ENGLAND AND AMERICA

FROM 1538 TO 1876.

PREFACE.

OVER forty years ago the compiler, for his own amusement and with a desire to learn from whence the American family of Talcotts came, collected most of the materials for the earlier part of this pedigree, and from time to time, as occasion offered, has been adding to the same; until it embraces almost all of the descendants from the first known ancestor, and has become a record of interest to all of the name now living, and is worthy of preservation.

The arrangement of names is such as to bring together the descendants through each branch separately, and not to bring down the whole by generations, as is most frequently done. This makes it very easy to trace one of the present generation back to the original ancestor. For this reason the dates of births, marriages and deaths appear first with the names as children, and then as heads of families, and the numbers attached to the names indicate the children first, and then the heads of families.

To make the descent more clear, charts of several branches of the family have been introduced.

The biographical sketches are all authentic, and will be found of interest to the immediate descendants of the one written about, if not to the other members of the family. Those of the descendants of William Talcott, who reside in Illinois, were furnished by the Hon. Wait Talcott, of Rockton, Ill., and that of T. M. R. Talcott, of Richmond, Virginia, by himself; the remainder by the compiler.

The Talcott family is scattered throughout the entire States, and its members differ widely in religion, politics and occupations, and good and true men of the name were found on both sides during the war of the rebellion.

It is almost impossible to compile a record of this kind that shall be free from errors, but it is hoped that the time and care bestowed upon this, will render it less liable to criticism on this account than works of a similar character.

There has been much controversy among the descendants as to the correct way of spelling the name. In the body of the will of the first known ancestor, it is spelt "Taylcot" and "Talcoat;" it is signed "Taylcot." In the will of his wife it is written "Talcoat." In the will of his son John, of Braintree, it is written "Tailecot." In that of John, of Hartford, son of the latter, it is written and is signed "Tallcott," while Dorothy, his wife, signed hers "Talcott." John, the eldest son, made no will, but Samuel, his brother, who was educated at Harvard College, did, and signed his name "Talcott." Gov. Joseph, son of John, and Benjamin, son of Samuel, signed theirs "Talcott." On the English records in the Heralds College, London, the name is spelt "Talcot," as far back as 1558, and in 1634, "Talcott."

The name is derived from the Welch "tal," high, and "cott, cot, cote," Anglo-Saxon, meaning cottage, that is, a high cottage or a cottage on a high place, i. e., cottage on the hill; or it may have come from the Saxon "toll," a grove, and "cott," cottage in the grove.

The proximate date of the assumption of family names was about the year 1000, when they were first taken in Normandy, and gradually extended into England, Scotland and Ireland. They were, however, occasionally hereditary among the Anglo-Saxons, anterior to the Norman conquest, as will be found by examining the "Doomsday Book."

NOTE.

At a "Lady Washington" tea party, given at Hartford, Conn., in April, 1875, among other relics exhibited were many belonging to Mrs. Talcott, widow of Thomas Talcott, Esq., who was the son of the Hon. Samuel A. Talcott, late Attorney-General, of the State of New York, and a descendant of Gov. Joseph Talcott, of Connecticut. A catalogue of which is here given, as it will probably be interesting to all bearing the name of Talcott.

It has on a sliding panel inside, a curious prophecy written in 1766, "Remember July 14, 1766. In 1866 America's fate is fixed." And in Latin the following: "Posterity, beware of 1866. This is prophetic, HEZ. WYLLIS, 1766." The box is covered with figures, carved in relief and is made of some rich dark wood.
4. Silver shoe-buckles, Gov. TALCOTT, 1724.
5. China punch bowl, belonging to HELENA TALCOTT, wife of Rev. Dr. ROBERT BRECK. Inside the bowl is the inscription, "Come my lads and take a drink." 1725.

TALCOTTS IN ENGLAND.

THE family of "Talcot" was originally of Warwickshire, England. JOHN, a descendant from the Warwickshire family, was living in Colchester, Essex county, previous to 1558. In vol. 1137, page 148, of the Harlean Manuscripts, preserved in the British Museum, containing the Herald's visitation of Essex county in 1558, are found the arms and pedigree of the Talcots. In a subsequent visitation in 1634, found in vol. 1634 called "visitations of Essex county," the arms and pedigree are the same, but the name is spelt "Talcott."

The arms are: "Ar. on a pale sa, three roses of the field. Crest. A demi-Griffin erased. Ar. gorged with a collar sa, charged with three roses of the first." Motto, Virtus sola nobilitas.

John Talcott possessed real estate in Colchester and adjacent towns, which, with his personal property, he bequeathed, at his death, to his children and grandchildren. He was twice married, and had two sons by the first wife, JOHN and ROBERT, and also a daughter. JOHN settled in Braintree, about fourteen miles from Colchester, and died there in 1604, before his father, leaving a family of children, all minors, the eldest of whom was JOHN, who came to New England. ROBERT became an alderman and Justice of the Peace in Colchester. By his second wife he had two sons, THOMAS and JOHN, and four daughters. THOMAS was Rector of the churches of St. Mary and Mile End, in Colchester, and chaplain to the Earl Marshall. JOHN, living at the same period with his half-brother JOHN, went to Spain, and was a merchant in Madrid. From JOHN, of Braintree, the Talcotts in America are descended. The five daughters of JOHN of Colchester married and lived in or near Colchester.

TALCOTT FAMILY IN AMERICA.

John, son of (2) John Talcott and Anne Skinner. his wife, was born in Braintree, Essex Co., England, married Dorothy, the daughter of (probably) Mark Mott, Esq., and Francis Gutter, of Braintree, Essex Co., England, and had in England

34 Mary, m. Rev. JOHN RUSSELL, June 28, 1649 ; d. about 1655.

35 John, m. 1st HELENA WAKEMAN, Oct. 29, 1650 ; 2d MARY COOK, Nov. 9, 1676 ; d. July 23, 1688.

John Talcott was left a minor by the death of his father in 1604, and was an only son. The 1st wife of Bagot Eggleston, who came first to Dorchester in 1630, and thence to Windsor, was a MARY TALCOTT, whom he married in England before he came to America.

No other family of the name ever emigrated to this country, and all the TALCOTTS here are descendants of the above-named JOHN, who settled in Hartford, Ct. He first came to Boston, Mass., with others of the Rev. Mr. Hooker's Company in the ship Lion, which sailed from England June 22, 1632, and arrived there on Sunday, Sept. 16, 1632. The following are the names of some of the passengers :

These persons names were taken from an old book of Records of Emigrants found in Westminster Hall, England. The Ship Lion was Commanded by Capt. Mason, and had 128 passengers (amongst whom were 50 children) and they all arrived in good health after a passage of twelve weeks from England.

This company first settled in Newtown, now Cambridge, near Boston. JOHN TALCOTT was admitted a freeman by the General Court at Boston, November 6, 1632; was one of the Representatives in the General Court together with Mr. Goodwin and Mr. Spencer, for Newtown, May 14, 1634.

At a general meeting of the whole town of Newtown, held February 4, 1634, he, and Haynes, Bradstreet, and four others, were chosen Select men of Newtown to do the whole business of the town.

He was the fifth greatest proprietor of houses and lands in the town, out of eighty enumerated in the registry of 1634, "of those only who were considered townsmen."

He owned four houses in the "west end," and maintained and kept in repair, thirty-six rods of public fence.

These are his houses and lands as recorded in the "Newtown Register book, October 5, 1635." In the "West End" his dwelling, out-houses, etc., with $3\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land. In "Old-fields," $3\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land in one piece, and 2 acres in another. In "The Neck," 32 acres in one piece, and 45 in another. In the "Ox Marsh," $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres. In the "Large Marsh," $7\frac{1}{2}$ acres. In the "Great Marsh," $27\frac{1}{2}$ acres in one piece, and 50 acres in another. And in the "Windmill Marsh," 5 acres.

The Rev. Mr. Hooker joined his people in Newtown, and they, becoming dissatisfied with their location, after repeated efforts and much difficulty, obtained permission from the General Court to remove to the Connecticut River. JOHN TALCOTT thereupon sold all his possessions in Newtown to Nicholas Danforth, May 1, 1636, and with about one hundred others left Newtown in June of that year (having first sent the carpenter Nicholas Clark, over the previous year to build him a house, which stood on the ground where the North Church [late Dr. Bushnell's] now stands, and was the first house built in Hartford), led by the Rev. Mr. Hooker, and went on foot, through the wilderness, to the Connecticut River, where they founded the present city of Hartford; here he took an active part in the affairs of the town, was a member of the General Court for many years, and was styled "THE WORSHIPFUL MR. JOHN TALCOTT;" he was one of the committee appointed May 1, 1637, to take into consideration the propriety of a war with the Pequot Indians, and upon whose recommendation a war was accordingly declared. He was one of the Chief Magistrates of the Colony until his death, which occurred at his Mansion at the head of Main Street, in Hartford, in March, 1660. He left by his will his property to his wife and two sons (his daughter having previously died), and grandchildren. He was buried in Hartford, Conn., and his name is inscribed upon the monument erected by the citizens of that place to perpetuate the memory of the founders of the Colony of Connecticut.

Referring to the death of JOHN TALCOTT, the Rev. John Davenport, of New Haven, writes to Governor John Winthrop, Jr., under date of March 29, 1660, "I am sorry for your loss of Mr. TALCOTT, whose decease I heard of, but not how his diseases were found incurable, 'till I received your letter of the 27th, whereby it is most clear to me that no art of man could cure him."

NOTE.—"May 17, 1660, Mr. Bray Rossester, for and in consideration of his pains in coming to and attending MR. TALCOTT in his sickness, was allowed £5, and paid out of the Treasury."

Dorothy Mott, widow of the worshipful Mr. John Talcott, died in Hartford, Ct., February, 1670. She is supposed to have been the daughter of MARK, son of THOMAS and ALICE (MEAD) MOTT, of Braintree, Essex Co., England, who was born April 25, 1549, married Frances Gutter, and had

MARK MOTT died in Braintree, and was buried Dec. 14, 1637.

DOROTHY MOTT, widow of the Worshipful JOHN TALCOTT, made her will in Hartford, Ct., Sept. 22, 1669, which follows below.

As there is no mention made in either the will of John Talcott, or that of his wife, of property possessed by them in England, it is presumed that they disposed of it all before they came to this country, with the exception of the house they lived in in Braintree, which was sold by Mr. Mott, brother of DOROTHY, in the year 1644, by order of her husband.

He came over from England with his parents and sister Mary (who afterwards married the Rev. John Russell) in the ship Lyon, in 1632. He resided in Hartford; was made an ensign in 1650, a captain in 1660; was elected a deputy, or assistant magistrate, of the Colony of Connecticut, before it was joined to New Haven, May 18, 1654, and Treasurer to succeed his father, May 17, 1660, which office he held till 1676. He was one of the patentees named in the Charter of Charles the First, granted to Connecticut April 20, 1662; which document was entrusted to Wyllis, TALCOTT and Allyn for safe-keeping. In 1676, on the breaking out of the Philip war, he resigned the office of treasurer and was appointed to the command of the army with the rank of major, and in June of that year went into the field at the head of the "standing army" of Connecticut, accompanied by 200 Mohigan and "Pequot Indians." In the various battles with the Indians in which he was engaged, he was always victorious, and obtained great renown as an "Indian fighter." Many of his official papers are on record in the Secretary of State's office at Hartford, and are interesting relics of the memorable Philip war. Early in the war he was promoted to the rank of Lieut.-Colonel. In March 1662 the General Court granted to him and to John Allyn 600 acres of upland and 100 acres of meadow land, to be laid out in Hammonaset (Killingsworth).

LT.-COL. TALCOTT died intestate, his property amounting to £2232 3s. 6d., was claimed by his oldest surviving son, Governor JOSEPH TALCOTT, who petitioned the General Court May 15, 1691, to give him possession thereof, which he claimed by right of primogeniture.

Gov. JOSEPH, the eldest of his two surviving sons, settled in Hartford and became the head of the family in that city, and HEZEKIAH, the other son removed to Durham, Ct., and held a prominent position in that town, they were children by different wives.

The old account book belonging to Lt.-Col. TALCOTT, in which he entered a memorandum of early events connected with his father's family, went into the hands of his son-in-law, Capt. Joseph Wadsworth, and was used by him for the same purpose.

It was the custom in those days for each head of a family to keep a parchment covered account book and besides the accounts kept in it, all important events that occurred, births, marriages and deaths of parents and children, state of the weather, crops, etc., were entered in it. In this book of Lt.-Col. TALCOTT's were the following memoranda written by himself.

"My Uncle. Mr. Mott, sold my honored father his house (i. e. my honored father's house) that he lived in in Braintry, old England, per order in the year 1644, my father then living in his house in Hartford." (Mr. Mott was the brother of the first JOHN TALCOTT's wife, Dorothy Mott.)

"The kitchen that now stands on the north side of the house that I live in, that was the first house that my father built in Hartford, in Connecticut Colony, and was done by Nicholas Clark the first winter that any Englishmen rought or built in Hartford, which was in the year 1635. My father and mother and his family came to Hartford in the year 1636, and lived first in said Kitchen, which was first on the west side of the chimney.

The great barn was built in the year 1636, and underpined in the year 1637, and was the first barn that was raised in this colony.

The east end of this house that we live in, and was my father TALCOTT's, deceased, was built with the porch that is, in the year 1638, and the chimneys were built in 1638.

The cowhouse on the north side of the cow yard, now part improved for a corn house, was finished and built in the year 1640.

The house and barn that was in partnership between my father and my Uncle Wadsworth, at Farmington, was finished in the year 1642.

The hay barn standing on the north end of the great barn next Capt. Allyn's garden, was built in the year 1644.

The west end of that house we live in, which was belonging to my Honoured Deceased Father TALCOTT, was built in the year 1645.

The prison house or common Gaol for the Colony, was built in Hartford in the year 1641.

The meeting house or first church built in Hartford, was in the year 1638.

The Pequot war was in the year 1637, at the Englishe's almost first coming to Connecticut."

From another part of the book which had been used by the

Wadsworth family for accounts, is taken the following family record :

Gov. Joseph Talcott is first mentioned in public life as one of a committee to lay out the town of Coventry, in 1711. He was the fourth son, but the eldest who survived his father.

He was the first Governor of Connecticut, born within its limits, and occupied the chair, from 1724 to Oct. 11, 1741, a period of 17 years, longer than any who succeeded him and longer than any of his predecessors, except Gov. Winthrop. His funeral expenses, amounting to £69 12s. 5d., were ordered paid out of the Colonial Treasury. The second son of the Governor, JOSEPH, was Treasurer of the Colony, from 1755 to 1769.

“His wife, EUNICE, died suddenly about noon on Thursday, May 25, 1738. There could be no session of the general assembly without the presence of the Governor or Deputy Governor, the latter was absent attending the Commissioner’s Court, at Norwich, and public business was pressing. Gov. TALCOTT did not suffer his private grief to interfere with his official duty, but returned and presided in the upper house in the afternoon.

A joint committee of both houses was appointed to confer on what might be proper to offer to his Honor on the sudden and painful event. The House also appointed the Speaker, the Clerk and Capt. Samuel Willard to draw an address of condolence to present to the Governor.”

WILL

Of Gov. Joseph Talcott, Dec. 25, 1742.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Joseph Talcott, of Hartford, in the county of Hartford, in the colony of Connecticut, in New England, being of sound mind and memory, thanks be given to God therefor: Calling to mind the mortality of my body, and that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this to be my last Will and Testament, viz.: Principally and first of all I commit my soul to God, that gave it, and my body to the earth, to be buried in a christian, decent manner, at the discretion of my executors hereafter named, and in hopes of a glorious resurrection through the alone merits of Jesus Christ, our exalted Redeemer, and as to my worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me, I do order first that my executors hereafter named, shall pay all my just debts they shall find justly due by law, or that they suppose justly due in consequence: And that they give out of my estate five pounds to such of the poor of the parish that I belong to, viz.: To such as my executors shall think to be most proper objects of our charity.

Item: I do order that each of my children that survive me, shall have given and allowed to them a decent mourning suit of apparel, not to be reconed to them in part of portion.

Item: I do give to my daughter, ABIGAIL WADSWORTH, the chest of drawers that was my first wife's so that it shall not be reconed into her proportion of the estate, I shall hereafter make in this my last Will.

Item: I do further order that my daughters that shall not be disposed of in marriage at my decease, shall have a sufficiency given or allowed to them of all sorts of the provisions necessary and convenient for their support one whole year after my decease, out of the crop on the ground, or grain in the house, and meat also out of my house or stock, and this I order my executors to take care of and not to be charged as portion to my said daughters.

Item: And although I have given my dwelling house and homestead by deed of gift unto my son SAMUEL, I do order that if both or either of my daughters, viz.: JERUSA or HELENA TALCOTT, shall live unmarried until my decease, and after that or either of them, shall have the liberty, free use, and improvement of the south lower room, in my now dwelling house and chamber over it, together with the little lower room adjoining, with the liberty for what room may be necessary for them in the cellars, and such part of the water in well cistern &c. as they may need, and that they or she that does survive as aforesaid shall have two rods square laid out to them in my now garden spot, and south or southerly of the prim hedge, all which they or she so living during the time of being unmarried, and choose to live in said dwelling house shall have free liberty to improve without interruption or molestation, and if my son Samuel refuseth a strict compliance with the aforesaid paragraph, then I do order that he shall have fifty pounds less of my estate than the proportion given him with the rest of my children as in this my will hereafter made and expressed; and that my said daughter or daughters living unmarried as aforesaid and been hindered or molested in her, or their improvement as aforesaid shall have the said fifty pounds so default, out of my son SAMUEL's part, given to said daughter or daughters so living as aforesaid.

Item: I do order that after all the foregoing orders, devises and legacies are ended, complied with and completed that then the remaining part of my whole estate, both real and personal, shall be divided as followeth, viz.: To my eldest son JOHN TALCOTT a part or portion double to the rest of my sons (NATHAN and his children excepted), and to my other sons JOSEPH, SAMUEL and MATTHEW TALCOTT a double part or portion; and to my daughters, ABIGAIL WADSWORTH, EUNICE HOOKER, JERUSHA TALCOTT and HELENA TALCOTT half so much as my three youngest and three last mentioned sons (only excepted the fifty pounds upon Samuel's interruption or hindrance of his sisters that may live unmarried), and this I give to them each and every of them and their heirs forever: And in consideration of the discount of our bills of credit and uncertainty of that currency how they may pass at my decease, I do order and determine that all my lands that I have given by deeds to any of my children in my lifetime, together with what I shall die seized of, shall then after my decease be appraised by freeholders under oath; either Capt. Nathaniel Stanley, Capt. Ozias Pitkin and Capt. William Pitkin, or such others as the court of Probate shall appoint, and I do hereby appoint my three sons, namely, JOHN TALCOTT, JOSEPH TALCOTT, and SAMUEL TALCOTT, or any two of them, executors to this my last Will and Testament hereby revoking and making void all other and former wills, legacies, executors and bequests, only that it is to be understood, that whatsoever hath been given to any of my children before my decease (as part of portion) shall be accounted and reconed to them into their part of the proportion of my estate to them according to the foregoing proposition made in this my last Will: And this and this only to be my last Will.

And in testimony that this only is my last Will and Testament I have hereunto set my hand and seal, the fifth day of May in the year of our Lord God, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirty-Nine.

“John Read died in Boston in 1749. He was the son of Samuel Read and Hopestill Holebrook, of Mendon, and was born about 1673, graduated at H. C. 1697, and was for a time a distinguished preacher at Hartford, Conn., and owner of a large landed estate, which involved him in several law-suits. Thinking he was better calculated for the Forum than the Pulpit, he left the ministry for the law, and practised it in Boston with great success and was ‘unquestionably the greatest lawyer of his time.’ He was a man of great wit and eccentricity of character, which peculiarities have been handed down to his descendants who are numerous in New York, Vermont and the Western States. William, of Albany, and his son Joel, who married Mariana Townsend, are of this family.

Samuel Read, the father of John, was the son of John Read, who came to America in the great fleet of 1630, who was supposed to be son of William Read and Lucy Henage, and brother to William, of Wymouth, and born 1598; was of Wymouth, 1637, Dorchester, 1638, and Braintree, 1643-4, and went with Rev. Mr. Newman to Rehoboth (Attleborough). He was a man of large property for the times, and held various public offices. He lived at what was called the 'Run,' now Seekonk; he married Sarah ——— and had 13 children, of whom Samuel the above was the oldest. Samuel married 1st Hopewell Holbrook in 1668, and 2d Hannah.—John was the fourth child by Hopewell, and born about 1673. His wife Hopewell died Jan. 12, 1706. His 2d wife, Hannah, died Jan. 24, 1717.—”

49.

Rachel, daughter of (35) Lieut.-Col. John Talcott and Mary Cook, was born in Hartford, Ct., Feb. 23, 1681; married Gershom Buckley, of Fairfield. No children.

Gershom Buckley was the son of Peter Bulckley, a Physician, of Fairfield, who died March 25, 1691, in his 49th year. In his will he names daughters Grace and Margaret and son Peter, but not Gershom nor Dorothy, but these two are named in the will of his brother, the Rev. Gershom.

The first of the name that came to this country was Peter, son of Edward Bulkley, D. D., of Odell, England. He was born at Odell, Hundreds of Willey, Bedfordshire, England, Jan. 31, 1583; was bred at St. Johns College, Cambridge; was A. M. 1608. He had a considerable estate from his father; was a moderate non-conformist and succeeded his father in his native parish, when he served at the Altar for 20 years. He came out in the Susan & Ellen in 1635. His wife Grace, æ. 33, appears to have embarked in another ship. He was first of Cambridge, next of Concord, and was installed minister April 6, 1637. He died March 9, 1659. His widow, Grace, removed to New London where she died April 21, 1669. By his first wife Jane, dau. of Thomas Allen, of Goldington, England, he had Edward, bapt. at Odell June 17, 1614; Mary, bapt. Aug. 24, 1615, died an infant; Thomas, born April 11, 1617; Nathaniel, born Nov. 29, 1618, died æ. 9 years; John, born Feb. 17, 1620, H. C. 1642; Mary, again, Nov. 1, 1621, died aged 3 years; probably Joseph, and one or two more.

By Grace, daughter of Sir Richard Chitwood, of England, he had Rev. Gershom, the third ordained minister of Wethersfield, Conn., b. Dec. 6, 1636, at Concord, H. C. 1655; Elizur, b. prob. 1638; Dorothy, Aug. 2, 1640; Peter (father of Gershom, who married RACHEL, dau. of Lieut.-Col. JOHN TALCOTT), b. Aug. 12, 1643.

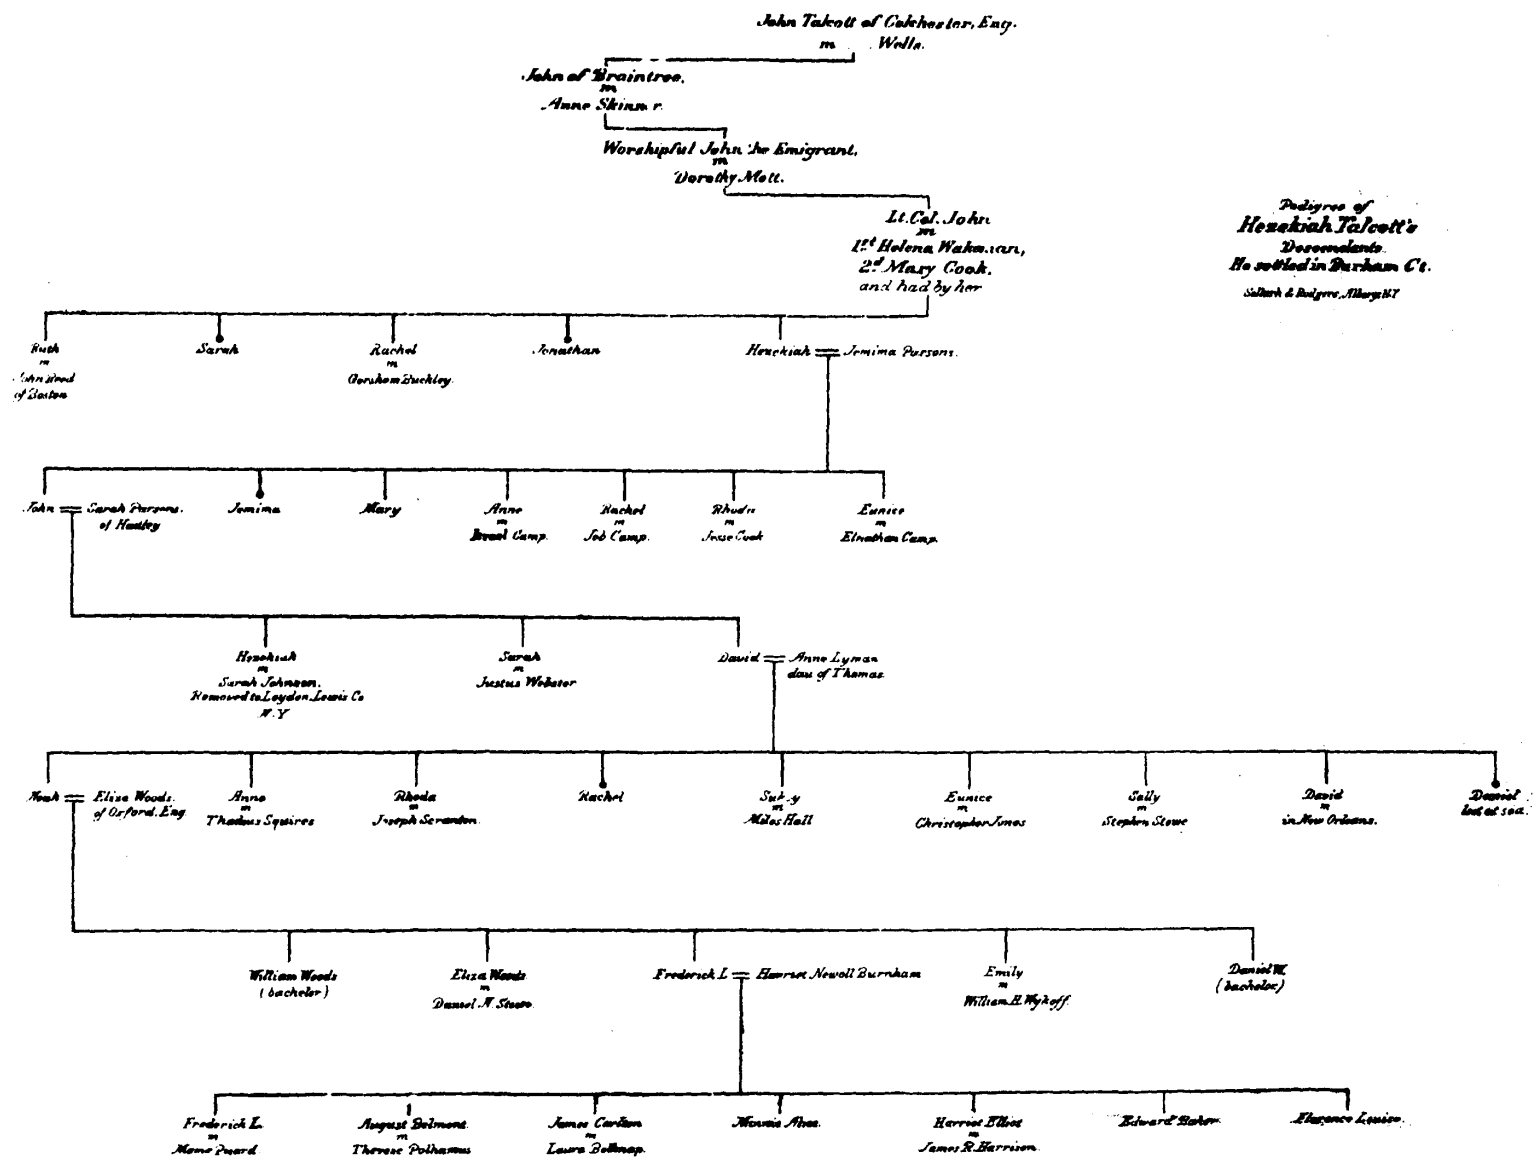

The Rev. Gershom Buckley, brother of the above Peter, was b. Dec. 6, 1636, at Concord, probably; graduated at H. C. 1655; served during the Philip war as chyrurgeon to the Connecticut Army, under Major Treat, and Major JOHN TALCOTT, was wounded in March, 1675.

"He was eminent for his great parts both native and acquired. He was universally acknowledged, besides his good religion and virtue, to be a person of great penetration and sound judgment as well in Divinity as Politics and Physic, having served his country many years successively as a Minister, a Judge and a Physician with great honor to himself and advantage to others." He was settled as the third minister at Wethersfield, 1660. He married Sarah, dau. of Presd't Charles Chauncey, Oct. 24, or 26, 1659, at Concord, Mass. She died June 3, 1699. They had

Catharine, m. Richard Treat, of Wethersfield, Nov. 23, 1704. Dorothy, m. Thomas Treat, of Glastenbury, Jan. 5, 1693. Dr. Charles, m. in New London. Peter, b. about 1664, m. Rachel, dau. of Capt. Rev. Gershom Buckley died Dec. 2, 1713, in Wethersfield, where his monument bears the following inscription:

Noah Talcott died in New York, March 26, 1840. Eliza, his widow, born in Oxford, June 28, 1787; died in New York, Nov. 5, 1866.

The following notice of NOAH TALCOTT is taken from the "Old merchants of New York," page 270.

"How many of the aged of this city, who are rapidly passing away, will remember the venerable NOAH TALCOTT, who passed along Wall street, with a slight stoop. He was mild and gentle as a lamb, yet what a magnificent merchant he had been in his prime of life. He had a brother, DAVID TALCOTT. They were in partnership together. Afterward DAVID went to New Orleans, a large commission merchant, factor, etc., under the firm of TALCOTT & BOWERS. Mr. Bowers was a brother to N. Bowers, now living in Brooklyn, and very rich.

These TALCOTT brothers came from New England. I think they were descended from NOAH TALCOTT, who was from 1724 to 1741, a period of seventeen years, Governor of the Connecticut Colony (evidently a mistake; JOSEPH TALCOTT was Governor, and this NOAH descended from HEZEKIAH, his brother, as seen above).

When the New England Society of the State of New York was formed in this city, in the spring of 1805, for the purpose of friendship, charity and mutual association, among its first members were DAVID and NOAH TALCOTT and GEORGE TALCOTT, Jr. (The latter descended from Capt. SAMUEL TALCOTT, an Uncle of the Governor and a graduate of Harvard College, became a Brigadier-General and Chief of the Ordnance Corps of the U. S. Army.) NOAH TALCOTT was a life member.

In 1798, he formed a partnership with one of the Ellis merchants. The firm was TALCOTT & ELLIS, and their place of business was upon Steven's wharf. In 1809 the firm dissolved, and NOAH TALCOTT established himself as a commission merchant at No. 228 Front street. In 1803 he moved his store to Murray's wharf. That year, March 5, he was married to Miss Woods by Bishop Moore of Trinity Church. Two years after he removed his store to 64 South street and his residence to 'Bowery Hill.'

How soon a smart young son of New England would get into a large business in the olden time. Whenever the old ship 'Joseph' arrived from London, she had a valuable invoice for NOAH TALCOTT. The schooner 'Peggy' traded between this port and Martinique, and belonged to Mr. TALCOTT. The schooner 'Ann Margaret' and the 'Robert Martha' also were owned by him. He was largely in the Holland trade.

In 1810, there was no merchant in New York who was doing as large a business as Mr. TALCOTT.

In 1811, when at No. 64 South street, NOAH took into partnership his brother DAVID, under the firm of N. & D. TALCOTT, and they kept together until 1819. He was alone again till 1825, when he took into partnership a Mr. Lyman and continued till 1827, under the firm of TALCOTT & LYMAN. During the years of 1826 and 1827 the operations of this house in cotton alone were enormous.

In 1831 he opened a cotton broker's office at 58 Wall street. How well the venerable old gentleman was known in this city at that period of his history, now nearly thirty-five years ago. He had a gentle way with him that commanded deep esteem.

I ought to mention that Mr. TALCOTT was one of the best judges of cotton in the city of New York. In 1834 he took into partnership in his large business, his son FREDERICK L. TALCOTT, and the firm became NOAH TALCOTT & SON, and so continued until 1839 (1840) when the fine old gentleman died. The house is still kept up under the firm of TALCOTT BROTHERS.

It is a good old race these TALCOTTS and creditable to the city. They are a regular breed of merchants, honorable and worthy of the good old founder."

WILL

Of Joseph Talcott, son of Governor JOSEPH, Nov. 26, 1780.

IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN. I, JOSEPH TALCOTT, of Hartford, in the county of Hartford, and State of Connecticut, being advanced in years, yet of good health of body and of sound mind and memory do make and ordain this to be my last Will and Testament, disposing of my temporal estate as follows, viz.: I appoint my only son, JOSEPH TALCOTT, Jr., to be my sole executor of this my last Will and Testament, desiring him to discharge all my just debts out of the debts due to me from many persons or otherwise if he thinks proper.

Imprimis: I give and bequeath to my said son and to his heirs and assigns forever, all my lands and buildings in said Hartford, with this proviso that he pay the several legacies hereinafter given to my daughters. Also I give him, my said son JOSEPH, all my team tackling, as carts, plows, harrows, yokes and chains, and every other tool or implement belonging to husbandry farming. Also my silver hilted sword and belt, and my silver tankard; my guns or fire arms, my wearing apparel and buckles or buttons of every kind and sort; and the legacies hereafter in this will that is not made up to them in my life time, shall be paid at the rate of silver as six shillings and eight pence per ounce or six shillings to a silver dollar or an equivalent thereto.

Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter, MARY CHURCH, and to her heirs and assigns forever, the goods and household furniture which she had provided for her at the time of her marriage with Mr. Joseph Church, amounting according to my account, to the sum £75 6s. 9d., and to her husband, Mr. Joseph Church, and to my said daughter one note of hand for money said Mr. Church borrowed, the principal being £19 4s., the interest at six per cent amounting to the sum of £20 15s. 4d., to September, 1776. And I also have given my said daughter MARY a deed of my land in the township of Hartland, in the county of Litchfield, being about 70 acres, which I value to her at 10s. per acre amounting to the sum of £35, all which sums amount to the sum of one hundred and fifteen pounds and six shillings lawful money. I also give to my said daughter MARY, the sum of fifty-four pounds fourteen shillings lawful money to be paid to her by my executor out of executions the said Joseph Church had to collect, or as my said executor may think proper, amounting for her portion in the whole to one hundred and seventy pounds lawful money. In the above account there was six silver spoons which said MARY had not charged to her, the value of which must be subtracted out of what is given her.

Item: To my daughter ESTHER RUSSELL, the wife of the Reverend Noadiah Russell, I have already given her by my amount at her marriage with the said Mr. Russell, the sum of £101 0s. 9d. I also lent to the said Mr. Russell in hand money, £24, for which he gave me his note on interest at 6 per cent to September, 1776, amounted to £24 9s. 6d. I also give her and her heirs out of my estate the sum of twenty pound ten shillings more to be paid her by my executor which makes her full portion of one hundred and seventy pounds.

Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter ABIGAIL CALDWELL, which she received of me about the time of her marriage with Mr. George Caldwell in household furniture to the amount of forty-nine pounds, seventeen shillings and three pence. I have already given by deed of gift to my said daughter ABIGAIL the one-half of my rights of land in the township of Winchester, in the county of Litchfield, which half of said rights so given contains about 95 acres more or less at ten shillings per acre amounts to the sum of forty-seven pounds ten shillings lawful hard money, making with said household furniture, ninety-seven pounds, seven shillings and three pence. I also give her the sum of seventy-two pounds twelve shillings and nine pence in moveable estate which in all makes one hundred and seventy pounds, being her full portion of my estate.

Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter SUSANNA TALCOTT and to her heirs and assigns forever, the sum of twenty-one pound nine shillings and six pence as part of her portion which she has already received in money, and also I have given her a deed of the one-half of my aforesaid Winchester land which I value to her at forty-seven pounds ten shillings, both of which sums amounts to sixty-eight pounds nineteen shillings and six pence. I also give to my said daughter SUSANNA, one hundred and one pounds and six pence, which will make her portion to amount to one hundred and seventy pounds lawful money to be paid her out of my moveable estate, or by my executor as he or my said daughter may agree; and whereas my said daughter, SUSANNAH, hath taken a great deal of care of her mother, deceased, and of me in my advanced age, as a recompence for her extraordinary trouble, I give to her one good feather bed, which she shall choose, and under bed and bolster, two pillows and cases, bedstead and rope, and one pair of curtains and Vallance, and two good coverlids for said bed, and all my silver spoons and silver pepper box and tea tongs, and ten pounds in money. I also give to my said daughter, SUSANNA, one middling cow to her dispose; ordering my executor to pasture said cow in summer and provide stover for said cow in winter yearly, and give the same to said cow yearly so long as the said SUSANNA remains a single woman and lives in Hartford, and also her mother's clothes and what linen cloth of any denomination whatever belongs to my estate at my decease, I give the same to my said daughter SUSANNA, as sheets, table cloths, napkins, towels, etc.; I also give to my said daughter the privilege of living in one of the lower rooms in my dwelling-house, either the east or the west and which she shall choose, with the chamber over said room so long as she remains unmarried, and a small privilege in my cellar sufficient for her use, and also the privilege of a piece of my garden the north side thereof, two rods wide of the north side, for her improvement during the time she remains single, and provided my said son, JOSEPH, should refuse to let my said daughter, SUSANNA, live in my house as aforesaid, then in lieu thereof, I give and bequeath to the said SUSANNA one piece of land in said Hartford, and called the "Richards lot," being two acres and a small piece of land near the "Meadow Bridge," butting westerly on the creek for her improvement during her life, and if the debts due to me, and any moveable estate be not sufficient to discharge my debts and legacies given by this Will, then I order my said son to pay the same out of what I have given him.

And when my executor has paid and discharged my debts and funeral expenses, and the legacies to my said several daughters given them by this Will, all the rest and residue of my estate, whether real or personal wheresoever it may be, shall be and remain to him, his heirs and assigns forever.

In witness of the foregoing, I have hereunto set my hand and seal in Hartford this 16th day of September, A. D. 1779.

Signed, sealed and declared by the testator to be his last Will in the presence of us witnesses.

Now, before signing, whereas I have counted to the aforesaid SUSANNA and ABIGAIL, my daughters, my land in Winchester, and counted only on two ninety-five acre lots, since which time there is laid out a third ninety-five acre lot to me or them, the said SUSANNA and ABIGAIL, and the taxes on said lands increasing annually, I therefore hereby give and confirm unto them the said SUSANNA and ABIGAIL, their heirs and assigns forever, the last lot of ninety-five acres laid out in said Winchester to me or them.

In witness that this is my last Will and Testament, I have hereunto signed, sealed and declared the same to be my last Will and Testament, this 26th day of November, A. D. 1780, in the 5th year of our independence.

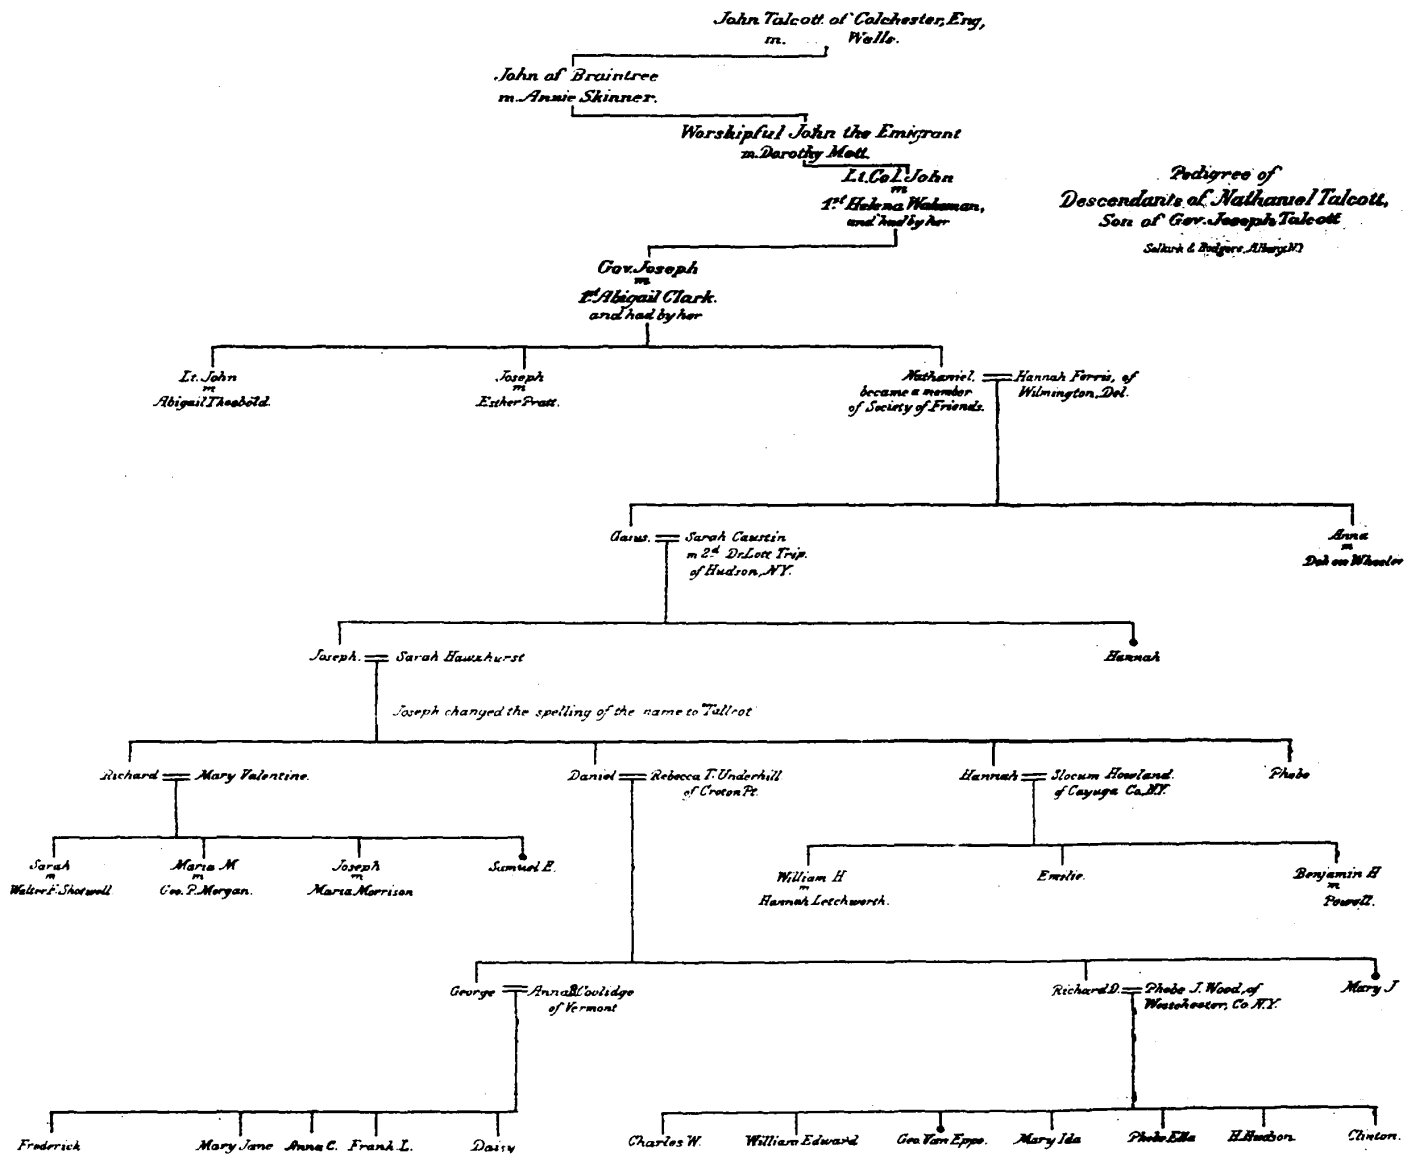

J. TALCOTT, a seal.

Col. SAMUEL TALCOTT was graduated at Yale College in 1733; was Sheriff, Col. and Esq., and a very rich man. His will mentions only Samuel, Mary Watson and Jerusha. Mabel Wyllys, his wife, was the daughter of Hezekiah Wyllys, of Hartford (who was Secretary of the Colony), and Elizabeth, daughter of the Rev. Jeremiah Hobert, his wife, and was born in 1713.

Peters, in his veracious history of Connecticut, states that, "when the Episcopalians began the erection of the first church of that denomination in Hartford, in 1762, SAMUEL TALCOTT raised a mob which destroyed the foundation, and afterwards took the stones and used them in building his own house." Though Col. TALCOTT had nothing to do with the mob, yet he did purchase the stones of a man who had no right to sell them, and then used them, thereby gaining the ill-will of the churchmen.

In 1786 the Episcopalians again commenced building a church edifice, and when the ceremony of laying the corner stone took place, one of the chief men urged another to make some remarks, whereupon he stood up and said: "I lay the corner-stone of the first Episcopal Church in Hartford, and SAM. TALCOTT and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Hezekiah Wyllys, grandson of Gov. George Wyllys, was born April 3, 1672; was Secretary of State from 1711 to 1734, and died in 1741. Doctor Daniel Lathrop died in Norwich, 1782. “Madam” Lathrop, his widow, died in Norwich, Sept., 1805.

Doctor Daniel Lathrop was descended from the Rev. John Lothrop, of Barnstable, 1634, through Samuel, of Norwich, 1670. He was graduated at Yale College, in 1733; went to London, England, where he studied medicine for several years. On his return he brought with him a large quantity of medicines, and was the first druggist in Norwich, and probably the first in Connecticut. He furnished a part of the stores for the northern army in the French war. He took into partnership his younger brother, Joshua, who was graduated at Yale College in 1743, under the firm of the Bros. Lathrop; with them began the change of the orthography of the name. In 1776, the name of the firm was changed to Lathrop & Coit. Doctor Daniel had “three precious sons cut down like flowers of the field, almost at a single sweep of the scythe, before the oldest had attained the age of four years.” This was all the offspring they had. Madam Lathrop long mourned the Doctor and was regarded with universal esteem. “The early childhood of the gifted daughter of Norwich, Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, was passed under the roof of this excellent lady. Having lost her own children in their infancy, she lavished all her maternal affection on this child of her heart, who repaid her tenderness with filial veneration and has embalmed her memory in hallowed verse. Mrs. Sigourney was the daughter of Ezekiel Huntley, was born Sept. 1, 1791; m. Charles Sigourney, of Hartford, June 16, 1819."

Dr. Daniel and Joshua Lathrop were of the fourth generation of the name in Norwich, sons of Thomas, who died May 25, 1774, æ. 93. They had one sister who married Joseph Coit, of New London. Dr. Joshua died in 1807.

"Doctor Daniel, in common with others, wore a white wig and cocked hat. He rode to meeting in a yellow chaise with a red morocco top, with a negro driver in front, his dignified companion, the daughter of Gov. TALCOTT, sitting by his side."

Hon. SAMUEL A. TALCOTT was graduated at Williams College in 1809, at the age of 19 years; went to Lowville, Lewis Co., in 1812, where he spent three or four years, and from thence to Utica, N. Y. He was appointed Attorney-General of the State of New York, Feb. 12, 1821, before he was thirty, and on the expiration of his term of office renominated by the Governor and confirmed by a unanimous vote of the Senate. "He was second in talent and ability to no man who ever held that office, unless it be Alexander Hamilton." He held the office for eight years.

At the opening of the Supreme Court on Monday morning, March 21, 1836, the death of the late SAMUEL A. TALCOTT was announced by H. R. Storrs, Esq., whereupon the court, after a feeling and eloquent address by Chief-Justice Jones, as a mark of respect to the memory of Mr. TALCOTT, without proceeding to business, adjourned to the next morning.

At a meeting of the members of the New York Bar, held at the Supreme Court Room, in the City Hall of New York, on the 21st March, 1836,

"It was resolved, unanimously, that this meeting have heard with deep regret and sympathy of the death of SAMUEL A. TALCOTT, Esq., late Attorney-General of this State, that in the brilliant course of his professional life, they find much to shed honor not only upon his own name but upon the State to which he belonged, and the Bar whose reputation he elevated; that his distinguished talent, profound learning and finished scholarship have rarely been equaled and never been surpassed at the Bar of this State.

"Resolved, That as a mark of respect for his memory we will attend his funeral this afternoon, and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to his family and published in the newspapers."

SAMUEL JONES, Chairman.

CHARLES GRAHAM, Secretary.

Never probably did a young man come to the bar in this or any other State of the Union with higher qualifications for the profession, and he very soon assumed a station among those deservedly at its head. He had a force of learning, acuteness of reasoning, and power of argument worthy of one of the proudest intellects of the age, and against which few could successfully contend.

D., called the "Polytechny;" the idea that the college curriculum was behind the times, and that more attention should be given to the natural sciences and modern languages, was just beginning to prevail, and led to the establishment of the institution referred to. He was for several years one of the most prominent practitioners at the bar in Buffalo, N. I will that all my just debts be well and truly paid by my Executors.

Imprimis. I give and bequeath to my beloved Wife, the sum of four score pounds out of my moveable estate at inventory price, or in money if my executors shall think best, excepting what my said Wife bro't with her, which my mind and will is that she shall have it back again at inventory price as part of the said four score pounds — what may be found left of it — and the use of the parlor room in the house in which I now dwell, and a convenient part of the cellar underneath it and the garret room that is over it, and the use of my ovens, and the use of such a part of my gardens as may be necessary for her own comfort, and the use of one-third part of my orchard on the west side of the highway on the lot on which I now dwell, with the use of one-third part of all the rest of my land on that side of said highway down to the great river.

It is to be understood that my said wife is to have the use of the said house and land, no longer than she remains my widow.

I give and bequeath unto my son, BENJAMIN, all my right of lands in the towns of Bolton, and one hundred and twenty-four acres of land in the town of Hebron, which I bought of Joseph and John Phelps, of said Hebron, with what I have already given to my said son as may appear by my book of accompts.

I give to my son, JOHN, all the rest of my lands in the said town of Hebron, particularly that tract of land in said Hebron lying west of Jacob Root's land, containing three hundred acres, and that half hundred acres of land in said Hebron, I bought of Ashel Owen, lying northward of Richard Curtis; and one yoke of steers coming four years old, and ten pound out of my moveable estate, besides what I have already given, as appears by my book of accompts, and fifteen pounds money to be paid by my son, ELIZUR, at or before he, my said son ELIZUR, arrives at the age of twenty-one years.

I give and bequeath unto my son, SAMUEL, the one-half of the lot of land I now dwell upon, on the south side, and one hundred and fifty-three acres of land lying within the bounds of Glastenbury, beyond Black ledge river adjoining to Hebron bounds, and the one-half of my undivided lands in said Glastenbury; and my Smith-shop and all my smithery tools (excepting any I shall give to my son JOHN), and my longest gun and the one-half of my present team, and team tackling, as collars, harness, chains, cart and wheels, plows and harrows.

I give and bequeath unto my son, ELIZUR, the other half the lot of land I now dwell upon on the north side, with the buildings thereon (excepting Smith-shop) and sixty acres of land lying in Glastenbury, eastwardly of and adjoining the lands of the heirs of the Rev. Mr. Stevens, deceased, at the place called the Ash Swamp, and ninety-six acres of land in said Glastenbury, lying eastward of the great or bare hill adjoining southwardly to lands of Samuel Loveland, and the other half of all my undivided lands in said Glastenbury, and my newest gun, and the other half of my team and team tackle, as above mentioned, he my said son, ELIZUR, paying to my said son, JOHN, the sum of fifteen pounds money as above mentioned.

And further my mind and will is that all the woolen cloth and one piece of linen of about forty yards, that is now about to weave, which my wife has made or shall make this present year, be disposed of to my Wife and to my Children unmarried, as my Wife thought to do in my life-time.

I give to my said sons, SAMUEL and ELIZUR, all the fences that are erected upon the lot of land I now dwell upon as they stand upon the parts of land given them, and all the rest of the fencing stuff I have now prepared to set up.

All the aforementioned lands, goods, chattels and sums of money as they are respectively given to my four sons, BENJAMIN, JOHN, SAMUEL and ELIZUR, I do give it to them, their heirs and assigns forever; and if it should please God to take away by death any of my said sons before they legal^y dispose of their said lands, or have any issue, my mind and will is that his part of lands shall be equally divided among the rest of my surviving sons.

I give my daughter, SARAH, one hundred pounds in or as money, with what I have given to her as appears in my book of accompts. It is to be understood that what my said daughter has had as is upon book as aforesaid, is to be part of said hundred pounds, and the remaining part to be paid in convenient season after my decease.

I give to my daughter, HANNAH, one hundred pounds and a decent suit of clothes or ten pounds money, the whole to be paid her out of my moveable estate or in money, in convenient season after my decease.

I give to my daughter, MERTABEL, one hundred pounds and a decent suit of clothes or ten pounds money, the whole to be paid her out of my moveable estate or in money, when she shall arrive at the age of eighteen years, or her day of marriage which shall happen first, and she to have the income or profit of her part, if any there be, immediately after my decease. In case that either of my said daughters, HANNAH or MEHTABEL, shall die before marriage, my mind and will is that her estate, so dying, shall be legally divided between her surviving sisters.

And in case there should not be moveables enough found at my decease to pay the legacies given in this my will, my mind and will is that my said sons, SAMUEL and ELIZUR, pay their equal proportions of what is wanting at or before my son, ELIZUR, comes to the age of twenty-one years; that is to say, my said sons, SAMUEL and ELIZUR, shall pay the whole of what shall be wanting out of their estates without the rest of their brethren; and in case my moveable estates should amount to more than to pay the legacies given in this my will, my mind and will is that it be equally divided among all my seven children.

I do appoint my sons, JONATHAN HALE and BENJAMIN TALCOTT, to be my Executors, to see that this my will be truly performed; and in confirmation of this my last will and testament, in every part of it, I hereunto set my hand and seal this thirteenth day of October, in the first year of the reign of King George the second, Anno Domini 1727.

He was early elected Deacon of the Second Congregational Church, of Coventry, and held the office until Dec. 8, 1822, and it speaks much for the care with which he trained his family to say that three of his sons became deacons of the same church, and a fourth son was a clergyman, and a daughter became the wife of a deacon in the first parish of the same town. He settled his sons upon farms from his own acres, and like Job of old he gave his daughters "inheritance among their brethren." He died as he had lived in the Christian faith.

Ellsworth and Professor S. F. B. Morse, of telegraphic fame. After teaching a year at Newcastle, Me., he entered Andover Theological Seminary and remained there three years. During the next two years he preached at various places in Connecticut, Massachusetts and New York, and for a part of the time was under the direction of the Connecticut Home Missionary Society, of which he was the first missionary. He was ordained Oct. 23, 1816, pastor of the First Congregational Church, in Chatham (now Portland), Ct., where he remained until his death, a period of ~~about~~ fifty years. He was able to discharge all the duties of this office until within five years of his death, when he requested to be relieved somewhat and a colleague was appointed. He furnished an excellent example of those ministers of whom New England has produced so many, characterized by prudence, fidelity and the ability to grow with their parishes, so that they spent their days over one church. Mr. TALCOTT's characteristics were a sincere and childlike piety, an unvarying devotion to his work, a well-balanced and clear head, a genial and kindly manner, an unusual discreetness of conduct, and before all men a blameless life. All these qualities combined to make him greatly loved and honored in Portland, and his pastorate was long and successful. It is a striking proof of his prudence that though his church was rent by many dissensions during his pastorate, he retained the respect and confidence of every one, almost without an exception. As a preacher he was earnest, pointed, instructive and scriptural. He could never be called brilliant, but had those qualities of a speaker that wear well. Personally he always gave one the idea of a high-toned christian gentleman. His piety was apparent, but not obtrusive, and his presence was always attractive to young and old, and yet an air of godliness about him was sufficient to keep improprieties and wrong-doing at a distance without a word of rebuke. In his family he was greatly loved, and he gave example as well as precept in keeping a "well-ordered christian household."

Capt. William Talcott died at Rockton, Ill., Sept. 2, 1864. DOROTHY BLISH, his widow, is living at Rockton, in 1876.

Capt. WILLIAM TALCOTT emigrated with his family to Rome, Oneida Co., N. Y., in 1810, where they remained till 1837.

During the war of 1812 to 1815, the militia of Oneida county was called out and stationed at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., under the command of Gen. Winfield Scott, at which time he held a lieutenant's commission in a company which belonged to the 157th Regiment of the Militia of the State.

In 1835, together with his oldest son, THOMAS B., he explored what was then the "great west," making the trip with a horse and buggy (it being prior to the age of railroads), and selected a location at the junction of the Rock and Pecatonica rivers, the place was known as Rockton, Winnebago Co., Ill., to which place he moved his family in 1837. Erected mills, which were for a long time the pioneer mills of the country and did the custom grinding for a large section of the surrounding country, customers coming with their grists from Fort Winnebago, about 120 miles.

Always anxious to lay good foundations for the religious interests of society, early after the arrival of his family, on the 23d of March, 1838, he assisted in organizing the first Congregational Church there, consisting of fourteen members, of which five were of the TALCOTT family, Mr. WILLIAM TALCOTT, Mrs. DOROTHY TALCOTT, Miss HARRIET N. TALCOTT, Miss PRUDENCE H. TALCOTT and Mr. WALTER H. TALCOTT. Some years afterward, when the church had increased so as to build a meeting-house, he gave the society a bell.

On the records of the church for June 12, 1855, is found the following:

"On motion Resolved, that for the donation of a bell by WILLIAM TALCOTT, he is entitled to the thanks of this church and society, and the clerk is hereby directed to enter this resolution upon the records."

Subsequently at a town-meeting a vote of thanks was also passed, and it was ordered that his name be inscribed on the bell at the expense of the town.

He was identified with the anti-slavery movement from the first, and when it assumed a political organization, and at the great National Convention of the Liberty Party, at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1844, nominated James G. Birney for the Presidency, and was one of seven who voted the ticket in the county of Winnebago, Ill., which, in 1860, was the banner county of the United States, giving a larger per cent of its vote for the lamented Lincoln than any other county.

Maj. Thomas B., son of (1524) Capt. William Talcott and Dorothy Blish, was born at Hebron, Ct., April 17, 1806, married Sophia E., daughter of Asa Willard and Lucy Whiting (b. at Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y., Nov. 11, 1824), June 5, 1843, and had 1535 (Infant son), b. July 22, 1849, at Rockton; d. July 25, 1849.

Maj. Thomas B. Talcott emigrated to Horseheads, Chemung Co., N. Y., in 1831, where he was engaged in mercantile pursuits, from thence he removed to what is now called Rockton, Winnebago Co., Ill., in 1835, when the country was comparatively a wilderness, with the Winnebago Indians for neighbors. At that time there were not more than half a dozen families in the territory that is now represented by Winnebago, Boone and the east half of Stephenson counties. Chicago was a small village and all of the north half of the State was included in one congressional district. The representative in congress for which resided in Springfield, and from thence started out among the new settlements looking up his constituents.

Major TALCOTT was elected one of the first county commissioners, and together with William E. Dunbar and Simon P. Doty, organized the county of Winnebago, including the territory as stated above, on the first day of August, 1836. He was elected to the State Senate in the fall of 1849, and represented Winnebago, Boone and McHenry counties four years, during which time the Illinois Central Railroad was chartered, which at the time was one of the longest railroads under one direction in the country.

Mrs. SOPHIA E. TALCOTT, wife of Maj. THOMAS B., is a descendant of the Rev. Samuel Whiting, D. D., and Elizabeth St. John, his wife, who came to America in 1636, and through whom her genealogy is traced back to William the Conqueror in two distinct lines.

Elizabeth Anna, the wife of Dea. WAIT TALCOTT, died at Rockford, Ill., Aug. 7, 1873.

Dea. WAIT TALCOTT went to Rome, N. Y., with his parents in 1810, when three years old, and remained there till he was eighteen years of age, and then went into a store at Booneville, Oneida Co., N. Y. After a few years apprenticeship he commenced business at Utica, N. Y. He remained there till 1830, and then removed to the village of Horseheads, Chemung Co., N. Y., and engaged in mercantile pursuits, where he resided at the time of his marriage, in 1834. In 1837, he closed his business in that place and emigrated to Illinois in the fall of 1838, and reached Rockton, Winnebago, Co., on the 12th of October, having made the trip from New York State with his family in a two horse covered emigrant wagon in six weeks, passing through Chicago which then had probably 3,500 or 4,000 inhabitants.

On the 5th of Dec., 1838, his family united by letter from the First Presbyterian Church, at Horseheads, N. Y., with the First Congregational Church, at Rockton.

At this time the anti-slavery agitation was coming up to its great work, and Dea. TALCOTT having been identified with it from its first start, was prepared to take some action upon it. A few years later in his church, as shown by the records, "Jan. 2, 1844, at a church meeting held pursuant to notice, the following resolutions presented by WAIT TALCOTT were discussed and carried over for further consideration at the next monthly meeting. They were considered at two or three monthly meetings, and finally adopted by a nearly unanimous vote.

"1st. Resolved, That American slavery is unjust and cruel to the slave and detrimental to the master, is productive of unmixed evil to the country, is a great sin in the sight of God and ought to be abolished.

2d. Resolved, That immediate emancipation is nothing more than the application of the principles of Christianity to the sin of slavery, that a profession in the belief of those principles demands a practical opposition to that system of slavery which disgraces our land.

3d. Resolved, That we will not invite a slaveholder to our communion table, nor would we wish our Pastor to invite a slaveholder to the pulpit.

4th. Resolved, That these resolutions be signed by the moderator and clerk, and forwarded to the New York Evangelist and Western Citizen for publication."

Dea. WAIT TALCOTT, on the 4th of March, 1854, went into the manufacture of the "J. H. Manny combined Reaper and Mower," at Rockford, Ill., in connection with J. H. Manny, the patentee, and SYLVESTER TALCOTT, his brother, under the firm name of J. H. Manny & Co. In the autumn of 1854, he was elected to the State Senate, representing the counties of Winnebago, Boone, McHenry and Ogle for the term of four years. By his official position he was brought into acquaintance and friendship with the Hon. Abraham Lincoln, who was a candidate for the United States Senate at the session of the Illinois Legislature, in 1855, and for whom was carried the anti-slavery vote in solid body, until he said to his friend, Judge Logan, "you must drop my name for you cannot ballot more than three or four times more without electing Gov. Mattison." His friends acting on his suggestion, Judge Trumbull was elected on the second ballot thereafter.

In the fall of 1854, a new Reaper Company was formed under the name of Manny & Co., Ralph Emerson, Jr., and Jesse Blinn becoming partners. Soon after this the company was sued by Cyrus H. McCormick, of Chicago, under the charge of infringing his reaper patents. The litigation was long and very thorough, so much so that Justice McLean of the United States Supreme Court said of it after it was finished, "that he had never known a case so thoroughly litigated since he had been on the bench." It was also very expensive, costing the company over $75,000. Peter H. Watson, formerly of Rockford, Ill., was their attorney, having charge of the case, and Edwin M. Stanton, then of Pittsburgh, Pa., and George Harding, of Philadelphia, Pa., were the associate counsel, assisted at the first trial, at Cincinnati, before Justice McLean and Judge Drummond, by the Hon. Abraham Lincoln, of Springfield, Ill.

The case was finally decided by the Supreme Court in favor of Manny & Co. Three of the lawyers employed by them, who met for the first time in this suit, and but for it might never have known each other, Abraham Lincoln, Edwin M. Stanton and Peter H. Watson, were put in high places of power. The immortal Lincoln was called to the Presidential Chair, whose sagacity selected the most wonderful War Minister of the world, Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, to take charge of the War Department, who would not accept the office unless provision was made for Mr. Watson to help him, and so Congress made a place such as there never has been in the history of our government for Mr. Watson, to occupy, that of Assistant Secretary of War.

Mr. Stanton while battling in the McCormick suit, when consulted in regard to a compromise said, "I know of but one way to compromise, that is with a sword in your hand and smite and keep smiting," thus exhibiting one of the very elements of the great War Minister he was destined to become.

Manny & Co. paid the Hon. Abraham Lincoln, in the McCormick case, a retaining fee of $1,000, which Mr. Lincoln said was the largest retainer he had ever received, which enabled him to stump the State of Illinois with Stephen A. Douglas, and laid the foundation for his election to the Presidency.

After the Internal Revenue Bureau was established, Mr. Lincoln, entirely unsolicited, decided to give Dea. TALCOTT the appointment of Collector for the second district of Illinois, and communicated the fact to him in a letter of which the following is a copy :

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, August 27, 1862. }

Hon. WATT TALCOTT :

MY DEAR SIR: I have determined to appoint you Collector. I now have a very special request to make of you, which is that you will make no war upon Mr. Washburne, who is also my friend of longer standing than yourself. I shall even be obliged if you can do something for him if occasion presents.

Yours truly,

A. LINCOLN.

After receiving this and previous to the appointment (which bears date Aug. 28, 1862, and the commission by letters-patent March 4, 1863), Dea. TALCOTT was in Washington, and Mr. Lincoln voluntarily gave him a card of introduction to the Secretary of the Treasury and Commissioner of Internal Revenue, of which the following is a copy :

MR. SEC. OF TREASURY AND COM. OF REVENUE :

Please see Mr. TALCOTT, one of the best men there is, and, if any difference, one they would like better than they do me.

A. LINCOLN.

August 18, 1862.

Mr. WATT TALCOTT's relations with the lamented and martyred Lincoln, from his first acquaintance till his death, were those of a very enjoyable friendship. At the time of the assassination of the President, Mr. TALCOTT was on his way to Washington and reached there in time to attend his funeral from the Executive Mansion. He was in the procession to the Capitol, having been appointed by the citizens of Illinois who were present, one of the mourners to represent the State in the funeral ceremonies.

At the breaking out of the Rebellion, he was quite past the age fixed by law for the draft, but when the pressure for men came, and the government passed a law allowing persons to be represented by substitutes who would stand in their places and be designated by their names, he paid a large bounty to Charles H. Redington, a soldier who had already served out a three years enlistment, and who returned as his representative and filled a place for him until the close of the war. Redington was a soldier in the 45th Illinois Cavalry, which pursued Booth after the assassination of the President, to where he crossed the Potomac and was taken. The certificate of the government for this representative service in the war, signed by Gen. James B. Fry, Provost Marshal General, is carefully preserved as evidence of deep interest in this wonderful chapter of the world's history.

From evidence lately discovered it is claimed that the wife of the Hon. WART TALCOTT descended from the glorious old martyr, Archbishop Cranmer, who, in 1556, perished bravely in the flames during the persecution of Bloody Mary.

Reaper Institution, at Rockford, becoming a member of the firm (which was changed to Emerson & Co., in 1860), when twenty-one years of age, and has continued in the business since that time.

Being a resident of the Banner county of the United States, the county that gave the largest per cent of its vote for Mr. Lincoln, at the election of 1860, of course its quota of soldiers was furnished without any draft.

When the law was passed allowing representatives to be sent to the war, he paid a bounty to Gideon V. Carr, a returned soldier, who re-enlisted as his substitute 1570 Melissa W., b. Nov. 6, 1842.

Sylvester Talcott remained at Rome, Oneida Co., N. Y., during his minority ; when he became of age he removed to Horseheads, Chemung Co., N. Y., where he engaged in mercantile business.

In 1836 he moved to what was then the far west, accompanying his parents, brothers and sisters, and located in the Illinois Prairie country at the junction of Rock and Pecatonica rivers, afterward known as Rockton, Winnebago Co., Ill. In connection with his father and brothers he took up the wild lands of the government and built mills, carried on farming, etc. He was elected Justice of the Peace at the first organization of civil government in the new country, and as the records show acted as the ministerial officer in the marriage of the first couple that were married in Winnebago county. For several years he was elected Supervisor of the town of Rockton. He united with the Congregational Church, of Rockton, about 1850, and was elected trustee for several years.

In 1854 he was interested in the manufacture of the Manny Reaper and Mower Co., and involved with them in the lawsuit with Cyrus McCormick, which resulted in their favor. 1579 Frank Austin, b. May 21, 1856.

Walter Henry Talcott died at Rockton, Ill., Dec. 9, 1870. He went to Illinois in Oct., 1835, and located at the junction of Rock and Pecatonica rivers, he traveled on foot through the then almost uninhabited country west of the lake, and was obliged to camp out two nights on the way. After dark the first night found a cornfield where the corn had been cut up and "stooked," supposing he was near some house, he hallowed but heard no response, he encamped for the night in one of the "stooks" of corn. In the morning he found the house quite near, but there being only women in the house who were afraid, they did not reply to his call the night before. The next night he encamped near where Beloit, Wis., is located. Chicago was for a long time the nearest post-office, and the customary way to get letters was for some one of the settlers to go with their ox team and bring out the mail to the settlement. He was identified at an early day with the anti-slavery movement in the country, and was uncompromising in his hostility to slavery and all the laws favoring it. He was firmly attached to the Liberty Party from its organization.

Dwight Lewis, son of (1530) Walter Henry Talcott and Emeline McConnell, was born at Rockton, Ill., July 24, 1846, married Emily A., daughter of Charles W. Robertson, of Rockton, Ill., Oct. 12, 1869, and had 1580 Norris Dwight, b. July 27, 1870, at Rockton.

1581 Wait, b. March 5, 1873, at Osage, Iowa.

Dwight Lewis Talcott enlisted in the Union army at the age of 17½ years, at Belvidere, Boone Co., Ill., Jan. 3, 1864. Was a member of Company I, 9th Regt. Ill. Vol. Cavalry. Was provost guard in Fort Pickering, near Memphis, Tenn., until March 18, 1864, when he came home with the regiment on "veteran furlough." Acted as courier and orderly to Capt. J. W. Harper, until the following fall. Harper commanded the regiment and afterward the brigade.

The regiment traveled by railroad, steamboat and marches over 30,000 miles, and scoured the States of Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, from end to end.

The following is a list of the principal battles in which it took part: Pontotoc, Miss., July 12, 1864; Tupelo, July 15 and 16, 1864; Old Town Creek, Miss., July 16, 1864; Tallahatchie, Aug. 10, 1864; Abbyville, Miss., Aug. 12, 1864; Hurricane Creek, Aug. 13, 1864; Oxford, Miss., Aug. 14, 1864; Savannah, Tenn., Oct. 14, 1864; Shoal River, Ala., Nov. 6, 10, 11, 16, 18 and 19, 1864; Lawrenceburg, Tenn., Nov. 21, 1864; Pulaski, Tenn., Nov. 22, 1864; Campbellsville, Tenn., Nov. 24, 1864, which was Thanksgiving day of that year.

The night of July 11, 1864, he saved a comrade from falling into the clutches of two rebels who were crawling upon him. The same night, was the only man of eight that stood to his post and maintained his ground until help arrived, the rest breaking for camp when the pickets were attacked. At Old Town Creek, July 16, 1864, the stock of his gun was hit by a spent ball while loading; in the same fight the breach of the gun burst while firing.

Near Abbyville, while scouting, shot at two negroes mistaking them for guerrillas, happily missed them and discovered the mistake.

At White Station, Miss., in the fall of 1864, while outside of the picket lines with a comrade, gathering wild fruit, discovered several bushwhackers coming who had not seen them, but caught sight of them as they jumped for their horses, and they had a race for life, running their horses all the way to camp, something over a mile, the bushwhackers in pursuit, the bullets whistling around them all the time, but reached the lines in safety.

While out foraging one day, rode into a crowd of guerrillas, taking them for our men, as they had on our uniforms. As they were busy about their breakfast, soon slipped their company, without their discovering "the Yankee."

Was in the saddle on one occasion over forty-eight hours, stopped three times to feed horses, and marched 200 miles.

In the fight at Shoal River, crossed the river three times while under a heavy fire from the enemy, they being located on high bluffs, the water fairly boiling from the force of the bullets, which fell as thick as hailstones. On another occasion got placed between two fires, that of the rebels and of the Union troops. Nov. 19, were surrounded by the enemy, and retreat across the river being impossible, cut an outlet and escaped, passing down by file, a steep miry bank, obliquely 200 feet. The mortification and apparent chagrin of the rebels when they found their prey had unexpectedly escaped their snare, was made known by hideous yells, such as only rebels can make. At Lawrenceburg had some very close calls from the bullets of the enemy, but came out without a scratch. At Campbellsville while retreating, as the road passed through a narrow gorge, the enemy attempted to cut the command in two. Being ordered to hold the gap at all hazards, the regiment had scarcely dismounted, when a heavy fire was received from a brigade of the enemy. Not a particle daunted they advanced until it became a hand to hand conflict. The company of which he was a member lost twenty-four men in as many minutes, and all were killed or wounded but four, who were taken prisoners, he being one of the four. When captured he had 200 rounds of ammunition, which were not given up with gun and belt, but kept from the enemy and destroyed. Was soon stripped of hat, boots, gloves, knife and spurs, and was searched by the rebels five or six times during the first night. One of them found some photographs of his parents which he begged the privilege of keeping, but with an oath they were tossed into the fire. For eight days had no food, except the corn picked up where the horses had been fed.

Were kept at Fort Columbia, Tenn., for fifteen days, living on less than an ear of corn a day. Dec. 17, 1864, after Hood's defeat at Nashville, started for southern prisons; marched to Iuka, Miss., thence by rail via Corinth and Jackson, Miss., Montgomery, Ala., and Macon, Ga., to Andersonville. The prisoners being crowded into box cars, with neither room to sit or lie down, from two to six died in each car every day. Arriving at Andersonville, saw 200 prisoners joining the rebel army, taking the oath of the Southern Confederacy, and drawing clothing and rations.

The future looked dark to the new arrivals, but they took new courage when they found that not a native born American was in the lot. In the prison met fellow prisoners, mere walking skeletons covered with filth and vermin. Had no protection from the weather in the shape of clothing, but the few rags they were allowed to keep. Had no wood, no food, no wholesome water, not even pure air to breathe, for the odor of the stockade was detected before it was reached. A railing around the inside, about one rod from the stockade, constituted the "dead line," which to touch or pass was "death." Receiving no notice of it, came near being shot within an hour after arrival by an attempt to pass under it, but was pulled back and saved by a comrade. Burrowed in the ground for several weeks, taking a severe cold became sick, lost flesh very rapidly and could hardly crawl. Had not any medical treatment, nor had any of the prisoners, so far as known, and no religious privileges. The prisoners seemed crazed by their condition, and the stronger preyed upon the weaker. The prison covered about thirty acres, and part of the time was densely crowded. Sometimes two wagon loads of dead bodies were hauled out in one day. Twenty-eight per cent of all the prisoners received died in the prison. Their last resting place was called the "bone-yard," by their fellow prisoners, for they were generally mere skeletons, and died from starvation. Having the scurvy, accompanied with diarrhoea, became so weak were necessarily transferred to another stockade, called a hospital, about one-fourth as large as the former, surrounded on three sides by wet swampy land, very little, if any, better than the big stockade. Here were some old worn-out tents to help protect from the weather. The rations were some better but insufficient, received some medical treatment, but had no chance to wash or keep clean.

The keeper of the prison was Capt. Henry Wirz (a native of Switzerland), usually called by the prisoners "the old Dutch captain." He was a tool and a murderer in the hands of prominent rebels, dealing out with an unsparing hand all the horrors of disease, pollution and death, that he possibly could, and was vulgar and profane in the extreme.

A pack of blood-hounds was kept at the prison to track and catch escaped prisoners, and their yelping cries were often heard as they started on the track of the fugitives.

March 18, 1865, came a day of deliverance to 1,000 of the prisoners, still leaving 7,000. He, being nearly dead, was allowed the choice to go or stay, decided to go. Many of his comrades begged of him to give them his place, saying "you can never live to get home." To their earnest entreaties his reply was, "I may not live to get home, but I wish to die as near home and God's country (as we called the North) as I can." He was about the twenty-third man of the one thousand called out. Although weak and scarcely able to stand, how he ever got to the station, one mile distant, God only knows, for at every attempt to walk he reeled and fell, but most of the times nearer the objective point; so by rolling, crawling and dragging himself along, after six hours' struggle, reached the desired goal. Started in box cars for Vicksburg, Miss., with plenty of hard crackers and pork, the first food of the kind he had seen or tasted since he was taken prisoner. After twelve days' travel arrived at the Big Black River twenty miles east of Vicksburg, where they were paroled March 30, 1865. Never before did the flag of the stars and stripes have so much significance as it floated in the breeze. It was a touching sight to see the men, with tearful eyes, gazing at that precious emblem of freedom. Many of the men who had been buoyed up with hope and excitement, now found themselves weak and perfectly helpless.

At Vicksburg they were placed on a hospital steamboat, reaching Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, April 8, 1865, when for the first time in four months, he had on a pair of shoes and a hat, being still weak and unable to walk or sit up.

His father, who went to bring him home, found him in the hospital April 11th, and started for home on the 14th, picking him up and carrying him in his arms to the cars as he would a child, the merest skeleton of his former self, weighing only 75 pounds, just about one-half as much as when he entered the service, his weight then being 147.

He was covered with scurvy sores, some so large as the palm of the hand, and hip bones badly protuberant. Arrived at home April 15th, the day the news of President Lincoln's assassination was received. Was confined to his bed several weeks, and the cough he had contracted hung around him for fifteen months. His hair fell out, and his skin, which was of a yellow clay color, did not appear healthy for a long time; could not partake of food with salt in it, or highly seasoned, for over two months, and was unable to do manual labor of any kind for over a year.

He received his discharge June 5, 1865, at Chicago, Ill., and also a notice from the War Department, dated June 20th, that he was duly exchanged.

In the spring of 1872, he settled in Osage, Mitchell Co., Iowa, where he now resides (1876) engaged in farming.

George Welles died in Athens, Pa., June 21, 1813. PRUDENCE, widow of George Welles, died at Owego, N. Y., Nov. 20, 1839, and was buried at Athens, Bradford Co., Pa.

George Welles, with three brothers and one sister, were left without a father's guidance by an accident which happened to their parent, in throwing an axe, at a trial of strength, with some of his friends, he burst a blood vessel and died while yet a young man. He went through his collegiate course at a time when it took the price of an acre of land to buy a pair of shoes. Several years of his life he spent at the South, part of the time in a business connection with Richard Caton, son-in-law of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton.

In August, 1798, he brought his family from Connecticut to Athens, Pa., which was one of the oldest towns on the Susquehanna, where he lived until his death.

Quite an interesting scrap of family history is connected with George Welles' grandmother, which is well worth preserving. She was Jerusha Pitkin, who was an English lady, who came to this country, either with or to visit her brother, Gov. Pitkin, but with the intention of returning to that country. The story is that the gentlemen of Hartford were unwilling to lose so excellent a lady from the colony, and held a meeting to devise some way of keeping her, two of them proposed for her hand, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Woodbridge, she accepted the former, was married to him; he died not long after, leaving her with a young daughter. This daughter, Jerusha Edwards, became the wife of John Welles, father of George Welles, above-mentioned. The widow Jerusha (Pitkin) Edwards, was subsequently married to the Mr. Woodbridge, whom she had earlier refused in behalf of his rival. She was the ancestress of all the Woodbridges so plentiful about us. She was the mother of Rev. Wm. Woodbridge, the geographer, and the grandmother of Wm. Channing Woodbridge, who, about fifty years ago, was the editor of a scientific magazine, and was considered, at the time, one of the most enlightened men in America. This grandmother Woodbridge, as she was always called, has been ever held in profound veneration by her descendants. Mrs. Mary H. Welles Pummelly, one of her descendants, has kindly furnished this piece of family history, which is undoubtedly authentic.

Russell G. Talcott died in Hartford, March 3, 1863, æ. 44 years. He entered the Hartford Bank as clerk, in 1840. During the years 1844 and 1845, he traveled in Europe. After his return he engaged in the iron business under the firm of RIPLEY & TALCOTT, at the same time holding various offices of trust. He was first Vice-President and then President of the Young Men's Institute; a Director of the Hartford Bank; Clerk of the Pearl street Church and Society; a Life Director of the American Tract Society, and the Secretary and Manager of the Retreat for the Insane, at Hartford. His widow and daughter reside in Hartford, Ct.

The following tribute to his memory was written by his life long friend, Mrs. L. H. Sigourney :

Fair was the mansion where he lay,
Enwapp'd in snowy flowers,
The last fond offering love could shed,
Before the tomb embraced its dead
Within her darkened bowers.

They 'll miss him 'neath the hallow'd dome
Upon the Sabbath day ;
They 'll miss him in the thronging mart.
Where with pure mind, and upright heart
He held his quiet way.

And those who trace the record through,
Of all his earthly time,
Remember naught of wrong or blame,
Or folly that might cloud his name,
Even in his boyhood's prime.

Amid the circle where his soul
Its home and solace made,
Intensely is his absence wept,
And sacredly his image kept
From morn till midnight shade.

For there with ever gentle hand,
 Affection's links he wove,
 And works of taste around him drew,
 And friendship of the chosen few,
 And plants that bloom above.

Then to the Saviour whom he loved,
 With perfect trust he went;
 And praise should on Heaven's altar glow
 When life, through every risk below,
 Fulfills its great intent.

L. H. SIGOURNEY.

He was a Civil Engineer by profession, and was engaged on several important public works, among which were the enlargement of the Erie canal, in the State of New York; the Washington, D. C., water-works, and the Imperial Mexican Railway, in Mexico. Of his son, CHARLES G., the Washington Daily Critic, of the 22d Sept., 1875, says:

"Among the successful competitors in the late examination, at Annapolis, were Mr. Yarnell, the son of Prof. Yarnell, of the Observatory, and Mr. CHARLIE TALCOTT, whose mother is so well remembered in Georgetown, as the pretty and brilliant Miss Theo. Barnard. The latter is the youngest cadet engineer ever admitted, having attained his 16th year but a few days ago. His success was further creditable, as he has had the advantage of American schools only within the past few years, having lived in Mexico, where his father occupied a high official position. His uncle and aunt were members of the royal household, and his family honored guests always at the court of the Emperor Maximilian and Carlotta. When the French army marched out of the country, leaving the Emperor to his death, Mrs. Talcott and her children were sent by her husband away from the dangers of the capital city, the commanding officer providing her with an escort which conducted them to a place of safety. Shortly after this Mr. Talcott died, and his widow came here five years ago with her five children, bereft alike of her protector and her fortune, and obtained an office, battling bravely with the world, as only mothers can, for those dependent on her. We congratulate her on the success of her son, who passed No. 18 in a class of 140 competitors.

THE PEDIGREE OF THE TALCOTT FAMILY is now finished, as far as the compiler can carry it, and he leaves it for some enthusiastic genealogist of a future generation of TALCOTTS to continue, if he feels disposed so to do. As it has lately been ascertained that the name of the father of "JOHN of Colchester," was "JOHN of Warwickshire, Eng," perhaps it may be possible to take the family name a few generations further back.

There are many discrepancies in dates and spelling of names caused by the difference of registration of the same parties and events by the various members of the same branch of the family. The compiler has taken every possible precaution to avoid these errors and has spent much time in correspondence upon this subject, but still some exist, and each family in which they occur, will have to correct the text to correspond with their own record, if they believe that to be correct.

The orthography of the christian names, taken from the old records, has not been changed, but copied as they were there found. Those furnished by the various members of the family have been printed as they were spelled by those who sent their records, under the belief that they best knew how to spell their own and their relatives' names.
