A BRANCH OF THE LOGAN FAMILY TREE

By:
David M. Logan

INTRODUCTION:

This is named "A Branch of the Logan Family Tree" because it records only a branch of the Logan family tree. It gives, insofar as could be obtained, a list of the descendants of David Manuel Logan. He lived in middle Tennessee shortly after the Revolutionary War. His second child was named Tarlton Logan. Mrs. Ora Ellen (Logan) Doyle has published "Our Logan History, 1803-1966", which tabulates all of Tarlton Logan's descendants. Therefore, they are omitted from this book.

No authentic information, as yet, has been obtained as to the antecedents of David Manuel Logan. It is hoped that this publication will inspire someone to trace his forebearers back to his emigrant ancestor who came to America.

OTHER LOGAN FAMILIES:

It might be of interest to the descendants of David Manuel Logan to learn something of some Logans who lived in the "old country" and who immigrated to America. The "Logan" name itself seems to come from the name of the town or estate in Scotland. There were several original ways of spelling the family name: Logon, Loggan, Loghan, Logonne, Loggane, and the word Logan which survived and is in general use today. The name Logan appears from the time of the Crusades. By the time of the Thirteenth Century there were Logan families in England, Scotland, and Ireland. In 1329, Sir Robert Logan accompanied Sir James Douglas to the Holy Land with the heart of Robert the Bruce. This could account for the heart in the Logan Coat of Arms, which is as follows:

Logan

Probably the best known of the early Logans was Sir Robert Logan, who was born in 1555 and died at Conongate, Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1606. He was the 7th Baron of Restalrig, and Baron of Fast Castle, Hutton and Grugar. His ancestry is well known back to the 11th Century. Many Logans trace their ancestry back to Sir Robert Logan.

THE PENNSYLVANIA LOGANS:

The above mentioned Sir Robert Logan was the great grandfather of James Logan, who was associated with William Penn in the founding of Pennsylvania. He was the father of four sons and two daughters who were:

1. Robert Logan, born about 1577, son by Elizabeth Magill
2. George Logan, born about 1587, son by Lady Jonet Ker
3. John Logan, born about 1588, son by Lady Jonet Ker
4. Alexander Logan, born about 1590, son by Lady Jonet Ker
5. Lonet Logan, born about 1592, daughter by Lady Jonet Ker
6. Anno Logan, born about 1600, daughter by Lady Jonet Ker

Sir Robert Logan died of a plague in 1606 at Conongate and was buried in St. Mary's Church, South Leith.

Alexander Logan, who was the grandfather of James Logan, (co-founder of Pennsylvania) and who was the fourth son of Robert Logan, was born about 1590 and lived at the original Stenton in East Lathian. He had three sons and one daughter:

William Logan, James Logan, Patrick Logan and Elizabeth Logan.

The third son, Patrick Logan, who was the father of James Logan (ibid) was well educated, had a M.A. degree and was chaplain for some time to Lady Bellhaven. After embracing the Quaker religion, he went to Ireland and taught a Latin School at Lurgan in Ulster. He was married to Isabella Hume, daughter of James Hume. Patrick Logan lived at Lurgan, Edinburgh and Bristol. He died February 4, 1700. He was the father of nine children, seven of whom died young. The two surviving sons were:

James Logan (1674-1751) and William Logan

The names of the seven children who died young were:

1. Ephram (1), 2. Isaac, 3. Bethia (1), 4. Ephraim (2), 5. Tobiah,
6. Bethia (2), and 7. Hannah.

William Logan became a distinguished physician in Bristol. His wife was Anna Parsons.

James Logan, the first son of Patrick Logan, emigrated to America with William Penn, and is recognized as the founder of the Pennsylvania line of Logans. He was born October 20, 1674, at Lurgan, Ulster, Ireland, and was raised as a Quaker. He came to America with William Penn in December 1699. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Provincial Council from 1702 to 1747. In 1723 he was Presiding Judge and Mayor of Philadelphia. He later became Chief Justice; from 1736 to 1738 was Governor of Pennsylvania. He built "Stenton House" on the Germantown Road, now in Philadelphia, in 1727. He married Sarah Read, and had a family of four sons and three daughters. He died at "Stenton House" on October 31, 1751.

There are hundreds of descendants of James Logan, and many have traced their ancestry back to him. One is unable to find where anyone has enumerated ALL his descendants. There have been more girls than boys in this Logan line and most of James Logan's descendants have other names.

There is an oral tradition among the present descendants of David Manuel Logan that he is descended from James Logan, but no satisfactory proof has yet been found. It is more likely that the father or the grandfather of David Manuel Logan is the emigrant forebearer of the Logans listed in this book.

OTHER LOGANS:

Besides James Logan, there were several other Logans who came to America as the head of a Logan line of heritage. Jacob Logan came to Watertown, Mass., in 1642. Alexander Logan came from Scotland to Charleston, Mass., in 1684. His wife was named Susanna, and their children were Alexander, John, James, Jonathan, Ebenezer, Isaac and possibly others.

Colonel George Logan emigrated from Scotland to Charleston, S. C., in the year 1690 (or it could have been 1695). He is reputed to have been a descendant of Sir Robert Logan of the Restalrig line of the family. He was twice married. Two children by his first wife were George and Helen Logan. His second wife, Martha Daniell, was the widow of Governor Robert Daniell of South Carolina. Son George Logan, by his first wife, married Martha Daniell in 1719. She was the daughter of Governor Daniell and his step-mother. Those interested in this line of Logans are referred to "Logan Family of South Carolina" by G. W. Logan, 1923.

About the beginning of the 18th Century, two other Logans came to America and settled in Virginia. They were brothers named John and David and were said to have come from Ireland. John, the oldest, brought with him his wife Margaret. Their children were named James, John, Samuel, Robert, Sarah, Mary and Alexander. James, the eldest son of immigrant John, married Hannah Irwin and their children were named Anna, John, Robert, Alexander, Margaret, Elizabeth, James, Mary, Joseph, Irwin, William and Benjamin.

David Logan, brother of immigrant, John Logan, made his home in Orange County. By his wife, Jane, he had six children, General Benjamin, Colonel John, Hugh, Nathaniel, Mary and Sarah Logan. General Benjamin Logan, eldest son of immigrant David, married Ann Montgomery in 1774. Their children were David, William, John, Benjamin, Jane, Elizabeth and Ann.

General Benjamin Logan, whose father was named David, and whose eldest son was also named David, is not to be confused with "our" Dr. Benjamin Logan (son of David Manuel Logan), whose father and eldest son were also both named David. General Benjamin Logan is mentioned in Chapter 8 of "The Wilderness Road" by Dr. Robert L. Kincaid, as one of the founders of St. Asaph, near Stanford, Kentucky, and as one who sat on the Court-martial of the famous frontiersman, Daniel Boone.

Colonel John Logan, second son of immigrant David, married Jane McClure. They were the parents of Jane, Mary, Theodesia, Elizabeth and David.

Hugh, the third son of immigrant David, married Sarah Wood. Their children were Curus, Jennie, Nancy, Green, Sarah, Mary, Allen, Harriet and possibly more.

Another very prominent Logan, in the early history of our country was General John Alexander Logan, who distinguished himself as not only a soldier but as a politician. He was born in Illinois in 1826 and died in 1886. He served in the Mexican War and was a General in the Civil War. He served in the United States Senate and was the Republican nominee for Vice-President of the United States in 1884.

A record of the descendants of a James Robinson Logan was compiled by Elizabeth Mila Logan-Livesay ("Aunt Betsy Livesay") during the years 1891, 1892 and 1893. It was copied and continued between 1929 and 1935 by N. P. Power (born September 7, 1857) who had the address of 1016 Connecticut Street, Lawrence, Kansas at that time. The book the author checked over was loaned him by Harry B. Logan, Wapato, Washington.

James Robinson Logan was born October 12, 1796, in South Carolina. He married Rachel Phillips (born April 1, 1802, died January 30, 1870) on February 8, 1821. He was a son of David Logan and Hannah Robinson, "both of Scotch-Irish descent". His parent's family moved to East Tennessee when he was a child. After he married and had five children, he moved to Washington County, Illinois, where he spent the remainder of his life. His wife, Rachel Phillips, was a daughter of Abraham Phillips ("one half Dutch") and Betsy Burns ("full-blood Pennsylvania Dutch").

They had 15 children who were:

Most of these children raised large families whose descendants in turn had large families. They are to be found mostly in the following states: Illinois, Washington, California, Missouri and Kansas.

The book contains the names of several hundred descendants of James Robinson Logan but is written in such a manner that is hard to follow. It would be of great interest to anyone who thought he might be a descendant of this particular Logan.

There are 24 Logans mentioned in "Who's Who In America" and 7 in "Who's Who In the South and Southwest". There are 42 Logans in the Oklahoma City Telephone Directory, and 40 Logans in the Tulsa Directory. Those listed in other telephone books are: Dallas, 123; Houston, 143; Kansas City, 155.

Probably the most distinguished of "our" line of Logans at the present time is Dr. Logan Wilson, former President of the University of Texas and now President, American Council on Education, Washington, D. C. (See 11-14-21, page 26)

SYSTEM OF NUMBERING:

The system of numbering followed herein is that used by many geneologists and fits in with the system used by Mrs. Ora Ellen (Logan) Doyle in her book entitled "Our Logan History, 1803-1966". Mrs. Doyle's book is a record of the descendants of Tarlton Logan, second son of David Manuel Logan, whereas this book records the names of the descendants of the other children of David Manuel Logan.

In each case, David Manuel Logan is given the number 1. His children are numbered in the order of their birth as 11, 12, 13, etc. If there should be more than nine children, the number will be put in parentheses, and counted as one digit. Example: 11-21-(10) 5-2, Billy Earl Mate, seventh generation, page

In each succeeding generation, the children are numbered by adding to their parent's number a number showing their order of birth. For example, the children of John Dysart Logan 11-2 would be in order of birth, 11-21, 11-22, 11-23, etc. A hyphen is used after each two digits to facilitate reading and remembering long numbers.

The number of digits in each person's number indicated his generation. Thus a person numbered 11-2 is in the third generation, and one numbered 11-26-12 is in the sixth generation, etc.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS:

The collection of the material put into this book has extended over many years. The correspondence has been voluminous. The best early history of the Logan family is: "History of the Logan Family" by Major G. J. N. Logan Home. (George Waterton & Sons, Edinburgh, 1934) A fifteen page, May 1917, issue of "Geneology Magazine" (W. M. Clemens, Hackensack, N. J.) entitled "Logan Family Records" contains some early Logan family statistics. "Historic Families of Kentucky" by Thomas Marshall Green, Geneological Book Company, 1959, also contained a lot of material about the Logans.

A Dr. Charles Logan of St. Louis, Missouri, collected an immense amount of Logan family history, but unfortunately it was not edited nor published before he died in 1951. The data he accumulated was given to Mrs. Clark Boyd, who lives on a farm near Shelbyville, Kentucky, but <sup>had</sup> she has never/ time to get it published.

When this book was first started, it was to be a record of the descendants of Dr. Benjamin Logan (11.). It was not long before we found that his father was named David Manuel Logan (1) and that he had two brothers, named Tarlton L. Logan (12) and John H. Logan (13) and four sisters. The descendants of Tarlton L. Logan are enumerated in Mrs. Ora Doyle's book, "Our Logan History, 1803-1966". The descendants of John H. Logan are enumerated herein.

Besides his three sons, Dr. Benjamin Logan, Tarlton L. Logan and John H. Logan, David Manuel Logan is believed to have had four daughters named Agnes, Polly, Sally and Elizabeth. We think we know the birth year of the three sons, but the birth years of the four daughters are not known. See pages 14.

For more about these four sisters, whose descendants we know practically nothing, except Sally Logan who married Josiah Brecheen, see page 97.

The information contained herein has come from many sources that were considered completely reliable. Errors have probably been made, especially in some of the dates, but the author has had to accept the information given. He accepts the responsibility of any mistakes that occur.

The earliest data are from two or three old family Bibles. The writer has unpublished biographies of David Mortimore Logan (11-1) by his two sons, Leonard Marion Logan (11-13) (1850-1936) and Samuel David Logan (11-16) (1861-1942).

The data on the past few generations are from members of the immediate families. It would have been impossible to get the information which appears in this publication without the ardent help of several whose names appear in the genealogy.

Mrs. George A. Harris (11-2(10)-2) has been especially helpful and not only furnished data on various individuals but in also supplying several of the photographs that are used herein. Mrs. Clara Mae Lewis (11-21-9) has helped on the long list of the descendants of her mother, Clarissa Logan Mount (11-21). Mrs. Nova Broyles, Mrs. Hazel Hyrup, Mrs. Lucile Arnett, Mrs. Ora Doyle, Mrs. Nellie Brixey, Mr. Robert West, and Mrs. Margurie Hunter, as well as several in the Mount line sent me information on their nearest of kin. Many others, whose names are too numerous to list, have given help that was essential and highly appreciated.

This effort is offered as a progress report and it is hoped that some interested person will carry it forward (as well as backward) at a later date and list those yet to arrive. There is no copyright and anyone is welcome to use any of the data herein. An acknowledgment of the source would be appreciated.

All genealogies should be brought down to date every 15 or 20 years. I will probably not live long enough to revise this book. There has been a tremendous amount of correspondence in accumulating the data contained herein. All of it has been given to Mrs. Jay Frazier (11-13-31, see page 22), Box 184F, Route 4, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. I hope she will preserve it and make it available for a revision in later years.

1 David Manuel Logan

Very little is known about the patriarch of this line of Logans.

We know that his name was David Manuel Logan, and that his wife was probably named Mary Hodges, and that she died in Farmington, Tennessee in 1850. One report has it that she was born in Scotland. He is reported to have died between 1833 and 1838 in Holly Springs, Mississippi, where he had gone to be with his second son, Tarlton L. Logan. Mrs. Doyle reports that "some time before the Civil War, Tarlton Logan returned to Mississippi, probably Holly Springs, Marshall County, to settle his father's estate. Tarlton Logan inherited 25 slaves but he didn't want to take them back to Missouri, so gave them $5 each and released them from slavery." We are sure David Manuel Logan had three sons and probably four daughters:

11 Dr. Benjamin Logan:

was born November 10, 1797. His birth place is not known, but was probably in Farmington Tennessee. He was married November 28, 1820 to Mary Jane Dysart. He died of Asiatic cholera while administering to the sick at Farmington, Tennessee, on July 11, 1833. His widow married Daniel Morphis, who had been the foreman of his farm. This met with displeasure of the Logan children who considered themselves of "better stock". She and Daniel Morphis are reported to have had four Children, but they and the Logan children did not get along very well.

Some of the descendants of this union live in Marshall County, Tennessee, but since they are not "blood kin" to the Logan line, no effort has been made to enumerate them.

The children of Dr. Benjamin Logan were: David Mortimore Logan, John Dysart Logan, Dr. Tarlton Lee Logan, Benjamin Tommie Logan, Francis Marion Logan and Mary Ann Logan.

11-1 David Mortimore Logan

Born: April 23, 1822 - Farmington, Tennessee

Died: September 28, 1889 - Margaret, Texas

Buried: City Cemetery - Vernon, Texas

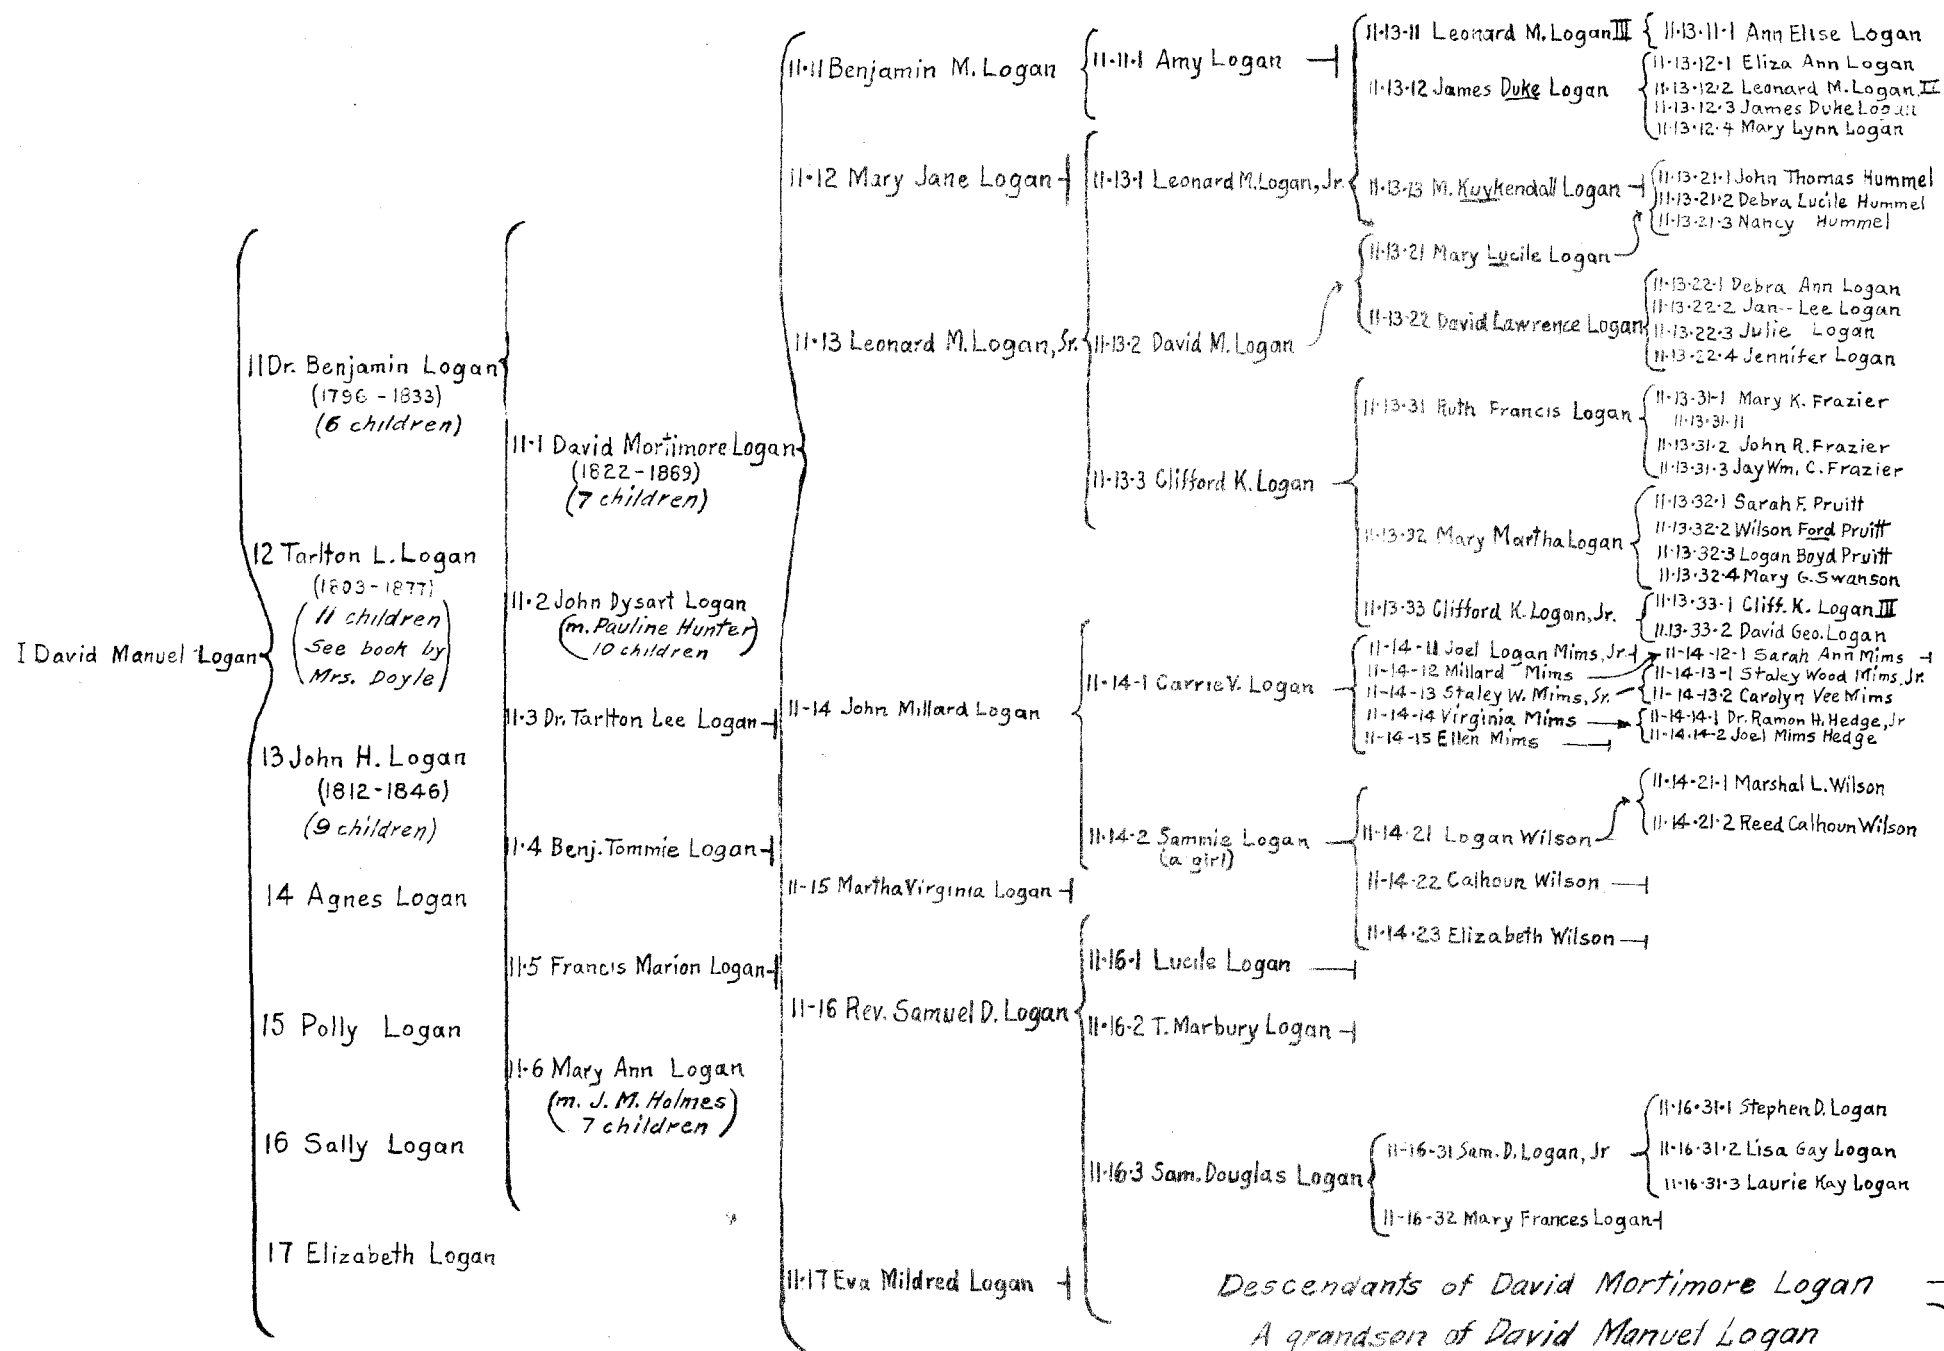

Married: April 20, 1846 - Shelbyville, Tennessee, to Sarah Rowena Marbury who was born
February 24, 1827, and died and was buried at Tyler, Texas, in March, 1910.

David Mortimore Logan's father died when he was only eleven years old and he lived with his mother until she remarried about 1834 or 1835. He then went to live with his grandmother, the widow of David Manuel Logan (1). He lived with her for three or four years, then entered an apprenticeship to a Mr. George Cummings, who conducted a small carriage factory. When David became 21 years of age, Mr. Cummings died and David borrowed the money to take over the business. It was not long until David married (in 1846) Sarah Rowena Marbury and established a home where he took over the rearing of his younger brothers and sisters while his mother took care of her new brood, the Morphis children. His youngest sister, Mary Ann Logan (11-6), got married the year (1848) after his first child, Benjamin Milton Logan (11-11), was born.

David Mortimore Logan (11-1) reared his family during the Civil War. His five children were from 5 to 13 years old when the war broke out, and two more were born during the conflict. His sympathies were with the South but he did not enter active military service on account of his family. His own brother, John Dysart Logan (11-2), and other close kin, joined the Northern side. David Mortimore Logan moved from Tennessee to Tyler, Texas, about 1882 and then to Hardeman and Wilbarger Counties in Texas. He died at Vernon, Texas, September 28, 1889. His seven children were: Benjamin Milton Logan, Mary Jane Logan, Leonard Marion Logan, John Millard Logan, Martha Virginia Logan, Rev. Samuel David Logan, and Eva Mildred Logan.

11-11 Benjamin Milton Logan

Born: March 28, 1847 - Farmington, Tennessee
 Died and Buried: California

He was married the first time on November 15, 1876, to Susie L. Houle, who was born September 12, 1849, and died October 1, 1879. There were no children to this union. He married again on December 10, 1882, to Lizzie Moore Glascock in Austin, Texas. They had one child, Amy Logan.

11-11-1 Amy Logan

Born: Date and place of birth not known, but thought to be about 1885 at Vernon, Texas.
 Died: May 15, 1960 - Kerrville, Texas
 Buried: Laredo, Texas
 Married: M. F. Shaw, date unknown. No children. They lived in California until M. F. Shaw died; then Amy Logan Shaw moved to the Rio Grande Valley of South Texas where she lived until she died in 1960. She died in Kerrville and was buried in Laredo, Texas.

11-12 Mary Jane Logan

Born: August 5, 1848 - Farmington, Tennessee
 Died: March 11, 1862 - Farmington, Tennessee

11-13 Leonard Marion Logan, Sr.

Born: July 19, 1850 - Farmington, Tennessee
 Died: December 10, 1936 - Tahlequah, Oklahoma
 Buried: Odd Fellows Cemetery, Norman, Oklahoma
 Married: July 15, 1890, at Moffat, Texas, to Annie Kuykendall, who was born July 27, 1866, and died March 3, 1951, and also buried in Norman, Oklahoma.

Leonard Marion Logan, Sr., spent his youth at Farmington, Tennessee. He graduated from Cumberland College, Lebanon, Tennessee, in 1872, and taught school in Tennessee for a few years before moving, with other members of his family, to Tyler, Texas. He studied law and became a member of the Bar before moving to Wilbarger County, Texas. He was a County Judge and Postmaster at Vernon, Texas, before going back to teaching school. He was head of the Cherokee National Male Seminary at Tahlequah, I. T., from 1900 to 1904. After five years of teaching at Weatherford, Terrel and Carthage, Texas, he joined the first faculty at Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Oklahoma in 1909. He was Professor-Emeritus there when he died in 1936. His children were Leonard Marion Logan, Jr., David Matthew Logan and Clifford Kuykendall Logan.

The oldest living person listed in this book is Mrs. Clara Mae Mount Lewis (11-21-9) who is "Aunt Mae" to many of the kin. She is the ninth child of Clarissa Jane Logan (11-21) who married Robert Todd Mount in 1863. Mrs. Lewis was asked to write something of her reminiscences and this is what she wrote:

February, 1971

"Here are some of the things that my mother, Clarissa Logan Mount told me.

When she was a child, she would slip off and go down to the slave quarters to hear the slaves tell ghost stories. Her mother told her that if she didn't stop going down there, a ghost would get her. So one night as she came home there stood a big white object up in front of her. She became very scared and ran all the way back to her house. The object she saw was her mother wrapped in a white sheet.

When she was going to school one of her father's brothers would say, Clarissa go home with me tonight and knit me some socks. In those days children had to help by knitting socks.

Your father (Leonard M. Logan, Sr. 11-13) came to see my mother one time, and I met him then. Uncle Tom Logan (11-29) came to see us once in a while. I was born in Arkansas so do not know too much about my Tennessee people. My father and mother both passed away at my home, in Evansville, Arkansas. My mother had a stroke and had to be in a wheel chair for about five years, so I had her move down to my home. I am now living alone, and I am glad to add this note to your book."

Notes from "Genealogical History of the Families of McConnell, Martins, Etc." by N. W. McConnell.

(pp. 76) "Josiah Martin was born in 1756. His father John Martin was living as late as 1786, which is shown by a deed executed by him and his wife, Mary Martin, at that date, which is on record in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court of Lincoln County, North Carolina."

(pg. 102) "Josiah Martin was born in 1756 and died in 1835. He was married in 1783 to Mary McClarey, who was born September 15, 1765, and died in 1852. Of this union there were born the following children: Abigal, William, Hannah, Robert, Clarissa, Marilla, Mary McDowell and Matilda."

(pg. 109) "Clarissa Martin (fifth child of Josiah Martin and Mary McClarey, his wife) was born August 15, 1796. She married Edwin Hunter, and of this union there were born the following children Milton Bell, Martin, Robert Henry, Mary Diantha, all of whom died young and unmarried; Leander, Matilda Paulina, Josiah Riley and Adison.

(pg. 109) "Matilda Paulina Hunter married John Dysart (11-2) Logan and of this union there were born: (1) Clarissa, (2) Silvester Marion (who died in infancy), (3) William Pinkney (who died at age 11), (4) Mary Diantha, (5) Martha Josephine, (6) George Donald, (7) John Milton (who died at age 2), (8) Clementine (who died in infancy), (9) Thomas Riley and (10) Cora Ida Logan."

Author's note: The last named Cora Ida Logan (11-2(10), who was a sister to Clarissa Logan (11-21) who married Robert Todd Mount, was born in 1868.

She married Patrick Leroy Calahan in 1895, and died in Nashville, Tennessee, in 1957. She wrote the author the following letter:

Nashville, Tennessee

March 3, 1949

"Dear Cousin David:

I received another letter from you wanting some more information on the Logan family. I don't know whether I can give you much more information or not but will make corrections. Yes, I remember of my grandmother Logan marrying an old Uncle Daniel Morphis(as everybody called him) and had four more children was all I ever heard of. They were Lucindia, Francis, Sarah and Henry. Henry lived at our house and we all looked on him as a brother and I remember my daddy had several Brecheen cousins, but I can't tell you anything about them. As for Aunt Mary Ann Holmes, I don't reckon I ever saw her but she had two daughters. One was Josie and I have forgotten the other girl's name. Josie came to Farmington and went to school one year and stayed out at Cousin Herrin Dysarts. His wife was a Holmes but don't know what kin she was to Josie. My sister Mary (Sis) had two children, one daughter, Virtna, and a son, Gary. They moved to Oklahoma and Sis died there. Virtna married a McAlester and moved to Ogden, Utah, and Gary lives near Kansas City, Mo. Sister Josie had five children. Edna was born October 1888, was married to Walter Garrett and had two little girls, Josefine married Landis McDaniel and died at the age of 17 and left a baby, Edna Carolyn. Beryl married J. B. Williams and lives in Greenfield, Tennessee. Effie was born September, 1820, and married Brents Neathery and has one boy, Robert Brents, Jr., and lives in Nashville. Irby, born December, 1892, was married to Miss Alice Steel and had two boys, Allen and Bob, lives in Nashville. Annie Zella was born in summer of 1895, and died in 1896. George Logan was born in summer of 1897, and died in Nashville at about the age of 14, and brother George Donald was a preacher and preached in Granada and another place in Mississippi but I don't remember the name. Brother Tom (Dr. Logan) born May 28, 1864, married Flora Montgomery and died in summer of 1932. No children. Now I come to my children. I had four: Mytrice and Murphee (twins) were born November 7, 1896, and Murphee died October 18, 1897. Mytrice Calahan Harris lives in Nashville and had three children, married George Harris in December 27, 1922. Ruth was born May 3, 1924, and married Marvin Reeves August, 1945, has two children; David, born May 24, 1946 and Elaine was born June 12, 1948. Logan Allmas Harris was born January 17, 1928; Leroy Blake Harris was born December 21, 1929; Harry Clifford Calahan was born December 27, 1898, married to Ruth Payne, July 11, 1931, no children, lives in Nashville; Lucile Calahan was born December 17, 1901, and died January 5, 1906. Well, I reckon this is about all I know. Hope it will be some information for you. If you ever get that book finished, I would like very much to have a copy."

Respectfully,

Ida Logan Calahan (11-2(10)

I never saw any of my fathers people but Uncle David (your grandfather) and the four Morphis children.

- 14 Agnes Logan
 Very little is known about this fourth child of David Manuel Logan. One record shows she was born in 1814. The records of Marshall County, Tennessee, show a license to marry was issued to Josiah Breechen and Agnes Houston on March 12 1860. They were married the following day. It is possible that this Agnes Houston's maiden name was Agnes Logan who was first married to a Mr. Houston and this couple were the parents of David Houston, whose name is shown in the old bible along with the names of the children of Tarlton Logan (12).
- 15 It appears that David Manuel Logan also had three other daughters, Polly, Sally, 16 and Elizabeth. Their birth dates are not known and it is highly probably that two 17 of them, Polly and Sally, were born prior to the boys, Ben, Tarlton and John H. Logan.
- Research has uncovered two "Marriage Bonds", one for Sally Logan and Josiah Bricheen and the other for Polly Logan and Lemuel Brichan. People at that time were not very good in spelling and the modern descendants of this family now spell the family name "Brecheen." These two marriage bonds are reproduced here. It appears that this is the case of two brothers marrying two sisters. One wedding was in 1812, the other in 1815.
- Additional evidence of the relationship between the Logans and Brecheens' is shown on a "Quit Claim Deed from Josiah Brecheen to Logan Heirs" which was recorded July 14, 1840, in Marshall County, Tennessee. and shown on page 97C.
- Diligent search has uncovered the names of a great many descendants of Josiah Brecheen and Sally Logan, but the 1830 census records reveal the only trace of Lemuel Brecheen and his family. This record shows Lemuel Brecheen age 30/40, his wife 30/40, and six daughters, two under 5 years of age, two from 5/10, and the other two 10/15. This is the only record that could be found of the Lemuel Brecheen family.
- 16 The descendants of Josiah Brecheen and Sally Logan are given hereafter. It is to be regretted that this list is not more complete but to delay publication of what has been accumulated cannot be justified. It is hoped this list will be made more complete in a revised edition.
- 17 The other daughter of David Manuel Logan was Elizabeth Logan. Her age is not known and she may have been older than her three sisters who were Agnes, Polly and Sally. She is reported to have married an O'Neil, but other vague information is that she never married. She probably went to Mississippi with her brother, Tarlton Logan, and then on to Missouri with his family and lived with them until she died.
