INTRODUCTORY.

EARLY immigrants to Massachusetts of the name Moor, Moore, Mooers, Moors, More, were not few. Such were Thomas of Salem, 1636; Francis of Cambridge, 1638; John of Sudbury, 1640; Edmund of Newbury, 1648. It has not been possible to find proof of any connection of Abraham of Andover with any of these. It has been thought by some that there was relationship with the Scotch-Irish families that came to New Hampshire in 1718. But our ancestor arrived at least thirty years before, and appears alone, and intermarries with families of pure English descent. The spelling in names is, no doubt, a rather precarious ground on which to draw genealogical conclusions. For often among descendants known to be of the same family origin, there is much variation in writing the name. Variations occur among those families which can be traced without doubt to Abraham Mooar. As the spelling adopted in this book is found in use almost wholly within the line here traced, and is distinctive, the occurrence of the same spelling, in the stories of Mr. Caine, attached to places in the Isle of Man, at least piques curiosity. Once, so far away as San Francisco, the compiler found a native of the Western Islands, that lie off the coast of Scotland, who signed his name Moar. But the curiosity even of an amateur must put itself within limits, and we have left to others this line of research which stretches backward beyond the sea that brought our ancestor hither.

It may be fit to say that a considerable portion of the collections that follow were made thirty years ago, and information concerning the generations that have been arriving or departing since has not been as fully recorded. One needs hardly an apology for knowing, and therefore registering, more of the facts which concern his own immediate family. If as to some other families the record is proportionally much more complete, thanks are due to the correspondents who have taken pains to make it so. But the case respecting the descendants of Abraham Moors of Groton requires this statement. When this investigation began and for some time after, it was not even surmised that he was born in Andover and belonged to the Abraham there. Accordingly it was, and has remained, less possible to pursue the personal inquiry needed in order to make an adequate history. He who has done what he could would be glad to continue this work farther and perfect it. But he has lived for forty years, and still lives, on the other side of the continent. This "art is long," and his own remainder of "life is short"; and such contribution as he has been able to make he now prints with the greeting of a brother to all who are of this particular kith and kin.

ABRAHAM MOOAR and Priscilla Poor, both of Andover, Mass., were married in that town, Dec. 14, 1687, by the Rev. Thomas Barnard, said to be the second marriage solemnized there by a minister. She was a daughter of Daniel Poor, one of the earliest settlers, and was born June 22, 1667. Her father and mother, Mary Farnum, were married in Boston by Mr. Thomas Wiggin, magistrate, Oct. 20, 1650. The Farnum family were also early and influential residents. Daniel Poor, as it should seem from a copy of his will, 1689, had acquired quite a large property. See Bailey's Historical Sketches, pp. 91-93. The principal portion of his estate lay on the Shawshin river in the northern part of the original town. The will mentions Mary, his wife, two sons, Daniel and John, and nine daughters, Mary, Sarah, Hannah, Deborah, Martha, Elizabeth, Priscilla, Ruth and Lucy. With respect to Priscilla, the will reads "I give to my daughter, Priscilla, my meadow on the west side of Shawshin river, commonly called Pond meadow."

Whence and when Abraham Mooar came to America has not been ascertained. He is not mentioned in a list "of all the male persons in Andover from sixteen years old that tooke oath of allegiance February: 11: 1678" recorded in Ipswich Deeds, Vol. iv., p. 237. He was on the tax list of Andover, 1686. On the sixth October, 1687, Thomas and Sarah Abbot granted to him "all that parcel of upland lying in the township of Andover on the West side of the Shawshin river containing by estimate twenty acres be the same more or less, bounded on the North with the land of Samuel Blanchard and on the East with the land of John Frie, sen. on the South with marked trees, the South Easterly corner tree being a marked white oak and the South West corner there is a black bush marked, the West side of the land is partly bounded with the land of Stephen Osgood." This deed was signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of Thomas and John Chandler, April 5, 1695, and put on record Jan. 29, 1722-3. His name appears on a rate list for the minister in 1692, among those belonging to the South End of the town. "Land was laid out for him where his house stands. Dec. 16, 1693."

In April, 1701, Samuel Thomas, an Indian, in consideration of the sum of nine pounds, paid by Walter Wright, Abraham Moore, Moses Hagget, Stephen Osgood and Samuel Peters, bargained and conveyed to them "all that tract of land lying between Woburn and Andover township and Billerica and Reading, which said land bears the name Nonacoaca* Attawattocke, commonly called by the English the land of Nod together with all the lands, meadows, woods, ponds, water courses and all the accommodations contained in and about said tract of land with the corners, angles and branches running into or betwixt any of the said towns, which said tract is about 3000 acres more or less." John Thomas, a brother, testified that Samuel and no other Indian had right to dispose of this property, and Thomas Waban and Solomon Thomas, Indians, made oath that the tract belonged to Samuel.

The land on which Abraham Mooar's house stood was, then, a small part of these three thousand acres the Indian rights to which had been thus secured. But it was an important as well as a picturesque part, for it bordered upon the fine sheet of water from which, under the name of Hagget's Pond, in later years the town of Andover was to draw its water supply.

Our ancestor died of fever, April 12, 1706. The following is a copy of his will recorded in Vol. ix. of the Probate Records of Essex County. The will was duly proved, 3 June, 1706.

The widow, mother of the children to be mentioned was published, March 12, 1708-9, to marry Solomon Reids of Chelmsford.

iv. MARY, b. April 16, 1695. In the Mdx. co. record of marriages in Groton we find "Samuel Kemp of Groton and Mary More of Andover married Feb. 12, 1713." But in Andover records we read that Samuel Kemp of Groton and Sarah Lacey were married the same day. Samuel Kemp of Groton made deed of gift of certain land to his son Samuel, Jr., 2 March, 1714, his wife Susanna consenting. Samuel Kemp, Jr., with wife Sarah, joined Zerrubabel Kemp and Mary his wife, of G., and Thomas, Ebenezer and Dorothy Farnum, of Andover, in a deed of land, 30 Aug., 1734. [Mdx. Deeds.]

SECOND GENERATION.

TIMOTHY<sup>2</sup> MOOAR (Abraham<sup>1</sup>), married May 12, 1712, Anne Blanchard, born April 6, 1691, daughter of Jonathan and Anne (Lovejoy), who had been married May 26, 1685. She had brothers, Jonathan, Jacob, David and Benjamin. It may be worthy of mention that the latter, whose wife was Mary, daughter of Nathaniel and Dorcas Abbot, was dismissed from the South Church, Andover, to the church in Nissetisset (Hollis, N. H.), in 1743. Emigration of kindred families was moving up the valley of the Merrimac and in its neighboring settlements. Anna Blanchard became a member of the South Church in 1716 and Timothy Mooar in 1728; he was an assessor of the parish in 1732. "The great island in Blanchard's Pond" was laid out to him and Moses Haggett, Jan. 20, 1720. In 1729 Christopher Lovejoy for £5 deeded to him a tract known by the name of Pond Island, and in 1733 other small tracts adjacent.* He lived, as presumably his father had, on the north-east side of that pond. He seems to have acquired a fair property, for, in 1746, he was assessed to work out the largest sum on highway tax of any person in that part of the town, 1£ 7s. 3d. Mrs. Mooar died Dec. 15, 1729.

Her father having died, leaving property to her children, "Timothy More" (as the notary spelled it) gave bonds, 6 Nov., 1732, and was appointed guardian to his children Timothy aged 19 years, Benjamin, Mary Anne and Priscilla, "which he had by his wife Ann Blanchard," . . . . . "to the estate of David Blanchard." He signed two of the bonds "Timothy Mooar" and the third "Timothy Moor."

He married second, October 14, 1746, Mehitabel Lovejoy, member of South Church, 1728. He died March 6, 1762, and his widow married Nov. 27, 1770, Lieut. William French of Billerica, born Jan. 25, 1700-1, and whose first wife was Joanna Hill,

* By 1743 he had acquired also from Benj. Blanchard a farm of 40 acres with buildings and orchard bordering on the pond.

daughter of Samuel and Sarah (Page) Hill. Mrs. Mehitabel French died Sept. 18, 1786, aged 78.

The following are copies of two deeds of Timothy<sup>2</sup> to his two sons, the former bearing date Nov. 1, 1745, and the latter Nov. 6, 1745:

To Timothy, in consideration of £500, several parcels of land. 1. All my homestead that lays on the South side of the highway that goes from Ebenezer Lovejoy to Tucksbury and it contains about sixty acres with all my buildings . . . and it is bounded northerly with sd highway, on the east with Lovejoy's land & on the South with Stephen Osgood's and on the west with Blanchard's land. 2. A piece of land lying on the plain called Blanchard's plain & called the plain field containing about eleven acres, bounded on the South side with the road that leads out of sd highway to Moses Hagget's and on the east with sd Osgood's & on the West and north with Hagget's and on the East with sd Osgood's & on the West and north with Lovejoy's land. 3. All my land and meadow that lies on the Easterly side of the way that leads to Herd's bridge to Moses Haggett's between sd way & sd pond & bounded on the North with Hagget's land & on the east with the natural brook that runs through the meadow into the pond called Blanchard's, which brook is a bound between him & his brother Benjamin, & south with Hagget's land.

To Benjamin, in consideration of £500, a certain tract of land lying & being in Andover where his now dwelling stands, containing about one hundred acres & bounded on the westerly side with the natural brook that runs through my pond meadow into Blanchard's pond and on the West with Moses Hagget's land, so running across the north end of Bald Hill to Foster's land, then turning Easterly joining on a rode till it comes to the pond meadow dam & on the east with Ebenezer Lovejoy's land & so to the sd pond to the mouth of the sd brook. Also to sell him two acres in a meadow called Lovejoy's pond meadow.

Thomas & Elizabeth Abbot were the witnesses, the deed to Timothy being recorded in 1750, that to Benjamin in 1762. Both brothers acquired other tracts in the same vicinity.

Timothy Moar of Andover, husbandman, made will 8 March, 1759; wife Mehitabel, sons Timothy, Benjamin, daughter, Mary Farwell, Anne Lovejoy and Priscilla French.

ABRAHAM<sup>2</sup> MOORS (Abraham<sup>1</sup>), married Nov. 21, 1717, in Groton, Mass., Elizabeth Gilson, who died Dec. 4, 1770. He died March 3, 1780. The record in the family Bible of Major Joseph Moors reads: "My father, Mr. Abraham Moors, was born March, 1692." (1st mo. 1691-2.) "My father, Mr. Abraham Moors, d. March, 1780." These entries are made in the handwriting of Major Moors, but the Bible in which they are entered was not printed till 1807.

I find that to him, "husbandman," were deeded Feb. 15, 1719, by John Farnsworth, "weaver," and Hannah his wife, two acres in Cow Pond meadow; also 160 acres, old saw mill for £90; also by same, May 16, 1729, 20 acres intervale on James brook adjoining A's land for £30; also by Thomas Tarbell for £2 10s. Jan. 27, 1729, 2 acres and a one-half right in the division voted by the proprietors of Groton on Jan. 17, 1726-7. A part of this land was said to border on "a highway that leadeth to a farm that is called Coycos farm." The name is spelled variously in the records of deeds and other official documents of the time—Moor, Moores, Mōrs. Abraham and Elizabeth "foedus bapt. recognovere,* May 31, 1719," and were admitted to full communion, March 3, 1727-8. Among those included in "catalog infantium apud Dunstable S. baptismate in Ecclesiam admissi fuere" were some of their children, certainly Elisabeth, May 31, 1719. He was licensed as a retailer again and again during the years 1740-52. He lived in the south part of Groton. His name is appended, 1746, to a petition for protection against the Indians. There is a record of "Titus, a mulatto boy, born of Zebina, a negro slave to Abraham Moors, in 1751." In Groton Epitaphs we read: "A mild, humane and honest man, a peaceable and regular citizen, an affectionate and tender husband and parent, eminent for piety, industry and frugality."

Abstract of the will of Abraham Moors, of Groton. Will dated 5 Oct., 1771, probated 20 April, 1780, and administration granted to his son Joseph Moors. Bequeathed to daughters Elizabeth Russell, Susanna Stone and Jemima Longley; to sons Timothy and Joseph and the heirs of deceased son Jonathan, late of the "district of Shirley;" to grandson Isaac Moors Farwell, his sister Lydia Ireland and his brother Joseph Farwell.

Dec. 14, 1693. Her father was a prominent man, a captain during the Indian troubles of 1690 and 1703, and held the position of constable; was repeatedly chosen selectman and representative from the town in the General Court. He is said to have built Frye's Mills in Andover, and his son, Christopher, built the first mill on the Concord river at Billerica. The father, in 1722, deeded to Daniel Mooar nine acres of land bordering on the Shawshin river, in the neighborhood of his own land and that of Ezekiel Osgood. He had in the April preceding obtained from Robert Barnard 30 acres. "This land lieth upon the Den hills." Also from Stephen Barnard a piece of land west of the same river "by the side of a brook that feeds the mill pond of Jeremiah Osgood." From Philemon Barker, in 1746, four acres on the east side of the river. He is designated in legal documents "cordwainer."

Daniel and Martha were received to full communion in the South Church in 1736. He was an assessor of the parish in 1752. He died Oct. 26, 1770, and she died Feb. 7, 1770-1.

Daniel Mooar of Andover, yeoman, made will 24 May, 1769, prob. 3 Dec., 1770; wife Martha, sons Daniel, Abraham, Asa, daughters Martha Tucker and Sarah Hardy.

BENJAMIN<sup>3</sup> MOOAR (Timothy,<sup>2</sup> Abraham<sup>1</sup>), married Abiah Hill. Abiah Hill was a daughter of Zachary Hill, whose wife Judith married (his second marriage) Thomas Blanchard, who was cousin of Benjamin Mooar. She died after 1770. He died Nov., 1777. Both were received into the South Church in 1756. When the war of Independence broke out he was about sixty years of age. His only son was sergeant in Capt. Ames's Co., summoned to Cambridge on account of the Alarm, 19th April, 1775. Cousins and other relatives also were in other companies. The following paper, appended to the roll-call of one company, Capt. Joshua Holt's, was signed by Dea. John Dane, Thomas Blanchard, Joseph Dane, Benjamin Mooar and four others: "There were also in the aforesaid company a number of aged men and some unable to bear arms who rode to Cambridge on the day of said alarm and the day following to carry provisions for those who stood in need, who humbly ask the same allowance for time and travel that is made for others, having made no charge for the provisions they carried. Their travel to and from Cambridge is generally about thirty-six miles." Is it anything more than a curious coincidence that Benjamin Moors of Rindge, at about the same time, was allowed by the selectmen there pay for carrying clothes to the soldiers on the same occasion?

The will was signed 28 Oct., 1777. The inventory as appraised by Joshua Holt and Joshua Chandler enumerates pieces of property at £1,072, 14s. 8d. The homestead lot was valued £660, and mention is made besides of ten acres of pasture on Wood Hill and of twelve acres on High Plain. He resided near the Pond, and in 1745 received from his father in consideration of £50 one hundred acres about on the west side "bounded with the natural brook that runs through my Pond meadow."

BENJAMIN<sup>5</sup> MOOAR (Benjamin,<sup>4</sup> Benjamin,<sup>3</sup> Timothy,<sup>2</sup> Abraham<sup>1</sup>), married Nov. 19, 1795, Phebe Chandler, the second of ten children of Zebadiah and Lucy Chandler, born Aug. 29, 1776. She died Feb. 29, 1824. He married second, May 1, 1826, Susan Cummings, daughter of Dea. Asa and Hannah (Peabody) Cummings, born in Andover April 29, 1789, and died July 16, 1868, at Medford, Mass. He died January 17, 1855. When the rest of his family moved to Maine, he alone remained. He resided several years in Greenfield, N. H., after marriage. Somewhere about 1809 he returned to Andover. He lived in various places in the South Parish and worked at the trade of a carpenter, although he was accustomed to turn his hand to any labor that offered itself. He was skilful in the use of tools and saw quickly what was needing to be done in almost any ordinary industry, and how to do it. He became lame about midway in his life by rheumatism, which increased upon him, so that for many years he was unable to pursue his regular employment. He was a man temperate in his habits, well liked by his neighbors, an interested hearer of the word on Sundays ; but reticent of his religious experience. For some thirty years he resided in the West Parish of Andover, where he died. His second wife was a devout Christian, an habitual reader of the Scriptures and of good books, self-sacrificing, and gained the respect and confidence of many influential families in whose service her circumstances often compelled her to labor. After her son's settlement as Pastor in the South Parish, she made her home with him. On his departure for California in 1861, she lived mostly with her daughter in Medford. Seven years after, the very morning after she had greeted her son's return from California, she fell down the stairway with her little granddaughter in her arms, and instantly died.

"When a boy he moved with his parents to Corinth, where he lived, until the necessities of life, and a desire to be a man among men, compelled him to go out to earn his own fortune. Deciding upon a trade, he entered a carriage shop in Newport village, learned the trade, bought out the proprietor, and identified himself with the business men of the town. Forty years, he has done business in the same locality, and no better recommendation was required than to know that a carriage was built under his supervision. By nature a philanthropist, always ready to assist with his influence and money, all that promoted the welfare of the town, and the best interests of her people. No deserving charity was ever passed coolly by. He was not only a willing listener to the honest appeals of the poor, but a cheerful helper in the time of need. In the church, a consistent Christian, practising in every day life all that he professed." (Local obituary.)

5. Byron P., b. Dec. 22, 1853; d. Aug. 16, 1880. "He commenced the study of medicine in Newport with Dr. W. R. Baynum, homœopathist, who was at that time a popular physician here, with an extensive practice. By close application, he made rapid progress in his studies, and two years ago he entered the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia, from which institution he graduated in March last, taking a very high rank in his class. After spending a few weeks with his parents in this town, he located in Houlton, associating himself with Dr. G. A. Walker, a well established and popular physician, and he immediately commenced a successful practice. Many of the cases which he was called to attend were diphtheria, of a most malignant type, and he always responded with that promptitude which marks the true physician. While attending to his professional duties, however, he himself contracted this dreadful disease, and became its victim." (Local paper.)

NATHAN<sup>6</sup> MOOAR (Benjamin,<sup>5</sup> Benjamin,<sup>4</sup> Benjamin,<sup>3</sup> Timothy,<sup>2</sup> Abraham<sup>1</sup>), married Oct. 12, 1837, Elizabeth H., daughter of Joseph and Mary Chapman of Ipswich, born Feb. 10, 1818, and died May 16, 1888. He died Oct. 13, 1887, within twenty-four hours after the exercises connected with the festal observance of the golden wedding. When he was eleven years old he went to live with Abel Spofford of Boxford. He was so miserable there that he besought his brother-in-law, William Hill, to take him away. He was sent to live on the Avery Farm in Topsfield. The conduct of some of the persons with whom he had to do was so bad that his conscience revolted. Instead of being tempted he was strengthened in principle. At sixteen he went to Rowley and learned the shoemaker's trade with Mr. John Tenney, whose wife was sister of the young woman whom he himself was to marry. He early became a member of the church in Linebrook. In 1845 he removed to Andover and became the owner of the place where his father had been living, in order to provide in a measure for him in his infirmity. He was a man of incessant industry, not sparing himself any labor or painstaking, whether the return to himself was large or small. He was deacon in the West Church for thirty-six years; was a Sunday-school teacher over fifty years, a man of exemplary character, of very strict integrity, of a quiet demeanor, kindly and obliging. His wife was an active, earnest Christian from her girlhood, always interested in works of charity. She was especially sympathetic with her neighbors who were in sickness and trouble.

Children :

- i. OLIVE FRANCES,<sup>7</sup> b. Jan. 4, 1841; m. June 1, 1865, Sanford K. Goldsmith, son of Daniel P. and Rebecca King Goldsmith, b. in Wilton N. H., Jan. 22, 1842. He enlisted as private in Co. C, 13th Mass. Infantry; in 1864 2d lieut. in the 56th Regiment, and soon 1st lieut.; brevet captain for gallantry at Fort Steadman, March, 1865, and commissioned captain a few weeks after. He was wounded at Fort Steadman and at Gettysburg and taken prisoner at the second battle of Bull Run. Res. at St. Albans, Vt., but for many years employed at the Custom House in Boston, and for the earlier part of that employment resident in Andover.

Some day some fit pen shall speak of the devotion, faithfulness, patience, with which this daughter and wife and mother has borne her burden and fulfilled her part in imitation of Him who came not to be ministered unto but to minister.

Mrs. Mooar taught school in her native place, also in Lawrence Academy, Falmouth, Mass., where Dr. Mooar was at the time principal, and in Pomeroy, Ohio. She was a bride when, in the autumn of 1855, she accompanied her husband to Andover, Mass., where his pastorate of the famous Old South Church had recently begun. Here she engaged actively in parish work, until, in the spring of 1861, they came to the First church in Oakland, Cal. The older members in that church will recall her active, eager interest in several lines of Christian work, notably the ladies' prayer-meeting, the Chinese school and the Foreign Missionary cause. She instituted and encouraged, and was a leader in the devotional services held weekly by the women. She was an active teacher in the Chinese school—then a novelty and not always regarded with favor.

At her own fireside she and others of her household taught their young Chinese servant the English language, and at the same time the way of life through Jesus Christ. That Chinese servant, converted in her home, is the one whom the Lord has so greatly blessed in his work among his countrymen. Through Jee Gam and those whom he has helped to a better life, the influence of Mrs. Mooar will long survive. Verily, "she rests from her labors, but her works do follow her."

While her own life was ebbing he was commanding the attention of large audiences in Eastern cities, as he told the story of what God has wrought among his countrymen in California and through them in his native land. The beginnings of that work, so far as Jee Gam is related to it, were within the walls of Mrs. Mooar's home. A token of appreciation of her interest in that work was seen on the morning of her funeral, when a Chinese helper in the Congregational Association of Christian Chinese in San Francisco brought fragrant flowers to lay upon her casket, one offering from the family of Jee Gam, the other from the Association of Chinese.

Mrs. Mooar was one of the foremost leaders and organizers of the W. B. M. P., and as long as her health permitted was its first foreign secretary. Her interest in Miss Rappleye, the pioneer missionary from the First church, or from any of our churches, was deep and abiding.

When health and strength failed she still kept on devising things in her own way for the comfort and help of individuals. She was capable in rare degree of interesting herself very warmly in others, so that they realized her personal interest. To this fact many a student in the Seminary is a witness, as well as many others within the circle of her friends.

She was possessed of more than ordinary literary gifts. Her letters were stimulating and helpful to her friends. Her modes of expression were more than ordinary. Sometimes this took the poetic form, and more than one of these utterances have reached others through the columns of The Pacific.

Notwithstanding the nervous gloom over her spirit during these later years, her nature was not gloomy. She naturally took a cheerful view of life. Her sense of the humorous was keen. Her convictions of right were firm. She loved her Bible. She loved her God. She loved her family. She loved her fellow-men, and when strength and opportunity were hers she did them good.

After years of extreme nervous depression and physical weakness, during which she suffered a thousand deaths, there came to her, September 29th, God's call to heavenly service, and she was released from her long bondage to suffering. Those who knew and loved her could but rejoice for her when the Master said, "Come up higher." They knew that in that "sweet and blessed country that eager hearts expect" her freed spirit has right to the tree of life, "for the former things are passed away."

Mr. Mooar spent three years of his boyhood 1840-43 on a farm with an uncle in Albany, Me. Returning home, he was graduated at Phillips Academy 1847, Williams College 1851, Andover Seminary 1855, and the same year was ordained pastor of the South Church in his native town. For reasons of health, he accepted after six years a call to the 1st Congregational Church, Oakland, Cal., which he served till 1872, eleven years, when he became Professor of Systematic Theology (later of Church History and Christian Apologetics) in The Pacific Theological Seminary. During 1874-89 he was pastor also of the Plymouth Ave. Church in Oakland.
