GENEALOGICAL.

The Genealogy of the Family of JOHN LAWRENCE of Wissett, Suffolk, England, and of Watertown and Groton, Massachusetts.

¶ This Work has been continued to the year, (1876,) by the affectionate labor of our friend, the Rev JOHN LAWRENCE. In 1847 he published the first portion. Ten years later he printed a second edition. In 1869 he continued, enlarged and perfected it. And now, in this beautiful 8 vo. of 74 pages, he adds so much of material, whether new or in continuation of family lines before given, as his diligent labor has been able to recover.— Few families in New England have been so happy both in the materials of their history, and in the felicity of its arrangement as the Lawrences, and we should say that this completing issue must at once be absorbed among them, to its author's content and remuneration. The work is done compactly and in admirable taste.—FROM THE CONGREGATIONALIST, July 25th, 1877.

Price in Paper, $1,00, Cloth $1,50.

INTRODUCTION.

THE first portion of the history of the family of John Lawrence was printed in 1847. I was induced to engage in the work by Mr. Amos Lawrence and others desirous to know the ancestry of the Lawrences of New England. Of the 300 copies printed, Mr. Lawrence took 100, paying for the same. Mr. Z. Hosmer paid for 100 copies, leaving 100 for myself. This edition was given away and sent over the country.

The second edition of 500 copies, published in 1857, was greatly aided by a donation of $100 from Amos A. Lawrence, Esq., towards the expense of printing, reducing very much the price to subscribers and the public.

The edition of 1869 was very expensive, and but for the interest taken and aid given by a few persons of ample means could not have been published. The loss on copies sold or sent to subscribers, for which payment has not been received, and the loss by fire of 100 copies, leaves the work performed for the Lawrences very far from being remunerative. But still they come, new families, new branches, changes, and additions, calling for another part to supplement the genealogy and give all waiting a place in the published history of the descendants of John Lawrence of Watertown.

Feeling a responsibility to such which no other person could be expected to share, this last work has been attempted with the hope that at least I shall not suffer a pecuniary loss. It is therefore desired that all families represented in this book take interest in the circulation, and promote, as far as possible, the sale of copies.

As this will be the only portion of the genealogy some families can obtain, and for other reasons, the first and second generations are given as in the edition of 1869.

A very few copies of that edition remain for sale, and the circumstances of the case render it necessary to sell them as soon and get as much for them as possible.

THE EDITION OF 1869.

NOTICES BY PERIODICALS AND CORRESPONDENTS.

Quotation from the Boston Daily Evening Traveller.

"Altogether, the record of the Lawrences is one of which any family might be proud; and not less occasion have they to be satisfied with the thorough and beautiful and convenient manner in which their genealogical history has been drawn out by their industrious and most worthy kinsman, the compiler of this handsome volume."

From the New England Hist. and Gen. Register.

"The book is beautifully printed, the plan of arrangement is clear, and the dates are given with satisfactory exactness. In all these respects we can with pleasure assure the author that he has done a good work."

The following Extracts are here given from Correspondents.

"With the general arrangement and execution of the work I am well pleased." — HON. ASA F. LAWRENCE.

"It is a work which must have required immense labor, and has been done with remarkable accuracy." — SAMUEL A. GREEN, M. D.

"The type, paper, and general style of your book seem to me very elegant, and the work you have accomplished is a valuable one." — REV. D. W. MARSH.

"The books have been distributed, and give perfect satisfaction; all expressing pleasure in having so full and complete a work." — A. R. MASON.

"As far as I have examined the book, I find everything correct and perfect. Many thanks for such a keepsake." — C. OSGOOD.

"The work is very finely executed, and is a great improvement both in matter and manner upon the former edition. You must have expended much time and labor upon it, and you deserve a liberal remuneration." — REV. B. P. STONE, D. D.

"It is excellent in plan and tasteful in its style; a very valuable contribution to N. E. history." — REV. A. R. BAKER.

COAT OF ARMS OF THE LAWRENCES.

SIR ROBERT, of Ashton Hall, Lancashire, England, from his sovereign, Richard Cœur de Lion, received his arms, —

“Argent, a cross raguly gules,” A. D. 1191. The same was the coat of arms of the Lancashire branch generally. There were distinctions, as “He beareth Ermine, a cross raguled gules, by the name of Lawrence, of Lancashire.”

“Raguled” is a term to represent the rough-hewn stems of a tree from which the branches have been rudely lopped.

The Gloucestershire and Buckinghamshire branches had the same arms, the crest “A demi turbot,” or “tail inverted and erect”; or again, “The tail (or hindmost half) of a chub (fish) inverted and erect.”

Other crests were used by these families, as, “Two laurel branches vert, forming a chaplet.”

Also, “A wolf’s head, coupé, ppr.”

The Lawrences of Ives Co., Buckingham, and of St. Ives Co., Huntingdon, had, “Argent, a cross raguly gules; on a chief of the second a lion pass, guard, or,” the crest, “a stag’s head erased sa, plattée attired or ducally gorged or.”

John Lawrence, the Abbot, living in Ramsey, Huntingdonshire, as early as 1500, was one of a younger branch of the Lancashire Lawrences. William, of St.

Ives, died 1572, leaving a son and heir Henry, to whom he gave the plate of Sir John, Abbot of Ramsey, and his own armor.

This Henry had a son John, knighted at Windsor Castle, 1603.

The coat of arms of this branch of the Lawrences was given with the motto of Henry Lawrence, President of Cromwell's Council, 1654. Page 314, edition of 1869.

A branch of the Lancashire family settled in Ireland in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, having this coat of arms, "For Lawrence Quarterly 1st and 4th Argent, a cross raguly gules"; crest, "a demi-turbot, tail erect." Motto, "In cruce salus."

These statements will serve in part in answer to repeated inquiries as to "the coat of arms of the Lawrences from whom John of Wisset, in Suffolk, was descended." If any were selected that on the title-page would be appropriate. The motto, "In cruce salus," is a good one for those desiring it.

THE FAMILY, ITS RELATIONS TO SOCIETY, AND GENEALOGY.

In date and form it is primeval, as divinely ordained in Eden by God, in the creation of man, male and female; and their union in marriage, whereby they became one flesh, was the first manifestation of the human race in social relations and duties.

The family is dual as to parentage, or persons joined in marriage, while primeval and a unit in form. Adam and Eve, the first, were also the only, persons created as progenitors of mankind. One man and one woman were thus divinely constituted the parents of the race.

Moreover, it is normal, as being the only established and lawful state of social union and life for mankind.

This union of man and woman, and state of those one in heart, obligations, and duties, is alone normal and adapted to the wants and welfare of the race.

The family is germinal, — the seed-bud or appointed means for the propagation of the human race. God blessed the man and woman created and joined in marriage by Him, and said, "be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth." Hence, "marriage is" not only "honorable in all," but the family state is the only one approved of God, and lawful to man, for the propagation of his species. While, therefore, the race germinates in the family, and is propagated from generation to generation, a thousand social relations, duties, comforts, and delights spring up therein to bless mankind.

The family is essential, as without it the world would be a mere chaos of human beings. The domestic state is indispensable to the health and comfort of mankind.

It is essentially necessary to that moral purity in the sexes required by God, and alone respectable among men. It is the substratum or ground-work of all social relations, domestic comforts, and good manners in society.

THE FAMILY A TYPE.

It is specially typical, as it foreshadows,—first, the School, in the nurture and education of children. Home-education is all some children ever have. Second, the State. Family government was the first known.

The father was a prince or ruler in his house, as Abraham and the patriarchs. Children were subjects of government first in the family. Obedience to parental authority insures obedience in the State. Equity and law in the family are such in the State.

Third, the Church. Indeed, in the first ages of the race, piety, fear, and worship of God, were confined to the family. Naturally enough has the father been regarded both a prince and a priest in his own house; and as far as children are trained in the love and service of God, so far is there hope for the Church of Christ.

The conclusion of the subject is, that the family, as constituted in man's creation and condition in Eden, is universal. Not for Adam and Eve only, and their posterity to the deluge; not for Noah and his sons only, in their generations,—but for the human race in all time, was the family state ordained, that every man and woman might share and enjoy its blessings. How else shall the people of our land and the world have homes? How else shall the tender and endearing relations of kindred be perpetuated? How, without the family, can domestic happiness be preserved in the earth?

GENEALOGY.

Marriage and parentage thus unite, in the providence of God, to form and maintain the family, which furnishes both the occasion and material for genealogy, this being simply “an enumeration of ancestors and their children in the natural order of succession.”

The most ancient and important record of the kind, unparalleled indeed in its nature, is the genealogical table given in the New Testament; extending, as recorded in one case, from Abraham, and in the other from Adam, to Christ, a period of four thousand years.

"Mary, the noble virgin of David's royal race," of whom the Saviour was born, terminates the long series of generations, which, sustained by life-giving power, like a golden chain extends onward through the whole course of development preceding the advent of Christ. No other nation but hers could furnish such a genealogy; no other book than the Bible publish it to the world.

THE NAME.

Of Lawrence, as a personal and family name, it is sufficient to say, as to the orthography, that it is now almost universally spelled and written Lawrence, and not Laurence or Laurance, as formerly was the case.

The derivation of this name of men may be traced to the Latin word Laurus, — Laurentius. Its signification has been thus given on the Town Records of Hingham, Mass., first page: "Christian names for men now most used with the signification, Lawrence, — flourishing like a bay-tree."

Laurentius, also called St. Laurence, chief deacon of Sixtus, Bishop of Rome, is the first person known to whose name our own bears any resemblance.

To Sixtus, going to martyrdom, he said, "Whither goest thou, father, without thy son?" "You shall follow me in three days," was his answer. And so indeed it proved. "I know," said the Prefect of Rome, "ye value yourselves for contemning death, and therefore ye shall not die at once." Laurentius was then stripped, extended, and fastened to a gridiron, and broiled to death by a slow fire, August 10, A. D. 258.

ARCHBISHOP LAWRENCE.

The first individual of this name who lived in England, yet ascertained, was Lawrence the monk. Collier, in his Dictionary, has the name Laurentius. In Harris's "History of Kent," it is Lawrence. He came from Italy with Austin, who was sent to Britain for the propagation of Christianity in the island.

Upon the death of Austin, he succeeded him to the Archbishopric of Canterbury. He is said to have been both learned and pious; and, at his death, was buried in the Abbey of St. Austins, A. D. 916.

WATERTOWN AND HOMESTEAD.

The Indian name of Watertown, the birthplace of our family, as found in its early records, was "Pequusset."

Its present name was probably given on account of the abundant supply of water found there.

Among the families which first settled in Watertown were those of Sir R. Saltonstall and Rev. George Phillips, in all a dozen or more, that came over in the Arbella, a ship which arrived at Salem in June, 1630.

Proceeding from Salem to Charlestown, they next passed up Charles River about four miles, and began their settlement, the fourth in the colony, which rapidly increased in numbers and prosperity. Though inland, the place derived great advantage from the tide-water of the Charles River.

On the earliest list of proprietors is found the name of "John Lawrence." His homestead of eight acres was bounded east by Common Street, south by John Biscoe's homestead, north by T. Hawkins, west by his own nine acres of meadow. He was the grantee of ten lots, and purchaser of Isaac Cummins's grant of thirty-five acres, in the "Great Dividends."

On his removal to Groton, in 1662, he sold his homestead — a dwelling-house and about thirteen acres, "being the now mansion-house of said John Lawrence" — to John Biscoe.

GENERATION No. I.

14. XII. JONATHAN, b. —, in Watertown; probably m., Nov. 5, 1677, Rebecca Rutter, of Cambridge; died in 1725, leaving no issue. By his will, dated Aug. 27, 1725, approved Oct. 29, 1729, he left to the town of Groton "£100 towards the purchasing and procuring a good meeting-house bell, and the putting it up." It was voted, "that the name of Lient. Jonathan Lawrence be set thereon." Also he left "to the church of Christ in Groton £40, to be laid out for the procuring of some silver vessel or vessels for the church's use, as they shall order;" also "£20, the income to be annually paid or accounted for to the settled or ordained minister."
15. XIII. ZECHARIAH, b. March 9, 1658-9, in Watertown. He was a mariner, and lived probably in Boston. Elisabeth, wife of John Lawrence, died in Groton, Aug. 29, 1663. He m., Nov. 2, 1664, Susanna, daughter of Wm. Batchelder, of Charlestown; by whom he had, —
16. XIV. ABIGAIL, b. Jan. 9, 1666, in Groton.
17. XV. SUSANNA, b. July 3, 1667, in Groton.

He was admitted a freeman, April 17, 1637, when about twenty-eight years old; though it will be seen, by the early Massachusetts Records, that the freeman's oath was given at first to males of only sixteen years. Feb. 28, 1636, he received three acres of land, his share of a grant then made to the townsmen, a hundred and six in number. In 1650, he bought of the town fifteen acres of common land (called King's Common). "In 1654, Hugh Mason received of John Lawrence, clerk, £2 17s. 6d., money for town or parish use." His removal to Groton is determined by various facts and dates. Town records are in existence, dated June 23, 1662; the first probably made. As one of the original proprietors, he owned "a twenty-acre right." The sale of his lands and mansion-house in Watertown was made in 1662. In December of the same year, it appears by the records of Groton, "meet men were found amongst the inhabitants," of whom "John Lawrence" was one, "who were chosen selectmen." He was evidently a man of some intelligence and influence, and held a good place in the public esteem. Though a large landholder for the times, he is said to have carried on the business of a carpenter both in Watertown and Boston. He died in Groton, July 11, 1667; leaving his sons Nathaniel and Joseph, and wife Susanna, executors of his will. The widow, Susanna B. Lawrence, died July 8, 1668, in Charlestown.

GENERATION NO. I.

Extracts from the will of John Lawrence, sen., deceased 1667.

"And, if she will live in the house during the time of her widowhood, it shall be without molestation."

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Mary Lawrence, second wife of Selah Pomroy, Esq., died April 17, 1837, in Stanstead, P. Q.

At the time of her marriage to him, she was the widow of Dea. Hubbard Lawrence, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., by whom she had nine children.

. GENERATION No. VI.

She was the daughter of Maj. Philip Goss, of Winchester, N. H.

Mother was the dear name of the surviving parent, and what is purer, more fixed and enduring than a mother's love? She speaks only in accents of kindness; her eyes beam with tenderness and solicitude; her hands minister day and night to the comfort of her offspring; her kiss is the sweetness of parental affection; her unceasing anxiety and untiring activity show that the world itself is less a portion to her than even a wayward child. Inestimable is the treasure of her counsels and reproofs, her prayers and holy life, her parting blessing and dying testimony.

Such was she whose death has been here noticed; such her love, such her life!

"Far, far beyond the reach of human ken,
No eye hath seen it, nor hath human pen
Portrayed the glories of that world above,
Whose very atmosphere is holy love.
Oh! 't will be passing sweet to meet the friend
We loved on earth, and there together bend
Before the throne eternal, and rehearse
Its untold glories in exalted verse."

1324. VIII. CAROLINE TURNBULL, b. Sept. 14, 1850.

Present residence of family is in Stockbridge, Mass.

Mr. Lawrence went, at the age of fourteen, to live with his brother William, and when twenty-one became a partner with him in business. He was many years a citizen of Lowell, where he took active part in projecting the city of Lawrence.

At his suggestion, Mr. George Baldwin made an examination of the river below Hunt's Falls, and his report being favorable, Bodwell's Falls, at Andover Bridge, was fixed upon as the place for a dam. On speaking to certain friends of the matter, he was told that Mr. Daniel Saunders, of North Andover, had contemplated the same project.

An interview having been obtained with Mr. Saunders, Mr. Lawrence found him well informed about the lands bordering on the Merrimac in Andover and Methuen, and Messrs. John Nesmith, J. G. Abbott, and Thomas Hopkinson were invited to consider with them the question how to get control of the lands so as to make it an object to build a dam on a solid and expensive plan; and an association was formed including Mr. Daniel Saunders, Jr., for the purpose of establishing a water-power at Andover. Mr. Saunders was engaged to give his time to bargaining for the lands, getting bonds for deeds, etc., a work which he performed with entire success.

In February, 1845, the time had come to petition the Legislature for a charter giving the right to dam the river below Lowell. An understanding with those to be affected by the measures proposed in Lowell, was obtained without difficulty, and the petition for a charter of the Essex Company, with a capital of one million dollars, was signed by John Nesmith, Edwin Bartlett, Daniel Saunders, and Samuel Lawrence.

Mr. Lawrence had not as yet acquainted his brothers in Boston with the proposed operations, and on doing so called on other men of business, whom he invited to meet at Andover, where the party was taken into carriages and rode to the Methuen side of the river to examine the rocks and banks on which the dam was to be located.

GENERATION No. VI.

The names of the gentlemen invited were as follows: P. T. Jackson, Thos. H. Perkins, Francis C. Lowell, Geo. W. Lyman, Nathan Appleton, William Sturgis, Abbott Lawrence, John A. Lowell, William Appleton, William Lawrence, Eben Chadwick, Ignatius Sargent.

From the river at Andover the party was taken to the Merrimac House in Lowell, where the association had met, and the purpose of the gathering was explained, a plan of the vicinity of Bodwell Falls exhibited, in all some 1900 acres bonded, and that a dam could be made high enough to give a fall of about 30 feet, etc., for all which the Essex Company had been chartered. "We did not enter into this," it was stated, "as a money speculation, but as a grand project requiring millions of dollars to illustrate it;" and we proposed to put the whole into their hands for that purpose, providing only for the expenses incurred; namely, $3,000, paid subsequently to Mr. Saunders by the Essex Company.

The proposal thus made was fully approved and consummated.

Mr. Samuel Lawrence took deeds and paid for them, having loaned money of A. & A. Lawrence & Co., and of his own Company, which was soon after refunded by the Essex Company.

The date of the organization was April, 1845. Mr. Abbott Lawrence was chosen President, and the Directors made choice of Charles S. Storrow as manager and engineer, who is still in charge of the business of the Company.

In 1847 the inhabitants of the town applied for an act of incorporation, and at a meeting of prominent citizens "the name Lawrence" proposed, "was unanimously assented to, as an acknowledgment of the merits of the family," rather than of any single member of it.

Lawrence is well regarded as an offshoot of Lowell, which city has not improperly been considered an outgrowth of Waltham.

IN MEMORIAM.

Nancy Temple, wife of Rev. John Lawrence, died suddenly of pneumonia, Jan. 6, 1871, in Reading, Mass., aged 42 years and 8 months. The last fifteen and a half years of her life were passed in the relations of wife and mother.

Such were the sweetness of her disposition and purity of her character, the accomplishments of education, and graces of true piety, that she excelled in all that made her home a sanctuary and a delight, while the smile resting on her face in death, was evident proof to what regions of light and bliss her spirit had gone.

“ There the foot no thorn e'er pierces,
There the heart ne'er heaves a sigh,
There in white we walk with Jesus,
All our loved connections by, —
And to reach it 'tis a privilege to die.”

194. No. 2488 1-2. VIII. Henry Zelotes, b. March 28, 1870, in Reading, Mass. This child, left motherless at the age of nine months, during the autumn of 1871 passed through a severe sickness from whooping-cough and pneumonia, which many thought would prove incurable, but by the blessing of God on the care and treatment bestowed, he survived and became all the dearer and more precious to the members of the family, taking, as well may be supposed, a place in his father's heart, from which he can never be removed.

A BRIEF SKETCH (FOR MY CHILDREN).

At the age of nine years went to live in Stanstead, just over the line, fifty miles north from St. Johnsbury, Vt., at the home of Selah Pomroy, Esq., stepfather.

Attended the Academy in Brownington, Vt., autumn of 1830, Rev. A. L. Twilight, principal, and, in 1831, at the Stanstead Seminary, Thomas Brown, teacher.

GENERATION NO. VII.

Taught school the winter I was sixteen, having forty to fifty scholars, one twenty-one years old and six feet high, another weighing over two hundred pounds.

The next winter taught four months a school of between eighty and ninety, and had many pleasant pupils.

The winter of 1832-3 taught in my own district, boarding at home.

During these years read history and on other subjects, taking books from the Seminary Library, loaning them also from the library of Rev. Mr. Gibb, a minister recently from Scotland.

The autumn of 1833 entered Phillips Academy at Andover, Mass., teaching during the winter in North Reading.

Entered Dartmouth College from Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., in 1836, and assisted a few months of 1837 in family school of Rev. Lucius Doolittle, of Lennoxville, near Sherbrooke, P. Q.

Went to Plymouth, N. H., autumn of 1838, and took the classical department of the Teacher's Seminary, Rev. Samuel R. Hall, principal.

In 1840 spent six months in Gilmanton, N. H., studying Hebrew with Professor Rood, and Italian with Professor Bird of the Seminary.

The autumn of 1840 entered the Theological Seminary at Andover, with classmates in college. Engaged in teaching again the autumn of 1841 in the Academy, Westfield, Mass., with Mr. Ariel Parish, having classes in English, Latin, Greek, French, Italian, German, Astronomy, etc.

The winter of 1842-3 began teaching in Springfield, associated for a short time with Mr. Otis Lombard. Established a school (English and classical), employing assistant teachers. Had some in languages, studying privately.

Was licensed to preach, in 1844, by the Hampden Association. Health having again become impaired, disposed of the school in 1845, and closed teaching.

GENERATION No. VII.

While in Lyndon, Vt., in 1845, at the urgent request of the trustees, taught two terms in the Academy, taking the place of a graduate of Dartmouth College, who had been prevented by sickness from meeting his engagement. Began preaching in 1846 in a parish of Alstead, Cheshire Co., N. H., one year.

A part of 1847 was spent in collecting and publishing the Memorial of John Lawrence of Watertown and Groton, Mass., preached a few Sabbaths in Salem, N. H., but declined doing more. Went to Hooksett, N. H., in the autumn, and was ordained in 1848, but not settled. In 1849 returned to Andover, attending lectures and preaching. Began regular supply in Salem, N. H., — once a part of Haverhill and Methuen. A call to settle as pastor was given, but was not installed. Closed labors in Salem autumn of 1852, and in January, 1853, was taken very providentially, or unexpectedly, to Carlisle, Middlesex Co., Mass., and was persuaded to settle as pastor. In May, 1859, left Carlisle and returned to Salem, N. H., at the urgent request of the church, and labored three years, making six in all, in that place. May, 1862, removed to Wilmington, Mass. During the spring of 1863, was a short time in Washington and Virginia as delegate of the U. S. C. Commission. Went in June, 1863, to Wilton, Me., to supply a few Sabbaths, and in July removed to the place, residing there six years, preaching for the Congregational Church, while health was sufficient, and in the vicinity. Removed in July, 1869, to Reading, Mass.

A part of the year was taken up in work for the Lawrences in the publication of a revised and more complete edition of the family of John Lawrence, etc. Preached in West Lynn part of 1870-71. The residence of my family in Reading, continued to May, 1872. We had no home there, and removed to St. Johnsbury, Vt., where were the graves of a father, mother, dear wife and child, and of other deceased relatives.

GENERATION No. VII.

For a few months in 1873, supplied the First Congregational Church, St. Johnsbury, in the absence of the pastor. My father and mother were members, and he one of the first deacons of the church. In August, 1872, my daughter, Mary Temple, went by arrangement proposed to Ohio, to spend two years in the Lake Erie Seminary at Painesville, and then return to the family.

For three years and a half since the death of their mother, the care of the family had rested on me, during which, by a constant struggle and patient endurance of the dealings of God's providence, my children had been healthy and improving, and our home was a happy one to us all, though wanting the presence, love, and influence of her who had been its light and joy. The return of the eldest child was anticipated with great pleasure by herself, all at home, also by others interested in our welfare.

At this place there comes in a chapter of family history, private and personal, which it is not necessary to make a part of this sketch.

The whole case is strange, unnatural, and crushing to a father's home and heart, the details of which — on record with letters and statements attesting — are painful to be recited.

A part of 1874 and 1875 was spent in Stanstead, P. Q., while publishing a "History of Stanstead County," compiled by B. F. Hubbard, but not completed. "The whole was revised, abridged, and published with additions and illustrations," and printed in Montreal, making a volume of about 400 pages, of some value to the public, but of no pecuniary profit to the publisher.

During the months of October and November, 1874, supplied the Congregational Church in Eaton, P. Q., the pastor being out of health.

During the years of ministerial labor have had, at times, students in languages, etc., and have served on school committees in all places where I have resided as a minister, taking active interest in the cause of education, lecturing and preaching occasionally on subjects for the public good.

A diary, or daily record of duties and events, has been kept for thirty years, with accounts of money expended and received.

Life memberships have been held in many of the benevolent societies of the day, in all which a personal interest has been felt, doing for them all that means would allow. From the Minutes of Councils and Associations, and testimonials of individuals, statements might be added if necessary. This sketch is not, however, written for the public so much as for my children, and for them after I have passed away from life and trial to another world where sorrow is unknown.

LAWRENCE ACADEMY.

In 1793 Deacon Samuel Lawrence, of Groton, originated and established, in connection with others, for the good of the community, the institution called Groton Academy, in which his children were educated, and for which some of them have shown a special regard.

For some years it had a small income from a grant of half a township of land in Maine, made by the State in 1797.

Contributions for the permanent endowment of the institution were made by William Lawrence, Esq., of Boston, with whom his brother Amos coöperated, providing houses for residence of teachers, and for boarding students, a large and valuable library, apparatus, &c., in consideration of which, at the request of the trustees, the Legislature, in 1847, changed the name from Groton to Lawrence Academy.

The location is one of the pleasantest in New England, while railroads bring it into easy communication with all parts of the country.

The large, new, and commodious building, erected on the site of the old, is every way adapted by its apartments, fixtures, ventilation, &c., to the important objects of the Academy.

Bigelow Hall, for the accommodation of students, has a fine situation, spacious rooms, well furnished and ventilated, with board, rent, and care of room, at $4.00 per week.

The Library of about 2,500 books is open weekly to students without charge.

The Cabinet has a good collection of minerals, shells, medals, &c.

The Laboratory is large and amply furnished, and there are instruments for use of students in certain branches, with apparatus for lectures and experiments by teachers.

Instruction is given to students of both sexes arranged in three courses :—

1. The Classical prepares for admission to college, and requires three years.
2. The Classical and Scientific includes, with Latin and other languages, the higher branches of education, being adapted to qualify for teaching, for business, and the most important and useful positions in life; continues four years.

3. An English course is arranged for those wishing to pursue it, the studies of which occupy three years.

Each year has three terms, Fall, Winter, and Summer. Spring vacation two weeks in March; Summer, eight weeks from annual examination the last of June.

The rates of tuition according to studies :—

In English, $7.00; Classical, $8.00.

Drawing, Painting, Music, French, and German, additional rates.

Students fitting for college, in certain cases, have aid from funds.

At the Annual Exhibition a diploma or certificate of graduation is given to students completing a regular course of study.

This brief notice of Lawrence Academy is deemed appropriate in the closing part of the genealogy of the family of John Lawrence, who was born in England 1609, settled in Watertown, Mass., 1636, and died in Groton, July 11, 1667. Deacon Samuel Lawrence was actively engaged in its establishment, his sons William and Amos contributed liberally for its continuance and endowment, while the present large and convenient building for purposes of instruction, and Bigelow Hall for boarding, &c., show the interest and liberality of existing friends of the institution, and give promise of increasing prosperity in the future.

COAT OF ARMS AND CLOSING WORDS.

WITH little knowledge of heraldry, and no special interest in the subject of a Coat of Arms for the family of John Lawrence of Watertown, I leave it with the brief notes before given—adding only the following, from Mr. John Swain Lawrence, of Lowell: "I have a distinct recollection of seeing, more than fifty years since, a Coat of Arms, framed and hung on the wall of a room in the house of Deacon John Lawrence, of Ashby, with the reading 'Sir John Lawrence knighted by, &c.,' the same in shield, cross, and crest, as that given page 21, edition 1869," and now continued. This deacon John Lawrence, it may be added, left a cane which has come into my possession (for whom also I was named) having an ivory head and silver band on which is engraved, "John Lawranc;" but, unfortunately, no date.

This last portion of the genealogy is not so close and exact in its arrangement as might be desired, the matter being somewhat mixed.

The aim has been to give due place and statement to what has been gathered. Very few corrections have been reported. The whole work done for the families descended from John Lawrence of Watertown has been for the purpose of rendering the genealogy as full and valuable as possible. That so much interest has been manifested, is creditable to the families represented.

That so much has been ascertained and published for the use of the present and coming generations is due, it would seem, to the confidence felt in the good intentions cherished, and honest efforts put forth for their accomplishment.

The excitement awakened in reference to the "money in England for the heirs of Mary Townley" has been quite general in some branches of the Lawrences, and though now it has passed away many have been led to trace out their ancestry, and bring their families into proper relation to the other descendants of John Lawrence of Watertown.

Had but a small part of the money expended in that business been appropriated for the object, the family of John Lawrence might now have such a history as no family has yet published.

Such as it is, it is left to those concerned, with the consciousness of having done the best possible in the circumstances.

It has been said that I was "too poor a man for the business," and no doubt with truth, yet this work is of a kind in which few rich men think of engaging.

The interest felt and aid given by a few members of the family has enabled me to attempt what has been done.

For this countenance and help a grateful acknowledgment is due from all who have shared in the results of the same.

The personal acquaintance formed in the calls, visits, and correspondence of the work has been pleasant, and afforded some compensation for the labor and money expended. That the families now represented in the published history, and those to follow in successive generations, may be benefited is the great satisfaction desired.

Indeed, if any one thought or wish has been preëminent during the whole work undertaken it has been this, — to give importance to the family, showing its place and relation in the providence of God and the constitution of social life or society among men.

Established by God for the highest social and moral interests of the race, it should be regarded with a most sacred respect, and those whom God has made one in flesh, affection, and life should be cherished and upheld — God only parting them asunder.
