PREFACE

Leaming, Lemming and Limming are old English (Anglo-Saxon), names of places, originating from the river Leam, Lim or Lime (Lyme). Limming being the most ancient. (Flavell Edmunds Names of Places, London, 1869).

Surnames were not used in England until about 1100 A. D. (English Surnames by Beardsley, Manchester, Eng. 1875.)

In America many public records are misspelled Lemmon, Leamon, Leman. These are identified by the individuals from time to time as Leming or Leaming. The name naturally lends itself to misspellings; depending upon the clerk or scribe who writes the name. My purpose is to weld together the various spellings, as early English Leming.

At least three branches of the family were early settlers in America, towit:

Christopher Leaming, Boston, Mass., 1670, thence to Long Island, 1674, and to Cape May County, New Jersey, 1692. Diaries of his descendants published in Stillwell's Historical and Genealogical Miscellany of New Jersey.)

John Leming to Monmouth County, New Jersey, and frequently recorded as Limming, or Lemmon. (Immigrant list from Dover, Eng.), 1665.

George Lemming from Cowes, Isle of Wight, Eng. 1757, to Connecticut. (Immigrant list to Philadelphia.)

I am indebted to the courtesies of all United States Departments, Secretaries of States, Adjutant Generals, Archives of Tennessee, and County Clerks or Registers; Minister of War Canada; Mayor of Leamington Spa, England, and Able Doise, Genealogist, Paris, France, who aided me in my research.

Lyme Regis (St. Michael Parish) Dorset, on Lim or Lyme River from which it derives its name, 18 miles west of Lymington. It was one of the 5 ports established by Henry III to furnish ships for defense. In 744 Cynewulf, King of West Saxons, granted charter. In Domesday Book, Lyme is surveyed in three parcels. It manufactures table salt and Epsom Salts. Incorporated by Edward I.

Lymm (Virgin Mary Parish) Chestershire.

Lympne (St. Stephen Parish, Kent). Takes its name from ancient river Limene and was the Portus Limanus during Roma Occupation 50 B.C. to 400 A.D. The Roman commander of the port had his residence here called Leminarche.

Lyminge, St. Mary and St. Eadburgh Parish, Kent, south-east England, it is two miles from Hastens or Hastings, where the Viking of that name settled about 900 A.D. It is built on ruins of old priory from which Harold and his men emerged to fight William the Conqueror, 1066 A.D. Some Lemings came to America from Kent in 1942.

Limington, St. Mary Parish, Somerset, a rectory and arch-deaconry of Wells of Cardinal Wolsey's time, 1569. Also spelled Lemington.

*Lewis Topographical Dictionary of England.

Leamington Spa, Warwickshire, England, on Leam River, called Leamington Priors to distinguish it from Leamington Hastings 4 miles away in Warwickshire. First mentioned in antique history as "Lamington" by River Leam, 700 A.D., and in Domesday Book, 1086, under varied spelling. But listed in some reference books as Lemington. It was a freehold of Olnuinus an early King of Mercia, who gave it to his son Roger De Turchile de Warwick, who gave it to his son Robert de Belem, who forfeited it to King Henry I, who granted it to one of the Bishops of Chester, Coventry and Litchfield. It was 2 hides (or 240 a.) Sulphur Springs made it smell bad and only the poor would live there. It was divided into compartments for debtors and poor and had a judge. In 1785 it became renowned as a health resort. Sometimes spelled Lemington.

Leamington or Leming County, parish, mentioned in North Carolina Records.

Leamington-Hastings, All Saints Parish, Warwick, 4 miles from Southanm Vicarage and Archdeaconary of Coventry, Diocese of Litchfield and Coventry. James I Hospital for maintenance of 8 poor.

Leemans Road, Yorkshire, postoffice.

Lemmington, township, parish of Edlemingham, North Northumberland 6 miles southwest of Alnwick. (Probably named after Johannes Leming, Gentleman, 1584 son of William Leming.)

Sandal Magna or Greater Sandal, part of Wakefield. William Leming owned part of this. Yorkshire. Deed cited.

Leman Street (2 Cable St.) E. I. London.

Lemington, lower, parish N. E. Gloucestershire on border of Warwickshire, 5 miles south by southeast of Shipston-on-Stour.

Morton Leam, a Canal in fens of Cambridgeshire named after the Bishop of Ely who had it dug to drain lowlands.

Lamington, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

Wells, an ancient city and parliamentary borough, in Somerset, situated at foot of Mendip Hills. The cathedral a remarkable beautiful edifice, begun in 704 and enlarged in 1138, is for the most part English. The Bishops Palace was founded in 1088 surrounded by a moat enclosing St. Andrew's Well, from which the town is said to derive its name. This is listed for the reason that Maperton and Lemington in Somerset County contribute to Wadham College founded 1613 on site of ancient and magnificent priory of Augustine Friars (Oxford Reference).

Chapel Thorpe, a chapel in the Parish of Great Sandall, lower Division of the Wapentake of Agrigg, West Riding, Yorkshire S. by W. of Wakefield. William Leming had a deed for land in Great Sandall 1584.

Allerton, Yorkshire is near Leeds, in which church several Leming coats of arms were found.

Colchester, Essex, east England, where one Leming coat of arms was found and traced to Yorkshire. Probably the first coat of arms.

Burnsall, Yorkshire, Sir William Cravens and Dame Elizabeth Cravens resided. He was Lord Mayor of London, 1611. He was one of the proprietors of New Jersey and North Carolina. A Descendant James Cravens of Skipton, York, Cravens County, a village overlooking ruins of Sandal Castle occupied by Richard II. Said James Cravens came to North Carolina 1722, and left a will naming his Sister Mary Leeming and a Mr. Peter Leeming. Investigation shows this was Mary Cox Leming (Liming) who in 1740 married John Leming, Jr. 3rd, of Monmouth County, New Jersey. (Sister probably meant Sister in Christ Church as James Cravens was Vestryman of St. Paul's Church, Edenton, N. C.)

Leaming, Cape May County, New Jersey. Leamington,

Hunterdon County, New Jersey. Leamington, Ontario Canada, Leming, Texas, named after M. E. Leming, lumberman of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

It is quite probable that if one were to research the Museum at London other information could be found. But this is sufficient to establish the place from whence Lemings came.

Genealogical Quarterly Summer 1935, Fudge & Co. Ltd. London quotes:

28 March 1583 (C1665) Bond. Thomas Towneend of Wodthorpe in Sandall Magna, and William Leming of Sandall, to John Roo of Woodthorpe. Witnesses: Richard Lee, William Norton. Signatures: Thomas Towneend, Guill. Leminge. Price 20 lbs.

William was frequently spelled the Norman way. Guillaume.

Whittaker's History of Manchester: "A battle was fought A.D. 547, between Ida an Anglican nobleman, and Urien, which is celebrated in a poem of Tallessin, and which is there called:

Gwayth ar goed Llwyvein, the Battle of the Wood of Lemyng.

This was near Burneston, and was no doubt the same place afterwards called "Lemyng Manor," and now the village of Leeming, in North Riding of Yorkshire.

Camden's Britannia says that Leeming or Leming, as it is now written, "means a public way; and Clarke's Gazeteer says that "the village of Leeming derives its name, which means stoneway, from the circumstances of its being crossed by the ancient Herman street."

But the manor of Lemyng belonged to ——— Lemyng, who sold it to the ancestor of Sir. Thos. Blande."

In the British Record Commissions, Vol. 1, page 203, is the inquisition after death upon the estate of Joh'es de Lemyng,

A.D. 1305, who lived in Yorkshire and held property in Eskelby, York, Stockeld and Knapton.

The Heralds' Visitations for London, A.D. 1634, and for Essex, A.D. 1664, trace the Essex branch, back to the Yorkshire, thus:

Lemyng sold the Manor of Lemyng to the ancestor of Sir Thomas Blande; Christopher Lemyng of Burneston nigh Lemyng in Richmondshire, Com. York; married daughter of Metcalf, Mary, of Wensladale Co. York. Children: Michael Lemyng, John Lemyng of London, gent., A.D. 1634, 2nd son married Joane, daughter of Giles Polley, of Essex; Children: James Lemyng of Colchester in Co. Essex and of Grayes Inns. Gent. 1664, eldest son and heir apparent, married Mary, daughter of Sir. Wm. Batten, Knt. and Bart.; 2d. Henry, 3rd. William, 4th Elizabeth, wife of Robt. Mott of Colchester. (Harleian Soc. Publ. Vol. 17 Library of Congress).

Thomas Leeming of Market Weighton, in Yorkshire, is mentioned in several works upon the sufferings of the Quakers, particularly "Besse's Suffering," as having been fined and imprisoned between 1658 and 1671 for his adherence to their principles and mode of worship.

Thomas Leeming of Kirkby Malham Dale, in west riding of Yorkshire, lived there in the first half of the last century (18th.)

Leeming Hall between Liverpool and Preston, Lancashire. A person whose maiden name was Betty Leeming, who lived in Colne, Lancashire, and died there 1837, at the age of 105 years. It is reported that she used to say the family in various parts of England all sprang from the same stock, and that she had often stayed at Leeming Hall with her relatives, and that they had been quite wealthy previous to one of the rebellions.

Burke's Commoners, Vol. 4, page 1, says that Richard Barnaby, the last of that name, Lord of Barnaby Castle, married a daughter of Humfre Leming, esq.

In a book published by the British Government, called Foedera et Acta Publica, Col. 3, part 2, page 663, is the name of Johan de Lemene, A.D. 1362. Arce deacre de Vanes, and on page 1223, the place Lemyng mentioned 17 Ed. III or A.D. 1343.

John Cox moved to Northampton County, North Carolina 1768 (mentioned in will of Thomas Salter, Phila. 1790 as brother-in-law, and identified by will of John Cox and his eleven children in North Carolina.)

THE FINE FAMILY

There is a tradition that the Fines and Lemings intermarried. In order to clear that up, a sketch of the Fine family is here inserted.

Ramsey's Annals of Tenn. show that in 1795 Captain Peter Fine and his brother Vinett Fine, together with 30 others, followed some Indian horse thieves up the Big Pidgeon to 12 mile creek in Haywood County, North Carolina, where Vinett Fine was killed by the Indians, and his companions buried him under the ice to keep him from being scalped, and that the Creek was changed to Fines Creek. It is also a postoffice.

The Boundary of Greene County, Tenn. erected 1783, mentions Peter Fine's Ferry, which is at the mouth of Nola-chucky and Big Pidgeon Rivers where they form French Broad River.

The Fine ancestors began in New Jersey.

Phillip Fine, the elder, late of the township of Alexandria in Hunterdon County, New Jersey, Inventory Sept. 15, 1810, (Office of the Secretary of State of New Jersey) made by Peter Sharp and John Cooley; Administrators, Philip Fine and John Fine (son of Phillip, jr.). Land sold prior to 1798. He had moved into Burlington County, N. J. Inventory consists of household goods, book accounts against the following: Philip Fine, Jr. Bond $450.00; John Fine $1156.95; William Fine's note $69.00; John Fine's note $10.63, farm products, total $3364.65.

Will of Phillip Fine (jr.) Alexandria Tp. Hunterdon Co. N. J. Sept. 15, 1834; wife, Mary Catherine: Phillip Fine, natural son of my deceased son Godfrey Fine (Begotten of Catherine Alshouse); William Fine's five daughters; Catherine (wife of William Hough), Elizabeth, Margaret, Mary, Nancy. To Senah (Lenah) Ann Fine, dau. of my deceased son Godfrey; to my five children: John Fine, Phillip Fine, Mary Carpenter (wife of Isaac Carpenter); Christopher Fine, and Henry Mellick Fine. Christopher Fine and Henry M. Fine qualified as Admr's.

John Fine, (probably son of Phillip, Sr.), was witness on will of Gulick Hendrick of Somerset Co. N. J. Oct. 1, 1747.

John Fine, married Anne Marsh, Nov. 7, 1747 by license in Somerset Co. N. J.

Presumption, that John and Anne moved to Baltimore Co. Md. There was considerable travel from New Jersey to Maryland and purchase and sale of lands; that Vinett and Peter Fine were children of this marriage; that John Fine, widower, returned to New Jersey during French and Indian War and married again, 1759, JOHN FINNES Taxed 1758 Upper Freehold, N. J. 8a.

Or that he married Elizabeth Leming.

John Fine, died int. "Greenwitch, Sussex Co. N. J.?" question mark made by abstractor. Greenwich, Warren County, N. J. Lutheran Church. Inventory made by William Schooley (Schooley) and Peter Seiler Feb. 24, 1759. On May 2, 1759 Bond of Elizabeth Fine and Peter Siler and Wm. Schooley. Wm. Schooley and Jonathan Pettit esq. bondsmen both of Grinwich. Inventory shows only personal items such as a soldier of that time would carry amounting to 8 lbs. 5 s. 6 p. The abstractor states that Elizabeth Fine signed as Elizabeth Fain in German Script. I have photostatic copies of this bond and final settlement. I read a blot of ink where the i should be on one signature similar to an a. She signed three times Fine and it is indexed Fine (also Fain and Fein), owing to the abstractors idea.

Fine, Schooley, Seiler and Pettitt are English names.

In Elizabeth Fine's widow of John Fine, filed final account of John Fine, May 22, 1763, Peter Schneck Bondsman. (Schneck is Dutch). It was filed in A. M. Doud's Surrogate Court, Burlington Co.

The first Bond of Elizabeth Fine had written in it Godfrey Melick and a line drawn through it. This would indicate relationship to Phillip Fine, and Melick may be Dutch.

John Lemon was a Private in Major William McDonald's Company of New Jersey Provincials, 1757 to 1764. General Peter Schyler. McDonald fought gallantly at Fort Duquesne (Pittsburgh) 1758. He resided in Burlington Co. and was an officer in the Revolutionary War. They marched through Sussex Co. northward to Quebec September 1759.

Vinett Fine, 6 white 1783 taxed Shenandoah Co. Va. along with Moses Job, John Job, Elijah Hand, Will Hand, Job Combs, Thomas Fine, John Fine. Vinett was not there after 1783. He moved to Watauga and East Tenn.

Pension, S 32 244 PETER FINN. Parents not shown. The Veteran stated he had been "left an orphan" and that his guardian, whose name is not shown, had resided in Maryland.

The Veteran was b. July 2, 1750 or 1751 in Baltimore Co. Md.

Declaration for pension made Nov. 19, 1832, and July 8, 1833, veteran stated that his service during the Revolutionary War had been as follows:

He enlisted in the Spring of 1778 and served not less than nine months as a waggoner in Captain Potter's Company, Colonel Thompson's Regiment of Maryland Troops. In the Summer of 1780 he enlisted in a Company of Horsemen commanded by Captain Val. Sevier, which company was part of a regiment of North Carolina Troops under the command of Colonel Robertson. He served for three months under the command as a private in this detachment. In the fall of 1780 he enlisted in Captain Sevier's Company, Colonel John Sevier's Regiment and served with this detachment as a sergeant for three months.

During his terms of service he was engaged in the battles of Monmouth and King's Mountain.

The Veteran was a resident of Baltimore Co. Md. at the time of his first enlistment. In the fall of 1779, after his first term of enlistment, he moved to Watauga, North Carolina. From there he moved to Kentucky near the Tennessee line and later a short distance into Tennessee. In 1837 he was a resident of Marion Co. Ill. He also moved to Illinois 1837 (Capt. Zabdiel Potter, Maryland 4th Maryland Bn. Flying Camp July 1776-78, Col. Wm. Richardson, Lt. Col. Joseph Earle, Adj. Robert Campbell).

He is enumerated first U. S. Census 1790 Roane Co. near Sweetwater 1830, Tenn. as Peter Finn.

The above Revolutionary record is valuable as it indicates the time and places and service of Lemings. There were two Flying Camps: 1775-6, at Perth Amboy, Monmouth Co. N. J. and Middle colony at Brandywine Creek, in Maryland. New Jersey men were at both camps. 1795 Linville Creek Baptist Church, Shenandoah Co. Va. issued a letter of dismission for Mrs. Grace Fine long since removed from that church.

One of the children was named Elijah Fine.

Phillip Peter Fine of Frederick, Maryland 1778 to 1800 moved south of the Potomac into Virginia 1804, died 1808. Widow and three daughters, one named Elizabeth. This was probably guardian of Peter Fine.

CONDITION OF TENNESSEE RECORDS

Captain Valentine Sevier moved to Sycamore Shoals, East Tenn., then supposed to be Virginia. Captain John Sevier, son of Val. Sr. was appointed by Gov. Dinwiddie 1772 for southwest Virginia Greenbrier of Augusta Co., became Colonel and General and Governor of State of Franklin, and Governor of State of Tennessee. During Sevier-Tipton war many records were destroyed. Settlers in Carter, Cocke and Sevier Counties, Tenn. adhered to Gen. John Sevier. Those county records were destroyed by fire 1856 and subsequently.

First U. S. Census 1795, taken by Sheriffs and transmitted by Gov. Willie Blount, were destroyed by fire 1814 when British came.

U. S. Census: Twenty-two counties of East Tennessee census schedules are missing or destroyed by fire; in 1795; 1800, 1810, 1820, 1830.

The counties south of the French Broad River were Indian Lands prior to 1820, such as Carter, Cocke, Sevier, McMinn, Monroe, and Polk Counties, and the records for these counties were destroyed by fire around 1856 and subsequently. A few records of Monroe Co. were saved. For a while after 1820 Polk Co. was administered from Bradley Co., Cleveland, Tenn. and the early clerk of Bradley county wrote a manuscript concerning Polk Co. I have had it examined. It contains no Lemings or Lemmon. Yet Ducktown Township is where tradition says Elijah Leming Settled after his marriage.

I have inspected an ancient map owned by the Consolidated Copper Co. of Ducktown, and it does not show any Leming or Lemmons. However, Ducktown Township is a geological title and covers several portions of counties, and from Monroe Co. Records I find Lemings and Lemmons on the north side Hiwassee Mountain, on Hiwassee River and Ball Play Creek, and Civil maps show that is where Lemings were located, to-wit: Hiwassee District, Ball Play Section. This section was ceded to Monroe Co. because of the difficulty of settlers having to cross the mountain to pay taxes and transact business at court.

Some U. S. Census of 1830 are available. They name only heads of families. It was not until 1850 that individual names of the members of the family were named.

Some Lemings (Lemmons) moved into Ducktown Basin about 1850.

THE DANIEL LEMING FAMILY OF NEW JERSEY AND TENNESSEE

W2. Daniel Leming (Liming, son of William 1st), 1st b. about 1726 Upper Freehold, Allentown, Monmouth Co. N. J.; d. about 1812 in Cocke Co. E. Tenn.

Mrs. Susan Leming Miller, Greenville, Ark., has in her possession a letter written by Daniel Leming to his father William Leming, 1747.

He was named one of the administrators of his father's will April 7, 1748 Upper Freehold, Monmouth Co. Allentown, N. J. as Daniel Liming, together with his mother Deborah Liming and John Cox. The will provided that the land be divided between Daniel and John Liming, after the widow Deborah Liming was through with it.

He was taxed in 1758 Upper Freehold Allentown, N. J. on 100 acres of land as Daniel Liming, while his brother was taxed at the same time on 60 acres. The Will of William Liming shows 130 acres. The courthouse and records were burned and there is no way of determining other facts. But the fact that Deborah Lemmon or Leming, remarried in 1755 or 1762, would indicate that she was through with the land.

John Finnes was also taxed October 1758 in Upper Freehold Monmouth County, N. J. on 8 acres. This would indicate that his widow Elizabeth Fine also resided there. But whether she was Elizabeth Leming, prior or Elizabeth Schenk Fine is unknown.

It seems probable that Daniel Leming served in the French and Indian War 1758 under Major William McDonald in New Jersey Provincial Regiment at Fort Duquesne, Pa., and Quebec, Canada, moving up to Sussex Co. N. J. the frontier County, where John Fine died, 1759.

Daniel Leming, clearly spelled, signed a petition addressed to the General Assembly of North Carolina, and transmitted through Territorial Governor John Sevier, Dec. 1787, pages 705 to 713, Vol. 20, North Carolina State Records.

Daniel Leming's name appears on page 711.

Peter Fine's name appears on pag 713.

The petition from the Western Country (of North Carolina) asking that an organized government be set up to protect settlers from Indians and to protect land claims, and to create a separate state because U. S. and N. C. could not agree for two years in the meantime no law and order.

Daniel Leming's name sake and grandson Daniel Leming, II, is buried at Greenville, Greene Co. Tenn., and the tombstone is marked Daniel Liming. John Liming, another grandson was pensioned under that name for the War of 1812, whereas other members served under the name of Lemmon, except Jesse Leming who served under his own name, and one Samuel Lemmon made proof for bounty land warrant that his name was Samuel Leming. This seems to prove that Daniel Liming of New Jersey and Daniel Leming of Tennessee were one and the same person.

Davidson County, Tenn. did not join in the foregoing petition indicating that the petitioners were in East Tennessee.

This petition is equal to the first census. The Archives Division, Department of Education, Nashville, Tenn. states no effort has been made to analyze and biograph the petitioners.

Mrs. Susan Leming Miller, Greenville, Tenn. has in her possession a receipt given in 1812 by Sarah Leming to Samuel Leming and Thomas Leming, for William Leming's share (of the Daniel Leming estate).

Said Sarah Leming was the wife of William Leming. He had land deed 1790 as William Lemmings.

Among the Tennessee Archives, Department of Education at Nashville is a record of Daniel Lemon being taxed for land 1803-7 in Old Tennessee County (Southwest Territory south of the Ohio) now Stewart County. Patent was issued 1810 No. 892.

William Polk presented to the Assembly of North Carolina a petition by Memican Hunt and others, 1802, providing for recognizing Revolutionary Claims, North Carolina State Records. The Adjutant General of North Carolina states he has numerous payrolls of militia during the Revolutionary War which have never been published, but they are not indexed.

Probable family:

D1. Elizabeth Leming, wife. (Oral tradition of Dr. Elijah Leming), whom he married in New Jersey, Monmouth County, about 1759. Issue:

D2. Thomas Leming, b. about 1760 Monmouth Co. N. J.; d. Cocke Co. Tenn. after 1814.

D3. William Leming (1st) b. 1762 in New Jersey. Killed in Battle of New Orleans, Dec. 24, 1814.

D4. Samuel Leming (1st), b. 1766 New Jersey, d. Cocke Co. Tenn. 1839.

Dr. Elijah Leming orally handed down the tradition that his great great grandfather was at the Battle of Quebec in the French and Indian War 1759, married Elizabeth in New Jersey and moved to East Tennessee when it was part of North Carolina about 1780. (Statement of Mrs. Teresa E. Leming, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Belle Johnson setp daughter, and Mrs. Lela Henderson, granddaughter.)

Daniel Leming:

Vol. XV, Governor and Council of New Jersey, Assembly, authorized the enlistment of 500 soldiers Aug. 1746 to served in the Canadian Expedition, not including those militia men on the New Jersey Frontier. They embarked in ships and bat-teaus from Perth Amboy and Newark and sailed to Albany, N. Y. where they were encamped during 1747, until the Canadian Expedition was abandoned.

It is probable that the letter from Daniel Leming to William Leming dated 1747 was the result of this service.

The Captains of the five companies were: Capt. John Dagworthy's Company; 85 on duty; 5 dead, 10 deserted, three commissioned officers.

Capt. James Parker's Company, 72 on duty, 1 absent on furloe two in fort at Albany, 1 discharged, 6 dead, 16 deserted, three commissioned officers.

Capt. Nathaniel Wares Company, 82 on duty, 2 absent on furloe, 1 discharged, 3 dead, 14 deserted, three commissioned officers.

Capt. Campble Stevens' Company, 47 on duty, 4 absent on furloe, 5 in Fort at Albany, 12 sick, 25 deserted, three commissioned officers.

Report signed by Colonel Peter Schuyler, commanding officer. To Pres. of Council, John Hamilton. Members of Council included Robert Hunter Morris, and of the Assembly Aaron Leaming.

The tradition that Daniel Leming, and his sons Thomas Leming and William Leming were revolutionary soldiers may be verified by finding the muster rolls of Capt. Zabdiel Potter, Md. 4th Md. Bn. of Flying Camp, 1776-78; or Colonel John Sevier of North Carolina Militia 1777 to close of War, if they can be found. The Adjutant General of North Carolina states he has a number of old militia muster rolls that have never been published but my agent stated that she was sure I would be disappointed.

Another source of information may be in the office of the Commissioner of Lands, Tennessee, agent for United States, but my agent there states I would be disappointed. In 1802 Col. Wm. Polk presented to the Assembly of North Carolina a petition signed by Memican Hunt and others, reciting all land grants laws by North Carolina in payment for military service, and some claimants had lost their lands by reason of the Indian Claims, and the petition was intended to give those soldiers opportunity to land in the Territory of the Southwest. Hence, Daniel Lemon taxed land 1803-7. Stewart Co. Tenn.

But the "Back water men" assembled at Sycamore Shoals, now East Tenn. 1779-81 to march to King's Mountain Battle ground. They elected their own officers and there probably was no written record kept of the names. (Drapers Heros of King Mountain)

W3. John Leming, 4th son of William 1st, and brother of Daniel, b. about 1740 Upper Freehold, Monmouth Co. N. J.

Inherited part of land in his father's will, William Liming, April 7, 1748.

John Lemon, Private Major William McDonald's Company of New Jersey Provincials, according to Secretary of State, 1757-64.

Taxed on 60 acres of land in Upper Freehold, Monmouth Co. N. J. 1758, Ellis History.

Wife unknown.

Children unknown.

Died in Monmouth Co. N. J. 1805, and Elizabeth Leming (Limming) made inventory, most of which were book accounts, including William Lemmon.

D2. Thomas Leming (Lemon), b. about 1760 Monmouth Co. New Jersey, and moved with his parents Daniel Leming and ——— Leming overland to Cocke County, Tennessee (formerly part of North Carolina), about 1780. He married about Wautaga Settlement (Carter Co. Tenn. now) about 1790. The Carter Co. records are incomplete, the Cocke County records were destroyed by fire 1856 and again in 1898.

Thomas Lemons, Private enlisted November 13, 1914 under Colonel William Bayless, and Captain Landin, 4th East Tennessee Militia, War of 1812, from Cocke Co. Tenn. (Archives of Tennessee). He never applied for bounty land under act of 1850, nor his widow, nor any one for him. Tradition states he died "early."

Various members of the Leming family throughout 300 years have been misspelled Lemon or Lemmon. The writer must therefore, rely upon Circumstantial records and family tradition. Probable family:

DT1. ——— Leming, wife.

DT2. Jesse Leming, b. 1785 Cocke Co. Tenn; d.

Tyler, Smith Co. Tex. 1855.

DT3. Hiram H. Leming (Lamon, Lemmon), v. Cocke Co. Tenn; d. Monroe Co. Tenn.

DT6. Thomas Leming (Lemon), Jr., b. Cocke Co. Tenn.; d. Carter Co. Tenn. about 1855.

Mrs. Susan Leming Miller of Greenville, Tenn., has in her possession a receipt dated 1812 given by Sarah Leming to Samuel Leming and Thomas Leming for a share of William Leming in (the Daniel Leming estate.)

Mrs. Belle (Winchester) Johnson, step daughter of Dr. Elijah Leming said in 1935 during her life time, that the doctor said one of his uncles at the New Orleans battle was Samuel Leming. Pension records show Jesse Leming to be the other uncle.

It is possible that Thomas Leming (Lemon) Sr. was a Revolutionary soldier in Colonel John Sevier's regiment at the battle of Kings Mountain, or as history states, Colonel Sevier left part of his regiment in East Tennessee to protect the settlements. This in accordance with tradition, of Dr. Elijah Leming that his grandfather was a Revolutionary soldier. (Heroes of Kings Mountain by Draper, and Ramsey's Annals of Tennessee.) Sycamore Flats of Shoals at foot of Yellow Mountain on Watauga about 3 miles below present village of Elizabethtown Carter Co. Tenn. 1780-1781.

U. S. Census 1840 shows Jesse Lemon, 9 in family.

Archives Division, Department of Education, Tenn. has record of militia Jesse Leming, War of 1812. He enl. Oct. 7, 1813, Cocke Co. Tenn. Capt. William Jobe, Col. John Bunch, East Tenn. Vol. Mounted Inf. This record is surprising inasmuch as a large number were listed as Lemons and Lemmon. Also in Parson's Andrew Jackson it is stated that Colonel Bunch and regiment gallantly marched up to Indian Breastworks, Horseshoe Bend, Ala. and fired volleys into the Indian Camp. U. S. Record Capt. Wm. Job. Served until Jan. 7, 1814.

U. S. Census 1850 Smith Co. Tex. Jesse Leming, age 63, b. Tenn. Baptist preacher, real estate $2000.00. Wife Nancy (Harbison), age 64. Polly (Mary), age 20, b. Tenn. Enumerated Sept. 21, 1850. His land included spring in Tyler. around which C. S. A. built Stockade for Union prisoners 1864-5.

Jesse Leming applied Feb. 17, 1851 for bounty land which was due on account of his services in the War of 1812 under Act of Sept. 28, 1850. He resided then in Smith Co. Texas, and was aged 63, date and place of birth and names of parents not shown. Warrant 37570 for 40 acres of land issued. Soldier died June 5, 1852.

Nancy Leming, the soldier's widow applied April 10, 1855 for the additional bounty land which was due. She was then a resident of Smith County, Texas, aged 69. She was allowed 120 acres on Warrant No. 63257.

In Feb. 1856 Thomas and William Carmichael were residents of Smith County, Texas. They stated then they had been well acquainted with both Jesse Leming and his wife Nancy, but did not state any relationship. Their affidavit was made before Moses N. Leming, a Justice of the Peace for Smith County, Texas.

Nancy (Harbison) Leming, widow, died in Smith Co. Texas 1859. Moses, Polly Charmichael separated from husband William and her daughter Nannie Carmichael moved to Polk Co. Ark. 1859. Where Moses N. Leming as justice of the peace, executed papers for the widow of William Lemmon, 1860 killed at New Orleans 1814. Moses was a lawyer and postmaster at old Dallas near present Mena, Ark. until 1879 when Polly died. Moses and Nannie returned to Athens, Henderson Co. Tex. where he practiced law until his death in 1880. Nannie L. Charmichel married J. W. Reagan June 19, 1877 and resided on farm south of Nechez R.

The land in Southeast Tennessee was Indian land until treaty of 1820, and Tennessee was agent for the U. S. General Land Office. The State of Tennessee sold the lands by lottery to speculators. One such speculator was a merchant of Madisonville, Monroe Co. Tenn. named Jas. T. Smith.

Trust deed June 12, 1835 Jesse Leming to Jas. T. Smith, to secure payment of one note to William Grant for $42.37, also to secure Wm. Grant and Ackillas Stapp for endorsing one note for $120 to the Planters Bank of Tennessee, Athens Branch. Trust deed Dec. 17, 1836, Jesse Lemming to Jas. T. Smith given to secure the payment of two notes, one for $42.37 pay-abe to William Grant, and one for $50.00 to Wm. N. Stakley, covering the above land.

Warranty Deed Jesse Leming to John Stephens. Covers the above land, except 20 acres heretofore sold to Mary Stephens, dated (not) probably 1846 when he moved to Texas.

Other record or partial record shows Jesse Leming in Monroe Co. 1828 which was the time he moved from Cocke to Monroe Counties.

This family moved with Dr. Elijah Leming and family in 1858, then followed the St. L. & S. F. railroad survey southward. William Leming and family stopped at Eagle Mills, Wash. Co. Ark.

Their entire family record is not available, inasmuch as they failed to acknowledge the writer's letter.

Dr. Isaac K. Leming wrote to his father Dr. Elijah Leming 1872 that Joel Leming was at Eagle Mills and that they had fun talking over their boyhood while travelling.

Also among Dr. Elijah Leming's papers is a letter dated 1865 from Joel Leming, asking where his father was. Apparently the father, William Leming, died during the Civil War.

Bounty Land Warrant No. 915 83, 120 Acres. To Samuel Leming who served in the War of 1812 as Samuel Lemmon, is stated on face of the bounty warrant, photographic copy in possession of the writer.

Samuel Leming was born 1780, place not stated, names of parents not given. He volunteered in Newport, Cocke County, Tenn. as Private in Captain John Netherton's Company of Tenn. Militia, against the Creek Indians from Oct. 17, 1813 until Feb. 8, 1814. Bounty warrant was allowed in full satisfaction for his services.

He was living in 1850 and 1855 in Lawrence Co. Ky. He married Feb. 18, 1806, in Cocke Co. Tenn. Nancy White and was living 1858 in Lawrence Co. Ky. aged 71. No reference is made to children. Mary Bramer (Brimer) sister of the widow Nancy Lemings was a resident of Lawrence Co. Ky. 1858 and stated she was present at the marriage of Samuel Lemings and her sister Nancy White.

March 4, 1853 he sold and assigned his right to locate the warrant on public lands to one Jeremiah Brown. Acknowledgement was in Lawrence Co. Ky. before ——— (not decipherable) Brimer a justice of the peace. April 24, 1857 warrant was assigned to J. Warren Clark, who located it in District of Des Moines, Ia. in 1859. May 24, 1866 Commissioner of Pensions cancelled the warrant for fraudulent assignment, for the reason Samuel Lemings was shown to have died 1856. Subsequently warrant was issued for 40 acres to the widow Nancy Leming, and patented, but she died 1859.

Joshua Leming (Lemmon) served in the war of 1812 in Captain Branch Jones' Company, 4th Regiment of Tenn. (Col. Wm. Bayless) Tennessee Militia. Enlisted Nov. 13, 1814 from Cocke Co. and served until June 15, 1815.

Undoubtedly he married in Cocke Co. about 1816. The Cocke Co. courthouse and records were destroyed by fire in 1856.

Joshua Lemmon was enumerated by the enumerator 1840 Monroe County, Tenn. as having 8 in family, age 40-50. Not enumerated 1850.

He did not file claim for bounty land warrant under the act of 1850, neither did his widow; and she did not file claim for bounty land and pension under the act of 1855. Nor did any land speculator buy their bounty land warrants and file for them, consequently it must be presumed that they died before 1850, and that his widow died before him.

The writer does not know the name of his great-grandparents. But the above Joshua is the only plausible record of such person being in the vicinity where tradition says they were. Tradition of Dr. Elijah Leming.

Oral statement of Dr. Elijah Leming stated that he had two uncles in the war of 1812 at New Orleans, (Mrs. Teresa Leming, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Belle Johnson, step daughter, Mrs. Lela Henderson, granddaughter.)

DTJ3. Elijah Leming, b. Dec. 13, 1819, Tenn.; d. Waldron, Ark., November 1903. Married Dec. 24, 1840, Madisonville, Monroe County, Tenn. by Rev. George A. Yoakum, Presbyterian minister, and Justice of the Peace, by record, to

He raised a company of volunteers in the spring of 1780, marched against the Indians to Beaver Creek and was out two weeks. Early in the fall of 1780, he with his company volunteered under Col. Sevier and marched to King's Mountain, was in that battle, length of service 3 months. Immediately after his return he received orders from Col. Sevier to guard the frontier against the Cherokee Indians, marched his company over to French Broad river, had an engagement with the Indians, burned some of their towns, length of service 3 months. Pension allowed Sept. 12, 1932 at which time he was a resident of Sevier County, Tenn. He died April 1, 1833 in Sevier Co. BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF ELIJAH LEMING AND FAMILY

DTJ3. Elijah Leming was born Dec. 13, 1819 in or near Cocke County, Tenn. He moved with his parents Joshua and Sarah Leming (Lemmon) to Ball Play Creek, near its confluence with Hicks Creek, Monroe County, Tenn. about 1828, together with Jesse Leming and Nancy (Harbison) Leming, his uncle and aunt.

Somewhat past the age of 18 years, he left the home of his parents and enlisted in the Tennessee Militia for the Cherokee removal 1838, under General Winfield Scott, U. S. Army. He was a private under Capt. N. P. Dodson and Col. Wm. Lindley, Tennessee Volunteers March 30, 1838, at Calhoun, Tenn. and served until June, 1838, while rounding up the Cherokees and moving them to Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, and moving some to the reservation in the Mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee, called Cherokee Reservation. His brother Hiram Chandler Leming also enlisted in the same company and was promoted to Sergeant. Their service is recorded in National Archives and Tennessee Archives as "Lemmon."

For this service Elijah Leming was granted a bounty land warrant which he sold to a land speculator and it was located in Kentucky under the name of Elijah Leming, and title confirmed 1866, by USGLO.

Many original letters from his brother and relatives, and from Elijah himself to his sons, granddaughter, and a number of Civil and Military Records concerning Dr. Elijah Leming, have descended to this writer. In addition the writer was fortunate enough to take from dictation for his mother, Mrs. Teresa E. Leming, and Mrs. Belle (Winchester) Johnson, much of the family history. The writer quotes from this data without continuous reference to the authority.

Doctor Elijah Leming said about 1841 he learned he was spelling his name wrong, and that he rode horseback through East Tennessee to Cocke Co. where he verified the spelling of the name as Leming in the Family Bible and family history manuscript in possession of James Leming. Thereafter he spelled the name correctly Leming. (Affidavit of Teresa E. Leming, Statement of Mrs. Belle Johnson, and statement of Mrs. Lela Henderson, his daughter-in-law, step-daughter and granddaughter, respectively.) That was more than an hundred years ago. Any tradition he handed down orally is correct.

In 1838-9 Elijah Leming mined gold with the Consolidated Gold Mining Company, at Dalonega, Lumpkin Co., Georgia, and accumulated some money.

It would seem that his parents were alive when the U. S. Census of 1840 for Monroe Co. Tenn. was taken in the spring. At that time there were eight in the family. Both his parents died before 1850. They were not enumerated at that time.

The family moved in company with Jesse Leming and his son William Leming, in wagons to Ross' Landing, Chattanooga, Tenn. 1846. They may have traveled over the "Natchez Trace," or wagon road to Vicksburg, Miss., but I am inclined to believe they floated down the Tennessee and Mississippi Rivers on flatboats to Vicksburg, Miss. Both of them being soldiers and used to flatboat travel.

From Vicksburg, Miss. they following the Spanish Trail across Louisiana to Marshall, Harrison County, Texas, where Elijah Leming was taken sick with malaria. They camped in the field of Dr. Isaac Kellough who attended him. Mrs. Leming would stand on a knoll and call for the doctor when she needed him. (The writer has been in Marshall, and it is a city of numerous mounds or knolls.) Elijah studied medicine here under the good Doctor Isaac Kellough after whom he named one of his sons. Also here his second son Adolphus was born April 15, 1849, and U. S. Census of 1850 was taken. A short time after that he moved with his family to the Natchez River, south side, where his sister Nancy Turman and family resided (now Henderson Co.)

They took up land here but the Texas Supreme Court in 1858 decided the Spanish Land Grants were Valid. This was on the Venn Spanish land grant, about Chandler, Smith Co. Texas now.

Dr. Leming had acquired sufficient knowledge and did practice medicine there.

They took up the trail again searching for good free land. However, Mrs. Mary Ann Leming refused to go unless the men would load the large black iron wash pot. She had been washing the Doctor's white shirts in a basin after getting up early enough to drive the hogs out of the spring before they stirred up the mud. The Doctor had acquired the iron pot for which she was very thankful, and she did not propose to leave it. For two days the wagon train was held up. Mrs. Leming sat on a stump and flatly refused to go. Finally the Doctor gave up and asked the boys to load the wash pot. This was done. The "boys" were William Leming perhaps Moses Leming, the Dooleys, and the Doctor.

The trail led to Fort Towson in Choctaw Nation on the Red River below Broken Bow, and thence through Indian Territory over the military road, to Ft. Smith, Sebastian Co. Ark. The Railroads had surveyed but did not build to Fort Smith until twenty years later. Dr. J. T. H. Main, a former surgeon in the Army with whom Dr. Leming was acquainted, informed him of a prospective place to practice medicine at Waldron,

MRS. MARY ANN PIERCE LEMING, 1864

Scott Co. Ark. He arrived there in August 1858 and purchased land just south of the Leming Cemetery.

The two roomed log house with low roof, served them for living quarters. A separate kitchen and dining room of logs served for eating purposes. It was while they resided here that George W. Leming died of pneumonia, Jan. 1859. Dr. Leming purchased 160 acres and moved to the house in the north part of Waldron, Feb. 1859 where he resided until his death Nov. 1903. The house was a double log house with half story, and a log kitchen several feet from the main dwelling. This was burned during the civil war and Dr. Leming rebuilt of dressed lumber in 1865.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF ELIJAH LEMING AND FAMILY CIVIL WAR

Dr. Leming, because of his profession, was not unduly harrassed during the Civil War. Some wandering bandits occasionally paid them a visit, steeling horses, cattle and money. The Doctor complained that they took the harmless canary bird in a cage in the hall, and which everyone loved.

"Waldron, Arkansas, Dec. 29, 1863. This is to certify that Dr. Leming is a loyal citizen and will be respected as such. Signed, J. M. Johnson, Colonel Commanding 4th Ark. Inf. (U. S.)."

"Waldron, Arks. Dec. 30th, 1863, Col. Bassett. After compliments, Mr. Leming, a soldier of my company has permission to go without escort to Fort Smith. Yours Truly, Samuel Bora, 1st Lieut. Comdg. "He took the oath of allegiance to the United States at Little Rock, Ark. Jan. 20, 1864. Signed by J. K. Morey, Capt. and Asst. Provost Marshall."

When his son Adolphus G. Leming was about to be drafted by the confederates, the Doctor took him and traveled to Jenny Lind, Ark., where he procured the following pass:

"Jenny Lind, Ark. Feb. 22, 1864. To Colonel John

Edwards. Introducing Dr. Leming. He has taken oath of allegiance. Signed E. J. Searle, Lt. Col. 1st Ark. Vol. Inf. (U. S.). "Probably they traveled by boat to Little Rock, where Dr. Leming was transferred from Company A. 1st Ark. Inf. to Company I, 2nd Ark. Vol. Inf. (U. S.) and Adolphus G. Leming was enlisted, both on March 4, 1864. They marched by military road to Clarksville, Ark. the headquarters of several regiments.

The 4th Ark. Inf. was organized at Waldron, Ark. Col. J. M. Johnson of Carroll Co. came to muster them in, but there being so few the 4th Arkansas was abandoned, and those already mustered in were transferred to 2nd Ark. Inf. (A. W. Bishop, Adt. Gen. of Ark. Report.)

"Hd. Qrs. Post, Clarksville, Arkansas, May 16th, 1864. In compliance with special Orders No. 60, paragraph 2nd, dated at these headquarters May 16, 1864, Elijah Leming, Acting Hospital Steward is hereby assigned to duty as Post Surgeon, and will immediately enter upon his duties as such. By Command of David Goss Captain Comdg. Post, W. H. Shattuc, Post Adj."

Probably a senior doctor had arrived at the post.

"He will report from time to time by letter to these headquarters containing full information of all the wants of the Colony. This order to be subject to the approval of the General Commanding the Division. By order of Colonel M. L. Stephenson, J. W. Donnelley, 1st Lt. Inf. Adjutant."

General F. Steele and his army entered Little Rock, Ark.

Sept. 10, 1863. General Bussey commanded Army of the Frontier at Fort Smith. A provisional state government had been set up with Isaac Murphy as Governor, and J. C. White, Secretary of State, who were elected April, 1865 after the state was reorganized.

"Clarksville, Ark. Feby. 21st, 1865, Dr. Leming, you will proceed to Fort Smith, Ark. on the first steamer upon your arrival at that point you will call upon the General Commanding and make the following request in behalf of the refugees of this part of the country and connected to the soldiers of the 2nd Ark. inf. more particularly.

"You will request an order from him for all the unoccupied houses and lands of disloyal parties and all others not to be put under cultivation this year, lying north of Van Buren, Ark. and between that point and the foot of the Boston Mountains, or such other portion of the county as may be selected by him within protection of the Post and troops of Ft. Smith, etc. M. L. Stephenson, Colonel commanding."

"Hd. Quarters, 1st Brigade, Feb. 24, 1865, respectfully referred to General Bussey, John Edwards, Brig. Gen."

The War Department at Washington ordered the abandonment of Fort Smith. State officers and citizens objected. After some delay the War Department rescinded its order.

Dr. Leming established his Refugee Camp. Headquarters Post, Van Buren May 24, 1865, I. Kirorey, Maj. Comd. to Dr. Leming Colonizing Agent, Van Buren, (protest over small pox case).

It was during this period that these were happening at Waldron.

CIVIL WAR

"Shortly after I left home Feb. 22, 1864, the robbers came again and demanded money. My wife gave them a large roll of Confederate money. They were not content with that, but burned my house." Dr. E. Leming, wrote in a letter to his granddaughter Mrs. Lela Henderson.

Statement of Mrs. Teresa E. Leming, daughter-in-law, by dictation to the writer:

The robbers rode up to the front gate. Isaac was standing on the porch. He was 14 and large for his age, stout. He had a puppy in his arms. The men ordered him to drop the puppy. He refused. Julia rushed up to him and knocked the puppy to the floor. The robber raised his rifle and fired, killing the puppy at Isaac's feet. Isaac was angry and the men had gotten off their horses and came into the house. Isaac attacked the man who shot his puppy. The man threatened to take him to the Confederate army. Julia put Isaac in the corner of the room and when the man tried to grab him, she scratched his face. The men were so angry they grabbed the bedding and dragged it into the yard and cut it into ribbons with their knives. They went back into the house and set it afire. The house burned to the ground.

When night came, William B. Turman, who lived across the ridge called Turman's Hill, came to the family and invited them to spend the night with his mother, Mrs. Turman. They accepted the offer gratefully. Mrs. Turman gave them a flour sack full of vituals to eat the next morning as they trudged through the snow to Fort Smith, fifty miles away. Whenever they heard horses on the road they would hide in ditches or behind bushes until the horsemen had passed. It was night again, and they groped their way into a vacant house at Witcherville, Sebastian County. It was so cold and Elijah, Jr. was so cold, Mrs. Mary Leming and the girls, Julia and Nannie covered him with their skirts to keep him warm.

When they reached Jenny Lind, the outpost of the 1st Ark. Inf., word preceeded them to Fort Smith and Van Buren, and the Doctor organized a relief escort and went out to meet his family.

Then, anticipating that Fort Smith would be abandoned, the Doctor sent his wife, two daughters and two young sons on steam boat to Little Rock, with a letter to his friend J. T. While, Secretary of State, to find them quarters. He secured for them a house near that of Governor Isaac Murphy, where they remained until August, 1865.

Doctor E. Leming was discharged from the Army at Clarksville, Ark. August 31, 1865, and went immediately to Little Rock by steamer to be reunited with his family and bring them home.

Adolphus G. Leming also was discharged August 31, 1865, but walked with comrades over the military road toward Ft. Smith. At the east side of Frog Bayou, it was dark and they did not know how deep. So they slept on the bank to await sunrise. Mosquitoes were very bad. One man was so blasphemous that Adolphus grew tired of it and thrashed the man. (Stated in his letter to his wife 1881).

When Doctor Leming and family returned to their homestead they used the old log kitchen and camped until they could build a new house.

RECONSTRUCTION

Reconstruction all over the South was a period of hard work and sacrifice. Doctor Leming owned two farms and two town lots but there was not a house standing, all stock was gone. Wild hogs roamed the country. It was the duty of Isaac and Elijah, Jr., to snare these, and they kept the family supplied with meat. Old plows were mended and oxen were used to plant fall gardens. A perennial onion patch of shellots grew near the bank of Poteau Creek. A turnip patch was sowed. Corn meal was ground at Fort Smith. The orchard, neglected, grew some late fruits. Medical practice paid little that year.

Adolphus G. Leming and Joe Manes hauled lumber in ox wagons from Fort Smith, 50 miles distant, to be dressed by Sam K. Duncan carpenter, for the new house.

KU KLUX KLAN

In 1866 Doctor Elijah Leming was elected Scott County Representative. He traveled to and from Little Rock the capital by steamboat, as shown by letters to his son Adolphus, the J. S. Hall Packet and Napoleon from Fort Smith to Little Rock made regular weekly schedules on Tuesday.

There had been some prominent men over the State murdered and the Arkansas Gazette, newspaper, states it was believed to be the work of the Ku Klux Klan. Governor Powell

Clayton believed there was an "invisible" empire. He declared martial law, and organized the state into six military districts and commissioned officers of the Arkansas State Guard. Among them was Colonel Elijah Leming, and his son, Captain Adolphus G. Leming, November 2, 1868. Insofar as this writer knows, there was not any disturbance of the KKK in Scott County. However, the commissions remained in force until Governor Elisha Baxter revoked them in 1873.

THE BROOKS-BAXTER WAR

No violence resulted from his political fight in Scott County. Baxter was elected Governor 1872, and Joseph Brooks was defeated. Adolphus G. Leming campaigned for Joe Brooks in Scott County. Mason Benjamin was attorney for Joe Brooks in the law suit that followed, but the court decided in favor of Baxter.

Julia A. Leming was appointed postmistress at Waldron, Scott Co. 1868, but resigned and Adolphus G. Leming was appointed postmaster fall of 1868. The Postoffice was so small that the letters were kept in a shoe box at the Leming home.

LEMING & SON, STORE

"I first saw Captain Adolphus G. Leming, when he was building the store on Lot 1, east side of Main Street, at the Northeast corner of the courthouse square," stated Mrs. Teresa E. Leming. "That was early in 1869. The house was a small frame building in which he and his father run a store of drugs and general merchandise. The house was afterwards used by Samuel Leming as a sheriff's office in 1878." (Now occupied by Oliver Jewelry Company).

"They ran the store until early in 1873," continued Mrs. Teresa E. Leming. "Then Adolphus began clerking in Nat Floyd's store, located where the T. G. Bates store, is now."

"Isaac always got the first choice of the new merchandise. Adolphus dressed very plainly," she continued. "Isaac was a good worker, he loved to plow and plant garden and crops.

He wanted to go with me but I expect Adolphus told him not to."

UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE

"Fayetteville, Ark. Oct. 19, 1872 to Capt. A. G. Leming, Waldron. Dear Brother: I am sorry to say Atch has quit school. He got a job working in the postoffice. (Atch E. Johnston, brother of Mrs. Teresa E. Leming). Joel Leming is here. Signed I. K. Leming."

St. Louis Eclectic Medical College 1100 North Market St., St. Louis, Mo. Dec. 18, 1876, letter from I. K. Leming to Dr. E. Leming, Waldron, Ark. Isaac K. Leming and Elijah Leming, Jr., together with Mrs. Abbie Leming, Isaac's wife, went by steamboat to study medicine and speaks of remaining two terms. Dr. George H. Field instructor. Atch E. Johnston joined them there and lived in the same house.

St. Louis, Md. March 4, 1877. The class is expecting you to deliver the valedictory at the close of the term," wrote Isaac K. Leming to his father, March 4, 1877. "Dr. Field said he would postpone sending you your diploma until we hear from you again." They all were graduated together: Dr. Elijah, Sr., Isaac K., Elijah, Jr. and Atch E. Johnston.

It is probable that they resided in what is known as Old St. Charles portion of St. Louis for North Market Street is now West Market Street. The correspondence mentions boots and muddy streets.

TRIP TO KANSAS

Mrs. Mary A. Leming had been ailing for sometime and the Doctor thought a trip up north would be beneficial. He called upon his sons and they arranged a trip to Kansas. He sold some of his land to buy a herd of cattle. He had 900 acres left on his tax list. He had no intention of remaining there.

Adolphus G. Leming, Dr. Isaac K. Leming, Dr. Elijah Leming, Jr., the Gentrys, the Dooleys, the Yancies, were the cowboys driving the herd, including William Leming.

William Leming states that they drove the herd out through Kings Creek and crossed the line into Indian Territory, driving thence up to Bakers Diggings (Galena, Kansas.)

Dr. Elijah Leming, Jr. had commission as a Deputy U. S. Marshall dated June 2, 1880.

"I drove a hack" Mrs. Teresa E. Leming states. "In it I had Mrs. Mary Ann Leming on a mattress, and three husky youngsters to look after. Abbie drove a hack also. She had two children. Dr. Elijah Leming, Sr. rode a horse by the hack or sometimes up front scouting the camp sites. There were several wagons loaded with food and sleeping equipment.

"We drove by Muskogee, Indian Territory. It was a village of three or four stores. Indians were sitting around. It was the first time I ever saw an Indian.

"When we camped, the men would dig a hole in the ground and gather long sage grass and twist it into tight fagots. We burned these in the hole to cook over, and also to prevent fire getting out on the prairie. I did most of the cooking.

"One night a storm came up, the cattle got restless, and the boys rode around and around them singing at the top of their voices to keep them calm.

"We reached Galena, Kansas, late in June, 1880. The cattle were infested with cattle tick, and the state authorities required us to pasture the cattle until they were free of the tick. Dr. Leming sold them to Nat Floyd, a former resident of Waldron, Ark.

"Mrs. Mary Ann Leming died July 11, 1880, and Adolphus bought a tombstone and stayed there to erect it, while the others returned to Waldron.

"We had rented a tenant house among the zinc diggings. But Abbie was afraid Joseph would fall into one of the holes, and Dr. Isaac went up in town and rented a fine house."

Dr. Elijah Leming was the first member of the Board of Health of Scott County, 1881.

He married 1883 Mrs. Gilly Keener Winchester, widow of John Winchester, who died at Berryville, Carroll Co. in the Army 1863. She had a daughter named Belle Winchester, who married Dick Johnson.

He died December 19, 1903, age 84.

"His was indeed an honorable, long active and useful career, and no doubt has been and will continue to be an incentive with his sons to high and noble action.”—Thomas Boles, U. S. Senator.

“It was my good fortune to know your father. As a soldier his duties with fidelity and intelligence, as a comrade, he was ever mindful of the golden rule, and the polite regard which comes from innate gentility, as a follower of the Great Exemplar, he was a conspicuous type.”—M. L. Stephenson, former Colonel 2nd Ark. U. S. Regiment, and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ark.

Teresa E. Leming's ancestry is of importance for D. A. R. purposes. Her parents were Dr. Acriel C. Johnston, b. Feb. 24, 1825, Johnston Co. North Carolina, Pole Cat Creek. Next ancestor Whitmill Johnston, b. Sept. 9, 1779, and Elizabeth, daughter of Wm. Webster and Mary, his wife, who married June 30, 1812, Johnston Co. N. C. Next ancestor Obediah (Obed) Johnston and Sally, his wife. According to Johnston Family Bible in possession of Mrs. Mollie Johnston Ballard of Waldron, Ark. Other Johnston Co. N. C. records show Obediah Johnston had a North Carolina land grant on Pole Cat Creek, Johnston Co., N. C. 1781 and that he died 1834 leaving second wife Cordelia. But there is no military or pension record. Next ancestor was Thomas Johnston of Johnston Co. N. C., b. about 1734 and died as shown by will 1781. There were at least three Thomas' in the Revolutionary War, one died during that war, the 2nd served in Thompsons Company 1st Regiment N. C. L., the 3rd served in Summers Company, 10th Regiment N. C. L. But since our Thomas died 1781 without wife, there is no pension record. Incidentally Thomas was the son of Gilbert Johnston who came over with Gov. Gabriel Johnston 1734 Scot. and was a brother. Captain William Webster was an officer in N. C. L.

Rebecca Carolin Simmons Johnston, wife of Dr. Acriel C. Johnston, was the daughter of Isaac Simmons and Carolin E. Fowler Simmons. Isaac Simmons was a pioneer banker at Fayetteville, N. C. and moved to Troy, Ala. John Fowler was brother of Carolin E. Fowler Simmons, upon whom many base their D. A. R. membership. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War N. C. L. and pensioned in Ala.

Acriel and Rebecca eloped from Pike Co. to Ozark Co. Ala. and were married. Acriel was an overseer of slaves. In treating them he learned something of medicine and surgery. When the civil war came he tried to avoid service by moving westward from Vicksburg to Arkansas thence to Texas where the draft caught him in Hopkins Co. Tex. and he was Pvt. Co. H, 2nd Texas Regiment C. S. A. and was in battle at Mansfield, La., and Vicksburg, Miss., where he was captured and taken to Union prison in Alabama and paroled 1865. He began the regular practice of medicine at Waldron, Ark. 1869.

DTJ6. Samuel Leming was a Union sympathizer. He rode horseback from Bradley Co. Tenn. to Hopkinsville, Ky. to join the Union Army Corporal Company L, 3rd Tenn. Cavalry 1861. He was with Colonel Straight of Gen. Rosecrans Command, from Murphreesboro, Tenn. on a raid in Georgia, June 1862, when General Forest captured him at Sulphur Trussels, Ala. After the battle he was taken to Andersonville, S. C. prisoner of war camp for 18 months. He was suspected of trying to tunnel out and escape along with others, and severely punished. Food and water and sanitation was horrible. He was removed to Cohohoby, Ala. for exchange. He and others were placed on Steamboat Sultana and sent to Memphis. Seven miles above that city a confederate bomb exploded the boilers. Some 1200 soldiers were killed and drowned. Samuel Leming, with broken ankle, swam the icy river to Memphis where spectators on the bank saw him and threw a rope around him and pulled him ashore. He brought the first news of the explosion. He was taken to the Gayso hotel which was then a Federal Hospital. He remained there until he recovered. He was discharged 1864 and went to Catoosa Co. Ga. where his family had refugeed. (Reporter, 1879)

Correspondence from Samuel to Elijah shows that Samuel and family left Tenn., crossed the Mississippi at Birds Point into Scott Co. Missouri in an ox wagon, which he could not sell to pay steamboat fare to Ft. Smith, Apr. 9, 1871.

He stated he was a Baptist.

He arrived in ox wagon at Waldron, Scott Co. Ark. 1872. He bought a farm. The Greenback Party was popular. It elected Samuel Leming Sheriff 1878. He was also Captain of Scott County Guards, State Guards, Maj. William R. Cox commanding. Aug. 1879 in line of duty was shot in stomach and died shortly.

Martha Leming applied for pension and received it until her death May 12, 1900.

Monroe County, Tennessee

Mr. Shelly Webb of Mount Vernon, Monroe County, Tenn. deserves a great deal of credit for the efficient manner in which he investigated Monroe County for the Lemings (alias Lemmons). He calculates that he is a relative through the Devine family. He is a regular contributor to the Madisonville Democrat.

At the place where Jesse Lemings land was located are two grave yards. The Leming residence burned during the Civil War. Hicks Creek and Ballplay Creek join near the place and flow into Hiwassee River. One grave yard on the north side of Hicks Creek is called Hartsell or Hicks Creek grave yard, but residents do not recall burials further back than 1861. Another grave yard is called Hicks Creek on Waters of Ballplay Creek, a mile from the first. Burials were known to have been made before the Civil War. No tombstones, but rocks mark the graves. It is grown up with pines and timber pushing through the graves. It is a desolate place.

Doctor Elijah Leming, of Arkansas, in his last days, talked of Ballplay. His wife, Mrs. Gilly Leming, not knowing the circumstances, scolded him: Doctor, you never played ball in your life. Undoubtedly he recalled his childhood on Ballplay Creek. It is probable that his parents Joshua Leming and Sarah Leming were buried there in 1840.

Mount Zion Cemetery. There is one grave with tombstone marked Ethellone Leming, wife of William Kirkland, b. July 1888; d. Oct. 12, 1908; dau. of Ann Leming. Also the graves of Ann Leming and another daughter Fonda Leming.
