Preface

TAKING an interest in family histories, I have collected from time to time all matter which has come under my notice relating to the Spurgeon family and to the antecedents of the late Charles Haddon Spurgeon; and as this has brought to light a good deal of information apparently yet unknown, and, consequently, not before published, in the several accounts of the life and work of the late preacher, I put into print what I have found, with the valuable and very kind assistance of several friends, hoping that this may prove of general interest, and perhaps form a groundwork for a history of this family which may at some future time be written by someone who has more time and ability than I. Very especially I am indebted to the Rev. T. G. Gibbons, M.A., late Vicar of Halstead, and to the Rev. E. H. Oakley, M.A., the present Vicar, for their assistance; to Leo Culleton, Esq., Fellow of the Huguenot Society, for his valuable notes, from a search through some 500 works of reference and parish registers; to Samuel W. Spurgeon, Esq., of Maldon, Essex, and the Revs. Charles and Thomas Spurgeon.

I would also like to here express my gratitude to the proprietors of Pears' Annual for kindly allowing me to reproduce the interesting illustration of the Spurgeon Marriage Certificate, which appeared in their 1905 Christmas number; and to Messrs. Passmore and Alabaster, the publishers of the works of the late Charles Haddon Spurgeon, for their great kindness in lending me the blocks for the portraits and signatures in this book.

All the profits which may be made from the sale of this little work will be equally divided between the Stockwell Orphanage, founded by the late Charles Haddon Spurgeon, and the poor of the village of Halstead, in the county of Essex, where the Spurgeons have been settled for over 350 years.

The Spurgeon Family

NAME.

R. LOWER, one of the greatest authorities on British names, says in his work entitled "Patronymica Britannica": "Corruptions which many family names have undergone tend to baffle alike the genealogical and etymological inquirer." The following illustrations, given by Dr. Henry Barber in his well-known work on the origin and meaning of British names, will serve to show the corruption to which names are liable: "The family name of Weewall (Norse 'Vifill' and Danish 'Wivel') occurs frequently in the parish registers of Peckleton, Leicestershire, and between 1735 and 1750 there are many variations of the spelling, scarcely two entries being alike. It appears as Whewaugh, Whewvaugh, Wheevaw, Weway, Weewaa, Wheewhal, Whewwhaw, Whealwhal, Weewal, Wheelwall. In the North of England it took the form of Whewell. The name of the great English dramatist is generally spelt Shakespeare, but there are many ways of spelling the name, according to English orthography. Here are a few of them as appearing in old documents: Shakspere, Shaxpere, Shakspire, Shaxspere, Schaksper, Shakespere, Shakspeare, Schakespeyr, Shaxespeare, Shagspere, Shaxpur, Shaxper, Shaksper, Shackspeare, Saxpere, Shakespire, Shakespeire, Shackespeare, Shakaspear, Shaxper, Shakspear, Shaxpeare, Shakspeare, Shaxpure, Shackspeyr, Shakespear, Schakesper, etc.”

It is, therefore, in many cases difficult to speak with any certainty as to the origin of any particular family name. With regard to the name of Spurgeon, we find it in many forms, such as Spirjon, Spurgin, Spurggon, Spurggin, Spurrigin, Spurgynne, Spourgion, Spugin, Spurgyn, Spurgen, Spurginn, Spourgian, Spurgion. Dr. Henry Barber says Spurgeon is of Scandinavian origin, being a diminutive of “Sporr,” “Sporre” (Sporrechen). “Sporr” was an old Norse name meaning “a sparrow.” The name is found in Domesday Book as a personal name under the forms of “Spur” and “Sperri.” The late Rev. Charles Wareing Bardsley, M.A., Honorary Canon of Carlisle, who devoted a very great part of his life to the study of surnames, their sources and significations, also says: “Spurgeon, or Spurgin, is evidently an old and long-forgotten Scandinavian personal name (baptismal, A son of Sprigin).” In Norfolk we find one William Sprigin mentioned in the Hundred Rolls as early as 1273, and in the same county a Robert Spurgynne was Vicar of Fouldon in 1566 (Bromefield’s “History of Norfolk,” vi. 35), whilst, coming down to later times, a John Spurgeon was Mayor of Yarmouth in 1712. Mr. Bardsley gives Norfolk as the original home of the Spurgeon family. On the authority of such men as these there is little doubt that the originators of the Spurgeon family in England were among the hardy Norsemen who came to Britain, and for a time held sway.

Which affords an interesting instance of the difference in spelling of the surname on the same certificate even as late as 1769. The signature of Lord Nelson, ten years old, to this entry suggests that at home he went by the name of "Horace," and letters from some members of the family confirm this supposition. The alteration to "Horatio" is in the handwriting of his father. This makes the above illustration of peculiar interest.

THE FATHER OF CHARLES HADDON SPURGEON.

CHARLES HADDON SPURGEON.

There have been several works written on the life of the late Charles Haddon Spurgeon, the greatest preacher of the Gospel of the nineteenth century. His autobiography, a work of four volumes, contains the fullest details of that great man's life and work, though all the others have their special points of interest and penmanship. In all the accounts of Charles Haddon Spurgeon's life where a short space is given to his lineage, curiously enough, a Dutch descent is attributed to him. As a matter of fact, the writer of this little work has been quite unable to discover any proof for such a statement, certainly on his direct paternal descent. No sensible man will despise his ancestry; we are each very largely influenced by the blood in our veins, not always in the direct line, but often from collateral branches, and therefore it is interesting to note and to trace the various traits of character of remote ancestors in the different members of one family. How careful, then, it behoves those living in the present to be over the building up of personal character, so that difficulties which might be placed in the way of those to follow may be avoided.

Charles Haddon Spurgeon never thought lightly of his ancestry. He once said: "There is a sweet fitness in the passing on of holy loyalty from grandsire to father, and from father to son. I like to feel that I serve God from my fathers." He also said: "I remember speaking to a Christian brother who seemed right happy to tell me that he sprang of a family which came from Holland during the persecution of the Duke of Alva, and I felt a brotherhood with him in claiming a like descent from Protestant forefathers." On the other hand, Charles Haddon Spurgeon would tell those who made a boast of their ancestry to the neglect of their own personal attributes and worthiness, that if we all went back far enough we should come to a common ancestor, "a gardener who stole his Master's fruit." A friend of Mr. Spurgeon once wrote to him from China and said: "The Chinese cannot pronounce 'Spurgeon' correctly, so we call him in this quarter 'Sze-pah-ng'—i.e., 'The successor or continuator of a hundred virtues.'" The word "hundred" in Chinese stands for an indefinite number. This is an interesting play upon the name, and is especially fitting when we remember how faithfully Charles Haddon Spurgeon followed in the steps of his Puritan forefathers. Mr. Spurgeon said, in answer to this interesting method of pronouncing his surname: "My godly ancestors possessed many more than a hundred virtues, and I am very grateful to God for the grace which has enabled me to be the continuator of any of them." In the Middle Ages those connected with the Church very generally adopted a rebus, which was a fanciful combination of figures, or figures and words, whereby the name of the adopter was usually formed. Instances of this can be seen carved on the tombs in many of our cathedrals and churches. In St. Alban's Cathedral, on the tomb of Abbot Ramryge, a number of rams appear, with the syllable "rydge" carved on their collars in a variety of forms. Mr. Spurgeon once had put in the window of his summer-house at Nightingale Lane, Balham, a rebus of his name in the form of a spur in stained glass with the syllable "geon" underneath. The following lines, which the writer came across some time ago in the history of one of the best Anglo-Norman families in England, Mr. Spurgeon would have heartily approved of, and in studying the history of any family it is well to keep such lines before one:

"What profit pedigree or long descent,
From farre-fetcht blood or painted monuments
Of our great grandsires' visage? 'tis most sad
To trust unto the work another had

For keeping up our fame, which else would fall,
If besides birth there be no worth at all.
For who counts him a gentleman whose grace
Is all in name, but otherwise is base ?
Or who will honour him whose honour's shame,
Noble in nothing but a noble name ?
It's better to be meanly born and good
Than one unworthy of his noble blood ;
Though all thy walls shine with thy pedigree,
Yet virtue only makes nobility.
Then, that his pedigree may useful be,
Search out the virtues of your family,
And to be worthy of your fathers' name,
Learn out the good they did and do the same ;
For if you bear their arms and not their fame,
Those ensigns of their worth will be your shame."

THE SPURGEONS OF ESSEX.

Whilst the late Rev. C. W. Bardsley, M.A., gives Norfolk as the "original home of the Spurgeon family," we find them settled in Essex and Suffolk at an early date. As early as 1465 the names of John and Thomas Spirjon appear as witnesses to a deed for the grant of certain land in the parish of Great Maplestead, in the county of Essex.

"John Grene, Thomas Swetlock, Clerk and Robert Sparwe of Little Hedingham grant to John Ray of Great Maplestead and Agnes his Wife land in Great Maplestead 2 Dec. 1465 (5 Edward IV.). Dated at Great Maplestead.

Witnesses (amongst others) "JOHN SPIRJON.
"THOMAS SPIRJON."

From the earliest Court Roll of the Manor of Dynes in the parish of Great Maplestead (which remains), dated May 19, 1575, we find that one Thomas Spurgeon was then tenant of the manor. At the present time there is a small holding of thirty acres in Great Maplestead called “Bryatts” or “Spurgeons,” which forms a part of Mill Farm. A John Spurgin was also living in Great Maplestead about this time (1575); he was a carpenter by trade, and married one Alice (probably Rayner), by whom he had for certain two sons, John and Thomas, and three daughters, Agnes, Jane, and Alice; his will was proved in 1594.

In another part of Essex—namely, Much Dunmow—situated nine miles north-west from Chelmsford, we find that one John Spurgion, a farmer, was living previous to 1562; not far from this place, at Felsted, one mile north-west of Bishops Stortford and ten miles north of Chelmsford, about the same period we find a John and a William Spurgin living. John was a labourer; he married ——— Raven, and by her had a son, John, and two daughters, Susan and Judith; his will was proved in 1592 (May 22) (Archdeaconry of Middlesex Book “Mansfield,” folio 264). William married, and by his wife, Agnes, had one daughter, Elizabeth, who married one Martin by name; his will was proved in 1599 (February 5) (Archdeaconry of Middlesex Book “Grove,” folio 46); there were also Spurgeons at Blacknotlye (one Annis Spirgine living previous to 1575), at Eastwood (one William Spourgian living previous to 1577), at Thundersley (one Thomas Spurgen, a farmer, living previous to 1581), at South Bemflet (one, Alyce Spurgyn living previously to 1601), so that the family was well distributed over the county of Essex at an early date.

Turning our attention to the village of Halstead, situated at a distance of three and a half miles from that of Great Maplestead, we find that the Spurgeons were settled there as early as 1551. From a Patent Roll (to be seen in the Public Record Office) we gather that one Richard Spurgeon held land there at this date; the words from the roll in full are :

THE GRANDMOTHER OF CHARLES HADDON SPURGEON.

Yrs most affectionately,

THE GRANDFATHER OF CHARLES HADDON SPURGEON.

This Patent Roll was a grant of the chantry called Bouchier's College to William Parr, Marquis of Northampton, and was dated 1551 (June 24). It is mentioned in Holman's "Halstead," printed and published by the Earls Colne Printing Company in 1902 (folios 115 and 116). The probability is that this Richard Spurgeon was the direct ancestor of Charles Haddon Spurgeon. In the autobiography of Charles Haddon Spurgeon a short genealogical table is given, showing his descent and family from his grandfather, James Spurgeon, who was born September 29, 1776, and also giving his grandfather's brothers: Clement, born June 20, 1767; John, born September 13, 1768; William, born October 20, 1771; and Thomas, born July 6, 1774. These were the sons of Clement Spurgeon, of Halstead, by his wife, Ann Pinchbeck, who was married to him on May 8, 1766. Their eldest son, Clement, was baptized at the parish church on August 29, 1766, and their second son, John, was also entered in the parish register (December 27, 1768). It is probable that they moved from Halstead shortly after this date, as entries of their other children cannot be found, or it may be that they registered the rest of their family at the Independent meeting-house. Unfortunately, the meeting-house registers have not been well kept, and so it has been impossible to settle this point. As a matter of fact, the "regular account kept of children baptized" begins only in 1786, and even then is so spasmodic that it hardly deserves the adjective "regular" until 1829. As far as we can tell, the father of Clement Spurgeon, who married one Ann Pinchbeck, was a Clement Spurgeon of Halstead who married one Ann Goodson on July 28, 1732, and his father was also a Clement Spurgeon, also of Halstead. This man was an Independent. It is recorded that he took one or more sittings in the Independent chapel in the year 1718. He married Bethia, daughter of John and Elizabeth Bunting, of Halstead (John Bunting was a clothier by trade and was son of one William Bunting). From a deed dated October, 1726, we find that this Clement Spurgeon (or Spurgen) lived in the house formerly occupied by William Bunting (now close to Trinity Church), and that he occupied several pieces of land at that time. We find from a later deed, dated 1763, that a certain John Cooke (or Cook) came into possession of a part of this land; it also gives the names of previous owners.

“A croft formerly in the occupation of John Bentall afterwards of William Harrington, afterward of John Frence, since of Clement Spurgen late of John Spurgen deceased & now of John Cooke.”

This John Cooke (or Cook) was probably an ancestor of, or at least he was of the same family as, Mr. Thomas Cook, who was for many years a deacon of the Metropolitan Tabernacle, as, strange to say, he was descended from the Cooks of Halstead.

On February 8, 1720, Clement and Bethia Spurgeon conveyed, for £15, the piece of ground on which the meeting-house had lately been erected to trustees. A Samuel Spurgeon was pastor of the chapel in 1737 (it is now Congregational). Clement Spurgeon died about 1733. On April 6 in that year letters of administration were granted to Bethia Spurgeon for the property of her late husband. Clement seems a family name for generations. This Clement Spurgeon was the eldest son of Clement Spurgeon, of Halstead, a blacksmith by trade, and who married Elizabeth, daughter of John Morley and Julian Bragg, his wife. John Morley was a butcher by trade and possessed land and houses; he was father of John Morley, the famous land agent, etc. (1656-1733). His will was proved at Braintree, County Essex, September 7, 1696, in which his grandchildren, Clement, Mary, and Martha Spurgeon, are mentioned. This Clement Spurgeon's will was proved in 1715, and reads (Com. London, Essex, and Herts, Book "Mead," folio 59) :

"In the name of God Amen I Clement Spurgeon Senr. of Halsted in the County of Essex Blacksmith being sick in body but of sound mind & perfect memory (praised be to God therefore) doe make this my last will & testament in manner & form following.

“Proved. 16 March 1715.”

Clement Spurgen was the eldest son of Clement and Mary Spurgen (or Spurgin) of Halsted. His wife's will was proved in 1737 (Com. London, Essex and Herts, Book “Bull,” folio 45), and reads as follows :

“In the name of God Amen I Elizabeth Spurgen of Halsted in the County of Essex Widow being infirm in Body but of a sound and perfect mind & memory (thanks be to God) do make this my last Will and Testament in manner following hereby revoking all former wills by me made.

“First and principally I commend my Soul unto the Hands of Almighty God my most mercifull Creator hoping to be saved through the alone Merits of Jesus Christ my most gracious Redeemer, and my Body I desire may be decently buried at the discretion of my Executors hereinafter named, and as to that worldly estate wherewith

it hath pleased God to bless me I dispose thereof as followeth. (to wit)

“Whereas my late Son in law Isaac Harwood (since deceased) & my daughter Mary his then Wife, now his widow, in and by Indenture bearing date the ninth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and twenty and made between the said Isaac Harwood & Mary his wife of the one part and myself of the other part for the considerations therein mentioned did bargain & sell, limit & appoint unto a certain Messuage or tenement with the appertenances in Halsted aforesaid then in the occupation of John Agas or his assigns & divers rooms in my own occupation.

“To hold to me my Executors, Administrators and Assigns for the term of one hundred years from the day next before the day of the date of the same Indenture upon condition to be void on the payment of thirty pounds by the said Isaac Harwood and Mary his Wife their or either of their heirs Executors Administrators or Assignes unto such person or persons and at such time or times and in such proportion and manner as I the said Elizabeth Spurgen in and by my last Will and Testament under my hand and Seale and testified by two or more credible Witnesses or by any writing or writings under my hand and seale purporting my last Will and Testament and testified as aforesaid should direct and appoint.

“Now therefore I the said Elizabeth Spurgen do by this my last Will and Testament give and bequeath direct and appoint the said Thirty pounds in manner following (to wit) Forty shillings thereof yearly and every year unto my Son John Spurgen for the space of ten years to commence and begin two years next after my decease until twenty pounds of the said thirty pounds shall be paid half yearly at Lady Day and Michaelmas Day by equal portion at or in the George Inn in Halsted aforesaid without any deductions the first half yearly payment to begin and to be made at such of the said two days of payment as shall first happen after two years next after my decease & my Will and meaning is that in case my said Son John Spurgen shall happen to die before the said twenty pounds shall be paid then what remains unpaid of the said twenty pounds at his Death shall be paid unto his Wife and their Children in such manner as the same should have been paid unto my said Son John Spurgen in case he had lived. And I the said Clement Spurgin do renounce frustrate make void & revoke all wills for ever made by me formerly & declare and appoint this to be my last Will and Testament.

“IN WITNESSE whereof I have set my hand and seal the day and year above named. CLEMENT SPURGIN his marke Signed sealed in the presence of Geo. Cressall, John Cressall, William Till.”

“Proved at Halsted Oct. 1682.”

He had succeeded to his father's business, who also was a Clement Spurgeon, who married Mary Vine at Halsted in 1623; he was baptized at the parish church in 1599 or 1600, and his will was proved in 1662 (Com. London, Essex and Herts, Book "Alderton" folio 21).

"In the name of God Amen I Clement Spurgin the elder of Halsted in the County of Essex, Blacksmith being weak in Body but of perfect memory and revoking all other Wills formerly by me made, do ordaine and make this my last Will and Testament in manner & form following.

"First. I commit my Soule to God who gave it and my Body to the Earth from which it was taken and my outward Estate I dispose of as followeth.

"Item. I give unto Marie my Wife the house wherein I now live with halfe the Garden place now in my occupation and my other Tenement now in the occupation of my Sonn Clement Spurgin with all the appurtenances thereto belonging during the time of her naturall life and after her decease to my Son Clement Spurgin and to his heirs for ever.

"Item. I give unto Clement Spurgin my Sonn my Smith's Shopp with all my working tooles and implements of tooles thereto belonging with my Stable and the other halfe of my Garden to him & his heirs for ever.

"Item. I give to Mary my wife all my household stuffe as bedsteadles bedding and all thereto belonging Brasse, Pewter, Tables, Hutches and Linen, Woollen, and other necessities Stooles, Cupboards.

"Item. I give unto Ann Deeks my daughter twelve pence, the rest of my goods and Stock and moveables my debts being paid I give unto Marie my Wife and to Clement Spurgeon my Sonn which goodes are un-bequeathed by me in this my Will.

"Item. I nominate and appoint Mary my Wife and Clement Spurgin my Sonn, Executors of this my last Will and Testament.

“IN WITNESSE whereof I have hereunto set my hand and Seale this Second day of May in the year of our Lord God, One thousand six hundred and sixty two.

“The mark of Clement Spurgin sealed and delivered and witnessed in the presence of us George Cressall, the mark of Thomas Plumb and John Cressall.”

“Proved at Braintree, June 13, 1662.”

He was a son, probably the third, of Vincent Spurgeon the elder, who was buried at Halstead in 1625. How the name Clement came into the family we do not know. This Clement had a cousin Clement, son of his uncle, John Spurgeon, of Halstead, but otherwise he is the first of the name recorded. Thus we have a line of Clement Spurgeons for seven generations. Vincent Spurgeon the elder was probably a son of John Spurgeon, who married Joan Wangford at Halstead, in 1566, and the parents of this John were probably John and Ellen Spurgeon (John buried at Halstead in 1570, and Ellen in 1566). It is most probable that the Richard Spurgeon mentioned in the Patent Roll of 1551 was the father of this John, buried at Halstead in 1570. Such is the descent of the great preacher Charles Haddon Spurgeon, as far as can be traced, for eleven or twelve generations. The family, no doubt, was in the village much earlier; certainly there is evidence that the Spurgeons were within four miles of Halstead for a hundred years previous to this date, as is seen from the deed already mentioned, dated December 2, 1465, 5 Edward IV.

The Non-Parochial Registers and the Church Books of Halsteaa, County Essex.

There seems to have been very little regularity in the keeping of these registers, so that scanty is the information gathered from them relating to the Spurgeon family ; as a matter of fact, the "Regular Account of Children Baptised" begins only in 1786, and is so spasmodic that it hardly deserves the term "regular" until the year 1829. Among the early entries the following are found :

The name of Hannah Spurgeon is given in the list of church members in the years 1679, 1709, 1740, 1802 ; Rachel Spurgeon, 1822 (wife of William Spurgeon, broker), and Sarah Maryan, 1825. "Sister Spurgeon" is named once or twice about 1740 (probably this was the wife of Rev. Samuel Spurgeon, pastor of the church at that time) ; Sarah, daughter of Rachel Spurgeon, 1834.

November 12, 1720 : "Disburst for the Meeting House. Paid Mr. Spurgeon for the ground £15. 00. 00. Fifteen pounds."

Under date 1725: "Memorandum: Whereas Mr. Clement Spurgin had taken up four places in the Pew in the Meeting House No. 23, now since the decease of Mrs. Holman, the said whole pew is become the sole right of him and his heirs."

In 1728 John Spurgen (as a trustee himself) witnessed the restoration of two gentlemen to the trusteeship relating to the meeting-house.

"April 9, 1736: "To cash paid ye Rev. Mr. Spergin, for preaching one whole Lords Day 15s."

Similar accounts and quarterly salary payments to Mr. Spurgeon occur between 1736 and 1744. (This was the Rev. Samuel Spurgeon who became pastor of the church July 19 (or June, as given in another entry), 1737.)

In 1816 a Joseph Spurgeon was admitted into church membership. His wife Mary had joined the church two years earlier.

In 1837 Mary Diss (formerly Spurgeon) is mentioned, and in 1841 Mary Ann Fince (formerly Spurgeon).

A Letter sent to the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon from one Elizabeth S. Hoys.

“ST. JOHN’S, April 26, 1887.

“DEAR SIR,

“I thought I would sit down and address you a letter telling you that there are a family of Spurgeons in this part of God’s earth, and they are some of them, or were (as they have gone to their reward), ministers. My grandfather, Elijah Spurgeon, was a Methodist minister, and his brother, Jesse Spurgeon, was a Methodist minister. Our branch of the Spurgeon family are all Methodists, except one of my brothers, William Spurgeon, who was a Baptist. I believe that is your Church. In looking over my father’s diary I find this item: ‘My great Grandfather James Spurgeon come from England about the years 1704 to 10, and was from near London.’ My father had three brothers, Jesse Spurgeon, Nimrod, and Asa. My father’s name was Moses R. Spurgeon. There were eight of us in my father’s house; three died in infancy, two in manhood’s prime, and four are left—my brother, James Spurgeon; my sister, Mrs. Anne Lawson; brother, Rufus Spurgeon; and myself, Eliza Spurgeon Hoys. Would be glad if you will write and say that you received my letter. If you write to me address

“ELIZA S. HOYS,
“St. John’s.

The Rudkin Family.

Mr. Haddon Rudkin, of Coggeshall, had three sons—one named Haddon, one named John, a doctor, who married a Miss Rist and went to live at Ipswich, and one named Samuel. He had also six daughters, the eldest, named Sarah, being the grandmother of the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon ; one was named Ann and married Mr. Johnson, one married a Mr. Worth, one married a Mr. Carter, one a Mr. Borham, and one a Mr. Joslin, or Joscelyne. The said Mr. Haddon Rudkin had also a sister, named Stammers, who lived at Witham. Sarah, the eldest daughter of the said Mr. Haddon Rudkin, was twin with Samuel, who was the father of Haddon Rudkin, of Braintree, who married Hephzibah Oliver ; said H. Rudkin was the father of George Rudkin.

VARIOUS NOTES, ETC.

*Will of John Morley, the elder, of Halstead (father of Elizabeth, the wife of Clement Spurgen, of Halstead).
Proved at Braintree, Co. Essex, September 6 (see p. 9).*

“In the name of God Amen I John Morley the elder of Halsted in the County of Essex, Butcher being weak in body but of sound and perfect memory thanks be given to Almighty God for the same do make this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following viz.

“First and principally I commend my soul unto the hands of the Lord Jesus Christ hoping by his merits to receive free pardon of all my Sins, and my body I committ to the earth to be decently buried at the discretion of my eldest sonne John Morley, but my mind and will is that he shall not bestow more than twenty pounds at my funerall.

“Item. I give and bequeath unto my said eldest son John Morley and his heirs for ever, all that parcel of land and wood grounds which I late purchased of Mr. Blunt, and lying and being stisted in the said county of Essex and now is in the occupation of William Abraham or his Assigns together with all ways and appurtenances thereto belonging and also my feather bed and a bedsted and all things thereunto belonging which he usually used to ly on and is now standing or being in the Kitchen Chamber.

“Item. I give and bequeath unto my Grandchild John Morley eldest son of my said son John Morley all those houses outhouses yards gardens ways and appurtenances to the same belonging which are now in my own occupation and in the occupation of John Smith and to the heirs of his body lawfully to be begotten and for want of such heirs I give the same premises to my Grandchild

Edward Morley one other of the sons of my said eldest Son John Morley and to the heirs of his body lawfully to be begotten and for the want of such heirs I give the same premises to my grandchild Mary Morley one of the daughters of my said eldest son John Morley and her heirs for ever.

“Item. I give to my daughter Susan the wife of Joseph Holmes my Silver Tankard.

“Item. I give to my daughter Martha the wife of William Newman my piece of plate made in the fashion of a mug.

“Item. I give to my said Grandchild John Morley my two coffers and the iron back in the hall chimney.

“Item. My will is that my four daughters that is to say Elisabeth, Thomasin, Susan, and Martha shall receive the profits of the said houses for six months next after my decease.

“Item. My will is that all my goods and chattels whatsoever and wheresoever all the mortgage bonds and bills that are made in my name found at my death (my loving wife having liberty to take to her own use all the goods and chattels that she brought with her when she came to Halsted) shall be equally divided within six days after my decease by my loving and trusty friends Mr. Nicholas Marrel and Mr. Thomas French between my three daughters and my grandchild that is to say Elisabeth now the wife of Clement Spurgeon, Susan now the wife of Joseph Holmes, and Martha now the wife of William Newman and my grandson Thomasin Cook the only daughter of my said daughter Thomasin. But my will is that before there is such division made the said Nicholas Marrett and the said Thomas French or either of them shall secure the value of twenty five pounds which said summe my will is shall be paid by them or either of them in manner following that is to say five pounds a piece to the four eldest children of Mary now the wife of John Rush and the other five pounds to my grandchild Samuel Holmes son of Joseph Holmes as they shall severally attain their age of twenty one or day of marriage which shall first happen if the same be demanded or to the survirvor or survirvors of them.

“Item. I give and bequeath unto my son in law Clement Spurgin and to Elisabeth his now wife for and during the term of their several lives and the life of the longer liver of them those two houses or tenements with the yard appurtenances to the same belonging as the same are situate in a lane called the Parsonage Lane, Halsted aforesaid and are now in the several occupation of Daniel Jefferye and Frances Leeke their assignee or assigns upon this condition that the said Clement Spurgeon or Elisabeth his wife shall pay for the probate of this my will and shall also pay to my trusty and loving friends the said Nicholas Marret and Thomas French to each of them one guinea in gold and to my kinswoman Mary Bragg near Sain Savours Dockhead in Southwark, London, the summe of twenty shilling yearly every year for the full term of five years next after my decease and if she should depart this life before the said years be expired then my will is it shall be paid to her daughter the remaining part of the said five years without any charge or trouble and after the decease of my said son in law Clement Spurgin and Elisabeth his wife, I give the last mentioned two houses or tenements with the appurtenances unto my grandchild Mary Spurgin and the heirs of her body lawfully to be begotten and for want of such issue to my grandchild Clement Spurgin and the heirs of his body lawfully to be begotten and for want of such heirs to his right heirs for ever.

“Item. I give and bequeath unto my grandchild Martha Spurgin and her heirs for ever that messuage or tenement with all the yards and appurtenances to the same belonging which I late purchash of Elizabeth Chapman widdow as the same are situate lying and being in Halsted aforesaid in a yard adjoining to the premises of Thomas Coppin and are now in the occupation of Goodiffe and I do nominate and appoint my said grandchild Samuel Holmes sole executor of this my last will and testament contained in one sheet of paper revoking all other will and wills formerly by me made.

“In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seale the fourth day of June in the eight year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord William by the grace of God over England, Holland France and Ireland King Defender of the Faith Annoque done one thousand six hundred and ninety and six the marke of John Morley the elder signed sealed published and declared to be the last will and testament of the within named John Morley the elder in the presence of us after this paper was stampt with a sixpenny stamp.

“JOHN BAKER.

“JOHN KING.”

“As a codicil to this my will I add as followeth :

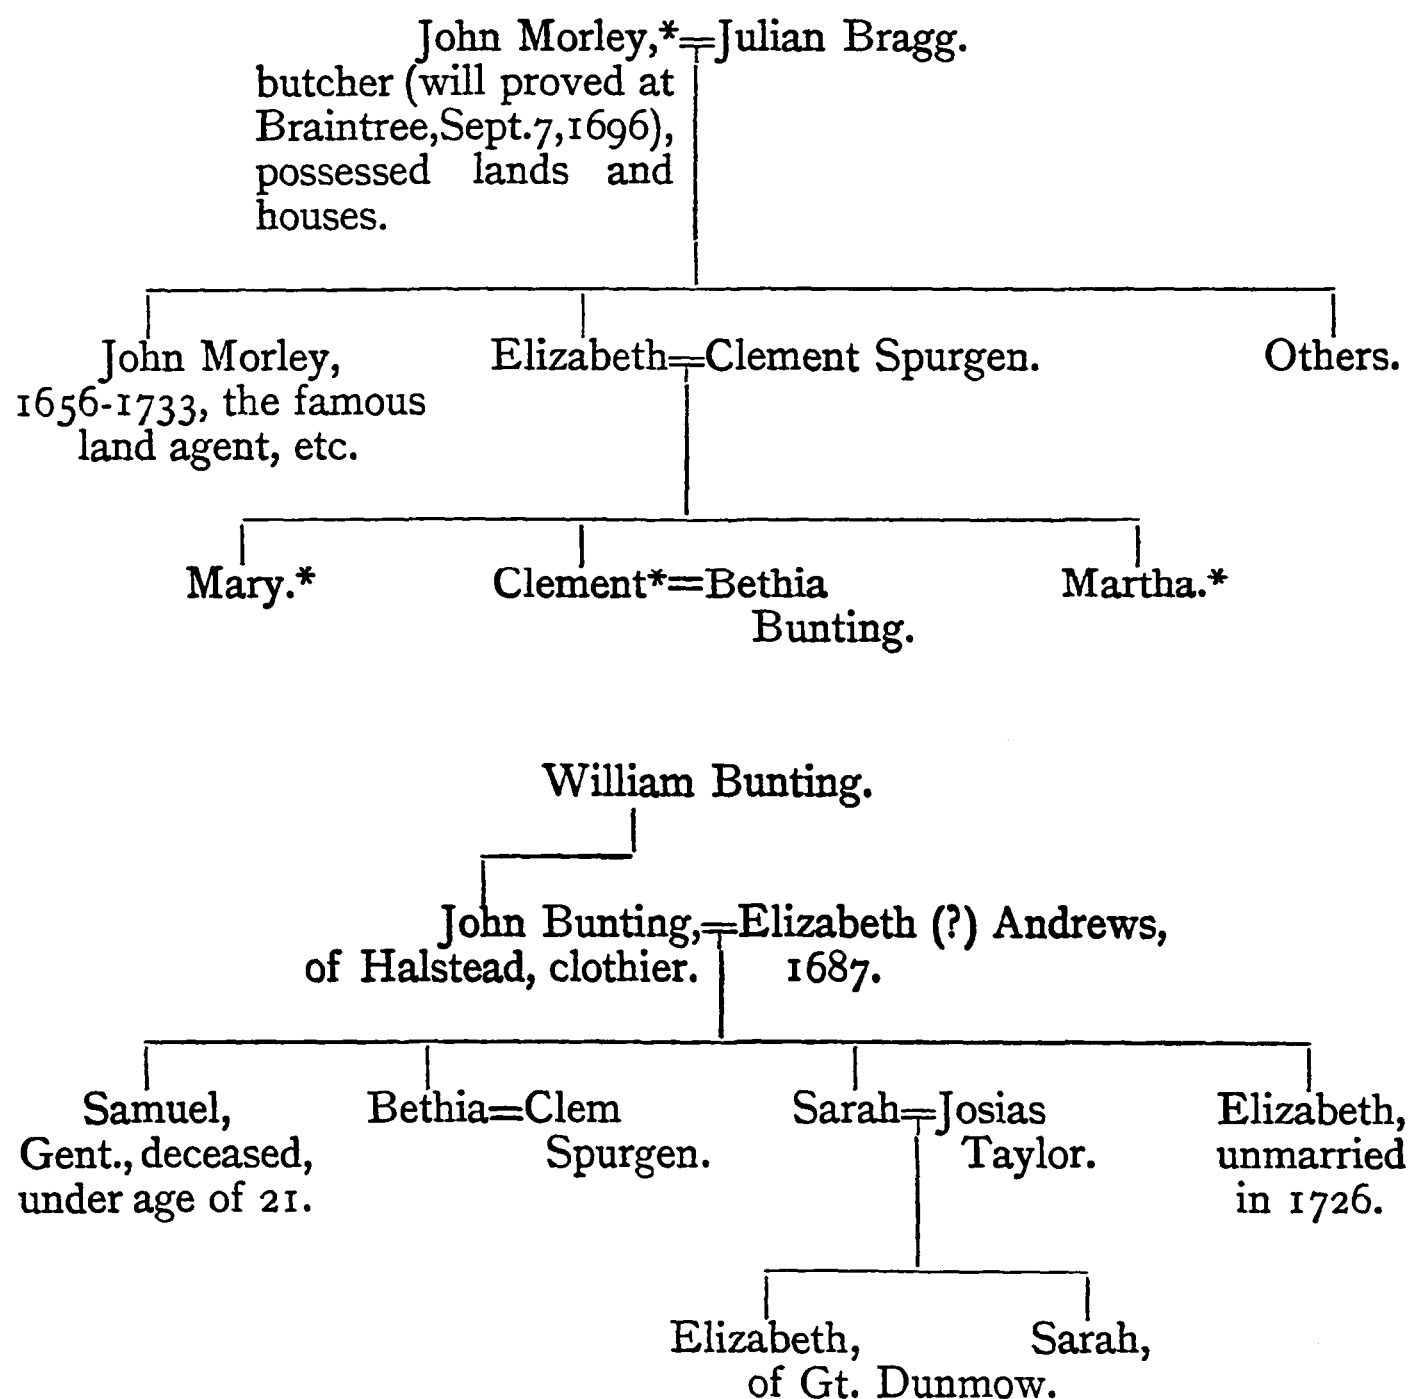

“Item. I give and bequeath to my loving wife all the rents that shall be due at the time of my decease for all the houses lands and woods that were my said loving wives before I was married to her.

“Item. I give and bequeath unto my loving wife all the goods and chattels shee brought to Halsted with her which said goods and chattels are before in my said will expressed to be excepted for her own use.

“Item. My will is that Mr. Nicholas Marrel one of the trustees to my will shall pay to my loving wife four pounds to buy her a mourning suite. I also give her a red petticote.

"On the 22nd of the Month called July this year, John Matthews of Harwich, Job Spurgeon of Dedham, Stephen Moore and Stephen Arnold of Lawford, taken at a Meeting, were committed to Chelmsford Gaol by Warrant from Justice Smith, they were after a few weeks bailed out till Sessions. But on their appearance there on the 3rd of October they were required to give sureties for their good behaviour, which refusing to do, they were recommitted to Prison, where three of them lay upon Straw about fifteen weeks in the midst of a Winter remarkable for extremity of Cold, but the fourth, Job Spurgeon, being so weak that he was unable to lie down, sat up in a Chair the most part of that time."

From a meeting, 1683 (p. 207, margin).

NOTE.—It has not been discovered where this Job Spurgeon came from. In all probability he was of the Halstead family of the name ; he was evidently a man of full age in 1677 and was alive in 1683. The writer of this work is indebted to the Rev. Charles Alfred Jones, M.A., Vicar of Dedham, for his kindness in making a search through the Parish Registers in order, if possible, to find some record of this man's baptism, marriage, or burial, but neither was found in the years examined—namely, Baptisms, 1635-1638; Marriages, 1641-1720; Burials, 1684-1735; or any Spurgeon entry. It is possible that Job Spurgeon, after his imprisonment, left Dedham for America, as so many Puritans of that period did. There is a Dedham in Massachusetts.
