THE SHRYOCK LINE

Doscendants of Hans Jarick (or Hans Jerg) Schreyack (Johannes George Schreyack)

FOREWORD

Shortly after the death of my father, Charles E. Duryea (1861-1938), it occurred to me that I knew very little about his maternal ancestors. With the knowledge that Catherine Shryock Carver was his great-grandmother, I tried to identify her parents - and this material on the Shryock family is the result.

Although my only interest was in my direct line, so many other data were obtained that I have attempted to list the known descendants of the immigrant (Hans Jarick or Hans Jerg) Johannes George Schreyack. Should there seem to be too much emphasis placed on my ancestors I trust that the other descendants will not consider this selfish, inasmuch as the original purpose was to trace my line only. I wish that this could have been more of an anecdotal genealogy, but the line was too remote. No claim is made to perfection since these data were compiled by a novice, who found that "the dry branches of genealogical trees bear many pleasant and curious fruits."

Early in my search I started corresponding with five persons who were interested in the Shryock lineage. Three were descendants of Johannes George Schreyack, and two were of other Shryock lineage. There evolved a voluminous exchange of letters among "the Shryock descendants" (as we addressed ourselves). To these five persons I am deeply grateful for their enthusiastic assistance and encouragement in my amateurish efforts. This acknowledgment is made to Mrs. Willis Field (Elizabeth Shryock) and Miss Lorena T. Lawell of Lexington, Kentucky; Professor Burnett H. Shryock of Kansas City, Missouri; Miss G. Eloise Shryock of Glendale, California; and Miss Ruth Portmess of Hobart, Indiana. To Miss Portmess I am also indebted for her generous cooperation in checking the manuscript.

1955 Postscript: Shortly after the publication of this manuscript, I learned the identity of two heirs of Frederick Shryock (page 27). I am greatly indebted to Miss Jewell Roberts for the information on pages 50a through 50p. In preparing this supplement, a few additional changes have been inserted, but no effort was made to bring the manuscript up to date.

Oh, for a Court Record on Great-Great-Great-Great-Great-Great-Great-Great-Grampa

It's nice to come from gentle folk
Who wouldn't stoop to brawl,
Who never took a lusty poke
At anyone at all,

Who never raised a raucous shout At any country inn Or calmed an ugly fellow lout With a belaying pin,

Who never shot a revenuer
Hunting for the still,
Who never rustled cattle, who're
Pleased with uncle's will,

Who lived their lives out as they ought, With no uncouth distractions,
And shunned like leprosy the thought
Of taking legal actions.

It's nice to come from gentle folk
Who've never known disgrace —
But oh, though scandal is no joke,
It's easier to trace!

By Virginia Scott Miner Saturday Evening Post November 22, 1941

A "friend of a friend" of Miss Miner wrote that Miss Miner has no interest in genealogy! She was inspired to write the above lines while waiting in a library for her friend to check a few genealogical items.

Wilhelm Friedrick, Baron Van Schrieck, 1545-1583 (died in Bois-le-Duc) Karl Friedrick, Baron, 1580-1630 (died in Bois-le-Duc) Jarick Hans, 1610-1685 (migrated to the Palatinate and died in Hanover) Friedrick von Schrieck, 1668-1734 (born and died in Hanover)

Thus was Friedrick von Schrieck a descendant of a line of feudal barons. Friedrick married Hildegarde von Steuben (1682-1739; Heindrich) who died in Hanover. It is believed that she was an aunt of Baron Friedrick Wilhelm Augustus Henry Ferdinand von Steuben 1730-1794, aide-de-camp to Frederick the Great. (The Baron General came to America in 1777 to aid General George Washington during the Revolutionary War.) This believed relationship is supported by the fact that General von Steuben's cousin's daughter married Jacob Schreyack, one of the three immigrant brothers.

The name was originally spelled Schreeck, followed by Van Schrieck, and von Schrieck, and in Holland the name has been continued as Van der Schrieck. In America it has been spelled with many variations: Schreyack, Shriock, Schryock, Screyeck, Schroyock, Sriock, etc., until the final form of SHRYOCK. (It is believed that this family had no connection with those of the name Schrack or Schrock.)

From the daily papers October 24-25, 1944:

"British troops fought into the streets of the key Dutch road center of 'sHertogenbosch tonight.

[&]quot; 'sHertogenbosch One of Europe's Oldest and Most Romantic Towns
(By The Associated Press)

[&]quot; 'sHertogenbosch is one of Europe's oldest and most romantic towns as well as one of southern Holland's most successful commercial cities. The town derives its name from Duke Godfrey of Brabant, who granted it municipal privileges in 1184. The name literally means 'the Duke's Woods' - Hertog being the Dutch word for duke and Bosch the word for woods. It often appears on maps in the French variant, Bois-le-Duc.

[&]quot;The apostrophe 's' prefix to the name is the Dutch form of the possessive case. The name of the town is pronounced 'Ser-Toggaen-Bos' with the 'g' gargled. 'sHertogenbosch is the capital of North Brabant Province and has a population of about 41,000. It is located at the confluence of the Dommel and Aa Rivers. It is connected with the Maas, three miles to the north, by the canalized River Dieze. Rail and motor routes fan out from the town. It was considered impregnable during the Middle Ages because of marshes surrounding it until Stadtholder Frederic Henry took it by storm in 1629.

[&]quot;In May 1940 it lay directly in the path of the German forces advancing from Kleve, Germany. A German armored division moved through the town and reached the Coerdyk bridge across Hollandsch Diep, 30 miles to the west, on May 12. The bridge had been occupied by German troops in Netherlands' uniforms."

Two coats-of-arms for the von Schrieck name are described on page 731, Tome II, 2nd Edition - 1887 - of ARMORIAL GENERAL, by J. B. Rietstap.

1. SCHRIECK (Van) - Bois-le-Duc. D'or au sautoir de sable, cantonné de quatre oiseaux du même.

Translation: Gold with saltier of black, divided into quarters with birds of the same.

2. SCHRIECK (Van) (anciennement van der Schrieck) - Brab. (Anoblissement 14 Août, 1767.) D'argent à trois couronnes de laurier de sinople. Device: Virtus lauro coronat.

Translation: (anciently van der Schrieck) - Brabant - (Ennoblement 14 August 1767.) Silver with three crowns of green laurel.

Motto: Courage is crowned with victory.

The first is the one used by both Col. Thomas Jacob Shryock and Mr. Joseph Grundy Shryock, and its general outline is shown below:

11

This method is used in giving to each descendant a code number:

Christian Schreyack 1735-1822 was the first American-born descendant of Johannes George Schreyack. To his nine children have been allotted the even hundred figures. The first digit, therefore, denotes the child of Christian, so that regardless of the number of digits there can be no confusion as to which of Christian's children that individual belongs. For example -

No. 300 (John) Frederick Shryock indicates that he was the third child of Christian Schroyack 1735-1822; and the first digit "3" will identify his descendants; thus -

301 Catherine Shryock

335 Rhea Duryea Johnson

3145 Lorena T. Lawell

This method allows additional entries.

The notes start with No. 1 on page 64. There are less than one hundred of these and there should be no confusion with the code numbers of the descendants.

The abbreviations used are:

f

b. born

bap. baptized

d. died

dau. daughter

m. married

s. son

w. wife

There were three inter-marriages, and the issue is shown under the paternal parent's record.

It was impossible to continue the above method of numbering the descendants on the 1955 supplemental information on pages 45, 46, 47, 50a through 50p. The index, however, includes these additions.

The latest generation has been omitted from new material - twenty years hence these "youngsters" may be annoyed with having their ages in print!

It is interesting that the American trail of my Shryock line should have started and ended in Philadelphia. Johannes George Schreyack arrived in Philadelphia in 1733 and over two centuries later Charles E. Duryea (my father) died in Philadelphia. The trail went through Pennsylvania into Maryland; into Kentucky; into Illinois. My parents after their marriage in Illinois lived in Missouri; Illinois three different times; District of Columbia; New Jersey two different times; Massachusetts; Michigan; and Pennsylvania two different times - living in Philadelphia from 1914 until their deaths.

HANS JARICK or HANS JERG SCHREYACK (Johannes George Schreyack)

HANS JARICK (or HANS JERG) SCHREYACK, born 1702, was the son of Frederick von Schrieck and Hildegarde von Steuben (believed to have been an aunt of General (Baron) von Steuben). Few records have thus far been found concerning Hans Jarick - only those of his arrival with oaths of allegiance; the baptism of his son, Christian, in October 1735; and a church record pertaining to his daughter, Susanna Elizabeth Schreyack Albert.

It is believed that he lived near York, Pennsylvania, and then near Creagerstown (formerly called "Monocacy") in Frederick County, Maryland. A search of the wills and administrated estates of the counties on the border of the two states has been made without largering the date of his death. The early church records of Creagerstown were destroyed by fire.

From the "First Scttlements of Germans in Maryland," by E. T. Schultz:

"Although I have been unable to locate any settlers in the vicinity of Monocacy prior to 1732, there are reasons to believe that there were some in that vicinity prior to that year. But it is known that before the year 1750 a large number of Germans and their descendants had found their way into Maryland via the settlements in York and Lancaster counties, and settled on the lands contiguous to the settlement of Monocacy. Among these were the ... Shryocks...and many others." (Twenty-six names were mentioned.)

The passenger list of the ship "HOPE" contained the name of Barbara, aged twenty-eight, whom we believe to have been the wife of Hans Jarick. In a church record pertaining to his daughter, Susanna Elizabeth Schreyack Albert, her mother's name is given as Susanna. Perhaps the name should have been recorded as Susanna Barbara, or it is possible that Hans Jarick's first wife had died and that Barbara was his second wife (the nother of Christian). There is a lapse of over ten years between Susanna and Christian - the only known children of Hans Jarick Schreyack.

His name having been written in the two above-mentioned church records as JOHANNES GEORG (sic) SCHREYACK, all future reference to him will be under this name.

SUSANNA ELIZABETH SCHREYACK

Susanna Elizabeth Schreyack came from the Palatinate with her father. She married Franz (Francis) Albert.

Franz Albert came to this country when a young man with other French Huguenots. Reincke's "Members of Moravian Church 1727-1754" in Donegal (Lancaster County) in 1749 includes the names of Franz Albert and wife. It states: Francis Albert, Shoemaker. Born in Deux Ponts, Zweibrucken, July 20, 1719. Calvinist. Surprised, murdered, and scalped by Indians, June 26, 1756, while plowing on Fisher's farm in "The Hole" (Tolheo) in Bethel Twp. At that date he was a member of the Church in Swatara.

There are several written accounts of this massacre when Franz Albert with another man and two boys were ploughing together because of the danger of attack. All four were killed. (Bethel and Swatara are in Lebanon County, Pa.)

Records of the Moravian Church, York, Pennsylvania: "Soul-register of the members of the Congregation and Society and their children...1780." (Publications of the Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania, Vol. IV., No. 3, p. 347.)

"Susanna Elizabeth Albert born A. 1725, Jan. 12, her father was Joh. Georg Schreyack, her mother Susanna - Come from Gahsheim in Wurtenbergisch to Pennsilvania in 1733 - to Yorktown from Warwick A. 1783 May 13. She became a widow June 26, 1756 in Bethel because her husband was put to death by the savages.

"Their children:

Johannes b. Feb. 11/22, 1745; bap. Feb. 26 by Phil. Meurer

Maria Magdal b. June 11/22, 1750; bap. June 29 by Chr. Rauch

Abraham b. Aug. 10, 1753; bap. Aug. 23 by Chr. Rauch

Martha b. Aug. 15, 1756; bap. Aug 18 by Phil. Meurer."

(No effort was made by R.D.J. to identify any descendants of these children.)

There are court records for the administration of Francis Albert's estate and the guardianship of his children, etc., in Lancaster County. One of these has the name "Martin" instead of "Martha."

CHRISTIAN SCHREYACK (Senior)

CHRISTIAN SCHREYACK, son of Johannes Georg Schreyack and wife, born September 1735; baptized October 10, 1735. Witnesses: John Schreyack and Fredericka Esther Walk.

The above item is No. 23 in Volume I of the translations of the "record of children baptized in the Evangelical Lutheran Congregation on the Katorus (Codorus)" - Christ Lutheran Church, York, Pennsylvania. "This is believed to be the oldest church west of the Susquehanna River" - founded by twenty-four men in 1733.

The same record was found in Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster, Pennsylvania - founded 1730. The name "Walk" may have been "Wallich." The duplication of the record was the result of the notes of an itinerant pastor.

From the Bible of Valentine Shryock, Jr., 1787-1843 (grandson of Christian):

"Christian Shryock, Sr., departed this life on the 10th day of October 1822." (Note 50:26)

Through the Peabody Institute in Baltimore a search was made for any published item about Christian's death. This was found in the FREDERICK-TOWN HERALD of October 19, 1822:

"Died - On Thursday the 10th inst., in the vicinity of Creager's Town, Mr. Christopher Schroyock, in the 89th year of his age, having sustained an unblemished reputation through life."

(Undoubtedly the name "Christopher" was taken from the abbreviation Chr. There is an error of one year - for he died in his 88th year.)

Dated October 10, 1820, Christian Shryock's will, recorded October 28, 1822, gives the names of his living children and of the living children of his deceased son, Valentine. (See copy of will on page 11.)

The first legal paper for Christian Shriock in Frederick County was dated May 22, 1761 (G-13) - "release of down" from Mary Ann Robinger. A deed dated May 18, 1764 (J-456) from Daniel Dulany was probably Christian Shriock's purchase of a "re-survey" property.

Christian's name was found on a score of deeds in the county. In some he is listed as "shoemaker" and in others as "farmer." There are deeds mentioning Christian's wife as "Mary" dated Aug. 15, 1769 (M-F458) and another, dated April 15, 1788 (W.R. 8 - F 21) with his wife's name "Eva Maria."

That Christian had a second wife is proved by a deed (W.R. 23 - F 505) covering a tract of land called "Lisbon" and part of a tract called "Hampton Plains" dated November 5, 1802 stating "Christian Shryock, Senior and Magdalena his wife...to Christiana Shryock and Jacob Shryock, Mary Shryock, Valentine Shryock, Catherine Shryock, George Shryock, Matthias Shryock, and Henry Shryock, children of the aforesaid Christiana Shryock." (These were the widow and children of Christian's son, Valentine 1760-1794.)

An earlier deed, dated June 1, 1795 (W.R. 13 - F 316) mentions Magdalena as Christian's wife.

The statement in the newspaper "having sustained an unblemished reputation through life" is supported by references to Christian's activity in church affairs. A deed dated May 5, 1774 (V-697) was to Christian Shriock and John Smith, Trustees of the Lutheran Church, and George Zimmerman and Charles Pallsell, Trustees of the Presbyterian Church of Frederick County for a tract of land called "Partnership" for the use of a schoolhouse and chapel or place of divine worship of the congregations of the Lutheran and Presbyterian churches. This plainly shows his interest in the development of a religious and educational environment for the community.

In the records of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Frederick are several entries of Christian:

"Index and account of such members of the Congregation, and of other generously intentioned hearts in and near Frederickstown, as have contributed a freewill offering towards the interior improvement and completion of the Ev. Lutheran Church in above-named town, drawn from the list set down Anno. 1763, 29th May. (N.B. The following have all paid)...

Christian Schreyack 11, 10s..."

Christian and Eva are listed as sponsors for the baptism July 26, 1772 of Barbara Rosine born July 15, daughter of Michael Schreyack and Rosine Barbara.

Christian sponsored the baptism April 27, 1778 of Johann Leonhardt, born June 1776, son of Jacob Miller and Barbara.

His name is given as a witness to these weddings:

July 19, 1778 Joseph Johnson and Catharina Muellerin Aug. 5, 1783 his son George Valentin Schreyack and Christina Derrin.

In the records of Appel's Church, Middletown, Maryland:

Christian and wife are sponsors of a child of George Zimmerman.

Christian and his wife, Eva Maria, and their sons, Frederick and Adam, communed September 20, 1783.

Census of 1790 for Frederick County, Maryland:

Christian Shryock Daniel Shryock Valentine Shryock

No record has been found of Christian Schreyack serving in the American Revolution, but his sons, Valentine and Daniel, are listed as non-pensioners in "Maryland Revolutionary Records."

It is necessary that something be written about the confusion of several contemporary "Christians." Christian Schreyack, aged eighteen, who arrived in Philadelphia in 1736, was a brother, it is believed, of the three Schreyack brothers who arrived in 1733.* There was also Christian, born 1754, a Revolutionary War pensioner, son of the immigrant, John. For years it was believed that there was another Christian, but this was cleared by Miss Ruth Portness in the spring of 1944. A record in the list of applicants for pensions was that Christian Shryock applied April 25, 1819, aged eighty-one. The age was not that on the date of application but was what his age would have been in 1835 - the date of the publication of the list. This made it evident that the entire pension record belonged to Christian born 1754, and thus eliminated a Christian who was supposed to have been born in 1738.

^{*} In a list of Palatines imported in the ship "HARLE" (Ralph Harle, Master) from Rotterdam, Christian Schreyack is named and his age given as eighteen. He qualified September 1, 1736. His name is given in other lists as Schryackh and Schreyackh.

WILL OF CERISTIAN SCHRYOCK 1735-1822

In the name of God, Amen:- I Christian Shryock of Frederick County and state of Maryland being in health of body and of sound and disposing mind, memory and understanding, considering the certainty of death and the uncertainty of the time thereof and being desirous to settle my worldly affairs and thereby be the better prepared to leave this world, when it shall please God to call me hence, I do therefore make and publish this my last will and Testament in manner and form following to-wit:-

(JOHN) FREDERICK SHRYOCK

300 (JOHN) FREDERICK SHRYOCK s. of Christian Schreyack 1735-1822, was born in Frederick County, Maryland, October 4, 1763 and lived in that county until after his marriage in 1787. He is not listed in the 1790 Census of Maryland. His daughter, Catherine, was born in Fayette County, Kentucky, in 1790. (Notes 25&28.) His name is listed as a taxpayer in Bourbon County in March 1791, and there is a deed to him dated November 1, 1792 for 99 acres near David's Fork. Another deed in 1815 states that John Shryock and Ann, his wife, and Jacob D. Shryock sold Frederick Shryock a tract of land on David's Fork. The Census of 1810 has him listed in the "north half of Fayette County" (this would be David's Fork) with thirteen in his family plus six slaves. In several records his first name (John) is not used.

A letter from Miss Lorena T. Lawell, a great-granddaughter of Frederick's, dated November 3, 1941, states:

"Frederick Shryock owned 800 acres of land in Fayette County, Kentucky, which is the very finest land in all the county. He gave 100 acres to have the house built. The stone was taken from the quarry on the farm and the timber was all cut on the place. The woodwork in the house is all walnut and the walls are about 18 or 20 inches thick. It is now used for a tenant house and has been for years. There was an ell to the house made of brick or logs but that has been gone for many years. It is a very pretty old house even though it has had bad treatment.

"Grandfather Troutman's house was not so far from the other place...Near this house is the family burying ground. I have been there a few times recently. I got the following from some of the stones...A very pretty stone but broken in half and lying on the ground was marked:

Sarah Carver - born March 18, 1795; died March 24, 1874; 79 years old.

"There is also the upper half of a stone that I feel sure was our grandmother Shryock's." (She drew a design showing letters NCES SHRY.) "Very close to this are two small footstones. One has F.S. and the other J.F.S. I think they are the initials of Frances Shryock and John Frederick Shryock. The burial ground is in a deplorable condition. The stone fence is practically all down and the stones are broken. It shows that it was once very nice but after all these years with no one looking after it, it is almost gone."

A letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Shryock Field dated November 7, 1941:

"With the two cousins I visited the old farm (Frederick Shryock's home) last Sunday. The land is in the richest, most fertile part of the county; is rolling, which Kentuckians love, and from the old two-room stone house - all that is standing the fields and pastures, all in grass, roll away on all sides, the house being on a high point. (It is now owned by a wealthy man, who I think has only stock on it; hence the grass, and the house has a tenant family.) The living room and bedroom left are beautiful old rooms, with carved mantels, hardwood floors, deep-set windows, and small quaint stairways going up out of each room...We went to the old spring house; never-failing water, with its rock walls high above the water, and covered with one huge rock for a roof. The cousins remembered where their nother had told then the old stable once stood, and how everything on hoofs' was housed in winter. A frame addition to the house makes room enough for the tenants. The porch has fallen away, shutters gone, but there is dignity, beauty, strength, left.

"We went up the road and across it to the old Troutman place, where the graveyard is. The small stone house once there is gone, a group of trees showing where it once was. The lovely stream of this part of Kentucky - the Elkhorn Creek - winds through this land, and on its banks, fringed by sycamores, and in a long narrow enclosure is the old Troutman graveyard, its strong stone fence shattered, trampled for years by stock, outlines it only; no protection, of course. But the stones are ruined, too. The two small footstones, F.S. and J.F.S., lying close together were, we know, those of John Frederick Shryock and wife, Frances Troutman Shryock...It was a place of 'remains' only, and it had once been such a beautiful well-guarded spot. But the lovely old sycamores and other trees are there and the Elkhorn still nursurs its musical requien, flowing over its rocks."

(Frederick Shryock's home was bought by his daughter and son-in-law, Adah Shryock and Noah Low.)

In Frederick's baptism record (note 10) his name is spelled Schreyack; but in 1812 he signed his name Shrycck on his consent to Catherine's marriage (see her text on page 28). Three years later he signed his name Shrycck without the unlaut (note 17).

Frederick Shryock was sponsor for a nephew's baptism - see note 55:2.

WILL OF JOHN FREDERICK SHRYOCK

State of Kentucky - County of Fayette - Will Book V. - page 457

In the Name of God, Amen, I, John Frederick Shryock of the County of Fayette and State of Kentucky, being of sound disposing mind and memory, But calling to mind the mortality of man, the Certainty of Death, I do make and Ordain this as my Last Will and Testament revoking all others heretofore made by me made in manner and form as follows, Viz.:

My Will and desire is that my Just debts and Funeral Expenses be first paid - Secondly, I loan unto my Wife, Frances Shryock One third of my Estate, Both real and personal during her natural life; and at her death to be returned to my Estate and to be equally divided between all my Children & my Grandson Milton Shryock by sale or otherwise -

And, Whereas, I have heretofore given unto my children and Grandson money &c, as an advancement, which I have entered in a Book Kept by me for that Special purpose, My Will and Desire is that all my Children and Grandson Milton shall be made equal to the highest sum charged in Said Book.

My Will and Desire is that after my death that my Exors hereafter named Sell my personal Estate and Negroes at Public Sale (Say Two Thirds) on such credit as they doem most advantageous for the Interest of the Same - But in the Event I should survive my Wife my Will and desire is that after my decease that all my Estate Both Real and personal be Sold at Public or private sale as my Exors. may doem most advantageous, and the proceeds thereof to be divided amongst all my Children and Grandson Milton Shryock so as to make all equal -

Lastly, I constitute and Appoint my Son Samuel Shryock and Noah Low my Exors. to this my Last Will and Testament as Witness my hand and Seal this 16th November, 1848.

Teste:

309 John H. Shryock 1791-1858 (page 50b)

(The arrangement of the children of Frederick Shryock is now not in chronological order.)

Catherine Shryock dau. of Frances Troutman and Frederick Shryock was born near Lexington, Kentucky, and died in Fulton County, Illinois, where she had lived with her family since 1833.

They had moved from Kentucky because her husband did not want their children to become accustomed to slaves. When they reached Illinois, Catherine pointed to a tree on which bees had swarmed and jokingly said to her daughters: "Girls, we have reached the land of milk and honoy. We have a cow and there is the honey."

Her husband was known as Pleasant M. or Pleasant Moman Carver, but in their marriage bond his signature is given as Pleasant Moorman Carver. The bond is copied below (see also note 20:1):

Know all men by these presents that we Moman Carver and John Shryock are held and firmly bound unto the Commonwealth of Kentucky in the just sum of L50 current money to the payment of which will and truly to be made we & each of us bind ourselves our heirs to jointly severally firmly by these presents scaled & dated the 4 Sept 1812. The condition of the above obligation is such that whenever there is a marriage shortly intended to be solemnized between the above bound Moman Carver & Catherine Shryock of the County of Fayette. Now if it shall always hereafter appear that there is no legal obstruction to said marriage then the above obligation to be void else to remain in full force & virtue.

Moorman Carver (Seal)
James Carver (Seal)

(R.D.J.'s comments: The names Moman Carver and John Shryock are in bond; Moorman Carver and James Carver for signatures.)

On the reverse side of this bond was written: Catherine Shryock was proved by the oath of John Carver to be 21 years of age Sopt. 4, 1812.

John D. Young

On an attached slip: John Carver declared on oath that Catherine Shryock was 21 years of age.

John D. Young

On another attached slip: September the 3rd 1812 - This is to certify you that I have gave my consent to Moman Carver for his union with my daughter Catherine her to be his lawfull bride, as witness my hand and seal.

Will of Pleasant M. Carver - Fulton County, Illinois.

In the name of God; Amen,

I Pleasant M. Carver of the tewn of Buckhart in the County of Fulton and state of Illinois, being of sound mind and memory do make, publish and declare this my last Will and Testament, in manner following, that is to say - I give and bequeath unto my beloved Children, and their descendents - (the descendents of each of my Children taking the share that would to their parent if living) All of my Estate of every kind and description whatever to be divided equally between them, Share and share alike - to be distributed in the following manner, that is to say That the North East Quarter of section twenty-two in township six North of Range four East of the fourth principal Meridian in the County of Fulton and state of Illinois. Being the farm on which I now reside be sold together with any other real Estate that I may own at the time of my death by my Executor herein after named at Public Sale with power to sell on such credit not exceeding two years as will be considered for the best interests of my said heirs.

It is my Will - and I so order and direct that my said Executor shall close up the business of the Estate within two years from the time of my decease and make such distribution of the same herein after directed - that is to say, to pay over the share that will belong to my daughter Sally Ann Turner within two years from my decease and the shares that will belong to my daughter Rebecca Shryock my sons Gideon Carver and Allen Carver and to my daughter Angelina Kirkpatrick and the Heirs of my daughter Catherine Fouts, deceased what would have been their nothers share, if the said Catherine Fouts had been living at the time of my death, also; to my daughter Amanda Rogers and my son Archabald C. Carver, and to my daughter Ellen Boswell their respective shares of my Estate within the same time and in the same manner as is directed to be paid to my daughter Sally Ann Turner. To my daughter Mary Wheeler I hereby order, and direct that her share of my Estate to be used for her benefit the benefit of her children in the following manner - that is to say the principal shall be held by Gidcon Carver as trustee for my said daughter during the life of her present husband but the Trustee shall pay the interest to her on her share annually or semi annually and to keep her said share invested in the most profitable manner he can for her interest and the said Trustee is hereby authorized to advance to my said daughter any part of her share in said Estate as her real wants may require, as it is my wish that she should from time to time have such advances as her real wants demand -I also direct that my said Executor convert all my personal property into money and collect all debts of all descriptions due me, as soon after my decease as it can be done, and to distribute the same with all the money that may come into his hands to my logatees as soon as the same can be done without injury to the Estate - Lastly I hereby make constitute and appoint Gideon Carver sole Executor of this my last Will and Testament - hereby revoking all former Wills by me made - In witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 22nd day of June in the year of our Lord Eighteen hundred and seventy five.

Pleasant M. Carver

The above instrument consisting of one sheet was at the date thereof signed scaled published and declared by the said Pleasant M. Carver as and for his last Will and Testament in presence of us who at his request and in his presence and in the presence of each other have subscribed our names as witnesses thereto.

Sarah (Sally) Ann Carver dau. of Catherine Shryock and Pleasant Moorman Carver, was my only living great-grandparent, and I vividly remember her. She told me numerous riddles; and she had a splendid appreciation of jokes. She was a welcome visitor in the homes of her children. I last saw her at a family picnic for her birthday in June 1900, when she was 87 years old. The following obituary was written by her son, William Penn Turner (No. 324):

"My mother, Sarah Ann Carver Turner, was the eldest daughter of P. M. and Catherine Carver, who settled in Fulton County, Illinois...She was born...near Lexington, Kentucky, where her parents had lived before moving to Illinois. Grandfather Turner moved about this same time, and perhaps both families emigrated together by ox teams. My mother was one of the kindest of women, very rugged and strong, and very sympathetic, always ready to help the needy. She was one of those quiet souls who pondered well her words and spoke evil of no one; supporting her church and aiding humanity as best she could. Mother Turner became a Christian in early life and first united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, but soon after her marriage to James Turner...she joined the Methodist Protestant Church near Canton, Illinois, in which she remained a faithful and consistent member until called to her reward - her prospects growing brighter as the earthly tabernacle was being taken down. Her funeral services were held at the Pleasant Valley Church near Wyoming, Illinois. Text Romans 2:7. She is buried in the cemetery adjoining that church."

Louisa Melvina Turner dau. of Sarah Ann Carver and James Turner, was widowed one week before the birth of her youngest child. She and all of her children were frequent quests in our home. These visits were gala occasions and there were many outings as a result, particularly during the early days of the automobile. Grandmother's fondness for cherries is recalled each season; for once when we were attempting to reach home before a thunderstorm and were driving under loaded cherry trees, she exclaimed: "Charlie Duryea, don't you ever go by." Needless to say, we stopped! Her last visit to us was during the winter of 1920-1921 and she left before the end of the winter to cross the continent alone stopping en route to visit relatives in Illinois. She was then seventy-nine years old, but the pioneer blood of her ancestors kept her spirit young and dauntless. Courageous, kindly, devoted; she is lovingly remembered.

Two children died in infancy.

S. of Louisa Melvina Turner and Goorge Washington
Duryea, was born in the home of his grandfather Turner in "the first brick house in Fulton County." The bricks for this house were made by James Turner and his sons from clay on their farm. The Duryea ancestors were Huguenots who had left France and emigrated to Long Island, New York, by way of Mannheim, Germany. (Note 81)

As a boy on his parents' farm, Charles became interested in mechanics through his contact with farm machinery and through his avid reading of the "Scientific American." Having made (from pictures) the first bicycle he ever saw, his thoughts turned to improvements in mechanical devices. His was the basic patent on a tire-puncture-sealing fluid which was marketed under the name of NEVERLEAK; and he made other important contributions to the tire industry.

Charles was the inventor and builder of America's first gasoline automobile. His use of the advanced spark and spray carburctor was probably his greatest contribution to the development of the automobile. He led the way for the great industry that followed. He also built notors for dirigible experimentation, and developed motors for notorboats and motorcycles. In 1899 an armored car with a machine gun was built under his license and direction for the Northwestern Military Academy.

His children were told by Charles that he had never been out of the state until he was seventeen, and he was determined that they should have the opportunity of "going places." We recall our visits as a family to world's fairs and various educational exhibitions. It was never too much trouble for "Dad" to take time to explain to any child (his own or the neighbors') the answer to the query presented. For many years he spent much time preparing and presenting a Friday evening entertainment which was both educational and recreational for children. Every child in the neighborhood was given rides in those early days of the automobile. (We never rode with an empty seat.) Dad loved picnics and swimming parties; he instituted kite-flying contests; he invented a whistle and a game.

One of Dad's special interests was eclipses. (Was this inherited from his great-grandfather, Starling Turner? Note 34.) His children recall instances of being awakened at night, looking out a window, assuring him that they saw the eclipse, dashing back to bed, and then in the morning ask why they had not been called to see the eclipse!

My space is too limited to review Dad's many qualifications. He had a marvellously even disposition; he was endowed with a keen sonse of humor; he had an unusually brilliant reaction to all topics; and he had a vital interest in the problems of the day.

Mother and Dad celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1934, and had four more years together before Dad's death. Mother survived him by four years. No children were more blessed in their parents than were we.

Proof that Daniel was a son of Frederick Shryock is in the reference to his son from the History of Boone County, Missouri, pub. 1882, p. 729:

"Samuel Shryock, blacksmith and plow manufacturer, Centralia, Missouri, was born in Fayette County, Kentucky, November 26, 1834. His father, Daniel, was also a blacksmith, and a volunteer in the war of 1812. His grandfather, Frederick, was one of the pioneer settlers of Kentucky, and lived to the advanced age of 94 years, 60 of his life having been spent in Kentucky and in one house... Daniel came to Missouri in 1850 with his family and settled in Boone County..."

Proof that John (John H., J. H.) Shryock was the son of Frederick Shryock: On page 24 are noted the names of "John Shryock" and "J. Sullivan, executor of J. H. Shryock". Later data have shown that John died in 1858 during the settlement of his father's estate, and that John's son-in-law, James Sullivan, was John's executor.

Gideon Shryock s. of Matthias Shryock 1774-1833 was a renowned architect; a student of the famous William Strickland (for whom Gideon named his first son). Among the buildings in Kentucky which were designed by him are the State House at Frankfort (with its famous stone circular stairway); Morrison College; the Court House at Louisville; in addition to many other buildings and residences. "His residences were dignified, restrained specimens of architecture, and his public buildings always displayed that purity of line, and striving after the highest ideals of Grecian art that made for classic beauty and which makes them prized today." (From an article on Gideon Shryock by Elizabeth Shryock Field.)

901 Maria Catherine Schaffner b. Dec. 7, 1798 bap. Jan.12, 1799 (note 9:2)

Maria Catherine Schreyack (Schreiack) is not mentioned in her father's will, nor is her issue. Inasmuch as Christian listed all living children and the living children of his deceased son, Valentine, it is assumed that Maria Catherine and her issue were not living at the time of Christian's will - 1820. However, it is understood that there are Schaffners living in Kentucky who claim relationship to the Shryocks.

Note 15:1 Milton Shryock was mentioned in his grandfather Frederick Shryock's will. History of Fulton County, Illinois, pp. 499-500. From the biographical sketches of Milton P. Shryock and his three sons:

Henry C., James P., and John C. - Milton Shryock, postmaster and merchant, St. David, was born near Lexington, Ky., May 17, 1812. His father, Christian Shryock, served in the War of 1812 and died while in service. Christian Shryock's father was Frederick Shryock, native of Maryland, near Frederickstown. Milton's mother was Rebecca Graham; he came to this county in 1833; was married to Rebecca Carver Mar. 27, 1834; she was a dau. of P. M. Carver and was born Feb. 6, 1815. Issue all born in Illinois.

The Shryock Chapel (Meth.) was built at an expense of about $2,300. Milton Shryock contributed $1,700 and the rest (except about $100) was made up by the Shryock family. Milton Shryock gave his boys 480 acres and his girls 240 acres.

15:2 From a newspaper clipping on Rebecca Carver Shryock's 98th birthday celebration:

Born in Kentucky where she lived until she was 17 years old, she came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mormon (sic) Carver, and family to Illinois. They made the trip with an ox-team and a covered wagon... About a year after she came to Illinois she married Milton Shryock, a Kentucky youth, who came to Illinois about the same time.

Note 16 Tombstone record:

Sarah Carver - born Mar. 18, 1795; died Mar. 24, 1874; 79 years old.

Note 17 The marriage bond of October 9, 1815 is signed by Archelus Carver and James Carver. Folded with the bond is this consent:

October 9, 1815 - this is to certify that I have no objection for Archylus Carver to have my daughter Sary Shryock.

Frederick Shryock
James Carver (Witness)

On the back of the bond was written: "Consent of the father of the young lady proved by the oath of James Carver. The young gentleman 21 years of age. J.D. Young, Clk."

Archellus (Archibald) Carver is believed to have been a brother of Pleasant Moorman Carver, who married Sarah Shryock Carver's sister, Catherine Shryock.

Note 18 Sally Carver is listed in the Census of 1830, thus denoting that she was the "head of the family." After the death of Harrison Carver, Sarah Shryock Carver was appointed guardian for her children on June 13, 1836 (with Samuel Shryock and Solomon Lowe as sureties): Oliver over 14; Addeline over 14; William under 14. Addeline probably married one Reynolds, for Sarah's will, dated March 24, 1874, mentions her grandchildren, Sarah Reynolds and Albert Reynolds. She left bequests for her nieces Harriet Reynolds, Mary Low, and Sarah Cole; and a nephew, John Low. Her children are not mentioned by name or implication. Mary Low and John Low were the children of Adah Shryock Low. Sarah (Low) Cole was the daughter of Rebecca Shryock Low.

Miss Helen Shryock

Dear Aunt:

I take this opportunity to write you a few lines to let you know that we are enjoying good health and hope when you receive these lines you may be enjoying the same blessing. I have been looking for a letter from some of you for a long time and do not receive any word from you.

- I wrote Uncle Samuel a letter last fall and have not re-(a) ceived any answer from him. I have neglected writing to you longer than I should have done but you must look over it this time and I will try and mend my ways for the future. We have had a very steady cold winter and snow on the ground with the exception of a week, and in that time we had some mud and now it has the appearance of turning cold again. There is two inches snow on the ground at this time. Times has been telerable tight here nothing bringing a fair price but pork that was worth from five to five and a half dollars per cwt. Wheat is worth 80¢ per bushel, corn is worth 25¢ per bushel, cattle is worth about 2¢ gross, and horses is low and not selling. There is nothing new transpired here since you left only a few little incidents which I will tell you. One is Alexander Maxwell and his wife parted and has gone together again and another is that Abbot has got home to his wife again and the other is that
- (b) Boswell and Helen is gone together again. They went together last (c)

Sunday morning. Helen stayed all night at Allens on Saturday

- night and they met next morning up at the gate and went from there (a) to James Turners and from there to his brother-in-law's. I suppose I don't know for certain the rumor is that they are going to live six miles west of Canton with his brother-in-law. She took I believe the most of her clothing; she left some notes that she had
- in her possession that she could have taken with her. The old (e) folks don't appear to take it very hard. Archibald takes on the worst and now I will tell you senething about Mary Carver's situation which I fear is a distressing one. She is about to lose her right mind. She has not been well since she got home from Kentucky and about six weeks ago she was taken worse; she complains of a pain in her head. There has been three doctors attending her and they do not appear to help her any. She is able to go about and appears to be rational at times and at other times she is more flighty. James Turner was in Lexington last week and went from there to Cincinnati. I have not saw him since he returned home.

I must close my letter. I would be glad to hear from you as soon as you receive these lines. Give my best respects to all the connection and enquiring friends and accept the same yourself.

Milton Shryock

- Note 33 History of Fulton County, Illinois: Biographical sketch of James Turner's brother (a bachelor): William P. Turner - The Turners are of English origin, but as far back as we are able to trace them in America it is in New Market, Frederick County, Md., to about the year 1679. There we find William Turner, great-grandfather of the subject of this sketch. His grandfather was William P. Turner, who moved to North Carolina and married Action Howard. Here their son, Starling Turner, was born, who was the father of William P. They came to Illinois with a family of cleven children in 1831 and the following year located on Sec. 13, Buckheart Township. Their children were: Matilda, Abigail, Jesse, Lydia, William P., Sarah, James, Starling, Jr., Jemima, Mary, Margaret, Benjamin, and Sophia. Matilda married William Maulsby; Lydia, Reuben Peter; and Sarah, The Rev. John Tarleton Fleming. William P. married Eliza Ann McPheeters and resides on Sec. 12, this township. James married Sarah A. Carver. Jemima married Ezekiel Rockhold, who died, and she then married Mr. Pickering. Mary married Rolly Rogers and died in Banner township. Margaret married The Rev. Moses Jared, both deceased. Benjamin died at the age of 18. Sophia married John Pickering.
- Note 34 History of Fulton County, Illinois: James Turner was born near Perryville, Mercer County, Kentucky, October 1813. His parents, Starling and Sophia (Carver) Turner, emigrated from Kentucky to Sugar Grove, Sangamon (now Menard) County, Ill., in the fall of 1831; and in the following spring to Sec. 13, Buckheart Twp., with ten children; they had thirteen altogether. Starling Turner died Feb. 22, 1871, aged 94 years. James Turner married Sara A. Carver, daughter of Pleasant M. Carver of Kentucky, April 25, 1837; she was born June 19, 1813. They have a family of nine children: Henry F., Mary A., Louisa M., Wm. P., Eliza J., Lydia A., Benj. F. Alice E., and James B. - all living and all married. They are all in Stark County, Illinois, except Alice, Benjamin, and William P., who are in this county. Starling Turner was an early Abolitionist and left Kentucky on account of slavery. He also took a deep interest in astronomy. Methodist.

- Note 35 James Turner died in Maitland, Florida, and is buried in the same place as his parents, Starling Turner and Sophia Carver Turner, Little Bethel Church cemetery, Fulton County, Illinois. A prosperous farmer, he gave each of his children a farm of 160 acres at marriage. He once made the remark that he had never worn cotton shirts until after his marriage, for he had been accustomed to wearing linen. This remark indicated his pride in rich living. (See note 23 for two references.)

- Note 47 From Burnett H. Shryock: "The romance connected with the marriage of John and Sarah is extremely interesting. Sarah teld this story to her granddaughter, Martha Shryock Banks: John Shryock, Jr., came to stay with Sarah Shryock's parents, Adam and Rosannah, before his wedding to a neighborhood girl. The night before the marriage was to have taken place the girl eloped with another man. It fell to Sarah to entertain her cousin John and before many days had passed they were in love with each other. Her family objected at first to their marriage on account of the cousinship, but this they overcame. They were married and noved to Shelbyville, Indiana, where John died in 1834."

Note 64 A court order appointed Gideon Carver as guardian for his sister, Sarah Catharine Shryock, orphan of Matthias Shryock.

- Note 65 It is believed that John Shryock 1777-? went to Kentucky with his brother, Matthias, in 1802. See text for Frederick Shryock 1763-1856 for a deed concerning John.
- Note 66 Ann Johnson was the daughter of Joseph Johnson, who was the son of Ann Johnson (died November 22, 1794 at Rich Hill, according to Scharf's "History of Western Maryland") and Thomas Johnson. (Will litigation Chancery B-108, folio 128-181, Frederick County, Md.)
- Note 67 The name is given in the Shryock family Bible as William Henry Shryock. He changed it to Henry William because he did not like to be called "Willie." His biography in "Who's Who in America" is under the name of Henry William. (Comment by his son, Burnett H. Shryock.)
- Note 68

 It is not known whether there were any children other than John Shryock, Jr., 1801-1834. This relationship is established through the story of his marriage (note 47). In the record of estate proceedings at the time of his death, he is referred to as John, Jr., and the sale of goods refers to a John, Sr. These are the only evidences we have on this relationship.
- Note 69 Elizabeth Ann Wood Shryock's mother's name was Wright.
- Note 70 William Henry Shryock died in the Shryock Auditorium on the campus of the Southern Illinois Normal University of which he was President. (Carbondale, Illinois)
- Note 71 Buried in Oakland Cometery, Carbondale, Illinois.
- Charles Duryea influenced his brother Frank to leave their mother's farm and start working in mechanics. Frank worked under Charles' supervision in the manufacture of bicycles and then in the development of Charles' invention of America's first gasoline automobile. Frank drove the Duryea car which was the winner of America's first automobile race sponsored by the "Times-Herald" in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day, 1895. Later, Frank was successfully connected with the Stevens-Duryea car from 1902 to 1915.
- Note 73 Like his brother Frank, Otho Duryea was influenced by Charles to go into the mechanical field. Charles sent him to Los Angeles in 1899 with the first automobile sold on the Pacific Coast. Otho took out more detail patents than either of his brothers, and developed many improvements on gasoline-operated rock-drills, gasoline internal-combustion presses for briquetting, etc. On May 17, 1933 the Henderson Medal of the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia was conferred on him "in consideration of the meritorious railway engineering and novel feature embodied in the invention of the Duryea Railway Car Cushion Underframe."
- Note 74 James Pleasant Shryock served in the Army during the Civil War Company E, 103rd Regiment, Illinois Infantry.
- Note 75 These names probably are not in order of birth. Several were secured from newspaper clippings belonging to Augustine Turner Ryan.

- 8. Rhea Duryea Johnson

Rhea makes some claims to distinction!?! She was the first infant to be carried to the top of Washington Monument in Washington, D. C. The guard told her father this fact. (There was no elevator service prior to May 1887, and a daily average of 125 persons climbed 898 steps to the observation platform at the 500-foot level. #142 Senate Miscellaneous Documents - 50th Congress 1888). She was the first schoolgirl to drive an automobile, having learned to drive at the age of fifteen - not only to drive but also to "crank" the motor in order to start it. Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pennsylvania, named a residence for girls "Duryea Hall" for her. In 1928 she was elected to the college Board of Directors and is still serving as a member (for ten years she was the first and only woman on the Board). In 1951 the college conferred upon her the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature.

Note 77 The information about Daniel Shryock was furnished by Miss Jewell Roberts. No further search was made for his descendants.

- Note 78 Miss Roberts also furnished the data on pages 50b through 50p. She has references from the counties of Boone in Missouri, and Daviess, Fayette, Hancock and Henry in Kentucky; Kentucky Census for 1850 and 1870; and the Washington Kelly Bible.

 Miss Roberts had permission from Mrs. E. E. Evans and Mrs. J. Frank Thompson to use material from their publications of Boone County, Missouri Wills and Administrations, Marriage Records, and Tombstone Records. Unfortunately, space was too limited to quote them.
- Note 79 Charlotte Angle Weller was the daughter of Elizabeth Long and William Weller.
- Note 80 Sarah W. Weller was the sister of Charlotte see note above.
- Note 81 From the biography of Charles E. Duryea National Cyclopedia of American Biography, vol. D, page 78:

... at the age of seventeen he built himself a bicycle, using a wheel from a corn cultivator, another from a toy wagon, and a one-piece crankshaft shaped by heating in the kitchen stove. His formal education was completed at Gitting's Seminary, La Harpe, Illinois, where he took two three-year courses in two years (1880-82) while working for his board. The subject of his graduating thesis was "Rapid Transit other than on Rails," in which he predicted flying machines and half-day jumps to Europe. (R.D.J.'s comment: A copy of this thesis is in possession of his children.) Interest in the bicycle led to his invention of a suspension saddle patented February 19, 1884, the "drop frame" for a woman's bicycle patented January 5, 1886, a spring frame, a side-by-side bicycle patented February 15, 1887, and various improvements. He was in Washington, D.C. two years in charge of the repair and construction shop of Herbert S. Owen, originator of the "Psycho Cycles." In 1888 he organized the Duryea Manufacturing Company in Washington to make his "Sylph" spring-frame bicycle; the introduction of pneumatic tires in 1890 made his spring-frames obsolete.

As early as 1884 he began to study the motor carriage problem and concluded that the internal combustion engine with electric ignition and gasoline fuel was the most practicable. He served as consultant in the construction of a steam buggy in 1888. In 1891, believing the public was ready for a horseless vehicle, he began the construction of his first automobile. It was tested April 19, 1892, was well tuned up by August of that year and was run frequently during the summer. He then built a second car which was finished in the summer of 1893 and was driven many miles around Springfield, Massachusetts. It was a complete and practicable autonobile and established Mr. Duryca's priority as the maker of the first successful automobile in America. The first public mention of an American gasoline "horseless carriage" was a description of Mr. Duryca's car in the Springfield "Evening Union," September 16, 1893. That vehicle is now in the National Museum at Washington. His third car, larger, heavier, and nore durable, was begun in October 1893 and finished in the winter of 1894-95. It was equipped with a two-cylinder engine, three speeds, and reverse, gear transmission, and its pncumatic rubber tires (made by the Hartford Rubber Works) were the first to be applied to an automobile. This type of car was placed on the market in October 1895 by the Duryea Motor Wagon Company, of Springfield, Massachusetts, which had been organized in September of that year. Its superiority was demonstrated by winning first prize ($2,000) in the Chicago "Times-Herald" race on Thanksgiving day, 1895, when it made the fifty-four nile course through snow from 12 to 18 inches deep. It was the only one of six entries, including three foreign cars, to return to the stable under its own power. The Duryea also won all prizes at the "Cosmopolitan" contest, May 30, 1896. In a test run from London to Brighton (England), fifty-two miles, on Nov. 14, 1896, the two Duryea carriages distanced by seventy minutes all competitors, including the winners of the French race of that year. His brother, James Frank Duryea, was associated with him during 1892-98 and assisted in designing and perfecting the car. In 1900 Charles Duryea organized the Duryea Power Company, of Reading, Pennsylvania, to introduce an improved Duryea automobile with a number of original features. It dispensed with the under frame and hung the axles direct to the body frame as in modern practice; its three-cylinder inclined motor, placed under the driver's seat, operated through a compact two-speed planetary transmission gear to the differential sprocket, and the steering, setting the clutch, and throttling the motor were operated by a hand lever, rising at the center of the seat. Mr. Duryea is the pioneer maker of the gasoline automobile in America, his experiments, first motors, and first automobiles antedating those of any other American. For fifteen years he was editor of the mechanical and technical department of the "Auto Trade Journal" and did much to educate users and mechanics in the intricacies of the new motor vehicle. He wrote "Roadside Troubles" for the American Motor League (of which he was the first president, 1895-1902) and assisted James E. Homans to prepare his "Self Propelled Vehicles" (of which over a million copies were sold). He was a member of the League of American Wheelmen, National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, and Society of Automotive Engineers. In religion he is a Methodist. Intelligent, deliberate, and thoughtful, Mr. Duryea is well informed on the various social, economic, and political problems of the day. He is an advocate of the League of Nations, community ownership of all natural wealth, the dollar stabilized with the index number of commodities instead of gold as a money base, loans at one per cent to make America the world work-shop; prohibition and simplified spelling...

Bronze tablets honoring Charles E. Duryea have been erected in Springfield, Massachusetts, Boston, Massachusetts, and Reading, Pennsylvania. His early cars are exhibited in the Smithsonian National Museum, Washington, D.C., Rockefeller Center, New York City, and museums in Dearborn, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, and other cities. The road from Reading, Pennsylvania, to the top of Mount Penn is named "Duryea Drive" because his cars were tested on this road.

Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois, named one of its buildings "Duryea" to honor Charles E. Duryea - a native of Illinois, and a former neighbor of the university.
