PREFACE.

THIS book is the outgrowth of a desire on my part to trace out my own pedigree. My father, while aware that he was descended from Captain Myles Standish, of Plymouth, had no knowledge of his descent beyond the names of the male ancestors in his own line, and in 1873, while a student in college, I undertook to look up the matter and make out a more complete pedigree. At that time there was nothing printed concerning the Standish family. The work proved attractive to me and has occupied a generous share of my leisure time for the last twenty-one years. As I have progressed with the work, my skill and judgment in such matters have undoubtedly increased and the later work is no doubt much more thorough and accurate than that done in the earlier years of this compilation. At first the necessity of noting the source from which each fact was derived did not impress itself upon me, and as a result I have been unable to verify facts and dates in some instances where subsequent information has led me to be suspicious of my records. Different parts of the book are therefore of varying degrees of excellence; but of late years the increasing cares of an active practice have so fully occupied my time that it seemed to me improbable that I should ever again have time to review the whole work and I concluded that the best thing to do would be to publish it just as I had it, although it might contain many errors and omissions, and leave to some other enthusiastic member of the family the task of finding such flaws and perhaps publishing a better work than this which I now present.

This genealogy has been compiled from gravestones, town records, registries of deeds, the archives of Massachusetts, family Bibles, a manuscript history of the descendants of Josiah Standish in the library of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, and largely from the memory of elderly members of the family, most of whom, I am sorry to say, have not lived to see the publication of this volume. Much valuable information has also been derived from Mr. William T. Davis' excellent work on the "Ancient Landmarks of Plymouth," published in 1883. I have received enthusiastic aid from many members of the family scattered throughout the country. Several have sent me voluminous compilations of their own branches of the family which must have taken months to prepare, and in the hundreds of letters which I have sent asking for information I have received but two discourteous replies.

It would be very difficult for any one who has not undertaken a work of this character to understand the amount of work involved in even a small genealogy. Sometimes the verifying of a single date or marriage necessitated the writing of four or five letters.

In the matter of the spelling of Christian names I have followed that of my informant, unless other information from a different source led me to suspect that an error had been made.

In conclusion I wish to express to every one who has assisted me, whether the facts furnished were few or many, my sincerest thanks.

ABBREVIATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS.

The following abbreviations are used in this book :—

b., born ; m., married ; d., died ; æt., aged ; dau., daughter ; wid., widow ; res., resides, resided, residence ; o. s. p., died without descendants ; s. p., without descendants.

Small figures to the right of name indicate the generation.

The figures to the left of the Roman numerals refer to the paragraph number which will be found over such a name under his own generation.

Maiden surnames have been inserted in parentheses when obtained.

To trace back a pedigree take the number over the name and follow back the Arabic numerals to the left of the Roman numerals in each family until this number is reached, when the same name will reappear ; then take the numeral over his father's name and repeat the process ; and so on.

1

MYLES<sup>1</sup> STANDISH, Plymouth and Duxbury, came in the Mayflower, 1620, with his wife, ROSE, who died January 29, 1621. He is supposed to have been born about 1588. He early became a leading man of the Plymouth Colony. In February, 1621, at a general meeting to establish military arrangements he was chosen captain and vested with the command. He conducted all the early expeditions against the Indians, and continued in the military service of the Colony his whole life. He commanded the Plymouth troops which marched against the Narragansetts in 1645, and when hostilities with the Dutch were apprehended in 1653 he was one of the Council of War of Plymouth and was appointed to command the troops which the Council determined to raise.

He was also prominent in the civil affairs of the Colony. He was many years assistant, that is, one of the governor's council, and when in 1626 it became necessary to send a representative to England to represent the Colonists in their business arrangements with the merchant adventurers, he was selected. He early went to live across the bay from Plymouth, in what is now called Duxbury, and the hill rising abruptly from the waters of Plymouth Bay, upon which he built his house and lived the remainder of his life, has been called Captain's Hill to this day. He died October 3, 1656.

WILL OF MYLES STANDISH.

The Last Will and Testament of Captaine Myles Standish. Gent; exhibited before the Court held att Plymouth, the 4th of May 1657, on the oath of Captaine James Cudworth: and ordered to bee recorded as followeth.

THE STANDISHES OF CANADA.

The Standishes of Canada are descendants of three brothers, Joseph, Robert, and Matthew Standish, sons of John and Susan (England) Standish, of Glenora, near Borris-in-Asseny, Queen's County, Ireland, and James Standish, a nephew of the three brothers. James and his wife, Jane (Ward) Standish, came to Canada in 1820 and settled in Hartley, Ontario, and left a number of descendants. Joseph, Robert, and Matthew emigrated to Canada in 1818, and were Protestants — members of the Church of England. Joseph Standish settled in Eyesing, Ontario, near Toronto, and his children were Thomas, John, Francis, Joseph, Elizabeth, Susanna, Ellen, Mary Charlotte, and Sarah; of these Joseph had six sons and two daughters living in 1887 — one of whom, Joseph G., lived in Windsor, Ontario, and had two sons, Edwin Ernest Emmanuel and Arthur Mervyn. John left two sons and seven daughters. Thomas left three sons and two daughters. Francis left several sons and a daughter. Ira G. Standish, of Toronto, is a grandson of Thomas by his son Joseph Thomas.

Robert and Matthew Standish settled in Rougemont, County of Rouville, P. Q., and a number of their descendants still live in Rougemont, in a little English-speaking neighborhood of some twenty-six families, settled in the midst of the French country. Their genealogy will be found in the following pages.

moved to Seymour and engaged in the livery business, in which he has been quite successful. His business was established in 1886, and he is now the owner of two good stables, and commands a lucrative patronage. He is a member of the I.O.O.F., and he and wife are consistent members of the Baptist Church, and the parents of the following named children: Ida S., Daniel A., Amanda E., Mary E. and William S.

John W. Hubbard, farmer and sheriff of Webster County, Mo., was born near Danville, Mo., August 1, 1830, and is a son of Bird Hubbard, who was a Virginian, and was brought to Missouri in his childhood by his father, William Hubbard, and settled in Montgomery County, of which they were among the pioneers. Bird Hubbard was married in that county to Miss Sultana Grooms, and was engaged in manufacturing tobacco until the breaking out of the war, when he enlisted in a Missouri cavalry regiment, United States army, and served until the close of the war, when he returned to his family and engaged in farming. About 1875 he went to Texas, and located in Eastland County, near Eastland City, where he still resides. His son, John W. Hubbard, resided in his native county until 1890, when he became a resident of Webster County, and two years later moved to Texas, where he spent about one and a half years, since which time he has been residing on his present farm in Webster County, Mo. He is a member of the Republican party, and was elected sheriff of Webster County on that ticket, receiving a handsome majority. On the 8th of June, 1879, he was married to Miss Laura E. Harmon, a daughter of William H. Harmon, of Marshfield, Mo., by whom he is the father of the following family of children: Nellie S., Della Lee, Ella O. and John A.

Dr. William H. James was born in Blount County, Tenn., April 17, 1827, and is the eldest of nine children born to John and Elizabeth H. (Kelly) James, and of Scotch-Irish descent. The paternal grandfather, John James, Sr., was a native Virginian. John and Elizabeth (Kelly) James were both natives of Blount County, Tenn., the former born in 1805, and died in Webster County, Mo., in 1872, and the latter born in 1806, and died in Johnson County, Mo. The father was a farmer by occupation, and in 1837 he and his family immigrated to Missouri, settling in Johnson County, where Dr. William H. James attained his growth. He obtained a good practical education, and in 1844 began the study of medicine in the office of Dr. William Huff, a native of old Kentucky. Later he began the practice of his profession in Johnson County, in 1847, and continued there about two years, when he went to California. He remained on the Pacific slope for twenty years, and during that time was engaged in merchandising, mining and in the practice of his profession. He returned to Missouri in 1869, and settled in Webster County. In 1877 he came to Marshfield, where, in addition to the practice of his profession, he has carried on the drug business, which he still continues, doing a good trade and business. He was married in California, in 1856, to Miss Lucy A. Wade, who was born in Virginia in 1837, and seven children were the result of this union, six of whom are living: John T., a druggist, living in Hamilton, Tex.; Dr. W. C., a graduate of Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., and of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, in New York City (is now located at Springfield, Mo.); Jefferson B., a jeweler at Marshfield; Virginia Lee, Edward and Mary. Dr. James is a Democrat in his political opinions, and cast his first presidential vote for Franklin Pierce. He is one of the leading citizens of Webster County, and is an intellectual, clever gentleman. Mrs. James is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church,
