I do not know where John Miles was born and spent his early years. He was made a freeman March 14, 1639, and was then said to be of Concord, Mass. In 1672 he was one of a committee of nine to give instructions to the selectmen. In 1673 his lands were 458 acres, most of them at Nine Acre Corner in the south part of the town. He had a few acres on the north side of the Common Road, running back to the South River, between lands of John Holdin and of Maj. Jonathan Prescott,—now numbered 70 on Main Street, opposite Academy Lane. Here was his dwelling house, with barn, cow house, orchard, syder house, and syder mill. In his will he calls himself Black Smith, and his inventory shows blacksmith's tools, iron, ironware, and coals. It shows also 5 cows, 4 oxen, 2 heifers, 3 year olds, 2 steers, 1 yearling, 2 mares and a little horse, 12 sheep, 5 swine, 60 bushels Indian corn, 20 bushels rye, and 14 barrels syder.

The gravestones of his two sons, John and Samuel (with that of Samuel's wife who died 13 March 1756), stand beside each other in the Main Street burying ground. Nothing appears to mark the resting place of their father. Their mother married Lieut. John Wilson of Billerica in 1698.

I hope that some one will put together a Miles genealogy more nearly complete than this; if those who know of other members of the family will write to me of them, I will arrange such information and leave it with the New England Historic Genealogical Society, Boston, Mass., at hand for any one who will do the work.

JONAS MICHAEL MILES.
