
DESCENDANTS AND ANCESTORS
OF
CHARLES NORTON,
OF
GUILFORD, CONNECTICUT.

W. H. MOORE, Printer, Washington.

DEC., 1866.

PART FIRST.
DESCENDANTS OF CHARLES NORTON,
GUILFORD, CONNECTICUT.

DEAR RELATIVES: Annexed please find the names of all the DESCENDANTS of CHARLES NORTON, of Guilford, as far as I can learn them, with their marriages, births, deaths, residences, &c. A number is prefixed to each name for the purpose of distinguishing persons of the same name, &c.

In obtaining this data, I have addressed many of the persons named, and generally received in answer all the information in their possession on the subject, with a request to inform them of any additional facts I might obtain. I have chosen the present form for complying with these requests, and intend sending the pamphlet to all the relatives whose address I can learn. To those who may object to their family record being in print, I would plead the great labor of writing a copy for each of this numerous family as an excuse for the liberty I have taken, and also state that the pamphlet is intended only for distribution among those whom it concerns.

I hope it may be the means of the Norton family and descendants becoming better acquainted with and more interested in each other. It is also hoped that those who have information requisite for filling the blanks under the heads of marriages, births, &c., or observe any errors in the printed data, or have additional information respecting any of the Norton descendants, will apprise me.

I have the daguerreotypes of many of those named in part first, and would be thankful to any others who may be disposed to send me theirs, or those of their friends. In most of the cities good likenesses can be obtained for a trifling sum, and can conveniently be transmitted by mail. Copies also are easily taken by daguerreotype when the persons are absent or deceased. I desire to have these likenesses for the purpose of becoming familiar with the characteristic features of the Nortons, as well as those of each individual. If the likenesses of most of the persons mentioned in part first should be collected, it would afford an opportunity of transferring them to paper, and, with the information above solicited, make an interesting book for those concerned.

The family residence of Charles Norton (No. 1) is in the possession of his descendants, (Nos. 146 and 147,) and many others are living in the same town. It is situated on the Providence and New Haven railroad, and I should suppose would interest any one of the descendants who could make it convenient to visit it; and, if a family jubilee could be arranged so as to have as many as possible of the descendants of this man meet face to face at the spot endeared to him by the name of home, the interest would be greatly increased.

For the ready response I have received from relatives in furnishing information, as well as their expressions of kind and friendly feelings, I return my sincere thanks, and remain affectionately their cousin,

Address

ALBERT B. NORTON,

Washington Navy Yard, D. C.

ANCESTORS OF CHARLES NORTON,
GUILFORD, CONNECTICUT.

In seeking for information respecting the descendants of Charles Norton, of Guilford, (No. 1 of part 1st, and "a" 88 of part 2d.) an amount of data respecting his ancestors has been obtained, that seems sufficiently well authenticated to deserve a place under the above head. Their names are grouped on pages 22-23 in families and generations, and on pages 24-25-26 these are repeated, with the data I have respecting them. The number corresponding to each person is preceded by "a," in order to distinguish them from those of part first.

The names corresponding to the numbers included between "a" 1 and "a" 44, it is believed, are to be found on a geneological chart of the Nortons of Sharpenhow, Bedfordshire, England. This chart is supposed to be the work of Rev. Jno. Norton ("a" 27) previous to his emigration to America. It is dated 1632, and states that the data respecting Le Sr. Norville ("a" 1) and the next eight persons, including Jno. Norton, ("a" 9,) were obtained from the public documents in the "Office of Arms;" the remainder from the private and public records of those concerned. Professor Andrew Norton, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, (who died September 20, 1853, and who was a descendant of Wm. Norton, "a" 28,) had this chart in his possession; and in 1841 Lewis M. Norton, of Goshen, Connecticut, made a copy of a portion of it, from whom most of the data given in part second was obtained. The chart represents Norville to be a corruption of the French term nord ville, (north town,) and that Nor-ton (Norton) was subsequently adopted.

The data respecting the persons corresponding to the numbers included between "a" 45 and "a" 117, is mostly obtained from church, town, and family records. The relationship of these persons with those mentioned on the chart, may be a subject of doubt; for instance, Jno. Norton, mentioned on the chart as the son of Richard Norton, ("a" 20,) may not be the same Jno. Norton whose name is found on the records of the towns of Branford and Farmington; but the fact of Francis Norton ("a" 44) mentioning "cousin Jno. Norton, of Farmington," in his will, and it being understood that Jno., of Farmington, was nephew to Thomas Norton ("a" 19) and Francis Norton, ("a" 26,) and that his father's name was Richard, would make it very probable that he was the same person mentioned on the chart as son of Richard Norton, ("a" 20,) thus connecting the different sources of record.

It is probable that the descendants are in general correctly traced from Jno. Norton ("a" 41) to the conclusion of part second.
