BATTLE HYMN OF THE MARTINS

TUNE: "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

In England, Wales and Scotland and the Emerald Isle, as well,
In U. S. A. and Canada, in city, plain and dell,
Where English tongue is spoken—that is where the Martins dwell.
The clan goes marching on!

CHORUS: Glory to the name of Martin!
Glory to the tribe of Martin,
Glory, "Sic itur ad astra!"
The clan goes marching on!

The Martin Clan is mighty—over half a million strong;
In Seventy-six two thousand kinsmen fought to right a wrong,
Forty towns bear Martin names. Sure, let us sing that song—
The clan goes marching on!

The House of Martin cherishes traditions of the past,
With the world's great movements they have all their fortunes cast;
And when they pledge their honor they are loyal to the last.
The clan goes marching on!

Roger, William, Samuel, John were fathers of our clan.
Sir Oliver, with Richard Coeur-de Lion's Christian band,
In crusades 'gainst the Moslems bravely marched to Holy Land.
The clan goes marching on!

John Martin sailed around the world with bold Sir Francis Drake,
Joshua the Governor served for the people's sake.
The Martins do their duty when their honor is at stake.
The clan goes marching on!

When the good old ship Mayflower sailed across the sea,
In Sixteen-twenty Christopher came with his family.
William helped "fit out the ship" to make it "sea wor-thy."
The clan goes marching on.

The Martin sons have courage any enemy to face;
The Martin girls are lovely with their beauty, charm and grace;
The Martin leaven is a blessing to the human race.
The clan goes marching on!

We must prove worthy of our place on Martin Family Tree,
Let Martin standards with the highest in the world agree.
We owe a duty to the generations yet to be.
The clan goes marching on!

(A) INTRODUCTION

HE Martin Family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years. The Martin family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important rôles in war and in peace. Family pride is a commendable trait and should be cultivated. All Martins have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In references No. 10 and No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Martin.

The surname, Martin, has its origin in the personal name made illustrious by St. Martin and was probably derived from the Latin "martius," warlike, the characteristic quality of Mars, the god of war. Many places in Normandy were dedicated to St. Martin, and from one of these sprang the great family who came to England at the time of the Conquest under the name De Sancto Martino.

The surname is greatly in evidence in Ireland and Scotland, but its origin in Gaelic countries is usually different from that in England and on the continent, the Gaelic derivation being from the personal name Giolla Marthain, meaning "the servant or votary of St. Martin." It is said that this Giolla Marthain was the ancestor of the Irish family of Martin, from whom so many of the Martins of America are descended.

The name of Martin is not only of frequent occurrence in the Old World, but it became common in America from an early period, and may be found among the early settlers of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Virginia, and other colonies. The name is variously spelled, even in the records of the same family, as Martin, Martyn, Marten, Marttin, Marteen, Martain and Martine.

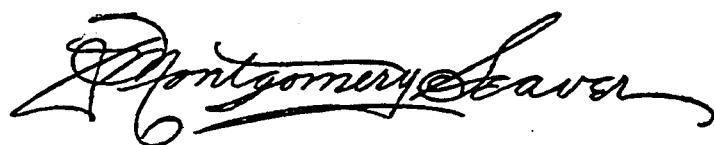

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issue was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume he is bringing to the Martin Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their cooperation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers, are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangement according to this system.

(B) THE MARTIN COAT OF ARMS

COAT of Arms is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons, persons of royal blood, and their descendants. Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life.

It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in a crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms, in one crude form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Martin Coat of Arms shown in the front of this volume is the Arms of the Martins of Galway; Tullyra, Co. Galway; Doebege, Co. Sligo and others.

An official chart in the office of Ulster King of Arms, Dublin Castle, states that the Arms was given to Sir Oliver Martin by Richard Coeur de Leon while in the Holylands. Sir Oliver was sole companion of Richard during his captivity by the Saracens and accompanied him back to England. Later he settled in Galway, Ireland. The Coat of Arms is recorded as in use in 1199 A. D. Coats of Arms very similar are used by many other branches of the Martin family.

This is the most widely used of all Martin Coats of Arms. It is described in BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY, BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, BURKE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE and other reliable works on heraldry, in some cases accompanied by illustrations. The "Martin Genealogy" shows Thomas and Samuel Martin, who settled in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 1828 or 1829, as descended from Sir Oliver and therefore entitled to this Coat of Arms. It has been used for generations by their descendants and by many other American branches of the Martin family.

	HERALDIC LANGUAGE	ENGLISH DESCRIPTION
Arms	Azure, a cross calvary or on three grieces argent, in the dexter chief a sun in splendor of the second and in the sinister chief an increscent of the third.	On a blue shield, a golden cross mounted upon a silver base (of three grieces). In the upper right-hand portion of the shield, a golden sun; in the left, a silver crescent.
Crest	An estoile or.	A golden star-shaped figure, six-pointed.
Motto	Sic Itur ad Astra (Latin).	In this manner I attain the stars.

Sir Bernard Burke, of Heralds College, London, said "Heraldry is prized by all who can show honorable ancestry or wish to found honorable families."

Besides its family significance this Coat of Arms makes an excellent mural decoration and inspires the admiration and comment of all who see it.

It is quite appropriate that members of the Martin family who have a pride in their ancestry should display the family Coat of Arms, in proper colors.

Giolla Marthain is said to be the ancestor of the Irish family of Martin, from whom so many of the Martins of America are descended. He was a twelfth-century warrior and commander and is numbered as one hundred and third on the pedigree of the Martins, who are set forth in "O'Hart's Pedigrees" as a branch of the O'Neils, Monarchs of Ireland, Princes of Ulster, and Earls of Tyrone. See also Chapter (A).

The name appears on the Role of Battle Abbey in 1066, and many of its representatives were prominent in the history of England after the Norman conquest. John Martin of Plymouth accompanied Sir Francis Drake on that famous explorer's voyage around the world; William Martin helped to fit out the Pilgrim ship that landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620; and Christopher Martin and his wife and son Christopher were members of that Mayflower band.

(L) MARTIN CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES

The compiler of these records has made up a list from city and telephone directories of the United States, and from other sources, as follows. Care was taken to eliminate, wherever possible, persons known or believed to be colored, or of nationalities other than British and American:

Alabama.....	448	Maine.....	221	Oklahoma.....	372
Arizona.....	82	Maryland.....	338	Oregon.....	73
Arkansas.....	159	Massachusetts.....	1545	Pennsylvania.....	2107
California.....	2064	Michigan.....	996	Rhode Island.....	320
Colorado.....	313	Minnesota.....	255	South Carolina.....	24
Connecticut.....	465	Mississippi.....	84	South Dakota.....	33
District of Columbia...	223	Missouri	605	Tennessee.....	690
Delaware.....	50	Montana.....	121	Texas.....	1300
Florida.....	394	Nebraska.....	221	Utah.....	92
Georgia.....	435	Nevada.....	36	Vermont.....	104
Idaho.....	72	New Hampshire.....	159	Virginia.....	547
Illinois.....	1642	New Jersey.....	604	Washington	350
Indiana.....	1003	New Mexico.....	33	West Virginia	296
Iowa.....	424	New York.....	2673	Wisconsin.....	270
Kansas.....	329	North Carolina.....	143	Wyoming.....	20
Kentucky.....	459	North Dakota.....	22
Louisiana.....	194	Ohio.....	1875	Total.....	25,285

To secure an estimate of the "Martin population" of the United States, we figure as follows:

	(a)
	Multiply
	by
Only about half the names were taken from each directory consulted.....	2
Half of the Martins reside in the rural districts or in small towns having no printed directories which were available to us.....	2
There are an average of more than four persons in each American family.....	4
Since Martin daughters marry and have as many descendants as the Martin sons, there are as many descendants of "other names" as there are bearing the name Martin (though it is much easier to locate the latter).....	2
By multiplying each figure of column (a) into the preceding figure, we have a total of.....	32
Conservative estimate of the Martin population of the United States, one-half of whom bear the name Martin and one-half of whom bear other names.....	809,120

(M) RELIGIONS OF THE MARTINS

For several centuries the Martins lived in England, North Ireland and Scotland. Most of the British (with the exception of those living in South Ireland), and, likewise, the Martins were and are of the Protestant faith.

There are a few Martins of the Catholic faith in the British Isles, but it is estimated that their number does not exceed twenty per cent of the entire Martin population.

The Martins who came from the British Isles to America continued in the faith of their fathers, for the most part, though their descendants in this country today will be found in the memberships of practically all the various churches. It is estimated that of all the Martins in America who are church members, at least eighty-five per cent are of the Protestant faith.

Biographical sketches of eighty-three Martins appear in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA. Their religious faiths are shown as follows: BAPTIST, 4; CONGREGATIONALIST, 2; EPISCOPAL, 5; METHODIST, 6; METHODIST EPISCOPAL, 2; PRESBYTERIAN, 9; ROMAN CATHOLIC, 1; UNITARIAN, 1; OTHER PROTESTANTS, 7; RELIGION NOT STATED, 46.
