THE DESCENDANTS OF ADAM MOTT, OF HEMPSTEAD, LONG ISLAND.

The subscriber is collecting material for a genealogical history of this Family, and in order to enlist the co-operation of its members issues this preliminary sketch of the earlier generations, for free distribution.

Only a very small proportion of those bearing the surname, and presumably descended from the settler, Adam Mott, can trace their lines back to him. There are two reasons for this—first, the almost entire absence of public vital statistics bearing upon the case, and, second, the frequent occurrence of the same christian names in the family, baffling the most careful and systematic search to identify the individuals. It is only by the collection of as large a number as is possible of family and bible manuscript records of undeniable authenticity, and by their careful study and comparison, that satisfactory results can be expected. The subscriber urges all those to whom this paper shall come, in the interest of their clan, to contribute copies of such records as they may possess, and supply him with other information that may place him in position to insure the best results of his labor.

Any incorrect statements in the following sketch he will most gladly correct, and will be as glad of the opportunity of furnishing members of the family with their lines of descent from the progenitor, Adam Mott, wherever it is possible.

EDW. D. HARRIS,
280 Broadway, New York City.

Adam Mott is first heard of in 1645, when he was of New York. On the 28th of July, 1647, he married there, Jane Hulet, he then as from county Essex, and she, a maid, from county Buckingham. His oldest children Adam and James were baptized in New York. Ten years later he was settled at Hempstead, on the north shore, where he continued to reside until his death. There are several important documents upon record concerning him. One, dated 1682, enumerates his "four sonns by my First wiffe Jane Mott, viz. Addam, Jeams, John and Joseph." The second is his Will, dated March 12, 1681-2, wherein he names his "eldest son Adam," sons James, John, Joseph and Gershom, dau. Grace, three children of his deceased son Henry, "youngest son Adam," wife Elizabeth and "all ye children I have by her."

The third document is an agreement dated 1691 by which the widow confirms certain lands to sons by the first marriage, viz. Adam, James, John and Joseph, being joined therein by one of her own sons, Richbell, probably the only one then of age.

The last of these documents is a release given by John Okeson, in 1703, (who had meantime married the youngest daughter by the second wife,) of his interest in the estate which Adam Mott "did give to his six youngest children which he had by his last wife Elizabeth, unto Richbell Mott, William Mott, Charles Mott and Adam Mott, Jr.

The second wife of Adam Mott was the daughter of Ann, the wife of John Richbell of Mamaroneck, probably by a previous husband whose name was Redman. She married not long prior to Nov. 5, 1691, Robert Hubs, and was living as late as 1698, as his wife.

Adam Mott died probably a little while before Apr. 5, 1690.

His children were:—

Of the daughters, Grace married Jonathan Smith, Jr., and Elizabeth mar. John Okeson.

Adam<sup>2</sup>, the oldest son, was bapt. in New York Nov. 14, 1649. His wife seems to have been Mary, the dau. of Nicholas Stillwell. He was of Hempstead, a Justice of the Peace, and in 1713 was living at the south side, at Rockaway. Nothing is known of him or of his wife after 1719. The only children known as his were Ann<sup>3</sup>, Mary<sup>3</sup>, and Adam<sup>3</sup>, all on the census list of 1698. Of the daus. nothing is known. The son Adam<sup>3</sup> had, some time before 1719, married his half cousin Elizabeth Mott, and was living at Rockaway, but later was of Staten Island, where he was the county clerk from 1728 to 1738. He was alive the next year, but nothing later is known of him. His widow Elizabeth made her Will in 1777 (proved 1778) then of Staten Is. Their children were Elizabeth<sup>4</sup>, who before 1743 had mar. Benj. Seaman, and Richbell<sup>4</sup>, who mar. 1736 Mary Seamans, dau. of Richard and Sarah, and died before July 11, 1745, leaving a son Richbell<sup>5</sup>.

Nothing further has been learned of this branch of the family. The residence on Staten Island, place of burial, and particulars of the descendants of Adam<sup>3</sup> and Elizabeth are much desired.

James<sup>2</sup>, the second son of Adam<sup>1</sup>, was bapt. in New York Oct. 15, 1651. A license was granted Sep. 5, 1670 for his marriage to Mary Redman, the daughter-in-law (step-daughter) of John Richbell. He was living at Hempstead in 1682, but had removed to Mamaroneck in 1690, where his wife died before 1698. He married again Elizabeth—who survived him and administered his estate 1707. His children were Elizabeth<sup>3</sup>, Grace<sup>3</sup>, James<sup>3</sup>, Phebe<sup>3</sup>, and Martha<sup>3</sup>, all living in 1698. The son James<sup>3</sup>, was of Mamaroneck in 1728, but nothing further of this branch has been learned.

Henry<sup>2</sup>, (probably the third) son of Adam<sup>1</sup> Mott died Nov. 21, 1680, and administration was issued to his widow Hannah Nov. 13, 1682. His real estate was a house and seventeen acres of land at Hempstead. Three minor children were living in 1682, their names unknown. Nothing further is known of them, and in 1698 none appear on the census list of Hempstead, unless the Grace Mott, living in family of John Cornwell, was a daughter.

John<sup>2</sup>, son of Adam<sup>1</sup> Mott, born about 1658, mar. Sarah (said to have been daughter of John Seaman,) was of Hempstead, and had living in 1698 children John<sup>3</sup>, James<sup>3</sup>, Sarah<sup>3</sup>, and Martha<sup>3</sup>. He is traced to the year 1725, and then disappears from the record. It has not been possible as yet to identify a John of Hempstead with wife Rebecca, as his son, although there is a strong probability of the connection. Nor is the son James<sup>3</sup> traced. One James was of Hempstead, whose son James mar. Anna Rogers at Huntington in 1723 and gave rise to a long line of descendants, but the connec-

Joseph<sup>2</sup> (probably the fifth) son of Adam<sup>1</sup> Mott, and the eldest of the sons from whom descent can as yet unquestionably be traced, was of Cow Neck, a vestryman of St. George's parish, and had wife Mariam. His Will was made Mar. 24, 1734-5 and was proved in Feb. following. His children were Mariam<sup>3</sup> married Samuel Cornell, Jane<sup>3</sup> mar. Benj. Seamans, and three sons, Joseph<sup>3</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup> and Jacob<sup>3</sup> (the last born Aug. 9, 1714 or '15). All had issue.

Joseph<sup>3</sup>, the oldest, born 1696 or earlier, mar. his half cousin Deborah<sup>3</sup>, dau. of Richbell<sup>2</sup> Mott, and for 2d wife, June 3, 1759, Cathren Boerum. He removed to Charlotte Precinct, Dutchess Co., and made a Will in 1762, which was proved in 1765. His sons were Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>4</sup>, Richard<sup>4</sup>, and Jacob<sup>4</sup>, all apparently alive in 1762 and in Dutchess Co., and four daughters, Martha<sup>4</sup>, wife of James Vallentine, Jane<sup>4</sup>, wife of Timothy Smith, Jr., Elizabeth<sup>4</sup>, wife of Samuel Smith, and Jemima<sup>4</sup>, wife of John Cannon. The eldest, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, mar. Jan. 19, 1748-9 Phebe Smith, had a son Joseph<sup>5</sup>, and was living in Charlotte Precinct 1767 and in Clinton 1789. Nothing later is known of the descendants of Joseph<sup>3</sup>, and they apparently removed from Dutchess Co.

Samuel<sup>3</sup>, the second son of Joseph<sup>2</sup>, was born in 1707, married May 27, 1728 Martha Smith. He died Feb. 15, 1736-7, leaving a Will of the previous Dec. 21, in which his wife and "children" are mentioned. The widow married John Hicks. Nothing whatever has been learned of his descendants, not even the names of his children, but it is probable that some of the families of the name now in the neighborhood of Hempstead are of this branch.

Jacob<sup>3</sup>, the youngest son of Joseph<sup>2</sup>, was born Aug. 7, 1714 or '15. He was first of Cow Neck, and later of Oyster Bay, and the progenitor of several prolific lines. He married, July 16, 1735, Abigail Jackson, and died Oct. 6, 1805. Of his thirteen children seven only lived to maturity, Isaac<sup>4</sup>, Ruth<sup>4</sup>, who mar. successively Jordan Lawrence and Stephen Coles, Samuel Jackson<sup>4</sup>, Jacob<sup>4</sup>, Miriam<sup>4</sup>, who mar. Benjamin Birdsall, Richard<sup>4</sup>, and Joseph<sup>4</sup>.

Samuel Jackson<sup>4</sup>, second son of Jacob<sup>3</sup>, born Feb. 6, 1753, lived at North Hempstead, married Glorianna Coles, and died about 1828. His children were James<sup>5</sup>, Joseph<sup>5</sup>, Miriam<sup>5</sup>, the wife of John Carpenter, Elizabeth<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Charles Kissam, Benjamin<sup>5</sup>, Mary<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Titus Boerum, Abigail<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Timothy Townsend, and Jacob C.<sup>5</sup>

Jacob<sup>4</sup>, the third son of Jacob<sup>3</sup>, born June 30, 1756, was of New York, and an alderman, married Deborah Lawrence, and died

Aug. 16, 1823. He had four sons, William Lawrence<sup>5</sup>, grocer, of New York, and the grandfather of the present Rev. George S<sup>7</sup>. Mott, of Newark, Richard Lawrence<sup>5</sup>, of New York, Jacob Lawrence<sup>5</sup>, Quaker preacher, of Tarrytown, and Jordan Lawrence<sup>5</sup>, of New York, the father of the present Jordan L<sup>6</sup>, of Mott Haven.

Joseph<sup>4</sup>, the youngest son of Jacob<sup>3</sup>, born Aug. 21, 1763, had died before 1803, leaving a minor daughter Phebe<sup>5</sup>.

Gershom<sup>2</sup>, the youngest son of Adam<sup>1</sup> Mott by his first wife, had removed to Monmouth, N. J., before 1685, married Catherine Bowne, was high-sheriff and member of the Provincial Assembly, and died about 1733. None of his descendants appear later in Long Island. The late General Gershom<sup>6</sup> Mott was the great grandson of his son William<sup>3</sup>. A notice of this branch of the family is in the N. Y. Gen. & Biographical Record of 1894.

Edmund<sup>3</sup>, the oldest son, was of Cow Neck. He married Catherine Sands in 1726 and died in 1743. They were Friends. His son Richbell<sup>4</sup> was the only one of his children that had issue, and at his death no male descendants survived.

Richard<sup>3</sup>, the other surviving son, married 1741 Sarah Pearsall, and died 1743 leaving an only child James<sup>4</sup>, born 1742, of New York and Mamaroneck. He was a Friend, married Mary Underhill and died May 9, 1823. His descendants have been made known by the publication of Mr. Cornell's book "Adam & Anne Mott," a dau. of this James<sup>4</sup> being the Anne of the narrative.

William<sup>2</sup> Mott, the second son of Adam<sup>1</sup> by the second wife, was born Jan. 20, 1674. His wife was Hannah Ferris. They lived at Great Neck, where he died June 30, 1740. Issue were an only son William<sup>3</sup>, Hannah<sup>3</sup>, wife of Philip Pell, Martha<sup>3</sup>, and Elizabeth<sup>3</sup>, both of whom died unmarried.

William<sup>4</sup>, the oldest, was a merchant of New York, and the father of William W.<sup>5</sup>, Robert W.<sup>5</sup>, and James W.<sup>5</sup>, all of New York. Samuel<sup>4</sup> was a New York merchant, and father of William F.<sup>5</sup> and Samuel F.<sup>5</sup>. The present John L. B.<sup>7</sup> Mott of New York is of this branch. Henry<sup>4</sup> was the distinguished physician, married Jane Way, and was the father of John Way<sup>5</sup> and the well known Dr. Valentine<sup>5</sup> Mott who died in 1865.

Charles<sup>2</sup> Mott, the third son of Adam<sup>1</sup> by the second wife, was married probably not much before 1695 to Elizabeth——, who apparently died in his life time. His Will was made Feb. 10, 1740 and proved Mar. 11 of same or next year. He was the owner of lands in Cacayas or Kakiat (New Hempstead) in Orange Co. His children were Charles<sup>3</sup>, Gershom<sup>3</sup>, Jacob<sup>3</sup>, Amos<sup>3</sup>, Benjamin<sup>3</sup>, Adam<sup>3</sup>, Maryann<sup>3</sup> who having been first the wife of a Starkin, then married, 1730, Patrick Carrell, Elizabeth<sup>3</sup>, who married a Hunter, and John<sup>3</sup>.

Charles<sup>3</sup>, the eldest, born in 1696 or earlier, had wife Deborah before 1729, settled on his father's tract at Kakiat and was dead in 1748, leaving three sons, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>4</sup>, and Sylvanus<sup>4</sup>, the last of whom was probably the Haverstraw man of that name who made his Will in 1785. The surname still is found about Haverstraw, but documentary proof is wanted to complete the connection.

John<sup>3</sup>, the seventh son of Charles<sup>2</sup>, was alive in 1748 with two children, Mary Ann<sup>3</sup> and Benjamin<sup>3</sup>, but nothing further is known of father or children.

Adam<sup>2</sup>, the youngest son of Adam<sup>1</sup> Mott, lived at Cow Neck. He mar. 1732 Phebe Willets and died Dec. 10, 1738. They were Friends. His two sons were Adam<sup>3</sup> and Stephen<sup>3</sup>.

Adam<sup>3</sup>, older son of Adam<sup>2</sup> Mott, born 10, 10, 1734, was of Cow Neck, (North) Hempstead, married 1755 Sarah Willis, and, secondly, 1785, Abigail Batty. He died 12, 18, 1790. His two sons Adam<sup>4</sup> and Samuel<sup>4</sup> both left male issue. Adam<sup>4</sup>, born (10) 11, 1762, mar. 1785, Anne<sup>5</sup>, dau. of James Mott, of the Richbell<sup>2</sup> Mott branch, and died at Rochester 1839. Their children were James<sup>5</sup>, Sarah<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Silas Cornell, Mary W.<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Robert Hicks, Abigail L.<sup>5</sup>, wife of Lindley M. Moore, and Richard<sup>5</sup>. The eldest of these, James<sup>5</sup>, born 6, 20, 1788, married Lucretia Coffin, who was afterwards famous as a lecturer and preacher. Their son, Thomas<sup>6</sup>, is of Cow Neck, and the oldest representative of the youngest branch of Adam<sup>1</sup> Mott's family. The youngest son of Adam<sup>4</sup>, Richard<sup>5</sup>, born July 21, 1804, removed to Toledo, where he became a prominent citizen, and died 1888 without male issue.

Samuel<sup>4</sup>, the younger son of Adam<sup>3</sup>, born 9, 29, 1773, married Catherine Appleby and lived at Cow Neck. He died in 1864. His issue were Leonard<sup>5</sup>, Thomas<sup>5</sup>, Sarah<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Benjamin Willis, and Silas<sup>5</sup>. Leonard<sup>5</sup>, the oldest, born 1799, married Hannah C. Willis and died in 1866; his sons Edward<sup>6</sup> and Samuel<sup>6</sup> are of Port Washington. Thomas<sup>5</sup>, born 1801, died 1860. Silas<sup>5</sup>, the youngest of the family, born 4, 4, 1807, married Mary Willis, and died 1881, leaving an only son, Thomas<sup>6</sup>.

Daniel<sup>4</sup>, the eldest, born 10, 10, 1763, married Amy Searing and died 1837, leaving a large family of children, none of whom have been traced. Henry<sup>4</sup>, the youngest child of Stephen<sup>3</sup>, born 7, 17, 1782, married Temperance Hicks 1811, and died 8, 17, 1851, leaving three children, Adam<sup>5</sup>, (born 1813, died 1881, whose son George F<sup>6</sup> is of Brooklyn,) Benjamin<sup>5</sup>, who died childless in 1891, and Elizabeth<sup>5</sup>, the wife of Henry H. Barrow.

Among the many branches of the Motts that are not, as yet, to be connected, indisputably, with the parent stock, is a large detachment descended from one John of Hempstead by his wife Rebecca. He was born as early as in 1690, and died 1750-1, at Hempstead. It is likely that he was the oldest son of John<sup>2</sup>. Proof of the connection should be carefully sought among private records about Hempstead. His Will, proved 1751, furnishes the only authentic record of the family that has yet appeared. His children were John<sup>4</sup>, died in his father's life time, Samuel<sup>4</sup>, Jacob<sup>4</sup>, Sarah<sup>4</sup>, Martha<sup>4</sup>, Jehu<sup>4</sup>, Rebecca<sup>4</sup>, Phebe<sup>4</sup>, and Micajah<sup>4</sup>.

Samuel<sup>4</sup>, b. 1712, married Hannah Wood, was of Hempstead, died 1780, leaving sons Richard<sup>5</sup>, John<sup>5</sup>, and Samuel<sup>5</sup>. Richard<sup>5</sup>, born 1738, married Phebe ——— and died 1775, leaving one son James<sup>6</sup> of Westbury, the weaver, whose son James<sup>7</sup> was the father of the present William K.<sup>8</sup> of Glenwood Landing. John<sup>5</sup>, second son of Samuel<sup>4</sup>, born 1745, died 1824. married Abigail Hall. Their son John<sup>6</sup>, born 1783, married Hannah Townsend and died 1848, leaving many descendants. Samuel<sup>5</sup>, the youngest son, born 1742, married Amy Raynor, was of Merricks, and died 1793, had sons William<sup>6</sup> of Merricks, Willet<sup>6</sup>, grocer of New York, Elijah<sup>6</sup> of Merricks, Samuel<sup>6</sup>, the Sheriff of Queens County, who died 1859, Joseph<sup>6</sup> of Freeport (whose son Silvanus<sup>7</sup> is now of Freeport,) and Benjamin<sup>6</sup>.

Jacob<sup>4</sup>, son of John<sup>3</sup> and Rebecca, was of Bethpage, married Keziah Seaman, and died about 1782. Of his children, Jacob<sup>5</sup> was merchant of New York, and seemed to have died 1820, leaving only two daughters. Samuel Nottingham<sup>5</sup>, the other son, married Phebe Gedney, was a merchant of New York and father of John Gedney<sup>6</sup> of New York, whose son Lawrence Proudfoot<sup>7</sup> died in New York 1897, leaving only son, the present Lewis Camp<sup>8</sup> Mott of New York.

Jehu<sup>4</sup>, the next son of John and Rebecca, was born 9, 26, 1723, married Ruth Powell, was a Quaker preacher, and died 1782, leaving two sons, John<sup>5</sup> and Jehu<sup>5</sup>. John<sup>5</sup> was of Patchogue, died 1828, leaving many descendants who are to be found to-day in that vicinity. Jehu<sup>5</sup>, born 1756, came to New York, married Ruth Burtis and was the father of William Burtis<sup>6</sup> Mott, for a long time Keeper at Blackwell's Island.

Another large branch, as yet unidentified, is of the descendants of one Henry Mott, who, with his brother Patrick*, were of Hempstead, south side. Mrs. Bunker, in her Long Island Genealogies, makes them sons of John<sup>2</sup>, but without evidence, while there is some reason to believe that they belong to Henry's<sup>2</sup> line.

Adam<sup>4</sup>, named as the executor of his father's Will, but of whom we know little, was of Woodsburgh, the father of Henry H.<sup>5</sup> (who mar. Mary Seaman and died 1844 leaving children Henry<sup>6</sup>, Adam<sup>6</sup>, David Seaman<sup>6</sup>, Hannah<sup>6</sup>, Elizabeth<sup>6</sup>, Abigail<sup>6</sup> and Mary<sup>6</sup>, of whom we would like to know more.)

Henry<sup>4</sup>, the second son, born Nov. 22, 1730, was of Hempstead, mar. Mary Southard and died 1768, about the time his father did. The widow married Garret Burtis and removed to Dutchess Co. The children were William<sup>5</sup>, Henry<sup>5</sup>, James<sup>5</sup> and Samuel<sup>5</sup>. William<sup>5</sup> was of Verbank, Dutchess Co., married Lutetia Losee, and died 1799: descendants are now of Poughkeepsie. Of Henry<sup>5</sup> and James<sup>5</sup> nothing can be gathered; their descendants must be looked for in Dutchess Co. Samuel<sup>5</sup>, b. after his father's death, in 1768, married Meribeth Richetson and died in Durham, Greene Co., 1842. His children were Henry<sup>6</sup>, of Gorham, Rowland<sup>6</sup>, of Greene Co. and later of Poughkeepsie, where his son Samuel<sup>7</sup> now lives, Ricketson<sup>6</sup>, Elizabeth<sup>6</sup>, mar. Morgan Jones, Jane<sup>6</sup>, mar. Edmund Brant, and Ruth<sup>6</sup>, mar. Gilbert Titus.

Richard<sup>4</sup>, the third son of Henry, was of Valley Stream and alive in 1768. He had two sons, Elkanah<sup>5</sup>, born 1761, died 1822, with no issue, and Richbell<sup>5</sup>, a tobacconist of New York, and later of Far Rockaway with son Stephen<sup>6</sup> of whom we know nothing.

John<sup>4</sup>, the youngest son of Henry, born Apr. 17, 1748, was of Far Rockaway. He was married twice, first to Martha Sammis, and last to Lucy Nichols. He was the owner of large real estate and the father of Sammis<sup>5</sup>, David<sup>5</sup>, Daniel<sup>5</sup>, William<sup>5</sup>, now of Far Rockaway, Richard<sup>5</sup>, who lately died at Bayswater, Calvin H.<sup>5</sup>, John<sup>5</sup>, and Benjamin Birdsall<sup>5</sup>, now of Far Rockaway. Most of the Motts of Far Rockaway are of this stock.

Another group of Motts has been long located at Coram, Selden, and Patchogue. One Major Mott, said to have been of Neversink, Dutchess Co., had sons Jacob, b. 1751, Thomas, his twin, Samuel, Abram, b. 1766, Isaac, William, and Ebenezer. Of these, Jacob was the forefather of the present Coram people, Thomas was of Cortlandt Co., Abram was father of the Motts of Tompkins Co., Samuel was of Islip, and Ebenezer of Patchogue. A dau. of Ebenezer mar. John Mott, grandson of Jehu and Ruth, thus uniting in his descendants the blood of two families of the name.

*Of this Patrick, who was a man of prominence in Hempstead, we know strangely little. He had presumably a son of the same name, and either father or son (probably the latter) had wife Deborah, who d. 1792 aged 64. Apparently there were four men of this christian name who may have been of as many successive generations, but thus far nothing has been learned that can identify either. The last died in 1845, then of New York, aged 55 yrs., leaving son Richard W. and dau. Mary W.
