Christian Schlabach, our first ancestor, lived in the old country and had a family of four boys and four girls. It seems they were not satisfied with conditions in the old country and decided to investigate and find a new home.

So two of the boys, John and Christian, both single, decided to come to the United States. After procuring the necessary papers, their church papers and passports, they left their home land and started for this country on March 13, 1819.

When they arrived at New York they went to Somerset County, Pa. It was agreed that upon their favorable report of the new country, that the other members of the family would follow. So, on April 12, 1829, the father, Christian Schlabach, and the rest of the family--two sons and four daughters--started for this country, but because of adverse winds and storms they did not arrive at New York until August 15, 1820, over four months after they embarked. They also migrated to Somerset County, Pa., where they resided until the year 1825 or 1826, when all of the family migrated to Holmes County, Ohio.

Following are the children of Christian Schlabach, our first ancestor, who came from the old country in 1820. His wife probably died in the old country.

John was born Sept. 10, 1782.

Marie was born Oct. 11, 1784.

Jacob was born Sept. 19, 1786. Died May 8, 1863.

Cathrine was born April 19, 1790.

Christian was born Sep. 30, 1793. Died Apr. 16, 1871

Magdalena was born Jan. 8, 1795.

Anna was born August 15, 1799.

Daniel was born June 4, 1802.

John Schlabach, oldest son of Christian, was born Sept. 10, 1782, and died and was buried in the Abraham Mast cemetery near the Bishop Sol Schlabach home.

Marie Schlabach, second child of Christian, was born Oct. 11, 1784.

Jacob Schlabach, third child of Christian, was born Sept. 19, 1786, and died May 8, 1863, and was buried in the David Schlabach cemetery now owned by Rudy J. Yoder near Charm, Ohio. He was married to Barbara Yoder in Somerset County, Pa. She was born about Sept. 1793, and died Sept. 11, 1856, at 63 years, 8 m., 10 d., and was buried at the same place on the David Schlabach farm cemetery.

Their children:

Daniel Schlabach was born March 26, 1827 and died May 27, 1888.

Elizabeth Schlabach was born March 26, 1827, and was married to Joseph Sommers.

David Schlabach was born Sept. 27, 1828, and died Sept. 24, 1895 at 66 yrs., 11 m., 27 days. He married Katie L. Miller. She was born Nov. 5, 1832 and died Dec. 7, 1906 at 75 years, 1 m. and 2 d.

Katie Schlabach was married to John Schmucker

Susie Schlabach was married to Joseph Mast.

Mattie Schlabach was married to Daniel Mast.

Jacob Schlabach was married to Maria Miller. They lived between Charm and Walnut Creek, Ohio.

Their children:

Elizabeth was married to Joni M. Hershberger.

Susie was married to Isaac P. Hershberger.

Eli was married to Mattie Miller (2) Fannie Miller.

Daniel was unmarried.
