Introductory.

Through personal interest, and curiosity, as to his antecedents, the publisher of this book has gathered, and caused to be gathered, the statistics herein contained.

Because they were so difficult to collect, as well as to lighten the task of others of his kindred who may have a similar curious interest in ancestry, he decided to print them, and hopes that they may prove of material assistance to others.

NOYES FAMILY.

Reverend William Noyes was born in England during the year 1568. He matriculated at University College, Oxford, 15 November, 1588, at the age of twenty years, and was graduated B. A., 31 May, 1592. He was Rector of the Parish of Choulderton in Wiltshire, situated between Amesbury in Wiltshire and Andover in Hampshire, and eleven miles from Salisbury, which contains the great Salisbury Cathedral, built in the year 1220 A. D., whose lofty tower overlooks the dead Roman city of Sarum and "Stonehenge," the ruins of the wonderful pre-historic temple of the ancient Celtic Druids, in the midst of Salisbury Plain. The register of the Diocese shows that he officiated in the Parish from 1602 to 1620, at which time he resigned. He was then appointed Attorney General to the King. He was succeeded as rector by his son, Rev. Nathan Noyes.

Rev. William Noyes married Ann Parker, who was a sister of Rev. Robert Parker, a learned Puritan divine, and a graduate of Oxford, who was driven to Holland for "non-conformity" to Queen Elizabeth's forms.

He died intestate before 30 April, 1622, when an inventory was made, and his widow was appointed administratrix 28 May, 1622 (Court of Archdeacon of Sarum). His widow was buried at Choulderton 7 March, 1657, aged eighty-two years (Parish Register). Her will is at Somerset House, London (Wooten, 130), and mentions sons James and Nicholas in New England. Will was dated March, 1655, and proved 21 April, 1658, at London. James, his brother Nicholas and their cousin, Thomas Parker, came to New England in 1634, and from James and Nicholas Noyes have sprung the Noyes family in America.

He married, early in 1634, Sarah, eldest daughter of Mr. Joseph Brown of Southampton, England. In March of that year they embarked for New England on the "Mary and John" of London. They settled in Medford, where the county records show him to have been a resident in 1634, where he was made Freeman, September 3, 1634, and where "he preached" (Brook's History of Medford). It is said that "for a time he officiated in the Watertown Church" (probably as an assistant to Rev. George Phillips).

His cousin, Rev. Thomas Parker, was at first called to Ipswich to join with Mr. Ward, but he, choosing rather to accompany some of his countrymen (who came out of Wiltshire in England) to that new place, than to be engaged with such as he had not been acquainted withal before, removed with them and settled at Newbury (Coffins' Newbury, pp. 11, 12). Newbury, Mass., was incorporated as a town in the spring of 1635.

Uniform tradition asserts that the few original settlers came by water from Ipswich through Plum Island Sound and up the river Quascacunquen (now river Parker) to the place they had selected as their future habitation. Tradition also asserts that they landed on the north bank of the river about one hundred rods below the spot where the bridge now stands, and that Nicholas Noyes was the first who leaped ashore. Among these original settlers was Mr. Thomas Parker, Mr. James Noyes and wife, and brother Nicholas Noyes (Newbury, p. 15).

Rev. Mr. Parker and Rev. Mr. Noyes began, almost immediately, to form a church. The first meeting was on the Sabbath and held in the open air, under a tree. Rev. Mr. Parker was chosen pastor "in that way of church discipline which he then preached for, the congregational way" (Newbury, p. 17).

Mr. James Noyes was at the same time chosen teacher. He was the son of a minister, who married a sister of Mr. Robert Parker, and was, of course, a cousin of Mr. Thomas Parker.

Rev. Cotton Mather in his "Magnolia" says: "They taught in one school (in England), came over in one ship, were pastor and teacher in one church and, Mr. Parker continuing always in celibacy, they lived in one house till death separated them for a time."

For a few years after the settlement of the town their residence was on the west side of the "lower green," but on the removal of the meeting-house Mr. Noyes built a house in what is now Parker street. It is still standing and is owned by one of his descendants, Mr. Silas Noyes, and is one of the oldest houses in Newbury. Of Mr. James Noyes his cousin Parker writes: "Mr. James Noyes, my worthy colleague in the ministry of the gospel, was a man of singular qualifications, in piety excelling, an implacable enemy to all heresie and schism, and a most able warrior against the same. He was of a reaching and ready apprehension, a large invention, a most profound judgment, a rare and tenacious and comprehensive memory, fixed and unmovable in his grounded conceptions, sure in words and speech, without rashness ; gentle and mild in all his expressions, without all passion or provoking language. And as he was a notable disputant, so he never would provoke his adversary, saving by the short knocks and heavy weight of argument. He was of so loving, and compassionate, and humble carriage, that I believe never were any acquainted with him but did desire the continuance of his society and acquaintance. He was resolute for truth and in defense thereof, had no respect to any persons. He was a most excellent counsellor in doubts, and could strike at a hair's breadth, like the Benjamites, and expedite the entangled out of the briars. He was courageous in danger, and still was apt to believe the best, and made fair weather in a storm. He was much honored and esteemed in the country, and his death was much bewailed. I think he may be reckoned among the greatest worthies of the age." He died 22 October, 1656. His will was dated 17 October, 1656, five days before his death, and was proved 26 November. In it he mentions wife Sara and children, brother Deacon Nicholas Noyes and cousin Rev. Thomas Parker. Inventory of estate amounted to £657 11s. 4d. His widow's will was dated 11 November, 1681, she died in Newbury 13 September, 1691, and her will was proved 29 September, 1691. Inventory of estate amounted to £1108.

Born March 11, 1640, in Newbury, Mass., and graduated at Harvard College 1659. In the year 1664 he removed to Stonington, Conn., and in June, 1664, he commenced preaching there as a licentiate. On September 10, 1674, he was regularly ordained as the first minister of Stonington, and continued to preach there as the pastor of the First Congregational Church until his death, which occurred December 30, 1719. His ministry covered a period of fifty-five years. The day following his ordination, (September 11, 1674,) he married <sup>7</sup>Dorothy<sup>2</sup> Stanton, who was born in 1651, and was a daughter of Thomas Stanton, of Hartford. Her mother was <sup>3</sup>Ann<sup>2</sup>, daughter of Thomas Lord, of Hartford.

Dorothy died in Stonington, Conn., January 19, 1743-4.

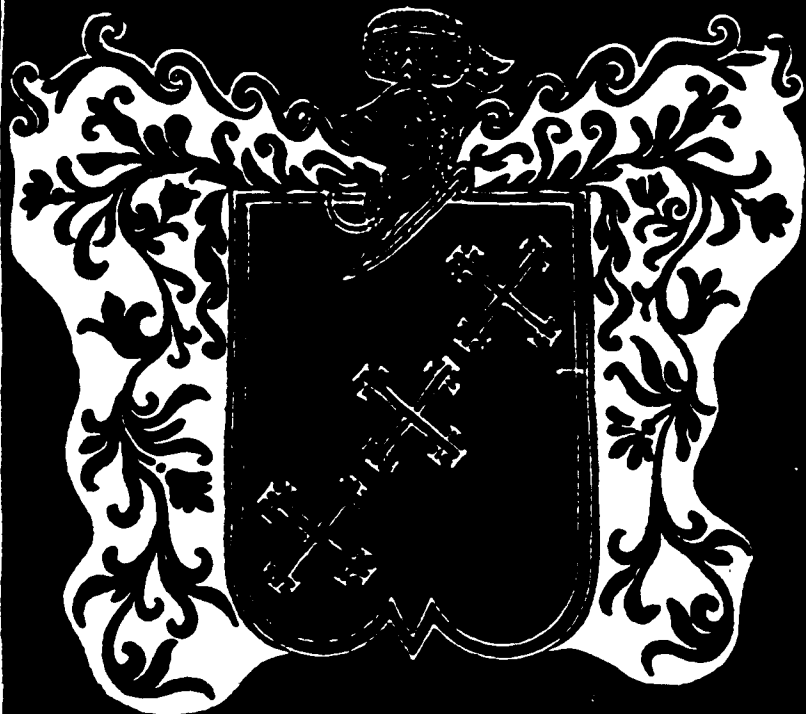

Rev. James<sup>2</sup> was very highly respected by the people and filled many positions of trust and honor.

He served as a soldier and volunteer against the Indians in the Narraganset war, and received land for services rendered in what is now Voluntown, Conn. (Bodge's Soldiers of King Philip's war, page 443, Narraganset Register, Vol. 1, p. 144).

"In April, 1697, upon the motion of the Honorable Lieut.-Governour Stoughton, and information that the enemy, Indians, intended to scatter into small companies, to do mischief upon his Majestie's subjects, the Governour and Councill also being moved by the worshipful Captain Samuel Mason and the Reverent Mr. James Noise, ordered a letter sent to Captain Samuel Mason and Mr. James Noise, desiring them to promote of raising twentie or thirtie men, English and Indians, furnished with arms, ammunitiion and provision, to range the woods between Nashua (now in N. H.) and Deerfield, Mass., and near Mamerrimack River, and between Hadley and Marlborough as they shall judge best. And the Governour and Councill being informed that the enemy, Indians, intended to scatter and to sett upon the small towns upon the river that were secure. Warrants were sent to the several constables of the towns in danger to see that due watch and ward be kept." (Conn. Col. Record, Vol. 4, p. 196.) In 1700 he petitioned that Wequatook be allowed to succeed his father in the government of the Indians he lives with. (Conn. Col. Record, Vol. 4, p. 32.) Appointed by Assembly one of a committee to settle differences regarding division of land in Quinnebaug. In 1708 he was granted 200 acres of land; was also one of the founders of Yale College.

Born, 1773, in Stonington, Conn. Died at Scott Corners, New York, June 5, 1854, in his eighty-second year.

Married <sup>6</sup>SARAH<sup>4</sup> BERRY, born at Westerly, R. I., June 20, 1776, and who died at Scott Corners, New York, October 7, 1857, in her eighty-second year. The facts connected with the history of this family were left in manuscript by his son, Samuel B. Noyes, and were written between the years 1877, (when commenced), and 1883, (when last record was made).

The marriage date of John B. Noyes and Sarah Berry is not found, but she is positively identified from the fact that in his manuscript he speaks of going to Westerly, R. I., to visit his uncle, Saxton Berry. (See Berry family). He also speaks at the same time of visiting his uncle, <sup>2</sup>NATHAN<sup>6</sup> NOYES.

John B. Noyes and Sarah, his wife, are buried side by side in the grave-yard at Scott Corners, near the head of Skeneatles Lake. He removed from Rhode Island about December, 1802, and, with their children, Lydia, Samuel B. and Asenath, settled in the town of Brookfield, Madison County, New York, and lived in a log house during the winter of 1805. During 1806 he lived in a house that was built for a corn-house, narrower at the bottom than at the top. It was very small for a family to live in, but had to answer the purpose of a house. Clarinda was born in this house.

His next move was "over the swamp" in what is now Sandisfield, Oneida County. He had taken a small grist-mill to attend, on shares, in order to enable him to provide for his growing family, in that, then, new country. The mill was propelled by an "overshot wheel," twelve or fourteen feet in diameter. The water came from a small stream, near which the mill stood, and ran through a trough, elevated on a trestle, made of logs, laid up in a square at the bottom and gradually tapering toward the top.

Church was held in a barn, and the "district school" was two miles away.

He moved back to Brookfield, about three miles from the mill, and to a point a little south of what is now called North Brookfield, formerly called "Negro City." He lived, as tenant, in a house owned by Mr. Keth, for whom he worked. Lovina was born in this house. He lived there about one year, and then moved to another house one mile distant, where he lived one year, and then moved to Pharsalia, Chenango County, twenty miles distant, and lived there two years. In the winter of 1811-12 he moved to Smyrna Hill, two and a half miles from Smyrna Village. This was about the time of the commencement of the War of 1812. Times were extremely hard, provisions were both scarce and dear, and the amount of perseverance and self-sacrifice required in order to provide for a large family can hardly be realized.

In March, 1813, he put his household effects aboard a large sleigh, placed his family, as comfortably as was possible, among his furniture and left Smyrna Hill for Cayuga County, New York. Two days from that time he arrived at the town of Sempronius, (now Niles).

In the fall of 1813 he moved into a house about a half mile north of Perryville. In the summer of 1815 he obtained the privilege of building a house on a small piece of land, owned by Daniel Raymond, and which land was cut off from his farm by a deep gully, containing three or four acres. As payment for putting up the house he was to have its use for four years. He lived in this house five years, and Leonard R. was born here. It was rather a romantic spot, surrounded by woods and not far from neighbors. He moved to Venice, New York, about 1820, and later to Scott Corners, where he died as above stated.

He went to Fort Monroe, Virginia, as a newspaper correspondent, at the beginning of the Civil War; engaged in various army contracts and subsequently in planting. He settled in New Orleans after the war, was appointed Commissioner of Immigration for the State of Louisiana, and, in that capacity, revisited Europe. In 1874 he returned to his native state and town. In 1893 he removed to Auburn, and engaged in the seed trade, which still occupies his attention. After holding the position of Supervisor eight years in Owasco, he was elected to the State Assembly, by the Republicans of S. Cayuga District, in 1878 and 1879, re-elected 1882, 1890 and 1891, and served on the committees of Public Education, Canals,

Born, December 30, 1815, at Sempronius, Cayuga County, New York. Died, at his home "MAPLE GROVE," near Springville, Iowa, August 27, 1891. Married, at Genoa, New York, June 25, 1837, Jane Jessup, (born, December 20, 1820), daughter of Samuel and Rachel (Rundle) Jessup. He resided in Genoa, New York, until the fall of 1854, when he, his wife and his four children removed to Springville, Linn County, Iowa, where they arrived on the 20th of October in a covered wagon, in which they had made the journey, and which served for their shelter for some weeks, for the reason that they could find no home to live in. Leonard succeeded in buying an empty log school-house in Springville, one of the four houses which the town contained at that time, and sold it the next day, with the privilege of living in it until his house should be completed. With his home thus established, he began building an 18 x 24, story-and-a-half, log house on his farm. This was completed so that the family moved into it on the 11th day of January, 1855, he having got out all the logs with little or no help, loading them onto the wagon, three at a time, assisted only by the horses. The house was the best of its kind and generous in appearance. It sheltered the family well for nearly twenty-two years, when it gave place to the present residence. Mr. Noyes lived on his farm nearly thirty-seven years, during which time the face of the country changed from a wild, houseless, treeless prairie to one of the richest and best farming sections in this or any other State, and became covered with artificial groves not equalled anywhere in number, beauty or size. In this great work of tree planting he was the first and most active, and his influence contributed very largely to what has been done by others.

At the time of Mr. Noyes' death there were an elm and a maple among the eight hundred forest trees standing on his farm, which he planted, that were over thirty-three inches in diameter, thus showing that, in middle life, one may plant the forest tree and see it attain great size. When he first moved to his prairie home, he could stand in his front door and see Marion, seven and one-half miles to the west, or the little village of Fairview, six miles to the east, with but one or two other houses in sight. The village of Fairview has since ceased to be even a post-office.

During the War of the Rebellion Mr. Noyes was a staunch Union man, and when the Southern sympathizers got too noisy in his neighborhood, he and a neighbor, went to Marion and enrolled themselves in the Union League, which organization, as is well known, had a very quieting effect. Mr. Noyes' courage, energy and ability were never questioned. During his most active years he wrote frequently for the agricultural papers, and his articles were widely copied. His farm was noted, far and near, as a model of good husbandry, and on this account he was at one time, without his knowledge, strongly urged for the position of Superintendent of the Iowa Agricultural College farm, but he would not accept the position. Though always a strong and active Abolitionist, Republican and Prohibitionist, he neither sought nor held any political office. To the good judgment, serene life and perfect helpfulness of his wife he owed much of the success of his long life. She survived him nearly four and one-half years, and died on Tuesday morning, April 7, 1896, at the age of seventy-five years, three months and seventeen days, after a residence of forty-two years in Linn County. Directly after the death of her husband she moved to Central City to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. William M. Giffen. These latter years were entirely free from care, serene and enjoyable to an unusual degree for a person of her age. She made many visits to her former home and friends in Cayuga County, New York, and often visited her son, La Verne W. Noyes, in Chicago. Those who knew her best say that she dealt gently with all, and was never heard to speak an unkind word of anyone, while her influence over children was such that they would not quarrel in her presence. One might call her an apostle of peace; yet, to her country, she bravely gave up her

<sup>1</sup>THOMAS<sup>1</sup> STANTON, born in England about 1615, took passage for Virginia in the merchantman "Bonaventura" on January 2, 1635, and recorded himself as being twenty years old. The ship record shows no other passenger named Stanton. It is certain, therefore, that he came unattended by any relative bearing the same name. There is no proof that Thomas was related in any way to any person in America, or that any relatives ever followed him to this country. There is a family tradition that, before his death, he received a legacy from his former home across the sea, but no record has been found to prove it. Undoubtedly there were on record in New London, Conn., many records and documents that would have been invaluable witnesses as to Mr. Stanton's origin, ancestry and early life. His will was probably recorded there, and no other copy of it has, as yet, been found. But the New London County records were destroyed in 1781 by the traitor, Benedict Arnold, when he sacked and burnt New London town.

Evidently Mr. Stanton's stay in Virginia was very short. In 1636 he appears on record in Boston, Mass., serving as a magistrate. He may have traded and mingled a little with the Indians in Virginia, acquired some knowledge of their language, and then sailed for New England. The next known of Mr. Stanton is in connection with the Pequot War. Just before the war he had been serving Winthrop, as Indian interpreter, while the latter was in command at Saybrook. July 4, 1636, Mr. Fenwick, Mr. Hugh Peters and Mr. Thomas Stanton bore instructions from Boston, to Winthrop, at Fort Saybrook, Conn., (going over-land) as to the Pequots. The war followed immediately.

Caulkins' History of New London, Conn., (page 296), says: "The services of Mr. Stanton, as interpreter, during the Pequot War, were invaluable. He was, moreover, a man of trust and intelligence, and his knowledge of the country and of the natives made him a useful pioneer and counselor in all land questions, as well as difficulties with the Indians." In De Forest's "History of the Indians of Conn." (p. iii), is another record of a second visit to Saybrook, near the end of the war, when his commander was the historic soldier, Captain Lion Gardiner. De Forest says: Sometime in April (1637) a small vessel arrived at the fort having on board Thomas Stanton, a man well acquainted with the Indian language, and long useful to the Colonial Authorities as interpreter.

Mr. Stanton served through the war. Special mention is made of his bravery in the battle of Fairfield Swamp, where he well nigh lost his life.

Bodge, in his History of Indian Wars, page 18, says (speaking of the Battle of Fairfield Swamp): "The brief skirmish at the beginning admonished the English that they were now facing a brave and desperate foe, no longer entirely at their mercy. There was a rumor also, brought back by the two captive girls to Wethersfield, that the Pequots had some sixteen muskets, which they might craftily discharge upon their assailants unexpectedly. So they decided to hold a parley with the foe. Thomas Stanton was sent to speak with them, readily understanding their language, and offering to go upon this service. He soon returned with about two hundred old men, women and children, including the local tribe. Then the warriors sent the challenge from the Swamp that they would fight it out with the English to the end, and Stanton, going once more to them, to urge terms of their surrender, was met with a fierce volley of arrows, so as to scarcely escape with his life. Then the guards were set and close watch kept all night, with frequent shooting on both sides. In the deepest darkness, about an hour before the dawn, the savages massed their numbers, and, after some desperate fighting, broke through Captain Patrick's lines and escaped." He must have returned very soon after peace was secured, for Drake in his "History of Boston" names him as one of the Magistrates in the trial of John Wheelwright, which took place October 3, 1637.

The next seventeen months of Mr. Stanton's life were eventful ones, for during them occurred his marriage and settlement in Hartford, Conn. In February, 1639, there were one hundred and twenty seven property holders in Hartford, and among them were Dr. Thomas Lord and his son-in-law, Thomas Stanton.

The time of Mr. Stanton's arrival and marriage is not known. His wife was <sup>3</sup>Ann<sup>2</sup>, daughter of Dr. Thomas and Dorothy Lord.

In 1649 the General Court granted him liberty to erect a trading house at Pawcatuck, with six acres of planting ground, and liberty to trade for three years. He soon went to Pawcatuck, but his family remained in Hartford. He and his family afterward went to Pequot. He filled many important posts in connection with the Indians and colony.

In 1665 he was Commissioner of Stonington, to hold semi-annual Court. Representative to General Court, 1666, 1667. He died December 2, 1677, and his will was proved June, 1678. His widow died in 1688.

LORD FAMILY.

Thomas Lord first settled at Newtown, afterward called Cambridge, Massachusetts, where his eldest son, Richard, born in 1611, had already established himself in 1632. Savage (in his Genealogical Dictionary) says that his father "perhaps had sent him to look out the most desirable place for his friends, Governor Haynes and Reverend Thomas Hooker," who came over in 1633 with "two hundred other passengers of importance to the colony." Here he remained "a year or more." But in 1636-37 this family were of that large company which was led, by Rev. Thomas Hooker, from Massachusetts, to form a new settlement on the Connecticut River. Thomas Lord thus became an original proprietor, and one of the first settlers of Hartford. He lived on the "north side," fronting Mill River, a near neighbor of Gov. Haynes, Rev. Mr. Hooker, Mr. Goodwin, Gov. Wyllys, Mr. Matthew Allyn, and others of the prominent inhabitants. His sons, Richard and Thomas, had lots next to his. That part of Hartford called Lord's Hill took its name from this family. Mr. Henry Dutch Lord, of Boston, a recognized authority, says: Thomas Lord, the first, of Hartford, was a merchant and mill owner, and that in the descriptions of the Burnham estate, Burnham mentions his half-interest in the mill with Thomas Lord. In these transactions Thomas Lord bears the prefix of "Mr." The date of his death is not known. Porter (in "Historical Notices of Hartford,") says: "he died early." The place of his burial is not known, but there is quite a number of Lord tombstones of descendants of his, in the early generations, in the rear of the First Church, of Hartford. The names of Thomas Lord and his son Richard are inscribed on the granite monument in the old grave-yard of Hartford as prominent among the first settlers. His widow, Dorothy, died in 1675 at the age of eighty-six years, and her will, dated February 8, 1669, is now on file among the Probate Records, in the office of the Secretary of State at Hartford.

As no will of <sup>1</sup>Thomas<sup>1</sup> Lord is on record it may be inferred that he died intestate, so that his widow had only her legal portion, dividing with her seven children. Her will speaks of "that litle estate the Lord hath lent me." Yet, besides disposing of a "dwelling house and Barn" and a "Home lott," it devises a "lower lott in the North meadow," several acres constituting an "upper lott in the long meadow," together with "wood land that is allready layd out or to be layd unto me within the Bounds of Hartford," beside "Moveable estate and Cattell," in five portions, and various household-stuff distinctive of a gentlewoman to a considerable amount, including a "silver drinking bowl." The seal which Dorothy Lord affixed to it, showing the coat of arms which "doubtless had been her husband's." The bearings correspond "exactly with those of the Laward, alias Lord, family, as given in Berry's Encyclopædia and Burke's Armour, S. N." "Av, on a fess gu, between three cinque foils, az, a hind pass, between two pheons, or."

<sup>2</sup>THOMAS<sup>2</sup>, born 1619, m. Hannah Thurston. He became a Physician and Surgeon; practiced in Hartford and other towns. He finally removed to Wethersfield, where he died.

It is said that the first "Medical License" granted in the New England colonies was issued to Doctor Lord, and read as follows:

"Courte in Hartford, 30 June, 1652, Thomas Lord, having engaged to this Courte to continue his aboade in Hartford for the next ensuing yeare and to improve his best skill amongst the inhabitants of the Townes upon the River within the jurissdiction, both for setting of bones and otherwise, as at all times, occassions and necessityes may or shall require. This Courte doth graunt that hee shall bee paid by the countey the sum of fifteene pounds for the said ensuing yeare, and they doe declare that for every visitt or journye that hee shall take or make, being sent for to any house in Hartford, twelve pence is reasonable; to any house in Wyndsor, five shillings; to any house in Wethersfield, three shillings; to any house in Farmington, six shillings; to any house in Mattabeseck, eight shillings (he having promised that hee will require no more); and that hee shall be freed for the time aforesaid from watching, warding and training, but not from finding arms.” (Goodwin’s Gen. Notes, p. 353).

<sup>1</sup>JOHN<sup>1</sup> SANFORD, son of Samuel and Elleanor Sanford, of Alford, Lincolnshire, England, sailed for New England in the ship "Lyon," Capt. Pierce, about the middle of August, 1631. On the same ship were John Eliot, the missionary to the Indians, John Winthrop, Jr., (afterward the Governor of the colony), and others.

They arrived out of Boston Harbor on November 3, and, after two days, landed in the new world. Before the close of the year he was recorded as a member of the church.

August 6, 1633, he was chosen to oversee the building of cart bridges over Stony and Muddy Rivers.

On May 14, 1634, he was appointed to examine the condition of the ordnance. On September 3, 1634, he was chosen cannoneer for the Port of Boston, and for two years' service already rendered at said port and for one year to come he was allowed £20. On September 8, 1636, he was allowed £10 for service the year past, and on October 28, 1636, he was again appointed cannoneer, and also surveyor of the arms and ammunition. Salary £30 for himself and man.

On November 2, 1637, he was discharged and allowed £13 6s 8d for the year past. On November 20, 1637, he and others were ordered to deliver up all guns, pistols, swords, powder, shot, etc., because "The opinions and revelations of Mr. Wheelwright and Mrs. Hutchinson have seduced, and led into dangerous errors, many of the people here in New England.

Being allowed to leave the colony they went to Portsmouth, Rhode Island, where on March 7, 1638, he and eighteen others signed the following compact:

“We, whose names are underwritten, do hereby solemnly, in the presence of Jehovah, incorporate ourselves into a Bodie Politick, and, as he shall help, will submit our persons, lives and estates unto our Lord Jesus Christ, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, and to all those perfect and most absolute laws of his, given us in his holy word of truth, to be guided and judged thereby.”

At a general meeting of the inhabitants, held May 13, 1638, it was ordered that the meeting-house should be set on the neck of land that goes over to the main island, where he and John Coggeshall shall lay it out. On May 20, 1638, he had six acres allotted him north of the great cove. On June 27, 1638, he and four others were appointed to repair highways. Was made Constable, 1640; Freeman, March 16, 1641; Lieutenant of Militia, 1644 (R. I. Colony Records, Vol. 1, p. 127); Assistant Governor, 1647, 1648, 1649 (R. I. ## THOMPSON FAMILY.

<sup>1</sup>WILLIAM<sup>1</sup> THOMPSON, REV. There are few names more common among the early settlers of New England (says Thompson's History of Long Island, Vol. 2, pp. 425, 426) than that of Thompson. Reverend William Thompson was born in the year 1597; graduated at Brasenose College, Oxford, January 28, 1619; and came to New England in 1634.

He first settled at what is now York Maine. In 1636 he removed to Dorchester, and on September 24, 1639, was ordained first pastor of Braintree, than called Mount Wallaston, during October, 1642, he was sent on a mission to Virginia, in company with Rev. Thomas Jones, of New Haven, Conn., and the Rev. John Knowles, of Watertown, Mass.

It appears that soon after they arrived, the Grand Assembly of Virginia passed an act prohibiting the preaching of the doctrine of the Pilgrims, and ordering all those who would not conform to the Church of England, to leave the country by a certain day.

In consequence of this act they could only address their people in private houses. The latter clause of the order was not carried into effect, on account of the trouble produced by the Indian massacre of April, 1643. Soon after this time these ministers, with many other persons, returned to New England. During Rev. Mr. Thompson's absence, his wife died, in January, 1643, leaving a family of young children, who, says Governor Winthrop:—"were scattered, but well disposed of, among his godly friends."

John, probably the eldest son, was placed in the Brewster family. Jonathan, supposed to be the second son, resided with his uncle James, of Woburn. James, born in Braintree, May 1, 1640, settled in Billerica, Mass., where he died in 1732; and Benjamin, the youngest child, born, July 14, 1642, graduated at Harvard College, in 1662.

The Rev. William Thompson is spoken of by Governor Winthrop as a very gracious and sincere man. He died, at Braintree, Mass., December 10, 1666.

Born about 1635; married, 1655, Hannah —.

He came to Ashford, Suffolk County, Long Island, in 1656, in company with Colonel Richard Woodhull, Colonel Richard Floyd, and others, and became one of the fifty-five proprietors of Setawket (Brookhaven). He became, by repeated allotments of land, and by purchase, the owner of a large amount of real estate, which, on his death, was divided among his children.

He resided near the Public Green, and was an upright and intelligent man, and held in high estimation by his fellow townsmen, who frequently elected him to responsible town offices. He died, October 14, 1688, leaving three sons. William, Anthony, Samuel, and several daughters, one of whom, Elizabeth, married Job Smith, son of Richard Smith, a patentee of Smithtown. His wife Hannah, died at Setawket, Long Island, October 4, 1687.

<sup>3</sup>SAMUEL<sup>3</sup>, born March 4, 1668; m. 1706, Hannah, daughter of Rev. Nathaniel Brewster, and widow of Job Muncy, son of Francis Muncy. She was born May 19, 1679, and died, November 17, 1755. He died, July 14, 1749. His children were Jonathan, born October 15, 1710; m. Mary Woodhull. Isaac, born —, went to sea, and never heard of afterward. Susanna, m. Thomas Strong; Mary, m. Daniel Smith; Deborah, m. first, Arthur Smith; second, William Miller; Ruth, m. Thomas Telford; Sarah, m. William Thompson, son of her uncle William, of Stonington.

NOTE—Thompson's History of Long Island, Vol. 2, p. 426, names the wife of <sup>1</sup>JOHN<sup>2</sup> as Hannah, daughter of Jonathan Brewster, and grand-daughter of Elder William Brewster, of the Mayflower. The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, Vol. 22, p. 35, and the Genealogy of the Strong Family, (by B. W. Dwight), pp. 606-7, repeats the statement. This has been found to be an error.

Miss Caulkins, in her history of New London, claims that Hannah Brewster, was the wife of Samuel Starr, of New London, and the statement is also made in the Genealogy of the Starr Family.

In "The Mayflower Descendant," Vol. 1, p. 226, (published by Mass. Society), is the following: on page 39, 1st volume of New London Town Records, is this entry: "Samuel Starr married Hannah ye daughter of Jon'an Brewster, 23rd of December, 1664." This entry was made by Obadiah Bruen, who was town "recorder" at the time. Some years later Hannah Brewster's brother-in-law, Daniel Wetherell, was elected recorder, which office he held for many years. If this entry in the town records had been wrong, he would have noticed it. We are not dependent on this record alone for proof that Jonathan Brewster's daughter Hannah did not marry John Thompson.

On page 7, volume 5, New London deeds, is recorded a conveyance from John Picket and Benjamin Brewster, to their sisters Grace Wetherell and Hannah Brewster, dated February 14, 1661-2. In this deed she is called Brewster by her brother and brother-in-law, six years after John Thompson is said to have married her. As she was living in New London in February, 1687-8, as Starr's widow, and was in full communion with the first church there at the time of Mr. Saltonstall's ordination, November 25, 1691, it is certain that she was not even a second wife of John Thompson, who died October 14, 1688, and whose wife Hannah, died at Brookhaven, October 4, 1687.

BERRY FAMILY.

<sup>1</sup>ELISHA<sup>1</sup> BERRY, born probably about 1660, was living in East Greenwich, R. I., in 1690. The R. I. Vital Record, Vol. 5, p. 76, gives him three wives—first, Elizabeth; second, Sarah; third, Ellen. Where he came from is not known, but it is probable that he was one of the children of Mr. Richard Berry, who was in Barnstable, Mass., about 1640; in Yarmouth, 1643; removed to Boston, where he lived with Mr. Thomas Hawkins in 1647, but went back to Yarmouth, married a wife by the name of Alice, and had eleven children born in Yarmouth. Richard died in Yarmouth in 1681.

Freeman's History of Cape Cod, Vol. 2, p. 198, says: The record is worn and torn, and but partially reveals their names or dates. All that can be gathered is: John, born, March 29, 1652; Elizabeth, March 5, 1656. It is known, however, that he had also sons, Richard, Samuel, Nathaniel, Joseph and also a daughter, Elizabeth, who married Josiah Jones, November 28, 1677. Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, Vol. 1, p. 170, says:

“John, born, March 29, 1652; one, July 11, 1654; Elizabeth, born, March 5, 1656; one, May 12, 1659; one, August 23, 1662; one, October 16, 1663; one, October 5, 1668; one, June, 1670; one, October, 1673; one, December 16, 1677. Of the eight names not mentioned, Joseph, who died September 7, 1681; Nathaniel, who died February 7, 1694, were two, but the dates of their birth are not ascertained by the record."

Elisha Berry was a Quaker, and probably removed from Massachusetts to Rhode Island, and was one of the unmentioned children of Richard Berry.

NOTE.—Dinah Spencer, wife of Elisha Berry, is undoubtedly a descendant of John Spencer, of Newport, and East Greenwich, but a careful examination of the Rhode Island Vital Records, and also Austin's Rhode Island Genealogical Dictionary, fails to reveal it. Through the worn condition of the original records, several Spencer births are given, where it has been found impossible to trace the name. One of these is probably that of the Dinah in question.

CLARKE FAMILY.

<sup>1</sup>JOSEPH CLARKE<sup>1</sup>. Born December 9, 1618, in Bedfordshire, England; came to New England, and in 1638 was in Newport, R. I., in which year he was admitted an inhabitant of the Island of Aquidneck. In 1640 he was present at the General Court Election; in 1644 was one of the original members of the First Baptist Church; in 1648, member of the General Court of Trials; was made freeman in 1655, and was Commissioner in 1655, '57, '58, '59; Assistant to the Governor in 1658, '63, '64, '65, '78, '79. His name appears on list of inhabitants May 8, 1669. In 1677 he was a member of the Court of Justice of the Peace "to attend to the matter of injurious and illegal acting of some of Connecticut Colony." In 1679 he and thirty-two others of Westerly took oath of allegiance to the Colony; in 1680 he was taxed £1 13s in Newport; in 1685 he and wife Margaret sold Francis Brinly, of Newport, 1-154 part of Conanicut Island (89 acres), and 1-154 part of Dutch Island, (he gave his residence at this time as "of Newport"). In 1690 he, with others, was empowered to proportion the taxes to respective towns.

He married, first, —; second, Margaret —, who died, 1694. He died, June 1, 1694, and is said to have died at Westerly, although many of his later years appear to have been spent at Newport. The names of Joseph Clarke's children are learned from the following memorandum, which is appended to the record of the will of his brother, Thomas Clarke: "The names of the children of Joseph Clarke, of the town of Newport, that are living this 19 December, 1694: Joseph Clarke, William Clarke, Mary Clarke, Sarah Clarke, John Clarke, Susanna Clarke, Joshua Clarke, Thomas Clarke, Cary Clarke, Elizabeth Clarke."

<sup>1</sup>EDWARD<sup>1</sup> JESSUP. Came to New England prior to 1649, at which time he was a citizen of Stamford, Connecticut, and owned land in that town, then included in the New Haven Colony. He may have been in Fairfield, twenty-five miles nearer New Haven, having landed estate then on "Sascoe Neck," which he sold in 1653 to Thomas Barlowe, of Fairfield. The town of Fairfield (Un-quo-wa) was settled in 1639 by Lieutenant Governor Roger Ludlow, who went from Windsor with eight or ten families, and they were joined by others from Watertown and Concord, Massachusetts. Stamford (Rippowan) was settled in 1641 by a colony from Wethersfield. One of these settlers was John Jessup, who was a brother of Edward Jessup.

Edward did not stay long in Stamford, but in 1652, when permission was obtained of Governor Peter Stuyvesant of the Dutch Colony of New Amsterdam, to establish an English settlement at the west end of Long Island, joined the party, and was one of the pioneers of Middleborough (Newtown). Land was purchased of the Indian proprietors in 1656, at one shilling an acre. The original price paid by each of the fifty-five, varied from two shillings to four pounds. Edward Jessup, with one other, paid the larger amount.

The settlers of Middleborough were allowed the privilege of nominating to the Dutch Governor and Council, six citizens for magistrates, three of whom were to be appointed. Jessup's name was on the first list given in 1652, but he was not appointed that year. He served in 1659, '60, '61, '62, and many entries are recorded in the records of the town court in his handwriting.

Enmity and jealousy began between the Dutch and English settlers, and lasted for several years, and occasioned much trouble. A long and detailed account of this trouble is given in the Genealogy of the Jessup Family, by Mr. H. G. Jesup, but it is not thought wise to give them all in this volume (which is only intended to give certain lines of direct ancestry).

Soon after the restoration of Charles II. to the English throne they were given a charter, and the English settlement was claimed as a part of the Colony of Connecticut; and, after much vexation and trouble, it so became. Edward Jessup had obtained large tracts of land, and had received grants for the same from the King.

In 1663 and 1664 he was magistrate of Westchester, and was a man of much influence and prominence through life.

He died in the Autumn of 1666, between August 6, when his will was dated, and November 14, when it was proved. He was buried, doubtless, in the ancient cemetery at Hunt's Point, but no gravestone marks his resting place, nor that of his married daughter, Elizabeth Hunt. His will is now on record in the Surrogate's office in New York City (Vol. 1, pp. 31, 33), and is one of the earliest recorded in the English language. It was "proven out of session," by the Governor's special order, at Flushing, Long Island, November 14, 1666.

His wife's name was Elizabeth ——. He put all of his estate into her hand, counselling her to bring up his two minor children in the fear of God, and giving her as "overseers" four of his most trustworthy friends. His widow, Elizabeth, married, second, in 1669, Robert Beacham, of "Barkside," in Fairfield County, Connecticut (now Green's Farms, in town of Westport). She removed, with her two youngest children, and disposed of her property in West Farms and Newtown.

Children.

Born, 1663, in Newtown (West Farms), New York, just before or after his father had crossed the East River to his new grant on the North Shore of Long Island.

He was three years of age when his father died. He grew up, became a freeman in Fairfield, Connecticut, acquired property, built him a house, and married in 1692, when twenty-nine years of age, Elizabeth Hyde, who was born August 23, 1669, and daughter of John Hyde (born, 1642), and Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Harvey, of Stratford. About 1720 Edward<sup>2</sup> removed from Green's Farms to Stamford, and lived there the remainder of his life. April 28, 1720, he purchased 125 acres in Stamford, and January 8, 1724, bought a right in what were called the "sequestered lands," paying £69 3s 9d for the same.

He died in 1732, and, by his tombstone, was in the 70th year of his age.

His will is recorded in Stamford, August 17, 1721, proved in Norwalk, January 5, 1732-3, and probated February 5, 1732-3. His son Joseph was named as sole executor. The inventory was £650, and is on file on probate records. His widow, Elizabeth, died in Stamford, October 2, 1749, in her 79th year. Her will was dated September 15, 1747. The personal inventory was £200.

Baptized August 3, 1707, in Fairfield, Connecticut. In 1732 he was living in Greenwich, where he also died. His name appears on the list of first parish in the oldest settlement in the town of Greenwich as early as 1739. He was a farmer, and also a carpenter.

His wife Sarah — was said to have been much younger than he. Letters of administration were granted her August 2, 1759, and estate distributed March 14, 1759–60. The inventory was £403 12s 9d. She married, second, Timothy Knapp, of Greenwich, and died, aged ninety-three years. All her children were by her first marriage.

Children.

Deborah Brown; m. Jonathan Rundle.

Phebe Brown; m. Shadrack Rundle.

Deborah and Phebe were baptized with four other children January 16, 1781.

NOTE.—At the time of their father's death, Nathaniel, Samuel, Silvanus and Phebe were minors. At the Stamford Probate Office there is now on file the bond of Jonathan Dibble (their uncle) as guardian of the last three.

At a later date, the mother gives bond as guardian of her two children; Jonathan as guardian of Nathaniel; Amos as guardian of Samuel. There has been found trouble in tracing the complete record of the family, and, later, the families of the children.

They all seem to have belonged to St. John's Episcopal Church at Stamford, which was nine miles from where they lived at Greenwich. Reverend Ebenezer Dibble was Rector, and was indirectly related to the family.

The majority of the births and baptisms were only recorded on the Church Record, which is defective, especially so, during the time of the Revolutionary War, when all Episcopal Churches were "under the ban," and not popular, for they were obliged to pray (by their ritual) for "Our good King George the Third." The membership became divided, the large majority being loyal to the Colony, while some were also loyal to the King.

It is no wonder that during these years of the War, and those immediately preceding and following, when the town was so busy with public and military affairs, and, as in this case, the Church "under a cloud," the record should be defective.

Some facts, therefore, relating to these families have had to be drawn from "family history," but enough is known to make the connection between them both authentic and reliable.

Born, May 1, 1736, in Greenwich, Connecticut.

Records refer to him first in 1761, when, on February 14, he bought land in Greenwich of Joseph Husted for £47, "current money of the Province of New York."

His name appears in "town list" from 1769 to 1774, showing that he was a town resident. On December 12, 1771, he purchased a homestead in the town, for which he paid £108 to Charles Mead, of the Manor of Courtland, in Westchester County, New York. In 1770 and 1771, he bought land of Moses Smith. In October, 1784, he gave deed to Horton Reynolds.

He suffered loss during the Revolutionary War, as there is mention in the town books of the sale of "the right of Amos Jessup, deceased, of £20 6s, lawful money, for losses sustained in time of war, and land granted for said losses, by General Assembly of State." The occasion of his loss was, probably, connected with his service in the war (see record of same at end of volume). He died about the middle of March, 1785, and administration was granted March 26, 1785, to Oliver Ferris "on the estate of Amos Jessup, late of Greenwich, deceased."

On the 13th of March, 1790, Elizabeth Jessup, the widow, and Anthony Studwell, her brother, both of Greenwich, and heirs of their father, Thomas Studwell, of the same town, convey to Ebenezer Hubby all claim they have in their mother's dower in the father's estate, March 30, 1790, for £75. Hubby conveys to Thomas Jessup, the son, certain lands with buildings, and in October, 1793, for £20, two acres additional.

He lived and died in Greenwich, and raised a family of children, but an examination of the town records in 1900 show that their births are not recorded.

He, like the other members of his father's family, was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church of Stamford, and three of his children are recorded as being baptized there by Rev. Ebenezer Dibble, (Thomas, Amos, and Dimma). There were also two sons born later, one of whom was Samuel, born November 18, 1785, (posthumous), the birth date being recorded in the family bible.

Family history also shows that <sup>5</sup>SAMUEL'S<sup>5</sup> mother was a Studwell.

Samuel removed from Greenwich, Connecticut, into Westchester County, New York, and thence to Genoa, New York. He was a thrifty, progressive farmer, and built up two farms that were models in their way, and which showed the result of good husbandry. He had six children, all of whom were born in Greenwich, Connecticut.

STUDWELL FAMILY.

Was an early settler in Greenwich, Conn.

This town commenced to be settled shortly after it had been purchased from the Indians by Robert Feaks and Daniel Patrick.

These purchasers violated their obligation to the Colony and placed themselves under the Dutch Governor of New York, then New Amsterdam. As a result, several of the settlers purchased tracts of land in other towns, and either temporarily or permanently removed to their new purchases. Many names appear upon the records of several towns who really resided in Greenwich, but who were taxed in other places, and the records of whose families have been scattered, and many of them lost.

Richard Crab had purchased large tracts of land from the Indians, and sold this land again, in smaller parcels. He had sold portions of his estate to Thomas Studwell, Peter Disbrow, John Coe, and others. October 6, 1656, they "freely yealded themselves" to the government of New Haven Colony, and came again under its rule (Record of New Haven Colony, Vol. 2, p. 16). With Peter Disbrow and John Coe, Thomas Studwell bought the Island of Manussing on June 29, 1660, and resided there for some time. Thomas "Stedwell" signed the declaration of the inhabitants of Hastings, July 26, 1662, and also the letter to the Hartford Government, January 26, 1663. In 1667, he sold his house and home lot which he was possessed of in Rye, Westchester County, New York, near the Mill Brook, and went, with his son Joseph, to Stamford, Connecticut (Hist. Stamford, Conn., Huntington, p. 193), but appears to have settled himself at length in the town of Greenwich, where, in 1694-5, his real estate was rated at thirty pounds. (History of Greenwich, Mead, p. 79.)

Probably other children, but these two are all there seems to be any mention of.

The date of his birth and the name of his wife his birth have not been learned. Joseph was with his father in Stamford in 1667, and in Greenwich in 1694-5, when his real estate was rated at eighteen pounds. He soon after acquired lands in Rye on "Barton's Neck," in "Will's" purchase, and on "Byram's Ridge," in 1705, 1717, 1722.

Children.

<sup>1</sup>JOSEPH<sup>3</sup>, born, about 1680 ; m——.

He was called "Jr." in Rye, and in 1740 was living on King street.

Born about 1685, but whether in Greenwich, Conn., or Rye, Westchester County, N. Y., cannot be determined, but the town records of Greenwich show his two sons to have been born there.

Children.

NOTE.—There may have been other children, but in the case of the Jessup, Ferris, Rundle and Studwell families every item of any moment connected with the Greenwich records have been obtained, and all others known and recorded in other towns.

Born, March 31, 1709; m. Jemima —; lived in Greenwich, Connecticut.

The actual settlement of Greenwich, Connecticut was made about 1640, and east of the Myanos river, but about 1672, a number of persons, some of them living in town, and some from other colonies than Connecticut, purchased Miosehasseky, from the few Indians yet living about the west part of the town. These purchasers were twenty-seven in number, and styled the "twenty-seven proprietors of 1672." Among these appears the name of William Rundle. They kept separate records of their own, and West Greenwich, (called by them "Horse Neck,") was entirely under their control.

In 1688 the number of inhabitants was about three hundred, and the number of legal voters about fifty, and William Rundle was the only one recorded by the name of Rundle. It is probable that he had brothers, and that some of them followed him, and settled in Greenwich, for Rev. Henry Griswold Jesup says, in his Jessup genealogy, page 285, "Jeremiah Randall, with his brothers, came from England, and settled first at Greenwich, (name often there spelled Rundle)." In the "town list" in 1694-5, are found several by the name of Rundle.

In 1666 a school was first talked of, but not till 1695 was a schoolmaster spoken of, and a committee of four was appointed to hire one. On that committee was William Rundle. He seems to have been called to occupy, from time to time numerous public positions in the town. He had two sons, and probably other children. The name of his wife is not spoken of in the records.

Children.

"William Rundle eare mark is a half-penny on ye fore side of ye near eare, & a nick on the same side of the eare next to the head, and nick on ye fore side of ye off eare. Recorded, March the 18 daye, 1720/21."

NOTE.—Richard Hardy came to Concord, Mass., in 1639; removed to Stamford, Conn., and there married Ann Heusted, daughter of Robert Heusted, (who came to Boston in 1640, and died in 1652,) and Elizabeth, his wife.

Richard Hardy had a daughter Mary, born, April 30, 1659. In 1683 he gave son Samuel a house and lot, and shortly after gave legacies to his daughters Elizabeth Parsons, Susanna Sherman, Sarah Close, Ruth Mead, and Mary Hardy.

His son Samuel married, first, Rebecca Hobby, November 18, 1686, and had Rebecca, born September 28, 1687. ## FERRIS FAMILY.

He removed from Watertown, and was one of the first settlers of Wethersfield, Conn. He sold his lot of forty-five acres in Wethersfield to John Deming. He went to Stamford, Conn., with the first company from Wethersfield, and is on the list of those who paid for the survey of Stamford, and on the first assignment of land was given ten acres. He had lived in Greenwich in 1656, for he was one of the eleven Greenwich men who petitioned to be accepted under the New Haven jurisdiction. His will is found in the probate records of Fairfield, Conn., dated January 6, 1664. He wills to the four boys he brought up, ten pounds sterling apiece, if they lived with any of his children until they are eighteen, the money then to be put out for them until they are twenty-one. His will names wife Judy, son James, son Jonathan Lockwood, and daughter Mary Lockwood, son Peter, and three children, Joseph, and his two children.

He had three wives. The name of the first is not known, but she died, July 31, 1658. He married, second, Susanna, widow of Robert Lockwood, and thus became step-father to his son-in-law, Lieut. Jonathan Lockwood. Susanna died, December 23, 1660. He married, third, Judy Bowers, who survived him. His will was dated January 6, 1664, he died in 1666.

The name Ferris is from Leicestershire, House of Feriers, from Henry's son Gualchelme de Feriers, Master of the horse of the Duke of Normandy, to whom William the Conqueror gave large tracts of land in the three shires of Stafford, Derby and Leicester.

I have heard her state from time to time the eventful dash by which General Putman made his escape at Horse Neck (West Greenwich), Conn., as the British came dashing onward and sending the missiles of death after him."

LOCKWOOD FAMILY.

<sup>1</sup>ROBERT<sup>1</sup> LOCKWOOD came from England, and settled at Watertown, Mass., where six of his ten children were born, and where their births are recorded. Was made freeman, March 9, 1636-7 (Mass. Rec., V. 1, p. 372).

He was executor of the estate of Edmund Lockwood, supposed to have been his brother. About 1648 he removed to Fairfield, Conn., where he died in 1658 (Bolton's History of Westchester Co., N. Y., p. 108). Was made freeman of Conn., May 20, 1652 (Trumbull's Col. Rec., Vol. 1, p. 231).

He was recorded as settler of Fairfield, as early as 1641 (N. E. H. & G. Reg., V. 7, p. 157).

<sup>6</sup>GRESHOM<sup>2</sup>, (ROBERT<sup>1</sup>).

Born, September 6, 1643 in Watertown, Mass.

Died, March 12, 1718-9, in Greenwich, Conn.

He removed to Greenwich, with his father, before he was nine years old, and was fifteen years old when his father died. He was the principal carpenter and builder in the town of Greenwich, and filled many offices of trust there (Mead's History of Greenwich, p. 113). He was one of the twenty-seven proprietors of Greenwich. Was Lieutenant of Militia, in 1692. He and one of his sons were taxed £153 15s, in 1694-5. He made his will, November 22, 1692, and was called Senior. The plain blue-slate head-stone, which marks his grave, is well preserved, and bears the following inscription:

He married Lady Ann Millington, from England, daughter of Lord Millington. This lady came to this country in pursuit of her lover, a British Army Officer. Failing to find him, she taught school, and subsequently married, Gershom Lockwood, of Greenwich.

In 1660 her parents sent her a large oak chest ingeniously carved on the outside, and strongly built. Tradition says: "It contained half a bushel of Guineas, and many fine silk dresses, etc." This identical chest was in 1888, at Mr. Samuel Ferris' home, in Greenwich, Conn. Lady Millington's grand-daughter, Ann Lockwood, married, Samuel Ferris, and his descendants have the chest.
