Some ten years since, the writer began, for his own amusement chiefly, to collect genealogical information respecting the Steele family in the United States. To this family he is allied, through both paternal and maternal branches.

While making investigations to this end, he learned that another—A. J. Skilton, M. D. of Troy, N. Y., and also of the same connexion—was zealously engaged in a similar pursuit. On finding that our views and aims were identical, we henceforth united in the prosecution of our inquiries as opportunities presented.

It was not anticipated at first, that the result of these investigations would be such as to warrant publication. But in the course of research, the amount of matter became so full, and the success so complete, that in the autumn of 1857 it was resolved that the manuscripts should be revised, and a copy from them prepared for publication. Of this the charge was committed to Dr. Skilton. In the spring of 1858, Dr. S. was removed from his earthly labors, and the task was left to others.*

So much of the present volume as relates to the earlier descendants of those two pioneers, in the first settlement of the Colony of

* Of the many virtues of Dr. Avery J. Skilton, it is not our purpose here to speak. These were best known and most highly appreciated by those who knew him best. To Historical and Antiquarian research, few men in this country devoted more time, or with better success. Of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, he was an active, zealous member.

Connecticut, John and George Steele, is mainly due to the researches of Dr. Skilton. Gathered with unexampled perseverance and care from the Colonial, Town, Probate, and other Records in Connecticut, and from Cemetery Inscriptions and Family Registers, they present a true specimen of his accuracy and industry. And in respect to the whole work, while infallibility is not claimed, it is believed that facts, dates, names, and places, are given with as much correctness as it was possible, in such circumstances, to attain.

All varieties of obstacles, which every one engaged in this kind of research must encounter, have been met and overcome. And curious indeed are the phases of human nature in this manner developed. To the inquiries for information, whether from Family Records or from other sources, for the work, some manifested perfect ignorance and indifference. Others indicated suspicion of sinister motives in the inquirer, of some underhand measures in searching for titles to property, or of some other concealed purpose. The idea of any one troubling himself with inquiries of this nature, except for some pecuniary advantage, seemed to them inexplicable. Some, again, would furnish the information desired, if paid for it—and some, if their own names could appear conspicuously in the work. But others, and not a few, appreciated the undertaking, and favored it with an enlightened zeal, and a heartiness of purpose, worthy of all commendation.

In the preparation of this volume, not only information from private sources and unpublished records, but from all known historical works relative to the subject, have been consulted, as Trumbull's Colonial Records of Connecticut, Shurtleff's Records of Massachusetts, Cothen's Ancient Woodbury, Farmer's Genealogical Register, Hollister's History of Connecticut, Hinman's Catalogue of Puritan Settlers, Goodwin's Genealogical Notes, New England Genealogical and Historical Register, &c.

Among the few articles inserted entire, is a copy of the Will of John Steele—and a curious specimen it is—drawn in all due form of the time, with its quaint phrases, causing a smile, and giving some insight into the conditions, habits of life, labors, customs, &c., of those concerned.

With these prefatory remarks, this little volume is offered to the public, with the hope that it will add something to the Genealogical History of the Early Settlers of New England.

D. S. DURRIE.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

The author of this volume feels it to be a duty to tender his acknowledgments to Rev. ASHBEL STEELE of Washington, D. C., author of Chief of the Pilgrims: or, Life and Times of Elder William Brewster, for many kind services, particularly in assisting in preparing the Introduction, and collecting historical information respecting the life and public services of John Steele. Rev. Mr. STEELE has been for a long time engaged in preparing the Genealogy of the Brewster Family, which will be a valuable addition to Genealogical History.

OF
ONE OF THE PIONEERS IN THE FIRST SETTLEMENT OF CONNECTICUT.

It has in all ages been esteemed a duty and privilege to honor the memory of those whose labors and self denial have resulted in good to their country and to their race. Such tribute is justly due to those, whose labors and sore trials laid the foundations of colonies in this western world—colonies that have resulted in comparatively happy states, of which we ourselves have the privilege of being members. Accordingly, we here bring to view, acts or traces of one, who, in all these respects, deserves a memorial at our hands.

Among the early pioneers from England, in the settlement of a New England, particularly in founding the colony of Connecticut, the subject of this memoir acted no unimportant part.

Mr. John Steele was a native of England, probably of the county of Essex, and of some town near London, "from whence" (says he with others) "we had our transportation." Of his immediate connections there, as of the place of his nativity, we have no reliable information.

Among those of the name, cotemporary with him, was William Steele, Esq., Magistrate, Counselor, and not long after Recorder of London, then created Baron, and Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. A namesake, also, John Steele, Esq., was purchaser of the Leicestershire estates, and married the daughter of Edward Nichol, Esq. of Henderson, county of Middlesex, whose daughter married Sir Charles Bromfield, Bart., of Barton-under-Needwood, county of Stafford.

Baron Steele of London, took a lively interest in the settlement and progress of the colonies, and was the active President of the first corporation or society, organized in 1649, "to aid in publishing the Gospel among the indians in New England." In the formation and success of this society, Winslow of the Plymouth colony, when in England, was a most zealous and efficient agent.*

Our John Steele, like the other two of the name just mentioned, appears to have been educated for the duties of the Magistracy, and his apparent rank in life seems to have been well calculated for his advancement in that calling. Qualified by education, energy of character, and all the requisites for founding new settlements in a new world, and active and self-denying as he was in the enterprise, it is to be regretted that such limited information has been preserved respecting him. Even most of the particulars recorded would be passed over, were it not "that small things, in the beginnings of all communities, are of far higher importance, and more worthy of being noted, and have a more enduring influence, than far greater matters, when a people or nation has become established."

Mr. John Steele's name appears first in connection with Dorchester, one of the earliest settlements of the colony of Massachusetts, in the year 1630,† ten years only after the arrival of the pilgrim company in the Mayflower.

Next, he is found to have been one of the proprietors of Cambridge (first called Newtown), in 1632. Two others, George and Henry Steele, were also proprietors at the same time. Mr. John Steele, having been made freeman or elector by the court, in 1634, was elected a representative from Cambridge in 1635; Cambridge being designed to be the capital of the colony, as it was soon after the seat of the university.

During this period, however, the numerous arrivals at Cambridge, and the want of pasture lands in the vicinity, induced a portion of the people, including a number of their chief men, with the Rev. Mr. Hooker, their pastor, to seek another location. Another inducement for their removal was, a dislike of some regulations, which were thought to circumscribe their rights as freemen. The proposed enterprise met with strong opposition, but at length its advocates obtained the consent of the majority; and Mr. John Steele, in the autumn of 1635, led the pioneer band through the rugged, pathless wilderness, to a new location on the Connecticut river. As Leader and Magistrate, he appears to have conducted the expedition safely and wisely. Arriving late in the season, they had to endure all the hardships and trials of a severe winter, with the labors of clearing the forest, constructing their rude dwellings, securing food, and of protecting themselves against cold and wet, the ravages of wild beasts, and the warlike savage. Bravely persevering, while other expeditions during the same season failed, and many perished, they succeeded. And in the ensuing summer came the main portion of their company—men, women and children, with their minister—to their new home.

Here, on the margin of the river, near the head of its navigable waters, and through much toil, patient endurance, and trust in an Almighty arm for success, they laid the foundations of a new town, afterwards named Hartford; and of a new colony (Connecticut), the third of the colonies of New England. And here, the subject of our narrative, as a faithful head of a family, as an active member of their church, as a magistrate, and as one of the principal members of their legislative—judicial—colony court, aided in establishing a community, the duration, wisdom, and happy influence of whose institutions have been—with few exceptions—the glory of the state. During 23 years elected to the principal colony court, he was present at 88 at least of its sessions, and engaged in its legislation and judicial decisions, and for 4 years its secretary or recorder. For nearly 20 years he was also recorder of the town of Hartford, and for a time recorder of the town of Farmington.*

During these years, he was likewise called upon to act on various principal committees or agencies, civil, military and ecclesiastical, for determining the contested claims and boundaries of the colony; for the peaceful acquisition of additional territory; for raising troops for special expeditions among the hostile Indians—but especially were his exertions called forth in efforts to heal the sad breach, and to bring to a peaceful termination that long and bitter controversy, occasioned by the requirements for admitting members into their church, and of those who should present their children for baptism—which had caused a separation between their teacher and a portion of the congregation on the one side, and those who were the dissentients, or had withdrawn, on the other. On these points he appears to have taken middle ground, as inclining to a less stringent course, but with others pleading with all the energy of heart and soul for reconciliation and peace.†

Thus—unambitious except to do good, and be faithful to every trust committed to him, did he pass some thirty of the active years of his life, in founding with others, according to their views, a new home in the new world. At length, age and feeble health caused him to retire from public duty, and as a Christian, to arrange all his worldly affairs, and to “commit his soul” into the hands of Him who gave it, “and into the hands of the blessed Savior, God ever gracious to him,” and his body “to a decent and comely burial.”‡

* On the organization of Farmington, and its admission as a town by the court, it is added in the record: “And Mr. Steele is entreated for the present to be recorder there, until the town have one fit among themselves.”—Col. Records, i, 1, 134, &c.

† RECORDS OF CONN., 291, &c., and TRUMBULL'S HIST. OF CONN., I, 297.

‡ See his will.

His closing years were passed in Farmington, and where also he was a member of their church. His residence in Hartford was on the main street, just north of the present Atheneum. His will bears date, January 30, 1663-4. He died November 25, 1665.

OF GEORGE STEELE,

Who was also one of the pioneers in the Connecticut colony, we can furnish only a few particulars :

His name appears but a few times on the public records. All the circumstances respecting him compared, seem plainly to indicate that he was an elder brother of John Steele, Esq., whose memorial has just been given. With him he appears to have come to New England ; with him was proprietor of lands in New Town (afterwards Cambridge), in 1632 ; was admitted freeman at the general court of Massachusetts, in May, 1634 ; was one of the company in the settlement of Hartford, Conn., in 1635 or 6 ; was one of the proprietors of undivided lands therein in 1639 ; was a juryman in 1643, and also a plaintiff in three cases, before the general court, in 1644 and 1647. Other and minor notices we omit. His residence in Hartford, was on the lane, now Washington street, south-east of Trinity College. He died in 1663, " very old."

Of his wife we find no record. He had 4 children, and his descendants have been very numerous ; many of them having filled prominent stations in military life during the French war, and during the American revolution. Not a few have held responsible positions in civil life, and in the Christian ministry.*

* Some 30 at least of the name have been educated in the New England College, 10 of whom are known to have been graduated at Yale ; besides others in other parts of the country.

WILL OF JOHN STEEL,

OF HARTFORD.

From State Records, in Hartford, dated Jan. 30, 1663-4.

I, John Steel, of Farmington, I being stricken in years, and weakness, do see necessary to sett our small occasions in the world at a stay—I being therefore though sick in body, yet of competent ability for this work, hereby committing my spirit into the hands of God that gave it, and into the hands of our blessed Savior, who ever have been a gracious God to me—and also do commit my body to a comely and decent burial in the common place of burial in Farmington, appointed for that purpose.

I give and bequeath to my dear and loving wife Mary Steel, the house wherein I now dwell, with the appurtenances belonging to it, viz: three little closes thereunto belonging, also one barn, during the term of her natural life.

Item. I give and bequeath the said Mary, a certain parcel of household goods that were hers at the time that I married to her, linens and woollen, brass and pewter, and other implements of household goods, esteemed about £18:10s.

Item. I give and bequeath to my loving wife, two cows and one three year old heifer, and also one third part of all the provision for the house, which is one third part of what meat is in my house, which is for the maintenance of our family, as one third part of our meat, and one third part of our malt, and one third part of our butter and cheese, and one third part of our flax, and one third part of our yarn, woollen or linen, as also ten bushels of wheat, and six bushels of pease, and one hive of bees, and two store swine, and one third part of what fowls we have, and three sheep with their lambs, and a skillett, as also one bedstead, two mats, one linen and two woollen sheets, and one beer barrel.

Item. I give and bequeath to my loving wife Mary Steel, the one half of all the linen cloth that she has made since I married to her—all which parcel of goods, or particular things herein above written, or expressed, excepting the house and barn and three closes, I give and bequeath to my wife forever.

Item. I give and bequeath to my loving wife, the parcel of pasture land enclosed, esteemed as three acres, for her to make use of during the time of her natural life.

Item. I give and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel, my best bed, with the furniture belonging to it, which is a bed with one green rug, one feather bolster, two good feather pillows, one sett of green serge curtains, and one green serge vallance, as also the great bedstead on which it useth to lie, and the curtain rods belonging to it.

Item. I give and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel, a silver bowl, which was mine own, marked with three Guitar Stamps and one S, all on the upper end of the bowl.

Item. I give and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel, the one half of all my books, as also my gold scales and weights belonging to them—all which as here above written—the bed with the furniture, the silver bowl and gold scales and weights, I give and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel and his heirs forever, to come to the enjoyment of them, immediately after the departure of my natural life.

Item. I give to my son Samuel Steel, a piece of enclosed pasture land, by estimation three acres, abutting by Isaac Moore's land south, and Matthew Woodruff's land west, and Samuel Steel's land north, him and his heirs forever, to come to the enjoyment of it immediately after the decease of mine and my wife's natural life. And to avoid trouble of making other conveyances, of house and lands, to my son Samuel Steel [of somewhat], I give to my son Samuel Steel, at the marrying with his wife Mary Boosey, I here express, as I then did, so here I do, and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel, a parcel of land, with a tenement standing upon it, which parcel of land contains by estimation two acres, abutting of the highway east, and river west, and William Judd's land south, and John Steel's land north—as also a small parcel of land of which his still house stands, containing by estimation nine rods, more or less, abutting on William Judd's land south, and of the highway east, and on John Steel's land north and west.

Item. To my son Samuel Steel, one parcel of land in the great meadow, containing by estimation seventeen acres, more or less, abutting on John Norton's land south, and the river west, and on John Wells' land [deceased] north, and on the highway east—one parcel [of land] lying in the third meadow, containing by estimation three acres and a half, more or less, abutting on the river west, and on John Steel's land north—one piece of land lying in Cok's Cronk, which is one third part of all that land which was Cok's Cronk, which whole parcel of land was given by Farmington inhabitants to me, also by the Indian now deceased, which Indian was called by the name of Cok's Cronk, which parcel of land given to my son Samuel Steel, is one third part of this lot, parcel both for quality and quantity, all which parcels or pieces of land, or house and land, herein expressed, given to my son

Samuel Steel, as I have already given, excepting the three acres of pasture, not yet to be possessed by him, so unto the true possession of my son Samuel Steel, so I do here confirm it again, that I do give and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel and his heirs forever.

Item. I give and bequeath to my son-in-law William Judd, one third part of my land in Cok's Cronk, lying in Cok's Cronk.

Item. I give and bequeath to my son-in-law Thomas Judd, one third part of my land in Cok's Cronk, which is all that was given to me by Farmington inhabitants in that place, and by the Indian called Cok's Cronk—and it is my will that that whole parcel of land shall be divided equally, both for quality and quantity, among my three sons, Samuel Steel, William Judd, and Thomas Judd, for themselves, their heirs forever.

Item. I give and bequeath to my son-in-law Thomas Judd, one parcel of land lying in Hartford, in the neck of land, containing by exact measure twenty acres, more or less, abutting on William Wadsworth's land north, and the highway called Windsor highway west, and on a swamp called the Dead swamp east, and on Capt. John Cullick's land east, which parcel of land I give to the aforesaid Thomas Judd and his heirs forever.

Item. I give and bequeath to my two sons-in-law, William Judd and Thomas Judd, my new dwelling house and barn, and house lot, yards, gardens, or orchard, thereto belonging, equally to be divided betwixt these two aforesaid, William and Thomas, to them and their heirs forever, to come to the enjoyment of them immediately after the departure of mine and my wife's natural life—further it is my will that a few small things should be disposed to my loving wife, and children and grandchildren: to my loving wife, the small silver spoons, and some small matter of linen; to Mary Judd, one piece of gold; to Sarah Judd, one piece of gold; to John Steel, son of John Steel deceased, one silver spoon; to Samuel Steel, son of John Steel deceased, one silver spoon; to Benoni Steel, one silver spoon; to Rachel Steel, daughter of Samuel Steel, one silver spoon; to be delivered to them by my son Samuel Steel, at the date of their marriage; only my two daughters shall have theirs immediately after the departure of my natural life—further it is my will, that if at any of these my three grandchildren, John Steel, Samuel Steel, Benoni Steel, shall die before they marry, then the forementioned spoons shall be divided among the surviving; or if all of them shall die, then it is my mind that these forenamed spoons shall return to my son Samuel Steel, and his heirs. And it is my will, that for the remainder of my silver spoons, broken or whole, as also a small gold ring, I give and bequeath to my son Samuel Steel, and his heirs forever; and for the remainder of my estate, as cattle or horses, swine, sheep, fowls, corn, linen or woollen, or whatever movables in my house, brass, pewter, iron, earthen, wooden vessels, or debts owing me, or whatever else is mine, not yet disposed off in this my will, all just dues being paid, I give and bequeath to my two sons-in-law, William and Thomas Judd ; and do make the aforesaid William Judd and Thomas Judd, my whole and sole executors ; and do desire and make choice of my son Samuel Steel, and James Steel, to be overseers of this my last will and testament.

JOHN STEEL.

LINEAGE

John and George Steele.

EXPLANATION.

The first column of figures denotes the number of each individual, and is continuous throughout the book. The second column shows the number in each separate family, the eldest being numbered one. This is designed to be regular, although some families are not arranged correctly. Figures immediately after the first name in each paragraph, in parenthesis, thus (50), refer back to the individual of the family in which he or she is first named. Figures which are found after the name of a member of a family, in parenthesis, indicate to refer forward to that number, when that family is traced out. Example—on page 9 you will find next to No. 30,

"Children of SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> (8) and Mary (Boosey) Steel."

By referring back to No. 8, you will find the date of his birth, when married, and other information relating to him and his family. The small figure <sup>2</sup> after his name, shows that he is of the second generation, and his children, which commence with 31, have the figure <sup>3</sup>, showing that they are the third generation. The eldest of this family is James. No. 31, and the numeral 1 adjoining, indicates that he is so. After his name occur the figures (64), and by turning forward to that number, the names of his children will be found, with all the information concerning them. The plan adopted in this work is the one recommended by the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, and is presumed to be the best system in use.

THE FAMILY OF STEPHEN STEELE, OF TOLLAND.

Rev. STEPHEN STEEL was the ancestor of all the persons of that name who have resided in Tolland, Conn. He was a native of Hartford, where his father was a farmer; their house stood in what was some years since called Cooper lane (now Washington street), and is said to be yet standing, though modernized. Mr. Steel graduated at Yale College, in 1718, and was the first settled minister in Tolland, in 1720, at a salary of £75 a year, which was more than ten dollars from each family in the place, the town having been an unbroken wilderness until seven years previous. He was also furnished with a lot of land and other perquisites. He continued in the ministry, and much beloved until, being stricken with the consumption, in 1758, his relation to the society was peacefully dissolved, and he died in December, 1759. Rev. Mr. Steel married Ruth, daughter of Col. Hezekiah Porter of Hadley, Mass.; another daughter of Col. Porter married Rev. Solomon Williams, and was ancestress of William Williams, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and Hon. T. S. Williams, late Chief Justice of Connecticut. They had children; Ruth, Stephen, Eleazar, Elisha, Sarah, Mehitable, James, John and Aaron.

ELISHA was the earliest lawyer in Tolland; died 1773. Of AARON nothing particularly is known. JAMES first settled in Tolland, and moved to Ellington in 1776; after the Revolution, went to Brookfield, Vt., to reside with his son Zadoc, and died about 1813. This James had been in the war of 1755, and received a lieutenant's commission, but was prevented by sickness from serving. His son James was one of the company that went from Tolland to the siege of Boston, instantly on the breaking out of hostilities, and the next year was in the battle of Long Island. AARON, another son, perished in the army in New Jersey. A third (SAMUEL), and a fourth, whose name has been forgotten, were also in the army. ZADOC, after some service, emigrated to Brookfield, Vt., when in Oct. 1781, he was taken by the party of Indians that burnt Royalton. The captives were eventually in a prison on an island in the rapids above Montreal, from which a number of them, including Zadoc Steel, made their escape. They dug a passage under the wall of the prison building, and the pickets with which it was surrounded, yet so deep as to pass under the ditch. Steel, with three others, in a dark night, gained the outside, eluded the sentinels, hastily rolled together a few logs for a raft, and committed themselves to the rapids. They succeeded in landing on the north side of the river, and after various adventures and escapes in an enemy's country and a pathless wilderness, half-starved, and without shelter, even in the latter weeks of autumn, they finally succeeded in reaching the American settlements. The affair, as related by Mr. Steel in a narrative, printed at Montpelier, in 1818, was one of the most intrepid adventures of the kind ever undertaken. Mr. Steel died a few years ago at Stanstead, Lower Canada. James, son of James, resided in Ellington, until his death in 1819. He was one of the earliest Methodists in that town, possessed much more than ordinary intelligence and ability. His son, Oliver Wolcott Steel, resides in Ellington; has been a member of the Assembly, and for many years Town Clerk and principal Justice of the Peace. He is a man of high respectability and much of an antiquarian.

STEPHEN, ELEAZAR, ELISHA and JOHN STEEL, lived and died in Tolland. Capt. Stephen Steel married Hannah, daughter of Samuel Chapman, Esq., of this town, in May, 1747. Mr. Chapman was a large landholder and a conspicuous public man. He commanded one of the companies that went from Connecticut to the siege of Louisburg, in 1745, where he died. His numerous posterity here about, are always gratified in the idea of deriving their ancestry from him. His daughter, Mrs. Steel, died in 1801. Capt. Steel was one of the Selectmen, from 1769 to 1773. The others of the minister's sons, also received their share of town meeting honors, for honors they certainly were, in those days, when the most suitable men were carefully and even conscientiously selected for public officers.

SARAH STEEL, whose birth, from some neglect, was not placed on the town records, at the age of 16, married Dea. Elijah Chapman, aged 19, son of Capt. Chapman, above mentioned, and during a long life, a highly respectable and wealthy farmer of this town; was the mother of a numerous and prominent family, and ancestress of an almost innumerable posterity. Her son, Elijah, on the day when the news of the battle at Lexington was received, enlisted into the company that was formed on the instant, and was made a sergeant, then a lieutenant, finally a captain, and served in Washington's army until its dissolution. He was engaged in the battles of Trenton, Princeton, Germantown, and Monmouth, &c., &c. He commanded the third company from the head of the column, that stormed the redoubt at Yorktown. In 1824, La Fayette recognized him as one of his former captains. After the war he rose to the rank of Major-General of Militia. On the organization of Tolland county, in 1786, he was appointed sheriff, and held the office until his resignation, more than twenty years afterwards. Two of Dea. E. Chapman's grandsons have also been sheriffs of Tolland county.

MEHTABLE STEEL married John Huntington of Tolland, in 1749. Their son, Hezekiah Huntington, was one of the most eminent early leaders of the Democratic party in this state, and was for many years, U. S. District Attorney for Connecticut. He died a few years ago at Middletown. His sons, Hezekiah, Francis J., and Samuel F., have been and are still prominent citizens of Hartford; his daughter married Hon. Lester King of Ohio, who was a candidate for the office of Governor in that state, some years since. The Rev. Mr. Steel had numerous male descendants of the proper age for the Revolutionary army, and they were all out; from the prison depot at Montreal to the prisons of New York; from Roxbury to Yorktown, there were not many scenes of general danger or suffering, where he was not represented.

For about three-quarters of a century, the Steels in Tolland, were numerous; most were respectable, and some had large possessions. But the tendency of such families in this country is to finally disappear from the place of their location. Such was the case with the Steels. They began to diminish in number, and about fifteen years ago, the name became extinct in Tolland. But Mr. Steel's descendants not bearing the name, are yet numerous here, especially those of his daughter, Mrs. Chapman.

The house in which Mr. Steel lived and died, was built about 125 years ago, by Josiah Goodrich, who married a daughter of Col. Porter. It was said to be the finest house between Hartford and Worcester; after Mr. Steel's decease it was sold to his successor, Rev. Nathan Williams, who continued in it until his decease, in 1829; then after being inhabited a few years longer, it was altered into a barn, in which use it is still standing. The stones for the fire-places, instead of the grey rock of the vicinity, were brought from near the Connecticut river, and the faces of the mantel and sides, were cut into panels. In each of two rooms, over the fire-places in the ceiling, was a very broad board painted with a really elegant landscape. On the destruction or desecration of the house, these boards, then in good order and looking fresh, were sold at thirty-four cents each, for fire-boards, where they would not be valued either for antiquity or workmanship. A few years since Oliver W. Steel informed the writer that not long previous, an old lady of this town told him, that she being about ten years old, was at meeting when Mr. Steel's growing infirmity so far prevailed, that he gave out and failed in the pulpit. His sons helped him down and home, and according to the old lady, he officiated there no more.

THOMAS STEEL.

Of this individual and his descendants nothing definite is known as to their connection with the Hartford Steeles; it is surmised by some that Thomas Steel was a brother of John and George. In collecting materials for the compilation of this volume, there has been received genealogies of this and other families. It has been thought advisable that this matter should be published for the benefit of future inquirers :

STEELES OF NEW YORK.

JOHN STEEL, born in England ; came to the city of New York, as is said in consequence of a prosecution against him for marrying his deceased wife's sister ; his name appears as a freeman in 1744 ; he had a son.

STEPHEN, a very active Whig in the Revolutionary war ; he was obliged to abandon his home and a valuable property in New York, when that city was taken possession of by the British forces, and repaired to New Jersey, where he was obliged to remove seven times during the war ; he married — Schureman from Holland, residing at Tappan on the Hudson river ; he had a son.

HON. WILLIAM STEELE, born in New York, May 20, 1762. He became subject to military duty in 1778, and immediately took an important part in our Revolutionary struggle. Although his services were not of sufficient duration, at any one consecutive period to entitle him to a pension, they were really neither inconsiderable, nor free from danger. He was frequently drafted, and often volunteered, on particular emergencies, and served in several of those various expeditions, of which history takes usually little note, but which often put the qualities and courage of the soldier to the severest tests. In the spring of 1780, he sailed from Philadelphia on board the Aurora, a twenty gun ship, which was shortly after captured by the British frigate Iris, bearing dispatches of the surrender of Charleston to the British. In the running fight which ensued, he was severely wounded, taken prisoner, and detained between four and five months, when he was exchanged in the exchange of prisoners. In 1785, he was appointed a clerk in the old board of treasury, under Lee, Livingston and Osgood, commissioners.

In 1794, he commanded a troop of New Jersey horse, and aided in suppressing the insurrection in Pennsylvania, near Pittsburg. After the Revolution, he resided principally in New Jersey, until his removal to the town of Painted Post, Steuben county, N. Y., where he has ever since resided upon his estate, until a short time previous to his decease, which took place at Big Flats, Chemung county, N. Y., April 4, 1851, at the age of 89 years. For fifty years and upwards, he has been an elder in the Presbyterian church in New Jersey and at Painted Post, and always a zealous worshipper at her altar, a prudent guide, a wise counselor, and truly has been a father in Israel. He married Mary, daughter of Dr. Jonathan Dayton of Springfield, N. J., Dec. 26, 1791; she d. Mar. 26, 1834; by whom he had a family of 13 children; the eldest surviving is Jonathan D. Steele, Esq., a wealthy citizen of New York, President of the Niagara Fire Insurance Company. His surviving brothers and sisters are: Thomas Salter Steele, Mrs. Charlotte Dayton Tuthill, Theo. Jackson Steele.

REV. CAPTAIN JOHN STEELE.

The first fort in the Conococheague settlement, which comprises nearly the whole of the county of Franklin, Penn., was at the Rev. John Steele's meeting house, which was surrounded by a rude stockade fort, in 1755. It was erected shortly after Braddock's defeat, as it was referred to in the Indian invasion, in Nov. 1775.

Among the first companies organized in this township on the occasion of the bloody outbreak, by the Delaware Indians, in 1775, was one selected for its Captain, Rev. John Steele, their Presbyterian pastor ; this command was accepted by Mr. Steele, and executed with so much skill, bravery and judgment, as to commend him to the Provincial Government, which appointed him a Captain of the provincial troops, which he retained for many years.

He often exercised his ministry with his gun at his side, addressing his congregation, the men of which had their weapons within their reach.—Pennsylvania Archives.

SIR RICHARD STEEL'S FAMILY.

This family is of English extraction, and the first found mentioned is Robert Steel, who held a place of consequence in the Court of Queen Anne. He died soon after 1714, and had a son.

Robert, who married Miss Lander, and lived at Cove, in the county of Cork; he had a son.

Robert, who married his 2d cousin, no issue.

Richard Steel, a brother of the first Robert (above), settled in Cork county, and married Miss Hart; had one son, Sir Richard Steel of Hampstead, his heir, and had children.

Sir Parker Steel, Bart. of Ranelagh county, Dublin; Dorothea married — Butler; Harriet married her cousin Robert; Smith (by 2d wife), no issue; Margaret married — Featherstonhaugh.

Sir Parker Steel (above), served in the army in Germany; also in America from 1764, several years; he had sons; (he died 1787).

Sir Richard, the present Baronet, 1811; Robert, Parker, Frederick Armstead and three daughters.

Sir Richard Steel, the present Baronet entered the army at 16 years of age in 1723; he has one son, Richard, born 1802, and six daughters.

Sir Richard Steel, the author, was cousin to the first Sir Richard of Hampstead; was born at Dublin, in 1695 (his father was counselor at law and private secretary to James I, Duke of Ormond); was educated at the Charter House school in London; served in the army a few years; was appointed Commissioner of the Stamp office; afterward member of House of Commons, from which he was expelled for publishing a libelous article in the "Englishman." On the accession of George I, was appointed Surveyor of the Royal Stables, and was put in commission as Justice of the Peace for Middlesex, and was knighted; he died at his seat in Wales, Sept. 1, 1829; he was twice married; his first wife was a lady of Barbadoes, with whom he had a valuable plantation on the death of her brother; his second was a daughter of Jonathan Scurlock, Esq. of Llangunnor, by whom he had one son and two daughters.

Sir Richard's reputation is better known as a literary man. He was a prominent contributor to "The Spectator," "The Tattler," "The Guardian," and was the author of many comedies, which were very popular in their day.

RIGHT HON. THOMAS STEELE.

The following notice of this person is taken from the "Gentleman's Magazine," 1824 :

The late Right Hon. Thomas Steele, who died Dec. 8, 1823, was eldest son of Thomas Steele, Esq., Recorder of Chichester, 1746, who died Sept. 30, 1775 ; was born in the year 1753, and educated at Westminster school, from whence he was elected to Cambridge in 1771. He became M. P. for Chichester in 1780, and which city he represented in every Parliament till the dissolution in April, 1807. By Charles III, Duke of Richmond, he was introduced to the late Right Hon. William Pitt, and by the same influence, appointed Secretary to the Treasury, in conjunction with the late Right Hon. George Rose, in Dec. 1784, upon the dissolution of Mr. Fox and Lord North's celebrated coalition administration. Both the secretaries possessed the entire confidence and intimate friendship of Mr. Pitt, which continued without the smallest abatement till his death.

Mr. Steele discharged the multifarious duties of this office, requiring no inconsiderable share of judgment, delicacy, and conciliation, to the entire satisfaction of his friend and patron for more than six years, as eventful as any recorded in English history.

On February 13, 1791, he was appointed (with the Earl Harrowby, then the Hon. Dudley Ryder) joint Paymaster of the Forces, in the room of the present Duke of Montrose, and the late Lord Musgrave ; was sworn a Privy Counselor, and continued under Lord Sidmouth's administration till removed and succeeded, June 27, 1804, by Lord Charles Somerset. He was likewise in 1797, appointed by Mr. Pitt to succeed his brother-in-law, the Hon. Edward James Eliot (then lately deceased), as King's Remembrancer in the Court of Exchequer, which he held to the time of his death. Mr. Steele married Sept. 3, 1785, Miss Lindsay, daughter of Sir David Lindsay, Baronet, and has left one son by her, a Lieut. Colonel in the Cold Stream Guards, married to the eldest daughter of the Duke of Manchester ; also two daughters, the eldest married N. W. Ridley Colborne, Esq., M. P. for Thetford, and the youngest to Henry John Conyers, Esq. of Copt Hall, Essex.

MRS. ELIZABETH
AND
MRS. CATHERINE STEELE.
OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

Mrs. Ellett, in her interesting work, the "Women of the American Revolution," gives an account of the services of these ladies in the trying times of the Revolution. Hon. J. H. Wheeler, in his Historical Sketches of North Carolina, has also given a particular account of Mrs. Elizabeth Steele, as well as the services of her son, Hon. John Steele. From both of these works, I make the following extracts:

"Connected with the history of Rowan county, N. C., and this deeply exciting period of her history, is the name of Elizabeth Steele, who was distinguished among the "women of the Revolution," not only for her attachment to the cause of America, but for her prudence, piety and virtue. It was at her house, in the evening of the 1st of February, 1781, that "the Fabius of America," General Greene, after riding hard all day, in the rain, arrived "fatigued, hungry, alone, and penniless," as he expressed himself to Dr. Read, who had charge of the sick and wounded prisoners at that place. Mrs. Steele heard this, and the fire of patriotism was augmented by that deep sympathy, which woman's heart ever feels for distress. Hardly had Gen. Greene seated himself at a well-spread table, before a cheerful fire, when Mrs. Steele entered and reminded her distinguished guest that she had overheard his desponding remark to Dr. Read. She drew from under her apron, two small bags of specie, her earnings for years. "Take these," she said, "for you will want them; I can do without them." "Never," says his biographer, "did relief come at a more needy moment," and the hero resumed his dangerous journey that night, with a heart lightened by woman's kindness, and her devotion to the cause of her country."

On the wall of the room hung a portrait of George III, which had been sent as a present from England, from a friend at court, to one of Mrs. Steele's connections.

Filled with the mournful recollection of the sufferings of his country, and the innocent blood that even that day had been spilled by myrmidons of royalty, Gen. Greene took it from the wall, and wrote on the back: "O George! hide thy face and mourn," and replaced it with the face to the wall.

This picture, with the writing still visible, is in the possession of Gov. Swain, at Chapel Hill. Mrs. Steele died on the 22d of November, 1790, at Salisbury. She was twice married; her first husband was a Gillespie, by whom she had a daughter, who married Rev. Samuel McCorkle; and a son, Richard Gillespie, who was a captain in the Revolution, and died unmarried.

By her second husband, William Steele, she had an only son.

Gen. JOHN STEELE, who was born in Salisbury, on the 1st of November, 1764. He was educated in that place, and commenced life as a merchant, but soon turned his attention to agricultural pursuits, in which he was skillful, prudent and successful. In 1787, he appeared in public life as a member of the House of Commons, and was re-elected in 1778. He was a member of the convention that assembled at Hillsboro', on the 21st of July, 1788, to consider the constitution of the United States, and with Johnston, Davie and Iredell, made active but ineffectual efforts in its defence. In 1790, he was elected a member of the first Congress, under the constitution, from the Salisbury district, and served until 1793.

In 1794, he was again elected a member of the House of Commons, and served, with some intermissions, until 1813, of which he was often Speaker.

On the removal of Gen. Davie to the State of South Carolina, in 1806, Gen. Steele succeeded him as Commissioner for North Carolina, to adjust the boundaries between the two States. There is ample documentary evidence that he conducted this delicate, protracted and difficult negotiation, with consummate ability and skill.

He was appointed by Gen. Washington first Comptroller of the Treasury, which place he held throughout the remainder of Washington's and John Adams' administrations, and resigned in 1802 in opposition to the earnest and repeated remonstrances of Mr. Jefferson.

On the 14th of August, 1815, he was again elected to the House of Commons, but on that day he died.

He was buried at his residence, now the seat of Archibald Henderson, Esq., near the town. He married in 1783, Mary Nesfield, who survived him many years, and by whom he left three daughters:

Ann, who married Gen. Jesse A. Pearson; Margaret, who married Dr. Stephen L. Ferrand; and Eliza, who married Col. Robert McNamara. The following is a copy of his tombstone:

On the west side:

CONSECRATED BY CONJUGAL

AND

FILIAL AFFECTION.

AN ENLIGHTENED STATESMAN,

A VIGILANT PATRIOT,

AN ACCOMPLISHED GENTLEMAN.

"The archives of the country testify the services of his short, but useful life. Long will that country deplore his loss; but when will this sequestered spot cease to witness the sacred sorrow of his family and friends."

KATHERINE STEEL. This heroine was of a stamp rarely seen or described in recent times. It needed a primitive country as well as unusual hardships and perils, to develope such lofty, yet unambitious heroism, such sagacity mingled with homely simplicity, such a spirit of patience, constancy and self-sacrifice, without an aspiration for praise, or thought of reward.

The memory of these stout-hearted, high-souled matrons, is well nigh swept from earth; but here and there recollections survive by which we may learn how noble was the race that nursed the nation's infancy.

Katherine Fisher was a native of Pennsylvania; when about twenty years old, she was married to Thomas Steel of the same place. Both belonged to the race called Pennsylvania Irish, so many of whom emigrated to Carolina about the middle of the century. The young pair made their removal to South Carolina some time in 1745, to the upper, or what is called the granite region of the State. They were not long solitary. The two currents of emigration from Charleston and the sea coast on one side, and Pennsylvania and Virginia on the other, meeting in this neighborhood, in a course of a few years, several families came to settle near them.

It was soon found necessary to unite in their defence against the hostile Indians, the Cherokees giving them much trouble. The place owned by Mr. Steel was fortified as a block house, to which the inhabitants could betake themselves, when danger threatened. These block houses were scattered over the country at convenient distances for the unprotected settlers.

While the men were out fighting the Cherokees, or engaged in providing for the defence and maintenance of their families, the women were in the habit of resorting on any alarm to this place of refuge. Mrs. Steel was chief and ruler among them, not merely by her right of ownership, or her superior firmness and courage, but by virtue of her hearty kindness and good humor. She was acknowledged master of the fort, and was called familiarly, "Katy of the Fort." Possessing great influence, she could at once calm the fears of the women, who had quitted their homes at the dead hours of night to flee thither; they felt, in fact, a sense of security in her presence. She taught the young girls the use of the rifle, a useful accomplishment in those days, when no one knew what hour she might be compelled to wield that deadly weapon.

Some thrilling incidents of peril and female prowess are related of this period, but time will not allow of their being here noticed; to those feeling an inclination to know more, reference is to be made to Mrs. Ellett's Women of the Revolution, in which a full account is given. While on a trading expedition down the Mississippi river, Thomas Steele was supposed to have been killed by the Indians, his companions returned home bearing the sad news to his family. Mrs. Steel was now left alone with a family—three daughters and two sons. The sterling principles she instilled in their minds produced their fruit in the actions of after years, when trials even more severe than any she had undergone in early life, fell to her lot and theirs.

The home of Mrs. Steel was at no great distance from that of John Gaston, whose family she and her children often visited, going in canoes up and down the stream. She was in the habit of sending for the newspaper, by which she learned from time to time, what was going on during the first years of the war. On the call for men to organize a company, her son John Steel (who was then grown to manhood) was foremost in proffering his services. He was the head of the company from Chester, dispatched against the Cherokee Indians in the "Snow Campaign" of 1775. At the battle of Fort Moultrie, on Sullivan's Island, he was also engaged, with seven of the sons of Justice Gaston. At the siege of Savannah, he took part in the charge made under the command of Count Pulaski. On that memorable morning when the devoted little band went forth to make the attack upon the British, on the spot where Beckhamville now stands, Katherine Steel called upon her youngest son, the only child remaining with her, and then about seventeen, to go out with the rest. "You must go now," she said to him, "and fight the battles of our country, with John. It must never be said that the old Squire's boys (meaning Gaston) have done more for the liberty of their country than the widow Steel's."

Capt. JOHN STEEL, who has been called "the Murat of the Catawba river," was in every engagement during the summer of 1780. On one occasion when the little army were surprised by the British troops, in the night, Capt. Steel caught Gen. Sumpter, in his arms and carried him to a place of safety. He continued in active service during the campaign of 1781. In the spring following, he was married to Margaret Beard. Thomas Steel, the younger brother, married the sister of Margaret. Katherine Steel showed no less of the truly heroic in her character, in her labors after the establishment of peace, than in the darkest hour of the actual struggle. Her days were ended at the old fort in 1785.

She was surrounded by her children, all of whom were married. Her eldest son, who had fought so many battles, was killed in 1812, by a fall from his horse ; her daughter Margaret was married to Thomas Wylie ; Mary to Robert Archer ; Nancy to Thomas Bell.

The descendants of this family of Steels have removed to the west, and are scattered through different States. The only one remaining in South Carolina is Mrs. Jane Thompson, the daughter of Capt. John Steel.
