PREFACE

IN compiling this READ GENEALOGY, I have been actuated in part by my enjoyment of such work, and in part by a desire to do something of value for the Read family to which my mother belonged, I realize, however, that it is a very incomplete book, for much that was important has passed beyond recovery with the passing away of the older generations and their neglect of family records. If I had had larger means I might, perhaps, by expensive researches have discovered more facts and made a more perfect record. I have found the written records few and scattered, and not always correct. It has been necessary to depend much on Tradition; but knowing the uncertainty of such evidence, I have been careful about accepting it unless well verified. I feel sure that the statements of this book can be depended on with reasonable confidence. Some of the kindred have helped cordially, for which I return most hearty thanks. Others have seemed indifferent and unresponsive, and if any such do not find much about their own families, they certainly will not blame me. A second edition, perhaps, may be printed, and then all errors in this corrected and deficiencies supplied.

INTRODUCTION

DESIRE to know something about ones ancestors seems natural to Mankind, and while one is neither the better nor the worse on account of his Pedigree, yet it seems a desirable thing to preserve family histories in a Genealogy. This is the more necessary for sometimes the disposition of titles and estates depend on the record. The Bible gives us many genealogies, and we know that among the Hebrews, Chinese, Arabians and Oriental nations generally, much attention was, and is, paid to genealogies. In England, Parish Registers of births, deaths and marriages have been kept for centuries. The early New England laws required them to be entered in the Town Clerk's Office, and valuable help has been had, in this book, from that source. In New York, until 1887, no such records were required, but many families are collecting and printing their records, which can be found in the various libraries.

The Author's Apology. Though not a Read by name, yet the fact that his mother was one, will be apology enough (if apology be needed), for the effort the author has made to collect, arrange and preserve these items of the family history of the Reads, to whom he belongs through his mother, who was Maria, daughter of William Read.

Female and Collateral Lines. It has been the author's purpose to give a record of all the families descended from our Read ancestor, both on the male and female lines. And, also, notes on other families with whom they have intermarried, believing that these notes would add to the value of the book.

Meaning of the Name. The name Read has been the subject of many speculations as to its origin and meaning. One writer says that Aschanaz, great-grandson of Noah, was the founder of the family. Another traces it to Rhea, an ancient goddess of the old Greek and Roman mythology, who was the wife of Saturn and mother of Juno, Neptune, and the mighty Jupiter himself. Others think it may denote an occupation, from the Saxon Raed — speech, discourse. Or that it may have been used to denote a resemblance to a certain well known plant. Ried in German denotes a hollow stalk. Some think it has been compounded, as in Ethelred, or Reed the Good; Conrad, or Reed the Powerful; Eldred, or Reed the Elder. The spelling (and misspelling) appear to have been dictated largely by fancy. We note no less than 18, viz: Read, Reed, Reade, Reid, Ried, Ride, Red, Rad, Raad, Rheade, Rheadus, Reda, Rada, Redha, Wrede, Whrede, Wada, Wrada.

Reeds of the Old World. The name Read is found in several European countries. We note that in the 15th century in Scotland there was a famous Robert Reed, or “Robin of Reddsdale” (Reeds-dale), whose figure was carved on a high rock as an armor-clad Giant, for his deeds of valor. In the same vale there dwelt a powerful clan, a branch of which was called Reed-augh (Reed-oh). Sir Walter Scott, in his “Fair Maid of Perth” refers to them. A Peter Reed was knighted by Charles V, at the seige of Barbary. His portrait hangs in the council house of St. Giles Church, Edinboro, which he endowed with a fund to have the bells rung every day, at 4 in the morning and 8 in the evening. Dod’s and Burke’s works on English and Scotch Noble Families, give several Reades, with their pedigrees and coats of arms. At the present time (1912) we hear of one Sir George Compton Reade, who is a plain American farmer at Howell, Michigan, who claims, with much reason, to be the rightful heir of Shipton Court, a grand old estate in Oxfordshire, England.

The Reads in America are quite a numerous and patriotic tribe. They were among the early settlers of New England, Pennsylvania and Virginia. As early as 1630, William Reade, born 1605, whom we believe to have been our ancestor, was one of Gov. Bradford's partners in settling the colony of Boston, Mass. His large family came over in 1635, in the ship "Assurance," which sailed from Gravesend, July 26th, 1635. He settled at Weymouth, 20 miles south of Boston, on the coast. His brother, John Reade, came in 1643, and settled in Rehoboth, Mass. In 1630 there also came, to Salem, Mass., a "Col. Read," son of Sir Thomas Cornwall, and grandson of the Lord of Shropshire. This Col. Reed, and his posterity, were leading men in Salem. About the same time another Read family was found in Plymouth. In 1660, John Reed came to Providence, R. I.. In 1637, George Read came to Virginia. His great-great-grandson was George Washington, "Father of his country."

The Reads can claim Washington for their family record. Joseph Read, probably a relative, was Washington's military secretary, and would, probably, have been President had he lived. He was a man of unusual ability.* George Read of Delaware, was one of the five men who had the double honor of being a signer of the Declaration of Independence and a framer of the Federal Constitution. He lived in fine style at Newcastle, Del. The Reads of Pennsylvania have furnished some notable

*This Joseph Read, born in the North of Ireland, 1741, came with his parents to America, where he received a fine college and professional education, and general culture. He was an ardent patriot, and in a variety of very responsible military, civil and diplomatic positions, showed such talents and rendered such invaluable service, that he was counted, in his day, one of the great men of this nation. His moral and religious life was blameless. He died in 1785, while yet in his prime. See Sparks Am. Biog.

men in literature and statesmanship. William Read of Woburn, Mass., arrived Oct. 6th, 1635. His descendant, James Reed, who lived at FitzWilliam, or Keene, N. H., commanded the 2d Regiment at Bunker Hill, which did heavy fighting, losing 166 killed and wounded. James Reed was later made a Brigadier General by the Provincial Congress. Besides James Reed, there were at Bunker Hill, Jeremiah Reed, and Benjamin Reed, Jr., of Rutland, who was killed June 17th, 1775. and also William Warrin, killed at the same battle. It is a well authenticated tradition that our Nathaniel Read had one or more uncles at Bunker Hill, and four cousins, two of whom were killed. The military records of New England and of the Continental Army furnish hundreds of names of Reads who served as regular soldiers, sailors, and militia men, many of them several times. They also were active in the old Indian and Colonial Wars. Their descendants are eligible to most of these patriotic societies, if only they can trace their pedigrees back.

Reads in America in 1790. The First Federal Census, 1790, shows that (excepting New Jersey, Delaware, Georgia, and part of Virginia, and the, then, Territories) there were in the whole land 1,201 families named Reed, Read, Reade, Reads, Rede, Reede, Reid, Reide, Rhead, Ried. They comprised 6,877 persons, an average of 5.7+ to the family. One family in every 342 was a Read, and it was, and still is, one of the more numerous families in our land. They were located by states as follows: Maine 51, New Hampshire 57, Vermont 46, Massachusetts 304, Rhode Island 19, Connecticut 86, New York 88, Pennsylvania 253, Maryland 71, Virginia (part) 65, North Carolina 105, South Carolina 56. There was one Reed in every 217 persons in Massachusetts, one every 440 in Connecticut and one in 421 in New Hampshire and one in 292 in Pennsylvania. They were most numerous in the latter states.

Later Generations in America. The Reads are also to be found among the country's defenders in the War of 1812. Three of our ancestor's sons were in it (and perhaps more), viz: Israel, William and Abner, and his son, John. Israel was killed. In the Civil War, 1861, there were many of the name who were officers and privates. Several of our cousins have fine military records. One of our cousins belonged to a Michigan cavalry regiment, a detachment of which captured Jefferson Davis. He guarded the prisoner. Another cousin, Charles Harvey Reed, was at one time a leading lawyer of Chicago. F. A. Reed was a M. E. minister in Illinois, and M. C. Mason, Baptist missionary to Burma. Francis A. Reed is a successful merchant at Freeport, Ill., as are Elgene and Ervin Reed at Delevan, N. Y. The Lonyo Brothers are prosperous brick makers in Detroit. Abner Reed's son, Abner, and Jason Knapp, were famous lake captains. In the later generations we have many who are teachers, who are named in their places. Frank R. Grover is an able and busy lawyer in Chicago, Ill. Howard P. Reed is a prosperous builder and contractor in Ashtabula, Ohio, and Dr. A. B. Mason was a fine Doctor and Dentist in Toledo, O.

In all the professions and business line the Reads have a goodly roll. John Whitemore Read and John Meredith Read were writers and the latter a diplomat. Thomas Buchanan Read was an artist, author and poet. He wrote the famous poem, "Sheridan's Ride". Thomas Brackett Reed of Maine, Speaker of the House three terms, was an able lawyer, politician and distinguished for humor. Whitelaw Reid has been candidate for Vice-President, and is now (1912) Minister to England. These are only samples, of what we might mention if our space limits did not forbid.

Read Biographies. In one of the big Biographical Dictionaries there are given no less than 56 biographies of Reads, who, for one reason or another, were deemed worthy of mention. But we all know that many noble men live and die, whose work and character are just as grand as those whose biographies are preserved in the Biographical Dictionary. It must not be inferred that we do not realize the fact in giving this list. We would mention these other Reads, "to fame unknown," if we only had the data. But we note in this list:

1. George Read, 1738-98 (named above), Delaware, U. S. Senator and U. S. Judge.
2. John Meredith Read, 1837-96, diplomat and writer.
3. Charles Read, 1819-98. Frenchman, Protestant, scholar, editor, historian, lived in France.
4. Nathan Read, Mass., and Maine, 1759-1849. Inventor, member of congress, Chief Justice of Maine.
5. Opie Percival Read, 1852——, Tennessee. Editor, writer, etc.
6. Charles Reade, 1814-84. England. Novelist and playwright. Author of "Never Too Late to Mend," "Hard Cash," and several other stories.
7. William W. Reade, 1839-75. England. Nephew of Charles Reade. African traveler.
8. Andrew Reed, 1787-1862. English Congregational minister and philanthropist.
9. Sir Charles Reëd, 1819-81. Son of Rev. Andrew Reed, English philanthropist, educator, M. P., type founder.
10. Sir Edward James Reed, 1830-1906. M. P., British naval engineer, chief constructor of the British navy.
11. Henry Reed, 1808-54, Pennsylvania. Prof. in Univ. Penn. Lost at sea on steamer "Arctic."
12. Joseph Reed, 1741-85. New Jersey. Washington's secretary, Cont. Cong., 1775 and 78.
13. Thomas Brackett Reed, 1839-1902. Maine. Bowdoin Coll., 1860; Memb. Cong., 1876-98; Speaker 3 terms; counted members present to make quorum; styled "Czar" Reed. Witty and humorous, and able.

14. Walter Reed, 1851-1902, Virginia. Army surgeon; discoverer of etiology of yellow fever, as caused by the mosquito "stegomya faciata."
15. William Bradford Reed, 1806-76, Pennsylvania; politician, journalist; Am. Consul, London; Am. Minister to China.
16. Sir George Reid. Scotch painter.
17. George Agnew Reid, 1861, Canadian artist.
18. George Houston Reid, 1845, Australian Statesman; Prime Minister, New South Wales.
19. James Smith Reid, 1846, England; Latin Scholar.
20. Thomas Mayne Reid, 1818-83, British writer of romances.
21. Robert Reid, 1863, Mass.; painter.
22. Robert Gillespie Reid, 1840-1908, Canadian railway builder.
23. Sir Robert Threshire Reid, 1846——, Scotland; Lord Chancellor, England, 1905.
24. Samuel Chasler Reid, 1783-1861, Connecticut; Am. Privateersman. In 1818 planned present arrangement of Stars and Stripes on Flag.
25. Thomas Reid, 1710-96, Scotland; a noted mental philosopher.
26. Sir Thomas Wemysis Reid, 1842-1905, English journalist and author.
27. Whitelaw Reid, 1837——, Am. journalist and statesman; candidate for Vice-President; Minister to France and England.

We find that the Reads, Reeds, Reids, in both lands have had men eminent as pioneers, lawyers, ministers, soldiers, sailors, surgeons, authors, painters, jurists, missionaries, statesmen, editors, authors, actors, educators, inventors, philanthropists.

Read Genealogies. In "Durrie's Index of Genealogies," may be found a pretty full list of these books and sources.

Jenning's Genealogy and Savage's Genealogical Dictionary also contain some data. The town and country histories, where Reads have lived, also afford valuable help. These books may be seen, most of them, in Boston, New York, Albany, and Chicago. We have seen:

1. The Ancient and Knightly and Historic House of Read.
(This contains the pedigree of some of the Penn. Reads.)
2. The "Reades of Blackwood Hill," London, 1906, an English family.
3. Descendants of John Reed, who came to Providence, R. I., 1660. He had been Lieut. Col. in Cromwell's army. This is a fine book, published in 1903.
4. Chart of the Descendants of John Read, who was at Rehoboth, Mass., 1643; Providence, 1859.
5. History of Reed Families of New England, 1861. By J. Whittemore Reed. A very valuable book.
6. Descendants of William Reade, Weymouth, Mass., 1635-1902, by J. Ludovicus Reed, Baltimore, 1902. (This expensive edition was mostly burned in the Baltimore fire.)
7. Seth Reed, Pioneer of Geneva, N. Y., 1895.

We have given above these general notes on the Reed family realizing that they are only samples of what might be written, if one only had time and means to explore the material awaiting the student of our family histories.

The Reed Institute. Simeon G. Reed and wife came from Mass. to Portland, Or., in 1854, and in business there accumulated a fortune of some two or three millions of dollars, which they desired to leave in a way to be of great benefit to the city and the world. He died in 1895 and she in 1904, and the will provided that the money should be used to found a REED INSTITUTE, in which all branches of knowledge and especially those of a practical kind should be taught, and be non-sectarian in religion.

The Institute has only just begun, Sept., 1911, active work with 10 professors and 50 students, but intends a large development along these lines. What it will become we cannot tell, perhaps something like Cornell University in New York State. The first Chaplain we note is a B. D. (Bachelor of Divinity) of the Harvard Theological School (Unitarian).

Mr. Reed traced his pedigree back to William Read of Weymouth and if William Read (423) is our ancestor, we are of the same stock. William of Weymouth had a son Thomas from whom Mr. Reed was descended in a line thus: Thomas, Thomas, Daniel, Thomas, Thomas, Simeon I., Simeon G. William of Weymouth had another son, James, and our line (if it is ours) runs thus: James, William, William, William (423).

OUR ANCESTOR

All we know about this man and his wife is by tradition. We have not yet found any authentic records. We have sifted the traditions, and give herewith those that seem pretty well established, and leave them to be verified or rejected later on.

Only two of his grandchildren are yet living (1912) (both the children of Nathaniel, the youngest son), viz: Lewis Reed of Watertown, N. Y., and his sister, Mrs. Elitha Reed Gordon of Lafargeville, N. Y. Some other grandchildren have been living since this work was begun, and we have their traditions also.

His Given Name. The Descendants of Abner, John, and Nathaniel who live in Jefferson Co., N. Y., say it was "John," but they have no record evidence that is to be depended upon. The descendants of William and Lewis "think it was William," but are not absolutely sure. We shall leave it an open question, and in this book refer to him under the appellation Our Ancestor.*

*In the Dickerman Genealogy Nathaniel Reed is said to be the "son of Record Reed." But Nathaniel's surviving children do not

His Wife's Name. That his wife's name was Alice Record seems certain. Anna, daughter of Lewis, Maria of William, and Elitha of Nathaniel, are positive in this. Nathaniel had Record in his name, and Israel a son named Reckord, and all agree that there was an "Uncle Record," her brother, for whom they were named.

"Uncle Record." In nearly all the families there are traditions of an "Uncle Record," her brother, whose home in York State, in his old age, seems to have been near Sandusky or Arcade, then in Erie Co., where others of the same name had settled. He lived around among his relatives. His given name none remember. Reckord Reed's daughter, in Erie Co., remembers that when she was a little girl he was at their house visiting, and that he was lame, and said to her: "Chatterbox, bring me my cane." Maria, daughter of William, who lived at North Gage, said, in 1892: "In my girlhood we used to be visited by my father's uncle, whom we called Uncle Record. He was an old man, and wore shades to protect his eyes, which were sore. He also had a fever sore on one of his legs. He was very musical, and taught me to sing with him. He had never married. He was not converted till late in life, and after that event occurred, if asked how old he was, would answer by giving the number of years since his conversion, which he would explain thus: 'I was born so-and-so (the date of his birth), but I began to live so-and-so (the date of his conversion).' He had been seven years a cook in the Revolutionary Army, and we loved to hear him tell war accept this as certain. Lewis remembers "having heard that our ancestor was given a name not really his." But that he was called Record Reed in his last years seems certain, but how he got the name we cannot tell. There is no "Record Reed" in the Genealogies, or in the census of 1790 in New England or New York, as there certainly would have been if it was his real name. There are Johns and Williams enough, but which is his we cannot tell.

stories. And this is all we know about Uncle Record.”*

Other Traditions. We note these, for some of them may be true. Warren, son of Israel, was heard to say that the family came to N. Y. from Maine. His descendants in Jeff. Co., N. Y., have it that there was an older son, named Thomas, who went to sea and was never heard from afterward. Anna, daughter of Lewis, has the same story, but the name was Samuel. She also says that there was another daughter, named Polly. She also says our ancestor came from Scotland, with a large family, three or four of whom died on the voyage, when he was 22, to Boston, with a brother from whom he was separated for a long time. All traditions agree that the ancestor was Scotch.

Revolutionary Traditions. In every branch these abound, and say that some of them were killed in that war. Lewis, son of Nathaniel, and his sister, Elitha, say that they heard their father often say that he had one uncle and four cousins at Bunker Hill; and that one of the cousins was killed and buried in the trenches, and another died of his wounds. Lewis also says that his father, referring to a Life of Ethan Allen, used to say that the “Col. Reed” therein mentioned as ejecting settlers from lands claimed both by New York and Mass., in Vermont, was his grandfather’s brother, and he was more or less in touch with the famous Ethan Allen. This book no doubt is Moore's Life of Ethan Allen, but it does not give the name of the "Col. Reed." Lewis also says his father used to say that we trace back through the Warrens to Plymouth Rock.

*There was a Reckord family in Revolutionary times, in Middleboro, Mass., 14 miles from Plymouth, who had a daughter, Allis, who married William Read, Sept. 22d, 1768. She had brothers, Jacob, Samuel, Israel. There was also an Abner Reckord, but whose son he was we do not know. All four of them served in the Revolutionary War, mostly in the militia. One of them, Jacob, born Dec. 23d, 1751, engaged Feb. 19th, 1778, to serve in the Continental Army for three years, for the town of Middleboro. He joined Capt. Benson’s Co. in Col. Putman’s Regiment. The other brothers have left posterity, but we do not find any of Jacob. We believe he was our Uncle Record. If so, we know when he came into existence, and if we only had the date of his conversion, we should know when he began to “live.”

From Down East. All the traditions agree that our Read family came to New York State soon after the Revolutionary War, from "somewhere Down East," which, in York State, means New England. Some say from Conn., some from Maine, some from Salem, Mass., and some from near Plymouth.* He may have lived in all these places. And there are indications that his sons, some of them, came first, for Abner was here in 1790, and perhaps Israel and John. They came to what was then and still is called "The Mohawk Country," in the central part of N. Y. State. It lies along the upper part of the Mohawk River, above Schenectady, and is about 100 miles long and 30 wide. This is now (1912) a populous and prosperous country, with three great arteries of trade, the Erie Canal, the 4-track N. Y. C. R. R., and the new 1,000-ton Barge Canal. Utica, with its 70,000 people, is the center of this region. Oneida and Herkimer are the counties in which our people lived, and the region at that time was mainly occupied by

The "Holland Dutch." The Dutch proper were from Holland and had a language of their own, though similar to the German. The Dutch proper had, between 1608-1660, settled in considerable colonies at N. Y. City, Brooklyn, Flatbush, Kingston, Tivoli, Catskill and Albany on the Hudson, and up the Mohawk as far as Schenectady. About 1709, and later, there was an immigration of Protestant Germans from the Palatinate, known as "Palatines," who settled further up the Mohawk, and

*It is impressed on my memory that my mother, in telling where they came from, exclaimed: "Middleboro, or Middle-something, not far from Plymouth, or New Bedford." But I am not sure enough of this to set it down as certain.—H. M. D.

were called Mohawk Dutch, tho they were not really Dutch at all, only Germans. Why they were called "Dutch" we cannot explain, unless it be that the other races got the word from Deutschland, the German name for Germany, and its adjective Deutsche, anglicized into "Dutch."

THE PALATINES

Of the eight children of our ancestor, two of the sons, Israel and Abner, and possibly John, married Palatine German wives. Our ancestor's second wife was a German also. The only daughter married an Englishman, recently come over. The other sons married into good New England families of the old Yankee stock. Those of our readers who trace their lineage back to this Palatine stock, whether thro the "Mohawk Dutch" or the "Pennsylvania Dutch," would perhaps like to know more about the Palatines.

Connected with the French court under the Merovingian kings, from 600 to 900 A. D., was a high judicial official known as "comes palatii." He was master of the royal household and had supreme authority in a large number of cases that came before the king for decision. When the king wished to confer a particular favor upon the ruler of a province, he granted him the same power within his province as the "comes palatii" exercised in the royal palace. His title was "Comes Palatinus," or Count Palatine, and his province was called a Palatinate.

The "Lower Palatinate" was on both sides of the river Rhine, in Europe, and it took in about 1,600 square miles. Mannheim and Heidelberg were its chief cities. Its location was such that it was often traversed by hostile armies, and many battles were fought on its territory.

The people being Protestants, about equally divided between the Reformed and the Lutheran confessions, suffered also in the religious wars that for 30 years, up to 1713, devastated their fertile fields and vineyards. The year 1707 was especially distressing, and they began, in large numbers, to seek refuge in other Protestant lands. In 1709 there were 13,000 of them in London and vicinity, where their misfortunes called out great sympathy and help. Queen Anne gave them permission to settle in America, and by 1710 there were about 3,000 of them located in five villages, below Albany on both sides of the Hudson, on the Livingston Manors. These lands were scrub pine and too poor for good farming, and they were discontented. Part of them soon found their way to the Schoharie Valley and by 1722 they had settled, most of them, on the fertile Mohawk lands from Canajoharie up to Herkimer, built themselves homes and churches, and became a devout, peaceable, orderly, thrifty, patriotic,* population. In the names of the towns Danube, Manheim, Palatine, Fonda, Canajoharie, German Flats, we have mementos of their occupation. The Yankees now far outnumber them in this region, and dominate things. But the Palatines still continue to be the same industrious, honest, religious people. They are good citizens and furnish many leaders in business and society. They are largely intermarried and thoroughly Americanized, and the German name is now about all that one can tell them by.†

Where was Nathaniel Born? Lewis and Elitha, his surviving children, "have always heard that it was Salem, Mass.," but a personal visit to and inspection of the Salem town records failed to find any record of it. The Salem records, however, are not complete. The Dickerman Genealogy, and a copy

*If the reader will refer to the American Revolutionary History, and read about the bloody and decisive battle at Oriskany, on their own territory, fought Aug. 6th, 1777, one of the most important battles in that war, by these Palatines almost wholly, and in which the wife of our Israel Read used to say she had four brothers, one of whom helped carry the wounded Gen. Herkimer from the field, he will realize what a brave and patriotic race they were.

†See Mrs. Diefendorf's book, The Historic Mohawk, 1910.

of a copy from Nathaniel's Bible (which was burned a few years ago), sent us by Mr. C. R. Knapp, says he was born in LeRoy, Mass. We have not been able to find a LeRoy in Mass., at any time, but there is one in Western New York. The date however is sure, June 7th, 1791, and his mother died soon afterwards.

The Family Scattered. After the first wife's death, in 1791, the family was somewhat broken up. Lewis's daughter Anna says her father was three or four years old when his mother died, and "his sister Polly raised him," and he lived with or near her till old enough to care for himself. The baby, Nathaniel, in some way, was put in charge of a German woman, and so it came to pass that Nathaniel's "mother tongue" was German, which he could use even when old. Of the other children we have no record except of Abner, the second son.

Top Notch and Vicinity. In the Census of 1790, we find the name of "Abner Ried" (the German spelling), in the neighborhood then, and now, called "Top Notch," because of the summit in the road, about two miles N. W. of Little Falls, on the Fairfield Road. Little Falls is a noteworthy point, 22 miles east of Utica, where between rocky bluffs, two or three hundred feet high, the Mohawk River forces its way eastward and drops in a foaming cataract about 35 feet. The old Erie Canal hewn out of the rocks, had five locks, but the new canal is to have but one, 40½ feet lift. The fine water power has built up a city of 20,000 people, a hive of industry, mostly knitting mills. The fertile Mohawk Flats and hill lands, lying back, had been the home of Palatine farmers for fifty years before. They had a church on the hill beyond Top Notch, named Mannheim Lutheran. It was organized in 1752, and still has an active and useful life. After the war a number of Yankee families settled among them. Our Abner, then 19 or 20 years old, is set down as the head of a family of one, doubtless himself. The next neighbor but one, is "Isaac Hedrington," also a family of one.* Four years later Polly, then 19, married, the first of the number, followed the next year, 1795, by Abner, who bought a farm and married a Timmerman. Israel, the same year, married another Timmerman, whose home was on the north side of the Mohawk. Were they sisters?†

Israel Read's Location in 1790. He was then 22 years old, and unmarried. We do not find, in the Census of 1790, any Israel Read that we can identify with our Israel, but there is an Israel Reed in Canandaigua, with a family of five persons. They were located in Township Eleven of the Third Range of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase. This town's name was Farmington, a bit north of Canandaigua Village. The 12 families resident in the Township were: Abraham Lapham, Isaac Hatheway, Nathan Harrington, John McCumber, Joshua Harrington, Elijah Smith, John Paine, Jacob Smith, John Russell, Nathan Comstock, Israel Read,‡ Reuben Allen.

Israel Read of Bloomfield, N. Y. In this connection we may as well mention an Israel Read who appears at East Bloomfield,

*We give the names of the families who lived near Abner Read in 1790, and the number of persons in each family. Abel Mann, 1; Curtis Reed, 5; William Feeter, 8; Isaac Churchill, 6; Ball Nielson, 7; Edward Coffin, 7; Isaac Hedrington, 1; Barnhart Henex, 2; Abner Ried, 1; Benjamin Hindman, 4; John Hadcock, 11; Nathaniel Dodge, 6; Elijah Stackweather, 6; Isaiah Johnston, 6; John Byington, 4; Oliver Standard, 4; John Empie, 6; Philip Payne, 7 (one slave). Curtis Reed belonged, we believe, to the Rehoboth Read family. Ball Nielson should have been Paul Nelson.

†The first canal at Little Falls, with its tiny locks, one of which may be seen by the historical traveler, was built in 1795, the year our Abner bought his place. Did he and his brothers help build it?

‡This was probably the Israel Read of Middleboro, Mass., who was born in 1752, and most likely had moved to New York. He was younger brother of William (323), and if Wm. (323) was our ancestor, our Israel may have been with his uncle at Canandaigua.

just west of Canandaigua, ten years later. He buys land in the adjoining township, "No. 10, Range 4." Aug. 8th, 1800, he purchases of Jonathan Adams, for $420, "exactly 200 acres," in Lot 61. Apr. 3d, 1801, he sells Benjamin Stevens Wilson, for $200, "25 acres, and no more," in Lot 61. Nov. 12th, 1805, he buys more land of Jonathan Adams. And this is all. We hear no more of him or his property. This could scarcely have been our Israel, for our Israel was then married, but that Israel had no wife mentioned in the deeds. Quite likely it was the same Israel who was named in Canandaigua in 1790, and moved for business reasons to an adjoining town, and possibly our relative.

John's Location. We assume that John was third son and over 16, and "gone for himself," like his brothers. But we do not find him in New York. The Jeff. Co. History says that John M. Read (No. 27) was born in Conn., also his older brother Abner. Did our ancestor ever live in Conn.? In 1790 there was an Abner Read in Granby, Hartford Co., Conn., who had a family of one male over 16, three under 16, and two females. In the same town there was a John Read, with one male over 16, and no others. Was this our John? and was this Abner the Middleboro Abner, born Aug. 12th, 1764, moved to Conn.? There is no Abner Read family in 1790 in Middleboro. He was brother of William (323), and if William (323) was our ancestor then our John was living near his uncle, and that he had a son born there, would be a most natural event.

Our Ancestor in 1790. What his name should be in the Census of 1790 is almost sure, but which one of the many Johns or Williams is his name? We assume that he had not yet followed Abner to York State, but that he came about the time of Nathaniel's birth, in 1791, to his son. Before that where did he live? We have found a William Read, that we think may have been him. In the "Gore between Windsor and Adams," Mass., near the head-waters of the Deerfield River, in the Housatonic mountain region, not far from the famous tunnel of that name, and not far from the Ethan Allen localities, and a number of other Read families, we find a William Read who, in 1790, had a family of one male over 16, three males under 16, and two females. Notice how this exactly tallies with our ancestor's family. If we assume Israel, Abner and John over 16 and gone for themselves, there remain William, Lewis and Wolcott, under 16 (Nathaniel not yet born), and Polly and her mother, the two females.*

Their Place of Settlement in New York. After they had all got to the new location in New York State, they began to seek their fortunes, and by 1813 were all married and living not more than half-a-day's drive from each other, except Israel, who a couple of years before had moved to Erie Co.

Six miles west of Little Falls, at old Fort Dayton (now Herkimer), the Mohawk River receives a fine stream from the north, fed by the forests and slopes of the Adirondack Mountains. It is named West Canada Creek to distinguish it from the East Canada Creek, a similar stream flowing in below Little Falls. Where it emerges from the Table Lands, about 30 miles above its mouth, it drops over a precipice 70 or 80 feet high, at Trenton Falls, a very beautiful fall, very much admired by the numerous visitors, with its rocky glen. A few miles below, and about 15 to 25 miles above Herkimer, are the townships of Russia and Newport on the east side, in Herkimer Co., with the villages of Poland, Gravesville and Coldbrook. On the west side, in Oneida Co., are the townships of Trenton and Deerfield, with the village of North Gage,* about two miles back from the creek, located on the upland ridge. The lands are fine grass lands, and many cattle feed in the pastures. North Gage† is in the extreme end of Deerfield township, which touches Utica 12 miles away.

About 1808 Polly, who had up to this time lived in Fairfield near her brother Abner, till she had had seven children, moved to North Gage. They bought there a farm and lived there to the end of life. William, Lewis and Wolcott, also settled there. Lewis was a blacksmith and the others farmers. On the east side of the river were Israel, John and Nathaniel, and we presume our ancestor himself. Here they lived and flourished many years, except that Nathaniel moved to Jeff. Co., in 1819. Most of them went to Sackets Harbor in the war of 1812. They also attended church, and some of them were members. Israel, Wolcott, Nathaniel and Polly were Baptists. William and Lewis were Presbyterians. Abner and John we do not know about. There was, and still is, a "Union Meeting House" at North Gage, used on alternate Sabbaths by Baptists and Presbyterians, and they made one congregation.‡

*Whoever has ever visited North Gage will remember the fine views there to be seen. From its elevated ridges one looks West, North, and East, over a landscape of distant billowy hill ranges, one above another, to a far-distant horizon, with forests, fields, farm houses and churches in view, and crops and herds. Amid such inspiring scenes did our fathers dwell, and carry on their business and social life.

†GAGE'S PATENT.—This was the north end of "Gage's Patent," owned by Lieut. Gen. Sir Thomas Viscount Gage, who was the famous British commander in Boston when the Revolutionary War broke out. After the war he lived in New York City. It had been granted him before the war, and he sold it out to settlers. For fuller details see Biog. Dict.

‡NORTH GAGE COMMUNITY.—This community, in those days, was composed of good, substantial people. The Blues, Walkers, Cruickshanks and McKays, were from Scotland. The Schermerhorns were Dutch. The Hitheringtons and Majors were English. There were many more Reads than our line—at one time four different kinds of Reads. But now the place is sadly depleted in its numbers. Both churches are weak, but still active and useful.

Our Ancestor Marries Again. We have not been able to learn when, or where, only that she was a German woman, and that she had no children. We think she may have been Mary Bellinger. The descendants of Abner in Jeff. Co. say their grandmother, Abner's wife, was Mary Bellinger. But Ira S. Golden, Abner's grandson, says Abner's wife was certainly a Timmerman. She died at his father's house in Little Falls. But that they, in that generation, were in some way "closely connected with the Bellingers." We submit that the Bellinger that the Jeff. Co. people said was their grandmother, was, in reality, their step-great-grandmother.

Death and Burial of Our Ancestor. Anna, daughter of Lewis, says he and his wife died at the same time and were buried the same day. It is also a well authenticated tradition, that at the funeral of a near relative, some say his funeral, and in the early days before bridges had been generally erected over the creek, that Lewis Read and wife, William Read and wife, Wolcott Read and wife, and their sister Polly, who lived on the Deerfield side, were in a boat returning from the funeral somewhere on the other side, and that the boat was upset and all thrown into the water. Polly had sunk for the last time, when Lewis dived down and rescued her. It was with much difficulty that she was brought to. Some say that the funeral was in the old church at Russia Corners, and if so, his grave is probably in the Gravesville Cemetery, nearby, unmarked.

WILLIAM READ (323)

In view of our inability to positively determine our Read pedigree any farther back than what is given above, and in view of the circumstances lending color to the probability that William Read (323) is our ancestor, we have determined to give a short account of him in the hope that further research may verify the probability. If this should prove to be our pedigree, it would give us a very honorable ancestry, one tracing back to the early Puritans of Massachusetts Bay, also, thro the Warrens, to Plymouth and the Mayflower, to the Colonial wars, and the Revolution to Lexington and Bunker Hill. This Read family is one of the oldest and finest in New England.

Sources of Information. Mention has already been made of the Read Genealogies of J. Whittemore Read and J. L. Read, of the Weymouth Read family. Mr. John Ludovicus Read, a descendant, and a lawyer of distinction in Baltimore, Maryland, had compiled at large expense, and published a pretty complete Genealogy of this family, most of which, unfortunately, was burned in his office in the great Baltimore fire of Feb. 7th and 8th, 1902. A few copies had been sent out, and the book is to be found in Boston, New York, Albany, Utica and Chicago libraries. It is the William Read numbered 323, in this book, to which your attention is directed.

William Read of Weymouth, born 1605, came to America in the ship "Assurance" in 1635, and with his family settled at Weymouth, a town about 20 miles south of Boston. He was closely associated with Gov. Bradford in the affairs of the Boston colony. He was a member of Mass. Gen. Court, 1636-38, and all his descendants are eligible to our modern Soc. of Col. Mass.

FIRST GENERATION—

He married Avis Deacon, and their children were:

1. MARGARET.
2. HANNAH.
3. WILLIAM (No. 3).
4. ESTHER.
5. RUTH.
6. THOMAS.

7. MARY.
8. JOHN.
9. JAMES (No. 9).

SECOND GENERATION—

JAMES READE (9), the youngest son, above, moved to the "Old Colony," lived 25 years at Taunton, and then moved to Middleboro, a town 16 miles back from Plymouth, and died there July 21st, 1726. He married Susannah Richmond. Their family was:

1. JAMES.
2. WILLIAM (No. 39).
3. JOHN.
4. THOMAS.
5. MARY.
6. MARTHA.
7. ANN.
8. SUSANNA.
9. BENJAMIN.

THIRD GENERATION—

This WILLIAM (No. 39), son of JAMES, lived in Middleboro. He married ELIZABETH ———, and had:

1. WILLIAM (No. 121).
2. HANNAH.
3. BENJAMIN.
4. THOMAS.
5. JONATHAN.
6. PETER.
7. A SON.
8. JOHN.
9. SAMUEL.
10. DELIVERANCE.
11. MERCY.
12. ICHABOD.
13. THANKFUL.
14. ANNA.
15. A DAUGHTER.
16. MERCY.

FOURTH GENERATION—

The WILLIAM above (No. 121) also lived in Middleboro. He married SARAH WARREN, below,* and had:

1. PRISCILLA, Dec. 8, 1742.
2. WILLIAM (No. 323), Jan. 4, 1744.
3. BENJAMIN, Jan. 29, 1746.
4. SARAH, Jan. 15, 1748.
5. ELIZABETH, May 4, 1750, died young.
6. ISRAEL, Mar. 7, 1752.
7. ELIZABETH, Sept. 9, 1759.
8. ABNER, Aug. 12, 1764.

This family of WILLIAM READ (121) were born in Middleboro, but most of them later seem to have emigrated to the valley of the Upper Connecticut and Deerfield Rivers, and in that frontier region to have been lost sight of. However, we know that Benjamin had a large family. Some of his descendants located near Eaton, Madison Co., N. Y. He was very active in the Revolutionary War, and was one of the "minute men" in 1775 and '76, being corporal of militia. His brother, William (323), was also one of the "minute men," and "one of those who turned out at the Lexington alarm." He is named in one place as William 3d, for there were at that time in Middleboro, three William Reads, father, son and grandson. He married Allis Reckord, of whom we will speak later.

Revolutionary Soldiers. We also note a large number of Reads, Rickards and Warrens named as soldiers in the Revolution. No less than 15 men among the uncles and cousins of William (323) are so listed. Among those whose relationship we are not able to determine, we find in the Continental Army, Lieut. Jeremiah Reed, Capt. William Read, Col. Joseph Read, Col. George Read, Capt. Joshua Reed, Capt. John Read.

*THE WARREN PEDIGREE.—As we make it out, it runs thus:

1. RICHARD WARREN and SARAH, his wife, came over in the Mayflower.
2. NATHANIEL WARREN and SARAH WALKER, owned lot 5 of Middleboro.
3. RICHARD WARREN and SARAH, his wife.
4. SAMUEL WARREN and ELEANOR BILLINGTON.
5. SARAH WARREN and WILLIAM READ (323).

and Lieut. William Rickard. In the militia we find Samuel Read, Benjamin Read, Thomas Read, Isaac Read, John Read, Ichabod Read, and Andrew Ricket.

Bunker Hill. At Bunker Hill there was a Jeremiah Read, teamster, of Bridges Regiment. There was a Benjamin Read, Jr., of Rutland, in Wheeler's company of Doolittle's Regiment, who was killed June 17th, 1775. There was also a William Warrin, who was killed at the same time. He was from Pepperell, Mass. Col. James Reed's Regiment, the 2d N. H., from the Upper Connecticut River valley, did some of the heaviest fighting, having lost, in killed and wounded, 166 men out of 539 present. Eight of Col. Reed's townsmen were killed, and that many of the uncles and cousins of William Read (323) and his wife, Allis Reckord, were at Bunker Hill is almost certain.

The Marriage of William Read (323). Both genealogies say that "William Read (323), born Jan. 7th, 1744, married Mrs. Alice Richards, Sept. 28th, 1763. She was born Sept. 27th, 1750." If this was so, then she was only 13 when married to William Read, and already a widow. A visit to Middleboro and a careful inspection of the original records in the town clerk's office, cleared up the seeming mystery. In the original it was Richard, not Richards, and the "3", in 1763, should be an 8. The "Mrs." (Mistress) was a courtesy title, then given by the clerk to all women, married or unmarried. The marriage date was Sept. 22, not 28. Richard was spelled as it was pronounced—Rickard. The facts are that Miss Allis Reckord, on the 22d of Sept., 1768, a few days before she was 18, was married to William Read (323), her fellow townsman. The correct spelling of her name is Richard. It is, we presume, a German name, in which the "ch" has the hard or guttural sound, like the German "ich." Its true pronunciation is Rickard.

The Richard Family. In the old Plymouth colony towns of Eastern Massachusetts, there were two families, one named Record, the other Rickard. The Records were proud of their family and name, and careful to always spell it Record. The other name, in common use, was often pronounced Record, Rickard, Rickart, Records, Reckord, and sometimes they were called Rickitts, especially when one wished to speak derisively of them.

We add a few notes on the ancestry of ALLIS RECKORD, which ought to be of interest to us, especially if we are her descendants. As early as 1637, and perhaps before, GYLES RICKARD was a resident of Plymouth, and freeman* of the town. He married (1st) JUDETH ——— and (2d) JEAN TILSON. His son, GILES, married HANNAH DUNHAM, daughter (perhaps) of John Dunham. Oct. 31st, 1651, he "is fined 10 shillings for selling syder to the Indians." In 1677 GYLES RICKARD, of Plymouth, is listed as one of the 40 or 60 owners of original lots in Middleboro. JOHN RICKARD, son of Giles, married ESTHER BARNES in 1651, and had several children. Among the descendants of Gyles Rickard was SAMUEL RICKARD, whose family record we copied from the Middleboro town records, as follows:

SAMUEL and ZURVIAH [1 Chron. 2:16] RECKORD had:

1. ALLIS, born Sept. 27, 1750.
2. JACOB, born Dec. 23, 1751.
3. SAMUEL,† born Apr. 3, 1753.
4. CHLOE, born Sept. 16, 1754.
5. MARY, born Apr. 2, 1756.
6. ISRAEL, born Jan. 27, 1757.
7. DEBORAH, born Sept. 12, 1759.
8. HANNAH, born Sept. 8, 1761.

*THE TERM "FREEMAN."—This term designates those who had been chosen by the town to be citizens and voters in that town. They were also proprietors and church members.

†SAMUEL RECKARD—REV. SERVICE.—We believe this man and the "Brother Jacob," named below, to have been brothers of Alice Reckard, our ancestor's wife, and that Brother Jacob was our "Uncle Record." We give notes from his application for Rev. pension. He lived at

And there was also an ISRAEL and VOADICEA RECKARD* (perhaps the Israel above) who had:

1. WESTON, born May 11, 1785.
2. ISRAEL, born Oct. 27, 1787.

The Migration of William (323) and Allis. Where did they go? and what became of them? We have absolutely no evidence. They had relatives who moved, probably, to Conn., and surely Middleboro, Mass., and enlisted four times:

- 1.—Nov., 1775; served two months, under Capt. Isaac Woods, Col. Colton's Reg., as a private.
- 2.—Jan., 1776; served three months, under Capt. Brigham, Col. Bailey, as sergeant.
- 3.—June or July, 1777; one month, under Capt. William Tupper, Col. Titcomb; substitute for Brother Jacob.
- 4.—Dec. 8, 1777; served three months, under Capt. J. White, Col. Hall.

He was teamster on Island at time of Sullivan's expedition. Engaged in one battle. He resided at time of application in Eaton, Madison Co., N. Y., and his pension was granted June 22, 1833. He gives his birth as Apr. 4th, 1757, but either he or the town records are wrong—probably he.

From Madison Co. records we glean that a Samuel Reckard, in 1819, bought of English owners, 64¾ acres in town of Eaton. In 1820 he and his wife, Marcia, deeded 16 acres of it to Barnam Key. The will of this Samuel Reckard, made May 6th, 1858, proved June 2d, 1868, mentions wife "Marsha" (Marcia) and sons Alden and Gerry Kendrick.

If this was our Samuel, he must have been over 100 years old when he made his will.

Israel Reckard and Jacob Reckard were both Rev. soldiers, but do not appear as pensioners.

*THE PALATINE RICKHARDTS.—Among the Palatines of the Mohawk Valley, who were purely German, flourished some families who spelled the name Richard or Rickhardts. They were Lutherans and have till lately had German as their mother tongue. They have multiplied greatly, and must not be confounded with the Plymouth Rickards, one of whom, John Rickard, settled in Stark, Herkimer Co., early in the 19th century. His sons were William, Conradt, Henry, Peter, John, and perhaps more. "Tex Rickard" is believed to be from William.

As a sample of the German Rickards, we note the will of "Ludwig Rickhardt," of the town of Palatine, N. Y., made Mar. 20th, 1817, proved Mar. 20th, 1819. He mentions brother Jacob and sons John, Frederick, George, Ludwig, and daughters Anna, Catherine, Elizabeth, Maria and Delia. "My German Bible I give to my daughter Delia."

to the Conn. and Deerfield River valleys. Benjamin, his brother, moved to Sudbury, Mass., died there, and left a son, Benjamin, whose family migrated to Eaton, near Cazenovia, N. Y. But did William (323) go to the same region? He ought to be, if living, named in the Census of 1790, but there are so many Williams that we cannot tell which one was his. He may well have been the William, already mentioned as our possible ancestor in the "Gore of Adams and Windsor," and was it his brother Abner, the Abner Read in Simsbury, Conn.? and was it his brother Israel (a Continental soldier), the Israel Read in Canandaigua, N. Y., taking up lands in payment for military services?

The Circumstances Recounted. Let us now sum up the points favoring the theory that William Read (323) and our ancestor were the same person. We note:

1. Both spelled the name Read.
2. The tradition that our ancestor's "name may have been William."
3. Both married an Alice Reckord.
4. What more likely than that William (323) and Allis should name their oldest son Israel (as our ancestor did), since they both had brothers of that name and who were Revolutionary soldiers, one a Continental?
5. That the next son should be named Abner (as did our ancestor) because he had a brother Abner and she a cousin Abner.
6. And how natural to name another son William (as our ancestor did his fourth son) for himself, and father, and grandfather, and a long line of Williams back.
7. Where did our Israel get the names "Benjamin," "Warren," "Reckord," for his sons? If his father was William (323) how plain the case! Benjamin for a favorite uncle, Benjamin; Reckord for "Uncle Reckord," his mother's brother. Warren for his grandmother, Sarah Warren, and the Warren relatives.

8. And how easy to explain the tradition about our tracing back thro the Warrens to Plymouth Rock?

9. And the "one uncle and four cousins at Bunker Hill, two of whom were killed"—they might have been the BENJAMIN READ, JR., and the WILLIAM WARREN, who were killed, who may have been cousins of William (323).

We submit that these circumstances constitute quite a strong probability that William (323) was our ancestor. Our hope is that the facts may yet be certainly ascertained, and this theory verified.

The Dates Harmonized. There remains one more point to consider. Can our ancestor's children be assigned to William (323)? He was married Sept. 22d, 1768, and can we assign to them our Israel as their son? We have not Israel's birthday. His gravestone says he died Dec. 31st, 1813, aged 45. This may mean either in his 45th year or that he would be 45 on his next birthday. Either of these suppositions would make the matter all right and proper, as far as Israel is concerned. A more serious difficulty, however, arises when we undertake to assign them our Abner. He was born, if we have it right, Mar. 3d, 1770. 17 months and 21 days after their marriage, and he the second child. This, of course, is not impossible, but very doubtful. But are we sure that we have Abner's age right? His tombstone says his age was: 79-3-13. But the Jeff. Co. Hist., 1890, p. 565, says he died aged 75. The facts are that Abner separated from his wife in his later years at Little Falls, and she lived there to the end and is buried there. He lived a lonely life in Oneida and Herkimer Counties, till about a year and a half before he died, when his son James got him to Jeff. County, near his sons and daughters. He is buried there at Three Mile Bay. The sons erected the tombstone, but where did they get the age they put on it? No Bible record is in existence, that we have been able to find, and if there ever was one it would, most likely, have been at Little Falls. The sons put on the stone, we presume, the age given them by their father. But we all know how easy it is for old men to lose track of their age. The month and day they remember, but lose track of the year. May not this have happened in Abner's case? Again, we know that mistakes are often made by men who furnish copy for stone cutters. The true age may have been 77, instead of 79. How easy to mistake a 7 for a 9. It is our opinion that this may have happened in Abner Reed's case.

If the age of Abner is adjusted, there is no difficulty in assigning the rest of the children to William (323) and Allis Reckord, his wife.

Having disposed of these preliminary observations we are now ready to proceed with our Genealogy.

GENEALOGY

—— READ, our ancestor, married, first, ALICE RECKORD, who died soon after the birth of her youngest child, who was born June 7th, 1791. The family were then, for a time, more or less scattered. Finally he married again, but when or where or whom we have been unable to learn, only that she was a German woman, and one possessed of unusual physical strength. Abner's descendants in Jeff. Co., N. Y., have it that Abner's wife was Mary Bellinger. But Ira S. Golden, of Frankfort, says her name was certainly Timmerman, for she died at his father's house, near Little Falls. "But," says Mr. Golden, "the Bellingers were some way closely connected to us in that generation," which would be true if Mary Bellinger was step-mother, instead of wife, of Abner. Another tradition makes us think she may have been a Petrie. At any rate, he and the second wife both died and were buried at the same time. That they spelled the name Read, their Bibles and legal papers show. We shall spell it in this book, however, as each one desires. The children were all by the first wife. They had:*

1. ISRAEL, 1768-69; died Dec. 30, 1813; killed by Indians.
2. ABNER, Mar. 12, 1770; died June 25, 1849.
3. JOHN. ———; died about 1828.
4. POLLY, Dec. 19, 1775; died Oct. 20, 1870, aged 94-11-0.
5. WILLIAM, 1776-77; died June 28, 1846.
6. WOLCOTT, Apr. 5, 1784; died Sept. 12, 1876, aged 92-5-7.
7. LEWIS, June 12, 1788; died Sept. 11, 1840.
8. NATHANIEL RECORD, June 7, 1791, died Nov. 14, 1851.

*UNCLE JOSEPH.—Maria, daughter of William, "thought there was an Uncle Joseph, who had some fine children." Wolcott Read, once, when very sick, in his delirium, talked to "Brother Joe," as present, and asked him, "Where have you been?" and, "Why did you stay away so long?" While we do not attach much importance to these utterances, still we think it best to preserve them. Possibly there was a Joseph.

No. 1

Israel Read, born about 1768, probably in New England; came to the "Mohawk country"; married, before 1795, MARGARET TIMMERMAN,* a German woman, of a family living on the north side of the Mohawk, near Little Falls. She was (says Evaline Reed, the second wife of her son Charles, with whom she lived in later years), "a German lady, very intelligent and noble." In mature life she could speak but little English. She died Apr. 16th, 1847, at the home of her daughter Eliza, in Wales, and is buried near Strykersville. N. Y. They had:

1. BENJAMIN (9), July 10, 1795; died Jan. 29, 1878.
2. ELIZA (10), Nov. 5, 1797; died Jan. 4, 1879.
3. WARREN (11), Mar. 27, 1799; died Dec. 24 or 26, 1872.
4. CHARLES (12), Apr. 5, 1801; died Feb. 1, 1863.
5. RECKORD (13), Mar. 3, 1803; died June, 1889.

The three younger children were born in Herkimer Co., Reckord at Newport.

The Erie Co. History says that Israel Read came to "Willink" (now Wales) with his family in 1811, and settled high up on the crest of "Vermont Hill," near old Fort Humphrey, about three miles west of South Wales, and about 30 miles E. by S. E. of Buffalo, on the head waters of the Buffalo Creek. Here he took up a farm and began to clear it of its heavy timber. He died Dec. 30th, 1813, "aged 45." After his death his widow, Margaret Reed, was appointed administratrix, Feb. 10th, 1814. The family continued to live there for some time, but later she moved to Strykersville. After her death the family Bible was left with Mrs. James Ives, but is now in the possession of her great-grandson, Mr. Frank R. Grover, of Chicago. It is a somewhat torn but very valuable record.

*THE TIMMERMAN NAME AND FAMILY.—Timmerman and Zimmerman are the same name in German and mean carpenter. Israel and Abner both married, at Little Falls, women of that name, but what relation they were to each other, if any, we have not been able to find out. Margaret had brothers, named Daniel, John, Christopher, who settled near Medina, Orleans Co., N. Y., whom she sometimes visited. They went there either before or soon after Israel Read moved to Erie County.

From the Buffalo Express, of Feb. 7th, 1797, and the same paper for Mar. 22d, 1908, and the accounts given us by his descendants, we are able to give a detailed account of the circumstances of Israel Read's death.

Near the close of the war of 1812, on the 29th of Dec., 1813, the British invaded the Niagara frontier,* with an army of about 1,000 men, mostly regular soldiers. They were followed by about 100 lawless Indians, who, it was known, would kill every American that fell into their hands. Hence our men were more afraid of the Indians than the British. To meet this invasion the local militia were called out. Benjamin Read, being over 16, was drafted, or "ordered out," with his regiment. He was not well, and so his father, Israel, volunteered to go in his stead, although he, himself, had what was then called "Tyler's Gripe," a disease that produced a trouble in the side that prevented one from running fast. He also had Asthma, or as it was then called Phthisic. He evidently did not expect to run, as a soldier, or he, perhaps, would not have ventured to go. But he shouldered his gun and set out for the defense of his country. It was bitter cold weather, and the snow lay deep on the fields. As he left home his wife gave him a pair of woolen mittens she had knit for him.

His regiment was stationed at Black Rock, just below Buffalo. It was ordered out to meet the enemy, and a battle was expected. Israel Read was just then on detached guard duty and might have kept out of danger by staying where he was, but chose to go with his neighbors to the fight, and he got another to take his place on guard. Among the neighbors was Josiah Emery,* a near neighbor and close friend (in after years a colonel of militia). They soon met the enemy, and the battle began. It is a matter of history that through the mismanagement of our officers and the fact that our men saw themselves outnumbered, and knew that the Indians were not far behind, that our lines gradually gave way, and our men were on the run. Among the last to run were Col. Emery and Israel Read. They had to run. For a time Emery accommodated his pace to Israel's gait. At last Israel gave out entirely and said he could run no farther. Then Emery spoke about staying with him and fighting it out there, but Israel would not let him. He bade him go on and save himself, and pulled off one of the mittens and gave it to Col. Emery to hand his wife, when he got back to Willink. They also left Israel an extra musket. The Indians were then so close upon them that, as Col. Emery used to say, he could hear them panting. He looked back once more and saw Read standing against a tree and waving them to go on. That was the last seen of him alive.†

Two or three days later they found his body where they had left him alive, on the frozen ground, entirely stripped of cloth-

*COL. JOSIAH EMERY.—This neighbor and good friend of Israel Read, became Lt. Col. of the 170th Reg. N. Y. Militia in later years. The Emery family stood high in Erie Co. Josiah was deputy sheriff many years. His son, L. H. Emery, was a teacher of good repute. His grandson, Edward K. Emery, is Justice of the Supreme Court in New York State. Albert E. Emery, another grandson, has been assistant district attorney of Erie County.

†PATHETIC SIDE OF ISRAEL READ.—We venture to quote the words of Mr. Frank H. Severance, who wrote the second Buffalo Express article, on this point:

"Not the least pathetic part of the death of Israel Reed, was the farewell message he sent his wife. We read of lovers breaking sixpences, each keeping a share, in sign of true love and troth. Was there not an idea akin to this in the last act of the middle-aged, asthmatic, Israel Reed, when about to give up his life for his country, he took off one mitten—one only—and sent it back to her, while he kept the other, and bravely waited for death?"

ing, scalped, twice thrust through with a bayonet, and arms badly hacked. There were indications that two or three other bodies had been taken away, and it is almost certain that he killed two or three, and perhaps more of his foes, and then clubbed them with his guns, one of which was found broken and cut with tomahawks.

The precise place where this took place was almost exactly where the famous "Pan American Exhibition," at Buffalo, was held. As soon as the news reached Willink, and the family, Benjamin, the oldest son, aged 18, went after his father's body and brought it home with the ox-team on an ox sled, covered with a blanket. They buried it in the "Humphrey" Cemetery, nearby, where he now sleeps, with a goodly roster* of patriot dead, waiting the Resurrection morn. At the funeral, the boy Charles, then 12 years old, not having, just then, shoes to wear, his feet were wrapped in other garments.

A quaint old tombstone was erected, in what was then regarded as unusually fine style.

A weeping willow droops mournfully from the upper part of the weather-beaten stone, with the solemn urn beneath, and this inscription:

IN MEMORY OF
MR. ISRAEL REED, who was slain by the savages in the battle fought at Buffalo,
Dec. 30th, 1813.
Aged 45 years.

O from thy kindred thou wast torn,
And to the grave untimely borne;
Oft as remembrance brings us near,
Affection will drop a tear.

*PATRIOT DEAD IN HUMPHREY CEMETERY.—David Hunt, Joshua Davis, Elisha Hill, Corporal Ezekiel Colby, Captain Joseph Cooper, Joseph Grant, Enos Challis, and Dea. Joshua Barron, all Revolutionary soldiers, and of the War of 1812, Israel Reed, Joseph Kent, David Hunt, Colonel Jonathan Colby, Abner Currier, Leonard Obadiah Whitcher, Elisha Burlingham and Amos Barron.

The weather and time have so blurred the lettering that it is not easily read.

Through the efforts of Mr. L. Cornwall, of South Wales, the U. S. Government erected a soldier's marker in place of the tombstone, and both the Buffalo Express articles were prepared. The tombstone itself has been placed as a highly valued relic in the basement of the Historical building in Buffalo, where visitors may see it. Perhaps the time will come when a better monument will be placed at the grave.

Abner Read. His tombstone at Three Mile Bay, Jeff. Co., N. Y., says he died June 25th, 1849, aged 79-3-13. This would make his birth Mar. 12th, 1770. The Jeff. Co. History says he was born in Conn., but we cannot depend on that book. We regard it however as probably true. He married a German woman named Anna Timmerman, who lived at or near Little Falls. She lived all her life in that town and died about 1849 at the house of Isaac Golden, husband of her daughter Emeline, and is buried at Little Falls. The Census of 1790 names an "Abner Ried" (German spelling), as a family of one male over 16, as in the Top Notch neighborhood. We are sure this is our Abner, and that he was married about Jan., 1794, and the next year bought the place he was occupying, on which he continued to live for many years and where all his children were born. They had, order not known:

1. BETSEY (14), Nov. 12, 1794; died July 15, 1831.
2. JOHN (15), May 9, 1796; died Aug. 8, 1858.
3. JAMES (16), July 23, 1803; died May 21, 1880.
4. ABNER (17), Mar. 1, 1814; died June 18, 1892.
5. POLLY (18), ———; died ———.
6. ATHALANE (19), ———; died ———.
7. SENA (20), ———; died ———.
8. EMELINE (21), ———; died July 18, 1873.

These were all born probably in Fairfield, where Abner's place was, at Top Notch. Three towns corner there: Manheim, Fairfield and Little Falls.* When they grew up, all the children except Betsey and Emeline (who married Isaac Golden and stayed at Little Falls), found their way to new homes in Jefferson Co., N. Y., at the Eastern end of Lake Ontario, opposite Sackets Harbor, at Three Mile Bay and vicinity. In that section many of their descendants are now living.

Abner Read continued to live at Top Notch many years. Tradition says he was at one time High Sheriff of Herkimer Co., but his name is not in the official list. He may have been deputy sheriff. A Fairfield Tax List of 1815 shows that he then owned 100 acres, one house, two outhouses, no slaves, estate valued at $2,000. In the State Census of 1825, he had a family of two male adults, four females, two females over 16, one female under 16, one voter, 10 acres improved, four neat cattle, two horses, 15 sheep, one hog. His family had made 16 yards of cloth, seven yards of flannel, 79 yards of linen. He does not appear in the Census of 1830 in Fairfield. For some reason he and his wife separated, and he lived by himself, till his sons induced him to come to them in Jeff. Co., about a year or two before he died. He was a soldier of 1812, in the Sackets Harbor Expedition, and is said in his day to have been a "fine looking man."

We give herewith, also, the records of his land purchases. They are from the books at Utica in the Co. Clerk's office, where the early Herkimer Co. titles are found. They inform us that Feb. 10th, 1795, the estate of Peter Van Brugh Livingston, merchant, New York City, but lately of Elizabeth Town, New Jersey, for a consideration of 67 pounds, 12 shillings, 11 pence, in specie, conveyed to Abner Read the westerly half of lot No. one of the sub-division of lot No. 21 of Glen's Patent, made by Lendart Helmer and P. V. V. Livingston, the said land lying north of the Mohawk River, amounting to 50 acres and no more. This deed was witnessed by Michael Myers and William Shipman and recorded Nov. 3d, 1796.

Glen's Patent was granted June 1st, 1739.

Again, Nov. 7th, 1797, John R. Bleecker, jr., City of Albany, conveys to Abner Read, farmer, for 1500 dollars lawful money of the State of New York, part of lot one of Sub-division No. 12 in Glen's Purchase, containing about 40 acres. The courses in the description to be as the magnetic needle pointed in the year 1774. This deed was witnessed by Elijah Goodell and Sanders Lansing, and recorded Feb. 2nd, 1798.

On the same date he mortgaged all his land to Cornelius Glen and Barent Bleecker to secure the payment of $1,500.

We see how he came by the 100 acres credited him in the Tax List of 1815. How he finally lost them we do not know, but he may have been the victim of repeated "hard times." His lands adjoined the Churchill's and they in later days owned the places. After this he seems to have had no permanent location but lived around in various places.

John Read. We place this brother next but conjecture as to the order. It is a tradition that he was born in Conn., but no positive proof. In New York State he lived at Poland, where he died about 1826. Whom he married we do not know, but think it may have been a Bellinger, or more likely, a Petrie, Germans. This we infer from the fact that after Mr. Read's death she bound Abner out to a "Jake" Petrie. Was he not also "Dr." or "Esq." and her relative? We do not know that we have all the John Read children, but are sure of these. The order is partly conjectural. They had:

1. ABNER (22), Oct. 15, 1810; died May 18, 1887.
2. SALLY (23), ———; died about 1867.
3. WILLIAM (24), ———; died about 1856.
4. EMELINE (25), ———; died ———.
5. JAMES (26), Oct. 6, 1821; died June 30, 1888.
6. JOHN M. (27), ———; died 1896.

Most of these were born in Herkimer Co. William went to Texas, was in the Mexican War, and for a long time was not heard from, but finally died of small pox at Little Falls. Emeline was doubtless the Emeline Reed, who about 1867 worked for a Mr. Minot, whom Ira S. Golden's mother said was her first cousin. Sally went to Canada, married there and lived in Hamilton. Abner, James and John M. and their families after a time found their way to Jeff. Co. and lived at St. Lawrence, not far from Three Mile Bay and their uncle Abner Read's children. James later moved to Ohio. This family evidently had heavy misfortunes and struggles in their earlier days.*

*THE SIMMONS FAMILY.—After John Read died, his widow married again, a man by the name of Simmons, by whom she had children. There was an Anthony Simmons, and an Evaline Simmons, and we think other Simmons children. Evaline Simmons married Baldwin Schermerhorn, son of Evert Lansing Schermerhorn, and both he and his wife were lost in a steamboat disaster on Lake Erie on their way west, but their infant son was saved and sent to his brother Scott Schermerhorn in Wisconsin, who brought him up. After Mr. Read's death she bound out her oldest son, sold her property and moved to Canada. She was alive as late as 1873. She then lived in Muskegon, Mich. We have been anxious to find this Simmons family, hoping to find in their possession some Read records.

great age. They both died and are buried at North Gage. The family Bible gives the records as follows. They had:

1. JOHN (28), Jan. 14, 1795; died Apr. 27, 1866.
2. POLLY (29), Dec. 18, 1797; died Jan. 1, 1798.

Isaac Hetherington and one of his brothers,* tradition says, came with his parents from County Cumberland, England, and landed at New York the day before the ports were closed by the Revolutionary War. In 1790 he is at "Top Notch," the head of a family of one male over 16—doubtless himself. The next neighbor but one was "Abner Ried," similarly situated. Isaac was then 23 years old. Four years later he married Polly Read. In 1808 they moved to North Gage. Nancy, the fifth child we know was born in Fairfield and we presume the first seven children were, and the last four at North Gage.† At North Gage they first lived for many years where their grandson, William H. Hetherington, now lives (1912), and then they moved to the fine farm at "The Corners," just east of the Union Church. After his death she lived with her daughter, Nancy Schermerhorn. Their granddaughter, Mrs. Becker, who lived with them three years, says

*OTHER HETHERINGTONS IN AMERICA.—The Brother John, tradition says, died young. He did not marry. He was at one time a teacher in the high school or college (Union College?) at Schenectady, N. Y. The Census of 1790 shows three Hetherington families in Schenectady, viz: Joseph, Elias, Sakely.

In this connection we will give the family record of Isaac Hetherington's parents. It is from an old English Bible, printed 1731, and doubtless came over with the family. It is now with Mr. Cornelius Schermerhorn, Poland, N. Y., who has had it rebound.

William Read, born 1776-77; died June 28, 1846, with a hemorrhage of the leg. He married, about 1802, Polly Comstock, daughter of Ebenezer Comstock* of Warrensburgh.

*THE COMSTOCK FAMILY.—From "A Comstock Genealogy," by Cyrus B. Comstock, 1907, we get the pedigree of Polly Comstock, whom William Read married. It appears that their ancestor came from Devonshire, England, and as early as 1637 was found in the region of New London, Conn., where successive generations flourished. There was (1) William, (2) Daniel, (3) Daniel, (4) Daniel, (5) Daniel, (6) Ebenezer. Ebenezer moved to Warrensburg, N. Y., on the shores of Lake George.

In 1790 an Ebenezer Comstock, the only one in the state, lived in town of Mohawk, now Amsterdam. Was it Polly's father, and did his son Ezbon live near the Comstock Bridge at North Gage. Ebenezer and his wife had:

N. Y. She was born Mar. 20th, 1781. She died of typhoid fever, at Norway, Herkimer Co., where she was staying for a time. Both are buried at North Gage. The stone at their grave was erected many years later by their daughter Louisa, and she gave the dates as nearly as she could figure them out. But our record is certainly correct. They had:

1. HIRAM (39), Dec. 6, 1804; died Apr., 1864.
2. ELSIE (40), July 13, 1805; died Jan. 13, 1892.
3. WALTER (41), June 18, 1805; died Sept. 16, 1874.
4. (?) MALINTHA (42), ———; died young.
5. NATHANIEL (43), ———; died ———.
6. MARIA (44), Mar. 21, 1817; died Nov. 3, 1899.
7. MALINTHA (45), Dec. 9, 1819; died Mar. 16, 1884.
8. LOUISA (46), May, 1822; died Jan. 12, 1892.

These were all born at North Gage. We do not know the exact order for the Malintha who died young. The birth dates of the first three are as given us by their children, but some of them are manifestly incorrect. Elsie's is no doubt right, taken from her well kept Bible record.

William Read's whole adult life was spent at North Gage. He was a hard working man, and a farmer. At one time he had an ashery. He lived two or three miles north of the "Corners" (North Gage). He served in the Sackets Harbor expedition in the War of 1812 (the author has the official cer-

Wolcott Read, born Apr. 5th, 1784; died in Wales, Erie Co., N. Y., Sept. 12th, 1876, at the advanced age of 92-5-7. He was the last of our ancestor's family to die. He married, Dec. 21st, 1806, Polly (Mary) Patchen of North Gage, who was born Nov. 9th, 1788, and died Sept. 17th, 1863. Their Bible is with Mrs. Ackley, South Wales. They had:

1. WILLIAM (47), July 22, 1807; died Oct. 30, 1814.
2. MARTHA B. (48), June 21, 1809; died Aug. 14, 1830.
3. NANCY MARIA (49), Sept. 28, 1811; died Jan. 2, 1831.
4. FANNY (50), Jan. 2, 1813; died Sept. 14, 1830.

8. MARY E. (54), Nov. 27, 1824; died July 5, 1897.
9. HARRIET J. (55), Jan. 29, 1826; died June 30, 1889.

On her tombstone Nancy Maria is given "Maria N." This family lost their four older children in a very painful way, that was talked about for many years. The boy, seven years old, was caught and hung by a door falling on him in the barn as he crawled through. Later, within the space of five months, they were called upon to bury three beautiful girls, between 17 and 21 years old. This family were all born at North Gage, and five of them are buried there. Wolcott Read was a farmer on a place about a mile north of the Corners, and lived most of his life there, but in his old age sold his place and went to live with his sons, who had moved to Erie

Lewis Read, born June 12th, 1788; died Sept. 11th, 1840. He married, Dec. 13th, 1807, Roxcey Celinda Richardson of Herkimer, N. Y. She was the daughter of ——— Richardson and ——— McKay, and was born Aug. 31st, 1791, and died Apr. 9th, 1839. Both died and are buried at Joliet, Ill. Lewis Read married (2), only a few months before his death, a Mrs. Tichner, widow of a Baptist minister, but there were no more children. Lewis and Roxcey had:

1. ISAAC HETHERINGTON (56), Oct. 3, 1808; died Jan. 3, 1883.
2. ANNA ELIZA (57), Jan. 27, 1810; died Dec. 20, 1892.
3. CATHERINE MCKAY (58) Feb. 7, 1812; died June 26, 1900.
4. LEWIS (59), Apr. 16, 1814; died Oct. 27, 1847.
5. ROXCENA (60), Oct. 17, 1819; died Jan. 27, 1847.
6. FRANCIS ASBURY (61), Feb. 26, 1822; died Oct. 9, 1902.

These were all born at North Gage, and grew up there. Lewis Read there worked at his trade of blacksmith, which he learned in Utica. His mother died when he was four years old, and "his sister Polly raised him." In 1837 he moved, with his family, to Joliet, Ill., where he arrived June 26th, 1837. He lived a year or two longer. Lewis Read was a pious man and member of the Presbyterian church, in which his family were raised. At Joliet the only church then was the M. E., which he joined, and some of his children. He was also captain in N. Y. militia in the War of 1812.

*NOTE ON SIGNING WITH MARK.—It must not be inferred from the fact that Wolcott Read and others of our fathers signed with their mark, that they were lacking in natural ability, or that they were inferior to the people of that day or this in reasoning power, business talent, general intelligence and social worth. It was their misfortune and not their fault that schools were few and expensive luxuries, and often beyond their reach in the conditions of their pioneer life.

*THE DICKERMAN FAMILY.—Elitha Sperry's mother was a Dickerman and sister to the first wife of Rev. Lyman Beecher, D. D., and so she was first cousin to the famous Beecher Family, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Mrs. Harriet Beecher (Stowe) and the rest of that gifted family. Mrs. Stowe wrote the great anti-slavery novel "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The Dickerman family traces back to an ancestor who appears as a member of the church at Dorchester as early as 1636. The Dickerman Genealogy was issued about 1892.

†THE NAME PAMELIA.—This is Pamela, not Permelia, and is the name of the town just over the Black River, from Watertown. The town was named for Pamela Brown, wife of Maj. Gen. Jacob Brown, and Noyes were born in Deerfield, where Pamela died. The rest were born in Jeff. Co., in adjoining towns. Lois, Spencer, Maranda and Esther in Orleans; Lewis in Watertown; Mary, Nathaniel, Cordelia, Mary, Esther and Frances Eliza in Pamela. Mary A. was drowned in the Black River.

The above record is a copy of the copy made for Mr. C. R. Knapp, from the old Family Bible. It differs a little in a few places from the Dickerman Genealogy. The old Bible was given to the youngest daughter, Mrs. Bartlett, and after her to the oldest son, William. He gave it to his oldest daughter, Delia, at Marselles, Ill. Her house was burned, in 1907, with all its contents and the highly valued Bible perished.

Nathaniel Read lost his mother soon after he was born, and in some way he was placed in the care of a "Mohawk Dutch" person or family, with whom he remained till 14 years old. Thus it came to pass that his mother tongue was German, which he could use even when old.

After his marriage he lived near his brothers in Russia and Deerfield, till four of his children were born and two died. In 1819 he moved to Jeff. Co., and lived at Clayton Centre till 1826. He then moved to Watertown. In 1840 he bought a fine farm of 134 acres, for $7.60 an acre, near Fishers Landing,* on the great St. Lawrence River, nearly opposite the present Thousand Island Park. He removed there in 1843, and died there in 1851. His wife, after a time followed her children to who commanded U. S. forces in the war of 1812. He had settled at Brownville, an adjoining town, and built a great stone mansion, which still stands as an interesting relic of early days.

*EARLY STEAMBOATS.—In 1826 a steamboat called the Brownville, was built at Brownville by Capt. Ezra B. Dodd for lake navigation. She was the second steamer on Lake Ontario, and commanded by Capt. Dodd. On her first trip she was burned at Fishers Landing to the water's edge, but later towed to Ogdensburg and rebuilt, and named the William Avery, under which name she plied many years between Oswego and Sackets Harbor.

Wisconsin and Illinois, and is buried there. He served, as did three of his brothers, in the Sackets Harbor campaign, and was at the battle. He was a pious man, deacon in the Baptist church in Watertown. But his posterity seem to be mostly Methodists.

Benjamin Reed, oldest son of Israel (1), born July 10th, 1795, in Herkimer Co., N. Y., it is believed, and died Jan. 29th, 1878, at Oranogo, Mo., and is buried there. He married, Feb. 18th, 1819, Lucy Maria Stryker, who was born Sept. 20th, 1802, and died Apr. 9th, 1867. She was the daughter of Garrett and Saloma Stryker, the pioneers of Strykersville, Erie Co., N. Y. He was born Oct. 4th, 1771, and died June 7th, 1845. She died Dec. 20th, 1841, "aged 64 years nearly."

Benjamin Reed moved from Erie Co., N. Y., about 1830, to Detroit and lived thereabouts for a time, then moved to Bourbon, Ind., and in 1869 went to Girard, Kan, and in 1877 went to live with his son W. H. H., in Mo., where he died. His services at the death and burial of his father have been already related. He was most of his life a farmer, and a Baptist in his religion. They had 12 children, and perhaps more. The record in his Bible is incomplete.

1. BETSY ANN (76), Jan. 1, 1820; died about 1840.
2. ISRAEL (77), Mar. 27, 1822; died Aug. 18, 1890, Bourbon, Ind.
3. NANCY LUCINDA (78), Jan. 6, 1823; died May 6, 1890.
4. LAURA ANN (79), Dec. 2, 1824; died Nov. 21, 1848.
5. MARTIN STRYKER (80), Feb. 15, 1827; died June 4, 1910.
6. BENJAMIN GILES (81), Jan. 2, 1832; died July 29, 1834.
7. JAMES A. RICHARD (82), Sept. 17, 1833; died, unmarried, Aug 9, 1863.
8. GARRETT (83), ———; died small.
9. ELIZA JANE (84), Mar. 14, 1837. - -
10. CHARLES WARREN (85), ———; died Feb. 2, 1845.
11. WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON (86), Mar. 15, 1839, Plymouth, Ind.
12. CANDES ADELINE (87), Jan. 29, 1845; died July 24, 1905.

Of these children the first five were born in Erie Co., N. Y., the next two or three in Detroit, the rest in Indiana, near Bourbon. They located in Indiana when it was a virgin forest and cleared up the forests, and now the region is covered with fertile farms, on which they have prospered much.

10. MERRILLS LOVELL MASON (97), Sept. 18, 1835; died Jan. 10, 1865.
11. JUDSON WARREN MASON (98), May 13, 1838; died Oct. 18, 1898.

All these were born in Wales. Mr. Mason was a farmer, and he and his wife were members of the Baptist church.

Three of these Mason brothers married sisters by the name of Clark.

after his marriage (1785) he moved to Herkimer Co., and is found there in the Census of 1790. He settled in Newport in 1794, where he lived till May, 1837, when he moved to Wales, Erie Co., N. Y., where he died, Mar. 6, 1838. They had:

1. ALLEN, Sept. 15, 1786, Cheshire; married Susana Mason.
2. SYBEL, July 31, 1788; married Joseph Lawrence. 8 children.
3. GARNER, June 29, 1791; married Eliza Reed. 11 children.

9. MARTIN, Dec. 25, 1807; married (1) Nancy Savage, (2) Mrs. Phelps. 2 children.

In the Census of 1790 several of these Mason families, with the numbers in each family, will be found under Lanesboro, Berkshire Co., Mass., before Cheshire town was organized. The census volumes will be found in most of the large public libraries.

No. 11

Warren Read, son of Israel (1), born Mar. 27th, 1799, in Herkimer Co., N. Y., died in Detroit, Dec. 24th or 26th, 1872. Buried there. He married, about 1820, Betsey Stephens,* daughter of Robert Stephens and Abigail Davis. She died in Detroit, Mar., 1879, aged 84. We have little record of this family, but Betsey Stephens' niece, Mrs. ——— Foster, gives from memory, the following: That they had eight children, seven of whom were born in Wales, N. Y., the last one in Detroit; that five of them died nearly at the same time of scarlet fever. Their names she does not recall, only that there was one pair of twins.

We note:

1. CHILD (99).
2. ANGELINE (100), Jan. 19, 1823; died April 27, 1887.
3. ANSON (101), Mar. 4, 1824; died Mar. 3, 1902.
4. CHILD (102).
5. CHILD (103).
6. CHILD (104).
7. CHILD (105).
8. JULIA ANN (106), about 1842.

The loss of their children and other reasons led them to move to Detroit, about 1840, where he had a farm at "Spring Wells," then about five miles out, but now all in Detroit. For a few years they lived at Waterloo, Iowa, then came back to Detroit. After he was too old to work they lived by turns with their children. His last days, after her death, were with Angeline Lonyo, and he is buried in Detroit.

*STEVENS FAMILY.—Robert Stevens and his wife, Abigail Davis, lived in Wales, Erie Co., N. Y. Their children (order uncertain) were: Betsy, Anson, Thomas, Samuel, Deborah, Harriet, Armavilla, Elbridge, Harrison. The six sons were all farmers. Of the four daughters, Betsy married Warren Read, about 1820; Deborah married ——— Davis; Harriet married Miles Plumb, Couneaut, Ohio, later moved to Michigan; Armavilla, born 1811, married Nelson Klumph, in Detroit, and her daughter, Mrs. John Foster, gives us these facts. Mrs. Foster lives in Dearborn (Detroit). She is blind, but active and full of interesting memories.

Warren Reed was intensely patriotic, and so anxious to serve his country that at the age of 63 he enlisted in Co. A, 37 Iowa Infantry, Nov. 15th, 1862, but was discharged with honor, for illness, May 20th, 1863. He could not stand the strain of a soldier's life. His grandson, Andrew Lonyo, has the discharge paper. His description was: Height, 5 feet 10 inches; light complexion; blue eyes; light hair; farmer.

Charles Reed, son of Israel (1), born in Herkimer Co., N. Y., Apr. 5th, 1801, died Feb. 12th, 1863, at Java Village, N. Y. He married (1) Catherine Stryker, sister of his brother Benjamin's wife, and daughter of Garrett Stryker. She was born Mar. 27th, 1806, and died May 3d, 1826, aged 20. They had:

1. SARAH MARANDA (107), ———; died aged 1 month.
2. JOSEPH ADDISON (108), Sept. 15, 1823; died Feb. 28, 1897.

Charles Reed married (2) Evaline Sykes, Sept. 16th, 1827, daughter of Julius and Phebe (Warner) Sykes. She was born July 30th, 1808, and died July 24th, 1898. They had:

3. CATHERINE (109), June 24, 1829; died July 26, 1865.
4. CHARLES HARVEY (110), Oct. 27, 1834; died Apr. 21, 1892.
5. LUCINA DIANTHA (111), Sept. 9, 1838.
6. WARREN (112), Apr. 23, 1841; died Mar. 17, 1878.

Charles Reed moved to Java, Wyoming Co., N. Y., from Wales, in 1826; lived there till he died, on the farm now owned by Lucina. He was a pious man, member of the Baptist church, and a much esteemed citizen.

No. 13

Reckord Reed, son of Israel (1), born Mar. 3d, 1803, at Newport, Herkimer Co., N. Y. Died June, 1889, at home of his daughter at Thomson, Ill. He married, Mar. 5th, 1828, Asenath Barbour, daughter of Joseph Barbour and Betsey Conant. She was born in Warwick, Mass., Oct. 8th, 1808, and died Oct. 28th, 1895, aged 87-0-20, at Thomson, Ill. They had:

1. ELIZA DIANA (113), June 19, 1829; died Oct. 31, 1871.
2. LUCENA BARBOUR (114), Apr. 24, 1834.
3. JULIET MARGARET (115), Nov. 24, 1843; died Mar. 17, 1883.
4. CHARLES (116), Nov. 28, 1846; died Feb. 14, 1848.

Asenath Barbour, in 1823, with her parents and nine brothers and sisters, and a blind grandfather aged 84, came to China, now Java Village, Wyoming Co., N. Y., arriving there on her 15th birthday. They were four weeks on the road, making the journey in a one-horse carriage and covered carriage, a part of the way by the Erie Canal, then partly done. She was converted in 1826, and united with the Baptist church.

Reckord Reed was named for "Uncle Record." His boyhood was spent in Wales. He bought a farm which lay partly in Wales, Erie Co. and partly in Java, Wyoming Co. His children were born in Wales. In his old age, in 1884, he went to Illinois. While he was yet a small boy in Wales he was sent to mill with a grist of corn on horseback. Passing the home of the parents of the future President of the United States Fillmore, the bag slipped off, and mother Fillmore helped the boy and the bag onto the horse again. He also used to relate that, when about 21, he saw the famous Gen. Lafayette in Rochester, on his triumphal tour through America. The General wore a blue suit and buff vest. He and his family were Baptists.

4. JANE ELIZABETH (154), July 20, 1846.

Mary Ann and Wolcott were born at Herkimer, the others at Stone Mills, Jeff. Co., N. Y. Wolcott was named for his uncle, Wolcott Read.

Abner Reed was left fatherless while yet a lad. His mother "bound" him to a Mr. Petrie, one called "Jake" (Jacob ?), to serve till he was 20, and then to have $100, which was paid. Oct. 30th, 1832, he took deeds of two lots of land near Herkimer village, one 2 acres, the other 5 acres. He deeded them Sept. 12th, 1834, to Isaac Nellis for $300. For some years he moved from place to place, trying to suit himself, and finally located at Stone Mills, Jeff. Co., near his cousins. Later he moved to St. Lawrence and there he died. He was a farmer, and attended the M. E. Church in that place, which he helped build.

*THE WITHERSTINE FAMILY.—This is another German family, who lived near Herkimer. The true spelling is Weider Stein, which means in German, wide stone. Henrick Weiderstein came from Germany, and in the Census of 1790 his name, "Henrick Wederstawn," is found in Herkimer, with two males over 16, one male under 16 and four females in his family. His son John, born July 12, 1762, married Margaret Casler. One day she went to call the men at work to dinner, when she was cut down and scalped by the Indians, and left for dead. But she recovered. They had 10 children, viz.: John, Henry, Melchert, David, Abram, Catherine, Margaret, Anna, Betsey and Mary Elizabeth, who married Abner Reed. One Witherstine married a Petrie. David was the father of William E. Witherstine, who is now one of the leading lawyers and citizens of Herkimer, the county seat of Herkimer Co., N. Y.

James Read, son of John (3), born Oct. 6th, 1821, at Poland, N. Y., died June 30th, 1888. Buried at Jefferson, Ashtabula Co., Ohio, "by side of his first wife." He married twice. (1) Louisa Payne, daughter of Martin Payne.* She died Feb. 25, 1861, aged 32 years, in Ohio. He married (2), July 4th, 1861, Miss Mary F. Gibbs. She was born Jan. 5th, 1826, in Ohio. The children, all by first wife, were:

1. CHARLES H. (155), June 14, 1847; N. Y. State.
2. HELEN EUGENIA (156), Nov. 25, 1850; N. Y. State.
3. FRANCIS THEODORE (157), July 24, 1852; N. Y. State.
4. MARY ESTHER (158), Aug. 6, 1854; Ohio.
5. HOWARD PAYNE (159), Oct. 19, 1856; Ohio.

Charles H., Helen E., Francis T., were born in York State, the others in Ohio.

*THE PAYNE FAMILY.—Martin Payne and his wife, Martha Case, had nine children, viz.: Hiram, Stephen, Mary (who married Ryer Schermerhorn), Esther, Frank, Fred, Louisa (James Read's wife) and Seth. They lived at Coldbrook, near Poland. An uncle, Daniel Payne, was active in the Revolutionary War. Mary's son, R. C. Schermerhorn, was a fine teacher.

Fred Payne married Adeline Vincent. Their son, Fred Elton Payne, studied at Fairfield Seminary, began teaching at 16. Studied law a year at Ham. College. From 1875 to 1887 he was on newspaper work in Jersey City. He then taught Oriskany Falls High School nine years, and for six years was School Commissioner of his district. For 11 years he was salesman for text-books. Mr. Fred Payne has also been active in politics and is one of the leaders in the county of his party. (Rep.) Since 1899 he has been the efficient post-master at Clinton, N. Y. In 1883 Mr. Payne married Cora N. Sperry, daughter of Irving Sperry and Julia Babcock. They have two daughters, Camilla Ora and Elva. Camilla has a fine voice, and is being musically educated. Elva is a student at Alfred (N. Y.) University. They attend the Presbyterian church.

James Reed was a small boy when his father died, and "lived with relatives till old enough to work for himself." He married in Herkimer Co., lived there for a time, then went to Jeff. Co., and after some years there, in 1853, went to Ohio, Jefferson, Trumbull Co. He continued in Ohio to the end of life. His widow now lives in Andover, Ohio.

John M. Reed, son of John (3), was born, says Jeff. Co. History, in Conn. But that book cannot be depended on. Poland, N. Y., is more probable. He died about 1896 at St. Lawrence. He married Sept. 16th, 1857, Carrie Prendle of Poland, daughter of John Prendle. She was born Aug. 18th, 1828, and died about 1895, and is buried at St. Lawrence. Their children, all born at or near Poland, were:

1. FRANCIS (160), Sept. 1, 1852.
2. OWEN PERRY (161), Sept. 1, 1853.
3. CAROLINE H. (162), Mar. 25, 1858; died June 20, 1884.
4. MARY S. (163), Jan. 19, 1861; died Mar. 19, 1863.

John M. Reed was also left fatherless while very small, and had to make his way as best he could. He married in Poland, and his children were born there. The youngest died there, and is buried in the Prendle lot. We copied the inscription thus: "Lovely in Death. Mary S., dau. John M. and Carrie Read, died Mar. 19th, 1863, age 2 yrs. 2 mos." He removed, later, to Jeff. Co., and lived near his brother Abner, at St. Lawrence. In early life he was converted by a word from Mary Read, his uncle Wolcott's daughter. In his last years he and his wife were zealous Methodists and active in church work.

*THE SCHERMERHORN FAMILY.—This family of Holland Dutch extraction, have had a large and worthy place in our early N. Y. history. Their progenitor, Jacob James Schermerhorn, born in Holland 1622, came to New York and settled in Albany, where he was brewer and trader, and was arrested in 1648 for selling arms to the Indians. He died at Schenectady in 1688. The line from him down is as follows:

Jacob James, 1622 — 1688.
 Reyer (Uriah ?), ——— — 1719.
 Jacob J., 1693 — 1753.
 Jacob H., 1763 — 1813.

Robert Hetherington, son of Polly Read (4), born July 30th, 1816, at North Gage; died in Florence, Michigan, July 24th, 1897. He married (1), at Trenton, N. Y., Julia Steele, who died with "putrid sore throat," as diphtheria was then called, leaving a baby six weeks old, named:

1. HORACE HETHERINGTON (188), Apr. 14, ———.

He was given to his aunt, Ann Eliza, to care for, and was raised in Boonville, N. Y., where he died Oct. 4th, 1864, and is buried in the Kent lot.

After this sad event, Robert went to Michigan, where he married, May 14th, 1846, Margaret Gilhams, who was born in Lancaster Co., Penn., Dec. 7th, 1821. Her parents, shortly after, moved to Western N. Y., and then to Michigan, which was yet a wilderness. She died in Florence, Dec. 26th, 1895. They had:

2. MARY ELIZABETH HETHERINGTON (189), May 11, 1850.
3. WILLIAM WIRT HETHERINGTON (190), Oct. 27, 1853.
4. JOHN HETHERINGTON (191), ———; died five days old.
5. SARAH ANN HETHERINGTON (192), June 19, 1859.

He was a good, useful man and citizen. He lived near his sister Jane, in Florence township, not far from Centerville.

Sally Maria Hetherington, daughter of Polly Read (4), born Feb. 13th, 1823; died Oct. 24th, 1887. She is buried at North Gage. She married, Sept. 29th, 1846, Malcolm Alexander Blue, son of Alexander Blue and Christina McVean. He was born Jan. 27th, 1822, and died Jan. 14th, 1899. They had:

1. ARCHIBALD BLUE (193), Aug. 15, 1847.
2. ARABELLA BLUE (194), ———; died in five years.
3. MARIA A. BLUE (195), Mar. 20, 1862.
4. ARTHUR GRANT BLUE (196), May 15, 1864.

Col. Malcolm Blue's obituary says of him that he was probably the best known non-resident of North Gage, and had an acquaintance that extended over a large part of Herkimer and Oneida counties. He took an active part in politics.

He was a leader in the old anti-slavery movement, and later an ardent Republican. He was frequently delegate to political conventions. For a long time he was Highway Commissioner and Supervisor of Deerfield, in 1875-6. He was an active member of the Presbyterian church.

His parents dying when he was a child, he was raised by an uncle, Daniel McKay. In business he prospered as a farmer, owning at one time over 800 acres. He had a large dairy farm and dairy business, and later dealt extensively in live stock, and accumulated a fortune. He was President of the Poland (N. Y.) National Bank when he died.

He obtained his title as colonel from the old militia days, which came to an end about 1850. Many years before that he became colonel of the 76th Reg. N. Y. State Militia, composed of companies from Deerfield, Trenton, Steuben, Remsen, Newport, and other adjacent towns. There are those living who used to see him riding in full regimentals on "Training Day."

colony that founded Newark, N. J., in 1667-8. Two of the sons were farmers and mechanics, and they and their sons took up and settled nearly a square mile of the outlying lands, where the Oranges, Bloomfield, Montclair and Watsessing now are. Some of these lands are in possession of their descendants in an unbroken succession. They were all active patriots in the Revolution. Three of the fifth generation emigrated to Oneida county among the earliest settlers, viz.: Rev. Bethuel Dodd, first pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Whitesboro and Utica, 1793; Ebenezer Dodd, a shoemaker for 25 years in Utica, 1800-1825, and Jairus Dodd, 1796. He settled at Holland Patent about 1800, and died there in 1852. He was carpenter and farmer, elder of the church, justice of the peace, major of the militia, in the force that went to the relief of Sackets Harbor, Oct.—Nov., 1813. He married Jemima Williams of Orange, and had:

York, under the preaching of the celebrated evangelist Rev. Charles G. Finney, 1820-40. They followed Mr. Finney to Oberlin, and were both academic students there, and they were a part of the primitive life of Oberlin's beginnings. He studied theology with Finney, Morgan and Mahan.* Mr. Finney married them, at the house of a Dr. Turner, near Elyria, and he was licensed by the Lorain (Congregational) Association, Oct. 11th, 1838, and ordained by the same body Sept. 4, 1840.

His name does not appear as an Oberlin graduate, because of some technical rule that he violated, with the approval of his teachers. With this partial educational preparation† he started out to preach the blessed Gospel. He and his wife were of one spirit, and he served Congregational churches at Guilford and Ridgeville, Ohio, at Franklin and Vernon Center in New York State, at Wellfleet, Mass., at Turner, Harrison and North Bridgton, in Maine, and Alexander and Arcade, in New York State. At the latter place he died aged 55. He and his youngest son died three days apart and were buried the same day. Typhoid fever was then epidemic in town.

His ecclesiastical relations were Congregational, though a member of Genesee Presbytery when he died.

In his useful ministry‡ his wife was his efficient helper, and *EARLY OBERLIN PIETY.—So intense was the religious life of Oberlin at that time, and so searching were the tests of conversion applied by the teachers, that many of the students gave up their Christian hopes and sought better ones. Maria was one of the latter, but John Dodd did not give up his. He had, when 7 or 8 years old given his heart to the Savior, at 10 had sought admission to the church, and been put off on account of youth, but had always clung to his boyhood hope. He kept it all through life, and on his death-bed made it his dependance.

†PARTIAL PREPARATION.—John Dodd found in later life that his partial educational preparation detracted from his usefulness in the ministry, and, at great cost, gave his son a full college course.

‡ANTI-SLAVERY PASTOR.—He was a zealous anti-slavery advocate and voted that party ticket when the party was small and despised. But he was not a Garrisonian Abolitionist, and had none of Garrison's spirit.

He, with others, was on the way to attend the famous Anti-Slavery Convention that was driven out of Utica, Oct. 21, 1835, and met them going to Peterboro, to where they had been invited by Gerritt Smith.

*THE CRUICKSHANK FAMILY.—David and Mary (Stephenson) Cruickshank were natives of Scotland and emigrated to Ireland, and thence to Salem, N. Y., and then to North Gage, in 1807, where they lived and died, he in 1847, she in 1855.

Their sons were David, William, James, Samuel, John, Robert, Thomas. Their daughters were Eliza, Mary, Margaret. Eliza was the first wife of Gilbert Allen. Mary married Thomas Rowley. Margaret married John Davis. James was 7 years old when he came to North Gage. They were industrious, hard working people and staunch Presbyterians. Robert M. married Elizabeth Pearce of Newport, and lived at North Gage, where he was a large farmer. Dairying is the chief business in North Gage. He died in 1886, she in 1855. Their son George C., born Feb. 21st, 1850, was a Whitestown Seminary student. He married, in 1875, Rachel Herpy, and has three children: J. Robert, Mary, Milton.

Nancy Lucinda Reed, daughter of Benjamin (9), born Jan. 6th, 1823, in Erie Co., N. Y., died Mar. 6th, 1890, Columbia, Okla. She married, Jan. 27th, 1840, Grandison Moss Merrill, born Jan. 7th, 1813, at Newburyport, Mass., died Oct. 11th, 1865, "Baker Battle Field," Mont. He was the son of James Nathaniel Merrill and Susan Perry. They had:

1. JAMES NATHANIEL MERRILL (307).
2. WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON MERRILL (308), Nov. 2, 1844.
3. BENJAMIN ADDISON MERRILL (309), Mar. 3, 1846.
4. SARAH JANE MERRILL (310), Jan. 15, 1849.
5. LUCY MARIA MERRILL (311), Oct. 17, 1854.
6. WARREN MERRILL (312), ———; died Feb. 4, 1868.
7. AARON NEWTON MERRILL (313), Oct. 28, 1858.
8. MAHLON GRANDISON MERRILL (314), May 18, 1869.
9. ERNEST CLIFTON MERRILL (315), June 8, 1864.

She was 17 when married, he 27. Their earlier life was in Indiana, where most of their children were born. They later lived in Waterloo, Iowa, in Cedar Falls, and at Ft. Scott, Missouri. The father died in 1865, leaving a half-grown family. "They left the States," about 1875-77, for the territories, and lived in Kansas and Oklahoma. They have known all the vicissitudes of the Civil War and the Frontier Life. Mr. Merrill was a farmer. He belonged to the United Brethren Church. It is a tradition that they were originally from N. H., and of Welsh blood, and that Susan Perry was a sister of the famous Commodore Perry.

After Mr. Merrill's four years active service in the Civil War, he had an honorable discharge. His health was very poor. Just then a party of government surveyors and some emigrants were looking out a route for the first Pacific R. R. overland. The Government furnished them an escort, and Mr. Merrill enlisted in the escort, believing that the mountain air would benefit his health. They started May 1st, 1865, and being a surveying party progress was necessarily slow. They reached Little Horn River, when Indians began to trouble them, and when they got to the Big Horn the Indians were so threatening that they entrenched and sent to Fort Laramie for help. The Indians attacked and killed five of the soldiers, one of whom was Mr. Merrill. They were buried on the Battlefield, 60 miles east of Helena, Mont.

Warren died in Chillicothe, Mo.

James, the oldest son, was in the Kansas Home Guards, and served his time out, at the beginning of the war. A year later he enlisted in a Kansas Reg., and was sent south. The last the family heard of him was from Memphis, Tenn. He then was not well. His letters ceased to come, nor was any record or report of him or his death ever received. He probably is dead.

No. 96

Andrew Brooks Mason, son of Eliza Read (10), born Nov. 18th, 1833, at Wales, died Nov. 12th, 1902, at Toledo, Ohio. He married, Nov. 18th, 1858, Nancy Clark, daughter of Lyman Clark and Eleanor Cooper. She was born Aug. 18th, 1832, at Holland, N. Y. They had:

1. ELLIS EVERETT MASON (378), May 11, 1860.
2. HERBERT LINCOLN MASON (379), Oct. 8, 1881; died June 8, 1883.
3. LYMAN CLARK MASON (380), Sept. 4, 1869.
4. FLORA MASON (381), Dec. 22, 1871.

Brooks Mason worked on the home farm, attended district school, attended the Select School of Miss Paxton and Miss Friend at Medina, N. Y. Judson Warner of “Silver Bill” fame was seat-mate, and room-mate at Beloit. While yet 16 he taught, successfully, a school of the “throw-the-teacher-out” type, in Ill. The next year he taught the Strykersville school. About 1852 he entered Beloit College, Wis. In 1853 he was student at Wyoming Academy, N. Y. He then studied medicine with Dr. Ives at Strykersville about two years. In 1857-1858 he studied medicine at Ann Arbor, and began practice at Creston, Ill., where his brother, John G. Mason, lived. He married a Java (N. Y.) girl, and the next spring, 1859, with a colony of relatives, located in Irvington, Iowa, as a doctor, school teacher, Justice of the Peace and farmer.

In the spring of 1863 he located at Waterloo, Iowa, and began dentistry. In this art he was very successful, and was active as a member and officer of the State Society. He felt keenly his responsibility in the practice of medicine, and preferred, on this account, dentistry. He became a Good Templar, sang tenor in church choir, and learned music in a school led by the celebrated Geo. F. Root.

He was also in the Iowa Militia, ready, if called for, to go to the war. His home in Waterloo burned Jan. 14th, 1874. He moved at once to Springfield, Ohio, and continued his profession there. He also went into bee culture and poultry raising, and became an expert on bee matters. He also manufactured a honey extractor. He located, in the fall of 1879, at Auburndale, then a suburb of Toledo, but now a part of the city. Here he continued his dentistry work and became a leading man in his profession. He also kept up his bee work, and became well known in the state and nation and even the old world as an apiarist.

He was post-master at Auburndale. He was converted in his youth and joined the Baptist church at Strykersville, in the fall of 1853. All through his life lived an active Christian life in church and community, having been deacon, church clerk, S. S. superintendent, and secretary and treasurer of the Toledo Baptist Association. He never used profanity, intoxicating liquors, or tobacco, and not even tea or coffee.

The ending of this useful life was sad. Returning home one evening he went into the rear kitchen, with a lighted lamp, where there was a natural gas stove, from which some gas had escaped. A severe explosion followed, which burned him severely. The shock was too great, and in a few days this loving husband and father, faithful Christian, true friend and citizen, esteemed by all who knew him, was called from earth to his heavenly home. He felt no fear, however, for he knew in whom he had believed, and was persuaded that He was able to keep that trust he had committed unto Him, against that day.

Herbert Mason died of meningitis.

Flora Mason is clerk in the office of a large dry goods house in Toledo. She is a member of the Baptist church.

6. LOUIS LONYO (393), Nov. 27, 1859.
7. JULIA LONYO (394), Apr. 22, 1864.

Louis Lonyo was from a French family who had settled as farmers at "Spring Wells," near Warren Read's home. Nominally they were Roman Catholics, but do not adhere to their church, and their posterity are of various religious preferences. Their land was favorable to the brick-making industry, and nearly all the present generation are, in one way and another, connected with that business, in which they have prospered very well. The "Lonyo Brick Company" is one of the solid industries of Detroit. The younger generations have had good academic training.

The old Lonyo house at "Spring Wells" burned a few years ago and with it perished both Read and Lonyo records and papers. It has not been rebuilt.

No. 180

Cornelius Schermerhorn, son of Nancy Hetherington (32), born May 7th, 1840, at North Gage. Married, Apr. 12th, 1882, Alice Eliza Hartness, born Feb. 8th, 1854, daughter of George Hartness and Sally Ann Preston. They had:

1. NANCY MABEL SCHERMERHORN (533), Dec. 18, 1884.
2. FLORENCE HARTNESS SCHERMERHORN (534), Feb. 13, 1888.
3. HELEN ESTHER SCHERMERHORN (535), May 13, 1890.

Mrs. Schermerhorn graduated from Potsdam (N. Y.) Normal School, 1878, and was a teacher before her marriage. Mabel also graduated at Potsdam, 1906, and teaches. This family lives at Poland, N. Y., and are members of the Free Baptist Church. We have been much indebted to Mr. Schermerhorn for help in this book, and his active life has been one of honor and usefulness.

His early life was spent on his father's farm. He attended district school at North Gage, and later attended Whitestown Seminary, near Utica, N. Y. In 1865 he entered on the business of manufacturing butter and cheese by the factory system, which system was then in its infancy. For several years he successfully managed some of the largest factories and creameries in Oneida, Herkimer, Cattaraugus and Cortland Counties, in New York State.

In 1869, England desired to introduce the factory system into that country, and the work of carrying out this idea was placed in charge of a committee, who formed an association, with the Duke of Devonshire as president. The membership also included Lord Vernon, Lord Scarsdale, Hon. E. K. W. Coke, brother of the Earl of Leicester, J. G. Crompton, Esq., and several others.

This association conferred with London shippers in regard to the matter, and asked them to find a man from America who was engaged in the business and competent to start the system in England. Through their agents in New York Mr. Schermerhorn was recommended for the position, and engaged by the association.

He sailed from New York Feb. 19th, 1870. on the steamer Helvetia, and after a stormy passage of 17 days landed at Liverpool, and proceeded to Derby, where he met the members of the association, and where the first factory was located, the use of the building being given by Alderman Roe.

At the same time they wished to try the experiment of a factory located in the country, and Mr. Schermerhorn superintended the building of one at Longford, on the estate of the Hon. E. K. W. Coke, which was the first cheese factory built in England.

The system having been introduced in England, attracted the attention of other countries, and Russia, Denmark, Sweden and Italy sent dairy engineers for plans and instructions, which were furnished by Mr. Schermerhorn.

During the winter of 1870-71 he was engaged by a London firm and went to Holland, where he managed a factory at Brock, in Waterland, near Amsterdam, and he also gave plans and specifications for factories in other parts of that country.

While in Holland he visited the old town of Schermerhorn, in North Holland. The old church is of ancient architecture and of special interest for the records it contains. Among these records is the original coat of arms of the Schermerhorn family, and on the panels are the names of many of the family who are buried beneath the church.

He returned to England, stayed another year and in Jan., 1872, he came back to America, and managed several large factories in Vermont, Connecticut and New York.

He retired from the factory business in 1884, on account of his health, came to Poland, N. Y., and lives there now.

7. LOVISA (571), Jan. 3, 1872; died Aug., 1872.
8. FRANCES O. (572), May 5, 1879.
9. RUTH GEORGINE (573), Sept. 7, 1883.
10. HOMER E. (574), Oct. 12, 1887.

Part of these dates are from memory. David Patton lived at Paxton, Ill., was Probate Judge, Ford Co., 15 years, an able man who studied law in Ind. They were of Scotch descent and were Presbyterians.

Ruth Georgine graduated from the Pawnee High School, took stenography at Chandler, then began office work, which she has followed ever since. Several years she was in abstract work, and for three years past has been Dep. Reg. of Deeds at Bartlesville, where she lives with her sister, Mrs. Brewer.

Homer E. Reed went with his parents to Pawnee, in 1894, and helped on the farm, then attended Agr. College at Stillwater. He now lives in Bartlesville with his sisters, and is employed in an abstractor's office.

Wm. C. Reed left N. Y. State at the age of 16 and went to Saginaw, Mich., and worked for his uncle, Elijah Stanton, in the lumber business. After this, for two years, he was engaged in trading with the Indians on Manatoulin Island. He then went to Paxton, Ill., in Aug., 1857, to take charge of a lumber yard, which he did for two years. He was married in 1860, and then was engaged in farming and stockraising till 1879. Part of this time he was slaughtering at Los Animas, Cal. He removed to Florence, Kansas, June 28th, 1879, where, besides ordinary farming, he was engaged in buying and selling stock on a large scale, and in shipping, for six years. At one time he was said to be the largest "stock" and "cattle" man in Illinois, and well known throughout the West. At one time he was very prosperous, but reverses overtook him, with many others, and he gave up the cattle business. But he continued to raise good crops as a farmer. In 1898 he removed to Oklahoma, and lived near his children till he died, at Bartlesville, almost 80 years old.

2. GUY FRED (576), Mar. 1, 1890.

Stanton Reed's mother died when he was small and he was brought up by Elijah Stanton,* who had married Nancy Cruickshank, his mother's sister. A part of the time he lived with his brother William, at Paxton. He finally married and lived at Flint. In his later years he suffered much from poor health.

*THE STANTON FAMILY AND PEDIGREE.—From the Stanton Genealogy, Albany, N. Y., 1891, we get the following record:

Elijah Stanton, son of Daniel, born at Russia, N. Y., May 29th, 1811. Married (1), Oct. 19th, 1834, Marguretta Cruickshank, daughter of William Cruickshank. She died Aug., 1837. He married (2), Dec. 1st, 1839, her sister, Nancy Cruickshank, who died Feb. 21st, 1871. He married (3), Augusta Gilchrist of Manlius, N. Y. She died in 1886. He also is dead. By Augusta he had:

1. Belle Stanton, Jan. 24th, 1874.

Elijah Stanton went to Mich., and was in the lumber business at Bay City for many years. He also, in later life, lived at Flint and Goodrich as a farmer.

Daniel Stanton, father of Elijah Stanton, married Dorcas Corbin. He was a farmer. He lived in Little Falls and Russia, N. Y., and died in Copenhagen, N. Y. They had:

1. John Stanton, born Feb. 13, 1807, Little Falls, N. Y. He married Maria Merriman.
2. Freeman Harlow, Mar. 18, 1809, Russia, N. Y. He married Mary Esseltyne, and was a M. E. minister.
3. Elijah Stanton, May 29, 1811, Russia. See above.
4. Lyman Stanton, born July 21, 1814, Russia, N. Y., became a physician and practiced in Copenhagen, N. Y., and Rutland, N. Y.
5. Louisa Stanton, born Oct. 16, 1818, Russia, N. Y. Married Benjamin Merriman, Martinsburg, N. Y.
6. Susan Stanton, born July 29, 1825, Russia, N. Y. Married Dr. E. Allen, Copenhagen, N. Y.

Elijah Stanton was descended from Thomas Stanton (1635), viz: (1) Thomas, (2) John, (3) John, (4) Daniel, (5) John, (6) Daniel, (7) Elijah. Thomas Stanton in 1635, at age of 20, emigrated to Virginia, and the next year, 1636, is in Boston, and is a magistrate. He goes to Hartford, Conn., and the same year is married to Ann Lord, daughter of Dr. Thomas Lord, one of Hooker's Hartford Colony. He was active in public life, and especially in dealing with the Indians, for which he was an expert interpreter. He was teaching elder in the Hartford Church, and later sent to teach Indians gospel ways. He found his way to Stonington, became a trader, and settled there and had 10 children, who have multiplied there. Edwin M. Stanton, the famous war secretary, was not of this family but from a Robert Stanton of Newport, a Friend (Quaker), who died 1672. His family went to Penn.

Mrs. Read, we judge, is of English stock. After Mr. Read's death she married William Kao, by whom she has children. (1) Pearl E., (2) Ella Belle, (3) William Nelson.

The Read sons are living with her now. They live at Enterprise, Mont. They have each taken up homesteads.

Edgar Read, son of Walter (41), born July 18th, 1844, at Brownville, N. Y. Married Oct. 21st, 1867, Rachel Stephenson, born Sept. 3d, 1846, at Edwards, N. Y. She was a daughter of William Stephenson. They had:

1. WILLIAM EDGAR (593), Mar. 19, 1876, Russell, N. Y.

Edgar Reed did not live at home much after he was five years old, and so grew up under the limitations of a life mostly of self-help. But in spite of these drawbacks he has become an industrious, successful man, useful in the community and respected as a leading citizen. His trade was that of "joiner," and he also has been a farmer. To his only child he has given a good education. His military record is one not to be ashamed of. He enlisted Sept. 16th, 1861, in his 17th year, in Co. D, 60th N. Y. Inf. Reenlisted Dec. 31st, 1863, and was mustered out July 20th, 1865, having served continuously from the beginning to the end of the war. In later years his rank was sergeant. He was in 16 general engagements in the armies of the Potomac and Cumberland, and was with Sherman in his famous March to the Sea. The engagements were: Antietam, Gettysburgh, Second Bull Run, Chancellorsville, Bolivar Heights, Ealgotha, Atlanta, Resaca, Kenesaw Mt., Dallas, Peach Tree Creek, Wauhatchie Valley, Lookout Mt., Mission Ridge, Ringgold, Burtonville. He now lives at De Grasse, N. Y.*

Henry Martyn Dodd, son of Maria Wiser Read (44), born at Ridgeville, Lorain Co., Ohio, Aug. 6th, 1839. Married, Nov. 30th, 1870, at Canastota, N. Y., Ella Whiting Allen, daughter of David Allen* and Martha E. Whiting. She was born Dec.

*THE ALLEN-WHITING PEDIGREE.—Ella Allen's father, David Allen, was a merchant in Utica, Cleveland, O., and Alton, Ill. His father, David Allen, was a Lansingburgh lawyer of much ability. His brother, Rev. Edward Allen, was a gifted minister, successor of the celebrated Dr. Griffin, in his Albany (N. Y.) church. He died young. Another brother, Cornelius Lansing Allen, was an able lawyer at Salem, N. Y., and for one term judge of the N. Y. Supreme Court. His sister Hester married J. H. Hardenburgh of Auburn, N. Y. She was the mother of Mrs. Herrick Johnson, D. D., a very noted Presbyterian divine. Mrs. Johnson was the writer of poems of rare beauty and sweetness. Another sister, Sarah, married Orville Reed (from the John Reed, of Providence, family), and her four sons, Edward, William, Orville and David Allen, are all able ministers of the Gospel, holding important churches. His sister Ellinor married Mr. Parmalee, and her daughter, Mrs. Peebles, is the writer of excellent stories, under the pen-name of Lynde Palmer. The mother of these Allens was Elizabeth Lansing, daughter of the Patroon Cornelius Lansing. He lived at Lansingburgh, four miles north of Troy, N. Y. He was of Holland-Dutch blood. His son, Rev. Dirck C. Lansing, D. D., was, in his day, a leading Presbyterian minister, pastor of churches in Utica and Auburn, N. Y., and chief promoter of the founding of Auburn Theol. Seminary.

On her mother's side her lineage goes back to Martha Whiting, daughter of Gen. John Whiting, prominent lawyer and militia general of Great Barrington, Mass., son of Gamaliel Whiting, son of Charles 24th, 1839, and died June 24th, 1872, 13 days after the birth of her child. She is buried in the Cornelius Lansing lot, "Oakwood Cemetery," Lansingburgh, N. Y., with the rest of her father's family. They had:

1. ELLA ALLEN DODD (601), born June 11, 1872.

Mr. Dodd, the author of this book, graduated from Bridgton Academy, Maine, '58; from Genesee and Wyoming Seminary, Alexander, N. Y., '60; from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., A. B. '63, A. M. '66; from Auburn Theological Seminary, '70; from '63-'67 he taught in the old Cortlandville Academy, Cortland, N. Y., part of the time as its principal. He was one of the original movers in securing the present State Normal School at Cortland, which stands nearly on the old academy site.

He was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of Cayuga, April or May, 1869, and ordained to the Gospel ministry, Jan. 2d, 1873, by the St. Lawrence Presbytery. He served as student supply, from May, '60 to April, '70, of the Ref. D. Church, Canastota, N. Y., and as pastor-elect, May, '70 to May, '72, of the Manlius Presbyterian Church. He was pastor of Presbyterian Churches at Dexter and Brownville, Jeff. Co., N. Y., Dec. '72 to Sept., '84, at Augusta, Oneida Co., N. Y., Sept., '84 to Mar., '96, at Ashland, Greene Co., N. Y., Mar. 9, '96 to May, Whiting, who was great-grandson of William Whiting of Hartford, Conn. Her mother, for 10 or 15 years, conducted a young ladies' school at Great Barrington, Mass., called Grove Hill Seminary. She was a woman of rare worth and refinement. Her mother, Hannah Kellogg, was of a cultivated family. She was also a second cousin of both Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hopkins, one of the four men, Crocker, Stanford, Hopkins and Huntington, who built the first Pacific R. R. They each amassed immense fortunes. Hopkins had no children, and so left his fortune to his wife. She married her architect, Mr. Searles, and dying left it to him, and he now enjoys it.

The Whiting-Allen pedigree also goes back to John and Priscilla Alden, thus: The Charles Whiting above, father of Gamaliel, married Elizabeth Bradford; her mother was Hannah Rogers, a great-granddaughter of John and Priscilla Alden.

1909. During this latter time he supplied the Big Hollow Church five, and the Union Chapel of Mitchel Hollow three years.

Their daughter, Ella Allen Dodd, was four years in "Home School" at New Hartford and Verona, N. Y., and five years in "Cottage Seminary" at Clinton, N. Y., under the training of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hawley. She graduated in 1891. For three years she was in the Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, O. She also had one year in and graduated from the Crane Normal Musical Institute, Potsdam, N. Y. She taught a year in Henry Kendall College in Oklahoma, and a year in The Normal and College Institute, Asheville, N. C. She is now teacher of music in Clinton (N. Y.) High School.

In 1909, owing to age and infirmity, Mr. Dodd retired from the active ministry and moved to Clinton, N. Y., nine miles from Utica, to finish his course and write this genealogy. His ministerial work has been wholly among the rural and smaller churches. He has also been active in temperance work, having been a candidate for Elector of President, in 1892, on the Temperance Ticket. Besides his parish work he has done some literary work, viz:

1. Early Moral Societies, 1890.
2. Augusta Church Centennial History, 1897.
3. Old Windham (Ashland) Church Centennial History, 1903.
4. This Genealogy, after which he hopes to revise the Dodd Genealogy.

country), was born in Glasgow, Scotland, where his parents were on a visit. Their home was at Cullen, a place not far from Londonderry, North of Ireland.

James came to America when a young man. In the letter given him by his old teacher his name was spelled Sample, and he let the error stand.

He at first retailed dry goods in a store in New York City, then took a mill in Brooklyn, then sold the mill and had a store again on Fulton street, and later on DeKalb avenue. His health gave out and he sold out to his son Joseph. He then spent his life as a real estate agent in Brooklyn.

He married (1) Eliza Jane Walker, born 1832, daughter of William Stewart Walker. The Walkers were Reformed Presbyterians, like the Semples. She died Sept. 28, 1865, having had six boys, one of whom died young, leaving five boys for the second wife to mother. Her children were:

1. WILLIAM JOHN, Feb. 20, 1853; died Dec. 5, 1877.
2. JAMES LATTA, Feb. 10, 1856.
3. SAMUEL WALKER, Dec. 24, 1857; died ———, 1894.
4. GEORGE WASHINGTON, July 4, 1860; died Apr. 3, 1861.
5. JOSEPH, Mar. 23, 1862.
6. CHARLES WALKER, Sept. 23, 1864; died Nov. 23, 1904.

1. William John was one of the about 300 persons who perished in the Brooklyn theater fire, Dec. 5th, 1877.

2. James Latta, for a time, was in the shirt manufacturing business, but is now a salesman for a New York sponge house. He married, Oct. 27th, 1880, Jessie Benton Fremont Carleton, daughter of A. S. Carleton. They had: (1) Clarence Walker Sample, Feb. 18, 1882; (2) Jessie Latta Sample, Sept., 1884, died about 5 weeks old; (3) Helen Carleton Sample, July 28, 1885.

3. Joseph was a very successful retail dry goods merchant on DeKalb avenue. He is now operating in real estate. He married Minnie Sheridan. They have no children.

4. Charles W. was a retail dry goods merchant. He married Florence Lewis, had four children, one died soon after birth. His widow married again.

Mr. Sample was a retail dry goods merchant and real estate agent, and lived in Brooklyn. He was an elder in the Ref. Pres. Church and later in a U. S. A. Pres. Church. Mrs. Sample was educated at Bridgton Academy, Maine, and Genesee and Wyoming Seminary, Alexander, N. Y. She taught for the Am. Miss. Ass. among Freedmen in Virginia and North Carolina. She married a widower with five half-grown boys, and then had five girls, and her family cares were many and great. In spite of it all she became active in church work, and in the Brooklyn W. C. T. U. She had a very fine singing voice and gifts in exhortation, and for a time conducted some of their Missions in the city. As a writer she was gifted with a brilliant and effective literary style. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Helen Eliza Sample suffers from impaired health. She is a fine piano teacher, and now lives with her sister, Mrs. Douglass, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Marcus Clark Mason, son of Charles William Mason (91), born June 6th, 1844, at Strykersville, N. Y. Married four times. He married (1), June, 1874, Fidelia S. Howes, born at Madison, N. Y., Apr. 30th, 1842, died Sept. 9th, 1882, at North East, Penn., while on furlough. She was a daughter of ——— Howes and ———. Educated in Prof. Goodenough's Female Seminary at Hamilton, N. Y. He married (2), Apr. 13th, 1884, Mrs. Clara May Arthur of Boston, widow of J. R.

Arthur. Her maiden name was Stevens, who married Mr. Arthur and went with him to Japan as a missionary. He died and she returned to America, lived at Newton Center, Mass., and Mr. Mason found her there. She went with him to India, but died Dec. 9th, 1885, only 11 days after reaching Tura. He married (3), Apr. 27th, 1887, Orelle Keller, at Calcutta, India, a Baptist Missionary in Assam. She died in Tura, May 15th, 1887. He married (4), Feb. 3d, 1889, Nettie Pursell of Ohio, who is with him in his work at Tura.

These frequent marriages grew out of the emergencies of his missionary life.

By the first wife he had:

Mr. Mason took his whole preparatory education at Hamilton, N. Y., a Baptist educational center, where their academies, college and Theo. Sem. were, and are still, located. The college was then Madison College, but is now Colgate Univ. He graduated from the college in 1872, and the seminary in 1874. He married his wife in the same town, and was ordained in Strykersville, and under appointment from the Am. Bapt. Miss. Soc., they and another young couple sailed away in the fall of 1874 to Assam, to found a wholly new mission at Tura. The Tura people were warlike, and not till 1877 did they succeed in establishing themselves at Tura, but their work has been very successful, as pioneers reducing the language to writing, Scripture translation, supervising schools, and evangelizing the people. The oldest son has joined them, Jan., 1902, and they are happy in their work. "He expects to die in India."

sent in 1644, by Boston merchants, in a small vessel to the Delaware Bay, to collect furs by trading with the Indians. He had had good success, and was about sailing for home, in Spring of 1645, when he and three of his men were killed by the Indians. (See Winthrop's Hist. of New England, Vol. II, p. 256.) From him we trace:

1. Capt. John S. Luther, died 1645.
2. Samuel, born 1630, wife Mary.
3. Samuel, born 1663, wife Sarah.
4. Caleb, born 1691, wife Mary Cole.

9. Marie E., born 1831, husband William B. Warren.
10. Ellen M., born 1854, husband Geo. F. Mather.

We note that in the above, that the mother of Jonathan W. Brown was Sally Webster, her father was brother of the father of Daniel Webster, the famous American orator and statesman.

We also further note that Jabez Luther, No. 7, had a brother William, who married a niece of Ethan Allen, the Revolutionary hero.

We also call attention to No. 7, Jabez Luther, himself, was certainly a most remarkable man, with most noble characteristics and a very unique history. He was born at Attleboro, Mass., Mar. 26th, 1776. As a boy and young man he was a fine student and scholar and intelligent man. He became a carpenter and excelled at his trade, but soon chose a seafaring life in the West India trade. At the age of 26 he was at Warren, R. I., on a visit, and while helping celebrate the Fourth of July had both his hands blown off by the premature discharge of a cannon. The right arm was amputated above the hand, and the left arm above the elbow.

But in spite of this helpless condition he began to devise machines and apparatus which, attached to the stumps of his arms, enabled him, little by little, to do almost every kind of useful work, as well as minister to his personal needs. He could even shave himself. He became a teacher, then a merchant, then a farmer in Berkshire, Vt. He did farm work, also made very fine grain cradles, and sold them everywhere. His arms became strong and acquired dexterity by use. He was chosen to town offices, and was many years "Esq. Luther," a high honor in those days. He was a good debater, and cheerful and humorous in his intercourse with people. His good wife was one of the best of wives.

He was also a religious man, who every morning attended prayers, using the Book of Common Prayers. He died, in Peace, in 1854, trusting God.

We have condensed the above from a manuscript in the possession of Mrs. Geo. F. Mather, his great-granddaughter.

Laura Abbie and Mary C. Clark are sisters, and granddaughters of Benjamin Finch.

James S. Gilmore was a farmer. He lived in Morgan and Johnson Counties, Mo., and Neosha County, Kan., and in Dec., 1864, went to Kansas, locating the next year on a farm near Chanute, where he lived the rest of his life, and where his son D. W. Gilmore now lives. The son has always lived in the same town, has been school district clerk and town clerk twice, and has seen the region change from a trackless prairie to a finely tilled farm country.

This record was overlooked when the main part of the book was printed.

RUSSELL ON THE GRASSE

BY EDWARD REYNOLDS.

We give this poem, which our readers will discover is a parody on "Bingen on the Rhine," not only because it refers to the 60th N. Y. Reg., in which two of our kindred served, but because we believe that all old soldiers will enjoy it and perhaps appropriate its language as descriptive of scenes in their own regiments or battles or army life:

Reynolds was orderly for Gen. Slocum at Gettysburg and found a friend of his boyhood, of the 60th N. Y. Reg., mortally wounded, and took his dying messages. The 60th was a St. Lawrence County regiment from the extreme northerly part of N. Y. State. Many of the 60th boys were from the town of Russell on Grasse River (so named by the French explorers for its grassy marshes). Edgar Reed and William Bullock were from this town and still live in Russell.

A soldier of the Sixtieth lay dying on Culps Hill,
There was lack of tender nursing, there was dearth of surgeon's skill,
For the battle hot was raging, and each moment added one
To the thousands that lay dying in the hot summer sun.
A comrade fighting near him bent to hear what he might say,
To receive his latest message to the dear ones far away.
The dying soldier faltered, "Ned, I'll never more, alas,
See my home and friends in Russell—Russell on the Grasse.

"If you're among the lucky ones, who, when the war is o'er,
Returning home in triumph, hear the 'High Fall's' greeting roar,
And see the sister's sunny smile, and mother's gleam of joy,
When the one beholds her brother and the other clasps her boy,
If, with trembling voice, a maiden asks about her brother 'Will,'
You can tell her that you saw him fall on Culps foe-girded hill.
And tell her, too,—'twill sooth her grief—how traitors fled en mass,
When they met with men from Russell and the towns along the Grasse.

"Tell my brothers, when they gather round, the story of to-day,
How gallant Greene's New York Brigade held Ewell's hosts at bay,

And tell them that 'twas at the point where foeman turned and fled,
That their Brother 'Bill' was found, among a score of Rebel dead.
Tell my sister not to weep for me, nor grieve, that o'er my tomb
No roses planted by her hand, nor violets may bloom.
And tell her, if she's true and good, at death her soul shall pass .
To a happier home than Russell — happy Russell on the Grasse.

"There's another — not a sister — you will know her when she speaks,
By the music in her voice and the roses on her cheeks.
But no, her voice will lose its ring, the roses take to flight,
When she reads my name, to-morrow, in the death roll of the fight.
Last night, in dreams, I stood within a church, and by my side,
Her hand confidingly in mine, she stood my queenly bride.
A happy dream! but oh, 'twill never, never come to pass,
We shall meet no more in Russell, peaceful Russell on the Grasse.

"In coming years, when you relate the story of the war —
Of the days when millions marched to beat of drum and cannon jar —
You can truly say the sons of old St. Lawrence were as bold
As the boldest of their comrades — brave as bravest knights of old,
And of all the gallant regiments that faced the fire of death,
None faced it with a firmer front than did the Sixtieth;
And mid the bravest of the brave, were none who could surpass,
In courage, men from Russell, loyal Russell on the Grasse."

He paused — the comrade lower bent to hear his latest word,
The swelling roar of battle was the only sound he heard.
The wounded heart had ceased to beat, the spark of life had fled,
Another happy home was filled with sorrow for the dead.
One more recruit was mustered in, to swell the lengthening train,
Of troops en route from Gettysburg to Heaven's peaceful plain.
And none who knew him doubts that good St. Peter let him pass,
And showed him where the boys were camped from

"Russell on the Grasse."

CORRECTIONS

(The Reader will please mark them with pen or pencil in their appropriate places.)

- P. 21, line 16—Abner is uncle, instead of older brother.
P. 62—Lovisa Payne, not Louisa.
P. 63—Prindle, not Prendle.
P. 64—Jacob Janse Schermerhorn, not Jacob James. It was not he but one of his descendants who sold arms to the Indians. There were about 40 Schermerhorns in the Albany and Rensselaer County Regiments in the Revolutionary War. Jacob H., father of Cornelius, was in the 4th Albany Reg. State Militia.
P. 65—Cornelius Schermerhorn was born Aug. 4th, 1799.
P. 65—Caroline Schermerhorn died Apr. 15th, 1912, not Apr. 12th.
P. 71—Jairus Dodd married Sally Davis. Jemima Williams was his mother.
P. 75—Nickoffs should be Nihoffs. Mrs. Lonson Read is in her 90th year, not 93 years old.
P. 76—Truman Beebe should be Addison Beebe, his father.
P. 78—For families of No. 246, No. 252, No. 253, see Appendix.
P. 81—Emma Jane Finch, born Dec. 27th, 1849, not Dec. 28th, 1850.
P. 93—"Redeat Serus in Celo" should read "Serus in Celum redeat."
P. 114—We were misinformed in saying that George Seifred is dead.
P. 115—Nathan Rix is buried at Poland. His son "Frank" should be a daughter Frances.
P. 117—Cornelius Schermerhorn and family are members of Reg. Bap. Ch., North Gage. Florence H. graduated from Utica Conservatory of Music, 1910. Teaches piano at Poland and has a large patronage. Helen Esther is a graduate, A. B., of Albany Normal College, 1912, and is a teacher. For Nancy Mabel's (No. 533) record see appendix, p. 275.
P. 119—The death date given as that of Mrs. Kent is her mother's. She is with us still.
P. 121—No. 193, Archibald Blue's first wife was McIntyre, not McIntosh.
P. 121—No. 192. The sense of Schimmilpfenig is not shining penny, but penny form, or mold.
P. 125—James M. Cruickshank was member but not elder of the church.
P. 130—Rev. E. N. Kirk, D. D., not Dr. Griffin.
P. 192—Annette Reed, not Nettie. For No. 486 see App., p. 275.
P. 198—Frank Howard Brayton married. They had one child. He lives at Osceola, N. Y.
P. 244—Etta Jane, insert Conrad.
P. 252—In No. 958, it should be Julia Clark Sprague, instead of Mason.
P. 256—In No. 1098, it should be Omar Arthur, not Owen Arthur.
P. 258—In No. 1221, it should be Ida Mabel Reed, and not Edith Adelia Read, her sister.
