FOREWORD

The name Thomson (as it was written prior to 1810) is said to have been of Anglo-Saxon origin, and to mean "son of Thom or Thome," being derived from the nickname for Thomas. Among records we find the family in England as early as 1273. They were for the most part of the landed gentry and yeomanry of Great Britain. Some say that Thom was head of the Norse family; another legend has it that the Thompsons of Ireland sprang from Scandinavian sea kings, who on being converted to Christianity settled in England and in the Scotch lowlands, and that their ancestors had red hair. We know that our Thompsons were Scotch-Irish and had black hair; that they were good to look upon, lovers of the arts, exceptionally gifted musically and full up with the "Blarney."

In Scotland the family named Thompson is connected with the Clan Campbell of Argyll, whose badge is Wild Myrtle; whose slogan is "Cruachan" (a mountain near Loch Awe); whose coat of arms reads "Ne Obliviscaris"—the clan Tartan, a beautiful blue, black, green-plaid, with a narrow stripe of yellow and white.

The name Campbell first appears in 1216 in connection with a proprietor of lands in Sterling, but the first one of importance was Neil Campbell, who in 1296 was made King Edward's bailie over lands in Argyll. His great-grandson was created Lord Campbell by James II, and was the first to take the title Argyll.

The first of the family of Thompson who settled in Ireland was Capt. William Thompson, born in 1655, who accompanied King William III to that country in 1688. He had a son Peter, father of William, who married the daughter of Peter Metge. To this union were born five sons and five daughters. Many of the family in America trace their ancestry to the Thompsons who came from Ireland. These, originally Scotch-Irish, were, during the reign of James I, given liberal grants of land to settle in the Province of Ulster, in Ireland, their home being in Argyllshire, Scotland. History records that early in the seventeenth century or earlier, members of this family came to America and settled in the central part of Pennsylvania, Cumberland, Northumberland, York, and other counties being largely settled by the Scotch-Irish, who proved to be the hearty frontier defenders in the march of civilization westward.

The name, though widespread, stands only twenty-first in the list of common names. It is not known definitely from which of the many illustrious branches of the family in Great Britain, the first emigrants of the name who came to America were descended, but it is generally conceded that all of the families were of ancient origin. They were nearly all of the Presbyterian faith both in the old country and this. Fairbairn's Book of Crests lists the blazonry of some thirty-six different coats of arms for the family. One of the early ones should be our choice.

We cannot resist some review of affiliated families: MacFarlane, a Celtic Clan, their country being the western shore of Loch Lomond. The last chief is supposed to have come to America at the end of the eighteenth century. His house of Arrochar became the property of the Duke of Argyll. Their badge was the Cranberry; their slogan, "Loch Sloidh" (The Loch of the Host). Loudoun—of the Clan Campbell of Loudoun. This family had the same slogan as MacFarlane but a different coat of arms. Turner, connected with the Clan Lamond, was also a Celtic family. Some Turners claim French extraction. One could go on endlessly.

All these have been noted for their energy, industry, ambition, courage, integrity, moral and physical strength, resourcefulness, piety, patience, perseverance, fortitude, leadership and initiative. What more could one desire in his forbears?

FOREWORD

History says that in the old Banagher Churchyard, County Derry, Ireland, there are but five vaults; two of these are the Thompsons. The church was built in 1200; a newer church, three miles away, is Banagher Presbyterian. During more than seven centuries the five vaults have remained undisturbed.

We also read of a beautiful castle in Scotland, "Thompson Castle." A yearning for religious freedom impelled many of our forbears to seek a home in America. Our Scotch-Irish Covenanters were among them. What glorious faith! Let us record Margaret, widow of Wm. Thompson of the "Emerald Isle," who with her children, seven sons and two daughters, set sail for the "promised land" about the year 1717. Kin to us? Yea, verily.

Our coat of arms goes back to 1640—Jonas and Eleanor (Philips) Thompson—who had a son William, of New Castle on Tyne.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PIONEER

BY RALPH S. CUSHMAN

*Renew their breed, Almighty God,
Those pioneers of yesterday,
Who through the wilderness and wastes,
Undaunted pushed their westward way.*

*New frontiers lift their rocky heights,
New deserts stretch before our years,
Renew in us, Almighty God—
The spirit of the pioneer.*

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

"He only deserves to be remembered by posterity who treasures up and preserves the history of his ancestors."
—Edmund Burke

The following genealogical record of our THOMPSON family in America has come from many sources: through personal contact; from research in our great Congressional, state and historical Libraries; from county histories and courthouses; Bibles; cemeteries; and family records. A period of more than twelve years was spent in conducting this research.

The author received great assistance from the following: Mrs. George M. Sellers, Quarryville, Pa.; Mary Thompson (Mrs. P. H. Dale), State College, Pa.; James M. and sister, Dorothy Thompson, Big Run, Pa.; also from Mr. Edw. E. Thompson, E. McKeesport, Pa.; Mr. Elmer E. Glenn, Dayton, Pa.; Mr. Wright E. Turner, Clearfield, Pa.; Mrs. Anna L. Werner, Etiwanda, Calif.; Mrs. Wm. Van D. Patterson, Alpena Pass, Ark.; Mrs. George Mitchell, State College, Pa., and many others. To them and to all who so generously contributed time and data, I wish to express my deep appreciation. Only through their help could this result have been achieved.

However, the bulk of information has come from personal correspondence with all persons affiliated with the family, whom I could reach. Many failed me, but the result as a whole has been very satisfactory. What at the beginning was just a search for personal satisfaction for information about my own forbears, later became a passion to push further, and leave a record, though in many ways faulty and incomplete, to those who shall come after.

That the author has experienced a great deal of joy and satisfaction, but withal a greater feeling of responsibility in compiling this brief record, goes without saying. Errors may have crept in due to incorrect information or through oversight in copying the dates, but you will find here, and will agree, that it is a reasonable, truthful and reliable history, and the most complete record, to date, of a numerous, early, and interesting family. The author hopes it will prove of value to posterity and as a genealogical record.

This book contains a family record of which anyone might be proud. These ancestors of ours lived honorable, industrious, brave, and God-fearing lives. As pioneers they took leading parts in every settlement and community in which they lived, and helped in the building up and development of our great country. They have left many of us a heritage of strong bodies, true hearts, courageous spirits, and faith in the love of God. To many, this family record will be a precious possession worthy of being handed down to their children and grandchildren. To others, this account of lives well-lived, will be an inspiration.

THE PIONEER

What was his name? I do not know his name.
I only know he heard God's voice and came;
Brought all he loved across the sea
To live and work for God and me.
Felled the ungracious oak—
With rugged toil—
Dragged from the soil—
The trice gnarled roots and stubborn rock;
With plenty filled the haggard mountainside,
And when his work was done,—
Without memorial died.

Edward Everett Hale, in The Pioneer.

What was his name? Ah, yes, I know his name,
I know he heard God's kindly voice and came;
"Our William Thompson"—1745-1812.

With apology to Mr. Hale.

BEGINNINGS

EXCERPTS FROM OLD LETTERS, RESEARCH, RECORDS, AND COMMENTS

By James J. Patterson and Helen (Thompson) Sellers, 1924 and 1937.

Several families of Thompsons emigrated from Ireland prior to 1745, and settled in Chester Co., Pa. They were closely related. William, John, and Hugh were brothers. This John became the head of the Thompsonstown family of Juniata Co., Pa. William, son of John, born about 1755, settled in Juniata Co., about 1785. He had a brother Robert. As far as I can make out, William, John, and Hugh first settled in what was called Chester Co. Then they seem to have moved a little farther west, to the lower part of the state. Old records speak of them as living on the banks of the Conococheague Creek near what is now Williamsport, Md. An old record tells that in 1751 in an assessment for Hopewell Twp. (which embraced the valley of the Conococheague, now Franklin Co., Pa.) William, John, and Hugh Thompson's names were given. Our William was first assessed in 1751 and until 1772 in that township. In 1772 William bought 100 acres in Derry Twp. (now Mifflin Co.). In 1779 he bought of John McElhatten, 300 acres south of the Juniata, in Derry Twp., which I believe was called Armagh Twp. His home in Mifflin Co. was about three miles northeast of the present site of the village of Milroy, on the road leading from Mifflin to Union Co., Pa. He was by trade a weaver, but after coming to this country, he kept a hotel and farmed. Later, 1789, Armagh was included in the formation of Mifflin Co., where he was assessed until 1794. He lived on the extreme northwest corner of the township on the old Indian trail from the mouth of the West Branch to Lake Erie. Here he erected a house of logs after the form of a blockhouse with provision for defense. It was thus used by him and his neighbors as a defense against the Indians. They were reinforced by soldiers—Rangers of the Frontier. See Linn's History of Centre Co., Pa. (Centre Co. was carved from Mifflin). Extract—"Among the signers to a petition for arms and ammunition were William Thompson, Sr., and William Thompson, Jr."

Our William has some Colonial and Revolutionary records. In Pennsylvania Archives, Series 2, Vol. II, p. 535, Lieut. William Thompson was commissioned Jan. 16, 1756, 2nd Battalion, p. 546, Capt. William Thompson, "Westward of the Susquehanna," Dec. 21, 1757; p. 558, William Thompson, captain, resigned Feb. 27, 1759. He is the William carried so long in Armstrong's returns and the one who commanded at Fort Littleton. Quoting Mr. Patterson: "I had this fact to guide me in my research. I remember this fact as told me by Moses, James and Wm. Thompson, sons of John Thompson (II Moses) (I William) that their great-grandfather William Thompson had commanded at Fort Littleton." We must not confuse our William with Capt. William Thompson of the Light Horse (of Carlisle) later colonel and brigadier general. This is the one to whom the service of our William is credited. From the Pennsylvania Archives it was noted that William of Carlisle entered Gen. Armstrong's command about the time our William resigned due to ill health. It was in Hopewell Twp. (Franklin Co. was formed mostly from this township, as the township was originally) that William raised his family of eight children. It was here that he received his commissions, after the great Indian War set in and the settlements of the Cumberland Valley were in imminent danger. To meet this, Col. John Armstrong was commissioned to raise a force and conduct the defense. He raised a force of 1400 men and assumed the defense of the country from the Susquehanna to the extent of the settlements west of that river.

After his resignation William remained in Hopewell Twp. until 1772 when he went to Armagh Twp. There seems to be no record of William's wife, excepting an old letter tells that John Davidson's will recorded in Carlisle, in 1754, names John Thompson as a legatee, and William Thompson as executor, and calls them both "brothers." Therefore the wife of William may have been a Davidson—just a surmise. William and wife were enrolled in the U. S. Census of 1790, after which we have no account of her. William sold his farm to his son, John, Mar. 22, 1793, the deed signed by himself alone, the wife probably deceased. William thereafter became a part of John's household, John having moved to the farm.

In this deed the grantor recites that "whereas the said William Thompson is now rightly seized by an order to him sealed at Philadelphia the 11th day of May, 1769 to and into a certain tract of land situate Eastward in Kishaquohillis Big Valley, adjoining James Alexander and the Mountain, to him the said William Thompson surveyed Aug. 17, 1770. Order No. 5455, bounded," etc., "containing one hundred fifty five acres and allowances," etc. Later John sold this, the old "Linzy Gap Farm" and located on a farm in Nittany Valley, on which the Hecla Furnace was afterwards built. The father went with him, and is buried in that vicinity. Many old aunts and uncles left records, through letters, to kinsfolk. One, who had seen the lovely Cumberland Valley and then, later, the country surrounding Lindsey Gap, where our ancestors moved, said "WHY?"

From a letter by Dr. Jas. N. Thompson, son of Gen. John, of Moses, of William I.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23, 1882

The name of our Great-grandfather Thompson, on the authority of Aunt Sally Mitchell, was William. She told me that she had seen him two or three times, and that was when she was less than five years old. She described him as being of quite low stature, riding a very small horse, and as being very religious. When I told Uncle Billy Thompson of this virtue of his long departed grandfather, he was proud, but did not seem to have made any such observation himself. That he was of a provident and refined mind may be conjectured from the fact that even then he cultivated a fruit tree nursery, and (en passant) half a dozen of the trees in Uncle William Thompson's old orchard were taken from this nursery by old Robert Moore himself.

I have not the semblance of data as to the time of his immigration; nor even that he came from Ireland direct. The patronymic would indicate England. I do not have any knowledge of the name or family of our respected great-grandmother. That they had a home somewhere on the Conococheague Creek is founded on my recollection of the stories of old grand-uncle Billy Thompson of "Tadpole." One of his stories, and the only one that has a date, was as follows:

"A large gathering, or party, as we would now call it, was in full blast at father's house one evening, when they were greatly surprised by the entrance of a greatly dressed and dashing young woman entering the throng. Old Uncle gave the dialogue of her introduction. Her inquiry was for the last headquarters of General Braddock, but indicating no haste to leave, she was invited to join the dance. Now such dancing had never been witnessed on the Conococheague before, and probably never since, as was executed on that occasion by the stranger lady. The amusements went on uninterruptedly, and, after popping a few coarse jokes, the stranger developed into his brother Moses."

Now this is the only incident to date that I have of the family's residence on the Conococheague. Gen. Braddock's expedition against the French and Indians, rendezvousing at Fort Duquesne, was started from Alexandria, Va., in 1754, and going westward, passed near Williamsport, which is located on the Potomac River at the mouth of the Conococheague Creek. Hence the key to the inquiry for Gen. Braddock's headquarters. We may suppose Moses to have been fifteen or sixteen years old at that time, viz., 1754, but we have no date as to the time when the family left Conococheague and settled on the farm, now called Lindsey Gap, in the east end of Kishacoquillas Valley. But if our Grandfather Moses was sixteen years old in 1754, and several of the family were older than he, the whole family must have been full-grown men and women in 1776 when the colonies rebelled. The house of the old pioneer was something after the fashion of a fort, and was used as a protection against prowling Indians. Old Robert Moore used to tell a story of the time when he was moving from Jack's Creek in Kishacoquillas Valley to Bloomingdale farm in Nittany Valley. After he had passed William Thompson's place and was climbing the mountain a few hundred yards, he discovered the body of an Indian lying quite close to the road and covered with bark, after the fashion of an Indian burial. The story was told a long time afterwards by the Indians themselves, which was that a party of Indians coming from the Northumberland section on the Susquehanna River had planned an attack on the house fort. While they were advancing, one of the Indian's rifles was inadvertently discharged, killing the fellow in front of him. The report of the gun aroused the family in the house, and one of them, sallying out in order to see what was up, saw a deer and shot at it. The shooting still more alarmed Indians so as to induce them to abandon their purpose and beat a retreat up and over the mountain. They, having carried away the dead body of their fellow, buried it after their fashion. They also related how much they had congratulated themselves on their lucky escape, for when they got well up on the mountain and looked down on the house, they saw what they estimated an army, which consisted of the Thompson family, a few soldiers, and some neighbors who had collected, all unconscious of the danger and foul murder which they had escaped. I have no date of the above story but you could get it by inquiry at Bloomington farm. [Note: Moses was born in 1754; data is wrong.]

The family of my revered great-grandfather consisted of eight children, four boys and four girls. I must suppose that both father and mother of this family died in their own old home. Nor do I know when the property passed into stranger hands or who had inherited it. But the thought occurs to me, this moment, that it must have been grand-uncle John, who (my grandmother McFarlane once told me) being chagrined, by nonelection to an eldership in the Presbyterian Church, sold his home, moved to Nittany Valley, and joined the Methodists there. (Although good old Grandmother might have been somewhat prejudiced in her rehearsal, "It is time he did join the Methodists.") He moved afterward to Ohio, and I presume that it must have been he who inherited the homestead and sold it.

William, the oldest son, settled in "Tadpole," on the farm now occupied by James Campbell; married, I never knew whom; but raised a family, and lived to the age of about one hundred years. I should have stated before this that I do not remember that he ever told any stories, the scene of which was laid in the Kishacoquillas Valley, but every time of or on the Conococheague, which induces me to suppose that he must have moved directly from Conococheague to "Tadpole." For if he was twenty years old or thereabout in the year 1754, 1770 would make him a man of middle age, viz., about 36 years old, and about the time, I conjecture, that the family and Great-grandfather came to Kishacoquillas Valley. [Note: William II was born in 1746.]

There was another son, James, a younger than our Grandfather Moses, of whom Nancy (Thompson) Cooper, daughter of John and Elizabeth McFarlane, writes to her nephew John I. Thompson: "Aunt Sally Mitchell [daughter of Moses T. I who lived near her grandfather, William Thompson I] said, 'Grandmother was a very strict church member and very careful in raising her family. She and grandfather were strict Presbyterians. He was a trig little man and rode a trig little horse; was precise in manner, pompous, very polite and ready to accommodate. He had the first nursery in this part of the country, apples and other fruit. He was of a provident and refined mind. His politics, equal rights and privileges to all humanities, making no distinction on account of gender, color, or previous conditions.'" She also speaks of the fortress house. Date, July 22, 1888, Washington City, D. C.

Because of the many Thompsons—William, John. Moses, and others, we will not presume to record land grants, taxes, and the like of the various Pennsylvania counties, changing as they did in those early days. However the following are given:

"William Thompson and Mary, his wife, caveat, etc., prior grants, Dec. 10, 1754, possessed and inclosed." Caveat Book No. 5, Series 3, p. 519, Pennsylvania Archives.

"Dec. 28, 1763, caveat against a warrant granted William Thompson for 200 acres of land, . . . on the great road to Pgh. in Cumberland Co., Pa." Series 3, Vol. II, p. 203.

William T.—of Hopewell Twp. (1745), amt. tax, £12-10s.-4p.

William T.—appointed Justice of Peace, 1754-1763, Hopewell Twp., Chester Co., Pa. 1767, Wm. T.—a mason and weaver—cow, horse, 2 sheep.

Was it "Our William Thompson" who with Gen. Jas. Porter [Both were from Cumberland Co., in Armstrong's expedition, and Scotch-Irish.] were the first white men to enter Penn's Valley about 1759? Remember the exclamation, "By heavens, Thompson, I have discovered a continent," on an exploration trip.

The following extract is of great interest and worth. It was discovered by the author in the Pennsylvania State Library, Harrisburg, Pa., in 1938.

EAST KISHACOQUILLAS CHURCH.—The first settlers of the Kishacoquillas Valley were Scotch-Irish, and belonged to the Presbyterian Church. They were of the better order of peasantry, and they brought with them the characteristics of their native land. What the date of the organization of this church was we have no knowledge. There is reason to believe that there never was any formal organization, as is now the custom under the direction of the presbytery. It was natural that the Presbyterians among the earlier settlers, who were as sheep without a shepherd in the wilderness, should voluntarily bind themselves together for prayer and praise, and when ministers and missionaries began in this way, they preached to them and administered the ordinances of divine grace. At what precise time that building called the meetinghouse was erected, it is impossible to tell; nor are any of the oldest surviving residents of the neighborhood able to give any very satisfactory account of it. It was situated a little west of where the stone church stood. It was probably erected by each member of the congregation agreeing to furnish a certain number of logs of a certain length, and to deposit them at the designated place. It was a rough building, one story high, without plastering, without any floor, and without any fireplace or provision made for heating the house. It had windows on each side of the door, on the opposite side, and perhaps at each end; but the lights were small and few in number. The entrance doors faced toward the present ruins of the old schoolhouse, and were made of plain boards. The seats were slab benches, made perhaps of split logs, with holes bored in them, into which were fitted round pieces of wood for legs, and without any back support for those who might sit upon them. The pulpit consisted, probably, of a simple stand or table. In the coldest season of the year the preacher had to preach, and the people came to hear with their overcoats buttoned up to their chins, and seldom was the sermon less than an hour and a half in length, and often much longer. Judge Kyle stated that at one time in particular, whilst a boy, he came a direct course across the fields and through the forest to attend the services in the old meetinghouse. He wore snowshoes, because the snow was so deep as to cover the tops of the fences. Not a spark of fire was in the church, yet the pastor stood up manfully to his work, with surtout up to his chin, preaching to a full house, and there was not a shiver or a shake among the congregation, although the mercury was near zero at the time. Rude and uncomfortable as that old meetinghouse was, it was a sacred spot to many a person long since departed. What the names were of a number of that old congregation may be learned from the call given to Rev. James Johnston to become their pastor, dated March 15, 1783. This call is in the handwriting of a renowned penman. It is as follows:

“Mr. James Johnston, preacher of the Gospel:

“Sir: We, the subscribers, members of the United Congregation of East and West Kishacoquillas, having never in this place had the stated administration of the Gospel ordinances, yet highly prizing the same, and having a view to the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ, and the Spiritual Edification of ourselves and families, have set ourselves to obtain that blessing among us, and therefore, as we have had the opportunity of some of your labors in this place, and are satisfied with your Soundness, Piety, and ministerial ability to break unto us the bread of life, we do most heartily and sincerely in the name of the Great Shepherd of the Flock, Jesus Christ, call and invite you to come and take the Pastoral Charge an oversight of us in the Lord. And for your encouragement we do promise, if God shall dispose your heart to embrace this call, that we will give a dutiful attention to the word and ordinances of God, by you administered; that we will be subject to your Admonitions and reproofs, should our falls and miscarriages expose us thereto, and will submit to the discipline of the Church, exercised by you, agreeably to the Word of God; and also, that we will treat Persons with Friendship and Respect, and behave in all things towards you as becomes Christians always should towards their Pastor, who labours among them in word and Doctrine. And further, as we are persuaded that who serve at the Altar should live by the Altar, we do promise, in order that you may be, as much as possible, free from worldly incumbrances to provide for you comfortable and honorable maintenance, in the manner set forth in our Subscription Papers accompanying this, our Call, during your continuance with us as our Regular Pastor, and in witness of our hearty desire to have you settle among us, we have hereunto set our Names this Fifteenth day of March, Anno Domini 1783."

Then follows sixty-nine signatures. Those associated with our kin are here recorded: WILLIAM THOMPSON, John Cooper, Samuel and William Mitchell, Hugh Martain, James, Samuel, and Thomas Alexander, Elijah, Elisha, and Benj. Crisswell, James Laughlin, Robert Gardner, John Culbertson, Samuel Miliken, and John Kyle.

The Rev. Johnston accepted the call and served acceptably during the remainder of his life—thirty-seven years, or until 1820. A new stone church was built in 1808. The description of this church is most enlightening.

The above was taken from pages 556, 557, and 558 of History of Susquehanna and Juniata Valleys, Penna., Vol. I, by Everts, Peck, and Richards.

The author believes that the following is worth recording. It is taken from Penna. Archives, Land Grants, Apr. 26, 1775.

"Upon appeal, application of William Thompson, Jr., in behalf of his father William Thompson—the said William Thompson, the father—is allowed to settle upon proprietary tract, being the most westerly manor in Potter's Twp., Northumberland, adjoining the Great Plains. He is to take lease for 300 acres at the West end of the tract for 7 years and in that time to build a good logg'd dwelling house and barn 20 foot square and to pay the proprietary's twelve shilling and six pence sterling and also to pay the taxes.

"Upon application of William Thompson, Jr., he is allowed to settle upon 300 acres adjoining his father's settlement on the most westerly of the proprietary manor's in Potters Twp. in Northumberland Co., and to take lease for seven years on the terms of his Father's. [Signed] William Thompson."

Chapter II

FIRST GENERATIONS IN AMERICA

- I—1. William Thompson. Sr.; b. in Ireland; first generation in America; b. ———; d. about 1812; wife died before 1793.
- II—Children: Thompson.
1. William, Jr. 2. Martha. 3. James. 4. Elizabeth (called Betsy and Polly). 5. Jane. 6. Moses. 7. John. 8. Annie.

Note: William, Sr., migrated to Chester Co., Pa., about 1745. In 1746 he moved to Hopewell Twp. (Cumberland Co.) now Franklin Co. In 1772 he moved to Mifflin Co., Pa. In 1793 he sold his farm to his son John but made his home with John and died there. He was buried in Nittany Valley, near Hecla Furnace site.

- II.—1. William Thompson, Jr.; b. 1746; d. about 1836; m. about 1784, Elizabeth Turner, b. ———.
- III—Children: Thompson.
1. William III. 2. Mary (Polly). 3. Elijah. 4. James Lawrence.

Note: William, Jr., was born in Hopewell Twp., Cumberland Co. (now Franklin Co.), Pa. About 1784 he moved to Centre Co., Pa. (then Huntingdon Co.), where he had acquired 180 acres of land through "Squatter's Rights." This transaction is recorded at Bellefonte, Pa., Book F, p. 438. He named the place "Tadpole Farm." It was located two miles west of Pine Grove Mills. In 1820 the farm was sold to a Jack Thompson from Bald Eagle Valley. The farm now is owned by J. M. Campbell of State College, his son Charles the resident (1937). William, Jr., lived to a ripe old age—over 90 years—the latter years with his son, Elijah. He was probably buried on "Tadpole Farm." Native stones are said to have marked the spot.

As to Elizabeth Turner, her parentage is yet in doubt, but the author firmly believes that the William Turner who came to Potters Twp., Centre Co., Pa., in 1774, is the father. John Turner of Patten Twp., of Reo, died in 1821 at the age of 90 years; John and William Turner, in Franklin Co.

II—2. Martha Thompson; b. ———; m. ——— Galloway.

III—Children: Galloway.

1. A son.

Note: Martha died one year after marriage. The Galloways lived on a farm on Honey Creek, Pa. After Martha's death the young husband took his son to Sandusky, Ohio, where in after years the son became influential and quite wealthy.

II—3. James Thompson; b. ———; d. ———; m.

Note: James was father to a large family of daughters. Name of wife was unknown. When a young man, he was employed by a surveying party. Left in charge of the camp, he was captured by Michigan Indians and was their prisoner for a long time. In fact, he became so "Indianized" that upon release, home folks nicknamed him "Indian Jimmy." After marriage, he tried to farm, but with little success. Dr. James Thompson visited the family about the time of the Civil War. He described them (the daughters) as "the most whole hearted of humanities unsophisticated naturalness." James died in Crawford Co., N. Y., where he finally located. There is no further record.

II—4. Elizabeth Thompson ("Polly"); b. ———; d.
———; m. George Mitchell.

III—Children: Mitchell.

1. William. 2. Rebecca. 3. Thomas. 4. George. 5.
Emory Forrest.

Note: These Mitchells lived near Waynesburg, Pa.

III—4. George Mitchell; b. May 17, 1784; d. May, 1860;
m. 1812, Janet Baird.

IV—Children: Mitchell.

1. George. 2. Margaret Thompson. 3. Thomas Baird. 4. Jane. 5. Elizabeth. 6. Jno. Thompson. 7. Emory Forrest.

IV—1. George Mitchell; b. Mar. 22, 1812; m. Oct. 20, 1842, Temperance Turner; b. Oct. 22, 1818.

V—Children: Mitchell.

1. May Janet; m. ———— Horner; lived in Baltimore, Md. 2. Morris Jones; lived in Baltimore, Md. 3. John Henry, practiced law in Pueblo, Colo. 4. Maude Louise; lived in Williamsport. 5. Max Louis; practiced law in Williamsport. (Mitchell data was given by Mrs. Geo. Sellers.)

II—5. Jane Thompson; b. ————; m. McVeigh (McVey); lived near Waynesburg, Pa.

II—6. Moses Thompson. See Chapter III.

II—7. John Thompson; b. ————; m. "an Excellent good woman."

Note: John made a home for his father, William I, on his farm where Hecla Furnace was later built (Centre Co., Pa.). John was a kindly man, loved and respected. This bit of family gossip by Grandmother McFarlane: "Grand Uncle John, chagrined at nonelection to eldership in the Presbyterian Church, sold his home and moved to Nittany Valley and joined the Methodists there." This must have been before taking up the farm where his father died (Centre Co.). After the father's demise, John moved near Xenia, O. It is said that he was father to nine sons, for each of whom he provided in a generous way. (?) John owned the farm that Hecla Furnace Co. (Centre Co., Pa.) formerly occupied, now an amusement park. According to family tradition, the father, William I, was probably buried there.

II—8. Anna Thompson; b. ————; m. James Cooper.

III—Children: Cooper.

1. John. 2. William.

III—1. John Cooper; b. 1799; d. 1875; m. in Ohio, Miss Cryder; b. ————.

Parents of seven children.

Note: John and wife settled near Joliet, Ill., where they died and were buried.

III—2. William Cooper; b. Apr. 18, 1802; d. Feb. 9, 1843; m. July 3, 1838, Nancy Culbertson Thompson; b. July 11, 1808; d. Aug. 13, 1890.

IV—Children: Cooper.

1. Glen Walter; b. May 23, 1839. 2. Anna M.; b. Jan. 2, 1842.

Note: After Anna and James were married, they lived on the Cooper farm, south of Pine Grove, Pa. The husband died there, and the farm was left to his brother. Anna and children (some say there were three boys—the third named James) went with her brother John to Ohio (Adams Co. now Brown Co.). Cooper data was given by Mrs. Geo. Sellers.

See Moses Thompson I, chapter III.

Chapter III

MOSES THOMPSON I

II—6. Moses Thompson (William, Sr. and ———);
b. Oct. 27, 1754; d. May 20, 1816; m. Apr. 21, 1782, Nancy Culbertson; b. June, 1758; d. Aug. 7, 1793.

III—Children: Thompson.

1. John. 2. Margaret. 3. William. 4. Sarah. 5.
James; b. Jan. 12, 1792; d. Sept. 23, 1793.

Moses married second time, Jan. 5, 1795, Mrs.
Lydia Adams; b. ———; d. Sept. 2, 1847.

III—Children: Thompson.

Children by Lydia; 6. Nancy. 7. James. 8. Robert McCartney. 9. Samuel.

Note: The Revolutionary record of Moses is shown in "Rangers on the Frontier," 1778-1793, Penna. Archives, Fifth Series, Vol. V, pp. 23, 275, 306. He was especially noted in service April, May, and July, 1781, Vol. VI, pp. 330, 563, 566, 630, 650 in Capt. Wilson's Co. After he married, he settled on a farm two miles west of his father's farm, succeeding abundantly. In a few years he bought the Laurel Run Farm and improved it. When he died at the age of 60 years, he left his family about $20,000. He was a Presbyterian, as were all his children. The old stone house to the left, as you enter Milroy, Pa., is the original home of Moses and family. Moses and wives are buried in the old cemetery near Reedsville, Mifflin Co., Pa.

Nancy's father was a farmer in the west end of the Kishacoquillas Valley, Mifflin Co., Pa. He volunteered a liberal and active interest in opening the road through the mountains into Penn's Valley, entering through Potter's Mill Gap. He added to his personal employment that of sawing timber and wool dressings into rolls, which proved a wonderful help in the domestic manufacture of cloth in those early primitive days in that valley. Altogether he was an enterprising and successful citizen. Near the close of the century, his wife died, leaving four children. A great-granddaughter, Nancy (Thompson)

Cooper, said: "G. G. Father Culbertson came from England, his name, Jeremiah; his wife from Wales, her surname—Hannah (———)."

The children of Culbertson: 1. John married Polly Sturgeon of Lancaster, Pa. Issue: Jerry, Nancy, Watson, Mary, William, Fannie, and Ezra. John farmed for a time; then he kept hotel at Lewistown, Pa. Later he was elected Brigade General Inspector of the Militia. On an official inspection tour, he was thrown from his horse and killed. He was buried at the Old Stone Church, Mifflin Co. His wife was daughter to a Presbyterian elder, who lived at the "End of the Mountain" in Lemont. 2. Samuel was a very handsome man; he studied medicine and became a physician. 3. Fannie married and went to the state of N. Y. 4. William never married; he was drowned in the Juniata River. 5. A daughter married Judge Orr of Kittanning, Armstrong Co., Pa. Children: Samuel, John, Nancy, and Bob. Samuel, a sedate sensible man, a Presbyterian elder, had a son, his eldest, who went to India as a missionary. When his health failed, he returned home and died soon after. John was a kind and jolly merchant in Kittanning, Pa. Nancy married Robert McCartney. After his demise, she married Richard Jones. Issue: Elizabeth and Mary. Mary married Mr. Ingram. Robert, a jolly bachelor at forty, married Miss Gecer of Northumberland. He became a member of Congress. They settled in Pittsburgh, Pa., where he died.

The second wife of Moses, Mrs. Lydia Adams, is said to have had ten brothers and no sisters.

Note: To Mrs. George M. Sellers, deceased, of Quarryville, Pa., the author is indebted for most of the biography of Moses Thompson and descendants.

The Culbertson line of information was given by Dr. Jas. M. Thompson, of Washington, D. C., son of Gen. Jno. Thompson, and also Nancy (Thompson) Cooper, wife of Wm. Cooper, son of Annie (Thompson) Cooper. Date, 1882-1888.

III—1. John Thompson (Moses and Nancy); b. Feb. 14, 1783; d. 1832; m. Nov. 13, 1804, Elizabeth McFarlane; b. May 16, 1783; d. May 10, 1822.

IV—Children: Thompson.

1. Mathew Louden. 2. Nancy Culbertson. 3. Moses. 4. Mary. 5. James M. 6. John, Jr. 7. William.

Note: For several years after their marriage, John and Elizabeth made their home with John's parents. Here the two older children were born. In 1809 he moved to a farm in Centre Co., Pa., which his father had purchased some time before on the Slab Cabin Branch near the old Presbyterian Church. Here in a log house they lived about five years, during which time two other children came to bless their marriage. In 1813 and 1814 he built a large stone residence and barn, which are yet standing, where he lived until his death. John, James, and William were born in the new house. About 1814 John was appointed Justice of the Peace by Gov. Simon Snyder. He served in this capacity until 1829 when he was elected Major General of Militia. At the encampment at Huntingdon in 1831, he became ill and left for his home. While partially recovered, pressing business necessitated attendance at Bellefonte, Pa., the following winter. As a consequence he contracted a severe cold from the effects of which he died in the spring of 1832. In his youth, schools being few and far between, John's education was limited, nevertheless being active and alert he acquired knowledge on subjects of the day and in time was considered one of the best informed men of the day. Always foremost in matters of education, he urged the building of a schoolhouse in which he took a large and active part, and mainly through his instrumentality secured Ezekiel Dunbar, a young man, graduate of Dickinson College, as teacher.

Bereft by the death of his excellent, Christian wife and left with seven small children, he consistently endeavored to the best of his ability and with his limited means to fit them to meet life and its duties.

John is said to have been handsome, fun loving, and genial. He was energetic, physically powerful, and of tried and true integrity. He was possessed of strong prejudices but forgiving and generous to a fault. He was fond of his dog and horse and entered with his whole being into the pleasures of the time. His early death, at forty-nine years, left many to mourn his "going." He and his wife are buried in the Old Branch Cemetery near Lemont, Pa.

Elizabeth McFarlane was daughter to James and Mary Loudon McFarlane of Honey Creek, Mifflin Co., Pa. They were Scotch-Irish pioneers. Mary was a granddaughter of Mathew Loudon, the famous Covenanter driven from Scotland through religious persecution. Her father, James, was a lieutenant in the Continental Army.

IV—1. Mathew Loudon Thompson; b. Oct. 18, 1805;
d. ———; m. Maria Spear.

V—Children: Thompson.

1. James. 2. John Spear.

No data.

James McFarlane, our grandfather, was born somewhere about 1750, and having had the advantages of an elementary education, he acquired the trade of blacksmith and the art of surveying land. At the age of twenty-five, being then a lieutenant of a company of volunteers, he went with his company into the unfilled brigade of Gen. Morgan as they were marching eastward through Cumberland Co. to join Gen. Washington's army then in New Jersey. When the brigade joined the main army, his company was detached to do fort duty at Fort Green, on the Hudson River, above New York City. While Gen. Morgan with his brigade accompanied Gen. Arnold up through Canada, Fort Green was bombarded from higher ground by the British artillery and surrendered unconditionally. He was thus made a prisoner early in the war, and he endured severe privations with his fellow prisoners until he divulged his trade; then he was removed from prison and set to work for wages, which he expended for bread and carried it to his suffering fellows in prison.

While crossing the Delaware River full of floating ice which endangered the overturning of the boat, he was willingly giving all the help he could in managing the boat, but the Dutch prisoners would not lend the slightest assistance, but swore that if they were drowned that King George would be made to pay for it. When his exchange was made, I do not remember; he was probably paroled. Soon after the war, he removed to a farm on east Jack's Creek, Mifflin Co., Pa., and improved it not only with a blacksmith forger, but a mill, sawmill, distillery, and fulling mill. About the year 1816 he was elected to the State Legislature, and for many years served as Colonel of the State Militia. His wife's name was Mary Loudon, born and brought up in Cumberland Valley, until she and her husband migrated to Kishacoquillas Valley. I seem to have little knowledge of our grandmother's predecessors or contemporaries. She had a brother Mathew Loudon, who brought up a family, I think, on the Juniata River, near Newport, one of whom is Mrs. Jane Snowden, Hogestown, Pa.

The children of James and Mary Loudon McFarlane, Dr. Thompson gives as follows (Some histories state the wife to be Mary Smith. The birth dates were secured elsewhere, and also the names of first and second are different.—Author.):

1. Elizabeth; b. May 16, 1783; m. Jno. Thompson.
2. Rosanna or Priscilla; b. Feb. 23, 1786.
3. Janet; b. July 15, 1788.
4. James; b. Nov. 3, 1790; d. Oct. 8, 1869; m. Lilly Henry, Mar. 30, 1824.
5. Mary; b. Apr. 15, 1793.
6. William; b. July 7, 1796.
7. Margaret; b. July 17, 1798.
8. Robert; b. Dec. 9, 1800.
9. Andrew; b. Feb. 20, 1803.
10. Nancy; b. May 14, 1805.

Note: The McFarlanes, Scotch, spell the name "MacFarlane." They were probably neighbors of the Thompson family in Mifflin Co., Pa. They came to Centre Co. in 1809.

The grandfather was for years an invalid, being almost helpless from repeated attacks of paralysis, to one of which he finally succumbed about 1830. The wife died in 1838. Historical data sets the marriage of James and Mary as Mar. 14, 1782.

IV—2. Nancy Culbertson Thompson (John and Elizabeth); b. Jan. 11, 1808; d. ———; m. July 3, 1838, William Cooper, son of Annie (Thompson) Cooper, daughter to Wm. Thompson, Sr., I.

V—Children: Cooper.

1. Annie.
2. Glenn Walter.

Note: This is the Nancy Cooper whose letter is quoted elsewhere.

IV—3. Moses Thompson (John and Elizabeth); b. Mar. 25, 1810; d. June 19, 1891; m. 52 years to Mary Irvin; b. May 3, 1812; d. Aug. 22, 1890.

V—Children: Thompson.

1. Sarah Irvin. 2. Elizabeth McFarlane. 3. John Irvin. 4. William. 5. Ann Eliza; b. July 6, 1850; d. Dec. 2, 1905. 6. Mary; b. Nov. 5, 1852; d. Aug. 26, 1854. 7. James Irvin.

Note: Mrs. Thompson was daughter to John and Ann (Watson) Irvin, of Linden Hall, Pa. Moses' earliest memories were of troops passing his father's (John) house, going to or from Erie, Pa., by way of Bellefonte, during the War of 1812.

His mother, a most gentle and loving Christian woman, broken in health and burdened by the care of a large family, diligently instructed her children in the faith of her forefathers until her death in the spring of 1822. Due to his father's declining health, Moses at the age of nineteen took entire charge of the farm which he managed with economy, energy, and industry, much against the advice of his friends and neighbors. He abolished the use of liquor on the farm, and the harvest was garnered without its use, an unusual achievement in those days.

After his marriage, he and his wife lived a year at the old home, "Plum Bottom," and then moved to a farm near the Old Oak Hill factory. Here they remained three happy and prosperous years. On April 1, 1842, they went to Center Furnace and Milesburg Iron Works. Later he became the sole owner of Center Furnace. Always progressive and with keen insight, Moses contributed generously to various enterprises: Bald Eagle Valley Canal and Railway; Bolesburg and Bellefonte Turnpike; Lewisburg Center and Spruce Creek Railway. He assisted largely in establishing the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania, and for many years he served as its treasurer. Always a staunch Presbyterian, he acted as elder in the Spruce Creek Church at Lemont, Pa.

He was a man of splendid physique, standing six feet tall and weighing over two hundred pounds. He always refused public office, preferring his own business career. Successful in this, he managed furnaces, grist mills, mercantile business, banks, and farms until his last days. Having inherited a seventh interest in his father's farm, he, by wise industry and economy, became one of the largest land owners in Centre Co., Pa. He owned among other tracts, one of 6,000 acres of valuable farm land in the heart of the valley.

For fifty-two years, Moses and his wife, Mary Irvin, lived happily. Then she was taken. Shortly afterwards, in demonstrating the use of a new saw in the mill, he was severely injured. He never recovered from this accident and died in a little more than a year after her demise.

His sister, "Aunt Nancy Cooper," pays a fine tribute in a letter to her nephew, John Irvin Thompson. Speaking of her own father, John, she said, "He was a kind husband and father, but not so wise and prudent as he might have been. In many ways your own father, Moses, was his superior. He had charge of the farm for two or three years before father's death and continued to manage it afterwards and was a leader to us all." Moses and wife are buried in the Old Branch Cemetery among the graves of his ancestors. This biography was provided by Mrs. Sellers. See also "History of Central Pennsylvania."

V—1. Sarah Irvin Thompson (Moses and Mary); b. July 4, 1839; d. Feb. 20, 1887; m. Dec. 6, 1871, Dr. Theodore S. Christ; b. Apr. 21, 1830.

VI—Children: Christ.

1. Hester; b. Dec. 5, 1875. 2. Mary Irvin; b. Mar. 15, 1878; m. George C. MacMillan, of State College, Pa.

Note: Hester graduated from Birmingham Seminary. Dr. Christ served as surgeon in the Civil War and surgeon of the United States. A most comprehensive biography is found in "History of Central Pennsylvania." He had a national reputation through war-medical service. Enlisted in 1861, he saw active service until his honorable discharge in 1864. He was assistant surgeon of 4th. Reg. P. V. I. and 45 P. V. Vol. He also was a Master Mason since 1853, a Presbyterian, Republican, and graduate of University of Pennsylvania in 1860. His home was near Lemont, Pa. He opened an office in Lewisburg, Pa.

V—2. Elizabeth McFarlane Thompson (Moses and Mary); b. Feb. 14, 1841; m. Oct. 27, 1875, John Hamilton; b. Feb. 19, 1843; d. ———; son of Hugh and Sarah Gettys (McDowell) Hamilton.

VI—Children: Hamilton.

1. Anne Thompson.

Note: Mr. Hamilton served in the 1st Penna. Reserve Cav., 1861 to 1864, Army of the Potomac. He received his B.S. from State College, Pa., in 1871; M.S., 1872. He served as professor of agriculture at Pennsylvania State College from 1871 to 1880; Business Manager and Treasurer, from 1874 to 1886; Treasurer, from 1874 to 1911; Department Secretary of Agriculture, State of Pennsylvania, from 1895 to 1897; Secretary of Agriculture, from 1899 to 1903; Farmer's Institute Specialist, United States Department of Agriculture, from 1903 to 1914. He was a Presbyterian, Republican, member of Union Vet. Legion, and Phi Kappa Phi.

V—3. John Irvin Thompson (Moses and Mary); b. Oct. 11, 1843; d. Feb. 20, 1908; m. Oct. 12, 1870, Elizabeth Boal.

VI—Children: Thompson.

1. Mary Irvin. 2. Helen. 3. George Boal. 4. Elizabeth Boal. 5. Charles M.

Note: John Irvin Thompson, married second time, Nov. 17, 1909, Margaret Johnson. He graduated from Pennsylvania State College in 1862 with B.S.; M.S. in 1863; served in Civil War in Co. D, 46th Regt. (Pa.) 1863; Phi Kappa Phi, Honorary Fraternity. From 1863 to 1869 he was bookkeeper at Milesburg Iron Works and Center Furnace. In 1869 with his father and brother William they organized the firm of John I. Thompson, Jr. & Co. and opened a bank at Lemont, Pa. During the panic of 1873 they closed the bank without loss to depositors. Jno. I. later engaged in the coal and grain business in Lemont. The year 1890 saw him bookkeeper and business manager of Pennsylvania State College and Treasurer of the College from 1911-14. A Presbyterian by faith, he served as elder for years in that church at Spring Creek, Lemont, Pa.

Always an ardent Prohibitionist and a man of generous impulses and progressive ideas, he always stood for the things he thought best for the community. He was an active member of G.A.R. and captain of Foster Post, Lemont, Pa.

Elizabeth Boal was representative of one of the oldest families of Penn's Valley. Her forbear, James Boal was born Mar. 17, 1764, in Ireland and married there, 1787, Elizabeth Welch; b. Feb. 17, 1766. Two children were born to them before they set sail for America: Margaret, 1788-1841; unmarried; d. near Bellefonte, Pa.; and George Welsh Boal, b. Feb. 9, 1790; d. Sept., 1858; m. 1822, Sarah C. Shannon; d. 1864. They were buried in Center Hill Cemetery, Pa. A voyage of three months brought James, wife, and two children to America. He first settled in eastern Pennsylvania; later in Penn's Valley he developed a farm from the wild land. He was a weaver of linen and carpet. He brought his loom with him and plied it well. James was a devout Presbyterian. Children born in America: Martha, Jane, William, Elizabeth, James, Mary, and Jno. C. See "History of Central Pennsylvania," by Beers.

Note: Mr. Thompson, a man of pleasing personality, attended Central College in Philadelphia. For a time he gave up practice to enter the U. S. Army. He enlisted May 10, 1898, and served in Sheridan Troop Squadron, Penna. Cavalry; he engaged in Puerto Rico Campaign, returning to the U. S. Sept. 10, 1898. He was second lieutenant of Boal Machine Gun Troops, on the Texas border service in 1916. This troop was raised at Boalsburg, Pa., by Col. T. D. Boal and Geo. B. Thompson, and was the first mounted machine gun troop ever organized and mustered into service as such. His charming wife is a practical housewife and mother. His residence is at Bush Arcade, Bellefonte, Pa.

III—3. William married for his second wife, Sept. 18, 1823, Margaret McFarlane; b. July 17, 1798; d. at age of 47 years.

IV—Children: Thompson.

4. Nancy Rosanna. 5. Sarah Jane. 6. Eliza Loudon. 7. Emma. 8. William Joseph; b. Sept. 9, 1834, in Milroy, Pa.; served in Civil War from 1861-63; William was a prosperous farmer; d. in Mifflin Co., at the age of 84. 9. James McFarlane.

Note: Margaret was a daughter to Col. James McFarlane. Important—Jno. Mitchell of second generation in America married Sarah Thompson of third generation in America. Some members of this interesting family we find very frequently tied up with the family Thompson. We find that Elizabeth (called Betsy or Polly), daughter to William I, married George Mitchell who must have been of this same stock and probably neighbors. From an early record: William Thompson of Thompsontown, Pa.; b. 1754; m. Jane Mitchell, of near Chambersburg, Pa. This William was a son of John of Chester Co.; b. in Ireland; emigrated to America in 1735. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War.

I—1. John Mitchell of Scotch-Irish origin came from Scotland, probably Ireland; lived for many years in Mifflin Co., Pa.; died there. Wife's name is not known.

II—Children: Mitchell.

1. Susannah, m. Frank McCoy. 2. Mary Elizabeth; m. William Thompson—record following Wm. T. of 3rd gen. 3. Elizabeth; m. Mr. Roderick. 4. Samuel. 5. David; m. Miss Barron. 6. Robert. 7. William. 8. James. 9. John; b. 1787 or 1789; d. Jan. 18, 1865; m. first, Sarah Thompson (d. Mar. 5, 1832); m. second, Letitia Patton.

Note: John and brother David came to Centre Co., Pa., during the War of 1812. John settled on a farm near the site of the present village of Lemont. He was a prosperous agriculturist, a Christian gentleman of import and influence in the country, and a worth-while citizen, as was David also. The elder Mitchell inherited Presbyterianism from a long line of ancestors. So we find Thompsons and Mitchells as neighbors and friends in Mifflin and Center counties. In fact they may have come to America together—our ancestors.

III—4. Sarah Thompson (Moses I. and Nancy C.); b. Oct. 27, 1789; d. Mar. 8, 1843; m. Jan. 19, 1815, John Mitchell (2nd gen.), son of John from Scotland through Ireland.

II—9. John Mitchell, b. Feb. 12, 1789; d. Jan. 16, 1865; m. Jan. 19, 1815, (4) Sarah Thompson (3rd gen.); b. Oct. 27, 1789; d. Mar. 8, 1843 (dau. of Moses I and Nancy).

V—2. Andrew McFarlane Thompson; b. Sept. 29, 1861, at Milroy, Pa.; d. Nov. 25, 1927.

Note: The business of woolen mills was started during the year 1840 by James Reed, grandfather of the four Thompson brothers, who were operating a blanket factory. In 1876 the factory was converted into a hosiery mill, one of the first in the United States to use artificial silk in the making of stockings. Read issue of newspaper of Mifflintown, Juniata Co., Pa., date, Nov. 30, 1927. The obituary made mention of the nieces of Albert: Mrs. Paul H. A. is, Mrs. T. O. Williamson, Mrs. Alberta Eaton, Mrs. Catherine Cowen; and Albert Thompson, a nephew. Andrew McF. Thompson was rated a millionaire hosiery manufacturer. The item states that his personal property was to be held in trust for his nieces and nephews.

Note: James I. Patterson was born in Philadelphia, Pa. He spent his early days at Academia. His parents moved to Peru Mills while he was yet a small boy; here he attended school in the first log schoolhouse. Later he attended Tuscarora Academy and Dickinson College, graduating from the latter in 1859; he attended graduation exercises there when 74 years of age. He was principal of Boalsburg Academy, Pa., when the Civil War broke out. He at once raised a company of Volunteers, Co. G. 148th Penna. Vol., and was made captain. He served with honorable distinction in the Army of the Potomac in its many actions. He was wounded at Petersburg and was given an honorable disability discharge. Returning to civil life he was principal of Tuscarora, Airy View, and Dry Run academies.

He was a successful engineer in Juniata and neighboring counties of Pennsylvania. In 1886 he went to Nebraska as a civil engineer with the Burlington Railroad. Later he served eight years as head of Milford High School. When Oklahoma was opened, he and different members of his family homesteaded there. His health failing in 1896, he retired to the Ozarks in Kansas. Regaining health he lived a useful life until its end. He died in Denver, Colo., while visiting a daughter. He was buried with military honors by the National Guard from Harrison, Ark. Capt. Patterson was a man of unusual mind and character, was loved and respected throughout life.

He was awarded an honorary M.A. degree from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in recognition of his work as a teacher in Pennsylvania and Nebraska.

Too much credit cannot be given him for his research and records in genealogy. Through his efforts his children lay claim to eleven Revolutionary forbears, and to his records and the patience of his daughter-in-law, Minnie (Harry) Patterson—Mrs. Wm. VanDyke Patterson—the author voices heartfelt thanks for data. Capt. Patterson and wife are buried in their home town, Alpena Pass, Ark. He died at the age of 95½ years.

Note: Of the Jack Family so closely allied with Patterson, Thompsons, etc., we might add this bit of family lore: The immigrant Jack, a native of north Ireland, a paid soldier in Germany, eloped with a "lady in waiting," and came to Chester Co., Pa.

Andrew Jack was born in Chester Co., Pa., near old Chester, June 30, 1756. He was a Revolutionary War soldier and lived some years near Boalsburg at Benner's Iron Works, subsequently in Half Moon Twp., Centre Co., Pa.

David Jack died Sept. 26, 1849, at age of 45 years. Michael Jack died 1829.

Note: Mary Mitchell was daughter to J. Hutchinson and Nancy (Johnson) Mitchell.

Note of Interest: In "History of the Susquehanna and Juniata Valleys," published 1886, Fermaugh Twp., John Thompson, one of several brothers who resided in Patton Valley, Cumberland Co., about 1765, came up the Juniata River with his family and purchased about 200 acres of land. He had three wives and the following children: Robert, William, Andrew, Thomas, Peter; Susanna who married David Boles and settled in Pfoutz Valley; Sarah who married Wm. McAlister; and Robert the eldest who married Mary Mitchell. John died about 1779. David Boal was appointed an executor.

A most comprehensive record of the Boal Family is to be found in "Commemorative History of Central Pennsylvania," by Beers (1898).

Two brothers, Alexander and Samuel Culbertson, came from Ireland between 1730 and 1735 to Lancaster Co., Pa.

In the cemetery at Reedsville, Mifflin Co., Pa., on the side of a large monument you will find the following record. Dates do not quite conform to those sent to author, but some of Moses I children which were omitted by Mrs. Sellers should find a place in this Genealogy.

THOMPSON: Moses, 1755-1816; Agnes, his wife, 1758-1793; William, a son, 1788-1871 (not 1817); Mary, his wife, 1795-1822; Margaret, wife, 1798-1847; Nancy R., 1821-1846; Emma, 1832-1847; Sarah Sterrett, 1826-1863; Mary M. Milliken, 1821-1857; William T., 1845-1847; Robert M., 1849-1855.

On other side monument: William Joseph, 1834-1898; James M., 1838-1878; Moses, 1818-1888; Susannah, his wife, 1830-1900; Edwin B., 1862-19(?) ; Emma B., wife, 1862-1915; William M., 1854-1930; Rebecca, wife, 1853-1904; Mary E., 1859-1860; David S., 1861-1861; Miriam, 1864-1864; Geo. L., 1863-1924.

Note: Mary Thompson Dale graduated from Penna. State College in 1905 and was a lady of rare charm and talent. She was a social and civic leader in the affairs of the renowned college center, State College, Pa. She was the proud possessor of eight Revolutionary grandsires. She gave unstintingly of time and strength to worth-while activities of the D.A.R., the church, and the community. She and husband were scions of Centre County's earliest families, which gave prestige and understanding. Mrs. Dale gave record of Wm. T. III.

Dr. Dale's grandparents came from England to Clearfield Co., about 1809. The Dales, who were the ancestors of our subject, can trace their history back almost to the Norman Conquest. About 1650 we find the Dale family prominently mentioned in English and Colonial history. Dr. Peter Dale, a worthy representative of this noted family, is a most successful and beloved physician in his chosen field. He graduated from Penna. State College in 1903; University of Penna. in 1907. He has an enviable war record; he was commissioned Capt. of Medical Reserve Corps, July 10, 1917; attended Medical Officers' Training Camp at Greenleaf, Ga., from Aug. 9 to Nov. 1, 1917; Remount Dept. No. 359, Louisville, Ky., from Nov. 1, 1917 to Nov. 16, 1917; was transferred to Medical Dept. No. 327 of Field Artillery, 84th Division at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky.; went with his regiment to West Point, Ky., to establish a Field Artillery Range. In Aug., 1918, the artillery was ordered to Camp Mills, N. Y., for embarkation and sailed Sept. 9, 1918, landing at Liverpool, England, Sept. 21, 1918. After a few weeks in Rest Camps, he was sent to Camp DeLouge, near Bordeaux, France, and while training here, the Armistice was signed. He was ordered to Camp Hospital No. 48, where he served as chief of Medical Staff until sent back to America where he was honorably discharged, July 3, 1919, having served 23 months. Res.: 237 E. Hamilton Ave., State College, Pa.

VII—1. Hiram Thompson Dale; b. June 27, 1911; d. ———; m. June 17, 1939, Elizabeth Mitchell Thompson; b. ———; daughter of Rev. Wm. Clarence and Geraldine (Mitchell) Thompson. Rev. Thompson is pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Bellefonte, Pa.

Note: Dr. Hiram T. Dale is a graduate of Penna. State College and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. He is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity and Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity. He was an interne at Williamsport Hospital and is now practicing. Mrs. Thompson of Bellefonte, Pa., is a graduate of Bellefonte High School, Wooster College, Wooster, Ohio, and later was employed as technician at Harrisburg State Hospital. Her father was born and reared at Cambridge, Ohio; her mother was born and reared at Xenia, Ohio, and later lived in Boston where her father, Rev. James Mitchell, was pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

Chapter V

MARY "POLLY" THOMPSON

III—2. Mary "Polly" Thompson (Wm., Jr., and Elizabeth); b. Feb. 10, 1787; d. Nov. 23, 1866; m. Dec., 1808, Joseph Glenn; b. Feb. 10, 1787; d. Apr. 17, 1852.

IV—Children: Glenn.

1. Archibald. 2. William Turner. 3. Mary Ann.

Note: Joseph was son of John and Mary (Borland) Glenn. In 1818 Joseph and family came to Indiana Co., Pa., where he remained three years, after which he located near Mahoning Creek, Wayne Twp., Armstrong Co., Pa., about two miles from Dayton, Pa. The region was a wilderness, but he developed a farm and lived here until his death. He was a strongly religious man, a leader in the Methodist Church and especially zealous in Sunday-school work. He superintended many Sunday schools, at different times far distant from his home. Noteworthy was the one at Pine Creek, twelve miles distant. His was a life of usefulness, worthy of example. Joseph and wife Mary are buried in the Methodist graveyard at Milton, Pa. Joseph and wife were born on the same day, month, and year, in Armstrong Co., Pa.

IV—1. Archibald Glenn; b. Feb. 16, 1810; d. May 21, 1888; m. Jan. 28, 1828, Susanna Coursin; b. Sept. 3, 1803; d. Jan. 18, 1880.

V—Children: Glenn.

1. John Coursin; b. Jan. 8, 1830, near Milton, on Guthrie Farm; d. in 1855 in Ill.; unmarried. 2. Abraham Rockey. 3. Elijah Cresswell. 4. James Alexander. 5. Mary Jane. 6. Archibald David. 7. William Turner.

Note: Archibald was born in Center Co., Pa. He was married near Curllsville, Clarion Co., Pa. He lived in Clarion and Armstrong Cos. He was public spirited and had great civic pride. He served in many township offices, also as county and jury commissioner and for fifteen years as a Justice of the Peace.

Archibald and Susanna gave five sons and a son-in-law to fight on the Union side in the Civil War. The brothers enlisted in 1861. All came home again. Of special notice is the fact that the 78th Regt. of Penna. Infantry was raised in Armstrong Co., Pa. With interest one will note how many of the Glenn-Thompsons served their country in this regiment, Co. B., and most served during the entire war. Age alone deterred Archibald from joining the regiment. He, however, gave valuable and untiring service to those bereft and needy at home. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are buried at Eddyville, Pa.

V—2. Abraham Rockey Glenn; b. Jan. 26, 1832; d. Apr. 1910; m. Jan. 26, 1853, at Independence, Pa., Sarah Elizabeth McCurdy; b. ———; d. ———; of Indiana, Pa.

VI—Children: Glenn.

1. David. 2. Annie. 3. John. 4. Harry. 5. Minnie; m. Cassidy.

Note: On the march of his company to Nashville, Tenn., Abraham contracted severe bronchitis, and was detained in Kentucky with others afflicted. An improvised hospital was set up, Feb. 22, 1862. For a time he acted as nurse, later joined his regiment. In 1863 he acted as escort to Generals Negley, Grant, and Palmer. He was discharged Oct. 12, 1864, at Kittanning, Pa. Abraham and wife are buried at Smicksburg, Pa.

V—3. Elijah Cresswell Thompson Glenn; b. Oct. 7, 1834; d. Feb., 1871; m. Oct. 7, 1858, Louisa Allen; b. ———.

VI—Children: Glenn.

1. Edith M.; b. May 22, 1859; d. Jan. 10, 1871; m. ———; had children; no data. 2. Ada Zillah; b. Apr. 20, 1862. 3. Horace Stanton; b. Jan. 31, 1865; d. June 24, 1901. 4. Thomas Sheridan; b. Jan. 25, 1869; died at 16 years.

Note: Elijah and wife were married on the Allen Farm, Porter Twp., Jefferson Co., Pa., by Rev. Richard Jordan. Elijah was with his regiment during entire term of service, except from Apr. 8 to Aug. 19, 1864, when he acted as escort to Gen. Palmer. He was promoted to sergeant in which rank he was discharged, Nov. 4, 1864. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are buried in Dayton, Pa.

V—4. James Alexander Glenn; b. Oct. 12, 1836; d. 1929; m. Jan. 27, 1876, at Georgetown, Pa., Mary Brumbaugh; b. _____; d. _____; daughter to Frederick and Elizabeth (Sharrer) Brumbaugh.

VI—Children: Glenn.

1. Iva May; died at 16 years. 2. Alfinas A.

Note: James A. Glenn was born at the Glade Run fulling mills, near Henderson's grist mill near Dayton, Pa. During war service he was dangerously wounded at the Battle of the Wilderness, May 5, 1864. For five days he suffered in government wagons before proper transportation was secured. He never fully recovered from this ordeal and was discharged as corporal July 13, 1864. After the war he followed lumbering in Armstrong and Jefferson Cos., Pa. In 1891 he removed to Dayton, Pa., where he became a valuable citizen. In official circles he served as tax collector, constable, and assessor. The town's interests ever received his encouragement and support. He was a stockholder in the Dayton Fair Association and of the Normal Institute. He was a Republican; served as Commander of J. Edward Truk Post, G.A.R. Husband and wife are buried at Eddyville, Pa.

The son, Alfinas A., was a well-known business man in Crookston, Minn., where he died at the age of 52. He left a wife, two sons, and seven daughters.

V—5. Mary Jane Glenn; b. Apr. 21, 1839; d. 1901; m. Apr. 29, 1858, at Independence, Pa., John S. Oyler; m. by Wm. Guthrie, Esq.

VI—Children: Oyler.

1. Laura Winona; b. Jan. 4, 1859; m. June 24, 1880, Geo. L. Neudorfer. 2. Clara Ida; b. Aug. 23, 1860; m. Sept. 10, 1880, Hackey N. Long. 3. Eva Adelia; b. Sept. 5, 1862; m. Feb. 14, 1883, George Snyder. 4. Coursin Glenn; b. Jan. 23, 1865. 5. Anna Alice;

- b. Nov. 1, 1867. 6. Wilber Clark; b. July 16, 1870.
7. Minnie Viola; b. May 16, 1873; d. Sept. 1, 1881.
8. Clyde H.; b. Apr. 14, 1876. 9. Ralph E.; b. Sept.
6, 1880. 10. Blanche M.; b. Nov. 26, 1883.

Note: The Oylers lived near Murraysville, Westmoreland Co., Pa. Mr. Oyler enlisted in the Union Army, Aug., 1864, in the 206th Penna. Vol. Heavy Artillery, which was sent to garrison defenses at Washington, D. C. He was discharged when troops were disbanded in 1865. His wife was born at Wilson's Run, Pa.

- V—6. Honorable Archibald David Glenn; b. Jan. 30, 1842; d. Mar., 1918; unmarried.

Note: A. D. Glenn was born at Camp Run, Pa., and attended school at Milton, Dayton Union Academy, and Iron City College, Pittsburgh, Pa. He began teaching at sixteen years. He taught in Milton, Red Bank, Brady's Bend Twps., also in Indiana and Allegheny Cos. After the war he represented a schoolbook agency, and later engaged in mercantile business with his father as partner. This was at Eddyville, Pa. In 1872 he became superintendent of schools in Armstrong Co. He served nine years during which time he did much toward elevating the standard of public instruction. Declining reelection, he took up newspaper work, acting as editor of the Kittanning Union Free Press, 1879-1881. In 1882 he was elected to the Assembly by Republicans of Armstrong Co., Pa. He was re-elected in 1884, becoming chairman of Com. on Education. He was largely instrumental in securing legislation affecting the teaching of effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants, and narcotics upon the human system. In 1887, Mr. Glenn became statistical clerk and two years later, financial clerk in the Dept. of Public Instruction at Harrisburg, Pa. In 1906 he was promoted to the Deputy Superintendency, with office in Harrisburg. He served as Dist. Grand Master of I.O.O.F. for Armstrong Co., Pa., for two years; member of Jno. F. Croll Post, G.A.R., Kittanning, Pa.; Putneyville Lodge No. 735 I.O.O.F.; Kittanning Lodge No. 244, A.Y.M.; and Harrisburg Consistory, A.A.S.R., N.M.J., U.S.A.

In war service he enlisted as sergeant Aug. 29, 1861, in Co. B, 78th Penna. Infantry, and with that Company went to Kentucky. He was discharged on account of state troops in July of same year; discharged when troops were discharged. He is buried in Harrisburg, Pa.

V—7. William Turner Glenn (Archibald and Susan);
b. Oct. 31, 1845; d. Apr., 1875; m. 1864, Caroline G.
Weldon; m. by Wm. Guthrie, Esq., at Milton, Pa.

VI—Children: Glenn.

One child; no data.

Note: Wm. T. Glenn was born near Hasting's Mill, Pa. He enlisted before the age of 16 in Co. F, 48th Penna. Infantry and was sent to Camp Hamilton near Fortress Monroe, then to Hatteras Island, N. C. In July, he joined the Army of the Potomac, fought at Fredericksburg, then detailed to Kentucky. As result of exposure, he suffered inflammatory rheumatism, and was hospitalized in Baltimore; as a result he received a discharge. When Pennsylvania was invaded, he enlisted in the state troops and was discharged with them; then he enlisted for three years in Co. M, 2nd Penna. Cavalry. He was transferred later to Co. K as a supernumerary and was promoted to corporal. He was detained six months after discharge because of rheumatic condition. His patriotism prompted him to continue in service, as he enlisted later in Co. L, U.S. Cavalry, spending several years in the Rocky Mountain Dist. He died and is buried at Eddyville, Pa.

Note: James, Sr., emigrated to America in the ship Happy Return arriving at Philadelphia, May 25, 1790. He married and moved to Centre Co., Pa., in 1804, locating at Julian in the Bald Eagle Valley where he kept a hotel and later bought a farm, built a grist mill, a sawmill, and a blacksmith shop. He was most prosperous. John, the son, after marriage moved to Clarion Co., Pa., near Shippenville. After his wife's death, he returned to Centre Co.

ANOTHER OF FAMILY GLENN

About the year 1800, the brothers, Joseph, John, James, William, and Samuel Glenn came from Westmoreland Co., Pa., and located on lands now in northeast Clay and southwest Washington Twps., Butler Co., Pa. The land had been purchased before that time, but he died just prior to the removal of his widow and children to this new home. There were three sisters also.

II—Joseph; m. Annie McElvain. John; m. Dorcas McElvain. James; m. Anna Campbell. William; m. Rebecca Porter. Samuel; m. Jane Conway; issue. Mary; m. Elisha Wick. Rebecca; m. JAMES LAWRENCE THOMPSON

III—4. James Lawrence Thompson (William T. and Elizabeth); b. Sept. 22, 1801; d. Sept. 28, 1876; m. May 10, 1821, Catherine Gearhart; b. Jan. 2, 1803; d. Jan. 28, 1850.

IV—Children: Thompson.

1. George Washington. 2. John Gearhart. 3. Mary Jane. 4. Sarah Ann. 5. Davis Kenison. 6. William Turner. 7. James Criswell. 8. Ellen B. 9. Ann Eliza; b. July 14, 1836; d. Jan. 4, 1837. 10. Peter Nelson. 11. Catherine Elizabeth. 12. Wesley Cooper. 13. Nercissa Lomon.

Note: Jas. L. was born and reared in the old homestead two miles west of Pine Grove Mills, Centre Co., Pa.; went to Philipsburg, Pa., about 1820 where he was employed as a charcoal burner by the Philips' Factory. In 1821 he married Catherine Gearhart, daughter of John and Catherine (Gray) Gearhart. About the year 1834 he went to Strattonville, Clarion Co., Pa., and burned charcoal for the Madison Furnace for two years. In 1836 he moved to Jefferson Co., near Sigel, Pa. In 1839 he moved to Armstrong Co., Pa., where he did carpentering for a time, and spent a year burning charcoal. Later he moved to Phoenix, Armstrong Co., Pa., where he built boats for the Pittsburgh market. His wife Catherine died there. She was the mother of his thirteen children and was buried in the Methodist churchyard at Dayton, Pa. On April 16, 1851, he married Rebecca Ann Layton in Dayton. In 1859 he sold the home he had built, to Archibald Glenn, his sister Mary's son. Jas. L. built flatboats for the firm of Glenn & Hileman. In 1860 he moved the family to West Decatur, Clearfield Co., Pa., where his second wife died Jan. 5, 1865; age 60 years. In 1870 he married Susan Hanna, who survived him. He died in his West Decatur home and was buried in the old Peek's graveyard. Rebecca A. was buried in Old Mud churchyard (Union Cemetery), Philipsburg, Pa. Catherine Gray, his first wife, was daughter to John and Catherine (Gray) Gearhart, who were married in Penna. or Md., in 1784; John was born in 1754; d. 1840; son of Mordecai Gearhart, whose seven sons fought in the Battle of Germantown. He was from Alsace Lorraine, of Huguenot stock. Catherine (Gray) was daughter to Peter and Eve (Kreider) Gray, who with their family came from Frederick Co., Md., in 1788 to what was then known as the Half Moon Valley, Pa., and was assessed and regarded as belonging to Franklin Twp., Huntingdon Co., Pa. (now Centre). John Gearhart served in the Revolutionary War as Ensign in the Lancaster Militia in the 3rd Company. The parents of Peter Gray were John (d. in Washington Co., Md., 1789) and Catherine (?) . Parents of Eve Kreider were Joseph and Eve (—) Kreider who came to Centre Co., Pa., from Berks Co., Pa., at an early date. The Kreiders (Cryders). (Gryder), (Kreiter), were of Swiss origin, mostly Mennonites. John and Catherine (Gray) Gearhart settled in what is now Decatur Twp., Clearfield Co., Pa., clearing a farm near Osceola. Later they moved to Philipsburg, Pa., where he died. His wife died at the home of her son Jacob in Decatur Twp., Pa. Both are buried in the Mud churchyard at Philipsburg, Pa.

All persons through this line are eligible to membership in the D.A.R., the S.A.R., the Huguenot, and most Colonial Societies.

Peter and Eve (Kreider) Gray are buried on the old Reuben Meek farm. Native stones marked their resting place. Peter's will is at Bellefonte, Pa. He died in 1817.

"The Gearhart's name was well known in the early eighteenth century in Germany. They were university men with leanings toward the church—devout and earnest in their attitude of life. A number of them became ministers of the Gospel." In 1536 Peter Gerhart, a teacher, was beheaded in Zurich because of his faith. George and Peter Gehret were taxed 1756 in Berks Co., Pa. The men, Thompson, were large and muscular, averaging 300 pounds in weight. They mostly followed lumbering in the early days. This branch were staunch Methodists, and Republicans.

IV—1. Geo. Washington Thompson (James L. and Catherine); b. June 10, 1825; d. Jan. 28, 1907; m. Nov. 12, 1850, Mary Gray; b. Apr. 19, 1832; d. Feb. 12, 1855.

V—Children: Thompson.

1. Jared Mills. 2. John Gray.

Geo. W. married second wife about 1857, Sarah Lias; b. Sept. 4, 1822; d. Mar. 14, 1894.

Children: Thompson.

3. Frank Lee. 4. Charles Milton. 5. James Lincoln; b. Mar. 26, 1863; d. Mar. 20, 1865. 6. George Sherman.

Note: Geo. W. was born in Centre Co., Pa. He lived in Armstrong Co.; later in 1867 moved to Indiana Co., Pa.

He served as 4th Sgt. in Co. M, 5th Penna. Heavy Artillery, for one year during the Civil War.

Mary, his wife, was daughter to John and Mary (Mattern) Gray, of Centre Co., Pa. John Gray who died 1857 in his 57th year was son of John; b. 1767; d. 1849; and his wife Catherine, daughter of Conrad Hartsock. Catherine died in 1847; Mary died Nov., 1871; aged 73 years. John, Sr., was son of Peter and Eve (Kreider) Gray who with their family—married and single—together with the Hartsock family came in 1788 to what was known as the Half Moon Valley. Their home had been in Frederick Co. John, the forbear's will, is in Hagerstown, Md.; the will of Peter Gray, Sr., is at Bellefonte, Pa.

The Mattern family have an interesting background. The family in America sprang from Peter Mattern (formerly spelled Matthorn) who was a native of the Valley of the Rhine, born near the Matterhorn, one of the Swiss mountains in Canton Valais. About the year 1750 Peter and wife came to America and settled in Maryland. They had a family of nine children. In 1779, three of the sons, Jacob, David and George, moved to the Spruce Creek Valley, Huntingdon Co., Pa. Mary (Mattern) Gray, mother of Mary Gray Thompson, was daughter to George and Katherine (Hiskel-Huyskill) Mattern. The Kreiders, Cryters, Criders, etc., were also of Swiss stock mostly offsprings of four brothers who came to Lancaster Co., Pa., at a very early date. Many served in the Revolutionary War.

The author feels certain that the Gray family came through Maryland to Centre Co., Pa., from Lancaster Co., Pa. Mary Gray Thompson is buried in Gray's Cemetery near Stormstown, Centre Co., Pa. George Washington Thompson is buried ———.

He married his cousin Katherine, daughter to his mother's brother, Elias Gearhart, (b. 1797; d. 1860) and wife Mary Magdalene (Ream) (1799-1858); m. 1824. Katherine and Isaac Elias Gearhart were children of John (1754-1840) and Catherine (Gray) (1769-1846) Gearhart; married 1784 in Maryland. They came to Centre Co., Pa., 1788. The parents of Catherine were Peter and (Eve Kreider) Gray of Centre Co., Pa. John was son to Mordecai Gearhart. The mother's name is unknown. Mary Magdalene (Ream) Gearhart was daughter to John Frederick (1754-1837) and Barbara (Ream) (1772; d. before 1837) Ream; m. about 1794. Barbara was daughter to Abraham and Elizabeth (Neidig) Ream of Lancaster Co., Pa. Abraham was cousin to John Frederick Ream, hence the queer connections, marriages and births effected in those early generations. John F. was son of Matthias Ream (1726-1789) and Magdalene () Ream; died 1815. Abraham, son to Nicholas (1720-1774) and Elizabeth (Reiter) Ream was married Apr. 26, 1743. Matthias and Nicholas were sons of Eberhart (1687-1779) and Anna Elizabeth (Schwab) (1692-1761); m. Apr. 5, 1712. Eberhart and wife and two children came to America from Germany to Lancaster Co., Pa., in 1717. His grandsons, Jno. F. and Abraham came to Centre Co., Pa.: Jno. in 1786; Abraham two years later. Their wills are at Bellefonte, Pa. Matthias, his wife's, and Nicholas's wills are at Lancaster, Pa. Matthias, John Fred, Abraham, and John Gearhart served in the Revolutionary War from Lancaster Co., Pa. Jno. Gearhart was sergeant. Gearhart, Richm, and Schwab (changed to Swope by English clerks) are considered Huguenots. See "Memorials of the Huguenots," by Stapleton.

Rev. Thompson received his education at Meadville College, Pa.; was licensed to preach in 1846, before his twenty-first year; was admitted soon after license on trial; had full connection with Methodism in 1853. He was appointed deacon in 1851 and was in the Erie Conference for over twenty years. He had many appointments: in 1864-1865 he went to Mt. Jackson, Lawrence Co., Pa. After the Civil War he was transferred to the Mo. and Ark. Conference. He with his four youngest children, wife and eldest son Dallas J. and young bride Mary, went to the then Far West. A daughter Sadie had died at Mt. Jackson, Pa. Rev. John served many charges in the West in Missouri and Kansas. He was presiding elder for two years. He was identified with the Methodist Book Concern (Co.) making regular trips to New York in its interest—superannuated 1885. In later years he moved to Morland, Kans., where his wife died in 1897 and he in 1905. Their daughter Laura also died in their home in Kansas. Rev. and wife had fifty-three years of married life. These sincere words are quoted: "Brother Thompson was a man of upright life, gentle and kind, an earnest and zealous Christian; a good preacher and faithful pastor." One of his children said: "We have in his life a more eloquent testimony than words can tell." Of Katherine, the wife, it was said: "Her religious life was unspotted: regular and consistent, while able she was a great help to her beloved husband, especially in revival work. While he was away she would gather her children around her and read and pray with them. She was a true and faithful wife. She joined the Methodist Church in Clarion Co. Pa. The whole family were blessed with beautiful, unusual speaking and singing voices,—a gift of God, truly.

V—1. Dallas Jeremiah; b. Mar. 20, 1844; d. Sept. 20, 1915; m. July 4, 1866, Mary Ann Cornelius; b. Mar. 9, 1847; d. Oct. 9, 1920.

VI—Children: Thompson.

1. Mary Cornelius. 2. Frank Dallas. 3. Frederick Mason; b. June 3, 1874; d. June 10, 1875, in Butler Co., Pa. 4. Royal Eugene; b. July 26, 1884; d. Oct. 20, 1899, at Youngstown, Ohio.

Note: The parents of Mary A. Cornelius were Maxwell (1811-1904) and Mary Ann (Anderson) (1810-1904); married 1831 in Pittsburgh, Pa. Mary A. Anderson was born in Co. Down, Ireland, daughter of William and Margaret (Haddon) Anderson. Margaret and small son died in Ireland in 1814; she was born about 1786; the child Mary Ann then six years old came with her father William to America and settled in Pittsburgh, Pa., 1816. They were three weeks traveling from Baltimore to Pittsburgh by wagon. William having had exceptional educational advantages in the old country, became a teacher. He settled on a farm in Moon Twp., and married Nancy Arnold. They had eight children: Sarah (Ben Lee); Nancy (James Abbott); Letitia, single; Margaret (Samuel Brown); William (Marzena Wallace and Caroline A. Nimon). William's second wife died 1842 and he then married Martha (Glass) a widow and relative who had two daughters, Jane and I think Martha by a former husband. William had a granddaughter Martha McKelvey whom he mentions in his will and who married Jas. Buchanan Anders. William moved to Allegheny City, owned much real estate in what is now the heart of the city where he died. His will dated Mar. 27, 1857, must have burned in the court house fire in Pittsburgh. Fortunate are we who have a copy.

William's ancestors removed from Scotland about 1700 to County Down, Balley Kelley, Ireland, where his grandfather William was born in 1722. This William had a son Andrew, a manufacturer of and dealer in linen cloth; he also owned a small farm where he lived and died in 1821. Andrew married Elizabeth Glass and became the father of eleven children; the sixth of these was our William who came to America. It is said that William and Martha had sons Thomas, John, and George.

Maxwell Cornelius, father of Mary Ann, wife of Dallas, was son of Maxwell (b. 1768; d. Jan. 17, 1832, at Neville Island near Pittsburgh, Pa.) and Margaret (Winter) (b. 1779; d. May 16, 1862 on Neville Island, where they settled early in 1830—coming first to Pittsburgh soon after 1800, from "East of the Mountains"). They were probably from Maryland or Virginia. Maxwell and Margaret were married Mar. 18, 1794, and were parents of thirteen children: Jesse (1795-1829); Justice (1797-—); John (1798-1876); Abigail (1801-—); Isabella (1803-1829); Cornelian Dysart (1804-1884); Josiah (1807-—); Absalom (1809-1847); Maxwell (1811-1904); Margaret (1813-1834); James (1815-1836); Sylvester (1818-1832); Elizabeth (1822-—) Margaret's will is at Beaver Falls, Pa.

Children of Maxwell and Mary Ann (Anderson) Cornelius were: Margaret (1832-1840); Elizabeth (Lemmon) (1834-1914); Jesse (1836-1907); James Clinton (1838-1909); William (1840-1914); Maxwell Newton (1842-1892); Margaret (first, Swisher; second, Austin) (b. 1844; alive 1941); Mary Ann (1847-1920); Jane Dyer (first, Glenn; second, Whisler) (1849-1937); Martha Belle (Fox) (b. 1852; living 1941); Samuel Anderson (1857-1932).

Dallas J. Thompson was born in Armstrong Co., Pa., near Kittanning. He attended public schools at Allegheny College; served in the Union Army during the entire Civil War; enlisted Sept. 17, 1861, for three years in Co. H, 78th Penna. Vol. Inf., as did his brother John Wesley; was honorably discharged at Kittanning, Pa. (from where he went to war), on Nov. 4, 1864. He immediately re-enlisted in Hancock's 1st A.C. Co. D, 3rd Reg., U.S. Vol.: was discharged at Springfield, Ill., on Mar. 10, 1866; was at Camp Stoneman, Washington, D. C., and in attendance at Ford's Theater the night President Lincoln was assassinated. Throughout the war he faithfully kept a diary which records the above fact. He was wounded at the Battle of Stone Mountain, was taken into a southern home and tended carefully until recovery. Being an expert penman, he many times acted as secretary to superior officers during the war. He was appointed first sergeant in 1865 and corporal in 1866. Home on leave at Mount Jackson, Lawrence Co., Pa. (here his father was Methodist minister), he met the reigning belle of that part of the country, said to be the most beautiful girl and best singer (soprano) in the countryside. From his diary dated Dec. 11, 1864: "Rough day—Lawrence and I went to Westfield to church in Nesbit's sled, got introduced to Miss Mary Cornelius, think her very handsome and gay. Went to prayer meeting in evening, awful cold." On July 4, 1866, they were married at the Cornelius home in Westfield, Pa. As has been said earlier, they courageously joined Rev. John G. T. and family pioneering to Missouri. There Dallas taught school and did some farming. Soon after the birth of their daughter "May" C., Mary, homesick and discouraged, they returned to Pennsylvania where Dallas secured a position in Pamarr's Store, New Castle, Pa. Later, the lure of the Pennsylvania oil fields called and here Dallas prospected, drilled, shot torpedoes, etc., throughout Pennsylvania and New York fields. Now and then for the children's sake the loyal wife and mother, Mary, would move out of the excitement of it all, but later would try it again. This continued until 1883 when the family came to Youngstown, Ohio. Dallas in 1887 went into the U. S. Postal Service, where he continued until his death in 1915. He was dearly loved and respected, honest and efficient; a staunch Republican; a Methodist; a lover of nature and the great outdoors. He and wife and two sons are buried in lovely Riverside Cemetery, Poland, Ohio, as are also Mary's parents and many kinsfolk. Dallas and Mary were married by Rev. Wm. M. Taylor, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Westfield, Lawrence Co., Pa.

Note: The Thompsons, Gearharts, and Corneliuses were endowed with great musical ability, vocal and instrumental, also with exceptionally good looks; this should be recorded with pride.

VI—1. Mary Cornelius Thompson (Dallas and Mary);
b. Apr. 16, 1867; d. ———; m. Dec. 31, 1890,
Warren Piatt Williamson; b. Oct. 4, 1858.

VII—Children: Williamson.

1. Joseph Dallas. 2. Warren Pyatt.

Note: Mary C. T. was born in Missouri (Caldwell Co.) in a log cabin. While a babe her parents returned to Pennsylvania, then to Ohio. Most of her childhood was spent in the "Oil Country." Later in Ohio after finishing school she taught in the Youngstown schools for four and a half years. She made opportunity, before and after marriage, for supplemental educational courses that has stood her in good stead as a civic, musical, church, and political leader. She has given time and talent to most pioneer movements of her day. She has been called to serve in city, county and state and helped to organize local, state, and national bodies of Auxiliary to the American Legion. She also served in many capacities on their boards, served four years as State Music Chairman of O. Fed. of Women's Clubs. Being the war chairman she was able to render needed service in Camp Sherman, Ohio, during wartime. She served in High School Improvised Hospital during the entire "flu" epidemic. She was appointed Chairman for Ohio-Community Singing by the National Council of Women; was Mahoning Co. Chairman of Republican Women; ran for the legislature but went down with the Republican party. Hers has been an active and we hope useful life. She is a Methodist, and sang in the choir, etc. She was married in Trinity Methodist Church, Youngstown, Ohio, by Dr. A. N. Craft. She has served as president (first) of Y. Fed. of Women's Clubs; Monday Musical Club, etc. As a world traveler, she has visited Palestine and the Mediterranean countries; the West Indies; Alaska; our National Parks; Mexico; the Canadian Rockies; has toured our own loved U. S. A.: made a world tour, including in India the Taj Mahal, Darjeeling; in Africa, Luxor, Karnack, the Valley of the Kings, King Tut's Tomb (the year it was opened); also Oberammergau; Java; Ceylon; Singapore; Bombay; etc. Speaking thus is not braggadocio but a recital of rare privileges made possible for your author, which she hopes will create a desire in the hearts of posterity to travel to the uttermost parts of the earth. Most courthouses in Pennsylvania have been haunted by her presence, seeking light on some particular forbear. It has all been exceedingly worth while, "Go thou and do likewise." Travel has been her recreating; genealogy, rather her hobby. She loves gardening, music, and art. She is member of D.A.R., Eastern Star, White Shrine, Huguenot Society of Penna., Chautauqua Women's Club; a graduate of the C.L.S.C.; a fellow member of the Institute of American Genealogy, also a charter member of the Wm. McGuffey Club; member of a Literary, Writers, and Nature Club; serving a three-year term as State Chairman of Radio for Ohio. She believes implicitly in organization to bring out the best in one and to get results.

Warren Pyatt, I, came from sturdy, pioneer stock, ever active and long lived. His paternal great-great-grandfather, and his son Joseph—the grandfather—served in the Revolutionary War. The grandfather (1765-1827) married about 1788 either Margaret Dustman or Margaret Fuchs; the will speaks of "My beloved wife, Margaret." These women were wives of the early Josephs, not yet agreed upon.

Margaret (?) (1765-1848) and Joseph came to the Western Reserve in Trumbull Co. (now Mahoning), Ohio in 1797. Originally from England, they lived in New Jersey abiding for a time in Washington Co., Pa., then to their newly purchased farm in the Promised Land of Ohio. A daughter, Elizabeth, born 1789, came with them. In 1801 a son Piatt was born. In 1826 he married Annie Knox; b. 1804 in Dauphin Co., Pa., daughter of the young Irishman, Hugh Knox, and the daughter of the miller for whom he worked (?) Ellenberger. This Hugh Knox family had come to Youngstown, Ohio) (the wife's name Martha), in 1822. To Annie and Piatt Williamson was born: Joseph, the father of our subject; John (1829-1851) unmarried; Elizabeth (1831-1819; m. 1854, Jesse Simon); Isaac (1833-1905; m. about 1861, Julia Laughlin, of Tenn.; m. second in 1867, Julia McClurg); Horace (1835-1919; unmarried); Sarah Jane (1838-1929; m. Abraham Hubler); Laura (1840-1862; unmarried); Alice (b. 1843; m. 1876, Alfred McKinnie).

Joseph; b. July 31, 1827; m. Dec. 23, 1856, Belinda Alice Detchon; b. May 30, 1835; d. Dec. 12, 1924. Joseph died July 1, 1912; Belinda was of pioneer stock, an illustrious family of pioneers, the daughter of Elijah and Elizabeth (Kentner) Detchon. Elijah (1803-1868; m. 1830, Elizabeth Kentner; 1808-1855) was a son of Oswald, son of William of England, of French Huguenot extraction, whose forbear, De'Cheon, had early fled to England. The family being large landowners consisted of the son Oswald who at death of his father, with his wife Ann (Carr) Detchon, and five small children, Edward and Joseph, twins who died on the voyage over (1797); William (Hannah Jones); Oswald (Rachel Freet); Nancy, who never married, came to America. They landed in New York, buying land in the Western Reserve from the Conn. Land Co. They came to Boardman Twp., Ohio, in 1801. The following children also blessed this union: John (Manna Hoadley); George (Elizabeth Hiveley); Elijah; Mary Ann (William Totton); Solomon (Ann D. McKee); Thomas (Mary Clark); Elizabeth (Robert Gilmore).

Elizabeth Kintner Detchon was daughter to Rebecca Hall born in Virginia whose father served in the Revolutionary War. Name is not known, neither the mothers, but after much waiting, must have been injured or imprisoned. The mother of Rebecca put her three children in good homes and later she remarried. The supposedly dead husband returned—the outcome is not yet known. The family with whom Rebecca's lot was cast came to Ohio. When very young, a mere child (b. 1795) she became the wife of Andrew Kentner, a widower (d. 1815). They had two children, Elizabeth and Christian. After the father died, Rebecca brought her two children to Boardman Twp., Ohio, where the daughter Elizabeth married Elijah Detchon (1830). The following children were born to them: Rebecca Ann (1833-1906; m. Eli Osborne); Belinda Alice, above; Oswald (b. 1837; m. Sarah Aquires); Martha B. (1838-1921; m. J. A. Whaley); Persannah, (b. 1839; unmarried); Noble Edwin (1850-1896; m. 1880, Savilla Simon); Royal Justice ("Jesse"; 1852-1938; m. Edith Fitch and Ann Hogue).

Children to Joseph and Belinda: Warren Piatt, and twin daughters, Mary and Martha (b. 1864; d. 1939); Mary, living in 1941. All the deceased Williamsons are buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Youngstown, Ohio. Rebecca and most of Detchon kin are buried in the Boardman Cemetery, Ohio.

Warren P. is a prominent and influential business man, a graduate of Iron City College, Pittsburgh, Pa. Has been designated as "The Grand Old Man of the South Side," because of his interest and efforts toward the development of that section of his home town. Activities have not been directed toward that alone. Civic minded and of broad vision, he has directed his energies to the building and betterment of the community. He has held many important municipal offices: Water Works Trustee, member of Council, Board of Education, on Bank Boards; held office with newspapers of city; dealt in the making of carriages and wagons in earlier days; did some farming as a boy; built one of the first automobiles ever on the market; had agency for automobiles; in later years engaged in the real estate business. He is a staunch Republican. He and his wife were charter members of the Central Christian Church, Youngstown, Ohio. Wife later returned to "First Love" Trinity M. E. Church. He has been more than 53 years in Masonry, thirty-second degree; Knight Templar; Shrine; B.P.O. Elk; Odd Fellow; Son of the Revolution. He is known as a Christian gentleman, trusted, esteemed, reliable, and a leader among men. Res.: 18 W. Warren Ave., Youngstown, Ohio.

VII—1. Joseph Dallas; b. May 19, 1897; d. ———; m. Jan. 16, 1932, at Franklin, Pa., Mabel Leola Strickenburg; b. July 29, 1903.

Note: Mabel S. was born in Franklin, Pa., daughter to Arthur A. and Caroline (Bigelow) Strickenburg. She is a graduate of Indiana State Normal School, Indiana, Pa., and taught several years in the Pittsburgh, Pa., schools. She is an Episcopalian, an active church worker. She loves golf. No children.

Joseph Dallas attended private and public schools in Youngstown, O., preparatory to entering Mercersburg Academy and Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind. He received B.S., M.E., and C.E. from Tri-state College, Angola, Ind.

He enlisted Sept. 6, 1918, went to Camp Sherman, Ohio, and served in the 68th Antiaircraft Bat., 17th sector; discharged Dec. 20, 1918. He is a licensed aviator, as well as is his wife. He is a Mason, thirty-second degree; Knight Templar; Shriner; Elk; Rotarian; Republican; and he conducts business in sale of machinery and contracting equipment. In 1922 he attended University of Michigan. Res.: 45 W. Florida Ave., Youngstown, Ohio.

VII—2. Warren Pyatt, Jr.; b. May 10, 1900, Youngstown, Ohio; m. Feb. 6, 1924, in Chicago, Ill., Isabel Seymour DeNio, of New Castle, Pa.

VIII—Children: Williamson.

1. Barbara Marie; b. May 9, 1925. 2. Warren Pyatt III; b. May 14, 1930.

Note: Warren P., Jr., received his higher education at Valparaiso University, also a private school in Boston, Mass.; he also attended the universities of Michigan and Wisconsin. He equipped a wireless station at home of so much importance that when the World War began, Uncle Sam, U. S. A., engaged his services to intercept messages sent by belligerents. He was sworn to secrecy of course. Finally the station was ordered dismantled, etc. Junior then enlisted for war service at Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 7, 1918, after which he was assigned to Radio Tractor Unit. He was a member of U. S. Signal Corps, Southern Dept., and served on the Texas border as military telegrapher and wireless operator. He was master signal electrician in the 7th Service Signal Battalion Dept.; was appointed Corp., then Sgt. 1st Class, noncommissioned officer when discharged at Fort Bliss, Tex., Aug. 30, 1919. He is a thirty-second degree Mason, Knight Templar, Shriner, Elk, Lion; member Youngstown Board of Education; trustee of Tuberculosis Hospital; president and general manager of Broadcasting Station (Columbia B. S.) WKBN; member of Acacia Fraternity.

Isabel was born in Boston, Mass. Her father, James Franklin DeNio, was of French descent. Her mother, Caroline Seymour, is from an old and distinguished family who were early in Ashtabula, Ohio. Isabel is a born leader, a most devoted wife and mother. Res.: 4500 Rush Blvd., Youngstown, Ohio.

VI—2. Frank Dallas Thompson; b. Dec. 8, 1869; in Clarion Co., Pa., "Cherry Tree Run"; m. June 16, 1903, at Youngstown, Ohio, Sarah Barclay; b. Jan. 7, 1876; daughter of Robert and Charlotte (Robertson) Barclay.

VII—Children: Thompson.

1. Virginia Cornelius; b. July 14, 1904. 2. Frank Dallas.

Note: Virginia and brother were born in Cleveland, Ohio. Virginia is a graduate of Western Reserve University, Cleveland and has her B.S. degree. She is a teacher of Domestic Art in Cleveland, Ohio, schools; has traveled extensively in America and Europe; and is a charming and capable leader.

Her father, Frank D., a successful fisherman, attended city schools in Youngstown, Ohio, but his longing for an art career led him to attendance in the Art Student's League, New York City. After finishing he took up the work in Pittsburgh, Pa. Success attended, but he was influenced to remove his studio to The Old Arcade, Cleveland, Ohio. This was in early 1907 or 1908. He with his staff still turn out commercial art in oil, sepia, water colors, miniatures, free hand, and whatever is demanded. His products "in life" have a national reputation. His friends are legion; "Tommy" is a friend in need—a friend indeed. Renting their home on 97th Street, the family built another out on the broad expanse at 266th Street, off Lake Shore Blvd. Here they can garden, raise fruit and flowers and enjoy life to the full. His wife Sarah is of Scotch descent, her parents coming from Scotland. She was a teacher in the Youngstown schools. Frank and Sarah love to motor in Canada and U. S. A. She is a most efficient homemaker, a warm and gracious hostess, a devout Christian, church and civic leader. She believes in and is allied with garden, literary, and philanthropic organizations.

6. Samuel Hamilton. 7. Margaret Vera. 8. Wilard Burkhart.

Note: John Wesley T. was born at Dayton, Armstrong Co., Pa. He enlisted and served in Co. B, of the 78th Penna. Volunteer Infantry, Union Army. An interesting experience occurred during the war. He and his brother Dallas J. heard, after a long battle, that his brother had been slain. Each with a heavy heart wondered how the news would be received by the folks at home. Glancing across the creek, each espied the other, seated on a log. A few seconds later a thousand soldiers and more wondered why in tarnation those two fools walked into the creek to hug each other. For many years Mr. Thompson was salesman for the Hamilton Piano Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. He lived in Scottdale and later in Wilksburg, Pa., where he is buried beside his daughter and first wife. He was a most devout Christian gentleman, kindly, and lovable. He sang beautifully.

Jacob Gearhart was son of the Revolutionary soldier, before recorded in this volume, Ensign John Gearhart and wife Catherine (Gray), daughter to Peter, Sr., and Eve (Kreider) Gray of Maryland and Half Moon Valley, near Stormstown, Centre Co., Pa. Peter and wife are buried on the Old Reuben Meek farm. John and Catherine are buried in Mud ("Union") churchyard, Philipsburg, Pa. Wm. T. and Mary are buried in W. Decatur Cemetery. John Gearhart's forbears came to America from Alsace-Lorraine. Family tradition says that John Gray (father of Peter, Jr.), whose will was probated in Hagerstown, Md., in 1789, possessed 2,000 acres of land; that the ancestor, one of three brothers, who came from Germany about the middle of the seventeenth century, had the name Croy (?). I am constrained to record these families since they are so entwined with others of our genealogy.

Children of John Gray of Maryland: John, Samuel, Peter, Abraham, Joseph, Esther, Elizabeth, Barbara (Mrs. Rholand), Catherine (Mrs. Goneflower). Children of Peter and Eve K.: John (1767-1848); m. Catherine Hartsock. Catherine (1769-1846); m. John Gearhart. Peter, Jr.; m. Hary Huyskill. George; m. Sallie Flegal. Mary; m. David Runk. Adam; m. Barbara Lever. Eve; m. George Huyskill; probably not in order of birth. See "Biographical History of Central Pennsylvania," published in 1898, by J. H. Beers, for records.

Grays unquestionably came to England with William, the Conqueror, in 1066. Originally French, "DeCroy" changed to "DeGray," later Gray and Grey. The Grays of Scotland are of same family. From 1620 to 1720 research warrants that at least twenty different families of Grays or different branches of the same family had immigrated to this country—America. Space forbids detail.

Note: After marriage Mr. Turner moved to Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., where he engaged in carpentering. Later he did farming in that county, also working in a brickyard. In 1901 he engaged in the insurance business, together with factory work in Clearfield, Pa. In 1911 the family moved to Dayton, Ohio, where many of the family secured jobs in the National Cash Register Company. Here the wife suffered a paralytic stroke from which she never fully recovered, being lame the rest of her life. The year 1917 found the family in Buffalo, N. Y., where Ellis died and is buried in Elwood Cemetery. Mrs. Turner and daughter Jennie returned to Dayton, Ohio, where the mother died. She is buried in Beavertown Cemetery, Dayton, Ohio. "Thus ended a life that can as a mother never be emulated or surpassed," writes a son, Wright Ellis, to whom all credit must be given for this biography of a remarkable family.

Infantry, during the Civil War. He enlisted in Dec., 1861, for three years and was discharged July 14, 1865, at Hall's Heights, Va. He was prisoner for three months on Belle Isle, also incarcerated in Libby Prison, but exchanged at an early date. His duty was to care for the water barrels; his order was to shoot anyone attempting to take water. He also did picket duty when soldiers marched by southern farm houses, lest the soldiers (Union) be molested. Corp. Flick told of a southern woman inviting him to a chicken dinner. In explanation of his refusal of the kind invitation he remarked, "I didn't want to be poisoned; they were Rebels, you know." These incidents were related to the author by Mrs. Nercissa (Thompson) Flick and show the mistrust and bitterness between those of the North and South, during the Civil War.

Nercissa was an unusually charming woman. She and husband are buried at Scotch Hills, Clarion Co., Pa.
