FOREWORD

A decade has passed since we completed our first crude venture in the field of genealogy, titled "John Keand of Whithorn, Scotland" - 1953. True, we developed therein the genealogical facts pertaining to a relatively few characters whom we then associated with our direct line from John Keand, and regarding whom we either had or could obtain intimate information. This first venture resulted in a product that was perhaps 10% genealogy and 90% story-telling, albeit the family tales are factual and truthfully revealed.

As we labored on this first undertaking, we became aware of some facts pertaining to some collateral lineages; but our total information was indeed scanty. The idea gradually possessed us that perhaps it was our duty to develop the lines of other McCanns with which our family had lost contacts over the years.

The idea matured into action. In the intervening years we have issued three additional pamphlets covering several collateral lines. The present effort completes our task. A few of the branch lines have ended in lost trails; but there are relatively few descendants of which we know nothing. We believe that, with the help we have had from many, many cousins (duly acknowledged in the text), we have now trailed 98% of the descendants of John Keand.

It may be of passing interest to note here that, of the hundreds of John's descendants who are chronicled herein, the McCann surname is borne only by the title-bearer. Her Griffing children were all girls; and the surnames shift rapidly as they were married.

Family of
ELIZA R. McCANN m. LYTLE GRIFFING
Bourbon County, Kentucky - Adams County, Illinois

whose numerous descendants embrace the names of Crisman, Drayton, Elliott, McLaren, McNabb, Magorian, Morrow, Slocum, and others who are distributed in many states, mostly westerly of the Mississippi River

ELIZA R. McCANN (2) - John (1), John (A); b. March 14, 1803 in (or near) Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky; d. August 7, 1848 at Columbus, Adams County, Illinois; i. (repeated hunts have failed to locate the Griffing burial ground); m. January 10, 1826 in Paris, Kentucky, to LYTLE GRIFFING who was b. about 1805 in Paris, Kentucky, and d. August 23, 1846 in Marquette County, at that time attached to Adams County, Illinois, for judicial purposes. The Griffings, residents of Millersburg (1830), with four children, in 1834 migrated by team from Kentucky to Illinois, settling for a short while in Quincy, moving to Columbus before November 25, 1836, and remaining there until deaths. Lytle Griffing, trained as a sadler in Kentucky, continued at his trade in Adams County; he was "the first in sadlery and harness business" in Columbus where he was also postmaster in 1837, the first station being called "Walnut Point". In 1838, Lytle was a member of the organizing committee of the Adams County Agricultural Society which held its first meeting at Columbus. As a member of Columbus Masonic Lodge No. 6, he at one time served as Master thereof and was Grand Standard Bearer in 1840; he served in the "Mormon War"; both he and Eliza and some of the children were staunch Methodists throughout life. The McCann and Penn forebears of Eliza are described in brochure titled Some Descendants of John Keand of Whithorn, Scotland - W. R. & R. L. McCann, 1953. As to Eliza's middle name, we have seen no record; but we have a little evidence that it might be Ryan, a possible corruption of "Wryan"; we have frequently in records noted the middle initial, which invariably is R.

Lytle Griffing apparently had no middle name; the spelling of his Christian name denotes a family connection, rather than a corruption or a nickname; but such family connection we have been unable to resolve to our entire satisfaction. We leave the solution to a future researcher. In Columbus (Illinois) Cemetery we observed a gravestone, with an inscription reading: "LYTLE - James O. Lytle, 1818 - 1898; Ann Lytle, 1832 - 1911; Jennie Lytle, 1861 - 1935." From Miss Jennie Lytle's death record (Illinois No. 37750 - 1935) we ascertain - residence 418 Washington St., Quincy, Illinois - b. Feb. 20, 1861 at Pleasant Grove, Adams Co., Illinois - d. Oct. 13, 1935 - single - father, J. O. Lytle - mother, Ann Slade - both b. in Baltimore, Md. The father was listed as "farmer, Sec. 17, Burton Twp" (History of Adams County, Illinois - 1879). The 1790 First Census of Kentucky lists a James Lytle in Bourbon County, and a John and a William Lytle in Fayette County; in the 1800 "Census", only William Lytle is listed - still in Fayette County, at Lexington.

To descendant Howard Griffing Elliott, Ferguson 21, Missouri (1958), we are indebted for the following extract from his family records: "Lytle Griffing - the son of Thomas Griffing b. July 13, 1770, married August 15, 1803 Frances Anderson, b. July 23, 1781. Thomas Griffing b. 7-13-1770 the son of Ebenezer Griffing and Phoebe Halleck." Nativities of these forebears are not indicated. The 1790 First Census of Kentucky lists "Ezebeneza Griffin" in Bourbon County, and "Thomas Griffie" in adjoining Fayette County; and the 1800 "Census" lists in Campbell County (on the Ohio) "Ebenezer Griffith, Sr.", "Ebenezer Griffith, Jr.", and "Thomas Griffith", two other of the latter name being listed in Madison and Mason Counties. No connections have been established.

Children of Lytle and Eliza McCann Griffing

Eleanor Penn Griffing (3), b. January 27, 1827 in Millersburg near Paris, Kentucky.

Frances Eliza Griffing (3), b. March 28, 1829 in Millersburg, Ky; d. before 1849.

Nancy Ann Griffing (3), b. August 10, 1831 near Paris, Kentucky.

Mary Jane Griffing (3), b. December 28, 1833 near Paris, Ky; d. before 5/7/1854.

Julia Celina Griffing (3), b. April 12, 1836 in Columbus, Illinois.

THIRD GENERATION

ELEANOR (ELLEN) PENN GRIFFING (3) - Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. January 27, 1827 in Millersburg near Paris, Kentucky; d. January 20, 1899 in Scotland County near Hazelville which was a small village in the northwest corner of Knox County (no longer mapped, but located on farm of George Tully, 1958), Missouri; i. Pleasant Ridge Cemetery a mile easterly; m. March 24, 1842 in Columbus, Adams County, Illinois to JAMES MAGORIAN, a farmer near Columbus, who was b. May 1, 1810 in Virginia (which embraced West Virginia until 1863); he probably was born in Frederick County at or near Winchester where in 1833, unmarried and occupied as a tailor, he was living with his father's (DANIEL) family. James died July 8, 1902 in his 93rd year at the McClure home near Baring, Knox County, Missouri; i. at Pleasant Ridge Cemetery of the Christian Church (Sec. 1, T63N, R13W). Of the parents of James, our searches have been fruitless, other than the nativity of both is Virginia according to the 1880 U. S. Census.

When Ellen was seven in 1834, her parents migrated to Illinois and settled in Columbus. After her marriage in 1842 the birthplace records possessed by granddaughter Eleanor Paine of McFarland, California indicate moving to nearby Clayton and also perhaps fifteen miles northerly thereof to Pulaski in Hancock County where Mrs. Paine's father, Henry Magorian (q.v.) was born. In 1846-47, James Magorian was administrator for the estate of Lytle Griffing, his father-in-law. Some old letters in our possession, written 1848 to 1855 by Eleanor Griffing's uncle and brother of Eliza, Wesley D. McCann, to Kentucky kinsfolk, frequently mention the Magorians.

In 1855, shortly after our informative letters of Wesley D. McCann in Quincy, Illinois cease to have been preserved, the Magorians apparently concluded that Missouri would be better stamping-grounds for a dedicated farmer. In late 1855 we find them in Monroe County, sixty miles southeasterly of Quincy; and in 1859 we locate them three counties to the north in the SW corner of Scotland County, bordering there on Adair County to the west and Knox County to the south. Here was the homestead (burned-down about 1938) which was cherished for forty years, until Ellen's death. James died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. McClure, where he had lived since his wife's demise when (or soon thereafter) at a farm sale he had disposed of his stock, implements, and household goods. Recorded in Monroe County is a deed dated August 22, 1855 conveying a 167-acre tract in the northwest corner of the said county from a John H. Wood to James Magorian--Sec. 5, T55N (Woodlawn) R11W. Hon. John Wood, Governor of Illinois 1860, and undoubtedly known to James Magorian, discovered the site of Quincy 1819, settled there 1821, and resided there during his lifetime. Also recorded in Monroe County, is a deed dated December 20, 1858 wherein James and Eleanor Magorian convey this tract to an Abner G. Smith. While the Magorians resided in Monroe County, a sixth child, Thomas Sylvester, was born.

Recorded in Scotland County is a deed dated September 6, 1859 wherein a Samuel and Mary McCarahan conveyed to James Magorian two adjoining parcels of land, aggregating 80 acres, the tract being described as NW quarter of SW quarter and SW quarter of NW quarter of Section 34, Twp. 64 R13W, which land borders on Adair County to the west, and one-half mile north of the Scotland-Knox county line; 40 acres were added to the farm as the family grew numerous. Here were born the three last children--Edgar, Belle, and Ella--also the latter's daughter Mrs. Ethel Ellen Slocum, a valued contributor to this chronicle. At the old homestead, sons Henry and Edgar were married to the Waits sisters who resided in Hazelville across the road in NW corner of Knox County.

Apropos James Magorian, we now recite mites of family tradition which we have gathered from living descendants, who vouch for the stories with only slight reservation for the possible augmenting that may have occurred over the years. James, from time to time in stating his age, exercised varying moods of quizzical humor. From the U. S. Census, 1850 to 1880, the birthdates derived from stated ages would be 1810, 1813, and 1815; hence confusion reign supreme among living descendants whose remarks we quote: "James Magorian migrated to vicinity of Quincy, Illinois independently of his family." "Father (Thomas S.) told us that his father (James) was born the same year as Abraham Lincoln." Abraham Lincoln was b. Feb. 12, 1809. "Father (Thomas S.) used to say that his father (James) lived to be 93, and that his grandfather lived to be 107." Another story, told of the Civil War, when he (Thomas S.) was a child, "His father (James) was captured one day by Confederate bushwhackers skirmishing in northeast Missouri; but he was released in a few days because he was a member of the Masonic lodge." In 1849, when James Magorian farmed in Adams County, Illinois, he planned "to go to California if he could sell his farm", presumably to gather gold nuggets. He was unsuccessful at that time in making the sale, and only got as far as Missouri; but one of his children did reach the Pacific Coast. On fly leaf of New Testament is written "Given by Belle to her father on 86th birthday". Belle died in 1896. Father's date of birth, therefore, before 1810. We feel that, despite contradictory evidence, we do not err in accepting as correct the inscription on the gravestone, reading "James Magorian - b. May 1, 1810 - d. July 8, 1902."

Children of James and Eleanor Griffing Magorian

Frances Ann Magorian (4), b. September 12, 1844 at Columbus, Illinois.

James Lytle Magorian (4), b. June 4, 1847 at Clayton, Illinois.

Abbreviations: b. - born; m. - married; d. - died; i. - interred; q.v. - see elsewhere herein.

Mary Eliza Magorian(4), b. July 8, 1849 at Clayton, Illinois.
 Henry Magorian(4), b. February 18, 1852 at Pulaski, Hancock County, Illinois.
 Julia Penn Magorian(4), b. January 6, 1855 at Clayton, Illinois.
 Thomas Sylvester Magorian(4), b. August 23, 1858 in Monroe County, Missouri.
 Edgar E. Magorian(4), b. February 14, 1861 in Scotland County, Missouri.
 Belle Magorian(4), b. November 28, 1865 in Scotland County, Missouri.
 Ella L. Magorian(4), b. January 7, 1868 in Scotland County, Missouri.

McMURRAY FAMILY

NANCY ANN GRIFFING (3) - Eliza McCann (2); John (1); John (A); b. August 10, 1831 in Millersburg District near Paris, Kentucky; d. May 3, 1920 at Stronghurst, Henderson County, Illinois; i. Terre Haute Cemetery nearby; m. March 7, 1850 in Adams County, Illinois, to THOMAS McMURRAY who was b. January 1, 1829 in Morganfield, Union County, Kentucky, d. September 11, 1908 in Terre Haute Township, Henderson County, Illinois, i. Terre Haute Cemetery. Thomas, when only a few months old and in the spring of 1829, was carried by his parents to Adams County, Illinois, where he was raised on a farm in Clayton Township, staying there until 1854 when he and Nancy Ann moved to Henderson County and acquired land near Terre Haute, described as SW. quarter of Sec. 11, Tswp. 8N., Range 5W of the 4th P. M. The McMurray home on this land is still standing and occupied (1957) by a family of James Stevenson on land owned by Milton H. Stevenson. The McMurray family is said to be of "Scotch-Irish" descent, two brothers emigrating to America; one was killed by an alligator, and the other located at an early date in Kentucky. Thomas's parents, both natives of Kentucky, were George and Eliza (Waller) McMurray who with their family travelled from Kentucky to Adams County, Illinois, by team over terrible roads in 1829. Once, George "travelled 600 miles from Quincy to Kentucky and back on six bits and didn't sponge or beg." He was a tanner by trade, but after migrating to Adams County he farmed successfully for many years in Clayton Township. The McMurrays were Methodists; he was a member of the first Board of Trustees of the Clayton M. E. Church. He died in 1879, aged 73; she d. in 1874, aged 66. Children of George and Eliza McMurray numbered thirteen who had many descendants that remained in territory not far from Quincy and Clayton. The thirteen children were named: James*, Thomas, Wilson, John, Fletcher*, George M., Aaron*, Mary Ann*, Margaret J., Granville, Ella, Joseph C., and Elihu*, the asterisk (*) indicating decease before 1894.

Only Child of Thomas and Nancy Griffing McMurray was Mary Eliza McMurray, b. November 23, 1856, d. October 17, 1893, i. Terre Haute Cemetery - unmarried.

Union County, Kentucky (birthplace of Thomas McMurray) was formed from Henderson County in 1811, from Christian County in 1799, from Logan County in 1797, from Lincoln County in 1792. The only McMurray in Kentucky, listed in the 1790 "Census", is named Thomas in Lincoln County, which name again appears in the 1800 "Census" as a taxpayer in Lincoln County. This indicates (but does not prove) that Thomas McMurray of Henderson County, Illinois, descends through George of Adams County, Illinois, from Thomas of Union (Lincoln) County, Kentucky. No marriage record of George and Eliza McMurray is recorded in Union County; but J. M. Syers, County Clerk thereat (1957) advises that his records disclose a marriage "of Thomas McMurray to Margara Walker, December 12, 1817." This Thomas could perhaps be a brother of George.

ELLIOTT FAMILY

JULIA CELINA GRIFFING (3) - Eliza McCann(2), John(1), John(A); b. April 12, 1836 in Columbus, Adams County, Illinois; d. July 1898 at Laclede, Missouri; i. thereat; m. July 13, 1852 in Adams County to JAMES ELLIOTT III, a physician then practicing at Clayton, Illinois, who was b. April 21, 1815 in Rockbridge County, Virginia, d. April 5, 1872 at Laclede, and i. Laclede Cemetery. Dr. James had m. (1st) Elizabeth who was b. 1830 in Massachusetts, and by her had one daughter named Lucilla, b. about 1847, who married August 26, 1866 in Linn County, Missouri, to Taylor P. Christy, one-time U. S. Marshall of Oklahoma Territory. Dr. James, we think, migrated from Virginia into Kentucky, and it is recalled that his academic schooling was in Cincinnati; he graduated from Missouri University School of Medicine at St. Louis; his diploma is being restored for placement with the Missouri Historical Society. During War Between States, the Elliotts moved to Laclede in Linn County, Missouri, where the children attended grammar school. The boys, Wm. Nevin and James Alva, were schoolmates of General John J. Pershing, a native of Linn County, b. September 13, 1860, with whom they corresponded in later years. Julia, some years before death, fell and broke a hip bone, invaliding her to the end. The parents of James Elliott III were James Elliott II, b. November 17, 1780, d. August 3, 1835, m. January 17, 1809 to Phoebe McCorkle who was b. March 27, 1789 and d. May 29, 1832. The grandparents of James Elliott III were James Elliott I, b. November 17, 1720, d. spring of 1799 in Rockbridge County, Virginia, where the Elliotts settled early on the Calfpasture. (see Owen F. Morton's Rockbridge County, pp 484 and 87); James I m. January 26, 1769 Martha Hisk. By courtesy of Howard Griffing Elliott and Lewis Henke Elliott (q. v.) of Ferguson 21, Missouri, we insert below a list (prepared by James Alva Elliott, 1860-1936) of the dates of birth of all children of James Elliott I and James Elliott II, as follows:

JAMES ELLIOTT I		JAMES ELLIOTT II
Mary	April 1, 1771	William McCorkle	October 31, 1809
Margaret	November 22, 1772	Martha Hayes	March 2, 1811
Jane (Jean)	May 17, 1777	Mary Jean	September 20, 1812
Martha	July 27, 1779	Hannah Johnson	December 30, 1813
JAMES II	November 17, 1780	JAMES III	April 21, 1815
William	February 8, 1783	John Bailey	February 24, 1817
Hannah	December 13, 1785	Phoebe Ann	November 8, 1818
John	October 27, 1790	Henry Ewin	June 25, 1820
Margaret m. Kennedy; Martha m. McClure		Samuel Alexander	January 1, 1822
		Margaret Elizabeth	November 20, 1823

For seven generations an Elliott has carried the Christian name of James, the lineage being James I, James II, James III, James Alva, and James Clay I, II, and III, and with these Jameses a 17th-century watch has passed from father to son, and is now (1958) possessed by Major James Clay Elliott II.	Esteline Montgomery	February 18, 1825
	Julia Lavenia	February 8, 1827
	Lucilla Eglentine	February 12, 1829

and III, and with these Jameses a 17th-century watch has passed from father to son, and is now (1958) possessed by Major James Clay Elliott II.

Children of Dr. James and Julia Griffing Elliott

William Nevin Elliott (4), b. June 13, 1856 in Clayton, Illinois.

James Alva Elliott (4), b. September 1, 1860 in Clayton, Illinois.

NOTE--Regarding the name Julia Celina, we have observed many variations. Sometimes the order is reversed (Celina J.); Julia is stated as Juliet; and Celina is spelled Celenia. We have adopted majority instances, one of which is her grave-marker.

WILLIAM NEVIN ELLIOTT (4) - Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. June 13, 1856 in Clayton, Adams County, Illinois; d. April 11, 1948 at Ferguson, St. Louis County, Missouri, 91 years of age; i. High Hill Cemetery, Montgomery County, Missouri; m. January 1, 1881 in Laclede, Linn County, Missouri to Olive Marie Ray who was b. March 1, 1865 near Salisbury, Chariton County, Missouri, d. November 8, 1933 in Bear Creek Township of Montgomery County, i. High Hill Cemetery. Her parents are Jack Ray m. Elizabeth Cupp, both native Kentuckians. William N. was a dealer in hardware and lumber.

Children of William and Olive Ray Elliott

James Allyn Elliott (5), b. November 19, 1881 in Laclede, Missouri.

May Jones Elliott (5), b. October 11, 1884 in Laclede, Missouri.

Howard Griffing Elliott (5), b. August 29, 1902 in Laclede, Missouri.

JAMES ALVA ELLIOTT (4) - Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. September 1, 1860 in Clayton, Adams County, Illinois; d. February 28, 1936 near Jacksonville, Illinois, in Road District No. 6 at 75 years of age; i. Diamond Grove Cemetery in Jacksonville; m. September 27, 1888 in Laclede, Linn County, Missouri to Mary Malinda (Pet) Clarkson of Laclede who was b. September 13, 1868 in Linneus, Linn County, Missouri, d. December 27, 1923 at or near Jacksonville, Illinois, i. Diamond Grove Cemetery thereat. Her parents are Henry Clay Clarkson (b. Elizabethtown, Kentucky) m. Mary F. Tracy (b. Marion, Ohio). For a number of years James Alva, living in or near Jacksonville, Illinois, was employed in purchasing timber lands for the Burlington Railroad, residing last at 1609 Mound Road.

Children of James Alva and Mary Clarkson Elliott

Jennie Zelma Elliott (5), b. April 30, 1890 in Laclede, Missouri.

Erma Lytle Elliott (5), b. October 15, 1892 in Laclede, Missouri.

James Clay Elliott (5), b. September 2, 1895 in Laclede, Missouri.

JAMES ALLYN ELLIOTT (5) - William N. (4), Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. November 19, 1881 in Laclede, Linn County, Missouri; d. 1901 at Laclede; and i. Laclede Cemetery thereat; unmarried.

MAY JONES ELLIOTT (5) - William N. (4), Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. October 11, 1884 in Laclede, Missouri; d. May 7, 1957 by drowning in Mississippi River in St. Charles County; i. Laurel Hills Cemetery in St. Louis County; m. February 24, 1905 Claudia L. Henke who was b. May 10, 1888 in Troy, Lincoln County, Missouri. Her parents are Anthony G. Henke (b. in St. Charles County, Missouri) m. Laura Mohr (b. in Troy, Lincoln County, Missouri).
Children of May and Claudia Henke Elliott

Lewis Henke Elliott (6), b. August 6, 1907 in Hawk Point, Missouri.

Bernadeen Elliott (6), b. August 31, 1910 in Troy, Missouri.

Ray Mohr Elliott (6), b. May 17, 1914 in Troy, Missouri.

HOWARD GRIFFING ELLIOTT (5) - William N. (4), Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. August 29, 1902 in Laclede, Missouri; m. December 27, 1924 in High Hill, Montgomery County, Missouri to Julia Miller who was born July 22, 1900 in High Hill. Her parents are Jerry Hanse Miller, a miller by trade, b. May 5, 1859 in Columbia, Missouri, d. July 28, 1930, i. Mount Pleasant Cemetery at High Hill; he m. June 1, 1899 in Mexico, Missouri to Lucy May Hughes who was b. September 26, 1873.

Child of Howard G. and Julia Miller Elliott

Patsy Ruth Miller Elliott (6), b. October 22, 1926, in High Hill, Missouri.

JENNIE ZELMA ELLIOTT (5) - James A. (4), Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. April 30, 1890 in Laclede, Missouri; unmarried. Handicapped from early childhood with seriously sub-normal vision which blinded her in her early twenties, Jennie Zelma Elliott courageously has risen far above the accepted limitations of her misfortune. In her youth at Jacksonville, Illinois, she attended Illinois School for Blind, and she learned to type. A determined little Miss Jennie developed useful talents; her hobby has been writing. Articles from her typewriter have cleared through Herald House at Independence, Missouri, and have appeared in various publications of the reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to which she has belonged since 1948--and to which organization we pause in our writing to convey grateful tribute for its enormous contributions of genealogical facilities and source materials. Miss Jennie quietly passed away on Tuesday January 5, 1960 at Independence, Missouri; she is buried in Mound Grove Cemetery there, among the many friends of her later years.

ERMA LYTLE ELLIOTT (5) - James A. (4), Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. October 15, 1892 in Laclede, Missouri; m. March 15, 1917 in Jacksonville, Illinois to Leonard Edward Johnston who was b. April 5, 1885 in New York City. Our thanks to school-teacher Erma Johnston who merits an A-plus grade for her excellence in genealogical cooperation.

Children of Leonard E. and Erma Elliott Johnston

Edward Elliott Johnston (6), b. January 3, 1918 in Jacksonville, Illinois.

Marjorie Doris Johnston (6), b. February 26, 1920 in Jacksonville, Illinois.

James Elliott Johnston (6), b. September 11, 1922 in Jacksonville, Illinois.

JAMES CLAY ELLIOTT Sr. (5) - James A. (4), Julia Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. September 2, 1895 in Laclede, Missouri; d. October 16, 1949 in Kings County, Borough of Manhattan; i. January 10, 1950 at Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Virginia; m. May 8, 1920 in Chillicothe, Missouri to Dorothy Sherman who was b. September 2, 1901 in Chillicothe, and whose mother Martha Emily Tisdale m. Green Berry Sherman--a nephew of General William Tecumseh Sherman (1820-1891), descended from Edmond Sherman who emigrated from England to Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1634. Dorothy m. (2nd) Victor Severs, a native of Massachusetts b. in vicinity of Springfield; no child of 2nd marriage. James Clay Elliott Sr. served during World War I in Company E, 113th. Engineers, enlisted May 24, 1918, discharged May 15, 1919, Army Ser. No. 1, 579, 109, i. Grave 871, Sect. 13, Jan. 10, 1950, Arlington National Cemetery. (For children, see pp. 10-11)

NOTE 2: We believe, but have not proven, that the parents of Hannah Bass are John Bass (1632-1715) who married 2/3/1657-8 Ruth Alden (b. 1634-5), a daughter of John Alden.

NOTE: Among the Drayton descendants, it is a tradition that their forebears are of the same family as is President John Adams; but the connection had been lost. Assisted by Mrs. Jack Troffer, Seattle, Washington, we have established the connection through Hannah Bass; and also through her, all Crismans, Draytons, and Morrows herein can boast famed Mayflower forebears.

HANNAH BASS is descended from the Mayflower pilgrims, John and Priscilla Alden.

A "Family Record", dated January 1893, written and signed by Wm. H. Drayton, and possessed by his grandson Murray W. Crisman, has been freely utilized for facts and dates pertaining to Drayton and Adams forebears-q.v. Elizabeth Ann Davis, the first wife of Wm. H. Drayton, is said to be closely related to the Adams family of two distinguished presidents. In addition to the material used elsewhere in this text, we quote verbatim several collateral records of the Drayton annals:

"Wm. H. Drayton left Boston, Mass. Nov. 1855 for Beloit, Wis. Moved to Knox County, Mo. Sept. 1857. Moved to Benton County Iowa March 14th 1868. Bought land in Monroe Tp. June 1869. Moved on to land April 1870. Made sale of stock March 11th 1884. Moved to Dysart Sept. 17th 1884." (Wm. H. Drayton was a farmer in early life until he moved to Dysart where he took up carpenter work. He died in January 1893 at home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Crisman, 2 1/2 miles NW of Dysart.)

"Was soldier in Mo. in 1861. Joined the home guards in Mo. in April 1861 under Capt. Joseph Story. Went into camp at Edina, county seat of Knox, Mo. Joined Col. Mors Reg. in Comp B - 21st Reg. of U.S. Volunteers. Took up Fife by request of the Company. Served until Nov. 1861 which time I was disabled by being thrown out of a wagon. Wm. H. Drayton"

"John Drayton (Jr) was married to Elizabeth L. Adams July 12th 1824

"Had eight children born to them

"3rd. Gen.

"John Henry Drayton (III) Born Aug. 24, 1825 in Boston, Mass

"William Henley Drayton Born Oct. 18th 1827 in Boston, Mass

"Alvin Drayton Born July 17, 1836 in Dedham, Mass

"Martha Maria Drayton Born March 17th 1839 in Dedham, Mass

"Albert Drayton Born July 15, 1841"

From entries in family Bible, Mr. Murray W. Crisman has compiled the following, in which we note slight variations of spellings and of dates as stated in the above notebook of Wm. H. Drayton; but otherwise the below is confirmatory:

Born to John Drayton m. July 12, 1824 Elizabeth Langdon Adams

John Henry Drayton Aug. 24, 1825	Anna Elizabeth Drayton June 18, 1834

Corroboration of the foregoing is had in Dedham Church Records, edited by Don Gleason Hill, 1888, p. 220, "Records of St. Paul's Episcopal Church--Baptisms--Children of John and ---- Drayton, baptised October 2, 1842: John Henry, age 17; William Hendley, age 15; Benjamin Adams, age 13; James Hendley, age 11; Anna Elizabeth, age 9; Alvan, age 6; Martha Maria, age 4; Abert, age 1. p. 224--Confirmations--John Drayton and Elizabeth Langdon Drayton were confirmed on April 23, 1843. p. 229, Records of First Congressional Church, Nancy Drayton joined the church on August 20, 1843." (From Arthur D. Fiske, Seattle Gen. Soc., March 30, 1961)

Adams Family by Andrew N. Adams, p. 451, also closely supports the aforesaid dates pertaining to the third generation of Drayton children. In addition we gather (1) that John H. Drayton III was killed in a railroad accident in Boston, (2) that Albert was born in Dedham, (3) that Anna E. Drayton m. Charles Baron, and (4) that Martha M. Drayton m. Isaac Wethers. Also, on p. 421, there is listed the nine children of Benjamin Adams (1773-1817) m. Elizabeth Talpey (1777-1838).

ALFRED JAMES DRAYTON(5) - Frances Magorian(4), Eleanor Griffing(3), Eliza McCann(2), John(1), John(A); b. April 18, 1872 in Monroe Twp., Benton County, Iowa; d. September 26, 1958 at Albany, California; i. Rose City Cemetery, Portland, Oregon; m. December 27, 1891 in Dysart, Tama County, Iowa to Hattie Caroline Rowe who was b. January 29, 1872 at Altalissa in Muscatine County, Iowa, from where her parents, George Duane and Sarah Edna Howard Rowe, who were m. December 23, 1868 in Muscatine County, moved three weeks later to Benton County. The Draytons resided in Dysart until 1896 when they moved westerly into Kossuth County, Iowa, residing about five months at Bancroft before moving into Algona. In December 1904 they moved to Fargo, North Dakota; and in the spring of 1916 made a short move to Pillsbury in Barnes County where they farmed for ten years. In 1925 Hattie Drayton returned to Fargo and there m. (2nd) August 4, 1930 Floyd Culp; in 1935 she and son Arleigh moved to California, settling in Richmond where they resided many years; she d. September 24, 1959 at Napa, California; i. Rose City Cemetery at Portland, Oregon. George Duane Rowe (father of Hattie) b. 1845, d. December 1, 1899, at Blue Earth, Minnesota, i. thereat. His father was John Rowe who m. his cousin Harriet Howard, and d. in Davenport, Iowa when George was seven years old. It is said that George Rowe's grandfather (Christian name unknown) was killed either in the American Revolution or the War of 1812; whereupon his widow was forced to bond-out her children until of age, George's father going into a New York family of name Duane. George knew little of his relatives, who for the most part settled in Ohio.

Sarah Edna Howard (mother of Hattie Rowe) d. December 31, 1927 at Portland, Oregon, age 80, and i. Rose City Cemetery thereat, was born October 19, 1847 of Lucius (or Lucian) Howard m. Caroline Carpenter who had three children who matured - Edward, Tillie, and Sarah, and a last child who d. quite young - all except the last presumed b. in the Lake Champlain region of New York State from where the family moved to Iowa about 1850. Lucius Howard is believed to be of English descent; he d. in Iowa, age 80. Brother and sisters of Lucian Howard are said to be George C., Susan, Adeline, Harriet, Jane, Ruth, and May with perhaps one or two others. Caroline Carpenter's father emigrated from England, fought with the colonists in the American Revolution, and then vigorously rejected estate and title of Sir Henry and Sir William Carpenter who had died without issue in England. To George Duane and Sarah Howard Rowe were born six children, in order of birth - John Lucius (b. June 15, 1870-d. August 1871), Hattie Caroline, Emma Mae, Edna Luella, Charles Duane, and George Howard, all except Hattie b. on farm in Benton County, a short distance from Dysart in Tama County, Iowa. Emma Mae Rowe, b. May 12, 1873; m. October 10, 1900 Dr. Wilbert Sweet; d. August 8, 1947 in Portland, Oregon; i. Rose City Cemetery thereat - no child. Edna Luella (Lula) Rowe, b. May 22, 1875; m. March 23, 1893 in Dysart, Iowa to John Sherratt (b. 1871 in Reinback, Iowa); she d. Sept. 18, 1895 at Delta, Colorado; i. Sherratt lot at Hubbard near Waterloo, Iowa - no child. George Howard Rowe, b. November 18, 1881; m. Jennie Corinke; d. Oct. 13, 1956 in Tampa, Florida; cremated and ashes spread over the lawn of Court House in Tampa where he had worked for many years - no child. Charles Duane Rowe, b. January 27, 1878, m. April 30, 1906 at Blue Earth, Minn. to Margaret (Madge) Elizabeth Trumble; they reside (1958) in Libby, Montana, and their only child is Helen Edna Rowe, b. November 28, 1908 at Bend, Oregon, m. Dr. Arthur Esher Fry. The Frys have no children, and reside (1958) at 4900 SW. Olson Road, Portland 19, Oregon. To Charles Duane Rowe of Libby, Montana, a newspaper-man through a long lifetime and a publisher devoted to his profession, we are greatly indebted for his contributions to our knowledge of his family.

Of Alfred J. Drayton (5), we learn through Miss Karen J. Drayton (q. v.), a granddaughter who interviewed him (August 1958), that his father, William Henley Drayton, migrated from Boston, Massachusetts, from where, after building his own wagon, he and his family went west before the Civil War, and travelled to Wisconsin, and thence some months later down the Mississippi River to settle near Hazelville (Hertzville), Scotland County, Missouri. William H. played the clarinet for twenty years with the Boston Musical Society, predecessor of the well-known Boston Symphony Orchestra. Two of his three or more brothers were John and Alvin; the latter travelled for a Boston hardware wholesaler, and visited the family in Iowa nearly every year. John, who never married, was connected (we believe as Commandant) with Rock Island Arsenal which was authorized in 1862. William A. Drayton, Alfred's half brother, also worked at the Arsenal at times; he went to Nebraska in 1882 and homesteaded; he never married and died in California, 1889. Miss Drayton (now Mrs. John Edward Portune) concludes her recital of the interview with, "Granddad (Alfred J.) organized a band at Dysart, Iowa, when 18 or 19, with the help of a Mr. Fisher, publisher of the Dysart Supporter. The Dysart Band played all towns within 30 or 40 miles at Fourth of July and Decoration Day celebrations. The band went to Vinton for a Democratic rally, and to Toledo, county seat of Tama County, for a State Convention that nominated a Governor. In Pillsbury, North Dakota, granddad started his own band which played to the State Fair at Fargo three years in a row." It was at Fargo some years later that Alfred J., owing to confusion in delivery of his mail to one J. A. Dayton, is said to have temporarily changed his name to Alpha James Drayton; but we have found no record of such a change. Of Alfred, it is related, "Dad was always bringing home some teenage boy; and once he brought a man, wife, and I recall not how many children. I well remember the man--he had no work--his right hand had been amputated--Mother finally explained to Dad that he had his hands full raising his own brood--there were nine of us at that time." - Pauline Drayton McLaren, August 13, 1958.

THE MORROW FAMILY

VERA DRAYTON (6) - Alfred J. (5), Frances Magorian (4), Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. August 29, 1897 at Algona in Kossuth County, Iowa; m. July 26, 1915 in Rolla, Rolette County, North Dakota to CHARLES WILLIAM MORROW (b. January 10, 1896 seven miles from Warrenburg, Johnson County, Missouri)--"a son of James William Morrow who was b. March 14, 1860, perhaps in Missouri; d. July 17, 1913, killed by a horse on his farm (homesteaded in 1898) in Pleasant Valley Twp., Rolette County, North Dakota, which is 12 miles southeast of Bisbee in Towner County; i. Pleasant Valley Cemetery, which is four miles southeasterly of Mylo in Rolette County. Very little is presently known of the Morrow forebears other than that the father of James William is said to have died in a Civil War prison camp. James William m. December 25, 1878 in Missouri to Dinah Fisk who was b. September 17, 1859 in Quincy, Illinois, from where the family moved about 1873 to Warrensburg, Johnson County, Missouri, and she graduated at Teachers College there; she m. a pioneer of Rolette County in Island Lake Twp., b. in Wisconsin; he d. June 1, 1947 at Anita, North Dakota, i. Island Lake Cemetery, 3 miles southwest of Mylo. Dinah Fisk Morrow d. March 19, 1946 (age 86) at Moorhead, Minnesota; i. Riverside Cemetery at Fargo. Dinah Fisk's parents are Joseph Fisk (b. in Illinois) m. Martha Metcalfe (b. in Kentucky)--a daughter of Thomas (Stone Mason) Metcalfe (1780-1855), Governor of Kentucky (1829-1833), National Republican Party). To James and Dinah Fisk Morrow were born four other boys and three girls."

For the foregoing brief description of Morrow forebears, we are indebted to Mr. James Franklin Morrow of Cando, North Dakota (1958) who also adds, "The name of the original immigrant was Hutchinson who came over on the Mayflower (do not know the given name). Eventually descendants settled in Kentucky where all were massacred by Indians except Martha Metcalf's mother, age 4. Starting to scalp her, the Indians were scared away, dropping the child, who carried a scar clear across her forehead for the rest of her life. Her husband, Martha Metcalf's father, at one time was a governor of Kentucky; and their children numbered sixteen'.

And to Vera Drayton Morrow (6) of Opportunity, Wash. we are indebted, not only for producing the below-named children, but for gathering most of the hereinafter vital facts pertaining to her children, her grandchildren, and her growing number of "greats".

Under caption "Hero in Our Midst", the Spokane Spokesman-Review on Jan. 4, 1959 paid tribute to the bravery of 6th grader Rick Rigg on two occasions. We quote in part as follows: "Hero In Our Midst - Most Spokaneites are familiar with the recent courage of teenager Rick Rigg, W1103 Decatur Street. His father Henry A. Rigg, was working on a car in his service station at Monroe and Sharp a few nights ago when gasoline accidentally ignited. Single-handedly, Rick dragged his dad from the searing sheet of flame that swept over the car and through the service station. What most Spokaneites do NOT know is that this is Rick's second act of heroism. His other feat comes from Mrs. Fred F. Kimrey, W1107 Decatur Street, whose 7-year-old son Kenny was Rick's first rescue. Last March, Mrs. Kimrey relates, Kenny was out in the yard when a flaming marshmallow was dropped on his shirt. The shirt caught fire, and Kenny panicked. As I looked out the basement window, all of Kenny's clothes were on fire. Rick, who is only 12 himself, threw Kenny onto the ground and rolled him. Kenny kept getting up and trying to run because he was scared; but Rick shook him and got him to listen. Kenny was burned so badly that we still go twice a week to the doctor to have the burns around his waist treated. In both these cases - with his dad and with our Kenny - Rick could have run to someone else to get help, if he hadn't been the great kid he is. But he didn't - he stuck there. We know he saved our boy's life. This town should be proud of Rick Rigg."

HENRY MAGORIAN FAMILY

HENRY MAGORIAN (4) - Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. February 18, 1852 in Pulaski, Hancock County, just across north line of Adams County, Illinois; d. November 5, 1928 at McFarland near Delano in Kern County, California; i. Delano Cemetery; m. February 17, 1884 at Hazelville, Knox County, Missouri in parent's home to Annetta (Anna) Waits (sister of Stella - q.v.) who was b. June 29, 1857 in Iowa, d. March 11, 1940 at age 83, two miles SW. of McFarland near Delano in Kern County, California, i. Delano Cemetery. Her parents are Hiram F. Waits of Ohio and Elizabeth Tidball of Iowa, residents of Knox County in 1884. Henry, age 26 in 1878, accompanied by younger brother Thomas in a covered wagon, went from Missouri to prairie Nebraska, and "homesteaded" in Kearney County about three miles northwesterly of what is now Upland. Six years later he returned to Knox County and there married Annetta; in his absence to Missouri, Henry's 160-acre homestead was cared for by the Howells (q.v.) whose homestead was some three miles southwesterly in Franklin County and westerly of present-day Upland. The homestead of Henry and Annetta, in addition to a sod house, had a half-sod and half-dugout bank-house; a windmill completed the luxurious appointments, with a young orchard (uncommon on a homestead) of fruit trees that in later years bore lots of apples. The belated Government grant (No. 6396) dated March 24, 1888 describes the homestead tract as SW quarter, Sec. 32, Twp. 5N, R14W. of 6th P.M. In 1893, the family of three, James Walter being age 7, went west and settled on a farm near Hunt's Station (now McFarland) then a "whistle-stop" on the Southern Pacific Railroad in Kern County, California; and little Henry soon thereafter entered his appearance on the Sunday before Thanksgiving.

VITTETOE FAMILY

STEPHEN STOKELY VITTETOE, b. 11/30/1818 in Grainger County, Tennessee; d. April 1905 near Queen City, Missouri; m. 4/26/1840 probably in Grainger County, to Emmaline Yaden who was b. 2/10/1823 in Grainger County and d. August 1898 near Queen City. Her parents are of Irish descent; her father was b. 5/5/1791 in Tennessee and d. 12/23/1857 in Schuyler County, Missouri; her mother, also b. in Tennessee 12/25/1798, d. 8/27/1841. Stephen's forebears came from the Alsace-Lorraine Region of France where the names are spelled Vitteteau and/or Vitteteaux; but when they emigrated we do not know. Stephen and Emmaline i. Myces Cem. NE Queen City.

Mrs. Maude Calhoun, a granddaughter of Stephen and Emmaline, in June 1963 wrote a fascinating story for the Queen City Monitor-Leader, from which we quote a few high spots: "Immediately after Stephen and Emmaline married in April 1840, they (and perhaps some brothers and sisters) started for Missouri in a prairie schooner, a covered wagon to which were hitched six horses driven with one line. They first settled near where Connelsville (six miles NW of Kirksville in Adair County) now is, then called Ninevah. In a year or so they moved to a farm just west of Greentop (which is four miles south of Queen City), close to where Hazel Creek Church now stands. Eleven of thirteen children, six boys and seven girls, were born there. An infant girl had passed away at Ninevah; and their second daughter (Cyren Frances) was born in Iowa. There were no buildings on the land, and they lived in their covered wagon and in a tent until they could build a house which was extended as the family grew numerous. The homestead was torn down a few years ago; part of it was the original house. While improving the land, great numbers of rattlesnakes were encountered when they cleared wild grass which covered most of the land."

Thomas Magorian, raised on his parent's Missouri farms, in 1878 accompanied his older brother, Henry, in a covered-wagon to Nebraska where the latter "homesteaded" on the southern edge of Kearney County. Thomas returned to Missouri, attended Kirksville Normal School, and there prepared for his lifetime career of 38 years teaching. In 1880 he began to teach at a school near Fredricksburg in Kearney County. While teaching at Upland in 1893 he married; and later in the year they moved to Hildreth in Franklin County where he taught school until 1909, when the family moved to a farm-home three miles north of Beverly in Hitchcock County. He retired in spring of 1918, having been teacher at home district No. 7 for nine years. Early in life Thomas chose the Christian way of life, affiliating with the Pleasant Ridge Christian Church in Knox County, Missouri. In Nebraska he united with the Methodist Church, first in Hildreth, subsequently transferring to Palisade, and maintaining active loyalty to Church and Sunday School unto death. "Mr. Magorian will be cherished in memory, not only by the members of his family, but also by a great number of former students of his, and by an entire neighborhood of friends" - Obit. Thomas and Cora Howell Magorian are blessed with ten children, all boys who matured, seven marrying.

JAMES GORDON MAGORIAN (5) - Thomas S. (4), Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. November 18, 1895 in Hildreth, Franklin County, Nebraska; single (1958), and residing with his mother at Palisade, Hitchcock County, Nebraska. To Gordon Magorian, the reticent oldest son in a family of ten boys (nine living), we feel a special sort of gratitude, difficult to express. After months-no-end of continuing research for records of McCann-Griffing-Magorian people of a century ago, our trail lead to Nebraska. The break-through was a copy of a delayed birth certificate, filed by our subject in 1956. (A friendly tribute here to Miss Freda Theis, the alert and capable Director, Nebraska Bureau of Vital Statistics). Gordon's response was prompt and concise; and subsequently, with keen analysis, he followed-through with many Magorian events that we have recorded herein; but, in writing of himself, he is a clam. We deduce that he is a lifelong farmer, and a Mason; and from brother Irving we learn that he served in the U. S. Army during World War I. Maybe we shall some time learn his dog-tag number.

IRVING MARCELLUS MAGORIAN (5) - Thomas S. (4), Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. April 9, 1898 in Hildreth, Franklin County, Nebraska; m. August 23, 1927 in Clayton, Barbour County, Alabama to Annie Laurie Robertson who was b. January 17, 1903 in Brundidge, Pike County, Alabama. Irving served in World War I from April 28, 1917 to May 16, 1919 - Ser. No. 1,419,630.

Children of Irving M. and Annie Robertson Magorian

Thomas Robertson Magorian (6), b. November 26, 1928 in Charleston, W. Va.
Jane Claire Magorian (6), b. March 9, 1931 in Cincinnati, Ohio.
Nancy Anne Magorian (6), b. January 7, 1942 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

To Irving Magorian, assisted by his good wife and charming daughter Nancy, our gratification is boundless, for the many days of travel, and for the many nights of research, that they cheerfully expended in developing a large portion of this genealogy.

FOREBEARS OF ANNIE LAURIE ROBERTSON

PARENTS - James Wiley Robertson, b. July 22, 1864 in Daviston, Tallapoosa County, Alabama; d. GLENN CURTIS MAGORIAN (5) - Thomas S. (4), Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. February 8, 1923 in Palisade, Hitchcock, County, Nebraska; unmarried 1959. He served in World War II-Arm. Ser. No. 37,714,765.

EDGAR E. MAGORIAN (4) - Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. February 14, 1861 in Scotland County, Missouri; settled on farm in southeast corner of Gosper County, Nebraska; d. November 21, 1933 at Holredge, Phelps

County, Nebraska; i. Highland Cemetery near Bertrand, Nebraska, in which vicinity Edgar and wife had lived for many years, both being recorded as being members of Oxford Methodist Church of dates 8/20/1911 and 3/23/1919; he m. Stella Waits (sister of Annetta - q.v.) who was b. 1868 in Ohio, d. March 2, 1935 at Bertrand, Phelps County, Nebraska, i. Highland Cemetery nearby. Her parents are Hiram (b. in Ohio) and Elizabeth Tidball (b. in Indiana) Waits. Edgar and Stella had no child.

BELLE (ISABELLA, BELLA) MAGORIAN (4) - Eleanor Griffing (3), Eliza McCann (2), John (1), John (A); b. November 28, 1866 in Mount Pleasant Township, Scotland County, Missouri, where she lived with her parents all her life; unmarried; d. December 13, 1896 at her birthplace; i. Pleasant Ridge Cemetery nearby. Mrs. W. H. Paine (5) of McFarland, California, among her many family records, possesses one reading, "Bella Magorian died Dec. 13, 1896." Belle's line in the 1880 U. S. Census is in hard-to-read handwriting that perhaps may best be deciphered as "Isabella", and her age is stated as 15. The older Magorians of today (1963) have childhood recollection that she was invariably spoken-of by their parents as "Belle", and thusly they refer to her in their correspondence. Inscription on her gravestone reads, "Belle Magorian was born Nov 28 1866, died Dec 13 1896".

HISTORY
of the family of
THOMAS AND MARTHA ROSE SLOCUM
Knox County, Missouri

This History of the Thomas and Martha Rose Slocum family is the report of a committee, comprising Addie Timmons Slocum, Olive Slocum Dunn, and Francis N. Slocum, which was appointed to the said duty at the annual meeting of the Slocum family on August 21, 1932, and which submits this report August 13, 1933.

In the early history of the United States, two Slocum brothers left their native land of England; and came to the United States. The name Slocumb was taken by a family in England, who lived near a town of that name. The spelling was later changed to the present Slocum.

These two brothers separated upon their arrival in America; one settled in New York, and the other, who was our forefather, settled in what is now Harrison County, West Virginia. One of his descendants was John Slocum, who was the grandfather of the subject of this history, Thomas Slocum. John Slocum had quite a family of children; the oldest child, John, Jr., was the father of Thomas Slocum. Another boy, George, was the father of Dave Slocum, who died near Colony in this county. George moved to Texas in an early day, and died there. Another son was the father of Ferd Slocum, who also went to Texas. Dave Slocum, the youngest child of John Slocum and uncle of Thomas, lived on the old Slocum Homestead in West Virginia. He was a large man, weighing about three hundred fifty pounds and lived to a "good old age."

In the early state days, a little girl named Frances Slocum was stolen by the Indians. She was but four years old. She was carried from New York to Indiana, taught to fear white men, and adapted to Indian customs. She married an Indian chief. When she was about seventy years of age, a white traveler discovered she was white; and the story spread afar. Her family had never ceased searching for her; and, when they heard of this, they visited and identified her. Her family could not persuade Frances to leave her Indian tribe, so she remained in Indiana on a reservation given her by the United States Government. At her death, relatives erected a monument in her memory at Terre Haute, Indiana.

There were some girls in John Slocum's family. One of them married a man named Rector. They were parents of the Rector boys and Mrs. Hoffman of this county.

John Slocum, Jr., Thomas Slocum's father, was born in Harrison County, West Virginia, May 21, 1803. When nineteen years of age, 1822, he ran off and went to Boone County, Indiana. In May on the twenty-seventh, 1826, he married Sarah McCann. The McCann family were formerly from Virginia; and relatives of "Light Horse Harry" Lee of Revolutionary War fame, father of General Robert E. Lee of the Confederate Army. Sarah McCann Slocum's sister was the mother of the Golden brothers who settled early in eastern Knox County and whose descendants still live there. John Slocum, Jr., and his wife settled near Thorntown, Indiana, where Mrs. Slocum died September 27, 1863, and John Slocum, Jr., July 3, 1866. John Slocum, Jr., and Sarah McCann Slocum were the parents of nine children, three boys and six girls, as follows:

(1) Robert Slocum born in 1827, lived on the old home place, married twice, left no children, reared some five or six children taken from orphan homes, and died in 1902.

(2) Sarah, born in 1829, married Zedock Bowen, moved to Kansas in an early day, and left one daughter, Mrs. Annie Guess of Richland, Kansas.

(3) Thomas, the subject of this history, born in 1830.

(4) John, born in 1832 and died in early manhood.

(5) Margaret, born in 1835, married Mr. Thornberg, and her descendants live near Lebanon, Indiana.

(6) (7) (8) Rebecca, born in 1838, Ann in 1846, and Harriet in 1848. All died in early life.

(9) Mary Jane, born in 1841, married Mr. Landsberry, left a daughter whose two children live at Thorntown, Indiana.

Thomas Slocum, father of this immediate family, was born in Boone County, Indiana, July 14, 1830. He was the third child of John, Jr., and Sarah McCann Slocum. He attended the public school; and spent a few months at a local academy, which enabled him to teach school. When nineteen years of age, he had a severe attack of rheumatism. He had to go on crutches for some time, and the effect of the attack made his lower limbs weak throughout his life. In the early '50's he made a trip to Iowa, and he was much pleased with the land. Returning to Indiana, he married Martha A. Rose, September 7, 1854. They settled on a farm there until the fall of 1856. Then they started out in a covered wagon for Iowa. With them were their year-old baby boy, Bruce, and Mrs. Slocum's brother, Nathan W. Rose. Upon learning of trouble over securing legal land titles in Iowa, Thomas turned his family into Missouri. Their first stop was at a village named Edingsburg, Scotland County. Here they stayed a few weeks, until they bought eighty acres where Pleasant Ridge Church stands and the land South of it. (Edingsburg now, 1963, has long since been abandoned. Its location is believed to have been six miles south of Memphis - Sec. 12, T64N, R12W.)

The country was new and scarcely settled. They had few of the comforts we have, in those pioneering days. Deer and wild turkeys were everywhere; their meat was easily gotten. Thomas saw as many as eleven deer at one time feeding north of his home.

Thomas taught a few terms of school after coming to Missouri. School was in log houses. He, being of Southern descent naturally was a Democrat; but upon the organization of the Republican Party, allied with that party. He voted for Lincoln in 1860. When the Civil War "broke out", he was a staunch Union man. Not being physically able to enter the regular army, he was a member of the Home Guards. He was in the Cunningham fight near Fabius. For years he was a member of the Republican Central Committee of Knox County, and in the election of 1894, he was a party candidate for Judge of the Western District of Knox County. He was beaten by only a few votes.

In 1870, at the Old Buzzard Schoolhouse, under the preaching of Elder L. Fordyce, he united with Pleasant Ridge Church. The same year he was elected clerk of the church, an office he held for thirty-four years and which his descendants held for thirty-two more years. He was also a Deacon and Trustee of said church for many years. When the church was erected he gave the land on which the church was built in 1881. He also gave much of the ground of the cemetery which bears his name, the Slocum Cemetery. During the lives of these Christian parents their home was the home of their pastor. By patient industry they were able to raise a family of twelve children, six boys and six girls, and to own a good farm of 440 acres. Above everything else they had the love and respect of the entire community. Thomas Slocum passed away on February 24, 1904. Martha Rose Slocum lived eight years after her husband's death.

The history of the Rose family dates back to 1757, when Martha Rose Slocum's grandfather, William Rose, was born in Salem County, New Jersey. This is about twenty-five miles south of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. His wife was Hannah Burrough. William Rose moved his family to Union County, Indiana, and they were the parents of five children, as follows: (1) Mary, who married a Mr. Fowler. (2) Abram, who was the father of Martha Rose Slocum. (3) Phebe, who married Mr. Cornelius, and (5) John B., who was the last, born in 1792. He married Miss Beulah Bond of New Jersey.

(5) Abram Rose was born in 1785. He first married Sarah Garrison on December 2, 1812. They were the parents of seven children—four boys and three girls, as follows: Neal, Dave, John, Eliza, Phebe, Will, and Mary Jane. Eliza married Mr. Holingsworth, Phebe married Mr. Butt, and Mary Jane married Mr. Hunt. When Sarah Garrison Rose died Abram married a widow, whose maiden name was Lydia Butt. She had first married a Mr. Bowers and had five children, as follows:

Henry Bowers, Catherine Bowers Dunwoody (the mother of William Starbuck and Lon Dunwoody), William Bowers, Lydia Bowers Brown, and Sarah Bowers Cason (the mother of John Cason).

To this union of Abram Rose and Lydia Butt Bowers were born five children. They were: Abram, who died in infancy; Martha Ann, who is the mother of the immediate Slocum family; Francis Marion, who died near Glenwood; Nathan W., who formerly lived here and died in Oregon; and Missouri, who married Mr. Crawford and died at Berryville, Arkansas.

Martha Ann Rose Slocum was born in Union County, Indiana, June 8, 1835. She died at the old Slocum home in Knox County, February 10, 1912, age seventy-six years, eight months, and two days. At the age of fourteen years, she moved with her parents to Boone County, Indiana. Here she attended the public school and grew to womanhood. When she was nineteen years old, she married Thomas Slocum on September 7, 1854.

Martha Rose Slocum's education was received in the public school, but she so thoroughly studied what was at hand, and aided by a keen memory she could repeat such prose and poetry even in her old age. She was deeply religious, and she was converted in early life. She united with Pleasant Ridge Church in 1867, one year after its organization. For sixty years, she was a follower of the meek and lowly Jesus, ever ready to testify or work for her Saviour.

Thomas and Martha Rose Slocum were the parents of twelve children, as follows: Bruce, Dora, John, Scott, Thomas, Jane, Ann, Homer, Francis, Alice, Olive, and Daisy.

Bruce Slocum married Ella Belle McAnulty. They were the parents of five children, three living - parents deceased.

Dora Slocum married I. M. Smith. They were the parents of four children, three living - the mother died in Nebraska, the father is still living in McCook, Nebraska.

John A. Slocum married Clara Hunt, no children, both deceased.

Scott W. Slocum married Louisa McAnulty. They were the parents of seven children, four living, parents deceased.

Thomas Sherman Slocum married Addie Timmons. They were the parents of three children, viz - Roy Merton, Wm. Sherman, and Berley Clifton. The latter m. Ethel Ella Drury and had five children - Margaret Elizabeth, Lillian May, d. 1919, Mary Eleanor, Eugene Ellis, and Mable Lee, all born in Baring, Missouri q.v. Roy Merton Slocum m. April 1933 to Ruth Haines. William Sherman Slocum is still living; he m. December 1913 Lydia May Felters (1963).

Jane Slocum married L. C. Koontz. They were the parents of ten children, seven living - parents both living.

Martha Ann Slocum married Edwin Damon. They were the parents of three children, two living - parents deceased.

Homer E. Slocum married Josephine McAnulty. They were the parents of eight children, five living - mother deceased.

Francis N. Slocum married Rosa Dunn, sister of Clarence D. Dunn. They were the parents of two children, both living - parents living (1933), but deceased, 1963.

Lydia Alice Slocum married S. G. Norton. They were the parents of seven children, all living - parents living.

Edith Olive Slocum married Clarence Dunham Dunn; both deceased (1963). They were the parents of eight children, seven living. One son Claude Ernest Dunn, m. Maude Edith McAnulty whose children are Velma Corrine, Verlee June, Doris Louise, Joan Mardel, and Joyce Lee. (1963).

Daisy E. Slocum married W.F. Fisher. She was the mother of four children, three living - the mother deceased.

The three McAnulty girls above, Ella Belle, Louisa, and Josephine, are sisters of the John Sherman McAnulty whose daughter Maude Edith McAnulty m. Claude E. Dunn (1963) - q.v.

The number of the living blood descendants of Thomas and Martha Rose Slocum in 1933 is approximately 150; if deceased were also counted the number would be near 200. All statements in this History of Thomas and Martha Rose Slocum are to be read as of 1933 except in the last ten paragraphs we have updated half of them, and marked them (1963). (The End)

NICHOLAS MAGORIAN and his descendants

James Magorian (1810-1902) q.v. had a brother named NICHOLAS (1816-1852) who was a blacksmith with a shop on Kent Street in downtown Winchester, Virginia. Their parents and two sisters lived in or near Winchester. We know little of the parents other than they both were native Virginians, and that the father's name is Daniel who perhaps married a Mary Murray. It is family tradition that Daniel lived for 104 years; but in support thereof we have found no record of his birth or death.

In 1833 James Magorian left Winchester to seek his fortune elsewhere in the West, his first stop being on the Ohio River at Parkersburg, now West Virginia. In a letter that James wrote to his father Daniel, he recites that he walked most of the way through ice-cold rains over the mountains. He became ill, and was cared for by a kindly innkeeper. In Parkersburg, James started off with good business. How long he remained in thriving Parkersburg, we do not know; we have found no record of his whereabouts until seven years later it is recorded in Adams County (Illinois) Abstract Book "B" under date of February 5, 1840, that one James M. Charles sold to James Magorian Lot 8, Block 2 in Columbus, then a growing town rivalling Quincy in size.

Parkersburg, in the 1840's, was a bustling river port, which from May to November was on an active trade artery in the days before railroads. James, we know, had itchy feet; and tailoring in the city may have grown dull to the farm-bred young man who undoubtedly listened through long winters to many glamorous tales of broad, fertile fields in the expansive fields bordering the lower Ohio and Mississippi Rivers-quite a contrast to the rocky clearings on and between West Virginia ridges. It does not tax our imagination greatly to visualize that James, during the seven years after his departure from Winchester, could very well have hired-out as a deck-hand or otherwise on the paddle-wheelers plying the Ohio River; and on his last voyage he did not return to Parkersburg--he just went further.

After his marriage in 1842, James settled-down, at least to a reasonable extent; and, while he moved occasionally as his family grew in the next score of years, he never squatted more than a hundred miles westerly by road from Columbus, Illinois. He was no hand for letter-writing; and we are inclined to believe that he gradually lost contact with his parents, and with the families of his brother Nicholas (deceased), and their two sisters whose genealogy we will reach later. At this point we shall relate an authentic pedler story which awakened James to a realization that he had strayed long and far from his family in Virginia. This story is abstracted from an excellent essay titled A Biography of Mariah Ellen Magorian, 1959 by Mrs. William F. Adams Jr. of Memphis, Missouri. Mrs. Adams is a granddaughter-in-law of Nicholas Magorian, and possesses his family Bible. To her we are immeasurably indebted for an unexpected and exceptional assistance in developing the descendants of Nicholas Magorian and his sisters.

One highlight in the life of Mariah Ellen (Ella) Magorian Adams (daughter of Nicholas) occurred in the late 1890's at her home a half-dozen miles northeasterly of Memphis, Scotland County, Missouri (Sec. 24, T66, R11). With wares to hawk and news to dispense, an itinerant peddler in his covered wagon drew rein in a late afternoon; and of course he was invited to supper, which lengthened into an overnight stay. In the evening conversation, he heard mention of the name Magorian, which aroused his interest; and he asked if a customer by name James Magorian, living in the southernmost part of the county near Pleasant Ridge, could be a relative. Of those present, nobody knew this James Magorian; so, when the peddler next called on James and Eleanor, and their daughter Belle, he told them of Ella Magorian Adams who lived in the northeasterly corner of the county. The next day James rode horseback 25 or 30 miles to see the Adamses; he stayed overnight. During the evening they compared their knowledges of names, dates, and places in Virginia and West Virginia, and established to the satisfaction of everybody that James was Ella's long-lost uncle. Thereafter the families visited and grew better acquainted. Mrs. Adams concludes her story with: "Some time after 1920, one of James Magorian's daughters, a Mrs. Mary McClure, came to visit. The similarity was marked between these two cousins, Ella Adams and Mary McClure, in size, personality, walk, and everything in general; she was a lovely woman. I was there and glad to meet her."

NICHOLAS MAGORIAN, b. 2/22/1816 in Virginia (probably in Frederick County); d. 6/21/1852 at Belington, Barbour County, West Virginia; i. thereat; m. 1/13/1846 to Barbara Elizabeth (Lizzie) Rosenbarger, this marriage being recorded in Berkely County, West Virginia, Marriage Bond Book No. 6, p.55, surety David Rosenbarger. Mrs. Winnie Martin Adams, in letter dated October 25, 1963, has kindly contributed additional information pertaining to her forebears; we quote copiously to wit: "Born in Iowa, I am the oldest of eight living children. I was 5 1/2 years old when my parents returned from Iowa to their former home near Bushnell, Illinois. My paternal grandparents are James Martin m. Dirinda Jane Anderson, both b. in Ohio. My maternal grandfather is George Washington Hutchins, b. 1/24/1836 near Marrowbone, Cumberland County, Kentucky, and d. 12/12/1915 (age 80). In 1855 he went to Illinois. In War Between the States, her served in the Union Army and was wounded at Shiloh, April 6, 1862. On 12/11/1864 he m. Phebe Beaver who was b. 9/16/1844 in Illinois, d. 7/12/1877, and is buried with her husband at Bushnell, Illinois. My great-great-great-grandfather, the father of Phebe Beaver, is Michael Bieber (name changed in America to Beaver), a Saarbrücken native of German extraction, and his family (four sons and one daughter) were Huguenots, a protestant religion that never would die, enduring for more than four centuries through devilish persecutions. The family's land and belongings were confiscated by spendthrift, debauched French rulers; and the Beavers were forced to flee. They sailed from Rotterdam and arrived at Philadelphia October 16, 1768 on the ship Betsy. They located in the 'Alsacian Colony' in the Oley Hills, Berks County, Pennsylvania. The oldest son, named Michael Beaver Jr., is my great-great-grandfather who m. (1st) Mary Mock and had five children by her, and m. (2nd) her twin sister Susan Mock and had three more children. The oldest child of Michael Jr. and Susan was named Lewis Beaver; he is my great-grandfather, and he m. Sarah Redema Fuller, b. in New York. Another of my great-great-grandfathers is John Hutchins, b. 10/16/1764, d. 10/16/1855 (age 91), m. Mollie who was b. 11/17/1769, d. 1/27/1856 (age 87y, 2m, 10d). Their son William G. Hutchins (father of aforesaid George Washington Hutchins), b. 3/16/1806 d. 4/14/1859 (age 53), m. . . . Pace whose parents (my great-great-grandparents) are Lanston Pace, b. 10/8/1770, d. 5/20/1846 (age 76), m. Millie Pace who was b. 5/14/1775, d. 10/8/1877 (age 102 1/2). These dates are from tombstones in Pace's Cemetery near Marrowbone, Cumberland County, Kentucky. (Ref. Vol II Beaver Family by Cora Beaver Horn, Washington, D.C. 1931, publisher I.M. Beaver, 222 North Sixth Street, Reading, Penna.) Children of grandfather George Washington and Phebe Beaver Hutchins, in order of their births are Sarah Jane Hutchins, Fannie Bell Hutchins, William Lewis Hutchins, Mary Ceilia Hutchins, and Charles F. Hutchins. My mother is Fannie Bell Hutchins, m. Calvin Martin."

in Wabash, Indiana). Jeanette's paternal great-grandparents are John Alexander Monroe (b. 5/5/1818 in Pendleton County, Kentucky). As a young man, he went to Missouri and there m. Armilda Myers who was b. in 1834. Both great-grandparents are buried in Edingburg, a church and cemetery southerly of Memphis (Sec. 12, T-64, R-12). William Henry and Jeannette are blessed with two children, William Stuart Adams b. 11/7/1944 in Ottumwa, Iowa (now, 1963, he is a second-year student at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College in Kirksville), and Jane Ann Adams b. 12/16/1949 in Kirksville, Missouri - in Scotland County, which has always been their home.

ADAMS FOREBEARS have also been kindly supplied to us from the apparently inexhaustible records of Mrs. William F. Adams, Jr. of Memphis, Missouri. The first of this lineage in her family records are JOHN ADAMS m. SUSANNAH who came from Pennsylvania into Adams County, Ohio in 1804, presumably with their family of which we have knowledge of only one son, ROBERT ADAMS (1789-1846); but the christian names, John and Susannah, appear among their grandchildren; and it is family tradition that John's forefathers emigrated from England and are connected to the two Adams presidents.

ROBERT ADAMS, son of John and Susannah Adams, b. 7/7/1789 in Pennsylvania; d. 7/22/1846 in Adams County, Ohio; m. (1st) 11/11/1813 Elizabeth Baird regarding whom we have no data other than her death occurred in Adams County, Ohio on 6/21/1823. Robert m. (2nd) 1/24/1824 Nancy Oxyer (alias Nancy Axier) who was b. about 1793 Kentucky and d. 1/6/1895 in Missouri, where she is buried with three of her children at Lawn Ridge Cemetery in Scotland County. Nancy's father is Michael Oxyer, who settled early in Kentucky. When he was seventeen, he was tomahawked by Indians and scalped; he was left for dead, but recovered to live to age 95. Nancy was a rugged woman who worked in her father's shop as his striker. Robert Adams, in addition to farming, operated a tannery.

Children of Robert and Elizabeth B. Adams, all b. in Adams County, Ohio.

1. Juliana Adams, b. 8/4/1814, m. Jones, d. 5/24/1884.
2. James Harvey Adams, b. 6/18/1816; d. 10/20/1881.
3. Mary Jane Adams, b. 4/14/1818; d. 7/24/1840.
4. Emily Susannah Adams, b. 4/22/1820; d. 1/19/1887.
5. Moses Newton Adams, b. 2/23/1822.
6. Rebecca Elizabeth Adams, b. 6/11/1823; d. 8/17/1823.

Children of Robert and Nancy Axier Adams, all b. in Adams County, Ohio.

1. William Henry Harrison Adams, b. 11/4/1824.
2. Michael Allen Adams, b. 12/11/1826.
3. John Quincy Adams, b. 11/7/1829; m. Margaret Amanda McEldowney, his sister-in-law.
4. Robert Clinton Adams, b. 4/12/1832; d. 9/4/1878.
5. Alexander Adams, b. 9/12/1834.
6. Sarah Artemis Adams, b. 5/20/1837; m. Walker.
7. Chambers Adams, b. 2/9/1840.

The third son of Robert and Nancy Adams, John Quincy Adams, in 1851 (probably shortly after marriage) moved west, stopping for a short time at Quincy in Adams County, Illinois before drifting a few miles northwardly to Nauvoo in Hancock County, where they stayed for about three years. In 1854 the family again moved some fifty miles westerly, and settled in Scotland County, Missouri, where they were joined in spring of 1857 by the families of his brother Wm. H. H. Adams and his sister Sarah Walker, and by their widowed mother Nancy Axier Adams. It is recorded that, when this John Quincy Adams landed at Quincy, Illinois, the family capital was less than $300. However, they aquired 1100 acres of farm land in Missouri before he retired.

WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON ADAMS, b. 11/4/1824 in Adams County, Ohio; moved with family in 1857 to Scotland County, Missouri; d. April, 1902 in Scotland County, Missouri, i. Lawn Ridge Cemetery thereat; m. Mary Jane McEldowney whose parents are William McEldowney (a native of Ohio) m. Jane Thomas. Their four children (first three born in Ohio) are (1) Alexander Adams b. about 1850, d. about 1875, i. Keokuk, Iowa, m. Myrtle Althiede, no issue; (2) William Francis Adams Sr. q.v.; (3) Emma Susan Adams b. August 1855, d. December 1927, i. Lawn Ridge Cemetery, unmarried; (4) Siegel Samuel Adams b. January 23, 1863 in Scotland County, d. about 1944 at Kalispell, Montana, i. thereat m. first-cousin Laura McEldowney (daughter of Frank). Their only child, Myrtle, was crippled from birth, never married, and lived to age 60.

"Not only Pardonable but a Duty"

"There is no man of cultivation who does not take some interest in what was done by his forefathers; who does not desire to obtain some knowledge of what took place in the spot where he was born, and to trace the fortunes of the race to which he belongs and of the races which preceded it and with which his own is in any way connected....This interest in the lives and services of our ancestors forms no small part of the sentiment of patriotism. It is natural, generous and unselfish. It is not only pardonable, but it is our duty to indulge it."

Excerpt from address of EDWARD EVERETT
