THE AMERICAN HERITAGE

“Having already observed that the history of a nation is the history of the men who compose the nation, and not of their dwelling-place, and that it is, therefore, a record of what the men were and of what they did, let us consider what this includes. It includes, primarily, their character; that is to say, the distinctive quality of their habits, of feeling, thinking and acting, and secondarily, the institutions, social and political, in which those habits found expression. Institutions, when solidified by long practice, came to be, because respected and valued, a permanent factor in moulding and developing character itself.

In its earliest form the American stock was the small branch of a large race dwelling in the North Temperate Zone, possessing already, in its old home on the European continent, certain distinctive gifts and qualities unlike those of the neighboring racial stocks, Celtic, Slavonic and Italic, and having also institutions, though still in a rudimentary stage. Julius Caesar and Tacitus tell us that there were in the Germanic tribes kings honored for their lineage, war-leaders chosen for their bravery, and popular assemblies, in which the more important decisions were taken. We cannot talk of a Germanic Nation, but of tribes, branches of a widespread race, among them Angles, Jutes and Saxons, tribes often at war one with another, and as yet without a collective national consciousness.

When some of these tribes settled in Britain, raiding northward and westward from the spots where their war bands landed, they were still no more than the raw material of a nation, but they grew in the course of centuries to be a national state, and by the fourteenth century they had acquired a definite type of character, which was finding its expression in literature, and they had also created an elaborate system of institutions, including a legislature, partly representative, courts administering justice throughout the country, an executive government, cooperating with, yet sometimes in conflict with, the elected representatives of the people. Foreign observers in the fifteenth century, such as Froissart and Aeneas Sylvius Piccolomini (afterward Pope Pius II) and Philip of Comines already talk of the English as a people quite unlike the peoples of the continent.

This may be called the second stage in the growth of the American Nation.

The third state begins when an extremely small branch is transplanted to a new continent. The first migration was from a continent to an island, the second was from an island to an immense continent. In that continent these transplanted Englishmen do not cease to be English, but they presently, though very slowly, develop into a different kind of English, under the new influences which began from the first to work upon them. Much later, when they were politically separated from the British crown, a new name was needed to distinguish them from the English who had remained behind in the old Mother Land, and so the term "American," theretofore employed to denote the aboriginal Red Men, came to be applied to the English of America as being now an independent nation. The use of the word made a great difference, for words have a curious power of implicit suggestion, a power inevitable, but often misleading. In this case the name did mislead, and has gone on misleading.

It made the less instructed part of the American Nation forget the greatness of their spiritual heritage, and think of themselves as a new nation, when they were really part of an old nation to which their forefathers had belonged in those very days when it was reaching the highest level it has ever yet attained in poetry and thought. The age which sent Englishmen to settle in Virginia and Massachusetts was the age of Bacon and Newton and Harvey, of Cromwell and Hampden and Jeremy Taylor and John Bunyan, glories of the English stock whom Americans have just as good a right to claim as has England herself. Thus the intellectual, moral and religious history of England for thirteen centuries, from the landing of the Jutish keels at Ebbsfleet in Kent in the middle of the fifth century A. D., is a part of American history. Whoever forgets this truth will fail to understand that history as a whole, in its more essential features."

—From the "Study of American History" by Viscount Bryce.

FOREWORD

When Charles Harley Mansur was representing Missouri in Congress, he desired to become a member of the Sons of the American Revolution. He began to prove up his ancestry to that period. He added the record of those belonging to his immediate branch and published a brochure in 1889. A few years later John H. Mansur of Royersford, Pennsylvania, added quite a lot more to that published by Charles H. Mansur, and issued a small book in 1901.

Doctor Ella Mansur Fowle of Jaynesville, Wisconsin, spent a year with her son, Thomas, in Chicago, putting him into a dramatic school. She occupied her time in genealogical research in the Public Library. She and her daughter, Adella Mary Fowle, heard of John H. Mansur, who was continuing research. He turned over all his records to Adella Fowle, who was a fine, capable business woman of Denver, Colorado. The writer assisted in collecting records of the Missouri Mansurs and their descendants.

In 1917 Adella Fowle turned over all records to Mary R. Ellis. They were received as a sacred trust. Much has been added and the records brought down to date as far as possible.

It is quite easy and simple to trace your own line as well as collateral lines throughout this entire record if you will inform yourself, by reading this page, of the plan of this work.

The first Mansur of whom we have any American record is Robert Manser of Charleston, Massachusetts. He married Elizabeth Brooks, a widow, June 6, 1670. There were five children, whose records we have been able to trace, except Robert's.

Perhaps you may understand better if I will trace my own line for you. In giving the record the person is always referred to as the son of whom, together with the number of generation and the number of his place in his own family.

I am VII. 1-2-2-6-4-5-3, Mary Rebecca Ellis, daughter of Emma (Emeline) Mansur. I am the third child of 1-2-2-6-4-5 Emma Mansur, who was the fifth child of 1-2-2-6-4 Charles Mansur, who was the fourth child of 1-2-2-6 Stephen Mansur, who was the sixth child of 1-2-2, William Mansur, who was the second child of 1-2 John Mansur, who was the second child of 1 John Mansur, who was the son of Robert Manser and Elizabeth Brooks. Their oldest child was John. We begin with the first John as number 1. I give you this key to the records.

Many names are repeated over and over, but if you will remember to look for the generation, and the place in the family, you will soon trace the person you want. The place of the number in the line will give you the generation, the number itself the person's place in his own family. We have tried to place the members of a family in the order in which they belong, as well as in the generation. There are photographs of six direct, consecutive generations, beginning with Stephen and coming down through Charles. There are five Charleses in a line and four generations through Isaiah.

Information has been got from Congressional Library, town records, family Bibles, public records, private papers and records, and personal knowledge from those living.

Grateful and loving acknowledgment is made to all those who have helped in any way in tracing and completing this history. It has been a labor of love for past generations and those yet to come. It is, in reality, American history.

ORIGIN OF THE MANSURS OF NEW ENGLAND

The name Mansur is not a corruption of any similar French name. It is derived from the old Norman Mansur, which was a Christian name and by the Normans introduced into England, but not now frequently met with in England.

The earliest mention of the name in New England occurs on the marriage record of Charlestown, Mass., and it is there spelled "er."

James Manzer was a passenger to Barbadoes, in the Alexander, May 2, 1635. See "Drake's Founders of New England." He was aged 27.

"The name is from Richard Manesier, Normandy, 1198." Quotation from "The Norman People," by Henry S. King & Co.

It is probable the Mansurs in this country came from Ipswich, England. There was at that time a family spelling the name just as we do, living in Ipswich, and one of the men was a mariner. He may have owned a ship which came to this country, or have been in command of one, and have brought a relative over, and that relative may have become the ancestor of the family in this country; that would account for no one of the name being listed among the passengers of any of the early vessels.

Charlestown was the centre of a settlement of many fishermen from the Isle of Jersey. Such were the Blaners, and Sallers, now Blaney, and Salle. It is possible that Manser was one of this group. The argument against this view is that the "er" has always been sounded, while in the other cases the spelling has been changed to agree with the pronunciation.

Charles Harley Mansur in 1891 wrote to John H. that he had heard the tradition that the family went to England with William the Conqueror from Normandy; heard also that early in the history of New England three members came from England, and two were killed in a battle with the Indians, and that all Mansurs are descended from the other one.

FIRST GENERATION

ROBERT MANSER OF CHARLESTOWN.

I. ROBERT¹ MANSER married Elizabeth Brooks, a widow (23), June 6, 1670.

He was living in 1677-8 but was probably dead before 1680 (Charlestown title lists), but there is no settlement of his estate.

Elizabeth Manser, Sr., and Elizabeth Manser, Jr., ordered to be summoned into court for not appearing at the court upon summons of the Charlestown Committee, October 7, 1684.

October 29, 1684, they appear in court and their answer being accepted they are dismissed. (Middlesex Court Records.)

Wyman, in his "Estates," records that the widow Elizabeth Manser was to have a chamber at Thomas Barber's, October 21, 1689. (Selectmen's Records.)

Elizabeth Manser, widow of Robert, died January 3, 1694-5. There is no settlement of her estate.

Children: 1. John; born about 1671. 2. Thomas; born before 1680. 3. William; born before 1680. 5. Elizabeth; aet. 13 in 1685; married, December 3, 1687, Thomas Pope, a mariner. 4. Robert; born April 15, (or February), 1674, at Charlestown. Nothing further regarding him has been discovered.

See "Savage's Genealogical Dictionary," Vol. 3, p. 149. Also "Genealogies and Estates of Charlestown, Mass.," by Thomas Bellevue Wyman.

SECOND GENERATION

II. 1. JOHN² MANSER, possibly of Boston, but probably of Charlestown. He may have been born about 1671, as he married in 1695. Wyman says there is no doubt that he is the son of Robert Manser. Age, residence and station all go to prove it.

John Manser married in Boston April 24, 1695, by Rev. James Allen, Mary Mirick (16). He is described as of Charlestown, and the bride as of Boston. His name is spelled Monsir. Wyman says Mary Mirick had been a servant of Anthony Stoddard in Charlestown.

No children are recorded to this marriage.

Woburn records record the marriage of John Mansur to Elizabeth Henshaw of Charlestown, June 3, 1701. They had the following children, born in Charlestown:

1-1 Elizabeth; born January 28, 1703, baptized March 28, 1703. 1-2 John; born November 10, baptized November 11, 1705.

There is no settlement of the estates of John or his wife.

Elizabeth Henshaw was the daughter of Thomas and Hannah (Cleveland) Henshaw of Woburn, and was born July 30, 1678. She was baptized December 20, 1702.

THOMAS HENSHAW, son of Joshua and Elizabeth (Summer) Henshaw. Born (probably in England) about 1650; died Woburn January 16, 1699-1700; married, Woburn September 24, 1677, Hannah Cleveland, daughter of Moses and Ann (Winn) Cleveland.

Children: Elizabeth; born July 30, 1678; married John Mansur June 3, 1701, Charlestown; Thomas; Hannah, born 1683; William; Sam; Ebenezer; Josiah.

The Henshaw family in England were respected for wealth, rank and influence.

Thomas Henshaw was a soldier in King Philip's War.—Mass. Archives LXVIII: 134. The name was sometimes spelled Hensher, Hencheff and Hinshaw.

America Heraldica, page 103, says:

"The Henshaws of Henshaw, County Chester, England, are represented in New England (in spite of Burke's affirmation that the family is extinct in the male line) by the descendants of Joshua and Daniel Henshaw, who were brought over here at such an early age as to deprive them of their lawful inheritance. They arrived in America since 1654. A full pedigree of the Henshaw family, including the two colonists, was prepared officially in 1701, and is kept at Herald's College, London. Arms: Argent, a chevron between three heronshaws, sable. Crest: A falcon; proper, belled or wings elevated, preying on a mallard's wing, argent, guttee de sang."

CLEVELAND.

In 1851 an eminent English antiquarian wrote that "the Clevelands of America were descended from William Cleveland, who removed from York to Hinkley in Leicestershire where he was buried a very old man in 1630. His son Thomas became Vicar of Hinkley (Hinckley?), the family estate. One of his sons was John Cleveland, the poet. Another son Thomas may have been the father of Moses Cleveland, the emigrant, who came in 1635 from Ipswich, Suffolk County, England, to Massachusetts.

Mottoes: A Pro Deo et Patria—For God and Fatherland. Semel et Semper—Once and Always.

EXTRACT FROM CLEVELAND GENEALOGY.

Moses Cleveland, father of Hannah, is the common ancestor of all the Clevelands of New England origin. He was born about 1624, Ipswich, England; died January 9, 1701 or 2, Woburn, Mass. Married in Woburn September 26, 1648, Ann Winn, daughter of Edward and Joanna Winn. This Cleveland is President Grover Cleveland's ancestor. He visited Woburn as his ancestor's home.

Moses Cleveland, 1624-1701-2, Woburn, Mass. Member of Militia 1676. In garrison at Chelmsford, Mass., 1675. In King Philip's War.

Hannah Cleveland, daughter of Moses and Ann (Winn) Cleveland, was born August 4, 1653, Woburn, Mass. Married in Woburn September 24, 1677, to Thomas Henshaw.

II. 2. THOMAS MANSUR was of Malden. Malden, Charlestown, and Medford have always had much in common. The marriage of Thomas Mansur is not of record. His wife was Mary, as appears from the birth records of his children. There appears little doubt but that he was son of Robert Manser, and perhaps born as early as 1675 or 6.

The following children appear on Malden records: 2-1. Mary; born September 22, 1716; married William Barnes of Boston, March 26, 1742-3. (Vol. 12.) 2-2. Elizabeth; born June 18, 1718. 2-3. Hannah; born October 14, 1720; married Michael Smith of Boston, August 1, 1754. 2-4. Sarah; born September 18, 1722; married John Martin of Boston, September 18, 1745. 2-5. Phebe; born January 16, 1724-5; married William Binford, January 10, 1754. (See Wyman's "Charlestown's Estates.") 2-6. Lydia; born April 10, 1728. 2-7. John; born November 6, 1730. 2-8. Martha; born June 1, 1734; married David Howard, March 14, 1760.

"Thomas Mansur and wife, Mary, last from Needham," are warned from Sudbury, 1717. They came to Sudbury beginning of February, 1716-7. (Middlesex Court Records, page 336.)

It was the custom to warn all newcomers to town. This prevented responsibility falling on the town or participation in town commons, at least in theory. Most desirable people were sometimes "warned." Sudbury records contain no reference to births, marriages, or deaths of this family, or others of the name.

Needham was set off from Dedham in 1711. Dedham records contain no reference to the name.

Thomas Mansur of Malden is undoubtedly he who was warned from Sudbury. On December 16, 1730, Jonathan Howard, Jr., gives to his friend and townsman, Thomas Mansser, a house in Malden. It is still standing on Madison Street, and after Mansur's death was used as the town almshouse.

In 1756 the town paid a physician's bill for attendance on Martha Mansur, in the time of her sickness.

Thomas Mansur was a member of the church in 1772.

He was sexton (chosen in town meeting) 1733-4, 1738-9, 1739-40, and thereafter to June 21, 1775. He probably died between March, 1775, and June, 1775. In 1763 he was one of the town's poor, having given his home to the town for an almshouse on condition that he would always be cared for. (See Cory's Malden.)

II. 3. WILLIAM MANSUR of Medford and of Roxbury. He married at Cambridge, February 2, 1714-5, Lydia, daughter of Gershom and Sarah (Holden) Swan of Cambridge; born November 10, 1689.

He was of Medford. William Mansur, wife and family were warned from Medford October 8, 1723. (Middlesex Court Records.)

Wyman says he was a brickmaker. He removed to Roxbury.

In 1763 William Manser sold to Robert Cain land in Roxbury toward Dedham, which was apparently the whole or part of a lot he had bought in 1731 from Abraham Woodward and wife. (Suffolk Deeds.)

William Mansor was a corporal in the company of Captain William Drummond Dummer and was stationed at the Castle (Boston Harbor) 26 weeks in 1725; also 1726 and 1727. (Massachusetts Archives.)

December 17, 1720, William Mansier of Boston, soldier, alias William Mansier, belonging to the Castle, William vs. Nathaniel Spear of Braintree, Junior, miller, for debt, reciting that on December 8, 1727, said Spear gave bond for 40£, which remains unpaid, etc. (Suffolk Files, 24027.)

Children born in Medford: 3-1. Lydia, born April 10, 1716; died there August 20, 1717.

The following adults were baptized in the Roxbury church: 3-2. Sarah Manser, baptized March 16, 1740. 3-3. Lydia Manser, baptized March 30, 1740; born July 29, 1718; married at Boston, December 1, 1741, to Robert Cain. 3-4. Susanna Manser, baptized March 30, 1740; married George Bray, Boston, October 18, 1753. 3-5. Mary Manser, baptized November 21, 1747.

TRIBE OF THOMAS.

THIRD GENERATION.

III. 2-7. JOHN MANSUR, son of Thomas, erroneously described by Wyman as son of John, born in Malden, November 6, 1730. Was a soldier in 1756, 7, 8, 9. His service is given in the Massachusetts Archives, as follows:

Impressed out of the 1st Middlesex Regiment for expedition against Crown Point, according to order of April 15, 1756, on roll dated May 27, 1756, at Cambridge, Colonel William Brattle. (Vol. 94, p. 224.)

It appears he served 31 weeks in 1756. Vol. 95, p. 190.

On another roll he is described as of Malden, aged 25, matross in Colonel Gridley's Regiment; mustered May 8, 1756. (Vol. 94, p. 202.)

He served in 1757, as we learn from a note to roll for 1758, in which he is described as a private and of Charlestown, and as a deserter. Vol. 96, p. 63. (The desertion was probably technical rather than actual.)

It also appears he served seven months 1758. (Vol. 96, p. 337.)

Wyman says that Sarah Manser and child were notified (warned) from Charlestown, 1757. This would dovetail in with John's service in the army. Middlesex Court records tell us that John Manser, wife, and child were warned from Charlestown December 12, 1759 (not 1757), having been there six months and twelve days, and last from Malden. John Manser, wife and John, Jr., were in the census of 1789, at Charlestown. Wyman says that John, and his son John, were drowned in the Sand Cove in the Narrows, May 25, 1790.

Cory states that John Mansur was a private in 6th Battalion, Captain Robert Allen, Colonel Alden's regiment, having enlisted for three years in 1777. He also adds the following information concerning his French War service: Drafted April 15, 1756. Served at Crown Point with Captain Lord. Was in service until December. Petitioned for pay. Was in Captain Chadwick's company and taken sick at a place called Half Moon. Served in 1758 under Captain Eben'r Marrow.

He was taxed in Charlestown, 1761-73. Was driven to Medford in 1775, and claimed for loss on account of the British destruction of Charlestown. Bought a lot of land in 1777.

He married July 26, 1753, at Malden, Sarah Bradish, born February 27, 1731-2, daughter of John and Sarah Sweetser Bradish of Charlestown.

Children born in Charlestown: 2-7-1. Seth, born December 2, 1757; served 23 days guarding troops at Bunker Hill; private; age 17; stature 5 feet 7 inches; complexion light. 2-7-2. Ebenezer; born January 6, 1760. 2-7-3. Seth (they often named two children the same name); born October 28, 1761. 2-7-4. John; born May 18, 1766; drowned with father 1790. 2-7-5. Samuel; born March 11, 1768. 2-7-6. William; baptized June 28, 1772; died without children.

TRIBE OF THOMAS.

FOURTH GENERATION.

IV. 2-7-2. EBENEZER MANSUR, son of John; born in Charlestown January 6, 1760. Died October 6, 1806, at Boston. Married, November 21, 1781, Elizabeth Brown of Boston. She was born September 6, 1765. She died July 31, 1812. Lived in Charlestown.

Children: 2-7-2-1. Seth; born July 1, 1782. 2-7-2-2. John; born June 7, 1784; married Betsy Kimball, Boston, August 18, 1808. 2-7-2-3. Sally Brown; born June 19, 1786; died May 15, 1817; married James Ayer, son of James Ayer of Haverhill; born January 1, 1781; died February 8, 1831; married, December 3, 1807. 2-7-2-4. William; born December 26, 1788. 2-7-2-5. Ebenezer Brown; born July 17, 1791; died December 12, 1825; married, August 25, 1816, Mary Rea. 2-7-2-6. Thomas; born January 31, 1794. 2-7-2-7. Betsy Brown; born May 29, 1797. 2-7-2-8. Polly; born June 15, 1799. 2-7-2-9. George Washington; born May 9, 1801. 2-7-2-10. Robert; born January 25, 1803.

IV. 2-7-5. SAMUEL MANSUR, son of John; born in Charlestown March 11, 1768; died February, 1829, at Charlestown. He married, January 3, 1790, Hepzibah Goodwin; she died February 10, 1793, at the age of 25. Married second, December 2, 1793, Nancy Brown of Boston, who died January 14, 1794, at the age of 19. Another record says married by Rev. Jedh Morse, Boston, Mary Brown of Boston, December 2, 1793. Married third (published intentions Oct., 1817), Mary Ann French. She had administration of husband's estate, August 18, 1829. Estate, $3,500. A Mary Mansur died in Charlestown, April, 1830, at the age of 40.

TRIBE OF THOMAS.

FIFTH GENERATION.

V. 2-7-5-1. BENJAMIN G. MANSUR, son of Samuel and Nancy (Brown) Mansur; born June 15, 1795; died April 7, 1851.

Children: 2-7-5-1-1. George Franklin; 2. Addie Watson; 3. Melissa Frances.

TRIBE OF JOHN.

THIRD GENERATION.

III. 1-2. JOHN³ MANSUR of Methuen; born November 10, 1705, son of John,² son of Robert.¹ He was of age in 1726. He first comes to notice in 1729.

John Mansur of Andover for 72£ N. E. money (i. e., $235) buys of Abel Astin and his wife Sarah of Methuen, forty acres in Methuen, bounded on John Guttason, Jr., Thomas Astin, James Baker and John Guttason; deed dated April 15, 1729; acknowledged May 14, 1729; recorded July 10, 1740. (Essex Deeds, 79-134.)

John Mansur of Andover, husbandman, buys of Thomas Astin and wife Sarah of Methuen, for 26£, land there, being 20 acres, bounding on Benj. Gage, by Haverhill former line, late Eben. Barker, so on Haverhill line and William Gutterson, May 24, 1726; acknowledged May 27, 1729; recorded July 10, 1740. (Essex Deeds, 79-134.)

Examination of Quarterly Sessions fails to find any notification of Mansur from any town in Essex as late as 1736.

John Mansur of Methuen, married in Andover December 31, 1732, by Mr. Phillips, Hannah Lovejoy of the South Parish. (Andover Records.)

Thomas Astin of Austin, who sold the land above described, had married in 1714 Sarah, daughter of Christopher Lovejoy, brother of Hannah's grandfather.

John Mansur (spelled Mancer on rolls) served in the French war. He was of the Train Band of Methuen in 1757. (Massachusetts Archives, 95-298.)

John Mancer, Jr., was also of the Train Band.

John Mancer appears on a muster roll sworn to March 1, 1759, as of Lieutenant Chandler's company, Colonel Osgood's regiment, which marched on an alarm to the relief of Fort William Henry, August, 1757. They marched from Andover August 15 to Worcester. Dated Andover March 1, 1759. (Massachusetts Archives, 95-298.)

Administration on the estate of John Mansur of Methuen, yeoman, was granted to the relict Hannah, August 5, 1776. Samuel Mansur was a surety. The inventory shows 55£.

Children: 1-2-1. John; born June 21, 1734. (Andover Records.) 1-2-2. William; born January 1, 1737. 1-2-3. Elizabeth; born about 1740. 1-2-4. James; born September 7, 1744. 1-2-5. Samuel; born 1745.

Moses Mansur wrote the following account of the origin of the family to his sister Lucinda:

"When I was a little boy I was much in my grandmother's part of the house; people would come in and talk over old times. I listened. Our great-grandfather was born in 1702 and came from Jersey, an island belonging to England, lying near the French Coast. He was of French origin, Mansur being French.

"I have often heard grandmother, my grandmother, say when she was small the men were busy in the summer time at three o'clock in the morning. The women would put the saddlebags on the horse and go off to Haverhill shopping, so as to get back before dark. Haverhill was the nearest trading place then, and the road was full of stumps, stones, and woods."

Mary (Harris) Mansur and her friends, talking of old times, would leave but a more or less confused account in the mind of a young lad. It is doubtful if the first John, being not more than ten when his father died, knew much about the origin of the family. It is quite possible Robert came from Jersey. The John of Methuen might easily have become confounded with John, son of Robert, his father, in the mind of the youthful listener.

He appears to have been a man of prominence in the community and was what was called a "tithing man." This curious office is now obsolete, but during its continuance it was a very important part of the economy of the New England village, and brought the official into very close relations with the townspeople. While his duties were connected with the church, he was also a town officer, and had many semi-secular duties to perform. Each tithing man had several neighboring families under his charge, originally ten, as the word "tithing" would signify. He enforced the learning of the church catechism at home, sometime during the week visited the houses to hear the children recite their catechism. These families he watched especially on Sundays, to see whether they all attended church and did not loiter on the way. In some Massachusetts towns he was ordered to watch on week days to keep "boys and all persons from swimming in the water." Truly ten large families, with many boys, such as were common in New England, must have kept him busy on hot August days.

He inspected taverns and reported all disorderly persons within, forbade the sale of intoxicating liquors to them, had power as a constable to arrest any evildoer, administered the "oath of fidelity" to new citizens, and warned undesirable visitors to leave town. He could arrest persons who walked or rode at too fast a pace while going to meeting on Sunday, or who made needless visits or took unnecessary rides on Sunday, or otherwise broke the Sunday laws. Within the meeting house the tithing man kept order by beating out dogs, correcting unruly and noisy boys, and waking those who slept. To accomplish this, he sometimes walked up and down the church aisles, carrying a stick which had a knob on one end, and a dangling fox-tail on the other. It is said that he tapped the boys on the head with the knobbed end of the stick, and tickled the faces of sleeping church attendants with the fox-tail. In those days everybody, old and young, was supposed to attend church. If anyone was absent it was noticed, and if the absence continued three Sundays it was the duty of the tithing man to visit the family and ascertain the cause. Some old churches had tithing men until the beginning of this century.

John Mansur lived and died a strict Puritan, and now lies buried at Methuen, Mass., Elmwood Cemetery, beside his son, James Mansur.

LOVEJOY.

(Andover Records.)

Member Massachusetts Colonial Legislature.

IV. 1-2-2. WILLIAM MANSUR, son of John; born in Dracut, January 1, 1737; died 1808. Married, October 30, 1762, at Dracut, Isabel Harvey of Dracut. He went from Dracut, Mass., to Wilton, N. H., now Temple, in 1762, and it may be he was one of the very first settlers. He purchased lot No. 1, Wilton range of Temple lots in the extreme southwest (or east) corner of the town, then a wilderness, and possible only to be traveled by marked trees. (History of Temple, page 231.)

He had received grant from Government for military services in Revolution.

It was evidently a wild, lonesome place, for a grandchild of Mr. Mansur remembers being told that the wolves very frequently sat upon the hill around the house and stared into the windows, and the bears could be distinctly heard calling their cubs, under the hill, and so late as March, 1783, it was voted to give "ten dollars to any town inhabitant that kills a grown wolf and brings ye head to the selectmen; and has ye years cut off by them;" and in September, 1808, Major Heald caught a large bear in a trap in Theodore Barker's corn field, which weighed three hundred pounds dressed, and another was caught in Joseph Searles' field. The last remembered bear hunt was in 1815. Bears remained longer in the region than wolves.

The following story is related by Deacon N. Wheeler of Temple (History of Temple, page 175):

"William Mansur was an early settler (I suppose the first on the lot now owned by Sumner Blanchard at the Falls, now known as Blood's, on Souhegan River), September 14th, 1762. He shut up his dog at home and started for Methuen, crossing the river southeast from his house at the fordway. He soon heard the dog yelping after him, and looking, saw a panther following. The dog ran under a heap of brush, and the panther sprang on top of it as a cat after a mouse. The dog left the brush and ran to his master for protection. Mr. Mansur faced the creature, smote the ground with his staff, and made as formidable an appearance as possible; and he supposed by the help of his scarlet vest, so terrified the animal that he was pleased to run away and leave him to pursue his journey."

Stirring times were at hand. The storm of resistance to British oppression, which had been gathering for some time, was about to break, and everybody in the settlement must take sides either for or against the Colonies. Fortunately, we are not left in uncertainty as to where William Mansur stood. His name appears several times among those who espoused the "patriot's cause," and we have a pretty fair account of his services during the "times that tried men's souls."

Early in the year 1776, the General Committee of Safety sent a communication to each of the several towns. That to Temple reads (History of Temple, page 105):

"To the selectmen of Temple, Colony of New Hampshire. In Committee of Safety, April 12, 1776. In order to carry the unwritten resolves of the Honorable Continental Congress into execution, you are requested to desire all males above 21 years, lunatics, idiots, and negroes excepted, to sign the Declaration on this paper, and when so done to make return hereof, together with the name or names of all who shall refuse to sign the same, to the General Assembly or Committee of Safety of this Colony.

M. WEARE, Chairman."

"In Congress, March 14th, 1776.

"Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies, Conventions and Councils, or Committees of Safety of the United Colonies, immediately to cause all persons to be disarmed within their respective colonies, who are notoriously disaffected to the cause of America, or who have not associated or refuse to associate, to defend by arms the United Colonies against the hostile attempts of the British fleets and armies.

CHARLES THOMPSON, Secretary."

Action was immediately taken by the Town Council, as follows (Minutes of Town Council):

"In consequence of the above resolution of the Honorable Continental Congress, and to show our determination in joining our American brethren in defending the lives, liberties and properties of the inhabitants of the United Colonies—

"We, the subscribers, do solemnly profess our entire willingness, at the risk of our lives and fortunes with arms, to oppose the hostile attempts of the British fleets and armies against the United American Colonies, whenever and to such a degree as such attempts of British may require."

This was signed by eighty-four persons, only two of whom, however, concern this narrative. The twelfth name is Peter Felt, who was the father of Hannah Felt, who was married to Stephen Mansur, No. 1-2-2-6, and the thirty-sixth name is William Mansur.

But he evidently was a man of deeds as well as words. We read (History of Temple, pages 96 and 97):

"April ye 19th, 1775.

"A list of those persons (fifty-six) who marched from Temple to Cambridge, Mass., on the alarm of the 19th of April, 1775." William Mansur appears on the list, and the record shows he was gone six and one-half days.

But this was not his only service. Twice afterward he volunteered in the Continental army. We find the following: (History of Temple, N. H., page 104):

"A list of those who engaged in ye Continental service, in Captain Ezra Towne's company in Colonel Reed's regiment for one year from January 7, 1776." There are sixteen names in the list, of which William Mansur is the tenth, and Peter Felt, before mentioned, is the fourteenth. The town of Temple afterward paid to each of these men seven pounds and four pence in addition to their wages, etc. Again, June 29, 1777, more than a year later, and presumably after the expiration of his former service, an alarm came from Ticonderoga, and the turnout was immense. There was a great rush to the town ammunition deposit, and there nine men drew powder, balls and flints, and the next day they marched for Ticonderoga, thirty-seven all told, and in the list of names the twentieth is William Mansur. They were all in Captain Drury's company of Lieutenant-Colonel P. Heald's regiment, and received in all 88 pounds and 16 pence. Wm. Mansur remained in the company during the siege, and when the American forces were compelled to evacuate the fort, retreated with them into Vermont.

William Mansur was present at the Surrender of Burgoyne.

William Mansur married Isabella Harvey in 1762. She was born in Dracut, Mass., 1739. She removed to Temple, N. H., soon after her marriage, for it is reported that she spent the greater part of her life there. Tradition relates that more than once she visited her friends in Dracut, traveling the whole journey of forty miles on horseback in one day, carrying her baby (an account says Stephen was carried in this way) in her arms, and fording the Merrimac River on the way, the water rising to the pommel of the saddle. She survived her husband about eighteen years, and died at Temple, N. H., December 27, 1826, aged eighty-seven years, leaving more than eighty descendants. She was a daughter of Lord John Harvey of Limerick, Ireland.

Children (born in Temple, N. H.): 1-2-2-1. William; born August 23, (January 29, Hist. of Wilton), 1763. 2. John; born March 16, 1765. 3. Elizabeth; born March 4, 1767; died in Andover, N. H., or Vt., 1858; married Joseph Carrelton (Carleton, in Hist. of Wilton). 4. Joseph; born March 23, 1769. 5. Ezra; born April 19, 1771. 6. Stephen; born December 18, 1773. 7. Aaron; born March 7, 1776. 8.

Jeremy; born April 16, 1778; died, 1791. 9. Hannah; born October 13, 1779; lived at Springfield, Vt., and died there February, 1850; married Charles W. Hawkins of Temple. 10. Harvey; born July 11, 1784; died young.

On pages 101 and 102 of the History of Temple, is a census of all the people of Temple. William Mansur is down as having in 1775 the following people in his family: males under sixteen, 5; males from sixteen to fifty and not in ye army, 1; females, 2; guns, 1; gun-powder, three-fourths of a pound.

IV. 1-2-3. ELIZABETH MANSUR, daughter of John Mansur; married September 28, 1758(?) at Methuen, Samuel Bodwell of Methuen, by Rev. Christopher Sargent.

Children: 1-2-3-1. Samuel Bodwell; born January 24, 1759. 2. Hannah Bodwell; born August 25, 1760; married Alpheus Bodwell, int. May 1, 1786. 3. Rhoda Bodwell; born February 19, 1762; married Asa Roberson, November 1, 1787. 4. Frederick Bodwell; born November 10, 1763; died August 10, 1773. 5. Dorcas Bodwell; born September 13, 1765; married Dr. John L. Bodwell, June 17, 1795. 6. Jesse Bodwell; born May 27, 1768; married Pamela Mitchell, October 30, 1803. 7. Frederick Bodwell; born August 21, 1773.

Miss Lucinda Mansur in a letter to her nephew, John H. Mansur, mentioned an Almira Bodwell; her connection with the above is not known.

IV. 1-2-4. JAMES MANSUR of Dracut, son of John; born September 7, 1744; died January 13, 1816 (26?). He married, March 28, 1776 (April 18, 1776, Methuen town record) (Mrs.?) Mary Harris of Methuen, by Rev. Christopher Sargent. She was the daughter (or widow?) of Deacon Peter Harris of Methuen, and was born December 19, 1753, and died June 23, 1826. He is buried in Elmwood Cemetery, Methuen, beside his father.

Children: 1-2-4-1. Hannah Lovejoy; born January 3, 1777. 2. James; born September 9, 1779. 3. Mary; born October 23, 1782. 4. Abigail; born July 1, 1784; 5. Elizabeth; born June 16, 1786. 6. Rhoda; born February 20, 1789. 7. Daniel; born March 19, 1791. 8. Eunice; born February 15, 1794; died August 27, 1829; married first Ephraim Coburn October 7, 1817; second, Abiel Jones of Andover; no children. 9. John Harris; born June 29, 1795.

Mrs. Mansur, before her marriage, set out apple trees on the farm which was to be her future home. One of the trees is yet standing. James Mansur served in the Revolution 6½ days after April 19, 1775; one year in 1776, and on June 29, 1777.

IV. 1-2-5. SAMUEL MANSUR, son of John; married by Rev. Christopher Sargent at Methuen, May 2, 1765, Sarah Varnum of Dracut. He was a farmer of considerable note. Had a granddaughter, Mrs. Hannah Jones, living in 1898 in Methuen, aged 93.

Children: 1-2-5-1. Samuel, Jr.; born January 8, 1766; married at Dracut, November 25, 1790, Martha Varnum, sister of General Varnum of Dracut. 2. Rebecca; born February 11, 1768; married (int. January 31, 1788) Phineas Messer of Dracut. 3. Sarah Ann; born March 19, 1771; married September 5, 1831, Trueworthy White, Jr., by Rev. C. C. Kimball; both bride and groom of Methuen. 4. Anna; born June 29, 1778; married January 25, 1800, Theodore Bernard of Methuen.

Perhaps a son of Governor Frances Bernard. (February 3rd and May 6th also given as date of marriage.) 5. Hannah; born March 9, 1781; married Amos Griffen of Methuen, January 12, 1804. 6. John; born March 9, 1781.* There was a Captain John, who died October 20, 1813. 7. Clarissa; married ——— Hovey.

*Mrs. Jones said John was drowned in the Merrimac. She also said Samuel "built a house next to Grandfather Moses Bailey in Dracut and resided there."

TRIBE OF JOHN.

FIFTH GENERATION.

V. 1-2-1-2. JOHN MANSUR, son of John; born July 17, 1766; died ———, 1835; married at Methuen December 9, 1790, by Rev. Simon F. Williams, to Susanna Morrill of Methuen, Mass., who was born July 2, 1767, and died in Monroe, Me., April 18, 1855.

John Mansur was a Baptist deacon. He moved from Dracut, Mass., to East Andover, N. H., previous to 1800, thence to Belfast, Me., in 1802, and in 1807 to Monroe, Me.

The following is an obituary notice of Susanna Morrill Mansur:

"Departed this life in Monroe, Me., April 18th, 1855, Susanna, relict of Deacon John Mansur, aged eighty-seven years eight months.

"The subject of this notice was born in Methuen, Mass., July 2, 1767. About the year 1790 she married John Mansur of Dracut, Mass. In a few years they moved to East Andover, where they erected the first saw and grist mill ever built in that town; in 1802 they moved to Belfast, Me.; in 1807 to Monroe, then a wilderness without roads or bridges, where she buried her husband in 1835.

"She was remarkably blessed with health—had one daughter and nine sons, most of whom are now living. She retained her mental faculties in an eminent degree. Incidents of the Revolution, the 'Dark Day,' etc., were vivid in her recollections. She experienced religion in her youth and ever after taught it by precept and example to all with whom she associated. H. M."

Children: 1-2-1-2-1. Susan; born September 8, 1791. 2. John 4th; born June 4, 1793; drowned in the Ohio River when a young man. 3. Morrill; born March 31, 1795; died young. 4. STEPHEN MANSUR

Home of Stephen Mansur, where he lived and died, Wilton, N. H.

N. H., Mrs. Polly Gilmore. He was a shoemaker; settled in Temple about 1763. In 1779 he erected a large, square and commodious house, which is still standing, and in good condition. He enlisted in the Continental Army, and served in the Revolution one year from January 7, 1776, in Col. Reed's regiment, under Capt. Ezra Towne, and in September, 1777, served in the Saratoga Campaign under Captain G. Drury, in Colonel Moore's regiment. His children were all born in Temple. Hannah Felt was his eighth child. In later life he was a manufacturer. He was the first to make hats out of cloth, hence the hat was called felt.

Stephen Felt, son of Peter, married Mary Kneelad Ames. Joshua, son of Peter Felt, married Lucy Spoffard. Peter, son of Peter, married Mary Fletcher.

Daniel Mansur was a farmer, and lived and died in the house in which he was born. In March, 1823, while cutting logs in the woods, assisting his brother James, a tree fell on him and nearly killed him. He was confined to his bed for five months, and although he eventually recovered and lived six years afterwards, he was never able to do any hard work.

He was a man of sterling worth, honest and upright in all his dealings, and greatly beloved by his friends and neighbors.

In 1829 there was an epidemic of typhoid fever in Methuen. Few homes escaped a visitation of the dread disease. There were not enough well people to care for the sick. He died July 26, and appointed Oliver Whittier, the husband of his sister Hannah Lovejoy Mansur, guardian of his children. On the 21st of August a nephew died; on the 24th a brother, and on the 27th a sister. In October another brother died. "My mother was so sick that she could not see her husband after he died. Our relatives were mostly well-to-do farmers." So wrote Miss Lucinda Mansur.

Elizabeth M. Bailey, wife of Daniel Mansur, was born July 17, 1798, at Dracut, Mass. She was descended from Lieutenant Moses Bailey of Andover, Mass., a Revolutionary soldier of the Massachusetts Line. He lived to see 98 years, and the fifth generation of his descendants. On July 25, 1765, he married Elizabeth Mooars of Andover, Mass., by whom he had ten children, five sons and five daughters. His oldest son, Moses Bailey, was born October 20, 1766, and married Mehitable Chase of Andover, Mass., who was born December 12, 1768. There were six children, two sons and four daughters, as the fruit of this union, of whom Elizabeth M. Bailey was the fifth child. Elizabeth M. Mansur, widow of Daniel Mansur, married, second, September 22, 1831, Samuel Richardson of Dracut, Mass., a farmer; see his record for a further account of her.

Richard Richardson, who was born February 1, 1814, and died February 7, 1908; born Malerstand, Westmoreland, England. Mr. Richardson's parents were Episcopalians, but at 18 he was a Methodist local preacher, and at 20 was received into the ministry. Attended Wesleyan Theological Institution in London, and in 1837 was ordained and sent to Canada. In May, 1843, was dropped from list of ministers at Quebec for teaching the second coming of Christ, and lectured all over the United States. Family lived in Waterloo, Canada. Went to England as delegate to Evangelical Alliance in 1846. Affection of throat caused him to study medicine and he received degree in 1849 from Philadelphia College of Medicine. Wrote and edited religious papers. Went to England again in 1862. Itinerant minister last forty years. Died in Plainfield, N. J. Family lived in Waterbury, Vt., from 1867.

Valeria Mansur Richardson had fair education, and was religiously inclined. Suffered 24 days from a fall; her neck was nearly broken, face terribly bruised, but was patient to the end. She spent last years knitting; after 80, knitted over 2,000 doilies that were given to the poor or sold for missionary work.

Daughter Helena, when a small girl, visited the old family home in Stanstead. The driver of the coach in which she was riding, learning who she was, said: "You come of good stock, little girl, for I have known the Mansurs from 'way back, and their word is as good as their bond."

Children: 1-2-2-6-3-1. Gilman Russell Mansur; born December 18, 1829; died August 4, 1908. 2. Otis Mansur; born January 8, 1834; died July 14, 1856. 3. Malvina Mansur; born October 28, 1835; died ———, 1863. 4. James Edwin Mansur; born September 28, 1837; died January 31, 1912. 5. Henry Ware Mansur; born July 1, 1839; died December 11, 1886.

Otis came to visit relatives in Ray County, Mo., in 1855, and died while there. He is buried in his Uncle Charles Mansur's family burying ground under a fine old elm tree that Charles selected when he pre-empted his homestead and set aside this plot of ground to be the family burial place.

VI. 1-2-2-6-4. CHARLES MANSUR, son of Stephen; born November 24, 1805, at Temple, N. H. Died in Ray County, Mo., August 12, 1847. Married, May 18, 1834, in Philadelphia, Rebecca A. Wills, who was born March 30, 1809, and died in Ray County, Mo., May 8, 1874.

Rebecca A. Wills was the daughter of Josiah Wills (born at Holly, N. J., in 1767,) and Sarah Galilee Wills. Sarah Wills was born in Maryland, August 30, 1772, and died in Ray County, Mo., January 30, 1869, and is buried in the Mansur graveyard.

CHARLES MANSUR

She removed to Philadelphia when quite young, and distinctly remembered the din and the rejoicing when the Declaration of Independence was made.

The oldest child of Charles Mansur and wife, Rebecca Ann Wills, was born in Philadelphia, then they removed to St. Louis. Here the two little girls, Lucy Maria and Mary Malvina, died within six weeks, in the summer of 1841, one from the effects of a fall, the other with scarlet fever. This lament has been left in the handwriting of Charles Mansur:

"Sweet buds of our hearts' early spring,
Now chilled by the winter of death,
Like dewdrops on roses that cling
Whilst winter congeals by a breath.
We shed not a tear o'er your sleep,
Tho' our hearts with our anguish are riven;
'Tis surely impious to weep,
For of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

"Can I think of the joyful day or of the happy moment that first gave me, in my dear little Lucy, a father's title? Or of the happy hours when I used to dandle her little innocent form on my knee, and gather joy from her smiles and prattle, and her playful gambols? And can I recollect her rude glee when she tottered to me with outstretched arms on my return home? Or can I think of her or of her last words and her kind and affectionate, confiding, open heart, and all my hopes and expectations of her in my old age? Can I think of these?"

Rebecca Wills was one of ten children. The oldest child was Hannah. She was engaged to marry a young man when he died. Her heart was always true to him. She came to St. Louis with Charles and Rebecca, and lived with them until they died, then she went to her niece, Emma Mansur Ellis, until her own death at the age of seventy-six years. She was a fine character, capable and industrious, and shared all Rebecca's joys and responsibilities. Rebecca's children looked up to, loved and honored her next to their mother. She lies buried between Rebecca and their mother, Sarah Wills. On the other side of Rebecca lies Charles, and at their feet rests Otis Mansur. Rebecca was a woman of strong mentality and character. She was beloved by all of the family connection. She took the early magazines, beginning with Mansford's Magazine in 1832, Godey's Lady Book, Peterson's Magazine and Ballou's Magazine. She enjoyed the St. Louis Home Journal and the St. Louis Republican. These were the leading publications of her day.

Charles Mansur was a merchant in St. Louis for a number of years, and owned land on which the St. Louis Board of Trade now stands. He was one of the early settlers of Missouri, removing to Ray County in 1844. He there engaged in the mercantile business, and also pre-empted several hundred acres of land. He set aside on his homestead, Locust Grove, a plot of ground to be the family burying-place, and he is buried there, his grave being marked by a slab of New Hampshire granite. In early life Mr. Mansur was a chemist and discovered a new chemical formula.

Children: 1-2-2-6-4-1. Charles Harley; born March 6, 1835; died April 3, 1895. 2. Lucy Maria; born October 5, 1836; died August 8, 1841. 3. Mary Malvina; born November 29, 1838; died June 28, 1841. 4. William Henry Harrison; born November 6, 1840. 5. Emeline (Emma); born November 17, 1842; died November 22, 1894.

VI. 1-2-2-6-5. MOODY MANSUR, son of Stephen; born in Temple, N. H., February 3, 1808. Remained with his parents on farm in Windsor County, Vermont, until November, 1827, when he went to Boston and engaged as a clerk in a hotel with his elder brother Stephen. Stayed there about two years. In February, 1829, he engaged with his brother Alvah and a Mr. Ransom Reed in a wholesale store in Lowell, Mass., and continued with them nearly 3 years. From 1832 to 1835 during the scholastic year he attended an academy at Hampton, N. H., making rapid advancement in English literature and the classics. After leaving this school he went to Lowell, Mass., and began the study of medicine with Dr. Elisha Bartlett as preceptor. He continued his studies there for 3 years, and in the meantime attended three courses of lectures at medical department of Harvard University, received a diploma from Harvard, conferring upon him the graduate degree of Doctor of Medicine, entitling him to membership in the Massachusetts Medical Society. He began the practice of his profession in Lowell, but remained there only a short time, going to Philadelphia, and from there he went out as physician and surgeon to the army in Florida War, where he rendered efficient and successful services. When the Army disbanded at New Orleans he reported at Washington City for settlement of his claim for professional services.

He located in Jefferson City, Mo., where he opened a drug store in connection with his practice. There, June 15, 1839, he married Mary Basye, a daughter of Alfred Basye, grandson of Edmond and Winifred Basye, and Frances Robinson.

About 1841 he moved to Weston, Platte County, Missouri, and remained there until the autumn of 1844. He suffered greatly from the flood conditions of that year, both in health of family and financially. He again moved to Liberty, Clay County, Missouri, for a short time, and in the spring of 1845 went back to Ray County and settled upon a farm.

When the exodus of gold seekers began in 1849 to California, he joined them, going overland with an ox team. The hardships of this trip were so great that his health was broken down and he was prostrated with a long attack of sickness after reaching San Francisco. His experiences were varied and interesting, but he did not stay there long on account of his health. The next year he started homeward by way of the Isthmus of Panama and New Orleans. He spent forty days on an ocean sail vessel between San Francisco and Panama, in a "dead calm." After reaching Panama, he crossed it on foot and shipped in a steamer for home via New Orleans, arriving in Ray County in May.

Soon after this he again located upon his farm, of two hundred and thirty-eight acres, where he resided until his death, February 17, 1889. When the Civil War broke out he took a strong stand for the cause of the Union. He was a man of very strong character and fine mental attainments. He gave up the practice of his profession many years before his death, on account of a physical disability from which he suffered very much. He is buried at New Hope Cemetery.

Mary McClanahan Basye Mansur was a woman of pioneer stuff and spirit. She was the mother of eleven children, and that meant responsibility, labor and sacrifice. She was a fine cook, and could make small supplies go further and taste better than anyone else could. She came of fine Huguenot stock from both Bayse and Robinson sides, and was proud of the fact. A son of Governor Thomas Reynolds of Missouri married her sister, Fannie Basye. The Mansur men have generally chosen their wives from families of good stock and education. A family reunion of Mansurs and their descendants has been held the last three years at the Isaiah Mansur homestead in Ray County, Missouri. Last July, 1925, there were more than one hundred and fifty present. They came from adjoining counties, and from over the state; about twenty-five people drove down from Kansas City, and some came from Oklahoma. Dinner was brought in hampers and clothes-baskets. It was a wonderful dinner and a wonderful day, one to remember. Isaiah Mansur set the third Sunday in July, every year, for all of the Mansur kin, far and near, to assemble together there.

Children: 1-2-2-6-5-1. Susan Augusta Mansur; born August 22, 1840; died aged seven months. 2. Cyrus Alfred Mansur; born March 15, 1842; died July 26, 1842. 3. Louisa Frances Mansur, born August 9, 1843. 4. Stephen Warren Mansur; born November 29, 1845; died March 15, 1847. 5. George Gerard Mansur; born February 29, 1848. 6. Augustus Moody Mansur; born January, 1850; died April, 1854. 7. Elizmond Basye Mansur; born March 4, 1852; died February 24, 1916. He was a farmer and lived on his father's home place all of his life; he never married; buried in New Hope Cemetery. 8. Maria Gertrude Mansur; born July 30, 1854. 9. David Atchison Mansur; born May 15, 1856; died December 24, 1924. 10. Richard Harvey Mansur; born October 6, 1858. 11. Edward Augustus Mansur; born February 6, 1861.

VI. 1-2-2-6-6. LUCY ANDREWS MANSUR, daughter of Stephen Mansur; born at Temple, N. H., January 6, 1810. Died at Millville, Mo., July 24, 1858. Married at Wilton, N. H., September 8, 1830, Moses Carleton, who died in Millville, March 17, 1889; he was born at Boxford, Mass., January 26, 1803, in the old family home. They moved to Missouri in June, 1840. Mr. Carleton was a farmer; he was a fine christian character; he was a son of Samuel Carleton, Jr., and Susannah Morse Carleton. Lucy Andrews Mansur Carleton is buried in the yard near her home and her son, Edward Everett, is buried by her side.

Children: 1-2-2-6-6-1. Charles Mansur Carleton; born in Bradford, Mass., October 20, 1831; died in Quincy, Ill., July 26, 1840. 2. Mary Howard Carleton; born in Haverhill, Mass., February 23, 1834; died at Regal, Mo., July 16, 1907; unmarried; buried in New Hope Cemetery; she was a very fine, lovable character. 3. Moses Melvin Carleton; born in Haverhill, Mass., April 21, 1836. 4. Augusta Griffin Carleton; born in Haverhill, Mass., July 18, 1838. 5. Lucy Malvina Carleton; born in Mining Port, Mo., October 14, 1841. 6. Alvah Mansur Carleton; born in Grape Grove, Mo., May 3, 1844. 7. Samuel Porter Carleton; born in Grape Grove, Mo., February 3, 1847. 8. Ellen Maria Carleton; born in Grape Grove, Mo., April 19, 1850. 9. Edward Everett Carleton; born in Millville, Mo., May 13, 1854; died at Millville, April 26, 1855.

VI. 1-2-2-6-7. HANNAH AUGUSTA MANSUR, daughter of Stephen; born Wednesday, May 22, 1811, at Temple; died June 26, 1841, in Illinois. Married at Lowell, May 6, 1834, George H. Griffin, who had died before 1889.

Child: 1-2-2-6-7-1. Mary Frances Griffin; married Dr. Cornelius Buck of Stockholm, New York.

VI. 1-2-2-6-8. ISAIAH MANSUR, son of Stephen Mansur; born February 19, 1815, at Ludlow, Vt. Married November 19, 1844, Susan Smith; married a second time, Mary E. Lane.

In 1836 he removed to St. Louis, where he was in charge of his brother Charles' drug store. After several years in St. Louis they removed to Ray County and began merchandising in a country store, located on what was known for many years as the Nuckols Place.

In 1842 the brothers divided the land they had pre-empted and each proceeded to build a home on his own place. Mr. Mansur farmed until about 1849, when he again opened a store on what was later the R. H. Ellis farm. He conducted his store until 1852, when he built a store house in the town of Millville, then known as Bucksnot, two and one-half miles west of the first store. He kept a clerk in the store until the Civil War, and he continued to farm.

His first wife, Susan Smith, was born July 27, 1818. She was the daughter of John Smith, born March 10, 1786, and Rachel Berry, born October 14, 1789, both in Kentucky, and married in Woodford County, Kentucky, January 5, 1808. Susan Smith died June 1, 1856.

Mr. Mansur married a second time, January 3, 1871, Mary E. Lane of Atchison, Kan. She was born in Ravenna, Ohio, February 16, 1841. She came to Atchison to teach school. Some friends invited her to teach the Mansur school, which she did. Isaiah Mansur was one of the directors of the school, for which he had given the ground upon which to build the school-house.

They were married the following year. Mary Lane Mansur is still living. She has been a woman of strong character and capability all her life. They were splendidly mated, and worked together harmoniously in all relations of life. One of the bankers in Richmond, in speaking of her after Mr. Mansur's death, remarked that she was one of the best "business men" in the county. She was in her youth a member of the Episcopal Church, but belongs now to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Mr. Mansur was at one time a very large land owner. He was a Democrat in politics and a Southern Methodist in religion. He was highly esteemed for his good qualities as a neighbor, and a gentleman. He contributed generously of his money, labor and time to the actual building of the church house of New Hope, a country Southern Methodist Church, about four miles east of Millville, Mo. Perhaps no country church is better beloved than this one.

Isaiah Mansur died June 18, 1893, and is buried in the Smith Graveyard.

Children (by Susan Smith): 1-2-2-6-8-1. Alice; born October 15, 1845. 2. Catherine; born January 16, 1848. 3. John I.; born January 30, 1850. 4. Stephen; born March 23, 1852; died young. 5. Daniel Webster; born August 6, 1853. 6.

Louis Napoleon; born March 7, 1856 (twin). 7. Eugenia; born March 7, 1856 (twin). By Mary E. Lane: 8. Julia; born April 15, 1874. 9. Harriet; born April 4, 1877. 10. Isaiah; born June 10, 1879. 11. Alida Maria; born September 2, 1881; died August, 1892.

VI. 1-2-2-6-8-9. HARRIET MANSUR, daughter of Isaiah Mansur; born April 4, 1877. Married, April 15, 1908, at Rock Hall, the old home place, Greene W. Walker, born in Kentucky, a merchant in Hardin, Mo., where they still reside.

Mrs. Walker is a good business woman, and is her husband's partner in the store as well as in the home. She is bookkeeper in the firm. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Lane Mansur, resides with her. They are both members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Mrs. Walker belongs to the Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of Rebecca and a Literary Club. Mr. Walker is a genial, successful business man, a Democrat in politics. They have no children.

VI. 1-2-2-6-10. STILLMAN MANSUR, son of Stephen; born January 17, 1820, in Ludlow, Vt. Married, September 17, 1844, Elizabeth Harl of Chillicothe, Mo. She died August 2, 1888, near Stet, Carroll County, Mo., and is buried in the Charles Mansur family burying ground in Ray County, Missouri.

Stillman Mansur died November 6, 1910, near Vale, Oregon.

He was very conscientious and tender-hearted, and a great patriot. Always stood and worked for the best interest of humanity and his country. Was one of the first promoters and business men of Chillicothe, Mo., doing much business with the early settlers and some with the original Indians through government agent. Claimed to have put up the first merchant's sign and brought the first cook stove ever in that now prosperous city. He helped to survey and lay out the town of Chillicothe, Mo., and was a member of the board of trustees of the public schools there. Helped work up the first school ever taught there, signing and sending two or three scholars (poor children) when he was a young, single man. Was one of the gold seekers in 1849 to California, crossing the plains with ox team and wagons. He was in San Francisco at the time of a great flood, when the water rose so high that the people dipped it with the hand from the second floor, and small houses were floating around. He came home by water and was on the mighty deep in time of a great storm, when captain and all lost control of the ship. Helpless they were, and at the sole mercy of Nature and her course. Crossed the Panama Canal country by pack mules, then took the water again around by Gulf of Mexico and up the Mis-

Mississippi to St. Louis, Mo. Made various other trips to California. He took his family in 1862 across the plains in an ox wagon. In 1866 came back to Missouri with horse teams and again in the fall of 1888 (after his wife's death) went by railroad to visit his only daughter, Mrs. Butler, in California. Again in about nine years he visited, (going by rail), his son Lewis in Nebraska, and went on to California, going back to Missouri to his home with the younger son Edward. Then on November 1, 1907, he left Missouri again to spend the ensuing winter with his two sons near Elk City, Okla., expecting to return in the early spring, but in the meantime his son Lewis, whom he was then with, sold out in Oklahoma and commenced immediately preparations to move to Oregon, which they did in March or thereabouts, and settled near the town of Vale in eastern Oregon. Here in his 89th year Stillman Mansur entered a homestead of 160 acres of land in his own name, but died November 6, 1909, lacking two months and eleven days of being ninety years old. He was buried in the cemetery near Vale, Oregon. He lived for a great number of years in strong hope of eternal life, having lived in harmony with his profession, viz.: being in the Kingdom in the Church of Christ, being inducted therein by repentance, confession and immersion. In his death ended the work and life of an illustrious family which (family of 8 boys and 4 girls) was on the stage of action for more than 100 years.—(Written by his son, Edward E. Mansur.)

ELIZABETH HARL was born in Osage County, Missouri, and was reared in Howard County. Her father was a millwright, and built the Gasconade Flouring Mills. He was killed by the Indians, leaving a large family for his wife to rear.

At the annual family reunion, July 19, 1925, at the Isaiah Mansur home, in Ray County, Missouri, John I. Mansur said of her, in a talk: "I always loved to go to Aunt Lizzie's. She was saintlike in character. I used to think that there was nobody in the world that could make as good biscuit as she did. When you would break open the hot biscuit and put butter in between, Oh! they were fine."

The author can remember that when she was a little girl, she, too, loved to go to Aunt Lizzie's. She was a frail, delicate little creature, for many years an invalid. I would go and stay until I got so homesick I had to be taken home. Aunt Lizzie was a good cook. She had taught the younger sons to be fine housekeepers and good cooks like her. When she was confined to the bed they never left the house for the day's work until the housework was done for the day, the floors swept and everything in its place. They were all good sons and fine characters. The mother, as well as the father, left her impress upon them.

VI. 1-2-4-7-1. MOSES MANSUR, son of Daniel; born September 23, 1815; died March 4, 1896. Married, July 29, 1841, at Philadelphia, Catherine Hoffman of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

Moses Mansur worked at farming on the homestead until about fifteen years old, when he went to Methuen, Mass., and learned the trade of blacksmithing. About the year 1839 he went to Philadelphia, and went to work for William Beach, a manufacturer of curry-combs. Afterwards he engaged in the business of vise making on his own account, which he continued until 1882, when he gave it up and began the manufacture of curry-combs.

He was of a very retiring disposition, rarely speaking unless spoken to, and of domestic tastes. He lived a quiet, uneventful life, and died in Philadelphia, March 4, 1896, in the eighty-first year of his age.

Catherine Hoffman, wife of Moses Mansur, was born at Windsor Forge, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, January 15, 1816. Her father's name was John Hoffman, and her mother's name was Elizabeth Hamilton.

She went to Philadelphia in 1839. After the death of her husband in 1896, she removed to Royersford, Pa., and resided there with her daughter, Annie Elizabeth Cahill, until her death, March 23, 1899.

Children (all but the eldest born in Philadelphia): 1-2-4-7-1-1. John Hoffman; born May 25, 1842. 2. Annie Elizabeth; born May 23, 1845. 3. George Washington; born October 23, 1848; he learned the trade of gas-meter making and worked at it until his death, February 2, 1872; he was of a bright, cheerful disposition, and his early death was much regretted by all who knew him; he was unmarried. 4. Charles Hunter; born August 29, 1851. 5. Catherine L.; born July 15, 1856; died April 10, 1859. 6. Warren Bailey; born January 26, 1860.

VI. 1-2-4-7-2. LUCINDA MANSUR, daughter of Daniel; born at Dracut, Mass., August 19, 1817. She never married but remained at home. Being a capital nurse, she was in great demand in time of sickness among the other members of the family. She made her home in Methuen from 1834 to 1862, and after that returned to Dracut, and the only time she was ever away from home for any length of time was in 1846, when she went to Philadelphia to visit her brother Moses, and remained there nearly a year. She made her home in Dracut on the old homestead, the home of her grandfather, and died there April 21, 1906.

VI. 1-2-4-7-4. WILLIAM MANSUR, son of Daniel; born December 18, 1821, at Dracut; died there February 26, 1879. Married, December 30, 1845, Jerusha Frances Hickok of Middlebury, Vt.

William Mansur was a machinist and followed the trade for many years. In 1862 he bought the old homestead, and cultivated it until his death. He lived a quiet, retired life, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Jerusha Frances Hickok, wife of William Mansur, was a descendant of Samuel Sherman, brother of Roger Sherman, who signed the Declaration of Independence. She was born in Shoreham, Vt., March 9, 1819, but spent the first 18 years of her life in Middlebury, Vt. She went to Lowell, Mass., in 1838, and resided there until her marriage in 1845. She then removed to Methuen, Mass., where she lived about 17 years, or until 1862, when her husband bought the old homestead at Dracut, Mass., where she resided until her death September 20, 1909.

Children (all born in Methuen): 1-2-4-7-4-1. Mary Frances; born December 8, 1846; died April 7, 1847. 2. Clara Inez; born June 28, 1849. 3. Myra Agnes; born March 7, 1851.

VI. 1-2-4-7-5. AARON MANSUR, son of Daniel; born at Dracut, Mass., June 23, 1824. He learned the trade of carriage building and carried on the business in Haverhill, Mass., with his brother Charles. On February 25, 1850, he disappeared, leaving nothing behind to show what had become of him. His relatives were greatly alarmed, and made every effort by advertisement and otherwise to discover his whereabouts, but without avail. It remained a mystery for nearly eight years, when one morning he walked unto the house of his brother Moses, in Philadelphia. After remaining a few days he left, June, 1858, ostensibly to visit his folks in Dracut, Mass., but he never reached there and has never been heard of since. On February 11, 1858, he married Martha Jane Dollins of Richmond, Ky., who after her husband's disappearance in 1858 was married to Charles G. Renfro.

VI. 1-2-4-7-6. CHARLES MANSUR, son of Daniel; born at Dracut, Mass., January 15, 1827; died February 21, 1897. Married, April 19, 1849, Lucinda C. Whittier of Haverhill, Mass.

Charles Mansur learned carriage building, and after finishing in his trade, went to Haverhill, Mass., and established himself in business there with his brother Aaron, continuing until his brother's disappearance, when he carried it on alone for many years.

Like his brothers, he was of a retiring disposition, but had a large circle of friends, and possessed the entire respect of the community in which he lived. He lived in Haverhill over 50 years.

Lucinda C. Whittier, wife of Charles Mansur, was born February 2, 1832, in Haverhill, Mass. She was the daughter of William Whittier and Nancy Dannels Whittier, both of Haverhill, Mass. She lived all her life in Haverhill, and died there January 10, 1902.

Children (born in Haverhill): 1-2-4-7-6-1. Charles Kendall; born February 27, 1850. 2. George Henry; born October 26, 1854. 3. Moses Bailey; born September 29, 1857; died June 1, 1859. 4. Frank Daniel; born August 28, 1863.

VI. 1-2-4-9-4. ELIPHALET RICHARDSON MANSUR, son of John Harris Mansur; born August 3, 1825, or 1826; shoemaker of Methuen; married Rebecca G. Sawyer (age 34) of Methuen, daughter of Aaron and Sarah Sawyer, November 5, 1847.

Child: 1-2-4-9-4-1. A son; born October 24, 1848.

Letter from Granville Mansur, son of Holton:

"My grandfather, John Mansur, moved from Massachusetts to the wilderness of Maine about the beginning of the present century, and settled in what was then called Lee Plantation, now the town of Monroe. As he left a large family of boys, there are quite a number of that name now scattered all over the country. If I had thought about these things in my young days, I could have got much information from my grandmother (Susanna Morrill Mansur) for she lived to a good old age, in the possession of all her faculties.

"I thought she was one of the best grandmothers that ever lived. When a boy it was my delight to visit her room at the old homestead and hear her talk about old times. She remembered distinctly the 'dark day' of 1780, when people had to burn candles in the middle of the day; the cattle all came up to the barns, and the birds and fowls all went to roost. The day was followed by a night of Egyptian darkness. This was a phenomenon I have never heard satisfactorily explained.

"I heard my grandmother tell one story that made a deep impression on my mind, and as it borders on the marvelous, I will repeat it:

"She had a large family of boys, and the oldest one went to the state of Ohio when quite a young man, a great undertaking in those days, requiring weeks of weary travel across the country. After he had been gone several months, she was upstairs weaving one afternoon, when she heard a terrible groan, like someone in great distress. It sounded in the room below. She rushed down, but found the children all right. Then she heard it again, and it sounded out of doors. Supposing that one of the boys who were there at work was badly hurt, she rushed to the door, but they were all right and had heard nothing. As she closed the door, she heard three sharp raps, directly under her feet. As near as they could tell, this happened the very day and hour when her son was struggling for his life in the waters of the Ohio River, where he was drowned.

"I am descended on my mother's side from Lord Granville of England, and that is how I came by my name. He had two sons, George and Thomas Granville. One of them came to America and married here. About the time I was born there was the report that there was a great fortune in England coming to the Granville heirs, but alas! it never materialized, and I got nothing for my name.

(Signed) GRANVILLE MANSUR."

On the breaking out of the Civil War, Mr. Mansur returned to Houlton and enlisted as a musician in the first Maine Cavalry, October 19, 1861 (discharged on August 26, 1862), and served until military bands were abolished by Congress, when he again enlisted and was commissioned as first lieutenant in Company A, Second Maine Cavalry, December 1, 1863, and was discharged honorably from the service December 6, 1865. Received a commission as captain for gallant service in the field.

His father offered him $30,000 not to enlist, which he refused.

After the war he engaged in business at Houlton, Me., for a short period and later at Utica, N. Y. In 1872 he connected himself with F. A. Kennedy & Co., at Cambridgeport, Mass., and started the cracker business with a partner in 1881 at Charlestown, under the firm name of Mansur & Whiting. The firm was afterward changed to the Hodges-Mansur Company, and later in 1890 to the United States Biscuit Company, of which he was made manager. John H. Wright was a dry goods merchant, and for a time carried on the business in partnership with his brother-in-law, William Mansur. He died July 11, 1846.

Mrs. Wright married second, July 27, 1847, Dr. Charles Parry of Philadelphia. He was born February 14, 1814, and died August 11, 1861. He was a physician, also vice-president Indianapolis Central Railway. They had no children.

VII. 1-2-2-1-3-2. CLARISSA MANSUR, daughter of Jeremy Mansur; born at Richmond, Ind., June 17, 1817; died April 5, 1898, at St. Louis. Married, September 5, 1837, James C. Ferguson of Indianapolis, Ind., who was born October 5, 1810, in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and died July 24, 1891, at San Jose, Cal.

Mr. Ferguson settled in Indianapolis, Ind., about 1841, and engaged in pork packing; continued therein nearly forty years. At the same time he was identified with a number of its business and social interests, and was one of the prominent men of the community. In the spring of 1881 he removed with his family to Chicago and engaged again in the pork packing business with his two sons-in-law, E. B. Howard and N. M. Neeld. After remaining in Chicago nearly ten years his health failed him and he sought refuge in California, where he died July 24, 1891. He was a member of the Episcopal church.

VII. 1-2-2-1-3-3. WILLIAM MANSUR, son of Jeremy Mansur, born January 20, 1819, in Richmond, Ind., at that time the county seat of Wayne County.

When he was four years old, his father moved to a farm half way between Richmond and Centreville, Ind. Ten years later the family removed to Richmond, Ind., where William remained until he was of age. In 1840 he settled in Indianapolis, and went into the dry goods business with his brother-in-law, John H. Wright. This business he gave up however, and in partnership with his father built in 1847 a pork house, near the old Madison depot in Indianapolis. He was engaged in the pork packing business until 1862, during the latter part of which time he was associated with his brother, Isaiah Mansur. In 1863 Jeremy Mansur, Isaiah Mansur and William Mansur, with others, started the Citizens National Bank of Indianapolis, of which William Mansur acted as director for twenty years. He was at the same time director of the Indianapolis Rolling Mills. For thirty-one years he was also trustee of the Second Presbyterian Church. At the most active period of his life, he served as City Commissioner and as a member of City Councils.

He died in Indianapolis on October 18, 1893, aged 76.

He married, August 17, 1847, Hannah Ann Culley, who was born at Lawrenceburg, Ind., October 23, 1824. She was the oldest daughter of Hon. David Valander and Mary Culley. Henry Ward Beecher married William Mansur and Hannah Ann Culley. Mrs. William Mansur had lived with her parents until her marriage, when she removed to Indianapolis, where she has since resided, corner Illinois Street and 32nd Street, with her son, Charles William Mansur.

Children (born in Indianapolis): 1-2-2-1-3-3-1. Charles William; born August 18, 1848. 2. James Ferguson; born October 13, 1850; died May 30, 1858. 3. David Culley; born March 25, 1853; died November 14, 1861.

Mansur Carr Reid; born September 25, 1867; unmarried; died December 14, 1899, at Tampa, Fla.

VII. 1-2-2-1-3-5. ISAIAH MANSUR, son of Jeremy Mansur; born Richmond, Ind., April 14, 1824. Died December 3, 1880, at Indianapolis. Married June 25, 1862, Amelia Brown of Philadelphia, daughter of Joseph Brown; she was born April 7, 1841, at Philadelphia, and lives 1416 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis.

Mr. Mansur conducted a banking business in Indianapolis for many years.

“Commissary General’s Office,

General Mansur.

“Mr. Isaiah Mansur was appointed to this office on the 15th of April, 1861, and was at once compelled to proceed with all energy to furnish commissary supplies for the thousands of troops who came rushing to the capital in response to the President’s first call. Of course there were no supplies on hand; all had to be purchased, and the Commissary General without having time to arrange the details of his department or study regulations or make contracts or learn any of the intricate duties of his position was required to feed a hungry horde of raw and untrained men just from homes of plenty, and therefore imperious and exacting in their demands, extravagant in their expectation and altogether dainty and particular as to the food they ate.

* * * * *

“If ever a poor fellow unwittingly stirred up a hornet’s nest about his ears without previous notice, it was Mansur when he took upon himself the purveyorship for the military camps at Indianapolis in April, 1861.” Complaint was made and a legislative committee appointed to investigate. After a thorough and impartial investigation the report was submitted and “the Senate took no action but the House evidently swayed to the excitement and prejudices of the turbulent and exacting soldiery, who thought they were being deliberately imposed upon and swindled, adopted a resolution demanding General Mansur's removal.

* * * * *

"General Mansur who had accepted the position merely as a matter of duty and whose standing as a business man of capacity and integrity was impregnably established, very gladly and promptly acted upon the not very gentle or delicate hint of the House, and resigned on the 29th of May, 1861. He had paid all or nearly all of his bills out of his own pocket, for the State had no money then; he had furnished the best he could get and at reasonable prices, although the coffee turned out to be adulterated, but the five or six thousand men in camp had to have ground coffee or none, as they had no means to parch or grind it, and as was well remarked at the time, green coffee would have been about as useful to them as so much gravel. At this juncture a spoilt ham would have put the whole camp in a fury.

"It is due General Mansur to say, that he discharged his duties economically and conscientiously, and did all in his power to make the troops feel comfortable and contented. That he did not succeed was due to the captious and complaining disposition of the raw and undisciplined forces he had to supply, more than to any other cause. Six months later, when the nature and realities of camp life came to be a little better understood, not a complaint would have been uttered against him."—Report of W. H. H. Terrell, Adjutant Gen., Vol. I., Indiana, War of the Rebellion.

ZOPHAR M. MANSUR
1843-1914
Lieutenant-Governor of Vermont

Married Charles Blake of Derby, Vt., who was killed at the battle of Winchester, Va., September 9 or 19, 1864.

Children: 1-2-2-4-1-5-1. Charles E. Blake. 2. Harry W. Blake. 3. Edward J. Blake. 4. Arthur M. Blake.

VII. 1-2-2-4-1-10. ZOPHAR M. MANSUR, son of Warren Mansur; born in Morgan, Vt., November 19 or 23, 1843; married Nellie L. Newhall of Norway, Me., August 16, 1868. Died March 12, 1914.

Colonel Mansur located at Island Pond in 1866, where he held the office of Postmaster from February, 1867, until December, 1884. In 1911 he was president of the National Bank of Derby Line, Vt.

Zophar M. Mansur is thus referred to in an article in "The Vermonter," a monthly magazine published at St. Albans, Vt.:

"The Hon. Z. M. Mansur is admirably equipped for the responsible duties of this office (Collector of Customs, District of Memphremagog, Vt.).* His experience in the government service and his business ability render his selection most fitting. Colonel Mansur is one of Vermont's honored Union Veterans, and an empty sleeve testifies to his gallantry and heroism in defense of 'Old Glory.' Colonel Mansur was a student of Montpelier Union School, a graduate of Derby, Vt., Academy. Enlisted August 13, 1862, in Company K, 10th Vt. Regiment, and served three years (part of the time as corporal). He participated in the battles of The Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Hanover Court House, Cold Harbor, Weldon Railroad, Monocacy and Opequan Creek. In the latter battle, which took place September 19, 1864, he lost his right arm. After being honorably discharged on account of the loss of his arm, he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1875. He was subsequently Postmaster at Island Pond and Deputy Collector of Customs in charge of the port of Island Pond under Harrison's administration. Colonel Mansur was elected State's Attorney of Essex County in 1886, Representative from Brighton in the Legislature of 1886, Senator from Essex County in 1888, president of the Vermont Officers' Reunion Society in 1889, Department Commander G. A. R. in 1892, and president of the Sons of the American Revolution (of Vermont) in 1894.

"Colonel Mansur was elected Lieutenant-Governor of Vermont, in 1894. He has settled more estates and effected the sale of more real estate than any other man in Essex County. He is one of the trustees of the Soldiers' Home at Bennington, Vt., director of the National Bank of Derby Line, Vt."

*Appointed October 1, 1897.

VII. 1-2-2-6-2-1. ALVAH MANSUR, son of Alvah Mansur; born December 5, 1833, at Lowell, Mass. Died at Los Angeles, Cal., January 8, 1898. Married at Homer, N. Y., October 1, 1863, Angeline P. Blockinton of Moline, Ill., who died in Kansas City March 17, 1870.

Mr. Mansur was educated at the Lawrence Academy, Groton, Mass., the same school which his cousin, the late Hon. Charles H. Mansur, attended. After completing his education he became connected with a wholesale hardware house in New York City, and represented them in the West. His first business venture was in the hardware business in Moline, Ill. In 1859 he became connected with the plow manufacturer, Mr. John Deere. At the breaking out of the war he enlisted in the 19th Illinois Infantry and served with the rank of lieutenant. After the war he went West and engaged in mining in Central City, Colo., and served two terms in the Legislature of that State.

ALVAH MANSUR

In 1869 he formed a partnership with Deere & Co. of Moline, Ill., and established the house of Deere, Mansur & Co. at Kansas City. In 1874 he opened the house of Deere, Mansur & Co. in St. Louis, Mr. L. B. Tebbetts, his brother-in-law, being associated with him. In 1890 the firm of Deere, Mansur & Co. was dissolved, Deere & Co., taking the Kansas City business, and Mr. Mansur and Mr. Tebbetts the St. Louis business.

In 1876 Deere & Co. and Mr. Mansur organized the Deere & Mansur Co. at Moline, Ill., for the purpose of manufacturing corn planters. This institution has since taken a prominent place in manufacturing industries of this country, until today it is the largest concern of its kind in existence. At the time of his death, which occurred January 8, 1898, at Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. Mansur was president of the Mansur-Tebbetts Implement Co. of St. Louis and Dallas, Texas; president of the Mansur-Tebbetts Carriage Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis; vice-president of the Deere & Mansur Co. of Moline; president of the Charter Oak Stove & Range Co., St. Louis, and president or director of a large number of other business institutions. He also was largely interested in the lead and zinc mining operations in Missouri, and was a man of affairs generally. His estate was estimated at four million dollars.

Mr. Mansur was a man of strong and lovable character, with a deep sense of his obligations in every position of trust, and was one upon whom many leaned for advice and counsel in times of doubt and stress.

Child: 1-2-2-6-2-1-1. Nell Blockinton; born July 15, 1864.

Amy Louise Mansur; born July 9, 1879; died August 12, 1880. 4. Clarence Whiston Mansur; born January 11, 1888.

Wilton, N. H., October 27, 1925.

Dear Miss Ellis:

Your letter of recent date was duly received. It seems to me that, in the history you are gathering facts for, it would be well to say a good word for our great-grandfather, Stephen Mansur.

I believe that for a man of his day, he was rather a remarkably strong man, and quite a scholar. Some of the records in his old Bible are in very fine penmanship. My father, Gilman R. Mansur, cared for him during his later years.

When asked to contribute to lightning rods for the new church edifice at the Centre (Wilton), then just completed, he, having already made a contribution, remarked, "There! You've been and built a meeting house and dedicated it to God Almighty, and you don't dare trust Him with it." Thus showing his abiding faith in some higher power than natural causation to control even the storms.

William Mansur was a member of the Baptist Church.

My father, Gilman R. Mansur, was also a religious man, and never used profane language to my knowledge. He, as also my mother, was a member of the Bowdoin St. Swedenborgian Church, Boston, Mass., although both were quite good in attendance at the First Congregational Unitarian Church, Wilton Centre.

Gilman R. and James E. were employed at Chickering's piano factory; James E. practically all his life. Father settled in Wilton on the farm formerly occupied by his grandfather Stephen and was a farmer and vegetable grower, who retailed his produce locally. His son, Clarence W. Mansur, is a trusted employee of the General Electric Company, Syndicate, U. S. A. Uncle James was in the Civil War and served under McClellan in the Peninsular campaign, and came through without a scratch. Could never get him to say much about his military experience. In his early life he went one voyage around the Horn to San Francisco as a sailor.

Uncle Henry Ware Mansur was also in the Civil War, and as you probably know, in the firm of Stults & Mansur, 56 Elm St., Boston, Mass. There was also another Henry Mansur, postmaster at Brattleboro, Vt. I do not know just who his father was, but think he was another grandson of Stephen.

Within about a year, a Mr. D. P. Manser died at Everett, Mass., who was a member of the fire department. On the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument at Malden, Mass., I have noticed the name of John Manser, who was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, who I believe was a descendant of the first William Mansur, who settled at Dracut, Mass.

Cousin Otis Edwin was admitted to membership in the Swedenborgian Church, where I was also baptized when a child. But for about twenty years my name has been upon the church book of the First Congregational Church, Wilton Centre, N. H. Cousin Otis told me in 1905, when he visited us in the East, that he had become a strong temperance man, not having drunk even a glass of beer for eight years; this occurred in a city (Moline, Ill.) where he said the saloons kept open every day in the week. What a difference now and then in our country, and what an improvement!

Yours sincerely,

GILMAN EDWIN MANSUR.

VII. 1-2-2-6-3-3. JAMES EDWIN MANSUR, son of John Taylor Gilman Mansur; born ———. Married, ———. Lived in Boston.

Child: 1-2-2-6-3-3-1. Otis Edwin Mansur; born June 25, 1867, in Boston; died May 29, 1920.

He married Florence Kerns, daughter of E. L. Kerns of Moline, Ill., February 12, 1913. In 1902 Mr. Mansur went to Moline as secretary of the Velie Carriage Company, upon the organization of that company, having previously resided in Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis. Upon organization of the Velie Motors Corporation, he was made a director and secretary of the company, capacities in which he was serving at the time of his death.

He was a charter member of the Moline Rotary Club, a member and director of the Moline Commercial Club, also of the Busy Men's Class of the First Congregational Church. As a Mason, he was identified with the Blue Lodge, the Commandery, and the Shrine. He was prominent in Y. M. C. A. work and Boy Scouts Council, and Red Cross work.

The Moline Daily Dispatch says: "Mr. Mansur was a man of sterling worth, conscientious in his duty to his company, his community and to his friends. He was a hard worker, a man of unusual ability and sound judgment. He was modest and retiring in disposition, yet possessed of rare aggressiveness in accomplishments in his quiet and forceful way. Mr. Mansur was not so much of a talker as he was a doer. His life was one of service for others."

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-1. CHARLES HARLEY MANSUR, son of Charles Mansur; born in Philadelphia March 6, 1835. He received a common school education, and later entered Lawrence Academy, Groton, Mass. About 1844 his father, Charles, with his four brothers, Isaiah, Moody, Stillman and Porter, emigrated to Ray County, Missouri, taking Charles H. with them. He subsequently studied law and was admitted to the bar at Richmond, Mo., August 30, 1856. In 1856 he removed to Chillicothe, Mo., where he afterward resided. He was a member of the Board of Education of Chillicothe for eight years; was a member of the Democratic State Central Committee from 1864 until 1868; was a delegate to the National Democratic Conventions of 1868-84; was prosecuting attorney of Livingston County from 1875 until 1879; was a delegate at large to the Democratic Convention at Chicago in 1884; in 1872 was a joint nominee of the Democracy and Liberal Republicans in the Tenth Missouri District, and was again the nominee of the Democracy in the same district in 1880; was elected as a Democrat to the 50th Congress from the Second Missouri District, comprising the counties of Carroll, Chariton, Grundy, Linn, Monroe, Livingston, Randolph, and Sullivan, and was re-elected to the 51st and 52nd Congress. He failed to be elected to the 53rd Congress, and was appointed by President Cleveland Second Comptroller of the Treasury, which office he filled until his death, which occurred April 16, 1895, at the Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C.

He was regarded as one of the finest orators in Congress. He was a man of most genial and generous disposition, and was well beloved by all who knew him. His namesakes over the country are numbered by dozens. He is buried in Sunny Slope Cemetery, Richmond, Mo., and his wife lies beside him.

He was a man of large size, being six feet two inches in height, and weighing about 220 pounds.

He married, September 15, 1859, Damáris Brashear, of Palmyra, Mo.

Children: 1-2-2-6-4-1-1. Jessie Rebecca; born August 5, 1860. 2. Charles Winthrop; born October 29, 1861.

DAMA'RIS MCKEAN BRASHEAR was born August 18, 1840, Palmyra, Mo. She was the daughter of Thomas Brashear, born September 27, 1804, near Maysville, Ky., and his wife, Sarah Harmon, born April 13, 1807; died September 2, 1892; married, February 11, 1835. Dama'ris Brashear was named for an aunt. The story runs that there was a discussion over what the aunt should be named and her parents could not agree. One night her father dreamed that he would find her name in the Bible. In the morning he opened the Bible to a page in the New Testament which named Dama'ris, the Greek woman, as one of Paul's converts at Athens. The name has come down in different generations since. Dama'ris Brashear had gone to Chillicothe, Mo., to teach in the public schools. One day she and a friend went up town and walked past a barber shop. A young lawyer had recently come to town, and was waiting inside the shop for his turn in the barber's chair. He looked out of the window at Dama'ris as she passed, and remarked, "There goes my wife." The young man, Charles Harley Mansur, later was introduced to her, and married her a year later. She was a capable woman of literary tastes, and was a great reader all of her life. She accompanied her husband to Washington during his residence there. She was intensely southern in her make-up, and never was "Reconstructed." She belonged to the Christian Church. After the death of her husband she resided with her daughter, Jessie Mansur Ewing, until her own death, March 19, 1923. She was a beautiful, aristocratic-looking woman. The Brashears were French Huguenots.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-4. WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON ("TIP") MANSUR, son of Charles Mansur; born at St. Louis November 6, 1840. Married, December 22, 1869, Elizabeth Hughes, daughter of James Hughes and wife, Elvira Smith, of Ray County, Missouri, who was born April 21, 1845. Removed to Ray County in 1844. Enlisted in Confederate service and served during the war. Removed to Salisbury, Mo., in 1876, and with Burnett Hughes, his brother-in-law, organized the bank there. Removed to Chillicothe, Mo., in 1881, and purchased an interest in the Chillicothe Savings Association, serving as president 36 years. Sunday-school worker in Southern Methodist church. He served as county superintendent of all Sunday schools. He is a great reader, a well informed man and an interesting conversationalist.

William H. H. Mansur, known as "Tip," was 2nd lieutenant in Co. C, Third Missouri Infantry, First Missouri Brigade, under Colonel Ben Rives and General Francis Cockrell, (afterwards U. S. Senator for thirty years from Missouri), Confederate service. He was later made captain, and commanded Colonel Rives' company during two campaigns, at the siege of Vicksburg and the campaign in Tennessee, which included Altoona and Franklin.

He was in the battles of Carthage, Drywood, Wilson Creek, Lexington, Pea Ridge, Corinth, Iuca, Grand Gulf, Champion Hills or Baker Creek, Big Black Bridge, Vicksburg, Altoona and Franklin, Tenn. He was struck five times during siege of Vicksburg and shot through the thigh at Franklin. His clothing was shot through on a number of other occasions. He was captured and sent to Fort Donelson. The following spring he was exchanged, and as he was wounded, was sent to Chimborazo Hospital. Later he was returned to his command at Mobile, Ala., and at the close of the war was paroled at Selma, Ala. Here he remained for several years.

He was a little past twenty years of age when he enlisted in 1861, and served through the entire war with honor.

After his return to Missouri he traveled for a St. Louis dry goods firm, living in St. Louis until 1876.

Children: 1-2-2-6-4-4-1. James Hughes; born April 21, 1871, St. Louis. 2. Charles Marvin; born December 21, 1875, St. Louis; unmarried. 3. Guy Hampton; born March 10, 1877, Salisbury, Mo. 4. Robert Stockton; born July 23, 1879, Salisbury, Mo. 5. Lulu May; born October 29, 1883, at Chillicothe; unmarried. 6. Henry Allen; born August 31, 1886, at Chillicothe.

ELIZABETH (BETTY) HUGHES, daughter of James Hughes and wife, Elvira Smith; born April 21, 1845, in Ray County, Missouri, on the farm of her father nine miles northeast of Richmond. She attended country schools, and when about thirteen years of age she spent two years at Baptist College, Huntsville, Mo. Later she entered Mrs. Cunningham's Young Ladies' Seminary at Richmond. On December 22, 1869, she and "Tip" Mansur were married and went to St. Louis. Two sons were born there. In 1876 they moved to Salisbury, where they lived for six years; here the third and fourth sons were born. In 1881 the family moved to Chillicothe, Mo., where they continued to live. Here a daughter, Lulu May, and the youngest child, Henry Allen, were born. Betty Mansur has spent a very active and useful life. Of a social, hospitable nature, her home has always been open to friends, relatives and especially the Methodist preacher. Mrs. Mansur has been, ever since the year following her marriage, an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, serving for many years as the first president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society in her church. She has always been active in church, social and literary circles. She helped to organize and was a charter member of the XIX Club, the most prominent literary club of the city, and served as its president. She has served in her home as a devoted, unselfish wife and mother. She is loved not alone by her family, but by all who know her. In December, 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Mansur celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-4-2. CHARLES MARVIN MANSUR, son of William H. H. (Tip) Mansur; born in St. Louis, Mo., December 21, 1873. In 1876 he moved with his parents to Salisbury, Mo., where he attended public school.

In 1881 the family moved to Chillicothe, Mo., where Charles continued his schooling in the public schools, later attending Fleet's Military Academy at Mexico, Mo.

He spent several years in the Chillicothe Savings Association, the bank of which his father was president. On account of his health he went to Texas and Arizona, later locating in Mangum, Okla., where he spent a few years.

In 1908 he went to Polson, Mont., joining his brother, Guy, and taking lots in the new townsite, opened up by the Government. He also took up a homestead near Polson, having drawn a claim in the United States land drawing.

He was elected Mayor of Polson in 1910 and elected to the Montana State Legislature from Flathead County in 1915. In 1916 he was elected Presidential Elector from Montana. When the electors met in Helena to cast the Montana vote for President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall, Charles M. Mansur was chosen the messenger to carry the vote to Washington and deliver it to the President of the Senate and Congress.

Mr. Mansur made proof on his homestead March 9, 1925, and continues to live near Polson, Mont. He has never married.

VII. 1-2-6-4-4-3. GUY HAMPTON MANSUR, son of William H. H. (Tip) Mansur; born March 10, 1877, in Salisbury, Mo., where he lived until the family moved to Chillicothe, Mo., in 1881.

Guy attended the public school in Chillicothe until he was sixteen, then he went to St. Louis, in the fall of 1894, and attended Manual Training School for a year. He then went to work for the Mansur & Tebbetts Carriage Manufacturing Company of St. Louis, remaining with the firm until they sold out to the John Deere Plow Company, and continuing with them until 1906.

He then went to Dallas, Tex., where he was employed in the planing mill business for one year. In 1908 he went to Polson, Mont., where the Government was opening up town lots for entry. He secured several town lots and later took up a homestead eight miles from Polson. After proving up on the claim of 160 acres, he sold it, and was engaged in general construction work in and around Polson.

In 1924 he went to Longview, Wash., and later to Portland, Ore., where he is now residing. He has never married.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-4-4. ROBERT STOCKTON MANSUR, son of W. H. H. (Tip) and Elizabeth Mansur, was born at Salisbury, Mo., July 23, 1879; he moved with his parents to Chillicothe, Mo., in 1881.

He attended the public schools in Chillicothe until he was sixteen years of age, when he took up the drug business.

In 1899, he went to Telluride, Colo., to accept a position as clerk in a drug store. A year later he went to Ogden, Utah, where he spent several years as a drug clerk. In 1902 he engaged in the drug business in Minneapolis, Minn.

On April 8, 1903, he married Elizabeth Finks of New Franklin, Mo., daughter of Major Joseph Hughes Finks, a prominent banker and politician.

In the year 1905 Robert S. Mansur established the Mansur Drug Co. at Seventh and Robert Sts., St. Paul, Minn. In July, 1919, this corporation was sold to the Owl Drug Co. of California and Mr. and Mrs. Mansur moved to San Diego, Cal., where they now reside, Mr. Mansur being engaged in the tea and coffee business. Mrs. Mansur is a D. A. R. and U. D. C. They have no children.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-4-5. LULU MAY MANSUR, daughter of W. H. H. (Tip) Mansur; born October 9, 1883, Chillicothe, Mo. She attended the public schools and completed the high school course in 1901. In 1902-3 she attended Central College at Lexington, Mo., and later enrolled as a student at Randolph-Macon, Lynchburg, Va., but because of ill health was unable to remain for the entire year. In the summer of 1909, she and her mother attended the Seattle Exposition and then went to Polson, Mont., a village on the Flathead Reservation at the foot of beautiful Flathead Lake, where two brothers, Charles and Guy, were located. While there the Government held land drawings at Missoula and Kalispell, Mont. Lulu May and Charles drew numbers in the land drawing. The following spring of 1910, she returned and selected a claim of 160 acres of grazing land. She took up her residence on the homestead, forty miles from a railroad and five miles from Polson, where steamboats plied Flathead Lake on the north, and six-horse stage coaches made daily trips of thirty-five miles connecting with the Northern Pacific Railroad on the south. She commuted on the land after a residence of fourteen months, at the end of which time she returned to the home of her parents at Chillicothe, where she continues to reside. She belongs to the XIX Club, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and to the Southern Methodist Church. She is superintendent of the Cradle Roll of the Sunday School. She is a fine musician, having taken courses in a Chicago Conservatory of Music, and excels as a pianist.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-4-6. HENRY ALLEN MANSUR, son of W. H. H. (Tip) Mansur; born August 31, 1886, Chillicothe, Mo. Educated in public schools, graduated from high school 1906. Graduated from law department of Missouri University, taking his LL. B. degree in 1910. He was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He passed the State bar examinations at Jefferson City the same year, and was admitted to the bar in Columbia. He then went to St. Louis and entered the employ of Whitaker & Co., bond brokers. He remained with them for one year and then was employed in the legal department of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company. In 1914 he went to Butte, Mont., remaining until America entered the World War, when he went to the First Officers' Training Camp at the Presidio, San Francisco, Cal., where he remained until discharged. In 1918, he went to work for the Dorsey Land & Lumber Co., Texarkana, Ark. In 1925 he resigned and accepted a position with the American Crossarm and Conduit Co., and is now in charge of their plant, located in North Kansas City, Mo. He is unmarried.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-5. EMELINE MANSUR, always called Emma, daughter of Charles Mansur, born in St. Louis, November 17, 1842. Died November 22, 1894, in Marshall, Mo. Married, June 26, 1860, Robert Henry Ellis, Richmond, Mo.

Emma Mansur was educated in private schools in early childhood. When about fifteen years of age she entered Mrs. Cunningham's Seminary for young ladies in Richmond, where she spent two years. Hers was a sweet, gentle, Christian spirit, and she was loved by all who knew her. After all these years her friends in speaking of her say, "She was so sweet, I just loved her."

She loved all things that are beautiful, books and flowers and music. She was a good wife and mother, neighbor and friend, and helped everyone in every way that lay in her power. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and at one time belonged to the Eastern Star. She is buried in Ridge Park Cemetery, Marshall, Mo.

Children: 1-2-2-6-4-3-1. Cora May Ellis; born August 14, 1861. 2. Emma Mansur Ellis; born November 1, 1863. 3. Mary Rebecca Ellis; born July 21, 1867. 4. Fannie Hortense Ellis; born January 31, 1869. 5. Rosa Herndon Ellis; born December 6, 1874.

VII. 1-2-2-6-4-5-3. MARY REBECCA ELLIS, daughter of Emma Mansur; born July 21, 1867, in Richmond, Ray County, Missouri. Never married; educated in the high schools in Richmond and Chillicothe, Mo.; graduated from the Chillicothe High School in 1887. In 1892 took a course in the Chillicothe Normal. Taught school for a number of years, beginning as substitute in Richmond public schools; then in country schools in Ray and Carroll Counties, then teaching for two years in Marshall, Mo., public schools. Her health failing she was compelled to stop teaching. All of her life she has had to combat ill health.

For several years she was deputy recorder in Saline County, Mo. She took up bookkeeping and was assistant secretary of the Missouri Central and National Savings and Loan Association for several years. She then turned to abstract work, largely making a set from the county records of Saline County, Missouri, at the same time making abstracts. For a number of years she did general office work in real estate offices; also abstract work in Marshall, Mo.

She has been active in church work in the Christian Church ever since she identified herself with it at the age of eighteen. She has taught in the Sunday Schools in all departments, for several years teaching a large Bible class for women at the Union Avenue Christian Church in St. Louis, Mo. She served officially for years in the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, in local societies, district, and state boards. For five years was on the State Executive Board, and for three years she was president of the Fifth (St. Louis) District of Missouri Christian Woman's Board of Missions, doing all of the district field work, and some state field work. She lived in East St. Louis in 1904-5, during which time she contributed feature articles to one of the city papers, and was active as one of the officers in the W. C. T. U. Society. In July, 1905, she removed to St. Louis, Mo., but in the following January she went to Denver, Colo., where she lived for about eighteen months. She returned to St. Louis in 1906 and continued to reside there until 1916, when she went to Kansas City, Mo., entering the employ of the W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Co., the largest concern of its kind in America. Here she assisted in establishing a clipping department in which she stayed for several years, the last five of which she was manager of the department. Ill health forced her out of this work.

She has been a great reader and a club woman all of her life. She is an active member of the Kansas City Quill Club, serving as corresponding secretary in 1924, winning several prizes and

She is the publisher of this book. Her address is 4111 Warwick Boulevard, Kansas City, Mo.

THE ELLIS FAMILY.

Bishop Meade lists the Ellis family among the old and leading families of Virginia. They were among the very earliest settlers; the Basye, Taylor, Shelton, Collier, McClanahan, Peyton, Cocke, Marshall, Binns and Ellis families intermarried in Virginia. Robert Ellis of Sussex County, Virginia, married ———, and had a son Benjamin, who went to Alabama. He married a second time, the widow Barker, who had one son, Nicholas Barker. Issue of the second marriage was Mahala P. Ellis, who married George Keyes of Kentucky; had no children; Miranda Ellis who married John Pitt, a direct descendant of William Pitt, the Prime Minister of England, son of Lord Chatham; Robert Binns Ellis, who married Elizabeth Collier, daughter of Franklin Collier of Kentucky. Robert Ellis removed to Kentucky from Virginia. He married a third time, Nancy Williamson, a widow with one daughter, Tennessee Williamson. To this third marriage two daughters were born, Rebecca and Lucy. Rebecca married but left no children. Lucy Ellis married Mr. Beaumont of Clarksville, Tenn.

"Robert Henry Ellis, son of Doctor Robert Binns Ellis and wife, Elizabeth Collier, was born January 8, 1835, near Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky. His father removed with him to Missouri in 1837 and he received his early education in the towns of Richmond and Gallatin. When his father went to live in St. Louis, he was placed under the charge and instruction of Doctor Hiram P. Goodrich, then a prominent educator of that city. In 1850 he accompanied his father to California and there finished his education. After spending seven years in the State of California, he returned to Richmond, Mo., and engaged in merchandising in the firm Ringo, Ball and Ellis, until the war began in 1861. He enlisted in the State Militia under the first call of Governor Claib F. Jackson and remained in service as long as General Sterling Price was in Missouri. He organized a company of which he became captain. In 1860 Mr. Ellis was a candidate on the Breckenridge Democratic ticket for Representative of Ray County in the General Assembly and was defeated by a majority of only thirty-five votes. In 1860 he married Emma Mansur, daughter of Charles Mansur, Esq., of Ray County. Five children are the result of this union, all of whom are now living. Mr. Ellis was admitted to practice law at the Bar of Richmond in 1867, and pursued the legal calling for about two years in Richmond, then removed to the farm where at present he resides. Captain Ellis is descended from one of the best of old Virginia's families, and is a gentleman in every way worthy of his ancestry."—History of Ray County, Missouri.

History of Ray County, Missouri, page 284, Confederate Soldiers, gives Adrian C. Ellis, Company A, 3rd Regiment, Missouri Infantry, Henry Ellis, Missouri State Guards. Henry Ellis crossed the plains to California twice; the first time in 1850, when he accompanied his father, Dr. Robert B. Ellis, who was made captain of the train. Henry remained in California for seven years, returning to Richmond by way of Panama and Cuba. In 1863 he made the second trip, this time remaining three years. He returned overland by way of Helena, Mont., where he stopped for a while. From Montana he came by boat on the Missouri river, to Richmond, Mo.

Robert Henry Ellis studied medicine but never practiced outside of the family connection. He practiced law more or less for many years. He was a Mason. He was a man of much information, and was referred to as an encyclopedia of knowledge. He removed to the farm, Sunnyside, that his wife had inherited from her father, Charles Mansur, when they left Richmond. He died July, 1910; he and his wife are buried in Ridge Park Cemetery, Marshall, Mo.

Robert Binns Ellis, son of Robert Ellis, was born in Sussex County, Virginia, December 4, 1812. When he was six years old, his father removed to Kentucky. Here he was educated, chiefly in Transylvania University at Lexington, from the literary and classical departments of which he was graduated with high honor. After leaving the University he began the study of medicine with the distinguished Doctor Benjamin Dudley for preceptor.

He subsequently went through the usual course of instruction and received the degree of doctor of medicine from the Pennsylvania Medical College. Doctor Ellis came to Ray County in 1837 and located in Richmond, Mo. Here he made a host of friends and rapidly built up a good practice. His success as a physician was such that he gained the confidence of the people all over the county and his services were in constant demand.

His fame as a physician spread through the state, and the extent of his practice was not excelled perhaps by that of any physician in Missouri at that time.

After staying in Richmond for four years, Dr. Ellis removed to the suburbs of the town of Gallatin, Mo., at that time just being built up, and improving a fine farm, established his home upon it, calling it Glen Mary, and always afterward, during his residence in Northwest Missouri, though frequently away traveling with his wife for the benefit of her health, he kept his home upon the farm.

Doctor Ellis was twice elected to the higher branch of the General Assembly of Missouri, and was a member of the National Democratic Convention that nominated James K. Polk for the Presidency at Baltimore in 1844.

His first wife, Elizabeth Collier Ellis, died at Jefferson City, Mo., in 1843, whither she had accompanied her husband, who was then in attendance as a member upon the session of the State Senate.

During his second term as State Senator Dr. Ellis was married again at Jefferson City. The lady becoming his wife this time, Rosa Goodrich, was a daughter of Hiram P. Goodrich, D. D., a distinguished educator and divine of Missouri.

A year later, Dr. Ellis moved to St. Louis and practiced his profession there for several years. During his residence there he delivered a course of lectures to the students of McDowell Medical College upon "Cholera: Its Origin, Progress and Treatment," with particular reference to its ravages at that time in this country. These lectures were delivered in 1848-1849. As an evidence of appreciation of his valuable services, the college conferred the honorary degree of M. D. upon Doctor Ellis, already a graduate of two popular institutions. In 1849 the second Mrs. Ellis died.

In 1850 he went to California, settling at Sacramento, where he practiced medicine until 1860. During this time, he married Sarah Jennie Buckner from Missouri. About 1860 he moved to Carson City, Nev., where the third Mrs. Ellis died, May 17, 1862.

Dr. Ellis was a member of the California Legislature, and was also President of the State Medical University.

Doctor Ellis died at Carson City, Nev., in January 13, 1873, and was buried with Masonic honors. The Legislature adjourned out of respect to the memory of the man who had figured so prominently in the affairs of the State, and attended the funeral in a body. (Ray County History.)

The Ellis coat of arms herewith reproduced is:

Arms: Ermine, a lion passant quadrant gules.

Crest: Out of a ducal coronet or, a lion's head gules crowned.

Motto: Forte et fidele.

Brave and faithful.

Frances M. Smith, the genealogist, says that with the lion and ermine and the ducal coronet it is a distinguished armorial.

Children (by his first wife): Robert Henry Ellis; born January 8, 1835. 2. Mary Elizabeth Ellis, born April 1, 1838. 3. Adrian Collier Ellis; born July 12, 1840. (By his second wife): Sallie; born ———; died November 5, 1852. 4. Rosa Goodrich. (By his third wife): 5. Pearis Buckner; born October 13, 1853. Ada Mahala; born June 19, 1856. 6. John Gass; born December 31, 1857. 7. William Worth; born October 28, 1859. 8. Benjamin Forbes; born February 20, 1861; died August 3, 1861.

COLLIER FAMILY.

Colonel William Collier, born Hertfordshire, England, 1620; died New Kent County, Virginia, 1682, is found to be a citizen of York County, Virginia, in 1670. He removed to New Kent County and, in 1675, he was Colonel of Militia of New Kent. His wife's name was Sallie. He was the father of Charles Collier of King and Queen County, Virginia, who was born in England in 1660, died 1735 in King and Queen County in Virginia; came to the Colonies in the 17th century. He owned large landed estates in York, New Kent, King and Queen and Gloucester Counties. He was very active in public and church affairs. His wife was Mary Evers, born Norfolk, Va., 1665; died 1701, in King and Queen County. She was the daughter of Robert Evers, an honored Burgess for Norfolk. His son, John Collier, of "Porto Bello," King and Queen County, Virginia, born 1685 in Virginia; died 1765 in Virginia. "Porto Bello" was on the York River above Yorktown. Charles and his son, John Collier, were vestrymen of the Lower Parish. Captain John Collier's first wife was Elizabeth Ballard. There were no children. Married a second time, (Mrs.) Elizabeth Ironmonger Gaines; by this marriage had one son, John, born 1707. He married a third time, by which wife he had other children. He inherited "Porto Bello," King and Queen County, and later lived in Hanover County, Virginia. He made a will September 26, 1749, in which he named his sons Thomas, John and Joseph, daughters Elizabeth Ironmonger Collier, Frances and Sally. He speaks of his grandfather Charles Collier of King and Queen.

He was captain in a Virginia regiment in the Carthaganean Expedition, 1740-42. He inherited "Porto Bello" and owned large estates in Isle of Wight and Surrey Counties. (From Colonial Families of the Southern States of America, by Stella Pickett Hardy.) Major John Collier, son of John, son of Captain John of "Porto Bello," Charlotte County, Virginia, born about 1742, served in the Revolutionary War. He married Hannah ———. They had twelve children. The seventh child was Franklin Collier, who married, January 12, 1814, in Bourbon County, Kentucky, Mary M. Basye, daughter of Dr. Elizmond and Nancy McClanahan Basye. Their daughter, Elizabeth Collier, married Dr. Robert Binns Ellis, of Virginia, and Bourbon County, Kentucky. Their eldest son, Henry Ellis, married Emma Mansur, 1860, in Ray County, Missouri. The Colliers served in the early Colonial wars as well as in the Revolution. Captain Thomas Collier, brother of Major John Collier, was a distinguished soldier, as well as Cornelius Collier, James and John. General Tarleton's army was quartered at one time on the farm of Cornelius Collier in Virginia. Major John Collier left a will, signed May 10, 1819, and witnessed by Thomas Collier, John Collier, Jr. (his grandson), and Joseph Morgan. It was probated at the February term of Court, 1820, Nicholas County, Kentucky, and Hamlet and William Collier qualified as executors. In it he names his wife, Hannah, and his children. The following are the children of Major John Collier, originally of Charlotte County, Virginia, later of Nicholas County, Kentucky.

1. Sarah Gaines Collier, married first Benjamin Collier, her cousin, son of Captain Thomas Collier. Issue Elizabeth, who first married John G. Bacon; second marriage Mr. Hutchinson.
2. Lucy Collier, married Mr. Bagby. Issue John C. and James H. Bagby.

9. Polly Collier married first, Mr. Montjoy; second, Nicholas Amos.
10. Cynthia Collier married first, Henry

Finch; second, John Frakes. 11. Permelia Collier married Armistead Hardy. 12. Coleman Collier married Kitty Houston. Franklin Collier served as representative from Nicholas County in Kentucky Legislature, 1805-1809-10.

William Conway and wife had issue: Ann Conway, who married William Branch Osborne, James, Franklin, John M., who married Mary Jane Jackson of St. Louis. Their children were Thomas, Valentine, William A., John H., Robert, Edward Everett, Ann Eliza and Lillie May. Robert's daughter, Mayme, by first wife, married Charles Mansur Goodson. Robert married second time, Emma Mansur Ellis. Edward Everett married Fannie Hortense Ellis. Eliza Collier married Samuel Williams. Their daughter, Henrietta, married Leakin Edward Dorsey. Their son, Charles Anderson Dorsey, married Dora Anna Penny. The Dorseys are descended from the D'Orsay family of France. They came to Maryland and settled on an estate that was named Hockley in the Hole, after the ancestral estate in France. Vast estates and fortune were forfeited by their coming to America. The family made the crossing into Kentucky, thence to Missouri, originally to Pettis county, then to Carroll county. Here Leakin Dorsey improved several hundred acres of land. The place was named Prairie Home. It was here he and his wife, Henrietta Williams Dorsey, lived and died. The place was inherited by the youngest son, Ely Bruce Dorsey, who, with his wife and family, continues to reside there. Franklin Collier's children were Elizabeth, Benjamin, Mary, who married Charles Herndon, and Nancy Franklin, who married James Stevenson of Kentucky, later of Lafayette County, Missouri.

The Collier Coat of Arms:

Arms, Or, a cross fitch, gules, on a canton azure, a castle proper, with a break in the middle thereof, argent. Crest, on a mural crown. Or, with the word St. Sebastean on the circle, a cross fitch of the first, between two wings displayed, pean.

VII. 1-2-2-6-5-9. DAVID ATCHISON MANSUR, son of Moody Mansur; born May 15, 1856, near Russellville, Ray County, Missouri, on a farm.

After leaving school he entered the dry goods business in Russellville, removing in a few years to Hardin, in the same county, where he continued in the same business. For several years he was also engaged in feeding and shipping stock, in the firm of Frazier, Mansur & Alcorn.

In 1894 he sold out his interest in Hardin, and went to Norborne, Carroll County, Missouri, where he bought the old established Norborne Mercantile Company. For more than twenty years he was an influential resident of that community.

In 1920 he sold out his business and removed to Richmond, Mo., where he died December 24, 1924. The Norborne Democrat said at the time of his retirement from business:

"Mr. Mansur has been a valued citizen of our city, always foremost with his time and money in the upbuilding public work and ever ready to give to the material, moral and spiritual welfare of the community. The business he had speaks more than words for the honesty, integrity, fair dealing and reliability of the man."

Mr. Mansur was a Mason, and a member of the Christian Church. He left no children. A child by the first wife died at birth.

David A. Mansur married Maggie Creel, daughter of James Creel of Carroll County. After her death, he married Katherine Rea, also of Carroll County, who died January 29, 1913. In March, 1916, he married Kate Hawkins of Kansas City, Kan., who survives him and resides in Richmond, Mo.

"Alice Mansur Goodson was of staunch Revolutionary stock, combining the firm characteristics of the Puritan ancestors with those of the genuine hospitable Cavalier of Kentucky, possessing heritage of sufficient strength of mind and decision of character in the formation of a strong personality, a laudable invincibility throughout her work, recognized in the Chautauqua Circle, the Daughters of the American Revolution and a thorough co-operation with her church, which was always uppermost in her activities until age and ill health laid upon her its hand of restriction. Her ministering deeds and social life which was spent with us for fifty-five years, we need not dwell upon. Loved and respected, she has passed to a glorious reward above."—Carrollton Democrat.

Mrs. Goodson belonged to the Baptist Church.

John Trotter Goodson, second son of Thomas O. and Nancy Trotter Goodson, was born September 18, 1839. His grandfather, Ensign William Goodson, was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. Thomas O. Goodson died January 4, 1895. He and his wife came to Carroll County, Missouri, in 1834. He attended school at McKendree College, Illinois. For a number of years, he was a member of the dry goods firm of Goodson, Shirkey & Co., Norborne, Mo. In 1877-78, he was tax collector of Carroll County. He belonged to the Baptist Church, and, for many years, he was Superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School in Carrollton, where he lived. He bought and improved a fine farm upon which he built a large, commodious home just outside the limits of Carrollton. He handled fine stock for many years, bringing fine horses from Kentucky. Mr. Goodson was a Mason.

Children: 1-2-2-6-8-1-1. Smith Goodson; born November, 1867. 2. William Otis Goodson; born 1869; died in infancy. 3. Thomas Isaiah Goodson; born April 25, 1871. 4. Charles Mansur Goodson, born 1873. 5. Henry Clay Goodson, born 1875.

VII. 1-2-2-6-8-2. CATHERINE MANSUR, daughter of Isaiah Mansur; born January 16, 1848. Married, January 14, 1869, Ray County, Missouri, Ralph Oliphant, born September 4, 1840, son of Major Alexander Oliphant and wife, Martha MacMekin Nesbitt. Catherine Mansur was educated in the private schools of the times. She, too, as well as her sister Alice, was placed in Mrs. Cunningham's Seminary for Young Ladies in Richmond. The Oliphant family is noted for its entertainment, Caledon Home being the center of hospitality through all its generations. The kindred, friends and strangers alike, delight in and enjoy a visit with these good people. Ralph Oliphant, the father, died February 4, 1919. The daughters, Mary and Cynthia, together with their mother, maintain the home. Since the death of Mansur's wife he has again joined the family circle. He married Katherine Banister, daughter of Amos and Savannah Banister. She died about five years ago. They had no children. Mansur's farm adjoins that of his brother Ralph. Mary and Cynthia are both capable, dependable young women. Catherine Oliphant is honored and loved by her children and all who know her. She and all of her family belong to the Southern Methodist Church. Her address is Richmond, Mo., R. F. D. Susan and Mary belong to the D. A. R.

where they reside. She was a successful trained nurse for several years before her marriage. Mr. Byrd is manager of the Postal Telegraph Company.

VII. 1-2-2-6-8-3. JOHN I. MANSUR, son of Isaiah Mansur; born January 30, 1850, in Ray County, Missouri. Married in Ray County, September 23, 1875, Adaline Keyes, daughter of Frank Keyes and wife, Frances Peters, both of Kentucky. John I. Mansur attended school at the old Richmond College, and then taught school for a few years. After his marriage he went to farming near Norborne, Carroll County, Missouri. He improved this farm and for a number of years he bred and raised fine hogs, specializing in Poland Chinas. The scourge of cholera swept the country, taking almost all of Mr. Mansur's hogs. The next year he sold out his holdings in Carroll County, removed to Ray County, buying a farm near Richmond.

In 1914 he was elected County Recorder of Deeds, in Ray County, for a term of four years. He made his daughter, Lucy Brent Mansur, Deputy Recorder. She was a fine business woman and made a splendid record in the office. She was a lovely Christian character, and had hosts of friends throughout the country, who regretted her sudden and untimely death. At the expiration of his term of office Mr. Mansur retired from business. He and Mrs. Mansur reside in Richmond, Mo. They both belong to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. They are among the most highly respected people of the county.

Children: 1-2-2-6-8-3-1. Daniel Isaiah Mansur; born August 6, 1876, Carroll County, Missouri. 2. Frances Peters Mansur, born September 13, 1878. 3. VII. 1-2-2-6-8-5. DANIEL WEBSTER MANSUR, son of Isaiah Mansur; born August 6, 1853, Ray County, Missouri; married Susan Blackwell, born May 6, 1855, in Carroll County, Missouri; died March 18, 1880, Norborne, Mo.; buried Oak-hill Cemetery, Carrollton, Mo. She was a beautiful and accomplished young woman. He grew up on the farm, and for a few years farmed the land in Carroll County that his father gave to him. He then removed to Norborne, Mo., where he engaged in merchandising, and later in the drug business. He died January 1, 1892, and is buried in the Smith family burying ground, where his mother, Susan Smith Mansur, and his father, Isaiah Mansur, are buried. This plot is situated on what was the Grandmother Rachel Smith's homestead, and adjoined the Mansur land. It is now owned and kept in fine condition by Isaiah Mansur. Here, too, lie his little sister Lyda and his grandmother, Eliza Carlisle Lane. Cynthia Ann Smith, sister of Susan, who helped to rear her children after Susan's death, lies there also.

Children: 1-2-2-6-8-5-1. Eugenia Mansur; born October 11, 1878. 2. Neal Blackwell Mansur; born Norborne, Mo., 1880; died August 9, 1896; buried Oakhill Cemetery, Carrollton, Mo.

Chapeze, born October 27, 1839, in Kentucky, died April 18, 1922, and wife, Mary Keyes, daughter of Frank and Frances Peters Keyes of Kentucky. Mr. Mansur has led a very active life as a farmer, stock dealer and feeder. He and his wife are members of New Hope Methodist Episcopal Church, South; he is on the board of stewards, and is one of the representative citizens of his part of the country. About five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Mansur built a beautiful, modern country home in which they reside near Regal, Ray County, Missouri.

Child: 1-2-2-6-8-6-1. Mary Mansur; born May 24, 1892.

VII. 1-2-2-6-8-7. EUGENIA MANSUR, a twin of Louis Napoleon, daughter of Isaiah Mansur; born March 7, 1856, in Ray County, Missouri; married, May 28, 1874, Gideon B. Shirkey of Rockingham, Va.; died April 15, 1913, Kansas City, Mo. She was a member of the Southern Methodist Church. She was a woman of high ideals, a devoted wife and mother. Mr. Shirkey and daughter Allie, both suffered for years with asthma, Allie preceding her father a few years in death. For many years Mrs. Shirkey traveled about with husband and daughter, seeking a climate that would give the sufferers ease, until the end came. When she was only fourteen years old, herself without a mother, she promised that her cousin, Ida Mansur, a very little girl, should be taken care of. This promise was given to Ida's mother, as she lay upon her deathbed. Quite nobly did she redeem her promise, for when she married she took Ida into her heart and home and educated her. Her home was Ida's home until the latter married. Mr. Shirkey was a merchant at Norborne, Mo. He died several years before his wife died. Allie, the only daughter, graduated from Norborne High School, being salutatorian of her class. She had a lovely character. She was only twenty-one years old when she died.

Children: 1-2-2-6-8-7-1. Alice Shirkey; born 1878; died February 20, 1899. 2. Charles Mansur Shirkey. 3. Samuel B. Shirkey. All born in Norborne, Mo.

He entered Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas, where he received the degree of A. B. February 25, 1918, he entered Camp Travis, Texas, and was assigned to 57th Company, 15th Battalion, 165th Depot Brigade, under Roy E. Patterson, captain. On April 26, 1918, he was transferred to the Medical Corps and assigned to duty with the medical detachment Auxiliary Remount Depot No. 329, Camp Travis, an auxiliary to Ft. Sam Houston, under immediate command of Major Dewitt B. Nettleton, where he remained until the conclusion of the war. He received his honorable discharge April 26, 1919. While in Abilene Christian College he wrote a poem which he submitted in a contest sponsored by the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association. It was awarded first place in the school, and represented the college in the State contest in 1923. In consequence of which he was elected to the local Press Club and to the "'A' Club," an honorary club for men. The poem follows:

A FRIEND OR TWO.

Say, what's this world and what is life?
It is all a struggle and weary strife
Without a friend or two;
But our joys are heightened
And our hopes are brightened
By a friend or two.

Oh! What burdens they help us bear,
And how they lift a load of care!
Just a friend or two.
So this I say is my humble prayer,
To be willing ever my joys to share
With a friend or two.

Then whether I'm far away or near
 I hope to find some friend that's dear,
 Just a friend or two;
 And wherever I am, in any land,
 May I ever lend a helping hand
 To a friend or two.

Like the fragrance of a pretty flower
 Is the joy that comes from a single hour
 With a friend or two;
 Life is surely made the sweeter
 And Heaven itself will be completer
 With a friend or two.

On June 25, 1925, Warren A. Mansur married Margaret Sanford at the home of her parents in Houston, Texas. She attended Christian College at Abilene. The Hammond Advance of Hammond, Okla., says: "Professor Mansur is a son of one of the pioneer families of this section, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mansur, being among the first to file on a homestead when this section was opened to settlement. He was reared in Beckham County, and after completing high school at Elk City, attended Christian College at Abilene, Texas, where the acquaintance was formed that led to this happy event. In 1923-24, Mr. Mansur was high school principal of Hammond schools, and his scholarly service and splendid christian character made for him a wide circle of friends in both the school and social life of the town. From here last year he went to Byers, Okla., as superintendent of schools, and the coming term he will superintend the consolidated district schools at Midway, where Mrs. Mansur will have a position as principal."

VII. 1-2-2-6-10-4-5. ESTLE THURMAN MANSUR, son of Algernon Mansur; born October 21, 1904, in Beckham County, Oklahoma. He is a graduate of high school and has had two years in the University at Abilene, Texas. His home is in Guthrie. He has been traveling salesman for the Keystone View Co., Meadville. On November 11, 1925, Estle Thurman Mansur married Pauline Baylis of Earlsboro, Okla. She is a graduate of Earlsboro and Shawnee High Schools.

VII. 1-2-2-6-10-5. LEWIS ALVAH MANSUR, son of Stillman Mansur; born January 8, 1858, in Ray County, Missouri; died April 28, 1924. Stillman, Lewis Alvah and his son, Clarence Edward Mansur, lie buried side by side in the Vale Cemetery, Oregon. Louis Alvah married, May 16, 1883, Mary Lucretia Walker, born near Mandeville, Carroll County, Missouri, October 22, 1863. Her father was John Walker, only child of Joel Walker, both born near Malta, Ohio. Her mother was Jane C.

Paget, daughter of Hiram Paget, both born in Maine. Paget sometimes spelled Pagett. Jane C. Paget's mother was Jane Symonds of Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mansur were both school teachers before their marriage. Mr. Mansur was a farmer in Ray County after his marriage. In 1888, he moved to Iowa, where he remained for four years, when he returned to Ray County, Missouri, where he was engaged with his brother, Edward Everett, in a dry goods store at Stet. In 1895 he moved to western Nebraska, farming near McCook. In 1900 he went to Oklahoma, where he homesteaded one hundred sixty acres. He sold his farm in Oklahoma and went to Malheur County, near Vale, Oregon, where he died, 1924. He was engaged in farming and truck gardening. He and his wife belonged to the Church of Christ. His friends were fond of him. One of his children paid this sweet tribute to him: "Father was a man of loving disposition and high principles. He was a man that lived up to his beliefs as nearly as a human being can. All animals recognized his goodness and loved him." Mrs. Mansur lives on the home place near Vale, Oregon. He left a home to each child and his wife in comfortable circumstances.

VII. EDMUND L. MANSURE was born in Philadelphia in 1863. His earliest American ancestors came from France. His mother died when he was four years old, and three years later his father also died. Edmund was sent to a farm to live, but several years later he drifted back to Philadelphia, where most of his relatives lived. Here he made his home with an aunt. When he was twelve years old, Edmund secured his first job with an upholstery trimmings company at two dollars and a half a week. Out of this he paid his aunt two dollars and the other fifty cents he saved. He worked for different firms, but they were all in the same kind of business. By the time he was nineteen he had become a salesman. He had always practiced close economy and when he had accumulated three thousand dollars, he launched out into business for himself. A few years later Mr. Mansure bought out the Chicago firm for which he first worked. Some years after this he bought an upholstery business in Philadelphia and still runs both of these big plants, the business running into many millions of dollars every year. It is the biggest concern of its kind in the world. He belongs to the Athletic Club in Chicago where he resides. Mr. Mansure possesses many of the Mansur characteristics. He has great tenacity of purpose, industry and self-reliance. His great success in life indicates that he possesses a most attractive personality. He is a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Illinois Manufacturers Club, the Art Institute, South Shore Country Club, and is a former president of the Kenwood Club. For several years he has been a member of Club Board.

EMMA MANSUR ELLIS, daughter of Emma Mansur; born November 1, 1863, Ray County, Missouri; married, November 21, 1888, Robert Conway, born October, 1856, in Ray County, Missouri; son of John M. Conway and wife, Mary Jane Jackson. Emma Ellis taught school for a number of years in Ray and Carroll Counties. After her marriage she and her husband lived in Marshall, Mo., where he was in the livery business. In 1897 they removed to St. Louis where Mr. Conway was made salesman for the Campbell & Nims Commission Co., at the National Stock Yards. In 1899, he went to the Kansas City Stock Yards, forming a partnership with his brother, John H., of which Robert was president. The firm was called Conway Bros., and continued for five years, including the terrible flood year, when the water stood eight feet high in their office. The following year he returned to St. Louis and entered the firm of John S. Bratton Commission Co. He held the world's record for selling the greatest number of mules ever sold in one year. In 1912, he retired to his farm in Clinton County, Missouri, remaining here until he sold it in 1917. He was a man strong in his attachments, and devoted to his family. He died May 27, 1922, and is buried in Marshall, Mo. Mrs. Conway lives in Kansas City with her son Charles. She belongs to the Southern Methodist Church and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She had a poem story, "To Ports Beyond," published several years ago.

Children (both born in Marshall, Mo.): 1-2-2-6-4-5-2-1. Charles Mansur Conway; born February 6, 1891. 2. Grafton Ellis Conway; born May 14, 1894.

Robert Conway was married first time to Martha Elizabeth Gilmer, daughter of Campbell and Katherine Gilmer of Virginia. By this wife he had three children, Eulalia Katherine, born February 14, 1881, Mayme J., born February 22, 1883, and Gilmer, born 1885, who died in infancy. The mother died at the birth of the last child. Eulalia K. married William Austin Kinsey of Carrollton, Mo. They live in Columbia, Mo. She has two daughters, Frances, who graduated from High School and Synodical College, Fulton, Mo., and Mary Katherine, who graduated from High School. They are both in Missouri University.

Both sons, Charles Mansur Conway and Grafton Ellis Conway, went to public schools in Kansas City and St. Louis, Charles later going to Bunker Hill Military Academy and to Brown's Business College in St. Louis. He was with a railroad company in Kansas City when he was called to the colors during the World War. He was in service about a year, but was detained in Camp Pike, Arkansas, where he was a private, Camp Utilities Department, Q. M. C., in the regular service. He is now with the Kansas City Railways Company.

Grafton Ellis Conway was in Lathrop High School after his father went to his farm. He had one year in Missouri University and one year in Kansas Agricultural College at Manhattan. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in Oklahoma City December 4, 1924. He is practicing law in Tulsa, Okla., at the present time, where he resides.

VIII. 1-2-2-6-4-5-4. FANNIE HORTENSE ELLIS, daughter of Emma Mansur; born January 30, 1869, in Richmond, Mo.; married, November 27, 1889, Edward Everett Conway, born April, 1859, of Marshall, Mo. He is the son of John M. Conway and a brother of Robert Conway, who married Emma M. Ellis. Mr. and Mrs. Conway lived in Marshall, Mo., where he and his brother, William A. Conway, were engaged for a number of years in the meat market and packing business. In 1904 the family removed to St. Louis. Mr. Conway entered the National Stock Yards as mule salesman for the John S. Bratton Commission Co. Later he entered into partnership with the Holland & Maxwell Commission Co., of which company he was secretary and treasurer for a number of years. He holds the world's record for selling the highest priced span of mules ever sold on a market. Robert and Edward Conway are descendants of fine English Revolutionary ancestors. John M. Conway and his sons have been honorable, upright men, who have always regarded their word as binding, and have all had many friends. They have all been Democrats. John M. Conway served in Company C, Third Missouri Infantry, First Missouri Brigade, under Colonel Ben Rives, and General Francis Cockrell, Confederate Service, being in all of the battles in which his company was engaged. Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Conway and family belong to the Union Avenue Christian Church in St. Louis, in which congregation they have been active workers for many years. In 1924, she entered State Teachers College, Kirksville, Mo., and took a business course, completing the course and graduated from Brown's Business College in St. Louis in 1925. She has been an active member of the Christian Church since early childhood, teaching in the Sunday School and serving for two years as financial secretary for the Union Avenue Christian Church Congregation, and is now private secretary for Dr. Campbell, minister of the church. She resides at home with her parents.

Conway Coat of Arms used in America:

Arms: Sable on a bend argent, cotised ermine, a rose gules, between two annulets of the last.

Crest: A moor's head, side faced, ppr. banded round the temples, argent and azure.

Motto: Fide et Amore. (Fidelity in Love.)

There are several deeds at Lancaster Court House, Virginia, made by Edwin Conway, 3rd of the name, bearing the above arms.

VIII. 1-2-2-6-4-5-4-1. CLARA LOUISE CONWAY, married, June 18, 1919, Carl Jacob Wieland. She graduated from public schools, then from Soldan High School in 1912. She has been active in church work all her life. She is loved by everyone who knows her.

Carl Jacob Wieland, a descendant of the von Wielands, German Barons of Stuttgart, Germany, one of the oldest Central European families related to the Bourbons of France and Hapsburgs of Austria-Hungary. In this line came Christopher Martin von Wieland, the German poet.

Into this line in 1818 was born John Adam von Wieland, grandfather of Carl Jacob Wieland. He was a graduate of Bonn and Heidelberg Universities of Germany. Was a leader in the student insurrection of Wittenburg in 1848-49. Was forced to flee from the country, coming to America, leaving his wife Elizabeth Margaret von Ackerman, who joined him some three years later, at Sandusky, Ohio.

John von Wieland, on coming to this country, dropped the von from the family name, and from then on, he and his descendants were known by the name of Wieland.

Because of his activities in the insurrection, the German government confiscated his share of the von Wieland estate, which amounted to about $600,000.00 in American money.

He had a family of nine sons and two daughters, one son being Frederich A. Wieland, born August 29, 1861, at Sandusky, Erie County, Ohio. On January 12, 1888, he married Sarah Helen Lutz, born April 26, 1864, at Marshall, Clark County, Illinois. She was a descendant of the von Lutzs of Germany and also the Friedenbergers, an early Colonial family.

To the union of Fred and Helen Wieland, were born three children, Elizabeth Catherine, John Adam and Carl Jacob. All children were born on a farm five and one-half miles northwest of Marshall, Ill.

Carl attended country school until he finished the grades, after which he worked on his father's farm for two years. The family then moved to Charleston, Ill., and Carl graduated from the Charleston High School. From High School he went to a Kansas ranch, where he assisted as manager for a year.

Going back to Charleston, he attended the Eastern Illinois State Normal School, located in that town, for one and one-half years. He then went to Detroit, Mich., entering the Packard Technical school. On completing this course, he became connected directly with the Packard Motor Car Company.

In 1917 he was recommended by the Packard Motor Car Company to the government as civilian mechanic for the Quartermaster's Corps of the United States Army. Was civilian in charge of the Government Motor Convoy Service, transporting trucks and supplies between Detroit and the embarkation points on the eastern coast until June 4, 1918.

On this date, he enlisted at Detroit in the Naval Aviation as cadet pilot, and was sent immediately to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, where he was in training in the 15th Regiment until the last of that year, when he succumbed to the first influenza epidemic. Was thought beyond recovery on two occasions, but after five months in the Great Lakes Hospital was finally given a medical discharge from service on February 14, 1919.

He returned to Charleston, Ill., until able to resume work, when he went to Chicago, Ill., with a real estate firm. Obtained a better position as an assistant efficiency man with the Wallis Tractor Company, branch of the J. I. Case Plow Works, at Racine, Wis. On June 18, 1919, married Clara Louise Conway and took her to Racine. Worked up to position as assistant production manager with the Tractor Company and then received a better position as planning engineer with the Kibbourne & Jacobs Manufacturing Company at Columbus, Ohio.

They moved to that city in January of 1920. Due to a railroad strike, however, this plant was closed down after some months and in September, 1920, a move was made to St. Louis, Mo. For two years he was connected with a brokerage concern, when he decided to study Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo. Matriculated at the American School of Osteopathy in that city September 8th, 1922, for the four-year course, graduating in June, 1926. He is practicing his profession in St. Louis.

GRADUATE LED BUSY LIFE AT STATE UNIVERSITY.

"Alvah Crowe graduated from the State University with the A. B. degree.

While in school young Mr. Crowe won honors in debating and oratory and was granted an 'M' in debating. He was a member of the Missouri team which debated Oklahoma University. While attending school at the University of Arizona some years ago he was a member of the debating team of that institution and also won first prize in the state oratorical contest.

He was president of the Athenian Debating Society at the Missouri University. This organization furnishes a majority of the university debaters and the last two presidents of the student body have been members of it.

Mr. Crowe was active in the religious affairs of the campus. Last fall four churches notified the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. that they were without a pastor and requested him to recommend some one for the position. He asked Alvah to take charge of these churches; he undertook the job, holding two services each Sunday and getting back to Columbia in time for school Monday morning.

He was also a member of the Student Council of his church and was a delegate from the University to the International Convention of Foreign Missions held at Washington, D. C."—Richmond Missourian, 1925.

VIII. 1-2-2-6-8-2-1. ALEXANDER OLIPHANT (called Sandy), son of Catherine Mansur Oliphant; born December 7, 1869, at Caledon Home, Ray County, Missouri. He went to school at Prairie View, the home district school. In 1892 the Cherokee Strip, the northern boundary of Oklahoma, was opened to public settlement. Alexander made the race on horseback, and was one of the first to land in Perry. He could have entered a homestead, but did not want to live on it as he would have had to do in order to prove up on it. Later he went to Oklahoma City and lived there for five years. He was and is a dealer in live stock of all kind. On April 7, 1896, he married Sallie Pearl Smith, daughter of James H. Smith and wife, Surilda Crawford Smith, Hardin, Mo. In June, 1900, the family removed to Holdenville, Indian Territory. Here he engaged in the live stock business and invested in land. He now owns one of the largest ranches in Hughes County, Oklahoma, consisting of twenty-two hundred acres. The largest herd of cattle and drove of hogs in Hughes County run on this ranch. It lies in the heart of the oil fields between Cromwell and Papoose oil fields of Oklahoma. The ranch has several producing oil wells and one well which produces natural gasoline that does not have to be refined. All of his cars and trucks are operated with this gasoline. Mr. Oliphant is a large property owner in Holdenville, having in the last year completed building the Dixie Hotel and the Petroleum Building at a cost of one hundred thousand dollars. He owns and operates a packing plant, produce house, and a downtown market. He is a large operator in oil leases and royalties. Holdenville is the home of the entire family and the burial place of Alexander's wife, Pearl, who departed from this earth October 16, 1920.

When HANNAH FELT MANSUR lay dying, she asked that the window in the west be opened and her bed be turned so that she could look toward the setting sun where her children were, for Stephen and Hannah Mansur had six children who possessed the spirit of adventure and pioneering. The west held alluring possibilities to be possessed only by those who had stout hearts that would fare forth and capture them. Charles, Moody, Lucy, Isaiah, Stillman and Porter all heard the call, and settled in Ray County, Missouri. Ray is one of the largest and best counties in the State, very fertile, being one of the Missouri River counties. It was known as the Free State of Ray, and later as the Mother of Counties, on account of its size, at that time comprising what is now the twelve northwestern counties of Missouri. Prior to the sixties there was no organized public school system. The families that could afford it employed governesses or tutors for their children. To meet this situation the Mansur families built a log schoolhouse midway between the homes and employed a private teacher, Miss Joie Nesbitt. She was the daughter of Mrs. Martha Oliphant, wife of Major Alexander Oliphant. She and her sister, Mary Oliphant, boarded with the Charles Mansur family. She seems to have been charming and lovely in every way. One of her pupils, Emma Mansur, took lessons from her on the guitar and in later years sang some of Miss Joie's sweet songs, accompanied by her rosewood guitar given to her by her brother, Tip Mansur.

To this woodland log schoolhouse came all the Mansur children, Uncle Carleton's older children and the Nuckles boys. A few years later, the district was organized and Uncle Isaiah gave half an acre on the State Highway, where the second Mansur schoolhouse was built. It was to this white schoolhouse on the hill that Mary E. Lane, of Ohio, came to preside as the school mistress. A year later she became Mrs. Isaiah Mansur.

Through many succeeding years the Mansurs have all stood high in the community. Uncle Moses Carleton was a saintly old man. Morning and evening a chapter in the Bible was read and his prayer of thanksgiving and praise was made. When the writer was a child it was counted a great privilege to spend the night at Uncle Carleton's. He, cousin Mary, and Maggie Mansur made up the household. The whole place bore the atmosphere of perfect peace, happiness and contentment. Cousin Mary took Maggie home when she was two years old, at the time of Maggie's mother's death. Mary Howard Carleton never married; she was engaged to Otis, son of Uncle Gilman, but he died before their marriage. She is buried in New Hope cemetery, where so many of the Mansurs and relations lie. The church is a very large country church situated on a ridge; the churchyard extends south into what has become a large and beautiful cemetery. The original native forest trees have been augmented by cedars and pines. Many large and handsome monuments, as well as small stones, mark the last resting-place of the dead. It is God's own acre, and here the sweet song birds sing unmolested, the soft breezes blow through the protecting trees over these last homes under the "little green tents," where all sickness and sorrow and pain are forever more forgotten.

Other branches as well as Stephen's line have adventured far from the early New England homeland. They are scattered all over the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast, and from Winnipeg to the Gulf of Mexico. The Mansurs have served in all of the wars of defense from the earliest colonial wars down to the present time. They are honest, industrious, God-fearing people. The Mansur women, by marriage as well as by birth, deserve just as much credit and respect as the Mansur men. In pioneer days they underwent many privations and hardships. They, too, displayed a staunchness and tenacity of purpose to face and meet life bravely as well as their fathers, husbands, and sons.

Charles Mansur was one of the leading business men of his day in St. Louis. He and a partner owned a stern-wheel steamboat that ran from St. Louis to Cincinnati. He sent Isaiah with a stock of dry goods to open a store in Ray County; and Stillman with a stock of goods to Chillicothe, Mo. The Carleton home-place was part of his farm. He left it to his sister, Lucy Mansur Carleton, in his will.

COAT OF ARMS.

Burke gives the following arms as borne by Mansur:

Arms—Vair a bend Or.

Crest—A pelican's nest Or, 3 young ones Sa., thereon a pelican vulning herself proper.

Motto—Dum spiro, spero. (While I breathe, I hope.)

Notes: Coat of arms granted to Wm. Manser, Esq., Penryn, Co. Cornwall: Gu on a bend, invected ar. Crest: a leopard's head erand etc. (Burke's Gen. Armory.)

Mansuer—North Creake, Co. Westmoreland, Norfolk.

Mansuer Pedigrees, Published.

Genealogists' Guide to Printed Pedigrees. Marshall.

Arms borne by Mansuer:

Arms Quarterly—1 and 4, Vaire argent and sable, on a bend gules a crescent or for difference; 2 and 3, Arthure, Gules on a chevron argent, between three rests or clarions or, a crescent sable for differences.

Crest: In her nest or, a pelican feeding her young, sable, vulned gules.

Borne by Henry Mansuer of Mansuer in county Westmoreland, gent from Visitation of Norfolk 1563, 1589 and 1613.

Ella Mansur Fowle made the following notes: "In Volume — of — under the lineage of Pepys, we find the name spelled Manser as Susan ux (wife) Roger Manser of North Creak in Norfolk."

Also in "Pedigree of the Knights" we find:

Sir Clement Armiger, North Creake, Norf. Knt. at W. 18 June, 1660. His son William Armiger of North Creake Norf. gent.—Anne sister and heir of Richard Manser of North Creake, Norf. by whom Thorp Hall in that town.

The arms of Mansuer of Westmoreland and Manser of Norfolk and Suffolk are identical save for the quartering of the Westmoreland shield when the Arthure arms were added. This quartering would have been used by Henry Mansuer son of Marg. Arthure, but not by the children of the second wife.

In another place is found

John Mansur of Norf. — Ann Armiger, in 1561.

In Heraldic Visitations of Westmoreland by Sir Richard St. George, Knt. page 16: Thos. Midleton of Midleton Hall in Westmoreland. m—, issue John Midleton, his heir. Ch. Katherine, Mary, Agnes, Joan — John Manser.

The above examples show beyond doubt the identity of the family Mansuer, Manser and Mansur.

In the Register of St. Nicholas, Ipswich, Suf.:

"Dec. 23, 1679, Margret, the wife of John Mansuh, burred"—this was probably the Margaret Arthure Mansure before mentioned.

In the same Register are the following marriage notices:

June 11, 1708, James Mansur and Eliz. Cook of Ipswich, both single, were married by License.

Feb. 13, 1699, John Manser of Ipswich, widd. and Frances Salter of Ipsw. widd. were m. by License.

In another vol.—"Mar. Licence at Ipswich, Probate Ct."—

Robert Manser mariner and Margaret Mann of Playford, both single, at Tuddenham, Nov. 19, 1636. Book 14, p. 11.

James Manser of Ipswich, single, and Sarah More of the same single, Feb. 7, 1716 or 17.

John Manser of Ipswich, batchelor, and Eliz. Brooks of the same, single July 18, 1664.

Thomas Mansur, the younger, of Marlesford, single man, and Mary Goodsoon of Hacheston, spinster, whose parents are dead, Dec. 2, 1710.

I have given numerous examples (which might be multiplied) as I wish to show the similarity of the names used in Norfolk and Suffolk with those used by the early families of Mansur in this country, James, John, Thomas, and William being favorite names all down the line.

I have wondered if the "Robert Mansur mariner" might not be our progenitor and he or his son embarking as a seaman might have reached America without being recorded as of the passengers.

Charlestown was settled largely by emigrants from Ipswich, as the Cleavelands, Brooks and many others, so I am inclined to think that Robert Mansur first Generation in America came from Ipswich.

There are many passages in this history of Temple published in 1860, by Henry Ames Blood, and printed at Boston by Geo. C. Rand & Avery, that would doubtless be of much interest to all of the name of Mansur; but as no other references are made to any of our name, save those passages that I have copied entire, or digested herein, I pass them by.

As descriptive of the life our ancestors led, I copy an extract from the Centennial Celebration in Wilton, N. H., September 25, 1839, by Ephraim Peabody:

We have been favored with a letter from Dr. Abiel Abbot, now in the 75th year of his age, and the oldest man born in Wilton. The picture he gives is at the same time so minute and so vivid, that we publish it entire:

My Dear Sir: As I have so good an opportunity to send to you, I will not neglect it; and it being Sunday evening, I will say a word about Sunday of olden times. On Saturday evening the work of the week was finished. My father, after washing and putting on a skillet of water, would get his razor and soap, sit down by the fire and take off his beard; after which he would take his Bible, sometimes some other book. My mother, after washing the potatoes, etc., and preparing for Sunday food, used to make hasty pudding for supper, which was eaten in milk, or if that was wanting, with butter and molasses. The little children were put to bed; early in the evening my father read a chapter in the Bible and offered a prayer, soon after which the younger part of the family every night went to their rest soon after supper, especially in the summer. Saturday night and Sunday and Sunday night, a perfect stillness, no play going on, no laughing. Those of us who were old enough, took the Testament, or learned the Catechism or a hymn; and read in the Testament or Primer to father or mother in the morning. For breakfast, when we had milk sufficient, we had bread and milk; when this failed, bean and corn porridge was the substitute. Some time after the Revolutionary War, for Sunday morning tea and toast were often used. As we lived at a distance from meeting, those who walked set out pretty soon after 9 o'clock, and those who rode on horseback were obliged to start soon after them; the roads and pole bridges were very bad, and the horses always carried double, and often a child in the mother's lap, and sometimes another on the pommel of the saddle before the father. All went to the meeting, except someone to keep the house and take care of the children, who could not take care of themselves. The one that stayed at home was instructed when to put the pudding, pork and vegetables into the pot for supper after meeting. Those who went to meeting used to put into their pockets for dinner some shortcake or doughnuts and cheese. We used to get home from meeting at 4 o'clock, often much later. Immediately the women set the table, and the men took care of the horses, and in the winter, the other cattle, etc. In the short days, it would often be sundown before, or very soon after, we got home. The sled with oxen was often used for meeting when the snow was deep, or by those who did not keep a horse. After supper, the children and younger part of the family were called together and read in the Testament and Primer, and if there was time said their Catechism (the Assembly's) and some short hymns and prayers. Soon after this, in the Summer, before my father read in the Bible and offered prayer, the cows were brought from the pasture and milked. No work was performed except what was deemed absolutely necessary; the dishes for breakfast and supper were left unwashed till Monday. Every person in the town able to go to meeting, went; if any were absent it was noticed, and it was supposed that sickness was the reason. If anyone was absent three or four Sundays, the tything man would make him a visit; this, however, was a rare case. The Sabbath was not unpleasant to me; early habit, I suppose, rendered the restraint by no means irksome. I do not recollect feeling gloomy, or disposed to play, or wishing Sunday was gone or would not come. I don't think of anything more to say about Sunday, except that the meetinghouse was well filled.

Now, what more shall I say? A word about schools? These were poor enough. We used to read, spell, write and cypher, after a sort. Our teachers were not taught. The Primer, Dilworth's Spelling Book, and the Bible or Testament, were the books. No arithmetic; the cyphering was from the master's manuscript. My father became sensible that the schools were useless, and in the winter of 1782 hired Mr. John Abbot, who was then a sophomore in college, to teach a month or five weeks in his vacation, and invited the district to send their children gratis. This gave a new complexion to the school in the South District; and for a number of years after, qualified teachers were employed about eight weeks in the winter, usually scholars from college. Soon after the improvement in the South District, some of the other districts followed in the same course. To this impulse, I think, we may impute the advance of Wilton before the neighboring towns in education, good morals and sound theology. I venerate my father and mother, more than for anything else, for their anxiety and sacrifice to give their children the best education, literary and religious, in their power. And it gives me, as I have no doubt it did them, and must you, and all the rest of their descendants, the highest satisfaction, that their desires were so well gratified and their labors successful. Their children, grandchildren, and so on to the twentieth generation, will have reason to bless the memory of parents of such true worth.

Now for something else. For breakfast in olden times were bread and milk, as soon as the cows were milked, for all the family. When milk failed, bean porridge with corn. About 9 o'clock there was a baiting or luncheon, of bread and cheese or fried pork and potatoes. For dinner, a good Indian pudding, often in it berries (blue) and suet; pork and beef, through the winter and in spring potatoes, turnips, cabbage, etc. At four or five o'clock p. m., in the summer some bread and cheese, or the like. For supper, bread and milk. When milk failed, milk porridge, hasty pudding, and molasses, bread and molasses, bread and beer, etc. When there was company to entertain, chocolate for breakfast, no coffee. Pewter basins or porridges, and sometimes wooden bowls, were used when spoons were required. Trenchers or wooden plates were used at dinner; when a friend dined, pewter plates were used by the father and mother and the friend. You probably remember the pewter platters and plates usually standing on the shelves. None but pewter spoons. The cup for beer was pewter. After which came the brown mug. If a neighbor came in for any purpose, he was asked to drink beer or cider. When women visited their neighbors, they went early in the afternoon, carried their work, and returned home before sundown to take care of milking the cows, etc. Their entertainment was commonly shortcake baked by the fire, and tea, except in the early part of the Revolutionary War. For the visit, they often put on a clean checquered apron and handkerchief and short gown. In the winter, several of the neighbors would meet for a social evening, and would have a supper. There were no select parties; all were neighbors in the Scripture sense. The maid and boy in the family, the same as the children in all respects. I do not recollect ever hearing a profane word in my father's family from any of his hired men, nor at school at Wilton or Andover Academy. I do not think that profane language was used by any in the town until after the Revolutionary War. Industry and economy were the order of the times. I do not remember seeing my father or mother angry; they were sometimes displeased no doubt. My father in the winter used to go to Salem or Marblehead to market with shoo hogshead staves, rye, pork, butter, etc., and procure salt, molasses, tea, rum, etc., for the year, as there were no traders in the new towns. Rum was not used except in haying and harvest, and on particular occasions of hard service and exposure, such as washing sheep, burning large pieces of wood, etc. Intoxication was very rare; I do not remember more than one man being intoxicated. Rum was commonly used at raising buildings; half a gill was a good dram. After raising a building, if finished before night, the amusements were wrestling, goal, quoits, etc. Goal was the favorite play with boys the day after Thanksgiving and election days, which were all the holidays I remember. Good humor and cheerfulness always prevailed in our family, and it was generally so I believe. Enough for the present.

Faithfully yours,

ABIEL ABBOT.

TO WHICH THE EDITOR ADDS:

We venture to add to the interesting statements contained in the foregoing letter, one fact within our knowledge relating to a religious custom of former times. It was the habit of the early inhabitants of this town to have their children baptized in the church the Sunday after they were born, whatever the season of the year or the state of the weather; and accordingly, the writer of the above sketch was himself, before he was a week old, carried three miles, in the month of December, to be baptized in the meetinghouse in which there was no fire! What would our ancestors, could they revisit the earth, say of some of their descendants, who cannot be prevailed on to bring their offspring, even from the nearest distance, to the holy font, at any age, or in any season. Also, Mr. Amos Holt, long since gathered to his fathers, told me that in a severe winter, when the highways were blocked with snow, he several times traveled on snowshoes about seven miles, bought a bushel of corn and carried it on his back to mill and thence home.

They bid us do the work that they laid down—
 Take up the song where they broke off the strain;
 So journeying till we reach the heavenly town,
 Where are laid up our treasures and our crown,
 And our lost loved ones will be found again.

And be the day short or never so long
 At length it ringeth to even-song.

THE ANCESTOR.

While I meander in and out
 The labyrinth of ancient date,
 Sometimes I catch him on the fly;
 Sometimes he goes sedately by
 Or scans me closely with his eyes,
 Or greets me with a glad surprise
 That I should know him—strangers we.
 Where did we meet before? Says he.

THE CHURCH SPIRES

MARY R. ELLIS

See the gleaming, tall church spires,
Always pointing up to God,
Telling of celestial fires
In the paths our Fathers trod.
Hark! The church-bells faintly pealing,
Hear their music softly stealing,
Stirring all our deepest feeling,
Calling us to worship God.
Now their sweet, melodious chime
Sink within our inmost hearts;
With a feeling that's sublime,
Tells of peace that ne'er departs.
Then our souls in glad awaking,
All these invitations taking,
And all other thoughts forsaking,
Turn in adoration great
To the altar of our God.
To the Father of all things:
There we humbly bow in prayer,
And each heart in worship sings,
As the bells still sweetly welling,
To each listener thus is telling,
Through each tone now softly swelling,
Come to worship, worship God.
