looking for him.

A Story of Richard and His Wine

RICHARD LUFBURROW

Taken from, The Story of Middleton, N.J. The oldest settlement in New Jersey, by Ernest W. Mainville F 853 M 6 M 27

In 1729 a Hotel was built. The last host who was Richard Lufburrow who was known for his generous hospitality.

It seems that John D. Steenken, the venerable sexton of the Episcopal Church discovered one Sunday morning that there was not enough wine for communion service. So he ran over to the Dutch Reformed Church, called Richard Lufburrow out of his pew, explained his predicament. The obliging "Dick" Lufburrow immediately went to his Hotel cellar and provided wine for his Christian Brethren that he might proceed with the Lords supper.

Next day the ladies of the Temperance Union had Richard Lufburrow arrested for selling wine on Sunday or Sabbath.

When the case came up in Freehold the whole town attended court.

Mr. Steenken gave his testimony and the whole case was laughed out of court.

But eventually the ladies of the Temperance U. offered double rent for the Hotel and Richard L. was put out of business.

Members of the T.U, prayed publicly for the Rev. Black D.D. Pastor of the Dutch C. because he refused to sign a petition denouncing Richard Lufburrow.

Corrected data on Caroline Willard Lufburrow's Ancestry
(see page 21)

In reply to my letter, Radcliffe College gave me the address of Edith, Mrs. Henry E. Warren, as being Ashland, Mass., which changed the data as follows:

Stephen, only, was her brother. Herbert, the father of Mrs. Warren, and Herbert's brother, Charles, were her nephews. Herbert owned interest in phosphate mines in Florida and he was the one who visited my grandmother. Grandma Caroline's and Stephen's father was Aaron. She sent me a mimeographed form showing the ancestry from Rhode Island Genealogy, page 774, as going back to Christopher Smith who paid taxes in 1650 and was admitted as a freeman in 1655. A mimeographed form of this line is attached. Roger Williams founded the City of Providence and lived until after 1680. Therefore Christopher Smith was his contemporary and knew him. Charles, son of Stephen, died without children. Herbert had two children: (1) Edith, born Feb. 11, 1880 and married Jan. 9, 1907 to Henry Ellis Warren of Newton Centre. They have no children. She graduated from Radcliffe College 1902. (2) Alice was born July 10, 1885 and has never married. She now lives at Newton Centre, near Boston. She studied at Simmons College at Boston. Her mother was Emma Dean and she married Herbert Smith in Providence, R. I. in 1875.

Well, my memory wasn't so very bad, but I have learned long ago to know that memory is a poor authority.

FROM THE PEN OF REBECKAH LAMB
KIRKPATRICK LOOFBOUROW, BORN
24 JULY 1816. SEE PAGE 41.

In 1827 there were but few miners at Mineral Point, tho there were valuable lead ores discovered, which was worked by permit of the Government by paying a certain percentage of all the ores mined (I think one tenth) which was deducted out of the price of the ore when sold to the smelters and they had to run on mold that portion which belonged to the government, in molds marked U.S. which was delivered to the government officers. The furnices then used was built with rock something like the old fashioned lime kiln. They rolled in large logs at the top, then put on a layer of ore, then mix in wood alternately untill the furnace was filled. They had a basin in the front a little lower than the hearth, so the melted lead would run out in from 27 to 30 hours after the fire was started, they dipped the melted lead with iron ladles, and poured in molds which held 75 lbs.

In the Spring of "27" there was a mining Company formed consisting of 15 members which purchased the right of the mines, then discovered there was not a place to shelter their heads, so they put up a tent and lived in it untill they built a log cabin, they hired a young married couple to do the cooking for the hands, the signal for dinner was a rag hung out so the boys gave the place the name of "shake rag". It went by that name for some time, even now there are a few that would know what place is ment by it.

In 1828 the place began to thrive, there were many sod houses and several log cabins built, 2 Or 3 small stores and grog shops, and a billiard table which afforded recreation for many on the Sabbath, but those better disposed employed a Baptist minister rather liberal in his views, for he seemed to enjoy himself at the billiard table through the week, and would preach to us on Sundays in his large sod house, we used to call it "going up to Jersulem to Worship". Some times our attention would be attracted by his son, a young man, hauling wood to the door during services. As he used oxen he had to hollow pretty loud. In the spring, the rains came and the wind blew so his Mansion fell, but it was still called Jerusalem Street.

There were but few teams wintered in Wisconsin in an early day, they would use them through the summer to haul lead to Galena and provisions out, as that was the only means of transportation, in the fall they were sent to Illinois for wintering. There were droves of cows brought up in the spring for the milch through the summer and killed for beef in the fall (pretty poor beef).

Often our flour was packed so hard in the barrels it had to be chopped out with an ax and pounded and sifted. If it was only sour it would make good bread by using plenty of soda, but if it was masty it was not so good. In the spring of "29" we got potatoes at two dollars per bushel with the seed ends out off. In those days there was a great many dried peas and beans used. Many families did not have bread in their houses for weeks and some for months, so it was called "the pea time". When the navigation closed early, provisions ran short before spring, some was fortunate enough to kill a deer once in a while. There were three batchalors living near Mineral Point who had run out of provisions, they ate the last they had for supper, it was very cold, no provisions to be had in the country, they went to bed, in the night they heard a noise and went out, they found a deer lying by their cabin with its neck broke. They dressed it so it supplied their wants until there was provisions brought up to Galena. Their cabin was in the side of a bluff, the snow was deep and crusted over and a wolf was after it, the wolf could run on the snow, but the deer broke through, it jumped off the bluff and broke its' neck.

In the fall of "27" (1827), Mr. Lamb, one of the mining Company at Mineral and a man by the name of Comings started out on an exploring expedition as the 'whites' had not been beyond Mineral Point at that time, the Indians claimed all the country round about the mines, they walked until night came and being tired they spread their blanket on the ground, the cover being light they were cold, before morning they began to get warm, the cover felt heavier, so they slept soundly, when one of them woke and raised the blanket, they found it weighted down with snow. The sun was shining, they saw the smoke from the Indians Wigwams, and they discovered where the Indians had smelted lead ore. Making search they made the discovery of the mines now called Dodgeville. In a short time miners had staked the ground off in mining lots. There were some heavy leads opened which proved very valuable. The Mining Company at Mineral Point carried on the mining and smelting extensively which gave employment to many hands. In the fall of 1828 Mr. Lamb went back to Indiana for his family and arrived at Mineral Point the 10th of October, where he pursued mining for 2 or 3 years, when he went to near Hambelton's diggings, which is called Wiota and located on a farm where he spent the remainder of his life. There was no law to govern the people except the regulations and resolutions of the miners. The County went by the name of the Michigan Territory, ?... County. The people were social and regarded each other's word as much as they now do their note of hand. They would loan and borrow money on their word which they considered as binding as a note and often when a man could not be at work on their lots to hold them, they would leave their mining tools on their lots to hold it from being taken, (if left now the tools would be taken).

Among our earliest settlers at Mineral Point was Thomas and John Ansleys, the Terril brothers, John Hood, Dr. Snyder, Dr. Loofbourrow who came from Ohio to retire from practice, he forbade his friends from calling him Dr. but when he landed in Galena, one of his friends being there, met him and hollered out "there is Dr. Loofbourrow", it was his intention to keep still but Doctors were so scarce he could not refuse when any one kneeded his assistance. He pursued mining when he could. There were Gratiots and Terry's settled in Diamond Grove, 3 miles from Mineral Point. They followed smelting also three or four of the Kirkpatrick brothers. They followed smelting and hauling lead to Galena.

General Dodge settled in the place called Dodgeville, from whom it took its name. There were Messersmiths, Jenkins, and Wentew, others I can't call to mind the names. All seemed to go on harmoniously until the Sack and Trox (illegible) tribes of Indians became dissatisfied and came back on their old grounds which they had sold to the Government in the Spring of 1833. The inhabitants of the country had to flee from their homes and provide places of safety for their families which was done by building temporary forts. There was one in Mineral Point which I think was called Fort Jackson, one about 5 miles from there called Fort Defiance, one what is called Wiota, one on Apple river, one at Gratiots Grove, some others I can't place. The way these forts were constructed, was by digging a ditch in the form of a square and setting the bodies of trees (which had been split in two) end wise, I think they were 15 feet high, There was a block house in two corners of the fort built with logs, the upper story projected over the lower, so it stood out beyond the pickets in case of an attack, they could rake the outside of the fort. They had port holes through the pickets also in the sides of the block house. They had a small cannon at Fort Defiance which was placed in one of the blockhouses, they used large bullets. The cannon was made of lead, tho it would have been sufficient for all the Indians that would be likely to attack the Fort, lucky they stayed out of reach of the guns. The Fort took in a double log cabin, one and a half story high which afforded shelter for 22 families. There was berths or bunks around the sides, one above another for our beds. The measles broke out in the Fort and Dr. Loofbourow being there with his family, it fell on him to minister to the sick, as he had just received a good supply of medicines from Pittsburgh. There were forty cases of measles in the Fort, not a death there by measles. There was one man wounded by the Indians that died in that Fort from the effects of the wound being in the head. Our provisions were furnished by the Government, which consisted of salt-pork, flour, beans, vinegar, soap and candles.

We had to buy our own groceries if we had any, the most of the families had their cows there so we had milk and butter. We used to venture out a mile or so, once in a while, to gather raspberries until we would hear of Indians being seen near. The Captain of the Fort would forbid our leaving the Fort. We used to gather greens and cook with our pork, a substitute for vegetables.

Being thrown together it was the means of forming many new acquaintances, as our interests seemed to be one and the same. For all worked for that and the same purpose to promote peace and comfort, how hard we used to work when the Soldiers used to come in tired, us women that could, would take their flour, (as they had to make their own bread) and make it up in crackers for them, ready for another march.

I have thought some of us were deserving of a pension, for the Government kept us from leaving the country, we lived in the Fort three months, then went to our deserted homes, after being taken from our farms to grow up to weeds, and return unprepared for winter, there is but few now living that took a part in defending the rights of the whites in the Blackhawk war. Among the Officers and many of the Soldiers of the Regiment or Brigade from Mineral Point are dead, among them are, Col. Dodge, Captain Gentry, Capt. Hoard (?), Major R. H. Kirkpatrick, Col. D. M. Parkinson, Charles Bracken, all dead. In the spring of "37" (1837), there were some wood choppers at work below Galena, raised an alarm, reported that the Indians had made an attack on Galena and in all probability was taken by the Indians. The alarm was sent out, all over the county families gathered for protection, it being in the night many of them were asleep in bed when the alarm was sent to them, but by sunrise these crowds running to and fro expecting the Indians before they could form any discipline or order, there was perfect confusion, no leaders, no one to take command. Mineral Point, one place where they gathered in a great number, men, women, and children, there was perfect confusion, some predicting a general massacre, others thought the Indians would not venture so far, we were in perfect suspense until about noon, when an express came to inform us that it was a false alarm. Some had rung their chickens necks, others had cut the throats of their pigs and thrown them in their wagons to be sure and get the benefit of them, as they had lost their pigs and chickens by leaving them the spring previous.

We returned home, but kept in readiness to go at a moments warning. Many families packed all their goods they were not obliged to use every day, we did not feel settled until quite late in the season.

The paper from which it was copied had the appearance of ledger paper, quite old, the handwriting very small and neat, but with the ink fading and the creases of the paper, it became necessary to read it with a magnifying glass. The manuscript above was loaned by a grandson of Dr. John Loofbourrow and Rebeckah Lamb Kirkpatrick Loofbourrow, (1952). Arthur Burton Loofbourrow.

CORRECT DATA ABOUT MILL MENTIONED IN
JOHN I'S WILL AND ITS LOCATION

Notwithstanding anything contrary thereto on page 4 and other parts relative to the Mill mentioned in John I's Will, the following which affirms my theory thereto was given me by the Genealogical Society of New Jersey after this manuscript had been mimeographed:- "There is one (deed) recorded in Liber C-3, page 165 (see page 11 manuscript) whereby Thomas Loofbourrow and wife, Eleanor, sold on April 27, 1730 to William Skinner of Perth Amboy, one acre of land in Woodbridge on the South side of Crain's Creek (see page 4 manuscript) and the GRIST mill. It is recited (therein) that John Loofbourrow, father of Thomas, bought of Thomas Carhart of Woodbridge, now deceased, on May 22, 1695 (recorded in Liber E, page 445)". See page 7.

I think this, together with other data in manuscript (see pages 4,5,10 and 11) decidedly proves that John I never went to Middleton and that he never had a mill there, but that the mill near Middleton (see supra Supplement page 1) was built by either Thomas or his descendants, Matthew, his son (this would coincide with the story of the Middleton Mill being there when the British Army retreated during the Revolutionary War, as Matthew I's Will was probated in 1774 in Monmouth County, New Jersey, the county in which Middleton is located).

If this is your own pedigree, place yourself as number 1 on line number 1 above.

Starting with numbers 2 & 3 each bracket on the chart indicates a marriage. Even numbers (2, 4, etc.) are male progenitors and odd numbers (3, 5, etc.) are female progenitors. Each heavy parallel line indicates a different surname among your progenitors. If you are number 1, numbers 4 to 7 are your grandparents; 8 to 15 are your great grandparents.

To extend the pedigree for numbers 8 through 15, repeat them as number 1 on chart number 2, 3, etc.

This chart is number 1 in a series of three charts (No. 2, Research Work Chart, No. 3, Family History Chart) known as the O-KAY system of record-making.
