THE DESCENDANTS

—OF—

JOHN OGDEN

—OF—

FAIRFIELD, CONN.,

AND NEW FAIRFIELD, N. J.

Born 1673, Died 1745.

Much of the material contained in this pamphlet was collected incidentally while investigating the antecedents, history and descendants of "Old John Ogden," of Elizabethtown, to whom the ancestors of John Ogden, of Fairfield was probably a brother. The records of Fairfield, Conn., were most carefully and thoroughly examined by Mr. Lawrence VanAlstyne and every available local authority consulted with the result given herein. Extensive correspondence with various members of the family has been had, and many records have been examined and compared to complete the genealogy. It is not supposed, however, that that result has been attained, but it is believed that this publication will lead to further corrections and supplementary records, the filling in of dates, &c., which will be available for a larger and more extensive work hereafter. All information, whether in correction or addition to what is herein contained, may be sent to Wm. Ogden Wheeler or to Edmund D. Halsey.

JOHN OGDEN.

—o—

John Ogden of Fairfield, N. J., was the son of Richard Ogden, senior, of Fairfield, Conn., whose estate was inventoried April 18, 1687. On the 15th of June of that year distribution was made of his estate, and his widow, Mary Ogden, was appointed administratrix and guardian of the youngest son John. It appears from this order of distribution and other records that the children of Richard were Richard, "pretending to be the eldest son yet is not the first born son," who married 1679, Sarah, daughter of Thomas Staple.

David, who married Abigail Sherwood.

John, afterwards of New Jersey.

Hannah, wife of Sergeant Samuel Ward.

Thankful, wife of Daniel Silliman.

Elizabeth, wife of Daniel Meeker.

Mrs. John Pine, thus mentioned in the record, "and whereas John Pine had in marriage with a daughter of ye deceased, a child."

Oct. 27, 1690, John Ogden, his mother being dead, chose as his guardian his brother-in-law, Sergeant Ward, who died before Jan. 16, 1692, but no new guardian was then appointed. May 5, 1694, John Ogden's name appears as a witness to a release. March 14, 1695, he sells land to John Sturges, and Dec. 11, 1696, he buys land of his cousin, Edman Ward, adm'r Oct. 2, 1700, John Ogden "of ffairfield in New West Jarsey," sells land in Fairfield, Conn., which was part of his share of his father, Richard Ogden's estate, to Samuel Cobbett, and again July 5, 1705, being "of New Fairfield in Cohansey," he sells his share of the commons which came from his father's estate to Jonathan Sturges. It appears he married 1st Mary Dimon but afterwards Sarah ———, the latter being named in his will, which is dated Dec. 21, 1745, and was proved March 26, 1746, (Secy. State Of. Trenton, Book 5, pg. 249). His tombstone at the Old Stone Church shows that he died December 22, 1745, aged 75 years.

- 614.—Robert Curtis, b. June 20, 1836, m. March 1, 1860, Ellen E., dau. of W. O. Lewis. He is a partner in the firm of John Wanamaker in Phila. Rev. Dr. Erdman of Morristown, N. J., an old friend, has written this sketch of Mr. Ogden which we think it but just to insert. Mr. Ogden is a fine illustration of a man of remarkable executive ability and widespread business relations, winning success by the utmost diligence and closest attention to all the details of his calling, at the same time giving unstintedly of his best thought and energy to various religious and philanthropic interests. While still in his young manhood, Mr. Ogden became a devoted worker in the Sunday School cause, first in Brooklyn, N. Y., and now for many years, as the head of the great Sabbath School connected with the "Holland Memorial Presbyterian Church," in Philadelphia. His indomitable energy, Christian enthusiasm and wise business judgment have made that school one of the model Sunday Schools of our land. Its membership is upwards of 1,500. As an elder in the church Mr. Ogden has not only made himself a power in the moral and religious life of his church and city, but also in the interests of the church at large. For a number of years, he has served as a member of the Board of Ministerial Relief of the Presbyterian Church, and none more efficiently than he. Many years ago Mr. Ogden became deeply interested in the work of Hampton Institute in Hampton, Va. With his customary unselfishness and earnestness, he worked for the success of the cause, and to no one did the late Gen. Armstrong, the noble founder of that institution, look with greater confidence for counsel and aid, than to his devoted personal friend and co-worker, the Philadelphian christian merchant. And so in every sphere, where duty called him, Mr. Ogden has shown the same unselfish devotion and wise Christian judgment, a "man of affairs" in the highest and best sense.
